34 High School Seniors Get Diplomas

SCHOOL YEAR CLOSES HERE

Commencement Address Given By Hon George W. Dupree Last Friday Evening

The members of the Senior class of the Tahoka High School 34 in number, received their diplomas of graduation from the hands of Alvin Hicks, president of the school board, at the Commencement exercises held in the high school auditorium last Friday evening.

Scholarships were awarded by Superintendent W. G. Barrett. Miss Carol Holloway received the highest honors of the class, and as valedictorian she read a paper on "The Conqueror of the Napoleon of the West."

Miss Lottie Stephens was second-honor student and was the salutatorian. Her paper was entitled "David Crockett and Freedom."

The class address was given by Hon. George Dupree, of Lubbock, and he delivered an eloquent and masterful discourse.

Other numbers on the program were: A piano solo, "Laughing Waters", by H. P. French; a vocal solo, "Come to the Fair", by Johnnie Janak; and the class song by the class.

Mrs. J. K. Applewhite played the processional, Elder R. P. Drennon pronounced the invocation, Principal J. T. Carter certified the graduates, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. C. Armstrong. The following is the list of graduates.

Reward In Turkey Theft Paid Farmer

A $25 reward has been paid by the Capper's Farmer National Protective Service for the arrest and conviction of Otis Savage, who stole two Bronze turkeys from the posted premises of W. S. Mash, Route 6, Lubbock. Savage was sentenced to the State Penitentiary at Huntsville for this and a series of other offenses. The reward has been paid to Mash, who is to distribute a part of it to private citizens and officers who co-operated with him in running down the thief.

Since the protective service began operating, rewards amounting to $68,590 have been paid for the conviction of 2,792 thieves, found guilty of stealing from farmers whose premises are posted with protective service signs.

It is believed the new system now being used by the protective service for marking practically all farm property for identification in case of theft will go a long way toward curbing thefts from farmers in the future.

REPORTERS WILL MEET

The Lynn County Reporters Association will meet in the county court room Saturday afternoon, May 30, at 2:30 o'clock. All club reporters are urged to be present. These meetings are planned to aid reporters in making their reports more interesting.—Mrs. S. G. Anthony, Secretary.

G. E. Hoyan was sick the first half of the week and not able to be at the store till Thursday.

Post Office Will Close Saturday

The post office in Tahoka, as well as all post offices in the United States, will be closed all day Saturday, May 30th being Decoration Day and a national holiday.

Pension Survey Work Progresses

George G. White of Big Spring, district supervisor of the Old Age Assistance program, was here Wednesday conferring with County Investigator, Carter Thompson.

Mr. White urges that all applicants for old age assistance shall have their proofs of age and residence ready when the county investigator comes around, which may be any day.

"We are making an effort to contact every one and have everything completed by July 1," Mr. White stated.

Boy Scouts Sell Centennial Tickets

Tahoka Boy Scouts are this week selling tickets to the Central Centennial Exposition, Dallas, which opens June 6th and closes November 29th. The tickets are good for $4.00 worth of admissions and are being sold for $2.50. This is strictly an advanced sale bargain rate, acting Scoutmaster Kary Mathis states, and those waiting until the Exposition opens, will have to pay the full admission price.

The book of ten tickets is good for the following: Five general admissions; and five concession admissions, namely, 1. Cavalcade of Texas with 300 actors; 2. German Black Forest Village, 3. Hollywood Animal Stars, 4. Midget Village, 5. Old Globe Theatre or Tony Sarr's Marionette Theatre.

In addition to saving $1.50 on admissions, the buyer of one of these books will help the local Boy Scouts, as the boys make a profit of 50c on each book sold.

Tech Raising Trees For Plains Farms

Lubbock, May 28.—Hundreds of thousands of year-old trees adapted to this region will be planted in a temporary eight-acre nursery at Texas Technological College by the Soil Conservation Service of the National Department of Agriculture. When the trees reach sufficient size they will be transplanted to form windbreaks on farm property in this section of the state.

The nursery, which is under the direction of Hugh G. Porterfield, junior forester of Amarillo, assisted by the Tech Plant Industry department, will be used for observation and study in laboratory work of courses dealing with soil management and landscaping. The college is cooperating with the Conservation Service in the project.

New Home Couple Married Monday

Mr. Aubrey Smith and Miss Pauline Shadden of New Home were united in marriage Monday night at the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. K. McCullough, the good minister officiating.

Mr. Smith is the son of S. L. Smith of New Home and is a brother of District Attorney Truett Smith. He and the bride have the best wishes of many friends.

Mr. Smith has been a teacher but is now farming at New Home.

SCHOOL TAXES TALK IS GIVEN

Barrett Tells Where Money Comes From For Our Schools And How It Is Spent

Superintendent W. G. Barrett brought a wealth of information to the Luncheon Club Tuesday on the State's tax system and how the money is spent, with special reference to the public schools of the state.

He showed how the State's taxes are raised, called attention to the various sources of the State's income, gave the proportion of each item of income that goes into the public school fund, and the amount of local school taxes raised here last year. He also showed how the school funds are spent, in the state and locally.

The total state available school fund annually is about $37,000,000, while the total highway fund annually is about $45,000,000. The state ad valorem tax for public school purposes, he pointed out, is 35 cents on the $100 property valuation. Of this amount, 27 cents goes to the maintenance of the public schools and 8 cents for the purchase of text books.

Mr. Barrett also gave the educational set-up in this state, stating that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction is head of the public school system, while the State Board of Education purchases the text books for the school children of the state and makes recommendations to the State Board of Control periodically. There are nine members of the State Board of Education, Hon. Tom Garrard of Tahoka being one of them.

The clean-up and park committees had little to report at this meeting. The board of directors were called into a special meeting following the luncheon to outline a program of new work to be undertaken by the club.

Nelson Speaker On Spur Program

Senator G. H. Nelson was one of the speakers at a big barbecue and political rally held at Spur Thursday. Cpl. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the state railway commission, and Governor James V. Allred were the other speakers.

Senator Nelson spoke from 1 to 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Colonel Thompson from 2 to 3, and Governor Allred from 3 to 4.

It is said that one of the largest crowds assembled at such a gathering anywhere in West Texas in recent years was present. The meeting was in the beautiful new Chas. A. Jones Memorial Stadium.

Local Girl Honored At Tech College

Lubbock, Texas May 28.—Miss Jane Tinsley, daughter of M. L. Tinsley, Tahoka, was recognized at the annual Texas Technological College Women's Recognition service recently for making an A-minus average during the fall semester, for her work as secretary of the Student Council, and for membership in Alpha Chi, national scholastic fraternity.

SMITH BACK FROM AUSTIN County Judge W. E. Smith returned Wednesday afternoon from Austin, where he had gone the first of the week to confer with the state highway commission respecting the highway construction in this county.

Mrs. J. M. Malone, dean of women at Wayland College, Plainview, spent the week end here visiting her sister, Mrs. L. E. Weathers.

FARMERS SIGN FOR SOIL WORK

Time Is Extended On Conservation Sign-Up; Eighty Per Cent Are Signed In County

Fully eighty percent of the farm lands of Lynn county have been signed up under the new Agriculture Soil Conservation program, according to estimates made by County Agent V. F. Jones.

The time for signing has been extended to June 10. It is possible that 90 percent of it will have been signed by that time.

This does not mean, however, that the cotton acreage will be held to as low a point as it was last year. The reduction last year amounted to about 35 per cent, while a rough estimate is that it will amount to only 20 to 25 per cent this year.

This means that there will be an increase of 20,000 to 30,000 acres over last year. Last year's acreage was about 127,000. The average acreage for the five year period preceding the initiation of the AAA program was about 190,000.

With approximately 150,000 to 160,000 acres in cotton this year, there should be a considerable increase in the county's yield over last year, if weather conditions are favorable. The matter of price is a more doubtful proposition.

Mr. Jones says that a large portion of the acreage held out of cotton production this year will be planted in sudan. The rest of it will be planted mainly in soy beans and cow peas. These are regarded as fine soil-building plants.

MRS. REID CRITICALLY ILL

Mrs. G. M. Reid, who has been so critically ill the past few days in the West Texas Hospital, shows little change in condition. Following an operation for appendicitis, it is said that peritonitis set up. Many friends here are hoping for a turn for the better.

Tahoka Citizens Honored By Party

Tahoka was well represented at the state Democratic convention in San Antonio this week. Senator G. H. Nelson was placed on the committee on delegation, and Hon. Tom Garrard of Tahoka was named as one of the delegates to the national convention to meet next month in Philadelphia.

Other delegates from the 19th congressional district are Dr. W. A. Jackson of Lubbock, Hon. Meade F. Griffin of Plainview, and Congressman George Mahon of Colorado.

Senator and Mrs. Nelson returned to Tahoka Wednesday afternoon. They report that they greatly enjoyed the convention. They confirm newspaper reports that it was a most enthusiastic and harmonious convention. Practically everybody was for Roosevelt and Garner and the New Deal.

Strange Animal Is Found Near T-Bar

A. Y. Edwards of T-Bar community brought to town Friday a strange species of what must be a salamander, which he had caught in a surface tank. If not a strange species, it is not a fully developed salamander, for it still has gills with which to breathe. On what appears to be fins, are what appear to be fine, short feathers. Nobody in town, it seems, had seen a salamander or waterdog that looked just like this one.

So many interested spectators handled the strange creature that it died Sunday, and Eldon Gattis has preserved it in a glass of alcohol, and put it on exhibit in the I. I. Gattis place of business.

Other Schools In County Close

The public school at New Home will have its Commencement exercises Friday night of this week. The Morgan school will also close Friday.

The Wilson schools are to close Friday, June 5, and the Lakeview school on June 12.

All the major schools of the county have maintained a school term of nine months and most of the others eight months. Only a very few were compelled to close at the end of seven months.

Tahoka Will Play At Wilson Sunday

A baseball game between the Tahoka and Wilson teams has been scheduled for Wilson next Sunday afternoon.

This will be Tahoka's first game of the season.

W. S. (Skip) Taylor is manager of the Tahoka team again this year and believes the team is capable of making a good record.

WPA Work Will End On June 30

Operation of the Texas Relief Commission's state wide program for the care of unemployables will end with the receipt of checks for the second half of June.

This definitely means that beginning with July 1st there will be left within each county a group of people who will have no means of sustaining themselves, that is, those persons who are ineligible for old age assistance. These will constitute a responsibility which will have to be assumed by the community, its welfare organizations, or other sources of local aid.

Added to the first group may be persons who, though employable, are, for one reason or another, out of work. Certification of employables to the Work Progress Administration was discontinued early in May. Since that time the only relief available to employable persons has been through application to local agencies. With the coming of July and the discontinuance of checks to unemployables who have been carried on the rolls of the Texas Relief Commission, they too will have no recourse but to ask assistance of the communities in which they reside.

Hill's "Indian" Talk On Radio Tonight

"Indian Scouts to the South Plains" will be the subject of a talk by Frank P. Hill of Tahoka over radio station KGNC, Amarillo, at 9 o'clock tonight (Friday). The talk is one of a series being given over the station by West Texas historians, is sponsored by one of the major oil companies, and arranged by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, Canyon. Musical script has been arranged to accompany the talk.

Station KGNC, operated by the Amarillo News-Globe, broadcasts on a wave-length of 1410 kilocycles.

Dr. J. T. Krueger Is Touring In Europe

Dr. J. T. Krueger of the Lubbock Sanitarium sailed from New York Wednesday for Europe.

He will attend lectures at clinics in England, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, and France. He will also make a personal tour through Italy and will return to Lubbock about July 16.

DRAW INVITES CANDIDATES Draw school will be the scene of a box supper and candidate speaking on the night of Tuesday, June 9th. Everybody invited.

FARMERS WILL START CROPS

Practically All Of Water That Fell Soaked Into The Ground People Jubilant

Once again the Plains and the Panhandle are soaked. In fact it seems that all Texas is soaked. Even the dustiest of the "Dust Bowl" is no more. The citizens of Dalhart and other north Panhandle towns are having a great time watching the muddy waters of the Canadian or its swollen tributaries roll onward toward the sea.

Throughout Lynn county and over most of this section of the state, the rains came gently, however.

First, there was a light shower Friday afternoon. Then about six o'clock Saturday morning the rain began to patter down again. It rained intermittently throughout the day and through much of the night. Other light showers Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday brought the total precipitation in Tahoka since last Friday up to 1.91.

In some parts of the country, much more rain than that has fallen, some localities reporting as much as three or four inches. In fact, practically all of the north half of the county has received more rain than Tahoka. In some localities in the south half, the fall was not as heavy as it was here, but it is believed that it has been sufficient everywhere to bring up crops that will now be planted.

Practically every drop of rain that fell on the fields soaked into the soil. Very little of it ran off or was wasted. Farmers say that the land is in the finest possible condition for planting. While most farmers would have liked to plant a week or two earlier, yet many of them will plant their entire crops within three or four days time, since many acres can be planted in a day by the use of a tractor.

In a few favored localities some cotton was already up. Prospects for a good yield of all kinds of crops are excellent at this time, but of course many things can happen between May and September. Lynn county rarely ever fails, however, with a start like this.

Displays Money As Old As Nation

Last week we published a little story about a $50 Treasury Note issued by the Republic of Texas on January 20, 1840.

On Tuesday of this week Mrs. Hall Robinson brought to the News office a $30 Bill much older than that. In fact it is just as old as this American Republic. It was evidently issued in 1776 or soon thereafter.

Under the superscription: "United Colonies," appears this Certificate: "Thirty Dollars. This Bill entitles the Bearer to Receive Thirty Spanish Milled-Dollars of the Value of Thirty Dollars in Gold or Silver, in accordance with a Resolution of Congress passed at Philadelphia July 22, 1776."

It bears an illegible signature, apparently "Gouverneur Morris," and was printed by Ball & Sellers at Philadelphia.

In size, it is about as wide and about half as long as the old-style currency bill issued by the U. S. Government up to a few years ago when a smaller size was adopted.

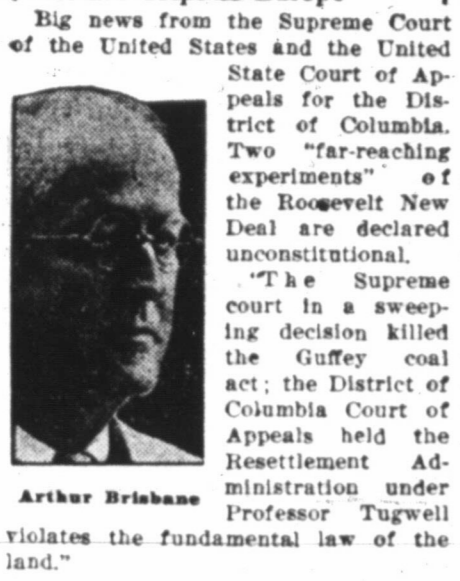

This Bill too was the property of "Uncle Ben" Rogers up till a short time ago. It became the property of his grandmother, he says, when she was still a little girl. That dates almost back to the Revolutionary period. The grandmother gave it to "Uncle Ben's" mother, and later she gave it to him. He had it in his possession for many, many years, and recently gave it to Mrs. Robinson in gratitude for some favors she had done him.

If anybody has any money older than this, trot it out.

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

Two New Deal Upsets 25,000 Watch Frogs In School Until 22 Round Trips to Europe

Arthur Brisbane

Big news from the Supreme Court of the United States and the United State Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. Two "far-reaching experiments" of the Roosevelt New Deal are declared unconstitutional. The Supreme court in a sweeping decision killed the Guffey coal act; the District of Columbia Court of Appeals held the Resettlement Administration under Professor Tugwell violates the fundamental law of the land.

The decisions set forth that "these major experiments in socialization involve unlawful delegation of powers vested in congress and violation by the federal government of the rights of the states," the Washington dispatch avers. The resettlement decision affected only that part of the relief activities under Professor Tugwell's administration, leaving undecided the remainder of the $4,800,000,000 voted to the President last year.

Much of the resettlement money has been spent and much more allocated, cancellation of which will raise problems.

At Angels Camp, Calif., 25,000 persons watched the annual Calaveras county frog-jumping contest and saw "Can't Take It" cover a distance of 12 feet 3 inches in three hops. Another frog, raised on the ranch of the late Will Rogers, was second, with 12 feet 2 inches.

Twenty-five thousand human beings watched some frogs hop; not half as many would have gathered to hear Einstein lecture on relativity.

It is suggested that every American be compelled to go to school until twenty-two years of age to cut down the competition for jobs.

It might be simpler to keep everybody in school until sixty and then give everybody a pension of $200 a month. What could be simpler than that?

The average sensible American starts making a living long before he is twenty-two and would do well to continue on that basis.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, who has flown in the Arctic, Antarctic and other queer regions by plane, crossed the Atlantic by dirigible recently.

Says Sir Hubert: "From almost anywhere in the United States, a business man could spend Wednesday and Thursday going about his business, catch the dirigible by airplane Thursday midnight, spend two business days in Europe and be at his desk the early part of the next week."

Prof. Raymond Moley says it was easier for Mussolini to conquer "muddy thinking" in the League of Nations than it will be to "prevail over the mud of Ethiopia in months to come."

New York police arrested a middle-aged woman begging near a church and "acting strangely." She wore men's shoes, five dresses, one over the other, and carried bank books showing deposits of $25,000.

This should not discourage wise charity. Not every old woman, begging, has four extra dresses and $25,000. But it might well discourage thoughtless, indiscriminate giving, which encourages professional beggary and causes young beggars to graduate as criminals.

Following an old Roman custom, Mussolini is taking a census of the Ethiopians that remain. The total number is between six and fourteen millions. Exact figures are wanted.

The able-bodied will be put to work, plows, spades and shovels supplied by Mussolini, with Italians telling the Ethiopians where and what to dig. That need not horrify us, for it is what we have been doing in this country for a long time. It will be better for the Ethiopians than killing and selling each other into slavery.

Americans ask three questions: "What is the news? Who won the game? Have you heard the story about —?" For that reason, the successful newspaper pays attention first to the news, told accurately and vividly, then it concentrates on sport, then on humor. Such dry things as opinions, editorials, books, in the rear.

Anti-religious hatred persists in Spain. While Pope Pius in Rome was addressing representatives of Catholic newspapers, deploring Communism and the Hitler attitude toward the Catholic church and the Catholic press, a Spanish mob in Valencia was burning two Catholic churches, beautiful monuments of early days. Former indifference to religion has turned to actual hatred in many countries, and in those that were most deeply religious.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Congressional Quizzers Stir Dr. Townsend to Wrath—Landon Has Big Bunch of Delegates—Guffey Coal Act Declared Invalid.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

FOR two days Dr. Francis E. Townsend replied mildly to the questions of the house committee investigating the activities of the organization behind the old age pension movement which the doctor started. Then the Californian lost his patience suddenly, refused to answer any more "non-sensical" queries, denounced the committee for its "unfriendly attitude" and asserted the administration was a "hostile force" behind the inquiry. He declared he would form a third party after the November elections.

Finally Doctor Townsend told the committee: "I am retiring from this sort of inquisition and I do not propose to come back except under arrest. And I do refuse absolutely to make any further statement regarding this movement to this committee."

Escorted by Gerald K. Smith, former adherent of Huey Long, and another man, the Californian fled from Washington to Baltimore. The committee decided to ask the house to cite him for contempt.

When he was questioned regarding large sums contributed by Townsend club members the physician said the contributors had faith in him and that "we need millions to promote a movement of this kind and we will get them."

His testimony developed that Doctor Townsend, his brother, Walter Townsend, and Gilmour Young own the assets of the Townsend organization, estimated now at about $90,000, and that Townsend club members have no property right in them.

Doctor Townsend testified he has received about $68,000 in salary, dividends from the Townsend weekly and expenses, but now had only about $300 and his wife about $200 to show for their efforts.

GOV. ALF LONDON captured nearly all the New Jersey delegates to the national convention, defeating Senator Borah about 4 to 1 in the popular vote. This victory gave the Kansas a total of more than 200 votes to start with at Cleveland, and his manager, John Hamilton, claimed he would have at least 300 of the 501 votes necessary to nominate and would win on the second or third ballot.

The statement by Herbert Hoover taking himself out of consideration for the nomination is generally judged to have helped Landon. With Mr. Hoover out of the picture it will be difficult to hold California, Texas, and other potentially Hoover votes away from Landon.

James A. Farley, postmaster general and also Democratic national chairman, told the Michigan Democratic convention he believed the Republican Presidential nominee will be "the governor of a typical prairie state" and that his election, if he won, would be a "perilous experiment." Farley criticized the man he did not name as devoid of experience in national affairs, and predicted that if he is the Republican standard bearer "even Kansas" will not be in the Roosevelt doubtful column.

CONSTITUTIONALITY of the railroad retirement system was contested before the District of Columbia Supreme court by attorneys representing the class 1 railroads and 280 lesser railway enterprises. The lawyers argued that the pension law and a tax law enacted at the same time are together "substantially the same" as the "unconstitutional railroad retirement act of 1934."

The two separate acts, one providing pensions and the other taxing the income of railroads and employees, were passed last year after the Supreme court ruled unconstitutional the 1934 law in which a levy and a pension system were combined.

The government contended that the alleged relation between the two acts could not be proved, and that the railroads were suing, in effect, to enjoin collection of a tax. Such a suit, the government contended, was barred by federal law. The government further defended its railroad retirement system as an exercise of its constitutional power "to provide for the common defense."

POSTPONEMENT of action on the Patman-Robinson chain store bill until next session was urged on the house rules committee in a letter from six powerful farm organizations.

Charging the bill would restrict operations of farm co-operatives by preventing them from receiving wholesale discounts, the letter warned also that higher consumer prices would result from enactment. The measure, already passed by the senate, prevents price discriminations by manufacturers to big customers.

The letter was signed by representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the NATIONAL Co-operative Milk Producers' Federation, the Farmers' National Grain Association, and the Northwestern Farmers' Union Legislative committee.

SECRETARY OF WAR DERN allocated nearly $138,000,000 for river and harbor improvement projects throughout the country that had been recommended by the engineering corps. Of this sum, $108,458,839 will be used for entirely new waterway and port improvement while $34,408,150 will be employed in maintaining existing river and harbor facilities.

SIX members of the Supreme court of the United States ruled that the Guffey act to control the bituminous coal industry is invalid, and another National Co-operative Milk Producers' Federation, the Farmers' National Grain Association, and the Northwestern Farmers' Union Legislative committee.

SEN. GUFFEY of Pennsylvania, author of the act, lost little time in introducing a substitute measure, concentrating on price fixing and omitting the labor provisions which were outlawed by the Supreme court. John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, declared that organization would "join in requesting congress to enact the bill at once." He thought the measure would "operate to maintain the equilibrium of the coal industry pending further study of stabilization of the industry."

A plea to oil coal operators to support the new bill was made by Charles O'Neill, legislative chairman of the National Conference of Bituminous Coal Producers.

Some congressional leaders, however, thought it unlikely that the new Guffey bill could be passed at this session.

HERBERT H. LEHMAN announced suddenly in Albany that he would not be a candidate for a third term as governor of New York, saying: "I feel the time has come when I may ask release from the cares and responsibilities of the governorship." But leaders of the Democratic party, including President Roosevelt, National Chairman James A. Farley and Senators Wagner and Copeland undertook to persuade Mr. Lehman to run for reelection.

They all agreed that his retirement would be a loss to the state and the party and that he should be "drafted." The immediate political result of the governor's surprise action was that New York again became a doubtful state for the presidential campaign, in the minds of many politicians. The morale of Republican leaders in the state improved, and Democrats began speculating as to which of a group of five or more candidates could be groomed for the gubernatorial nomination this fall if Lehman persisted in his determination.

GENERAL rejoining marked the inaugural of Dr. Miguel Mariano Gomez as president of Cuba—the first elected by the people since Gerardo Machado. The new executive, a lawyer and revolutionary leader who has twice been mayor of Havana, took the oath of office in the ball room of the president's mansion in the presence of 400 foreign and Cuban officials. The guns of Cabañas fortress across the harbor fired a twenty-one gun salute and on the signal all public buildings were illuminated and thousands of merry-makers began parading the streets.

President Gomez appeared on a balcony and told the shouting throngs that he would do his best to maintain a constitutional government "by the Cubans and for the benefit and interest of all Cubans." In his first message to congress he assured the nation that personal rights would be respected. Among his policies he listed "ample tolerance to all ideas, ample guarantees for all rights and sufficient energy to maintain order and the necessary strength against offenders against the laws."

NEITHER Great Britain nor France has any intention of paying the debt due June 15. And almost certainly all the other debtor nations except Finland will follow the example of the two big ones and again default. British Foreign Minister Eden talked about the debts with Leon Blum, who probably will be premier of France soon, but there was no indication that either one was planning to make a payment. Blum told the American club in Paris he hoped the war debt "misunderstanding" might be cleared up, but he was just trying to be pleasant to the people of both America and France without spending any money.

Of course the debtor nations would like to have the issue cleared up, for as long as they are in default they are subject to the restrictions of the Johnson act which makes it unlawful for any person in the United States to purchase or sell the bonds, securities or other obligations of any foreign government or to make any loans to such a government while that government is in default in payment of its obligations to the United States.

BENITO MUSSOLINI advised Prince von Starbemberg of Austria not to start any domestic trouble because he was ousted from the cabinet by Chancellor Schuschnigg, and when the prince returned to Vienna the cabinet fixed things up neatly by decreeing that the country should have three freezers. Schuschnigg, the unofficial dictator, becomes national leader of the fatherland front; Eduard Baar von Barenfels, the new vice chancellor, is national commander of the front militia; and Starbemberg, continues as sports leader and head of the Northern-hood Protective association.

NATIONS that are especially hard up might consider the method said to be employed by Rumania. A Bucharest newspaper asserts that government employees have been paid largely in counterfeit money, vast quantities of bogus 100 lei pieces having been issued in sealed bags by the ministry of finance. That ministry then announced that the counterfeit coins would not be redeemed and that persons who passed them would be prosecuted.

THE resettlement administration headed by Rexford Guy Tugwell was declared by the District of Columbia court of appeals to be "clearly unconstitutional delegation of power," in a case involving a model community project in Somerset county, New Jersey.

Going beyond the issue before them, the justices of the Appeals court called the entire relief appropriations act of 1935 into question. The act was invalid and hence RA was invalid, according to the court. Legally, however, none of the rest of the act will be affected by the decision because the other multitudinous activities of the New Deal under the appropriation were not before the court.

DR. ANTON PAVELIC, alleged leader of Ustashi, the Croatian terrorist organization, and accused as one of the "master minds" in the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia in Marseilles, has been set free by the Italian authorities. Released with him was his lieutenant, Eugene Kvaternik. The two were arrested at Turin in October, 1934, soon after the murder of Alexander, but the French authorities, who were working on the case, refused to question them and an Italian tribunal refused the request of the French government for their extradition to France for trial.

JOSE LUIS TEJADA SORZANO was forced to resign the presidency of Bolivia by a junta of army officers and Socialists who staged a bloodless coup d'etat in La Paz. Col. German Busch, acting chief of the general army staff, leader of the coup, will be at the head of the government until Col. David Toro, hero of the war with Paraguay, returns from the Chaco, when Toro will be installed as president.

NEWS that Japan was greatly enlarging her force in North China led the State department in Washington to announce that the position of the United States is the same as that outlined last December by Secretary Hull affirming its support of the nine power pact that guarantees China's territorial integrity. At that time Mr. Hull said this country has a binding faith in the fundamental principles of its traditional policy. This government adheres to the provisions of the treaties to which it is a party and continues to bespeak respect by all nations for the provisions of treaties solemnly entered into for the purpose of facilitating and regulating, to reciprocal and common advantage.

At the State department it was said that the reaffirmation of support of the nine power pact does not mean that the administration will abandon its policy of declining to take the initiative in any attempt to curb Japan for violations of the pact. This was attempted by Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state in the Hoover administration, with the gain of nothing but Japanese ill will.

MRS. SARA DELANO ROOSEVELT, aged mother of the President, fell while on a visit in New York some days ago and is laid up at Hyde Park with an impacted hip and cracked bone. She made light of the injuries but Mr. Roosevelt was gravely concerned. He spent the week end with his mother.

Lesson for May 31 THE LAST SUPPER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:7-23. GOLDEN TEXT—This do in remembrance of me.—Luke 22:19. PRIMARY TOPIC—The Supper Jesus Gave His Friends. JUNIOR TOPIC—The Lord's Supper. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What the Lord's Supper Means to Me. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What the Lord's Supper Meant to Jesus.

The last meal that Jesus ate with his disciples was the Passover, the memorial of the national deliverance which pointed to the supreme deliverance to be effected by Christ on the cross of Calvary. In connection with this Passover, the feast of the new covenant was instituted. This feast also has a double import. It looks backward to the great deliverance wrought through Christ's atoning death, and forward to the even greater deliverance which He shall accomplish at his second coming (1 Cor. 11:26).

1. The Last Passover (vv. 7-18). 1. The Passover prepared (vv. 7-13). a. As the time had arrived for the killing of the Passover, Jesus directed Peter and John to make ready for it (v. 8).

b. The disciples inquired (v. 9) where they should prepare the Passover. Doubtless, they were eager to be of service to their Master and Lord.

c. Jesus gave strange directions (vv. 10-12), that they should go into the city, where they would find a man bearing a pitcher of water. The custom was for women to carry the water. This unusual occurrence would make it the easier for them to recognize the man of whom they would ask, "Where is the guest chamber where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples?"

d. The disciples gave unquestioning obedience (v. 13), not permitting the unusual instructions to raise the question of sanity or reasonableness. Jesus, because he was omniscient, knew just how the matter would turn out, and the disciples found it even so.

2. The Passover eaten (vv. 14-18). a. The historic group around that table (v. 14) was composed of Jesus and the Twelve, the apostles.

b. Jesus' words to the disciples (vv. 15-18). (1) "I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer" (v. 15). He desired to show them the meaning of the passion through which he was to go. He also craved their human sympathy as he passed through this terrible ordeal.

(2) "I will not any more eat thereof until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God" (v. 16). His death was the antitypical fulfillment of the Passover meal. He declared that they could share the last time that they could share together this sacred ordinance before the completion of his mediatorial work.

(3) "Take this cup and divide it among yourselves" (v. 17, 18). By the token of the cup the disciples were partaking of the shed blood. This cup should be distinguished from the cup of the feast of the new covenant.

11. The Feast of the New Covenant (vv. 19, 20). This feast took place at the close of the paschal supper.

1. The bread a symbol of Christ's body (v. 19). As bread nourishes and strengthens our bodies, so Christ is food to our spiritual nature. Unless the body receives nourishment, it decays. Unless our souls feed upon Christ, we shall perish. Christ's giving the physical bread to his disciples signified the giving of himself to them.

2. The cup a symbol of Christ's blood (v. 20). He said, "This cup is the new testament in my blood which was shed for you," indicating that each one must personally accept the atonement made by the shedding of his blood.

111. The Treachery of Judas (vv. 21-23). 1. The time of its manifestation (v. 21). It was while they were eating the last Passover that Jesus made announcement of the betrayal. Perhaps Jesus was in this manner offering Judas an opportunity at this last moment to repent.

2. The betrayal was by the deliberate counsel of God (v. 22, cf. Acts 2:23). Nothing takes place by chance. Even the sinful acts of wicked men come within the permissive providence of God. This does not, however, lessen the guilt of sinners, for Jesus said, "Woe unto the man by whom he is betrayed."

3. The sorrowful question (v. 23). That the disciples were not suspicious of one another is evident from the personal nature of the question they asked, "Lord, is it I?" (Matt. 26:22). Well may each believer ask if he is in any way betraying his Savior and Lord.

True Happiness Genuine happiness is the delicate perfume of a holy life. The sanctified soul exhalates happiness as the flowers emit sweet odors. Heaven is a tropical garden of conscious spirits and its atmosphere is laden with happiness as the normal product of their purity.—D. C. Knowles.

SYNOPSIS

The Duke, Barry Gilbert, likable youth of twenty-three, jobless and broke, enters an unoccupied summer home in Southampton, seeking shelter from a storm. He makes himself at home. Dosing at the fireplace, he is startled by the arrival of a butler, Willetts; and a chauffeur, Evans. He learns that the son of the owner of the house, Jack Ridder, whom the servants had never seen, is expected. He decides to bluff it out. His supposed parents have left for Germany. Next morning he is given a letter for his "mother." He opens it and finds a message from the real Jack, saying he could not come, and returning a hundred-dollar bill. The boy's father had pensioned him into obscurity. Barry pockets the money, intending to return it later. He orders Evans to take him to Montauk, intending to disappear there. On the way he meets Judge Hambridge and his daughter, Patricia. Believing he is Jack Ridder, she invites him to dinner the following Thursday. Barry returns to Southampton, deciding to stay a bit longer. Mr. Ridder, Sr., through his newspaper, the Globe, accuses Judge Hambridge of taking orders from Tammany Hall in a condemnation proceeding. Barry meets Peter Winslow, prominent attorney. Winslow tells Barry that Judge Hambridge had seen an accident in which a woman was killed by a taxicab. At home Barry finds the wife of the real Jack Ridder awaiting him. Her husband is in jail in New York, charged with the murder of Mike Kelly, Tammany boss. The girl, Peggy, tells Barry how she had met Jack in Florida and married him, as Jay Rogers. Jack lost his job, and they went to New York, where she got work at the Coconut Bar. There she was accused of trying to pick the pocket of Mike Kelly, and was arrested. Her husband went to Kelly's to induce him to drop the charge. Later Kelly was found dead, his skull crushed by a decanter. Barry suggests he can help. Jack Ridder and Mrs. Rogers agree. Judge Hambridge delivers a decision in the condemnation suit in which Kelly had been interested. Barry cables Mrs. Ridder for $2,000. Winslow takes Rogers' case. Barry gets a job on the Globe under his true name. The editor, Ernie Starwood, assigns him to cover the Kelly murder. Barry suspects the Filipino servant of Kelly.

"Yes, sir."

"I've been a loafer most of my life—and this is the beginning of a new chapter."

"Thank you, sir," Willetts said. "I'm very pleased, sir. If you don't mind my saying so, very pleased."

There were three memos of telephone messages from Pat.

Looking at them, on the library table, Barry went on grinning. He called her immediately, and she asked where he'd been all week. When he told her, she seemed almost annoyed. "So you've deserted me for a chorus girl," she said.

Could Pat be jealous?

"How soon can you come over?" she inquired. "Marian's not here yet, and dinner'll be late, but I simply can't wait to hear your adventures in sleuthing."

As he dressed, Barry kept thinking of this conversation. Absurd that Patricia Hambridge could be worried by his attachment to the "glittery lady." "Willetts and Pat both ooze disapproval. Or do I merely imagine it?"

But Pat's disapproval, at least, was depressingly evident from the moment he saw her.

She met him at the door, looking lovelier than ever.

"The one girl in the world for me," Barry thought.

"Let's sit on the sun porch," Pat greeted him. "Father'll be down in a minute. Marian came over by ferry from New London. She's dressing. Fancy your being concerned with this Kelly murder. A true motion-picture hero. Go on; I want all the details."

And, as Barry related them, the girl's irritation began to show in her face. It wasn't fair, she said, to "drag poor old Peter into it." Just because they'd met in this house at dinner. Nor could she see why he wanted to go into his father's office under the name of Barry Gilbert. "Frankly, I'm disappointed in you," she concluded, and obviously meant it.

Before Barry could reply, the Judge appeared, looking tired and haggard. That changed the subject, and Patricia's voice, which had been a little strident, softened again. She was plainly disturbed about the old gentleman, and kept glancing at him anxiously. "Father's been ill all week," she said.

"You ought've called off this dinner."

"I wanted you to meet Marian. But I do hope she comes down soon. Father's got to get to bed early."

The Judge patted her hand.

"Nonsense!"

"The doctor warned you against late hours," Pat reminded him. "But you would go to that banquet last Friday."

"That wasn't late hours," the Judge argued. "We were all through before midnight."

"But then you went for a walk," Barry said.

He said it quite innocently, but he was startled at seeing Hambridge's hand close spasmodically over Patricia's.

"Who told you that?" the Judge asked.

"Mr. Winslow."

Hambridge relaxed again.

"So I did," he recollected. "But only a couple of blocks."

"Nearer a couple of miles, wasn't it?"

Barry was still making conversation, but there was nothing casual in the Judge's "Why do you say that?"

"Mr. Winslow says you saw that taxi accident at Sixteenth street and Fifth avenue."

The Judge raised his eyes to Barry's, almost defiantly.

"The taxi accident I saw was in Times square," he declared. "I don't know where you got the idea that it was at Sixteenth street. I certainly didn't say that to Peter."

"What does it matter?" Pat asked.

"Here we are, gossiping, when I'm supposed to be preparing you for a reunion."

"A what?"

"A reunion. With an old friend. That's the reason Marian was so anxious that I should have you here. I didn't know myself until half an hour ago. Marian Lorn. Do you remember? She knew you at Harvard."

Well, it was bound to come, Barry thought.

"Are you surprised? Marian wanted you to be—terribly."

"I am—terribly."

This was the pay-off. What would Patricia say?

Patricia was saying, "Well, you must be delighted, too. Marian was going to surprise all of us, and then she lost her nerve. 'Wouldn't it be too catastrophic,' she said, 'if he didn't remember me?'"

Miss Lorn was on her way down the stairs.

Barry braced himself.

"Come on, you!" Pat called. "Dinner's waiting, and so's Mr. Ridder."

Marian raced down the steps, and halted, looking at him across the balustrade.

"Mr. Ridder?"

Now for it!

"Well," she continued, "the joke's on me. I should never have known you."

"I'd've known you anywhere."

"Of course, you had to say that. But didn't your hair used to be dark?"

"Sure; I bennaed it."

"No foolin'! I thought you were slighter, too. But, of course, there was only that one evening."

"Thank God for that!"

"Don't tell me we met only once?"

"Don't you remember?"

"It doesn't seem possible that I let you slip through my fingers."

"Come on," Patricia urged. "Everything's getting cold."

Not Barry. He was warming up.

CHAPTER V

Pat knew of his imposture. That was clear. And what else? For hours after her car had left him at the door, Barry sat in the library of the big house where he had no right to be, thinking, thinking. And the more he thought, the more complete was his mystification.

Every word Pat had spoken, every intonation, was impressed on his mind. "And, Mr. Gilbert—" she had said. "You've got courage. And a grand sense of melodrama. I suppose you picked that up in Hollywood."

How did she know?

Obviously, the crushed finger had not deceived her. No question about it; the girl had seen through his desperate ruse, and realized that he had closed the doors on his hand deliberately to avoid the discovery that he was not John Clarke Ridder, Jr. She must have had some hint of his brief career in the movies.

After all, that would have been simple. The vague recollection of his appearance in a picture, an old circular, with his photograph. Not without pride, Barry reflected that he had won mention in advertising before he left Hollywood. What did it matter, anyway? She knew. And she had advised him to watch his step. "You're being a little bit reckless, I think," she had warned him.

Was that a warning—or a threat? And why should Pat threaten? The answer to that was apparent. "She doesn't want me to ask questions about her father. But why not? What is she trying to conceal?"

That, too, was easily answered.

Of course, there had been no taxi accident in Times square. It was absurd to suppose that two cabs had mounted the pavement and killed two women almost simultaneously. The Judge's accident had been at Sixteenth street. What was he doing down there—at two in the morning? The same morning Kelly was murdered? A few hours before the filing of a decision alleged to have been dictated by Kelly.

"None of my business!" Barry snapped at himself. "I'm not a detective. But why should Pat be afraid of investigation?"

Why "afraid?" She was worried about her father's condition, and did not want him harassed needlessly. Under the circumstances, of course, she resented Barry's prodding. "But, damn it," Barry exclaimed, "she began resenting before I even mentioned her father!"

He made an effort to marshal his facts.

"Three things are clear," he began. "Kelly was expecting someone when Jack left. . . . Or was he? Winslow doubted that, too. Anyway, Kelly told Jack someone telephoned. And then Hambridge arrived at Sixteenth street, Hambridge denies that he did so. And then Hambridge's daughter warns me—"

He had begun pacing the floor.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

"Well, it was bound to come," Barry thought.

"and I've brought the Liebestod."

"That's great," Barry said, "but I warn you—"

Patricia was opening the piano.

"I warn you," Barry said. "I'm going to make the most awful sounds human ears ever heard."

And, with that, he pulled together the double doors.

"Ouch!" he exclaimed.

They all turned to him.

"What's the matter?" Pat asked.

"Nothing serious," Barry replied, calmly. "I've slammed the doors on my fingers."

He held up his right hand.

It was crushed badly.

Everybody was extremely solicitous, and Pat wanted to send for the doctor.

"Certainly not," Barry declared. "It's only broken the skin."

"I'll take care of it now," Patricia said, dispatching the butler for witch-hazel and bandages.

"Well, that's the end of the violin playing," Marian remarked.

"I'm afraid so. Wasn't I stupid?"

"Not at all," Patricia answered, manipulating the gauze deftly.

"The Judge wanted to go to bed early, anyway. I wonder whether you'd mind telephoning for Evans."

"I'll run you home in the roadster," Pat volunteered, touching the bell again.

"It's been a swell evening," Barry insisted, giving Marian his left hand. "Pleasant surprise, meeting you here. This isn't good-by, is it?"

"That's up to you. I'll be around until Monday."

"Good night, Judge, and I hope you feel better tomorrow."

The roadster had been brought to the door, and Patricia climbed into it. "I'll be back soon," she promised.

Five minutes later, the car halted in front of the Ridder house.

"Thanks awfully," Barry said.

"Don't mention it."

There was something very like mockery in her voice.

"And, Mr. Gilbert—"

For an instant, Barry wasn't certain he had heard aright.

"You've got courage," Patricia went on. "I'll say that for you. And a grand sense of melodrama. I suppose you picked that up in Hollywood."

"I don't know what you're talking about," Barry floundered, helplessly.

"No? Well, maybe I'll tell you something."

She laughed.

"Meanwhile—as he is slighted from the car—I'd watch my step, if I were you."

"I'm all right," Barry rejoined.

"That depends," Patricia said. "You're being a little bit reckless, I think."

She put her foot on the accelerator, and the car moved away.

Somebody has said that it is not so remarkable that Columbus discovered America as Channel it would have been Marks if he hadn't discovered it. But, though Columbus never dreamed that he had discovered America, or even that there was an America to discover, the credit for his exploit can never be taken away from him.

Today looking out of a window on the coast of Maine I can see dozens of channel buoys without which steamships would find it as difficult to find their way into the harbor as it was for the Genoese explorer to discover San Salvador.

Some of these marks are light-houses, some of them are red or black spars, some of them are great iron buoys which blow a warning whistle with every lift and fall of the sea.

To maintain this system of warnings, which is found at the entrance of every port on both coasts of America, required not only a great deal of money, but an almost incredible amount of courage on the part of the lighthouse builders, and the men whose business it is to see that the buoys are always in their place, ready to give their warnings.

Neither storm nor cold can turn from their watchful task.

Let a single buoy go astray, or a single lighthouse fail to "throw its beam across the wave," and every ship entering or leaving port may be in danger.

To build up this almost perfect system has required many years and a great deal of risk.

But were the marks not carefully watched and tended, reaching a port either by night or by day would be a perilous business.

There was once a master mariner who when asked how he could know every rock in the entrance to a harbor said:

"I don't. But I know where the deep water is."

In our own little voyages to and fro on our way, we are just as well supplied with channel marks as are the ships that move in and out of the ports along the seaboard.

If we heed these marks we pass in safety. If we are even just a little careless disaster is sure to follow. Make it your business to "know

The Arithmetic Test

In this test, ten oral arithmetic problems are given. Read each one carefully and see how quickly you can find the answers. Do not use pencil and paper.

1. Add 8 1/2, 4 1/4, 3 3/4, 0 1/2.
2. A person has $5,000 in the bank. He withdraws 25% of it. How much money does he withdraw?
3. A gallon of gasoline costs eighteen cents. How much does twelve quarts cost?
4. Change 13/8 to a whole or mixed number.
5. A caravan traveling eight miles a day goes thirty-six miles. How long did it take?
6. What Arabic numeral corresponds with the Roman MCXII?
7. A suite of furniture costs $80. The company allows 2% discount for cash. How much will the company receive on a cash sale?
8. A person has $5,000 in the bank. He withdraws 25% of it. How much money remains in the bank?
9. A horse can run a mile in two minutes. Using that basis, how fast can he run one mile and a quarter?
10. Change 2,222 into Roman numerals.

Answers

1. 22 1/4.
2. $1,250.
3. 54 cents.
4. 1 5/8.
5. Four and a half days.
6. 1,112.
7. $78.40.
8. $8,750.
9. 2 1/4 and a half minutes.

Wolf Is Member of Dog Team; Huskies Make Him Behave

Rev. Father O'Dwyer of North Bay, Ont., a Sault diocese missionary, uses a wolf in the dog team that pulls his sled.

Snares at the priest from the wolf invariably are silenced by the team leader, who administers a profane beating. The wolf's night howls, however, often bring other wolves uncomfortably close, the missionary says.

A WORTHWHILE AMENDMENT

The state comptroller's department estimates that the voting strength of Texas this year is 1,343,546, including poll tax payers and those holding exemption certificates. This tops the 1934 total by about 70,000.

Three counties of the state—
Bexar, Harris and Dallas—show hefty increases. Among them they have more than 200,000 votes, with Harris county showing the largest total, 83,000. Dallas and Bexar are in a virtual tie with 62,000 each.

These figures are interesting because they serve to emphasize the political dominance which these centers of population exercise over the balance of the state.

Next November the people will have a chance to end this dominance by voting a constitutional amendment which would limit to seven the number of representatives any county may have in the lower house of the legislature, unless that county's population should pass the 700,000 mark.

The thinly settled counties of West Texas are heartily for the amendment because in the past they have felt the stifling effect of urban domination in state affairs. West Texas has had to fight hard and long for everything it ever got out of the legislature, mainly because people in the population centers did not understand or appreciate the problems peculiar to West Texas.

If this worthy amendment is defeated it will be another demonstration of that concentrated political power which the larger cities
wield so effectively and so blandly.

It is the one amendment West Texans should keep in mind when they vote in November's general election.—Abilene Reporter-News.

We can't agree with the esteemed Abilene Reporter-News on this proposal at all. We do not believe it is either just or Democratic. We believe in representation according to population. Let Dallas and Harris and Bexar counties have the representation they are entitled to according to population.

As to their "dominance" of the rest of the state, we do not understand how some 25 representatives from the above named cities could dominate 125 representatives from the remainder of the state; or how 50 representatives from all the cities of the state, big and little, could dominate 100 representatives from the remainder of the state.

We are persuaded that if the Reporter-News will do a little investigating, it will find that it is the representatives from East Texas rather than the representatives from the cities that have been "stifling" West Texas in her efforts to get what she is entitled to. The counties of Dallas, Harris, and Bexar in fact have 16 representative in the Lower House at Austin. These sixteen usually do not agree among themselves.

How can 16 representatives "stifle"
West Texas if the remaining representatives believe in giving her a fair deal?
We believe we can point out the trouble.

The state is not equally district-ed, and the representatives from the puny little districts of East Texas and some in Central Texas and North Texas and South Texas will not permit a just redistricting bill to pass because such a bill would throw a lot of those fellows out of jobs.

Let's take a look at the figures.
The 119th Representative district contains nine counties, Lubbock,
Crosby, Hockley, Cochran, Terry,
Lynn, Yoakum, Dawson and Gaines, with a population of 100,279 according to the census of 1930. There are 24,200 poll taxes paid in this district this year.

The 120th district contains eight counties, Bailey, Parmer, Castro, Lamb, Hale, Briscoe, Floyd, and Swisher, with a population of 78,- 758 according to the U. S. census of 1930, and 18,153 poll taxes paid this
year.

The 123rd district contains six counties, Carson, Armstrong, Randall, Potter, Deaf Smith, and Oldham, with a population of 71,608

according to the U. S. Census of 1930, and 15,714 poll taxes paid this
year.

These districts have one representative each in the Legislature.

Now let's turn to East Texas.
District No. 1 is composed of Bowie county, with a population of 48,563 according to the U. S. census of 1930, and it has 7,729 poll taxes
paid this year.

District No. 2 is composed of Cass county, with a population of 30,030 according to the census of 1930, and with 3,866 poll taxes paid this year.

District No. 3 is composed of Bowie, Cass, and Marion counties, Marion county having a population of 10,371 according to census of 1930, and having 1,252 poll taxes
paid this year.

Thus it will be seen that these three East Texas counties with a combined population of 88,964, and with 12,847 poll taxes, have as many representatives and as much voting power in the legislature as 23
plains counties with a total population of 250,645 and 58,067 paid poll taxes. And there are many other East Texas districts with similar population and poll tax payments.

Why should 89,000 people in East Texas have as much strength in the legislature as 250,000 people in West Texas?

Why should 13,000 voters in the piney woods have as many Representatives in the legislature as 58,- 000 voters on the Plains?

Or why should a citizen of Dallas county not be as strongly represented in the legislature as the citizens of other counties?

The wise thing for the people of West Texas to do is to join with the cities in maintaining the good old Democratic principle and practice of representation according to population; and then ask the representatives of these cities and others to join with them in an effort to have this state redistricted so as to give justice and equity to West Texas.

Let's make these cities not our enemies but our allies in this demand for fair representation.

Let's swat the proposed amendment and swat it hard.

Mussolini is drunk with power.
He aspires to be a second Napoleon.
He wants to make Rome the head of a mighty empire, like that of the ancient Caesars. Just before he sent his soldiers to Ethiopia, he gave notice to the protesting nations of Europe that Italy was determined to "march straight ahead."
Speaking to cheering thousands in Rome Sunday, Mussolini asked,
"Have we marched straight ahead
up to this time?" "Yes," the crowd shouted. "Today, May 24, I declare to you that we will march just as straight ahead in the future," he continued. "We are preparing the young armies of tomorrow for defense of the Empire. Since they are animated by the Fascist spirit they will be invincible." On that day 500,000 black-shirted boys and girls were moved up in rank. Thus Mussolini is constantly nurturing and intensifying the military spirit. He is inflaming the youth. At the very first opportune time, he will wage war on some other nation to further extend his empire. But he will run amuck. No bully can last long,
but it may take a lot of bloodshed to keep his heel off the necks of neighboring peoples. He that lives by the sword must die by the sword. The days of Mussolini are numbered.

We wish that some way might be found to keep our vacant lots clean.
Some of them are so messed up that it hurts our eyes to look at them.

Thirty million human beings
starving in China! Illiterate, ignorant, superstitious, many of them
diseased, they present a most pitiable sight, according to numerous press reports. Some of these miserable creatures have been driven to such desperation that they are killing and eating one another, it is claimed. We are wondering if the nations of the world will ever come to the point where they will even think of the Golden Rule in dealing with one another. Up till now the governments of even the most enlightened and humanitarian peoples take into account the welfare of their own citizens alone, with little thought as to the welfare of neighboring peoples. It should not be so.

Racketeers have New York by the throat, they say. Every family in the city, it is charged, pays its share of the toll exacted of the business men by racketeers. Not one escapes. And they haven't Prohibition to lay it on to, either.

Unicameral Legislature Is Proposed For Texas

By G. H. NELSON
State Senator, 30th District

ARGUMENTS OF THOSE OPPOSED TO ONE HOUSE SYSTEM

Those who are opposed to the creation of the one house Legislature argue that such one house would be more susceptible to corruption than two houses. It is my contention that the contrary would be true.

The two houses offer a way to dodge responsibility, in that it permits the passing of a Bill in one house with the definite intention of using one's influence to kill it in the other; by passing it and then killing it in a free conference committee; or blocking it in a free conference committee as has been illustrated heretofore.

It is perfectly apparent, therefore, that instead of one house being a check on the other, the double barrel system is a shield, for it is impossible for a critical public to know just what the record is. There are just six times as many ways to corrupt a two house Legislature as a one house.

If a majority of the members of the House of Representatives can be influenced to vote against any piece of legislation it means its death. Likewise, if a majority of the members of the Senate can be so persuaded, that piece of legislation is doomed. By controlling the Speaker of the House of Representatives, regardless of who he may be, he being the one who appoints arbitrarily the members of the free conference committee, one can thereby control any piece of legislation. The same thing is true with reference to the Lieutenant Governor in the appointment of the conferees of a free conference committee for the Senate. Then, if one can control a majority of the conferees on the part of the House, or a majority of such conferees on the part of the Senate, he can control any piece of legislation.

Thus it will be seen that instead of one house being a check against the other, the two houses serve as a check upon the desires and the will of the people, leaving the balance in the hands of those who are working contrary to the people's best interests.

If the check and balance theory will hold good, then why does not a corporation have two boards of directors; why doesn't your city have two sets of aldermen, and why do we not have two Governors instead of one? It is because that system is not conducive to good business nor the placing of direct responsibility.

By the adoption of the one house Legislature in this State we will make our State Government which spends over a million dollars per year a business institution rather than a political machine. Let us conduct the business of our state as the business of a great corporation is conducted by making the Governor the president of our State corporation, letting the Legislature serve as the Board of Directors, and the public as the stockholders, as the stockholders.

Then there are those who argue that the two houses are more conducive to better laws. The best answer that I can give to this is that the two house system has not done so. If one hundred years of experience under the two house Legislative system cannot be more efficient than it is now, then, is it not time that we began something new rather than to patch that which we already have? The opponents to this system say that by having the two house system a law will be considered more than once, and, therefore, we will likely have a better law. In answer to such argument, I say that it is a poor law which is not considered more than twice, whether we have one house or two. Then in answer to those who argue the check and balance theory, I say to them, we still have the courts; the Governor's veto power; and the people's suffrage to act as our checks and balance after the adoption of the one house plan.

Lawn Improvement Interest Growing

(By Mrs. E. I. Hill)

If anyone thinks that the Lawn Improvement Contest, recently inaugurated by the Tahoka Luncheon Club is a joke, a drive over Tahoka will convince him that Tahoka people are really in earnest. A number of the pictures made a week or ten days ago are already out of date.

Take that spacious lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis. It is being leveled and the white board fence at the rear is losing its plainness, with tall growing plants in front—it will soon be a green lawn with a green or variegated background—a thing of beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Hegi have removed an unsightly tree from their front lawn, are doing some leveling and transplanting plants to flower beds and around the base of their house.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Taylor are leveling their front lawn and putting out grass. This will add much to the looks of their place.

There are a large number of people not in this contest who have most attractive yards now, many other yards are growing more beautiful each day—just drive over our little city and feast your eyes!

There is at least one difference between the president of the U. S. and yours truly and that is if he gets in the dumps and don't feel like presidentin' he can go fishing while we must get out a paper, dumps or no dumps.—Lorenzo Tribune.

Indians Said Devil Lived Here

"The Devil's Tombstone," shown above, is in Palo Duro Canyon, near Canyon City, Texas, 18 miles south of Amarillo. The canyon is one of the beauty spots of Texas that will lure tourists in their 1936 visits to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas and other celebrations throughout the state. The rock drew its name from an Indian belief that it was the burial marker of an evil spirit.

Taxation's High Toll By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

That government is best which governs least.

This was one of the axioms of our sturdy Americans of earlier generations. It's being forgotten today. Americans are getting a lot more government than their fathers got. And they're paying a lot more for it, too.

How much more? A recently published long-range study of governmental costs offers some interesting answers. It shows, for example:

That in 1850 approximately one cent out of every dollar earned in the United States was spent on the upkeep of government—federal, state and local.

That by 1900 the proportion had risen to six cents out of every such dollar.

That by 1929 government was taking twenty cents out of the dollar.

And finally:

That by 1934 the toll had mounted to nineteen cents out of each income dollar.

Nor is that the entire story. Actually, government is spending more than it collects—and has been doing so for years. In 1934, the figures reveal, it spent approximately 35 cents out of every dollar earned by its citizens. The difference, of course, helped swell public debt.

What is the effect of this rising toll on the productive enterprise of our country? Let's consider it.

Money spent by government is, in general, unproductive. Seldom does it create new opportunities for lasting employment. But money spent in private enterprise—in building homes, in expanding stores, in operating farms or factories—creates new wealth, new opportunities, new jobs.

To divert great sums from productive enterprises and individual pay envelopes into the hands of government spenders is, therefore, to limit every citizen's opportunity not only to work and earn, but to enjoy the full fruits of his toil. It is a barrier to re-employment.

America enjoyed its greatest expansion when government was economical, and taxation small. It cannot recapture that swift progress so long as it is handicapped by a millstone of official extravagance and waste. Economy in government is, therefore, far more than a popular demand. It is an essential to both the progress of our nation and the prosperity of its people.

Arthur Coburn, Dallas, a vice president, and H. L. Skinner, Abilene, district agency supervisor, of Southwestern Life Insurance Company were here Tuesday conferring with Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes, local agent for the company.

Highway Dept. Drains Big 'Lake'

The natural depression in the street immediately in front of the Baptist Church developed into a veritable lake following the rains of Saturday, largely as a result of the roadbed recently constructed on highway No. 84.

To remedy this defect, the state highway construction crew got busy early Monday morning and cut a ditch across the highway, draining the lake. The highway trucks then hauled many loads of gravel and caliche and raised the level of the street in front of the church almost to the level of the surface of the highway, so as to prevent any great amount of water collecting at this point hereafter.

The highway department has the gratitude of the church and the town for this generous service.

Monument Is Set North Of Tahoka

The State Highway Commission last week placed a monument on highway No. 9 a mile and a half north of the court house as a marker for Lynn county.

The monument is of Texas granite, of rough, irregular shape, mounted on a concrete foundation 15 or 20 feet from the pavement. A driveway leading from the pavement passes immediately in front of it, so that tourists and others may read the inscriptions thereon without getting out of the car. A small park 150 feet long extends on either side and at the back of it. This has been set with trees, plants, and grass.

On the top of the monument is a plate bearing this inscription:

LYNN COUNTY
Formed from Young and Bexar Territories
Created August 21, 1876
Organized April 16, 1903
Named in honor of GRANDERSON WASHINGTON LYNN

who fell at the Alamo Tahoka, County Seat
On the front face of the monument is a plate bearing a lone star encircled by a band bearing the inscription:

TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT
and in the center of the star the year

1936
Similar monuments are being placed in all the counties of the state.

LIQUOR LICKED

Young county held an election Saturday, May 16, on two liquor proposals, and both of them were overwhelmingly defeated.

The first proposal was to legalize the sale of beer and wine with alcoholic content up to 14 percent. The proposal was snuffed under by a vote of 1,645 to 668.

The second proposal was to legalize the sale of all liquors. This was defeated by a vote of 1,678 to 705.

Only three small boxes went wet, all of the other 20 boxes voting dry on both propositions.

"Dry sentiment has increased considerably in Young county," says the Graham Leader in reporting the results of the election. "According to old-timers it showed one of the biggest dry majorities ever expressed in a liquor election in Young county."

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Redmond of Levelland came down Friday and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson. On Saturday, the Johnsons and the Redmonds drove to Brady to visit the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knop. They started home Monday morning but did not get here till Tuesday noon.

Mr. Johnson reports that it rained on them all the way down there and most of the way back, fine rains the entire distance, except at Abilene, and it rained there later. Mr. Johnson reports that corn is waist high and looking fine in the Brady country. Most of the cotton is up. Crop prospects, following this rain are most excellent.

Mr. and Mrs. Knop resided here a number of years, and their friends will be pleased to know that they are enjoying fairly good health, age considered.

DIXIE H. D. CLUB

The Dixie Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday morning, May 19 with Mrs. H. A. Macha.

Mrs. A. L. Dunagan gave a report on the council meeting held Saturday, May 16, at Tahoka High school at which time Mrs. Paul Lawson was elected as Lynn County's delegate to Washington.

A report was given by Mrs. F. E. House on the demonstration of the utilization of Dairy products—also conducted that day.

A very interesting talk was made by Miss Robb on the improvement of a kitchen.

The meeting adjourned and we enjoyed a very delicious covered dish luncheon prepared by the club members.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. V. H. Macha Wednesday afternoon, June 6th.

Members present: Mmes. G. L. Cobb, B. C. Aycox, R. F. Janak, Paul Johnson, Burdett, F. E. House, V. H. Macha, L. E. Huffaker, A. L. Dunagan, H. A. Macha, and Miss Robb.

NEW HOME H. D. CLUB

"By making our tables attractive, the family will be more anxious for meal times to come," said Mrs. J. R. Strain, food demonstrator, to the New Home H. D. Club in her home Friday, May 22.

New ways of serving green, leafy vegetables were demonstrated. Vegetable pie, spinach puffs, and lettuce and tomatoes were served. A correctly set table was shown. A centerpiece of wild flowers was used to add to the attractiveness of the table.

The following were present: Messdames H. A. Parris, Henry Heck, Carl Russell, Joe Poindexter, Loyd McCormick, Van Bates, R. H. Bates, Boswell Edwards and J. R. Strain.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gagnat and little daughter, Myrna Dean, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clark Briggs of Kansas City, left Friday on a pleasure trip to Carlsbad Cavern, El Paso, and many points of interest in New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs came Wednesday of last week to visit the Gagnats, Mrs. Briggs being Mr. Gagnat's sister.

New City Water Well Is Completed

The City's new well north of town has been finished and casing was being set Thursday. It was expected that the piping would be laid and the well connected up with the city's water system by the end of the week.

This well was drilled to a depth of 117 feet, not quite as deep as the City's other two wells near by. No test has been made of its capacity but it is believed to be a good well.

Mayor Jim Dye states that the two wells last month sent twice as much water through the City's mains as have ever before gone through them in a single month.

DOCK WADE'S CHILD HAS EYE-BALL REMOVED

The four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Wade underwent an operation in the Lubbock Sanitarium this week whereby a defective eye was removed.

The sight of the eye had been destroyed by disease while the child was an infant. Recently the ball had begun to wither away, and the operation became necessary in order to save the sight of the other eye.

J. H. McNeely, formerly a Lynn county citizen but now of Quemado, Texas, reading in a recent issue of The News about that giant catfish weighing 70-odd pounds caught by some local fishermen near that city, sends us a newspaper clipping telling of an even bigger catch there. The clipping is from the Quemado Valley Sun and gives a graphic description of how two men recently captured a 92-pound catfish barehanded by creeping up on the "whale" in waste-deep water, each man running an arm into its gills. They finally won out in a desperate fight with the fish, but not without endangering their lives, and securing painful bruises and lacerations.

W. L. Taylor of Lamesa, supervisor of District No. 18 of the State Tax Survey, was here Wednesday on official business. He is a brother of our own Skip Taylor.

Morgan A. Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble of Route Three, Tahoka, is expected home for the summer vacation immediately following Commencement at New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, May thirteenth to June second. Young Noble is one of one hundred ten boys from Texas enrolled at N.M.M.I. Seventeen cadets from Texas are being graduated from New Mexico Military Institute this year and twenty-two are receiving High School certificates at the graduation ceremonies.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Singleton are spending the week at Fort Worth, visiting relatives and the Doctor probably looked in on the Republican state convention in session there the first of the week.

Mrs. N. J. Barton returned last Thursday from Artesia, New Mexico, where she visited her son R. F. Barton and family. She expects to leave the latter part of this week to spend some time with relatives at Rockwood in Coleman county.

FOLLOW the FUNNIES

Here are real friends whose Me's business is making you happy!

FRIENDS who never fail to make you laugh can always make you forget the painful pressure of your corns or taxes. On the Funny Page of this newspaper are a group of friends whose riotous antics shoo the blues away week after week.

For instance, there are Gene Byrnes' "Reg'lar Fellers," as likely a band of youngsters as ever busted a school-house window. Jimmie Dugan, Aggie Riley, Pudd'n'head and Pinhead, Bump Hudson and the dog Bullseye are worth a chuckle in every line.

DESPERATE Ambrose, who becomes doubly dangerous when donning his vendetta hat, Pop Wimpus and Old Timer have become national institutions in the uproarious strip, "S'Matter Pop?" by C. M. Payne. One of the wildest, craziest comics in the world, this is still as true to life as cold oatmeal or corned beef hash.

SLIGHTLY daffy, of course, are "The Featherheads," but only daffy enough to do the things that all of us do that are good for a million laughs in our daily lives. Cartoonist Osborne's funny folk also come to you every week in this paper.

AND Finney. "Finney of the Force" is the answer to the charge that nobody loves a policeman.

This genial flatfoot's humorous adventures, as portrayed by the young artist, Ted O'Loughlin, are a lot of fun for him and even more for you as you watch him walk his beat.

"MESCAL IKE" by S. L. Huntley brings you Mescal himself, Pa Piffle, Miss Sally Price, Dirty Shirt Mulloney, Muley Bates and the other salty citizens of Cactus Center. This hilarious strip has the excitement of a diamond-back's rattle, a kick like an untamed mustang and all the dry humor of a desert mule.

UNUSUAL insight into human nature and a keen sense of humor are the stock in trade of Magnus G. Kettner, who ranks among the truly great cartoonists of the day. In "Our Pet Peeve," "Along the Concrete," and his other cartoons, there is always a chuckle, often a real, constructive thought, but never a sting. Especially has Kettner caught the warm humor of small town and rural life.

Follow the doings of these friends of yours. They'll make your life gay, your lot easier and your digestion better.

WILSON H. D. CLUB

"Modern kitchens are built to save steps," said Miss Sylvia Robb, county H. D. agent, to the Wilson H. D. Club at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hamilton May 19.

"A small compact kitchen with plenty of storage space is desirable. Make every effort possible to have sanitary garbage and waste water disposal.

"Refrigeration is to be desired in a farm home. There are many types of refrigeration on the market.

"A stove is the next step to be considered in kitchen equipment. Stoves are being improved very much. Oil stoves are now made with a three gallon tank. All types of stoves are made much more attractive than those made years ago. Always keep the wicks clean to insure even heat and prevent smoking. Oil stove wicks need to be kept tapered to a point.

"By rearranging your kitchen equipment, many steps may be saved."

The club expressed regret at Miss Robb's leaving, but wished her success in her new location.

Visitors: Mmes. C. E. Campbell and Weldon Lemon.

Members: Mmes. L. B. Thornton, J. W. Wilson, Howard Cook, W. E. Galloway, M. C. Brandon, J. E. Richardson, J. C. White, M. J. Scaer, J. R. Hamilton, P. D. Server, W. I. Lemon, J. W. Lamb, R. A. Kahlich, S. G. Anthony, W. H. May, and B. W. Baker.

ALL-SEW CLUB

The All-Sew Club spent an enjoyable afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. A. Thomas Thursday May 21.

The club voted to change the hours of their meeting from 3 o'clock to 3:30 during the summer months.

A lovely refreshment plate consisting of buttered nut-bread sandwiches, pear salad, and cherry fruitade was passed to Mesdames E. E. Callaway, V. F. Jones, A. L. Lockwood, Fred Hegl, Kary Mathis, Roy Leslie, R. L. Richardson, A. I. Thomas, H. C. Story, Belton Howell, C. E. Woodworth and the hostess.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Fred Hegl Thursday, June 4.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

What fine rains the Father has given us, and how thankful we should be! How many will show their gratitude by serving Him more faithfully? The drought showed us how dependent we are. Jesus said: "Without me ye can do nothing."

How true, and how many fall because they leave Jesus and God out of their plans. How parents can raise large families and not feel their need of God's help is more than I can understand, and yet we have some large families in Tahoka who do not seem to have any regard for God, His day, church, or book. How sad!

Some needs of the church today: More godly living on the part of its members. More regular attendance at its services. More liberal financial supporters. More reverence and respect for the house it meets in. More earnest gospel preaching and more zeal in all its activities. Services next Lord's Day. Bible study 10 a. m. Preaching 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Come worship with us at the friendly church.—R. P. Drennon.

PAINS IN ARMS, HANDS-COULDN'T REST AT NIGHT

Can Do All Her Work Now and Feels Fine After Taking Williams R. U. X. Compound.

Mrs. Ivan Yargus, Balknap, Iowa, writes the following letter about her remarkable improvement after suffering for 20 years.

"I had such pains in my back, shoulders, neck, arms, and hands that I couldn't rest at night. I couldn't raise my arms to comb my hair and felt like life wasn't worth living.

"While looking over the paper one day, I saw an ad for Williams R. U. X. Compound. I got a bottle and after taking two doses the pain began to leave. I have taken this medicine now for a little over two weeks and feel like living again. I can do all my work now, where before I had to have help."

Follow Mrs. Yargus' example. Don't suffer torturing muscular rheumatic pains of the arms, legs, shoulders, and body any longer without trying Williams R. U. X. Compound. Being a liquid—highly concentrated, already dissolved—it starts to work almost immediately. It is not just something to "rub on," but Williams R. U. X. Compound works from the "inside out."

WILLIAMS R. U. X. COMPOUND PAIN RELIEVING ingredients are absorbed into the blood, and carried to sore, inflamed muscles and parts, giving a feeling of ease and comfort which is a blessing to sufferers. TRY WILLIAMS R. U. X. COMPOUND TODAY!

Get Rid of Poisons Produced by Constipation

A cleansing laxative—purely vegetable Black-Draught—is the first thought of thousands of men and women who have found that by restoring the downward movement of the bowels many disagreeable symptoms of constipation promptly can be relieved. Mr. J. P. Mahaffey, of Clinton, S. C., writes: "I have found that Black-Draught is very effective in the cleansing of the system. When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassitude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

NEW PROOF OF GENE RAYMOND'S TALENTS

Gene Raymond conclusively proves his versatility in his latest characterization in "Love on a Bet," a romantic comedy-adventure showing at the English Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Since he deserted the New York footlights for a picture career, Raymond has practically covered the range of emotions. One of his first portrayals to attract widespread attention was that of the condemned youth in "If I Had a Million." "Flying Down to Rio" and "Hooray for Love" attest to Raymond's skill in musicals, largely attributable to his ability as a pianist and singer.

Light romantic comedies of the non-musical variety prove his ability to portray romantic menaces. Such a role does he portray in "Love on a Bet," in which Wendy Barrie and Helen Broderick play the leading supporting roles.

A gay tale of love and adventure along the transcontinental highways leading from New York to Los Angeles, this is a new romantic comedy built along the lines of "It Happened One Night."

"Love on a Bet" presents Raymond as a debonaire hitch-hiker who pursues the girl of his dreams across the country, battling murderous escaped convicts as well as an objecting aunt in an effort to win the beautiful blonde.

THOUSANDS ARE NOW USING NEW TONIC PRESCRIPTION TO HELP BUILD RUGGED STRENGTH

Sensational Sale of WILLIAMS' S. L. K. Formula is Making History in TAHOKA This Week—Missouri Doctor's Prescription a Boon to Many Weak, "Run-Down" Men and Women.

From Far and Near Users Voice Their Praises

Crowds which the last few days have thronged the (name of drug store) where the doctor's prescription, Williams S. L. K. Formula is being distributed, have borne ample testimony to the enthusiastic reception which this meritorious tonic preparation has had in TAHOKA.

Apparently the remarkable success with which this tonic prescription has met in other parts of the United States is destined to be maintained here.

Since this valuable tonic preparation, which is based on the prescription of a Missouri doctor, was placed on the market, many users have sung their enthusiastic praises for the benefits which they declare it has given them. J. B. O'Daniel, Corydon, Iowa, writes: "I have just completed a course of Williams S. L. K. Formula and am thankful for its wonderful benefits. I had suffered for over 10 years. Had to force myself to eat what little I did. I was advised to try Williams S. L. K. Formula. I noticed a difference while on the first bottle. I sure feel like a new man. My former nervousness is gone and I sleep like a brick. I am working every day."

Was in Bed 6 Weeks—Now Feels Fine

A letter from Mrs. A. P. Hughes, well-known resident of Kansas City, states: "I was very weak, highly nervous. Was in bed 6 weeks. While in bed a friend advised me to try Williams S. L. K. Formula. I tried one bottle. Began eating and sleeping soundly. I continued taking S. L. K. until I could do my housework and walk around. Then continued to gain strength. Seemed as strong as possible for a person 58 years old. I sure feel fine."

Great Relief After Taking One Bottle

From Iowa comes the report of Mrs. May Kopp, a well-known resident, who says: "After taking one bottle of Williams S. L. K. Formula I was greatly relieved. It is expressing it mildly to say that I am well pleased and can cheerfully recommend Williams S. L. K. Formula to others."

Although Williams S. L. K. Formula has been available in TAHOKA only a short time, many users here are enthusiastic in their praise of it.

What Williams S. L. K. Formula Is and What it Does

Williams S. L. K. Formula is intended for those "run-down" conditions due to simple anemias of the hypochromic type, often indicated by a feeling of weakness, lack of ambition and "pep" loss of weight and appetite, and unhealthy pallor of the skin. Such conditions commonly are due to a deficiency of necessary elements for forming rich, red blood. Williams S. L. K. Formula supplies a valuable mineral element necessary for the production of red blood, and is a splendid tonic for the system. It also acts as a mild stomachic tonic, is mildly laxative and a mild diuretic stimulant for the kidneys. Williams S. L. K. Formula is a highly concentrated liquid, is easily assimilated and starts to work almost immediately. Only small doses are required. One teaspoonful taken in water, makes the equivalent of a brimming glassful of tonic and system-cleansing elements.

Make This Guaranteed Test

If you feel "tired-out," "run-down," lacking ambition and pep; if appetite is failing and you are losing weight; don't suffer another day without trying Williams S. L. K. Formula. The first bottle must produce results or money back. This fair-play guarantee is backed fully by the distributors of Williams S. L. K. Formula, and also by your local druggist, so you take no money risk. No matter what other medicines you may have tried, in justice to yourself, make this test of Williams S. L. K. Formula today.

Uncle Phil Says:

Cultivate Quietness.

Quiet contemplation is something that needs cultivation among sane minds; a demand for constant excitement characterizes a nervous wreck.

It requires a good deal of sporting blood merely to carry on in a world of doubt and fear.

The simp paints the town red; the misanthrope paints it blue; the knocker paints it black; the promoter paints in the color of gold.

If a man is witty he expects the fact to be acknowledged; and if he is handsome he expects the same thing.

Business of life is getting into trouble; the joy of life is getting out of it.

Headache, neuralgic, and periodic pains and other nerve pains yield almost instantly to Capudine. This is because Capudine is liquid, and its ingredients are already dissolved—all ready to act.

Capudine relieves pain by soothing the tense muscles and nerves. That is why it is so gentle and effective. It is approved by physicians and druggists. Capudine contains no opiates. At all drug stores; 60c, 30c, 10c sizes. (Adv.)

Cardui Helped Three Times

"I used Cardui, when a girl, for cramps, and it helped then," writes Mrs. Ike Wright, of Sealy, Texas. Next, after marriage, she reports having taken Cardui when she felt weak, nervous and restless before her children were born. And during middle life, it helped her again.

"I was miserable," she explains. "I did not have an appetite. I was very blue and upset. I remembered Cardui had helped me, so I took it again and soon began to pick up. I ate and had more strength. I kept up the Cardui and did not have any more trouble. Is it any wonder that I recommend Cardui to all my friends?"

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

An Easy Aid For Sluggishness

When sluggish and listless from improper elimination, you don't want to upset your entire system with a harsh laxative. You want relief that is pleasant and easy... the sort of relief you get with Feen-a-mint, the delightful chewing gum laxative. Feen-a-mint begins its pleasant effect as soon as you start chewing it. For its stomach-settling mint brings a clean, fresh taste to the mouth. As you chew out the laxative ingredient, which is absolutely tasteless, the flow of digestive juices is increased. The laxative is mixed with them and carried into the system gently. Feen-a-mint doesn't grip, nauseate, or upset you and it is non-habit-forming. It passes through the stomach and into the bowels, where it thoroughly cleanses out waste. Doctors prescribe Feen-a-mint's laxative ingredient for both children and adults. Sold on money-back guarantee. Generous family size package 15c and 25c.

"Morning sickness"—is caused by an acid condition. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia.

Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—the most pleasant way to take it. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system and insure quick, complete elimination of the waste matters that cause gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.

Start using these delicious, effective anti-acid, gently laxative wafers today! Professional samples sent free to registered physicians or dentists if request is made on professional letterhead. Select Products Inc., 4402 23rd St., Long Island City, N. Y.

Common People for Roosevelt

New League Formed to Further F. D. R's Social Program; French Trade Pact

WASHINGTON.—There is a newly organized outfit with a good name. "The Good Neighbor League" is headed by an erstwhile Republican, Dr. Stanley High, a rather famed publicist who believes that Roosevelt's policy of loosening the tight social structure is the only thing that will save this country from a collapse. In this league, which has a sort of Golden Rule complex, there are thoughtful people active in church work, labor organization work, relief work, editorial work, etc. They are not politicians by any means, but they will undoubtedly turn out to have a vast political influence by stressing the fact that Roosevelt's policies are strongly endorsed by the great mass of inarticulate folks far down in the social scale.

You'll find in the Good Neighbor league such men as Col. Patrick H. Callahan, the Louisville industrialist who long ago began sharing the wealth of his business with his workers. You'll find Fannie Hurst the author, A. P. Giannini, financier and chairman of the Bank of America; Clifford Gregory, editor of the Prairie Farmer; Dr. James William Crabtree, who heads a world-wide educational association—I wish there were room to list the leaders of this outpouring of people of independent thought and liberal tendencies who know that unless someone interprets events and politics the reactionaries will so completely mis-state the case as to fool millions of people. The league represents a definite movement to help Roosevelt do what he wants to do under the promise "to make America a better place in which to live."

It is a slap at the Du Ponts and their Liberty League, and will give that munitions group a lot to think about. It comes along about the same time that a young fellow with a lot of vision named Paul Best forms a nation-wide organization headed up as the Roosevelt First Voters—an outfit designed to reach young men and women who vote for the first time next fall. It is not a Democratic outfit—just an outfit in honor of the fact that Roosevelt has touched the hearts and minds of young people who have heard a lot of promises but have seen no performance except from F. D. R. Especially interested are these Roosevelt First Voters in the policy of providing opportunities for young men and young women.

Then comes Labor's Non-Partisan league, which in my opinion is the most striking thing that has occurred in politics recently. This is an organization of labor union leaders and their followers to re-elect Roosevelt, whom they describe as the one man to carry on their fight for a fair wage at fair working conditions. The labor men in this league issue statements declaring themselves violently in opposition to the Liberty league and the National Association of Manufacturers and all so-called southern "grass roots" organizations opposed to Roosevelt. They know that these southern bursts of anti-Rooseveltism are libeled here in Washington by the Liberty league or some close affiliation.

Heading Labor's Non-Partisan league is Maj. George L. Berry, a printing press union man; John Lewis, United Mine Workers' chief (and I think the most daring union leader in America) and Sidney Hillman, Garment Workers' head. They have a well-kilted army of tens of thousands all ready to go. They have 4,000 experienced platform men and women—speakers and campaigners and organizers.

SUGAR COAT G. O. P. MEET

Plans to sugar coat the Republican national convention at Cleveland so that it will have an up-to-date streamlined, show window appearance, are being made by one of these New York super-publicity men named Bruce Barton, whom the Alf Landon element in the party brings in to give life to the utterly dull campaign as run by Chairman Fletcher of the G. O. P. headquarters here. The fact that Barton has been recruited to publicize Alf Landon is interesting in the light of the fact that he is the author of a book entitled "The Man Nobody Knows." However, anything that anybody can do to humanize a political convention, now that so many attend them via the radio, is commendable. The Democratic chieftains have been leading the way in publicity, air and printed, for several years. Now that the Republicans have decided to make improvements, the general public can sit back and have a swell time in a few days now, listening to the impassioned orators' spell-binding.

One interesting feature Barton is said to be planning is good music, planned to appeal to racial and sectional groups. Barton thinks that if his pipe organ at Cleveland plays "Old Kentucky Home" that will carry the Blue Grass state for Landon or whoever G. O. P. picks. I trust they will not make the mistake that the Al Smith boys made when the Georgia delegation nearly mobbed the band for playing "Marching Through Georgia" that tune being the greatest insult that can be offered a Georgia Democrat, as it is an echo of the Union army's

TANGLE PREDICTED

Administration leadership managed to choke back the demand for a low-interest means of paying off farm mortgages, when the house voted down the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill. But while conservatism won a momentary victory, I look for the episode to start a tremendous tangle in coming events... particularly in politics. Wouldn't surprise me in the least if it is the touch-off for a grand assault by Father Coughlin and other radicals who have a tremendous following for their theory that the way to salvation is through a currency so completely diluted that it will wash the banks and bankers all away.

The proposal that the federal government should pay off farm mortgages with three billions of new money, and then reimburse itself by very small annual payments from farmers at a rate of about 1 1/2 per cent a year is attractive enough to any farmer with a mortgage; and had enough support to get 142 votes in the house in the face of strong administration opposition. But the method is looked on by so many leaders as dangerously inflationary that for all intents and purposes it is too radical a measure to get to the statute books until there is a much more radical following in both houses of congress. The strongest attack on the measure came from organized labor, which feels the financing of the shortage payments by three billions of new money (to be either borrowed or printed), would dilute currency to a state where prices would sky-rocket and wages remain static. That idea killed the bill—and that alone. Scores of men who are sympathetic with the farm problem voted against the Frazier-Lemke measure, on the ground that this diluted money would be ruinous to everybody—explaining that the farm-mortgage problem and other rural economic tangles would be straightened by a price reform and better business, rather than by green-back money.

But agrarian movements in the past have never died out as the result of a first defeat. I look for this Frazier-Lemke movement to sweep the Middle West and Northwest. Father Coughlin and his Union for Social Justice will become more important than ever from the standpoint of the make-up of the next congress. Scores of good fellows were put on the spot by the vote in the house; and many members will have to fight for their lives on account of their position in that vote. I also look for a strong counter-proposal.

A COMING LEADER

Representative Lemke of North Dakota is a coming radical leader. He was the only Republican to get a bill of any consequence through congress in the first half of this administration; that was the Frazier-Lemke moratorium bill which granted time to farmers who had come up to the limit on mortgage payments. The Supreme court held the bill unconstitutional. Lemke is listed as a Republican, but he is not. Actually he is a Non-Partisan Leaguer and when the league captured and ate up the Republican party in North Dakota he became the party's state chairman. But no Republican would claim him as a brother, because Lemke has stood for some of the most radical steps. As attorney general of his state he drafted laws which have been called revolutionary. They include state banks, state insurance for farmers against hail, state-owned flour mills, and other far reaching changes.

This radical farm leader is not without educational background. He studied in two of the most conservative institutions on earth: one was Yale university and the other was Georgetown university here in the national capital. I look to see this gentleman attempt some great things for himself and his radical following before the next administration is through.

TRADE PACT WITH FRANCE

We have been engaged in a ten-year trade war with France; now it's all over. A new trade agreement has been completed which lowers tariffs; and permits us to deal more freely with France while they in turn have a better market for their goods (particularly wines and perfumes). Our tobacco raisers see a great opportunity to do a lot more business with the French, and all told every one should be gratified.

There is no sharp excitement about a new trade agreement; but world-wide peaceful results are bound to flow because the new-style treaties are a part of the new era wherein the seeds of war are being eliminated by a neighborly policy. Of course, there will be criticism directed at certain items. It will be charged, as in the case of the Canadian trade treaty, that foreigners are allowed to rush in and steal our markets; but all told the French and Canadian treaties together are being praised by some of the harshest opponents of the Roosevelt administration. At last we are getting to the point where we can tear down our fences and do business with our world-neighbors on the same human, common sense basis as we do in our own town.

It has been proven that past wars have sprung from the selfish, nationalistic tendencies of nations to build high tariff barriers and bottle themselves up in a ferment of selfishness. The new policy is like going down town and mingling with your fellows and learning that a little give-and-take in trading is the way to make friends—and at the same time do more business. You lose a little on one item but you make up on another. Best of all, both sides remain friends.

Mark It Well, for It's a Disgrace

Not to be a true man or a true woman.

Not to back up your chance in life with the best that is in you.

To disappoint your relatives and friends, especially your father and mother.

Not to make good, especially in a country where the very climate is a perpetual tone, where the marvelous resources arouse ambition as nowhere else in the world.

To go through life using only a small per cent of your possibilities. It is everyone's duty to be a hundred-per cent efficient.

To be indolent or idle when there is work in the world that you should be doing.

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

State's Financial Status Improved

Austin, May 28.—The State ad valorem tax rate has been reduced from 77c to 62c and the State will have a cash balance of more than three million dollars in all of the operating funds, except the Confederate Pension fund, at the end of the current fiscal year, Governor James V. Allred, told the Texas Bankers Convention this week.

"This cash balance of three million dollars," the Governor said, "will be maintained even after the increase of the scholastic per capita apportionment from $17.50 for the current year to $18.50 by the State Board of Education."

The $18.50 per capita apportionment is the largest ever made by the State of Texas. It will affect the destiny of about 1,558,000 scholars.

During the Allred administration about three million dollars will have been paid for the Centennial. Every cent of the available free school fund has been paid and appropriations for rural aid have been increased by two million dollars per year.

Since September of last year, $2,731,000.00 has been set aside for sinking fund and interest on the State's bonded indebtedness. The State owes at this time $13,537,750.00 on the twenty million dollar relief bonds voted in 1933.

Taxpayers have been saved approximately four and three-quarter million dollars by the slash in the State ad valorem rate from 77c to 62c, the Governor pointed out.

In commenting upon the unusual demands made by the people upon both the State and Federal governments, Allred said: "We all realize that during the past five years both the State and National governments have been called upon to assume financial responsibilities entirely new to the sphere of governmental responsibilities. Human suffering, destitution and want appeared in every State in the Union during the great depression."

Highway Beauty Work Showing Up

(By Mrs. E. I. Hill)
 Drive out and see the beautiful marker that the Highway Department has erected north of town on Highway No. 9. Note also the groups of trees growing along the completed part of this highway. Our own local business men donated the funds for these.

When you pass the court house notice the triangle. The shrubs lost last year were replaced by others and the plot is rapidly becoming a place of beauty.

Many of the homes along the highways are improving their lawns, as noted in this paper from time to time, but there are still some unattractively vacant lots. What can we do about these?

Going west on highway 84, one notes the City Park, a block of beautiful trees. We hope to see this area equipped and furnished as a playground for our citizens, especially for the children.

On this highway stands the Baptist Church, which, with other churches and public buildings of the town, is having its ground beautified.

Just west of the city limits, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts is in a state contest, being one of several thousand homes along our highways being improved especially to honor our state's centennial year.

Look for the beautiful when you drive!

COLLENBACKS ARRIVE AT MUSCATINE FOR TREATMENT

The News has received a card from J. H. Collenback stating that he and Mrs. Collenback arrived at Muscatine, Iowa, last Friday, and said he was feeling fine.

Crops look pretty good all the way from Abilene to Muscatine, he states, though some of the corn was not yet up in Iowa. Clover was knee high and blooming. The Mississippi River was on a 14-foot rise. Muscatine is a beautiful place in the spring, he says.

Mr. Collenback will take treatment for a stomach affection and does not know just how long he will remain there.

Mrs. W. J. Crouch and daughters, Ovid Luallin, Ray Nevill, and Billie Ovil Luallin, Ray Nevill, and Billie Margaret Riddle returned Wednesday night from San Saba, to which place they were called Friday by the serious illness of another daughter of Mrs. Crouch, Mrs. Joe L. Brown. They left Mrs. Brown much improved.
