Tahoka School Is Seeking Large WPA Project

Would Build Athletic Field, Band House, Home Ec. Building Landscaping Grounds

Application was filed Monday by the Tahoka school board with the Lubbock office of Works Progress Administration for an extensive public works program for the local school system. Value of improvements asked for slightly exceeds $60,000.00.

Approval of the project by the local board or by the Government agency, however, does not mean that the entire project will be carried to completion. Availability of labor and funds will govern the number of units of the project to be completed, if the Government approves the application.

Units of the proposed project include the following: Tearing down west section of old Central Ward school building; tearing down South Ward building, located seven miles southeast of town; and use of materials from these structures in a 2,000 capacity concrete, steel and brick football stadium; sodding football field; fencing football field; piping for water and landscaping Grade School and High School grounds; bus house for five buses; brick and frame music building which would include four music practice rooms and a band practice room with a capacity of 75; five-room home economics building; and tennis courts.

The project involves about $35,000.00 in labor, which would be furnished by the WPA. The Government would also furnish cement, and some other materials.

The Tahoka school district, if the project is approved, will furnish its part of the project in materials from the old buildings. However, it is anticipated that the district must buy some material, the principal items of which would be about $2,000.00 worth of steel, but less than one-tenth of project's value will be in cash from the district. Furthermore, such units of the project will be attempted as the board has the money and materials for its part.

The board anticipates erection of the stadium as the first unit of the project. This structure would be one of the finest high school football fields in this section. Bleachers would extend down both sides of the field, and the playing field itself would be turtle-backed and sodded. A lighting system was installed last fall.

Plans for the project were drawn by J. A. Fruit, Big Spring engineer. They will be checked by the Lubbock WPA office, then by the state office at San Antonio, and finally by the Washington office, which usually requires from five to eight weeks.

Tahoka Winner Over O'Donnell

Tahoka Tuesday night gained some measure of revenge over O'Donnell for the home-coming football defeat last fall.

The Bulldog basketball team defeated the O'Donnell Eagles in one of the best games so far this season. Though Tahoka led most of the way through the game, the score was tied three times. The game was a fill-in one, O'Donnell taking the place in a game that had been scheduled with Wolfarth.

The local basketball team is showing remarkable improvement as the season advances.

New Home School Has New Teacher

Superintendent J. T. Carter of the New Home schools was in Tahoka Wednesday and stated to a representative of the News that Miss Ruth Poff of Bardwell, Ellis county, has accepted the position of teacher of High School English at New Home, succeeding Miss Mattie Martin who recently resigned to accept a similar position at Garden City at a much better salary. Miss Poff is a graduate of Texas State College for Women, formerly known as the C. I. A., at Denton.

Auto License Plates Received

A. M. Cade reports that the tax collector's office here has received its consignment of automobile and truck license plates for the current year.

The numbers of the regular automobile license plates run from 823, 301 to 826,000, there being 2,700 of them for this county.

Since the counties are listed alphabetically and Lynn county is not quite half way down the list, Mr. Cade believes that the number of plates provided for the entire state must exceed one and a half million. The one million mark was reached with Shelby county last year. When the number reaches a million a combination of letters and figures is used thereafter, and Mr. Cade has no definite information as to the number of plates distributed last year. He says however that Lynn county made two additional calls for plates after the first consignment was exhausted.

The collector has also received 350 number plates for commercial trucks and 350 for farm trucks.

License fees are payable from February 1 to April 1, and the new license plates may be placed on cars March 1, and thereafter.

Dr. Turrentine's Leg Is Broken

Dr. L. E. Turrentine, who was taking a vacation down at Corpus Christi, was seriously injured in a most unusual manner, sustaining a bad fracture of the hip, on Tuesday afternoon of last week, but relatives here were not informed until Thursday afternoon.

Relatives here wired Thursday afternoon for more definite information but received no response until Friday afternoon. W. O. Robertson left early Saturday morning in a Harris ambulance and on Sunday brought the Doctor back, placing him in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock. Immediately following his injury, the Doctor had been placed in the Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi, in which he remained until Sunday morning.

Since the hip bone was broken into completely just below the joint, it was necessary to place the entire lower body both hips, and a portion of the legs in a plaster cast. This was done in the Spohn Hospital immediately after the accident. The doctor necessarily suffered considerably but is said to have stood the trip well from Corpus Christi to Lubbock.

The accident occurred out on a pier or breakwater on Corpus Christi Bay. The Doctor and Mrs. Turrentine were out there fishing, or preparing to do so. The breakwater is constructed of big jagged rocks, with a concrete walk several feet wide, along the top. They were proceeding along this walk when a near-by fisherman made a wide-swinging cast which barely missed the doctor and his wife. The doctor threw up his arm to protect himself and wife, stepping back at the same time and stepped off the breakwater. He fell several feet upon the rough rocks, the impact breaking the hip bone.

G. C. Grider Moves To Comanche

Judge G. C. Grider and family of the Midway community moved last Friday to their farm in Comanche county situated five miles from the city of Comanche.

The Judge will continue to conduct auction sales as well as to look after his farm. He served two terms as county judge of this county a few years back.

Clarence Wright, who has been employed at the Tahoka Coperative gin the past season, left Thursday for his former home, Corsicana. He expects to return to Tahoka before another cotton ginning season opens.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith moved Thursday into their beautiful new home out in the Roberts addition. This is said to be elegantly finished and is one of the most attractive residences in Tahoka.

W. Lee O'Daniel Inaugurated Governor Of Texas Tuesday In Blaze Of Glory

W. Lee O'Daniel was inaugurated governor of Texas Tuesday noon in a blaze of glory.

Never before has there been anything like it in Texas; never before anything like it in the inauguration of a governor of any other state.

Sixty thousand people were gathered in the University of Texas stadium to witness the inaugural ceremonies. Many other thousands thronged the city of Austin unable to gain admittance into the stadium. Scores of bands were there making music for the occasion. There were 82 high school bands. It was announced.

On Monday preceding the inauguration, the governor led a motorcade from Fort Worth to Austin. Everywhere enroute he received the acclaim of the people. At Waco and other places he was given a great ovation. His triumphal procession from his home city to the capital reminds one of the acclaim that greeted Washington as he made his way from Mount Vernon to New York in 1789 to become the first President of the United States.

The oath of office was most solemnly administered by Chief Justice C. M. Cullen of the Texas Supreme Court Tuesday, and just as solemnly taken by O'Daniel.

The address of the retiring Governor, James V. Alford, that followed, was most appropriate, but we (Cont'd. on back page)

Mahon Named To High Committee

Washington, Jan. 19.—Official announcement was made this week of the election of Congressman George Mahon by the House of Representatives to a place on the Committee on Appropriations. The place is considered a highly desirable one and is much sought after among members of the House. Only two Democratic Members were elected this session. The membership of the committee includes 25 Democrats and 15 Republicans, Mr. Mahon being the only Member from Texas.

Since the Committee is a major one and has a heavy schedule of hearings throughout the Sessions, a Democratic Member of this Committee is not permitted to serve on any other standing committee of the House. Mr. Mahon leaves posts which he has held through two terms in Congress on the Committees on Civil Service, Insular Affairs, Census, and Elections.

Tahoka FFA Chapter Will Enter Contests

The Tahoka F. F. A. (Future Farmers of America) Chapter of the Tahoka high school is now busy preparing for the district meet at Seagraves on February 4.

The members of the Chapter will enter the following contests: Essay writing, extemporaneous speaking, and One-Act demonstrations. We are hoping to rank first in all of the above mentioned events.—Edward McMillan, Editor.

J. F. Tharp Moves Back To Coryell

J. F. Tharp, who has resided in this county the past twelve or fifteen years, moved this week back to his old home place at Pecan Grove in Coryell county. He ordered the News to follow him to his new address.

There is only one thing against Mr. Tharp. He was sentenced to the legislature for a term or two a long time ago by the people of Coryell county. He turned out to be a dandy citizen, however, in spite of his early experience. Of course we are just joking. Brother, for in reality we think it a great honor for a man to be elected to serve his people as a law-maker.

Many people will wish Mr. Tharp many years of prosperity and happiness down where the pecans grow, unless he decides to come back to a great feed and cotton country.

Stock Raising Is Paying Proposition

Our attention was directed this week to a transaction which is not at all unusual but which illustrates the possibilities of stock farming in this county.

Brooks Smith of Petty sold a bull one day recently to Sam Bartley for $112.50. The bull weighed 1850 pounds and was sold for $6.10 per hundred.

Many farmers have a few head of cows from which they realize neat sums, and many are feeding this cheap feed to their cows.

CRAFT AT CONVENTION

L. F. Craft has been in Dallas this week attending the National Cleaners Association convention. The meeting opened Monday.

Cage Tournament Planned Here

County basketball championships will be decided here in a round-robin tournament beginning February 2 and ending February 11, Lee Dodson, athletic director of the Lynn County Interscholastic League, announces.

Schools participating will be: New Home, Tahoka, Wilson, O'Donnell, Draw, New Lynn boys and girls teams and a team each of boys and girls representing the rural schools.

C. S. Harris of T-Bar is in charge of rural school competition, and winners in this division will be determined prior to February 2.

All rural school coaches interested in a Basketball tournament, meet C. S. Harris, in the County Superintendent's office Saturday, 10 o'clock a. m.

Play will be in the local gymnasium Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 2, 3, and 4, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 9, 10, and 11.

Tax Payments Slow, Cade Says

Tax Collector A. M. Cade reports tax payments are coming in a little slowly this month. This is due in part, no doubt, to the fact that this is an off year politically and to the further fact that many people put off the matter of paying taxes just as long as they can without their becoming delinquent. This causes the tax collector's office frequently to be crowded during the last days of January.

Mr. Cade dropped a hint that it would be better for everybody if the tax payers would come in steadily from now until the end of the month and thus avoid a last-minute rush.

Mr. Cade further explains that those who just can not pay their property taxes before the end of this month may nevertheless pay their poll taxes. Since this is an off year, many neglect to pay their poll taxes on that account, but there is no telling how much they may wish before the year is out that they had qualified to vote.

Already resolutions have been introduced in the legislature providing that an amendment to the constitution providing for larger pension payments and a sales tax to raise the funds be submitted to the people. If such an amendment or other important amendments should be submitted every man and woman in Lynn county would want to vote. Without a poll tax receipt, many of them would be barred from voting.

Better drop into the tax collector's office today, folks, and pay your taxes. By all means do not neglect to pay your poll tax.

Thompson Store Sale In Progress

The Good Luck Get Acquainted Sale started last Friday by the Thompson Variety Store still continues.

One very obvious error appeared in the half page advertisement of this store last week. It was stated that the sale was to open December 13th. Of course January 13th was meant. The error was made by the News and of course the publishers are very sorry. We trust that nobody was misled, however, by the mistake. The sale was begun last Friday and still continues and we hope that our readers will take advantage of the bargains offered.

J. K. Applewhite has made one improvement down at his place of business that we had failed to mention, but it is never too late to do good. J. K. has greatly expanded his office and installed new furniture and now sure has a swell outfit. He has a front office where his friends and business callers may wait in comfort and amid elegant surroundings while he discusses business transactions with his customers back in the "Holy of Holies." It is business-like and efficient, and his customers doubtless appreciate the improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wales of Littlefield were here Sunday visiting their daughter, Mrs. Roy Young, and the family.

Awards Presented Lettermen Last Tuesday Night

"Dutchy" Smith of Tech Is Principal Speaker; Coronation Of Queens Is Held

"Dutchy" Smith, assistant coach at Texas Tech, was principal speaker here Tuesday night when "letter" awards were presented Tahoka high school gridsters and at the crowning of school queens. The auditorium was filled with school patrons and students.

Smith made a forceful talk in defense of the place of athletics, and football in particular, in education of young men.

Supt. W. T. Hanes announced a new plan of recognition for outstanding students, whereby every student in school distinguishing himself in the classroom, on the athletic field, or in extra-curricular activities such as band, choral singing, debate, public speaking, would be given an award for such accomplishments at the end of the year.

Ending the first semester, certificates of award and woollen "letter" jackets were presented 18 members of the 1938 football team, and sweaters were presented George Hogan III, Truman Hines, and Jo Jo Lehman for exceptional work in the Athletic department. Coaches Bob Harlow and V. Armstrong, and Mr. Hanes made the presentations.

Letter sweaters went to the following: Max Minor, J. H. Dyer, Captain, J. O. Adams, Herman Reid, Travis Shelton, J. W. Weather, James Bearden, Dea Parker, Lester Adams, Earl Adams, Odean Millman, Carl Lane, Alvin White, James Price, Finis Connolly, J. N. Murrish, T. W. Hale, H. A. Maassen. Reserves: Truman Hines, Joe Lehman and George Hogan.

The program opened with an overture by the band under direction of J. H. Feltz, following which was the coronation of the high school queen, Doris Laverne Lawler, and the grade school queen, Frances Marion Hancy, in a beautiful ceremony participated in by many students.

The queen's attendants were runners-up in the contest staged last fall. Max Minor was Miss Lawler's escort. Others were: Dorothy Holland and Turner Rogers, Myrna Dean Gaignat and Sonny Roberts, Jean Simmons and Jo Jo Lehman, Joyce Chapman and Felix Macha, La Ruth Walden and W. H. Fulkerston, Jean Barham and Carl Lane. From the ward school were: Margaret Durham, Genice Edwards, Evelyn Story, Alice Roberts, and Virginia Roddy, escorted by J. H. Edwards, John Wells, Dwane McCintock, William Knight, and George Small. Train carriers were Carolyn Collier and Elna Reba Dunagan.

Miss Georgia Taylor presented her high school girls chorus in two numbers. Claude Donaldson, president of the T. H. S. ex-students association, made a short talk. Capt. J. H. Dyer announced that the football lettermen had formed a "T" Club, with Max Minor as president, the object of which is to promote better citizenship for themselves and better athletics for the school.

Payment School Taxes Is Urged

Property owners residing in the Tahoka school district are being urged by Carl Griffin, secretary and tax collector of the district, to pay their taxes before February 1, on which date penalty and interest must be applied.

Many delinquent taxes have been paid up during the last two years, but there is still considerable property on which taxes are delinquent. Tax payments this year are about average. Mr. Griffin reports, except for the fact that one or two of the big tax payers has not yet paid taxes for the year.

A. W. Greer, who has been residing in the South Ward community the past two years, moved with his family to a farm a mile south of Gordon which he recently purchased. He and family will continue to read the Lynn County News.

School Buildings Head PWA Projects

Educational buildings account for 131 of Texas' 310 Public Works Administration projects, construction of which is now being rushed throughout the state, George M. Bull, Regional PWA Director, said today.

The schools, libraries, gymnasiums, dormitories, and similar buildings being added to Texas' educational facilities under the vast new PWA construction program will cost an estimated $13,815,827, which represents 39.2 per cent of the cost of all of Texas' projects under the new program.

In the seven-state Fifth PWA Region, of which Texas is a part, more than $54,000,000 is being spent on schools and other educational projects as a part of the current program. This amount is 47.7 per cent of the estimated cost of all the Region's 846 projects.

Every type of educational building is included in the Texas group of projects, ranging in size from a $1,361,504 project at Austin for the construction of school buildings and additions to present ones, to the $3,000 remodeling of the Robert Lee, Texas, school.

Universities, colleges, normal schools, city school systems as well as school districts in rural areas will have substantial improvements as a result of the Texas PWA program. In cities, school systems will be improved and extended and in rural areas a number of out-moded structures will be replaced by modern buildings.

The PWA-financed schools, Bull pointed out, will be especially notable from the standpoint of safety. PWA requires higher than ordinary standards of fire resistance in educational buildings constructed with its financial aid.

School projects have dominated the PWA schedule ever since Administrator Ickes made them favored projects in 1933. Forty-two per cent of the 13,749 projects with the aid of the Public Works Administration between 1933 and 1937 were educational buildings and a similar high percentage has been maintained under the new program. "The building of schools not only provides communities with permanent additions to their resources but is a means of supplying American labor with billions of man hours of work as well as providing industry with needed stimulation," Bull declared.

Dog Warns Of Impending Danger

L. M. Nordyke of the Midway community declares that his little dog gave repeated warnings of an impending windstorm that within an hour thereafter utterly demolished a residence and two strong chicken houses on his farm Saturday night, January 7.

The canine scratched and whined and barked at the door of his residence for some time in an effort to arouse the family, Mr. Nordyke says. Obtaining no response, the dog ran to a Negro house not far away and there repeated the performance. Still not satisfied he went to the home of a white family on the same place and gave like warnings.

In all these antics, he got little response, though some of the persons distributed undertook to "shut him up" or to drive him away.

Then came the storm, unannounced save by the antics of the dog, and it proceeded to perform some antics itself. This little residence, 10 by 30 feet in size, was securely anchored with steel upon a concrete foundation, and at the time it contained 6,800 pounds of field seed such as maize, higar, etc., in sacks. The twister, for it was evidently a small tornado, wrecked the house and tore the concrete foundation all to pieces. Fifteen or twenty of the bags of seed were never found at all. Others were scattered about and left near by one chicken house, 40 by 40 feet in size, and another 14 by 30 feet, were demolished.

And here is the queer thing about it: A little, comparatively weak house only a short distance from all this wreckage was left standing and Mr. Nordyke's residence was unimpaired.

Mr. Nordyke says that one of the provoking features of the whole business was that he did not have a cent of insurance on any of the wrecked buildings while he carried storm insurance on all the other three or four houses on the place.

One of these chicken houses was practically new. Its predecessor was also destroyed by a storm. Mr. Nordyke says that a week following the tornado that swept through the southeastern portion of Lynn county last spring, destroying lives and property, a small twister struck his place completely destroying one of his chicken houses. He then bought lumber and built another house on the same site. In less than seven months, Mr. Nordyke said, this January twister destroyed the new structure.

When Mr. Nordyke got through relating his strange story, we were so dumbfounded that we forgot to ask how many chickens this latest tornado picked for him.

WETSEL AND COFFEE VISIT COAST COUNTRY

Jim Wetzel of this city and C. C. Coffee of T-Bar returned Sunday from a hurried trip through South and Southeast Texas, visiting at Austin, Houston, Galveston, and other points.

Mr. Wetzel says that at Goose Creek they saw Mrs. Faye Ruth Killian (nee Holloway) and little child. Mrs. Killian was much interested in Tahoka and Tahoka people. She is now manager of the Montgomery Ward Store at Goose Creek.

At Angleton in Brazoria county, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Clyne Thomas, who formerly resided here. Jim says that they also made inquiries about most everybody here. Clyne is manager of the Lynch Davidson Lumber Yard at Angleton. Jim says that being just a West Texas country boy, he saw some wonderful sights in the coast country. At Galveston he saw his first big freight liner being loaded with freight bound for Czechoslovakia. He thought that was one sight.

At Goose Creek, he crossed a canal on a ferry boat, the first experience of the kind he ever had. Twenty cars were conveyed across at the same time. At Goose Creek also he saw the largest oil refinery in the world. It was a most interesting trip.

Kitchen Family Moves To Monroe

S. J. Kitchen and family of Midway removed last Friday to a quarter section of land situated eight miles north of Lubbock and two and a half miles southwest of Monroe, which he recently purchased. He ordered the News to his new address.

Mr. Kitchen had been a resident of this county for sixteen years, residing twelve years at New Home and four years at Midway.

Sen. Nelson Presents Bill To Aid Tech

Austin, Jan. 19.—A bill to allow Texas Technological College to build new dormitories and buildings by pledging the revenues from those buildings this week has been introduced in the Texas Senate by Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock.

Pointing out that the College is in dire need of additional dormitories and buildings, Senator Nelson said that his bill offers a way for Texas Tech to carry on a building program without pledging either the credit of the state or the college by simply giving lien on future revenues of the dormitories.

In addition to this measure, Senator Nelson introduced a bill strengthening the laws governing Mutual Assessment Life Insurance companies to protect policyholders.

"In the past thousands of helpless, unsuspecting people have been deprived of their life insurance savings because some of these companies failed to maintain sufficient reserve," Nelson declared.

The Board of Insurance Commissioners does not have sufficient power over these companies to adequately protect the public. My bill will drive the fly-by-night companies out of business, and it will give the Insurance Commissioners enough supervisory power to give the public the protection it deserves," he said.

A drama is now being enacted in Europe that may affect the history of the world for all time to come.
Germany is pushing her boundaries relentlessly to the east and southeast. Latest press reports bring the news that she has accomplished understandings with Hungary in Europe, Turkey situated on both continents, and Arabia in Asia, which means that she is preparing to dominate this entire region. She is also backing Japan in her conquest of China and doubtless expects to share with Japan in the spoils. Germany and Italy are backing the insurgents in Spain,
and it now seems that the Loyalist Government in that blood-drenched country is sure to fall. Italy will extend her power over Spain, unless France promptly intervenes, and if she does that means war between France and Great Britain on the one side and Germany and Italy on the other. In such an event Russia would doubtless join France and Great Britain and Japan would join with the other dictatorial powers, Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy. What about the United States? Well, a Tokio newspaper, which is a mere mouthpiece of the militaristic party that now controls
Japan, gave the United States warning Monday that if the United States fortifies Guam and Wake Islands in the Pacific with a view to establishing foot-hold in China

—which means the maintaining of the open-door—then “the Japanese people are determined to smash the American fleet.” If a new war breaks out between the great powers of Europe and spreads to Asia,
it would be a miracle if the United States were not finally drawn into
it. Such a war, as far as the United States is concerned, would probably be a war chiefly of navies and air fleets, but it would be a terrible war. Such appears to be the situation today. Anything can happen.

We had occasion just a few days before the opening of the current session of the legislature to visit Austin. Of course we dropped around to the Capitol building. There we found that the members of the legislature were already assembling.
About a hundred of them were in town, we were told, and fifty or more were then in the Hall of Representatives. The Capitol was swarming with office seekers. The city was full of politicians. When one remembers that it takes a pretty good politician to get elected to office in this state or to get appointed to some position by one who has been elected, we become amazed at the task any governor would have if he undertook to lash
the politicians from the Capitol.
Only an adept politician could make such a threat and then get by with it.

Many of the farmers of the black land belt in this state have awakened to the importance of soil conservation the past few years, but with some of them the awakening came almost too late. Practically all the rich soil on the hilltops on many farms in that section of the state has already been washed away, and it will take Nature a long time to rebuild it, if ever.

Since paved roads, trucks, busses, and millions of automobiles are furnishing all kinds of competition to the railroads, these erstwhile fat and prosperous corporations are apparently about to go on the rocks.
Most of the short branch lines, in the course of time, will probably be discontinued, unless the railroads unexpectedly fall upon more prosperous times.

WE DO NOT DOUBT

Tom Mooney is free. Twenty years of unceasing argument and publicity have had their effect.
Though a jury twenty years ago was so thoroughly convinced that he was guilty that it assessed the death penalty, and though four governors have been so thoroughly convinced of his guilt that they would not pardon him, and though the highest courts in the land would not reverse or remand his trial, a governor whose main platform for election was to pardon Mooney has pardoned him. The prosecution long ago had to devote his time to other matters, while money and influence has been available this generation to keep telling the public that “Tom Mooney is innocent.” We doubt Mooney's innocence. But we do not doubt his political astuteness and his skillful manipulation of public sentiment.—Slaton Slatonite.

It is barely possible that Tom Mooney was innocent, but if so he was the most unfortunate victim of the most damning circumstances that ever sent a man to the penitentiary. Through all the years neither he nor his friends nor his attorneys were able to produce sufficient evidence to raise a serious doubt as to his guilt in the mind of any court or any governor to whom appeal was made. If he was guilty, he was guilty of one of the most heinous and infamous crimes that could be committed. Any man who can deliberately blow up a great building or conspire with others to blow it up, not knowing how many innocent men and women and even children and babies may be killed thereby, is the worst sort of mur-derer. Now that he is out of prison, it is hoped that he spends the remainder of his days as an honest and upright citizen should.

HITLER'S AMERICA

Propaganda puppets of Adolph Hitler are now telling his subjects that the United States really belongs to Germany, since this country contains at least six times as many Germans as did Czecho-Slovakia. German blood predominates here, they claim, and soon will assert mastery. Our archaic Constitution and Bill of Rights will be overthrown and the country saved
by Nazism.

In his book on Unser Amerika,
Our America, a Nazi official predicts that thirty million Germans in the United States, soon will effect an overturn that will rout the Anglo-Saxon ideals of liberty and democracy. “We Germans in the old country,” he writes, “can only watch
the great revolution that is preparing over there; our hearts will always beat for a people whose blood is one-fourth ours. When this German portion has taken a firm hold on the destiny of its fatherland, it will do so for the sake of America.”

Nazi propoganda is now being spread in the United States by the Institute of Germans Living Abroad and by other agencies. Some of the methods used are described by S.
K. Padover in the January Forum.
Americans of German descent are urged to accept Nazi domination, even though they are American citizens. Others are incited to imaginary dangers from Negroes or Jewish sources, and attempts are made to arouse racial hatreds.

Perhaps Hitler can convince the Nazis that Germans won the American Revolution and are really entitled to rule this country, but he will hardly gain acceptance here
for that interpretation of history.
Neither bunds nor secret agents can convert the United States into a Nazi colony. More dangerous, though, is his attempt to disrupt the United States by racial propaganda and thus prevent this country from joining in concerted efforts to block Nazi aggression. This objective, perhaps the more important one in Hitler's mind, will also fall
if Americans retain their mental balance when beset with undermining doctrines of the Nazis.

While visiting in Central Texas
recently, we learned that the decrease in the cotton production of that section is not due solely to the ravages of insect pests, root rot, soil erosion, and acreage reduction in compliance with the AAA program, though all of these are contributing factors. One substantial cause of the decrease in the yield is the fact that much of the rich river bottom lands have become so badly infested with Johnson grass that farmers have quit planting this land in cotton and turned to harvesting hay crops from it and grazing cattle on it. Many white-face cows are now being raised in Bell and other Central Texas counties. The raising of thin-shelled peas is also a growing industry.

A Matter Of Mileage

You buy Natural Gas for a purpose, for heat.

How much gas does it take in your home to run the things that only gas will run?

Do you get out of the gas you buy the full value of the heat there is in it? If you don't, you're wasting gas and money, that's wrong.

There is only one way to get full mileage out of any fuel: That is to burn it in a clean properly regulated appliance. Fuel is fuel, whether you use it to run an engine or a home.

NEW LYNN

Hello there again. Surprised you all I bet cause I kept my resolution. But we hev jest had a real fine rain and I am tickled about it jest like the rest of you arie. Looks like we might make a crop agin if the Government lets us plant anything. Mebbe they will let us put the corners in cultivation, anyway.
I'm kinder relieved now since Congress had done tole the President where to head in once. I was sorta scared he'd turn into one of those Hitlerers or Musolenys and hev my head cut off or take my farm away.
Had church out here Sunday. Purty good crowds. You know we hev three churches in Lynn. Yes sir. Baptists, Methodists, and Nazarene. And they all hev Sunday School and Church. You can't ever tell me this ain't a good community. These here young people had a good crowd at League, too.
We'd like you to come out here most any time and enjoy our company, bu ef you don't come the first of the week you won't find us at home at all, cause we'll be holler-ing Haw and Gee to these here iron-eared mules of ours. Us farmers aire shore done finished with our layin around. Of course we will get some rest now and then when one of these fertilizing winds comes up. I ain't never figured it out exactly but I believe I'd rather dig mud off my feet than out of my eyes.
Oh yes. I forgot to tell you about --aw I'll hev to let that wait until next time fer I hev only got about two days to catch up on the running around I missed during the rain. My car gets wet and cranky those kind of days and I stay at home.—New Lynn Correspondent.

BEEN TALKING ABOUT HITLER

(Sterling City News-Record)
Since Hitler poked a gun in the faces of Austria and Sudeten and forced those people to hand over their lands and goods to him, and since this same Hitler put his goose-stepping shoe on the necks of the Protestants, Catholics and Jews and relieving them of their goods and money, since he has murdered many, and through his hellish treatment he has caused others to murder themselves, and since he has ordered the names of the Great Jehova and the prophets to be erased from the records, people in England and the United States have been talking about him.

President Roosevelt said he was surprised and the whole world was shocked.

Secretary Ickes left the impression that he thought that Hitler and his pack were as bad as a litter of primordial hyenas.

Secretary Sumner Wells led his hearers to conclude that he thought that Hitler and his bandits, murderers and robbers were descendants of a race in primeval days which killed sheep, sucked eggs, scratched fleas with their hind feet and barked at the moon.

Hitler got mad about the talk that was heard about him from the Atlantic to the Pacific and demanded an apology from Uncle Sam, because he expected Uncle Sam to O. K. what he is and has been doing.

For reply, Uncle Sam's boys, without the velvety terms common to diplomacy, told him to take his choice to either go jump in the creek or go to hell.

Now that no one else will offer an apology, I will; because somebody needs it.

Secretary Welles said that for pure and unadulterated cusidness and bestiality, we would have to go back to medieval days to find a comparison.

I apologize to the beasts, for no beast since the Creation, not even a polecat, was sever guilty of treating innocent human beings as Hitler has done.

They have compared Hitler to a bloody wolf among the human sheep of Austria and Czecho-slovakia and wantonly cutting their throats because he hated them. I apologize to the wolf and say that no wolf ever killed and maimed because of hate. The wolf kills only in defense of itself, its progeny, or to satisfy present hunger.

When Hitler's Fridays robbed the poor Jews and made them pay for robbing them, then after murdering some, dragging others to concentration camps and there with hot irons branded them with the cursed Swastika, causing them to suffer the tortures of the damned. I said in my heart that Hitler was a puking, pusillanimous buzzard escaped from hell to gorge himself on the bodies and souls of human beings on earth. I am sorry that my indignation and wrath led me to make the comparison, because a buzzard would consult the dignity of his bill before he would contaminate it with Hitler's putridity. I apologize to the buzzard.

A vicegerent of the devil! Hated and feared by all mankind and loved by none, Hitler is allowed for a season, to pester all humanity until Justice chains him up and forces him to cease from troubling. I apologize by saying that I am sorry that he is such a beast.—Uncle Bill.

McCords Have Novel Experience In Dallas

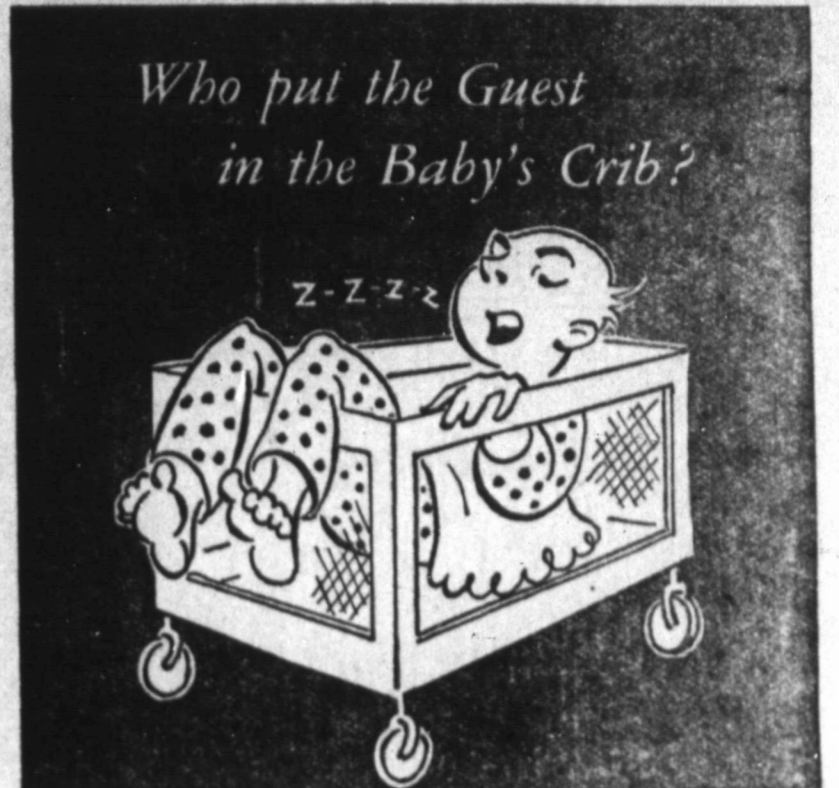

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCord returned on Thursday of last week from a stay of several weeks at Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he took the hot baths for his rheumatism, followed by a visit with relatives at Tuscaloosa, Jasper, and Birmingham, Alabama. Mr. McCord says that he came back much relieved from his rheumatism and that they had a wonderful visit in Alabama. At Dallas on their way home however, he and Mrs. McCord had a somewhat harrowing experience. They had engaged a cabin in East Dallas for the night and both had retired. He had already gone to sleep. Mrs. McCord was still awake, and she says that suddenly a great light shone around them, and then a terrific crash. This brought Bob back alive and almost scared Mrs. McCord out of her wits. The cause of the disturbance was immediately apparent, however. A car had struck the cabin, smashed a screen and caved a door in.

A man and a woman were in the car. The man would not talk, but the woman explained that the man was drunk, that in spite of her protests he had expressed the intention of taking her out into the country, and that to foil his purpose she grabbed the steering wheel and whirled the car into the cabin. Naturally Mr. and Mrs. McCord have contracted a slight prejudice against drunken drivers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fenton Sr. left Tuesday for an extended visit with her sister at Kent in Culberson county.

Wrong Size Lamp Bulbs Are MISFITS Too!

IT'S TRUE! You can strain your eyes without even knowing it, when you try to read or work in light too dim for easy seeing. Consequently, children and grown-ups not only strain their eyes but use up valuable energy if lamp bulbs are too small.
For quick, easy reading and sewing without that "tired feeling" try this simple rule: Look at the bulb or bulbs of your reading lamp and be sure that the total wattage exceeds 100 watts.
So that you may have a lamp for every purpose, a special carton of one 40-watt, two 60-watt, one 75-watt, one 100-watt and one 150-watt is offered for only 95c. Or any carton of six 100-watt, or any standard size smaller, for only 90c. All Mazda lamp purchases may be added to next month's service bill.

Local Girl Is NYA President

Lubbock, Jan. 19.—To begin the second six-months period of the National Youth Administration's girls resident training project at 1509 Seventh street, the enrollees conducted an organization meeting last Friday night.

Officers elected were Madeline Russell of Tahoka, president; Wilma Ruth Shepherd of Brownfield, vice-president; Mildred O'Conno, of Floydada, secretary.

The project will continue six months and two groups of 20 girls each will alternate in spending two weeks monthly at the residence.

Girls who are at the residence for this two weeks are Madeline Russell, Wilma Ruth Shepherd, Edna Moore of Plainview, Jewell Powers of Paducah, Elsie Lee Hines of Ralls, Ida May Bell of Floydada, Ruth Culbert of Spur, Bernice Exum of Floydada, Ravenell Gregory of Swearingen, Marlee Hodges of Stanton, Mary Nell Mangum of Lockney, Janice Matney of Paducah, Floy McDonald of Paducah, Lillian Morrison of Floydada, Mildred O'Conno, Macel Pemberton of Lockney, Lois Thomas of Levelland, Omega Wrinkle of Littlefield, Melba Webster of Smyer and Lona May Cooper of Ralls.

Girls voted at the Friday night meeting to publish their own weekly newspaper.

Miss Moore was selected editor; Miss Thomas, associate editor, and Miss Culbert typist. All girls will be reporters and plans are for the several departments of a newspaper, including society, fashions, sports, general news, and other departments.

ELDER DRENNON'S NOTES

We are delighted to write a few more notes, as I have received so much encouragement from my readers. Several have told me they read my feeble efforts first. I don't know why but am glad just the same.

I see that in the last issue Editor Hill put my notes on the editorial page, so I will have to be more dignified, I guess.

A couple of car loads of young people have just left O'Donnell for the inauguration of our new governor and lieutenant governor. I surely would like to have attended but am just too short on funds. It thrills me to know that we are to have a man for governor that is seemingly putting God and the Bible first. I am sure he will make many mistakes, as he is only human, and he may make a poor governor, but after all is said and done I will still be glad I voted for him and that he rose to that high position among us, because of his high moral and religious stand.

I wish I had more men of his type in our high civil positions. In the beginning of our great government the leaders were men who recognized God and tried to give him and his teachings a place in the affairs of state. I would sure be pleased to see our country returned to that stage again. I am hoping and praying that we shall have a sure-enough Christian for President before I pass on. You may say what you please but the principles and teachings of Jesus would be mighty fine for the solving of our problems today, and I am old foggy enough to believe they are the only remedy.

Our attendance here reached a new high last Lord's Day morning. Every indication is that this is to be a banner year with us. Much interest is being shown in the series of sermons on "The Restoration of the First Century Church". Next Lord's Day will be the third of the series on "The Work of Martin Luther and the Other Reformers". A member said to me last night, "Preacher, you have improved over last year", and that is as it ought to be.

To the older readers, Editor Hill included, let's take up another notch in our belt and do the best work of our lives this year.

Our Weekly Joke: "How is your son getting along with his education?" a preacher was asked by a member of his congregation. The minister, who was somewhat disgusted with his son's progress, replied: "Why, I've taught him all I know, and he is still an ignorant fool."

Yours for more people who keep their faces toward the rising sun and don't look back.—R. P. Drennon.

(Ed. Note: We are surprised, Brother Drennon, that you class us among your "older" readers. We are just a kid yet, not quite 64. Now you tell yours. Hope O'Daniel makes a good governor, in spite of his inexperience and his political vagaries. He seems to have a dandy family. All honor to the lady who is to preside in the Governor's Mansion.)

NEW YORK—With the opening date of the New York World's Fair 1939—April 30—coming nearer and nearer, activities on the fair grounds are increasing daily. around which 62 nations are gathering their exhibits. In the middle appears a modern sculptural group called "Speed," featuring a woman astride a winged horse. At the bottom is one unit of tulip beds. More than 1,000,000 bulbs were imported from Holland to accentuate landscaping.

Program To Save Millions Considered By Legislature

Austin, Jan. 13.—The Texas Legislature is still advancing along the economy front in spite of the House's decision to purchase a brass rail to prevent outsiders from disturbing members.

Friday's maneuver was sponsored by Representative Allison of Level-land, who issued a statement to the effect that a program he is urging will save more than $8,000,000 and at the same time avoid the necessity of raising any new taxes.

At the same time the Railroad Commission, all three members uniting, announced that nearly 100 employees will be dropped immediately, saving for the State $150,000 annually. Commission members and legislators Friday could not refrain from smilingly saying that they "are beating O'Daniel to it."

There are 10 major points in Allison's announcement, which he expects to explain in a radio broadcast Tuesday. They follow:

Reducing the travel bill of state officials and employees by one-half saving $1,000,000.

Cutting the State's annual bill for printing, postage and stationery in half, saving $500,000.

Eliminating the Liquor Control Board, the regulation going to county authorities, saving $1,000,000.

Eliminating the Old Age Assistance Board, throwing administration to county authorities, at a saving of at least $500,000.

Dropping the office of State Tax Commissioner and saving $70,000.

Eliminating 1,000 employees, not now needed, from the list of 25,000 on the state payroll and saving $1,000,000.

Cutting the State's telegraph and telephone bill in half, saving $200,000.

Abolishing the office of State Auditor "because it duplicates the comptroller," at a saving of $75,000.

Since most of the counties are now cleaned of cattle ticks, probably $300,000 could be saved.

To this must be added the plan of the Senate Finance Committee, which after months of study is prepared to introduce bills saving about $5,000,000.

"There are other items in state government, expense that could be eliminated," Allison said, "and Legislators and Governor O'Daniel are pledged to economy. I am confident we can cut down expenses at least by $8,000,000 and with proper allocation there will be no need whatever of levying any new tax burdens, for the people are weary of them and they stifle industry."

"By those economies we will have enough to take care of the requirements for the blind, crippled neglected children and the teachers' retirement fund, besides having enough over to increase payments to those on Old Age Assistance rolls."

The State now collects about $200,000,000 a year in taxes and fees, which is 2,900 per cent more than the cost of government when Sayers was Governor, Allison said. So far no bill or constitutional amendments have been introduced except those which propose general sales levies for Old Age Assistance.

While Allison and colleagues plan to reduce costs by $8,000,000 or more, requests have come from colleges, eleemosynary institutions and departments for $15,000,000 increased appropriations over the record of the Forty-fifth Legislature.

So far, the Railroad Commission is the only department that has gone ahead with reductions in expenses. E. O. Thompson and G. A. Sadler members, saying such action carries out their campaign pledges.

Claude D. Teer, chairman of the Board of Control, Friday made public the board's budget for all departments, colleges, eleemosynary institutions and the judiciary system, a book comprising nearly 300 pages and listing about 12,000 items of state expense. These books will be turned over to the committees for guidance.

The significant disclosure in the budget is the fact that requests for appropriations during the biennial period total $91,134,000, while the board recommends $61,336,000, a reduction of more than $20,000,000. The board, however, did not attempt to recommend elimination of any department.

In 1850 electricity was so little understood that there was not even a classification in the Patent Office for electrical devices.

Transaction Tax Is Proposed

Austin, Jan. 18.—Twenty-four hours after he was inaugurated, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today proposed to the Texas legislature a sweeping new plan for paying old age pensions and meeting other financial problems of the state. Basis of the plan was a 1.6 per cent "transactions tax."

His proposals, made personally to legislators who gave him cordial applause when he first appeared in the hall of the house of representatives but listened in silence to his recommendations, called for:

1. Submission to the people of an amendment to the constitution which would guarantee to all persons over 65 years of age an income of $30 a month, this guarantee to be in cooperation with the federal government and the state's portion to be limited to $15.

2. Submission in the same amendment of the transaction tax.

3. Abolition of the state ad valorem tax.

4. Revenue from the transaction tax, in addition to paying old age pensions, also would be used to provide for dependent children, teachers retirement and confederate pensions.

5. Needy blind would be aided by direct appropriations of the legislature.

At the same time, the new governor, whose recommendations on old age pensions and taxes to pay them had been avidly awaited by both people and the legislature, submitted drafts of the amendment and an enabling bill to make the amendment effective.

In his campaign last summer climaxed by a precedent-smashing victory in the first Democratic primary, he had advocated payment of $30 a month pension, $15 by the state and $15 by the federal government, to all persons over 65 years of age, with the general qualifications of nationality, residence and the like now in the present law.

A storm of discussion immediately followed the message with senators and representatives differing sharply in comment.

The transaction tax was called a

"sales tax plus," a "glorified sales tax," a "pyramided sales tax," a multiplied sales tax on retail and wholesale transactions, in fact, a sales tax on every kind of commercial dealings.

The bill offered defined the word transaction as "any dealing of every kind whatsoever between two or more persons."

From the tax would be exempted salaries, wages and professional fees, the first sale by the producer of agricultural and livestock products, and street car fares and street sales of newspapers.

Estimating the tax would yield in good business times approximately $45,000,000 a year, O'Daniel termed it fair to everyone and what was needed to meet the situation. He had chosen it especially because it presented a broad base of taxation, he said.

A fat negro bumped into a rather lean son of the jumpy race.

"From the looks of you," he said angrily, "there must've been a famine."

"And from the looks of you," replied the lean gent, "you is the guy that caused it."

W. LEE O'DANIEL INAUGURATED GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

 who were listening in over our radios were denied a portion of it by some fellow who felt impelled to use this time in reciting the successive events pertaining to the inauguration up to that time and by a good woman who just had to describe minutely the dress and the hat of Mrs. O'Daniel.

But we heard the closing remarks of Governor Allred, and then came the inaugural address of the new governor. It consisted merely of glittering generalities. He told the great throng before him and his fat-lung radio audience nothing as to his plans for raising the money with which to pay the pensions he has promised. He reserved that for his address to the joint session of the legislature the next day.

But there was apparently no doubt in the minds of a great majority of the men and the women, the boys and the girls, the old and the young who thronged the city and hung upon his words, that O'Daniel was a Daniel come to judgment who would thrust all the wicked politicians out of the capital, a Moses come to lead the people of Texas out of their political Egypt into the Promised Land, a savior come to save the people from poverty and distress. And they are expecting him to accomplish just these things.

There was to be no Inaugural Ball, we were told, but there were two inaugural balls, one at each of the two great hotels of the city; and in addition to this there was a street dance a half a mile long. Eight blocks were roped off on Congress avenue immediately north of the Capitol and there the merry-makers Tuesday night had high carnival. One of our great regrets is that our good friend Brother Drennon could not be there to enjoy it. And so, it is now Governor O'Daniel. May he prove to be sensible and amenable to good advice and thereby make a good governor. But if he does, he will inevitably lose the love and adoration of thousands of his present devoted followers and worshipers.
