Candidates Enter Final Week Of Community Speakings

Candidate File Expense Account

As a diversion from the usual stories about politics near election time, the News takes the privilege of printing something just a little different. From the records of County Clerk H. C. Story are found a list of the expenditures of each candidate. There are two of these files made by the candidates during his campaign, but as all of the second group of records has not yet been filed we are giving you a list of the first filing.

This list includes, of course, only the county candidates:

- Hattie Server, District Clerk $54.37.
- P. W. Goad, County Judge $74.00.
- G. C. Grider, county judge $74.00.
- A. M. Cade, tax assessor-collector $96.40.
- Fred Bucy, tax assessor-collector $144.95.
- E. L. Parker, sheriff $115.00.
- J. H. Izard, sheriff $147.52.
- Viola Ellis, county clerk $88.55.
- Garian G. McWhorter, county clerk $175.00.
- Daniel C. Davis, county clerk $192.50.
- Walter M. Mathis, county clerk $134.00.
- Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, county superintendent $195.00.
- H. P. Cavness, county superintendent $126.00.
- Aubrey McWhorter, county superintendent $165.00.
- Mrs. Jewell Wells, county treasurer $93.00.
- Gertrude Bishop, county treasurer $95.00.
- Mrs. Milt Finch, county treasurer $87.50.

- Pat Swann, Com. Prec't. 1 $58.66.
- Sam Holland, Com. prec't. 2 $197.50.
- Waldo McLaurin, Com. prec't. 3 $48.50.
- $65.50.
- $65.00.
- J. E. Dye, justice of peace prec't. 1 $25.00.
- Clyde Shaw, public weigher prec't. 2 $26.25.

As the current political campaigns near the end, district, county, and precinct candidates are busy contacting voters and attending community speakings.

Last Friday night, the candidates met a good crowd at Redwine, and on Tuesday night they spoke to a large crowd of voters at T-Bar. Wednesday and Thursday nights they made return engagements at Lakeview and Newmoore, respectively.

Tonight, Friday, the candidates meet with the voters of the Dixie community.

Tuesday night, there will be a political rally at Wilson, and on Thursday night there will be one at O'Donnell. Friday night, the seekers of public jobs will wind up the July primary campaign with a county-wide rally on the court house lawn at Tahoka.

All voters in the county are urged to hear the candidates at one or more of the remaining speaking engagements.

Arrangements are being made by Tahoka Drug to collect and post returns on Saturday night of next week, following the closing of the polls.

Approval Given Three Lakes Bonds

Austin, July 10.—Attorney General William McCraw, today approved a $3,000 refunding bond issue for the Three Lakes Independent School District of Lynn County.

The issue, consisting of 15 bonds of $200 each and bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest, was ordered by the Board of Trustees of the district April 16, 1938 and is dated May 1, 1938. The bonds mature in groups of $200 to $400 May 1, 1939 to 1948 inclusive.

McCraw said his approval of the issue was based on the fact that the district has $198,830 in taxable valuations on which a 30 cent tax per $100 has been levied to retire the bond issue.

County Crop Prospects Good

Crops over Lynn county as a whole are reported to be doing well and growing rapidly, and prospects now are that this area will produce at least an average crop.

Some areas are a little dry, particularly a strip of country near New Home, but on the whole, the farmers are glad of the opportunity of getting their crops out of the weeds.

Roy Nettles of the Lakeview community reports that he has cotton that began blooming two weeks ago.

Baptist Workers Meet At Wilson

The Brownfield Baptist Worker's Conference held its monthly meeting at Wilson last Thursday. There were several notable pastors on the program, among whom were: Bros. Strickland of Lubbock, Cole of Lamesa, Campbell of Meadow, and McCasland of Wilson. At noon a basket lunch was enjoyed by a large crowd. There were nine members of the Tahoka Baptist church who attended. They were: Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dale, Mrs. Belton Howell, Mrs. Owen, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Cavness, Mrs. Liff Taylor, and Mrs. Kelly.

Girls Ride Bikes O'Donnell-Tahoka

An unusual incident occurred last Wednesday morning when Misses Dorothy Virginia Fulkerson of Tahoka and Melba Harris of O'Donnell rode bicycles from O'Donnell in one hour and fifteen minutes.

These young lady speed demons took the urge to come to Tahoka, so they immediately jumped on their bicycles and came!

Miss Harris is visiting in the Fulkerson home this week.

Wheat Harvesting On Terraces

Farmers of the Plains area report that properly constructed terraces present but little difficulty in harvesting wheat. This farmer in a Soil Conservation Service demonstration area is cutting wheat on a terrace. Farmers also are finding that terraced land produces higher yields than the unterraced due to the additional amount of moisture made available for crop utilization. Crop residue worked into the soil prevents blowing.

Meeting Called Monday To Make Plans For Annual Tahoka Rodeo

Will Tahoka repeat the rodeo and barbecue this year?

A meeting of business men, farmers, ranchers, and all others interested has been called for next Monday night at 8:30 at the county court room for the purpose of discussing the proposition.

Last year the event was started as an annual affair, and on the first day of the two-day celebration a crowd variously estimated at from 7,000 to 11,000 was present. A fine rodeo was also presented.

Many people feel that the celebration should be a permanent affair, and if sufficient interest is manifested, a permanent rodeo association may be formed. Such newly formed organizations at Snyder and Aspermont are reputed to be self-sustaining already.

All men of the town and county interested are urged to attend the meeting here Monday night.

Dixie Man Has Pair Of Phlegms

J. H. McNeely of Dixie was in the News office one day recently exhibiting a pair of phlegms, used to "bleed" horses, which he considers quite a relic. The instrument when used for bleeding horses is said to have cured nearly any ailment the horse might have. It originally belonged to his grandfather, Capt. S. H. Reeves, Obion County, Tennessee.

He told us that as a young fellow his grandfather used to sit on the lap of Davy Crockett. Davy ran for congress three times in Tennessee and was elected twice. The third time Davy ran he was defeated, whereon this colorful character declared, "The people can go to H---; I'm going to Texas." He did come to Texas and fell at the Alamo, an honored hero.

Finley Erecting Rock Building

A new rock veneer garage building is being erected on the O'Donnell highway one block south of the courthouse. When finished, this promises to be a Conoco station owned and operated by Messers Douglass Finley and Craig Teffeller.

Local Men At Cotton School

Lubbock, July 8.—Approximately 100 West Texas cotton men are registered for the first of three regional classing schools which opened at Texas Technological College July 5.

M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering, is in charge of all three schools. The second one will be in Abilene July 18 to 30, and the final one in Quanah, August 1 to 13.

Cooperating with the textile department in offering the schools are the Texas Cotton association, the Texas Cotton Ginners association, and the State-wide Cotton committee.

There are several cotton men from Tahoka who are attending; namely, Messers: W. O. Henderson, Garland Pennington, and Sam Floyd.

Visiting Preacher At Baptist Church

While Bro. Dale is holding a revival meeting in Spur, announcement has been made that a visiting pastor will fill the pulpit, and no service will be unfilled. Everyone is urged to come to church the next two weeks in spite of the absence of the pastor.

ARCH UNDERWOOD IS WORKING FOR NELSON

Arch Underwood of Lubbock was in Tahoka Thursday. Mr. Underwood, who is considered one of the bigger business men of the state, is giving much of his time to advance the campaign of Senator G. H. Nelson for Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

Girl Scouts Will Be Reorganized

The Girl Scouts of Tahoka are to be reorganized Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the American Legion Hall.

A strict program will be followed in having these weekly meetings and they will be meetings to teach your children scout work and encourage them to be better citizens. Picnics and swimming will be given aside from the regular meetings, according to Mrs. Lee Baldrige.

Women Attend Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. J. B. Oliver and Mrs. Rafe Richardson were selected as delegates to go to the two day regional convention of American Legion and Auxiliary held at Big Spring Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Hale, Mrs. Aubrey Cade, and Mrs. McClendon were alternates, but they did not attend the convention.

Mrs. J. B. Oliver reports that they had a grand time down at Big Spring.

There were over 500 delegates of this region attended the convention teas, golf, dancing and barbeques in addition to their regular program.

The Legion Auxiliary announced that they would hold their state convention next month in Austin. Tahoka has not selected a delegation to attend the state convention as to yet but will do so in the near future.

Editor Of The News Coming Home Today

E. I. Hill, editor of The Lynn County News, who received a broken leg bone and severe bruises Wednesday of last week when he walked in front of a moving car on the streets of Tahoka and who has been in a Lubbock sanitarium since, will be brought home today.

Apparently, he is recovering nicely from his injuries, but he probably will be confined to his room for some time. The broken left leg is in a cast.

Rotary Workers For Year Are Selected

Highway Work Started Tuesday

State highway No. 84 from Tahoka east to the Lynn-Garza county line, is now under construction. Work on the project started Tuesday morning. All of the unpaved portion of Highway 84 lying in this county, a distance of fourteen and one-half miles, is included in the improvement program.

This is a state and WPA project, and no definite time is designated for its completion.

Immediate work will be building lake fill and drainage structures, but it is hoped caliche laying will follow soon, and subsequently an asphalt topping applied.

Lon Ingram is the civil engineer in charge.

Paving of this important road would be a benefit to Lynn county and Tahoka, as well as to through traffic east and west through the state. During the recent rains, this road has been practically impassable and a detour around by Lubbock has been necessary in order to reach Post and point east.

Tahoka People Hear Roosevelt

Several Tahoka citizens went to Amarillo Monday to hear the President speak. Those who went were: Messers Ed Hamilton, Jim Wetsel, Charles Nelms, C. T. Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin McCord, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lockwood, Mr. Thomas, a brother-in-law to Rollin McCord and others.

They reported an immense crowd of some 80,000. During the President's speech and the parade, there was a downpour of rain which practically drenched the crowd, but did not dampen their spirits at all. The visitors returned after the speech.

Farmers Vote To Buy Gin

Members of the Farmers Cooperative Association No. 1 voted in a meeting Tuesday night to empower the Board of Directors with authority to purchase the No. 2 gin plant of the West Texas Gin Co. The deal is expected to be closed at an early date and the operations of the property consolidated with the present Association.

Mr. B. J. Emanuel is President and E. J. Cooper Secretary of the Organization.

McCraw Will Speak Over The Radio

William McCraw, attorney general, candidate for governor of Texas, will make four more addresses over the radio between now and election day, Saturday, July 23, Tom Garrard, his West Texas campaign manager, states. His schedule follows:

Saturday, 12:00 noon to 12:15, WBAP, WFAA, KPRC, and WOAI.

Tuesday, 12:15 to 12:30, same stations.

Thursday, 12:15 to 12:30, same stations.

Friday, 9 p. m. to 9:30, KRLD, KTSB, KTRH, and WACO.

Marjorie Wells Will Play Over WBAP

Miss Marjorie Wells, 1938 graduate of Tahoka High School, will play the piano in a fifteen minute program over W. B. A. P. on July 16th at 9:30 A. M. The full particulars of the story are not known, but Miss Wells has made quite a record for herself at John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Texas, where she is now attending college. This talented young lady was long a drawing card for entertainments in Tahoka, and the News wishes her much success on her forthcoming program.

With the opening of the new year for the local Rotary Club, new President Raymond Weathers has appointed his committees for the year.

Due to the fact that Vice-President Homer St. Clair has moved to Lamesa, Leonard Craft succeeds him in that office. Mr. Weathers announces, Charles Townes is secretary, Dr. K. R. Durham is song leader, J. O. Tinsley is sergeant-at-arms.

Members of the board of directors, elected by the club, are: Past President Wynne Collier, Deen Nowlin, L. F. Craft, V. F. Jones, Frank Hill, and L. C. Haney, the latter being appointed to replace St. Clair on the board.

Committees are as follows: Club service: W. E. Smith, chairman, V. F. Jones, A. M. Cade, W. S. Anglin.

Vocational service: Deen Nowlin, chairman, W. T. Bovell, W. D. Smith, A. L. Smith.

Community service: H. A. Maason, chairman, P. W. Goad, A. P. Edwards, Jake Leedy.

International service: J. B. McPherson, chairman, B. G. Clinton, C. M. Walden, Chas. Townes.

Classification and membership: L. F. Craft, chairman, Rollin McCord, R. W. Fenton Jr., L. C. Haney.

Program: K. R. Durham, chairman, Wynne Collier, Frank Hill, Truett Smith.

Boys' Work: Fred Bucy, chairman, Winter Knight, J. O. Tinsley, H. B. McCord.

Crippled children: Tom Garrard, chairman, Dr. Emil Prohl, Roy Young, Kirk Piffa.

Fellowship and attendance: G. O. A. Dalt, chairman, E. I. Hill, W. S. Anglin, Douglas Finley.

Rural-Urban: Tom Garrard, Chairman, Winter Knight, Frank Hill.

At the meeting of the club Thursday, a humorous program was enjoyed. Wynne Collier read the purported biography of J. O. Tinsley and circulated pictures said to have been taken of the dairyman in his younger days. Truett Smith masterfully presented the biography of Raymond Weathers, and Jake Leedy displayed actual pictures of the club's president taken in the days of "peg" trousers, goggles, etc. The Rotarians were kept in an uproar by the two biographies.

O. D. Cardwell of Post and Harold Rawleigh of Dallas were visitors.

Carl Owens, manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Co., was received as a new member.

Women Attend A. & M. Meeting

The adults short course at the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station took place on July the 13th and 14th. The Lynn County representatives were as follows:

Mesdames James Connolly and Claude Wells of Tahoka; Doyle Terry of New Lynn; P. D. Server of O'Donnell. These ladies left Lubbock by bus last Monday afternoon at 1:30, and they traveled to Mineral Wells where they spent the night. These ladies attended the short course on the named dates and are expected home by Saturday, July 15th. This course has long proved beneficial to the members, of the clubs all over Texas, as not only a course is given for the women, but an agricultural course is also added for the men who wish to attend.

Slover Children Bitten By Dog

Two of the Slover children received injuries from a dog on the Slover farm last week. One child belonged to John, and one to Rufus Slover. Due to the actions of the dog, he was killed and his head sent away. There is no authentic statement concerning whether the dog is mad, but it is always best to take precautions.

Mrs. Jesse Bevel, Newmoore, Dies

The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Icie Bevel, 23 year old wife of Jesse Bevel, residing in New Moore, was buried in the Tahoka Cemetery last Tuesday at 3:30 P. M. under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home. The burial followed funeral services conducted in the Tahoka Methodist Church with Rev. Ben Hardy officiating.

Mrs. Bevel was born December 10, 1914 in Arkansas, and married Jesse Bevel January 5, 1934. She came to Lynn County in 1922 and was a resident of the New Home community before moving to New Moore.

Servicing the deceased are: Mrs. L. H. Strasser, her mother of New Moore; Mrs. A. A. Platt, her sister of O'Donnell; Mrs. S. O. Davis, her sister of Eldorado, Arkansas; Mr. Earl Strasser, her brother, of O'Donnell; Mr. Stevens Strasser, her brother, of Newmoore; and Jesse Bevel, her husband, of New Moore.

The News joins many friends in giving our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Methodists Will Hold Revivals

Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the Methodist Church, at Wilson, will begin a revival meeting at Dixie Church, eight miles north of Tahoka, next Sunday July 17th. Everyone is invited to attend and take part.

He also announces that Rev. O. P. Clark, Presiding Elder, will do the preaching in a meeting at Wilson, beginning August 14th.

DR. MORGAN SUES TVA Seeks Reinstatement as Its Chairman and Back Salary ... Proposed New Deal-Party Purge Hits Some Snags

Here is the new Peace Memorial in the Gettysburg National Military park which was dedicated by President Roosevelt during the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, in which veterans of the Northern and Southern armies participated. On top of the shaft burns "The Flame of Eternal Peace."

Wants to Regain Post

DR. ARTHUR E. MORGAN has started a court fight to regain the chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley authority from which he was ousted by President Roosevelt for what the latter termed "contumacy."

A. E. Morgan

In the bill, which named the TVA and Directors H. A. Morgan and David E. Lilienthal as defendants, the former chairman asked for payment of back salary since his dismissal. He also asked for a declaratory judgment voiding the President's removal order and forcing the other two directors to recognize him as their chairman.

Insists on Reorganization

IN HIS last press conference before starting on his transcontinental and Pacific ocean trip, President Roosevelt revealed that he was still determined to have congress pass a reorganization bill. Seemingly not at all discouraged by the defeat of the measure in the last congress, he said he was confident the next session would realize that the country wants such a law and would enact it.

Trial Fare Raise

REVERSING a previous ruling, the interstate commerce commission in a ten-to-one decision authorized eastern railroads to increase basic passenger coach fares from 2 to 2 1/2 cents a mile for a trial period of 18 months. Commissioner Claude R. Porter cast the only dissenting vote. Railroads estimate that the increase will mean $40,000,000 in added revenue a year.

Want to Quit Austria

ARTHUR ROSENBERG, representing the Federation of Austrian Exiles, told a conference of 32 nations at Evian-les-Bains, France, that four and a half million Austrians will flee Nazi rule in their country if a new homeland can be found for them and they are allowed to take a substantial part of their property with them.

'Purge' Is Hard Hit

TWO long distance messages came from Manila, from Paul V. McNutt, governor general of the Philippines and reputed boss of the Democrats of Indiana. Thereupon the New Dealers of Indiana, the Hoosier state decided they could not win in November unless they renominated Frederick Van Nuys for the senate. That gentleman had been marked for elimination by Tommy Corcoran and his fellow managers of the proposed "purge" of those who had opposed any major New Deal policies and Governor Townsend had publicly announced Van Nuys

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK—Several years before Romain Rolland finished "Jean Christophe," Leo Tolstol called him the warden of the conscience of Europe. In his quarter-century exile in Switzerland, he has remained "above the battle," warning of war, decrying hatred, pleading for peace and understanding. His has been a voice crying in the wilderness. His exile ended, he returns to France, "an old man, broken and despairing," as the news dispatches report. The world seems to have little heeded his impassioned appeals. He wants to die in Clamecy, the village where he was born.

The greatest novel of a century, possibly of many centuries, "Jean Christophe" has been called by great critics and multitudes of lesser lights. It was published in 1913. This writer has found few young persons, even those majoring in literature, who have read it.

He has found others who have never heard of Romain Rolland, the Nobel peace prize winner exiled from his country, while Carl von Ossietzky, German Nobel peace prize winner, was impoverished, jailed and harried to his death in the same "years between." There is in this age swift obsolescence in the spiritual heritage as well as in machines.

But another, even greater teacher, looking sadly down on the multitude from a hill in Jerusalem, was also unheeded: "How often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!" But neither He nor His teaching was altogether forgotten. There will also be those who will remember Romain Rolland.

When he was exiled from France, vast sums of money were offered him if he would go to America, to write and lecture. Publicity, or any form of self-exploitation, is to him profoundly distasteful. He withdrew to a secluded villa near Zurich, Switzerland.

There is one definite attitude in all these post-war writings. He had no faith in "movements," in "ideologies," right or left. He repulsed Henri Barbusse, his clarite group and the various "united fronts," as he did the emissaries of bloody reaction from the right. He knew that the righteous can be as cruel as the wicked, once they find reliance on force.

Like the great German Fichte, whom he esteemed, he believed only in the "inner light"—never in organization or force. But he was not a "political agnostic." He fought, and suffered, to arouse the world conscience, as the dying Tolstol had enjoined him.

He is a tall, spare, pallid old man, with thinning hair and sad, deep-set eyes as he returns to France at the age of seventy-two. Educated in music, at the Ecole Normale, he became a devotee of Wagner, whose genius inspired his life—then of Tolstol and Shakespeare. He has written many times in the last few years that he sees little hope that the world will escape a last devastating war.

IT WAS reported that Sir John Reith, director general of the British Broadcasting corporation, was badly licked in that international Arabic crooning contest a while back. Virtually all observers gave the decision to Italy. If so, it probably was the only time he ever lost a contest.

The tall, bald, grim Scotsman is upped to the job of running the Imperial Airways, as a civil arm of rearmament, with a sizeable hike in salary. It is now $50,000 a year, instead of $35,000.

He is an engineer, and in 1916 was here with 600 technicians checking on war material contracts. He didn't like America or Americans but eased up on us later on. Running British radio, he has been ex-cruated as a tyrant, but he has held to his line and confounded all his adversaries. His views on radio programs were outlined by him as follows: "To set out to give the public what it wants, as the saying is, is a dangerous and fallacious policy."

Winners in Cake Recipe Contest

Some of the Prize-Winning Cakes Baked in the Experimental Kitchen Laboratory of C. Houston Goudiss.

THE home economists on the staff of the Experimental Kitchen Laboratory, maintained in New York City by C. Houston Goudiss, who conducts our "WHAT TO EAT AND WHY" series, have reached their decision concerning the prize winners in the recent Cake Recipe Contest. Winners have already been notified and have received their checks.

The first prize of $25.00 went to Mrs. D. F. Kelly, 1004 Charles St., Whitewater, Wis.

Second Prize Winners. The five second prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. Harshbarger of 2427 Fifth Ave., Altoona, Pa.; R. A. Williams, 12075 Rosemary Ave., Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. C. A. Burns, Box 788, Oakland, Miss.;

Miss Sadie Cunningham, Avonmore, Pa.; and Mrs. Laura Meyer, 107 Pleasant St., Plymouth, Wis.

Third Prize Winners.

Mrs. T. H. Fjone, Flaxville, Mont.; Mrs. Lester Ralston, 127 South Judd St., Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. Harry A. Kramer, 18 Marin Road, Manor, Calif.; Mrs. F. D. McDonald, Route 1, Amherst, Texas; Vera Tygar, Commodore, Pa.; Mrs. George Ahlborn, R. D. No. 1, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Mrs. B. A. Robinson, Box 578, Emmett, Idaho; Jean Guthrie, 4712 Campbell St., Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Walter Richter, Bondel, Wis.; Mrs. P. C. Blakely, Alden, Mich.

Honorable Mention.

Emogene Williams, Damon, Texas; Mrs. Simon Moen, Norma,

N. D.; Mrs. Dick Collins, Masonville, Iowa; Mrs. B. F. Herman, Box 1118, Crosby, Miss.; Mrs. Paul Lorenz, P. O. Box 225, Strathmore, Calif.; Mrs. S. S. Arantz, Simpson, Nev.; Mrs. Vida Hilger, Box 257, Rockland, Mich.; Mrs. Grace H. Peterson, Box 335, Amherst, Wis.; Mrs. Cecil Skinner, Bedford, Wyo.; Mrs. Joe Furnace, 317 West Twentieth St., South Sioux City, Neb.

Magnificent Cakes Entered.

The judges report that they have never seen a finer collection of cakes assembled at one time. Because almost all the cakes were so exceptionally good, it was extremely difficult to choose the winners. But a most careful scoring system was used, and the cakes were checked for general appearance, including shape, size and crust, both color and character; flavor, including odor and taste; lightness; crumb, including texture, rated as to its fineness, tenderness, moistness and elasticity, color and grain.

C. Houston Goudiss has said that he regrets that every woman who entered the contest could not win a prize. He offers his congratulations to the winners and his thanks to the many other homemakers who helped to make this Cake Contest such a splendid success.

"There's the Doorbell Again"

SUPPOSE daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furrier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedium of doorbell answering that would mean!

It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price. And yet you need those merchants' service quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods must be offered. Every week, through the advertising columns of this newspaper, the merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worth while in the market-places of the world.

They are not strangers at the door, but merchants you know and trust. You are surer of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

"I'm armed all right," the bandit sneered. "Don't make any mistake about that. But I may take you up on yore offer. Maybe I can use two guns." Norris ate ravenously. He drank cup after cup of coffee. More than once he went back to the bottle. At last he pushed his chair back. "I reckon you know it was Lee Chiswick's crowd attacked us in Live Oak canyon," he said. "I left in some hurry. Me and Kansas. Did they collect the rest of the boys?" "Mile High got away, but Sid Hunt was killed. Lou they captured. "Too bad about that, Sherm," the other man jeered. "He'll blab, of course, and you'll be in this up to yore neck."

"I won't worry you about that," Norris said with a cynical grin. "If you are a Good Samaritan to me while I'm here that will about let you out for right now." "I don't care where you hide," the older man replied. "Nothing to me. Go to the L C ranch and stay with the Chiswicks if you've a mind to. Point is, when they crowd me, I'd like to make sure I'm giving them the wrong steer." "Sure. You'd hate to see them collect me. But don't worry about it. They won't." The outlaw got a basin, poured hot water into it from the kettle, and reduced this to the proper temperature. All the time he watched his host out of the corner of his eyes. "But there's one thing you can do for me, Sherm, since you're so anxious to help. I'm about out of mazuma. I'll take a small loan if you can spare it."

to a path crossing the vacant space used by the town for a baseball ground. This he followed. Behind the plate were two or three adobe houses belonging to Mexicans. He wound around these and came to the rear door of the Golden Nugget. He did not enter the gambling-house, but crept along one of the walls until he could look through a window and see what was going on inside. The sight of that room gave him an acute nostalgia. He had been one of the king-pins there for many months. He had ruffled it with the best of them. Fifty times he had cantered into town with some boon companion and strolled in to drink, loaf, or play the wheel. Sick and weary as he was, nothing would have pleased him more than to drop in there and relax. But he dared not show his face. The Golden Nugget was closed to him forever. When he had run away with Ruth Chiswick, he had put himself beyond the pale. If he were to open the door and walk in now a dozen cold, hostile faces would stare at him, and at the right moment bullets would crash into his body as they had into that of Wild Jim Pender. Howard had been right. The thing he had done had hurt all the Tail Holt outlaws. If they got the chance they would square themselves by planting him in Boot Hill. He crept along the wall toward Main street. From this spot he had fired the shot that had wounded Lee Chiswick only a few weeks ago. Then he had been riding the top wave, a leader among the reckless, lawless cowboys of the vicinity. Now he was a fugitive, every man's hand against his.

High's forty-five came into action, but the horse was plunging at the feel of the spur. Again Norris fired, his mount still in the air. An instant later he was dashing into the darkness, crouched low in the seat. "Rout the boys out of the Golden Nugget, Jim," Curly said excitedly. "Get after him immediate! He got me." "Bad, Curly?" asked Mile High. "In the shoulder. I'll make the rifle all right, but I don't reckon I can ride with you." The lank puncher picked his hat out of the dust. There were two little holes in the crown. "The son-of-a-gun sure gave me a haircut. Been one inch lower he would of collected me. Better get inside and have the boys look after you, Curly." "Yes," agreed the black-headed man. "I'll be all right when I'm fixed up. Get fresh horses, Mile High. That rascalation don't aim to pick no daisies on the way." "Curly was right. The fugitive had already left the road and turned up a gulch trail leading into the hills. If there had been any room for doubt as to how he stood at Tail Holt there was none left now. His roaring gun had cut down the most popular man in town. He had seen Curly stagger from the impact of the bullet. As soon as possible he must get out of the country. Until that time he must lie hidden. Old Man Haskins would take care of him—for a price. That was one of the reasons he had been forced to hold up Sherm Howard. Nobody did anything for nothing, the bandit reflected bitterly. Not when you were down on your luck, with the cards stacked against you. He would have to pay Pete well for protection. Norris rode steadily till late at night. He was in a vile humor. His swollen feet tortured him. The clout on the head, a souvenir from Jeff Gray, still pained at times. From lack of sleep he was dead tired. The cabin of the nester was dark when he rode up to it, but a hound dog filled the night with its barking. A man came to the door. He opened it only an inch or two. "Who is it?" a piping voice demanded. "Lemme in, Pete. It's Morg Norris."

Mile High's forty-five came into action.

WHAT TO EAT and WHY ★ ★ C. Houston Goudiss Recounts The Miracle of Milk

Noted Food Authority Explains Why It Is the Cheapest and Most Nearly Perfect Food By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

OF ALL the foods known and used by man, milk is supreme. It is a miracle of perfection—a veritable elixir of life. Milk has powers possessed by no other food. It builds sturdy bodies for infants; strong bones and sound teeth for growing children; helps to maintain vitality in adults; and to delay the onset of old age.

It contains a greater assortment of nutritive materials than any other single food. It is the foundation of every balanced diet. Considering the services it performs for mankind—from infancy to old age—it is the cheapest food we have.

Milk is so many-sided that I always think of it as the Benjamin Franklin of foods. It is a vast treasure chest of nutrients—the most complex product of nature's chemistry. It contains nearly every chemical element of the body itself, in proportions adapted for quick and easy assimilation.

Milk fulfills six essential requirements of a perfect diet. First: It supplies carbohydrate and fat for heat and energy.

Second: It furnishes protein that is suitable for building new tissues and repairing the millions of cells that are worn out daily.

Third: It yields minerals which build bones and teeth and regulate the subtle internal processes of the body.

Fourth: It contains every known vitamin in some degree and is abundantly supplied with the vitamins that are necessary to growth, to the smooth running of the body machine, and to the prevention of many types of infection.

Fifth: It contains water, to act as a solvent, a carrier and regulator.

Sixth: It is easily digestible. This brief summary helps to explain the unique place of milk in nutrition. Think of it! In one food, we find protein of the highest type; carbohydrate and fat; all the vitamins; every one of the minerals demanded by the human body; water; and an easy digestibility that readily changes these ingredients into vigorous life.

The Biggest Food Bargain We occasionally hear the charge that milk is too high in price—that it is a luxury to afford enough of this master food to supply a quart daily for every child—at least a pint for each adult. That is ridiculous! The cost of milk is much cheaper than the cost of illness. And milk is not a luxury, but an indispensable necessity.

I contend that no homemaker can afford not to buy milk in adequate amounts—that if she desires health, efficiency and longevity for her family, she must provide a sufficient amount of milk before she purchases any other food.

A Food for Children and Adults Humankind needs milk as the flowers in the garden and the grains in the field need the blessing of rain. Deprived of milk, children develop a multitude of ills. They become thin and weak; their resistance is low; they fall easy victims to the germs of disease; there is small hope of their reaching normal manhood and womanhood.

Nor is milk only a food for children. It is likewise essential for adults who desire to live longer, happier, and healthier lives—to

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO Balance Your Diet? This Free Chart Makes It Simple as A-B-C Helps to Safeguard Health.

Planning a balanced diet will cease to be a puzzle if you send for the Homemaker's Chart for Checking Nutritional Balance, offered, free, by C. Houston Goudiss. It lists the foods and the standard amounts that should be included in the daily diet, and includes skeleton menus for breakfast, dinner and lunch or supper, to guide you in selecting the proper foods in each classification. A postcard is sufficient to bring you this valuable aid to good menu planning. Just ask for the Nutrition Chart, Address: C. Houston Goudiss, 6 East 39th Street, New York City.

Showing which Foods are ACID and which ALKALINE

One of the principles in planning a balanced diet is to include at least enough alkaline, or base-forming foods, to balance the acid-forming foods. To help you distinguish the foods that belong in each group, C. Houston Goudiss offers to send a free chart listing the principal acid-ash and alkaline-ash foods. Address: C. fortify their bodies against the assaults of disease—to retain or regain mental and bodily vigor. It is indeed a Fountain of Youth!

Milk for Pep and Power

A quart of milk daily supplies from two-thirds to three-fourths of the total calories required by a year-old child. For a five-year old, it provides about half the day's fuel requirements, and for a ten-year old, one-third. Even a moderately active man could obtain one-fourth of his energy requirements from a quart of this precious fluid. It is also interesting to note that five-eighths cup of milk is equivalent in energy value to one and one-third eggs, or two and one-fourth ounces of lean beef.

A quart of milk yields more than an ounce of pure protein of the highest quality. Moreover, nutrition authorities hold that under normal conditions, it is the most completely digested and absorbed of all food proteins.

Milk for Minerals

As a source of calcium, milk is indispensable. Without milk, it is practically impossible for the body to obtain enough of this calcium for normal skeletal development.

It has been estimated that when the calcium requirement is met through the use of milk, the need for phosphorus will also be adequately provided.

Though milk is not as good a source of iron as calcium and phosphorus, the iron is present and in a form that can be easily utilized by the body.

Milk for Vitamins

Milk is so rich in vitamins A and G, that the addition of a quart of milk daily to a good mixed diet practically guarantees against a deficiency of either of these precious substances which promote growth, help build resistance to disease, prolong the prime of life, and help to ward off old age. It also furnishes a considerable amount of vitamin B, which promotes appetite, aids digestion and helps to prevent a nervous disorder.

Milk contains a relatively small amount of vitamin D, but this can be remedied in both bottled and evaporated milk by irradiation, or the addition of a vitamin D concentrate. It is less dependable as a source of vitamin C than any other vitamin, as the amount it naturally contains varies with the diet of the cow and is reduced by pasteurization or evaporation. This deficiency is easily made good, however, by adding to the diet fresh fruits and fruit juices and raw leafy vegetables.

In Praise of Milk Producers

As milk is man's finest food, the men who are occupied with its production are engaged in the world's most important pursuit. They labor to provide the nation with a pure, safe, clean supply of the food that makes life worthwhile for children and helps to prolong life for adults. Let no one say that milk is expensive. Rather let every homemaker come to realize that this magnificent food would be CHEAP AT ANY PRICE!

By-Products Are Important in Fishing Industry; Waste Used for Fertilizer

Often forgotten about in casual thoughts of the fishing industry is the importance of by-products. These are principally meal, fertilizer, and oil, which are manufactured from the waste of canneries and other fish plants. In a big plant the waste may make up as much as half of the "raw material." Oils are extracted from all parts of the fish, although the public is most familiar with fish liver oils, which, as the name implies, are obtained only from fish livers. An interesting quirk, observes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, is that bodies of fish yielding liver oil are usually very lean, while livers of fat fish contain little oil. Medicinal oil is made from fresh livers, although stale livers are used in making other oils. Oils are obtained either by pressing and cooking of waste or simply by cooking the waste and skimming the oil off the top of the vat. Fish oils are used, among other things, in making paints and varnish, waterproofing materials, linoleum, leather, soap, and lard substitutes. Salmon, sardines (young herring), and tuna—in addition to the well-

PICNIC SUPPER IS GIVEN AT POST

A picnic supper at Two-Draw Lake in Post was given in honor of Misses Anna Pearl and Mabel Lynch, visiting friends of Miss Anita Reddell. These young ladies are from Chico, Texas, the former home of the Reddells. They arrived Sunday and expect to stay several days. These present at the gala affair Monday evening were: Misses Edith and Beryl Robertson, Lorene Reese, Robbie Milliken, and Anita Reddell; and Messers: Ewayne Nevill, Joe Bob Bliman, Roy Owen, and Bernard Boullion. A good time was the outcome of this gathering.

HAVE PICNIC IN LUBBOCK PARK

Picnic time is here again! Last Sunday evening several of the honored citizens of Tahoka took supper to the Lubbock City Park. Among this group were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Price, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Warnick of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Calvery, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Stewart, Mrs. Daniel C. Davis, and Misses Aleta Lois Stewart and Helen Belle Pemberton. Everyone reported a most enjoyable time on this excursion.

Miss Reba Harris, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris for several weeks, went to Sweetwater Tuesday morning for a visit with her relatives there.

Frances Gill is on a week vacation in Christoval.

BAPTIST W. M. S. HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

The W. M. S. of the Tahoka Baptist Church held their monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. A. J. Edwards. Punch and cake was served to 19 members on their arrival. The new mission chairman, Mrs. Liff Taylor, planned the program, which was entitled—"The La Plata Countries and Chile." The program was as follows: Devotional—"Selfishness vs. Humility," by Mrs. L. D. Howell. "Baptist Beginnings in Argentina"—by Mr. Nelson. "Missions in the Other Lands"—Mrs. Wiley Fortenberry. "Cooperative Program and Work in the La Plata Countries and Chile"—by Mrs. Pledger Coleman.

This program was very interesting as well as instructive.

LEGIONAIRES HOLD BASKET SUPPER

On Thursday of last week the American Legion Post of Tahoka held a basket supper on the lawn of the Legion Hall. There were plenty of cats, and every one reported a fine time.

Mrs. R. L. Richardson of the American Legion Auxiliary reported that Tahoka ranks third in membership in her district. If three more members are gained, the local auxiliary will rank at the top. All members are urged to come to the meetings, and also new members are invited to join.

HAPPY SMITH HONORED ON HIS BIRTHDAY

One of the social functions of the week was a surprise birthday supper given for Happy Smith by his wife. Members of the post office staff were the guests: Messers: Walter Pitts, Harry Roddy, W. A. Reddell, Joe West, Charles Townes, and T. Garrard III. A delicious supper of chicken and hot rolls with the trimmings consisted of the meal, after which followed a heated discussion on the political situation.

A party of four, consisting of Miss Ethel Calahan of Tahoka, Mrs. Pukette of Alabama, Mrs. Vaughn of Dallas, and Mr. John Scott of Tahoka, left Sunday morning on a trip to El Paso. They are expected back sometime this week.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

ELDER DRENNON'S NOTES

We have just voted, and what a job. It seems like a good many good men and women are running. We were sorry we could not vote for all of them but I just had to scratch the most of them, but I got my money's worth just voting for governor even if I did vote for a show man that has the Ten Commandments for his platform (pretty good platform if you ask me).

We have also visited the editor in chief today. I am sure sorry for him, but as he believes in the providence of God as well as myself. It may be that it happened to him for the hard things he said about brother Lee O'Daniel last week. How did you know, editor, he was playing the hypocrite—doing it just for publicity's sake? I hope while you are on the bed at the hospital and when you get home you will reflect on the mean things you said and retract them at your first opportunity.

Our services last Lords day were well attended by larger audiences than usual. I spoke at the morning hour on "True and False Education." Jesus said "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." I am afraid that much of our education today is a hindrance rather than a help. And education with God and His word left out will not help him who gets it a great deal. I think most of our ills today are caused by our educators ruling God out of the class room.

When you teach boys and girls that there is no God and that His word is false, you cannot expect them to have a very high regard for human life, virtue, or right.

I am not a pessimist but I am afraid our country is riding for a fall because we have about ruled God out of our public life. I don't believe I have heard our President mention God or His word in any address I heard over the air. How different from Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, or President Garfield, who was a preacher of the Word. I am old fashioned enough yet to believe that God rules in the affairs of men and that His word is true.

As I visited Lubbock today and saw the great crowds waiting at stores for them to open so they could buy the bargains, I could not help but see it pays to advertise and that people still have plenty of money for the things they think they get at a bargain.

Yours, for more people who will read the Bible more and cheap trashy literature less.

R. P. DRENNON.

HOME EC. CLUB ENJOYS PICNIC

The Home Economics Club of Tahoka had a picnic last Friday at the Lubbock park. The party left Tahoka at eight thirty. They went swimming on their arrival and stayed in the pool until lunch-time. After a too-sufficient meal the group came back home, arriving about three. Several of the mothers accompanied the group on this club jaunt.

Miss Grace Leedy of Kansas City, Mo. arrived in Tahoka last Saturday to make her vacation with her brother and sister, Jane Leedy and Miss Amanda Leedy, of this city. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ray Maxey, and also Mr. and Mrs. Avey Dagley of Plainview. The latter returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris, Mrs. Mirt Morgan and daughters, Dian and Ina Clair and Miss Reba Harris of Marietta, Texas, made a trip through Carlsbad Caverns on Sunday of this week. Mr. Harris reported that 1,200 people went through the cave on that day. They returned around noon Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Boydston and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hudman left Sunday for a two weeks vacation in California.

Miss Margaret Wetzel spent the week-end in Lubbock as a guest of Miss Ruth Willbanks.

Often one of the first-felt effects of constipation is a headache. Take a dose or two of Black-Draught! That's the sensible way—relieve the constipation. Enjoy the refreshing relief which thousands of people have reported from the use of purely vegetable Black-Draught. Sold in 25-cent packages.

BLACK-DRAUGHT A GOOD LAXATIVE

The W.A. Reddells visited relatives in Idglou last week end. During their visit a sad incident occurred which was entirely unexpected. The three weeks old infant of Mr. Reddell's cousin died. The funeral services were arranged for last Monday. Friends join the News in expressing deepest sympathy to the family.

Several ladies from Tahoka made a trip to Carlsbad, Texas, Sunday to pass through the clinic there. Those making the trip were: Messdames: Paul Howell, Elbert Rogers, and Mrs. Ruby Carpenter. Miss Carol Holloway is expected to go to Carlsbad for treatment soon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Snowden of Tahoka, accompanied by Julia and Harold are visiting relatives in Mississippi. They expect to cover several hundred miles, and will be gone about three weeks.

Mrs. W. F. Cook, resident of the Two-Draw community, underwent a major operation in one of the Lubbock hospitals last Monday. Here's wishing her a speedy recovery.

Reta Faye Bell of Lamesa has been visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Musick for the last five weeks. She returned to her home Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Dunlap and family of San Antonio are visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Curtis and family this week.

Mrs. Earl Rochell and daughters, Anita Jo and Sara Sue, have returned to Lubbock to make their home.

Judge P. W. Goad Makes Statement

To the Voters of Lynn County:
Two years ago you elected me County Judge of Lynn County. I have been serving you now as such for almost two years. I shall always be grateful to the good people of Lynn County for honoring me with this office of trust. In asking the people to elect me for a second term as your County Judge, I would like to call your attention to some of the things that have been accomplished during my first term in this office.

I have tried to co-operate with the Commissioners in carrying out a progressive and constructive program, keeping in mind at all times that the expenses should and must be kept within the people's ability to pay. We have in the past two years improved your County Jail, Court House and Court House Lawn, which we point to with a great deal of pride, at a cost of about eight thousand dollars, all of which has been paid in full. We have purchased right-of-way on Highway No. 84 East of Tahoka and machinery for construction of the same at a cost of about five thousand dollars, and arrangements have been made to take care of this expense without asking the tax papers of Lynn County for an additional dollar. I would also call your attention to the fact that during the past two years the Texas Relief Commission, Works Progress Administration and State Highway Department has shifted a lot of additional expense of the relief program on the county and we have also taken care of all that additional expense without asking you for an additional dollar. I have called your attention to these matters because I thought you would like to know how your business is being carried on and that you would appreciate the fact that we have been successful in holding down the current expenses of the county enough to take care of this additional expense without calling on you for any more tax money.

The duties of this office are such that makes it impossible for me to make a thorough campaign, so I may not get to see all of the voters personally; in fact I am sure that it will not be possible, as I feel that I must not neglect the duties of this office which the good people of Lynn County have honored me with.

I invite your careful investigation of my record as your County Judge and if you find that I have served you well, I would surely appreciate your vote and influence for a second term.

I promise you that the same prompt, courteous, efficient service in the future that I have tried to give you in the past.

Respectfully,
P. W. GOAD, County Judge,
Lynn County, Texas.

Dear Alene--

You remember I told you that we were planning to buy an electric range? Well, we've bought a Westinghouse! It's the prettiest and easiest thing I keep clean you have ever seen. Actually, you can't realize how much cooler and cleaner my kitchen is now. No more hot, stuffy kitchens for me!

But of all the conveniences, I like the automatic oven best. Baking is simply a snap... of the wrist... and that's all. Everything just seems to cook itself.

So, if you are still interested in a new range, by all means, buy a Westinghouse Electric Range.

Love,
Blanche

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL

By Carter Field

WASHINGTON.—A new idea of the "yardstick" as applied to TVA, Bonneville and other government power projects is being discussed in New Deal circles, with the positive statement in some quarters that it is really what the President and David E. Lilienthal mean when they use the word.

First, let's consider what has been the popular conception—what congress thought it was when it was voting the money for TVA. Stated briefly, the idea was that it would be demonstrated what the price of electricity should be to small consumers—literally a yardstick to determine whether rates charged by privately owned utilities were fair.

This is the only explanation of the "yardstick" that has ever been publicly considered. It is the only one congress ever thought of. It is what the average, intelligent, well-informed person thinks it is all about. And it may still be the correct answer.

But let's look at this new conception, advanced now by people in sympathy with New Deal objectives and particularly in sympathy with the government electric projects.

According to this theory, the whole purpose is to demonstrate to the country, and to the electric industry, that if power is produced in enormous quantities, and offered to ordinary consumers at very low rates, consumption will leap up to an unbelievable extent, and hence the reduction of rates would be the soundest thing, economically, that the electric companies could do.

Note in this connection that Lilienthal was actually attacked by Arthur E. Morgan for having used high pressure methods to induce people to use more electricity than Morgan thought they could afford.

Forced Prosperity
Note that Lilienthal has repeatedly insisted that the privately owned electric systems in TVA territory had literally had prosperity forced upon them by TVA competition—that is, by being forced to reduce their rates.

Note that in Bonneville what seemed to the electric industry a very bad policy, from the purely economic standpoint, was laid down. In this case the stream flow is such that there is an enormous quantity of constant power, that is, power which is available for 24 hours a day, and cannot be economically stored during the hours when the consumption might be low. For this sort of situation, private power experts figured the most economical use would be to get industrial plants to locate near the switchboard, and particularly the type of plants which would operate in three shifts, thus using all the potential power.

But emphatically the government does not want this. It wanted wide distribution. It was to give the household consumers for hundreds of miles around the benefit of this cheap power. The answer, according to this new theory, is that if the rates were made low enough, the small consumers would use so much electricity that the whole operation would be profitable. But also that it would be an outstanding object lesson to the utility executives of the country, showing them that there is gold in the hills if they will only mine for it with low rates.

Certainly, one New Dealer pointed out, Lilienthal must have been ignoring the old yardstick conception when he reported to congress recently on the allocations as to cost of the three first TVA dams as between power, navigation and flood control.

Marked for Slaughter
The latest development in the Maryland "purge" situation is that Senator George L. Radcliffe, who does not come up for re-election until 1940, is marked for the slaughter by the supporters of Representative David J. Lewis. What happened was that Radcliffe, after announcing some time back that he was for the renomination of Senator Millard E. Tydings, later accepted the post of campaign manager for his colleague.

This seems to have taken the Lewis people by surprise. In fact, they are indignant. They are saying that Radcliffe has now shown himself in his true colors, after having posed as a New Dealer since his election to the senate in 1934.

Actually it should not have surprised any one. Again and again, while the Tommy Corcoran crowd was looking for somebody to run against Tydings; they would go to Radcliffe for advice. Always Radcliffe told them that he was for Tydings.

So while it may not have been figured in advance that he would take the chairmanship of Tydings' campaign, it should not have surprised the Lewis people that Radcliffe should be sitting in Tydings' corner.

Incidentally, the Lewis publicity indicates a rather amazing ignorance of the last few years in Maryland politics. One need only go back to 1934 to figure that Radcliffe would be very unlikely to take any public step against Tydings.

The Case of Ritchie

At that time Governor Albert C. Ritchie was still alive and active. In fact, he was the undisputed boss of the Democratic party in Maryland. He was serving his fourth term as governor, and aspired to a fifth term, although no governor before that had ever succeeded in getting two terms.

Tydings, who had been a loyal lieutenant to Ritchie, knew that his chief had slipped in personal strength due to a combination of factors. One was that too many people were getting to think that Ritchie should be satisfied with four terms, that the honors should be passed around. Another was that Ritchie had made many enemies in the Eastern Shore section of Maryland by using the militia to break up mobs in a threatened lynching. Still another was that, rightly or wrongly, a lot of people blamed Ritchie for the fact that some of the banks in Maryland had gone sour during the dark days of early 1933.

So Tydings urged Ritchie to run for senator instead of governor. No one questions that Ritchie could easily have been elected senator. The term of a Republican was expiring, and no one would have opposed Ritchie for the Democratic nomination.

In an attempt to force Ritchie's hand Tydings brought out Radcliffe, for governor, as a sort of trial balloon. Ritchie was unmoved, ran for governor and was defeated by Harry W. Nice. Tydings, after Ritchie's decision, then supported Radcliffe for senator, and he was easily elected, though he had never run for office before, on the same day Ritchie was defeated.

All of which put Radcliffe under all sorts of obligations to Tydings, and Radcliffe is not a man to take his obligations lightly.

Where Will It Lead?

Although the intention was to put the conduct of the anti-trust investigation on a high plane, administration critics say that too much weight is put on the preliminary meetings between big business executives and the New Deal prima donnas. These critics hold that a proper appraisal of such get-togethers is that New Deal strategists such as Thurman Arnold, Tommy Corcoran, Ben Cohen and Herman Oliphant are glad to talk to anybody, but they keep on their way undisturbed by the talk. In short, they seem to be simply impervious to other views if the other views do not fit in with their preconceived notions.

Where that path will lead is by no means certain as half a dozen senators and representatives, including Senators William E. Borah and Joseph C. O'Mahoney, have their own ideas as to how to proceed. This "economic" commission has not yet organized.

Participation by congress in the inquiry was not desired by President Roosevelt, and the independent attitude of congressional members is fair assurance that it will not be dominated by the White House. In fact, time and again Senator O'Mahoney, although an original Roosevelt man "Before Chicago," and a member of Roosevelt's "little cabinet," as assistant postmaster general, before his coming to the senate, has shown his independence. In fact, he first became a close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt by differing with her sharply, and in a large committee meeting, on an important question involving personalities in politics.

His difference with the President on the Supreme court issue is still remembered, and with some bitterness, at the White House.

Keep Check on Inquiry

Congressional members have not been present at the meetings arranged between administration officials and various members of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper's business advisory council. Even so, the council never has been able to exert any influence on the administration, although Prentiss L. Coonley, who came to Washington some time back as assistant to W. Averell Harriman, council chairman, is trying to build up its effectiveness as an agency of co-operation between business and government. He has succeeded to the extent, and only to the extent, of bringing into personal contact with the young brain trusters prominent members of the Roper group, including important figures from Standard Oil, American Radiator, Sears Roebuck and Co., U. S. Steel, and General Foods.

Congressional members of the commission don't propose to let administration officials run away with the inquiry. Representative Edward C. Eicher of Iowa is the only 100 per cent New Dealer in the lot, but the Capitol contingent splits along other lines. Senator William H. King of Utah and Representatives Hatton W. Sumners of Texas and B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee will seek to define anti-trust policy for the future in a quiet, orderly fact-finding inquiry without upsetting business. Senators Borah and O'Mahoney disclaim any intention of turning the inquiry into a circus but believe nevertheless that it should be a public performance and the commission, with that in mind, was given all the inquisitorial powers of the securities and exchange commission in the resolution setting it up.

Incidentally, the Lewis publicity indicates a rather amazing ignorance of the last few years in Maryland politics. One need only

Lesson for July 17

DEBORAH: EMERGENCY LEADERSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Judges 4:1-9, 12-14. GOLDEN TEXT—Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?—Ester 4:14.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Why Deborah Sang. JUNIOR TOPIC—Why Deborah Sang. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Ready for Emergencies. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Emergency Leadership.

"Every man did that which was right in his own eyes." Such is the divine summary of what was wrong in Israel during the period of the judges (Judges 21:25). "There was no king in Israel," no competent and inspiring leadership. The people lived according to the whims of the day, and, as always, humanity left to itself drifted to lower and lower levels. This was true morally and spiritually and ultimately politically, for they came repeatedly into bondage to other nations and were only delivered as God raised up judges to lead them to repentance and victory, as well as to rule over them.

I. A People in Disorder (vv. 1-3). Any people that forgets God and begins to live after the dictates of the flesh will at length come to the place where some strong man with "chariots of iron" will rule over them. We, in America, look at the other nations of the world, viewing their plight with sympathy but ever assuring ourselves that "it can't happen here." We ought to arouse ourselves and face the facts lest our own land, happy in its possession of God's great blessings of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," abuse those privileges, neglect the worship of God, spurn the leadership He gives us, and become "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God; having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof" (II Tim. 3:4, 5). If we do not awake and repent the Lord may have to "sell" us, as He did Israel, into the hands of the oppressor.

II. A Leader Called of God (vv. 4-9). God always has His man ready for the hour of need—only in this case His man was a woman. Glorious indeed is the record of faithful and capable womanhood in annals of God's work on earth. Deborah was a woman of unique gifts—a poetess, a prophetess, and withal "the wife of Lapidath," evidently a woman who cared well for her own household.

Brains and natural ability are much needed, especially in a time such as ours when few there are who even care to think for themselves and few who have any desire to develop native ability except for the purpose of "making money." But true leadership calls for more than talent and intelligence; it calls for a burning in the soul, a divine zeal, the urge of God in the heart.

Deborah had this fiery touch upon her life. Barak, while undoubtedly a man of ability, evidently did not have it. Many excuses have been offered for the weakness indicated in verse eight. It has been said that he was cautious, or that he wanted to give the place of honor to Deborah as the leader of her people. These suggestions may be true, but somehow one has the feeling that what he really lacked was the "flaming heart." May God give it to us, that in our much doing of His work the divine fire may warm and inspire us!

III. A Divine Victory (vv. 12-14).

God gave Deborah and Barak a great victory, but note that it was God and not man who brought about the defeat of Jabin (Judges 4:15, 23). It was a complete victory and the enemies of Israel troubled them no more for many a day.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith aptly points out that we should look "upon these conflicts in the book of Judges as certainly symbols of the great conflict that every Christian knows as he wrestles, not with flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers, against the world-rulers of darkness and spiritual wickedness in heavenly places. Victory is certain only when the Lord is with us and only when we walk in His will and contend against evil in His power. We are more than conquerors, but only through the Lord Jesus Christ" (Peloubet's Select Notes).

In closing this lesson the writer of these notes wishes to recognize the blessing of God in enabling him to complete two years of this service to Him and to His people. He also wishes to thank those readers in every state of the Union and in a number of foreign countries who have written to him words of appreciation, encouragement and counsel.

Value of Meditation

It is not he that reads most, but he that meditates most on Divine truth, that will prove the choicest, wisest, strongest Christian.—Bishop Hall.

Attaining Perfection

The warm loves and fears, that swept over us as clouds; must lose their finite character and blend with God, to attain their own perfection.—Emerson.

Designs for Sheer Cottons

THESE pretty styles will make you and your daughter feel fresh and cool, and look smart and charming, when you go out to tea parties or dinner, these midsummer days. They have a summery, dressy effect, and yet they are not fussy. Make them yourself, and have something very individual as well as fashion-right. It's so easy; a detailed sew chart comes with each pattern. And you can wear most prettier materials when you sew your own—at big savings, too.

Afternoon Dress With Shirring. Shirring is one of the smartest details you can choose—it's used just this way in new and expensive models—on the shoulders, to give fullness over the bust, and at the sides only of the skirt. Thus your dress has animation and grace, and yet the front and back are plain and won't crush and muss when you sit down. In dimity, voile, organdy, handkerchief lawn or mull, with a youthful tie belt and frills of lace, this will be the most flattering frock you own.

Bolero Frock for Little Girls. With or without the sleeveless bolero, this dress is a perfect darling for little girls! It's so simple and yet it has loads of style, with its very puffed sleeves, very full skirt, and little round collar. Notice how short the bolero is—that's the smart new kind. Make this up in dotted swiss, dimity, organdy or batiste, and trim it with rickrack, irish edging, or linen lace. It's a pattern that you and your little girl will both like so well that you'll make many times over. It will be nice for school in fall fabrics, too.

The Patterns.

1505 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 6 requires 2 1/4 yards of 35 inch material for dress alone. Three-eighths yard for bolero; 1/4 yard for contrasting collar, if desired. Two and three-eighths yards is required for trimming bolero and collar.

1545 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35 inch material. Three yards of lace edging for neckline and sleeves. One and one-fourth yards ribbon for belt.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

Czechoslovakia

The republic of Czechoslovakia is composed of two branches of the same Slav nation: the Czechs of Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia, and the Slovaks of Slovakia.

The state came into existence on October 28, 1918, when the national council took over the government of the Czechoslovak countries, which had formerly belonged to the Austro-Hungarian monarchy. The Czechoslovak national assembly met in Prague on November 14, 1918, and formally declared the Czechoslovak state to be a republic.

Gold Rush Crime Wave

Crime was rampant in San Francisco during the gold rush during the early fifties. Up to 1854 there were 4,200 homicides and 1,200 suicides, while the records of the next few years showed many deaths by violence, the high mark being reached in 1855 with 565. In 1851 the Vigilance Committee was formed to attempt to free the city of most of the lawless element. By 1856, when it came together a second time, order was restored in the community. More than 8,000 citizens served on the two committees.

Where crimson sunsets fiercely flare,
Down valleys desolate and dread,
And lordly mountains stately stand
Like sentinels beside the dead:
Beware the age-old Yukon Law,
Ye reckless pilgrims who pass by,
Shrilled on the Northland's angry blast—
The Strong may live, the Weak must die!

He heard at night the gaunt wolves' yell
And wild beasts howling for their prey,
Yet thru that frozen, silent hell
Fought madly on his weary way,
Unarmed, exhausted, hunger-mad,

R. R. Commission Candidate Here

John Wood of Shelby county, candidate for railroad commissioner and present senior member of the Texas highway commission, spent several hours in Tahoka last week in the interest of his candidacy.

"I am making this race strictly on my record for efficiency in the highway commission," said Mr. Wood. "It is well known that during the more than five years I have been a highway commissioner I have kept politics out of the affairs of that commission and made the department the most efficient branch of the state government, and I want to establish that same record for the railroad commission."

Mr. Wood was appointed on the highway commission from East Texas, but in a recent statement Judge W. R. Ely of Abilene said of him that "West Texas has never had a better friend on the highway commission than John Wood," his publicity agent said.

A group of Tahoka citizens spent last week-end on the Concho river near San Angelo. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Connolly and Geraldine, Mrs. Pearl Brown, Misses Floyce Sherrod, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Parker, and Mrs. G. C. Sheaffer. They left Tahoka last Thursday and returned Sunday. According to Mr. Connolly the fishing was fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Kass and children of Wichita Falls visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Donaldson Monday. They were former neighbors and friends of the Donaldsons in Wichita Falls and were en route to Carlsbad Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Calvery, Nathan Woolsley, Mrs. T. C. Boucher and her daughter, Betty Lane, of Abilene, left Tahoka Tuesday morning for Ruidosa, New Mexico. After a fine trip they returned Thursday. Mrs. Boucher and Betty Lane are visiting Mrs. Calvery, Mrs. Boucher's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Van Dyke have returned to Tahoka to make their home, Jim being employed at Hogan's store.

"Pardons" Among Unique Ceremonies in Brittany

The region of Brittany, whose country and language differ from France, observes unique ceremonies known as "pardons" in honor of local saints, usually unknown to the rest of the world. The most colorful pardons, semi-pagan festivals of the dead dating from pre-Christian days but transformed by the church, are those of Saint Nicodeme, the one at Quimper, and the one honoring the grandmother of Jesus at Sainte Anne de la Palue.

The pardon of Saint Nicodeme centers attention to the blessing of the cattle of the region. Cows are decorated with ribbons and cockades and are led in the procession, with drums beating and banners flying. The animals are then auctioned by the church, and the purchase bringing good luck to the stables where they are taken.

The Bretons believe that Saint Anne, the mother of the Virgin Mary, was a Breton by birth, who bore the birth of the Virgin voyaged to Palestine where she made her home. This Saint Anne is really an early goddess of the sea, but no one thinks of her in that role, as the widows of the sea, the women of lost fishermen, form the long procession behind the silken banners as it proceeds to the church for vesper services. The Goddess of the Sea was an imperious and cruel goddess, but under her new name canticles are sung.

Nowhere else in Brittany does one see such rich and gorgeous costumes. Every peasant who owns one of these costumes carefully preserves it year after year in a special cupboard which is never opened except for the day of the pardon.

The finest is worn by the eldest daughter, at whose dressing all the family takes part, the grandmother giving advice as she dresses, instructing the girl to walk in the procession with stately steps of dignified mien. The changing of the litanies during the procession, the muffled tapping of the drums, the silken banners carried by the men, make the scene as glittering and as medieval as anything to be seen anywhere in the world.

Pimento, Ginger, Other

Plant Types in Jamaica
Some 2,100 varieties of plant life are to be found in the island of Jamaica so that it is referred to, the world over, as the "botanical garden of the New world."

Pimento and annatto are prominent among the island's products—but pimento is not what the American housewife knows by name, being the common allspice, the berries of which grow in clusters on trees some 30 feet tall. Annotto, not familiar to the average tourist, is a reddish berry which, when boiled, yields an oily extract used as a dye.

The famed Jamaica ginger grows abundantly in patches on the red hillsides. The plant somewhat resembles the currant bush, but only the root is valuable, the tops being crushed and used again as seed. A good yield, Jamaicans say, is 2,000 pounds of ginger to the acre.

Orchids, acres and acres of them, grow wild in this land of enchantment. The showy three-petalled flowers of lavender shade stand out in beautiful contrast to the white yucca, the aloe and other tropical blossoms. Then there is the fragrant bougainvillea, the brilliant poinciana, the melon cactus, often called the Turk's Cap, and the Wom-an Dildo, which produces wool along with the flowers and fruit.

Fish Can Give Electric Shock

There are several species of fish equipped with organs capable of giving an electric shock; these include the electric eel, electric catfish, electric ray or torpedo, electric dogfish, etc. The electric eel is an eel-like fresh water fish of Central and South America, which has the power to discharge electric shocks strong enough to paralyze or kill small fish or mammals and even to stun human beings or large animals like horses and cattle. These fishes, related to the carps and catfishes, attain a length of seven or eight feet. The German traveler Baron von Humboldt found that natives of Brazil and Guiana drove horses into the ponds and streams containing electric eels, in order that the eels might exhaust their electric powers, after which the fishes were caught and used for food. The same writer claimed that the shock sometimes caused the horses to drown.

Ashes of the Great

One of the laws of chemistry, as well as of physics, relates to the conservation of mass, that is, the quantity of matter on the earth. In other words, the chemical elements of which a body was composed are still present in the earth or its atmosphere, no matter what changes may have taken place in them. A well-known quotation from Shakespeare relating to this subject is contained in Hamlet, act 5, scene 1, where Hamlet jests about the dust of Alexander the Great. "Alexander died, Alexander was buried, Alexander returneth to dust; the dust is earth; of earth we make loam; and why, of that loam, whereto he was converted, might they not stop a beer-barrel? Impetuous Caesar, dead and turned to clay, might stop a hole to keep the wind away."

Farmers' Cash Income Increases

Austin, Texas, July—As computed by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, farm cash income in Texas during May was $25,823,000 compared with $20,923,000 the preceding month and $31,022,000 during May last year. Normally there was a decline in farm cash income for the State as a whole from April to May, so that the increase in May this year over April caused a sharp increase as a whole after adjustment is made for seasonal variation.

The decline in income as compared with May last year was primarily the result of the drop in farm prices. In the districts in which live stock are relatively important, farm cash income held up well. During the first five months of the year, the computed farm cash income for the entire State—exclusive of government payments—was $99,229,000 compared with $112,138,000 during the corresponding months of last year. It is estimated that the computed figure is about 90 per cent of the actual.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ray of Magnolia returned Sunday from a three days visit with relatives in Eastland county. Mr. Ray reports crops doing well between here and Eastland. He has no complaint on prospects for a crop in his own section of the county.

Mrs. M. A. Stroud returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Ross Ketter, in San Antonio.

COUNTY CLERK

I am 32 years old. Just a young man trying to make good; seeking the office of county clerk. I was born in Grimes county, Texas, in 1905, and lived there until 1925, at which time I moved to New Home in Lynn County with my parents.

I finished high school at Iola in Grimes County, after which I entered Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville. I had one year there, then I entered Tech, where I have had two and one-half years of college work.

I have taught school nine years. I am now teaching in the New Home Rural High School system. I have also had three years experience keeping books. I feel that my public experience and training qualifies me for this very important position in our county.

I am a firm believer in economizing in expenses as far as possible.

I have never been a candidate for any public office before.

I will assure you prompt and courteous service at all times, if I am elected.

In the event I have failed to see any voter, I assure you the oversight was not intended. Please give my candidacy your careful consideration. I will appreciate your vote and influence on July 23rd.

S. R. LeMay Is Best Qualified For State Superintendent

We, the undersigned, urge the people of Lynn County to vote for and actively support—

S. R. LeMay

For the Office of—

State Supt.

LeMay is a trained school man, not a politician. LeMay will do away with the indefinite program and the inefficiency now rampant in the Department of Education. LeMay will restore harmony between the Legislature and the Department and put that Department back on the high plane it once occupied.

Statement From B. L. PARKER—

I wish to thank my many friends and acquaintances in Lynn County for the fine support given me in the past and want you to know I deeply appreciate your confidence in me.

If I have missed seeing you or have failed to electioneer with you, and I am sure there are some, I assure you I did not miss you intentionally. Work of my office has been very heavy this spring and summer, and your sheriff has not had the time to electioneer very much.

But, if you think I have made you a good officer and have attended to my duties in a capable manner, I will certainly appreciate it if you will return me to this office. My many years of experience and training as a peace officer should qualify me to capably serve as your sheriff. You be the judge!

O'DONNELL MAN WEDS SAN ANTONIO GIRL

Andrew Simmons of O'Donnell and Miss Wilma June Phillips of San Antonio were married on the eighth of July.

The ceremony was performed in San Angelo by Rev. J. C. Lovern.

NEW LYNN COUPLE ARE MARRIED

R. L. Gray of the New Lynn community and Mrs. Lee Fay Spears were married on Tuesday, July 12. Rev. W. R. Bussell performed the ceremony.

They will make their home in the New Lynn community.

The Ananias Club

A person who deliberately tells untruths is said to be a member of the Ananias club. It is an old phrase which President Theodore Roosevelt popularized by applying it to persons who knowingly distorted the truth. In colloquial speech an Ananias is a liar. Ananias was a follower of the Apostles and a member of the first Christian community at Jerusalem. The Bible says that these early Christians "had all things in common." According to Acts 5, Ananias sold a piece of land and conspired with his wife Sapphira to keep back part of the price instead of contributing it all to the common fund and taking an equal chance with the others. For their falsehood and hypocrisy both were miraculously punished by Peter with sudden death.

Use of Drums

Used by primitive men for dances and signaling and by soldiers in battle, drums had to be small enough to carry. It was while still used by military men that drums took their place in some of the fanciest legends ever recited. And one of the greatest of all is the story of "Drake's Drum," notes a writer in the Washington Post. Sir Francis Drake, England's "gentleman pirate," carried the same drum on all his voyages. As he lay on his deathbed he ordered his drum be beaten if England ever were attacked from the sea. Several times the drum has been thumped when it appeared Britain was being licked in a sea battle. And each time his majesty's fleet emerged victorious.

Pistols Named for Italian City
 Pistols were invented in and named the ancient Italian city of Pistola, 400 years ago, says the Washington Post. Like rifles, they were not very dependable at first. They were made with both single and double barrels. A twenty-one-year-old American, Samuel Colt, developed the first successful revolver, the old "six-shooter" of Western fame. But not all revolvers were that type. Some carried seven or eight bullets.

Names for United States Capital
 Several experiments were made in naming the capital of the United States until the present one became fixed. From the beginning until 1871 the following names were used: "The Federal City," "City of Washington, District of Columbia," "City of Washington, Territory of Columbia," "City of Washington," without reference to the district, "Washington, D. C.," and simply "Washington." In 1871 the municipal charters of Washington and Georgetown were revoked by congress and there ceased to be any difference between Washington and the District of Columbia so far as government and laws are concerned. In 1921 President Harding's Thanksgiving proclamation was "done in the capital of the United States." The designation raised the question as to what the official name of the national capital should be. Accordingly an executive order was issued designating "The City of Washington" as the official name of the capital of the United States.

Bishop's Rock

The first land sighted by people who journey to England or France is Bishop's rock, a small member of the archipelago known as the Scilly Islands, 25 miles beyond England's Land's End. The legendary title of the "Land of Lyonesse" indicates the Scillies' connection with the romances of King Arthur and the tragedy of Tristan and Isolde. The Gulf Stream winds in among these islands, and although they are as far north as the "cold" tip of Newfoundland, the winter thermometer rarely goes below 46. The climate is always temperate.

State Superintendent
L. A. WOODS
 Candidate for Re-election

State Superintendent Has Kept His Promise!

The following accomplishments have been effected during his administration, among other things:

1. Per capita raised from $16.00 to $22.00.
 2. Rural school term raised.
 3. Transportation of rural school children increased many fold.
 4. Rural aid increased from $2,500,000 per annum to $5,500,000 per annum, which has been a great factor in equalizing school opportunities for the rural child.
 5. State support for rehabilitation for crippled children has been instituted and now 3,000 crippled children are cared for annually.
 6. He has an efficient and worthy program.

SPECIAL IRRIGATION CONTRACT

Date _____

NAME _____

In consideration of the special rate granted herein for watering and beautifying my home lawns and gardens (other domestic use included), and not for commercial purposes, I hereby agree to pay the City of Tahoka the minimum service charge as set forth below on each monthly bill issued to me for water used from and after the June meter reading and to continue indefinitely, which minimum entitles me to the use of 10,000 gallons without extra charge, and I agree to pay for all additional water used at the rate set forth as follows:

First 10,000	$2.50 Minimum
All over	15c per 1000 gal.

All charges to be subject to a ten per cent discount for payment within ten days from date of bill.

This contract is signed with the distinct understanding that the City Council reserves the right to discontinue this special irrigation rate at any time they deem it necessary. In case I wish to be taken off the irrigation rate, I agree to send or present to the City Secretary a written statement authorizing her to put me back on the regular water rate.

This contract does not cancel the contract I now may have with the City of Tahoka for water service but supplements the same and is subject to all the ordinances and regulations of the City not in conflict herewith.

Re-Election

I would like to again thank my friends in Lynn County who have so loyally supported me in the past, and to assure you of my genuine appreciation for your friendship and the confidence you have shown in me. I am anxious to thank each of you personally, not only for your support in the past, but for the interest you have manifested in my present race.

Having honestly endeavored, at all times to make Lynn County an efficient and courteous officer, I now place my candidacy in your hands and ask your support for re-election solely on the basis of the services that I have rendered while in office.

If you see fit to re-elect me to the office of Assessor-Collector, it shall be my utmost and constant endeavor to continue to serve the people of Lynn County to the best of my ability.

Santa Fe Loading Shows Decrease

The Santa Fe Railway System carloadings for the week ending July 2, were 25,997 cars compared with 34,426 for the same week last year. Received from connections were 4,709 cars as compared with 6,607 in same week last year. Total cars moved were 30,706, compared with 41,033 for the same week in 1932. The Santa Fe handled a total of 29,084 cars during preceding week of this year.

The Roller Rink of Tahoka under the operation of Mr. Gillispie, moved to O'Donnell last Monday. As this place of business was very popular with the younger set of Tahoka, Mr. Gillispie reports that his group of customers at O'Donnell has consisted of practically half Tahokaites.

Commentator Fellow Is

Traced to the Caveman

Less than ten minutes after instrumental music made its first appearance in the world the commentators were on hand to start reading meanings into it. That hairy ancestor of ours who discovered that you could blow fine blasts through an animal horn had barely got back to the cave and begun to strut his new accomplishment before his lady when a pair of shaggy neighbors dropped in to dispute about the significance of his music, observes Edward Barry in the Chicago Tribune. According to one, the louder blasts expressed courage and defiance, while the more sober tootlings carried a suggestion of the blower's secret fear of the very tribes or beasts he was defying. The other scoffed at this interpretation and declared that the widely spaced tones represented the steady tread of men and that the quicker sections depicted the mincing of women and children.

The astonished composer hemmed and hawed, then guardedly admitted that each commentator was partly right. He could not offend his guests by disclosing the fact that both interpretations were complete surprises to him!

There never has been a time in the history of instrumental music when self-appointed commentators were not busy explaining meanings and concocting stories. Because of the many vivid and undisciplined imaginations which have engaged in this very dubious work some of the world's best music is loaded to the sinking point with a cargo of non-musical meanings.

Insects Have Own Tools

to Bore Holes in Wood

Insect egg-laying requires many tools, of which some are surprisingly like man-made tools. The Sirex saw-fly, for example, says a writer in Pearson's London Weekly, uses a gadget very like a gimlet, with which it bores holes in wood to house its eggs. Another type of saw-fly has at its tail two tiny saws fitted with sheaths. These cut slits in stems or leaf veins in which the eggs are placed.

The ichneumon fly works hard for an hour to drill a hole more than an inch deep in tough wood. And the ichneumon fly is well aware, in a way mysterious to us, that it will strike a grub in the wood on which to lay its egg. Its young will then have living food to eat when they are hatched.

Also there is a locust which lays its eggs in the earth by boring the soil with a tool like the cobbler's awl, and working on the same principle.

The hypodermic syringe of the surgeon injects fluid under the skin; so does the sting of an insect. Actually, when we knock the bee off our skin, his sting, and part of his body, are left behind. Consequently, the bee soon dies. And that is why it was thought bees could sting once only.

But, given time, the bee can remove his sting and fly off to do more damage with it. The remarkable apparatus he uses to inject poison has barbs which attach it securely to our flesh.

The wasp, as it happens, stings a caterpillar, not to kill it, but to paralyze it—as by our anesthetics.

Pioneers in Smoking

The Encyclopedia Britannica says that the introduction of the tobacco pipe to Europe is generally ascribed to Ralph Lane, first governor of Virginia; in 1586 he brought an Indian pipe to Sir Walter Raleigh and taught that courtier how to use it. Another authority, "The Social History of Smoking," says that the honor of having first smoked a pipe of tobacco in England is divided among several claimants, Captain William Middleton, Captain Price and Captain Keet having smoked together in London. The same author states that pipes were smoked in England before 1584, the plant having been introduced into Europe about 1580 and been under cultivation in England by 1570. Raleigh first brought the practice of smoking into common use and it is probable that he was initiated in the art by Thomas Hariot, whom he had sent out to Virginia for the specific purpose of inquiring into and reporting on the natural productions, including of course tobacco.

Growth of the Flea

Fleas, like all insects, go through stages, from egg, through grub and pupa, to adult insect. The grub feeds on the bodies of dead beetles and other stray animal matter. Then it turns to a pupa, which never eats, but just lies in the dust, in cracks and crevices in the floorboards in houses. It is very sensitive to vibration. Directly a foot-step touches those boards, the vibration makes all the pupae wake up and hatch out. From each pops a hungry flea.

The Name Cordelia

The name Cordelia has two origins and meanings. The Celtic meaning is "jewel of the sea" and the Latin "warm of heart." Despite these attractive meanings, the name is not common. The story of Cordelia, the Welsh princess, has been told by Shakespeare in "King Lear" although the dramatist gave the story a different ending than the fact that Cordelia committed suicide when taken prisoner by her sisters.

LOCALS

On Monday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Belton Howell, Paul Howell, and F. H. Howell made a trip to Dublin, Texas to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. B. Nichols, formerly residing in Dublin. Mrs. Nichols was a close relative to the Howell family. The News wishes to express sympathy to the family.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

If there's anything the junior editor likes better and gets less of it's roasting ears. Wednesday, Mrs. Harve Henderson of Redwine left a big sack of corn-on-the-cob on our back porch, and then Thursday here came Mrs. Will Montgomery with a big sack of roasting ears. Boy, we won't get hungry for a few days. Roasting ears certainly taste good, especially if you're burnt out on fish.

With the editor laid up in bed with a broken leg and the junior editor recuperating from a vacation trip, we give the readers a rest this week from the usual run of home-made editorials.

VOLUNTEER COUNTY PAROLE

Warmly endorsing the efforts of volunteer county parole boards throughout the state, Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, today said that he believed the next Legislature should give these boards a legal standing on a non-political basis.

"We talk of conserving soil and oil and gas and sulphur, yet the most important problem of conservation before us is the conservation of human resources. We need to reclaim human beings from the criminal life into which they have fallen. This the members of the volunteer county parole boards have done with amazing success," Nelson declared.

"So satisfactory has the work of these boards been that I believe the next Legislature should give them a legal status. I will help to get such a bill passed at the regular session in January," he said.—Claude News.

It would probably be popular for any Texas newspaper to sponsor the candidacy of Mr. O'Daniel, but very few of them are doing it. Most of them happen to be honest, and they can't see anything in this man to enlist their support. He came to this state in 1926 from Ohio, with no Southern blood in his veins, and has shown no evidence of having caught any of the spirit of this great state. He is reputed to be worth $700,000, and yet, he is playing the voters for suckers and getting them to finance his campaign, and advertise his flour besides. His failure to pay his poll tax for the past 11 years is certainly nothing in his favor. He claims not to be levee in the poll tax, but it was the law and he should have stood by it, especially when the money goes to our schools, and they would be in hard straits without it. In our opinion Mr. O'Daniel is small potatoes, but that wouldn't keep him from being elected governor; and if there are those who think he is right along with God, we wouldn't expect them to be deterred any by what might be said about him in this column.—Baylor County Banner.

REFUSED USE OF PARK
San Antonio officials knew more than they may be credited with knowing, when they refused use of the city park for a political Mexican rally. As we said some time ago, strange happenings are taking place in Mexico since Trotsky is there. But now we see the Reds are working the Texas side under the direction, not only by the Russian exile, but by agents from Moscow.

The border is a fertile field for all class of radicals who have been growing restive, since they learned that they do not have to work for South Plains Summer Normal closes successful session here.

W. B. Bishop went down to O'Donnell on the Tuesday evening train returning Wednesday with, we understand, the contract to teach the school there the coming term. Prof. Bishop worked hard to secure the South Plains Summer Normal for Tahoka—and has, so many of the pupils say, proved a competent teacher in the Normal.

Saturday of last week a team on the Bartley farm in the Edith community ran away, and Newman, the 11 year old son of J. I. Bartley, jumped from the wagon and landed on his hands breaking both arms at the wrists and bruising his face and body considerably.

Miss Nettie Wells left Thursday morning on a visit to the family of J. P. Robards, of Floydada.

Don't fail to hear Rev. J. P. Calloway, the Methodist pastor at this place Sunday.

At 11:00 o'clock he will preach on "Will a Man Rob God," and at 8:45 "The Universe Lamentation."

Jacob Piwertz of Caldwell was a Tahoka visitor Wednesday and Thursday accompanied by his wife and his brother, J. F. Piwertz of Fayetteville. Mr. Jacob Piwertz owns over 1400 acres of Lynn county dirt and this was his fifth trip to the county.

Lial H. McGonigal of Fort Worth, has bought the cash meat market of Shed Weathers and will immediately put in a new stock of meat and ice. Mr. McGonigal says to just give him a little time and he will have the very best Cash Market on the South Plains.

It is reported that ice is being delivered to the houses in Lubbock for fifteen cents per hundred pounds, and yet our local ice man has had in an order for four days and can get only a few hundred pounds each day sent down by express, hardly enough to save his meat, and now, Thursday evening, comes the word that the factory has broken down and no more ice can be shipped out of Lubbock for some time.

Come to Tahoka, the best little town on the South Plains and it will be only a short time until it will be the best large town in West Texas.

According to D. W. Gagnat, his son Charles, a Freshman at West Point, is having a tough time making all required drills and marches. Charles estimated that it was about five times harder than he thought it would be.

Betty Ruth Wyatt left Sunday for Denver to spend six weeks with an aunt. She went by bus and train.

Shows for Brides Are Among Ancient Customs
Bridal showers are said to have originated many centuries ago when a poor miller wished to marry but could not afford to because of his beneficence to others in his village. So they gathered together and contributed to his home, enabling him to wed the lady of his choice, writes Rae Lewis in the Washington Post.

Likewise dowries and trousseaux are habits of long standing, although the dowry has faded from common usage in many countries. Girls delight, though, in assembling finely made linens and clothing in their "hope chests." The old idea, however, was that every stitch in the trousseau must be made by the bride herself. Gifts to the bride from the groom are said to have their origin in the ancient purchase price for the maiden.

In the bride's apparel, the tradition of orange blossoms goes back centuries to the "golden apples" presented to Hebe when she married Zeus, and they are liked because of their beauty and fragrance, as well as the fact that the plant bears fruit and blossom at the same time.

Veils date back to the days when a woman must be kept veiled and seen by no man until her marriage, when her husband had the privilege of raising it to see her beauty.

Of course, there is a language of flowers and some old books have some absorbing descriptions of eloquent bouquets used in wooing. A few people like to select appropriate flowers or combinations for the bride to carry, but most of the lingering customs concerning bouquets are in the bride's throwing it after the ceremony, the girl catching it to be the next bride.

Rings, of course, have been symbols of unity for centuries.

Flea Is a Good Jumper
—800 Times Own Length
A flea is no good at running, and not very much at walking, but it can jump: The record high jump for a flea is about seven and a quarter inches, and it makes a long jump of fourteen inches.

When you think of the size of a flea, observes a writer in London Answers Magazine, 'tis is pretty good work. It means that it can jump something like 800 times its own length. If a man could do that, his record long jump would be well over three-quarters of a mile.

In one respect, fleas are unique. All other insects are either more or less rounded, like caterpillars and beetles, or flattened, like butterflies and cockroaches, but fleas are squeezed sideways. That suits their purpose very well, as they mostly make their homes on fur-bearing animals, and their shape enables them to slip about and dodge between the hairs.

When the flea takes its dinner it drives its proboscis home, right up to the hilt. Down goes its head and up goes its tail, just like a swan feeding on the river bottom. It then uses a special little pump inside it to bring up the blood. When at last satisfied, it leans back, tugs, and out comes the proboscis with a jerk.

Myrna Dean Gagnat is visiting in Canyon this week. Don't forget! Election Returns at Bart's Cafe.

JUDGE LOUIS B. REED
Candidate for District Judge
HOME FOLKS' OPINION

LOUIS B. REED

JUDGE LOUIS B. REED and family were received into full fellowship of Church, Social, Civic, and Professional life in this community upon their arrival here several years ago. They were gradually placed in positions of responsibility and each time acquitted themselves efficiently and effectively. Judge Louis B. Reed is the beloved teacher of a Sunday School Class of junior boys and girls; he is active in the civic affairs of this entire section; he is a life-time Democrat and ranks high among party leaders; he is Col. Reed by virtue of accomplishments during and after the World War; he is Judge Reed by virtue of the office he now holds and the long period of professional practice in law; he is "Louis" to rank and file because anyone we know. He is a friend to more children, who greet him with delight, than anyone we know. He is a worthy Christian gentleman, a friendly neighbor and a capable lawyer of successful experience and wide learning.

- We therefore recommend our friend and neighbor to those who do not enjoy his acquaintance and assure them that they may place their trust in him wholeheartedly for the office of District Judge. There will be no professional or private action on the part of our mutual friend to bring regret to his supporters.
- Respectfully submitted.

Blarney Stone Attracts Visitors From All Lands

When the pleasant fiction of the Blarney stone began is not historically dated, though the expression "blarney" is said to date to the Elizabethan days, according to a writer in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. It is supposed to define a peculiar form of wheedling Irish eloquence, originally ascribed to a Lord Clancarty in his communications with the English queen. His failure to fulfill his promise to surrender the castle and his knack of explaining plausible excuses with wordy lengths left the queen indignant but never satisfied.

The stone which is divided into three was the work of a lunatic who cast the loose stone from the top. Which of the three parts was placed in the present position is not clear, but the drop of the stone and its replacement involves an acrobatic feat for kissing. It is necessary to lie flat on the battlement, extending the body backwards and downwards into the hollow in the wall, and then kissing the stone, which is above the face.

All Blarney, no less than its castle, goes back a long time. In the Second century, it was the seat of Eoin Mor, who shared the kingship of Ireland with Conn of the Hundred Battles. He was the ancestor of the McCarthys. The original castle was built in 1445 by Cormac McCarthy, "the Strong." It was one of the Jeffreys who was responsible for the establishment of the town of Blarney in its modern aspect. The establishment dates back to the middle of the Eighteenth century, when a grandiose scheme of town planning and building caught the imagination of the owners of Blarney. In the plan the village was to be strangely embellished by quadrangles and triangular lawns. In order to fulfill the ambitious scheme, an effort was made to change the course of the Awwartin river by means of a cut and fine stone bridges. The project was undertaken but abandoned because of its elaborateness of purpose.

Farm Markets Are Called Both Wasteful and Costly

WASHINGTON. — Reorganization of facilities for marketing agricultural products is needed to eliminate waste and reduce consumers' prices, according to the department of agriculture.

Most city markets have not been enlarged to sufficient capacity to meet the need of growing populations, and adequate preparations have not been made for displaying and handling of produce, the department said.

Infantile Paralysis Expected In Summer

Austin, Texas—Infantile paralysis can be expected to occur more frequently during the next three or four months," predicts Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months.

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscopes. The first symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness. In the more severe cases, the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of nerves controlling one or more groups of muscles. Some remarkable recoveries have been noted.

"Flies or other insects have not been demonstrated to play a part in the spread of this disease. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets transmitted by coughing and sneezing. Children and grown people that are healthy may be carriers of the germs. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is apt to suffer an attack.

"Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that are affected. If parent note any symptoms of illness in their children, the family doctor should be consulted at once.

Miss Wilda Jean Campbell of O'Donnell was a week-end visitor in the home of Mary Margaret Tunnell.

Football Game At Lubbock In August

Lubbock, July 14.—A gridiron clash between high school all-stars from North and South Texas will be the climaxing event of the sixth annual Texas High School Football Coaches School which will begin August 1, closing Saturday night, August 7, at Texas Tech stadium in Lubbock. Coaching the North Texas team will be Harry Stuhldreher, coach at Wisconsin University and famous all-American quarterback of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame. The South Texas all-Stars will have as their coach Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern University. Waldorf has coached a Big Six champion team. With Northwestern University, he defeated the famous Notre Dame team.

Two picked teams from all-stars of North and South Texas High Schools will clash on the field in what promises to be one of the top-notch gridiron classics of the century.

Mr. Aubrey Thomas came in Tuesday to spend the week with his family here, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Donaldson. Mrs. Thomas and her daughters have been here for some time.

Health-Wrecking Functional PAINS

Severe functional pains of menstruation, cramping spells and jangled nerves soon reb a woman of her natural, youthful freshness. PAIN lines in a woman's face too often grow into AGE lines!

Thousands of women have found it helpful to take Cardui. They say it seemed to ease their pains and they noticed an increase in their appetites and finally a strengthened resistance to the discomfort of monthly periods. Try Cardui. Of course if it doesn't help you, see your doctor.

Erecting Building For S. P. Fair

Lubbock, July 14.—With excavation work already under way on the new $18,000 Merchants Building for the Panhandle South Plains Fair, plans for the 25th annual exposition and silver jubilee, whose gates will swing open Monday morning September 2, call for a complete week of educational and entertainment attractions.

Beginning the first day with the formal opening ceremony to be broadcast over the radio, a quarter of a century of progress on the South Plains can be viewed. Agricultural, livestock, and commercial exhibits, together with home manufactured products, will attract thousands this year to the "Show Window of the South Plains."

Entertainment will be at its best. Gay colored lights, thrilling rides, interesting and amusing shows, sensational acts, all to amuse the young and old, will mark the silver anniversary as the outstanding event of West Texas.

In connection with this year's exposition there will be held a six-day race meet.—Outstanding race horse men of the country have already made tentative reservations to bring their stables to Lubbock. Purses will approximate $3,000 with five races each afternoon on the $25,000 half-mile track at fair-park.

Miss Mary Ellen Pesterfield spent her week vacation in Lubbock as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Norman, Jr.

Mrs. Oscar Sanders who has been a patient in the West Texas Hospital at Lubbock for some time, returned home last Saturday. Friends report her condition is much improved and she is progressing as well as could be expected.

Jack Stewart of Snyder visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Simmons the past week.

Elmer Reed, U.S. Marshal, was in Tahoka Saturday afternoon.

MRS MILT FINCH .. Will Appreciate Your Support For County Treasurer

I feel fully qualified to fill this important office and promise to render prompt, efficient and courteous service to all alike, if elected.

London Is Switchboard For World Phone Calls

LONDON.—London has become the "switchboard of the world." Only two countries of the world remain out of reach of the British post-office telephone system—Albania, which has no system of external communication, and Malaya. In Malaya, experiments are being carried out by engineers, and it is expected that the country will be "phonable" within a year or so.

The London international exchange is the clearing station for telephone conversations from all parts of the globe and with ships at sea. There are more than 3,000,000 telephone users in the world—Great Britain has fewer than 3,500,000—but so well has the postoffice done its work that British subscribers can talk to 90 per cent of them.

Songs That Reach Heart Must Picture the Scene

The better a song enables those hearing it to visualize a scene, the better the song, obviously. Such songs never die. There are songs that have helped untold thousands to visualize a scene or emotion, writes Rev. G. White in the Detroit News.

"When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" was written by an American, Ernest Ball, some 25 years ago, and is regarded by most Americans as breathing of the very spirit of old Erin. "Love's Old Sweet Song" was written in mid-Victorian days by James L. Molloy, an Englishman.

Popular songs of the "Down by the Old Mill Stream" type may become folk songs, for the melodies are simple and sweet and the characters the ever-popular "boy-and-girl" combination. It was written by Tell Taylor in 1910. Another of this type is "Wait Till the Cows Come Home," written by Anne Caldwell in 1917.

"Comin' Through the Rye" was written by a forgotten composer in the Seventeenth century. Robert Burns set down the words, we all know. The song refers to the Rye river, rather than a field of rye. Young gallants waited by the stream, which had no bridge, and offered to carry the neighborhood lassies across. In mid-stream they would demand a kiss for a fee, threatening to drop the passenger in the water unless it were paid.

The "Spring Song" is perhaps the best known of the great Mendelssohn's shorter numbers. Several lyrics have been written to the music. "Listen to the Mocking Bird" was written shortly before the Civil war. "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet" dates to the early Twentieth century.

Chop Suey Was Known to Chinese Long, Long Ago

Various authorities have stated that chop suey is not a native Chinese dish, but is known in China chiefly among tourists and foreigners, though of course most of the ingredients were well known to the Chinese in China before this became a popular American dish. The usual story, notes a writer in the Detroit News, is that it was hastily invented by a chef in Chinatown, New York city, in 1896, during the visit of Li Hung Chang, the chef calling it a chop suey or mixture of his own creation.

It appears, however, to be much older than this and to be connected with the influx of Chinese labor in the early days of California gold-mining and western railroad construction. A recent history of the Canadian Pacific Railway, "Steel of Empire," by J. M. Gibbon, says: "Gold in California brought another link with Cathay in the form of a tide of Chinamen who paid fifty dollars a head to cross the Pacific to do odd jobs, ply their trades and wash gold as well as linen. Some of them ran restaurants, with Chinese food for their compatriots, and one of these incidentally introduced what has since become a national American dish, namely Chop Suey. This is said to have been served sarcastically by a Chinese restaurant man to a gold digger in the bowl which is kept with scraps of food for beggars. It was a novelty and caught the fancy of the miners who spread the gospel of this new dish throughout the United States."

Baths Precede Prayers

A special and intricate code of cleanliness must be performed before each of the five periods of daily prayer by the Mahometans unless no opportunity for pollution between these prayer periods has occurred, says the Rocky Mountain Herald. Washing for prayer is a ceremony that must be observed according to the details of the law regarding it. Essentially it consists of washing face, nostrils, head, beard, neck, hands and arms up to elbows and feet up to the ankles. Only when he has accomplished each of these acts three times is he ready for his religious devotions. This is a total of 15 ritual cleansings every day for the devout Mahometans.

Trap-Door Spider Engineer

The trap-door spider, found in southern Europe, Africa, and other hot regions, is a wonderful engineer. He digs a bottle-shaped shaft in the earth and lines it with silk web. Then he makes a trap-door and hinges it to the top with a silken hinge. The door is made of silk covered with soil and fits to a nicety. The spider is also a gardener, for on the top of the door he plants moss so that the door cannot be detected in its surroundings. Also, it is so strong that if man or beast treads on the door it remains undamaged.

Academic Freedom

Academic freedom, as defined in the Britannica Book of the Year, is the right of a person connected with an educational institution freely to express the conclusions resulting from his study, either orally or through publications, without interference or restraint from administrative, political, or religious authority. It is subject to limitations imposed by scholarly bodies who may insist that academic freedom shall neither cloak techniques found clearly imperfect, nor violate canons of professional ethics.

U. S. ARMY IS AGAIN RECRUITING MEN

After having been closed for the past six months, the Regular Army is once again taking recruits.

The Army wants and will accept only recruits of the highest type. Applicants must be single and between 18 and 35; must be United States citizens; must be of good character; and must be physically and mentally qualified.

Vacancies exist in the Cavalry and Field Artillery at Fort Bliss, Texas. Young men who are interested in enlistment should write or call in person at the Army Recruiting Station in Lubbock without delay as the vacancies are being rapidly filled.

Much progress has been made on the Baptist Church building this past week. The front entrance is practically finished and the walls are going into completion. When finished, this beautiful building will not only prove a joy to its members, but also to the citizens of Taboka.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Heare are leaving today for their cabin in the mountains near Eagle Nest Lake, New Mexico. They expect to be there several weeks.

Edward Simpson, principal at Newmoore the past two or three years, will teach at Vealmoore in Howard county next year.

Don't forget! Election Returns at Bart's Cafe.

The Tahoka Blue Socks really did eat dirt and like it last Sunday. There and threw it in your face. Those Plainview boys just got in and you couldn't do anything about it. Why? Because you went to sleep and kept sleeping until you lost the ball game.

However, it was the best ball game of the season so far. The local boys had them beat up until the ninth inning, and then they made a couple of little easy slips and let them get ahead 9 to 8, in favor of Plainview.

The people who didn't see that game missed one of the best games I ever saw.

Joe Raindle tossed the pill for the Blue Socks and Jones caught. Joe pitched a nice game.

The Blue Socks are playing Levellands Sunday at Levelland.

"A TEXAN FOR TEXAS"

WILLIAM McCRAW

For GOVERNOR

Excerpts from Atty. Gen. McCray's Opening Speech, Arlington, Apr 23

WILLIAM McCRAW

PENSIONS: "I pledge Texas a humanized old age assistance administration. We must hold the contribution of the Federal Government. We must relieve the distressed, and take human want out of the political field. My administration will put on the rolls, without taint or favoritism, all deserving old folks. We will pay them according to their needs, without unreasonable demands or requirements upon their relatives. Many are not upon the rolls who ought to be there. To effect economies to help accomplish this work, we must have a single, consolidated department for the administration of social welfare."

TAXATION: "The economies in administration that can be effected, the increase in revenues that may be looked forward to from expanded business, will largely provide the funds for social security. Any additional funds required will not be a heavy burden. I shall ask for them from those who are best able to pay. I shall look to those controlling our natural resources, the pipe line and the public utilities to furnish any additional funds that may be needed for social security and the retirement of our teachers. That there may be no misunderstanding, let me declare against any increase in the ad valorem taxes upon the farms, homes and businesses of Texas. An income tax will not be needed or warranted under my program. I am opposed to a sales tax, regardless of the name it may assume. Such a tax is a tax upon poverty."

EDUCATION: "I was happy to have a part in assisting to make it possible for the children of Texas to enjoy the benefits of the highest per capita apportionment in the history of our State. I shall oppose every effort to retreat. Thousands of children in Texas today do not have the benefits of a full school term, but we are on the way back. I advocated the teacher's retirement act, publicly and privately, in the campaign for its adoption. The people stitution many reforms may be accomplished."

HIGHWAYS: "In view of the progress being made by the State Highway Department toward giving Texas a system of roads second to none in the Nation, it would be folly to propose any far-reaching changes in the present set-up. Of course, any of its problems presented to me will receive my most thoughtful consideration."

LABOR: "My first experience as a worker was as a member of organized labor. Through my entire public career I have been, not only keenly sympathetic to the workingman and members of organized labor, I have been active in their behalf. I shall continue to do so. Texas is on the threshold of great industrial development. If we are to preserve the freedom of both capital and labor in the opportunity to bargain freely, we can do so by the enactment of a thoughtful labor relations act. I advocate the enactment of a labor relations act, which will give assurance to industrial peace in Texas."

INDUSTRY: "Texas offers an abundant opportunity in every industrial field. I shall encourage new industries, not by the granting of special privileges to the new comer over those who have fought with us through the years, but through the assurance of equal opportunity and fairly adjusted taxation."

PUBLIC UTILITIES: "Texas householders have long suffered from a patchwork system of regulation of the powerful utilities. I favor a utility commission having appellate jurisdiction over rates fixed by the cities and towns of Texas and original jurisdiction over rates in all other communities not having rate making powers."

PUBLIC HEALTH: "I would oppose any change in the system of the private practice of medicine and the imposition of any other system until the change has been well considered by the medical profession and given their approval."
