BOB CHAMBERS PASSES AWAY

Well Known Pioneer Land Owner Buried; Had Been Ill For Many Months

Robert Asbury Chambers, known to hundreds of Lynn county citizens as Bob Chambers, died Monday. And another pioneer and a good citizen has gone to his reward.

Mr. Chambers had been ill many months from a complication of ailments. While visiting in California several months ago, he became critically ill and was confined to his bed until recently. As soon as he was sufficiently recovered, Judge and Mrs. J. W. Elliott, his brother-in-law and sister, brought him back home from California. He had been able to come to town the past few weeks, but became ill again and was carried to a Lubbock hospital suffering with uric poisoning and pneumonia. Last Thursday he went into a coma, and death came Monday afternoon at about 3 o'clock.

Mr. Chambers was 68 years old, being born October 17, 1868. He came to Lynn county in 1902 from Sterling county, a few months before this county was organized and before there was a Tahoka.

He was the owner of considerable farm property. An early settler, he was known to many people here and in surrounding counties. Honest, level headed, and a friend to people in all walks of life, he was one of our most highly respected citizens. He was a member of the Oddfellows and Woodmen of the World. Mr. Chambers never married.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Geo. A. Dale, conducting. Interment followed in Tahoka Cemetery, under direction of Harris Funeral Home.

The deceased is survived by three sisters and two nieces. The sisters are Mrs. J. W. Elliott and Miss Daille Chambers of Tahoka and Mrs. W. E. Henderson of Los Angeles, California. The nieces are Mrs. Odessa Brown and Mrs. H. W. Scott of Los Angeles.

Pall bearers were: Wiley Curry, J. O. Patterson, J. G. Price, W. C. Wright, Chester Connolly, W. B. Slaton, H. F. Lindley, and T. E. Dyke. Honorary pall bearers were: C. H. Doak, Pete and Otis Curry, J. G. Wells, G. W. Small, G. B. Sherrill, Beecher Sherrill, C. Booles, Charlie Isham, R. C. Wood, Chas. Neims, C. W. Stubbsfield, J. L. Shumaker, Henry Douthit, E. E. Perry, Oscar Corley, J. C. Cochrum, P. O. Jaynes, E. L. Roman, Jim Dye, H. A. Patterson, Manse Booles, L. G. Phillips, J. B. Miles, H. C. Smith, Guy Sherrill, F. M. Sherrill.

"Swede" Johnson Is To Speak In City

Announcement is made that "Swede" Johnson of Lamesa, member of the National Executive Committee of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union, will speak at the court house in Tahoka Friday night of this week, beginning at 7:30.

Mr. Johnson in an entertaining speaker, and all who hear him will most assuredly be entertained whether they agree with him or not. Everybody is invited to hear him—landlords, tenants, business men, housewives, all classes of people.

CARD OF THANKS

Until we can more substantially reward them, we wish to express our sincere thanks to the members of the Tahoka Fire Department for their strenuous work in the effort to save our home, which was partially destroyed by fire early last Saturday morning. To others who assisted in fighting the fire and in removing the furnishings, we are also deeply grateful. The good neighbors who opened their homes to us and others who offered to do so, those who have ministered to our sick, and all who have helped or offered to help in any way during this trying ordeal also have the deepest gratitude of our hearts. Surely there are no better people in the world than the people of Tahoka. We thank you all.—The E. I. Hill family.

Judge Tom Garrard has been out of town the past few days on a business trip to Midland, Odessa, and Dallas.

Man Charged With Theft Of Eight Bales Cotton; Two Charged In Turkey Theft

Three men are in jail here on charges of thefts committed in this county several weeks ago.

Sheriff B. L. Parker went down to Gatesville last week and brought back two young men, Billy and Jack Dawson, who are charged with the theft of nine turkeys from the farm of C. E. Simmons between Tahoka and O'Donnell on or about December 22. They are alleged to have sold the fowls at Brownwood. The sheriff has also taken into custody E. J. Brown of Edinburg, who seems to have borrowed a little seed cotton from a few Lynn county farmers—about eight bales in all. Mr. Brown is alleged to have carried seed cotton away in a trailer to various gins from wagons in the fields of at least four farmers, ginned and sold it as his own.

Riley Porterfield Buried Saturday

Riley Edwin Porterfield, 42, died Friday at his home in the Grassland community after an illness of 29 days, during which suffering had been intense.

Funeral services were held at the Draw Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. F. Carmack, pastor. Assisting were Rev. J. H. Wheeler of the Lamesa circuit and Rev. J. N. Hester of the Southland church.

Mr. Porterfield was born November 10, 1894, at Rising Star, where he grew to manhood. He married Miss Leona Clark on July 26, 1914, at that town. In the fall of 1927, he and his family moved to Draw, and they had been living in that vicinity ever since.

He was converted in a meeting at Draw in August, 1930, when Bro. J. N. Hester was pastor, and he and wife joined the Methodist Church. Deceased is survived by the wife and three daughters, Misses Verna, Emma Jean, and Frances. He also leaves four brothers and four sisters: Hardy, Jim, John and Gus Porterfield, and Mrs. Lonnie Stephens, Mrs. Linnie Smith, Mrs. Pearl Pollock, and Mrs. Myrtle Sherrill.

The News joins the many close friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Scout Court Of Honor Held Here

Scouts from three South Plains towns, Slaton, Post and Tahoka, were scheduled to meet here last night at the American Legion hall for a court of honor for the southeastern division of the council.

W. G. Barrett, district chairman, M. L. Penn, local scoutmaster, and G. E. Welch, district commissioner, were in charge of the court.

Orvis Weathers And Acme Girl Married

Orvis Weathers of this city and Miss Frances Walkup of Acme, a student in Texas Tech were married here last Thursday night in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Weathers. Rev. Geo. A. Dale read the rites.

Orvis, who was reared here, has been living in Quanah the past few years, but is now connected with the H. & W. Cafe. The couple will make their home here.

The News joins many friends wishing them the very best that life affords.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stevens and Jerry Mac spent Sunday in Paducah where they visited a sister, Mrs. A. E. Carter.

An item of local interest which the News overlooked about two weeks ago was the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reid from Tahoka to Mount Pleasant, where they are now making their home.

Mrs. J. F. Millman returned Wednesday from Morton, where she visited her brother, W. H. Wilkerson, who has been sick.

West Texas Gas Reduces Rates

Lynn county patrons of the West Texas Gas Company were billed at a new and lower rate the first of this month.

The Texas Railroad Commission issued an order recently accepting the proposal of the company to reduce the gas rates in 42 towns, including Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Wilson.

The order was under an agreement with the company and the reduction applied to January bills. It was the second voluntary reduction by the system in two years.

The new rate is $1.25 per month for the first 2,000 cubic feet, the minimum bill, compared to the old rate of $1.35.

For the next 48,000 cubic feet, the new rate is 50 cents per 1,000; the next 50,000, 30 cents per 1,000; the next 400,000, 25 cents; and all over 500,000, 20 cents.

Senate Confirms W. E. (Hap) Smith

The name of W. E. (Happy) Smith was confirmed by the U. S. Senate Tuesday for appointment as permanent postmaster of the Tahoka postoffice. The appointment was recommended by Postmaster General James A. Farley, and it is expected that President Roosevelt will approve the same within a short time.

Smith was appointed acting postmaster last summer following the sudden death of W. C. Wells, then in charge of the local office. Consensus of opinion is that Happy is making a good postmaster, and the Postal Department is evidently satisfied with his work.

J. O. Tinsley Has Freakish Accident

J. O. Tinsley witnessed a peculiar accident out at his dairy Tuesday that could have been a serious one.

He had started his cream separator up and was standing close by watching it, when all of a sudden the thing flew to pieces. Parts of the machine were hurled against the walls and ceiling of the building with tremendous force, but fortunately and almost miraculously Mr. Tinsley was uninjured.

J. O. says similar disintegration of cream separators has been reported before, but he does not want to see another such thing happen. The high rate of speed at which a separator's parts travel is blamed for the occurrence. He says the bowl came into a jillion pieces.

BROTHER DIES

A. L. Dunagan received word Tuesday of the death of his oldest brother, W. S. Dunagan, at Frost, A. L. and sons, Deck and Irvin, left Tuesday night for that place to attend the funeral. Mr. Dunagan would have been 65 years old this Thursday.

Basketball Game Aids PTA Fund

The Parent-Teachers Association has $30.27 in its treasury with which to help landscape the campus of Tahoka Grade School as the result of two benefit basketball games in the gymnasium Wednesday night.

The P. T. A. team played a team of young women from New Home, the visitors winning 24 to 6. This was followed by a game between the Tahoka All-Stars and the New Home All-Stars; in which the visiting boys got sweet revenge for a defeat handed them last week by the Tahoka boys.

Though the games were one-sided everyone seemed to enjoy the entertainment immensely.

D. A. Parkhurst underwent an operation in a Lubbock sanitarium last week.

Editor's Home Is Damaged By Fire

The home of the editor, E. I. Hill, was badly damaged by fire about 2 o'clock Saturday morning. Starting in the bath room the fire burned its way into the roof and gutted the attic. Little damage was done to furniture except by water. The loss was covered by insurance.

The editor had been sick for the past day or two, and left a small gas heater burning during the night. It is thought that the fire originated from this. The flames had reached the roof before members of the family awoke.

The fire department was called, and these and other volunteers did an excellent job of extinguishing the flames, while still others carried much of the furniture out.

Since that time the editor has been confined to his bed with a severe cold, Billie Hill is suffering from a bad case of the flu down at the B. L. Parker home, and other members of the family do not feel much like getting out a newspaper. Therefore, if this week's paper is not up to par, come in and cuss the junior member of the News firm.

Lubbock Has New Hospital-Clinic

The Plains Hospital and Clinic, a new $50,000, air-conditioned Lubbock hospital, located near the southeast corner of the Tech campus, has opened for business. The new hospital is modern in every respect, both building and equipment being the latest in hospital development.

Laboratory, surgical, internal medicine and diagnosis, and clinic departments are furnished with the best of equipment and headed by skilled doctors and workers. Doctors Malone, Key and Arnett are owners of the institution, and Dr. Pauline Miller is an associate specializing in children's diseases.

Waller Subscribes Thirty-Fourth Year

Miss Emily Waller of the Draw community was in to renew the family subscription to the News Monday, and stated that they had been taking the Lynn County News ever since it was started in 1903.

They were then living "back east" but Mr. Waller had bought some land in the southeast part of the county in 1900, and subscribed to the paper to keep up with the developments out here.

The Wallers then lived in Wise county, but soon moved out to Knox county, and migrated from Knox to Lynn in 1906. The Waller home two and one-half miles east of Draw is one of the older places of the county.

Miss Emily states that they did not move out at first because there was no school in that section. The first school was old Moar's Draw school on the hill near the present Redwine.

Mr. Waller is now 81 years of age, and is one of only three or four of the old original subscribers to the Lynn County News. We are proud to keep his name on our list.

School Building At Pride Burns

Pride school house, located in the southwest corner of the county, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night of last week when a gasoline lamp exploded. Insurance totaling about $3,100.00 was carried on the building and furnishings.

Work has already started on a temporary structure for the school. A play was given at the school on the night of the fire, but the crowd in attendance had left, with the exception of a few people. The explosion of the lamp, which someone had turned out a few minutes before, threw gasoline over the building and enveloped the structure in flames as the few remaining people helplessly looked on.

Mrs. Paul Howell and baby were brought home from the hospital in Lubbock Sunday.

Wilson Leading In Basketball Contests

Pneumonia Fatal To W. W. Gurley

That dreaded malady, pneumonia, struck with a quick hand when it took the life of W. W. Gurley of the Magnolia community at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Gurley was stricken while at work moving a house Monday. Two days later he was dead.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, his pastor, Rev. D. W. Reed, officiating, and interment was in the cemetery at Post.

Mr. Gurley had been a citizen of the Magnolia community for twenty years, having settled there in 1916. He was an honored citizen of that community and of the county, being a member of the Magnolia school board at the time of his death. He had also long been a member of the Baptist Church.

Mr. Gurley is said to have participated in the Osage land rush in the I. T., when he staked a claim in that country. Having some Indian blood himself, he carried on trade and made friends with many of the more prominent Indians of the Oklahoma tribes. Among these, a daughter of Quannah Parker was one of his last surviving friends of the Indian nations.

Mr. Gurley was born in the Indian Territory sixty-five years ago. Twenty years ago he came to this county, and in 1926 he was married to Miss Eunice Craig. Besides the widow, he leaves one child surviving, W. W. Jr., seven or eight years of age. He also leaves three brothers, one residing in Oklahoma, who was unable to attend the funeral, and two brothers, Jud and E. O., who reside in the Magnolia community in this county. Jess Gurley of Tahoka is a nephew of deceased.

The News joins many friends in condolences to all the bereaved.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 9, at 2 o'clock at the Legion Hall, we are asked to announce.

Piggly Wiggly Is Opening Friday

Piggly Wiggly grocery and market, sold recently by W. L. and K. F. Knight to M. T. White of Coleman, and closed the past few days for remodeling, will reopen for business today under the new management.

The store has been enlarged, repainted, new furnishings and a larger stock of merchandise added. The store carries a page ad in this issue announcing its opening.

K. F. Knight, who has been operating the store moves to San Angelo Saturday, where he will be engaged in the sheet metal business. Mr. White expects to make this his permanent home. The store is one of the most modern on the South Plains.

REMODELING HOME

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Caloway of the Draw community are having their farm home remodeled, adding more rooms and otherwise improving the structure.

Mrs. Rubie D. Suddarth, formerly of Tahoka but now of O'Donnell underwent an operation at a Lubbock sanitarium Monday morning. Mr. Suddarth reports that she is resting well. Mrs. Suddarth is president of the seventh district of the Texas Federation of Music clubs.

Rev. J. N. Hester, for three years pastor of the Methodist Church at Draw and now pastor at Southland, passed through Tahoka Tuesday on his way to Brownfield.

Mrs. Roy Green of Hobbs, New Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Dumas of Brownfield were here Monday on business and visiting friends.

TOURNEY WILL DECIDE CHAMP

Many More Games Will Be Played
In Tahoka Gymnasium Friday
And Saturday

From all indications, Wilson will this week end regain the basketball championship of Lynn county, the high throne that it once held for about nine or ten years in succession.

In the county tournament, which started last Friday, and which will be continued throughout this Friday and Saturday, Wilson has already won three games decisively. However, New Home with two victories is not to be counted out yet. Tahoka has two victories, one because of a forfeit from New Lynn.

Starting the tournament last Friday, Wilson overwhelmed T-Bar 53 to 6.

Friday night two of the best games of basketball of the season so far were played on the local court were seen by a small crowd. New Home eked out a bare victory over the strong Draw Longhorns, the score being 24 and 23. Tahoka All-Stars then defeated the New Home Stars 37 to 33 in a hot game.

Saturday afternoon, New Home subdued T-Bar 36 to 9, and Wilson was winner over O'Donnell 31 to 13.

As a result of the Saturday night session, Tahoka had a victory over O'Donnell of 18 to 5, and Wilson put another feather in her cap by winning over Draw 23 to 7.

The schedule for this week end, which will decide the tournament, and the county championship, is as follows:

Friday afternoon, 2 o'clock: New Home vs. Wilson and O'Donnell vs. New Lynn.

Friday night, 7 o'clock: Tahoka plays Draw.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock Tahoka and Wilson will meet.

Saturday night games will be New Home vs. Tahoka and Draw vs. O'Donnell.

Tuesday night of next week the Tahoka Stars will meet an all-star team from Lubbock.

Last Thursday night Wilson demonstrated the proper way to hit the basket by defeating the local team 23 to 5, however the game was better than the score would indicate.

Soil Conservation Progress On Plains

Soil conservation treatment has been completed on 58, 057 acres in the five COC camp demonstration areas in the Panhandle of Texas, according to H. H. Fennell, Regional Conservator, Soil Conservation Service, Amarillo, Texas.

Three hundred and eighty-eight farmers in the camp areas are co-operating with the Soil Conservation Service in putting into practice soil and water conservation measures on 279,500 acres.

On cultivated land 76,500 acres were contour tilled, and 975 miles of terraces were constructed, providing water conservation for 21,000 acres. Strip cropping for erosion control is in use on 28,100 acres.

On ranch and pasture land 148,100 acres are under a system of restricted grazing. One hundred and three stock water ponds have been completed. The ponds provide water for livestock and cause a more even distribution of grazing over the range. Pasture contour furrows is in operation on 13,100 acres.

Trees for windbreaks for field border protection, farm home windbreaks, and for wildlife protection have been planted in hundreds of locations. Total areas of these plantings is 1,166 acres.

The winter work of the COC camps is terracing, contour furrowing of pastures, stock water pond construction, building of check dams in gullies, and preparation of tree sites for spring planting.

COC camps in the Panhandle of Texas are located at Amarillo, Perryton, Memphis, Littlefield, and Lamesa.

THE LYNN COUNTY NEWS

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

Hollywood "Rifts," and "Probes." BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—Out here, our two favorite headlines are "Rift" and "Probe," one signifying that some ideal marriage between movie stars has begun to split at the seams and the other that some functionary has been in office long enough for the professional investigators to start investigating.

In between, somebody is either trying to put Sister Aimee McPherson in a hole or get Tom Mooney out of jail. So far, neither undertaking has succeeded, but folks keep right on trying. Last month, it was Sister Aimee's turn. This month it's Tom Mooney's.

But when other sources of news fail, it's fine to be able to fall back on good old reliable "Rift" and dependable, staunch old "Probe."

Poor Lo's Renaissance. THE government says the surviving Indians are actually increasing in number. I started to add that this proves the Indians are holding their own, but, since we've left them very little of their own to hold, I stayed my hand. The Navahos always have been the most independent and aloof of all the tribesmen. For the most part, they continue to live a nomadic existence, following their ancient beliefs and ceremonials, refusing to be caged in towns, yet, numerically and in material possessions, they outgrow any other tribe.

Can it be that the white man's culture, which we so jealously strive to cram down the gullets of red people and black and brown and yellow, isn't always what the victims need?

But, of course, to say that is practically to admit our civilization might have a few tiny flaws in it, whereas we know it to be the one perfect creation of man, and for proof point to its crowning achievement, the late World war.

The Spoils System. THIS isn't a criticism, it's a timid little prediction based on all the political experience that the past yields to us:

Pledges of curtailment in governmental expenditures, as emanating from White House sources, are undoubtedly sincere. But Andy Jackson or whoever it was first coined the line, expressed the correct idea when he said that to the victor belonged the spoils—and not to let them spoil too long either.

So it shouldn't surprise anybody or deeply shock anybody, except the few G. O. P. boys still scattered through congress, if Pennsylvania and Missouri and certain other states should go right on getting plenty out of the treasury for continued relief work on behalf of Senator Guffey and Mr. Pendergast and such-like beneficiaries of the human race. Not that the ins are any greedier than the outs; they're merely improved in sagacity since the days when nearly all the smart wolves seemed to be Republicans and nearly all the half-witted sheep seemed to be Democrats.

But Passamaquoddy might as well make up its mind to being sort of neglected from now on. Maine, she ain't been actin' right.

France's Inconsistency. FRANCE has just lent a vast sum to Poland, and Poland, it is admitted, will use the money to increase its war strength. If Poland should repudiate the debt and default on the interest, a howl will go up from "La Belle France" that'll ring around the world.

But, of course, it will continue to remain an evidence of soulless greed for Uncle Sam even to intimate that France might pay us a little something on account against the enormous amount she owes us for borrowed money which she has used to build up her army and also, it would appear, to pass along to Poland so that Poland may build up hers.

If consistency be a jewel, France is practically out of jewelry.

Cat as Prized Weather Forecaster. On Japanese ships in the Seventeenth century the tortoise-shell tomcat was so highly prized as a weather forecaster, because it would rush up the mast before the approach of a storm, that it was often classed as a member of the crew and given a rank higher than that of the cook.—Collier's Weekly.

Friendly Encouragement. A friendly slap of encouragement on the shoulder, a little well-timed smile of approval, a cheerful look for a comrade when he slips—these are the inexpensive little things that get the important big results.

Disastrous Flood Moves Down the Mississippi—Mass Evacuation Prepared—Secretary Perkins Moves to Compel General Motors Strike Parley.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD © Western Newspaper Union.

GRADUALLY the terrible flood in the Ohio valley subsided, but the yellow torrents were pouring down the lower Mississippi and the nation was mobilized to save the people there. By direction of the President and Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff, the army made all preparations for the evacuation of all inhabitants along the river between Cairo, Ill., and New Orleans. The details for this mass movement were worked out to the last point by commanding officers in the region and thousands of motor trucks and railroad flat cars were evacuated. Headquarters for the collection were set up at Jackson, Miss.

General Malin Craig

Lieut. Col. Eugene Reybold, district engineer at Memphis, ordered the prompt delivery of 5,000,000 bur-lap sacks for the erection of sand-bag bulwarks, 15 cars of lumber, 210 outboard motorboats, 300 small boats, 300 life jackets, and 1,500 lanterns.

The secretary of war authorized the use of not only regular army troops but also members of the Civilian Conservation corps, the National Guard, and the Red Cross.

General Craig said that if the billion dollar levee system, erected after the great 1927 flood, failed to hold, about the same area affected then would be inundated. Many thousands of people already had been removed from homes along the Mississippi, but cities like Memphis and Vicksburg, being on high ground, were believed to be safe. At New Orleans river experts refused to admit danger of a super-flood along the lower reaches of the river. But Secretary of War Woodring in Washington had reports from engineers which said the levee system on the lower Mississippi probably would not be able to withstand the present flood when it reaches its crest.

At this writing the effects of the flood may be thus summarized: Homeless, nearly a million. Dead, probably more than 500, including 200 in Louisville. Damage, conservatively estimated at more than $400,000,000.

Congress hurried through a deficiency appropriation of $790,000,000 which the President promised would be made available for flood relief; and the American Red Cross, working at high speed, was raising a fund of $10,000,000 to which the people of the entire country contributed liberally. Supplies of food, drinking water, clothing and medicines were poured into the stricken areas.

Cincinnati, Louisville, Portsmouth, Frankfort and Evansville were the worst sufferers; but every city, town and village along the Ohio and its tributaries shared in the disaster. Fires broke out in the Mill Creek district of Cincinnati and destroyed property valued at $1,500,000 before the flames could be controlled. Throughout the entire region transportation was crippled, pure water and fuel supplies were shut off or greatly reduced, and outbreaks of typhoid and pneumonia were threatened. In Louisville the light and power plant was forced to shut down.

In Frankfort, Ky., the state reformatory was flooded and the prisoners were removed to other quarters with the aid of troops. The convicts took advantage of the emergency to start a riot and about a dozen were killed. All of southern Indiana was placed under martial law by Governor Townsend.

FORTY THOUSAND employees of General Motors returned to part time work in reopened plants in Michigan and Indiana, and were unmolested by the strikers. But the deadlock was not broken, and the sit-down strikers continued to occupy the plants they had "kidnaped." President Alfred P. Sloan Jr., of General Motors had refused the invitation of Secretary of Labor Perkins to meet John L. Lewis, chief of the striking unions, while the strikers were still in forcible possession of plants, and President Roosevelt ominously termed this refusal "a very unfortunate decision on his part," intimating, also, that there was a prospect of labor legislation unfavorable to the corporation and to employers generally.

Sloan persisting in his attitude, Secretary Perkins started a move for legislation that would compel him to meet Lewis. In identical letters to Speaker Bankhead and Senator Joe Robinson, majority leader of the senate, she asked the prompt passage of a bill empowering her department to subpoena persons and papers in connection with investigations of strikes. To the press Miss Perkins said that once she had this power she would summon Sloan to a meeting with Lewis in Washington; but she was not sure she could compel him to negotiate a strike settlement.

Sloan had posted in all General Motors plants a denial that the corporation was responsible for the breakdown of negotiations and was "shirking our moral responsibilities." He reiterated his refusal to treat with the union so long as the sit-down strikers held the plants, and continued with a promise to employees:

"We shall demand that your rights and our rights be protected" against "a small minority who have seized certain plants and are holding them as ransom to enforce their demands."

"I say to you once more, have no fear. Do not be misled. General Motors will never let you down. You will not have to pay tribute for the privilege of working in a General Motors plant."

Sloan contends that more than 100,000 G. M. employees have expressed a desire to return to work. Lewis scoffs at this claim but will not countenance the holding of an election to determine whether his unions command the majority necessary to constitute them the sole collective bargaining agency. The federal labor relations board could order such an election but it has not intervened, and probably will not.

Governor Murphy of Michigan had not modified his refusal to permit the National Guardsmen stationed in Flint to be utilized in carrying out a judicial order that the plants be vacated by the sit-down strikers.

The six-week strike of 7,100 employees of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company ended with approval by the union committee and company officials of a wage agreement giving a flat eight-cent-an-hour increase in all plants of the company. A one-year-contract was signed.

The agreement provides for appointment of a committee of five to investigate wage rates of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company with a view to establishing uniformity of rates throughout the flat glass industry.

MAYBE it was just a promotion stunt for the book, but Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, Democrat, introduced in the senate a resolution calling for an investigation of the truth or falsity of scurrilous charges made against the Supreme Court in "Nine Old Men," a volume authored by two conductors of a Washington gossip column. In offering the resolution Guffey made a bitter attack on the Supreme Court, saying:

"The President of the United States, with his characteristic frankness and courage, has opened for debate the most troublesome problem which we must solve if we are to continue a democracy."

"That problem is—whether the Supreme court will permit congress, the legislative branch of our government, which was equally trusted with the Supreme court by the framers of the Constitution, to perform its duties in making democracy workable and effective."

The senate heard Guffey's speech in silence and referred his resolution to the judiciary committee.

ARTIFICIAL scarcity of farm products is abandoned as a policy for the time being by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. He said in Washington that the two drought years of 1934 and 1936 have brought more thought on farm production by consumers and farmers than ever before. While a year or two of normal weather would tumble wheat prices, if full acreage is planted, the time has come for a lifting of the restrictions, he said.

"In the year immediately ahead, I feel that farmers should think primarily of their duty to consumers," Wallace said. "I think that in the coming year it is wise for us to produce as much as we can. We should, of course, divert a certain amount of corn and cotton acreage to soil conserving crops, because that will make for greater long time productivity of our farm land."

"But for the most part, let's fill up the storage bins this year. It is good policy to vary the plans for storage of crops in the soil according to the state of supplies in the granary above the ground."

Sen. Guffey

DR. JAMES W. BARTON
Talks About

A Typical Reducing Diet
THERE is so much being said and written about overweight that the average individual may wonder whether or not overweight can always be reduced to normal by simply cutting down on food, without having to exercise or use gland extracts.

Now it can be said definitely that while every overweight individual can have his or her weight reduced by simply cutting down on food, there are some who get only part way down to normal and then lose no more weight unless they take more exercise or use some gland extract.

The vast majority of cases, however, and they are due to overeating, can be reduced to normal weight by cutting down on the food intake and increasing the exercise; no gland extract—thyroid or pituitary—is needed.

The thought then for every case of overweight, at first anyway, is to go on a reducing or a reduction diet.

And the thought behind every reduction diet is not that the amount of food eaten will be all that the body will need for its work, but, because the reduced or reduction diet does not supply the body's needs, the body itself has to supply some food and so gives up some of the fat that it has stored.

By asking the body to supply some of this food or fuel—a little every day of its stored up fat—the weight of the body gradually and daily becomes less. The amount of weight lost daily may not be more than three or four ounces but when this 3 or 4 ounces is multiplied by 7 (week) or 30 (month) it means a loss of 1 to 2 pounds each week, or 6 to 8 pounds each month.

Regular Foods Needed.
Thus when a physician makes out or prescribes a reducing diet for a patient he makes sure that there will be enough of the foods used daily that are needed to do the regular or routine work of the body—for the work of digestion, breathing, the beating of the heart, the circulation of the blood, the getting rid of wastes and other work—and then letting the stored fat in the body be used up for any exercise the body does, if it is only sitting or walking around the house or doing hard muscular work.

The physician is careful in arranging the diet that "enough" of each kind of food—proteins, starches, fats, liquids, minerals and vitamins—is provided. The only difference, generally speaking, is that the "amount" of food is less.

Meat and fish must form a part of the daily menu as proteins are needed by the body to build and repair worn tissues. A typical reducing diet as arranged by Katherine Mitchell Thoma, director of dietetics, Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, is as follows:

Breakfast—orange or apple or ½ grapefruit or ½ cantaloupe or one serving fresh strawberries; choice of roll or thin slice of bread, 1 egg boiled or poached; 1 glass skim milk or tea or coffee. For noon and evening meal each (that is twice these amounts should be taken daily): clear stock soup and vegetables; large serving of salad composed of any of the following—head lettuce, tomatoes, string beans, cabbage, beets, celery, carrots. Use mineral oil as a dressing; 1 thin slice of bread or ½ potato; choice of lean beef, roast or steak, lean veal, lean lamb, white meat of chicken, white fish, 2 eggs; choice of 2 servings of either asparagus, brussels sprouts, cabbage, spinach, string beans, cauliflower, sauerkraut, or one serving of either beets, carrots, turnips, squash, peas; choice of fruit for breakfast.

Treating a Boil
Some of the disastrous results following the squeezing of a boil to get out the "core" are known to every physician, and patients are always warned that the boil should be allowed to "point" before any opening should be made, if at all.

The treatment of a boil is by heat; hot compresses if possible, or what is now being used to a great extent, the hot magnesium sulphate (Epsom salts) dressing. The "dry" form of magnesium sulphate is used which contains 12 per cent less water than the usual crystal form with which we are all familiar. This is mixed with glycerine to form a thick paste, put on gauze, and applied directly to the boil. The paste absorbs moisture so should be kept well covered between applications. This paste can be left on for several hours. To increase heat and action of the magnesium sulphate a hot water bag can be placed on top of the dressing.

When the boil points and is ready to open, a sharp toothpick, which has been dipped in carbolic acid is gently bored or drilled into the center of the boil. A magnesium sulphate dressing applied directly to the boil helps the pus to drain out of the boil.

Home Heating Hints

Keep Furnace Ashpit Clean—Get Better Heat. Prevent Costly Repairs

SOMETIMES we are prone to grow careless and get the idea that all a furnace ashpit is for is to receive ashes as they come from the grates. As a matter of fact, however, receiving the ashes is but one of three important things an ashpit does. Besides holding ashes, it performs the very necessary function of receiving air from the cellar and helping distribute it uniformly throughout the fuel bed.

Those things being true, it is dangerous to neglect keeping the ashpit clean. Accumulated ashes will cut off incoming air circulation and hamper the complete combustion of fuel, creating troublesome clinkers. An ashpit that is choked up with ashes is quite liable to overheat the grates, resulting in their warping or breaking. This, of course, means an expense in replacing the damaged grates.

So, I say again, don't take chances. Keep the ashpit cleaned out. Take a few minutes every day to remove the dead ashes.

THE GARDEN MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE

SYNOPSIS

Philo Vance, famous detective, and John X. Markham, district attorney for New York county are dining in Vance's apartment when Vance receives an anonymous telephone message informing him of a "disturbing psychological tension at Professor Ephraim Garden's apartment" advising that he read up on radio-active sodium, consult a passage in the Aeneid and counseling that "Equanimity is essential." Professor Garden is famous in chemical research. The message, decoded by Vance, reminds him that Professor Garden's son Floyd and his puny cousin, Woody Swift, are addicted to horse-racing. Vance says that "Equanimity" is a horse running next day in the Rivermont handicap. Vance is convinced that the message was sent by Dr. Siefert, the Gardens' family physician. He arranges to have lunch next day at the Gardens' penthouse. Vance is greeted by Ephraim Garden and meets Lowe Hammie, an elderly follower of horse racing. Zalia expresses concern over Swift's queer actions. Mrs. Garden, supposedly ill, comes downstairs and places a $100 bet on a horse. Gathered around an elaborate loud speaker service, listening to the racing are Cecil Kroon, Madge Weatherby and Zalia Graem, who bet varying amounts on the race. There is tension under the surface gaiety. Zalia and Swift are not on speaking terms. Kroon leaves to keep an appointment before the race starts. Miss Beeton, a nurse, and Vance bet on "Azure Star." Swift recklessly bets $10,000 on "Equanimity" and goes to the roof garden to hear the results. Floyd follows Swift, remaining away from the group several minutes. Zalia goes to the den to answer a telephone call. Soon after the announcement that "Azure Star" wins, the guests hear a shot. Vance finds Swift dead, shot through the head with a revolver nearby. He says Swift has been murdered. After calling the police, he finds the door of a vacant jar. Vance, who finds he had not left the building. Vance orders Miss Beeton to guard the stairway and prevent Mrs. Garden and Zalia from viewing Swift's body.

CHAPTER IV—Continued

"Garden," he began, "there are a few things that I'd like to have cleared up before the district attorney and the police arrive." He turned about leisurely and sat down at the desk, facing Garden.

"Anything I can do to help," Garden mumbled, lighting his pipe.

"A few necessary questions, don't you know," Vance went on. "Hope they won't upset you, and all that. But the fact is, Mr. Markham will probably want me to take a hand in the investigations, since I was a witness to the preamble of this distressing tragedy."

"I hope he does," Garden returned. "It's a damnable affair, and I'd like to see the axe fall, no matter whom it might behead." His pipe was giving him trouble. "By the way, Vance," he went on quietly, "how did you happen to come here today? I've asked you so often to join our racing seance—and you pick the one day when the roof blows off the place."

Vance kept his eyes on Garden for a moment.

"The fact is," he said at length, "I got an anonymous telephone message last night, vaguely outlining the situation here and mentioning Equanimity."

Garden jerked himself up to keener attention.

"The devil you say!" he exclaimed. "That's a queer one. Man or woman?"

"Oh, it was a man," Vance replied casually.

Garden pursed his lips and, after a moment's meditation, said quietly:

"Well, anyway, I'm damned glad you did come. What can I tell you that might be of help? Anything you want, old man."

"First of all, then," asked Vance, "did you recognize the revolver? I saw you looking at it rather apprehensively when we came out on the roof."

Garden frowned, and finally answered, as if with sudden resolution:

"Yes! I did recognize it, Vance. It belongs to the old gentleman."

"Your father?"

Garden nodded grimly. "He's had it for years. Why he ever got it in the first place, I don't know—he probably hasn't the slightest idea how to use it."

"By the by," Vance put in, "what time does your father generally return home from the university?"

"Why—why—" Garden hesitated and then continued: "on Saturdays he's always here early in the afternoon—rarely after three. Gives himself and his staff a half-holiday."

"But," he added, "father's very erratic . . ." His voice trailed off nervously.

Vance took two deep inhalations on his cigarette; he was watching Garden attentively. Then he asked in a soft tone:

"What's on your mind?—Unless, of course, you have good reason for not wanting to tell me."

Garden took a long breath and stood up. He seemed to be deeply troubled as he walked across the room and back.

"The truth is, Vance," he said, as he resumed his place on the davenport, "I don't even know where the pater is this afternoon. As soon as I came downstairs after Woody's death, I called him to give him the news. I thought he'd want to get here as soon as possible in the circumstances. But I was told that he'd locked up the laboratory and left the university about two o'clock."

CHAPTER V

I could not understand the man's perturbation; and I could see that it puzzled Vance as well. Vance endeavored to put him at his ease.

"It really doesn't matter," he said, as if dismissing the subject.

"It may be just as well that your father doesn't learn of the tragedy till later." He smoked for a moment. "But to get back to the revolver: where was it usually kept?"

"In the center drawer of the desk upstairs," Garden told him promptly.

"And was the fact generally known to the other members of the household, or to Swift himself?"

Garden nodded. "Oh, yes. There was no secret about it. We often joked with the old gentleman about his 'arsenal.'"

"And the revolver was always loaded?"

"So far as I know, yes."

"And was there an extra supply of cartridges?"

"As to that, I cannot say," Garden answered; "but I don't think so."

"And here's a very important question, Garden," Vance went on. "How many of the people that are here today could possibly have known that your father kept this loaded revolver in his desk? Now, think carefully before answering."

Garden meditated for several moments. He looked off into space and puffed steadily on his pipe.

"I am trying to remember," he said reminiscently, "just who was here the day Zalia came upon the gun."

"What day was that?" Vance cut in sharply.

"It was about three months ago," Garden explained. "You see, we used to have the telephone set-up connected upstairs in the study. But some of the western races came in so late that it began to interfere with the old gentleman's routine when he came home from the university. So we moved the paraphernalia down into the drawing room. As a matter of fact, it was more convenient; and the mater didn't object—in fact, she rather enjoyed it."

"But what happened on this particular day?" insisted Vance.

"Well, we were all upstairs in the study, going through the whole silly racing rigmarole that you witnessed this afternoon, when Zalia Graem, who always sat at the old gentleman's desk, began opening the drawers, looking for a piece of scratch paper on which to figure the mutuels. She finally opened the center drawer and saw the revolver. She brought it out with a flourish and, laughing like a silly school-girl, pointed it around the room. I reprimanded her—rather rudely, I'm afraid—and ordered her to put the revolver back in its place, as it was loaded—and just then a race came over the amplifier, and the episode was ended."

"Most interesting," murmured Vance. "And can you recall how many of those present today were likewise present at Miss Graem's little entree?"

"I rather think they were all there, if my memory is correct," Vance sighed.

"A bit futile—eh, what? No possible elimination along that line."

Garden looked up, startled.

"Elimination? I don't understand. We were all downstairs here this afternoon except Kroon—and he was out—when the shot was fired."

At this moment there was a slight commotion in the hallway. It sounded as if a scuffle of some kind was in process, and a shrill, protesting voice mingled with the calm but determined tones of the nurse. Vance went immediately to the door and threw it open. There, just outside the den door, only a short distance from the stairway, were Miss Weatherby and Miss Beeton. The nurse had a firm hold on the other woman and was calmly arguing with her. As Vance stepped toward them, Miss Weatherby turned to face him and drew herself up arrogantly.

"What's the meaning of this?" she demanded. "Must I be mauled by a menial because I wish to go upstairs?"

"Miss Beeton has orders that no one is to go upstairs," Vance said sternly. "And I was unaware that she is a menial."

"But why can't I go upstairs?" the woman asked with dramatic emphasis. "I want to see poor Woody. Death is so beautiful; and I was very fond of Woody. By whose orders, pray, am I being denied this last communion with the departed?"

"By my orders," Vance told her coldly. "Furthermore, this particular death is far from beautiful, I assure you. And the police will be here any minute. Until then no one will be permitted to disturb anything upstairs."

"Then why," she demanded with histrionic indignation, "was this woman"—she glanced with exaggerated contempt at the nurse—"coming down the stairs herself when I came into the hall?"

Vance made no attempt to hide a smile of amusement.

"I'm sure I don't know. I may ask her later. But she happens to be under instructions from me to let no one go upstairs. Will you be so good, Miss Weatherby," he added, almost harshly, "as to return to the drawing room and remain there until the officials arrive?"

The woman glared superciliously at the nurse, and then, with a toss of the head, strode toward the archway.

The nurse, obviously embarrassed, turned to resume her post, but Vance stopped her.

"Were you upstairs, Miss Beeton?" he asked in a kindly tone.

She was standing very erect, her face slightly flushed. She looked at Vance frankly and firmly in the eyes and slowly shook her head.

"I haven't left my post, Mr. Vance," she said quietly. "I understand my duty."

Vance returned her gaze for a moment, and then bowed his head slightly.

"Thank you, Miss Beeton," he said.

He came back into the den, and closing the door, addressed Garden again.

"Now that we have disposed temporarily of the theatrical queen,"—he smiled somberly—"suppose we continue with our little chat."

Garden chuckled mildly and began repacking his pipe.

"Queer girl, Madge; always acting like a tragedienne—but I don't think she's ever really been on the stage."

"You heard her tell me she was particularly fond of Swift," remarked Vance. "Just what did she mean by that?"

Garden shrugged. "Nothing at all, if you ask me. She didn't know that Woody was on earth, so to speak. But dead, Woody becomes a dramatic possibility."

"Yes, yes—quite," murmured Vance. "Which reminds me: what was the tiff between Swift and Miss Graem about? I noticed your little peace-maker advances this afternoon."

Garden became serious.

"I haven't been able to figure that situation out myself. Woody was pretty deep in the new-mown hay as far as Zalia went. Hovered round her all the time, and took all her good-natured bantering without a murmur. Then, suddenly, the embryonic love affair—or whatever it was—went sour. Obviously something had happened, but I never got the straight of it. It may have been a new flame on Woody's part—I rather imagine it was something of the kind. As for Zalia, she was never serious about it anyway. And I have an idea that Woody wanted that extra twenty thousand today for some reason connected with Zalia. . . . Garden stopped speaking abruptly and slapped his thigh. "By George! I wouldn't be surprised if that hard-bitten little gambler had turned Woody down because he was comparatively hard up. You can't tell about these girls today. They're as practical as the devil himself."

Vance nodded thoughtfully.

"Your observations rather fit with the remarks she made to me a little while ago. She, too, wanted to go upstairs to see Swift. Gave me excuse the other fact that she felt she was to blame for the whole sordid business."

Garden grinned.

"Well, there you are." Then he remarked judicially: "But you can never tell about women."

"I wonder," Vance smoked in silence for a moment. Then he went on: "There's another matter in connection with Swift which you might be able to clear up for me. Could you suggest any reason why, when I placed the bet on Azure Star for Miss Beeton this afternoon, Swift should have looked at me as if he would enjoy murdering me?"

"I saw that too," Garden nodded.

"I can't say it meant anything much. Woody was always a weak sister where any woman was concerned. It took little to make him think he'd fallen in love. He may have become infatuated with the nurse—he'd been seeing her around here for the past few months. And now that you mention it, he's been somewhat poisonous toward me on several occasions because she was more or less friendly with me and ignored him entirely. But I'll say this for Woody: if he had ideas about Miss Beeton, his taste is improving. She's an unusual girl—different."

Vance nodded his head slowly and gazed with peculiar concentration out the window.

"Yes," he murmured. "Quite different. Then, as if bringing himself back from some alien train of thought, he crushed out his cigarette and leaned forward. "However, we'll drop speculation for the moment. . . . Suppose you tell me something about the vault upstairs."

Garden glanced up in evident surprise.

"There's nothing to tell about that old catch-all. It's neither mysterious nor formidable. And it's really not a vault at all. Several years ago the pater found that he had accumulated a lot of private papers and experimental data that he didn't want casual callers messing in. So he had this fire-proof storeroom built to house these scientific treasures of his. The vault, as you call it, was built as much for mere privacy as for actual safe-keeping. It's just a very small room with shelves around the walls."

"Has everyone in the house access to it?" asked Vance.

"Anyone so inclined," replied Garden. "But who in the name of Heaven, would want to go in there?"

"Really, you know, I haven't the foggiest notion," Vance returned, "except that I found the door to it unlatched when I was coming downstairs a little while ago."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, © Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for February 7

JESUS THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12, 31, 32; 9:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Passed By. JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Passed By. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Is the Light of the World. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Walking in the Light With Jesus.

"The Light of the World Is Jesus!" Who does not remember with what delight we as children sang "Come to the light, 'tis shining for thee. . . . The Light of the world is Jesus." How precious was the truth that thus flooded our souls. Jesus was the light, and just as the sunlight shed its glory on an awakening world at dawn, so he shed abroad the light of God in the hearts of men. The writer of these lessons pens these words with the prayer that as this portion of God's Holy Word is studied and taught, the light may break forth on many a soul caught in the bewilderment of this dark world.

Our study centers around three simple words fraught with beauty and rich in meaning.

I. Light (John 8:12).

The text says, "Then spake Jesus." When? Just after he had silenced the hypocritical accusers of a woman taken in sin, and had spoken the word of peace to her troubled soul. She was to "go and sin no more" because she had met him who is the "Light of the World." They that follow him "shall not walk in darkness"; they are the children of light, they have the very light of life.

II. Freedom (vv. 31, 32).

Free! Four letters, but what depth of meaning! Chains have fallen off, prison doors are open. The one who was bound is free.

But here we are concerned with an even more important liberty, the freedom of the soul. Many there are who boast of their independence but who are naught but slaves. Jesus said, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin" (John 8:34), not its master.

How shall they be freed? Note three things in these verses. (1) A condition, "If ye continue in my word." This means not only a profession of faith but a daily appropriation and realization of his truth in life. (2) A promise, "Ye shall know the truth." The philosophies of men profess to be a seeking after truth but how few there are who look to the one place where it can be found—in Jesus Christ. (3) A result, "the truth shall make you free."

III. Vision (John 9:1-11).

This is one of the most instructive passages in Scripture. A man born blind is seen by Jesus. His disciples note his intent and begin to theorize on a theological question. They had learned so little of the compassionate spirit of Jesus that they saw in this blighted life only an illustration of a theological theory. May God help us that we may never be so blind.

Jesus goes at once to work. He was in the world to do the works of God. He and the Father always work. Let us follow his blessed example. "The King's business requires haste." Let us work "while it is day, the night cometh when no man can work."

By a loving and gracious act, Jesus stirs in the heart of the man that faith which causes him to go, to wash, and, glory to God, he sees!

Such a personal experience of the divine power of the Son of God leaves no doubt in the man's mind that the one who caused him to see "is a prophet." All of a man's doubts concerning the deity of Jesus Christ disappear when he becomes his Saviour.

Read the remainder of the chapter and note how this man's faith is victorious in the face of trials, persecution, and even of excommunication; for outside the temple he met Jesus and takes him as his Lord. As Dr. Scroggie puts it, "His excommunication was a promotion. He went from the synagogue to the Saviour."

WHERE is the party? At Mrs. Smith's on Walnut street and it looks awfully much as though the principals were caught by the candid camera. Luckily, however, they're perfectly groomed for their parts:

Introducing Janet. Janet in her jumper (Pattern 1996) is asking Mother which glassware to use. Her plaid blouse in taffeta makes her feel very dressed up. Mother chose this style because the many possibilities for change make it a wardrobe rather than a dress and she knew it would be easy-to-make. Your own little girl may have this same ensemble in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. Size 8 requires 1 1/2 yards of 39 inch material for the jumper and 1 1/2 yards for the blouse.

Mother, the Hostess. Mother is the perfect hostess, calm and assured, because she knows her all-occasion frock with its sprightly crisp apron (Pattern 1220) is becoming and appropriate. For house wear she made up this model in print. She is wearing here the crepe version and knows that it will be delightful for later on in cool black and white. It comes in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46. The dress and apron in size 36 require 5 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. The apron alone requires 1 1/2 yards.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

should encroach upon the powers or functions of the others except to the extent and in the manner provided by the Constitution itself.

The members of the legislative body, the members of the Supreme Court, and the Chief Executive alike take an oath to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. When the Supreme Court passes on the constitutionality of a law, both the Congress and the President accept the decision as final, for the time being at least; but Mr. Waggoner thinks that we the people should take the opinion of the President in preference to the opinion of the Supreme Court. He also thinks that Congress should follow the lead of the President, at least as long as he himself agrees with the President, regardless of their own individual views and opinions. Thus he would make the President supreme in all three branches of our government, the judicial and the legislative as well as the executive. No Hitler, no Mussolini could ask for more.

Mr. Waggoner speaks of "Progressive Moves". He seems to think that every proposed change is a "progressive move". In his opinion, the adoption of the "flat money"
theory would be a progressive move.
The adoption of the Townsend plan would be a progressive move.
The subjecting of the opinions of the Supreme Court to the opinions of the President would be a progressive move. The subjecting of the will of the United States Congress to the will of the President would be a progressive move. Throwing the Constitution to the winds when in his opinion it stands in the way of progress would be a progressive move. No doubt the adoption of communism in this country would be a progressive move.

In all these matters we are not
"progressive"; we are a "standpatter", and proud of it.

Mr. Waggoner is the self-appointed savior of the farmer, the laborer, and the helpless. He tries to make-believe that we are the enemy of all these. He quotes us as having said "The farmer can not be helped." We never did say any such thing, either in the paper or out of it, in public or in private.
We never did say anything that could be construed to mean that.
But Mr. Waggoner puts the statement in quotation marks and says that we said it. He evidently had his reason for doing this. We will not pass on his motives.

We only wish to say that in spite of the fact that the press sometimes misquotes and misleads, in spite of the fact that it sometimes deliberately deceives, we stand pat for the freedom of the press. This does not mean that the press should not be held responsible for false or malicious or slanderous statements, but it means that the press should be free to publish the news and to express opinions without deliberate falsification. Yes, we stand pat for the freedom of the press, for the Waggoner seems to regard so lightly.

agencies by which the Constitution is to be construed and interpreted, reme Court should be accepted as

We stand pat on the proposition that the Constitution should be honestly and conscientiously construed, and that the Supreme Court should be left free to arrive at its opinions uninfluenced by popular clamor, partisan interests, or political considerations of any kind.

We stand pat on the proposition that under the Constitution, our government consists of three distinct branches; the legislative branch which enacts our laws, the judicial branch which interprets them, and the executive branch which executes or administers them.

We stand pat on the proposition that neither of these departments should encroach upon the powers or

the extent and in the manner pro-

THAT CHILD LABOR LAW

The gang who call themselves laborers are at this time demanding the passage of a law that will prohibit a child milking cows on the farm, if we understand the intentions. Many of those who are fighting for the ratification of this amendment have never produced a dollar. Now, it is probable they are sitting down on company property, and refuse to permit a wheel to turn until they are given a certain sum; yes, we say given, for we have known too many such who produced nothing, and one man could care for six or eight jobs for which as many men were paid.

Next they will tell a farmer how old his son must be to hoe a row of cotton—and many other fool attempts at our liberties.

Then some day when a man comes along and says he wants to work, the farmer will have to "put him on," even if he is not needed.
But we feel the farmer will rebel.
We suggest that he rebel now and vote "no" when the time comes to vote on this pernicious amendment now going the round of the states, and only the ratification by twelve more states is needed for it to become national.—Yosakum County Review.

The trouble is that the people do not get a vote on this pernicious proposal. It is up to the legislature.

Red Cross Quota Goes Over Top Here

Lynn county has far exceeded its quota to the Red Cross Flood Relief Fund, Judge Tom Garrard reports, the grand total standing at $502.68 Thursday afternoon.

Lynn county's original quota was $65.00, but as the flood damage grew an appeal was made for this county to raise five times the original quota, which would have been $325.00.

In making generous contributions the people of this county are in a smaller way paying back to this worthy organization funds donated the needy here a few years ago when the depression first struck.

Due to circumstances, we can not print the list of contributors this week, but hope to be able to do so next week.

Texas Planning Board statisticians estimate that the 1937 Texas crop of grapefruit will be 6,790,000 boxes out of a national crop of 27,523,000 boxes. The value of the 1937 Texas citrus crop is estimated to represent a present market value of $8,000,000, compared with $3,600,000 last year.

Lubbock Visitors At Rotary Club

One of the most entertaining Rotary Club programs yet held was that Thursday noon, when several members told "Some Crazy Experiences I Have Had."

On the program were Aubra Cade, Perry Goad, Waymon Harris, G. W. Simmons, and Leonard Craft. All made short talks except Craft, who brought the club president's wife, Rotaryann Penn, who gave several readings.

Nine members of the Lubbock Rotary Club were present, and short talks were made by President Kenneth Oberholzer and member Nell Wright of that club. Two visiting Rotarians were present from Post.

Earl M. McClue, Lubbock Kiwanian, and district Boy Scout executive, was also present and made a short talk.

GARY COOPER, JEAN ARTHUR HEAD "PLAINSMAN" CAST

The charming couple who made "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" the delightful success it was, are back in a sweeping panorama of America's greatness in the making, "The Plainsman," Cecil B. DeMille's tribute to the men and women of America who brought civilization to the plains, which begins on Sunday at the English Theatre. Runs 3 days.

Handsome Gary Cooper is cast as "Wild Bill" Hickok in the saga, and lovely Jean Arthur portrays "Calamity Jane," famous frontier-woman who loved the silent, hard-fighting peace officer, but who could not have him. They are a far different pair in "The Plainsman" than they were in "Mr. Deeds," and yet their assignment to the leading romantic roles is regarded as a master stroke of casting.

Cooper is widely known for his portrayal of the out door man-of-action, soldier-of-fortune and seeker-after-danger.

"Wild Bill," who was sent into the West by the government in the early seventies to find out who was responsible for selling guns to the Indians, was all of that. "Calamity Jane," on the other hand, was a hard-boiled beauty, equally familiar with shooting irons and the bull-whacker's whip.

Behind this tender romance DeMille paints on heroic canvas the whole of the American frontier scene in the ten years which immediately followed the Civil War. Such famous frontier folk as "Buffalo Bill," played by James Ellison; his wife, Louisa, portrayed by Helen Burgess; "Broken Nose" Jack McCall who slew Hickok, played by Porter Hall; John Lattimer, notorious gun runner, played by Charles Bickford; and General George A. Custer, portrayed by John Miljan, all come to life again, while 2,000 Cheyenne Indians, 250 army cavalymen and an equal number of horses, are employed in the characteristic DeMille manner to capture the sweep and scope of the period of American westward expansion.

Miss Dorothy Willburn, who has been attending Draughon's Business College, Lubbock, is now at home. Miss Willburn was injured in a car accident several weeks ago, and it is said she was forced to give up her school work at present on account of these internal injuries.

"I bought two and one-third yards of rayon for my slip," said Effie Waggoner, cooper in the New Lynn 4-H Club. "The material was 29c per yard. Lace for the bottom cost 20c. I do not intend to use lace at the top," added Effie.

NEW LYNN H. D. CLUB
"Running water is one of the greatest of conveniences that can possibly be provided in the kitchen" said Miss Lillian Boyd, H. D. agent, at the meeting of New Lynn Club in the home of Mrs. R. W. Barton Tuesday. Seventy-three per cent of the farm homes are without water piped into the house. Water being one of Nature's greatest gifts, it should be where it could be enjoyed to the greatest extent. The next meeting will be with Mrs. P. K. Fleming Feb. 16. Surplus Foods, Clothing Given Needy Of County

By MRS. LOIS DANIEL
Case Worker for Lynn County
Surplus commodities issued by the county welfare agencies are comprised of food and clothing commodities. Food is made available by the Commodities Purchase Section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Clothing is made in the sewing rooms operated by the Works Progress Administration. The Commodity Distribution Department is carried on under a Works Progress Administration project sponsored by the Texas Relief Commission, which supervises the distribution of both food and clothing.

Lynn county is one of thirteen counties in District 18, the designation being the same for both Works Progress Administration and Texas Relief Commission activities. In all but one county in this district there are county welfare associations, which avail themselves of these commodities.

During the period from January to June, 1936, the retail value of these articles based on market prices was $48,355.34. The amount for Lynn county for food commodities was $2,037.29, and for clothing was $1931.25.

During the current month workers issued to County Family Welfare clients as follows:
Number of cases receiving food, 49. Number of persons receiving food, 206.

Number of persons receiving clothing, 413.
Number of garments issued, 1448; towels, 1023; pillow ticks, 64; sheets, 11; pillow cases, 36; crib pillows, 8; crib quilts, 10.

The number listed on ERC for next month is: cases, 44; persons, 217.

Pneumonia Cases Follower Of Colds

Austin, February 4.—Pneumonia is always a serious disease, and early treatment is of paramount importance to lessen the severity of the disease and prevent death, is the warning issued by Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"A person previously well may develop pneumonia suddenly," he said, "but most often it occurs in persons who have, or who recently have had, a cold. Yet many people do not take the cold seriously enough. Suspect every cold. Go to bed immediately. If you have fever with a cold, call your physician, and do exactly what he says. By intelligently following your physician's advice at the beginning of the attack, you may ward off the after effects which so often follow neglected colds, pneumonia among them.

"Almost any part of the air passage may sometimes be attacked by bacteria. When the nose is affected we call the condition a cold. The tissues of the nose react to such infection by a profuse mucous discharge or mucous liquid. This discharge is really an attempt on the part of the body to get rid of the germs and their poison. If the infection is lower down, it causes a sore throat. If the voice box is affected, the condition is called laryngitis. If the germs reach the bronchi, the disease is known as bronchitis. If the germs get down to the lungs, the person affected has pneumonia. Thus it may be seen that the common cold may be the beginning of one of the most serious complications of the respiratory tract.

"These respiratory diseases may be avoided many times by establishing individual health measures. Help prevent colds and pneumonia by proper personal hygiene. Eat moderately, drink plenty of pure water, and sleep 8 to 10 hours every night with windows open. Do not allow the temperature of your home or working place to exceed 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Wash your hands frequently, especially before eating. Take some exercise out of doors every day, but avoid fatigue and unnecessary exposure to cold weather and rain.

"Watch your health habits and avoid a cold if possible... but if colds develop, take care of them and avoid complications of pneumonia."

Roberts County, up in the Panhandle, has the lowest tax rate of any county in Texas, Bob Haynes reports in his Miami Chief. It's rate of 25 cents has remained unchanged since 1929. He also says the reduction for all counties in the state has averaged 7 1/2 cents in each county over this seven-year period.

Participation In Interscholastic League Events

When we think of the Interscholastic League Meet, pictures enter our minds of contests in both athletic and literary fields. Perhaps if asked the paramount interest of these events we would first think of winning first place in as many events as we possibly can. We might delve more deeply into this subject and decide that perhaps it may not be the most important thing of all to win first place. The winning of first place is relative important to the present glory of our school and we should strive to win.

Besides being winners, there are other aspects of the theme to be considered. We may find that there are other chances for development in lines of writing and speaking. The development of our abilities and the strengthening of integrity will prove of great value to us in years to come.

In addition to the above mentioned individual development, there are duties for the student body as a whole. As hosts to the people of the county, we must be friendly and make them feel welcome. We must have at heart the welfare of our school. The beauty of our buildings must be preserved at any cost. We students must prove ourselves worthy models for students of our whole county.

Science Events
On last Tuesday, Jan. 26, the students of the science departments were treated to lectures by Dr. Richards of the Denver Museum of Natural History. The theme of the lecture was meteorites. The lecture to the Physics class was carried on for one and one-half hours. The lectures were very interesting and enjoyable to the students.

Yearbook
We students decided before the Christmas holidays that we would or wanted to have a Yearbook again this year. It seems that some of us have not supported this project as we should have done. We are required by the contract to publish 75 copies of the "Skyline" before we can have a Yearbook. We have so far only fifty orders. It is the specific responsibility of the members of the Senior Class to see that this project "goes over". After this our last year in Tahoka High School, Seniors, so let us make it the best of our lives. We will have a chance to get as a keepsake this yearbook; we will not have this opportunity again in our lives. Let us as Seniors and as members of the student body see that we have a Yearbook to make this year of our life one of lovely memories.

E. F. A. News
The regular meeting time for the F. F. A. is Monday night of the second and fourth weeks. At the last meeting, plans for a Father and Son Banquet were made. Other plans were for a district project show in April and plans for judging teams in the literary field. The boys are also making plans for the initiation of the Green Hands in the F. F. A. for this year.

The Seventh Grade Agriculture boys are eligible to belong to the F. F. A. The membership at present is 104%.

Seventh Grade News
Several of the boys and girls in the Seventh Grade have donated to the Red Cross for the flood sufferers. We had rather live where the sand blows. We have had several absentees during this cold wave but we hope that they will be back soon.

Honor Roll
Fifty-seven pupils have 90 or better in one or more subjects for the third six-weeks period. Twenty-five have 90 or better in two or more subjects.
Eight have an average of 90 or better in four or more subjects. These eight are: Lois Montgomery, 96%, Edith Robertson 95%, Jo Alice Brooks 94, Max Minor 94, Lottie Jo Townes 93%, Bryan Wright 93, Charles Gaignat 92, Willie Chappell 91%.

You Would Be Surprised—
If you knew that a member of the Senior Class believed the Piedmont Plateau to be in Spain.
If you knew that a certain Senior became so embarrassed at being called down in class that he blushed a rosy-red. Some say he became a blushing beauty. Knowing him, we are a bit skeptical about the "beauty" part.
If you could hear students who have been exposed to ten or eleven courses in English say "I taken" and "I had went".

You Are Due Good Health, Success And Happiness

But you cannot enjoy these things if you have allowed your system to lag to such an extent that your bowels and liver do not function properly, causing you to suffer with headaches, loss of sleep, backache, coated tongue, bad breath, rheumatic pains, biliousness and gas pains brought on by inactive clogged bowel organs. Lagatone is an efficient stimulant for increasing the flow of bile. Lagatone also stimulates liver action, relieving biliousness, worn out feeling and sick headache caused thereby. Lagatone acts on bowels as a laxative and helps clear out old decayed food waste. Lagatone is a compound of several ingredients. Thus Lagatone is like several medicines in the same compound. No wonder people begin to inform us of the good results they are receiving after using it a short time. If your system is lagging and run down, your food disagrees with you, if you are tired and sluggish, lacking energy, Lagatone will clean accumulated poisons out of your system and restore your vitality, your appetite and your good health. Go to your druggist today and buy a box of Lagatone and if after you have followed directions, written on the box, for ten days, you are not pleased with the results and if you do not feel new pep and energy, go back for your money. Price, 1 box 36 capsules $1; 6 boxes $5. Lagatone is on sale at the Tahoka Drug Co. in Tahoka. Please do not accept a substitute for Lagatone, for your own good. "Never Let Your System Lag." 24-25c.

Don't put up with useless PAIN

Get rid of it

When functional pains of menstruation are severe, take CARDUL. If it doesn't benefit you, consult a physician. Don't neglect such pains. They depress the tone of the nerves, cause sleeplessness, loss of appetite, wear out your resistance. Get a bottle of Cardul and see whether it will help you, as thousands of women have said it helped them.

Besides easing certain pains, Cardul aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

Sentimental Arithmetic

Norman had come upon Elsie dozing in a deck chair on the sands, and when she woke up she accused him of stealing a kiss. "Well," said Norman, "I admit the temptation was too strong to be resisted. I did steal one little kiss." "One!" exclaimed Elsie indignantly. "Why I counted seven before I woke up."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

There is one thing diviner than duty, namely, the bond of obligation transmuted into liberty.—W. R. Alger.

Why Laxatives Fail In Stubborn Constipation

Twelve to 24 hours is too long to wait when relief from clogged bowels and constipation is an urgent result. Only small quantities of bacteria accumulate, causing GAS, indigestion and many restless, sleepless nights.

If you want REAL, QUICK RELIEF, take a liquid compound such as Adierika. Adierika contains SEVEN cathartic and carminative ingredients that act on the stomach and 50% of the bowels. Most "overnight" laxatives contain an ingredient that acts on the lower bowel only.

Adierika's DOUBLE ACTION gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old poisonous waste matter that may have caused GAS pains, sour stomach, headaches and sleepless nights for months.

Adierika relieves stomach GAS at once and usually removes bowel congestion in less than two hours. No waiting for overnight results. This famous treatment has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 25 years. Take Adierika one-half hour before breakfast or one hour before bedtime and in a short while you will feel marvelously refreshed. At all Leading Druggists.

Independence

Independence is one of the most marked qualities of human beings.—John C. Merriam.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place.

In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

Use of Leisure

The use of your leisure is a card index to your character.

Miss REE LEEF says "Capudine relieves NEURALGIC PAIN quicker because it's liquid... ALREADY DISSOLVED"

MORNING DISTRESS is due to acid, upset stomach. Miania-walens (the original) quickly relieves acid stomach and give necessary elimination. Each wafer equals 4 teaspoonful of milk of magnesia. 20c, 35c & 60c.

Household Questions

Pastry made with too much water is tough and hard. Use only enough water to hold the ingredients together, mix quickly, roll and handle as little as possible.

Grease your measuring cup before measuring syrup or molasses and the ingredients will not stick to the sides of the cup.

Do not put too much wax on floors. A little wax and plenty of polishing makes a better-looking floor.

Doeskin and chamois gloves become stiff and harsh unless washed in tepid suds and rinsed in slightly soapy water.

If you want a really gay and cheerful dressing table why not make the drapery of chintz which has a design of red, pink and yellow flowers on a rather bright blue ground. The frill of pleated yellow chintz about the top is headed by a narrower one of blue to match the ground of the printed chintz.

If You Have a Child

ASK YOUR DOCTOR THIS

Ask Him Before Giving Your Child an Unknown Remedy

Practically any doctor you ask will warn: "Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first."

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy—"milk of magnesia," the standard of the world is established. For over half a century many doctors have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia." Safe for children. No other is "quite like it."

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Now also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia."

DISCOVERED Way to Relieve Coughs QUICKLY

IT'S BY relieving both the irritated tissues of the throat and bronchial tubes. One set of ingredients in FOLEY'S HONEY & TAR quickly relieves itching, hoarseness, coughing, and soothes irritated throat linings to keep you from coughing. Another set actually enters the blood, reaches the affected bronchial tubes, loosens phlegm, helps break up cough and speeds recovery. Check a cough due to a cold before it gets worse, before others catch it. Check it with FOLEY'S HONEY & TAR. It gives quick relief and speed-up recovery.

Coast Guard Rescues Flood Victims

Flood victims in coast guard boats shown arriving at Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river from Louisville, Ky., where they were placed on refugee trains and taken to safety further north. Floods on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers were the worst in the history of the country. More than 1,000,000 people were made homeless by the treacherous waters that rose over retaining walls, inundated cities and towns and covered rich farm areas. Damage of property exceeded half a billion dollars.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

I had a very fine visit at Dixie last Lord's Day. I preached to a very appreciative audience at the morning service, and had a pleasant afternoon visiting the members. I was greeted with a larger audience than usual here at night.

What a wonderful thing to have the privilege of preaching the Gospel of Christ to a lost world. I had rather have the job than any other.

Some things that are not easy to do: To apologize and admit error. To give advice that don't suit you. To be charitable, especially to enemies. To recognize the silver lining in every cloud. To shoulder a deserved blame without murmuring. To keep on trying after you are down. To maintain a higher standard than those you associate with. To endure success and not have the swell head. To quit bad habits of long standing. To live on your salary and keep up with the Joneses. To not make the same mistake twice. To forgive and forget sure enough. To keep out of a rut after it is worn smooth. To live by the Bible when you do not read and believe it. To attend worship every Lord's Day when the love of God is not in the heart. To follow Jesus when you do not know Him.

I will fill the pulpit here next Lord's Day, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Come where we have apostolic worship and you are a stranger but once.—R. P. Drennon.

P. S.—Dear Editor, I sympathize with you because of the fire bugs' visit and will loan you one of my two shirts, if you need it.

METHODIST W. M. S.

The McMurry "Chanters" were entertained Friday with a luncheon at the High School domestic science rooms by the Methodist Missionary Society.

The concert in the auditorium was very good.

Quite a nice number were in attendance at the regular meeting Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A study, "Out of Africa," with research from school library, press, Digest, etc., is proving interesting.

Mrs. G. M. Stewart gave a splendid talk on "The Natives" at the last meeting.

Every Methodist woman is invited to attend—just from 3 to 4 p. m. Monday.

A most encouraging report of our work was given by our president, Mrs. Bucy, at the First Quarterly Conference held Sunday night.
