The Lynn County News

"I wholly disapprove of what you say but will defend to the death your right to say it."—Voltaire.

Volume XXXII

Tahoka, Lynn County, Texas, Friday, May 8, 1936.

Number 38

Schools Of County Will Be Classified

TESTS GIVEN TO ALL CHILDREN

"Greatest Advance Step In Our Educational System In Many Years."—Caveness.

The county board of school trustees met in the office of County Superintendent H. P. Caveness Monday afternoon and classified the schools of the county. G. D. Holbrook of Lubbock of the State Department of Education met with the board in an advisory capacity. All the schools of the county except three were classified.

This classification of the schools is being made in Lynn county and throughout the state with a view to having them standardized as soon as practicable.

Standard tests of the pupils were given this week in the schools at Petty, Lakeview, Joe Stokes, Dixie, Midway, T-Bar, West Point, Edith, Joe Bailey, Redwine, Grassland, and Magnolia and Tahoka. Tests in the other schools of the county will be given next week. Teachers exchange places while the tests are being given.

These tests Mr. Caveness explained, will afford a fair comparison of the work being done by the schools of the county and also of the entire state. He thinks the classification and eventual standardization of the schools is the greatest advance step that has been made in our educational system in many years.

Judgment Given Against County

A jury in the county court Wednesday awarded G. G. Vaughn of O'Donnell a judgment against Lynn county for the sum of $260.00 as damages alleged to have been sustained by routing the new highway through a tract of land belonging to Vaughn. The land consisted of a quarter section, the same being a mile long and a quarter of a mile wide, and the highway, we understand, divides it lengthwise near the middle.

The County had offered to pay him $90.00 as damages. He rejected the offer and brought suit for $2,500.

Vaughn was represented by Lockhart & Brown, while the county was represented by G. H. Nelson, Judge Cain, the county attorney, being disqualified to act by reason of his previous connection with the case.

MRS. GATTIS' MOTHER DIES

Mrs. I. I. Gattis was called to Lenoah, Martin county, on Wednesday of last week by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Haslip. The aged woman died Friday at the noon hour, and the remains were taken to Admiral in Callahan county for burial. Mr. Gattis attended the funeral services, returning to his home here Sunday. He went back Wednesday and brought Mrs. Gattis home.

Judge J. M. (Josh) Simpson of Amarillo was a Tahoka visitor Tuesday and made a pleasant call at the News office. He and the editor used to be schoolmates and to go in swimming together in the old Salado.

Soil Conservation Sign-Up Dates Set For Monday And Tuesday Next Week

Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12, will be regular sign-up days for Lynn county on the new Soil Conservation Program, according to V. F. Jones, County Agent.

There will be a committeeman in each school district of the county to take work sheets on the date indicated in the schedule given below. Any person who is unable to sign a work sheet in either of the two days will be asked to call at the County Agent's office, where a committeeman will be available to

Farmers Planning Soy Bean Acreage

Many farmers, we understand, are planning to plant some of their land this year in soy beans, in conformity with the Government cotton-reduction and soil-conserving program. Soy beans, we are told, is a soil-building crop, and besides they are not a bad money crop.

Among Lynn county farmers who experimented with soy beans on a small scale last year is Marshall Stewart east of town. He planted a few acres in beans and says that in spite of the dry weather his beans yielded probably 15 bushels per acre. They are worth anywhere from $1.00 to $2.00 per bushel.

Woodworth Buys Tate Store Building

C. E. Woodworth has purchased the building occupied by B. R. Tate, grocer, and he announces that he will move his barber shop into the same the first of June. Mr. Woodworth purchased the building from Mrs. Nannie A. Duncan, the former Mrs. Deacon Jones.

The building to be vacated by the Woodworth barber shop is owned by D. H. Goodnough.

ROBERT MONTGOMERY AND MYRNA LOY IN NEW PICTURE

Ladies and Gentlemen: This is an important message to every drama-lover and a message of particular interest to all who saw that memorable picture, "When Ladies Meet." In that picture Myrna Loy and Robert Montgomery appeared together for the first time. Now for the first time since then, these two stars have come together in the new and exciting Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy, "Petticoat Fever," opening Sunday at the English Theatre for a three days' run.

Imagine a radio tower set high over a frozen harbor on a bleak ledge. Imagine in it a handsome young man who hasn't seen a white woman for a year, who lives alone with his Eskimo manservant. Imagine then an airplane overhead, its motor suddenly stilled, making a forced landing on the ice shelf, and from it climbing a beautiful girl flier and her male escort. They make their way to the tower to the home of the lonely young man, and within an hour they realize they are prisoners. The operator refuses to let them go, risking the wrath of the beautiful girl rather than endure any further loneliness.

This situation, both ludicrous and dramatic, is the basis for the new comedy, which was adapted from the successful stage play of the same name. You can't afford to miss it—"Petticoat Fever," co-starring Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Caswell and J. N. Lemond of Draw drove down to Colorado Sunday to attend a musical program given by students of McMurry College. They were accompanied by Bervin Caswell, a ministerial student in McMurry, who was at home on a visit, and who appeared on the program with other McMurry students. Mr. Lemond reports a most excellent program but a desperately dry country between Snyder and Colorado.

YARD CONTEST INTEREST GOOD

Lunch Club Workers Reported 40 Entrants In Contest Tuesday; Closes Saturday

Vice President Bill Sewell presided at the meeting of the Tahoka Luncheon Club Tuesday, the president, Rev. George A. Dale, being out of the city.

A report from the park committee was called for, and it reported that it had begun work but had nothing definite to report up to that time.

The captains in the lawn improvement contest reported that more than forty families had signed up. Many others had been given blank applications but had not turned them in. It was stated that at least a hundred entries were desired. The time for turning in applications ends Saturday night. The work of taking pictures of the yards of those entering the contest will doubtless begin this week.

A general clean-up committee was appointed consisting of Dr. K. R. Durham, Roy Leslie, and W. E. Smith.

Supt Barrett and Mr. Simmons reported a large crowd and a good program at the community meeting held at Draw on the preceding Thursday night. Not many Tahoka business men were present, however, and it was decided to discontinue the meetings for the present, since the high school pupils will be busy with their examinations and other school work from this time on.

J. K. Applewhite called attention to the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and asked that as many as possible attend, suggesting that Tuesday would probably be the biggest day, if only one day was to be spent at the affair.

Eastern Star Holds Memorial Services

With Mrs. Loreta Story as director, Tahoka Chapter No. 743 O. E. S. held a beautiful and impressive memorial service in Masonic Hall last Friday night.

Among those whose memory was thus honored was the late F. E. Redwine of the Tahoka Chapter as well as 427 other members of subordinate chapters and four grand officers. Order used on such occasions, trios sung by Mr. Kary Mathis, Mrs. Sam Reid, and Mrs. Claude Donaldson, and Readings by Miss O'Berla Forrester; after which iced punch was served during the social hour.

About fifty or sixty members and visitors, including some from O'Donnell and Dickens, attended.

BRANDON ON HONOR ROLL

Stephenville, May 7.—Mary Higgs Brandon, Wilson, student in John Tarleton College, is listed on the honor roll for the second six-week preliminary period of the second semester. It was announced by Charles S. Wilkins, registrar at the college.

L. R. Bartley of Muleshoe was here Saturday visiting relatives and friends. He reports that the wheat crop in the Muleshoe country is just about gone, due to the prolonged drouth. However, farmers thereabout go strong on sudan. Bailey county produces more sudan than any other county in the state, Mr. Bartley says, and they will probably plant a larger acreage this year than ever before. They thresh and sell the seed, which usually bring a high price.

J. E. Hill, who suffered a severe fracture of the leg about the first of February, had sufficiently recovered this week to go back to work.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jackson of Ropesville, who lived in this county many years, were here Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hill.

R. M. Hill, who was seriously sick of intestinal flu and pneumonia for two or three weeks, is now able to be up again.

"Grandma" Redwine is reported to be very seriously sick again.

HIGHWAY WORK GOES FORWARD

Work Resumed On Highway No. 84; No. 9 Caliche Nearing City Limits On South

Work on highway No. 84 west of Tahoka was resumed last Friday, after having been stopped less than a week. Six caliche trucks are now being operated and about 45 men are at work.

Work on highway No. 9 south of Tahoka continues to progress nicely. The News is informed that the laying of the first course of caliche to the Tahoka city limits will be almost if not entirely completed by Saturday night. The entire project will be completed within thirty days or a little more, barring unforeseen hindrances, according to the contractors and to the resident engineer, F. C. Stanley.

Draw, Redwine May Consolidate

At a meeting of the county board of trustees held here Monday afternoon, an election was called for the Redwine and Draw school districts to be held on Saturday, May 30, to determine whether or not these two districts shall be "grouped" for high school purposes. If the election results in favor of the proposition, the high school will be maintained at Draw, and the Redwine high school dispensed with. The grade school at Redwine will be maintained as heretofore, but the Redwine high school pupils will attend the Draw school.

Elections on the proposition will be held separately at Redwine and Draw, and the proposition must carry in each box before the grouping is authorized.

The election was ordered upon the petition of patrons of the two schools.

CANDIDATE SPEAKING DATE AT NEWMOORE IS CHANGED

On account of a conflict with another entertainment of the same kind, the date of the pie supper and candidate speaking at Newmoore has been changed from Friday night, May 8, to Tuesday night, May 12. Candidates and the general public are requested to make note of this change and to be at Newmoore Tuesday night, May 12.

ARMSTRONG AT FUNERAL

Rev. C. C. Armstrong was called to Amarillo Tuesday to conduct the funeral of a former parishoner, Mrs. Ralph Raedel. The good woman died Sunday night. Mr. Raedel is district Governor of District No. 2 of the Lions Club. Mrs. Armstrong accompanied her husband on the trip. Brother Armstrong says that a terrific rain fell from Abernathy to Lubbock Tuesday night. He knows, for he was right there when it happened.

NAZARENE REVIVAL

The revival meeting is in progress at the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. W. P. Sibley is a wonderful speaker. Hear him at 10 o'clock a. m. and 8:15 p. m.—Reporter.

E. Bayer of Wells was here Tuesday joshing the candidates and enjoying life. Mr. Bayer says that on account of the depression, drouth, and other mishaps he was compelled to give up his little farm a few years ago but he continues to reside on the place—has been on the same place thirteen years. Despite his hard luck he is as cheerful as a lark on a spring morning.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McNeely and Mr. and Mrs. Arley McNeely of Quemado came up several days ago to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bill McNeely at Dixie. On Tuesday, the day they had set to leave for home, Mr. Arley McNeely became ill of appendicitis, and it is not known at this time on what day they will leave.

M. E. McCord became seriously ill early Sunday morning and was taken to the Lubbock Sanitarium for treatment and possibly an operation. Wednesday his condition was reported as somewhat improved, and it was thought that an operation might not be necessary.

Roosevelt, Garner Given Endorsement

Marvin Munn In Near-Fatal Mishap

Marvin Munn suffered the fracture of one of the bones of the leg below the knee and other injuries Tuesday when a rock crusher rolled back upon the member at the caliche pit at the southern limits of the city. He was taken to the Lubbock Sanitarium, where the bone was set and the injury found to be not so serious as was first thought. Mr. Munn was one of the employees of Brown & Root, contractors, who are constructing highway No. 9 between Tahoka and O'Donnell.

Tahoka Scouts To Camp July 7 to 13

June 7 to 13 has been set as the date for Tahoka Boy Scouts to attend the annual camp at the old Currycomb ranch headquarters near Post.

Joe Kennedy, scoutmaster Troop 10, Lubbock, will be camp director. He is an Eagle Scout and an instructor in Lubbock Junior High School.

JOE LANE PLAYS HAND-MADE VIOLIN AT LUBBOCK MEET

A party of eight went from the Midway community to the District Sing-Song at Lubbock last Friday.

The group was composed of two students from each school room: Magdalene Russell, Joe Lane, Wanda Lane, Icapene Stephens, Joyce Russell, and Nieta Stephens, and two teachers, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Griffith.

The girls sang with the thousands of other children assembled at the Tech Stadium, and Joe Lane and Mrs. Griffith furnished special music for the occasion.

Other musicians on the program was the Stamps Quartette of Dallas.

Joe played a number, "Beautiful Texas," on a violin his father recently completed, made of match stems and "devil's claws."

It was the first time the instrument had been played in public. The unusual instrument was mentioned by the announcer to the thousands of spectators, and received mention again next day in the Lubbock Avalanche.

HURT IN CAR WRECK

As Mrs. J. C. Allen and daughter, Miss Laverne, of Grassland were coming to Tahoka Wednesday, Miss Laverne, who was driving, lost control of the car and it is said to have turned a somersault or two. Luckily neither occupant was seriously injured and abrasions. The accident occurred on the highway near the jured, though each suffered minor Earl Reese home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Reid, and W. E. Suddarth attended a district meeting of rural mail carriers at Hamlin Saturday night. From Hamlin Mrs. Reid proceeded to Glenrose to take treatment and to enjoy the waters of the Paluxy at that health and pleasure resort. The other members of the party returned to their homes here and reported a most pleasurable meeting of the mail carriers.

Mrs. Gaither, who has been so seriously sick of erysipelas, is reported to be much improved.

Annual 4-H Style Parade Promises To Be Best Ever Held By Girls' Clubs

Miss Sylvia Robb announces that there will be a style parade by the 4-H club girls of the county in the High School auditorium on Saturday of this week, beginning at 2:30 P. M.

Miss Robb says that she is expecting this to be the largest style parade ever given by the club girls of this county. These parades have been held heretofore in the courthouse, but so many girls are enter-

ALL PEACEFUL AT CONVENTION

Local Delegation Unanimously Instructed For The Present Administration

The county Democratic convention, which was held in the district court room here Tuesday afternoon, adopted a ringing platform endorsing the present Democratic administration at Washington and sending a Roosevelt-Garner delegation to the state convention which meets in San Antonio on May 26.

Praising the wonderful achievements under the leadership of "our illustrious President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and our own Jack Garner," the convention expressed its conviction that no President since the founding of this government, not even those presiding during war times, has had more grave and serious problems to consider and solve than the present administration, "and every problem has been solved," the resolutions adopted by the convention declared.

Continuing, the Resolutions stated, "The worst depression in all history has been stopped, and we are now on the upward climb and near the summit of its solution. It is our conviction that had not President Franklin Delano Roosevelt been elected and inaugurated President of the United States, the depression, that at the time of his inauguration was blowing in all its fury but had not yet reached its worst, but for his election, would have involved us in the throes of a civil revolution. Except for the courageous fight and the undaunted stand taken by our President for the forgotten man, there would have been few owners of homes, in either city or country, and instead of a now contented and hopeful people, stark desolation would have stalked through our land."

Another paragraph instructed the delegation to the state convention to (Con'd. on last page Sec. 1)

Baseball Club Is Organized Here

(By N. W. Alphin)
At a very enthusiastic meeting held Tuesday night at E. S. Evans' filling station, definite steps were taken to build up a real crack baseball team for the season. Several players and a few fans were present, and two or three good players not now in town were reported as prospective applicants for places on the team.

By unanimous choice of those present, and by his own consent, Skip Taylor, the former and capable skipper, was elected manager. Though Ed Park was not present, it was indicated that he should be offered a position as assistant manager of the general affairs of the club.

As the local boys have engaged in no game nor "work-outs" this year there will be no match game here for several days. But, arms will begin limbering up and bats begin swinging by Sunday or before.

There is every prospect that Tahoka will have an interesting and hard to beat bunch this season; and a liberal co-operation of the people will assist greatly in making of that prospect a notable reality. Play ball! Let's go!

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

One King Dead. Next? One Lynched; One Jumped Hitler Picks Successor Three Kinds of Gold

King Fuad, King of Egypt, dead means nothing to 130,000,000 Americans or to 15,000,000,000 other human beings on earth. It means much to England, real ruler of Egypt, now obliged to find another king to "behave himself, do as England says," and hold down Egypt's anti-British hatred.

Arthur Brisbane

A mob seized Lint Shaw, fifty-year-old negro, and lynched him on "the usual charge," not waiting for a trial. Joe Bowers, sentenced to 25 years for mail robbery, locked in the island fortress of Alcatraz, tried to escape by climbing ten feet of plain wire, two feet of barbed wire, and jumping down a 60-foot cliff into the water. He climbed while sharpshooter guards pumped bullets into him, and jumped down the cliff. Asked when "booked" at Alcatraz, "Who is to be notified if you die?" Bowers replied: "Nobody; nobody cares whether I die or not."

Hitler apparently has chosen his successor "in case." In the person of Air Minister Goering, now made "assistant dictator," with control of two great German problems of raw materials and foreign exchange.

In New York, 175 naval cadets from the German cruiser Emden, name well remembered from the war, explore the city, guarded by detectives in case of hostile demonstrations.

Commercial boycotts of Germany, organized in New York, have done more harm to the Nazi government than could be done by any mob attack on German cadets.

California possesses "three kinds of gold": yellow gold, of which there is plenty left in the ground; "black gold," which is the oil in lakes thousands of feet down, and the "white gold," water from the mountains, first used to develop power, then to irrigate crops.

Another gold, more important than those three, combined, is the gold of education.

Driving through this country, if you see a particularly fine building, tall columns, wide grounds, fields for healthy play, that is a public school. Once it would have been the prison or feudal castle.

You see another building, almost as impressive as the high school. That is a public library. The accumulated knowledge of the world is free.

Mrs. Grace Warren Dubois, sixty-two years old, was allowed to keep her seat while the judge sentenced her to life imprisonment for killing her son. Ordinarily convicts must stand for sentence.

It is said she thought her family "too aristocratic" to live in such times as these, and wished to kill them all. Another son testified against her.

Newspapers cry "What do you read?" The Niagara of books pouring from the presses, a vast majority forgotten as they are born, make many ask "What shall I read?" Of the books that every one must know, many are unnecessary, long, will not be read, and need condensation. In this day of newspapers, moving pictures, and radio.

If some publisher would issue a "bookshelf" squeezed down from 12 feet to 2 feet, that would be useful.

Paris perceives that following recent elections extreme radicals will be powerful in the new chamber, and those that have money left begin panicky selling. Bank of France shares drop violently, meaning lack of confidence in government stability, with fear of war in all minds.

The last war knocked the franc from 19 cents to 4 cents. What would another war do?

When stock gambling starts, it moves rapidly. Since March last year, stock prices have gone up 60 per cent, business has increased 18 per cent, employment only 5 per cent. Not much cheerfulness in that.

Since last March the New York Stock exchange "values" have increased by twenty thousand million dollars. Excellent "bait" for the ignorant.

New Jersey citizens dropped from relief invade legislative halls, camp out, sleep on the floor, promise to remain until New Jersey supplies money and food.

Ewing township, New Jersey, with 9,000 population, taking 450 families off the dole, told them officially to go out and beg. Begging being illegal, each family was provided with a begging license. That may be called "economic relief."

Tokyo worries about Russia "plotting a war against Japan," but no plotting is necessary. Russia knows the location of every Japanese city, town and factory. It would be necessary only to declare war and start dropping bombs, particularly bombs that spread fire.

Starting a war for foreign countries is as easy as "shooting up a gambling game" among our racketeers; no secrecy or plotting necessary.

House Hurriedly Passes New Revenue Bill—Roper Stirs Business Men to Sharp Retort—Young Farouk Becomes King of Egypt.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WITH extraordinary speed which the opposition considered indecent, the administration's new $803,000,000 revenue bill was pushed through the house.

The vote, 287 to 83, was almost strictly along party lines. The roll call showed 82 Republicans and only 11 Democrats voted against the measure, while four Republicans deserted the minority to cast their lot with the administration.

The bill was handed to the senate whose finance committee, headed by Pat Harrison, had been studying it in secret sessions in order to be prepared for the public hearings that opened two days after the house had acted. There had been predictions that this committee would modify the measure radically, but the opposition to it in Democratic ranks seemed to have faded away and its passage by the senate without material change was deemed probable.

As passed by the house the bill provides:

- 1. A graduated tax on corporation income which, it is estimated, will force distribution of $3,360,000,000 more in dividends and yield the government an additional $62,000,000 annually.
2. A "windfall" tax on unpaid or refunded processing taxes imposed upon the invalidated AAA, which is expected to yield $100,000,000.
3. Continuation of the capital stocks and excess profits taxes for six months to yield $35,000,000.
4. A refund of $35,000,000 to processors who suffered financial losses under the old AAA.

THE $3,000,000,000 Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill, with its threat of currency inflation, was blasted out of its pigeonhole Friday and assured of a vote in the house during the present session.

Five representatives signed the petition to remove the bill from the house rules committee, completing the 218 signatures necessary to bring up the bill.

Speaker Byrns, Chairman O'Connor of the rules committee, and the other Democratic chieftains, by sheer political power, are said to have held the farm mortgage, currency-expansion measure in the committee for more than a year under express orders of President Roosevelt.

The Frazier-Lemke bill proposes to amortize farm mortgages by the issuance of $3,000,000,000 in new currency. It provides for a sharp downward revision of interest rates on mortgages.

DANIEL C. ROPER, secretary of commerce, appeared before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at its annual meeting in Washington and warned its members, most of whom are persistent critics of New Deal policies, that unless private enterprise takes up the slack in employment, business must pay the relief bill out of earnings.

"It is the responsibility of all business and industrial enterprises," said Roper, "and not of one particular segment of the government to increase its efforts for greater employment. If a substantial measure of increased re-employment does not take place the taxation for relief purposes will come largely from business earnings. There must be re-employment or a longer period of increased taxation."

Roper admitted that the administration had fostered bureaucracy, but insisted that it was occasioned by its emergency, and responsibility for its increase again lay at the door of private business.

Various members of the chamber replied spiritedly. Roy C. Osgood, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, predicted that if the administration embarked on a sound fiscal program that would inspire confidence, business would make rapid strides toward recovery. He criticized the pending tax on corporate earnings as impracticable and a brake on business expansion and stability.

Fred H. Clausen, president of the Van Brunt Manufacturing company of Horicon, Wis., told the chamber that the rising tide of public spending had been "rolling onto our people for five years," and there was no end in sight. He declared that the re-employment mandates laid down by President Roosevelt, Secretary Roper and others were practically impossible in the light of the increased burdens heaped on industry.

The American Federation of Labor reported that "little or no progress" had been made in re-employment during the first quarter of this year. The federation estimated 12,184,000 persons were unemployed in March. Seasonal gains in business and agriculture, returning 550,000 persons to work, were "about normal," the report said.

CONTINUING the policy of centralizing control over the activities of American citizens, the senate passed a new vocational education bill introduced by Senator Walter F. George of Georgia and supported by Majority Leader Robinson of Arkansas. It was strongly opposed by Senator King of Utah, Democrat, who insisted education was responsibility of the states, not of the federal government.

The measure authorizes an annual appropriation of $12,000,000 to be distributed among the states on a matching basis, in proportion to population. In addition it authorizes $1,200,000 a year to be allotted for the payment of salaries and travel expenses of vocational teachers, and $1,000,000 a year to be allotted for the preparation of teachers and supervisors.

CUAD I, king of Egypt, died of a gangrenous throat infection at his country place near Cairo at the age of sixty-eight. The crown prince, Farouk, a sixteen-year-old pupil in the royal military academy at Woolwich, England, was immediately proclaimed king and started for Egypt, sailing from Marseilles on a British liner escorted by a British warship in order to avoid going by way of Italy.

Before his death King Farouk, Fuad named a regency council of three to govern the country until Farouk comes of age. The young king, who is six feet tall and well educated, hopes to return to England to complete his studies at Woolwich. It was feared in Cairo that Fuad's death would have an adverse effect on the negotiations for a new Anglo-Egyptian treaty which will give Egypt a greater measure of freedom from British control.

Fuad, a descendant of Mohammed Ali, founder of the Egyptian royal house, was the youngest son of Khedive Ismail Pasha "the magnificent" Egyptian sovereign from 1833 to 1879.

NO OTHER member of congress has been having so lively a time as has Marion A. Zioncheck of Washington state, the Playboy of the Western World. He has been arrested, jailed and fined, and has fought with the police; and the other day he suddenly decided to marry Miss Ruby Louise Nix, a stenographer in the accounting division of the PWA at Annapolis. With a Washington license he dashed around looking for a minister who had left the city several years ago. There he rushed to Maryland, obtained another license, woke up a domineer and he and Ruby were made man and wife. Next day Marion led Mrs. Zioncheck into the gallery of the house, and the members all arose and cheered them. Perhaps his actions will be a trifle more conventional hereafter.

REICHSFUERHER HITLER has made Hermann Wilhelm Goering controller of national economics, and he has decreed an era of Spartan simplicity for the German people. Goering summoned the commissars for raw materials to a conference and warned them they must further restrict imports and help draft measures to increase exports. Only goods vitally necessary to the army and materials needed to produce goods for foreign export must be allowed to enter Germany, Goering decreed.

Officials of the propaganda ministry further darkened the picture of the near future by telling the press it must prepare the public for a "stiffening of relations between France and Germany as soon as the French elections are finished." They also deplored the fact that relations with England have suffered.

ITALY'S victorious troops in northern Ethiopia continued their advance on Addis Ababa, though it was somewhat retarded by the efforts of the natives to blow up the roadways and otherwise harass the invaders. The Italian motorized column in this movement is the most formidable yet formed in this war and is notable for the large number of white troops included.

General Graziana's southern army, meanwhile, was driving toward Harar, second city of the empire. In three columns. The Ethiopians were putting up stiff resistance at various points but everywhere were driven back, according to Italian dispatches.

When the Italian forces reached Debra Birhan, only 75 miles from Addis Ababa, Emperor Haile Selassie ordered the capital city left undefended, hoping the invaders would occupy it without bloodshed. The government prepared to move out, and the native inhabitants all scuttled for the hills. Foreigners took refuge in the legations, the Americans going to the British compound where there was a bomb-proof shelter.

Hopkins Doing Splendid Work

No Taint of Graft in Federal Relief; Cheap Electric Power for Farms

By EARL GODWIN

WASHINGTON.—Somehow or other I look on Harry Hopkins—the man who administers the federal relief cash—as a man whom fate has picked out for a terrific lashing; as if he were a penitent having to run a gauntlet. Because Harry is going right straight for the goal set for him and there is not a day goes by that he does not have a lash laid on him somewhere.

He is doing a swell job. I can't imagine money by the hundreds of millions; more money than any other man ever handled since the dawn of history—as I say, I can't imagine so much money handled without crookedness somewhere. But when Harry Hopkins faces his accusers and tells them that there isn't a crooked cent anywhere around, he means it.

When you think of the graft in things political since the days of the Credit Mobilier scandal down through the whiskey ring, the post office frauds, the war profits, the Harding administration scandals, and the various layers of graft represented by almost every brick in many a state capitol, you could expect some graft to creep into this relief administration. But there isn't any graft there.

The place where the graft lies in relief is in state administrations, if at all. By graft I do not mean stealing—I mean politics. You have no doubt heard the charge that there is nothing but politics in relief. It has been shouted and dinned into our ears until you would think it was the foulest scandal of all times—but that's just the politician's way of trying to edge an office holder out of the way so they can get the jobs for their own constituents.

One thing wrong about Hopkins and his crowd is that they don't know how to tell their story so that it carries a high, clear note above all the sidewalk disturbance. That's one sure sign they are intellectually honest and disinterested. It's always the sideshow crowd that attracts the most attention. I have always hoped for, and done a little work toward, an exhibition of red, white and blue Americanism on federal relief projects. To me one of the finest things ever done was to smash head-on into the depression with a direct cash distribution to jobless men and women—money right out of Uncle Sam's treasury. I never had any use for the argument that it was exclusively the states' duty. If the states can't handle it out—O. K.; but if they can't why public? I have always thought the gentle and charitable souls who run the relief administration should either do more effective work in their own behalf—or should hire brass bands.

The country hears daily that public money is being wasted for silly projects; and some of it is. But the bad stuff is so small in contrast to the thousands of good projects that I often wonder why the Administration's prize press agents don't start a back-fire. There must be 70,000 honest, sane, sensible and much needed projects now giving work to men and women on relief projects; yet we are likely to hear over and over again about a $25,000 dog pound somewhere, built by relief money. Silly or not, the men employed on them were given jobs, which is more than the critics offer to do.

I think Hopkins erred in saying there is no politics in relief, for there is. But it is not so widespread as to be scandalous, and it was placed there by none other than the congress of the United States. Senator Pat McCarran, Nevada's pride, got sore because Hopkins appointed a relief administrator devoid of all state affiliations. He was as clear of politics as a new-born babe; so McCarran worked to have enacted the paragraph of law providing that state relief administrators must be O. K'd by the senate—which puts such appointments under the glare of politics, to say the least. I wish Hopkins could have had a free hand.

The idea that the administration is building up a re-election machine with relief money is untrue.

PASSING OF HOWE The public knew little of Louis Howe—and yet he is the man credited with putting Roosevelt in the White House. For twenty years Louis Howe and Franklin Roosevelt were close friends. He was the President's chief secretary ever since the inauguration; and yet the self-effacing habit which kept Howe out of sight is the reason why, now that he rests in a grave at Fall River, Mass., the public scarcely realizes that a part of Roosevelt himself has gone on.

Howe was a newspaper correspondent at Albany, N. Y. His father ran a country newspaper, and journalism was in his veins. Howe first met young Roosevelt in 1910, when Roosevelt had just been elected to the New York state senate from Dutchess county. There was in Howe that mysterious appreciation of mass thought. He had what Lincoln had in the way of sensing the common denominator of politics; and somewhere in those early years he seized upon the young man Roosevelt as the sort of fellow he would like to see in the White House—and at that time Roosevelt had not even been heard of politically outside of his own ballroom.

Howe's advice was deep and good. He was faithful to his ideals. He began to build Roosevelt for bigger things—not that Roosevelt was ever a Number Two man or a puppet for Howe or anyone else—but Louis Howe coupled his sagacity to Roosevelt's crusading spirit and together they scaled the peaks.

But it was not always in the sunlight. In the dark hours of the illness which struck Roosevelt down several years ago daylight all but died. It was during that time that Roosevelt's soul was tested and found to be great. It was in that initiation that he found the strength to make the race; and I imagine that one secret of the super-achievement between the two men is to be found in Howe's devotion to Roosevelt during those dark hours.

NO KICK ON THIS ONE

Odd that a great social advance like the act providing for cheap electric power on a million farms slipped through without much excitement. The fact was that so many people are for it that congress voted almost unanimously to start lending $410,000,000 of public money so that rural areas once considered impossible are now to be taken right into the electric light fold. One New Deal measure against which no one is kicking.

For 25 years the old timers in the power field have been willing to put power lines into populous rural territory, but said it could not be done in sparsely populated territory.

Now comes this man Morris Cooke about whom I've written previously, and he sits down with a little group of fellows who know the power business inside out, and they work out a scheme whereby the old prejudices can be dissolved, power lines built for a third of what the old timers thought and, to make a long story short, they have leaped over all the hurdles and are now on their way.

The government will now lend at the rate of $40,000,000 a year for ten years ($10,000,000 extra in this first year) to farm co-operatives and towns and private power plants—anybody in fact who knows the business and will organize a rural power concern that will meet the standards established by the Rural Electrification administration. Money is loaned at 3 1/2 per cent; but the requirement is that the skim milk goes with the cream; the sparse territory must be served along with the good.

This means a great deal. It means power plants for wells, less by wire for creameries; it means light for the farms and drugery lightened. There are 6,800,000 farms and only 10 per cent now have electricity. The present program covers only a million more farms; but it also means that before ten years have gone by there will probably be much greater expansion.

STEIWER KEYNOTER

Republican managers chose Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon as their temporary chairman and keynoter for the prelude to the choosing of their standard bearer at Cleveland. It looks like a move to win—or at least to placate the West; but aside from that I wonder how the conservatives are going to swallow Steiwer, who has been a New Dealer from time to time. Moreover, these budget-balancing Wall Streeters, who yelled bloody murder at the payment of the bonus (which starts June 15 by the way) should know that Steiwer was a leading pro-bonus man.

But Steiwer will have to do a lot of explaining to others than his Wall Street colleagues in the party. He voted for AAA and its amendments, a farm policy which has been under terrific fire from G. O. P. orators even after the court knocked it out. The Tennessee Valley Authority, with its public power and social welfare, has been the point of an attack equal to that launched by the Germans against Verdun. TVA is the Power Trust nightmare—yet Republican Keynoter Steiwer voted for it.

And as for NRA, which the Republicans are kidding the Democrats about, —Steiwer thought that was the correct way to regiment industry for the much out of the depression; and he so voted. He certainly has no idea, I hope, of dragging up the old Blue Eagle at the Republican convention.

Steiwer also voted for the Securities Exchange commission, which drives the crooks out of Wall Street and leaves the honest investment bankers to carry on a decent business.

KILL WAR PROFITS

Some time ago the President stated that "The time has come to take the profit out of war" and, while that is a huge undertaking, there is sign of progress when a senate munitions investigating committee reports a proposed bill to put the peace time making of American arms and munitions into the government's own hands. This would include the building of battle-ships, which is at present a large part of the privately owned steel business. It would also include the making of all guns, powder and bullets, shells, airplanes, etc. At present these are let out by contract to private industry and supervised by the army and navy experts. There is a great naval gun factory at Washington, and there are other naval plants—but this business goes largely to private manufacturers.

The difficulty is that in war times the government would need (and has needed in every past war) all the private exertion possible. The army and navy feel we should spread our arms and ammunition business throughout the country, utilizing as many private plants as possible, so that if war comes these many plants could be expanded.

SYNOPSIS

The Duke, Barry Gilbert, likable youth of twenty-three, jobless and broke, enters an unoccupied summer home in Southampton, seeking shelter from a storm. He makes himself at home. Dosing at the fireplace, he is startled by the arrival of a butler, Willetts; and a chauffeur, Evans. He learns that the son of the owner of the house, Jack Ridder, whom the servants had never seen, is expected. He decides to bluff it out. His supposed parents have left for Germany. Next morning he is given a letter for his "mother." He opens it and finds a message from the real Jack, saying he could not come, and returning a hundred-dollar bill. The boy's father had pensioned him into obscurity. Barry pockets the money, intending to "return it later. He orders Evans to take him to Montauk, intending to disappear there. On the way he meets Judge Hambridge and his daughter, Patricia. Believing he is Jack Ridder, she invites him to dinner the following Thursday. Barry returns to Southampton, deciding to stay a bit longer. Mr. Ridder, Sr., through his newspaper, the Globe, accuses Judge Hambridge of taking orders from Tammany Hall in a condemnation proceeding. Barry meets Peter Winslow, prominent attorney. Winslow tells Barry that Judge Hambridge had seen an accident in which a woman was killed by a taxicab. At home Barry finds the wife of the real Jack Ridder awaiting him. Her husband is in jail in New York, charged with the murder of Mike Kelly, Tammany boss. The girl, Peggy, tells Barry how she had met Jack in Florida and married him, as Jack Rogers. Jack lost his job, and they went to New York, where she got work at the Coconut Bar. There she was accused of trying to pick the pocket of Mike Kelly, and was arrested. Her husband went to Kelly's to induce him to drop the charge. Later Kelly was found dead, his skull crushed by a decanter.

CHAPTER III—Continued

"That was a lucky break for you, because, if he'd been here, he'd've had you chucked right out of the front door. Think, kid! He hasn't spoken to his son for years. Paid him fifty dollars a week not to use the family name. And then a cabaret girl turns up to say she's married the boy, and he committed murder—or was accused of it—because somebody caught her picking pockets in a night-club."

"It doesn't sound good—the way you put it."

"That's nothing to the way he'd put it. But he's not here. And that's not the best of your luck. The best of your luck is that I am."

"Why?"

"Because I can help you, and I'm going to. I am—if you'll let me. If you'll let me go on being John Clarke Ridder, Jr."

"Oh, that's the game, is it?"

"Listen. John Clarke Ridder, fake, can be the best friend John Clarke Ridder, real, ever had in his life. I can get Winslow to take your case, if he don't know I'm a fake. I can get Judge Hambridge to use his influence, and that's plenty. I can get money from home, because I'm making good. Look—read that!"

He darted across the room, and to the table drawer, returning with the letter from Mrs. Ridder.

"Read it quick! Any shock might prove serious. He must change his will. And he still reads the papers. All right. What if he does read about a bum, named Jay Rogers, that married a night-club girl and is on trial for killing a Tammany boss. Jay Rogers don't mean a thing. But, if he reads that John Clarke Ridder, Jr., did all this, on top of everything else he's done, what's the answer?"

"What's the answer if he don't?"

"The answer then is that a noble young fellow, named John Clarke Ridder—and that's me—gets a whole lot interested in an unfortunate guy named Jay Rogers. Why? Because he believes him to be innocent—that's why. And, don't make any mistake, a guy like Ridder believing it's going to start a lot of other people believing it, too. I write my mother that I've got to have money to carry on the fight, and I get it, because the old man decides I can't be so bad, after all. Maybe he gets his newspaper into the scrap—not for his own son, which wouldn't help much, but for a stranger. Whether that happens or not, I'll get a job and a lawyer, and use 'em both for you. I'll use all the family influence for you. And, when it's over, and your husband's acquitted, I'll be in some position to talk to the old man for you."

"What if he isn't acquitted?"

"You've got to face that chance, either way."

Peggy looked at him with hard eyes. "You're a pretty smart fellow," she said. "Pretty smart—if you can talk me into keeping my mouth shut while you get the money, and the position, and everything my husband ought to have."

"Will he get it if I don't? Use your nut, Peggy. What do I gain? If you spill the beans tonight, what good does it do you? And what harm does it do me? Maybe I go to jail for a few weeks. But it don't get your husband out of jail, does it? This way might, and it's the only way. Think it over."

"Will you answer me one question?" the girl asked.

"Shoot."

"If you've nothing to gain, why are you doing this?"

The Duke had been pacing the room. He stopped short now, and his clenched hands fell limp at his sides.

"Darned if I know," he responded. "And that's the truth."

They could hear the clock ticking in the hall.

Then it struck two.

"All right," Peggy said, at last. "I'm going to play it your way. Where do we go from here?"

"I think you'd better go to bed," the Duke answered.

"Here?"

"Why not?" grinned the Duke.

"You've got a whole lot more right here than I have. There's a guest-room that Willetts always keeps ready."

The girl hesitated.

"What time can I get back to New York?" she asked.

"There's a good train around nine o'clock."

"All right."

Barry opened a door the other side of the library, and switched on the lights. "There you are," he said.

"All right."

"It just struck me," he remarked. "You don't suppose your husband might have given his real name?"

"No. But that's one reason I want to get back. You better come with me, too. I think you're on the level, but I'm not so sure Jack's going to think so."

"O. K.," Barry assented. "Breakfast at eight. Good night, Mrs. Rogers."

"Good night, Mr. Ridder."

She smiled, a wan ghost of a smile. Standing before the dying fire, Barry exclaimed: "What a damned fool I am!" and stuffed the letter into his pocket. The newspaper lay before him, and with it, he came back to the heart. "Let's see what it's all about," he said.

The story filled the first page, and overflowed onto the second and third. Judge Hambridge's eagerly-awaited decision was crowded into an upper corner of the fourth page, with a two-column picture of the Judge. There was no editorial comment. Evidently, there hadn't been time for that yet. "For some unexplained reason," the paper said, "the murder was not reported to the police until nearly noon." The body had been found by the Filipino servant shortly after eight that morning. Mike Kelly's skull had been fractured by a single blow with a heavy cut-glass whiskey decanter that lay close by, its contents still undisturbed. There was no sign of a struggle.

The Filipino boy's yarn was straight enough. Kelly had come home just before eleven o'clock. He was a little drunk, the boy admitted. He had let himself in with his latch-key, and gone straight to the dining room, where he rang violently. The boy had responded, and got out the liquor and the glasses. His name was Rogers, the boy remembered, and he said he had known Kelly in Palm Beach. Kelly had said, "All right; show him into the drawing room," and the boy had done so, and brought in the tray. Then he had gone back downstairs to the servants' quarters.

A little while later, he had heard angry voices in the drawing room, and had listened outside, in the hall. What he had heard was pretty much what the girl had repeated, but there were a few additions, in the way of threats from the visitor. The Filipino decided that it was none of his business, and returned to his room. Ten minutes later, anxious in spite of himself, he remounted the back stairs. As he reached the top, he heard the drawing room door closed noisily, and saw the caller hurry into the hall and through the front door, which he banged after him. It was then nearly midnight. The Filipino had been on duty since seven that morning, and, reassured, he tiptoed down the stairs, and went to bed. That was all he knew until, eight hours later, he came upon Mike Kelly's body lying face-down on the floor.

The Duke was just about to go to bed himself, when he noticed a small headline. "Artist's Wife Crushed by Taxi." That would be the accident that upset Judge Hambridge.

"I might talk to Winslow at the Hambridges," he thought, sleepily. "But I guess Peggy's right. Better see Jack first. I've got a date with Winslow at his office on Monday."

The hall clock struck three.

Nevertheless, the Duke was up an hour before breakfast.

He shaved, and bathed, and tossed a few things into an over-night bag he'd seen in the closet. Emerging, he ran into Willetts.

"Breakfast for two," the Duke ordered. "Mrs. Rogers and I are taking the 9:27 to New York."

He thought the butler looked at him sharply.

As their train left Southampton, Peggy looked even shabbier in her cheap black dress and her little red beret. Her face was very white, for want of make-up or sleep. "It's funny," she said, awkwardly, "but I sort of feel that everything's going to be all right now."

"Why don't you and the boy move out here?"

"To stay, you mean?"

"Sure. I can square it with Willetts. Come along, the end of the week, Peggy. After all, it's where you belong, you know."

"I belong with Jack," she said. "And, anyway, has it struck you that the old man might come back unexpected? He's been mad six years. What's he going to do when he finds out about all this?"

"Well," Barry hazarded, "if we've got his son out—"

"He won't care," Peggy interrupted, her voice again hard and pitiful. "He never did."

"He smashed Jack's fiddle. Jack wanted to be a violinist. He could've been, too. But the old man found he was taking lessons. I don't want any jazz-banders in my family," he snorted. "You're going to take my place when I die."

"That started it. He'd always been hard on Jack. Bossy, the old man is. And you can't boss Jack. He got another fiddle. He was good on it, too. When he went up to Harvard, he used to play it at parties."

"When his father heard about that, he threatened to cut off Jack's allowance. So Jack stopped fiddling, and began to drink. And, one night when he was awful drunk, he wrote the old man's name on a check. He tried to get it back the next day, but the bank had turned it down, and the guy he'd given it to was sore, and had Jack arrested."

"Jack had sold his second fiddle to make good. He never got another one. The old man cut Jack loose. He came up to Boston, with a newspaper that printed the story in his hands. Cold as ice, he was. 'You've disgraced me,' he said, 'and you'll go on disgracing me, if I'll let you. I won't. You can go where you like and do what you please, but not with my name. If you ever use that again, you can starve.'"

Peggy turned to the window.

Then, abruptly, "How are we going to get in to see him?" she asked. "You're his wife," Barry answered. "And you?"

"I'm his friend. And my name's Ridder."

Even Peggy's story didn't quite prepare the Duke for that meeting with his other self.

He'd rather expected to see one of those weaklings who find the world a vast conspiracy against them.

John Clarke Ridder, Jr., proved to be merely a frightened youngster. A slim, rather frail lad in his early twenties, with soft, dark hair, and large, dark eyes, and a peculiarly sensitive mouth. His hands were soft and sensitive, too, but there was nothing effeminate about the boy. "Gee, I'm glad to see you, Peg," he blurted. "I was getting a little bit worried."

Peggy's presence reassured him. Evidently, he counted on her, and felt safe while she was with him.

"Jack," she said, quietly and significantly, "I've brought your friend, Mr. Ridder. He's going to help us."

"That's great," he observed.

Fortunately for them, the guard had other things on his mind. He kept disappearing, and coming back, and looking away from them to a paper that someone had given him, and that seemed irritating. In a low voice, Peg outlined what had happened, and the conclusion that had been reached.

The boy turned to Barry.

Young, frightened, and soft, he could reason quickly, and talk straight.

"I don't understand," he said to the Duke. "If these people will do things for you, because they think you're Jack Ridder, why won't they do 'em for me, when they know I'm Jack Ridder?"

"Because they like me. They've never met you. And because my record's clear. I'm not accused of murder under circumstances that—well, they don't sound pretty, at first, do they?"

"They do not."

"And, of course, there's your mother."

The sensitive mouth tightened. Barry gave him the letter he had shown Peggy.

The lad read it.

"The old man's got her buffaloed," he remarked; "same as he's got everybody else. O. K. I wouldn't have used my own name, anyway. Letting you use it's another thing, but Peggy thinks you're straight, and she's never been wrong yet. It's a queer game, but I'll sit in. What next?"

Barry was relieved. The guard had been showing his paper to a colleague. Quickly, he mapped out his plans—so far as he had any. "I've got a date with Peter Winslow on Monday. And I'm going to cable your mother—for money. We've got to have that. I hope to get a job pretty soon, and make my own way, but, just now, there's less than a hundred and fifty dollars in the kitty, and I'm going to give most of that to Peggy for current expenses. You'd better write your mother, too—the kind of letter you'd write in answer to that, if you were in my shoes. I'll bring you the stationery, and, of course, I'll mail your letter from Southampton. We'll have to smuggle it out of here, I suppose. Now, tell me exactly what happened the night before last."

The story differed very little from the one Barry had heard, but it was full of shrewd questions that had occurred to him.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for May 10 EFFECTUAL PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 18:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—God be merciful to me a sinner.—Luke 18:13. PRIMARY TOPIC—How Two Men Prayed. JUNIOR TOPIC—When Prayer Changes Things. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Should I Pray? YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How Shall We Pray Effectively?

From first to last the books of the Bible teem with the language and spirit of prayer. Prayers of every type are found in the Old Testament—personal confession and petition, intercession, and especially praise to Jehovah voiced in private and public prayers. The present lesson offers definite instruction by a great Teacher.

I. "Men Ought Always to Pray" (v. 1).

Prayer is necessary to spiritual life. What breathing is to the physical body prayer is to the spiritual existence. Men ought to pray under every variety of circumstance; in time of sorrow and burden, for strength to endure; in time of joy and success, for grace to behave aright.

Prayer ought to be persistent even when the answer is not immediately recognized. "All men pray at times," we are told. To the Christian alone belongs the faith-filled and persistent prayer. God hears and answers prayer, even when we do not understand the mysteries of delay.

II. "The Urgent Prayer of a Widow" (vv. 2, 8).

The picture here is of a helpless widow who is being cheated out of her property rights, coming to a godless judge for redress. Her only means of getting help was persistently to declare the justice of her claim. He complied with her urgent request, not because he feared God or man, but to get rid of her. The point here is not that God is like this unjust judge, that he can be teased into compliance, but rather the teaching is by contrast. If through persistence the judge yields, how much surer is the help of a merciful God for the elect who cry unto him day and night. The believer's prayer is to a covenant-keeping God. This is why the truth concerning the coming of Christ is of such meaning. The church should pray for the fulfillment of God's promise, and not be discouraged, as are some (II Pet. 3:4). Though many may despair, we should be assured that genuine faith will abide and that the divine promise concerning the coming of Christ will be fulfilled.

III. "The Prayer of the Proud Pharisee" (vv. 9-12).

1. He took a striking attitude (v. 11). The Jewish custom was to stand while praying, but the word "stood" implies the assumption of ostentation. He was self-righteous and trusted in himself.

2. He prayed with himself (vv. 11, 12). He was merely soliloquizing, pretending to thank God, while really complimenting himself. He congratulated himself upon his morality (v. 11). He claimed to thank God that he was not as other men: extortioners, adulterers, unjust, or even as the publican standing afar off. One who has been kept from the grosser sins ought to thank God, but should not set himself above his fellow men, as though the virtue were his own. He congratulated himself for his religious merit (v. 12). He fasted twice a week and gave tithes of all he possessed. He thus informed God that he did even more than was required.

IV. "The Prayer of the Humble Publican" (v. 13).

How great the contrast in the prayer and spirit of the publican! He did not stand with ostentation, but for very shame could not so much as lift up his face to heaven, but smote upon his breast, a sign of anguish and despair, and cried "God be merciful to me a sinner." That this heart-cry is indeed the heart of the lesson is indicated from the fact that it is cited as the golden text.

Christ's Testimony (v. 14).

Christ makes it unmistakably evident that the attitude and petition of the publican meets with his favor. Pharisees of every age, for their pride and self-righteousness are rejected of God. The spirit of the publican expressing itself in the prayer of a penitent, will today meet with the commendation. "This man went down to his house justified."

The believer who weighs thoughtfully the meaning of this lesson will find much encouragement to prayer. He must be justified, knowing his sins forgiven in answer to penitential prayer. He must pray in spite of a natural impulse to faint, to neglect the practice of prayer; he ought always to pray, and not faint.

A Harsh Word

To be silent, to suffer, to pray when we cannot act, is acceptable to God. A disappointment, a contradiction, a harsh word received and endured in his presence, is worth more than a long prayer.—Fenelon.

Ennobling Our Work

Our daily life should be sanctified by doing common things in a religious way. There is no action so slight or so humble but it might be done to a great purpose or ennobled thereby.—G. MacDonald.

Familiarity

FAMILIARITY makes us careless and unobservant. But there comes a day when we observe and think. Then we suffer. As a boy I loved life and country things. I used to get up to see the sun, as an old divine I once read remarks, "coming forth from his chambers in the East." I have come in to breakfast drenched in dew. How it used to gladden and sparkle in the morning light! But that is all a thousand years behind.—J. A. Stewart.

Brave deeds are most estimable when hidden. . . . What was finest in them was the desire to hide them.—Pascal.

The Famous Men Test

In the following test there are ten problems. In each one a man's name is given, followed by the names of four professions, vocations or avocations. Cross out the particular occupation or pursuit in which the man is or was most famous.

1. Horace Greeley—capitalist, artist, editor, composer.
2. Nelson Eddy—composer, polo, statesman, actor.
3. Wesley Ferrell—actor, baseball, football, artist.
4. Norman H. Davis—actor, railroad, religion, diplomat.
5. Vergil—historian, poet, philosopher, painter.
6. Nicholas Murray Butler—statesman, Communist, educator, banker.
7. Willie MacFarlane—jockey, boxer, golfer, tennis.
8. William E. Borah—track, senator, representative, judge.
9. James Montgomery Flagg—author, actor, artist, composer.
10. James Russell Lowell—artist, poet, composer, explorer.

MOTOR BLOODSHED

Spring is here! And to millions of us, the lure of the open road will soon become irresistible. Then off we'll go, for fishing trips, picnics, sight-seeing drives. Last year, 36,000 bloody corpses dotted the streets and highways of the United States. This year, if the ten per cent of drivers who cause 90 per cent of the accidents aren't curbed, the record will be worse. Do you belong to that 10 per cent? You'll undoubtedly say you don't—it's a rare driver who will admit to carelessness or recklessness or incompetence. And here's hoping you really don't. But it won't do you any harm to think over your driving practices. Do you ever pass on curves or hills? If so, you have been guilty of an act that has caused thousands of fatalities and millions of injuries. Do you ever drive on the wrong side of the road, or weave in and out of traffic, impatient to save a few minutes to be spent later telling your friends what a hot-shot driver you are? If so, you are a potential killer. Do you regard speed restrictions as something for the other fellow—who, naturally, isn't in your class as a driver—to obey, and for you to break at will? Excessive speed is the principal single cause of motor bloodshed. Do you drink and drive? Alcohol and gasoline mix into a fuel that has taken a legion of people on the longest journey of all—to the Great Beyond. Do you put off repairs to your car until a tomorrow that may never come? Bad brakes, defective lights, uncertain steering are friends of the casket maker.

Spring is here—make sure that it isn't the last Spring you'll enjoy on this earth.—Industrial News Review.

A few days ago Dwight Llewelling died in Dallas, and with his death ended a colorful and unique career. At the age of 27 he was elected to the responsible position of county attorney of Dallas county. After serving two or three terms, he was elected to the legislature, where he immediately took his place as one of the most active and brilliant members of that body. Quick-thinking and ever eager to act, he took part in almost every debate that was staged in the House while he was a member. His enemies made much of his propensity to talk and derided him much through the newspapers and from the political platform. Nevertheless, he was powerful in debate and strong with the great moral forces of the state. He was often mentioned as a candidate for governor but never ran. He did run for attorney general but was defeated. Then came the great surprise to his many friends through out the state. He suppressed whatever political ambitions he had, turned his back on politics, and opened a mission for down-and-out men in the heart of his home city. He furnished bed and meals to the hoboes, the victims of the drink habit, the stranded of every kind and character, conducted daily religious services and preached the gospel to ruined and hopeless men. Many of them were reclaimed, it is said, drunkards were reformed, hope and self-respect were rekindled in the hearts of hundreds, many of whom found jobs and were restored to respectable society. How much good Dwight Llewelling did during the ten years that he conducted this mission for the down-and-out will probably never be known this side of the judgment, but we opine that there will be many stars in his eternal crown.

Next Sunday is Mothers Day—the day when our thoughts turn back to the home of our boyhood days, where Mother reigned as queen. It may have been a mansion or a cottage—yes, it may have been only a cabin; but mother's love and care and sacrifice made it a hallowed place. What a world of gratitude we owe to our good mothers! How we ought to reverence the memory of those who have finished their course and gone on to the spirit world! The girls of today are to be the mothers of tomorrow. Many, many of them doubtless will measure up to the highest standards set by their mothers and grandmothers. But we are wondering what kind of mothers these brazen, cigarette-smoking of whiskey-drinking girls will make. We are thankful that there are probably not very many of that kind in Tahoka.

A TRIBUTE TO MY MOTHER. G. W. Simmons, local manager of the Jones Dry Goods Company, handed us the following tribute to his mother for publication. Our nation is safe as long as we have good Christian mothers whom we can hold in reverence, and as long as we seek to emulate their noble lives. There is some fine sentiment in Mr. Simmons' tribute, which all of us men should share. "The King of a nation or a queen on a throne Has not the attraction of the Rose of our Home, Mother.

"If I could frame my thoughts in a frame of words Of love and gratitude to my mother, I would search this wide world over, again and again.— Yet, I believe my mother's sweet face and gray hair would win." —G. W. Simmons.

One of these days the road cops will pick up a hog-wild speeder who comes through town at a rate of a mile-a-minute. When they do, there is going to be some tall lying about the speed of cars in court.—Sterling City News-Record.

Uncle Bill used to tell us that our Prohibition laws were making liars and perjurers out of our people. Now it seems to be the speed laws that are doing it. Better repeal 'em, Uncle Bill.

Some fellows can't go to a public dance or skating rink without wanting to match a scrap. Dogs do that way when they go to a social gathering. When dogs have a party there is always some smart dog to growl and fight. Some fellows are that way. I have often wondered if it was the dog in the man, or the man in the dog that makes them do that way.—Uncle Bill Kellis in Sterling City News-Record.

Most of the churches of Tahoka will observe Mothers Day next Sunday. Mothers Day programs will be given. A lot of our men who are not in the habit of attending church should attend next Sunday. We are sure they would greatly enjoy the services, and the experience might be helpful to them in many ways. Let's go to church next Sunday.

THE EDUCATED MAN The ten marks of an educated man: He keeps his mind open on every question until the evidence is all in. He always listens to the man who knows. He never laughs at new ideas. He cross-examines his day-dreams. He knows his strong point and plays it. He knows the value of good habits and how to form them. He knows when to think and when to call the expert to think for him. You can't sell him magic. He lives the forward-looking, outward-looking life. He cultivates a love of the beautiful. —Exchange.

TAHOKA DRUG COMPANY Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right "I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

CARDUI Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

According to the sentiment expressed by a number of our exchanges, the Press boys do not seem to be very enthusiastic over Tom Hunter's third race for the governorship. Some of them remind us that two years ago, when Tom was defeated by Jimmie Allred, he was not sportsman enough to congratulate the winner; and they note that he has been finding fault with everything that Allred has done since. Many people are wondering whether Tom Hunter or Roy Sanderford will be second man this time. Many are guessing that Allred will win in the first primary.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

Unicameral Legislature Is Proposed For Texas

State Senator, 30th District

HOW YOUR LAWS ARE MADE

It may be that there are some who do not understand the proceedings necessary for the making of a law. I am, therefore, as briefly as possible going to outline to you what is necessary to be done before a law is placed on our statute books.

Let us start with what is known as a Bill or a proposed law being introduced in the House of Representatives. One of the members of the House at the proper time will state to the Speaker that he has a bill he desires to introduce. This bill is taken by such Speaker and referred to the proper committee. At the proper time, this bill is considered by this committee after notices have been given to those who desire to present evidence on either side of such question. The Bill is then voted on by the members of that committee as to whether it shall be reported favorably or unfavorably to the floor of the House. If it is reported favorably, it is then called up in its proper order on the calendar of the House for discussion. There it is amended, often many, many times, following which a vote is taken by such House to determine its passage.

If the Bill succeeds, after its amendments, in passing the House it is then sent to the Senate where it is again referred to the proper committee. There again everyone is notified that hearings will be had thereon. After the same testimony is taken before this Senate committee which had been formerly given before the committee in the House, it is then voted by that committee out to the floor of the Senate.

In its proper course it comes up for hearing on the floor of the Senate. There it is amended again and again. Finally a vote is taken to determine its passage. Should it be passed by the Senate it is in most cases very different from that Bill which came from the House of Representatives. The Bill is then sent back to the House of Representatives for them to concur on the amendments having been placed on the same by the Senate.

In most cases this concurrence is refused making it necessary for a free conference committee to be appointed from each of the two Houses to consider the Bill. Should the ten men on the free conference committee so desire, they will amend this bill and finally report it to each of the two houses in the form deemed most desirable to them.

The day of amendment is over after the free conference committee has concluded its work. The House and the Senate must each pass that Bill in the form written by such free conference committee. Should the Bill succeed in passing both of the Houses, it is then engrossed and sent to the Governor for his signature. After his signature is placed thereon and the proper time has elapsed after the adjournment of the Legislature, the Bill becomes a law of this State.

MIDWAY RAISES FUNDS

The club women and girls of the Midway community desire to thank the community for their liberal support in raising funds for the A. & M. scholarship. Everyone responded liberally. Each of our three teachers prepared and presented a one-act play, the women and girls prepared popcorn and candy. The men and boys came with their purses open, and our goal was reached.

Midway can always be depended upon to put things over.

GIVEN SCOUTER HONORS

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

PAINS IN ARMS, HANDS-COULDN'T REST AT NIGHT

Can Do All Her Work Now and Feels Fine After Taking Williams R. U. X. Compound.

Mrs. Ivan Yargus, Balknap, Iowa, writes the following letter about her remarkable improvement after suffering for 20 years.

"I had such pains in my back, shoulders, neck, arms, and hands that I couldn't rest at night. I couldn't raise my arms to comb my hair and felt like life wasn't worth living."

"While looking over the paper one day, I saw an ad for Williams R. U. X. Compound. I got a bottle and after taking two doses the pain began to leave. I have taken this medicine now for a little over two weeks and feel like living again. I can do all my work now, where before I had to have help."

Follow Mrs. Yargus' example. Don't suffer torturing muscular rheumatic pains of the arms, legs, shoulders, and body any longer without trying Williams R.U.X. Compound. Being a liquid—highly concentrated, already dissolved—it starts to work almost immediately. It is not just something to "rub on," but Williams R. U. X. Compound works from the "inside out."

WILLIAMS R. U. X. COMPOUND PAIN RELIEVING ingredients are absorbed into the blood, and carried to sore, inflamed muscles and parts, giving a feeling of ease and comfort which is a blessing to sufferers. TRY WILLIAMS R. U. X. COMPOUND TODAY!

Eat up distance, but not your bearings
Get alloyed oil . . . and you'll get the difference

Ask your wife. The least little heat makes smoke out of some of the oily substances she puts in her frying pan. They vanish double quick, while others stay put.

That's the sort of difference your hilliest hot-weather drive will show you in Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Patented.

It not only stays up around "Full," but stays right up in every working surface of your engine. Yes, the pistons, cylinders, valve gear, and any types of bearings ever used, can really take in this alloyed oil. You might say they become lastingly, smoothly "oil-glazed."

And you can see that this added sleek oil-surfacing, together with the high-durability Germ Processed oil-film, easily doubles your guard against summer grief. Now when you want to go farthest fastest, get Conoco Germ Processed oil—the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

There was a dense summer fog and the officer on the bridge was becoming more and more exasperated. As he leaned over the side of the bridge trying to pierce the gloom he saw a hazy figure leaning on a rail a few yards from his ship. He almost choked. ### Two Lives

GRIEF is a delicate and fragile flower, fading even more easily than joy, but never wholly dead. Though seemingly dried and withered past recognition, yet, if but one warm breath pass over it for a moment, it will bloom again with renewed freshness. Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful, and those who seem to forget have often the saddest hearts. Two beings dwell within us; one active, busy, absorbed in the duties and pleasures of this world; while the other is sadly and dreamily living in the past, treading with tears the former paths, stopping to remember a look, to pursue a shadow.

Twins, 91, Claim Age Title; Brother, 97, Backs 'Em Up

Mrs. Jane Giles and Miss Rachel Rader of Pulaski, Iowa, challenged all claimants to the "nation's oldest living twins" title, and particularly Joe and Dave Maddux of Philo, Ill. "We celebrated our ninety-first birthdays January 15," Mrs. Giles and Miss Rader declared. "That makes up 19 days older than the Maddux boys, who said they were ninety-one February 3. We have a big brother to prove it." The big brother is ninety-seven-year-old Anthony Rader still quite alert mentally.

No Need to Suffer "Morning Sickness"

"Morning sickness" is caused by an acid condition. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia. Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—the most pleasant way to take it. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system and insure quick, complete elimination of the waste matters that cause gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.

Start using these delicious, effective anti-acid, gently laxative wafers today! Professional samples sent free to registered physicians or dentists if request is made on professional letterhead. Select Products, Inc., 4402 23rd St., Long Island City, N. Y.

INTERESTING FAMILY

Tibet has a unique family. Alakh Jamv Japa is the Grand Living Buddha and head of the great monastery of Lhabrang Gomba, while his sister, Ab See, is the chief of the Ngolots, Tibet's most notorious gang of bandits.—Collier's.

WORK.. "FUN AGAIN" With Constipation Cleared Up

THE end of every day found her tired, out, nervous, often with headaches. But now, thanks to Nature's Remedy, work is fun again—she feels like going to a movie or dance any night. Millions have switched to this natural all-vegetable laxative. Contains no mineral or phenol derivatives. Instead a balanced combination of laxative elements, provided by nature, that work naturally, pleasantly. Try an NK tonight. When you see how much better you feel you'll know why a vegetable corrective is best. Only 25c. at all druggists.

A Laxative That Thousands Prefer

Black-Draught has helped so many men and women that others, needing a purely vegetable laxative, should have no hesitancy in trying it. Black-Draught relieves constipation in an easy, natural way. "We have found Black-Draught so satisfactory, I do not see any need to change," writes Mr. Ralph Burch, of Black, Ala. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation which make me feel sluggish, tired and no account. Black-Draught surely will relieve me."

Younger Women Like This Easy Laxative

There's no need to dread a laxative... dread its griping, nauseating, upsetting effect. Take Feen-a-mint, the delightful chewing gum laxative. As soon as you start to chew it, its stomach-settling mint brings a clean, fresh taste to the mouth. And Feen-a-mint acts gently. For as you chew out the laxative ingredient which is absolutely tasteless, the flow of digestive juices is increased. The laxative is mixed with them and carried into the system evenly. It passes through the stomach without upset and into the bowels scientifically, so that your action is wonderfully easy and thorough. Try the pleasant, refreshing Feen-a-mint way. Doctors prescribe its laxative ingredient for both children and adults. It is non-habit-forming. Sold on a money-back guarantee. Generous family size package 15c and 25c.

Print or Plain, Just So It's Linen

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WEAR linen in the morning, at noonday, during the afternoon hours, and when "the shades of night are falling fast," then wear linen formally. This spring and summer is destined to go down in history as a banner linen season.

The beauty about modern linens is that through ingenious processing they are being made practically crush resistant. The glory of this season's monotone linens is their remarkably handsome colorings. For the tailored jacket suit and sports and travel costumes, emphasis is on plain, firm, medium weight linens in such deep rich tones as Dubonnet and oxblood reds, dark blue, navy, also skipper blue, Biarritz green, the voguish spice brown, popular violet shades and other equally attractive colors. Shrimp pink and coral hues are especially noted. As to white and natural tones they will lead in the summer parade.

Prints, perhaps, provide even more exciting news! Printed linens are making a bid for the formal as well as the daytime hours. Imagine an exquisitely sheer handkerchief linen (sheers in linen are latest word) in rust, brown and white done in an authentic paisley patterning. It is linen like this that are providing new thrills in the way of media for smart evening gowns.

If you fancy happens to run to modernistic florals in vivid colorings, we suggest that you select for your next party dress one of the very new gorgeous printed linens carried out in daring orange red and green on a navy background. Speaking generally in regard to printed linens, whether for day or evening wear, aiking is expressed for widely spaced bouquet arrangements, for bizarre peasant patterns, also motifs of Chinese character as well as mystic far-east figures and hieroglyphics. Scroll designs that meander in linework all over the background are particularly good style.

The illustration demonstrates how smartly and effectively monotone linens combine with linen prints. To the left you see the suit, a new Creed model, as it looks with the jacket worn. This stunning ensemble is made of a dark green canvas type of linen for the classically tailored jacket and skirt, using crisp white linen for the blouse patterned in a green and tangerine linework crossbar print design. The linen is the finest possible quality, coming as it does from Moygashel, Ireland, noted for its beautiful high grade linens. Observe the slight fullness at top of jacket sleeve, giving the new broadened shoulder line. The skirt has a single knife pleat at its left front to give necessary fullness.

Removing the jacket of the suit, there comes to view, as pictured in the foreground, the smart chanel print Moygashel linen blouse. Its tangerine and green tones complement the monotone of the linen suit most pleasingly. The waistline of the blouse is slightly fitted. Two outstanding style details are the short puffed sleeves and the fact that instead of buttoning it is laced up the front, tiny cord lacing in and out through hand-embroidered eyelets.

JEWELRY FOR EVERY HOUR IN THE DAY

Jewelry for every hour in the day is now in vogue.

Collecting precious, real jewelry has become the fad of ladies of fashion. Women who already own fine collections of jewels are having them re-set. Now that gold settings are again smart, many colored stones enhanced by this treatment are being remodeled.

The suit is the perfect setting for a fine fob watch—a beautiful wrist watch, or a brooch or a clip watch.

Brooches, worn at the neck of the new frilly blouses are smart and if they support a fine and distinguished jewel, they give tone and elegance to the street talleur.

Pearls are worn with all types of blouses. Pearl earrings are rapidly gaining in popularity.

No jewel or decoration of any kind is as uniformly becoming and flattering to the wearer as pearls.

Fluffy Bow at Neck Gives Ingenue Air to Wearer

A new trick of the moment is to fasten a fluffy bow made of dozens of layers of pleated net, with a little posagey of spring flowers in the middle, at the neckline of your new spring print. You'd be surprised at the gay ingenuite air it gives you.

Or you may choose one of the new "lace paper dolly" collar and cuff sets, to give a last minute air to that long suffering black crepe daytime dress.

The new neckwear is shown in all the accessory colors of the moment, such as violet, tulip pink, rust, London tan, mimosa and, of course, white.

Sports Perfume In time to scent your spring tweeds, knitteds and your smartest riding habit appropriately and glamorously comes a new sports perfume created by one of the greatest French couturiers. It's named after one of the choicest kinds of leather, yet it's delicate and unmistakably feminine too.

SMART FOR SPORTS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The divided skirt costume is recognized as eminently practical for active sports wear. This simply cut dress is tailored to perfection of quality-kind linen imported from Moygashel, the finest flax producing section of the north of Ireland. It buttons up under the collar like a pinafore, with buttons running down under the arm. Its divided skirt means all the action you want on the golf links or tennis court.

New Shades Spring's top ranking colors include Imperial blue, aurora, Formosa blue, spinner's red, the zinnia shades, peonia and Devon green.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

A cloth dipped in vinegar and rubbed over the kitchen stove before it is blacked will remove all the grease that may have accumulated on it.

To remove soiled places on the children's rompers and play clothes dip garments in water, sprinkle with granulated soap powder, roll up and put to soak in the bottom of tub.

Soiled white window shades may be successfully painted on one side with a coat of flat white paint and with green paint on the other side.

Flannels and blankets will keep soft and white and will not shrink if washed with a tablespoon of ammonia in the water.

This story will interest many Men and Women

NOT long ago I was like some friends I have... low in spirits... run-down... out of sorts... tired easily and looked terrible. I knew I had no serious organic trouble so I reasoned sensibly... as my experience has since proven... that work, worry, colds and whatnot had just worn me down. The confidence mother has always had in S.S.S. Tonic... which is still her stand-by when she feels run-down... convinced me I ought to try this Treatment... I started a course... the color began to come back to my skin... I felt better... I no longer tired easily and soon I felt that those red-blood-cells were back to so-called fighting strength... it is great to feel strong again and like my old self. © S.S.S. Co.

 vote first, last, and all the time for Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Jack Garner as the nominees of the party for President and Vice President of the United States for the next term.

The committee on platform and resolutions which brought in the above report was composed of J. K.
 Applewhite, J. M. Payne, B. P. Maddox, A. F. Pitts, and J. E. Morgan.
 It was adopted without a dissenting vote.

The delegates sent to the state convention are as follows: Regular delegates—G. H. Nelson, T. T. Garrard, J. M. Payne, J. H. Edwards,
 J. B. Walker, and W. C. Wells; Alternates—B. M. Haymes, H. M.
 Larkin, John Heck, W. E. (Happy)
 Smith, Jack Applewhite, and D. M.
 Estes. The committee on delegation which had recommended this delegation was composed of W. S. Ang-lin, W. J. Benson, and W. L. Gardenhire.

The convention was called to order by County Chairman Jack Applewhite, who stated the object of the convention. Senator G. H. Nelson was elected permanent chairman and H. M. Larkin was elected secretary.

The chair appointed a committee on credentials as follows: A. F.
 Pitts, H. M. Larkin, and J. K. Applewhite, as well as the other committees above mentioned. It was found that seven of the voting precincts of the county were represented, as follows: South Tahoka, 8 delegates; O'Donnell, 4; Magnolia,
 2; Dixie, 4; West Point, 1; New Home, 1; and North Tahoka, 7.
 Twenty-seven delegates, therefore, were present and participated in the proceedings.

Chairman G. H. Nelson laid before the body the matter of financing the national campaign. A motion was made that the chairman appoint a finance committee to consist of one person from each voting precinct. Judge Maddox discussed the motion, pointing out the fact that the Democratic campaign fund this year must be raised among the masses, declaring that the big corporate interests will contribute practically nothing. The motion was amended to make the precinct chairmen with a few exceptions the constituents of this committee, and the motion was adopted.

The convention was harmonious throughout, and there was scarcely a dissenting vote on any proposition.

Stomach Sufferers

If you are suffering from indigestion, atonic dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and sick headaches, due to excessive acidity, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs.
 You should try at once the Doctor's Prescription, known as Gasa Tablets. If you allow these conditions to become worse, the acids may eat into the delicate mucous membrane of your stomach and intestine and possibly cause dangerous ulcers.
 Gasa Tablets are pleasant to take and they start to work in just a few minutes to give gentle, effective relief of pain and discomfort caused by excessive acidity. They soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach" and help convert starchy foods into dextrose, which is so essential to energy of the body, and preservation of health. Because of their remarkable success in many cases of acidity, and digestive troubles resulting from acid conditions, Gasa Tablets are offered now to sufferers under a guarantee that the first bottle must produce results or money back. For only a few cents a day, you may now have the benefits of this Doctor's Prescription which has helped so many other sufferers to a greater joy of living.
 Ask your druggist today for Gasa

Segregation For Texas Prisoners Nearing Reality

Houston, May 4.—The Texas prison board decided today to put into immediate effect a segregation plan for the approximately 6,000 inmates of the prison system. The program was formulated by Frank Loveland, director of the Texas prison classification department.

Prison reform leaders long have urged segregation as a means of preventing first offenders from becoming hardened criminals.

"I feel we are making a long step forward," said W. A. Paddock, chairman of the board. "Of course, the plan at first will be more or less experimental."

Loveland's plan is based on the criminal record of offenders, their attitude under confinement, their mental and physical condition, and their ages.

At the "head of the class" in these segregated groups are the first offenders. Those from 17 to 26 years of age will be placed at Harlem farm, group No. 1. Those above 26 years of age will go to Harlem farm camp No. 2, and Central farm camp No. 2.

Then comes the "repeaters." These are classified as corrigibles or semi-corrigibles, those who show possibilities for reform, and incorrigibles. The semi-corrigibles from 17 to 25 will go to Eastham farm, camp No. 2. If their conduct wins the proper recommendation, they may "graduate" to places in the first offender group. Semi-corrigibles over 26 will be sent to Retrieve farm, and they may also "graduate" to the first offender group.

All men classed as beyond reformation but not regarded as vicious, will go to Eastham farm, camp No. 1. By toeing the mark, it is possible to be promoted to Retrieve farm for further rehabilitation.

Incorrigibles classed as vicious, the most dangerous prisoners in the entire prison system, will be placed in the south wing of the Eastham farm, camp No. 1. They, too, may be promoted, but recommendations for them will be hard to win.

Additional care will be taken in segregating the insane, the feeble-minded and those physically handicapped, with an effort to assign them to tasks they can perform.

Extreme care will be taken to segregate drug addicts and homosexuals.

From the farms, prisoners of all "graduating" to the state farm in types will have the opportunity of dusries, where they will receive craft training and additional liberties.

The Liberty Bell Rings Again

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Recently the Liberty Bell was "rung" again in Philadelphia.

At its guarded shrine in Independence Hall the famous relic was tapped with a rubber mallet and its deep tones were broadcast into homes throughout America and many parts of Europe.

On this occasion the Bell was sounded in the cause of peace. To the people of America and other lands it carried the message of our desire to live honorably in amity with all nations. But there are other messages which the Bell that has made glorious history could carry throughout the world.

It could remind us at home of the courage and strength and passionate desire for personal liberty on which our fathers founded and developed this nation.

It could carry to the regimented millions of Eastern Europe a reminder that it was in devotion to those principles that America attained a greater measure of well-being and happiness for all its people than any nation on earth.

It could recall to the autocrats and the people of central Europe the glorious history of a nation which wrote tolerance and freedom of religion into its fundamental law, and has devoted itself to those principles through 150 years of liberty.

It could remind the men and women of southern Europe that peace and happiness find their surest resting place where the people, not a dictator, rule the land.

Those are some of the principles for which the Liberty Bell first rang a century and a half ago. If today it can strengthen those principles, not only at home but abroad, it will have performed another great service to mankind.

Tahoka Will Be At WTCC Convention

Miss Dottie Turrentine, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Turrentine, will be Miss Tahoka at the pageant of the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention being held in Amarillo Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The pageant will be presented each evening in the Municipal Auditorium.

James Minor, for the second time, will represent Tahoka in the "My Home Town" contest. He has his speech prepared, and funds were raised Tuesday by Tahoka business men to pay his expenses to the convention city.

J. K. Applegate is Tahoka's director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and will be the town's official representative at all business meetings of the body.

Quite a number of people from here expect to attend the convention.

MARTIN'S MAIZE STACK AT REDWINE IS DESTROYED

Headed and bundle maize valued at $500 belonging to J. D. Martin of the Redwine community was destroyed by fire at an early hour on Thursday morning of last week.

The origin of the fire is unknown. When Mr. Martin arose, he noticed his stack of feed was afire. Neighbors came to the rescue but most of the maize was destroyed before the flames could be extinguished.

Bluebonnet Girl Goes to Hollywood

Frances Nalle, 21, chosen from 500 aspirants as the Bluebonnet Girl for the Texas Centennial Exposition, which opens in Dallas June 6, also was one of 7 winners of the nation-wide search for talent contest conducted by Universal studios. Screen Play and Motion Picture Magazines and Gold-Bob pins. She will be lady-in-waiting to Mrs. Roosevelt when the President attends the opening day.

CANDIDATE SPEAKING AT DIXIE FRIDAY, MAY 15

There will be a candidate speaking at Dixie Friday night, May 15. Ice cream refreshments will be served. Everybody invite.

Judge George Bond of Crosbyton, candidate for Representative in the legislature, was a visitor in Tahoka Wednesday.

AT DALLAS MEETING

Rev. George A. Dale and Miss Berta Hill of Tahoka, Mrs. B. W. Baker and Mrs. S. G. Anthony of Wilson, and Mrs. Loyd McCormick of New Home attended a state-wide Sunday School meeting in Dallas the first of this week, returning Wednesday night.

"Gandpa" Strong of Three Lakes is reported to be very seriously sick this week.

Tahoka Citizens Are Buying Homes

Frontiers Show Is Gathering Stock

Fort Worth, May 7.—Buffalo, wild Brahmas and bucking broncos are being gathered from over the Southwest for the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial and assembled on a 2,500-acre ranch on Eagle Mountain Lake.

About 100 bucking horses, 60 Brahmas and six buffalo have already been turned into pasture to await the opening of the Ft. Worth Frontier Centennial on July 1. John B. Davis, general manager, announced today.

He explained that they are being gathered by Verne Elliot, Johnstown, Colo., who annually serves as arena director for the World Championship Rodeo of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth.

Billy Rose, director general for the amusement attractions that will constitute the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial has asked for the animals for use in the "Last Frontier," one of the major features of the Frontier show.

Difficulty has been experienced in keeping the buffalo on the ranch. Davis explained. The small herd of six has on several occasions broken through the fences and headed North, but have been driven back by the fence riders of the ranch.

RANGERITES VISIT HERE

J. E. Meroney and family of Ranger were last week-end guests of Mrs. Mattie Bradley, Don and the Alphins. Mrs. Meroney is a sister of Don and Mrs. Alphin. Mr. Meroney is secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

Other visitors in the Bradley home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miles, Mr. Miles' mother and baby grand-daughter, Jerry Greenwood, all of O'Donnell. Mr. Allen and Mrs. Miles are nephew and niece of Mrs. Bradley. Mr. and Mrs. John Cearley of Post were also among this number of Sunday guests.

COLLIER HAS FREE TICKETS TO $1,000,000 REXALL TRAIN

Wynne Collier, Druggist, local Rexall store, this week is advertising and passing out tickets of admission to the million dollar Rexall streamlined train, which will be open to the public in Lubbock next Saturday, May 9, from 9 to 10:45 a. m. Lubbock is one of the nine cities in Texas which will be visited by this train.

This is the first of the ultra modern stream-lined trains to visit this section and is very much worth while seeing, as railroad officials believe such trains are the answer to their problems of securing passenger traffic.

In addition to the train, its visitors will be shown the very latest in drug store stocks, supplies, sundries, and equipment.

For instance, one coach is equipped as a model drug store and here the most modern equipment displays the complete Rexall line. The women particularly will be pleased with the beautiful toilet goods display that practically takes one's breath away with its splendor.

The local Rexall store will be glad to supply every one with tickets of admission.

Little Wanda Faye Smith, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, is seriously ill in a Lubbock Sanitarium, but was reported to be apparently slightly improved Thursday. She is suffering from pneumonia and blood poison from an infection in the throat.

THANKS!

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all the good people who labored so hard in trying to help me save a part of my feed during the fire last week.

—J. D. Martin.

Aubrey Ball of Enid, Oklahoma, is here this week visiting Miss Bertie Belle Winter.

Numbers of Tahoka families have moved recently, due to the fact that they purchased homes of their own or to the fact that the residences which they occupied were sold to others.

Deen Nowlin, realtor and loan agent, and others have furnished the following list of sales of residences made here in recent weeks. Borden Davis purchased and has moved into the old Goodnough residence recently occupied by the C. L. Hafer family.

W. S. Anglin purchased and is now occupying the old L. P. Jeffreys home, recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thornhill.

Mrs. R. C. Forrester purchased and is improving the former W. T. Clinton home, occupied for several years by the H. B. McCord family. C. L. Hafer bought and moved into the Bert Dollins place.

W. T. Bovell has bought the old Jess Eubanks place recently occupied by G. W. Simmons.

W. G. Barrett purchased the Crouch home, more recently occupied by W. E. Heathman, which he has been occupying several months. Mrs. Iola Wood bought the place recently occupied by Claude Donaldson, known as the Harold Edwards place.

Claude Donaldson has purchased the Henry Maassen place, which Dr. Durham moved into a few weeks ago, making another move on his part necessary.

Carl Griffing has bought the former Clarence Barnes home, recently occupied by the Littleton family.

Lloyd Nowlin bought the old M. L. H. Baze place.

Oscar Roberts has purchased two residences in the west part of town, one being the former Burton Edwards residence and the other known as the Chris Adair place. He also bought and is improving the Marcus Edwards place.

Pete Hegi several months ago acquired the M. L. Handley home.

A. P. Edwards has also purchased the former Mrs. Thelma Swan home, which was occupied by F. C. Stanley.

W. H. Thornhill purchased from C. R. Cargile the old Bud Brewer home.

Sam Price has bought the Harvey Freeman residence in northwest Tahoka and has moved into it.

Claud Wells has bought and is occupying the Jackson place on the hill at the northern outskirts of the town.

Judge W. E. Smith has bought the S. H. Howell residence in the same vicinity and conveyed to Mr. Howell his residence on the highway at the northern limits of the city.

There are doubtless other sales of residences which we have overlooked that a few sales are yet pending. In this report, and we understand

LUBBOCK GROCERS FINED

Quite a number of Lubbock grocers were recently fined heavily for selling or having for sale "doctored" meats, we are told.

Hop Halsey of Lubbock, candidate for Representative of this district, visited Tahoka in the interest of his candidacy this week.

BAPTISTS REPORT FINE SUNDAY SERVICE

Excellent congregations attended both services at the Baptist Church last Sunday.

Taking one of Paul's great injunctions as his text, the pastor stressed the things that one should forget after enumerating some things that should not be forgotten. These hurtful things can be forgotten only by giving earnest attention to worth-while things, he pointed out; and he drew some very fine lessons from the Scriptures studied. At the evening service he delivered

MOTHER'S DAY IS MAY 10TH

We suggest a present with a FUTURE... a modern 1936 Gas Range. Take Mother to the nearest gas appliance dealer, or your gas company—and let her choose the model that suits her best. Cooking with gas is cheap on the new low gas rate. The low gas rate recently fixed by the Railroad Commission of Texas, and put in effect by the company, is lower than the rate in 591 of other Texas Cities and Towns having gas service. Minimum bill also reduced.

West Texas Gas Co.
Good Gas With Dependable Service

ed a masterful message on Desirny, taken from the story of the Rich Man and Lazarus.

It was announced that on next Sunday evening a special service for the pupils of the high school will be given. R. A. Springer, educational director of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, will be the speaker of the occasion. A fine Mothers Day program will be given at the morning hour, with a sermon in keeping with the occasion.

There was also a good attendance upon Sunday school last Sunday, 235 being present.

At the Men's class, special music was given by Misses Ruth Suddarth, Ola Lee Stevens, and Robbie Milliken, with Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth giving the piano accompaniment. Mr. Hogan, the teacher, brought a message that should have been heard by every young man and boy in Tahoka. Men and boys who are sitting around cafes and standing around the streets each Sunday morning while these fine lessons are being brought by Mr. Hogan in the near-by English Theatre surely do not know what they are missing. We are wondering if they, like swine, value the swill of life more than they value its pearls.

On next Sunday morning a Mothers Day program will also be given at this men's class. If you are not attending services elsewhere, by all means you should be there.

PRESBYTERIAN MOTHER'S DAY SERVICE

The climax of the Spring season is Mother's day. All of the floral beauties of nature, art and culture are brought under tribute to do her honor, on Mother's day. Thanks to the heart that invented a Mother's day, and gave this occasion for everybody to go to church at least once in May.

The Pyramids, in time, may crumble away, and the loftiest mountains may roll their sands to the seashore, but the memory of Home and Mother abides all the changes of the years and the centuries. Indeed, mountains of heart love and sentiment head up in this beautiful occasion of Mother's day. She being absent, it may be, yet speaks. Who is so ungrateful on this beautiful Mother's day occasion as not to want to give some token or expression of his memory of Home and Mother? Certainly, in all of the churches of our country we should have a good attendance at church, Sunday. Going to church next Sunday is not only a good way to honor Mother, but a noble way to honor the God of Mother and Father.

Be in our service 11 a. m. Sunday. Invite others who don't go elsewhere. Small crowds are never the preacher's fault. It may be we need more Mother's days to give meaning to Sunday and worship on this holy day. Come on to church Sunday. You will enjoy our S. S. hour, the Mother's day flowers, and the Mother's day message. Morning theme: "Mothers and World Recovery"—the issues that depend upon the Mothers of our country and the Christian home. We hope to have special music. No night service. Everybody always cordially invited to our services.—W. K. Johnston, Minister.

SUNRISE BREAKFAST

Thirty-eight Girl Scouts with three teachers of Central Ward, Miss Tippit, Mrs. Dunagan, Miss Douthit, enjoyed a sunrise breakfast in T-Bar pasture last Saturday May 2.

After meeting at the High School at 4:30, the troop hiked to the pasture, where eggs and bacon were started to fry, and then the eggs, bacon, milk, bread and oranges were enjoyed.

We dispersed at about seven o'clock, after playing several games. Although the sun didn't rise at that time, we had a good time and hope to have more in the future.—Reporter.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

A delicious birthday dinner was served to many friends in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. White Monday, May 4. The dinner was given for Mrs. White, who received many birthday presents.

Those present were: Mrs. White's mother, Mrs. Dyer of Odessa; Mrs. Lee Holley, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Macha, Mrs. E. E. Prry, Mrs. H. A. Macha, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. White, Colston Perry, Dyer White, Misses Irma and LeBusha Macha, Kathleen and John Perry, Evelyn and Robert Macha, and little Edwin Holley.—A Guest.

MUSIC CLUB GIVES ANNUAL PROGRAM FOR PUBLIC

At 8 o'clock in the evening of May 5, 1936, the Tahoka Music Club and Minor Baton gave their fourth public entertainment in recognition of National Music Week, which they have observed each year since their organization. The attendance was small this year, due to its not having been advertised very extensively.

Those assisting on the program were: Quartet from the Minor Baton—"Glow Worm"—and "The Gypsy Trail."

Cornet solo, "Take Me Back to My Boots and Saddle"—C. C. Armstrong Jr.

Musical reading, "I Ain't Gonna Cry No More"—Winston Redwine. Vocal solo, "Sweet Miss Mary"—Eva Douthit.

Sketch of the Life of David Gulon—Harold Snowden. Vocal solo, "Run, Mary, Run"—Hiram Snowden.

"Old Blue: a Texas Steer," original poem adapted from story by J. Frank Dobie, read by the author, Betty Suddarth.

Vocal solo, "On the Road to Mandalay"—Bill Sewell. Violin solos, "Lullaby," and "Have You Ever Been to Texas in the Spring?"—Mary Jane Weathers.

Vocal solo, "Sing, Sing, Birds on the Wing"—Mrs. F. C. Stanley. Saxophone and clarinet duet, "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers"—Dale and Vance Gildersleeve.

"Texas, Our Texas," everyone standing—Voice ensemble. Bill Sewell, Mary Jane Weathers and Mrs. Stanley were guest artists.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Joplin and Mrs. Lee Christopher of Amarillo were visitors in the home of Mrs. F. E. Redwine Sunday and Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Joplin formerly resided here, and Mr. Joplin served as deputy under Mr. Redwine when the latter was sheriff and tax collector of this county. Mrs. Christopher is a niece of Mrs. Redwine.

Hon. Tom Garrard left Tuesday for Midland, McCamey, and other points on professional business.

DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION WINS PRAISES OF MANY WEAK, RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Four-Way Medicine Helps Build Rich, Red Blood, Tones Up the System, and Aids Elimination of Poisonous Waste Matter—Improved Formula Based on Prescription Used by Physician in His Private Practice Is Now Available at a Cost of Only a few Cents a Day.

A Boon to Many Sufferers

New hope of relief from those simple anemias of the hypochromic type which are so often accompanied by weakness, lack of ambition and "pep," loss of appetite, has been brought to many sufferers in (Name of Town) by the recent announcement that a doctor's prescription intended for these conditions is now available in this city and can be had at a cost of only a few cents a day. This preparation, known as Williams S. L. K. Formula, has won the enthusiastic approval of many sufferers who have tried it, and so confident are the distributors that it will benefit other users that they offer it on a guarantee that the first bottle must produce results or money back.

Works in Four Ways

Williams S. L. K. Formula is believed to be unique inasmuch as it does its work in four different ways. It contains a valuable mineral element which is necessary for building rich, red blood. It is a tonic for the system, and is a mild stomachic tonic. It also has a mild laxative and diuretic action, and thus aids in the elimination of poisonous waste matter.

Many men and women feel "tired-out," worn-down and have little zest for work or play, simply because of poisons in their systems, due to insufficient activity of kidneys and bowels, and because they are deficient in the necessary elements for the production of red blood. In such cases Williams S. L. K. Formula seems to give particularly effective results. Many sufferers say that after taking only a few doses they "felt different," and as they continued with Williams S. L. K. Formula, life seemed to take on a new meaning for them.

Nearly everyone, both old and young, should have a good tonic now and then. Ask the druggist below to tell you all about Williams S. L. K. Formula and the remarkable offer which is being made to sufferers.

Relief Is Quick

If you feel weak, "run-down" nervous; if you seem to have lost your "grip" on things and your everyday tasks are a burden and a "grind," don't suffer another day without trying Williams S. L. K. Formula. You'll like its pleasant action, intended for quick benefits which many describe as a blessing to them. Being a liquid Williams S. L. K. Formula is easily assimilated and starts to work almost immediately. Only small doses are required. A teaspoonful, taken with water, makes the equivalent of a brimming glassful of tonic and system cleansing elements.

Make This Guaranteed Test

Get a bottle of Williams S. L. K. Formula today. Start taking it as directed and see for yourself what a wonderful aid this improved preparation can be, in helping to quickly dispel that tired-out, run-down feeling. See for yourself it is doesn't give you a "whale of an appetite" and make you feel like a different person. Remember, Williams S. L. K. Formula is sold under a positive guarantee of money-back on the first bottle if you are not satisfied. Start taking Williams S. L. K. Formula at once. If it doesn't do all—even more than you expect, return the empty bottle to the druggist and the trial will cost you nothing.

NEW HOME H. D. CLUB WOMAN IMPROVES KITCHEN FOR $7.50

Upon walking into Mrs. Boswell Edwards' kitchen the first thing one notices is the change made from a dark and gloomy kitchen to a bright and sunny one.

This change was made largely by papering the walls and ceiling of the room. Before the room was papered the walls and ceiling were smoked and dingy. Also a glass was added to the door, this being done by removing the two top panels of an ordinary door. The glass for this cost only $1.40. The other improvement which made the kitchen lighter was the painting of all the woodwork and the breakfast room suite. This was done in ivory.

Another improvement which adds to the convenience of the kitchen is the remodeled built in cabinet. The old cabinet was too low for standard working height. The legs were raised four inches to make it the proper height. The upper part of the cabinet was then removed, and then the table top was set aside. After this was done the cabinet was built four feet and six inches longer, making the cabinet extend a few inches past the window. To this new part was added three drawers and two shelves, inclosed by doors. The end, fronts of the drawers, and doors were made from plywood. The cabinet is now eight feet long. A table top for the cabinet was made by placing two foot boxings eight feet long on top of the frame. The top cost $1.20. The upper part from the old cabinet was then placed on top of the cabinet to the left of the window. The cabinet was then finished in ivory.

The total cost of the improvement of the walls, ceiling, woodwork, and cabinet was around $7.50. The labor being done by the family helped to

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Lynn. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Alias Execution issued out of the Honorable County Court of Taylor County, on the 5th day of May, 1936, by W. P. Bounds, clerk of said court, for the sum of three hundred and sixty and 46-100 ($360.46) Dollars and costs of suit under a Judgment in favor of W. H. Stephens & Co. Inc. in a certain cause in said Court, No. 8229 and styled W. H. Stephens & Co. Inc., vs. C. Y. Partain, placed in my hands for service, I, B. L. Parker as Sheriff of Lynn County, Texas, did, on the 7th day of May, 1936, levy on certain interest in Real Estates situated in Lynn County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: All of the one-third interest in the mineral rights on the Northeast 1/4 of Section No. 8, Block No. 8, E. L. R. R. R. R. Co., land located in Lynn County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of C. Y. Partain and that on the first Tuesday in June, 1936, the same being the 2nd day of said month, at the Court House door of Lynn County, in the town of Tahoka, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said Alias Execution, I will sell said above described interest in said Real Estate at public vendue, for cash to the highest bidder, as the property of said C. Y. Partain.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Lynn County News, a newspaper published in Lynn County. Witness my hand, this 7th day of May, 1936. B. L. PARKER, Sheriff, Lynn County, Texas. 38-31c.

MRS. GRIFFIN ENTERTAINS THE PHEBE K. WARNER CLUB

Mrs. Carl Griffing was hostess to the Phoebe K. Warner Club at 4 o'clock April 25.

Mrs. H. C. Story, vice-president, presided over the meeting while Mrs. L. E. Weathers, the president, enjoyed sitting in on one meeting of the year, according to the rules of the club.

"Creative Art in Texas" was a very interesting program. "Art" was discussed by Mrs. Edwards; "Literature" by Mrs. K. Mathis; and a special piano number was given by Joycelyn Maasen.

The hostess served a plate of delicious ribbon sandwiches and iced drinks to: Mmes. Story, Weathers, Haney, Craft, Slaton, Richardson, Mathis, Edwards, Hegl, Fenton, Callaway, Burleson and Henderson.

NEW LYNN 4-H CLUB

"Your notebook is complete, Juanita," said Miss Robb Tuesday when she checked the notebooks. Juanita Jones is ahead on her notebook; it is complete. But, look out, she won't be long, for all the others are as busy as bees. My, what is the matter! A lot of the girls are quitting, and there were a lot of questions. What is the matter, girls? We all asked but no one seemed to know. We have our dresses made and there were thirteen modeled today. They sure are pretty. We expect to get a place or two. We are waiting for Saturday to come so we can model. Pauline Perkins and Mizie Mae Baker are going to put on a special for the club at Tahoka which will be a song. There were 22 present and one new member who is Nadyne Nelson.—Reporter.

HEREFORD PLANS COLORFUL CENTENNIAL EVENT MAY 8

Hereford, May 8.—A Texas Centennial day celebration and Old Settler's program on Friday, May 8, will mark Hereford's contribution to the state-wide Centennial observance.

A full day of entertainment is planned with a parade in the afternoon and folk songs and dances in the evening as outstanding events. Leading the parade will be a man representing Deat Smith for whom the Panhandle county was named. Six young men and women will represent the nations whose flags have flown over Texas and next in line will be 20 Indians, headed by a chief in full costume. Floats will depict the buffalo hunters and trail herders. Other floats will portray the cattle industry with scouts, chuck wagon, and cowboys. Of interest in the parade will be old buckboards, freight wagons, prairie schooners, and aged motor cars.

The celebration is expected to be an outstanding Centennial event in the Panhandle section of the state.

NEW FARM PROGRAM LAUNCHED IN TEXAS

College Station—Base figures used in the 1935 AAA program in Texas will be used in the 1936 farm program being set up under the new Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, according to a statement issued here by Jack Shelton, Vice Director and State Agent of the Extension Service.

In preparation for putting the program into effect the Extension Service staff spent two days studying the plan for the Southern Region as explained by R. H. Rogers, senior agricultural economist from the planning division of the AAA who flew here in company with A. L. Smith, former chairman of the Texas Cotton Allotment Board.

Smith has been in Washington for the past two weeks helping to work out details of the new program as they affect Texas and the other Southern states.

Following the conference at College Station, Extension agents in the counties will be called together in group meetings at convenient points in their districts and district agents will lay the general plans for organization and soil conservation before them to take back to their farmers.

At meetings in the counties the county agricultural agents will explain the terms of the Act and the proposed organization to be set up under it. Election of committees of farmers to administer the work will be the next step.

The organization will begin with a "community" committee of three members who will represent approximately 500 farmers. Committees from all communities will constitute a county board from which a county committee will be elected to have special responsibility for administering the Act in the county.

"Every farmer in Texas will have an opportunity to hear the Act explained and to cooperate in making the new farm program a success," Shelton stated. "It is their program, it was passed by Congress at their urgent demand, we believe that they will want to understand it very fully and that they will want everybody else to understand it too, because the old saying that 'what you are not up on, you are apt to be down on' is still true."

Shelton further emphasized the fact that the old program and the organization that went with it are completely out; that this is an entirely new set-up; that it is a soil conservation and soil building program.

"The blowing sand in the air right now and the floods which have made thousands of people homeless in cities and towns as well as on farms gave a rather dreadful emphasis to the fact that America is fifty years late with a soil conservation program, but better late than never, I think we will all agree."

Heart disease is still the costliest of liabilities to life insurance companies, but tuberculosis, once second in costliness, has been displaced during the last 10 years by cancer, according to statistics of death benefits paid on policies in 1925 and 1935.

The "Personal Touch" In Taxes

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Newspaper-reading Americans are learning the names of a lot of once-unfamiliar taxes these days.

Capital-stock Tax, Undistributed Corporation Reserve Tax, Tonnage Tax, Manufacturers' Excise Tax, Communications Tax, Insurance Tax—these are just a few of the titles with which a tax-conscious Congress is crowding the headlines.

What do they all mean? Let the experts explain. The important fact is that whatever their titles, whenever they are supposed to hit—we, the people, pay the final bill.

Not directly, of course—but in the natural course of events. As economists explain, the industries and other producers at whom such levies ostensibly are aimed must raise the tax money somehow. How? The obvious method is to add it to the price of their products—of the things which the average worker and his wife and children need and must buy.

That's why we are told there's a hidden tax in every railroad fare we pay, in every market basket we carry, in every rent bill we meet, in every suit we wear, in every phone call we make, every mile we drive.

That's why heavy taxes, wherever aimed, boost the cost of living for every worker and consumer—for the overwhelming majority of American families. That's why, regardless of titles, such taxes retain what writers call the "personal touch."

Try to name for taxes can obscure these facts, but they cannot lower the H. C. L. That must be achieved by reducing waste in government—which makes heavy taxes necessary.

Last Wednesday in chapel the play, "Sauce for the Gossings," sponsored by Mrs. Tunnell, was given.

Sunday night a special service for the Seniors will be given at the First Baptist Church. Rev. R. A. Springer from Lubbock will deliver the message.

Wednesday afternoon, April 29, the seventh grade class went on a picnic to Tahoka Lake. The class was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Carter and Sarah Virginia, Mrs. W. C. Wells, Mrs. C. W. McClintock, Opal Brown McClintock, C. D. Sparks, Mrs. N. M. Wyatt, and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Assiter.

Wilma Dkve fell as she was running down a hill and cut a gash in her head. She was unable to be back in school the rest of the week. With the exception of the scare caused by Wilma's fall, the picnic was enjoyed by all who went.

Miss Eva Douthit, Miss Marie St. Clair, Mrs. Lucille Bludworth and Corbin Douthit were joined at Lubbock by Miss Lucille Lilljedahl and they all went to Plainview for the week-end, where they attended a young people's rally at the Methodist church. Mrs. Bludworth was invited to a banquet of the Llano Escadado chapter of the American Association of Spanish Teachers at the Hilton Hotel Friday evening.

On Friday, May 1, 1936, the Juniors entertained the Seniors with a formal banquet at the American Legion Hall. The color scheme was carried out with the Senior class colors, yellow and white. The tables were decorated beautifully, and the menus were very attractively made. They consisted of the various courses in the form of the Centennial Celebration. A very delightful meal was served by the Sophomores. This meal was prepared by the Euzelian Class of the First Baptist Church, who were sponsoring the decorations and eats.

The program was:

Typewriting in Tahoka High School appears to be one of the most popular courses in the curriculum. Last week, Mr. J. T. Carter, principal, checked the credits of each pupil in school and verified each student's work. In addition, he asked that each student make out a tentative program for his next year's schedule in order to facilitate enrollment and thus help Mr. Carter's successor. Thirty-one of the Junior Class who will be Seniors next year asked for typing; eleven of them requested that Bookkeeping be added, and two wanted Shorthand. Heretofore, only Seniors have been permitted to enroll for Typing, but many requests came from other classes in addition to those from post-graduates.

According to Mrs. Bludworth, the Typing instructor, the department is entirely too small to serve the needs of the school. There are eleven typewriters and pupils this year have bought or rented machines in order to avail themselves of the opportunity to learn.

Four Typing students are preparing themselves to take Civil Service examinations in the subject. Junior typists begin work at a salary of $1260 a year with an increase

What the Politicians Should Know

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
 National Chairman
 Sentinels of the Republic

One of the most interesting developments of recent weeks has been the sudden alarm of many men in public office over various political and economic theories which happened to originate elsewhere than in legislative halls.

Openly the politicians are expressing amazement at many of these new plans and projects, and wondering aloud just where and how they were inspired.

But the politicians should be the last of men to ask such questions. For years many of them, in the quest of popular support, have been advocating projects not only startling and unusual, but frequently at odds with our American theories of government.

For years many of them have been preaching, for example, the exact opposite of Grover Cleveland's famous dictum that it is the business of the people to support the government—not of the government to support the people.

But whatever the temporary influence of such philosophies on scattered groups of citizens, they seem to be exercising little effect on the great productive body of American workers and earners.

Recognizing a responsibility to the handicapped and unfortunate, this preponderant group, which represents the real strength and spirit of America, still believes with Theodore Roosevelt that America expects every citizen to be willing, so far as he is able, to pull his own weight.

And so long as that typically American spirit of courage and self-reliance prevails, neither the politicians nor the people need fear the wildest theories.

after the first year. Although only forty-five minutes a day is allowed to Typing, several of the students have achieved worthy high school averages. Eunice Mullins, graduate student, is averaging around forty-five words a minute net.

J. N. Line of O'Donnell was a visitor in Tahoka Wednesday. Until recently he was engaged in the grocery business in O'Donnell, selling out to a Ranger man a couple of weeks ago.

J. B. Nance of Plainview was here Tuesday visiting friends. He reports that a little five-year old daughter has been seriously sick for ten weeks. First she had pneumonia, then tonsillitis, and finally an attack of diphtheria. She now seems to be improving. Mr. Nance reports many deaths in Plainview recently from pneumonia and other maladies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jaynes, Eugene and Lillian Jaynes, and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Jaynes visited relatives at Merkel over the week end.

TATE THANKS Customers

Since the building which I have occupied for the past 14 years has been sold and my lease on the building expires on May 17, everything I have in the store is for sale at prices that should interest you.

I have not had time to mature my plans and do not know just what I will do after May 17. But I wish to thank my friends and customers for the patronage they have given me the past fourteen years. It certainly has been a pleasure to deal with you, and I deeply regret that I can not continue to serve you in the same old way at the same old place.

So, come on, folks, and get the rest of my stock of goods between now and May 17, at very special prices. We thank you!

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES
We filled our appointment at O'Donnell last Lord's Day. Had two fine services with fair attendance. Especial interest was aroused at the night sermon on "The Second Coming of Christ," which is a live issue at this time when so much false teaching is being given on the subject.

The attendance here was large, with many visitors. Come again when I am at home.

Next Lord's Day is Mother's Day in our fair land. I am made to wonder if we appreciate our mothers as we should. Let's show it next Sunday with a remembrance gift.

A few more inconsistencies: Why people will clamor for a square deal and then act crooked themselves? How church people can expect the church to do her best and not give it their best? How preachers can expect to move people Godward when they are not going in that direction themselves? Why people will make so much fuss about drunken drivers after voting the wet ticket themselves? Why people will stay out of the church because of hypocrites and then work with them in the lodge? Why people will curse God and expect him to send the rain? Why candidates are more friendly on election years than off years?

I will fill the pulpit here next Lord's Day at both hours. Bible study 10 a. m.; preaching 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.

A welcome awaits you at the friendly church.—R. P. Drennon.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES
Church school will begin at 9:45 each Sunday morning. "Every member an active member" is our goal, so come and be with us next Sunday. You need the help of the church and the church needs the inspiration that will come from your presence.

Preaching at eleven o'clock in the morning and at eight o'clock in the evening by the pastor next Sunday. Both of these services will be in honor of our mothers. Gifts for the oldest mother present, for the youngest mother present, and for the mother of the greatest number of children present will be given at the morning service. These gifts are to be furnished by three of our adult classes. Church affiliation will not be considered in awarding these gifts.

All young people are invited to the young people's service at seven o'clock in the evening.

All ladies are invited to come and join in the new study, "Achieving a Christian Home," which is being given in the Missionary Society. They meet each Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the church.

If you are not attending services elsewhere, we extend to you a cordial invitation to be with us in any or all of our services.

ALL-SEW CLUB

The All-Sew Club met with Mrs. A. I. Thomas Thursday, April 23. Plans were made for their annual husbands' evening, which was a dinner at the American Legion Hall Thursday evening, April 30. Delicious strawberry short cake was served to Mesdames E. E. Callaway, C. L. Hafer, Roy Leslie, Kary Mathis, A. L. Lockwood, V. F. Jones, J. A. South, Belton Howell, and the hostess. The Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Callaway Thursday, May 7.—Reporter.

ALL-SEW CLUB

The ladies of the sewing club entertained their husbands at the Legion Hall last Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The evening and everyone seemed to enjoy the party.

A buffet supper consisting of friend chicken, gravy, rolls, salads, peas, pie, coffee, and tea was served to those present.

TAHOKA H. D. CLUB HOST TO OTHER CLUBS

The Tahoka H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. M. O. Canaday Wednesday, May 6th.
