Work Started On New Baptist Building

Superstructure Being Placed Over Basement Built Several Years Ago

Work on the superstructure of the Baptist Church here was begun Monday morning and has proceeded apace. Work was being delayed Thursday, however, awaiting the arrival of a shipment of steel. Much brick and tile however has been placed on the ground.

J. B. Maxey of Lubbock is the contractor and W. L. Bradshaw of the same city is the architect. Mr. Maxey is under contract to have the structure completed within 75 days from the date of beginning. The Church will probably be ready for occupancy by the middle of September.

The basement was constructed in 1925 and has been used by the Baptists as their place of worship ever since. Its dimensions are approximately 101x61 feet, and the superstructure of course is of the same dimensions.

The superstructure will consist of an auditorium 60x80 feet, eight Sunday School rooms, secretary's room, pastor's study, dressing rooms, and baptistry. The Sunday School rooms in the rear may be opened and used as part of the auditorium as occasion may require.

The basement will also be cut (Continued on Back Page)

Boys Awarded Registered Gilts

Eight Lynn county boys were awarded gilts presented at a luncheon given by Sears, Roebuck and Co. at the Lubbock Hotel Tuesday.

These gilts are each eight to ten weeks old, weigh approximately 70 pounds, and are registered. They were given by Sears, Roebuck & Co. to the eight registered 4-H Club or Vocational Agriculture boys adjudged to have written the best papers on "The Hog, Cow, and Hen Plan of Farming". The boys' ability to take care of the gilts was also an important consideration.

Four of the Lynn county boys were 4-H club members and four were Vocational Agriculture students.

The 4-H clubs were organized by County Agent V. F. Jones, and the four boys in this department awarded gilts were Glen Bratcher of Draw, T. D. Short of Tahoka, Doyce Jennings of Joe Stokes, and Willard Bennett of New Home.

The four vocational agriculture students were as follows: Clyde Ashcraft of New Home, student of W. W. Hall, vocational agriculture teacher in New Home high school; Mac Brandon of Wilson, student of M. C. Brandon, vocational agriculture teacher in the Wilson high school; Leroy Johnson of Three Lakes and Lester Adams of Tahoka, students of Leslie Browning, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka high school.

Like awards were made to eight boys from each of the following counties: Lubbock, Hockley, Crosby, and Hale, forty boys in all being awarded registered pigs.

The boys, their fathers and their teachers were guests at the luncheon at which the awards were made.

It was explained that further awards would be made to the boys ranking highest at a show to be given in Lubbock in the fall. Each boy with a gilt must return one gilt to the Company next year, when another contest will be staged.

Divorced Couple Marry Again

Hall Eugene Ramsey and Mrs. Lela Mae Ramsey were re-united in marriage at the office of Judge W. S. Swan in the courthouse here Monday. They are a young couple who were divorced a few months ago. Then they decided they had made a mistake and so decided to wed again. Everybody wishes them a long and happy married life.

WALTER WOODUL, Lieutenant Governor of Texas and a prominent Houston attorney, who visited in Tahoka last Friday in the interest of his candidacy for Attorney General of Texas.

Walter Woodul Tahoka Visitor

Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul of Harris County, who led the entire Democratic ticket in his last contested race for a state office four years ago, was a visitor in Tahoka Friday en route from Lubbock to San Angelo in his race for attorney general.

He called at the office of The Lynn County News to chat with the editor and associate editor. He conferred with several close political supporters and shook hands with county officials at the courthouse.

In a speech at Lubbock late Thursday afternoon, Lieutenant Governor Woodul praised the splendid growth of Texas Technological College, the great West Texas institution which he has championed during all of his tenure as a state senator and as lieutenant governor.

He denounced the land grabbing and professional vacancy hunting now prevalent in Texas, stating that as attorney general he will protect the public school fund to the fullest and at the same time protect the interests of farmers and ranchmen against the "carpetbaggers" who would seize valuable mineral rights.

Strict enforcement of anti-trust and anti-monopoly laws was pledged by the Houstonian.

At Plainview, where he made a speech before going to Lubbock, Lieutenant Governor Woodul was introduced by H. S. Hilburn, newspaper publisher and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who is one of his warm supporters.

From Tahoka, Woodul left for Lamesa, Big Springs and Midland.

Masons Elect New Officers

At a regular meeting of the Tahoka Lodge No. 1641 A. F. and A. M. Tuesday night, the following officers were elected: H. A. Maasen, W. M.; O. A. Luallin, Sen. Warden; Buel Draper, Jun. Warden; W. O. Thomas, Treasurer; V. F. Jones, Secretary; N. C. Rainey, Tiler.

Outgoing officers include Borden Davis, Worshipful Master; Wynne Collier, Secretary; and Joe Heare, Treasurer.

Child Receives Broken Elbow

Sam Singleton Jr., 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Singleton of O'Donnell and operators of the Tahoka Appliance Company store, sustained a dislocation of the elbow joint and the fracture of one of the bones of the lower arm at the elbow Tuesday afternoon when he was dragged by the limb of a tree from a Shetland pony which he was riding.

Sam's little sister, Ann 2½ years old, was leading the pony while Sam and a boy companion were riding it. When it passed under a tree, the limbs caught Sam and dragged him off.

He was taken to a Lubbock sanitarium for an x-ray examination, which revealed the above injuries. It is believed that the fracture will soon heal.

Mail Schedule For Tahoka Will Be Changed

Effective July 1, New Contract Authorizes Line From Big Spring To City

There is to be a radical change in the mail schedule into and out of Tahoka on July 1, according to information given to Postmaster W. E. Smith by the United States postal authorities.

The trains into and out of Tahoka will discontinue the carrying of the mail. Instead thereof the mail will be brought into Tahoka and taken from Tahoka to the outside world by truck and bus. Most of it will come via Big Spring and will be conveyed by truck.

Beginning July 1, mail truck will begin running between Big Spring and Tahoka, leaving Big Spring at 7:10 a. m., never later than 8:30 a. m., and arriving in Tahoka 2 hours and 15 minutes later, or at 9:25 a. m. to 10:45 a. m. This truck will leave Tahoka each day at 8:00 p. m. and will arrive in Big Spring at 10:05 p. m.

This truck will carry all classes of mail.

A truck carrying first class mail only will leave Lamesa at 12:15 p. m. each day, arriving in Lubbock at 2:00 p. m. It should pass through Tahoka therefore at about 1:15 p. m. The east and west bound bus running between Post and Brownfield through Tahoka will continue to carry first class mail as heretofore.

About the worst feature of this new schedule, it would seem, is the fact that it will give no direct mail service between Tahoka and Wilson.

Lynn Students Finish At Tech

A number of Lynn county residents received degrees from the Texas Technological College at the graduating exercises Monday night.

Miss Iva Alike Weathers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Weathers of Tahoka, received her Master of Arts degree, in Mathematics.

Miss Lou Verne Depriest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. DePriest, received a B. S. degree; Miss Marie Womack, daughter of Mrs. Martha Womack of Tahoka, B. S. degree in home economics; Johnny Key, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Key of Wilson, B. S. degree in Agricultural Economics; Mrs. Natalie C. Blankenship, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crosby of Wilson, B. S. in education; Miss Oleta Moore of O'Donnell, B. S. degree in home economics; Rodger Blanton, Street of O'Donnell, B. S. degree in education; M. J. Williams of Lakeview, B. S. degree in agriculture.

John Leslie Browning of Fluvanna, teacher of agriculture in the Tahoka high school, also received his B. S. degree in agriculture.

Another 'Possum Is Captured Here

Lawrence Price reports that on Wednesday night of last week he captured a 'possum out near his home in the Dixie community. The marital gentleman or lady whichever it was, was discovered walking along the public road possibly hoping to thumb a ride. Anyway Lawrence took him in—or her.

If this thing keeps up it will not be long until East Texas will have nothing on West Texas, in the matter on 'possum production. It will be remembered that three Tahoka boys caught a mother 'possum out in the T-Bar pasture one night not long ago. They brought her into town, and the next morning it was discovered that she had a whole pocket full of little baby 'possums.

First thing we know somebody will be reporting a persimmon thick-et out on the T-Bar somewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Myhand and family of Runge were here last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Anderson. Mrs. Myhand and Mrs. Anderson are sisters.

Mrs. Sarah J. Cowart, 95, Is Oldest Person Living In Lynn County

The oldest person in Lynn county doubtless, not in spirit but in years, is Mrs. Sarah J. Cowart of Redwine, who celebrated her 95th birthday on January 13, 1843.

Mrs. Cowart resides with her son, S. J. Cowart, and comes to town occasionally to do a bit of shopping and just to see the folks. She was here two weeks ago and had her picture taken, and we are reproducing it this week in the News.

In an interview with a representative of the News, Mrs. Cowart explained that she was unable to do much work any more. About all she can do, she said, is to sweep, make beds, wash dishes, and scrub the floors.

While Mrs. Cowart's eyesight is very poor, her hearing is good and she still has some of the original teeth which she cut when she shed her milk teeth. She is physically active and mentally alert for one of her age.

She still has five living children, two of whom reside in this county. These are S. J. Cowart, with whom she resides, and a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Cunningham of O'Donnell. The other three are Mrs. G. B. Holt of Caddo, M. A. Cowart of Harlingen, and Mrs. J. D. Dickey of Okemah, Oklahoma. The oldest son, Thomas Washington Cowart, died and is died at Strawn. Her husband also died at Strawn in 1914 and is buried there.

Besides her five living children, she has 23 grandchildren and 34 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Cowart is a native of North Carolina. She with her husband and family came to Texas in 1895, settling in Ellis county. Later they moved to Strawn where they resided for a few years, and after her husband's death there, she moved back to Ellis county. She came from Ellis county to this county in 1925 and has resided here ever since.

O'Donnell Gin Pays Dividend

The Farmers Cooperative Association of O'Donnell met in the High School Auditorium Saturday night and declared Dividends to all stockholders. Part of the declared dividends was paid in cash, part in shares of stock in the Company.

Mr. W. L. Gardenhire, President of the Coop. acted as Chairman. Some professional oratory was exhibited by the numerous speakers. After all the canned speeches had been delivered there was still time left before Mr. Sid Cathey, the efficient and faithful financial manager, was ready to pay off. The extra time was filled in with extemporaneous speeches.

A report of all that was said would be well worth the readers time but newspaper space will not permit. Mr. H. L. Hohn spoke representing the board of directors. He stated, "I have been a director since the organization began in 1929. We bought the first gin we owned without a dollar in cash. Two gins are now owned free of debt. We did not know how to manage a gin, we had had no experience, but we went to work and learned how to do it. After the business meeting adjourned, sandwiches, coffee and a social hour was participated in by all present.

Fred Bucy Home From Hospital

Fred Bucy was brought home Wednesday from a Lubbock hospital where he underwent a most serious operation more than two weeks ago and in which he has been confined continuously since that time.

While Mr. Bucy's condition is gradually improving, it will probably be some time yet before he will be able to resume his work at his office or to personally prosecute his campaign for the office of tax assessor and collector.

Rains, Storms Visit County

Frequent severe dust storms, numerous electrical storms, local showers, and heavy rains in a few localities, have characterized Southern weather the past few weeks.

Never before has the oldest inhabitant seen so many dusts in the early days of June as have come this year.

On last Friday night, on Sunday night, and on Monday afternoon dust storms swept over Lynn county, doing much damage to cotton. Many fields of cotton were swept clean. Just how much damage was done is yet problematical. Possibly 20 to 25 per cent of the crop was destroyed or badly damaged. Rains Sunday night and Wednesday night, however, helped the cotton that was not totally destroyed. Much of the cotton is doing well in spite of the winds and the blowing sand.

In the vicinity of Wilson, one house was badly damaged, a Conoco storage tank was blown away, and other damage to property was done.

The rainfall in Tahoka Sunday night was 27 of an inch and on Wednesday night .60. All the east half of the county and parts of the west half were covered by good rains. Some sections in the west and northwest are still very dry. Much cotton has been planted over in the county and it is hoped the late planting will have better luck than the earlier.

Candidates Must File By June 18

County Democratic Chairman Jack Applewhite requests that we call attention of the candidates to the fact that they must file their names with him on or before Saturday, June 18, if they expect to have their names printed on the official ballot.

That is the law and it must be complied with. All candidates will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Popular Couple Of Draw Married

Bervin Caswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Caswell, and Miss Etha Mae Sherrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sherrill, prominent families of the Draw community, were united in marriage Sunday by Rev. J. N. Hester of Southland, former pastor at Draw.

The couple left, we understand, for Dallas, where Bervin will continue his studies in S. M. U.

Heck Will Operate Grassland Gin

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heck removed last week from New Home to Grassland.

Mr. Heck has been elected by the board of directors as manager of the Farmers Cooperative Gin at Grassland for the ensuing year.

School Seeking Refinancing Of All Bonds

State Board Votes To Buy In Bonds; Would Save District $47,217.50

Tahoka school district will reap a saving of $47,217.50 in interest on its outstanding bonded indebtedness if negotiations now under way are successful. This goal now seems reasonably certain, since the State Board of Education at its meeting in Austin Tuesday set aside $144,250.00 with which to buy in Tahoka's bonds.

Tom Garrard, Tahoka attorney and vice-chairman of the state board, was largely responsible for securing agreement of that body to buy in the bonds. He has previously been instrumental in refunding the bonds of the O'Donnell, Wilson, and Three Lakes district, as well as those of many other districts in this section, netting a great saving to each of these school districts.

The Three Lakes deal just consummated involves $3000 bonds bearing 6 percent, refunded at 3½ percent, will net that district a great saving.

The Tahoka board through Mr. Garrard and a bond broker, has been negotiating for several weeks for the buying-in of the old bonds and sale to the State of Texas, and though the deal is not yet consummated (Continued on back page)

Sweetwater Man Jailed For Theft

J. C. Miller of Sweetwater was placed in jail here Friday night by Sheriff B. L. Parker charged with numerous thefts in this and neighboring counties.

Acting on clues he had obtained, Parker went to Sweetwater Friday where he and the local officers obtained a search warrant and searched the suspected man's premises. There they found much of the stolen property. Miller was not at home at the time and they waited for him to return. When he did so and discovered the officers he undertook to get away, but it was all in vain. Mr. Parker says that he confessed to many of the thefts.

Among the property stolen, much of which was recovered, were four tires, tubes and wheels from Mutt Huddleston of Grassland; two tires from Clarence Corbell of Gordon; two wheels from Noah Smith of Wilson; six tires, tubes, and wheels, some wrenches and a ten-gallon cream can from Melvin Cade of Wilson. Mr. Parker says that Miller bought Cade's milk house to get the cream can and that a burglary charge will be filed against him in this case.

Some of the loot recovered had been stolen from Lubbock and Garza county citizens. He is also wanted on theft charges at Roby and Snyder. He had previously been convicted in Raines county. He told officers that he came to Sweetwater from Arkansas and began his series of thefts in this section of the state in March.

Former Citizen Killed In Wreck

The daily newspapers a few days ago carried a story telling of the collision of two trucks at or near Huntsville, following which they ignited and three men were burned to death. One of them was Dr. W. M. Rush, veterinarian for the state prison farms.

Dr. Rush was the father of Mrs. Frank Edwards of Borger, formerly of Tahoka, and was himself a resident of Tahoka about thirteen or fourteen years ago, practicing his profession here at that time. Mrs. Harold Edwards this week called our attention to the identity of this victim of the wreck. Many people here remember him distinctly. Many friends here will sympathize keenly with Mrs. Edwards in this tragic loss of her father.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

CZECHOSLOVAKIA and all that may hang on its destiny is just an added starter in the up-and-coming cosmos of A. W. Robertson, chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company.

It is the always assured and hopeful Mr. Robertson who announces his company will spend $12,000,000 on additions and betterments this year, and, from where Mr. Robertson sits, that's just a couple of white chips compared to spendings to come.

Mr. Robertson is the H. G. Wells of industry. His "shape of things to come," which he has been outlining for the last year or two, includes the following specifications:

Migratory humans, shifting north and south like the birds. "Just whether the children will be born in the North or the South," he said, "is not quite clear to me, but I expect we will follow the policy of the birds and have the children in the North."

Windowless houses, pasteurized air, and artificial sunlight. One-man planes, with folding wings, kept in the hall rack, with the umbrellas.

Pocket radios for two-way talk with anybody, anywhere. Noiseless cities with double-deck streets.

Flat houses, with a push-button crane which will park the auto on the roof.

He was a farm and village boy at Panama, New York, chore boy and rustler in his youth and hence not through grammar school until he was seventeen. Then he studied law in a country office, entered practice, got corporations for clients and then began owning and operating them.

At forty-six he was president of the Philadelphia company and now heads a $200,000,000 company. He pays liberal wage bonuses and urges friendly, co-operative relationship between capital and labor.

IT WAS only a year ago that Robert R. Young, thirty-nine-year-old Texan, quite unknown to Wall Street, rode herd on the straying Van Sweringen system and corralled it. It was all bewilderingly complicated, but, finally sifted down, it appeared that Mr. Young had picked up a $3,000,000 rail "empire" with an original investment of $225,000.

He is a quiet, inconspicuous, unassuming man, and now the feature writers are just getting around to calling him a "Titan."

He won a rock-and-sock proxy battle for the control of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway. Within the last few years, he has infiltrated gently into high finance, which is just now becoming acutely conscious of his presence.

His family was in and around Canadian, Texas, before the battle of the Alamo. They started the First National Bank of Canadian, which is now in the hands of the fourth generation.

At Culver Military academy, Robert R. Young was graduated at the head of his class, its youngest graduate, and later he attended the University of Virginia.

With the Du Ponts in 1916, he got his preliminary work-out in finance and joined General Motors in 1922.

In 1932, he founded his own Wall Street firm, with Frank F. Kolbe, his later associate in the Van Sweringen putsch.

Mrs. Young is the former Anita Ten Eyck O'Keefe, of Williamsburg, Va., sister of Georgia O'Keefe, the painter. In 1935, they leased Beechwood, the Astor estate, in Newport.

Mr. Young, a Democrat, like his father, paid $15,000 for a consignment of those famous Democratic convention books, which congressmen, badgering him at a senate hearing, insisted wasn't nearly so much of a bargain as the Van Sweringen deal. "You are a bigger sucker than I thought you were," said Senator Wheeler.

Actually more than one language is spoken in every country in Europe but one. Portugal is the only nation having a single language. In Asia, India has 220 distinct vernacular languages. But even with four languages Switzerland is not finished, says the Washington Post. There is still one more obscure dialect called Ladin, spoken by a small group of people.

NEW SEAWAY PROPOSAL

Secretary Hull's St. Lawrence Plan Arouses Strong Opposition in Congress . . . Wallace Again Rebuffed

Adolpho Echagaray Somohano, commander of the Mexican federal troops engaged in suppressing the revolt in San Luis Potosi state led by Saturnino Cedillo, is here seen, right, giving orders to two of his officers.

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Hull's St. Lawrence Plan PRESUMABLY by direction of the President, Secretary of State Hull submitted to Canada a new proposal for development of the St.

Lawrence seaway, asking that it be considered as a basis for a new treaty which would be a revision and amplification of the treaty of 1932 that the senate refused to ratify in 1934. Under the terms of the Hull plan Canada would obtain without cost a completed St. Lawrence deep waterway, ready for power development, and also other valuable concessions. The United States would obtain the privilege of building the seaway at its own expense, increased power development at Niagara Falls, and the recognition by Canada of American sovereignty over Lake Michigan.

Immediate and vociferous opposition to the plan broke out in congress, both Democrats and Republicans characterizing it as a scheme to buy the support of the Dominion for a gigantic water power development planned by the New York state power authority.

From the State department leaked information that not even Canada was expected to approve the proposed treaty. Canadian officials have repeatedly doubted whether recovery from the depression would be promoted by spending millions on a waterway for which there is not sufficient commerce and for development of surplus water power for which there is no demand.

Hull's plan provides that the United States shall develop the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence river at an estimated cost of 400 million dollars. This was denounced by Senator Wagner of New York. Senator Copeland, also of New York, announced he was against the seaway project "1,000 per cent." He called it "an all-British canal."

Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee having jurisdiction of treaties, said the new proposals would not have a chance of ratification unless materially modified.

Senators and representatives from the Middle West were especially aroused. Senator Clark of Missouri pointed out that the treaty would permit diversion of only 1,500 cubic feet of water per second into the Chicago drainage canal. He said the Mississippi river must receive more water than that from the canal in order to fill a nine-foot channel.

Representative Claude Parsons of Illinois was even more emphatic in disapproval. "This proposed treaty," he said, "is about the worst mistake Secretary Hull ever made. Under the terms of his proposal to set up an international commission for the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin, Canada would be given control over our all-American Lake Michigan."

"Furthermore, the treaty would prohibit any further diversion of water from Lake Michigan at Chicago of more than 1,500 cubic feet per second. The Illinois and Mississippi rivers must have at least 5,000 c.f.s. to insure a dependable waterway."

Mr. Roosevelt made plain that he hoped for a future revision of the revenue laws in line with the objectives he seeks. Such revisions, he said, should be designed to encourage new investment and the entry of private capital into new fields.

Big Fund for Highways LEGISLATION authorizing new federal highway expenditures of $357,400,000 for the fiscal years 1940 and 1941 won final congressional approval when the senate adopted a conference report previously accepted by the house. Also authorized was the expenditure of $150,000,000 of old, unused appropriations.

Wallace Slapped Again STERNLY chastising Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Solicitor General Robert H. New Food Act Passed WITHOUT a record vote the house passed the new pure food and drug bill. The senate had passed a similar measure and the differences were to be reconciled in conference. The act brings drugs, therapeutic devices, and foods under regulation of the Department of Agriculture. It prohibits alteration or misbranding of cosmetics, 94 foods and drugs, requires adequate tests of products before they are placed on the market, provides for license restrictions to control bacterial contamination of foods, requires warning labels on habit-forming drugs, and provides for factory inspection.

Reform Bill Shelved PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT accepted the advice of congressional leaders and consented to the shelving of his bill for reorganization of the executive government. This was announced with the approval of the President by Senator Barkley. At the same time it was made known that the administration would attempt to get the measure through congress early in the 1939 session. Sen. Hiram Johnson of California said the opponents of the bill would be ready to resume their battle against it next year.

Tax Bill Unsigned But Law FOR the first time since he entered the White House, President Roosevelt permitted an act of congress to become law without his signature. He took this course with the tax revision bill in order to emphasize his objection to "those unwise parts of the bill" which removed all but the skeleton of the undistributed profits tax and drastically modified the levies upon capital gains.

The President announced his action in a speech delivered to 148 mountain families of the New Deal-sponsored rehabilitation community of Arthur Dale, W. Va., at the graduation exercises of 13 high school students. His words, however, were carried to the nation by radio networks.

"I call the definite attention of the American people," said Mr. Roosevelt, "to those unwise parts of the bill I have talked to you about today—one of them which may restore in the future certain forms of tax avoidance, and of concentrated investment power, which we had begun to end, and the other a definite abandonment of a principle of tax policy long accepted as part of our American system."

The President declared that he had no objection to removing any obstacles to little business which might be contained in the revenue laws but he reiterated the administration's determination not to allow the use of corporate forms to avoid what it considers legitimate tax burdens.

Mr. Roosevelt made plain that he hoped for a future revision of the revenue laws in line with the objectives he seeks. Such revisions, he said, should be designed to encourage new investment and the entry of private capital into new fields.

Strange Facts

Tiny Sailfish Puzzles Beebe

DR. WILLIAM BEEBE returned recently from a tropical expedition. He had collected 20,000 different specimens of marine life. He brought back a fish not as long as his little finger. This was his most valuable specimen, a sailfish 1 1/2 inches long.

The familiar sailfish caught by anglers in California or Florida weighs from 30 to more than 100 pounds. Their length measures the height of a man or a giant. Some are even ten feet long. The "baby" sailfish measuring 1 1/2 inches may not be a "baby" at all. The tiny fish exactly like the ten foot sailfish puzzles Doctor Beebe. In an interview on larding, the well known scientist says the tiny sailfish might be the first young sailfish ever captured, or may be a new miniature species. There is much doubt of the 1 1/2 inch sailfish being the young of the ordinary sailfish because the little fish seems fully formed.

The sailfish derives its name from the huge dorsal fin that extends a foot or two above the body and resembles a sail. These fish feed on the surface of the water and they are caught by trolling in the daytime. The miniature sailfish secured by Doctor Beebe was caught at night under search lights, on a voyage that took Doctor Beebe and his companions 2,000 miles down the west coast from Cape Lucas to Panama.

Rag Rug Crocheted in Squares.

THE diagram shows how the contrasting squares are arranged to give the rug its interesting design. Whatever color scheme you use, black will be most effective for joining the squares and for an edging of single crochet around the outside of the rug. If the materials you have are not the colors you want, don't forget there is always the dye pot. Producing your own colors may be the most exciting part of rug making.

A crocheted rag rug like the one shown here uses odds and ends. Wool rags make a nicer rug than cotton, or rug yarn may be substituted if desired. Either a wood or large steel crochet hook

"There's the Doorbell Again"

SUPPOSE daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furrier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedium of doorbell answering that would mean!

● It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price. And yet you need those merchants' service quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods must be offered. Every week, through the advertising columns of this newspaper, the merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worth while in the market-places of the world.

● They are not strangers at the door, but merchants you know and trust. You are surer of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

To Ride the River With

"Five of them, far as we know," Lee answered. "We're kind of in a hole, boys. If we jump up this bunch of wolves before the smugglers arrive, they can give us the horse-laugh and say they just rode out for a picnic. If we don't show up till after the Mexicans, the smugglers are liable to be rubbed out. We'll have to just jog along and hope for the best."

Gray dawn was beginning to sift into the darkness and bleach it with light. Lee held the lead, Jeff Gray at his heels. Day poured down into the canyon. In an incredibly short space of time nothing was left of the blackness of night but a swirling mist. The men could see one another, not as shifting shadows but as individuals. All of them were conscious of a definite relief.

The leader drew up his horse. "Getting close to the rock slide," he said evenly. "They may be there or they may not. We're fixed so we have to guess at what these fellows want." Lee's glance rested for a moment on Gray. "Maybe I'm the one who is to fall into the trap and this talk of smugglers doesn't mean a thing. Ride as loose as you can, boys. Not too close together. If they fire at us we'll hunt cover, each man for himself. There will be plenty of boulders there, or any-way brush."

"Wouldn't it be better for one of us to crawl forward on foot and have a look-see?" Brand suggested. From round a bend in the gulch there came the crack of a gun. Before the echo died away a fusillade followed.

"We're too late!" Chiswick cried. "Come on, boys." He slid from the saddle and ran toward the bend, moving with the heaviness that comes from middle age. Gray passed him before he was halfway to the turn. The scene Gray looked upon as he rounded the curve was one of the wildest confusion. Frightened by the firing, two saddled horses were bucking wildly in the dry bed of the stream. The men who had been riding them lay on the ground, one of them face down and the other in a twisted heap. Two others in Mexican costume were racing down the canyon to escape, while three masked men shot at them with rifles as they ran. Another masked man was struggling with a pitching mule.

Gray flung a bullet at the nearest of the marksmen. The man whirled, caught sight of him, and ripped out a startled oath. He gave a cry of warning, fired once wildly toward the men pouring round the bend, and turned to run. He caught at the bridle of one of the plunging horses and tried to mount. His foot could not find the stirrup nor could he fling himself astride the back of the animal. A bullet struck the pommel of the saddle to which he was clinging. With a yell of terror he let go and fell down the gorge, dodging in and out of the rocks as he went. Though the face of the man was covered by a bandanna except for the eyes, Gray recognized him as young Howard.

Taken by surprise, the other bandits thought only of flight. One man limping to a horse, pulled himself to the saddle, and galloped off. Another plunged to the ground, as if he had stumbled, but did not rise again. The remaining two, penned in the rocks, answered the fire of the attackers.

"Get to cover, boys," Lee ordered. "We'll drive them into the open. Don't take any chances."

A saddled horse, snorting with fear, came out from the big boulders close to the spot where the two masked men crouched. The nearest outlaw seized the bridle and mounted. His companion clambered on behind, and the animal dashed down the canyon.

"Bring up the horses," Lee called to his son Frank. "We'll take after these fellows."

He moved forward to check the casualties. Two Mexicans were dead, as was also one of the outlaws. None of the Chiswick party had been hurt. The unexpected attack had sent their foes into panic.

Gray turned over the body of the masked man lying in the sand. He recognized the face of Sid Hunt, the cowboy he had seen in Yell Sanger's store when he first arrived in Tail Holt.

The crook-nosed man helped himself to the dead man's rifle and cartridge-belt. He caught one of the horses left by the outlaws and started down the gulch.

"Better wait for the orders of the old man," Brand advised. "I'll just ride ahead and keep in touch with these fellows," Gray called back.

He passed a laden pack-mule. Part of the load was silver, he guessed. The mule had got over its fright and was picking at the shrubbery.

After he was through the boulder field, he put his mount to a canter, regardless of the brush which caught at him as he plowed into the chaparral. He was riding the gray gelding upon which he had seen Morg Norris leave town.

Presently he saw in front of him a man on foot. Sometimes the man was running, sometimes walking. In the space of three or four minutes he looked back a dozen times. Fear of death was riding him hard. As Gray drew nearer, the fugitive took refuge behind a mesquite.

"Don't you come any closer," he warned, his voice quavery with terror.

The man was Lou Howard. During his flight he had dropped the rifle because it interfered with speed. "Reach for the sky," Gray ordered. "No funny business or I'll drill you through."

A bullet whistled past his head. He swung from the saddle and moved forward. In his hand was a forty-four, ready for action. The rifle he had left beside the horse.

"Don't you!" shrieked Howard. "You keep back."

"Get 'em up," snapped Gray. "Quick."

The hands of Howard went up, the weapon in one of them.

"Don't kill me," he begged. Gray disarmed him.

"You'll be safer tied up," the captor said. "Keep you from being killed by one of the boys when they get to you. Move over this way."

The crook-nosed man took the rope from the saddle and tied up Howard swiftly and thoroughly. He thumb. In this country a man without a horse was in poor plight. The first consideration of these fugitives would be to get another mount. They would strike for the nearest place where a pony could be picked up with safety.

The answer struck Jeff Gray almost with the force of a blow. That nearest place was the L C ranch-house. These ruffians knew that Lee Chiswick and his men had fallen upon them in Live Oak canyon. Nobody would be at the ranch except women. Almost certainly the outlaws would ride straight to the L C.

CHAPTER VIII

Ruth spent some anxious, restless hours. She found herself on the front porch a dozen times, her gaze sweeping down the road to look for the returning posse.

With Nelly's help she laid in a supply of cooked food for the returning warriors. Whether successful or the reverse, they would certainly be hungry.

After all, it was Nelly who first saw the approaching rider.

"Someone coming this way," she called to her mistress.

Swiftly Ruth went to the door. A horse was cantering heavily up the road. The distance was too far for identification of either man or beast, but there was something unusual about the gait of the animal. Unless very tired it ought not to make such heavy going. Presently she made a discovery. A second rider sat behind the first.

A pulse began to beat in Ruth's throat. Something was wrong. Perhaps the man in the rear was wounded and they were sending him home. She ran down the steps and hurried toward those approaching the house.

They were close upon her before she realized they were not from her father's party. She stopped, abruptly, looking at them intently. The man in front she did not know. The other swung to the ground and came toward her. A cold wind swept through her. There was evil in the jeering cruel eyes.

"Nice to meet up with you again, Missy," he said.

"Who are you?" she asked, dread in her heart.

But she knew who he was. She had seen him at Tail Holt just before and after her father had been wounded. His name was Morgan Norris, and he was the man Jeff Gray suspected of firing the shot.

"Never mind the name. Just call me one of yore admirers. First off, we want horses. While Kansas is catching and saddling I'll help you get some food together. We're in some hurry, and we'll take it with us."

"What's happened?" the girl asked, her eyes on the bloodstained handkerchief tied around his left arm below the elbow.

Norris ripped out a violent obscene oath. "Keep yore trap shut, girl, and do like I say," he ordered.

"You've been hurt—wounded," she cried. "There has been trouble."

Her eyes were big with fear. The color had died out of her face. She was not thinking of him but of those with whom he had fought. They too might be wounded—or worse.

"Ambushed by yore rotten kin," he snarled. "Shot down when we weren't lookin' for it, when we didn't have a chance."

Ruth looked into his bleak eyes, the focal points of a cruel, savage face, and knew what it was to be afraid. She turned and walked to the house, the man beside her. He caught hold of her arm just above the elbow, his fingers tightening with all the pressure they could exert.

Millions Spent Annually in U. S. on the Dainty Perfumes and Cosmetics

About $200,000,000 a year is spent on beauty by these United States—in other words, on perfumes and cosmetics.

In reviewing the chemistry of this vast industry before the Rochester chapter of American Chemical society, Dr. Charles F. H. Allen, of the Eastman laboratories, remarked that the jar in which some of these beautifiers come may be worth more than their contents. Six cents for the container, 2 cents for the contents, 2 cents for profit is Dr. Allen's analysis of a 10 cent sale.

This helps to explain why one college professor gave up teaching for cosmetics, with the remark: "It's easier and more profitable to decorate the outside of girls' heads than the inside."

In Dr. Allen's opinion the cheapest modern perfume is better than the kind for which the ancient and medieval lovers of luxury and beauty were willing to pay its weight in gold. Natural oil of rose is worth $175 a pound (cheaper than gold, it must be reluctantly admitted),

"Let me alone," Ruth told him. "Take your hand off me." "It's my say-so," he retorted, with an evil laugh. "What orders are given will come from me, sweetheart."

With an effort she wrenched herself free. There was a band of fire down her arm where his strong fingers had bit into the flesh.

"No," she challenged, "head up and eyes undaunted. 'You daren't harm me. If you did you'd be trapped and wiped out like a wolf.' 'Would I? We'll see about that,' he purrled softly."

He was playing with a dangerous thought, one that had just come into his mind. Could he use her, as a protection and as a means of revenge? If he took her with him would he increase or decrease the peril of the situation in which he stood? He was not sure whether he had been recognized; if so, he might have to get out of this part of the country. Mexicans from across the border, engaged in illicit traffic, were at no premium in Arizona, but Lee Chiswick could use the killing of two of them to stir up a lot of trouble.

Norris went into the house with her.

"This man wants to take some food with him, Nelly," said Ruth. Nelly looked at him, out of startled eyes. She made as if to speak and changed her mind.

"Get a move on you," he snapped. "I'm in a hurry."

While Ruth packed the food they had just been cooking the outlaw sat astride a chair in the kitchen with his arm across the back of it. He watched her with narrowed eyes, primal fires flaming smokily in them. The man lived in his passions—in his hatreds and in his desires. This girl appealed to both of them. Through her he could strike at the whole Chiswick tribe. He could jeer at them to this daughter while they combed the hills to find her. It would be a magnificent revenge. That was one side of the picture. The other worked hand in hand with it. The slender grace of her figure, its fine spirited race-horse look, stirred a tumult in him.

Kansas came into the kitchen. "I roped and saddled two cow-ponies," he said.

"We'll need four," Norris answered. "Four. What for?" Kansas asked. "We're going to take these girls with us."

The other three in the room stared at Norris, Kansas with incredulity, the young women with gripping fear.

"The hell we are!" Kansas retorted. "You gone crazy from yore wound?"

"They will be a protection to us," Norris insisted. "Like heck they will," his companion snorted. "What's eating you, Morg? This whole country would rise up and wipe us out. Use yore head."

The eyes of the killer glittered. He said softly, a silken thread in his voice, "Saddle two more horses."

Kansas felt a chill run down his back. "Good God, Morg—" "Make tracks, fellow," Norris interrupted, his stabbing gaze fixed on the other.

Kansas backed out of the room. "All right, Morg. All right. Just as you say. I sure ain't lookin' for trouble with you."

Ruth said to Norris, keeping her voice steady with an effort, "You wouldn't do that to two girls."

Scowling at her, he answered harshly, "Don't fool yourself. 'But it's like your friend said. The whole country would hunt you down and stamp you out.'"

"I can look after myself, I reckon," he told her; and added, "I need you along to keep me company."

Cool, Smart, Easy-to-Tub

DRESSES with v-necks and short sleeves, easy to put on, and with no ruffles or fussy details to keep you long at the ironing board! That's the main and most important fashion for summer time, and here are two particularly smart styles that you can quickly and easily make at home, even if you haven't had much experience in sewing. A detailed sew chart comes with each pattern.

Slenderizing Shirtwaist Dress. If you take a woman's size, choose this smart tailored type with notched collar, short kimona sleeves, and action pleats in the skirt. It's cool and unhampering for housework, and tailored enough so that you can drive to the station and go shopping in it, too. Gingham, percale, seersucker or tub silk are smart materials for it.

Basque Frock With Dainty Frills. This charming dress is extremely becoming to slim, youthful figures, with its snug bodice, puff sleeves and wide revers. A fashion you'll enjoy for home wear and afternoon parties all summer long. This design will be lovely in any dainty cotton that you like—dotted Swiss, dimity, lawn and linen, light or dark, with white cuffs and revers to make it look so cool and fresh.

The Patterns. 1462 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35-inch material.

1453 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 1/4 yards of 35-inch material, plus 3/4 yard contrasting for collar and cuffs, and 2 1/4 yards lace or edging to trim as pictured.

Spring-Summer Pattern Book. Send 15 cents for the Barbara Bell Spring and Summer Pattern Book which is now ready. It contains 109 attractive, practical and becoming designs. The Barbara Bell patterns are well planned, accurately cut and easy to follow. Each pattern includes a sew-chart which enables even a beginner to cut and make her own clothes.

OBSERVING NATIONAL COTTON WEEK

This week the entire nation is paying tribute to what happens to be Hall County's greatest crop, in observance of National Cotton Week.

A week of nation-wide tribute to this vastly important crop is well to observe, but the Democrat believes that no place on earth should pay cotton more honor than this immediate section of Texas. This area depends entirely on the crop for existence and should for this reason use all the cotton and its by-products possible.

Hall County shouldn't wait until Cotton Week to use its own wares.—
Memphis (Texas) Democrat.

It is strange that the News and Lynn county should have passed unnoticed the fact that last week had been designated as National Cotton Week, since the county produced more than 152,000 bales last year the greatest production of any county in the state except our neighbor immediately to the north. But Lynn county had a long succession of "cotton weeks" last fall and winter and hence may be excused for failing to observe such a week in May.
But, since cotton is our major crop, as the Democrat observes respecting Hall county, and as our very existence depends largely upon cotton, we should not only make the largest use of cotton and its by-products, but we should also guard against any governmental policy that would tend to destroy our foreign markets for cotton.

It is a short-sighted policy that pays farmers to take cotton land out of production merely for the purpose of reducing the size of the crop when there are millions of acres of land in South America and in Africa and in other parts of the world waiting to be planted in cotton when it becomes profitable to do so.

WE ARE WORRIED.

Bro. E. I. Hill told us last week that he never worried, which is all very fine, but in the same issue of the Lynn County News he seemed to be worrying because Coke Stevenson didn't have a platform, and was just going over the state shaking hands, and was worried because Tom Hunter had too much platform. Poor old E. I.—Terry County Herald.

"Taint so, Jack; we never told you nothin' of the kind. The fact is we worry too much. We even let the weather worry us.—We have been worried nearly to death lately by sand storms, hail storms, thunder storms, and a few Terry County County brain storms. Now we are afraid it's going to be a dry year and we know it's going to be hot. So we are worried. On the first of every month we are worried by the bill collectors and on the last of the month by our bark statement. Then, on top of all this, you worry us nearly to death every week. Coke Stevenson's pussy-footing around and Tom Hunter's mother-hubber'd platform don't worry us at all as compared with the rapier thrusts you give us each week. Our only consolation is that we can kick back and My. how we do enjoy it! Come over and see us sometime, Jack."

ing charged that many of the long to Communist and other radical organizations. If so, they could and probably would work great injury to this country in the event of war. Any person shown to be a matically forfeit his job and his right to reinstatement. Any person conspiring with others to cripple

Editor E. I. Hill wrote a thoughtful editorial last week as to why the poll tax was ever connected with voting privileges in Texas. It should answer those who advocate a free and open poll for all persons 21 years of age. After all, regardless of sentiment to repeal the poll tax law, the school forces of Texas hold the whip hand in retaining the poll tax, since a million dollars would be taken out of the school fund if the present law should be repealed. The fact remains that certainly every person should be willing to contribute $1.75 to the support of his government, and if he is unwilling to spend that much on the welfare of his government he does not have much right to criticise his government if his friends are not elected to office. An organization in New York is trying to persuade Texas that this state should abolish the poll tax as a means of voting. The claim is made that many more people would vote if the poll tax law should be repealed. Maybe so, but the secret of such a small percentage of the people of Texas voting is due to the fact that there is only one party. While Texas has 14 candidates for governor this year, the difference between them is largely that of personality. Some few of these candidates have crazy and impossible platforms; others are making promises that all voters know are impossible; but between the three or four leading candidates there is very little difference except in personality and personal accomplishments.—Canyon News.

Senator G. H. Nelson charges that a move is on to again legalize gambling in Texas. We are not surprised.
The gambling element never gives up the fight to bring back horse racing, slot machines and other forms of gambling. In fact a national poll shows that 49% of the people today favor a national lottery. These people believe that the expense of government may be met by such a lottery. Millions of dollars are squandered annually on legalized gambling, and the poor suckers who throw the money away for the benefit of the professional gamblers believe that they are having a whale of a big time.—Canyon

George W. Smith, local manager for the Western Telephone Company, left for Gail shortly before noon Thursday in Dr. Turrentine's car to attend the funeral of Mrs.
Smith's brother, Wesley Berry, who died in Gail Wednesday. Mrs. Smith had been with her brother several days before he passed to the great beyond.

Of course we are not worrying over the trials and tribulations of the Socialist party and we are not losing much sleep over what happens in New Jersey, but we believe in the constitutional right of free assembly and free speech. When Norman Thomas, head of the socialist party, undertook to speak in Newark the other night a bunch of hoodlums rotten-egged him and broke up the meeting. It is the best way in the world to make socialists and communists out of those who are naturally inclined to be radical.
Mayor Hague of Jersey City, by his tyrannical and un-American methods, has done more for Socialism and Communism in this country the past few weeks than all the leaders combined could have done in so many years.

Although the associate editor had met Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul on other occasions, it had never been the pleasure of the "old man" to meet the gentleman until he called at the News office last Friday morning. We found him to be a most affable gentleman and a cracker-jack campaigner. He is no doubt an able lawyer and a man of the strictest integrity; and with his long experience in the courts and in public life, it looks as if he just about has the race for the attorney generalship sewed up. We shall expect him to make a good one, if he is elected, which seems reasonably certain.

BAPTIST WOMEN ANNOUNCE MISSION STUDY INSTITUTE

The W. M. U. of the Brownfield Baptist Association have announced a Mission Study Institute to be held with the Brownfield Church on Wednesday, June 15. A number of Lynn county women have prominent places on the program.

A devotional service will be conducted by Mrs. Paul McCasland of Wilson at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. R. L. Brown, state mission chairman, will conduct a study of "European Missions in Texas" from 9:45 to 10:45, which will be followed by a study of "Judson the Pioneer" conducted by Mrs. J. N. Campbell of Meadow. At 11:30 Mrs. Brown will give a missionary address.

At 12:45 following lunch, Mrs. W. A. Eppes, Charles Baker, and Paul Eppes are to conduct a song and praise service.

After another hour of devotion to mission study, Miss Gussie McCulloch of New Home will teach a class of Sunbeam leaders, and Mrs. J. L. Darnall of Tahoka a class of Junior R. A. and G. A. leaders.

Many women from Lynn county are expected to be in attendance, as well as many from other counties in the association.

The women are requested to take their lunches.

DR. JACKSON WILL SPEAK AT METHODIST

Dr. Jackson of the Texas Tech. teacher of the Horn Bible Class of the First Methodist Church at Lubbock, will speak at the Laymen's meeting at the Methodist Church here at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

This is a special Laymen's Day in the Methodist churches throughout the country, the purpose being to enlist more laymen actively in the work of the church.

Dr. Jackson is a thoughtful speaker and will doubtless bring a great message. All laymen of the church as well as others are urged to attend and enjoy this address and the other services of the hour.

NEW LYNN EPWORTH LEAGUE MET SUNDAY

The New Lynn Epworth League met Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. A program was well rendered by Mrs. Robert Richards.

The League sent two delegates, James Baker and Elva Stone, to the Abilene Assembly. They left Monday morning and will return Saturday.

It seems as if our League is increasing. We hope more will join. Everyone is invited to attend the singing each Saturday night.

MANY ARE FISHING AND VISITING AT CHRISTOVAL

Winter Knight reports that Christoval, on the South Concho below San Angelo, has been quite a resort for Tahoka folk of late.

Summer and Inez Knight have been there several weeks for the former's health. About ten days ago Winter carried his wife and boys down there and left them. He visited them last Sunday, accompanied by Sam Ellis, and expects to go back for them this week end. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Knight and Senny Roberts are down there this week, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Edwards were there last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Henderson left Tuesday for Christoval to spend a few days.

In addition to visiting Mr. and Mrs. Summer Knight, the principal attraction is fishing, and fishing down there is said to be good this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick Lakin of Knoxville, Tennessee, are the guests this week of Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale of this city. This is their first visit in this section of the state.

Baptist Workers Meet At Central

The Workers Conference of the Brownfield Baptist Association met at Central Church eleven miles east of Tahoka Tuesday. A good attendance and a fine program are reported.

Rev. George A. Dale of Tahoka gave a report of the meetings of the Southern Baptist Convention held in Richmond, Virginia, recently, and Mrs. L. Lumsden of Wilson reported the W. M. S. Jubilee meeting held at the same time and place. Both reports were most interesting.

Rev. A. C. Huff, missionary for the South Plains district, preached at the 11 o'clock hour. Those in attendance from Tahoka included Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick Lakin of Knoxville, Tennessee, and the Dales' grandson, Malcolm Edwards of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Billman, Mmes. Deen Nowlin, J. W. Nelson, Wiley Fortenberry, J. R. McIntyre, Guy Stroud, W. H. Kinley, and Mother Weathers.

GIRLS S. S. CLASS HAVE ANNUAL PICNIC

The 15 and 16-year-old girls class of the Baptist Sunday School had their annual all-day picnic Wednesday at the park in Lubbock.

During the day games were enjoyed and class business was transacted, including the giving of a birthday shower for Joyce Russell and Ophelia Eudaley. A great feast was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Those attending were: Madeline Pussell, Genell Fortenberry, Jennie Reba Nevill, Adeline Woods, Wanda Dyer, Ophelia Eudaley, Julia Snowden, Mildred and Vinita Cooper, Joyce Russell, Lucille Burroughs, Ethel Norris, Adella Latham, Laura Jane Milliken, Doris Sargent, Mrs. E. J. Cooper, Mrs. H. F. St. Clair, and Mrs. D. V. Smith.

MRS. NEWTON WILL PREACH AT T-BAR

Mrs. Clara Newton, evangelist, announces that she will be with the people of T-Bar community on Sunday, June 12, and will bring the morning message at 11 a. m.

Mrs. Newton recently returned from Cliff, New Mexico, where she held a three weeks revival, which she reports was very successful.

The Mongollon Mountains near by, where wild deer and turkeys abound, are very beautiful and interesting, Mrs. Newton says.

ATTENDS METHODIST LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

G. C. Price and Miss Louise Park left Monday as delegates from the Epworth League of the Methodist Church here to the League Assembly being held in Abilene this week. They are expected to return home Saturday.

Mrs. Chester Connolly has been sick the past two weeks, confined to her bed much of the time.

TOM HUNTER

Of Wichita Falls, who has again announced as a candidate for Governor of Texas. Hunter is well known to many people here and over the South Plains, having been a resident of Brownfield for a few years prior to his rise to success in the independent oil business.

Two New Men On Applewhite Force

J. K. Applewhite announces the addition of a new salesman in his sales department, Bedford Caldwell, late of Hobbs, N. M. Mr. Caldwell will handle the sale of trucks.

James Cooper, late of Brownfield, has accepted a position in the mechanical department.

Both of these gentlemen are young men of pleasing personality, well adapted for their respective positions, and they will be cordially welcomed to the business circles of Tahoka.

THANKS FOR THE FLOWERS

I wish to thank my friends for the many beautiful flowers they have been bringing me. I appreciate the flowers more than words can express, and I appreciate these friends much more than the flowers. Gratefully, Mrs. J. B. Jones.

Constipated?

Roy Young of the Piggly-Wiggly has been out of the store most of the week by reason of a severe attack of tonsillitis from which he has been suffering since last Saturday.

Good Luck Follows Bad For Barnett

For at least one time in life Bob Barnett went to church in a terrible hurry Tuesday. But, truth to tell, it was not the services of the Church that attracted him.

Rob had been working at the church Tuesday morning, one of the hands on the new construction job there. He went home at noon as usual.

About the time he finished the noon meal his wife called upon him for a few nickles with which to do some light shopping, as women will sometimes do. Rob reached into his pocket to draw out his wallet containing the savings of the past two years or more, about $150.00 in hard-earned money. Imagine his consternation when no wallet was to be found. The boys say that he rushed out to his dray, grabbed the lines, and began lashing those mules across the business end like some mad man. Here they came tearing up to the church at break-neck speed. Rob jumped off the dray and rushed to a hydrant where he had stooped to drink just before leaving for lunch, and there sure enough lay his wallet. It still contained the $150.00 every cent of it there.

Was Rob happy? Well, if any one had passed along the street about that time he doubtless would have thought that a great revival meeting had broken out.

Paul Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Cox of the Three Lakes community, was taken to a Lubbock sanitarium Wednesday afternoon suffering with appendicitis and underwent an operation Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. He has been a pupil in the Tahoka high school this year but was sick and suffered much of the time, losing much time from school.

Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Holt have recently moved from Abilene to Central, eleven miles east of Tahoka. Rev. Holt is the pastor of the Central Baptist Church and has been attending Simmons University.

Rev. J. W. McGaha and wife of Scurry county were week-end visitors of L. H. Johnson and family of Three Lakes Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. McGaha is Mr. Johnson's mother.

Burton Hackney Has Eye Infection

Many friends here regret to learn that Burton Hackney, county attorney of Terry county, has been suffering intensely the past few weeks from an affection of one of the eyes, and he went to Dallas last week to have it treated with the hope of saving the sight. A recent press dispatch, however, stated that it was feared that it would become necessary to remove the ball.

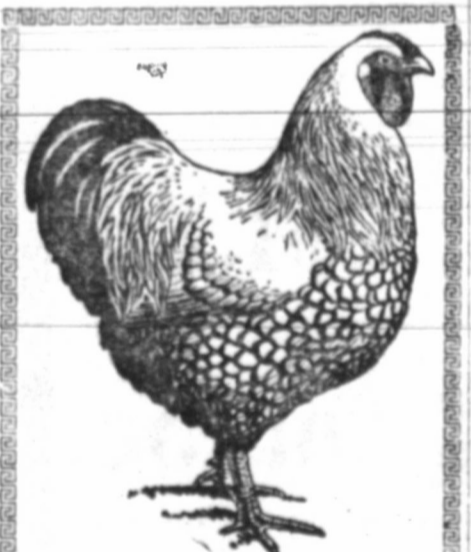

Some weeks ago the eyeball became sore. Apparently it had received a scratch, possibly from sand or a gravel that had gotten into the eye. Then it became infected and Mr. Hackney was taken to a Lubbock hospital where he was given treatment for two weeks or more. Receiving little relief, he was finally taken to Dallas for treatment by a specialist there.

Mr. Hackney is a brother of Mrs. G. H. Nelson and during the latter part of his boyhood he resided here with the Nelson family and attended school. After his graduation here in the high school, he attended the Tech at Lubbock for some time. Studying law mostly at home, he was admitted to the bar just a few years ago and soon thereafter was elected county attorney of Terry county.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson returned Sunday night from a business and pleasure trip to Dallas, Corsicana, Palestine, and other points in North and East Texas. Bill says that from Snyder east crops are looking fine. A bumper crop of oats is being harvested but they are bringing 14 to 18 cents per bushel, and barley is bringing only 20 cents. Bill thinks maize and other feedstuff will be cheap here this year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Reugenstine left for their home in Indianapolis, Indiana, Wednesday morning after a visit of several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burckhart in the Edith community. They were accompanied back by Mr. Burckhart, Mrs. Ruby Tunnell and daughter, Wanda. Mr. Burckhart goes to gather additional information about the Burckhart family in this country and to visit relatives. He expects to be gone about four weeks.

Mrs. Willie Lois Hoffman of Slaton is spending a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nevels.

TAHOKA BLUE SOX WIN OPENING GAME

A large crowd attended the formal opening of the Tahoka baseball park Sunday afternoon and everyone seemed to be delighted with the park and the grandstand.

The Tahoka Blue Socks shut out Seagraves 4 to 1 at this opening game of the season.

On the mound for Tahoka was Vernon Lane. He is around forty-five years old but he did a grand job of pitching. The ball would come over the plate so slow that one could see the seam as it twisted around, and Boy, did it have stuff on it! He let them have only three hits. Lane throws what is called a dead ball, and what I mean it's dead.

Jones did the catching and he caught a good game all the way through.

Lefty Legion did the pitching for Seagraves while Newell caught. Lefty had a pretty good fast ball but he let the Blue Socks get eight hits.

Evans and Walker starred for Tahoka in the in-field. They did a good job of getting those pills and chucking them to first baseman Wade Holland. Evans played third and Walker short-stop.

Coon Hill made the prettiest catch out in the right field I ever saw. Which reminds me. I don't know whether it was the glove or just the man behind it, but W. T. Bovell surely knows how to play dropsie out in the left field.

The Blue Socks made two runs in the first inning, one in the third, and one in the sixth. They got eight hits and made three errors. Dub Morris caused a lot of excitement when he slid home for the fourth and last score for Tahoka.

WILSON SOFT BALL LEAGUE STANDING

Here is the standing of the various teams in the Wilson softball tournament up to Wednesday morning.

Still & Guess Filling Station tops the list this week. It has won four and lost no games.

Most of the other teams are staying pretty close to one another, so this should continue to be an exciting tournament.

Team	Won	Tied	Lost
Still-Guess	4	0	0
Wilson	3	0	1
Tahoka	3	0	1
Morgan	3	0	1
Wayside	2	0	2
Good Eats Bakery	1	1	2

ELDER DRENNON'S NOTES

Another week with its opportunities and responsibilities. What a wonderful thing to live! I spoke last night on "Esau selling his birthright". How many today are doing the same thing! Esau thought more of a mess of pottage than of his spiritual welfare. Too many in our day are like him, living on the low plane of satisfying the desire of the flesh. Paul says in Romans 8:13 "If we live after the flesh we shall die, but if we put to death the deeds of the body we shall live." The biggest battle we have is with our flesh.

Another shower last night. Many were beginning to murmur about enough rain, not realizing that all things work together for our good. What a fine thing it would be if we could say with the Apostle Paul "I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." Personally I am trying to learn that same thing. If Paul could, so can I.

In reply to the questions in the editor's note last week, will say that I am glad that he asked them, as they are vital to Christianity.

The first question as to our all getting together in the same Church organization, I think it can be done. I wish he and all who read this would please stop and read John 17:20-23 where Jesus prayed for us to all be one. Now turn and read 1 Corinthians 1:10, where Paul urged unity; also Ephesians 4:3-6, where the same thought is expressed. And finally read where it was practiced, Acts 4:32. That is my answer as to why I think it could and should be done.

As to the second question, "Would you be willing to surrender any of your views for the sake of unity?" I sure will and let you be the judge, if you will make the New Testament the Standard. If I am practicing anything not authorized by the New Testament I will begin now, but don't forget that New Testament must be the standard. I firmly believe that the divided condition of religious people today is one of the greatest hindrances to our success in winning the lost to Christ.

I would like to ask one question: Do you know any sound reason why

When You Feel Sluggish (Constipated)

Take a dose or two of Black-Draught. Feel fresh for a good day's work.

Work seems easier, life pleasanter, when you are really well—free from the bad feelings and dullness often attending constipation.

For nearly a century, Black-Draught has helped to bring prompt, refreshing relief from constipation. Thousands of men and women rely on it.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

A GOOD LAXATIVE

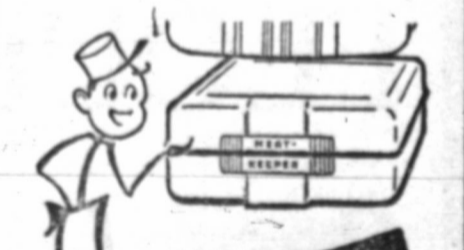

we should not all be one?

I have just been to visit a sick room where death is just a few hours off. Think, dear readers, what if it was you who was going tonight. How would it be with your soul?

—E. P. Drennon.

Ed. Note: I notice that in answering my second question, you say that you will let the editor be the judge "if you will make the New Testament the Standard". You evidently mean the New Testament as you interpret it. It is the fact that you and I and others interpret parts of the New Testament differently, that gives rise to the different religious denominations.

If and when all churches, sects, and denominations can interpret all the vital teachings of the New Testament alike, then there will no longer be any reason for division. Until they can conscientiously agree, would it not be futile and foolish to hitch them all up to the same wagon and expect them to pull together?

Miss Lola Smith received her B. A. degree at the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. (Happy) Smith attended the graduating exercises and Miss Lola returned to Tahoka with them the first of the week. She will return to Dallas soon, where she has accepted a position as a teacher in the Dallas city schools.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Head of Wilson left Saturday for Canyon to attend the summer session of the West Texas State College. Mr. Head taught Mathematics in the Wilson high school the past year and has been elected principal for the ensuing year. Mrs. Head taught the past year at Morgan and has been re-elected. She is principal of the school there.

Misses Marietta Montgomery, who has been teaching at Morse in the Panhandle, Miss Grace, who has been teaching in Brownfield, and Miss Lois, who has been attending the Texas Technological College, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Will Montgomery, are all home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris went down to Denton Thursday and brought their niece, Miss Reba Harris, back to Tahoka Friday to spend the summer here. She is a student in the Texas State College for Women, formerly known as C. I. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay McCoy and little son John of San Antonio are here visiting his mother, Mrs. J. H. McCoy, and his sister, Mrs. Wade Holland. He is now field representative of the Upjohn Medical Company.

The Tahoka Home Demonstration Club met with the New Home ladies for a good will program in the home of Mrs. J. R. Strain with Mrs. Boswell Edwards as hostess.

Mrs. W. S. Anglin and Mrs. Lee Baldrige gave a very interesting demonstration on hooked rugs and mats.

Angel food cake and punch was served to Mesdames A. C. Weaver, Milt Finch, P. W. Goad, J. B. Olyger, Jones, Connolly, Lee Baldrige, W. S. Anglin, J. O. Patterson, H. L. Roddy, S. H. Holland from the Tahoka club and Mesdames W. G. Minton, Will Harris, Loyd R. McCormick, Leon Jennings, Boswell Edwards, G. W. Forsythe, G. W. Riddlehouse and Mrs. J. R. Strain from the New Home club.

The sponge cake depends entirely on the air which is beaten into the eggs to make it light. The air should be held in as much as possible.

Baking is much better and more dependable at a low temperature and over a long period of time.

There were four visitors; Pearl Forrester, Mrs. S. A. Cummings, Mrs. O. W. Ray, and Mrs. Newt Steele. The members present were: Mrs. B. W. Baker, Mrs. Edwin May, Mrs. D. A. Hill, Mrs. P. D. Server, Mrs. Howard Cook, Mrs. S. G. Anthony, Mrs. S. L. Alderson, Mrs. Doug Finley, Mrs. J. W. Lamb.

MRS W. H. MAY HOSTESS TO WILSON H. D. CLUB

"The flour must be folded in carefully in making sponge cake so as to keep the delicate cells of air intact as long as possible", stated Miss Boyd at the Home Demonstration Club meeting in the home of Mrs. W. H. May, June 1.

Mrs. Dan Davis returned Monday from a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. T. C. Boucher, at Abilene. Mrs. Boucher recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and is recovering satisfactorily.

The officers elected are: Roy D. Randolph, president; Clyde Ashcraft, vice-president; J. L. Jennings, secretary; Loyd Russell McCormick, treasurer; Bernhard Ernest, parliamentarian; J. W. Harston, watchdog; Roger Blakey, song leader.

The present officers will try to carry on the chapter as best we can and hope the boys not in office will like the way it is run. We hope the following year will be pleasant and successful, and we are going to try to make it so.—Reporter.

When You Need a Laxative

Thousands of men and women know how wise it is to take Black-Draught at the first sign of constipation. They like the refreshing relief it brings. They know its timely use may save them from feeling badly and possibly losing time at work from sickness brought on by constipation.

If you have to take a laxative occasionally, you can rely on

Local Negroes Plan June 19th Fete

The Negroes of Tahoka are planning a two-day picnic here on June 18 and 19, which they expect to be the biggest picnic ever staged by their race in this part of the state, according to announcements printed in this office and now being distributed.

Barbecue of all kinds, two baseball games, and speaking at night, and singing by the Sunset Quartet will be some of the features of the two-days celebration.

"Post will cross bats with Brown field, and O'Donnell with Tahoka" it is announced. "Everybody come and see Gilbert Hood make that Bulldog Lope", is the invitation.

The speaking program consists of addresses by Rev. R. E. Jones of Lubbock, Rev. Taylor of Lambsa, and Rev. O. D. Hollins of Tahoka.

Dave Washington is manager of the Tahoka Baseball Club, which is one of the best in this section of the state. H. E. Sayles and Jesse Holmes are the managers of the Barbecue and Refreshments, and Tom Belvins and Arthur Coleman are managers of the day.

Great crowds of visitors are expected to be here from neighboring town on the two days.

EVANS BUYS FORMER SNOWDEN STATION

E. S. Evans several days ago made a deal whereby he took over the former Phillips Service Station which was being operated by H. M. Snowden.

He took charge about the first of the month, and is handling Gulf products.

J. N. Lemond of Draw, ripe in years, experience, and wisdom, was a pleasant caller at the News-office Wednesday. Few men can discuss politics, religion, or world affairs more intelligently than Mr. Lemond, and it is always a pleasure to have him call.

Miss Mildred Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Cox of Three Lakes, returned home Friday from Denton, where she has been a student in the North Texas State Teachers College.

Minor Improvements Are Being Made

Tahoka seems to be becoming pretty thoroughly air-minded. Cooling systems have recently been installed in a number of the business houses and in a few of the homes.

The Vernon Davis Cafe, the Wynne Collier drug store, the Tahoka drug store, Bart's Cafe, Buster Fenton's recreation hall, the Cole Theatre, Dr. Turrentine's residence, P. Coleman's residence, the Baptist Church, basement, and possibly other buildings have recently installed new air-conditioning systems.

P. Coleman has made some of these cooling systems, having just completed one for use in Lubbock and another for Plains, Yoakum county.

A new Neon sign has also been installed in front of Bart's Cafe and a new electrical sign in front of the Davis Cafe.

The L. F. Craft home is being remodeled and redecorated also, and there are many other minor improvements being made in town.

Old Circus Clown Visits In Tahoka

L. V. Browning, claiming to be a former circus clown with the Ringling Bros. shows, was a visitor in Tahoka Thursday.

He was traveling in a covered wagon, drawn by two donkeys and leading three others, and stated that he was on his way from Edinburg, Texas, to Greeley, Colorado, where he was to take part in a rodeo. The purpose of the trip, it seems, was to advertise the rodeo.

One of the donkeys he had with him was an old donkey which he said he used when a clown with the Ringling Bros. Circus.

He left here Friday morning, and is making stops in all the towns enroute.

E. H. Boulloun has been suffering his week from a severely sore throat. He has been confined to his home most of the time.

Patricia Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, had her tonsils and adenoids removed in a Lubbock hospital last Saturday.

Wm. McCraw Candidate for Governor.

McCraw Speaks In Lubbock Soon

Tom Garrard returned Wednesday from a professional trip to Austin. He also visited several places on this trip in the interest of Attorney General William E. McCraw, candidate for governor, including Sweetwater, Abilene, Coleman, and other places. He made speeches in behalf of McCraw in Winters and Ballinger.

Mr. Garrard asks that we again announce that McCraw will speak in Lubbock Saturday, June 18, at 8 P. M. It is hoped that hundreds of Lynn county people will be there to hear him.

Mr. Garrard says that it is probable that Mr. McCraw will spend a portion of the next day, Sunday, in Tahoka.

BLUE SOCKS PLAY ON SUNDAY, JUNE 11th

The Blue Socks have challenged Levelland for their second game of the season Sunday, June 12th.

We received this information too late to get it in the sports column.

Rev. Ben Hardy, pastor of the Methodist Church, left Tuesday on a church mission for Dallas. He was expected to return home Thursday or Friday.

Varied Program Rotarians Hear

The Rotarians enjoyed a varied program Thursday at noon.

V. F. Jones staged a footrace between two Smiths, A. L. and W. D., each having his hands tied behind him and carrying an egg in a spoon clutched between his teeth.

Eugene Rinehart, a nine-year-old third-grade pupil in the New Home school, gave a whistling concert whistling some of the popular tunes and imitating a number of well-known birds. With training, he should soon become a great entertainer. The Rotarians greatly enjoyed his numbers.

Harley Henderson spoke briefly on the cotton industry, showing how much the average cotton crop means to Lynn county and stressing the importance of improving the grade and staple of our principal product.

Godsey Infant Is Buried Monday

An infant born to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Godsey Sunday died a short time after birth and the remains were buried in the Tahoka Cemetery Monday under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence by Rev. Geo. A. Dale.

The little fellow had been named Terry Lee.

Miss Rose Wood is here from Dallas for the wedding of Miss Auda Mae Aycox and Mr. A. N. Norman Jr. of Abilene, which happy event will take place Saturday.

Miss Louise McCord of Eastland has been here the past few days visiting the Rollin McCord and Bescomb McCord families and other relatives.

Marion and Glorion Morrison of Olney are here visiting Dale Hogan this week. The girls are nieces of Mrs. George Hogan Jr.

Nelson Continues Stevenson Attack

Huntsville, Texas, June 6.—Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock today carried forward his vigorous attack on the legislative record of his opponent, Coke Stevenson, with the assertion that "Stevenson's terms as Speaker of the House were marked by the greatest increase in state spending in history."

"Coke Stevenson boasts that he reduced the cost of government while he was Speaker. If this is so, it is strange that the records of state Comptroller George Sheppard show that the state's expenses jumped $37,000,000 while Stevenson was Speaker," Nelson said.

"When Stevenson was elected Speaker, the state government was spending $107,000,000 a year. When he left the Speakership, the state's expenses had jumped to $144,000,000 a year," Nelson declared.

"It is difficult to reconcile Stevenson's claim that he cut the cost of government 25 percent with the impartial records of the State Comptroller which shows a 35 percent increase in government spending during the same year. Stevenson either does not know the facts or he is deliberately manipulating statistics," Nelson said.

Senator Nelson this week will carry his campaign down the Louisiana line, across South Central Texas, and into the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haney and little daughter went down to Abilene last Friday for Mrs. Haney's mother, Mrs. F. M. Stone, who accompanied them home and is visiting here for a few weeks.

AN UNINTENTIONAL OMISSION
Long after the paper was off the press last week we discovered that the Methodist Church Notes by Rev. Ben Hardy had been left out. Their omission was entirely unintentional—just one of those mishaps that will sometimes occur in any newspaper office.

In naming those who furnished special music at the Eastern Star program last week the name of Miss Greta Joyce Applewhite was inadvertently omitted. Miss Greta Joyce furnished excellent music with her violin.

Bob Caveness returned Tuesday from Dallas, where he has been a student the past two or three years in the Baylor Dental College. He will spend the summer with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. H. P. Caveness.

Summer does things to your beauty. Your hands, your complexion, your hair all take severe punishment from hot-weather dust, dirt and humidity. Swimming, golf and outdoor activity dry out vital skin and scalp oils and leave you looking drab and washed out unless you protect against those beauty hazards. ## SERVICES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

We greatly enjoyed our Fifth Sunday and Communion services at Tahoka. A fine response for the hot day and the hasty notice about the same.

Every church grows in ratio of its faithfulness and not its bigness in numbers. A big army of course is forceful, but, after all, no more forceful than its individual loyalties. Hot weather and other conditions, at a time like this, try out church-goers and provoke a few to wait for cool weather, rain or until the churches are all air-conditioned, etc.

In the meanwhile the Lord moves on and is never late about his work and plans through His people, when they are ready and responsive to his call to work.

Be in our services Sunday, Sunday school at 10 a. m., preaching services at 11 a. m. No night service. Morning theme: "Not far from the Kingdom." Yet, often far enough to be on the outside when the gates of entrance closes.

Stir up yourself. Stir up others and let all of the Lord's people be stirred up about the most important issue this side of the grave, Salvation. Let us have a fine attendance. Nice fans; fine fellowship. All of our windows are up except two therefore "air-conditioned", and flowers still blooming. Come. You are cordially invited.—W. J. Johnston, Minister.

ROYAL NEEDLES CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. JOLLY

The Royal Needle Club met with Mrs. Rosa Jolly Wednesday afternoon, June 1.

Wednesday was our club's anniversary, and we elected new officers as follows: President, Neta Kelly; vice-president, Nadyne Neugent; secretary, Rosa Jolly; reporter, Marie Owens.

A birthday shower was given to Cleo Marlin and Ida Faye Griffith. We had two white cakes with pink candles, and several games were played.

Cake and ice cream were served to the following: Mesdames Rosa Jolly, Cleo Marlin, Nadyne Neugent, Syble Warren, Ivy Romines, Lois Terry, Lura Mae Gaither, Lucille Warren, Lillie Willingham, Opal Dreager, Maudetta Threat, Olla Faye Griffith, Marie Owens.

The next meeting will be at Syble Warren's on June 22.—Reporter.

JUNIOR ADULT B. T. U. PARTY

The beautiful lawn of the First Baptist Church was the setting for a jolly "apron and overall party" last Friday night when the Junior Adult B. T. U. held its first social. Lively games were directed by Mrs. Guy Stroud.

A refreshment plate containing sandwiches, potato chips, iced punch and cookies, was passed to each of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stroud, Rev. and Mrs. Geo. A. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. T. Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kinley, Mrs. J. W. Nelson and Mrs. L. D. Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Harrison.

We invite all young married people of the church to attend our B. T. U. every Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Reporter.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

(Ben Hardy, Pastor)
Next Sunday is Laymen's Day; the theme, Why Go To Church. This theme will be ably discussed by some prominent laymen. We urge your attendance.

G. C. Price and Louise Parks are attending the Young People's Assembly at McMurry College this week.

An announcement will be made soon regarding the Vacation Bible School for the children. All children are invited to attend. There will be competent teachers and instructors. Mrs. Claude Donaldson, superintendent of the children's division, will be in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. North and two children of Arp, Smith county, came in early Tuesday morning to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel, and other relatives here.

Charles Williams of Pecos, 15, is here visiting his aunt, Mrs. E. S. Davis, and his cousin, Daniel Davis.

Burckharts Have 50th Anniversary

Last Sunday was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burckhart of the Edith community, and they celebrated the occasion with a big dinner, all their children and a number of other relatives being present. Many of their neighbors and friends also called during the day to extend their felicitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Burckhart are both natives of Missouri and they were married in Mary's county in that state on June 5, 1888. They have been residents of Texas, however, for more than 43 years. For almost 24 years they resided at or near Cleburne in Johnson county and removed to Lynn county about 20 years ago.

For many years Mr. Burckhart was a teacher, engaging in farming operations at the same time. He has been connected with practically every farmer's organization that has functioned in this state during the last forty years, having served in an official capacity much of the time. Since coming to Lynn county he has been a prominent citizen of the Edith community, and he taught in this county several years.

Recently he has been busy compiling a history of the Burckhart family in this country and has gathered some very interesting material.

Those enjoying the Golden Wedding anniversary at the Burckhart home Sunday were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Reugenstine of Indianapolis, Indiana, Mrs. Reugenstine being their daughter; Mrs. Ruby Tunnell of Houston, another daughter, and her three children, Wanda, Rita, and Nita. Bryan Burckhart, a son, his wife and two children, Billy and Barbara Sue, of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Burckhart of Oklahoma City, he being a son; and Grady Burckhart, the youngest son, his wife and four children, June, Jane, Billy and Jimmy of Tahoka; and Miss Bland Burckhart, daughter, of Fort Worth.

Other relatives included Mr. and Mrs. Walter McPherson and three children, Wanda, Hazel, and Quinn, of Crosbyton; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McPherson and two children, Barbara Jean and James Wayne, of Tahoka; Leon McPherson, Mrs. Lenore Tunnell and daughters, Mary Margaret and Savannah Lou, and Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Thomas, all of Tahoka; and Mrs. C. T. Officer, aunt of J. B. McPherson, of Long Beach, California.

Mrs. Willie Lois Hoffman of Slatten is spending a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nevels.

Mrs. S. E. Bellah of Riverside, California, is here for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Will Montgomery. She is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Montgomery. She will also visit relatives at Hale Center before returning to California.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By REV. HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, Dean of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Lesson for June 12

FACING THE SUPREME TEST OF SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:32-36. GOLDEN TEXT—Not what I will, but what thou wilt. Mark 14:36. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane. JUNIOR TOPIC—In Gethsemane. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Courage in the Face of Danger. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Challenge of God's Will.

No man has ever faced such a crisis as Jesus met in the Garden of Gethsemane, for He was the Son of God incarnate in order to bear the sins of the world. No one can ever fully understand the agony of soul involved when God "made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him" (II Cor. 5:21). It is, therefore, true that we may never say that we have gone "through Gethsemane." But there is a very real sense in which our Lord's experience is shared by His disciples, in a lesser degree and as ordinary human beings.

Our lesson brings before us the closing scene of Thursday before the crucifixion. The day has been crowded with important events, among them the eating of the Passover, the revelation that there was a traitor among the twelve, the institution of the Lord's supper, the precious words of the upper room, the intercessory prayer in the garden.

I. Exceeding Sorrowful (vv. 32-36).

The text uses many words to convey the depth of His soul's agony, as though it were impossible to express it in the faulty medium of speech. So it is, for our Lord here experienced something far more serious than a dread of physical death. He was not a coward. He was not afraid to die. His soul was about to have put upon its spotless sinlessness the stain and dishonor of the world's sins. Little wonder that He was "sorrowful even unto death" (v. 34).

Since this was the road the Master trod, should not His servants tread it still?

II. Alone with God (vv. 37-41).

Jesus took with Him into the secluded place in the Garden the three who were closest to Him in the circle of disciples. He counted on their fellowship and sympathy in His hour of anguish. Merely to have them near Him, to know that they were there to watch and pray even though they could not share His holy burden, was to be a comfort to Him. We try to do as much for one another in hours of bereavement and disappointment, but how much greater was the opportunity of these three, and how ignominiously they failed. The spirit was willing (v. 38), but the flesh took the upper hand, and they slept! He was alone with His Father, when He prayed that if it were possible the hour might pass from Him, but in true and beautiful submission said, "not what I will, but what thou wilt."

The follower of Jesus will know this experience, too. While he will ever find it to be true that there is nothing more precious than the friends God gives him, he should prepare himself to expect the arm of flesh to fail him. There is no more bitter experience in human relationships than to count on those who should stand by, come what may, and to find that they have slept through our hour of soul-struggle.

III. Betrayed by a Kiss (vv. 42-46).

To betray the one who had done nothing but good, who had loved him and served him even in the washing of his feet, this would have been far more than one could have expected of even the sin-blackened heart of a Judas. But he fills the measure of his ignominy to overflowing by betraying his Lord with the sign of affection—a kiss.

We know full well that we may not stand on the same ground as our Lord even here, for, whereas He had done nothing to merit betrayal, we at our best are not able to stand forth without fault. Nevertheless, great is the hurt when we face the betrayals of life. It may be one whom we have befriended, who has been the object of our loving thought and care, and who in the hour when he thinks to gain himself some advantage or avenge some fancied wrong strikes us in the back, even as he smilingly professes to be a friend. Shall we be embittered in soul and give like for like? God forbid! Let us rather say as Jesus did to Judas, "Friend, where art thou come?" (Matt. 26:50.)

If We Knew All

The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. He shall enter into peace.—Isa. 57:1, 2

Secret of Holiness

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Fingers of Flame" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY: Arthur A. Guinan of Brooklyn, N. Y., is today's Distinguished Adventurer...

And that, boys and girls, is the way a lot of these adventure yarns start out. They start with a peaceful family scene like the one Art describes in his own home...

It was a little early to be lighting the furnace. That's why the Guinans were all gathered in the dining room. They had a kerosene oil stove burning in there...

Art's mother and dad and brother were there. His dad, who had recently been discharged from the hospital where he'd spent ten months with a badly broken leg...

Mother was peeling potatoes. Art's brother had stirred up a mess of plaster and was patching a crack in the ceiling. Art had gone out to the kitchen to grab a bite to eat...

Art says he had a special way of putting out that stove. "We used to turn it down as low as it would go," he says, "and then pick it up by the handle and give it a jerk to put out the last flicker of flame." But nowadays, Art realizes that that's no way to put out an oil stove.

On this particular night, though, he didn't realize it. He turned the wick down to the bottom, picked the stove up and gave it a jerk. It didn't go out, so Art gave it another jerk—harder, this time, than the first.

That stove gave out a roar that could be heard a block away. A burst of flame six feet long shot across the room. Art's mother was sitting right in the path of it. In a split second she was flaming like a HUMAN TORCH!

Art dropped the stove and ran to her. Her clothes were blazing in a dozen places. With his bare hands, he started tearing at her dress. "I was pulling that flame apart," he says. "Lord only knows how, but I kept pulling handfuls of burning cloth from her body."

Art and his brother were both pulling at those flames now, and they were making headway. At length they had torn away the last bit of burning cloth—beaten out the last spark. Then, suddenly, they thought of their dad!

There was a smoke-filled space in the center of the room where the flames had not yet spread. His dad was over at the other side of it. Art plunged across that space in nothing flat and gathered his father in his arms.

"His right shoe," Art says, "was almost burned from his foot. I started to carry him toward the back door, but about half way across the room I stumbled. Dad fell on top of me and knocked the wind out of me. I thought I'd never get it back again. Before I did, the flames had crept up on us."

It was about that time that Art felt a terrible pain in his right leg. When he looked at it he saw that the legs of his trousers were afire. But there was no time to lose. They had to get out of that room right away.

It was a hectic five minutes. At last he was through the door. He set his dad down in a chair in the yard back of the house and ran to turn in the fire alarm. "It wasn't until I reached the alarm box," he says, "that I realized how badly I was burnt. My hands looked like a couple of beefsteaks, and my legs were worse. That peaceful little home of ours looked like a hospital for the next six months."

Everybody Claims It Members of the three religions regard Adam's peak, near Colombo, Ceylon, with reverence. It is famous for a footprint seven feet long. According to Buddhists the print was made by Buddha. Hindus, on the other hand, maintain that it was left by Siva, and the Christians sometimes identify this region with the Garden of Eden, therefore holding that the footprint is that of none other than Adam.

Three Instruments Aid Gypsies The Gypsy violin, cymbal, and the old Turkish pipe are the three instruments which have made the Gypsies of Hungary the national troubadours. The Tziganes were admitted to Hungary in 1419.

The Southern Capes Cape Horn extends farther south than the Cape of Good Hope by more than 1,500 miles. The city of Cape Town, very near the southern end of the African continent, is in about the same latitude as Montevideo, Uruguay.

Word "Ritz" Misleading The commonly accepted American definition of the coined word "ritz," as signifying something aloof and "high hat" is all wrong, according to an authority.

Treasure House Among Marvels At the Seraglio palace, Istanbul, there is a treasure house of gems that is among the marvels of the modern world. The collection has thousands of priceless diamonds, sapphires, emeralds, pearls of the first water, and the famed golden throne of the Sixteenth century sultan, Selim the Grim. The throne is made of beaten gold, and studded with rubies, turquoise and emeralds.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Warns Against Food Fads and Fallacies

Nationally Known Food Authority Explains How They May Endanger Health

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

AS SCIENCE and civilization have progressed, painstaking investigators have sought to replace ignorance with knowledge, to substitute truth for superstition. But in spite of their efforts, our eating habits are still influenced by a multitude of food fads and fancies, which should have no place in this enlightened age.

Some of these are harmless; others may endanger health. And the homemaker must learn to distinguish between fact and fancy.

Fish Is Not a Brain Food

One of the most persistent fallacies is the notion that certain kinds of food are especially beneficial for certain parts of the body. Many people believe that fish is a brain food and celery a nerve tonic. Lettuce is thought to be a soporific. None of these things is true.

The idea regarding fish probably arose because fish contains phosphorus and the brain also contains phosphorus. How simple it would be if one could increase brain power merely by eating fish. Unfortunately, there is nothing to it! The brain, like other parts of the body, requires a balanced diet. No case has ever been reported of a man soothing the irritated nerves of his wife by feeding her celery. And as for lettuce, it is a fine source of minerals, vitamins and gentle roughage, but it does not contain any narcotic drug that induces sleep.

Other Fallacies Disproved

Science has exploded many common notions about vegetables which may change your ideas of what is best to buy and eat. Many homemakers prefer lettuce that is light green in color and they believe that string beans which snap are superior in quality. But it has been demonstrated that deep green lettuce is much richer in vitamins and that a snap in string beans merely indicates that the beans have been kept in a cold, moist place.

False Notions About Fruit

A score of superstitions cling to the eating of fruits. There is a false notion that acid-tasting fruits cause or aggravate rheumatism because they produce "acidity." The truth is that most fruits, regardless of their acid taste, leave an alkaline ash following digestion.

One often hears that fruit should not be taken at the same time as milk because the fruit acids will cause the milk to curdle. But the fact is that milk is always curdled in the stomach by the hydrochloric acid.

Not Necessary to Sip Milk

Another false idea is the widespread notion that milk must be sipped slowly or it will be difficult to digest. This has been refuted by a widely known investigator who made many tests. One day he fed a man a pint of milk in 16 seconds. The next day the same man was fed the same amount of milk in 10 minutes. On both occasions the contents of the stomach were examined a half hour later.

It was discovered that the milk which was drunk in 10 seconds had formed smaller curds than the milk which was sipped in 10 minutes. And in both cases, the curds were of practically the same consistency.

Water With Meals?

It is widely held that water should not be taken with meals, the argument being that it dilutes the gastric juice and thus interferes with digestion. This sounds logical and many people have been fooled. But the truth of the matter is that water stimulates the flow of the digestive juices and careful research has established that normally, water taken with meals in reasonable quantities aids digestion.

Danger of Half Truths

The most insidious food fallacies are those which contain some portion of truth—for example, the belief that cooked fruit is more wholesome than raw fruit. It is true that cooking increases the digestibility of some fruits and also has a sterilizing effect. On the other hand, most fruits are easily digested in the raw state, are more palatable and richer in vitamins.

A widespread belief which has a small portion of truth, is that whole wheat bread is vastly superior to white bread. Whole wheat bread contains more minerals, vitamins and roughage than white bread. But the minerals and vitamins lacking in white bread can easily be supplied by other common foods, and there is no justification for going to the extreme of omitting white bread entirely from the diet.

Fad Diets Lack Balance

Far more harmful than the fallacies regarding individual foods are the fad diets constantly put forth by those who seek to exploit the homemaker's desire for dietetic knowledge.

Foods Not Incompatible

A fad diet which has gained a large number of adherents in recent years is based on the notion that certain foods—notably starches and proteins—are incompatible and should not be consumed at the same meal because they cannot be digested at the same time. It is interesting to note that this fad has been condemned by the medical profession and that a physician of the highest standing has proved clinically that starches and proteins do not interfere with one another in the stomach.

The fallacy of this theory is further appreciated when one realizes that there are few pure proteins or pure carbohydrates, most Readers of this newspaper are invited to write to C. Houston Goudiss, at 6 East 39th Street, New York City, for his scientific Reducing Bulletin, which shows how to reduce by the safe and sane method of counting calories.

The bulletin is complete with a chart showing the calorie value of all the commonly used foods and contains sample menus that you can use as a guide to comfortable and healthful weight reduction.

foods containing varying proportions of protein, carbohydrate and fat. Such foods as dried peas and beans and whole grain cereals contain a substantial percentage of both starch and protein.

Dangers of Fasting

Fasting is urged by some fadists as a means of "detoxifying" the body. Advocates of this practice claim that it is nature's method of housecleaning. As a matter of fact, fasting for any length of time may be dangerous to health, because it may result in the accumulation of incomplete oxidation products of fat, and the development of acidosis.

Homemakers must put aside superstitions, half-truths and food fallacies if they are to nourish their families properly.

Put your faith only in established food facts. Remember that upon your knowledge and breadth of vision depend, to a great degree, not only the health but the happiness of your family.

Questions Answered

Mrs. A. F. R., Jr.—Light corn syrup yields nothing but energy values, but dark corn syrup is a good source of iron. Pure molasses is rich in calcium and iron.

Miss M. F.—Nut protein is similar to the protein of meat and fish and nuts may be used in place of these foods when desired. They should not replace milk and eggs, however, as with few exceptions, they are low in minerals and cannot compare with eggs or milk as a source of vitamins.

cent, due serially to 1975, of which $39,250 is outstanding.
Of this total of $144,250 in bonds, the Woodmen of the World hold $105,000 and the Kansas City Life Insurance Co. hold the $39,250. All are 40-year bonds.
If the bonds are refunded to the State, these new bonds will be due in 25 years instead of from 22 to 28 years, and will draw only 4 percent interest, instead of 5 percent, which accounts for the great saving. Also, annual payments on principal and interest will be about $500 to $700 per year less, and the bonds will be retired 12 years sooner than the 1935 issue would have been retired.
Under the present set-up, for example, in 1939 this district would pay out $9,537.50, of which $2350.00 is principal and the remainder interest. If the State buys the bonds, in 1939 the district would pay $9,020.00, of which $3,250.00 is principal, thereby requiring less cash from the district annually, in addition to effecting a saving in interest.
Under the old plan, remaining interest required to retire the bonds would be $141,762.50, whereas under the new plan the total issue can be retired in 25 years at $85,890.00 in interest, a saving of $55,872.50. But the Tahoka board must pay $1.05 for the old bonds and sell them to the State at par, this causing a loss of $7,212.50. Brokerage service and cost of servicing the new issue will be $1,442.50, thereby leaving a net saving to the district of $47,217.50.
If the deal is completed, quite a large sum of cash will be required of the district, but members of the board feel that since the saving in two or three years will make up for the present tax on the districts' reserve, they can not afford to turn down this opportunity to save the taxpayers' money for the next generation.

into Sunday School rooms, dining room, kitchen, etc.
The superstructure is to be built of beautiful white brick backed up with a cheaper grade of brick and tile.
The building together with the pews and other furnishings will cost approximately $21,500. The church has subscribed almost $14,000 of this sum and has paid in more than $9,000. A loan of $8,000 has been procured on long time at a reasonably cheap rate of interest.

When completed the entire plant, including the lots and the basement which was constructed in 1925 at a cost of more than $14,000, will be valued at about $36,000 to $38,000. The premises have been greatly beautified within the past three years, and this church with its premises will be one of the most attractive places in town, and it will doubtless afford ample room and equipment for the church congregation for many years to come.

Rev. Geo. A. Dale, the pastor, has worked long and wisely on this church building project and to him is due much of the credit for the assured success of the enterprise.
J. E. Ramsey, who lives southeast of Tahoka, was carried to Lubbock Saturday for an emergency appendicitis operation.
