Farmer Meeting Is Called For Monday

Cotton Picking Is Getting Under Way Here

169 Bales Ginned in Tahoka Thursday Morning; Pickers Are Arriving Daily

Lynn county's cotton picking season is just opening up this week. At 11 o'clock Thursday morning 169 bales had been ginned in Tahoka. Very few bales had been ginned prior to this week. Picking will be on in full blast next week, if the present fine, clear weather continues. The crop still promises to be a record-breaker in point of size.

The price, however, does not promise to be very satisfactory. Seven-eighths inch staple middling cotton was quoted as worth only eight cents on the local market Thursday morning. Seed were worth $17.00 per ton.

Farmers are finding that there is a wide difference in the price of cotton that is picked and that which is being pulled. Most farmers will doubtless have their cotton picked until such time as pulling becomes almost absolutely necessary.

Farmers are also finding, we understand, that the length of the staple is very materially affecting the price this year. This will probably continue to be an important factor in the price from this time on. After this year's experience, it is believed that most farmers will discontinue the raising of short staple varieties.

Hundreds of Mexican cotton pickers have been pouring into Lynn county this week. Although a bumper crop is in prospect, there will probably be no shortage of labor, unless the price of cotton drops so low that the prices paid for picking cease to be attractive to our brown-skinned neighbors to the south.

Many Exhibits For South Plains Fair

Lubbock, Sept. 23.—With only two weeks left before the gala opening of the 24th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair September 27 to October 2, work crews are swarming over the fairgrounds whipping things into ship-shape order.

Fair officials report a marked interest being shown in every department, including those new departments added this year. A flood of requests have been pouring in for the new premium catalogue, which is already in the mails, several being sent to county agents and home demonstration agents through out the Panhandle and South Plains country.

One of the big features of this year's fair is the six-day race meet. Following the posting of over $3,000 in purses, entries from race horse men throughout the state have been received at the Association's office. C. H. McMillan, well known race starter, will be at the barrier this season. Mason King, of Amarillo, will officiate as presiding steward. Every indication points to the most successful race meet ever to be held in this section of the state, a number of outstanding racing thoroughbreds participating.

A Million Dollar Midway, featuring the T. J. Tidwell shows, one of the largest carnivals to invade West Texas, will greet the visitors. Plenty of free attractions in addition to the racing program have been added this year. Fireworks, band concerts, vaudeville acts and other spectacular displays, will make this year's expositions one of the best.

Charley Thompson has reopened his real estate office here, this time in the balcony of the Hub Barber Shop, under the name of the Thompson Land Company. Charley says he has a long list of farms and other real estate for sale or trade.

Mrs. Condy Carmack had her tonsils removed in a hospital at Lubbock this week.

Jones Arranging For Fair Exhibit

V. F. Jones, county farm agent is seeking products for the Lynn county exhibit at the coming Panhandle-South Plains Fair.

He already has good exhibit material in most farm crop products, but is in need of soy beans, ker-shaws, pumpkins, squash, and seeded ribbon cane, Irish potatoes, and onions. Anyone having good exhibit material in any of these products is asked to notify Mr. Jones immediately.

612 Are Enrolled In School

There is a small increase in the number of pupils enrolled in the Tahoka public schools this year over last, though we do not have the exact figures for last year.

The enrollment by grades is as follows:

First grade	62
Second grade	60
Third grade	61
Fourth grade	62
Fifth grade	56
Sixth grade	50
Seventh grade	50
Total in the grades	401
Eighth grade	68
Ninth grade	40
Tenth grade	60
Eleventh grade	43
Total in high school	211
Total in all grades	612

Since the negro school has not yet started and since some farmers are keeping their children out to help harvest the feed and cotton crops, the total enrollment is expected to be considerably larger than this before the year is over.

Sam Francis Suffers Foot Infection

Sam Francis, brother-in-law of County Superintendent H. P. Caveness, who resides on the Caveness farm a few miles northwest of Tahoka, is suffering from a serious infection of the bone in one of the feet. He is being treated in the Caveness home here.

Twenty-five years ago he accidentally shot himself in the foot with a target. An x-ray examination recently disclosed that the ball was still in the foot and the present trouble probably grew out of the shattering of the bone at that time.

S. P. Fair Boosters Visit Tahoka

Twenty-seven business men of Lubbock, accompanied by the Senior High School band consisting of twenty-five members, visited Tahoka Thursday morning on their first look will trip, inviting the people of Tahoka and Lynn county to attend the Panhandle-South Plains Fair to be held in Lubbock September 27 to October 2.

After spending a few minutes in the business section of the town, during which time the Good Will trippers visited many of our business men in their places of business and the band rendered a short musical program, the group proceeded to the high school and grade school buildings, where another band concert was given.

Members of the party who called at the News office were Messrs. H. I. Kiefer, staff reporter on the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal publications, R. D. Shinkle of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and Charles A. Whitacre, chairman of the Good Will committee.

Tom Garrard was a business visitor in Pampa Monday.

SINGING AT GRASSLAND

M. C. Richey announces that there will be a community singing at the Nazarene Church at Grassland Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Everybody cordially invited.

College Students Are Leaving For Year's Work

Many Tahoka Young People Are Entering Various Colleges Over The State

Quite a number of Tahoka young people are returning to college or are entering college for the first time this fall.

We give below as nearly complete a list as we have been able to gather. There are doubtless others not included in this list whose names have not been mentioned to us.

The Technological College claims the longest list of students from this vicinity. These include: Skiles Thomas, Sylvester Reese, Clinton Walker, Sam Garrard, Garth Fuquay, and Misses Eva Douthit, Lucille Wright, Beryl Robertson, Lois Montgomery, and Marie Womack.

James Minor and Roy Stephens are entering Howard Payne College at Brownwood, both having been students there the past year.

Miss Lottie Jo Townes has entered T. C. U. at Fort Worth.

Miss Dottie Turrentine is planning to enter C. I. A. at Denton.

Future Farmers Active Body

The Tahoka chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their first meeting of the school year Friday night in the Vocational Agriculture room at the High School building. There were 22 members and two visitors present. After the regular meeting, several watermelons were cut and eaten by those present.

The main business of the meeting was to initiate new members into the FFA. Most of these boys were boys taking Vocational Agriculture for the first time this year. A few more are to be initiated at a later date. Those initiated were: Jack Edwards, Alton Greer, Roy Alvie Botkin, Junior Sanders, Tom Bell, Pug Parker, Leroy Johnson, Dick Bell, Edward McMillan, George Bell, Lonnie Johnson, and Ray Sparks.

The officers present that carried on the initiation were: Truett Cooper, president; Bryan Wright, vice president; J. C. Womack, secretary; Robert Sanders, treasurer; James Price, reporter; Wyman Johnson, farm watch dog; and George Wright, conductor.

Other business attended to was to appoint several committees to work with Mr. Hufstedler on the activities the chapter is to sponsor. One committee is to work on erecting a score board at the football field. Another committee is to make plans for selling cold drinks and candy at the games. The third group named is to make plans for a father and son banquet to be held early this fall.

Grade School Has Football Team

Football has been taken up again in the Tahoka Grade School, and Principal E. H. Smith reports that forty-five boys are participating in the sport. Mr. Smith hopes that this training will be beneficial to the youngsters in many ways, and will, as well, offer a training field for future members of the high school team.

The grade school is being furnished with some new playground equipment for both football and softball.

Mrs. J. H. Edwards left Saturday morning to join her husband at Kilgore, who is now making that city his headquarters as inspector of trucks and buses for the state railroad commission.

Barna Haney of Roscoe, druggist, was here Tuesday visiting his brother, L. C. Haney.

September Term Of District Court Opens Monday

New Judge Will Be On Bench; Citizens Called For Jury Service During Term

The September term of the district court will open here next Monday morning, with Judge Louis B. Reed sitting here for the first time.

Judge Reed succeeds Judge Gordon B. McGuire, one of the most conscientious and capable judges who ever graced the bench in Texas and who died rather unexpectedly last spring. Judge Reed was appointed by Governor James V. Allred to fill the unexpired term. Judge Reed bears the reputation of being a man of the highest integrity and a lawyer of much ability, and his friends are predicting that he likewise will make an enviable record on the bench.

The first work of the court will be the impaneling of the grand jury, which will begin its investigations immediately, with the assistance of the district and county attorneys, Truett B. Smith and Rollin McCord.

The first week of the term will be devoted to the hearing of motions. (Cont'd. on back page)

Many Convictions At Brownfield

District Attorney Truett Smith reports an interesting term of court at Brownfield, especially as regards the criminal docket which was tried last week.

Possibly the case that excited the most interest was that of C. V. Owens, who was charged with criminal relations with a small girl, his wife's sister. The jury found him guilty and assessed his punishment at ten years confinement in the penitentiary.

Jurors in Terry county seem to be "dead set" against chicken stealing. Truett prosecuted a young fellow over there for stealing three chickens. The jury found him guilty and sent him to the pen for a year. The fellow had already served one term in the pen for chicken theft.

It's a real offense in Terry county to assist and abet a cotton seed thief too. A jury over there gave a fellow four years in the pen for unlawfully and fraudulently receiving and concealing a little more than fifty bushels of cotton seed, which had been stolen in Hall county.

Jurors in Terry county also believe that even a negro woman's shack is her castle. They gave a negro man five years in the pen for breaking into a negro woman's home and stealing about two dollars. And then they relented and suspended the sentence.

But L. N. Fletcher, a white man, fared no worse for stealing a cow. He got a four years suspended sentence.

In one cow theft case, which had been transferred from Gaines county, Mr. Smith was assisted in the prosecution by Dayton Moses, who represents the Texas Cattle Raisers Association. In this case the defendant got a verdict of not guilty.

Truett says that this is the second acquittal that has been turned in by a jury in Terry county during his term of office. He has an absolutely clear record in this respect in four of the six counties in his district, Lynn, Dawson, Gaines, and Yoakum. He lost one case in Garza county.

Rev. W. L. Henderson, justice of the peace at O'Donnell, was at the courthouse Tuesday on business. He says that 300 Mexican cotton pickers landed in O'Donnell Monday and others were needed.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Scott left for their home in Hollywood, California, last Friday after a few days visit here with Judge and Mrs. J. W. Elliott.

Football Schedule Is Announced

Announcement of the 1937 football schedule was made Sunday following a meeting of coaches and school officials in Lubbock Saturday. With the exception of one change, Tahoka's schedule remains as it was arranged last Spring.

The schedule follows:

- Sept. 17—Brownfield at Tahoka.
- Sept. 24—Littlefield at Tahoka.
- Oct. 1—Slaton at Tahoka.
- Oct. 8—Tahoka at Levelland.
- Oct. 22—Tahoka at Post.
- Oct. 29—Olton at Tahoka.
- Nov. 5—Tahoka at Lamesa.
- Nov. 19—Tahoka at Ralls.
- Nov. 25—Tahoka at Crosbyton.

Brownfield Plays Tahoka Friday

Tahoka high school opens its 1937 football schedule this afternoon on the local gridiron with the powerful Brownfield team, said to be one of the four strongest contenders for this district championship this year.

Coaches Bob Harlow and Lloyd Edwards have been putting the small squad of Bulldogs through strenuous work-outs the past two weeks or more in preparation for the season-opener today.

Only about twenty boys are on the squad and prospects for a winning team are none too rosy. However there are reported to be several unusually good football men coming out. The boys have been working hard and are showing lots of hustle and enthusiasm, and fans are sure to see a fighting team of Bulldogs this afternoon.

Game time is 3:30 p. m. and the admission price is 35 cents.

Visitors Here From The Northeast

Mrs. Rollin McCord informed us a few days ago that her mother and a couple of friends were expected to arrive either Thursday or Friday of this week for a visit.

Mrs. McCord's mother is Mrs. L. P. Lavoie of Newmarket, New Hampshire, and the friends are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard of Ogunquit, Maine. This will be their first visit to this section of our country.

Mrs. McCord was hoping that a terrific sandstorm might come while they are here, but it is not likely that her wish will be realized. She just wanted her mother to see this country at its worst. She declared that she had been telling her mother about its good points.

Gas Company Is Odorizing Lines

Gas consumers have received notice this week that in compliance with rules and regulations recently prescribed by the Railroad Commission, effective on or about September 20, 1937, all gas supplied the consumer will have been odorized with a harmless malodorant.

This is done for the protection of the consumers, so that any unusual odors may be easily detected. If such unusual odors should be thereafter detected by any consumer, such consumer should immediately communicate with the Company.

This is a precaution which has been required and is being observed by the gas companies in order to guard against any such disaster as visited the New London community a few months ago.

Mrs. Welbourn Dickson spent several days here with her mother, Mrs. George Bovell, leaving Tuesday for her home at Crowley.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at the Legion Hall Tuesday night, September 21 at 8 p. m. Mrs. R. L. Richardson, president, announces.

Improved Staple For 1938 Crop Is Needed

Government, Extension Service Men Expected To Be Here Monday Morning

A county-wide meeting of farmers, ginners, cotton buyers, bankers, and others who are interested in cotton improvement, has been called by V. F. Jones, county agent, to meet at the court house in Tahoka next Monday morning, September 20th, at 9:30 o'clock.

Men outstanding in cotton work will be present for the meeting, including Roy Saunders of the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture; E. A. Miller, Extension Agronomist; F. E. Lichte, Extension gin specialist; and K. J. Edwards, District Extension Service Agent.

These men are coming to Lynn county for the purpose of helping and assisting the farmers of Lynn county to grow a better quality of cotton. Statistics on the Plains counties for 1936 show that 95.9% of the cotton grown was shorter than 15-16 inch staple. 68.5% of the cotton grown was shorter than 7-8 inch, which is classed as untenderable cotton. The market for cotton shorter than 7-8 inch is rapidly disappearing. In fact, authorities on the subject state that cotton should be 15-16 to 1 inch in staple to meet the serious foreign competition.

The South Plains is one of the best cotton producing areas of Texas, but we cannot be proud of the quality of cotton we are growing. A great effort will be put forth this year to improve the quality of cotton Lynn county produces in 1938. Come out to the meeting and let's learn something about quality cotton and how we can produce it.

Grass Improves Following Rains

Grass on the range now is very fine, as a result of the abundant rains that have fallen this summer and fall. Cattle should go into the winter fat and in the finest possible condition.

If this were not such a splendid cotton country it would be a great cattle country.

Wife Of Former Pastor Is Dead

Many friends here will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. M. C. Bishop, wife of a former pastor of the Tahoka Baptist Church, which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hiram Phillips, in San Angelo on Tuesday morning, September 7. Death followed a long-continued illness.

Funeral services were conducted in San Angelo by Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Abilene, assisted by Rev. N. E. McGuire, pastor of the Emanuel Baptist Church in San Angelo and the body was laid to rest in a cemetery in the latter city.

Surviving are the husband, two sons and two daughters.

Rev. M. C. Bishop was one of the early pastors of the Church in Tahoka. For ten years prior to July, 1936, he was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Post. In the years intervening between these two pastorates he was pastor at Snyder, Anson, Colorado, and possibly other places.

He left Post for Winters a little more than a year ago and recently he had removed to Big Lake. For 43 years he and Mrs. Bishop had labored together, and she had been a great help to him in his religious work and pastoral duties.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans of Crowley left Tuesday for their home after a few days visit here with Mr. and Mrs. John Evans. The two men are brothers.

FASCISTS BALK PARLEYS

Break with Soviet Feared . . . Americans in Shanghai Demand Protection . . . Big Jap 'Push' Still to Come Back from yachting trip, the President, shown with son James, seems cheerful enough despite troubles of Yanks in Far East.

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Russian Note Shies Italy

FURTHER evidence of the complete accord of the two great Fascist governments was revealed when Germany joined Italy in refusing to be represented at the Nyon, Switzerland, conference to end "piracy" on the Mediterranean. The Nazis gave the same excuses as Italy: That the action of Soviet Russia in accusing Italian submarines of sinking two Russian merchant ships and demanding full indemnity made impartial conclusions of the parley impossible, and that the whole affair might better be ironed out by the committee for non-intervention in the Spanish civil war.

So heated were the differences between the Italians and the Russians, it was feared the incident might lead to a break in diplomatic relations, if not to actual armed conflict.

Great Britain, Russia and France went right ahead with their plans for the conference. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was instructed, however, to make no proposals which would tend to divide the Mediterranean powers into Fascist and anti-Fascist groups. It was believed he would propose that merchant ships be allowed a naval convoy through the danger zones.

Britain, one of the chief sufferers from the submarine attacks on shipping, was embarrassed shortly before the conference was to begin when a Spanish insurgent cruiser (Italy is known to be aiding the insurgents) commandeered a British merchantman off Palermo, Sicily, and confiscated her cargo of Russian oil consigned to the Spanish loyalist government.

Yanks in Far East 'Kick'

AMERICANS in Shanghai, constantly in danger of their lives, cabled Washington, demanding the protection of United States ships. The American Chamber of Commerce in the war-torn city asked Secretary of State Hull for immediate clarification of the State department's stand. Some of them were bitter toward President Roosevelt, who, from his yacht, had told newspaper men that Americans in the war zone would remain there at their own risk. No deadline for evacuation had yet been set, and when rumors spread that the United States flagship Augusta was making ready to leave Yangtze waters, panic spread among the Yanks in Shanghai.

Many business men, with lifetime savings invested there vigorously urged the President to adopt "a foreign policy with a strong front and keep the American flag waving." One veteran Yank resident circulated a petition demanding that the President "get off his yacht, get on his feet and get some guts above them."

American missionaries and business men protested that the United States' position in the Far East was largely the result of their life's work, and insisted on a more steadfast attitude to keep the American stake in China. The State department replied that there was a broad distinction between getting out of the line of fire and relinquishing privileges established over the years. Vice consuls in many Chinese ports were ordered to leave their posts.

Opposition Surprises Nippon

JAPANESE naval guns and bombers carried the war 600 miles south of Shanghai when they attacked the port of Amoy, which houses a huge Chinese fort and arsenal, opposite the island of Formosa. Their bombs carried little effect and the shore artillery chased the warships, completely disabling one. The battle was but thirty miles from Hong Kong, recently ravished by a typhoon.

Elsewhere along the far-flung front the Japanese were meeting with opposition the caliber of which they had not expected. Along the Weosung front, 200,000 Chinese, including crack German-trained divisions, were successful in holding back 60,000 Japanese; it was said to be the severest opposition the Japs have met since they fought Russia in 1904.

Japanese aerial bombardments continued in the Chapel, Kiangwan, Taichong and Yangchong districts of Shanghai. The continued peril of the international settlement and the French concession spurred the American, British and French consuls to demand of both the Japanese and Chinese that their forces be withdrawn from that vicinity. Scores of noncombatants were daily being killed and wounded there by falling bombs and shells.

But Japan's long-awaited "big push" had not yet materialized. It was believed large reinforcements were being awaited. The Chinese man power was beginning to tell against the inferior numbers of the Japanese.

One of the war's most sensational military coups occurred in the rocky hills west of Peiping when 4,000 Japanese troops were reported wiped out by the Chinese in ambush. The Japanese line was said to have been driven back five miles by the terrific onslaught, and Japanese commanders were reported more worried than ever over the success of their invasion in this sector.

Another of the war's great horrors was perpetrated when the Japanese bombed a refugee train 300 miles south of Shanghai, killing 300 and wounding 400 noncombatants. Chinese bombers' efforts at reprisal were ineffective.

Only in the northern province of Chahar did the Japanese make real progress. There they captured the capital city of Kalgan. A commission of 100 "prominent" Mongols and Chinese (many of them known to be associated with the Japanese army) was setting up a new "popular" autonomous government under Japanese control.

Plague Upon a Plague

JOHN L. LEWIS, fire-eating chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, let fly a rebuke at President Roosevelt for implied backwatering on campaign promises and hinted at the possibility of a third party in the elections of 1940. In a radio speech he declared:

"It behooves one who has supped at labor's table and who has been sheltered in labor's house to curse with equal fervor and fine impartiality both labor and its adversaries when they become locked in deadly embrace."

This was regarded as an answer to the "plague on both your houses" which President Roosevelt called down on extremists of both sides in the "little steel" strike. In his campaign for re-election he had "supped at labor's table" to the extent of a half-million-dollar contribution to the Democratic national committee by the C. I. O.

Lewis suggested that it would be a wise move for labor and agriculture to wage their battles together politically.

"Labor has suffered just as our farm population has suffered," he said, "from a viciously unequal distribution of the national income."

"The exploitation of both classes of workers has been the source of panic and depression, and upon the economic welfare of both rests the best assurance of a sound and permanent prosperity."

16,098,000-Bale Cotton Crop

THE fifth largest cotton crop yield in the nation's history was forecast by the Department of Agriculture, which estimated a 1937 crop of 16,098,000 bales. The cotton crop September 1 was 75 per cent of normal, indicating an average yield per acre of 228.6 pounds.

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about Tombstone Inscriptions.

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—A gentleman took me sightseeing through a cemetery that abounded in proud mausoleums and stately shafts.

I figured he wanted to show me that rich folks continue to enjoy the utmost luxury even after becoming deceased.

How futile and how vain are most tombstone inscriptions. They give the dates of birth and death—events in neither of which the departed had any say—unless he committed suicide. And just as the average graveside eulogy is a belated plea for the defense, offered after the evidence is all in, so an epitaph is an advertisement for a line of goods which permanently has been discontinued.

Somehow this burying ground stuff reminds me of hired critics of other men's efforts. The difference between professional book reviewers and the other obituarists is that the latter do their work after you pass on, but the reviewers can't wait until you're dead to write your literary death notice for you.

Maybe critics are to authors what fleas were to David Harum's dog; they keep authors from brooding on being authors.

Catching Barracuda.

LEO CARILLO is quite a yachtsman when not acting for the screen or leading parades. He's our champion parade leader. It's got so they don't dare let a colored funeral go past his house for fear he'll rush right out and head the procession.

On one of those days when there wasn't a parade, he took Victor Moore and me out on his boat. We caught a mess of slim, yet fragrant fish. Leo called them barracuda, but, with their low retreating foreheads and greedy jaws, they looked more like shyster lawyers to me—the kind who chase ambulances and eventually get disbarred.

Glad, Mad Artists.

HERETOFORE, the glad, mad geniuses, who produce masterpieces of sculpture and painting which resemble nothing on heaven or earth or in the waters below except possibly some bad dream which these parties had once while feeling pretty bilious, have depended upon the ultra-ultra among the intelligentsia for support.

But now one hears divers millionaires may endow for them an academy of a gallery—or possibly it's an asylum for the more violent cases. Anyhow, there's money behind the cult, and when money gets behind a thing in this country, it usually flourishes, provided the money doesn't get too far behind, as happened in 1929, when the rest of the country was trying to figure out what had become of the deposits and investments, which we, of the sucker class, had entrusted to our leading financial wizards.

Still, we of that same ignorant mass-group do not have to buy examples of this new school. We don't even have to look at them unless we're in Germany and are escorted to the official state-run display by a regiment of Nazi storm-troopers.

And, aside from their ideas of what constitutes art, it's said that some of the artists themselves are not really dangerous, merely annoying in an itchy sort of way. In other words, they're all right if you don't get one of 'em on you.

Pugilistic Authors.

I'M ALWAYS missing something. On the occasion of one really historic battle between a brace of distinguished writers, I yawningly left the scene before Messrs. Sinclair Lewis and Theodore Dreiser quit swapping hard words and started swapping soft blows.

And it was just my luck to be out here recently when Ernest Hemingway threw a book—or maybe it was a publisher; anyhow some such hard, knobby object—at Mr. Max Eastman and Mr. Eastman retorted with a tremendous push which damaged Mr. Hemingway not at all. The typical writer, no matter how red-blooded his style may be, packs all his wallops in his pen and never in his fist. There have been exceptions. Once Rex Beach cleaned out a tight club all by himself, but his opponents were hoodlums, not fellow-writers. He had something substantial to work on.

Some of my belligerent brethren in the writing game never lose an argument, but, on the other hand, none of them ever won a fight. Neither did their literary opponents. In fact, next to the average professional pugilist, I can think of no one who, in the heat of combat, equals a writer for showing such magnificent self-control when it comes either to inflicting personal injury or sustaining same.

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL By Carter Field

FAMOUS WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT

Washington.—Decision to make nine-cent loans on cotton, plus the bonus to those agreeing in advance to go along with next year's reduction in acreage program—to be provided in the special legislation on which President Roosevelt now has the Congress—marks the beginning of the end of cotton growing in the southeastern states.

The point is very simple. At present 60 per cent of the cotton crop of the United States, on the average, is exported. Which means that it is sold, naturally, in competition with cotton from all other parts of the world. During the last six years especially, though there were beginnings before that, Brazil has been increasing its cotton production by leaps and bounds.

Brazil can sell cotton at a profit at six cents, American money, a pound. During the period of expansion the world price has been held, largely through American efforts, at above ten cents. During the first year or two it was the Hoover farm board which artificially maintained the world price of the staple. Before the shrewd speculators had bought up huge stocks of cotton at the low early depression figures, and reaped a harvest when government efforts put the price up.

Just as the Soviet government obtained an enormous price for its bumper wheat crop, also in the Hoover farm board days, by the simple expedient of concealing the fact that Russia had a lot of wheat to sell, and selling it short in American markets—incidentally to the farm board—and delivering the actual wheat later instead of covering, as Arthur M. Hyde, then secretary of agriculture, expected.

In each year of AAA reduction—following the farm board period, it can be ascertained from official figures—the curtailment of American exports was almost precisely matched by increased production in the rest of the world. This was not a coincidence. It did not just happen. The world wanted the cotton and bought it elsewhere. It would have bought the cotton from the United States if we had produced it. Our own failure to produce it encouraged the producers of other countries.

Brazil Takes Lead

Brazil led this parade, but there were many other foreign countries participating, including even the new Japanese puppet state in North China.

Remembering this six-cent price at which Brazil can afford to sell cotton at a profit, the fact seems to be—and this based on our own government figures—that only two states in the Union can compete with such low cost production. These states are Texas and Oklahoma, and there would be plenty of wails from them if the price drops that low.

All of which points to the eventual retiring of all the southern states east of the Mississippi from cotton production, since it is only a matter of time when the export of cotton will be virtually impossible economically.

This may prove a blessing. In Georgia there is a monument to the cotton boll-weevil in a certain county seat. That county was forced by the weevil to turn from cotton to other crops, including peanuts, and as an unexpected result the county flourished as it had never done before.

So that it is not impossible that the entire South, from North Carolina to Louisiana and Arkansas, may be enormously benefited when that section stops raising cotton and turns to other crops.

But no one who is really responsible for what is about to take place is planning any such consummation!

Seeking Motive

Many critics of the Roosevelt administration and the New Deal generally have been critical of both because of the attitude of the powers that be against Andrew W. Mellon. Since his death there have been more vocal demonstrations of this than usual—more seeking for the "motive" that inspired the attacks.

Most of the ascribed explanations miss the truth by a mile. First, there was nothing personal in it. Second, there was no particular desire to discredit the Hoover administration. This last may sound fantastic, but the simple truth is that if James A. Farley and Charles Michelson could have accomplished just what they wanted by propaganda directed to Republicans last year, they would have nominated Herbert C. Hoover instead of Gov. Alfred M. Landon at Cleveland.

This of course refers to their attitude at the time—unintended with hindsight as the situation is viewed now. As a matter of fact, several important Democratic chieftains took one very concrete step, shortly after Christmas, 1935, to aid in the nomination of Hoover by the Republicans. They supplied a certain strongly pro-New Deal newspaper man with ample funds, and instructed him to let any newspaper man who differed with him in an argument that Hoover would be the Republican nominee. They further instructed him not to bother about odds, but to bet at even money if he could find any takers!

The whole point was to put a doubt in the minds of the men writing Washington dispatches to newspapers all over the country about a possible Hoover comeback. Frankly, the New Dealers at that time thought they could beat any Republican, but they knew they could beat Hoover. So they wanted Hoover nominated.

No, the motive in attacking Mellon was different, and more important, than any indirect means of smearing Hoover.

Mellon's Feat

Mellon represented a legend which had to be destroyed, from the New Deal standpoint. Mellon stood, in a way, for all the old, thrifty American virtues—particularly getting out of debt. Mellon's great claim to fame will always be that he paid off $9,000,000,000 of federal debt in ten years as secretary of the treasury—paid it off much faster than congress wished by the simple device of fooling congress every year about expected receipts.

Even more damning, Mellon stood in the public mind for the theory that reduction of taxes on big incomes and corporations results not in less but in more money for the Treasury. In a way, he proved it. This is controversial. The answer is made that he was able to do both things because there was a rising tide of prosperity which never turned from flood to ebb until the last fiscal year with which he was concerned.

There is a rising tide of prosperity right now in this country. Everyone has been fairly sure for several years now that it was en route. But there is no pursuit of the Mellon doctrine of paying off one's debts during good years so that when the bad years come there will be, so to speak, an ace in the hole in the form of a huge, unexhausted credit.

Harry L. Hopkins is perhaps the frankest of New Dealers about fiscal matters. He contends that there must always be huge relief expenditures, and that the government must have the courage to take in taxes from those who have to finance them. But, it was figured quite a long time back in this administration, the Mellon doctrine must be destroyed and discredited to make anything like this possible.

That's the real reason for the smear Mellon campaign.

Expect Big Show

Official Washington can hardly wait to see the show expected when Justice Hugo L. Black, former senator from Alabama, begins to function. The waggy comment to wait "until the eight old men" give him a dinner of welcome illustrates one angle of the interest.

But that is just the human, impish angle. The serious angle is whether the new justice will continue as a hard-hitting, ruthless New Dealer, or whether he will, as some lawyers around Washington have put it, have a "rush of law to the head."

There is another angle—which may be found by studying the life and works of some of the great liberal justices, notably Oliver Wendell Holmes, Louis D. Brandeis and Benjamin N. Cardozo. It is the difference between talking for the under dog and acting for the under dog.

The two things are far from being the same, as anyone who analyzes politics and economic conditions coldly will discover at once. The truth of course is that the embattled automobile workers in their various fights—and in the fight to come with Henry Ford—are not the under dogs of this country by any manner of calculation.

The automobile workers were, as workers go, extremely well-paid even before the recent adjustments. They had higher pay and worked shorter hours than almost any other class of workers with equal skill.

Must Work

Considering the length of training and the responsibility required of the men in the five railroad brotherhoods, where a man has to work through quite a period before he can be a fireman, and then has to work usually for years before he gets a chance to be an engine driver, the automobile workers are very highly paid indeed.

So it was rather maudlin to get worked up about the underprivileged and downtrodden if you were thinking about the automobile workers. This is no attempt to criticize them, or those in sympathy with them. That is not the point. There is plenty of room for argument as to whether they are getting a sufficiently large share of the profits of the business, or whether any struggle is not worth while to force collective bargaining. The only point is that they are and have been anything but the under dogs of this country's economic and social life.

FEMINE TECHNIQUE

Marjorie Gesting, Olympic 3-meter springboard champion, gets off to a good start with plenty of what it takes for a full twisting dive.

It is hardly believable that this young lady's tender years carry enough weight to get the most out of such a heavy board, but—— what could be more graceful than this flight into the higher altitudes of fame?

Not everyone can twist like this, while in mid-air and still expect their bridgework to remain in its proper anchorage.

A beautiful recovery and in perfect form—Ah! What form, what form!

CHAPTER XI—Continued "Don't let old inferiority complex get you, Sammy," Brooke warned. "Lucette and I know that this play of yours will be box-office, that it will set your name in lights on Broadway. Can't you just see Mother flying across the ocean—if necessary—for the premiere? We'll all have ravishing costumes and—"

CHAPTER XII

Mark Trent glanced at Brooke Reyburn seated at his right in the dim Mirror room of the recently opened Supper club. Light from the illuminated table-top brought out the copper glints in her air, the glow in her radiant eyes, and laid a pinkish sheen over the gleaming silver of her frock. Why wasn't she wearing his orchids? Doubtless the answer to that was that she preferred gardenias. Had Field sent them?

"No, I haven't forgotten that you said that you wouldn't marry me if I were the only man in the world, that divorced men left you cold." She laid her hand on his sleeve. "I was sorry the moment I said that. Really I was, Please forget it." The maitre d'hotel stopped at the table. He glistened from the top of his sleek black head to his patent leather shoes. He looked Italian with a streak of Turk; he spoke American with a French accent. "Good evening, Mr. Trent. Glad to see you here, sir."

Behind the scenes in the Club House theater, Brooke, as property woman, checked her list for the last time. Every article which the characters would need to take to the stage was present and accounted for. Almost time for the curtain. If only her heart wouldn't pound so. It shook her body. But hadn't her body shake with excitement whenever she had seen Sam act? He was coming. He was almost as white as the shirt-front of his evening clothes, his eyes were like flames as he stopped beside her.

Lucette waited for the greeting of applause to quiet before, without a trace of nervousness, she spoke her first line. Sam nodded approval, frowned as Daphne answered shakily. Brooke couldn't see the stage, but she could hear the voices. Jed Stewart was red and perspiring under the responsibility of getting the actors on and off. Once as he passed her he whispered:

"That proposal—if it is a proposal?" "It is."

"No! Of course not! Don't look at me as if you were trying to see the wheels of my mind go round."

"I only love one and that one is you. And that one is you."

"That was a burst of applause from the dancers. Mark reminded: 'You haven't answered my question, Brooke.'"

"That was a burst of applause from the dancers. Mark reminded: 'You haven't answered my question, Brooke.'"

Here's What to Sew

THIS is not a wishing-page, Milady, even though it is from a book of exclusive fashions by Sew-Your-Own! You can run any one of these frocks through your machine in short order. The patterns are so easy to follow (even the simon-pure will say they're simple) and the finished article so exciting you'll be apt to ask yourself, "Why have I waited so long to Sew, sew, sew my own?"

All-Occasion Dress. Here is one frock that belongs in every woman's wardrobe. You'll look prettier in the kitchen, more comfortable at work—and in your silk crepe version—prettier in afternoon leisure or shopping on the avenue.

Simple 'n' Charming. A lusciously feminine frock for you, young but knowing ladies of fashion, is the model looking right at you from above center.

New School Frock. You cute, little lady of fashion, this is your lucky day. You and Mommy will agree on this dress just like two pals should agree.

The Patterns. Pattern 1267 is designed for sizes 34 to 48. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 35-inch material, plus 1 1/2 yards contrasting.

Pattern 1362 is designed for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 38 bust). Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material—with short sleeves 4 1/2 yards.

Household Questions

Raspberry Shrub.—To three quarts of red raspberries and one quart of sugar add one cup of vinegar. Cook slowly for half an hour and strain through cheesecloth. Pour into sterilized bottles and seal. Serve over ice cubes diluted with water to taste.

In Preparing a Chicken Dinner.—A live chicken usually weighs a third more than a dressed chicken. Allow half a pound of dressed chicken per person.

Save the Curtains.—A finger cut from an old gloyd and slipped over the end of a curtain rod enables it to be pushed through the curtain hems of the finest net without catching and tearing the fabric.

Devised Cheese.—One dessert-spoon grated cheese, one-teaspoon milk, one pinch celery salt, (optional), cayenne, one-half teaspoon made mustard. Mix all ingredients to smooth paste. Spread on any unsweetened biscuit (cream crackers). Place under a red-hot grill to brown. Serve immediately.

Dainty Shoulder Straps.—When making your undies try using narrow velvet ribbon for the shoulder-straps. The velvet side next to the skin acts as a grip, while the satin on top looks dainty.

Pattern 1213 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16 years. Size 10 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35 or 39-inch material, plus 3/4 yard contrasting with 1 1/2 yards of 1-inch bias binding.

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

This is Constitution Week.

One hundred and fifty years ago today, a majority of the delegates from twelve of the thirteen states signed the Constitution and submitted it to the states for ratification. George Washington was president of the Constitutional Convention.

The document was the result of the best thought of the ablest men of the America of that day. Some of them, like Benjamin Franklin, were aged men of long experience and profound wisdom. Most of them, however, were young men, brilliant progressives of their era. Every proposal was able and thoroughly debated, and it took four months for the Convention to agree on a final draft of the great instrument.

It was September 12, 1787, when the majority of the delegates agreed upon the draft of the document to be submitted.

Then the fight for ratification began. Many opposed its ratification on the grounds that the rights of the several states and the rights of the individual citizen were not sufficiently safeguarded. To meet these objections, the proponents of adoption agreed to submit a series of amendments immediately following adoption which would safeguard these rights. By June 21, 1788, the Constitution had been ratified by the necessary number of states, and the remaining states finally ratified it.

At the first session of the First Congress ten constitutional amendments were submitted, September 25, 1789. These were adopted by eleven of the states by December 15, 1791. They constitute what is known as the Bill of Rights, and have been a part of the Constitution virtually from the beginning.

Other amendments, some of them growing out of the issues of the Civil War have been adopted, but two of them do not count, for one of them was adopted merely to repeal the other. These provide for the adoption and repeal of National Prohibition of the liquor traffic.

Thus the great document, amended from time to time by the people to meet their needs or desires, stands today as the supreme law of the greatest republic the world has ever known.

MAJORITY RULE

Majority rule is the essence of democracy.

Yet in democracies the rights of minorities are recognized, and the rights of the individual are proclaimed and protected as in no other form of government.

One of the main purposes of our own Federal Constitution is to protect the rights of the individual. The rights of the majority in our country are limited by the inalienable rights of the individual set out in our constitution.

For instance, the majority has no right to interfere with the religious beliefs of the individual.

The majority has no right to suppress freedom of speech, freedom of the press, or the right to assemble peacefully to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The majority has no right to deprive the individual, when accused of crime, of a speedy public trial by an impartial jury.

The majority has no right to deprive an individual of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

Other individual rights are enumerated in the Constitution, and this is followed by the Ninth Amendment which says: The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

And then comes the Tenth Amendment: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, and not prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Therefore, the Federal government is one of limited powers. Congress can exercise only such legislative powers as are delegated to it by the Constitution. It can not Constitutionally legislate on just any and every matter that may pertain to the welfare of the people.

When we assert therefore that every Act of Congress should be upheld on the ground that it represents the will or desire of the people, we do violence to our Constitution.

When we assert that we should have majority rule in this country on any and every subject imaginable, regardless of the Constitution and regardless of the rights of individual, we are simply advocating mob rule, that's all.

We have a Constitution which defines the powers of Congress and of the President and which safeguards the individual in his personal rights against the tyranny of a brutal majority. It is the duty of our courts to protect the individual in these rights even against unconstitutional acts of Congress and unconstitutional authority usurped or claimed by heads of executive departments.

Any great leader who proclaims that a majority has the unlimited and unqualified right to rule, regardless of constitutions and individual rights, is a dangerous man. He should be watched.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH COTTON?

"Good Democrats" now tell that they have been wrong all these past years and that the Republicans are right. We must have a Protective tariff. American labor can not compete with cheap foreign labor, they say. American cotton farmers can not compete with foreign cotton farmers, and therefore must have their protective tariff in the form of a subsidy.

Labor in China and India and Egypt, they say, is so cheap that if American laborers were compelled to compete with it they would starve to death. They forget to tell us that this so-called cheap labor also turns out cheap work. An American farmer, with his improved farming machinery, can produce probably five to ten times as many bales of cotton per year as an Asiatic farmer can produce. One American laborer in a steel mill or an automobile factory can produce on an average much more than the ordinary worker in a European factory. He can be paid more by his employer because he is worth more to his employer. The Indian and the Egyptian farmer can not compete with the American farmer in an open market in raising cotton, for the reason that each of them can produce only a few bales while the American farmer is producing many bales. Besides, the Indian farmer must continually combat famine. He must devote most of his land to the production of food.

If foreign cotton production has greatly and steadily increased the past few years, it is because the consumers of raw cotton have been turning to these countries for their raw material. They are doing that, we believe, because we have built a tariff wall around this country against their products. Since they can not sell to us they will buy from us as long as they can manage to get the same goods elsewhere. Thus our high protective tariff turns the foreign purchaser away from our shores. It robs the American farmer of his foreign market.

And that's what's the matter with cotton. If we would abandon the Republican protective tariff policy and adopt the good old Democratic doctrine of levying a "tariff for revenue only," we think many of the ills of the Southern cotton farmer would gradually vanish without our resort to such drastic stimulants as are dosed out to him in the form of subsidies and crop control laws, which eventually leave the patient in worse condition than they found him.

Chicago may have started something. Pupils of the seventh grade in the Chicago schools were given their lessons by radio Monday. There were possibly more than 300,000 of them. The experiment was the result of suspension of regular class work pending the subsidence of an outbreak of infantile paralysis. It is probable that within a few years much teaching will be done by radio.

At Your Best!

Free From Constipation
Nothing beats a clean system for health!

At the first sign of constipation, take Black-Draught for prompt relief.

Many men and women have said Black-Draught brings such refreshing relief. By its cleansing action, poisonous effects of constipation are driven out; you soon feel better, more efficient.

Black-Draught costs less than most other laxatives.

We are not a very great admirer of Hugo Black, recently appointed as Justice of the Supreme Court, but we think all this furor raised recently by Senator Copeland, Al Smith, and others was intended chiefly for New York consumption in the majority race. While we never had any love for the Ku Klux Klan, we do not think that the fact that Black may have belonged to the order ten or fifteen years ago necessarily disqualifies him for service on the Supreme Court now. Many of our very finest citizens were once members of the Klan. That is a forgotten issue.

We have never seen the Tahoka daisies so numerous nor so luxuriant as they are in Lynn county this fall. We think it would be a fine thing if many of us would make it a point to scatter the seeds along the highways.

We have noted more cockle burrs and Johnson grass in the lanes and even in the fields in Lynn county this year than ever before. Drastic steps should be taken immediately to prevent the spread of these pests.

Young people all over Texas are swarming back to college this week and next. May their numbers increase from year to year. Wish all our high school graduates could go to college.

We seem to be rapidly entering an era of closed markets and closed shops, and we are wondering if we may not soon have a government behind closed doors.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that cars must hereafter be parked properly in the spaces marked on the curbing in the business section of Tahoka.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that bids will be received up until 10 a. m., October 11, 1937, on the following described equipment: One Diesel tractor, wide gage, 18 inch track shoes, approximately 60-horse motor, upholstered seat, starter, no cab; and one 10-foot power-control blade grader, complete with two 3-foot extensions, approximate shipping weight 8,200 pounds.

The court reserves the right to reject any or all bids. If any bid be accepted, it is the intention of the commissioners court of Lynn county to issue interest-bearing time warrants in payment for the hereinbefore described road machinery, and the contract therefor in the maximum amount of $4,000, bearing interest at the maximum rate of five per cent per annum and maturing serially over a period of four years with maximum maturity date May 1, 1941.

P. W. GOAD, County Judge, Lynn County, Texas. 5-2tc.

KENNETH REIDS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Kenoth Reid returned to Tahoka Sunday to take up their residence here again. They are occupying their home on North Main Street. Kenoth has resumed his work at the Reid Radio Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid left here about the first of January and moved to Talso, in East Texas, where he accepted a job with an oil company. He started in at $8.00 per day and at the time of his resignation a few days ago he was receiving $7.00 per day, but they didn't like work in an oil field and decided to come back to their home in Tahoka. Many friends here are glad that they are back.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob North, who now reside thirteen miles northwest of Brownfield, were here Tuesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wetsel and other friends.

The cast of characters included Misses Syble Pirtle and Etha Mae Sherrill; Mr. Pirtle, Warren Benzett, Corbin Douthit, Mark Bankston, George Pugh, John Self, Rex Jackson, T. W. Smith and Mrs. Pirtle. The play was well presented and very entertaining. The church wishes to thank all those who helped to make it a success.

Sunday school met as usual with a large group present. The young people's class taught by Miss Etha Mae Sherrill had an unusually large group. They wish to invite others to join their group as well as the league in the evening. H. Bevin Caswell preached an inspirational sermon at the morning hour.

The league members enjoyed a social at the church Monday night.

Be it remembered, that at the Sept. Term of the Commissioners' Court of Lynn County, Texas, begun and holden at the Court House of said County in the City of Tahoka, on the 13th day of Sept., A. D. 1937, present and presiding, the Honorable P. W. Goad, County Judge; G. W. Small, Com'r. Prec't. No. 1; Sam H. Holland, Com'r. Prec't. No. 2; Waldo McLaurin, Com'r. Prec't. No. 3; Tom N. Hale, Com'r. Prec't. No. 4; the following proceedings, among others, were had, to-wit: The State of Texas, County of Lynn.

In the Commissioners' Court, 13th day of Sept., 1937. It is ordered by the Court that Election Precinct No. 15 shall hereafter include the territory within the following metes and bounds, to-wit: Beginning at a point on the north boundary line of Lynn County, Texas, on the East Side of Section No. 53, Block 20, H. E. & W. T. R. R. Co., where Lynn and Lubbock counties join, for the beginning and running due South, along Section lines of Sections Nos. 53, 54, 167, 130, 129 and 134 about five and one-half (5½) miles, to the southeast corner of Section No. 134, Block 12, E. L. and R.R.R. R. Co. survey; Then West One mile (1) to the Southwest Corner of Section No. 134; Then South one mile (1) to the Southeast Corner of Section No. 151, Block — H. E. and W. T. Survey; Then West one mile (1) to the Southwest corner of Section No. 151, H. E. and W. T. Survey; Then South One mile (1) to the Southeast corner of Section No. 139, Block 12 E. L. and R.R.R.R. Co. Survey; Then West about 3½ miles, along Section lines of Sections Nos. 139, 142, 141, and 24 to and joining the West boundary line of Lynn and Terry Counties; Then North along boundary line of Lynn and Terry Counties to the Northwest corner of Lynn County; Then East along the North boundary line of Lynn County to the place of beginning, and elections in said Precinct shall be held at Lakeview School house.

The foregoing minutes from page 57 to 57 inclusive, read and approved this 13th day of September 1937. P. W. GOAD, County Judge, Lynn County, Texas. Attest: H. C. STORY, Clerk County Court, Lynn County, Texas, State of Texas, County of Lynn.

I, H. C. Story, Clerk County Court in and for Lynn County, Texas, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the Order of the Commissioners' Court creating a new election precinct in the County of Lynn as the same appears of record in Volume 1, on page 57 of the Election Minutes of Lynn Co., Texas. Witness my hand and seal of said court, at office in Tahoka, Texas, on this the 14th day of September, A. D. 1937. (SEAL) H. C. STORY, Clerk County Court, Lynn County, Texas. By Pauline Smelser, Deputy. 5-31c

Mrs. Robert Jackson and children accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hannah to Henderson Tuesday. She is Jack's sister. She expects to remain in that section of the state till her infant child can be given treatment at Austin for a congenital affliction.

A number of persons, we understand, have been fined in Lynn and Garza counties this week for shooting doves from their cars on the highways. A lot of people may not know that this is a violation of the law, but they are finding it out.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

SHORT SHORT STORY

(By Paul Ponder)

There were two Jews who operated a store in a certain town; and as several stores had been burglarized recently, Jake and Isadore decided they would remain in their place of business through night and try to catch the burglar. Each of them provided himself with a gun; Jake placed Isadore at the front of the building and stationed himself at the rear.

Along in the night the thief almost noiselessly picked the front lock and was in the store almost before the watcher knew it. As he started about selecting the goods he intended to take away, Isadore raised up with his gun leveled at him, and asked: "Vat for you come in here in de night?"

"I'm looking for a gun," said the man. "I need one badly; what will you take for that one?"

Isadore lowered the gun and began telling him what a fine piece of firearms it was, making a special reduced price because it was the last one in the house, etc.

Jake heard the conversation, and came up to the front and asked: "Vl don't you-shoot him?"

"How should I shoot the shentleman," answered Isadore, "ven he ish talking peeness?"

Dupree Speaks At Rotary Meeting

Hon. George W. Dupree of Lubbock was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon here Tuesday. He stressed the matter of friendship and fellowship developed and enjoyed by Rotarians in their club meetings and the service such clubs may render in their home communities, rather than the service they may render in the solution of international problems. Calling attention to the fact that the German Governmental agencies had recently suppressed the Rotary clubs in Germany, he hoped that the time would never come in America when any man or coterie of men could suppress any such club in this country.

Charles Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal, invited the entire membership of the Tahoka Club to attend an inter-city relations meeting to be held at the stock-judging pavilion at the Texas Tech next Wednesday evening.

Carl Rountree of Lamesa brought friendly greetings from the Lamesa Club, now in an attendance contest with the Tahoka Club.

Other visitors present were Tim Becker of Lubbock, Windy Beckham and David Murray of Lamesa, O. D. Cardwell of Post, and Paul Baker of Austin, the latter being the guest of Supt. W. G. Barrett.

Mr. Barrett invited all Rotarians and other business men of the town to attend the football game to be played here this afternoon by the Brownfield and Tahoka teams.

County Agent V. F. Jones also announced the farmers cotton improvement meeting to be held here next Monday morning and invited the business men to be present.

A cotton crop guessing contest proved to be of considerable interest.

Last week, on account of the Roundup, the Rotarians had their luncheon on Friday instead of on Thursday. The principal speaker of that occasion was Hon. Leon Harp of Austin, chairman of the Texas Securities Board, whose business it is to administer and enforce the "Blue Sky" law. He was accompanied by his assistant, Horace B. Sessions of Ballinger, who also made a

Bob Burns Will Star At Pan American Exposition

Bob Burns, baseball-playing screen and radio star, will be presented by the Pan American Exposition in Dallas in two big free shows in the Cotton Bowl Sept. 25-26. The affair will be in the nature of a reunion of Burns' famous family, including Aunt Boo and Grandpa Snazzy from Arkansas. Free to Exposition visitors, the show will be held nightly in the Cotton Bowl seating 47,000.

Mass Meeting Of Farmers Called

E. W. Holloway, secretary of the Lynn County Agricultural Association, has requested that we announce that there will be a mass meeting of farmers in Tahoka next Monday morning immediately following the cotton improvement meeting to discuss the matter of prices to be paid by farmers for cotton picking and pulling. It is expected that a large number of farmers from the various communities of the county will be present.

Mrs. J. W. Auld of Palestine, who formerly was Miss Maxine Jones of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones, wired her parents a few days ago that she and Mr. Auld are the parents of a fine healthy boy, whom they have named Clyde David in honor of his two grandpapas. The family here are delighted.

BAPTIST ATTEND MEETING HELD AT NEW HOME

Tahoka Baptist Church was represented in the annual meeting of the Brownfield Baptist Association meeting with the New Home Church Wednesday by the following: Rev. and Mrs. Geo. A. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. W. Burton Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Ratcliff, Mesdames F. L. Kelley, E. N. Weathers, Martha Stroud, F. W. Goad, E. I. Hill, H. F. St. Clair, Jim Burleson, H. P. Caveness, J. B. Walker, H. L. Roddy, C. Hufstader, J. L. Reese, C. T. Oliver, A. O. King, Garland Pennington, T. B. Burrough, Wylie Fortenberry, H. M. Snowden, Alton Cain, and Misses Margaret Preston, Berta Hill and Lois Goad.

Other churches of the county were well represented.

Thirty churches sent reports. The morning program included the election of officers for the ensuing two years and the annual sermon, which was brought by Rev. J. M. Lunsford of O'Donnell. Officers elected were: Rev. S. K.

McCulloch of New Home, moderator; W. W. Price of Brownfield, treasurer; and Rev. J. N. Campbell of Meadow, secretary.

The afternoon was devoted largely to W. M. U. work with the following officers elected: Mrs. L. Lumsden, Wilson, president; Mrs. Clyde Shaw, Wilson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. I. Hill, Tahoka, recording secretary.

Rev. Moore, returned missionary from China, and R. C. Buckner spoke.

George J. Mason is a speaker for Thursday's session.

Miss Margaret Wetzel has accepted the position of teacher of Spanish and English in the high school at Grenville, New Mexico. Carl Nowlin of Tahoka is teacher of vocational agriculture there.

J. D. Liles of Tyler was here on business Wednesday. J. D. was a resident of this county and of Tahoka for several years. He was delighted to see such excellent crops here.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB STUDIES BIBLE

The Friendship Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. McKenzie on September 7th.

Our program for the meeting consisted of sketches on some characters of the Bible.

The Ball Jar contest was discussed and plans were made for the cake and cookie contest.

Those present were: Mrs. T. I. Tippit, Mrs. Ernest Brown, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. W. H. Kahl, Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. Garland Pennington, Mrs. A. J. Bell, and Mrs. Weldon Jones.

Clint Sikes of Three Lakes had his tonsils removed in a Lubbock sanitarium Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Garrison of Houston spent Thursday and Friday here with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuart. Mrs. Garrison is Mr. Stuart's daughter. He says that the visitors were greatly pleased with the wonderful crops they found here and declared they were coming back out here to live some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lige Holley and little son, Edwin, accompanied by Lonnie King, returned home Saturday from a week's tour through East Texas. They visited the Pan-American Exposition in Dallas and interesting places in Fort Worth.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place. In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

METHODIST MISSIONARY ANNOUNCES SALE

An interesting program on Stewardship was rendered at the Methodist Missionary Society Monday afternoon. Mrs. Gibson led the discussion, ably assisted by Mesdames Fenton and Smith.

The hour of meeting of the Society is at 3 o'clock instead of 4 since school began.

The Rummage Sale opens in the Wells building, across from the Larkin building, next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Quite a lot of really good clothes have been collected and will be sold at a small price—real good values for money expended. Please send all good used clothes, hats, shoes, etc., to this place.

"The Moslem World," will be the next study and will begin early in October.

We sorely miss those who are sick and not able to be with us, especially our faithful, good president, Mrs. Bucy, and hope for her to soon resume her place. Mrs. Fenton, vice president, very ably substitutes for her.

Next Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock an interesting program for interesting people. Will be looking for you.—Reporter.

DALE IS SPEAKER AT W. M. S. MEETING

Using Caleb as a type of truly courageous Christian whose faith in God and loyalty to his fellowman never wavered, Bro. Dale urged the local W. M. S. to go forward this year with a stronger organization of their own and greater cooperation in every phase of church work.

In his discussion of church activities preceding the W. M. S. business meeting on Monday afternoon, Bro. Dale expressed his appreciation of the good work done by the local W. M. S. and urged the women to take the lead in the Church-wide loyalty programs for October, which includes Week-of-Prayer and Study Course programs.

Our president, Mrs. J. B. Walker, presided over the business meeting in which reports were given by all standing committee chairmen and plans were made for attending the annual meeting of the Association with the New Home church.

Roll call found the Walker Circle with eleven present, and Sallee and Moon tying with six each.

Those attending were: Rev. Geo. A. Dale and Mesdames Dale, Pennington, Holland, Nevill, Dye, Hill, Kelley, Scott, Hufstader, Walker, Strud, Billman, Roddy, Cavness.

BURLESON, GOAD, REESE, FORTENBERRY, WEATHERS, KING, SNOWDEN, HOWELL, AND ST. CLAIR

DRENNON REPORTS GOOD MEETING AT O'DONNELL

I preached at O'Donnell last Lord's day. There were fine crowds and good interest. The recent meeting held there by Brother Wise of Big Spring resulted in some eighteen or more additions.

As I watch the host of Mexicans coming in, I thought of what a great opportunity we have of doing mission work among them. I wonder how many who hire them will take an interest in them and treat them as Christians should.

As I look on the fine crops this year, I am made to think how good God is to us and how many appreciate it. I would like for some one to tell me what good carnivals do a town, and why we have them, and who brings them in on us.

I want to express my appreciation of the fine change that has been made on the park west of the fire station. A great improvement has surely been made.

I also want to say a good word for the fine rodeo program of last week, and the splendid way in which the large crowd was handled, especially at the lunch hour. Those in charge did a fine job of it, I say.

How we do need some rent houses. Who will be the first to build one?

Brother Linwood Bishop of Coleman will fill the pulpit here next Lord's morning and evening. Every member is urged to be present, as Brother Bishop is coming with a view of locating among us.

Yours for more meat and less feathers on the chickens.—R. P. DRENNON.

P. S.—Please put my name at the end of the notes so the people won't think I am mixed up with them.

Ed. Note: Well, if anybody thinks you were "mixed up" last week. Just lay it onto the editor. Too much rodeo, carnival, watermelon, and chicken feathers for us to keep everything unmixed in that issue of the paper. Still, we are not running your name at the end this week because you didn't put it at the end. Savvy?

EUZELIAN CLASS HAS WEINER ROAST

The spacious and attractive back lawn of Mrs. R. C. Forrester's home was the scene of a lively party Tuesday evening when members of the Baptist Euzeilian class entertained their husbands with a weiner roast. Conversation and active games followed the feast.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith and Mrs. Russell Vernon were also special guests. Members and husbands included: Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Snowden, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Roddy, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reddell, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Hill, Mesdames J. B. Walker, J. E. Dye, G. C. Shaffer, C. Connolly, and the hostess, Mrs. R. C. Forrester.

NEW LYNN EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETING

The New Lynn Epworth League met Sunday night, Sept. 12, and a very interesting program was given by Mrs. Bartlett.

Miss Sayles will arrange a program on "The World's Wealth" next Sunday.

The League was entertained at the home of Miss Young Sept. 3rd. The social was well attended and the games and picnic lunch was enjoyed by all.

We welcome everyone who will come to be with us at 7:30 each Sunday evening.

PHEBE K. WARNER CLUB

The first meeting of the Phebe K. Warner Club for the year 1937-1938 was held on September tenth at the home of Mrs. L. E. Weathers, with Mesdames Weathers and R. W. Fenton Sr., as hostesses.

Seventeen members answered roll call with a statement on "Why I Am a Club Member."

The retiring President, Mrs. Weathers, in a few well chosen words, presented the gavel to Mrs. H. C. Story, the newly elected President, who gave an inspiring message to the club.

Mrs. W. B. Slaton was appointed Parliamentarian for three months.

The hostesses served a dainty refreshment plate to Mesdames J. K. Applegate, W. G. Barrett, E. E. Callaway, L. F. Craft, A. P. Edwards, T. Garrard, Ben Hardy, F. B. Hesli, Homer Maxey, W. B. Slaton, Truett Smith, H. M. Snowden, G. M. Stewart, H. C. Story, and W. O. Henderson.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. W. G. Barrett on September twenty-fifth.

NEW MEMBERS ENTER METHODIST CHURCH

We had a good day Sunday. We were glad to welcome several new members into the Church.

At our Wednesday night meeting, V. F. Jones was elected Church School superintendent for the new year beginning October 1st. Geo. M. Reid was elected superintendent of the Adult department; Happy Smith, superintendent of the Young People's Department; and Mrs. Claude Donaldson, of the Children's Department.

Our Annual Conference meets on November 17. We are expecting a fine report at that time. We are counting on the church to help make it a 100 percent financial report.

We have received seventy members into the Church and will receive several more by the end of the year.—Rev. Ben Hardy, Pastor.

HENDRIX FAMILY HOMECOMING

Mrs. R. N. Hendrix of Magnolia had as her guests during the week all her children except one, E. Hendrix of Childress being unable to come.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hendrix of Jasper, Mrs. W. N. McGregor of Malakoff, Mrs. J. T. Price of Childress, Mrs. Jennie Hendrix of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morgan, with whom Mrs. Hendrix resides.

Also present were Mrs. Hendrix's nephew, Henry Priest, and Mrs. Priest of Chester, Texas, nine grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

This was quite an event for Mrs. Hendrix, who is eighty-one years of age, and she enjoyed every minute immensely. This was the first time that most of her family had been together since they were children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hannah of Henderson spent several days here over the week end and the first of this week visiting his father, J. W. Hannah, and his sister, Mrs. Robert Jackson. Jack has a good job with the Atlantic Refining Company as supervisor of pumping, having a number of wells under his supervision.

Miss Mary Hill, assistant librarian at the Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine, spent Sunday afternoon and night here in the editor's home.

Miss Eloise Clark has accepted a teaching position at Whiteflat near Matador and her work has already begun.

Newmoore Erma Jean Brandon

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gatewood spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. John Lloyd, at Berryflat.

There will be a meeting opening at Newmoore Wednesday night, September 15.

The Baptist meeting, conducted by Bro. Watley, closed Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Heard are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brandon.

Mrs. D. L. Beattie, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brandon, returned to her home Saturday at Artesia, New Mexico.

The Newmoore gin has ginned two bales of cotton for John McLaurin.

Mrs. Cox reports that the following in her room are on the honor roll at school this month: Low first grade, Emma Jean Crutcher and Lawrence O'Dell Rogers; high first, Wada Hanes; second, Wade Duncan.

The following in the primary room were given prizes for regular attendance during the first month of school by their teacher, Mrs. Cox: Betty Jane Swearingen, Billie Jean Cathey, Wada O'Dell Rogers, Horace Ray Crutcher, and Morgan Fitch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whitehead of Washington, D. C., are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lockwood. Mrs. Whitehead and Mrs. Lockwood are sisters. This is Mr. Whitehead's first visit to Texas, and he is "carried away" with our state, particularly the South Plains.

J. P. West and daughter, Miss Lawrence, visited relatives at O'Brien over the week end.

"Why did you put the sign over your desk, 'This is my busy day'?" "It makes a good impression," answered Senator Sorghum, "when an influential constituent calls."
"But it might give offense."
"Not at all. It adds to a visitor's sense of importance when I give him a cigar and tell him I want to have a long chat with him."

Those Who Are Good Must of Needs Match

I doubt whether anything in the world can beautify a soul more spontaneously, more naturally, than the knowledge that somewhere in its neighborhood there exists a pure and noble being whom it can unreservedly love. When the soul has veritably drawn near to such a being, beauty is no longer a lovely, lifeless thing, for it takes up to itself an imperious existence, and its activity becomes so natural as to be henceforth irresistible. Wherefore you will do well to think it over, for none are alone.—Masterlinck.

GOOD RELIEF

of constipation by a GOOD LAXATIVE
Many folks get such refreshing relief by taking Black-Draught for constipation that they prefer it to other laxatives and urge their friends to try it. Black-Draught is made of the leaves and roots of plants. It does not disturb digestion but stimulates the lower bowel so that constipation is relieved.

MALARIA

Speedy Relief of Chills and Fever
When your teeth are chattering with chills and your body burning with fever, you want quick and reliable relief!
Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is the medicine you want to take for Malaria. This is no new-fangled or untried preparation, but a treatment of proven merit.
Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic contains tasteless quinine and iron. It quickly stops the chills and fever and also tends to build you up. This is the double effect you want. The very next time you feel chills and fever coming on, get a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Start taking it immediately and it will soon fix you up.
All drug stores sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic, 50c and $1. The latter is the more economical size.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month. Too often the honeymoon euphoria is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain.
For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three decades of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."
Don't be a three-quarter wife; take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to be maintained. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, irritability of mind, getting up nights, swelling, painness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all were out.
Frequent scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Lesson for September 19

CHOICES AND THEIR CONSEQUENCES IN A NATION'S LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 11:8-12, 26-32. GOLDEN TEXT—Choose you this day whom ye will serve.—Joshua 24:15. PRIMARY TOPIC—Our Country. JUNIOR TOPIC—Choosing Sides. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Importance of Our Choices. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—My Part in Making Up the Nation's Mind.

Nations as well as individuals are responsible before God for the manner in which they live. They enjoy the blessings of right living, and suffer the penalty of wrong moral choices. While it is true that national leaders may not always reflect the true character of the people, it is generally true that there is a sort of national character which over a longer period of time accurately represents the moral condition of the people as a whole.

Many earnest men and women believe that the United States of America stands today at the crossroads of national moral decision. There has been an unquestionable decadence of true religion, of home life, of social purity, and a growth of moral indifference and outright wickedness which causes men who think to cry out for a revival of old-fashioned spiritual and moral standards ere it be too late. The most effective, and in fact the only really effective way to bring that about, is a revival within the church of Christ, and a resultant renewal of its service in winning men to Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Lord. A 24-page booklet "Lessons in Soul-Winning," by Dr. Will H. Houghton, will be sent by the writer without charge to those requesting it. If possible enclose a 3 cent stamp.

I. Right Choices Result in Blessing (vv. 8, 9).

Making the right choice is in fact a simple matter, for it means only obedience to God's commandments. God is the author of the moral law. He alone can and does determine what is right and wrong. Man need not determine, nor is he equipped to decide that question. He can and must relate the details of his life to the law of God. How important it is then that he properly understand that law, and what folly it is to neglect the study of God's Word, where the commandments of God are made known unto men.

Choosing God's way means for both men and the nations which they make up (for my country is in the final analysis myself, and other individuals like me) the assurance of God's blessing and prosperity.

II. God Encourages Right Choices (vv. 10-12).

"Our God is the great and untiring giver of every good and perfect gift." We need but to lift up our eyes and look at His handiwork, or stir up our memories to recall His goodness, and we know that He and all His blessed works encourage us to do right—to live right. But, alas, all too often God's choicest gifts are perverted and are used to bring the very opposite result. The most beautiful lakes and naturally delightful surroundings are used for resorts and clubs which all too often lead men to moral destruction. Parents almost fear that their daughters may be too attractive, for the world, the flesh, and the devil are constantly out "scouting" for beautiful women whose very God-given beauty may be used to glorify sin and lead others into disobedience to God.

III. Right and Wrong Are Fundamental and Eternal (vv. 26-32).

It needs to be repeated over and over again in these callous and indifferent days that there is laid down in the very constitution of the entire universe a moral distinction between right and wrong. Right is always right, and wrong is definitely and eternally wrong. There is no moral twilight zone, where things are neither white nor black, but a neutral gray.

Note that the difference between right and wrong was to be the same "on the other side of the Jordan." Time and place have no power to change moral law. What was right or wrong for your great-grandfather is right or wrong for you. What was right in your home on the farm is right in the city where you now live, or vice-versa. The passing of the years or a change of residence does not alter that law of God.

May God help the people of our nation, and all the countries of the earth, to remember that it is still true that "righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people" (Prov. 14:34).

Silks Are Most Sumptuous This Fall

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE fourth annual silk parade is on in country-wide pageantry and during this time your favorite stores will have an unusually wide selection of silk merchandise and the smartest new silk fabrics. Plan to do your shopping for your fall wardrobe at that time when the highlights of the season will be available.

For the important evening wrap, silk and metal brocades in quaintly beautiful colorings or exotic tones are in high favor. These are often elaborate in texture and include self and metal faconne as well as exquisitely colorful metal brocaded flowers. For a floating full-skirted frock, silk and metal marquise that reminds of oriental sheers that veiled harem beauties, is new this season.

The queenly figure descending the stairs to the right in the picture is gowned in one of the opulent new silks. It is a black satin with self and metal faconne in a leaf pattern. Here is a perfect demonstration of the new trend toward styling the gown with that utmost simplicity that ignores any suggestion of trimming in order the more to play up the superbness of the fabric. It is interesting to note the gloves milady wears in that the cuffs are finished with bands of glittering sequins that match perfectly.

For evening there is nothing more breath taking than the colorful lacquer-printed silk satins. These feature flowers, geometrics, Indian and Persian designs, and they are very new and important. See to the left in the picture how dramatically printed satin of the glamorous type drapes to the figure.

Describing the swatches of handsome silks shown in the insets below, the one to the left is a multi-color stamp printed silk satin for evening. It will prove charming for a short-skirted young dance frock. It is also the type of silk that makes a fetching deep girde for a black velvet dress—which is one thing about these more elegant silks: if your allowance does not permit buying yards and yards just a mere dash of them used in a trimming way on a monotone frock will give it an aristocratic air.

To the right is a black silk satin with self and metal faconne richly interwoven into a leaf pattern. It ranks high among silks that are done in a grand manner.

Centered in the trio of insets is a black faille with silver metal bandings, suitable for trimmings, blouses, dinner gown or evening jackets.

LEATHER TIE-BELT

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

This very good looking fall coat in bold herringbone patterned soft wool in natural beige has a notched collar of beaver and a wide crush belt of brown leather with fringed ends, each of which is a distinctive feature. The collaring of cloth coats with handsome fur is one of fashion's most notable styling features this fall, while the use of leather in numberless trimming ways, especially for smart girdles, is one of the highest highlights of the mode this season. You can vision for yourself the swank that a leather tie-girdle as pictured will give to coats made of cloth. The broad shoulders are also good points in the styling of the coat pictured.

SMART FROCKS USE LAVISH EMBROIDERY

A craze for embroidery is on. Some of the smartest newest woollens for daytime frocks and for the stylish little separate jackets and boleros and for waistcoats and blouses are embroidered with an allover scattering of tiny motifs or perhaps with florals arranged in the popular striped effects.

Knitted fashions also reflect the flair for embroidery in that they carry flowers and designs done in bright yarns showing peasant influence.

The black dress that has a gorgeous bouquet embroidered like a corsage at either the waistline or shoulder is a winsome number. Any woman who can embroider could be the happy possessor of a fetching dress like this for "embroider your own" requires but little effort.

Evening fashions fairly scintillate with dazzling embroideries. Short sleeves, allover sequin-embroidered, enrich black velvet dinner gowns. Embroidery is done on lace on tulle, on velvet ribbons that girdle the waist and so on and so on the story of embroidery is endless this season. Even the simplest linen, cotton or wool day dress is apt to yield to the present urge for hand stitching of some fanciful sort.

Youthful Effect Stressed in New Wedding Clothes

The extremely youthful trend of this season's clothes has had its effect on wedding gowns. The most recent Paris brides have been dressed in demure creations of white mousseline or organdie which greatly resemble the frocks worn by French children for their first communion.

Instead of the halo head veils or the conventional wreaths of orange blossoms, lilies of the valley or carnations, the dressmakers are using little round caps of tulle with a long floating veil attached just in back.

Roomy Jackets

A gray velveteen jacket with fullness at the front is smart over a pencil-slim wool dress in matching gray.

GO FARTHER BEFORE YOU NEED A QUART

How long should a quart of oil last?

No one can answer that question specifically because driving habits differ. But there is one thing certain... you will go farther with Quaker State because it gives you "an extra quart of lubrication in every gallon." You can easily prove the economy of Quaker State by making the "First Quart" Test. And remember... the oil that stands up longest is giving your motor the safest lubrication. Farm Tenancy Is National Problem

Amarillo, Sept. 15.—Coordination of all activities of the various federal, state and local agencies in carrying out the basic agricultural conservation law enacted at the closing session of Congress for the Great Plains states received a definite boost at a meeting of delegates from the area here September 10.

A WPA commitment for funds has been made in Washington for building dams and reservoirs in the 10-state region, and $10,000,000 has been appropriated for the purchase of sub-marginal lands in the worst affected areas.

Honoring Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the house Agricultural Committee, and other congressmen from the Dust Bowl region, delegates from Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas, asked the federal government to appropriate additional funds for continuance in 1938-39 of a water and soil conservation program about to be launched.

Attention was called to recent administrative changes to enable the Department of Agriculture to carry out the purposes of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenancy Act, which authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to lend money to farm tenants in order to help them become farm owners and to continue rehabilitation loans in much the same manner as administered under the Resettlement Administration. Rehabilitation loans are made to farmers on the basis of carefully worked out farm plans.

Secretary Wallace recently assigned responsibility for the first two purposes—tenant loans, and rehabilitation loans—to the RA which since September 1 has become known as the Farm Security Administration.

Responsibility for the development of a program of land utilization and retirement of submarginal land, the Secretary announced, has been assigned to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

L. H. Hauter, regional director of the Farm Security Administration, said he desired to dissipate any false hopes regarding the farm tenant program. He stressed the fact that only ten million dollars has been made available for this program this year, and that this fund will be appropriated to several states in proportion to the farm population and the tenancy problem.
