Candidate Rally On Courthouse Lawn

Tahoka Last To Hear Candidates, County and District Candidates To Speak Friday Night.

County and district candidates will speak in O'Donnell tonight, Friday. Arrangements will probably be made for the speaking to be on the street, though we have no definite information to this effect. Heretofore it has been in the high school auditorium, which is only a few blocks from the business section of the town. A good crowd of voters is expected to be out, since the election is now only a few days off.

On Tuesday night of next week they will speak at Three Lakes. This will be their last appointment in the rural districts.

On the night before the election, Friday night of next week, they will close the campaign with a big rally on the courthouse lawn in Tahoka. All the county candidates and possibly some of the candidates for Representative in the legislature will speak. This will be Tahoka's first and last opportunity to hear the candidates from the public platform, and as usual it is expected that a large crowd will be present.

Brother of Tahoka Woman, Suicide

Suffering from some degree of mental derangement, Ed Husk, half brother of Mrs. B. L. Parker, shot and killed himself with a shotgun at his home near Rockdale in Milam county Friday morning.

Soon after being notified of the tragedy, Mr. and Mrs. Parker and children left for Rockdale, where they attended the funeral, which was held Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Husk sustained severe injuries to the head and neck several years ago when a horse threw him or fell with him, and his mind had apparently been affected ever since. A few months ago he had a severe attack of the "flu", which seemed to make his mental condition worse. He spent several weeks here last fall with the Parker family and was well known by some of our people.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker's many friends deeply regret this unfortunate tragedy.

ANNOUNCEMENT

There will be a political rally at New Home tonight (Friday). A Mr. Moss of Lubbock will address the voters in the interest of the candidacy of Mr. Speck for congress. A cordial invitation extended to everyone.

Interest Is Being Revived, Soft Ball

By N. W. Allphin
After an interruption week before last and Monday night of last week on account of wet grounds, interest in soft ball activities has taken an up-turn. Play by play announcements are made through a "Loud Speaker" installed in the "Score and Press Box". All the league teams are putting out plenty of energy, and each is hopeful of a final victory. Attendance is excellent, and interest among the fans is high and growing. Scores have ranged from the Butcher's shut-out of the Cossens Oilers 10 to 0, to 19 to 1 in every game many errors are made, of course; but lack of honest and serious effort is not one of them. The various line-ups include men all the way from "Old Age Pension eligibles down to the "Hi-Juniors". Come on out everybody, and enjoy the sport.

Standing of the Teams, as given below, includes that up to Tuesday night, the 14th.

Butchers	.800
Cleaners	.800
Bankers	.750
Fireboys	.600
Co-ops	.400
Cos. Oilers	.333
Flowboys	.200
H.-W. Cafe	.200

Rain In East Part Of County

Candidates for office, who were to speak at Gordon Tuesday night, report that the meeting was rained out. A good rain fell there, they say, and on this way to the George Small place three miles east of Tahoka.

A light shower fell in the Edith South Ward, and Midway communities, while the rain was not needed, it did no harm and possibly was of some slight benefit to crops.

Blue Sox Win 12-8 Over Shallowater

Quite a good sized crowd witnessed the ball game last Sunday between Tahoka's Blue Sox and Shallowater. The game was played on the local diamond west of the High School.

Anderson started as hurler for the Sox, but lost control in the third inning, and was relieved by Adams. Tahoka collected 14 hits and walk or so off the Shallowater moundsmen. The final score was 12 to 8 for the home team. Feature plays were as related by a player, issuance of free passes and hitting batters by Anderson, thus walking in two or three tallies. Also the smacking out of homers (driving in 3 runs at one time and 2 at the other) by R. M. Thomas, who did duty for the Sox at first base. The fielding of all of our boys showed good results from Coach Walker's recent intensive training, and their willow wielding is also on the up grade.

The Blue Sox will play Levelland here Sunday on the diamond west of the High School. It is unfortunate that through a misunderstanding there will be two ball games played here Sunday. Such may be obviated from this on.

Tahoka Students Make Honor Roll

Nine Tahoka students attending the Texas Technological College won places on the Honor Roll during the spring semester of that institution, according to information furnished the News.

Making a grade of A were the following: Cleveland Littlepage, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Littlepage of the Midway community; Miss Alize Weathers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Weathers of this city, and Miss Esther Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, who live near New Home.

Making a grade of B were: Skiles Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas; Sylvester Reese; son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reese, Miss Freddie Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Edwards, residing south of town; Miss Marie Womack, daughter of Mrs. Martha Womack; Mrs. Grace Thompson Dyess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Thompson, of the Redwine community; Miss Beatrice Casseaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Casseaux, residing near New Home; and Clytus Parris, son of H. A. Parris, of Wilson Texas.

Some of the above pupils have done outside work to pay all or a part of their expenses. Sylvester Reese deserves special mention in this particular, for while doing his school work he has paid all his expenses by working from four to eight hours a day in the Tech printing shop. He is a graduate of Tahoka high school and was employed in the News office after school and on Saturdays during his last year in school here and was regularly employed in the News office for more than a year following his graduation in high school.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The 42-Party sponsored by the New Home H. D. Club, and previously announced for this week has been called off due to other activities in the community.

Miss Lida Cooper, District Home Demonstration Agent of this district, will give a demonstration, "Sunday Night Suppers". Several of the official staff at College Station with whom the people in Lynn County are acquainted will appear on the program.

Tahoka Boys Enter Fort Sill Camp

At least six Tahoka boys are attending the C.M.T.C. at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, this summer. They are Reed Parker, Jim Cloe, Joy Edwin Brown, Champ Perkins, Robert Maddox, and Harold Stroud. There may be others, but if so we failed to get their names.

The first four above named were taken to Fort Sill on July 5 by Sheriff B. L. Parker, father of one of the boys, and the other two were taken over by Judge Maddox on the following Wednesday.

This is a great place for young boys to spend a few weeks. They are kept under strict surveillance and are given military training, which is as helpful to them as future citizens as it might be as soldiers.

Robert Maddox and possibly one or two others of the above-named boys attended this camp last summer.

Self Child Receives Blood Transfusion

The little 16-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Self of Draw underwent a double mastoid operation Friday in a Lubbock sanitarium and received a blood transfusion Sunday.

Latest reports from the sanitarium were that the child was doing as well as could be expected. She is a niece of Mrs. H. C. Story.

Thompson, District Manager Here

J. H. Goodman, a prominent attorney of Midland and campaign manager for this district for Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission and candidate for re-election, was a visitor in Tahoka Wednesday. Mr. Goodman practiced law in Lubbock a number of years and is well known to many Lynn county people.

Mr. Goodman says that any charge that Mr. Thompson is under the domination of the Standard Oil Company or any of its subsidiaries is wholly incorrect. On the other hand he says that the Humble Oil Company and other subsidiaries of Standard Oil in this state are opposing Mr. Thompson, while the independent oil companies are supporting him.

He is very sanguine as to Mr. Thompson's re-election.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cearly of Close City were here Sunday visiting Mrs. Cearly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Allphin. They were accompanied by Mr. Cearly's parents, who also reside at Close City. The younger Mrs. Cearly was the former Miss Bonnie Allphin of this city.

C. R. STRONG 80 BURIED HERE

Terminating a long period of ill health, Death brought relief at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning to C. R. Strong, 80, at his residence two miles northwest of Three Lakes.

Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist Church here at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. E. F. Cole of Lamesa, the Baptist pastor here being out of town. Deceased had been a member of the Methodist Church for many years. Burial was in the Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Harris and Applewhite, undertakers.

Mr. Strong had been a resident of Lynn county for 24 years, having moved here from Wellington in 1912. Quiet and reserved in his manner and always considerate of the rights and feelings of others, he had won a wide circle of friends, who sincerely mourn his departure and sympathize with the aged widow and the sons and daughters in their bereavement.

Charles R. Strong was born at Hartford, Missouri, on May 31, 1856. He moved to Texas with his father's family while he was yet a boy, and he was married to Miss Emma Schimpff at Denton, Texas on July 28, 1878.

To this union, eleven children were born, seven of whom are still living. The aged widow also survives. The seven living children are as follows: J. W. Strong of Tahoka, Mrs. Etie McNeely of Quemado, I. P. Strong of Dimmit, Mrs. Sam De Poma of Casper, Wyoming, J. L. Strong of Arp, Smith county, H. R. Strong of Lefors, Gray county, and Mrs. W. M. Yates of Lamesa. All were present at the funeral except J. L. Strong of Smith county and Mrs. De Poma of Wyoming, and she visited here a few months ago.

Deceased also leaves 21 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

A good man and true has gone to his reward.

County Republicans To Meet In Tahoka

Notice is hereby given that the county convention of the Republican party will be held in the courthouse in Tahoka at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, August 1, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention.

A meeting of the Republican executive committee of Lynn county will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Precinct conventions will be held in the various voting precincts of the county on Saturday, July 25, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican county convention.

J. R. Singleton, County Chairman.

Burleson Child In Auto Accident

Little W. L. Jr., 6 son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burleson, had a harrowing experience just about dusk Saturday evening when he was accidentally struck by a car, and his parents are thankful that he was not killed or seriously injured. Only minor injuries were sustained, and the next day the little fellow was playing around as if nothing had happened.

This was one of those near-serious accidents that are unavoidable. A car had just passed along the street, and immediately after it passed little W. L. Jr. darted across the street behind it, and in doing so he ran immediately in front of a pick-up being driven by F. M. Billman. Mr. Billman did not have time to stop his car and knocked the little fellow down, but he did turn the wheels so as to prevent their passing over the child's body. It was a harrowing experience for Mr. Billman too, as well as for the child and his parents, but Mr. Burleson states that Mr. Billman was in no wise to blame for the accident.

Mrs. R. S. Morrison of Archer City is here spending a couple of weeks or more with her daughter, Mrs. George Hogan.

The July Primary Election Next Week

Lubbock To Hear Senator Sheppard

Senator Morris Sheppard, U. S. Senator from Texas and candidate for re-election, will speak in Lubbock on Wednesday night, July 22, according to announcements in the Lubbock papers.

Senator Sheppard was originally scheduled to speak in Lubbock on Thursday night of this week, but the date was changed upon the request of Lubbock citizens by reason of a conflict with other activities in the city on that night.

Senator Sheppard is a most polished and eloquent speaker, and many Lynn county people will doubtless take advantage of this opportunity to hear him.

Smith Thanks People of County

The many kindnesses and courtesies that have been extended to me in the past and the help that I have had in this campaign makes me realize more fully that you cannot get along without friends. I regret leaving the County Judge's office and the work there which has been the most interesting job that I have ever held but I felt that I could not afford to overlook an opportunity to try for a promotion. I deeply appreciate the cooperation that I have had from all the people of Lynn County in carrying on the work of that office without your confidence and help I know that it would have been impossible to have made any headway at all in meeting the various problems that have come through that office.

May I call your attention to the very important office of Commissioner and to the type of men with whom I have been associated since I have been in this office. It has been a pleasure to be a part of the court and see them struggle with the different types of business that they are called upon to handle and to see the sacrifice time, money and effort, unstintedly, in order that our people might have what they were justly entitled to receive. There may have been commissioners, and we have had some very very fine men serve as such, who were more learned or maybe more handsome, but you have never had a court who has worked more diligently, earnestly and honestly in the discharge of their duties. I hope that you will count me a part of Lynn County, however small that part may be, and want you to know that I thank each and every one of you for the opportunities that have come my way.

Yours sincerely
W. E. (Happy) Smith

July 25 Will Be Historic Day. Many Candidates Will Be Eliminated. Large Vote Is Expected.

The great state-wide Democratic primary election is just a little more than one week away, Saturday, July 25, will be an important day in Texas history. It will probably decide who shall be the next governor of Texas and the next United States Senator, for many believe that both Governor Allred and Senator Sheppard will win in the first primary. Most others believe that they will each lead their opponents by such a wide margin as to practically decide the contest.

This election will also decide whether or not Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo is to succeed himself as state railroad commissioner, whether George Shepperd of Sweetwater is to continue to hold his post as State Comptroller, and whether Charley Lockhart, formerly of Snyder, shall remain the State Treasurer for another term of two years.

It will decide whether Pat Bullock of San Antonio, former county superintendent of Seely county, shall be able to unhorse L. A. Woods of (Cont'd. on back page)

Dan Curry In Near Serious Accident

Dan Moody Curry, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Curry, was painfully but not seriously injured last Saturday afternoon when a car driven by his older brother passed directly over him. The wheels of the car, however did not touch him.

His injuries consisted of a severe cut on the right knee, an abrasion of the left elbow, and a scalp wound. He was rushed to a Lubbock sanitarium immediately after the injury, where an examination disclosed the fact that no bones had been broken. He was brought home Sunday afternoon, and his wounds are healing nicely.

The accident happened when several boys were about to drive away from the Curry home. Something had gone wrong with the horn and Dan was stooping down immediately in front of the radiator examining the wiring. The driver, not knowing that Dan was down in front of the radiator, started the car slowly. It pushed or knocked him down and passed on over his body. Not a wheel touched him, however, and no serious or permanent injury was inflicted.

Midway Farmer Exhibits Fine Cotton

I. M. Draper of Midway was in town Wednesday with a few samples of the cotton that is being grown on his farm this year. Two of the stalks were about knee high while the third one was thigh high, and all were growing rapidly and fruiting well.

Mr. Draper has about 150 acres of cotton of this type. He was fortunate in getting some early rains that did not visit other communities in the county, and furthermore he is one of our very best and most successful farmers, having come to Lynn county from Williamson county.

While most of the cotton in the county is much later than Mr. Draper's, yet practically all of it is very, thrifty and promising.

Many things can happen to cotton between now and October, but at this time it looks as if it were in the stars for us to produce a bumper crop this year.

Carl C. Harding To Speak Here

Announcement is made that Hon. Carl C. Harding of Stephenville, candidate for railroad commissioner, will speak here at 9 o'clock Friday morning. The people of Tahoka and surrounding territory are invited to hear him.

It is presumed that the speaking will be on the court house lawn.

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

In Ancient Nile Mud England Keeps Ready Let the Dead Sleep Murder Starts Early

Paris.—Reclining on her side, her body covered with gold, necklaces on her neck and on the ground nearby, a r c h aeologists discover the well-preserved body of an Egyptian princess whose father, the Pharaoh Chephren, built the second biggest pyramid; it was his brother, Cheops, who built the largest. Those pyramids were tombs for dead pharaohs and searchers found the princess in one of them. The Nile mud seeping into the tomb had helped to preserve her.

That princess, living 5,000 years ago, could tell an interesting story for the movies. She "built herself a small pyramid with stones given to her by her many lovers." Where do you suppose she is now? In some strange Egyptian heaven, perhaps, with all those admirers around her.

England, alarmed by European war threats, issues an official "white paper" explaining why. "The relation of our own armed forces to those of other great powers should be maintained at a figure high enough to enable us to exercise our influence and authority in international affairs."

Unfortunately for all plans, the airplane in the hands of a desperate nation might upset all national "authority," just as a pistol in the hands of a desperate man upsets individual and police authority.

One bullet will stretch individual authority in the dust; 1,000 airplanes, attacking the heart of a great city, might cause national "authority" to end in demoralization.

England's new defense increase will be largely in her air force; that wise nation knows that the real "ocean" in future wars will be the ocean of the air.

In a desert of southeastern Utah, men and women, belonging to the cult of "truth seekers," were gathered around the body of Mrs. Edith Dakhal, who died more than a year ago. You read about it, perhaps. Mrs. Ogden, leader of the "truth seekers," prayed over the body, which appeared marvellously preserved. The "truth seekers" believe they will bring the woman back to life, but the pathetic fact is that it would not in the least matter if they did.

The important thing is to improve the condition of 1,800,000,000 actually living on the earth. For one safely out of it to be brought back would be unimportant, in these days, and perhaps cruel.

America holds the world's "murder championship" for all kinds of murder, at all ages—quantity, quality, variety, volume.

A New Jersey boy, 16 years old, was sentenced to death.

In Wisconsin, a coroner reports that little David Holl, two months old, was killed by two boys four and three years of age.

They each held one hand of the younger one, and dropped it on the floor. It cried and would not stop. Then, one of the small boys explained, "We pounded him." These youngest "killers" puzzle the law. You can't "try" a four-year-old child.

Railroads tell the interstate commerce commission they would like fares reduced to two and a half cents a mile, instead of two cents. The railroads should have all possible consideration, for they have built up this country, but at two and a half cents a mile they will not compete successfully with automobiles carrying passengers for one-quarter of a cent a mile.

New York proposes to fingerprint everybody, new babies included. The baby of the future will be busy, with fingerprinting, tonsil and appendix removal, vaccination for smallpox and a half dozen other diseases.

The new treaty with France, reducing the duty on French wines and liquors by 50 per cent, interests California and other wine-growing states. It should persuade them to stabilize the production of wines, establish official guarantees of purity, freedom from adulterations, mixtures, and especially "fortifying" with alcohol.

In Europe, notably in France, adulteration of wines is an offense against the law. With us, it is a business.

For advertising reasons, a group of men made a long distance hike on a diet of broken-grain to prove the superiority of that diet. They were surprised when 53 hikers showed a total loss of 211 pounds in weight, while one, 66 years old, showed a gain of three pounds.

Drouth Damage Estimated at $300,000,000—Steel Fight Brings Union Labor Crisis—Landon Reconvenes Kansas Legislature.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

WHILE relentless heat drove the nation's farm losses from drouth toward the $300,000,000 mark and sent grain prices soaring, long needed rains in scattered regions of the drouth belt brought temporary relief. In sections of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and Ohio, which faced the prospect of the disaster already confronting the Northwest, the rains were a God-send to sun-parched corn fields, pastures, and crops of spring wheat. Rains in the Northwest revived portions of North and South Dakota, Montana and Nebraska.

But a heat wave lasting nearly a week had brought temperatures ranging from 90 to 114 in the Great Plains territory. Twenty-three states, eight of them in the South, were listed as suffering in some degree from the drouth. Ten of them—North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Minnesota, Missouri, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Virginia and South Carolina—were already in a critical stage. Five others—Kentucky, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina and West Virginia—were borderline cases. Eight others where the full severity of the drouth had not yet been felt were: Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Kansas, Indiana and Ohio.

With the full extent of the damage in the "dust bowl" area of the Northwest not yet known, the federal government made plans to deal with a long-range disaster. President Roosevelt, taking personal command of the relief program in Washington, announced that he would make a personal tour of the drouth-stricken areas within the next few weeks.

The President announced that the federal government had prepared a comprehensive plan whereby 170,000 out of 204,000 farm families impoverished by the drouth in the Northwest would be given immediate cash assistance. He declared that he will make his trip after the relief program has had an opportunity to get under way, to see for himself exactly how much damage was caused by the drouth and whether financially-ruined families are receiving the proper assistance.

He said that 50,000 farmers were being given jobs immediately on WPA projects at an average wage of $15 per week, carrying out useful work—digging wells, constructing earth dams to "old any rains which may fall in the near future and building farm-to-market roads. A livestock program is under way which would call for the movement of cattle from the arid sections as a private enterprise, to protect the foundation herds of the livestock growers.

ROMANCE outmaneuvered diplomacy in the life of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, American minister to Denmark and former member of congress. The engagement of the daughter of William Jennings Bryan to Captain Boerge Rohde, an officer of the Danish army, was announced in Denmark by the latter's mother. Captain Rohde is a member of King Christian's personal bodyguard.

Captain Rohde arrived in America on the liner Drottningholm a day or two after his fiancée had reached the country. They were married at an estate on Long Island.

In political circles the opinion was expressed that Mrs. Owen will probably resign her diplomatic post in a short time. While there are no formal regulations which compel an American woman minister to resign when she weds, it has been customary for women in minor positions in the American foreign service to retire when they marry.

GOVERNOR Alf M. Landon returned to Topeka, Kas., after a vacation in the Colorado mountains, for the reconvening of the state legislature and to prepare for the acceptance speech he will deliver at the Republican notification ceremonies July 23.

The Republican presidential nominee appeared before a joint session of the legislature and urged passage of amendments to the state constitution to provide adequate social security measures. Governor Landon declared that care of the needy aged and others suffering misfortunes is a "public obligation."

Following his address, the Kansas senate adopted a constitutional amendment by a vote of 25 to 1, empowering the legislature to enact a uniform system of direct aid for needy aged persons, indigent infirm persons and others suffering misfortunes which give them a claim on society for aid. It likewise passed by a unanimous vote another proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the state to levy taxes on employers and employees for systems of old age pensions and unemployment insurance to which the beneficiary must contribute.

Meanwhile, Governor Landon opened a series of major conferences with farm leaders for the purpose of drafting a farm relief program for inclusion in his acceptance speech. He conferred with former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, and former Senator Otis F. Glenn, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, Representative Clifford Hope of Kansas and R. K. Laubengayer, a Kansas farm publisher.

AS THE long-awaited campaign to unionize the nation's steel industry was under way, one of the most serious crises in the history of the American labor movement arose when strife broke out between William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, who has promoted the unionization drive in the steel industry.

Meeting in Washington, the executive council of the American Federation of Labor considered the matter of suspending eight national and international unions on the ground that these eight unions have begun the formation of a rival, or dual labor federation.

John L. Lewis announced that he would not respond to a summons of the executive council to answer charges that he had violated the federation's policy by trying to organize 500,000 steel workers into one big industrial union instead of into several unions divided by crafts.

Should the rift widen and a break occur, observers believe it would split the organized labor movement and affect its prestige and power at a critical time.

Denouncing the action of the Lewis group, President Green declared: "It is sincerely to be regretted that the committee for industrial organization thwarted the purpose of the American Federation of Labor to inaugurate an organizing campaign in the steel industry."

Back of the collision over the attempted unionization of the steel industry are two contending schools of thought over the future of organized labor in America. One is that sponsored by Mr. Green which rose to power on a policy of trained craftsmen, trained by crafts. The other is championed by John L. Lewis who visions a powerful labor machine organized regardless of crafts, which includes the semi-skilled and unskilled workers as well as the trained craftsmen.

DEFYING the threats of Communist members of the chamber of deputies, the French government decided to use armed force "with care" to oust French strikers who refused to evacuate their places of business. The announcement of this new policy was made by Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro, following the outbreak of fresh "folded arm" strikes in Paris and the provinces. It was estimated that 80,000 workers were still on strike in various industries throughout France.

SENATOR William E. Borah, about whose future political plans considerable doubt existed, formally announced that he would be a candidate for re-election to the senate.

Several days before making his announcement the Idaho statesman had pledged allegiance to the Republican ticket and platform, thus removing the expressed doubts of many political leaders throughout the country regarding his stand in the presidential campaign. Previously Senator Borah had commented favorably on both the Republican and Democratic platforms, praising both for the stand they had taken on the question of monopolies.

The seventy-one-year-old senator in clarifying his position on the Republican platform said: "I have no intention of bolting the ticket.

"I am supporting the platform, and I have been supporting the platform from the beginning."

Lemke Promises Are Pure Bunk

Third Party Leader Advances No Real Constructive Ideas; Civil Service

By EARL GODWIN

WASHINGTON.—Sooner or later the sham in a candidate shows up during a campaign—if he has a weak spot. I'm afraid that Representative William Lemke of North Dakota, candidate for the presidency on the so-called Union party ticket, has exposed himself as a political fraud before he ever had a chance to show the statesman in him. Remember, I predicted leadership for Bill Lemke at the time his cheap-farm-mortgage bill was defeated in the house? Well, he got the backing of the radio priest Father Coughlin, chose a labor union attorney from Boston as vice-president, and announced a new party favoring liberal ideas about cheap money; pensions for fifty-year oldsters, and a lot of other gilt promises. What he may do is help elect reactionary Alf Landon, and thus spoil everybody's chances of a really liberal government for the average man. Lemke has no chance of election. He has little chance of anything in this campaign—but he is a threat to Roosevelt if he can launch himself in enough states with sufficient party machinery. For that reason there is every suspicion that Lemke, if he is financed, will be owing the reactionaries for his sines of war.

Well, instead of introducing himself to the country with a really constructive idea, he sails into the limelight on pure bunk, if I ever heard it. He promises 6,000 Iowa farmers that if and when he is elected, anyone can walk right into his office and have a really friendly time. He gives the impression that the world can walk right in on him and pass the time of day.

This is a very seductive promise. It makes the average listener feel that the candidate really needs the hourly handclasp, plus the advice of the average man, and that the four Lemke years would be just one grand public reception. Every man's yearning to tell the President of the United States just what to do will be fulfilled and satisfied when Bill Lemke is elected!

The trouble about that is this: You can't run the President's job and talk casually to the mass of people, any more than you can run a delicate airplane and permit everybody to come and play with you in the control room. I think the President's job is the most exacting one in the government. What Lemke is really aiming at is the vice-president's job, or the soft job of sitting outside a little used committee room doorway in the senate office building.

The President has to carry out so many individual duties laid on him by acts of congress that he doesn't have a chance to talk to the people he would really like to see. He has personally to sign so many papers that hours each week are thus consumed. He cannot delegate these duties to secretaries or deputies—congress makes the President work, and work hard. In fact, he works so hard and so intently that even members of his own staff do not have a chance to see him except on special occasion.

FULL STORY OF AAA

In the polished steel recesses of the new Archives building, where the government's final papers are laid to rest, will now remain for all time the official story of the AAA from the moment it started to the moment it ended under the hammer blows of the United States Supreme court. A 317-page report from Chester Davis, the former administrator for AAA, now a member of the Federal Reserve board, tells the whole story.

I am impressed with Chester Davis' emphasis on the legal difficulties. It gives me the impression that some day when we have risen higher in national intelligence, we will use that intelligence to locate a path of realism rather than permit ourselves to be run by legal technicalities. The AAA report is an eloquent plea for less law, fewer lawyers, and more light on ways and means of doing things directly.

The money story of AAA has been told in several ways. Here's the final sum total:

In the three AAA years cash income from the five major commodities under AAA—cotton, wheat, tobacco, corn and hogs, rose from $1,365,000,000 in 1932 to $2,593,000,000 in 1935. Cash income from all other products rose from $3,012,000,000 to $4,307,000,000. Three-fourths of the gain was from increase in prices; the remaining 25 per cent from benefit payments. The turning point in agricultural fortunes was coincident with the operation of the AAA. Furthermore, the farm spending for necessities increased. Forty per cent of the big boost in retail business throughout the country is due to improvement of the farm income.

CIVIL SERVICE

The administration seems to me to be very patient under the attacks of critics who keep saying that Roosevelt has extended the old-fashioned political spoils system and ruined the civil service. The administration, by presidential order or act of congress, has removed the greedy hand of the politician from 13 governmental agencies—and as far as I know no opponent of theirs has ever mentioned it yet. Incidentally, most of the agencies which have moved over into the civil service are agencies of social justice, carrying out the President's good neighbor ideal.

The list is headed by the New Deal's fall for driving crooked money changers out of the temple of finance. I refer to the securities and exchange commission, which is daily making it harder for crooks to flood the country with fake stock. Old Dealers tread softly in mentioning the work of the present administration in cleaning up the field of stock and bond selling—because there is still plainly visible the mark of ruin left by such institutions as the Insull empire.

The federal communications commission has come under the civil service. That commission protects the telephone and radio fields from pirates, and will be a strong hand in keeping down telephone rates. The social security board, with its old age pension policies, and aid to the infirm, the aged, and underprivileged children, is now under civil service—far removed from the politicians' appointing hands. The Farm Credit administration, developed by this administration into an agency potentially as powerful in agriculture as the Federal Reserve system in other fields, is under civil service now. There's an achievement to be proud of, yet you never hear the yelling critics make mention of it. Now you would think that the great Republican party, which has been so pure about appointments in the past (!) would have jumped in the air and clapped three times for the opportunity it had in the last hours of congress to help put all postmasterships in the civil service. Most of them are there now; but the big plums are still appointive jobs, and politics is likely to rule instead of merit. It takes an act of congress to make such a change, but Roosevelt has indicated that he wants the civil service extended as rapidly as possible. Well, the Republicans have it on their record now that they managed to block that bill. They can't conscientiously charge Roosevelt with preferring politics to merit because they themselves, by parliamentary tactics, prevented this reform. Apparently they would rather have the situation just as it is—smeared and criticizing—but refusing to help matters. Dogs in the manger could not have played a more destructive role.

ROOSEVELT'S SMART MOVE

When the emergency organizations were thrown together in 1933 to stop the panic and feed the hungry, there were not enough persons on the civil service rolls to fill the jobs necessary. Roosevelt did the smart thing—he got the emergency organizations working by the quickest method—and then looked around to see how many should be retained and put under civil service. He took a look at the crippled civil service commission (the official body which secures and distributes employees for the government on strict merit)—and managed to get for it the money urgently needed to start competitive examinations throughout the country to get trained personnel. Politics is taboo in the civil service commission. I have been there several times, and honestly I'd be just about as welcome, if I went in to talk politics as if I had brought a case of smallpox with me.

Roosevelt's critics dazzle the public with a lot of figures which attempt to show that the President has stuffed about a quarter of a million deserving Democrats into government jobs instead of letting the civil service appoint meritorious Americans regardless of party. The facts, however, do not bear this out. Non-civil service jobs, as I have explained, are emergency matters. They will be wiped out as the emergency dissolves, or if important enough to be made permanent they will be moved over into the civil service. Meantime, it is becoming the rule in Washington to require civil service ratings and standards. All in all, the charge that Roosevelt is engaged in debauching the civil service is more than bunk—it is a dangerous lie.

Governor Landon has advocated the extension of the merit system in the national government. His previous record is of interest in this connection. Although Kansas has on its statute books a civil service law, no appropriation for its enforcement has been made since 1919. This includes the four years of Governor Landon's administration. There is no record of any effort on his part to secure such an appropriation.

In 1934 it was suggested that prospective employees of the Kansas penitentiary be chosen by examination, but even this modest reform got no farther under the Landon administration.

SYNTHETIC GENTLEMAN

By Channing Pollock

CHAPTER X

"Not a word to anybody," Harwood had said. "Dig in 'till I phone you. One little leak, and we're finished."

Barry saw that. But why should Harwood fear the leak coming from him? Pat? Nonsense! Winslow, of course, who was Moran's lawyer. But Ernie had said, "Winslow isn't that kind of a lawyer."

But the trickle was becoming a flood now. The afternoon Hambridge had confessed seeing Kelly, why did Pat keep checking the Judge? What did she fear his disclosing? And the confession itself; why did he make it?

"Why do you say 'she'?" Pat had asked, emotionally. "This wasn't a woman's crime."

Winslow had asserted, too; only a few hours ago: "that man." Curious. And motive? Well, you couldn't deny that. If Kelly was threatening Judge Hambridge, and Pat knew it. There was no doubt that she did. "I've got something in my pocket," the Judge had quoted Kelly as shouting, and Pat had intervened promptly. All those weeks, before the decision was filed, she had writhed under the newspaper attacks on her father. Suppose she had known what was compelling that decision, and undertaken to remove the compulsion. "Silly!" Barry fumed at himself. "Fantastic!"

The house of cards was a wreck now, and Barry turned to other self-questionings. "That paper in Kelly's pocket—the threat over Luis. But it seems to have been the threat over Hambridge, also. What's the connection?"

"None," he finally decided, interring that idea, too, and turning in bed, determined that he must sleep. "Something between Moran and Kelly, yes, but between Moran and Judge Hambridge—well, that's just beet-tops!" With that he fell asleep.

The telephone awakened him. "Ten o'clock," the girl at the switchboard droned. "Call from Southampton?"

"Mr. Gilbert? This is the hospital at Southampton, Miss Hambridge asked me to tell you that Jacky Rogers has been hurt. We don't know how badly yet. His horse threw him. She'd like to know if you can come at once."

"Certainly." "Miss Hambridge says, if you'll go straight to her house, she'll be there. Fortunately, he got Evans at once, and they were on the Merrick road less than an hour later. "Never mind the red lights," Barry ordered. "Keep going."

But Evans was wary, beating the lights when it seemed safe to do so; stopping when it didn't, and pushing the car to its limit on stretches of unpolluted highway. Before two o'clock, Evans drew up in front of the Hambridges'. Pat was waiting.

"I've just this minute got back from the hospital," she declared. "Peg's still there, of course. But Jacky's arm's broken."

"Nothing worse?" Pat shook her head. "The whole thing's my fault," she said, tremulously. "Jacky's too young for a pony. Although I had one at his age."

She took him into the drawing-room, where they were joined by her father, who seemed terribly broken.

Between them, they told Barry what had happened. A bit of paper had blown across the pony's eyes, and he had bolted, with Pat after him. She got hold of the bridle, but the frantic little animal had dragged her out of her saddle. Still she had clung, until, maddened, the pony had bucked, and thrown his small rider. Pat had let go then; not without visible and terrible casualties to skin and clothes.

Pat's nerves were on edge, and Hambridge rambled on about the "poor kid," and this being "the last straw" for Peggy, and what were they going to do now, with the Ridders coming to Southampton.

"And, suddenly, Pat said, "This is Wednesday." Barry conceded the point. "We agreed to tell the truth if Jack wasn't free Wednesday."

"The Judge's muscles stiffened. "What do you mean by the truth, Pat?" "That you saw Kelly after Jack left him."

a crooked decision? I'd ask who else might have wanted that paper—and what became of it?"

Both Pat and her father were staring at Barry now, with wide, startled eyes in which lay something like terror. The Judge cried, "We can't face that."

"We've got to face it," Pat said. "We've got to. There's a woman with a sick boy—"

"There's another woman, too," the Judge interrupted. "A woman closer and dearer to me—" He checked himself, remembering suddenly that he and his daughter were not alone. Remembering, he turned back to Barry. "You know how I feel about all this," he pleaded. "I've said repeatedly that we must clear Ridder at any cost. But now you've put my fear into words. They can't convict this boy. What's the difference whether he's free tomorrow or two weeks from tomorrow? If there were any possibility of convicting an innocent man—any innocent man—I'd have no choice. But now—"

The telephone rang in the hall. "Mr. Winslow on the wire," a servant announced. "Very important, sir."

The Judge went out, closing the door after him.

Pat excused herself. "I think I'd better go to my father."

Barry waited, alone, but his anxiety was great, too, and, at last, he parted the double doors and went into the drawing room.

As he did so, he heard the Judge's voice. Evidently, Hambridge had just hung up the phone, and was addressing his daughter.

"They've arrested Moran," he said. "For murdering Kelly. What are we going to do now?"

But the girl had seen Barry. Her hand closed over the back of a chair, and she swayed dizzily.

Barry caught her up in his arms. "It's no use. We've got to have the truth. Who murdered Mike Kelly?" His grip tightened on her shoulders.

"For God's sake—Pat—darling—was it you?"

"Who murdered Mike Kelly?" The question was being asked him from every news-stand in New York.

Beneath it, in huge headlines, the Globe answered, and accused. In journalistic circles, that story is still referred to as "the big beat": "Who murdered Mike Kelly?"

And, at seven o'clock that night, Moran was "still at liberty." The police hadn't arrested him—in spite of the Globe, and Winslow's message to Hambridge—nor manifested the least interest in his whereabouts. The first show at the Bar was beginning when "Big Bill" Devine arrived with "Big Bill" Devine.

"Where's the boss?" Tim asked one of the head waiters. "Upstairs—on the balcony. He's having his dinner."

Whether Moran counted too much on his pull, or whether he realized the impossibility of escape, no one ever knew. The platinum blonde had urged him to clear out. "What for?" he asked.

"Then he said, 'Even in America, you can't get away with murder forever—not forever, you can't.'" she testified later.

"I'm tired of the whole business," he said. "We might as well have it over."

What Moran meant by that was soon evident. It was buyers' night at the Coconut Bar. The street-floor was so crowded that the detectives had trouble reaching the stairs.

Tim walked into Moran's little dining room. "Hello, Luis! They want to talk to you at headquarters," Tim said. Luis replied his glass. Directly beneath him, 20 brazen voices were bawling a chorus:

"Let me be— That's all I'm askin' you. Can't you see? That's all I'm askin' you. Take your hand from off'n my hips. Take your mouth away from my hips. Let me be. That's what I'm tellin' you—"

"I guess you better come along, Luis." Moran rose. "I'm not going," he said. "No."

"Because why?" "Because I don't like your boarding house. I don't like that easy chair you got waiting for me. If you're gonna croak me, you might as well do it right here."

"Nobody don't want to croak you," Tim argued. "What's the use making trouble, Luis?"

For answer, Moran gave him the contents of the glass of champagne to the eyes.

"Big Bill" Devine seized Moran's right arm. And Moran struck with his left—a vicious jab that sent Devine back against an iron pillar.

Only for an instant, however. As Luis came forward, "Big Bill" caught him straight on the chin. It was a terrific blow. It sent Moran spinning against his own chair, and then, over that, through the flimsy railing, and down among the dancers, 15 feet below.

"Let me be—that's all I'm askin' you," came voices, bawling the chorus. Screams, cries, shouts for help. The band was still playing when a "bouncer" lifted the boss's shoulders. He was bleeding at the mouth, and stone dead.

For answer, Hambridge turned squarely to Barry.

Lesson for July 19

SOCIAL SERVICE IN THE EARLY CHURCH

LESSON TEXT — Acts 4:32-35; II Corinthians 8:1-8. GOLDEN TEXT — He said: "It is more blessed to give than to receive." — Acts 10:24.

PRIMARY TOPIC — How Jesus' Friends Shared. JUNIOR TOPIC — When Christians See Others in Need. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC — Christians Sharing With Others. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC — Christians and Social Service.

Social service in the early Church was a by-product of the gospel and not the gospel itself. Those who are saved by the gospel will show their concern for their fellows, especially those who are fellow members of the body of Christ.

- 1. Characteristics of the Primitive Church (Acts 4:31-35). 2. It was a praying church (v. 31). 3. It was a church which had great boldness in preaching the Word of God (v. 31). 4. It was a united church (v. 32). 5. It was a generous church (v. 32). 6. It was a church whose members possessed an unblemished character (v. 33). 7. It was a church which had relief from external troubles, difficulties arose within. Up to this time it would seem that the problems of the church were in the hands of the apostles. 8. It was a church which had relief from external troubles, difficulties arose within. Up to this time it would seem that the problems of the church were in the hands of the apostles.

Epigrams From Pen of Mark Twain

There are people who car do all fine and heroic things but one— keep from telling their happiness to the unhappy.

Spending one's capital is feeding a dog on his own tail.

A man should not be without morals—it is better to have bad morals than none at all.

If you tell the truth you don't have to remember anything.

The recurrent dream—mine is appearing before a lecture audience in my shirt-tail, a most disagreeable dream.—From "Mark Twain's Notebook," edited by Albert Bigelow Paine. (Harper & Brothers).

Christian Stewardship (II Cor. 8:1-9)

- 1. Examples of true Christian benevolence (v. 1-3). 2. Emulation of Macedonian benevolence urged (v. 4-15). 3. Not as a command (v. 8). 4. Acceptable giving must be spontaneous. 5. As proof of the sincerity of love (v. 8). 6. Sincere love is benevolent action toward the object loved. 7. As the completion and harmony of Christian character (v. 7). 8. The self-sacrificing example of Christ (v. 9). 9. The true principle upon which gifts are acceptable to God (v. 10-12). 10. The motive of the giver determines the value of the gift. 11. Every Christian should give something (v. 13-15).

Philosophy of Bacon

"While a little philosophy leads away from religion, much philosophy leads back to it." The man who said this was not an outsider, but a philosopher of the philosophers—Francis Bacon—the one, indeed, on whose inductive philosophy all the science of our modern world is built.

Waste of Life

The true waste of life consists in the love we have not given, the service we have not rendered, the sacrifice from which we have drawn back.

Matron's Dress with Vestee

Pattern No. 1907-B

This dress designed with soft capelet sleeves and a contrasting vestee is one of those perennial styles. It is always a pleasure to show by popular request. They're so universally becoming to larger and more mature women, and so adaptable to conventional occasions.

Gracious Speech

Would it not be wise if we cultivate more the art of kindly and gracious speech? A kindly word laden with sympathy we all instinctively feel may, and often more than we now know does, eternally influence a life. It acts like a motor that gives to the life an upward trend, as the unkind word too often gives a downward impulse.

Character Braces

Character must stand behind and support everything, the sermon, poem, picture, play.

TECH STUDENTS MAKE TRIP TO GRAND CANYON

Lubbock, Texas, July 15—Twenty six persons who went on the first annual Texas Technological college summer school bus trip to Grand Canyon returned to Lubbock Tuesday morning to pronounce the trip the best excursion ever sponsored by the college. Mart G. Pederson, faculty sponsor, reported on the 1600 mile trip and side trips taken by the Tech party.

Tech tourists visited Prima Point and Grandeur Point as they went on both the west and east rim drives, took airplane trips over the Canyon, saw Hopi Indian dance demonstrations, and viewed the Southwest Indian Pow Wow at Flagstaff. The trip was personally supervised by Joe Bowman, owner of the South Plains bus line.

Mrs. Grace Thompson Dyess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson of Tahoka, was one of the party.

In addition to the Grand Canyon trip, 150 Tech students made the annual college trip to Carlsbad Caverns during the weekend, supervised by T. C. Root and Dr. Ellsworth Plank. A trip to the Texas Centennial is being planned by Tech officials for the second semester, according to Dean J. M. Gordon.

Dallas, Texas, July 15—In a period of 28 months the Texas Highway Department has spent $52,004,528 to construct, widen and otherwise improve the state's highway system. A major share of this fortune has been expended on traffic arteries leading into Dallas where the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition is now in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Houston and children left Sunday to spend a few days in New Mexico. They expected to visit the Carlsbad Cavern before returning home.

What Makes the Wheels of Jumbo Go 'Round

Artist's Conception of the Innards of Billy Rose's Spectacle

Billy Rose's circus-musical comedy-drama-revue-extravaganza "Jumbo" will be seen to even greater advantage during its stay at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial than during its season-long run at the New York Hippodrome. True nearly a quarter of a million dollars was expended making the famous Manhattan playhouse habitable for the elephantine spectacle.

But the "little" of cow town way out west has gone the big town on the Hudson one better. At Fort Worth a complete circus amphitheatre has been constructed, the first to be devoted exclusively to a circus in over seventy years. Designed and supervised by Albert Johnson it represents an investment of $300,000.00, over a third of which is allotted to electrical equipment and another $100,000.00 to paraphernalia.

CANYON COLLEGE IS WELL REPRESENTED THIS SUMMER

Canyon, Texas, July 15—The 1250 summer students at West Texas State Teachers College claim permanent residence in eight states besides Texas and in 100 of the counties in Texas.

New Mexico students are the most numerous of the out-of-state groups, there are 32 people from that state; 19 Oklahomans rank second, Colorado, Missouri, Arkansas, Arizona, Illinois, and Kansas also are represented.

Other than Randall and Potter Counties, Hall County leads the Texas group with 45 people enrolled at Canyon College. Wheeler County is second with 39, Collingsworth and Donley Counties tie with 35. All counties except seven of those lying along and north of the Texas and Pacific Railroad between Ft. Worth and Odessa are represented in the student body. Far away Willacy, Cass, Smith, Limestone, and Atascosa Counties have sent students.

Work leading to the Bachelor of Business Administration and to the Master of Arts degrees is now offered at Canyon. Enrollment for the second six-weeks term began Tuesday July 14.

FORT WORTH BANS GYPS

Transport Lines Offer Low Rates to Frontier

A glorified excursion, sans ant-infested lunch boxes, stalled motors and rooks on every corner, awaits the wide-awake this Summer.

Railroads and bus lines are bending over backwards to make things possible and pleasant for Frontier visitors through the Summer.

There's no need in backing an unwilling family chariot out of the garage and broncing it all the way in. Besides that, highways may be uncomfortably crowded unless your machine is knee-actioned, free-wheeled and streamlined.

Transportation lines are certain of their heaviest traffic in years this Summer, but they're not taking the customer by the heels and shaking out his pockets.

There'll be schedules from all points in the United States, and 7-day, 10-day or 30-day excursion rates for cities within a 24-hour radius.

Main point is that instead of paying more to get the biggest single show in the history of the entertainment world, you'll be paying less.

Same way with buses. Customary rate is a round trip for the double-way fare less 10 per cent. Those who are smart and intelligent and fun-loving enough to come to the Frontier Centennial will get a round-trip for a fare and one-half's worth.

In addition to paring down the rates to meet the pocketbooks, transportation operators are increasing schedules, adding equipment, installing air-conditioning.

Once you get here, Fort Worth will treat you right. Duck into any restaurant and you can purchase chicken and dumplings for the same price as ever. Ask for a breezy southeast hotel room and you'd never suspect it could be rented for twice what you're paying. Souvenirs, necessities, clothing and entertainment will wear the same old price tags. The staggering features of the frontier show itself can be seen for a ridiculously low tax.

MUSEUM TO BE PLACED ON TECH CAMPUS

Lubbock, Texas, July 15—Plans for the West Texas Museum, to be erected on Texas Technological college campus, are in the hands of the Texas Centennial commission and board of control at Austin, awaiting approval according to President Bradford Knapp.

This museum, designed to hold historic treasures of West Texas, will be placed across from the front central circle on the southwest corner of the Men's Residence Hall block of Tech campus. F. A. Klh-schmidt, head of the department of architecture and applied arts at the college, drew the plans.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Billman and Mrs. Alice Fortenberry had as guests Wednesday evening, their sons, Joe Bob Billman and J. W. Fortenberry, who are attending business college in Lubbock and their friends, Howard Scott and Misses Hazel Crump, Clintis Yates and Betty Blain.

Mr. and Mrs. McLemore of Seminole spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Banister, while little Miss Gesene McLemore is spending several days in their home.

ZONE MEETING AT BAPTIST CHURCH

A Sunday School and B.Y.P.U. meeting will be held at the Baptist Church here at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

All the Baptist Sunday schools and B. Y. P. U. organizations are urged to have good representations present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walters and son of Houston spent Monday night here with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howell and Wade. They had been visiting his parents at Brownfield and relatives at other points. They left Tuesday morning for home, expecting to stop over in Dallas to see the Centennial.

C. A. Lawrence and family returned Sunday night from a visit with relatives in Coryell county. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are natives of old Coryell. Mrs. Lawrence having been reared at The Grove and Mr. Lawrence having taught there. They report crop prospects are pretty good in that section of the state.

Judge and Mrs. B. P. Maddox and daughter, Lynelle, returned Sunday from a trip to Fort Sill and Ardmore, Oklahoma. Judge and Mrs. Maddox took their son, Robert, and Harold Stroud, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stroud, to Fort Sill, where they entered the Civilians Military Training Camp. They visited Mrs. Maddox's sister at Ardmore.

Tom Carter of Lubbock, candidate for the office of Representative in the legislature, was a visitor in Tahoka and a brief caller at the News office Tuesday.

G. A. Brasfield, who is temporarily employed by the Forrest Lumber Company in Seminole, spent the week end here with his family.

Miss Georgia Wilson returned home Sunday from a week's visit with her brother, Harvey Wilson of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McGonigill of Santa Ana, California, left Thursday after a week's visit with his father, A. R. McGonigill, the Millikan family, and Mrs. Gladys Stokes.

Mrs. Agnes Stone of Carbon is here for a few weeks stay with her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Haney.

Rafe L. Richard son, who suffered a heart attack last week, has been confined to his bed most of the time since but is gradually improving.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. May and daughter, Miss Clara, are planning to leave within the next few days for a visit with relatives at Brookhaven Miss. In fact, the May families expect to have a reunion. Mr. May said he would tell us about it on his return.

Mrs. Waldrip of Dallas is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Turner.

Taxes For Old Age Pensions Requested

In view of the many inaccurate statements that are being made by candidates and others, as is often done in a heated political campaign, and in the interest of truth, we call attention to the fact that on October 16, 1935, Governor James V. Alford submitted to the legislature at its second called session the matter of enacting an old age assistance law and of providing the necessary revenue to pay the pensions. That the legislature did not see fit to act upon his recommendations and provide the revenue requested by him is, of course, no fault of his.

Below is the text of his special message submitted to the legislature on that date.

Executive Office, Austin, Texas, October 16, 1935.

To the Members of the Forty-fourth Legislature (in Second Called Session)

The official proclamation calling you into extraordinary session for a second time sets out the following purposes:

1. To provide, under such limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed by the Legislature expedient, for old age assistance and for the payment of same not to exceed $15.00 per month each to actual bona fide citizens of Texas who are over the age of 65 years, and in all things to carry out the will of the people as expressed by the adoption of House Joint Resolution No. 19, which provided for an amendment to Article 3 of the Constitution of Texas by adopting a new section to be known as Section 51-b.

2. To provide necessary revenue for such old age assistance.

I hereby submit the above subject matters for immediate attention.

The people overwhelmingly authorized you to establish an old age pension system. Under his oath to support the Constitution, it is the duty of every legislator to carry out the will of the people.

Old age pensions have to be financed by taxes.

I have repeatedly directed your attention to the staggering State deficit. With one or two small exceptions nothing whatever has been done toward balancing the budget. Even if a liquor regulation had been passed, the amount of revenues derived would scarcely have done more than wipe out this deficit over a period of years.

The state government cannot be carried on, certainly old age pensions cannot be financed, without additional taxes. Property taxes must not be increased. The budget, however, can be balanced, old age pensions can be financed, without great hurt to anyone if this Legislature will do its duty. The time has come when we must recognize that all interests in the State are going to have to contribute more to the far-reaching future functions of government ordered by the people.

In asking you to provide and finance old age pensions, I feel justified in requesting you not to send a bill to my desk without revenues. This would be unfair to the Executive Department; and if this government is to function satisfactorily, neither department must be unfair to the other. It would be unfair to the people if the Legislature should authorize old age pensions, yet fail to finance them—a type of politics justly and surely to be condemned at the polls.

It is only fair to remind you that I have at all times opposed a general sales tax. This opposition was carried forward into the Democratic platform because, in the words of the President, "it is a tax on poverty."

A general sales tax remains a "tax on poverty," irrespective of the purpose for which it is levied. I tell you in advance, therefore, that I will not approve any bill for a general sales tax on the necessities of life.

Members of the Forty-fourth Legislature, I cannot too earnestly emphasize the necessity for immediate, consistent, continued attention to this important problem. It is no criticism to say that the people of Texas are sorely disappointed at the outcome of the first called session. It is a simple fact.

Another barren session will be tragic. Let me show you only one feature of it:

After over two years, the Federal Government will shortly discontinue direct relief. The small balance of the twenty million dollar State bond issue on hand at the beginning of this administration is all but exhausted. Federal work relief plans, designed to take employables off relief rolls, are necessarily proceeding slowly.

I am advised by the Board of Control (the State Relief Agency) that the prospects are charged with tragic dangerous possibilities when direct relief stops. In view of the people's failure to adopt the amendment authorizing the Legislature to submit emergency amendments at special sessions, it is doubtful whether, under the constitution, the Legislature can take any steps to provide for relief of any kind regardless of the necessity.

The very least this Legislature can do, certainly the most patriotic opportunity, is to provide for an old age pension system without delay. This will take off relief rolls all people over 65 who are unable to help themselves.

I appeal to you to do your duty! The pension amendment was voted almost 60 days ago. It was submitted to the Legislature a month ago. We have, therefore, had opportunity to

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Orlis Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

IN MEMORY OF A LOVED ONE

Mrs. H. R. Charters, better known by her friends and loved ones as Irene, was laid to rest in a Lubbock cemetery Wednesday afternoon, July 8. Besides her husband, Homer, Irene left a dear little son, Billie Fred, who will be cared for by Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Charters, grandparents.

Although Irene had lived in the Petty community only a short time, she was dearly loved by every one who knew her. Her daily life proved that she was a true follower of Christ. Her life will always be remembered by all who knew her. Although she has passed on, her kind words and cheerful ways are still with us. Although she left her husband and baby in a world of loneliness, they have the consolation of knowing that they will meet her in the Great Beyond.

FOLKS!

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR GOOD HEALTH

And here comes a letter from your next door neighbor, a man whom you all know, a man whose word has always been considered his bond, one of your taxpayers and community builders, and is as follows: "This letter is to state that I was a sufferer of stomach trouble for eight years. I spent three years of suffering and went to any number of doctors, three told me that I had a gastric ulcer. Two months ago Gas-Tons tablets were recommended to me. I bought a bottle and began taking them and since that time I have gained fifteen pounds and am able to do, for the first time in eight years, my regular farming work. I unconditionally recommend these tablets to any one suffering from severe stomach pains, gas or colitis. Anyone wishing any information in regard to the results I have received will address me, Route 1, Shallowater, Texas. I will gladly reply. This statement is made voluntarily hoping that other people suffering as I did may receive the benefits that I have." And this letter was signed by E. S. Nelson of Route 1.

After what this good man has said what more could we add? And we feel that the only question that could enter the minds of any stomach sufferer would be whether to try the 25 tablet size at $1 or the 100 tablet treatment for $3.

You take no risk in ordering Gas-Tons. If after using the tablets 10 days you do not get the relief you yourself expect, you have but to send back the unused portion of the bottle, and we will return the money you have paid us, in full, every penny of it.

Call at your home town druggist and ask him about the iron clad guarantee, also what this remarkable compound is doing for others. Gas-Tons are sold in Tahoka by Tahoka Drug Co., and by leading drug stores in other towns. If your druggist does not have Gas-Tons send money orders payable to Tahoka Drug Co., Tahoka, Texas.

get all the facts available. The thing to do is to get down to work and stay at work! Committee hearings have already been held on most of the various tax measures. I agree, therefore, with the Chairman of the House Committee on Revenue and Taxation that there is no occasion for any long drawn out hearings on bills that have already had committee attention. The sooner bills come to debate on the floor of each House, the more quickly can differences of opinion be ironed out.

I urge cooperative, considerate action; but we must get results! We can show results if we tend to business!

Respectfully submitted

LET'S ALL GET RICH

Let's all get rich. Let's abolish poverty.

Why, it's easy.

We can do it by paying a pension of $200 per month to every person in this country over 60 years of age.

But how will we get the money to pay the pensions?

Why, that's easy too.

We can do it by collecting a transaction tax of 2 per cent on every business transaction.

There are men in this country running for the United States Senate and for Congress on such a platform. Let's elect them, and they will show us in a jiffy how easily and how quickly poverty can be abolished and everybody put on easy street.

How the wheels of industry will hum!

And that gives us an idea.

If we can do all this by a little old measly, weasley 2 per cent tax, why not raise the tax to 4 per cent
and reduce the age limit to about 45 years. Pay everybody over 45 a pension of $200 monthly. That would make the money circulate even more rapidly and make the wheels of industry fairly sizz.

Then, we ought to take care of our youth, too, as well as our aged people. Why not add another 2 per cent on and pay a pension of about $100 per month to every boy and girl over ten years and less than 21 years of age? That would take them out of industry and leave more work for the grown folks, so that everybody from 21 to 45 could work all the time if they wished. None of them would be out of employment.

Compel these boys and girls to spend this money for an education, or for books, or for automobiles and liquor and wild parties, etc. Just look what we could accomplish with a 6 per cent transaction tax.

But, if that did not speed up business to a sufficiently dizzy speed, we could again double the tax and double the pension payments and go up into the sure-enough high.

Hot Dog! let's all vote for the Townsendite candidates and get rich quick.

Wouldn't it be fine for all of us to be wallowing in wealth?
Hot Dog!

WHOSE OX

"When a political speaker urges his listeners to forget party lines, you can be reasonably sure that he means the other party's lines," says
Charles Guy in his column in the Lubbock Journal.

Isn't it the truth?

We praise Norris for being independent. When he breaks out of the Republican fold and comes over and hobbos with us Democrats, we acclaim him as one of the Nation's greatest statesmen.

When Borah threatens to "take a walk" out of the Republican ranks and intimates that he may support the Democratic nominee, we throw our hats in the air and yell "Hurrah for Borah!"

But when, after sulking in his tent for a season, he announces that he is a Republican and will support the nominee of his party, we drop our hats and murmur "O Hades", or words to that effect.

And when a Democrat—Al Smith, for example—threatens to take a walk out of the Democratic party, the Republicans all laud him as a patriot and we Democrats denounce him as a traitor.

It all depends on whose ox is gored.

That fine young congressman,
George Mahon, is now making a hurried canvass of his district, asking the people to re-elect him. The chances are that they will re-elect him and will continue to re-elect him by overwhelming majorities for many years. George Mahon has made a fine start in congress. He has not shot off any glaring fireworks, but we are glad he hasn't.
He has been putting in his time getting onto the ropes, studying the problems involved in matters of legislation, and looking after the interests of his constituents. And he has gone along in the even tenor of his way winning the respect and the esteem of the older members of that body, laying the foundation for a great and influential career. We do not know whether he has voted right every time or not. We are persuaded that he has voted right most of the time. And we are sure that he has been honest, industrious, and intelligent in the performance of his duties. If we will keep George Mahon in congress, the nineteenth district of Texas will wield a mighty power in shaping the legislation of this country after awhile.

What this nation needs more than anything else is for her people to get back to the teachings of Jesus and to the standards of the New Testament. Nothing can take the place of the old-time standard of morals and religion in making a people happy and prosperous.

We can not drink our selves rich.
Prosperity does not come through the neck of a beer bottle nor the bung-hole of a whiskey barrel.

Cigarette-puffing mothers and liquor-drinking women and girls never made any nation great.

DOG RECOVERS AFTER BITING CANDIDATE

At the time of going to press
Thursday afternoon, reports declared that Rover, alert and courageous watchdog at the A. J. Castleberry home in the Scarbrough-Holmes community, had shown no ill effects whatsoever from biting Sheriff candidate John Turner Tuesday.

Messages from the state institute doctors at Austin advised against drastic steps, but suggested the dog
be allowed to live and Candidate Turner be closely observed until 11 o'clock of Saturday night, July 25th.
Should he have failed to show signs of violence, all danger will be believed to have passed for the canine.

We were unable to interview Mr.
Castleberry, but neighbors state that he, too, is keeping a close watch on Rover, and should he begin to show indications of developing candidophobia, and make noises like a candidate bidding at a pie supper, he will be quickly but mercifully executed.

County health authorities met to discuss control of the situation and have advised that all county candidates be vaccinated or impounded and held for a required length of time before being dispatched in a painless manner. The plague seems to be more prevalent
during the two weeks from July 11th to July 25th of each even numbered year, and shows a higher mortality rate than even Townsden-itis. The last stages of the former malady has been named Primari-phobia, and at the close of two weeks crisis, the victim is extremely nervous, persists in talking, and unless the old fashioned remedy,
"Voters Poutice" is applied, becomes deathly ill and despondent.—

The editor and wife attended the candidate speaking at Wells last Friday night. The farmers of that community were too busy in their crops to fool away much time with the candidates, following the good rains that had just fallen, but a goodly number of the men and a larger number of the women were present any way. John McLaurin presided in a most business-like manner, and the candidates all acquitted themselves nicely; but we doubt if any of them have much idea as to how they stand with the voters.

Hop Halsey, candidate for Representative in the Legislature, and Jim Lindsey, editor of the Torreador, ador is a dandy college paper, and to Mr. Lindsey is due much of the credit for its excellence.

DRIVES ONE MILLION MILES WITHOUT AN ACCIDENT

To drive a million miles is something that is rarely achieved, except by only a very few persons. To drive that many miles without a major accident is even more rare.
To drive this distance without even scrapping a fender seems almost an impossibility.

Yet B. W. Gibbs, a Gulf salesman of Collingswood, New Jersey, has just completed such a record. During nineteen years of driving motor vehicles in his work for Gulf, Mr.
Gibbs has covered over a million miles, over all kinds of roads, regardless of surface conditions, without a single accident of any kind.

This unusual record is all the more remarkable because Gulf
tabulates as chargeable accidents
even such minor mishaps as damaged fenders.

Why do so many women take Car-

that they want results such as Mrs.
Herbert W. Hunt, of Halleville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not

THE BIBLE AND BILLY SUNDAY

"Twenty-seven years ago, with the Holy Spirit for my guide, I entered this wonderful temple that we call Christianity. I entered through the portico of Genesis and walked down through the Old Testament's art gallery, where I saw the portraits of Joseph, Jacob, Daniel, Moses, Isalah, Solomon and David hanging on the wall; I entered the music room of the Psalms and the Spirit of God struck the key-board of my nature until it seemed to me that every reed and pipe in God's great organ of nature responded to the harp of David, and the charm of King Solomon in his moods.

"I walked into the business house
of Proverbs.

"I walked into the observatory of the prophets and there saw photographs of various sizes, some pointing to far-off stars or events—all concentrated upon one great Star which was to rise as an atonement for sin.

"Then I went into the audience room of the King of Kings, and got a vision from four different points—Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. I went into the correspondence room, and saw Peter, James, Paul, and Jude, penning their epistles to the world. I went into the Acts of the Apostles and saw the Holy Spirit forming the Holy Church, and then I walked into the throne room and saw a door at the foot of a tower and, going up, I saw One standing there, fair as the morning, Jesus Christ the Son of God, and I found this truest friend that man ever knew; when all else were false I found him true.

the Bible has taught me the way to live, it taught me how to die.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Attendance was fine last Lord's day with Brother John Benson and family of Terry county with us.

I will begin a ten days meeting at Dunn, Texas, Friday night of this week.

Brother C. C. Gobbel of Floydada will fill the pulpit here next Lord's day, both morning and evening.

Brother Gobbel is visiting us with a view of taking the work. Every member is urged to be present and listen to the sample sermons.

I was made happy this week when I got a call to come back to my old home, Grayson county, to hold a meeting in August.

It sure does make a preacher feel good for his old friends to remember him. As I said last week in my notes, there is nothing as valuable as friendship.

We performed the ceremony at a beautiful wedding last Lord's Day afternoon in Terry county, when Mr. Joe Chisholm and Miss Hazel Woodard were made husband and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Neims were also accompanied by Mrs. Neims' mother, Mrs. W. S. Anglin, and three younger children, Bama, Lenore, and Sonny, whom they took on to Comanche, where they will visit relatives for a week.

BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES

"The Last Round-up" will be the subject of the sermon at the Baptist Church next Sunday night, according to announcement made by Rev. George A. Dale, the pastor.

His subject last Sunday night was "Saved by the Skin of His Teeth", the expression being found in the book of Job.

Due chiefly to the fact that so many people are out of town on vacation and to the indifference of some that are not away, the Sunday School and Church attendance has been "off" a little the past two Sundays.

Only 236 were in Sunday school last Sunday morning, while only 224 were present the preceding Sunday.

The average attendance this summer, however, has been better than ever before in the history of the church, except when some contest of some kind was on.

You are invited to all the services of the church, preaching, Sunday School, B.T.U., and the midweek prayer meeting.

All men who are not members of our regular attendants upon some other church are invited to attend the Men's Bible Class, which meets every Sunday morning at the English Theatre.

J. K. Applewhite and family returned Monday afternoon from Lampasas and Mullen, where they spent several days visiting relatives.

Mrs. Loyce McMahan and Miss Floyce Sherrod left Thursday for a week's visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Ruth Parker, at Monahans.

Rev. Jesse Robertson to Speak At Methodist Church Sunday

Rev. Jesse Robertson, of Abilene, will speak at the Methodist church at both morning and evening hours next Sunday.

At the evening hour, 8:30, he will speak especially to young people from the subject, "The Heavenly Vision".

Be present for Church School promptly at 9:45.

All young people of the community, and others as well, are invited to attend the Union meeting Friday night at 8:30.

TAHOKA PEOPLE VISIT RELATIVES IN ABILENE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neims took his mother, Mrs. J. H. Neims, and his sister, Miss Rosemary Neims, to Abilene Saturday, where they will visit Mrs. Neims' son-in-law and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Neims were also accompanied by Mrs. Neims' mother, Mrs. W. S. Anglin, and three younger children, Bama, Lenore, and Sonny.

Mr. and Mrs. Neims returned to Tahoka Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Canaday and two little sons left Thursday of last week for a visit with relatives at Dierks, Arkansas.

His subject last Sunday night was "Saved by the Skin of His Teeth", the expression being found in the book of Job.

Mrs. Loyce McMahan and Miss Floyce Sherrod left Thursday for a week's visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Ruth Parker, at Monahans.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffing spent last week in Dallas visiting the Centennial, returning home Sunday night.

Rev. J. A. Weathers of Lockney is here visiting his brother, E. N. Weathers, who has been confined to his room the past several weeks.

MRS. EDWARDS PRODUCTION TO BE SUNG OVER RADIO

As is well known among her many friends here, Mrs. M. H. Edwards recently composed a song, writing both the words and music, entitled "Where the Bluebonnets Grow".

It has been copyrighted, and it will be sung over the Hollywood radio station at an early date.

Mrs. Edwards is a most accomplished musician and has been teaching instrumental music here for a number of years.

Announcement of the date of this broadcast will be made later, and Mrs. Edwards' many friends here and elsewhere will be listening when this fine musical composition comes over the air.

DARK ANGEL IS COMING TO TOWN SOON

"The Dark Angel," Samuel Goldwyn's gripping romantic drama, starring Fredric March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall, will be the feature attraction at the English Theatre for three days beginning July 19.

This powerful and beautiful love story, set in a lovely, quiet corner of rural England, reflects the heart of woman and two men, one of whom she loves, while the other loves her.

A great emotional climax is reached when the man she loves comes to a realization of his love for her. Their happiness is short-lived, however, as the relentless forces of life tear them apart.

Years after, when the girl has resigned herself to a betrothal to the other man, a kinder fate intervenes and the lovers are reunited.

Sidney Franklin, who handled the megaphone on "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," (Smilin', Thru) and other outstanding film productions, directs "The Dark Angel."

Rev. S. K. McCullough and family, Mrs. H. M. Snowden and mother, Mrs. Cowan, went over near Bronco Monday afternoon.

Bro. McCullough preached the dedicatory sermon for the church that he organized, Stateline Church, about one year ago. The church is now paid out and in good condition, and a great day was enjoyed there Tuesday.

D. W. Gagnat and family returned Sunday night from a visit to the Centennial and with relatives at Overton and Longview.

Miss Pansy Tankersley this week received a free scholarship in Baylor University, Waco, and will enter that institution in September.

WILD WEST LIVES AGAIN

Wild and Whoopie Days Enacted in Frontier Centennial

There probably is nothing new under the sun. Electricity existed long before Messrs. Volta, Edison, Marconi, et al., started to fuss with it.

Now comes a spectacle based on the locale for such stirring events as attack on the stage, rescue by rangers, battle with U. S. troops, a prairie fire and concluding with an old-fashioned square dance with 160 couples.

When Billy Rose was engaged as director general of the Fort Worth Frontier, his first act was to set about organizing the biggest and most spectacular wild west exhibition of all time.

"As long as men live there is a certain glamour about the old days on the frontier that will never tarnish. Like the glimpse of a pretty woman the deeds of brave men always make folks buy tickets," declared the shrewd showman.

"That's why I intend to deal as my top ace . . . girls and horses." A special set, 263 feet wide and 167 feet deep, representing the plains and foothills, will serve as the locale for such stirring events as attack on the stage, rescue by rangers, battle with U. S. troops, a prairie fire and concluding with an old-fashioned square dance with 160 couples.

More than 1,000 Indians, cavalymen, cowboys and cow-girls, singers and dancers are engaged in "The Last Frontier." Direction of the dynamic spectacle is in the hands of Verne Elliott, foremost rodeo entrepreneur and protégé of Buffalo Bill, and Edward Clarke Lilley, well known New York drama producer.

THE CENTENNIAL YEAR FARMERS' SHORT COURSE

College Station—The Centennial Year Farmers' Short Course will open July 20 at A. & M. College with a colorful array of distinguished men and women speakers.

Dr. W. K. Strouder, Extension veterinarian of Iowa State College at Ames will point out and explain animal parasites, diseases and sanitation of livestock every day.

Other men scheduled to appear are: Dr. T. O. Booth, State veterinarian, Livestock Sanitary Commission, Ft. Worth; Maurice R. Cooper, agricultural economist, USDA, Washington, D. C. and C. E. Huff, president Farmers' National Grain Corporation, Chicago.

Speakers of familiar names to speak at the general assembly periods each morning are: H. R. Tolley, Carl B. Fritsche, Edward O'Neal, Dr. Minnie L. Maffet, Mrs. Helen Higgins Davis, and G. B. Dealy, president of the Dallas News, who will announce the winners of the Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration Contest.

Among the women speakers scheduled to appear are: Miss Eula Whitehouse, botanist and author from Austin who will talk on Texas wild flowers; Mrs. Ercel S. Eppricht, head of the home economics department of Texas State College for Women, Denton, and Miss Bess Heflin, home economist from the University of Texas, both of whom will talk on child training; and Miss Josephine Hodge, beauty specialist from Houston, who will speak on "Looking Your Best."

Officials of the Short Course say that light entertainment will be packed with excitement and action this year with the Gainesville Community Circus and its new acts based on the Centennial theme.

Other attractions are an amateur night, an old-fashioned medicine show; a style show; a musical program; and the awarding of the Gold Stars to 4-H club members; and the awarding of the prizes to the State winners of the Centennial Farm and Home Contests.

Arrangements are made for Mr. E. B. Speck, candidate for congress, to speak on the courthouse lawn at 3 P. M. Saturday, Mr. George Mahon has been invited to be here and address the same gathering, and to tell the more than 3200 petition signers his reason for opposing the McGroarty bill—Townsend Plan—in congress. Everybody invited, especially the ladies and young people. A music program will precede the speaking. N. W. Alphin.

PENECOSTAL REVIVAL STARTS

An old-time Pentecostal revival started Wednesday night at the Assembly of God Church. Old-time preaching, good singing, everybody invited.

The evangelist in charge is Rev. E. A. Musick, Wellington, Texas.—T. F. Lee, pastor.

Miss Beatrice Estes has returned home after a few weeks visit in Lubbock.

Beauty

In the elevator of a big store she noticed a very attractive poster advertising beauty treatment. Out of curiosity she asked the elevator attendant (a funny little Cockney) where the beauty parlor was.

He turned and gave her a good look, noticed presumably that she did not use make-up at all, and then said, "You don't want ter go there mucking your face about. Why not stay as y'are— plain but 'olesome?"

—Troy Times-Record.

Truss It

She had just begun housekeeping, with the laudable intention of paying ready money upon all occasions, and she entered a high-class poultry-ter's shop to purchase a chicken.

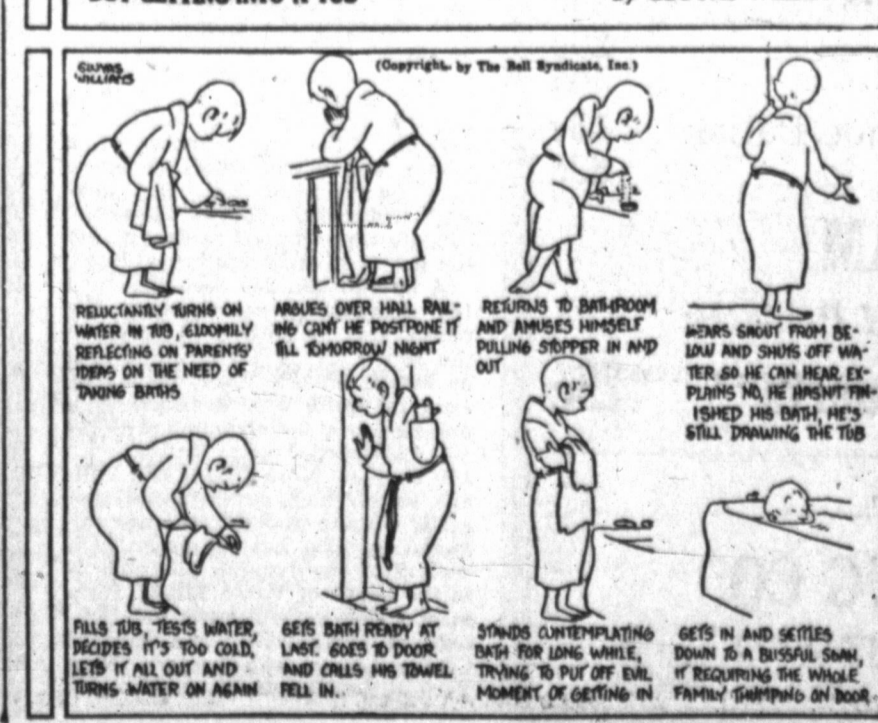

She selected one, and while she was fumbling in her handbag for a purse the shopman politely asked: "Trussed, madam?"

"Oh, dear, no," she indignantly replied. "I wish to pay for it now."

Ten-Gallon Actor

It was recently brought out that film players standing for long periods in the glare of powerful and hot lights suffer a peculiar though not serious malady, according to Pathfinder. It is claimed that the heat of the lights reduces the water content of the body below normal and produces the ill-effects. The cure of this dreaded disease is quite simple, consisting of drinking a glass of water. It has been termed as "body dehydration." If a human body were completely dehydrated there would not be much left. A 140-pound film player has enough water in his body to fill ten one-gallon cans. The weight of that amount of water would be in the neighborhood of 85 pounds. The other 55 pounds would be made up by small amounts of iron, carbon, lime, sulphur, phosphorus, magnesium, and a few volatile elements.

Beach Togs Tell New Fabric Trends

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

meandering down the beach as fair maidens are wont to do.

Another story of achievement in the way of combining the practical with the highly chic and attractive in sports clothes is told in the new weight-controlling ensemble that allows one to lounge about the house, play ping-pong and go about home duties while accomplishing the magic of shelving the extra poundage one longs to discard preparatory to getting one's self into shape for that svelte lilt appearance in one's bathing and beach-suit. This miracle-working avoidupois reducer is pictured in the foreground. A smart gym suit it is, made of an exceedingly good-looking crepe-texture rubber that keeps the pores of the body open and encourages a healthy perspiration. When that happens you can start making your swimming dates for to your glee and satisfaction the pounds will begin to roll off until normal weight is reached. These crepe-textured rubber gym gobs are styled in three comfortable pieces—slacks, shorts and shirt.

IT IS not enough that beach outfits and active sports clothes be stylish and pleasing to the eye. It is not enough that they be merely practical and utilitarian. To qualify 100 per cent to the good your sun, sand and surf and your general outdoor play-around togs must be every way as practical as they are chic and eye-appealing.

The cunning bathing and beach suit of gay print shown to the right in the picture is just that—thoroughly as practical as it is charming to look upon. Its claim to practicality is due to the fact that the sanforized-shrunk cotton of which it is made carries the promise of non-shrinking no matter how often it may happen to be water soaked. This very modern way of processing cottons and linens so that they cannot shrink insures your bathing wardrobe all season long, which, of course, means no-end satisfaction in the final analysis of clothes logic.

Practical from another point of view, too, is this charming beach and swim ensemble, in that it is one of the very new and good-looking halter bathing suits with wrap-around skirt to tie on when you go

CHIC FOR SUMMER

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

According to the modern way of thinking a costume is only as smart and correct and goodlooking as the accessories worn with it. In other words it is the accessories that make the costume and this is the challenge that fashionables must meet these times. In the matter of observing the little niceties of accessory details the lady in the picture is costumed to perfection. Her exquisitely ladylike straw hat is an exponent of smartest millinery fashion. The fur that borders the sleeves of her jewel-clasped crepe frock carries a convincing message in regard to the importance of "summer furs" in the mode. Her long simple slip-on suede gloves are eminently correct. As to the handsome bag she carries it is the accent supreme of chic.

Romantic Things Connected With the Prosaic Sausage

There are a lot of romantic things about dry sausage. A piece of Genoa sausage, for example, with the twine running in nautical loops and hitches, reminds one that Genoa was famous for its sausage, sailors and ships back in the Middle Ages. Evidently the people of Milan, too, just couldn't forget the tall, straight lines of their cathedral. For milano sausage is corded with the twine run-

Big news and no doubt about it, is the beach and swimming gear in the new and startling front page newspaper print cotton. See it pictured to the left in the group. Prints this season are noted for novelty and certainly this newspaper-print cotton captures first honors in that respect. The fitted halter top which is lined with white wool jersey for extra comfort and proper contour, buttons at the front to the waist-band of the one-piece wool-lined skirt and maillot. The separate cape has an attached hood and is lined with terry cloth throughout.

Very smart beach outfits of white pique are among the season's latest models. A stylish ensemble includes shorts, worn under a one-piece tunic that fastens all the way down the front (may be left open at will) with pique-covered buttons. A big floppy white fabric hat is worn.

Another interesting item is the hat made of pique that is nothing more than a brim which ties at the back. It is without crown and can be untied and flattened out to be washed and ironed.

FEATHERS IN STYLE FOR HAT TRIMMING

Feathers are becoming more and more important as trimming for hats, according to Erik Bragaard, the young Danish milliner whose recently established Paris house has had unusual success.

Bragaard even makes entire hats and headresses of feathers. He takes a single yellow bird of paradise and curves it cleverly about the head holding it in position with double bands of black velvet that cross the back of the head. This hat designer is building crowns higher and higher for morning and sports wear. The conical or thimble crowns, likewise are featured on some of the afternoon hats while others are trimmed with bunches of fruit or flowers.

Polka Dots in Style. Mannish little polka dotted silk cravats and belts are worn with soft frocks and polka dot scarfs walk out with sports coats.

Luxurious Peacock Motif

Pattern 1164

The Peacock's regal beauty—worthy of your finest linens—inspired this beautiful design, and is sure to inspire you with the desire to embroider his splendid image in cross stitch. You can, you know, for the pattern's a very easy one, despite its rich effect. Wool, silk or cotton floss in realistic bluish-greens and warm browns, or one color only if you prefer, will make a handsome scarf, pillow, chair set or refreshment cloth.

Pattern 1164 comes to you with a transfer pattern of two peacocks 12 1/4 by 14 1/2 inches and four motifs 3 1/2 by 3 1/2 inches; color suggestions: Material requirements; illustrations of all stitches needed.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) to The Sewing Circle, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

All Around the House

The fat side of beef should be placed nearest the flame when roasting. The melting fat will flavor and baste the meat during the cooking.

Cloths saturated with polishing liquids if stored away in a closet often cause spontaneous combustion. Keep these cloths in a covered tin container.

When making pastry use only enough water to hold ingredients together. Mix quickly, roll and handle as little as possible if you wish pastry to be flaky.

Use the purest of cider vinegar for pickles and pickled preserves. Do not mix two different kinds of vinegar.

Annual seeds of such plants as annual poppies, larkspur, sweet alyssum if sown out of doors now in equal parts of soil and coarse sand will be strong enough to live through the winter if well protected.

A Lesson in Loyalty

When a dog experiences that transition we know by the stark name of death it affects us the more poignantly because he goes over the horizon with such magnificent valor.

I have had my heart wrenched many times by a close-up of this extraordinary courage. Invariably dogs meet what mankind regards as the terror of terrors with a beautiful complacency, an instinct, if you will, that should hearken us all for a journey that is inevitable.

Dogs have taught those of us who love them many excellent things. Foremost, perhaps, is the divine quality, loyalty. They have also taught the art of forgiveness—and forthright honesty.

So it does not seem at all strange to me that they should help us to banish fear of the last enemy. I had a dog whose obedience to my command sent him to death under a careening joyrider's wheels. He crawled back to me, licked my hand as though to say, "I don't blame you!" and stiffened in death. O. McIntyre in Cosmopolitan.

"I WOULDN'T RISK MY LIFE ON ANY OTHER TIRE"

Says Louis Meyer— Only three time winner Indianapolis Race 28 33 36

EQUIP YOUR CAR WITH Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES for Greater Safety!

THERE is a reason why Louis Meyer won the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year—and why he is the only man ever to win this grueling race three times. He always used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, and never experienced tire trouble of any kind.

Louis Meyer knows tire construction. He also knows that to drive for 500 consecutive miles over this hot brick track, negotiating the dangerous curves 800 times at the record-breaking average speed of 109 miles an hour, requires tires of super strength and greatest blowout protection, as a blowout on any one of the dangerous curves would likely mean instant death. By the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process every cord in the tires on Louis Meyer's car was soaked and coated with liquid rubber, thereby preventing internal friction and heat. This is the secret of the extra strength and reserve safety built into Firestone Tires.

You of course will not drive 109 miles per hour, but at today's higher speeds you do need tires that will give you greatest blowout protection and will stop your car up to 25% quicker. Take no chances! Let your Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store or Firestone Dealer equip your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, the safest tires built. It costs so little to protect lives worth so much!

Long-Time Friends Visit With Editor

Two long-time friends of the editor, now living in Austin, dropped in on him very unexpectedly for a brief visit Sunday afternoon. These were Gene Upshaw, formerly of Belton, and Gus Farrar, formerly of Sweetwater, both now employed in the office of Comptroller in Austin. For four years Gene Upshaw and the editor served together in the court house at Belton. Gene was then deputy district clerk, and afterwards he was district clerk of Bell county. He served for many years in a clerical capacity, and is one of the most capable men in a clerical office we ever knew. In fact he is one of the most capable in Texas.

Later, Gus Farrar and the editor served together in the court house at Sweetwater. Gus was first employed as deputy county clerk and then was elected and re-elected county clerk for a number of terms. He is likewise one of the most capable men that ever worked in a clerk's office.

So, when George Sheppard of Sweetwater was elected to the office of State Comptroller, he took Gus Farrar with him, and some how or other he found Gene Upshaw at Belton and put him to work too. One of the finest characteristics of George Sheppard, aside from his own expert knowledge and ability, is his almost uncanny ability in selecting capable assistants. He has two of the best anywhere to be found in Gene Upshaw and Gus Farrar.

And it was almost like a visit from our brothers when they dropped in on us Sunday afternoon.

CONGRESSMAN JOSH LEE HAS RELATIVES HERE

Congressman Josh Lee of Oklahoma, who led the field by a large margin for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate from that state in the recent primary election, is a cousin of Mrs. B. P. Maddox of this city. Prior to his election to Congress, Mr. Lee was a member of the faculty of the University of Oklahoma. He is said to be a brilliant and witty speaker. As a congressman he has been a staunch supporter of the New Deal. His opponents in the recent primary were Governor Marland, who ran second; Gomer Smith, a Townsendite, who ran third; and Hon. T. P. Gore, the present Senator, who ran fourth. Marland will be his opponent in the run-off, and the nomination and election of Lee seems to be a foregone conclusion.

C. R. STRONG SO, BURIED HERE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

 Waco as State Superintendent of Public Instructions.

It will decide whether John W. Hawkins of Lavaca county or Bill McDonald of Eastland county shall serve for the next two years as Land Commissioner; and whether the present Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald, or a former Commissioner of Agriculture, Geo. B. Terrell, or one of the two new men in Texas politics, Cliff Day of Plainview and Kal Segrist of Dallas, shall preside over the agricultural affairs of this state.

It will also decide who is to be our next Congressman and our next Representative in the legislature, and who are to fill the offices in our courthouse.

As is usually the case, there are a number of freak candidates for the higher offices—men who have no qualifications for the offices which they seek and absolutely no chance to be nominated. Why they will spend their own money and time in so fruitless a chase is a mystery that has never been explained. But they have seen fit to have their names placed on the official ballot, and so the voters will be compelled to do a lot of scratching when they vote.

For instance, Senator Morris Sheppard has five opponents for the United States Senate. Only one of them has attained any prominence in the state. Joe Eagle is a Congressman. The other four are unknown outside their own communities, though it is understood that one of them is a Townsendite.

Governor James V. Alfred has four opponents. Two of them were already well known throughout the state. Tom Hunter has made two unsuccessful races for governor heretofore. Roy Sanderford has been serving as state senator and has been put forward by ex-Governor James E. Ferguson as his choice for Governor. Fischer is unknown in politics but has been a prominent lawyer in East Texas for some years. J. Pierce Brooks is a Dallas real estate man.

Ernest Thompson is serving his first term as railroad commissioner but is chairman of the body. He is very active and very capable. His best known opponent is ex-senator Carl C. Hardin of Erath county. The other three candidates are unknown, at least in this part of the state.

George Sheppard in the present efficient State Comptroller. One of his opponents is Sam Houston Terrell, who served at one time as comptroller and resigned when impeachment proceedings against him were about to be instituted. We know nothing about the third candidate, W. W. Covington of Travis county.

Charley Lockhart, brother of Judge G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock, served several terms as county treasurer of Scurry county and then served several years as a deputy in the office of State Treasurer, and was then elected to the office. We know nothing as to his opponents.

Though there has been little interest manifested in the election so far, it is believed that a comparatively heavy vote will be polled on July 25, if the weather is favorable. There are approximately 3300 voters in Lynn county, and more than a million in the State.

DR. Krueger Returns From Trip To Europe

The News is informed that Dr. J. T. Krueger of the Lubbock Sanitarium returned home Wednesday after a two months study trip to Europe.

Dr. Krueger visited a number of the leading countries of Europe gathering information and making a study of the latest developments in the world of Medicine and Surgery.

Due to his surgical skill and to the skill and ability of the fine corps of physicians and surgeons connected with the Lubbock Sanitarium, it has had a marvelous growth during the past ten years and has taken its place among the leading institutions of its kind in Texas. Literally hundreds of patients from Lynn county have been treated and restored to health in this great institution.

Judge B. P. Maddox, who made a trip over into Oklahoma last week, reports that crops from Paducah north through the Vernon country and on to Ardmore, Oklahoma, were bum. There had been too much dry weather.

Miss Bobbie Lou Shearer of Crosbyton was here the first of the week visiting the W. P. Inman family, who reside in the Dixie community. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inman.

Says Centennial Is Wonderful Show

If our paper is not up to par this week, charge it up to the fact that our "force" is short.

Frank Hill of the News force, his wife, and their daughter Patricia, are down at Dallas taking in the Centennial this week. They left last Saturday morning. They may be back before this paper is off the press, and they may not.

The editor has received a card written Monday, which they say: "The Centennial is an immense affair, and a great surprise to everyone. There is so much of interest that one wants to see that it will take several days just to get fairly well over the ground."
