Burglars Entered Sante Fe Depot Saturday

Get $30 In Cash And $1900 In Money Here: Two Other Stations Entered.

Thieves broke into and entered the Santa Fe station here Saturday night and got away with about $30.00 in money and nineteen express money orders amounting in the aggregate to about $1,900.00. The money orders, however, could not be cashed without the thieves forging signatures thereto. Banks have been notified not to cash the money orders.

On the same night the Santa Fe stations at O'Donnell and Southland also were burglarized.

At O'Donnell less than eight dollars in money and a few express money orders were taken. At Southland, the loot was insignificant, only two or three dollars being taken.

It is the belief of J. L. Heare, station agent here, that the jobs were pulled by professionals. He thinks the O'Donnell station was robbed first, then the Tahoka station, and lastly Southland.

The thieves effected entry here by prying a window up and then reaching in and unlatching a door. They knocked the knob off the safe door and purloined the contents.

Officers are working on the case. Sheriff B. L. Parker says he has a clue and he thinks the identity of the thieves will be established sooner or later.

Test Your Auto Free Saturday

A safety lane will be conducted in Tahoka on Saturday, June 5, by the Texas highway patrol, according to announcement made Thursday.

Cars will be inspected for the following defects: brakes, lights, steering gear, horn, windshield wiper, and muffler.

The public is kindly asked to cooperate and send their cars through the lane. The inspection is free and is a safety measure toward making highway travel safe.

Hundreds of cars passed through the lane here last year. It is expected that the response will be even more general this year than it was last year.

Light Rains Fell Sunday Night

A very light shower of rain visited Lynn county last Sunday night. The precipitation in Tahoka amounted to .14 of an inch.

Farmers in some localities report that their crops have had a hard time of getting up. Some have had to scratch their fields; others say that the soil is too dry. It is believed that good stands will be procured on most of the acreage, however, barring beating rains and high dry winds.

Fire Gives Scare To "Old Bossy"

A small blaze at the Kary Mathis place early Monday afternoon was extinguished by the fire department before much damage was done. Fire from a trash pile spread to a cow shed, which was ignited and was in a fair way to be completely destroyed had not the fire alarm been turned in promptly.

While not much damage was done it is said that a cow in the shed had quite an exciting experience.

Mr. Mathis was in the school room at the time and knew nothing about the fire until he returned home after four o'clock.

M. J. Weaver, Tahoka High school principal for four years and in a similar position at Roscoe now, was a brief visitor in Tahoka Thursday morning.

Small Tornado Wrecks Home

When John Rogers and family, who had been in Tahoka shopping, returned Saturday afternoon to their home two miles south and one mile east of the old South Ward school, they found their house absolutely wrecked and the remains scattered over the adjacent landscape.

A small tornado had struck in that vicinity and the house happened to be directly in its path. A shed was also torn off of W. L. Rowe's barn in the same neighborhood. No other damage has been reported.

Prohl Speaker At Rotary Club

Dr. Emil Prohl was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon Thursday, having been invited to discuss the subject of Social Diseases, which are now receiving much attention by city authorities throughout the country and are being widely discussed in the newspapers and magazines.

Dr. Prohl branded social diseases as a greater menace to the health and the lives of the people than war or any other character of calamity.

Mr. H. N. Roberts, rural electrification engineer, has been invited to address the club on the subject of rural electrification at its meeting next Thursday.

On the following Thursday, it is planned to have the members of the fire department present as guests of the club.

It was announced that Wade Howell would represent the Tahoka boy scouts at the national Boy Scout Jamboree to be held in the city of Washington.

Guests of the club Thursday were Carl Prohl, medical student in Baylor Medical College, Dallas, Mr. Hines of Lubbock, and A. C. Weaver of Tahoka.

Dale In Meeting In Tennessee

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale left Monday morning for Knoxville, Tennessee, where they will visit relatives and where the preacher will conduct a revival meeting. The meeting will be held with the First Baptist Church of Fountain City, a suburb of Knoxville.

That vicinity was the childhood home of Brother Dale, and therefore he was getting a great thrill out of the prospect of visiting many of his boyhood friends there as well as the opportunity to conduct a religious campaign in his old home town.

Their absence from Tahoka will cover three Sundays, and during this period of time, Rev. Elmer Holt of Plainview will supply for Brother Dale here. He has been a student in Wayland College and is taking a correspondence course in the Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth. He and Mrs. Holt are expected to come down next Saturday and will probably occupy the parsonage here during the pastor's absence.

Rev. Mr. Holt filled the pulpit here recently, and his discourses drew many favorable comments.

Gentry Buys Drug Store At Crosbyton

Claude Gentry, who has been employed at the Tahoka Drug Store the past several months, has purchased a drug store in Crosbyton and removed to that city.

Mr. Gentry made many friends while here, who regret his removal but who hope for him much success in his new adventure.

W. S. Anglin made a business trip Tuesday to Seagraves, Seminole, and Andrews.

President Dons Pan American Garb

Delighted with his gifts, President Roosevelt, author of the "good neighbor" theme of the Pan American Exposition in Dallas, is pictured as he calls his aides to view the hand-woven serape in the design of the official flag of the Exposition, and the sombrero presented to him by Governor James V. Allred (rear) at Texas A. & M. College. The Governor is honorary director general of the fair, which opens June 12.

Supreme Court Justice Retires

Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter announced Tuesday that on June 2 he would retire from the Supreme Court. He is one of the four conservatives on the Court and wrote the dissenting opinion in the most noted of the recent cases involving the constitutionality of the Wagner Labor Relations Act, the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corotation case. He has voted against the Administration in most of the New Deal measures that have come before the Court for a decision as to their constitutionality.

Van Devanter is 78 years of age and has served on the Supreme Court for 26 years. He was appointed by President Taft.

Dental Advertising Bill Is Passed

A bill restricting advertising by dentists was finally passed by the legislature this week and sent to the governor. If he approves or does not veto the measure, it will become a law on January 1, 1938.

The lower house passed the bill several days ago. Then it went to the senate. On Monday, the senate passed the bill with some minor amendments and sent it back to the house by an almost unanimous vote. On Tuesday the house concurred in the senate amendment and finally passed the bill and sent it to the governor.

The evil which the legislature seeks to remedy is alleged false and fraudulent advertising on the part of a small percent of the members of the profession. The bill, however, does not merely prohibit false and fraudulent advertising but practically all advertising, whether true or false, by dentists. It is this and other features of the bill that gave rise to the contention that the bill is unconstitutional.

It will probably be threshed out in the courts early next year.

Gagnat Improving Main St. Property

D. W. Gagnat has this week had awnings erected in front of the building occupied by the H. & W. Cafe and the adjoining building occupied until recently by the Modern Barber and Beauty Shop.

Hall Robinson also had a new awning built recently along the front of his building on the west side of the square.

Highway 9 Now Near Completion

Highway No. 9 will be completed this week, unless something unforeseen happens. Such was the announcement made Thursday by a member of the contracting firm engaged in placing the topping on this stretch of highway.

By early next week, at least, one may traverse Lynn county on a paved road from north to south for the first time.

Laying of caliche on Highway 84 west of Tahoka is expected to be complete by June 30, it is said. The State Highway Department has also called for bids on June 4 for the laying of single asphalt base preservative on Highway 84 from Brownfield to the Lynn county line, a distance of 11.7 miles.

South Plains Pioneer Died Tuesday

A. T. Cobb of this city was called to Seminole Tuesday to attend the funeral of one of the pioneers of this section of the state, Dan Cobb, who died in the Lubbock Sanitarium Sunday afternoon. Although the names of the two men were identical, they were not related.

Deceased, however, was the father-in-law of Tom Cobb of Brownfield, who is a son of A. T. Cobb of this city. He had been a resident of the Seminole country for more than thirty years. A contractor by occupation, he had built both the first and the new court houses in Seminole. He had also built most of the substantial business buildings there.

Many of the pioneers of Gaines and neighboring counties attended the funeral.

Childress Radio Man Moves To Tahoka

C. R. Rogers, who has been in the radio and refrigeration business in Childress the past ten years, has accepted a position with the Tahoka Appliance Company of this city. He is an expert radiotriatician and does all kinds of electrical repair work. He is a man of pleasing address and makes friends readily. Glad to have him as a citizen of our town.

His family, consisting of a wife and two children, will remove to Tahoka as soon as a house is available.

Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes was a business visitor in Dallas this week.

Car Hits Train; Nobody Hurt

Just as Mrs. L. D. Howell drove her car upon the Santa Fe tracks near the station Monday morning, the engine went dead and the car stopped on the track. A Santa Fe train was approaching slowly near by and could not be stopped in time to prevent a collision. The cow-catcher struck the car, and strange to say the cow-catcher was badly bumped up while the car was scarcely damaged at all.

Two children were in the car with Mrs. Howell and none of them were hurt.

Court Revamping Is Disapproved

By a vote of ten to eight, the Senate Judiciary Committee on Tuesday voted to report adversely the Roosevelt court revamping bill.

The bill proposes that the President shall have the authority to appoint as many as six additional justices, or one for each member of the Supreme Court over 70 years of age who refuses to retire or resign.

Seven Democrats and three Republicans on the Committee opposed the bill. Seven Democrats and one Independent, Norris of Nebraska, voted for it.

Senator Connally of Texas, a member of the Judiciary Committee, voted against the bill.

The prospects are now that the Administration forces will propose a compromise which will give the President authority to appoint one new justice a year instead of six at one time as the original bill proposed. The passage of such a bill would be an almost empty victory for the President.

Definitely Abandon Old Oil Test

The oil test, ten miles southwest of Tahoka in the T-Bar ranch pasture is being abandoned definitely. Hubbarly & Cherry, Ranger, pipe-pulling contractors, have for the past several days been engaged with preparations preparatory to pulling the 2800 feet of casing left in the hole, on orders from E. B. Germany of Dallas, oil operator.

The well had been drilled to a depth of 5,000 feet several years ago. Recently, plans were instituted to deepen the hole, but the pulling of the casing brings an end to this test.

Some showing of oil is reported to have been encountered in the hole by drillers, and many are of the opinion, judging from the depth at which oil is being found in other South Plains counties, that the bit was not pushed deep enough.

There have been rumors of another test or two in Lynn county but nothing definite has been announced.

New Prescription Man At Collier's

E. E. Wright, late of Snyder, has accepted a position as prescription clerk at the Wynne Collier Drug Store.

Mr. Wright was in Snyder only a few months, however, having been with the John Halsey drug store in Lubbock the past eleven years, resigning his position there just before last Christmas. He is a college graduate and a registered pharmacist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright are staying at a hotel here until they can find a residence or an apartment in which to reside.

J. W. Link and daughters, Miss Elizabeth and Mrs. Howard Wheeler, visited their daughter and sister, Miss Ruth Link, in San Antonio last week. Miss Ruth is ill in the M. & S. Hospital there and recently underwent a serious operation.

Rev. Ben Hardy Will Preach Sermon On Sunday

Senior Play Tonight, Graduation Program On Friday Night Of Next Week.

Thirty-three members of the Senior Class of the Tahoka High School with their sponsor, Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, in cap and gown, will slowly march down the center aisle of the High School auditorium to the seats reserved for them, to the solemn music of the Processional, at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning, the center of interest for the great congregation that is expected to assemble to witness and enjoy the program that has been arranged for the occasion.

The Baccalaureate discourse will be delivered by Rev. Ben Hardy, pastor of the Methodist Church here.

Preceding the sermon, there will be prayer led by Rev. Elmer Holt of Plainview, here as a pulpit supply for Rev. George A. Dale while he is out of town, and scripture reading by Hon. Tom Garrard, prominent attorney of this city and a member of the State Board of Education.

The program will open with a Prelude by Mrs. M. H. Edwards. "O Worship the King" will be the Processional hymn.

An anthem, "The Lord's Prayer," will be given by the choir.

Mr. William R. Sewell will sing "The Holy City," and there will be another selection by the choir, "Love Devine."

At the conclusion of the program (Cont'd on last page)

Mrs. Jay W. Moore Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Edith Moore, wife of Jay W. Moore who resides a few miles northwest of New Home, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 11:30 o'clock Monday night in a tourist lodge in Abilene.

Mrs. Moore had been a patient in the tuberculosis sanatorium at Carlsbad the past month and had been brought to Abilene by her husband Monday for surgery.

Mrs. Moore had retired for the night and Mr. Moore was preparing to do so, when she complained of a pain in her chest. She almost immediately lapsed into unconsciousness and died before a physician could reach her.

Her body was shipped to Lubbock by train early Tuesday morning. Funeral services were conducted in the Methodist Church at Draw, 17 miles southeast of Tahoka, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, followed by burial in the cemetery there. Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of the Lubbock Central Baptist church conducted the services. Active pall bearers were Waldo McLaurin, Lonnie Collinsworth, S. L. Williams, Morris Lewis, J. T. Poindexter, and Henry Heck. Honorary pallbearers were B. W. Harris, R. W. Allen, A. R. Hensley, H. W. Crews, Cicero Floyd, and Judge P. W. Goad.

Mrs. Moore is survived by her husband, an eight-month old daughter, Marcella Ann, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Walker of O'Donnell; two sisters, Mrs. B. H. Pentress of Portales, N. M., and Mrs. O. C. Rankin of Cone; and three brothers, William, Robert, and Hubert Walker of O'Donnell.

At the time of her marriage she was a student nurse in the Lubbock Sanitarium. Prior to this, she had been a resident of this county several years.

Her husband, Jay W. Moore, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lit Moore of the New-Home community and has been reared in this county.

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Callaway returned Monday afternoon from a few days stay on their ranch on the Colorado River in San Saba county. Mrs. Callaway says they caught a lot of fish and had a good time.

Ambassador Dodd's Remarkable Warning of Fascist Plan for United States—Steel Workers' Strikes Started by the C. I. O.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union

WILLIAM E. DODD, American ambassador to Germany, has stepped into the limelight and the result may be embarrassing to him and to the administration.

Ambassador W. E. Dodd

In a long letter to Senators Bulkley of Ohio and Glass of Virginia he urges all Democrats to unite in support of the President and thus avert a dictatorship in the United States. It was assumed he meant the President's Supreme court enlargement bill should be supported, since that is the measure that split the party in congress. Dodd, former professor in the University of Chicago, said he had been told by certain friends that an American, not named, "who owns nearly a billion dollars," was prepared to set up a fascist regime which presumably he would control. There are not many American billionaires now, but no one has ventured to guess publicly the man Dodd has in mind.

"There are individuals of great wealth who wish a dictatorship and are ready to help a Huey Long," he wrote. "There are politicians, some in the senate, I have heard, who think they may come into power like that of the European dictators in Moscow, Berlin, and Rome."

Congressional leaders were quick to take up Dodd's assertion. Senator Borah of Idaho leading off with the declaration that the ambassador was an irresponsible scandal monger and a disgrace to his country. "I have an idea," said Borah, "that his supposed dictatorship is the figment of a diseased brain." Senator Gerald Nye of North Dakota, radical, introduced a resolution calling upon the State department to demand that Dodd name the billionaire in question.

In the house Representative Fish of New York denounced Dodd, and demanded that he be recalled and forced to give the name of the man who is ready to set up a dictatorship.

This reaction in Washington led Ambassador Dodd to amplify his warning by a prepared statement cautioning against perils which would result from defeat of President Roosevelt's recovery program and reiterating the assertion that Americans of great wealth are looking toward Fascist rule; but he still disclosed no identities.

THERE were persistent reports in Washington that the Supreme court controversy would soon be settled by the resignation of at least two of the justices, Brandeis and Van Devanter, and possibly McReynolds and Sutherland. It was said friends of these men had urged their retirement "for the good of the court itself."

It was claimed that the President would be compelled to withdraw his bill if as many as two of the associate justices should retire, or else face defeat. Proponents of the measure, pending the return of Mr. Roosevelt to the capital, said there would be no compromise.

Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, Farmer-Laborite, returning to his seat after a long illness, declared himself flatly against the Supreme court enlargement bill; and his colleague, Senator Ernest Lundeen, another Farmer-Laborite, said he would not support an increase of more than two in the membership of the court.

PHILIP MURRAY, chairman of the steel workers' organizing committee of the C. I. O., called the first major strike in the campaign of Lewis and his associates to unionize the steel industry. On his order the employees of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation plants in Pittsburgh and Aliquippa walked out after Murray had failed to get from the company a signed collective bargaining contract. The strike call affected 27,000 men. Thousands of pickets surrounded the Jones & Laughlin mills and kept non-union workers from entering.

The company announced its willingness to sign a contract if it might grant identical terms to non-union employees and declared its disposition to deal solely with any group that could poll a majority of its employees in an election supervised by the national labor board.

Next day the strike spread to the plants of the Pittsburgh Steel company at Monessen and Allentown, Pa., where 5,000 men went out. Murray said it was inevitable that the Republic, Youngstown, Bethlehem and Crucible steel concerns would be involved very soon.

There was considerable disorder at Aliquippa, and the police used tear gas bombs to disperse the pickets. Governor Earle hurried to the region to help settle the trouble, and he ordered the sale of liquor stopped in western Pennsylvania areas affected by the strike.

Employees of Fisher Body and Chevrolet in Detroit returned to work pending a conference with the management; but the plants of those concerns in Janesville, Wis., were closed by a dispute over the status of 14 non-union workers. Their plants in Flint and Saginaw also were shut down, as was the Fisher Body plant in Cleveland.

John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., apparently killed any chances for peace with the A. F. of L. when, addressing the Lady Garment Workers' union convention at Atlantic City, he called President Green a traitor to organized labor and declared neither he nor any of the workers unionized in the C. I. O. campaign wants peace with the federation. Lewis charged that Green tried to prevent Governor Murphy of Michigan from settling the General Motors and Chrysler strikes.

TECHNICAL workers in the movie industry at Hollywood were disappointed when the screen actors' guild, settling its own troubles with the producers, refused to support their strike. But the C. I. O. took up their cause, assured them of active support and promised to place 340,000 men on picket duty in important cities throughout the country. At least, that is the assertion of Charles E. Lessing, head of the striking unions.

Lessing said the film boycott would be directed at theaters in industrial areas where unions are strong. He selected New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis and St. Paul as key cities for picketing.

BRITISH royalty and the British government are at outs concerning the wedding of the duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

The duke wishes it to be public and officially supported by King George and Mary, the queen mother, with whom Edward discussed the affair by telephone. The cabinet insists the marriage should be strictly private and not attended by any member of the royal family except as a private person. Edward postponed the marriage until June at the request of his brother the king, and it is said he would yield to the demand of the government and have a private wedding; but Queen Mary and King George believe the ceremony should be public and recognized as a matter of "fair treatment" for the duke, and that his bride should be formally recognized as the duchess of Windsor.

"REMEMBER, this is the President's pet project. He wants the CCC made permanent, not extended for a two year period." So shouted Representative William P. Connery of Massachusetts at the members of the house. But the house would not heed the implied warning and voted, 224 to 24, in favor of giving the CCC two more years of life. This was in committee of the whole, and next day this action was confirmed.

The senate, forgetting all about economy, approved, 46 to 29, an amendment to the second deficiency appropriation bill which commits the government to the expenditure of 112 millions on a new Tennessee river dam at Gilbertville, Ky.

REPRESENTATIVE DIES of Texas has proposed to congress that President Roosevelt call an international monetary conference for the purpose of seeking an equitable distribution of the world's supply of gold and silver. Specifically, he would have the conference:

1. Stabilize currencies on some permanent basis that would prevent wide fluctuations in their purchasing power.
2. Establish a bimetallic—gold and silver—base for the currencies.
3. Distribute the world's gold and silver supply more equitably so as to give each nation proper support for its currency and an adequate medium of international exchange.
4. Make available to the countries involved the raw materials they need.

TO SETTLE the long pension controversy between railroad operators and their employees, a compromise bill was introduced by Senator Wagner and Representative Crosser amending the railway retirement act. Fundamental concessions to workers include eligibility for pensions for employees absent on account of sickness, increases in death benefits, and authority to include prior service in calculating length of service upon which annuities are based.

Crowned King and Queen of England

London.—Still arrayed in their regalia of the most glorious coronation the world has ever seen, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth are shown on the balcony of Buckingham palace as they responded to the cheers of thousands of their subjects who gathered outside. Between them are the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose.

American Peers

London.—Lady Astor, the former Nancy Langhorne of Glenwood, Va., shown at the coronation.

Paying Homage to George VI

London.—Seated on his throne in Westminster abbey, King George VI receives the homage of his peers, immediately after being ceremonially crowned, by the archbishop of Canterbury. One is shown kneeling before the monarch.

Hold Seats All Night for Coronation

London.—Under the famous lions guarding Lord Nelson's monument at Trafalgar square, early comers held seats all night that they might have a good view of the coronation procession.

Commoner Is Crowned Queen

London.—The archbishop of Canterbury is shown here placing the crown upon the head of Queen Elizabeth, in Westminster abbey. It was the first time in 250 years a commoner had been crowned Queen of England. She is the former Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, daughter of the earl of Strathmore.

Chair of State

London.—While sitting in the chair of state, King George VI makes responses to the prayers of the archbishop of Canterbury.

CHAPTER I

With a nice sense of dramatic values, the heel of Brooke Reyburn's shoe turned sharply as she ran across the street. She went down on one knee just as the traffic light turned green. She had a confused sense of an automobile bearing down on her, the screech of brakes, of panting cars, of arms lifting her to the sidewalk.

"Hurt?" a voice demanded.

"I'm all right, really I am. It was my silly heel that threw me," she assured breathlessly, even as she moved her knee experimentally. It worked. It wasn't broken.

"Why wear such fool heels? If you're not hurt, why did you wince?"

The man's voice was husky; his eyes had a third-degree intensity which roused a little demon of opposition. Brooke retorted crisply: "If you insist upon probing the secrets of my young life, I think I've skinned my knee."

She thought the man spoke as she merged in the stream of passers-by. She passed the building to which she had been hurrying to keep an appointment when she crossed the street. She wouldn't go in yet, she'd better wait till her still thumping heart quieted before she entered the offices of Stewart and Stewart, Attorneys at Law, she had too much pride to appear there breathless and shaken. That had been a narrow escape, not only for her, but for the man who had snatched her from the path of that speeding car, and—horrible thought—she hadn't even said "Thank you!"

If only she knew who he was she could write to him, but he might have been a stranger passing through the city whom she never would see again. In that case she would have to bear always this pricking sense of being ashamed of herself, it would bring her sitting straight up in bed when she thought of it at night.

She stopped at a flower shop. Its color and beauty were like a soothing hand on her smarting conscience. The air had but a hint of the crispness of early October.

Overhead a steeple clock chimed. The sound reminded Brooke of her engagement. She winced as she moved.

After a furtive look about, she examined her knee. Skinned. She had known it. Shreds of her silk stocking clung to the raw flesh. She winced as her lowered skirt scraped it. Her unknown rescuer need not fear that she would forget that lesson in a hurry, she thought as she entered the office of the junior partner of Stewart and Stewart.

Where was Mr. Jed Stewart? There was an open book on his large flat desk. The title fairly jumped at her.

UNDERWOOD ON WILLS

Brooke's heart did a nose-dive. Did that particular book on that particular desk mean that Stewart and Stewart were preparing to contest the will in which she had been named residuary legatee?

Silly, she derided herself, wasn't the firm executor of the estate of Mary Amanda Dane? Hadn't Mr. Jed Stewart notified her that the will had been allowed, that she had acquired a fortune, hadn't he asked her to be at his office today at four? It was her late shake-up, and this gloomy room which had started her imagination on the rampage. Where it wasn't knotty pine it was walled with books impressively, if mustily, bound in calf.

From outside came faint distant noises in the corridor; footsteps thudding, scuffling, springing past; the incessant clang of elevator doors. Inside, "Tick-lock! Tick-lock!" the wall clock marked time for the quick procession of the minutes.

And the minutes were marching along. Where was Mr. Stewart? Was it part of legal procedure to keep clients in suspense? The secretary in the outer office had shown her into this room, had said that she was expected, that the junior partner was in conference but would be at liberty in a few moments.

Restlessly she crossed to the win-

She slipped behind one of the hangings to shut off the electric light in the room behind her. What a view! Roofs. Tiers of roofs alive with pigeons. Patches of bright blue broke up the pattern of gray clouds. Weather vanes pointed to the north. Innumerable wires etched gigantic cobwebs against the sky. Skylights shone like sheets of molten brass as they reflected the sun.

Her eyes lingered on the roofs. Beneath them business units were pitched together. Honesty and fraud; virtue and vice; ups and downs; efficiency and stupidity; ambition and lethargy; each unit moving in its own orbit and each thinking itself of supreme importance in the complicated pattern of the business world. She had been buffeting her way in it for five years.

"Miss Reyburn ought to be here, Mark, but I suppose like the majority of women she has no idea of the value of a man's time."

The annoyed comment in the room behind her snapped Brooke out of her reflections. How like a man to assume that she was at fault. She would make a dramatic entrance, and then—

"Glad she is late. I told you, Jed, that I didn't want to meet her. It was a beau geste for her to offer me half of the money, all of which should be mine by inheritance. I'll make my get-away before she comes. Let her move into Lookout House pronto. I'm the only person in the world with the right to contest Aunt Mary Amanda Dane's will, and, much as I would like to own the family heirlooms and add her part of the house to mine, I won't do that. I would have to prove 'undue influence' or 'unsound mind,' wouldn't I? How could I do that when under oath I would have to acknowledge that my aunt had said she would cut me out of her will? The fact that I didn't believe she would do it wouldn't cut any ice with the court. Nothing doing. I've had publicity enough over my domestic casualty to last the rest of my life."

Brooke's hand dropped from the hanging. That must be Mark Trent's deep voice tinged with anger. By "her" did he mean herself? So he thought her offer to share with him merely a beau geste. Should she have refused to take any of the legacy? This was hardly the tactful moment to make her entrance. He was going. As soon as the door closed, she would appear and explain to Mr. Stewart why she had been at the window; meantime she would be strictly honorable and not listen. She stuffed her fingers into her ears.

At the same moment on the other side of the hangings, Jed Stewart was saying:

"I Told You, Jed, That I Didn't Want to Meet Her."

"I never did understand why Lookout House was cut in two, Mark."

"It wasn't. Grandfather Trent had two houses built exactly alike, one for his daughter, Mary Amanda, and one for his son, my father; the Other House, the family called ours. Not satisfied with that, he had them set side by side on a rocky promontory—he intended them for summer homes only—with doors through the library downstairs and the hall on the second floor and connecting balconies; he was a glutton for balconies. Aunt Mary Amanda recently has lived there the year round. I inherited Father's house, but I haven't lived there since—well, for three years. It has been closed. I haven't rented it because I thought it might be unpleasant for my aunt to have strangers near when she was wheeled into the garden which serves for both places. Now, see what she does to me. She picks up this girl and later, while I'm starting a branch office in South America, leaves her her half of the real estate and all her money. Well, I'll be off. I have a date."

"Don't go, Mark. I asked Miss Reyburn to come here this afternoon to tell her what financial arrangements have been made for her, but principally to get you two face to face so that we could straighten out this mess about the personal property in the house."

"Mees! Do you call a sound, unbreakable will a mess? Aunt Mary Amanda Dane warned me that if I married Lola she would cut me off with the proverbial shilling; then, when my divorce became necessary, she was more opposed to it than she had been to the marriage. Can you beat that for inconsistency? I've always had a hunch that the French man and wife who had worked for years might hypnotize her into leaving all her property to them—I warned her against them and somehow they found out and have hated me ever since—but I didn't think she would leave it to a comparative stranger. In my opinion, Clotilde and Henri Jacques are no better than a couple of bandits; they'll bear watching. I don't trust the Reyburn female either, her fine Italian hand crops up all through that will, but I don't like the idea of a girl living in the same house with them. However, she'd probably think I had an axe to grind. If I warned her."

"Yellow journals and hectic fiction to the contrary, lawyers don't talk about the affairs of a client, even to their best friend, fella."

"Don't blow up like a pouter pigeon, Jed. Of course I didn't expect you to tell me; equally, of course, I wouldn't try to upset that will. My aunt's High Church convictions wouldn't permit her to approve of my separation from a wife who had been sordidly unfaithful. I thought she might soften toward me when Lola married the third time, but evidently not. If she wanted to bequeath her house, her money, and her jewels to a girl she had picked up via radio, okay. But why didn't she tell me about the Reyburn female? Why not ask me to meet her before I went to South America? That's what makes me suspicious. The secrecy of their friendship. Was the girl afraid that if I knew I would try to influence my aunt against her? If I was so dense, how do you suppose she got wise to Mary Amanda's fortune? I understand that she had supper and spent a night with her once a week, the night the companion-nurse had off. She must have had a strong motive to commute 20 miles after business hours. She's a fashion adviser in one of the big shops, isn't she?"

"Yep. Worked up from a model. Mary Amanda Dane tuned in on the radio one morning just as Brooke Reyburn was giving her fashion talk. She fell in love with her voice, and wrote to the girl asking what the well-dressed invalid tied to a wheel chair was wearing. Miss Reyburn answered with such sympathetic understanding that your aunt invited her to Lookout House."

"Why Mollie R. are you going out again? My own mother has become a gadabout and all because she made herself such a pretty new dress. Really, Ma, those soft graceful lines make you look lots slimmer. I think the long rippling collar has a good deal to do with it. Or maybe it's because the skirt fits where it should and has plenty of room at the bottom."

"Yes, My Darling Daughter." "Daughter, dear, how you do run on! Imitate Sis; put your apron on and have the dusting done when I get back from the Civic Improvement League meeting. And speaking of aprons, that is the cleverest one Sis ever had. I love the way it crosses in the back."

"So do, I, Mom, and see how it covers up my dress all over. Good-by, Mom, have a good time."

"Sisterly Chit Chat." "Sis, run upstairs for my apron, won't you? I wouldn't have a spot on this, my beloved model, for all the world. It's my idea of smooth: all these buttons; no belt; these here new puffed sleeves; and this flare that's a flare."

"Just you wait, Miss, till I grow up! Your clothes won't have a look in because I've already begun to Sew-My-Own. All right, I'm going."

And so on well into the afternoon!

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

CONGRESS AND LABOR

The recent decisions of the Supreme Court upholding the constitutionality of the Wagner Act very definitely broaden the legislative powers of Congress respecting industry. They likewise increase the responsibility of Congress in this respect.

It would now seem that Congress
may have the authority to legislate respecting strikes that tie up great industrial plants and affect the people of the entire country. If so, Congress should speedily exercise its authority and provide a peaceable means of adjusting all disputes between employers and employees in these industries. It should see that in all such disputes justice is done to both capital and labor. This should be done in the interest of the general public as well as the parties more directly concerned.
The employees should be assured safe and sanitary working conditions, liberal wages, and reasonable hours.

On the other hand, the power of such men as John L. Lewis should be crushed. His species of industrial racketeering should be destroyed.
Industrial strikes should be made unlawful in all lines of industry over which the federal government has authority; and like measures should be taken by the several states to settle labor disputes over which the states alone have jurisdiction.

If the state and federal governments have the authority to fix minimum wage scales, determine the number of hours an employee may work in any one week or month, and otherwise interfere with the right of private contract, they should do a good job of it and see that justice is done all round.

FEARING BANKRUPTCY

Reared on a farm where we often labored in the fields from sun to sun and sometimes from daylight till dark, we have always been in sympathy with the man who toils.
We are always glad to see the farmers prosper and the laboring man get good wages for his toil. It is all but heart-breaking to watch the price of cotton drop and drop until the cotton farmer can realize no profit from his year's work. It is all but heart-breaking to see a poor man with a family thrown out of employment. But we are not sure but that the small business man has the hardest lot of all. When the hard years come, he not only worries by day and by night as to how he can meet his current obligations

but is constantly racked by the fear of being thrown into bankruptcy.
Some of the salaried people and even the skilled laborers have a veneranda as compared with the ordinary small businessman. — Lynn County News.

Glad to hear a word or two favorable to the small businessman.
Most of what we read, and what we hear from our statesmen, concerns the depravity of capitalists and the virtue of the humble. We seldom catch the sound of a voice pleading for justice to the small businessman. Yet he is the backbone of American trade and industry. All our American enterprises are not gargantuan corporations. All the nobility of character is not in the hitchhikers or the self-elected po-liticalians. The small businessman, counted in ten thousands, is the support of the public treasures and the spinal column of the American home. Neither disgustingly rich nor beggarly poor, the small businessman represents the potent middle class which sustains every country in peace and war. But Government in the main dismisses him lightly.
He is not vociferous, he is not organized, he maintains no lobby, but to ruin him is to ruin all. — State Press in Dallas News.

Premier Stanley Baldwin of England seems determined that no honors shall come to Wallie as the bride of the ex-king Edward that he can keep out of her reach. He is staging a fight now to keep her from becoming "Her Royal Highness" when she weds the Duke. And she and Edward are fighting back.
It reminds us of an infant trying to get an empty rattle that a tantalizing big brother is determined to keep out of its reach. Still, we are glad to see that Edward yet has a little fight in him. But if he and Wallie will get a little cottage over here somewhere, cut out the high-balls and the beer, and knuckle right down to the job of making an honest living and a happy home, we bet
they will soon develop into honest-to-goodness American citizens, and will have the love and respect of all the neighbors.

The old age pension list in this state has grown from 80,000 last fall to 125,000 now. Somebody seems to have liberalized the pension regulations. If the liberalizing process continues, we wonder what the total number of pensioners will be a couple of years hence. Our pension bill is going to be heavy enough without throwing the flood gates open to everybody, rich and poor alike, over sixty-five years of age.
The more pensioners we have, the less we will be able to pay each particular one. Had you thought of that, brother? Better confine the pension list to the needy and then pay them enough to live on.

THE DENTISTS AND FREE SPEECH

Senator G. H. Nelson writes in to us that if the "dentist advertising bill" comes up, he will vote for the bill which prohibits them from advertising. This comes naturally, as lawyers are also "ethical"—very ethical. However, we believe that when the test comes in the courts
the act will be declared unconstitutional, as it appears to be squarely in restraint of free speech and free press. And we are not much of a lawyer, either. How about it, Eec Eye?—Terry County Herald.

Well, Jack you came to the right place for advice.

However it is not considered exactly "ethical" to give legal advice free of charge. We will assume the risk, however, and give you just a bit of chimney-corner dope—absolutely free, without money and without price. Not being paid for, it may not be worth much, but our opinion is that—

You are exactly right!
We have great confidence in the integrity, patriotism, ability, and good purpose of Senator Nelson, but if he favors the bill which would forbid dentists to advertise, we believe that in this particular he is wrong. We reserve the right to change our opinion, for he may be able to show us the error of our way.

Section 8, Article 1, the Bill of Rights in the Constitution of Texas, contains this language: "Every person shall be at liberty to speak, write or publish his opinions, on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that privilege; and no law shall ever be passed curtailing the liberty of speech or of the press."

We believe that an act which would make it a criminal offense for a dentist to advertise his professional services, regardless of the content of any advertisement he might wish to publish, would be in violation of this section of our state constitution.

Let's look into the matter, Jack,
and talk about it a little more next week, though the bill will either be a law or will be as dead as a door-nail by that time.

Four bad criminals broke jail over at Longview Saturday night, locked up the jailer, stole the sheriff's radio-equipped car, and escaped. One of them had been convicted of burglary and then adjudged to be insane. Of course he was merely feigning insanity, expecting to be sent to an asylum for the insane, where it would be easy for him to make his escape. When a criminal is found to be insane upon his trial for a crime, or following the trial, the law should require that he be sent to a ward for the insane in the state penitentiary and thence removed to the regular criminal prison when he recovers from his insanity, real or feigned. Too many kind-hearted jurors are deceived by crooks feigning insanity when the penitentiary stares them in the face.

The Texas legislature will ad-journal Saturday. The prospects are now that the bill to repeal race horse gambling will not get to a vote. A minority of the senate reverently laid it away in an expensive casket several weeks ago, and its friends have never been able to roll the stone away from the tomb where it is buried. But Governor Allred has promised that if the sleeping bill is not resurrected and passed before Saturday, he will call a special session of the legislature immediately and submit a new repeal baby to the body for adoption.
For the protection of hordes of dupes, male and female, who are induced to gamble on the races, the repeal measure should go through in a whoop. The poor sims who buck the game are to be pitied, but much more are their families to be pitied. The toleration of this great gambling racket is a disgrace to Texas.

A GOOD LAXATIVE

BULLFROG

Mr. Bullfrog scoffs at man's sticky paper and other fly-catching contrivances. He's just about the best fly-catcher there is, says a writer in the Washington Post. To him it's fun, and also food. He'll eat anything if it moves. His long, sticky tongue flicks out and beetles, water-bugs, butterflies—even small mice and baby turtles—disappear. Even bees and hornets which resist attacks with vicious stings, don't make him hesitate. Stingers may plunge clear through his tongue, but down the insect goes. Only one creature stops him. That is a garter snake large enough to defend itself. Mr. Frog will swallow infant snakes, but no matter how hungry
—and he's hungry most of the time
—he'll leave a garter snake strictly alone.—Lynn County News.

No wonder the bullfrog bellows.
You would bellow, too, if you were trying to digest such a melange of heterogeneous meats as you say the bullfrog takes. In granting the b-frog feeds as indiscriminately as alleged, how does it acquire such a muscular frame? You know a bullfrog has hind legs that lift him, when scared, ten feet at a single jump. Furthermore, his legs continue to act jumpy when put into the frying pan and the heat turned on.
It would seem that no creature which feeds on such a miscellany of dreadful victuals could be fitten for man to eat, yet we all know that frog legs are considered a prized delicacy by the gourmards.
Such meats is a bit too fishy for Texas taste, but the French are fond of it because their culinary custom is to drown all natural flavors with artificial ones. They love everything in piquant sauces and think they are fond of the original flavor when in fact they are crazy about the dip they put on it. The French chef, at home, takes a steak the size of a postage stamp and smears cheap condiments over it, then makes his family eat it and like it. The French are an ingenious people.—State Press in Dallas News.

Upon his return to Washington, President Roosevelt announced that there would be no compromise in his fight for power to revamp the Supreme Court. He insists that he must be given power to appoint as many as six additional justices if the six members of the Court over 70 years of age do not retire or resign. He will not compromise on a lesser number. The issue is clear-cut. Shall he be given the power to "ominate the Court and practically dictate its decisions, or shall the independence of the Court be maintained? He will again appeal to the people. He will again go on the air.

In the meantime, Jim Farley will continue to turn on the political pressure. It remains to be seen whether or not Congress can be controlled.

Navajo Craft Designs Used in Super Chief

FROM the Navajos of the picturesque southwest, the Santa Fe drew the inspiration for the design of its new stainless steel streamline train, the Super Chief, newest of the luxury trains in the west.

The rich colors associated with the country through which the train travels have been used as the background for decorations, faithfully reproducing the art and craft of the Navajo Indians. Sand paintings, silver craft and weaving have been skillfully combined with rare woods and modern design to give the train all the beauty and color of the desert. The train was built by Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia. The locomotive was furnished by the Electro-Motive Corporation of Chicago.

Throughout the train, each compartment has its own color scheme and arrangement, and each has been designed so that suites may be formed by use of connecting doors.

In the cocktail and observation lounges has been preserved much of the beauty of Navajo life. Sand paintings have been used in the pier panels to illustrate the characters which occur in the story of Dolly Noyani, the "Myth of the Mountain Chant." All of the figures are executed in native colored sands and charcoal.

Coverings are reproductions of rare Navajo museum pieces, and lighting fixtures have been adapted from the fourth painting of Dolly Noyani. The "Plumed Arrows" have been fashioned into glow lights and a rear table lamp employs the sacrificial knife stem for a base with its shade fashioned of goat skin.

NEW LYNN STUDIES CORRECT POSTURE

"Correct Posture as an Aid to Health," was the subject of the papers read by Mesdames Newman Bartley, John Meeks, and Doyle Terry at the home of Mrs. Claude Roper Tuesday, May 18.

The farm woman takes enough exercise to have good health and a nice figure also if she would do her work in the right way. In lifting she should not slump her shoulders and bring all the strain on the back muscles, but should bend the knees slightly and use the muscles of the abdomen. One's feet have a great deal to do with the health. A stocking too short in the foot can cause quite a bit of trouble as well as too short a shoe. To turn the toes out causes weak ankles, and one does not walk very gracefully if you will notice them walking, and when you walk with your toes turned in you also throw the body out of balance and weaken the structure of the feet, causing many different ills.

Two new members were enrolled, Mrs. T. D. Fishman and Mrs. Lucille Roper.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. P. K. Fleming June 1. Visitors were: Mesdames Roy Kelly, T. H. Winkler, and Everett Smith.

Members present were: Mesdames C. L. Walker, Alton Fleming, John Meeks, A. P. Cooper, Newman Bartley, Claude Roper, J. A. Jaynes, P. K. Fleming, Doyle Terry, H. A. Winkler, Susie Bartley, and C. B. Caviness.

NEW HOME GIRLS HAVE FINE MEETING

"You should choose the style of your collar according to the shape of your face," said our county agent, Miss Lillith Boyd, to the New Home 4-H Club girls Friday, May 14.

The girl who has a round or square face should wear a v-shape neck line in order to make her face appear longer. The girl who has a long face should wear a round collar, which helps to add shortness and less pointedness to her face and chin. We also have a type of girls who have long necks and short necks. The girl with a long neck should wear a rather high collar in order to make her neck appear shorter. The girl with a short neck should never wear a high collar. She should wear a low neck line so as to make her neck appear longer.

We are to have our Club dresses started by our next meeting. The president of our club, Reva Veach, appointed a committee composed of Maxine Ratliff, Marie Veach, and Sude Karney to decide what day we will meet after school is out.

We have 40 girls enrolled in our club and of our 40 enrollment we had 37 present. We had two visitors, Mrs. Jones of Tahoka and Mrs. J. T. Carter of New Home.

KITCHEN SHOULD BE LIFE-SAVING

"We want to make this our goal: to make our kitchens life-saving, by saving steps, time and energy," Miss Boyd told the Midway Home Demonstration women at Mrs. Pete Curry's home May 13, at 2:30 p. m.

An extension and exhibition committee was appointed. Mrs. I. M. Draper and Mrs. Pete Curry discussed the Short Course at Canyon May 4.

The Midway Club members who attended this Short Course were Mesdames I. M. Draper, Pete Curry, and H. A. Rowe.

Mrs. W. B. Wheat and Miss Maxine Floyd were visitors at the club meeting.

Members present were: Mesdames Pete Curry, Rufus Slover, I. M. Draper, R. B. Floyd, Sam H. Floyd, and H. A. Rowe.

Judge B. P. Moddox was in Clovis Monday on professional business.

MRS. EDWARDS HOSTESS TO THREE LAKES CLUB

"Good posture is essential for nice appearance and good health," said a club member to the Three Lakes Club in the home of Mrs. Wright Edwards May 7.

Regardless of how nice our clothes are, they will not be attractive if the individual doesn't have the correct standing and sitting posture. Shoes should be very comfortable in order to walk correctly.

Relaxing exercises should be taken every day. The back should never be strained in taking exercise. In the absence of Mrs. Wright Edwards, Mrs. Carol Edwards acted as hostess. Six members and one visitor were present.

W. A. Reddell, rural mail carrier at Chico, was a visitor in Tahoka the first of the week. It is reported that he and S. A. Fain have made a deal to exchange routes, the change to become effective on July 1.

NEW HOME BOYS FORM BOYS' 4-H CLUB

Mr. V. F. Jones, county agent, met with the New Home boys who were interested in 4-H Club work and a club was organized with about fifteen members.

Club officers were elected May 14. Olin Parris was chosen president, T. J. Poindexter vice president, Lloyd Russell McCormick secretary, and A. C. Balch reporter.

The club will meet the second Friday in each month with the county agent at New Home.

B. C. Hughes of Greenville is here this week visiting his cousins Mrs. R. C. Forrester and Clay Hughes.

Joe Bob Billman, who is attending a business college in Abilene, visited the home folks here Thursday of last week.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION IS GIVEN THE TABORS

Mr. and Mrs. Tabor of the Dixie community were honored with a birthday celebration at their home last Sunday by members of the Dixie Church of Christ and other friends. A big feast was served at noon. Elder R. P. Drennon of Tahoka made a talk during the afternoon.

Sixty-eight people were present as follows: Mrs. Erede Clements, Mrs. Emma Hatchell, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Manor and two children, Miss Catherine Ball, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Short and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Biffie Cabe and daughter, Mr. Tom Moore, Junama and Lavare Moore, Lois Lee, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moffitt and two children, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Murrar, Sarah and J. N. Murrar, Mr. and Mrs. B. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Perry and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willingham and two children of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Lishman and daughter; Bro. and Sister Drennon, Miss Lollie Murrar, Mrs. Salsberry and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Stephens, of Tahoka; Mr. Tabor's mother, Mrs. M. B. Tabor, Slaton, and three sisters, Lillian, Carrie, and Odell, and two nieces and nephew and cousins of Post; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graves and two boys, Mrs. J. L. Poss, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peabworth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kyles and two sons and Alice Reed.

METHODIST WOMAN'S SOCIETY IS ACTIVE

An interesting lesson was given by Mrs. Fenton on Pentecost at the regular session of the Methodist Missionary Society on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Carmack made a good talk on Missionary Fields, giving intimate glimpses of each place where our church conducts missionary enterprises.

On Saturday a "Buy or Bake" Sale will be held at Boulloun's. See the good things offered and get your Sunday dinner. Do you like angel food cake, pies, etc. etc.? Get them fresh and home-cooked. Every Methodist woman is asked to co-operate, as an effort is being made to have our parsonage as comfortable and the premises as attractive as our own homes. We need your help.

The congregation responded generously to the call for help with the parsonage. The need was explained by Mr. Bill Sewell in a most able and business-like way. The entire amount was given.

Beginning with June at our regular session time, an intensive study of Genesis will be taken up. If you would like to join us in this study, you would be gladly welcomed.

The Society under Mrs. Bucy, as president, is doing good work, but we need every one of our women at the task in order to accomplish the year's plans. Loyal, willing service is a beautiful asset to any organization. So, come and help us.—Reporter.

CLASS FOR MARRIED WOMEN IS GROWING

Did you attend the Young Married Women's Class at the Methodist Church last Sunday? If not, you missed a very interesting and instructive lesson. Since we reorganized the class it is growing fast and we hope to have a perfect attendance in a short while. We extend a welcome to all visitors and new members. Come to this friendly class next Sunday.—The Marthas.

William Garland Haney of Roscoe is here this week visiting his uncle, L. C. Haney, and is assisting in the store.

NOTES FROM PEN OF ELDER DRENNON

I had a very pleasant day last Lord's Day — spoke three times, twice here and in the afternoon at Brother and Sister Tabor's home, where a few of us from Tahoka, attended a birthday dinner given in honor of their birthdays by the Dixie Church of Christ. While I enjoyed the fine dinner of well prepared food, I appreciated the fellowship more. Among the Dixie brethren are to be found some of the best people I have ever known.

Last week I spoke of an embarrassing time or two in life. I might mention another or so.

I was called to hold a meeting in East Texas. It was almost dark when I got to the church house and as I was thirsty I asked about some water. They directed me to a well back of the house but did not say anything about the barbed wire fence, so I ran into it and tore a large hole in my trousers. What was I to do? I did the only thing I could do—borrowed some pins and pinned it up but there were more points to those pins than to my sermon.

Another time I was asked to hold a meeting in the rough part of Oklahoma. I was met at the depot by an old man and boy in a big old fashioned wagon. They had a spring seat and a box in the wagon to ride on. I was put on the box. The wagon had no springs; neither did the box. The road was awfully rough and I was jolted until I felt like all my teeth would come out. The distance was 16 miles. I stood it about as long as I could, and was just getting ready to ask them to stop and let me get out and walk awhile when we drove up in front of a store, which was half way.

The old man said: "Well, preacher, get over on the spring seat. We always try the new preacher on the box to this store and if he can stand it we know he can hold us a good meeting." I was sure glad the store was just half way, believe it or not.

Everyone is urged to be on time or a little early for services next Lord's Day morning so that we may get through in time for the Baccalaureate sermon at the high school. I will fill the pulpit at O'Donnell next Lord's Day.—R. P. Drennon.

METHODIST CHURCH

Our church service is gradually growing in numbers and efficiency. Last Sunday we had the largest attendance in six months.

We will meet promptly at 9:45 next Sunday and dismiss at 10:45 to go to the High School auditorium for the Commencement exercises.

Our Young People's services at 7:15. Our evening's service is at 8:15.

By increasing the appetite, improving digestion, Cardui helps you to get more nourishment. As strength returns, unnecessary functional aches, pains and nervousness just seem to go away.

MISS MARION HOOPER MARRIED IN SOUTH TEXAS

Miss Marion Hooper, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hogan, who has visited here a number of times and who spent several weeks here this spring, became the bride last Saturday of Mr. Jackson L. Floyd of Alice. They left immediately after the ceremony on a honeymoon trip to Mexico City.

Miss Hooper was reared at Archer City, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hooper of San Diego, Texas. For several months she has been doing special religious work under the direction of the Baptist State B. T. U. organization. She has been active and very proficient in this kind of work in Tahoka the past few months, and she made many fast friends here.

Mr. Floyd is an auditor, and is now engaged in some branch of the Government service.

Billie, little son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hays out at T-Bar, fell from a wagon one day last week and broke his arm. He was taken to Lamesa for treatment.

NAZARENE PASTOR TELLS IMPORTANCE OF A PLAN

These are still very busy days. These are also planning days. We are planning what we will do if we make a good crop or when we get our vacation. Some never plan from the fact they have no hopes. Many times our plans are broken up. But to those who never plan because of no hope and to those whose plans are never perfected, I must tell you of a plan that never fails and that's the Plan of Salvation. There is no such a thing as a Christian Vacation in this world in the terms of what we call a vacation, as laying aside our duties, responsibilities, and the Lord's work in general. But if a vacation is in the terms of pleasure, joy, or rest, or even gaining New Strength, in these terms every day is a vacation. With a Christian, things that are worth while are things that are well planned, but planning without pushing the plan is our greatest hindrance today.

Mark, second chapter, tells of a sick man, and four men decided to take him to Jesus, but they did more than plan; they took him. If God is your partner, make your plans large. Plan to go to church somewhere Sunday.—Jno. R. Ferguson, Pastor.

James (Skinner) Connolly was able to come down town Wednesday morning, the first time in two weeks or more. He has been suffering from an attack of the flu.

University of Texas Three Million Dollar Administration-Library Building Completed

Below Left

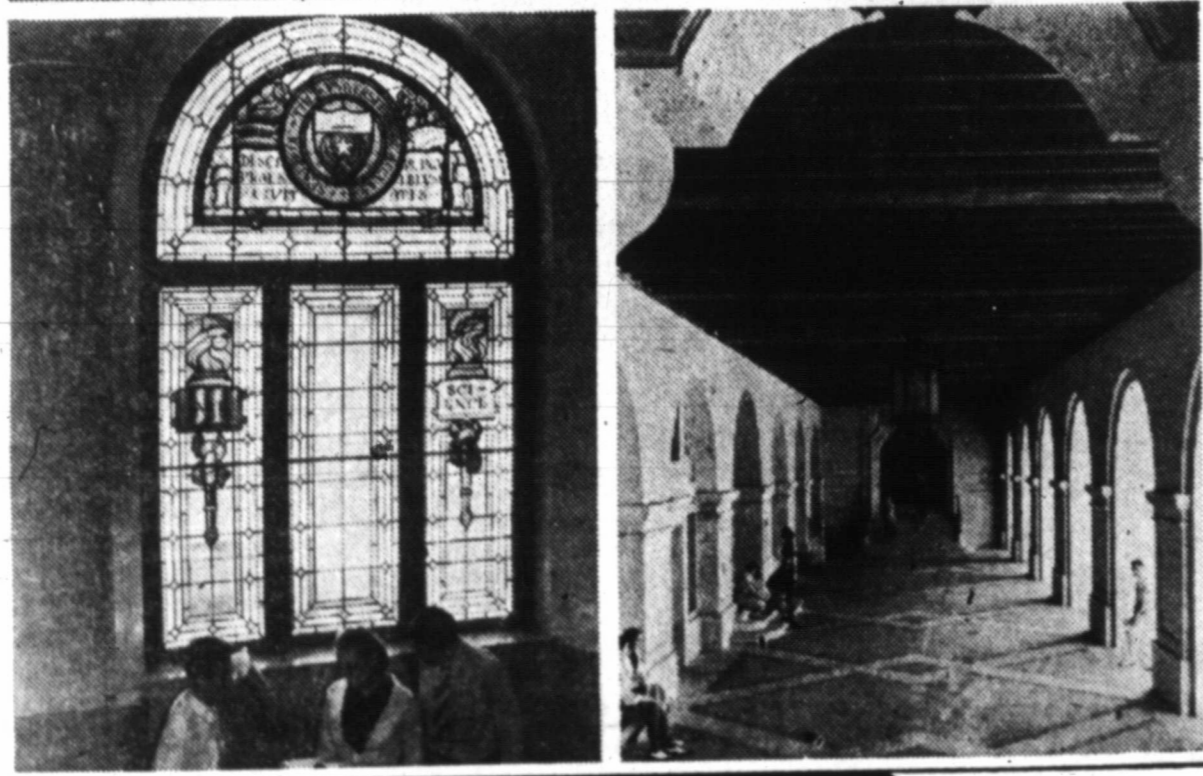

STAINED GLASS WINDOW IN NEW BUILDING—REMOVED FROM OLD MAIN BUILDING

New Administration-Library Building—University of Texas

Below Right

ORNAMENTAL TERRACE IN FRONT OF MAIN ENTRANCE TO NEW BUILDING

With only a few minor details yet to be attended to, the new unit of the Administration-Library Building of The University of Texas, located in the center of the main campus at Austin, is ready for occupancy. The cost of the two units comprising the imposing structure, including fixtures and furniture, totaled approximately three million dollars. Not a penny of this sum came from the taxpayers. From an architectural standpoint, the tower, 308 feet high, with its 28 book-stack stories, is its outstanding feature. Its higher elevation causes it to rise several feet above the Capitol dome. In addition to book stacks, its space will be devoted to offices for a number of members of the faculty. The new unit of the building contains the offices of the president, registrar, auditor, comptroller, librarian, and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. Among the many attractive features are two rooms, exposed on three sides, and entirely glass-enclosed, for pleasure reading. Students who attend the 1937 summer session will be the first to have opportunity to use the completed form.

Spray Now If You Would Control The Insects

—And sudden death!

This is a murder story, but it isn't a mystery murder. Plans for the crime are now being made through out the country. Everybody knows about the imminent disaster that is about to sweep across the nation. And, believe it or not, most everybody is rejoicing over the whole affair.

The scene for this wholesale slaughter that is about to take place is in almost everybody's garden.

With garden vegetables just beginning to show their heads in this section, Miss Magdalena Clements, Home Management Supervisor for the Resettlement Administration, is warning all gardeners to stand guard against insects which annually infest gardens and which, unless destroyed, damage or completely destroy garden truck.

There are two distinct types of insects which invade and attack plant life. They are commonly classified as the biting and the sucking insects. Biting insects are combated by applying poisonous chemicals to parts of the plants attacked so that each insect will take some of the poison into its stomach when it swallows the plant particles. The sucking insect is destroyed by physical contact with the poisonous chemicals, ordinarily applied to plants in dust or spray form.

The most commonly used control mixtures are Paris Green, Bordeaux mixture, and nicotine sulphate. These chemicals are among the most inexpensive ones and can be purchased at the drug or seed store, with instructions for mixing. Miss Clements says the Resettlement Administration is encouraging all borrowers to raise bigger and better gardens as a very definite step in rehabilitation and health. She also suggests that persons desiring to obtain complete information about methods of control for all plant insects and plant diseases write for bulletins now available from their state Extension Service, through their county agents or State Agriculture College.

Midway

The Midway school was out last Thursday and Friday, with a picnic and Seventh Grade graduation exercise. Every student was given a diploma Thursday night by their teacher, Mr. McWhorter. The valedictorian was Nieto Stephens and the salutatorian was Jim McDonald. They received a diploma of honor. Icaphene and Nieto Stephens was awarded a diploma for not being tardy or absent during the school term.

The teachers of Midway were given a farewell party Friday night by their pupils.

A $35,000,000,000 Debt—and H.C.L.

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Within the past few weeks the nation has heard protests from two great groups of citizens against increasing costs of living. They ask protection from the threat of further rises.

During the same period it has learned that our national debt has passed the thirty-five billion dollar mark—reaching an all-time high.

To economists these facts bear an interesting relation to each other.

Why?

Not only because a thirty-five billion dollar debt means a mortgage of $270 against the future earnings of every man, woman and child in America.

Not only because public debt has an unpleasant habit of stretching over future generations, and thus constitutes a lien on the labors of future generations.

Not only because public debt means, in reality, postponed taxes, which both this and the coming generation must pay.

But also because excessive public debt is generally recognized by economists as the road to inflation—with all its ballooning of the cost of living.

Despite promises of balanced budgets, our national debt has continued its steady ascent during recent years. Billion by billion it has climbed to its present altitude.

Again Washington has promised that the mad ascent will cease. Congress must be reminded of that pledge.

For if our public debt continues to mount, and brings the threatened inflation in its train, fantastic rises in the cost of living will no longer constitute a mere threat. They can become a grim and tragic reality.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Henderson returned recently from a stay of several weeks at Christoval. Mrs. Henderson's health improved very much while there. Unfortunately, however, they were driven out of their cabin by a flood that swept down the South Concho as a result of heavy rains, and so they decided to come back to Tahoka, where Mr. Henderson was needed to supervise repairs on the West Texas Gin No. 1, of which he is local manager.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sikes and baby of Waco are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sikes, in the Three Lakes community this week. J. R. has been an employee in the First National Bank of Waco the past several years. He visits here each spring or summer.

ERROR CORRECTED

Last week in reporting the escape of a candy salesman who paid a fine in the county court for aggravated assault, we stated that he had gone to a private residence to collect a debt.

The occupant of the residence reports that the salesman did not come to the residence for that purpose, since he owed no debt, but did come to straighten up something that had been said about his conduct. We gladly make the correction.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lewis are the parents of a little daughter, who was born in the Lubbock Sanitarium Saturday night. The mother was in a precarious condition for a day or two but is now improving.

UNIVERSALLY POPULAR

The "Sunday School Lesson" published each week in this newspaper has been adopted by thousands of church instructors throughout the United States as a regular part of their weekly work. It is a review and exposition of the international lesson for each week, prepared by Dean Harold L. Lundquist of the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, a recognized leader in the nation's church work. Dean Lundquist has been active in teaching youthful groups for years, thereby acquiring an insight into the needs of these people for understandable explanations of Bible passages. In view of his accomplishments in church work, it is not surprising that Dean Lundquist's exposition of the weekly Sunday School lesson is being used in almost every community of the nation. As teacher or student you will find it extremely helpful.

A JOINT RESOLUTION
 Proposing an amendment to Section 16, Article XVI, of the Constitution of Texas; providing that the Legislature shall authorize the incorporation of banking bodies and provide for the supervision and regulation of same; providing for all of the capital stock to be subscribed and paid for before charter issued; restricting foreign corporations from doing banking business; restricting corporate business to one place.

Be resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1. That Section 16, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:
 Section 16. The Legislature shall by general laws, authorize the incorporation of corporate bodies with banking and discounting privileges, and shall provide for a system of State supervision, regulation and control of such bodies, which will adequately protect and secure the depositors and creditors thereof.

"No such corporate body shall be chartered until all of the authorized capital stock has been subscribed and paid for in full in cash. Such body corporate shall not be authorized to engage in business at more than one place which shall be designated in its charter.
 "No foreign corporation, other than the national banks of the United States, shall be permitted to exercise banking or discounting privileges in this state."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Monday in August, 1937. At this election all voters favoring the proposed amendment shall write, or have printed, on their ballots the following words:
 "For the amendment of Section 16 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the amount of the liability of stock-holders in State banks."

Those voters opposing said amendment shall write, or have printed, on their ballots the following words:
 "Against the amendment of Section 16 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the amount of the liability of stock-holders in State banks."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and to have same published as required by the Constitution and the amendments thereto.
 Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such election.

The above is a true and correct copy.

A JOINT RESOLUTION
 Proposing an amendment to Article III, Section 52, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 52d; providing that the Legislature may authorize by law, after a majority vote of the resident qualified electors owning taxable property therein, the adoption of a plan for the construction of paved roads and bridges or both in Harris County and in road districts therein; providing for the levy of a tax to pay for such construction; providing for the necessary proclamation; and appropriating funds to defray the expenses of the proclamation, publication, and election.

Be resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1. That Article III, Section 52, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto another section to be known as Section 52d, which shall read as follows:
 "Section 52d: Upon the vote of a majority of the resident qualified electors owning taxable property therein so authorizing, a county or road district may collect an annual tax for a period not exceeding five (5) years to create a fund, for constructing lasting and permanent roads and bridges or both. No contract involving the expenditure of any of such fund shall be valid unless, when it is made, money shall be on hand in such fund."
 "At such election, the Commissioners' Court shall submit for adoption a road plan and designate the amount of special tax to be levied; the number of years said tax is to be levied; the location, description, and character of the roads and bridges; and the estimated cost thereof. The funds raised by such taxes shall not be used for purposes other than those specified in the plan submitted to the voters. Elections may be held from time to time to extend or discontinue said plan or to increase or diminish said tax. The Legislature shall enact laws prescribing the procedure hereunder.

"The provisions of this section shall apply only to Harris County and road districts therein."
 Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State on the fourth Monday in August, 1937, at which election all voters favoring such proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the amendment to the Constitution providing that Harris County and any road district therein may upon a vote of the people therein adopt a road plan and levy taxes for road and bridge construction in lieu of the issuance of bonds"; those voters opposing said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "Against the amendment to the Constitution providing that Harris County and any road district therein may upon a vote of the people therein adopt a road plan and levy taxes for road and bridge construction in lieu of the issuance of bonds."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
 Proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adopting a new Section to be known as Section 51-c which shall provide that the Legislature shall have the power to provide, under such limitations and restrictions as may be deemed by the Legislature expedient for assistance to the needy blind over the age of twenty-one (21) years, and for the payment of same not to exceed Fifteen Dollars ($15) per month each, and providing for payment of such assistance or aid only to actual bona fide citizens of Texas and providing that the requirements for the length of time of actual residence in Texas shall never be less than five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the application for such assistance and continuously for one year immediately preceding such application; and providing that the Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Government of the United States financial aid for assistance to such blind; providing for an election on the question of adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof and prescribing the form of ballot.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1: That Article 111 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended, be amended by adding thereto a Section to be known as Article 51-c which shall read as follows:
 "Section 51-c. The Legislature shall have the power by General Laws to provide, under such limitations and regulations and restrictions as may be by the Legislature deemed expedient, for assistance to the needy blind over the age of twenty-one (21) years, and for the payment of same not to exceed Fifteen Dollars ($15) per month per person; such assistance or aid to be granted only to actual bona fide citizens of Texas; provided that no habitual criminal and no habitual drunkard and no inmate of any State supported institution, while such inmate, shall be eligible for such assistance to the needy blind over the age of twenty-one (21) years; provided, further that the requirements for the length of time of actual residence in Texas shall never be less than five (5) years during the nine years immediately preceding the application for assistance to the needy blind over the age of twenty-one (21) years; and continuously for one year immediately preceding such application."
 "The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Government of the United States such financial aid for assistance to the needy blind as that Government may offer not inconsistent with the restrictions hereinabove provided."

 Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the fourth Monday of August, 1937, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:
 "For the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for assistance to the needy blind over the age of twenty-one (21) years not to exceed Fifteen Dollars ($15) per month per person, and providing for acceptance from the Government of the United States of America financial aid for such payment."
 Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:
 "Against the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for assistance to the needy blind over the age of twenty-one (21) years, not to exceed Fifteen Dollars ($15) per month per person, and providing for acceptance from the Government of the United States of America financial aid for such payments."
 If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.
 Sec. 4. The sum of Nine Thousand Dollars ($9,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

"The Halifax Explosion"

By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

DON'T believe it hurts any of us to stop once in a while and take stock, to reflect how lucky we actually are. That's one reason why I'm telling today the adventure of Mrs. B. A. Henneberry of New York, N. Y. It's an incredible tale, this story of how out of two hundred people living within range of an explosion, only ten survivors remain—of whom Mrs. Henneberry is one.

Mrs. Henneberry's house was at 1406 Barrington street, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada. Because the large row of houses was owned by a Mr. Flynn, it was known as Flynn Block. The day was December 6, 1917.

At 8:30 a. m. the Henneberry children, all five of them, were getting ready for school. The two oldest children had just left the house, and the younger ones were eating their breakfast.

A hundred yards out in the harbor, directly across from Mrs. Henneberry's house, several boats lay at anchor, one of them carrying ammunition, for this was during the World war.

The Ammunition Ship Exploded.

Mrs. Henneberry, wishing to make sure the children had gone around the corner to school, as was her custom went to the front door and opened it.

In the harbor, she noticed a cloud of smoke rising. She remembers hearing someone say, "MY GOD, THE BOAT'S EXPLODED!" Then a blast of air lifted her bodily.

She lost consciousness. Mrs. Henneberry's husband had served overseas with the second draft of the Sixty-thirds. On the day of the explosion he was in the hospital. When he heard the noise of the explosion, he said to one of his buddies, "The Germans have got us," thinking it was an air raid.

Just then one of the boys came in and said, "No, Ben, all the North Side is blown up, one of the boats exploded carrying ammunition."

When Ben Henneberry heard that, he said: "My family is up there." Hastily he assembled some of his friends and started for the north end of the city. All the soldiers and sailors were out to help them.

Throngs of Hysterical People.

The city was roped in because all the people who had relatives living there were trying to rescue them—shouting and yelling and nearly going mad with fear and anxiety, so Mrs. Henneberry relates. If the people were not stopped—some of them—they would actually run into flaming buildings.

Into this rush of hysterical human beings, Ben Henneberry pushed his way, making with agonized premonition for the unrecognizable mass of fallen stone and timbers that had been his home.

When Mrs. Henneberry came to, after the explosion, she was lying in the cellar of her home. All around her she could hear people screaming for help. She was completely pinned by the large timbers and foundation of her house. She was lying on her back, and all she could do was to move her fingers, she says.

One thing, and that only, saved her from being burned to death. Her home was so close to the water that the waves washed all over the demolished building, extinguishing flying sparks. Otherwise, Mrs. Henneberry says, "I wouldn't be here to tell the story."

Not far off, completely crushed and buried under timber and debris, lay one of Mrs. Henneberry's children. She could hear the child moaning and crying, but she could not move to help her. After a while she heard the child's cries cease, and she knew she was dead.

Their Five Children All Dead.

At three o'clock, Ben Henneberry, frantic with grief, came upon the unconscious form of his wife, and the scattered bodies of his five dead children. Of this I simply cannot write. No words of mine could ever portray this scene, nor would I if I could. Suffice it to say that the grief-stricken husband and his friends assisted in putting Mrs. Henneberry on one of the numerous boats that were taking victims in relays to a hospital in the south end of the city.

So extensive was the damage that all hospitals were jammed, victims were taken to the colleges for treatment and hospitalization. Mrs. Henneberry says she was taken to the "Women's College." Some doctors and nurses from Massachusetts had been sent along, and she happened to be one of their patients. She was so badly hurt that she just lay numb for three weeks. When she got out of the hospital, she had to walk on crutches for a year.

While Mrs. Henneberry was in the hospital, her family doctor came into the ward and was talking to one of her neighbors. Speaking of Mrs. Henneberry, he remarked how badly he felt, after being her doctor for so many years; for, he said, he could hold out little hope for her. When Mrs. Henneberry heard him say that, she spoke up: "No, doctor, I'm still here."

"He was the most surprised man I ever looked at," Mrs. Henneberry says.

Relatives in Massachusetts mourned her as dead. On Christmas Day they got word she was still alive—"The best Christmas present they ever got," they said.

Nature Supplies Power and Ice From Volcanoes

Sometimes Nature supplies power for nothing. The people of Larderello, in the Province of Pisa, Italy, live at the foot of an active volcano.

Every unit of heat, power, and light used in the town is obtained from its fiery interior, thus saving the citizens endless expense and taxation. In addition, commercial borax is obtained from "blow holes" in the hillside, relates a writer in London Answers Magazine.

The people of Styria, Austria, live beside another kindly mountain. This is "Der Erzberg," the Iron Mountain, which is 5,000 feet high and contains about 300,000,000 tons of iron ore—fifty per cent of its volume.

There is another iron mountain in Sweden—Kiruna, which is 2,455 feet high and contains more high-grade iron than any other equal area on earth, for seventy per cent is pure iron.

Needless to say, both these mountains have been exploited by the communities who live in the vicinity.

Nature has also her own gas-works. Medicine Hat, in Alberta, has for years obtained gas and light from inexhaustible subterranean generating stations. There are a number of wells which supply fifty miles of houses and streets.

Welland, Ontario, also has a natural gas supply, and so has some of the Mid-Western of the United States, but in the latter case gas is sent by pipeline from Texas—where the wells are—800 miles away.

Mexico has a volcano that produces ice. This is Colima, which sometimes bursts into activity. By some freak, huge hailstones fall continuously round the crater. These are collected in special bins, conveyed to distant towns, and sold in cafes and hotels.

The Tree Fish

Among the strange creatures in Australia is the mudskipper. It swims, walks on land—why it even climbs trees. The fish, found in rivers of Northern Queensland, are generally about 10 inches long. A real freak of nature, they have lungs in addition to gills. Their thick front fins are about the shape and size of frogs' legs. On these they walk. A mudskipper usually goes ashore pursued by a crab, its mortal enemy. To escape it ascends the roots of a mangrove tree, many of which grow near the shore. Thus it gets another name, "mangrove fish."

Isaac Watts, Hymn Writer

Isaac Watts, the hymn writer, was born at Southampton in 1717. From 1696 to 1701 he was a tutor in the family of Sir John Hartopp. He became minister of the independent church at Mark Lane, London, 1702, resigning in 1712 because of ill health. "Watts was a popular writer and his theological works were numerous. His treatise on "Logic" became well known, but his reputation rests chiefly upon his hymns. He died in 1749.

AROUND the HOUSE Items of Interest to the Housewife

Making Cocoa—Cocoa loses that raw taste if made with half milk and half water, then boiled. More nutritious and digestible, too.

Milk Puddings—Orange peel shredded very finely makes an excellent flavoring for milk puddings. It is a pleasant change from nutmeg when added to rice pudding or baked custard.

Cleaning Combs, Brushes—A teaspoon of ammonia in a quart of water will remove all grease and dirt from combs and brushes, after which they should be rinsed and dried in the sun.

Fitting Your Hat—If you have a tight felt hat, hold it in the steam of a boiling kettle. When the felt is thoroughly damp it is easy to stretch it to the right size.

Tough Pastry—Too much water will make pastry tough.

Devilled Egg Lilies—Hard cook as many eggs as there are to be servings. Chill, then peel carefully. With a sharp knife cut strips from the large end to the center; remove yolks, mash and season with salt, pepper, mayonnaise and a little Worcestershire sauce. Carefully refill cavities having the white strips form the petals of the "lily." Lay each on a bed of curly endive. Accompany with cheese straws.

Uncle Phil Says:

Could We But Hear—We laugh over the "private lives" of the ancients. What will posterity think is the funniest about ours? We realize what an offense swearing is when a woman indulges in it. Some one said long ago that "Today's crisis will be tomorrow's joke." Strikes us that the funny paragraphs have been making jokes about today's crisis right along.

Keeping Cheese Moist—To prevent it from becoming dry, keep it wrapped in butter muslin, or in the glazed hygienic paper in which some bread is wrapped. WNU Service.

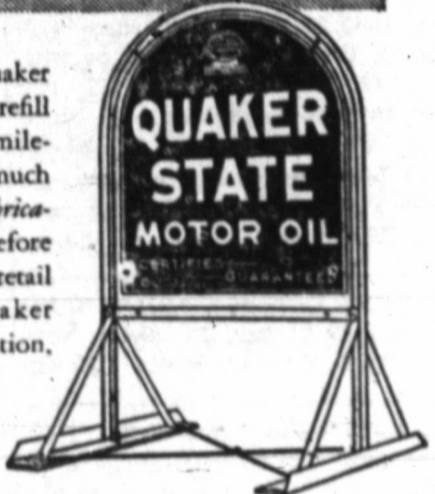

Never a Full House

The House of Representatives of the United States has never had an opening session in any of the 74 congresses with every member present. The closest approach to a 100 per cent attendance was at the opening of the Seventy-second congress on December 7, 1931, when 433 of its 435 members answered the roll call.—Collier's Weekly.
