Warning Is Given On Diphtheria

Few conquests of science have been so spectacular and complete as the route of diphtheria. And this victory has most firmly established the value of serum treatment both in its preventive and curative phases. However, toxin, anti-toxin, or its successor, toxoid for immunization, and antitoxin for timely cure, are brilliant achievements of which the general public even yet are not fully aware," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"As indicated, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent now usually employed, however, three or four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At the same time the Schick test is applied to determine the results of this preventive treatment. This harmless and painless procedure is performed by injecting into the upper layers of the skin a minute drop of the diphtheria toxin. Your doctor can tell from this whether or not your child is immune.

"However, when a case of diphtheria exists, antitoxin is the only treatment that will save life. Also to be effective, it must be given early and in large doses. Delay is usually caused by parents failing to realize that any sore throat may actually be diphtheria.

"The means are at hand to fight diphtheria to the death, but it cannot be done without a hundred per cent cooperation of parents. May Day, the Child's Health Day, will soon be here and one of the best ways to observe it would be for parents to have their children immunized against diphtheria."

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gill are the parents of an 8½ pound boy born Thursday morning of last week, their third son. The youngster bears the name of Stanley Bruce.

THE CRADLE OF TEXAS LIBERTY

Why the town of Velasco calls itself "the cradle of Texas liberty," told in this issue by Elmo Scott Watson, nationally famous historian. An interesting story about the town where Stephen F. Austin's first colonists landed in 1821, where the Texas revolution's first gun was fired in 1832.

Northwest Texas Editors Convene

One hundred and sixty newspaper men and women of northwest Texas and eastern New Mexico attended the annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association in Amarillo Friday and Saturday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill and daughter, Patricia, represented The News at the meeting.

The editors mixed educational meetings with social affairs, and oldtimers in the twenty-nine year old association declared the meeting one of the best ever held.

Among the entertainment features were a luncheon by Ernest O. Thompson, a luncheon by "Old Tack" of the Amarillo News-Globe and a banquet by West Texas State College and the Chamber of Commerce at Canyon. The editors also were shown through the Plains Museum, which is one of the largest and most complete in the Middle West, and through the Buffalo athletic plant, one of the most unique in the nation.

Practically every collegiate sport known is offered by the college, and every student takes part in his or her choice of football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis, golf, swimming, horseback riding, hiking, archery, fencing, handball, and even croquet, horse-shoe pitching, etc. Of especial interest is the home for athletes, built of petrified rock, and housing 65 boys, and the indoor and outdoor swimming pools, the latter built of rock, and the many concrete tennis courts with stone wall backstops. This modern athletic plant was built by U. S. government WPA and PWA projects and at little or no expense to the State.

Airplane Stunts Here Sunday

O. L. and Johnny Holden announce a free airplane exhibition here Sunday with no charges whatever except for passenger rides. The landing field will be on the old baseball grounds near the abandoned Central Ward school building. O. L. Holden is the pilot of the machine. He has given many aerial exhibitions in West Texas and is known to many people in Tahoka.

At some time in the afternoon, Johnny Holden will jump with a parachute from the airplane at a height of about one mile, descending 3,000 feet before the parachute opens.

Johnny is the same man who rode a motorcycle through a burning wall here about two years ago. The plane used by the Holdens is a Stinson cabin monoplane.

Many people are expected to see the aerial exhibition Sunday afternoon, and many of these will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity to see what Tahoka and Lynn county look like from the air.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin opened his campaign for Attorney General recently in Tyler with an aggressive speech. He reviewed his record as Assistant Attorney General, including the winning of $1,073,500 for the public school fund in one case. Yarborough earned money to complete his education by waiting on tables, in a student boarding house, working in the wheat fields and as a tank boulder in oil fields.

Adaptability Led to Use of Gold and Silver Coins

The selection of gold and silver for the principal monetary purposes was due to their adaptability, says the Indianapolis News. In addition to their being desirable, they possess the following qualities demonstrated to be requisite to a just and equitable medium of value: Relative scarcity, portability (containing large values in a small bulk), durability, homogeneity (or uniformity), divisibility (capable of being divided into small parts and again united without appreciable loss).

The use of the metals as money by weight proved a cumbersome process, and a coining device was introduced, probably by the Greeks about 900 B. C. The bank check came into use as a means of saving the transfer of coined money. The bank note is an evolution of these preceding forms, being a promise of the bank to pay the specified amount on demand. The Bank of Sweden is credited with having first issued this form of money in 1668.

The scarcity of gold and silver, the need of bills of exchange and of a money more convenient to carry, and the issuance of government credits forced on bankrupt nations brought about the use of paper money in European countries. Colonial America early adopted this medium of exchange from the English.

Paper money in America first was issued by Massachusetts in 1690. The object was not to supply any supposed lack of a medium for trade, but to satisfy the demands of some clamorous soldiers. The first issue of money under authority of the Continental congress was dated May 10, 1775, but not placed in circulation until the following August.

Party Fishes In Pecos Canyon

J. L. Hill, W. R. Greer, L. B. Burk, and Mr. Duval, citizens of Tahoka and Grassland, left in the midst of that terrific sandstorm last Thursday for a section of the country where sandstorms do not molest. They hiked out for the rugged banks of the Rio Grande, with a view to having a great time fishing. They did.

But when they arrived at a point on the river to which they had been directed a few miles above the mouth of the Pecos in the vicinity of Shumla, they found a precipitous cliff, nobody knows how many feet high, forming the north bank of the Rio Grande. As they began to descend, their hearts went up into their throats. For many feet they went down on a ladder suspended perpendicularly, landing on a narrow ledge. The water of the river flowed at a dizzy distance almost immediately beneath them, or so it seemed to them. With fear and trembling they wriggled their tortuous way down the steep declivity, cautiously and slowly, until at last they reached the water's edge.

They caught two good mess of fish, though the water was so clear and transparent that the fish would not bite well.

They spent the night down in the bed of the river and on the next day, with much trepidation, they scaled the rocky wall, landing safe and unscathed on top the rim of the mighty gorge. Mr. Hill, in relating their experience, declared that no amount of money could induce him to repeat the hazardous exploit.

Enduring Blue
It is believed by scientists that the blue seen on mummy cases, having lost nothing of its brightness, must be either ultra-marine or cobalt. Modern analyses have shown that blue on ancient pottery, both Egyptian and Chinese, was sometimes derived from cobalt.

Old Espuela School Bell Tolls Ovi Knell

DICKENS, April 17.—The old school bell at Espuela, site of the first county seat of Dickens County, will toll no more after this year.

School patrons of the community recently voted, 29 to 4, to consolidate their three-teacher school with the spur Independent school system. Voting in Spur on the same proposition was 52 to 2. High school pupils of Espuela have attended the Spur school for several years.

When Dickens County was organized in 1891, a frame structure was erected at Espuela. It also served as the county courthouse until removal of the county seat to Dickens. One of the first cemeteries in the county was established there and during the town's few short, prosperous years it had some stores and even a weekly newspaper. Now, only a church building will remain.

A frown demands a greater exertion of muscles being brought into penditure of energy than a smile, action when frowning, while only thirteen are required for a smile.

New Rules For Soil Conservation

(By C. A. Lawrence Asst. Co. Agent)
Farmers wishing to plant soil conserving crops may plant Sudan grass, cane, or millet, as well as summer legumes, on their soil conserving acreage.

The Sudan grass may be grazed or harvested for hay, but not harvested for seed or ensilage. Cane or millet may be harvested for hay but not for seed or ensilage.

We understand some farmers have been led to believe that they may plant hegarl on the soil conserving acres. Hegarl, kaffir, and milo are classified as grain sorghums and are soil depleting.

The practice of planting two rows of grain sorghum and leaving two blank that we had in 1937 has been discontinued. According to the new rulings, a farmer may plant three or more rows of summer legumes between an equal number of rows of grain sorghum. Under this ruling, two rows of peas and two rows of grain sorghum would be counted as planted solid to grain sorghum and would not qualify. Summer fallowed strips may be left between strips of grain sorghum if the summer fallowed strips are as much as 18 feet wide.

REPORTS FROM THE COUNTY CLUBS

Miss Lillian Boyd, H. D. Agent

MIDWAY WOMEN HAVE CAKE DEMONSTRATION

There are two classes of cakes, butter and sponge cake, Miss Boyd told the Midway Home Demonstration Club women when she met with them April 14 at Mrs. I. M. Draper's to demonstrate the making of a sponge cake.

We depend on baking powders for leavening in butter cakes, and air in sponge cakes. The use of cream tartar in a cake makes it tender, white and helps to hold it up.

Visitors present were: Mesdames I. L. Johnson, Fred McGinty and girls of T-Bar Club, and Mrs. Floyd Walters of Levelland.

Members present: Mmes. Curtis Driver, Sam H. Floyd, Howard Draper, Alice Duncan, R. L. Littlepage, R. B. Floyd, I. M. Draper, John Thomas, Rufus Slover, and R. D. Donaldson.

On Thursday, April 21, the Midway Club will give a good neighbor demonstration in the home of Mrs. George Vaughn near O'Donnell.

Pipes Reveal Character, Notes London Authority

The briar pipe has nothing to do with briars as we know them, but is a corruption of the word "bruyere," a kind of giant white heather which grows on the island of Corsica, writes a correspondent in London Answers Magazine.

Curiously enough, the briar owes its popularity to Napoleon, who detested smoking. After his death, tourists visited his birthplace on the island. One of them lost his meerschaum pipe and borrowed a rough briar from a peasant. He found it smoked so pleasantly that he took a number of briars back to France with him, where they soon became popular.

In the Far North the Eskimos make pipes from walrus ivory, which they carve beautifully with little figures. In the East the Chinaman uses a hollow bamboo stem, while the Australian aborigines actually make a pipe from an emu's leg.

Almost every nation has its own peculiar pipes, and they are worth studying, for they throw some curious sidelights on national characteristics.

Queen of Ancient Roads

The Appian way, built in 312 B. C., was the queen of all ancient roads, notes a writer in the Los Angeles Times, and early was threaded daily with traffic for all the known eastern world. Its sides were flanked with the tombs of the Scipios, Claudias, Milo, Livia, Seneca and other illustrious Romans. Scipio Africanus in 201 B. C. entered Rome by this road, Cicero was welcomed here with honors on his return from exile in B. C. 57, the Apostle Paul entered Rome over its pavements and Titus after he had destroyed Jerusalem was received with triumph along the Via Appia. This road was 350 miles long, marked with the earliest milestones. From it we come to the Baths of Caracalla, and soon pass over the ground where the Catcombs burrow below, till we reach the old Church of San Sebastian built by Constantine in 313 A. D., and then to the Belvedere, where is obtained a wonderful view over the Roman Campagna and of the Claudian aqueducts which still supply Rome with water.

Political Red Herring

A red herring is a herring that has a red color through being cured by smoking. The Oxford dictionary has a quotation dated 1686, concerning the employment of a red herring in fox hunting: "The trailing or dragging of a dead cat or fox (and in case of necessity a red herring) three or four miles and then laying the dogs on the scent." Just as a dog's scent may be led astray by drawing a red herring across the track, so the public may be misled in a political campaign by bringing in a false issue intended to divert attention from important questions.

Standard Tests Given Schools

Standardization tests were given Monday to all the rural schools of the county eligible for standardization except two, according to County Superintendent H. P. Caveness. Nine schools took the tests.

Schools passing the tests will become standard schools for a period of one year. The tests are given to all pupils in each school from the second to the seventh grade inclusive.

This in effect makes them "accredited schools with relation to the high schools of the county, just as the high schools may be "accredited" with relation to the colleges and universities. There were seven standard rural schools in Lynn county last year.

Evans Cafe Makes Improvements

The Evans Cafe, operated by E. S. (Ed) Evans, is undergoing many improvements, the latest of which is the installation of air conditioning and an ice cream cabinet.

A new front, similar to the other Gagnat and McCormick buildings, is being built of blue building glass. The interior, which was recently enlarged to double the former size, has been redecorated and otherwise improved.

The kitchen has been modernized, and has a huge double oven range, electric mixers, and other modern equipment. Approximately $1400.00 has been spent to make this one of the most up-to-date and sanitary cafes in this section.

J. P. West was called to Corpus Christi early Wednesday morning by the death of a sister. The body was brought to Christoval Thursday, where funeral services were conducted in the afternoon. Speed of Large Rivers Depends Much on Depth

Most large rivers travel at only walking speed. As rivers usually have their sources on very high ground, their velocity is greatest at the beginning of their course, which is for many streams, a succession of rapids and waterfalls.

The velocity of falls, which is often enormous, cannot very well be included in any estimate of the velocity of rivers, although the impetus given by rapids, as well as the general inclination of the bed of the stream, has a most important influence on the rate of its current.

But the velocity of a river does not altogether depend on the slope of its bed. Much is owing to its depth and volume, says an authority in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Most rivers, therefore, flow with varying velocity at different seasons of the year. Furthermore, bends in the course, jutting peaks of rock, or other obstacles, interfere with its speed, so that the water of a river flows at different velocities at different parts of its bed; it moves lower at the bottom than at the surface and at the sides than at the middle.

There is no stream which has a regular current of 30 miles an hour, or even 25 miles an hour. The lower Amazon flows at a rate of three miles an hour. The Mississippi, in its lower course, has a velocity of about three and a half miles an hour. The Congo has for many miles above its mouth a current of about seven miles an hour, the impetus of its great falls extending for a great distance below them. The Nile, similarly influenced, moves for a long distance at nine miles an hour.

Probably the most rapid river in the world, with the exception of some small streams which are nearly torrents or cataracts, is the River Rhone, in France. At some seasons the current of this stream reaches a speed of 40 miles an hour. In the dryer season, however, it drops to a rate of six miles an hour.

Sight Of Child's Eye Destroyed

Little Joyell Edward Gass, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gass three miles west of Tahoka, was the victim of a great misfortune that befell him Sunday afternoon while playing with another child. The companion playfully struck him in the face with a maize head and some of the shreds of the maize ripped a deep gash in Joyell Edward's eyeball.

Dr. Prohl gave the little fellow first aid treatment and sent him to a hospital. It is believed that the sight of the eye is permanently destroyed.

Fisherman's Life Is Interesting One

Having lived on a farm most of my life, farming is one way of making a living with which I am thoroughly familiar. I find interesting the less familiar methods that others use to secure the same very necessary results, and perhaps they would be of interest to others, also.

In a shack on the bank of Hog Bayou, a young man with two companions have lived for some years. They catch fish for the market. Their operations are not confined to this bayou alone, for they are in close proximity to Green Lake, a roundish body of fresh water which is some seven miles across in either direction. Nearby also is the Guadalupe River, Smugglers Bayou, and several others. Hog Bayou is wide and deep and about ten miles long. Smugglers Bayou is longer, for it reaches to the bay. When the tide is rising this bayou runs swiftly toward the north, and when the tide is falling it runs as swiftly southward.

Obviously, this is an ideal location for those who would fish for a living—even without mentioning that salt water fishing in the bay is only a few miles distant.

One of the fishermen told me that the largest fish they had caught was a cat which weighed ninety-three pounds. Their biggest single night's run was twelve hundred pounds, their usual run being from one hundred and fifty to two hundred pounds. On one lucky night they got six hundred and sixty-three pounds, the smallest fish of which weighed fifteen pounds. Their catch consists mostly of buffalo, cat, redfish and drum. The fish are sold dressed. The price they receive runs from five cents a pound for buffalo to twelve cents per pound for cat.

Oysters furnished quite a lot of people in Port Lavaca a job.

Oysters cannot stand fresh water nor the silt that it carries. During heavy rains of three years ago so much fresh water poured into the bay that the oysters were killed for miles out. Just now it is necessary for boats to go out from eighteen to thirty miles for oysters, but the oysters are restocking again the nearby waters, though at this time the beds are either too small, or the oysters too young, for them to be commercially profitable. One man estimated that in Chocolate Bay, about three miles out, there were two thousand acres of young oysters.

The oystermen, who bring them in, get sixty cents per gallon after they are "shucked." The shuckers get twenty-five cents per gallon for their work. A barrel of oysters in the shell will yield only about one gallon out of them, though they will sometimes run as high as two gallons. Not many oysters are used after April, but by that time the season for shipping is on. At first the boats have to go far out and seine along the warm waters of the Gulf streams. This is about thirty miles at Port Lavaca, and the water out there about seventy-five feet deep. As the Gulf Stream swings farther off shore the water is too deep to work. In setting for shrimp the men often pick up large sea turtles, sharks or sword fish which can play havoc with their nets. These are raised, or if possible they are allowed to slip out. Sometimes the nets are reinforced by chicken wire netting.

As the water gets warmer about July the shrimp come up into the salt water of the bays. The shrimper gets about three cents a pound for his catch.

The shrimping season lasts from April to December, when cold weather comes on the shrimp disappear and it is not known where they go.

In attempting to find this out some shrimp are tagged and turned loose, and the government has a standing reward posted in the shrimp houses to any one who will return one of these, out of the shrimping season. When we were there a boat was working the waters from Florida to Corpus Christi trying to locate the winter habitation of the shrimp.

Port Lavaca is very proud of its municipal freezing plant. It was financed partly with government funds.

It means a lot to the shrimp industry there. In three days of last November this plant received two hundred and sixty-five thousand pounds of shrimp for packing and storing.

And so it seems there are some ways of making a living that are a lot wetter than farming in Western Texas, but I still like the farm.

Lesson for April 24

RECEIVING VISION FOR SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:2-10. GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved Son: hear him.—Mark 9:7. PRIMARY TOPIC—On a Mountain with Jesus.

"Where there is no vision the people perish" said the wise man of old (Prov. 29:18). For want of a true vision of God, a knowledge of His truth, and the God-given constraint which makes men give themselves in sacrificial service, the people will perish in their sins.

The transfiguration of our Lord meant much to Him as it brought new assurance of His divine Sonship, His acceptance with the Father, and His resurrection to follow the death of the cross.

I. Know Christian Truth.

Fundamental in both Christian life and service is a clear understanding of the person and work of Christ. One may come to Christ knowing little more than that He is the divine Saviour, and one may enter into Christian living with a meager knowledge of the doctrines of the Bible.

The disciples came to a fuller conviction that He was the Son of God as they saw Him transfigured and heard the Father say, "This is my beloved Son." They learned more plainly the truth of His coming death for the sins of all mankind.

II. Experience Spiritual Power.

Great experiences of spiritual renewing and power are necessary to effective life and testimony. They may not be in outward manifestation, in fact they are more often in the inner recesses of the soul, but they transform men and send them forth to magnificent living for God.

The disciples had an unforgettable mountain-top experience. Even so have many others found the secret of power. It came to D. L. Moody as he walked down a New York street, praying in agony, "Deliver me from myself. Take absolute sway." The story of what happened to him and through him as a surrendered instrument in God's hand is written large on the pages of history.

III. Serve Needy Humanity.

Dr. Moore beautifully suggests that Jesus and the disciples went up to the place of prayer, into the place of glory, and down to the place of service. How fitting is that sequence. Much confusion exists in the church because those who have foolishly abandoned their interest in the truth of God's Word and have substituted the energy of the flesh for spiritual power, have been most diligent in service to humanity, while those who know and accept the truth about Christ, and who profess to believe in the power of the Spirit-filled life have failed to serve their needy neighbors.

Smiles I am persuaded that every time a man smiles, but much more when he laughs, it adds something to this fragment of life.—Sterns.

Following After God A heart rejoicing in God delights in all His will, and is surely provided with the most firm joy in all estates.

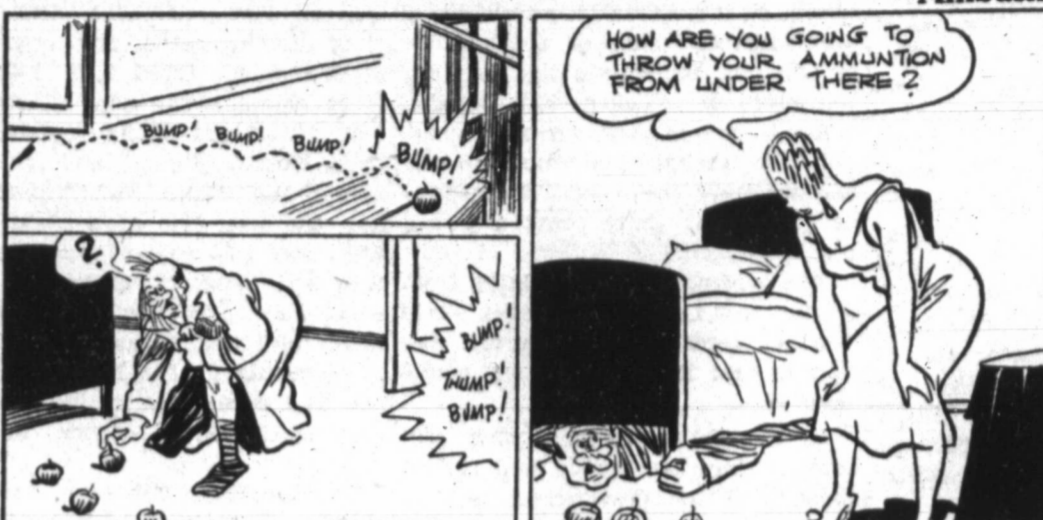

Patience a Virtue Forbearing one another in love.—Ephesians 4:2.
