Rotary Sees Stewardship Slide Show

"Love of the land" was the basic reason given for farmers staying with their avowed way of life, according to Kirk Cunningham of Stauffer Chemical Co. He presented an outstanding slide showing to members of the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon.

Cunningham gave a background on the purpose farm chemicals, herbicides, insecticides and fertilizers have played in improving efficiency of farming operations.

"You have to sell yourself before you can sell anything else," he told Rotarians.

"Stewards of the Soil," was the title of his slide presentation, which spread in a panorama across three screens set up in the Rotary meeting room. It was explained by Harmon Elliott, who obtained the program for the local Rotarians, that Cunningham had been highly praised after giving his presentation to the Lubbock Rotary and other area Rotary clubs.

The guest explained that it takes a bare minimum of $100,000 to start farming today, and that much more education is required by a farmer before he can successfully farm and provide food for the rest of the nation and much of the world.

Controversy Rages On New FM Highway Commissioners Accused Of Withholding Information

Apparently, plans for the construction of an 8.4 mile FM road scheduled for construction one mile west of Bula, north to Circleback, have not been scrapped. In fact, it was announced at a public hearing in Muleshoe Wednesday, that plans are complete and preliminary work has started.

This was disclosed amid allegations of 'withholding information and misinformation' which was said to be the basis for a nearly five year 'mis-understanding.'

Bailey County Judge Glen Williams moderated the meeting, and started off the meeting by introducing the personnel from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation who attended the meeting to explain what has happened, and answer questions.

SDHPT personnel introduced included George Wall, district engineer; C.W. Nall, assistant district engineer; James W. King, district administrator; Jerry Bernethy, planner; Ray Bradley, Resident supervisor; Loyd Lust, senior designer; Dalton Jones, District designer engineer; Lloyd Killough, and Stanley Burreson of the Muleshoe office.

Judge Williams gave a brief explanation of the basic structure and internal process of the Farm Road Program, and a brief history of the road now under construction.

Then, Judge Williams prefaced his next remarks by telling the more than 50 people present, "What I have to say now is delicate, unpleasant, and I will have to say things I wish I did not have to say. My sole interest is to help you, help commissioner's court, and help the highway department.

"This is not a power struggle, it is not to determine whether or not to build a road. That is already determined, the road is not in jeopardy. The fact is, commissioners court signed an agreement to pave 8.4 miles, one mile west of Bula and some work is already done.

"You all live in that community and you all live in this county," he added.

Judge Williams explained that from November 16, 1966, on a motion by Loyd Stephens and the late Commissioner R.P. McCall, that portion of the county was given a Number One priority, and included in a proposed paving program. The vote

Warren Announces For Commissioner

James Warren, a Bailey County resident for most of his life, has authorized The Journal to officially announce his candidacy for Bailey County Commissioner, Precinct Three, subject to the Republican Primary in May.

He has been a farmer in the Longview community and formerly resided in the community before moving into Muleshoe several years ago. Currently, Warren is still farming, however, his son, Richard, will be taking over the farming operations.

James Warren, and his wife, Fern, who is assistant cashier at First National Bank, are also the parents of James Jr., who is a Trooper for the Department of Public Safety, and stationed at Abernathy; and Linda, who resides in Houston. Warren has served on

President of the Muleshoe Coop Gin Board. During World War II, he served with the U.S. Army Engineers and was in the Pacific Theater.

Of his candidacy, Warren commented, "If elected, I will serve the people on a full time basis in an efficient and businesslike manner with the equipment available."

LEVELLAND, TEXAS -- For the first time in their history, models from the South Plains College fashion merchandising program, put on a style show in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

The fashion show featuring wool and mohair, was held at 8 p.m. February 7, in the Civic Center's Banquet Hall.

The show concluded an evening's slate of activities sponsored by the Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement, Inc.

"This is a really good opportunity for our students," said Cindy Brown, assistant professor of fashion merchandising at SPC.

"I think they will benefit a great deal from the experience. Texas Tech. did the fashion show last year."

Hemphill Wells, Malouf's and Don's Limited, all of Lubbock.

XI Omicron XI Beta Sigma Phi

Xi Omicron Xi of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. Dave Marr on Tuesday night, February 5, at 8:00 o'clock with Mrs. Skip Magby serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Don Harmon presented the program on Russia. She and her husband, Don, visited Russia on a people to people good will tour. Mrs. Harmon explained that one of the main objectives of this tour was to try and create good will on a one-to-one basis.

Mrs. Harmon showed slides and told of some of the experiences that they had while on this trip. Some of the interesting things were: Their group was assigned an in-tourist guide by the Russian government even though they had a tour guide. This guide worked for the government and was not allowed to visit with the tourist for any length of time on a personal basis. Also, the tourist were not given a choice of which hotel they would stay in while in Russia but were assigned various hotels by the government as they entered a particular city. It was also evident, said Mrs. Harmon that the Russian government was deep in preparation for the coming Summer Olympics.

There was a great deal of construction and renovation going on for this coming event. Another interesting occurrence, from the American view point was the wedding ceremonies. The government assigns a couple that they decide to marry, a day to have their wedding. The government gives the couple one day off for the wedding. There are no church ceremonies and they hold their receptions in the local parks.

After the program, President, Mrs. Bob Finney called the meeting to order. Mrs. Ken Box read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Tom Merritt gave the treasurer's report.

Committee reports were given and it was reported that preparations are still in progress for the Valentine Ball which will be held on February 16, from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m. at the Muleshoe County Club.

Under new business, it was decided to send in a nomination for the Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Award which is presented by West Texas State University. This award is for a woman that is distinguished in the area of education, medicine, business, civil service, or other professional areas. The nominees will be honored at a luncheon on April 19, 1980.

The next meeting will be on February 19, in the home of Mrs. Mike Miller with Mrs. Kearney Scoggin serving as co-hostess. Mrs. Dave Marr and Mrs. Gary Shipman will be responsible for the program on South America.

Refreshments of cheese balls, crackers, chips, dips, condiments and cake were served to the following members: Mrs. Steve Black, Mrs. Ken Box, Mrs. Tommy Black, Mrs. Bob Finney, Mrs. Tom Little, Mrs. Skip Magby, Mrs. Dave Marr, Mrs. Tom Merritt, Mrs. Alex Schuster, Mrs. Kearney Scoggin, and Mrs. Gary Toombs.

Refreshments of heart candy and punch were served to the girls and they adjourned their meeting by forming the magic brownie ring.

Your body Talks for you
 Is your body saying what you want it to -- even when you're not talking? You can't "not" communicate. Even when you're not saying a word, you're still communicating. Without uttering a word, our bodies do the talking for us. So, even though you're sitting quietly at the dinner table not speaking a solitary word, you are sending messages to those around you.

About 70 percent of human communication is non-verbal, researchers say. In addition, non-verbal communication--the body--generally tells the truth.

Problems arise, however, when we aren't aware of what our bodies are telling others--and when others don't understand the message.

Most of us have little training in non-verbal communication. We learn what we do know by watching others and then imitating them.

Many people have learned inappropriate non-verbal communication signals, so they send messages they don't mean to send.

Here's an example: some of us have learned to look serious--or even frown slightly--and cross our arms in front of ourselves when we're listening to a new acquaintance speak. We've learned to do this, thinking this will impress the speaker with our seriousness. Instead, we impress him with negative feedback, of course. He may feel that his is not a good speaker, or that he frustrated us or bored us. To combat this problem, we must first realize that non-verbal communication exists, and then we can look at it with a more honest and healthy approach. Finally, we can be aware of how our bodies are "talking for us" by watching other people's responses to us. If we're not satisfied with their responses, we can change our non-verbal communication to make it say what we want it to.

Fellowship Of Christian Athletes

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is the newest organization in Muleshoe High School. This year they have had several interesting things going on. Tapes, films, and speakers have been on the agenda, along with in-depth discussion huddle groups. The athletes traveled to a mini-F.C.A. convention, that was being held at Panhandle State University, this past weekend.

The group's last regular meeting was held Thursday night in the High School gym. This was a recreational meeting consisting of eating, volleyball and basketball.

The elite group is sponsored by Coach Dean Cornelius. He is a new coach at Muleshoe High School and teaches at Muleshoe Junior High School.

The other High School coaches also help out in the meetings. There are approximately 40 members in F.C.A. The annual staff would like to introduce the F.C.A. officers. Good luck in this very worthwhile organization.

Sandy Dunbar is the F.C.A. Treasurer and the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Dunbar. Her activities are band, basketball, Student Council, Varsity Cheerleader, Stage Band and F.T.A. Her comments were; "F.C.A. is something just introduced this year. We are a small group but we really are excited and the group as a whole has enthusiasm. Our coaches are fantastic leaders and we have a really good time together. We are small but our group is close and ready to grow."

JoRonda Rhodes is the 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rhodes. She is the F.C.A. President and her activities include being Senior Class President, FTA Secretary, Treasurer, Student Council Historian, Mule-train-Mule's Tale Staff, head Varsity Cheerleader, basketball and tennis. Her comments were; "I am so glad that we have been lucky enough to get F.C.A. in our school while I'm still in high school. I think it's just super great and I hope the group will continue to grow both in members and spiritually. I would just like to thank Coach Cornelius for all the effort time and concern to the betterment of F.C.A." Dennis Watson is the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jinks Meyers. He is F.C.A. Vice-President and is also involved in FTA, football, tennis and is the Student Council Representative. "F.C.A. really means a lot to me and I am very glad to be a member. I hope we can get more members because F.C.A. is for everyone, not just athletes. In this group, you can be open to everyone and share your feelings. It's a great group!"

Joel Bratcher, F.C.A. Secretary, is the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bratcher. His activities are F.T.A., Art Club, Student Council, football, and tennis. He commented, "I'm very excited about F.C.A. in Muleshoe High. I know that F.C.A. is going to be a great asset to our school. It's a great organization and has something for everyone interested. Our coaching staff and sponsor Coach Cornelius have been a great help to our organization."

The Muleshoe High School chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America has chosen Mr. Harvey Bass as employer of the month and Kanetha Hysinger as Outstanding Student for the month of February.

Mr. Bass has supported the DECA program for several years. His employees have commented that he has been very helpful in teaching the basic selling skills and that he has provided them with the opportunity to learn and grow under his careful guidance.

Kanetha Hysinger is the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hysinger. She is a very dedicated person and fulfills her responsibilities as secretary of the DECA Chapter with a smile and great deal of dedication. Kanetha is truly an outstanding young lady. She believes that the DECA program is one of the best ways to teach students responsibility and leadership.

The DECA chapter says "Congratulations" to both of these well deserving people."

for the program received unanimous approval of commissioners court.

He then said a new application was approved in 1974 on a motion by Rudolph Moraw and second by Bob Sanders to pave the road and it still carried a Number One priority.

Then, on February 28, 1975 a group of people met again with commissioners court requesting a paved road in the southeast part of the county, a designation of the road now being constructed, although commissioners did not approve, on February 28, to move the designation from the now called 'east' road one mile west to the 'west road' for the paving project.

On March 18, continued the Judge, a meeting was conducted by the Bailey County Commissioners Court and attended by the four commissioners and two members of the highway department. Judge Williams said he did not attend the meeting, nor did County Clerk Hazel Gilbreath, who said she was informed the commissioners planned to take no formal action on anything, so no minutes of the meeting would be necessary.

Judge Williams said that on that date, March 18, 1975, the four commissioners changed the location of the road from the 'east' road to the west road. He said he did not know that the commissioners had been the ones to change the location until Friday, February 1, 1980, when he was finally told the county commissioners, not the state, had changed the location. He said until Friday, February 1, 1980, he had been told repeatedly for four years, 10 months and two weeks that the state had changed the road and not the commissioners. He said at least one commissioner had told him previously, on a private basis, that the county commissioners had changed the location, an allegation the commissioners continued to deny, he said until February 1 of this year. The change was not reflected in the minutes of the March 18, 1975 meeting.

Then, on April 2, 1975, another delegation attended the Bailey County Commissioners Court to request commissioners reaffirm the 'east' road designation for the paving project. Judge Williams said that neither he, or the group of people, were told the road had already been changed by commissioners.

Then on a later date, an order was entered changing the designation to the 'west' road, with the judge still believing the state had changed the location.

Officials from the State Highway Department denied during the meeting that they had changed the location for paving, insisting that in all instances, a commissioners court designates all roads to be paved.

Judge Williams firmly told the group of residents of the southeast part of Bailey County "If full information and truthful information had been put out when it should have been, this would have never happened."

Bradley also explained to the group that it would involve some $57,000 plus in extra expense to pave the 'west' road, and total construction would cost around $980,000, up by $300,000 since the road was first proposed.

It was estimated that the right-of-way purchases would be some $36,441 for the west road, while it was estimated it would cost around $19,250 should the 'east' road had been paved, or nearly twice as much.

Also, the estimate was some $40,000 more to pave the 'west' road as compared to the cost for the 'east' road. The right-of-way purchases are paid from county funds, and the balance from state funds.

Dale Thompson, a young farmer from the Bula community, carefully researched the proposed roads, and presented information from the U.S. Geological maps. He showed where there was only one water crossing on the formerly proposed 'east' road and four water crossings on the 'west' road.

Explaining that he lived on neither of the roads under consideration, he also showed where it would cost more to construct and maintain the 'west' road. Bradley concurred with Thompson's explanations.

Also asking explicit questions was Edward Riley, pastor of the Bula Baptist Church. He asked questions about the priorities for construction of the roads.

Bradley also conceded that a gully near the 'west' road "will always be a problem."

"Merits of the east road stand for themselves," asserted Thompson, and Bradley added, "It is the normal habit for a county to pick out the worst road they have and ask us to build it."

George Wall commented, "We're interested in building roads where the county wants it and that's what we understand the county wanted, and the road is being built where they wanted it."

Bennie Claunch was emphatic in asking questions, and literally 'pinned' down commissioners and members of the highway department as he sought answers to questions on who actually changed the location of the road and who had changed the priority of the road from the Number One.

Judge Williams interjected, "If the people had been told about the change, the truth about it, we would have had no confusion about it."

Wall said that on March 18, 1975, "We went away from here with the understanding the commissioners wanted the west road. Our understanding was that the priority was changed and we marked what the commissioners wanted on the map."

Claunch again asked

Moraw again who moved the road, and Commissioner Loyd Stephens said, "If the road was never changed, I didn't know it."

Stephens said this despite the fact that Judge Williams was told on February 1, 1980, according to his statement, that the commissioners had changed the location of the road to be paved.

The judge added, "This is a real tragedy. There will be hard feelings between neighbors for years, and I hope and pray it will be resolved."

"The mistakes have been made by the commissioners court. You are neighbors. Blame us, not each other."

On a disconsolate note for many of those attending the meeting, it was over. With the road to be built on the 'west' road, and allegations of secret meetings, misrepresentation, and untruthfulness made against the four Bailey County Commissioners.

ed by fire. Mrs. Stewart told firemen the dog woke them up barking, or they may not have been able to get out of the blazing farm home.

A member of the Muleshoe Fire Department said top speed trying to drive the ten miles to the fire was approximately 35 miles an hour on the slick highways.

According to Mrs. Stewart, the fire apparently began in the living room. She said they had a fire in their fireplace before retiring for the night.

Muleshoe Firemen were further hampered by not having adequate water to fight the Stewart home fire. The Earth Fire Department brought their tank truck to the fire, but it was too late to salvage the home. Muleshoe firemen are still waiting for the tank truck to fight rural fires that was promised by the County Commissioners.

Thursday evening at 6:20 p.m., a 'big wind' of unknown origin, as to whether or not it was a straight wind or a twister, inflicted heavy damage to a farm owned by Gene McGuire in the Oklahoma Lane community. McGuire said the people who lived in the house believed the damage to be from tornado winds, but could not be certain.

He said a large plate glass window was blown out of the house on the north side and slammed into a wall 15 feet to the south; at least 10 cotton trailers were totally destroyed; a combine was blown across listered rows 50 yards into a field; three to four telephone poles were broken off across the road from the house; a well house was destroyed, along with the pump; a fuel tank with some fuel inside was blown for approximately one half mile, while a nearby empty 200 gallon fuel tank was not touched.

He also said that gaited pipe was picked out of a pipe stand in a field and scattered across fields for a mile; tree limbs were twisted off and all over the yard.

McGuire also said the high wind of unknown origin was also accompanied by big sleet or large soft hail. All the damage occurred approximately 18 miles northwest of Muleshoe.

Sheriffs' Office Report

Wednesday night, just before the storm moved into the area, a home in north Muleshoe was heavily damaged by fire. Firemen from the Muleshoe Fire Department were at the fire for approximately an hour and a half.

STEWARD OF THE SOIL--Harmon Elliott congratulates Kirk Cunningham of Lubbock on presenting what was termed 'an outstanding program' for the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday. Looking on in the background as Elliott thanks Cunningham is Clinton Kennedy, Rotary President.

Rotary...

 "Man is just one more of mother nature's creatures," added Cunningham, "but, he has his intellect as the finest refinement of nature."
 It was brought out that the Steward of the Soil is the first environmentalist and farmers' problems affect both the supply and cost of food through expensive equipment and continuing rises in costs to produce a crop.
 Farmers are one of the few businesses who do not set their own prices, added the speaker. They are often caught in the middle, he said.
 "One more farm house goes dark," he warned, "All across the land, lights are going out. But, the lights don't stay out for long, and the land remains."
 Agriculture is the biggest business in the nation, warned Cunningham, but continuing rises in prices are forcing more and more farmers from the land, and into the cities. Many are now farming and taking an outside job in town, just to be able to continue living on the farm.

 He cited the slower pace of living, the sense of belonging, the feeling that their life counts for something, and the fact that their faith stays intact as some of the reasons for the farmer to continue with his never-ending battle against rising prices, adverse weather and insect infestations.
 "We can no longer take agriculture for granted or ignore its needs," he warned, and reminded all businessmen that the educated farmer today is to be counted in what is happening all across the nation--and the world.

 The Valentine Party for Rotarians and Rotary-Anns will be at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, February 12 at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum. There will be no noon meeting that day.
 Rotarian Dave Marr presented a Rotar Emblem clock, which was installed in the meeting room at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum.
 Special guests at the meeting were John Gulley, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, and Clea Williams of The Journal.

Annual Symposium Will Spotlight Farm Production

Thompson, resident director of research at the Amarillo center.

As your dealer, I would be the first to admit to you that car repairs have been caught up in inflation. Overhauling the engine, brakes, transmission, etc., not to mention body work, is expensive. You will find many times it is more advisable to trade for a new car than it is to repair one. It might be advisable before you do a lot of repairing on your old vehicle to come by and let us make you an offer for it on a new car. Who knows you might catch us in a position of being overstocked on new cars and in need of used ones and make a few bucks. Never know until you try and we will sure make you an offer without any obligation to you.

the Long Arm of God

There may be times when your church seems to be growing slowly, when you become discouraged because your work seems to bear no fruit. Don't be discouraged. The Lord would say to you in Deut. 1:21. "Fear not, neither be discouraged," for I am with you.

During the very time you are discouraged, the Lord may have good news for you. This period of time may be more spring than winter. It is an open secret that God's arm is not shortened that he cannot save; neither is his ear heavy that He cannot hear.

Therefore, let us keep on working and praying that we may in our hearts possess the land of rest and comfort and peace with God. "The glory of the Lord shall be thy reward." He tells us in Isaiah 58:9, "Then thou shalt call, and the Lord shall answer; thou shalt cry, and He shall say, Here I Am."

We pray that the church and its fellowship will be your dearest treasure. May the church be the place where your "heart interest" lies. We invite you to attend services this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself - of his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
