Gun Discharge Is Fatal To Citizen Near Petty

Poet L. Hagins, 40, Shoots Self While Crawling Through A Barbed Wire Fence.

Poet L. Hagins, 40, residing on the old Redwine place just west of the Mrs. Elton George farm in the Petty community, came to his death some time Monday morning by the accidental discharge of a 12-gauge shotgun, according to the verdict rendered by Justice of the Peace W. S. Swan in an inquest hearing conducted at the home early Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hagins had left the house with his shot gun earlier in the morning, stating that he was going to see about some cows breaking into his farm from the T-Bar pasture. When two or three hours had passed and he still had not returned, one of the children went to look for his father. The child found the dead body by the side of the wire fence that separated the Hagins field from the T-Bar, the gun lying near by. He immediately ran back to the house a half mile distant and notified the other children. Neighbors were notified and also the sheriff's office here.

Sheriff B. L. Parker, Deputy Sheriff Norvel Redwine, Justice of the Peace W. S. Swan, and County Attorney Rollin McCord hurried out to the scene, and Justice Swan conducted an inquest. They found that the discharge of the gun had entered directly into the chest, passing through the heart, and had lodged about the base of the shoulder blade. Death must have been instantaneous. Deceased had apparently just climbed through or over the barbed wire fence, and it is presumed that in some way the hammer of the gun was caught by the wire, causing the gun to discharge.

Mr. Hagins had resided on the Redwine place about four years, coming to that place from the vicinity of Meadow. He was married to Miss Lizzie Pitcock at Lamesa on April 5, 1921, but the wife died about four years ago. Surviving are a son and four daughters. The son, P. L. Jr. is about 12 or 13 years of age. The four daughters, Rosa Lee, Dollie Mae, Joyce, and Jo Ann, range in ages from fifteen to five years.

Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hagins of Seminole, two sisters and four brothers. The sisters are Mrs. A. W. Brannon and Mrs. G. R. Blair of Seminole, and the brothers are Hugh of Spur, George, Ben, and Ira of Seminole.

Deceased was a member of the Church of Christ.

The body was taken to Lamesa and buried beside the remains of the wife. Funeral services were conducted by Elder J. C. Foster of the Lamesa Church of Christ and burial was under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home of this city.

The relatives, the children in particular, have the deepest sympathy of many friends.

Drennon Family Is On Extended Visit

Elder R. P. Drennon and family of the local Church of Christ left Monday morning to visit his mother and two brothers in San Antonio and a brother in Waco, after which they expected to spend a day at the Pan American Exposition in Dallas.

On next Sunday Elder Drennon is to begin a two weeks revival meeting in his old home town in Grayson county. He held a very successful meeting there last summer, and the people wanted him to come back.

He indicated that his plans for the following year have not yet been perfected. Many friends here are hoping that he and family come back to Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Hutchison and two little sons and Mrs. Hutchison's mother, Mrs. A. A. Zachery, of Shreveport, Louisiana, left for home early Thursday morning after a few days visit here with Dr. and Mrs. K. R. Durham. Mrs. Hutchison is Mrs. Durham's mother.

Claude Donaldson On A-M Program

Claude Donaldson, manager of the Farmers Cooperative Gin No. 1 here, was notified early this week by the chairman of the program committee that he had been placed on the program of the Texas Institute for Cooperatives to be held in connection with the Farmers' Short Course at College Station August 16 to 19.

Claude is to appear on the program on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 17, and the subject which has been assigned to him to discuss is Presenting Annual Reports of Cooperative Gins.

Smith Argues Case Before High Court

District Attorney and Mrs. Truett Smith returned Monday morning from Austin, where Truett argued a civil case before the Commission of Appeals, a kind of adjunct to the Supreme Court.

Smith represented J. T. Christopher, the plaintiff, in the case of Christopher vs. The Carolina Insurance Company, which was tried in the district court here in March, 1934. Plaintiff recovered judgment for the sum of $2,750 on a fire insurance policy covering property of plaintiff situated in a service station operated by plaintiff and destroyed by fire in December 1933.

From this judgment the defendant insurance company appealed to the court of civil appeals in Amarillo, where the case was heard and the judgment affirmed in January, 1935. The defendant then appealed to the Supreme Court and the case was referred to the commission of appeals.

A decision is expected to be made by the Supreme Court within a short time.

A. W. Greer Family Suffers Misfortune

A. W. Greer and family of South Ward have had more than their share of misfortune this year, it would seem.

In January, a team ran away with a wagon and threw Mr. Greer out, breaking the bones of the left foot. He was confined to his room several weeks and is still compelled to use crutches in walking. In spite of this handicap, however, he has been running his plows and making a full hand in the field.

On Monday of last week, his son Cecil, 13 years of age, was stricken with appendicitis and had to undergo an operation in a Lubbock sanitarium. The boy underwent the ordeal bravely, however, and has been steadily recovering. He was brought back home Tuesday of this week.

These misfortunes were not only very painful physically but they were also very expensive. Mr. and Mrs. Greer are very thankful, however, that they have good, kind neighbors, who helped them in many ways to bear their misfortunes.

Draw Lease Block Near Completion

H. W. Calaway of Draw and Tom McKinney, representing the C. O. Collins Oil Company of Fort Worth, returned Saturday from an extended trip through central and north-east Texas, whither they had gone in quest of lease contracts on lands lying within the confines of the territory surrounding Draw being blocked for an oil test. They procured a number of leases, Mr. Calaway says.

Points visited were Waco, Cooper, Paris and other places. H. W. says that it was a most interesting trip. He believes that there is but little doubt that the block will be perfected and a test well drilled in due course of time.

TAHOKA AT LITTLEFIELD
Frank Larkin states that Tahoka baseball team will play the Littlefield team under the lights on the Littlefield diamond next Wednesday night. A number of Tahoka people will probably go up to see the game.

Conducts Revival . . .

Baptists Attend Ceta Canyon Camp

Mrs. George A. Dale and four members of the Baptist Y. W. A., these being Misses Lois Goad, Berta Hill, Beryl and Edith Robertson, left early Monday morning to attend a three-days encampment in Ceta Canyon, a few miles east of Happy.

Following the close of the encampment Wednesday afternoon, all of the party visited the Palo Duro Canyon and the cities of Canyon and Amarillo, returning home that night.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Homer Harrison and Mrs. H. L. Roddy chaperoned a group of Baptist G.A.'s to the encampment. The number comprised Vinita Cooper, Mary Beth Roddy, Ruth Roddy, Rae Fern Pennington, Wanda Dyer, Betty Lois Ivey, and Ethel Goad.

Will Montgomery Is Some Better

The condition of Will Montgomery Wednesday night, who is in the Mercy Hospital in Slaton, was reported to be much improved. He underwent a blood transfusion Monday, the blood having been furnished by Wade Holland, and a second blood transfusion Wednesday, the blood furnished by Melvin Greathouse. A number of Tahoka people went to Slaton and offered their blood on each occasion.

It is now believed that Mr. Montgomery has a fair chance to recover.

G. E. Jones of Abilene, proprietor of the string of Jones stores, and his son, W. B. Jones of Baird, spent Tuesday night here. Mr. Jones was making his regular monthly visit to his store here operated by G. W. Simmons.

W. S. Anglin was a business visitor in Canyon Monday. He was accompanied by his little son, Roy.

Winners Announced In Clothing And Poultry Contests Held Saturday

The 4-H club girls clothing and poultry contest held in the high school auditorium here last Saturday was a most interesting and successful affair.

Almost a hundred girls participated in the contests. Representatives of all the nine 4-H girls' clubs in the county were present but the members of one club did not enter the contests.

Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent of Lubbock county, who did the judging, was generous with her praise of the work the Lynn county girls are doing.

Sixty-two dresses were exhibited and thirty-three girls entered containers in the canned chicken contest, thirty-three participating in the scoring.

Woman Charged After Husband Dies In Fire

Bob Johnson of Pleasant Valley Burned To Death Early Sunday Morning.

Following a court of inquiry held in Post Monday, Mrs. Cloe Johnson, 21, was charged with the murder of her crippled husband, Bob Johnson, 22.

The charges grew out of the burning of the two-room house in which the two lived in the Pleasant Valley community in Garza county a short distance east of the Lynn county line about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. The body of Johnson was almost consumed in the fire. The arms and legs, it is said, were gone and only a comparatively small portion of the torso was recovered from the embers of the fire.

Soon after the fire, Mrs. Johnson appeared at the home of a neighbor, Mrs. J. I. Northcutt, sobbing. She claimed that she had been awakened only to find that the residence was aflame and that in her fright and excitement she rushed out of the building without arousing her sleeping husband. Almost immediately, she explained, the walls and roof collapsed.

After an investigation into the circumstances of the fire by County Attorney Joe Moss, a complaint charging murder was filed against Mrs. Johnson and she was placed in jail. Relatives employed ex-District Attorney T. L. Price to represent her. Truett Smith of this city, district attorney, went to Post Tuesday morning to further investigate the case.

Mrs. Johnson's parents reside at Merkel. She and Johnson were married in November, 1934. They have no children.

Johnson suffered an injury to the hip about a year ago while operating a tractor, which reared and fell back upon him. He was treated for the injury in the Lubbock Sanitarium. Three years ago he graduated in the Southland high school, and his parents reside in the Pleasant Valley community near Southland.

Brownfield Test 2,600 Feet Deep

Drillers had reached a depth considerably more than 2,600 feet in the Brownfield oil well situated a half mile west of the Lynn county line and four miles south of highway No. 84 Wednesday night, according to M. R. Hemphill, who blocked the leases and promoted the drilling of the well.

The anhydrite formation was reached a few days ago at a depth of 2236 feet, we understand. Unusually rapid progress in drilling has been made thus far, but progress hereafter will necessarily be much slower.

President and Mrs. J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers College of Canyon were here Tuesday visiting in the editor's home and interviewing Hon. Tom Garrard, member of the State Board of Education.

Mrs. Frank Hill is visiting her parents at Crosbyton this week.

City Is Planting Grass In Park

Steps have been taken by the city council this week to beautify the city park.

The grounds have been ploughed up, the weeds destroyed, and Bermuda grass seed planted on the south half of the park. Hydrants have been turned on, spraying the top soil, and if hopes are realized the grounds will soon be covered with a carpet of grass.

Pipes were laid throughout the park and hydrants placed at convenient intervals several months ago.

The city council is to be commended for this progressive step.

Mrs. Jno. Garner Is Here Again

Mrs. John Garner, wife of the Vice President, passed through Tahoka again Monday morning and stopped a few minutes at the Gulf Service Station, the same place where she and her distinguished husband stopped when passing through Tahoka a few weeks ago.

The only one of our citizens except the service station attendants who had the pleasure of an interview with her was our affable county attorney, Rollin McCord. Before he could get an interview he had to assure her that he was not a newspaper man. Mrs. Garner, it seems, has been continually beset by newspaper reporters since she and the Vice President returned from Washington.

Mrs. Garner Monday morning was returning to her home in Uvalde after having visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tully Garner in Amarillo. In company with her daughter-in-law she made a trip last week to Taos and Santa Fe and other points of interest in New Mexico.

Texas Tech Students Make Honor Roll

Lynn county students in the Texas Technological College making the spring semester honor roll with an average grade of A, according to information furnished the News by that institution, were: Miss Allice Weathers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Weathers of Tahoka; Mrs. Grace Thompson Dyess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Thompson of Tahoka; and Miss Elizabeth Tadlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tadlock of Wilson.

Those making the honor roll with an average grade of B were: Mr. Ruby Lee Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gray; Marian Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Draper; Miss Marietta Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Montgomery; Miss Lela Frank Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Greer; Mrs. Irene Spears; Sylvester Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reese; Clinton Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Walker; all of Tahoka; and Clytus Parris, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Parris, of Wilson.

Three Lakes School Coming To Town

Three Lakes school students will attend the Tahoka schools again next year as the result of an agreement reached by boards of the two districts here Tuesday night.

The Three Lakes school has been closed about three years and the students are transported to Tahoka by bus. About twenty-five or thirty students are affected by the trade.

Mrs. N. M. Bray and little grandson are here this week looking after her property. If Mr. Bray can satisfactorily arrange their affairs at Longview, where he is in business, we understand that they will return to Tahoka to live.

C. L. Adams of Slaton is here substituting for Joe Heare as agent at the Santa Fe Station while the latter is up at Eagle's Nest Lake in the mountains of northern New Mexico angling for trout.

Three Schools Of County Joining New Home

Lakeview, Petty, Joe Stokes, and New Home Group For Large Rural High School.

At an election held last Saturday, the voters of four school districts lying in the north and northwest portions of Lynn county decided that the four districts should be grouped for high school purposes. These districts are New Home, Joe Stokes, Petty, and Lakeview.

Several months ago the Joe Stokes and New Home districts decided to combine for high school purposes, the high school to be maintained at New Home. Later, the Petty district was admitted, and immediately thereafter agitation was begun for the admission of Lakeview also.

Considerable opposition to the proposal developed in the Lakeview district, but finally an election was called and was held last Saturday throughout the four districts.

The proposal carrier in each of the four districts, although the vote was very close at Lakeview. The results as found by the county board were as follows:

New Home—for grouping 47, and against 4.

Petty—for 21, against 1.

Joe Stokes—for 16, against 0.

Lakeview—for 44, against 40.

The New Home district contains 154 scholastics, the Joe Stokes district 68, Petty 100, and Lakeview 140, a total of 462 scholastics. Approximately 100 of these are high school students. Four buses will be used in transporting the high school students to New Home. A few of the high school students in the Lakeview district who have been attending the Meadow High School will be allowed to continue their attendance at Meadow during the next year. It is probable that a few students from other districts will be transferred into the grouped district.

School for the first seven grades will be maintained in each of the districts composing the group, as heretofore.

The faculty for the grouped district will consist of 15 or 16 teachers. J. T. Carter of New Home is superintendent. It is expected that there will be four other teachers in high school. In the grade schools: three teachers at New Home, three at Petty, two at Joe Stokes, and three at Lakeview. Principals are: Garland McWhorter at Petty, R. L. Jameson at Joe Stokes, W. N. Lewis at Lakeview, and Mr. Fannin at New Home.

Cotton Fields Call For Much Labor

Mrs. W. J. Burckhart, who lives out a few miles southeast of Edith, was in town Monday morning and stated that their crop was looking fine, though a part of it was still badly infested with weeds because of the fact that for two weeks following the recent rains it was almost impossible to procure help. There were many other crops in Lynn county in the same condition for the same reason.

There has been little excuse during the past several weeks for any able-bodied man in Lynn county to be out of a job.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Nicholson, who left for Merkel last week preparatory to the opening of a produce house in Coleman, came back to Tahoka Tuesday for their household goods. They have procured a residence in which to live in Coleman and were planning to open their produce business immediately. They were accompanied back to Coleman by Mr. Nicholson's mother, Mrs. A. O. P. Nicholson.

Rev. George A. Dale was called to Greenville last Friday to officiate at the funeral services of an aged lady who died early that morning. Rev. Dale had been her pastor many years ago and was a long-time friend of the family.

H. B. McCord and Boyd Smith were business visitors in Amarillo Wednesday.

C.I.O. Steel Grip Loosens

THE grip of the C. I. O. continued to loosen in the steel strike as three big independent steel corporations—Republic, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube—reported more than two-thirds of their idle mill hands had returned to work. This covered plants in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Inland, the fourth of the steel independents, announced that it was operating with its normal force of 13,000 in Indiana since it and the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee signed a compact with the state labor commission. Steel production in the Youngstown, Ohio, area, one of the principal scenes of strike violence, climbed to 76 per cent of capacity, 3 per cent points above the operating figure before the start of the strike.

Strike Riot Kills Two

ONE striker and one policeman were killed and twenty men were injured at an aluminum plant in Alcoa, Tenn., when rioting broke out as 3,000 strikers started a back-to-work movement. The plant, belonging to the Aluminum Company of America, had been closed since May 18, when the strike was called by the Aluminum Workers of America, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. Difference in wages paid at Alcoa and at the company's plant in New Kensington, Pa., was the issue in the strike. State troops were on hand, but Adj. Gen. R. O. Smith, in charge, said that they were there merely to protect rights, and no martial law had been declared.

Lewis Scans the Sea

JOHN L. LEWIS sought to expand the scope of his Committee for Industrial Organization by invading the maritime industry. With Harry Bridges, west coast longshoremen's leader, he sought to unify scattered maritime unions in one big industrial organization dominated by the C. I. O. The American Federation of Labor already has two strong unions in the maritime field, so this action brings Lewis into another point of friction with William Green's organization. The nation has 250,000 marine and coastal workers.

'Compromise' Takes Bow

SENATOR M. M. LOGAN, Democrat, of Kentucky, presented the "compromise" version of the President's Supreme court bill to the senate, apparently with the blessings of Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson and the chief executive. In form an amendment to and substitute for the old Ashurst administration bill, the new draft authorizes appointment of one new justice to the court each year for every justice remaining on the court after reaching the age of seventy-five years. Under its provisions the President would be permitted to name one new justice this year (besides filling the vacancy left by the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter) and assure him of at least one new appointment to the court in each remaining year of his present term of office. All of the appointments would hinge on the decision of justices seventy-five or older on retirement.

The opposition immediately charged that the new bill was as offensive as the old one. Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, said: "The compromise is not going to get through. The new bill is just as objectionable as the old, because it seeks to pack the Supreme court just like the original bill did." Sen. Edward R. Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, said the 43 senators would vote against any kind of measure that would increase the Supreme court.

Some of the other provisions of the new bill were: Authority for 20 additional appointments to lower courts in the event that judges over seventy fail to retire. The old bill would have permitted 50 new appointments altogether.

Speedy intervention by the government in cases involving constitutionality of federal laws, and speedy appeal to the Supreme court.

Rebels Fall from Madrid

SPANISH rebel forces which took Bilbao after the city's first successful siege are still finding Madrid a tough nut to crack. In a two-day battle the loyalist forces broke through the siege lines about the city, captured the villages of Villanueva de la Canada and Brunette, and threatened to cut the besieging rebels off from their main forces. So nearly successful was the attempt to rout the rebel forces that the latter were forced to admit new troops might have to be withdrawn from other fronts, delaying temporarily the drive on Santander, next rebel objective on the Biscayan coast.

Meanwhile, the fall of Bilbao was expected to add 150,000 refugees to the constant stream pouring into loyalist Valencia. Although some of the refugees remained in France, where they were first taken, the vast majority preferred to go to Catalonia, where the government takes care of them at its own expense. Nearly 1,500,000 had arrived in Valencia since the start of the war and 300,000 have remained there.

Bingham's 4th of July

ROBERT WORTH BINGHAM, United States ambassador to London, became the third prominent American to bring down the fury of Nazi Germany's officialdom and press when, in an Independence day speech before the American society in that city, he declared Uncle Sam had been forced by the dictator countries to join Britain in an armament race. Mayor LaGuardia of New York and Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago had been other recent Nazi targets.

The ambassador was quoted as saying: "There must be some (of the dictatorships) who realize that they have imposed upon the British commonwealth and the United States an armaments race."

"We did everything in our power to avert it, but it is a race, and the British and ourselves must inevitably win. I admit the strongest arguments that can be made for dictatorships—they offer a better method of preparing for war. But I am sure that democracies provide a better way to finish a war." The Nazis charged that the ambassador had insulted Germany and Italy with his "arrogance and ignorance." Voelkischer Beobachter, the official newspaper, added: "If there is any talk of defense, then we should speak of defense against the arrogant and teacher-like attitude of the defenders of western ideals."

Navy Hunts for Amelia

FOUR ships of the United States navy, with attendant airplanes; two ships of the Japanese navy, and a British freighter scoured the vast wastes of the South Pacific in an effort to find and rescue Amelia Earhart Putnam, America's No. 1 woman flyer, and her navigator, Fred Noonan. The pair had been forced down before completing the 2,570-mile hop from New Guinea to Howland island, a "leg" of their 'round-the-world flight.

Signals received from the hapless flyers were so weak that it was impossible to tell whether they were afloat at sea or marooned on some tiny island, and as the days passed it became doubtful that many of the radio messages which served as clues for the searchers were from the two at all. Storms over the area of the sea in which they were believed lost hampered searchers and minimized possibilities of a rescue.

So alarmed was the world at the loss of Amelia and her companion, the United States even sent out the giant aircraft carrier Lexington with 98 planes aboard, which, it was said, could explore an area of 36,000 square miles in five or six hours.

After stoutly denying the marriage which aroused the whole nation when it was revealed in 1935, she did an about-face and confessed it, although denying she had ever lived with the vaudeville player as his wife. Her admission was necessitated when she answered Wallace's suit for declaratory relief in a Los Angeles court.

Nation Finds More Jobs

NEARLY 35,000,000 persons are now employed in non-agricultural pursuits, the federal reserve board has announced. This is only 1,000,000 or 1,500,000 shy of the average in 1929 and 8,500,000 to 9,000,000 more than in March, 1933.

"Assassins of the Nile"

By FLOYD GIBBONS

Famous Headline Hunter

YOU know, boys and girls, I have often said that you'll find adventure close to home a darned sight easier than you will roaming the world. One who goes traveling in search of thrills usually doesn't find any until he gets back into his own bailiwick again. But there are exceptions to every rule—and here's one of them. George C. Dorste of Bardonia, Rockland county, N. Y., met his biggest thrill when he was thousands of miles away from home and in a strange exotic country.

The country was Egypt, and George landed there in the course of his travels as a fireman on a tramp steamer. The steamer was carrying scrap iron, unloading it in consignments of various sizes at ports along the Nile river and its many branches. The year was 1912, and the ship had traveled part way up the Nile and was anchored in the river just south of the town of Medinet El Fayyum.

The ship was anchored not far from a pier. The weather is pretty hot in Egypt. In the afternoon, particularly, the sun beats down with such intensity that it is next to impossible for anybody but a native to do any work. It was at the height of the hot season, and the crew of the steamer, dripping sweat from every pore of their bodies, were just about all in. Along in the afternoon the skipper gave orders for all hands to knock off work for the rest of the day.

The men didn't argue about that. Most of them just walked to the shaded spot they could find on that hot ship, flopped on the deck and rested. But there were a half dozen young fellows—George among them—who had a better idea. They stripped off their clothes and dived over the side into the water.

A Dandy Day for Lazy Sport.

The water was cool and refreshing. Those lads were in it, off and on, for the better part of the afternoon. They came out, now and then, for a breathing spell on the ship's deck, but the sun beating down on the iron hull of the vessel made it so hot that they were glad to get back in the water again.

The afternoon wore on and the sun began sinking toward the horizon. As its scorching rays withdrew little by little, the day became cooler. One by one the swimmers climbed back aboard the steamer and stayed there. Finally all of them were out of the water except one. And that one man was George Dorste.

George loved the water and he hated to leave it. He was swimming some distance away from the ship's side, and about half-way between it and the pier. As he splashed about in the river he heard a voice calling on shore and, looking up, saw a native standing on the pier.

If George Had Only Been a Linguist!

The native was shouting to George, but in a language he didn't understand. Then suddenly, he began to point toward the ship. George could figure out only one reason for that pointing. He immediately jumped to the conclusion that someone aboard had dropped something over the side and wanted him to retrieve it.

The great reptile was between him and the ship.

He turned and swam slowly toward the ship. The native on the pier kept right on yelling, but George paid no attention. And then, suddenly, he saw it—a thing that looked like a log floating in the water, but a log that had a rough wrinkled snout and a pair of glassy eyes just showing above the surface!

A crocodile!

The great reptile was between him and the ship—and not more than twenty feet away from him. A shudder went through George's body when he saw it. He turned and began swimming toward the pier. But the pier was a great distance away—or at least, so it seemed to George. He knew that beast could catch up to him in less time than it takes to tell the story.

He Looked Like Good Meal to Crocodile.

He was swimming as fast as he could—exhausting himself in a spurt for the pier. And the crocodile was following along behind. It seemed to George that the great reptile never approached any closer than that original twenty feet—the distance that had separated them when he turned toward the pier. Was the beast playing with him, as a cat would with a mouse? Or was it waiting until George had exhausted himself in the swim toward shore before those cruel jaws opened and closed over him?

Still swimming frantically, he reached the pier. And then another terrifying discovery greeted him. As he made frenzied efforts to climb up the piles that supported the pier, he found that he couldn't. Those piles were covered with a slippery moss. He could make no headway up them. And all the time, now, the crocodile was coming closer, swimming slowly toward what it knew must inevitably furnish it its evening meal.

By now, George was mad with terror. He was still clawing and scraping frantically at those smooth, moss-covered piles, when the native on the dock came to his rescue. Suddenly, the native picked up a huge piece of scrap iron from a pile on the dock, and hurled it at the swimming crocodile. The piece missed. The native threw another—and that one found its mark. It hit the beast on the snout, and it dived beneath the surface.

Native's Accurate Peg Saves George's Life.

By that time a boat had been launched from the ship. It came tearing across the water as George's shipmates pulled hard on the oars. It reached George a few seconds after the crocodile had gone down.

"As they pulled me out of the water," George says, "I lost consciousness for a minute or two. But I came back to life before the boat had reached the ship—in time to see the steely eyes of the crocodile which had reappeared once more. It was following along, not more than ten feet behind the boat."

And George says that if he'd had a gun then, it would have given him the greatest pleasure to aim it right between those two glassy eyes and pull the trigger.

Elements Needed for Plant Growth

The elements essential for plant growth are hydrogen, oxygen, carbon, nitrogen, potassium, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, iron, chlorine and sulphur. Certain plants make use of other elements, but they are not considered essential. With the exception of potassium, phosphorus and nitrogen, these elements are prepared in most soils in sufficient quantities to meet the plant's need. Green plants use carbon dioxide from the air in making starch. The other foods come normally from the soil.

Blackberry Jelly.

3 cups (1½ lbs.) juice
4 cups (1½ lbs.) sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin
To prepare juice, grind or crush thoroughly about 2 quarts fully ripe berries, (not black caps). Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (If there is a slight shortage of juice, add small amount of water to pulp in jelly cloth and squeeze again.) Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a 3 to 4 quart saucepan and place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 7 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbances. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Hot Weather is Here—Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms or warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calomel, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts, combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. Trial package ten cents. Family pkg. twenty-five cents. At drug stores. (Adv.)

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS—AND OF CONTRACT

For several years the big city dailies have been accused of catering to high finance, which is more or less true. But occasionally they come clean editorially on issues that concern the common people and help to put them over. But now, it seems these journals are just about on their last legs as a free and independent press. So long as union organization stayed in the back shop, good and well. But now the publishers have the American Newspaper Guild to contend with, who are affiliated with Dictator John L. Lewis' CIO. These men man the news as well as the editorial policy of the papers for which they work, and of course, dictator like, all news and other matter not in line with their organization, can and will be suppressed. Thus, we find that the oft maligned country weekly and small city daily remains the only free and untrammelled bulwark of a free and independent people, who believe that it is a God given right for them to work when they wish, quit when they wish, but have no right to stop the other man should he wish to keep working—Terry County Herald.

We are strongly inclined to believe you are right, Jack.

But unfortunately, the U. S. Supreme Court, by one of those famous 5-to-4 decisions, has recently held that you are dead wrong.

The four old moss-backs are with you, but the five "liberals" are against you.

There was a fellow named Morris Watson in the employ of the Associated Press.

He joined the American Newspaper Guild, which is hooked up with Lewis' C. I. O. outfit, and became very active in his efforts to unionize the reporters and editors employed by the Associated Press.

That organization decided it did not further need his services and fired him.

He filed complaint with the National Relations Board created by the Wagner Act, one of Franklin D.'s New Deal measures, charging that the Associated Press had violated the Wagner Act in discharging him because of his Union Labor activities.

The National Labor Relations Board found in favor of Watson and ordered the Associated Press to reinstate him.

The A. P. thereupon appealed to the courts, and in due course of time the case reached the Supreme Court.

The A. P. contended that the Wagner Act, in so far as it undertook to dictate whom the A. P. should or should not employ, interfered with the freedom of the press and with the right of private contract and was unconstitutional.

The four "reactionary old fossils" on that Court—Sutherland, McReynolds, Vandevanter, and Butler—whom you and others slightly higher up have been trying to kick off the Bench, held that the A. P. was right, that the Wagner Act as applied to the A. P. did interfere with the freedom of the press and that it did interfere with the freedom of contract.

But the five "liberal" members of the Court—Hughes, Brandies, Cardozo, Stone, and Roberts, the latter being a new convert to the "liberal" group—held that the freedom of the press was not involved, that the Associated Press was engaged in interstate commerce and was therefore subject to regulation by Federal law, and that the Wagner Act did not violate the freedom of contract.

Justice McReynolds, in a dissenting opinion delivered in another one of the four cases decided that day involving the Wagner Act and the freedom of contract, said: "An employer has some rights under the Constitution and he should be free to select the men he would hire. That's essential to business. But Congress has seen fit to say that you may not discharge a man you hired yesterday. . . . The right to contract is fundamental and includes the privilege of selecting those with whom one is willing to assume contractual relations. This right is unduly abridged by the act now upheld."

So, the "liberal" majority on the Supreme Court, Jack, have held that you are wrong, and the old "fossilized," horse-and-buggy days minority have held that you are right.

Don't you think you ought to quit kicking that minority around?

But listen, Jack; take warning. If you keep on preaching that good old Democratic doctrine contained in the editorial above and keep on lining up with those old fossils on the Supreme Court, the first thing you know somebody will be calling you a Republican.

BOOZE NEWS

There are many illicit liquor stills operating in Texas today. That is not news.

Officers raided one of these stills near Dallas a few days ago, captured 18 gallons of whiskey, and destroyed 350 gallons of mash. That is news, for it rarely happens.

Many mere boys in Texas are buying and drinking plenty of booze, both licit and illicit, these days. That is not news.

But a 15-year-old youth, with the smell of liquor on his breath, came clean when questioned in juvenile court in Dallas a few days ago and told the judge where and from whom he had bought the liquor. That is news; for boy boozers usually lie when questioned as to where they buy their booze.

The above incident is one among thousands that might be brought to light if officers would only do their full duty in raiding illicit liquor joints and running down bootleggers, and if buyers of booze would only tell the truth.

It all shows how beautifully the liquor business is being controlled since they threw Prohibition out the window.

ONE INDUSTRY THAT HAS NOT BOOSTED PRICES

The printing and publishing industry, which stands about fourth in the number of employees and the amount of payrolls in the United States, is the only one so far that has not advanced prices materially on either subscriptions or advertising.

Not only that, but the owners and their employees are having to pay almost twice as much for what they eat, wear and use as they were two years ago. Taxes are constantly being advanced to where it is already a hard matter to make a stab at paying them, although most publishers and printing establishment owners are not burdened with property other than that from which a living is derived. One reason is, that competition is really competition in the printing industry. They do not have "understandings" with each other as do lots of other businesses. And there is never any city ordinance passed to keep out stationery salesmen.

A great many newspapers are making money for their owners, but they are usually the metropolitan variety, which have built up a huge circulation, and get an almost prohibitive price for their advertising. But country weeklies nor small city dailies can't hope to do anything like that. Yet there seems to be literally thousands of people that want in the newspaper and printing game, thinking that it is a modern gold mine—Terry County Herald.

We hate to mention it, Jack, but if this thing keeps on you and I may have to make application to the Government for a bonus, subsidy, rentals, or something, for the advertising we didn't get and the news we didn't publish.

All hope of finding poor Amelia Earhart seems to have vanished. It was a daring attempt that she made to span 2,500 miles of sea and then land on a small island. The indications are that her fuel gave out before she found the island and she and her traveling companion found their graves in the depths of the sea. Of course it was foolish, as all dare-devil stunts are, but if she had landed safely we would not have been impressed with the folly of the flight. The daring are never counted foolish until disaster comes.

It seems that representatives of labor organizations have been organizing cotton pickers down in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and these have been demanding higher wages. If and when these union labor leaders succeed in getting the Negroes and Mexicans in large numbers to join the Cottonpickers Union, the farmers of Texas may be compelled to pay much higher prices for cotton-picking than they have been paying heretofore. It may be difficult for these leaders to get the Negroes and Mexicans to join such a union and stick to it, but it is not impossible. Of course this class of laborers have the same right to organize as any other class but their unionization will more directly affect the farmers than the unionization of any other class of laborers. We are wondering if a New Deal in farm labor also has really arrived.

The fellow who insists that everybody over 65 years of age regardless of their wealth should be placed on the pension rolls is not the real friend of the aged needy. The more there are on the rolls the thinner must be the spread. The well-to-do and the wealthy should not be allowed to gobble up any part of the bread and meat for the sustenance of the unfortunate and the penniless. The real friend of the aged poor is he who would eliminate the fat and greedy parasites from the rolls and keep them off.

MISS LOUISE HANCOCK WEDS GEORGE HANCOCK

Miss Louise Hancock and Mr. George Hancock were quietly married Sunday morning, July 11, at 9 o'clock in a single ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. S. K. McCulloch of New Home read the ceremony.

Mrs. B. M. Hays sang "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. Henry Heck, who also played the traditional march.

Only the near relatives of the contracting couple were present.

Mrs. Hancock is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hancock of near Tahoka. Mr. Hancock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hancock of New Home. Both are ex-students of Texas Tech.

A reception followed the ceremony in which the bride cut the wedding cake, which was served with coffee to the guests.

The couple left immediately following for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, and other points, after which they will be at home at New Home, where Mr. Hancock will be affiliated with the Co-operative Gin Company.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Snowden, Rudolph, and Julia visited Mr. Snowden's sister and family at Littlefield Sunday. His sister, who has been seriously sick for some time, is now much improved.

METHODIST WOMEN HEAR MRS. FENTON

Mrs. Fred Bucy opened her home Monday afternoon to the Society.

Mrs. Fenton was the speaker for the occasion, giving a graphic, interesting and delightful account of her recent trip through the West, including California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming. She saw a fleet of seventeen Marine boats as they passed under the new Golden Gate bridge, and had the privilege of going through one of the vessels "to the very top," directed by a fine young midshipman. She swam (?) in Salt Lake, visited the Mormon Tabernacle (she is still a Methodist), and saw Alcatraz, but as she had neither neighbor, kith, nor kin over on the island, didn't get to visit Mr. Capone. Some mountain heights and hair-pin turns made her feel like she was aging prematurely and her hair was turning gray.

Mrs. Bucy served cherry pie a la mode and punch.

Mrs. Walden will entertain the Society next Monday at her home in the Gas Company building in Bible study of Gen. 4, 5, 6, and 7 chapters.

The parsonage is being treated to a new runner for the hall and linoleum in the bath.

Come and help the Society to do its distinctive work of devotional, recreational, and civic program.

Senator Robinson Dies Suddenly

The sudden and wholly unexpected death of Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas Tuesday night was a shock to the entire nation. It stunned Congress, and threw the leaders in the Supreme Court fight which was being waged into utter confusion.

Senator Robinson's dead body was found early Wednesday morning sprawled on the bath room floor of his apartment near the Capitol in Washington. Death resulted from an attack of heart trouble.

Since 1933 Robinson had been the Democratic leader in the Senate. He was a man of great ability and influence in Congress and, in party councils and enjoyed the esteem of both Democratic and Republican colleagues in the Senate. It was generally believed in Washington that he would be appointed by the President to succeed Justice Willis Van Devanter on the Supreme Court.

Brief funeral services were to be conducted in the Senate Chamber today, and the remains were then to be carried to Arkansas for burial.

C. R. Riley of this city, we understand, is a nephew of Senator Robinson, though he is out of town at this time and we could not get this information definitely confirmed.

Midway

Miss Icaphe Stephens, Reporter

We are still trying to have singing at the Midway school house every Sunday evening. We want every one to come.

Mrs. L. M. Nordyke and daughter Clara Faye are visiting relatives in Cottonwood.

Waltheal Ray and Phillips Littlepage of San Antonio are visiting their uncle, Mr. R. L. Littlepage.

Miss Bessie Rainey spent Saturday night and Sunday with Marcelene Stephens.

Mrs. Ina Phillips returned home Saturday from the hospital and is steadily improving.

Mr. Cleveland Littlepage spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Littlepage.

The Midway 4-H Club girls are proud to say that they won more places at the Dress Parade Saturday than any other club in this county. They won four places.

Thos. A. Sides of Lubbock was here Thursday visiting his brother-in-law, Gilmer Aycock.

Judge B. P. Maddox made a trip to Clovis, New Mexico, Wednesday on professional business.

Which Is the Beauty?

First glances at the Most Beautiful and Most Popular girls at Texas State College for Women leave some doubt as to which is which, since both could well qualify for beauties. However, facts reveal that Miss Irene Pyle, left, is the lovely lady, and Miss Judith Stegman, right, was elected most popular. Miss Pyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pyle of Celeste, is a senior English major. Miss Stegman, whose home is in Brownsville, is active in college dramatics and will receive her degree in Speech this August.

Goad Speaker At Rotary Club

At the meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday, the committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of having a county fair, consisting of J. B. McPherson, V. F. Jones, and Leonard Craft, made its report, declining to either approve or disapprove the proposal, but requested discussion by the members of the club. Tom Garrard made a speech in favor of the fair and Rollin McCord briefly expressed his approval after which President Wynne Collier appointed additional members on the committee, and asked that they further consider the matter.

County Judge P. W. Goad spoke on The Status of County Affairs. He declared that financially the county is in good condition.

Specifically, he directed attention to the plans of the American Cyanamide Co. of New York to erect a plant on the line of Lynn and Dawson counties eight miles west of O'Donnell. He pointed out the advantages of having the plant erected on the north side of the line and asked the cooperation of the members of the club in an effort to bring about this result.

Judge Goad also discussed the prospects of getting highway No. 84 improved from Tahoka to Post. He thought the prospects were good but said he needed all the help he could get to induce the state highway commission to get the matter under way.

He was assured by President Wynne Collier that the club would do all in its power to assist in the matter.

CONNOLLYS LEAVE FOR ARKANSAS REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Connolly and daughter Geraldine, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. James Connolly and daughter, Miss Doris, left Thursday to attend a big reunion of the Connolly families at Siloam Springs, up in the Ozarks of Arkansas.

This has been an annual affair for the past seventeen years, usually held at Siloam Springs. Families from Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico are expected to be in attendance.

More than 100 persons attended the reunion last year.

The Connollys will be gone several days.

TAHOKA CLUB MET WITH MRS. CECIL SHAW

The club met in the home of Mrs. Cecil Shaw at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Boyd gave some good points on bringing food preservation up to date. A ventilated storage room should be provided for canned and stored foods, she said. Cellars, basements, dug-outs, and the ventilated pantry, if properly constructed and ventilated, can be made to meet these requirements in Texas.

A well organized pantry makes meal planning easy, because the general food divisions suggest the daily food needs of the family.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Nelms. Our meeting time has been changed from 3 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. J. P. West was a visitor of the club.

Members present were: Mmes. A. C. Weaver, W. S. Anglin, Charles Nelms, Milt Finch, James Connolly, Jack Corley, Jim Dye, Claud Wells, H. M. Snowden, Rafe Richardson, J. O. Patterson, R. W. Fenton, and Cecil Shaw, the hostess.

Heat Record Set Thursday—105

At 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the government thermometer here registered 105 degrees, the highest temperature registered this year up to that time.

The high point reached Wednesday was 103, Tuesday 101. On only three preceding days this year had the mercury risen as high as 100.

Miss Leona Fechner of Dallas, after visiting in Amarillo and taking a trip through the Carlsbad Cavern in New Mexico, arrived Thursday afternoon to spend a few days here visiting her friend, Miss Berta Hill.

Aged Woman Visits Pike's Peak, Cavern

Mrs. Mattie Bradley, mother of Don Bradley and Mrs. N. W. Alphin, now about 81 years of age, accompanied her granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Cearley of Post, on a pleasure trip to the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico recently.

Among other unusual feats for one of her age, she went to the top of Pike's Peak in Colorado and explored miles and miles of that subterranean wonder, the Carlsbad Cavern, in New Mexico, without the use of the elevator in either descending or ascending.

How she succeeded in negotiating such a trip is the wonder of all her friends, but she declares that she now has enough to talk about the remainder of her days, though it would be impossible for her to tell all.

She is now visiting relatives at Estelline, Hall county.

F. M. Billman, who was injured in an accident at the ice plant on July 4, is still in the sanitarium in Lubbock. Physicians have been unable or unwilling to give a well-defined opinion as to his condition for the reason that as yet they have been unable to take an x-ray examination of his stomach, which was the subject of an operation a year ago. Apparently he is doing nicely except as to his stomach, which refuses to retain a sufficiency of food for the bodily needs.

PIANO TUNING

Chas. Daughtry of Fort Worth, the blind piano tuner, will be here some time in August. Those desiring to have their pianos tuned, should see Mrs. M. H. Edwards at once. 1tc

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lee and daughter, Miss Irene, of Idalou, and Miss Laverne Mullins of Brownfield were the guests Wednesday of the A. J. Mullins family.

Misses Lela Mae Persons and Billie Beth Starkey of Quitaque returned to their home Tuesday after a few days visit with their friend, Miss Laruth Walden.

Better Care . . . Less Loss . . .

Thousands of gallons of cream are being rejected daily for use in food products on account of careless handling somewhere from the time it is taken from the cow to the time it is delivered to the manufacturers.

This means a loss to someone. Let's avoid losses of this kind by taking good care of the cream and straining the milk, immediately after milking, through an approved strainer into a cream separator which is thoroughly washed after each separating.

Cool the cream quickly and keep it cool. Market it often—at least twice per week.

DON'T—

REPORTS FROM THE COUNTY CLUBS

Miss Lilith Boyd, H. D. Agent
CLOTHING DEMONSTRATOR
TELLS OF YEAR'S WORK

Eva Woods, clothing demonstrator in the Edith 4-H Club, tells about her year's work:

Soon after I was elected clothing demonstrator in the Edith 4-H Club this year, I began work on my goals. I first made three pot-holders which were easy to make. I use them now when I work in the kitchen. I made two hand towels with simple designs on each.

I used a light weight broadcloth in making my slips.

The last article I made was my dress. It was a blue and white print with a delicate touch of red. I trimmed it with white collar and cuffs with a small tie at the neck.

For my wardrobe, I remodeled a portable closet we had. It had a shelf across the top and I added three shelves at one side. Below the shelf extending across the top, I placed a rod for my dresses and coats. At one end near the floor, I placed a shoe rack. I added hat racks to the top shelf for my hats. I painted it cream inside to make it lighter.

H. D. CLUB WOMEN WILL HAVE PICNIC

The Home Demonstration Club women of Lynn county will have an all-day picnic in MacKenzie Park, Lubbock, July 22. The Home Demonstration Council voted to substitute a picnic this year for the regular encampment.

Everyone is expected to meet at 11 o'clock at MacKenzie Park, July 22. The council recreation committee has a program planned to last until after supper. Each club will participate in the night program with a one act play or stunt.

URGES NEW HOME WOMEN FOLLOW CANNING BUDGET

"At this time of the year women are getting ready to can vegetables and fruits," said Miss Lilith Boyd to the New Home Home Demonstration Club Friday, July 9, in the home of Mrs. W. G. Minton.

If one will follow the Canning Budget issued by the Extension Service of Texas there will be a variety of foods. The size of container should be planned to meet the needs of the family so that one container can be used without having a large amount of food left over. The following budget is suggested:

Green, leafy and yellow vegetables—150 containers.

Other vegetables—80 containers.

Tomatoes or citrus—135 containers.

Fruits—150 containers.

Meats—70 containers.

Preserves, jams, jelly marmalades—52 containers.

Miscellaneous (soups, peanut butter, etc.)—52 containers.

There will be a program with local talent performing Friday night, July 23, at 9 o'clock. An admission of 5 cents will be charged. Following the program will be "42" and other games. The club women and 4-H girls will sell ice cream. This is to raise funds for the club. Come bring someone with you. This is to be at the school auditorium.

There were two visitors present, Mrs. Joe Unfred and Mrs. L. N. Hancock.

Members present were: Mesdames Joe Poindexter, G. N. McWhorter, J. R. Strain, Boswell Edwards, and W. G. Minton.

FOOD PRESERVATION IS "MIDWAY TOPIC"

In her discussion on bringing food preservation up to date, Miss Lilith Boyd, H. D. agent, said to the Midway Club women July 8th that "Fresh foods are much richer in food value, but canned foods are their best substitute when fresh foods are not available."

The meeting was with Mrs. G. A. Edwards.

The methods of food preservation change from time to time. If foods look attractive they are more likely to be appreciated.

Mrs. Lloyd Edwards of the Friendship Club was a visitor.

Members present were: Mesdames R. B. Floyd, I. M. Draper, R. L. Littlepage, G. A. Edwards, Rufus Slover, Pete Curry, and Sam H. Floyd.

A revival meeting is to be conducted by the Baptist Church at Petty beginning next Sunday, according to announcement made by the pastor, Rev. J. E. McManis. The meeting will continue for two weeks, closing on Sunday, August 1. Services will be held under a tabernacle erected for the purpose.

The preaching in the revival will be done by Rev. J. W. Partin of Happy, a former pastor at Wilson.

The pastor, Rev. J. E. McManis, is the son of E. E. McManis of Lakeview and was reared in this county. The Church at Petty was organized about two years ago.

MISS BOYD SPEAKER AT WILSON CLUB

Bringing food preservation up to date was the topic of the discussion given by Miss Boyd to the Wilson Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. W. I. Lemon, with Mrs. J. W. Lamb as hostess July 7.

Foods are canned successfully by steam pressure and water bath methods. Richly colored fruits and vegetables are higher in food value than pale colored. A greater variety of vegetables should be canned rather than many containers of only a few vegetables. The processing time has been changed for several vegetables, according to the 1937 bulletin on canning issued by the Extension Service of A. & M. College.

Visitors present were Mrs. M. E. Mitchell and Miss Margie Lamb. Members present were Mesdames L. B. Thornton, S. L. Alderson, H. B. Crosby, J. F. Covey, D. A. Hill, S. A. Cummings, B. W. Baker, W. H. May, J. W. Lamb, W. L. Lemon, S. G. Anthony, and M. C. Brandon.

NEW LYNN CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. D. TERRY

At the meeting of the New Lynn H. D. Club in the home of Mrs. Doyle Terry Tuesday, July 6, Miss Lilith Boyd told the ladies of the club about the importance of canning enough vegetables to last during the months in which there are little or no vegetables in the garden.

"One needs green and yellow vegetables, dried vegetables and fruits or fruit juices, meat or eggs and milk to make a balanced meal," she said.

The club meets with Mrs. J. B. Hoskins on July 20, at which time she will give a demonstration on making muffins.

The club had a visitor from Jacksonville, Cherokee county, Mrs. Alice Smith, daughter of Mrs. C. B. Caveness of this community.

Members present were: Mesdames A. B. Short, J. B. Hoskins, Doyle Terry, Andrew Cooper, J. A. Jaynes, E. B. Terry, C. S. Craig, P. K. Fleming, H. A. Winkler, T. D. Lishman, C. B. Caveness, Charles Taylor Jr., Claude Roper, R. W. Barton, N. Bartley, and Susie Bartley.

Why The Nation Demands Civil Service

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Again Congress has been asked to provide for selection of job-holders in various new federal agencies now under consideration, on the basis of merit and ability, rather than of patronage.

It is a familiar request. It is a fair one, too. Since the workers and earners of America foot the bill for our constantly expanding political payroll, it is only natural that they should ask a reasonable return for their money.

In other words, the American people want what an equitable Civil Service System attempts to assure—public servants who understand that the people are their employers, and whose loyalty is therefore to them and to the country as a whole.

They want the public service geared to the wheels of national progress, rather than to the complex cogs of various political machines.

This is hard to achieve when a public job is granted on the basis of whom one knows, instead of what he knows. It is hard to achieve when politicians and officeholders use such jobs as a means of paying off old political debts, or buying new political power—all with other people's money.

The spoils system is unfair not only to the people who pay the bills, but to any capable public servant, himself. There is little incentive to seek a career in government or to do one's best after the job is obtained. If the spectre of political patronage continues to haunt the roads to appointment and advancement and permanence.

A more thorough application of the Merit System would mean not only less waste in government, but greater efficiency and service to the public as well. And the way for the public to get such service and efficiency is to continue to demand them.

CANNING IS STUDIED BY GRASSLAND WOMEN

"Correct pre-cook produces better flavor in most canned foods. Drives off objectional gases. Food canned in tin should be hot at sealing to prevent reaction between the food and metal of the can," said Miss Lilith Boyd in her discussion of home canning at the meeting of the Grassland Home Demonstration Club, which met in the home of Mrs. C. E. Short on Tuesday, July 13.

Canned foods should be used only when there are none to be obtained fresh, as fresh foods have more food value, especially if they are cooked too long in the can.

Those present were: Mesdames A. A. Lawson, G. C. Watson, W. R. Greer,

Jim Greer, J. P. Ray, D. G. Cook, A. L. Sheppard, M. C. Thomas, C. M. Greer, L. H. Kenley, W. H. Kenley; one new member, Mrs. W. M. Mathis; a visitor, Mrs. M. O. Canaday, council chairman; Miss Boyd, and the hostess, Mrs. C. E. Short.

4-H CLUB GIRLS WILL HOLD ENCAMPMENT

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place.

In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

Miss Lilith Boyd served as judge in the Gaines county women's H. D. club dress contest of Seminole Monday. Miss Velma Anderson, formerly of this county, is the home demonstration agent of that county.

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL By Carter Field

Washington.—There is no disposition to laugh off Governor George H. Earle's opening gun in the fight to nominate Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term among shrewd Washington politicians. Very privately nine out of ten men on Capitol Hill will tell friends that they think the probability is Roosevelt will break this precedent, as he has broken so many others.

There are plenty of people who knew Calvin Coolidge fairly well who believe that he wanted to break that precedent. "Ike" Hoover in his memoirs leaves no doubt as to his own judgment on that point, and made a very interesting case to prove it.

Coolidge, according to "Ike" Hoover's theory, expected too much. He wanted to keep on declining, in more and more forceful language, but to have the nomination forced on him. Roosevelt, observers think now, is not going to make any such mistake.

The two situations are interesting chiefly by contrast rather than by similarity. Right up to that day in the Black Hills of South Dakota when Coolidge said he did not "choose" to run, every one assumed he would be the candidate. There was not a hint of opposition. There was no prospect of a fight against his nomination. There was not even much discussion of the third term idea. Coolidge was popular. The country was prosperous. When the topic did come up in conversation most folks said the less than two years of President Harding's term which Coolidge had served before becoming President in his own right would not count as making another election a third term.

As a matter of fact, Coolidge never mentioned any prejudice against the third term idea. He just made it partially clear that he did not want to run again. And the Republican convention took him at his word. Whereas in the present case Governor Earle and some of the union leaders have come out flatly for a third term for Roosevelt, more than two years earlier, comparably, than Coolidge announced he would not be a candidate. Coolidge's announcement was more than seven months after the 1926 election had returned majorities in both houses of congress to uphold his hands. Everybody knew the Democratic party was split so wide open by the religious battle which had come to its climax at Madison Square Garden, that there was virtually no hope of its being really formidable at the following election. The national conventions were barely a year off.

Time Inopportune

The opening gun of the Roosevelt third term campaign is fired more than a year before the mid-term congressional election. It resounds when there is a revolt against the President on the part of conservative Democrats so pronounced that a harmony conference between the President and the national legislators was to begin two days later at the Jefferson Island club.

It came at a time when nobody really knew whether the revolt on Capitol Hill had much popular backing or not. One point about it, however, was rather obvious. Governor Earle, whose declaration attracted the most attention, was in rather a hot spot. It was obvious that no matter what might happen later, the Pennsylvania governor had made plenty of enemies by his action in declaring martial law at Johnstown. He had acted openly when the President was aiding the same side without any such frank avowal. So lots of important folks figured they could shoot at Earle in safety, whereas they might not dare shoot at the President.

Earle's action tended to make the President the target for all such shots at him, and for this reason his timing did not make such a hit at the White House as his subject matter might have had some other occasion.

Tariff Hearings

The same group of interests in this country which so successfully obtained the independence act for the Philippines, long after the armed insurrection of Aguinaldo, the moral appeal of William Jennings Bryan and the shrewd lobbying of Manuel Quezon had failed, is now on the job to prevent being deprived of the fruits of their victory.

What has happened is that a joint committee, consisting of experts appointed by both the United States and the Philippines governments, is conducting hearings with a view to determining the tariff policy which shall exist between the two countries after independence is actually achieved.

At first this independence date, being fixed in 1946, seemed far off to the business interests affected. Moreover, at first there was a tendency among those who knew about it to discount its importance. They figured that there would be only recommendations—that when the recommendations reached congress would be time enough to make a fight. They knew they had won when the test came in congress. By shrewd log-rolling they had won enough votes to give the islands the independence act. So they thought the same log-rolling would be sure to work next time, which would be, they thought, when the recommendations are formally taken up in congress.

Also, a considerable group of those interested actually knew nothing about the hearings. There was too much going on in Washington for the newspapers to get excited about hearings on something which would have no effect until 1946.

But several things have happened to change all that. First, there is quite a movement to move forward the independence date. The same interests affected by the tariff hearings were concerned in that, and this made any present hearings much more significant.

Important Factor

But much more important is another factor. The prospect now is that there is not going to be any repeal of the reciprocal trade treaty powers of the President—that this power will be extended indefinitely. This will mean, if true, that if and when the report of this joint committee comes up, immediately after independence is achieved or immediately before, it may not be possible to ignore its ideas simply by having enough votes in congress to prevent action on Capitol Hill.

For it is certain that any recommendations such a committee will make would have a great deal of effect on the State department, and naturally on the Philippine government. So that, under the reciprocal treaty making power, it could easily be that a lot of tariff duties on Philippine products coming into the United States might be sliced in half—fifty per cent being the extent of the change in any duty which can be made by the State department without further reference to congress.

For instance, if the duty on sugar should be two cents a pound, under the reciprocal treaty power the State department could make a treaty with the Philippines which would cut that duty to one cent, or boost it to three cents.

Sugar is picked for an illustration chiefly because it is simple, and was one of the big reasons why the islands obtained the present promise of independence. There are plenty of others, notably coconut oil.

Future of G. O. P.

Despite the "harmony" meeting of Democratic senators and representatives with President Roosevelt at the Jefferson Island club there are growing signs of cleavage as between what might be called the old line Democrats and the New Dealers.

So much so that certain important Republicans, more interested in economic principles than in party organization, are quietly putting forth a new thought with respect to future G. O. P. activities.

In short, they would have the national Republican organization voluntarily disband, shut up shop, and announce to the country that as a national party the Republicans were through.

While most of those talking about it do not want their names used for the present, it is said that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, regarded by many as the outstanding Republican in the country since the last election, is not out of sympathy with the idea.

The plan is so far advanced that the effect on individual senators and members of the house now bearing the Republican label has been considered. There are still many districts which send Republicans to the house regardless of Democratic landings and New Deal tendencies. At least two states, Vermont and Maine, still promise to send Republican senators to Washington.

The idea would not be to deprive the Republicans representing these districts and states of their label. They could run as "Republicans," just as Senator Robert M. La Follette runs as a "Progressive" or Senator Henrik Shipstead runs as a "Farmer-Laborite." These gentlemen seem to have little difficulty getting elected, despite the fact that there is no real national organization of their parties to back them.

Might Be Help

Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York comes down regularly from the Potsdam district of the Empire state, no matter if Democratic national candidates do carry the state by more than a million. The same is true of Representative Allen T. Treadway and Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts.

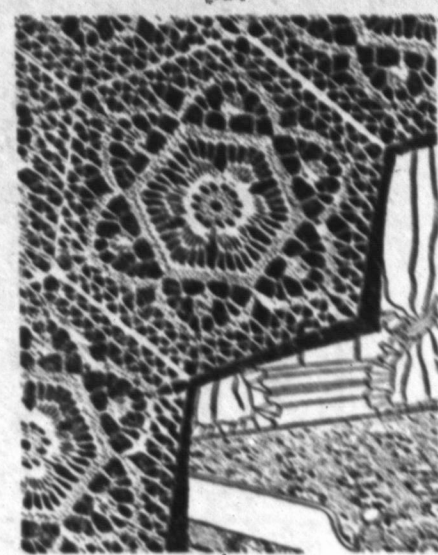

Some of the advocates of the plan say that actually it would be a help to such Republicans not to have any national Republican organization cluttering up the situation. Of course, in Mr. Snell's case it would deprive him of the leadership of the Republicans in the house—perhaps—and it might play hob with committee assignments in both house and senate.

But the real objective, of course, is to encourage the split in the Democratic party—to permit the country to have two real parties again. Nor is it an answer, say those advocating it, to say that the Republican party polled more than 15,000,000 votes in the last election, and that anything as strong as that should be preserved.

Veteran News Writer Roosevelt Critic

The News has received the following communication from Hon. L. B. Russell of Comanche, one of the veterans of Democracy. For many years he was a newspaper editor and publisher as well as a member of the legal profession. Though now approaching the setting sun, he is still intensely interested in the welfare of his country, as the following brief article would indicate.

"Dear Mr. Hill:
"Why should people worry about the destruction of the Supreme Court when the political future of F. D. R. is in jeopardy? Some of the supporters of the Court Bill give that as their reason for their support—that if it fails to go through it will destroy the President's political future. Let the Constitution and the Court go hang! Hasn't he, this last week received the compliment of an eulogistic resolution by Tammany Hall? He and Jim Farley may well fight La Guardia for the Mayoralty, for another election of La Guardia will seriously damage the prestige of Tammany, with Farley and the President thrown in for good measure.—L. B. Russell, Comanche."

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

The Bureaucrats and Their Power

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Official reports from Washington record a new peak in the number of peace-time Federal job-holders.

During the month of May, the records show, almost 5,000 new names were written on the public payroll. This brought the total to 840,159—a throng exceeded only during the emergency of a World War.

And, of course, the total of paychecks rose proportionately.

All this is obviously tough on the public—which must pay the bills—but it's a great help to many of the appointed Bureaucrats.

Why?

Because it was the Bureaucrats—the appointed heads of the countless new boards and bureaus and commissions now overwhelming Washington, who demanded this increased spending of the people's money—and who put their demands across.

Many leading Senators and Representatives have, in recent weeks, emphatically opposed continued extravagance. The White House has promised economies. But the Bureaucrats realize that without lavish spending their growth must cease. And Bureaucracy seems determined to expand.

Growing armies of job-holders are, of course, only one element of the Bureaucrats' steady drain on the public purse. New and costly spreading activities into all possible fields create still other burdens for taxpayers to shoulder. And these burdens will continue to multiply until Congress does the job it was elected to do.

That job is to legislate for the American people who elected them; not for appointed Bureaucrats who seek to enhance their power through a succession of big checks drawn against the people's earnings.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boullouin and E. H. Jr. left Sunday morning to visit relatives at Arkadelphia, Arkansas, spending a few days at Fort Worth on the way out. They expected to be away at least two or three weeks. E. H. is probably basking in the waters of the Ouachita (pronounced Washitaw) as this is written. It is said that he always goes "native" soon after crossing the Arkansas line shedding his shoes and most of his clothing. So, if he is not in the river he is probably running around through the woods bare-footed, dressed in a long-tail shirt—only.

Dee Rogers, who suffered a stroke of paralysis on one side of the body last fall and has been confined to his room most of the time since, is now able to come to town occasionally, though he has to be helped in and out the car. He requested his daughter to stop him at the News office Monday so that he might have a brief chat with the editor. Dee is an old-timer here, and he longs for the association of his friends. They could do no finer thing than to make it a point to call and see him frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burleson and little niece returned Monday night from their trip to the mountains.

The first point of interest visited was Colorado Springs, Colo. From there they went to Canon City, thence across the Continental Divide and down to Santa Fe, New Mexico, coming back via Roswell. Jim says the scenery is magnificent but a week of it is enough for him.

Of course we failed to get the names of all last week who spent the fourth and fifth out of town. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Tate and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Pitts, who attended the big Twelfth Annual Jubilee at Brady. They report that many thousands of people were there and that it was a great occasion.
