Geo. Knight Robbery Kidnapping Victim

Man Is Caught By Tullia Officers; Charged Here

George Knight, salesman of Raborn Chevrolet Inc., was kidnapped and highjacked Wednesday afternoon, released north of Lubbock, and two hours later a 27-year-old man giving his name as Dorsey M. Etzier was arrested by officers at Tullia in connection with the offenses.

The arrest came as the result of a hurried and widespread search instituted by Lubbock officers by radio, telephone, and fast automobile as soon as they were notified by George Knight, who, after being released, walked to a farmhouse near Lubbock airport and got a man to drive him to town.

Frank Mills, Texas Ranger, and James P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff at Lubbock, and Sheriff Tom Able directed the hunt for the man.

Etzier was brought to Tahoka Thursday just before noon, and placed in the Lynn county jail. District Attorney Truett Smith said he would be charged with robbery with firearms.

The story told by Knight of the escapade follows:

"Jake Leedy was painting some signs at the Raborn used car lot, and notified us at the shop that a man was there who wanted to buy a car. I went to the parking lot and a fellow was sitting in a 1937 Chevrolet sedan. He asked how much for the car, a 1937 Chevrolet sedan. I asked him what he had to trade and he said nothing, but would pay cash. I told him we could make him a real deal if he wanted to pay cash. He asked if he could drive it, and we started out.

"I knew before we had got 50 feet I had no business in there with him.

"That morning I had gone to Southland and remembered seeing the man asleep with his head on his suitcase beside the road near the Kuykendall place at the north edge of Tahoka. When I came back from Southland at about 11 o'clock he was still laying there.

Boy's Arm Broken Second Time

Melvin Bartley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bartley of route 4, fell and sustained a broken right arm while skating recently.

An x-ray examination in a local clinic revealed the fact that this same arm had been broken about two weeks ago when the lad fell from a horse. This previous break was not discovered until the fall at the skating rink pulled apart the edges that had been knitting together without aid of cast or bandage.

LIGHTS AT PARK

Floodlights recently have been installed at the City Park by the American Legion Auxiliary in order that the playground may be used at night.

Farm Measuring Near Completion

"We expect to wind up the measuring of farms next week," Assistant County Agent C. A. Lawrence told The News Wednesday.

Measurements, in fact, are coming from the field faster than the office force can handle them.

Mr. Lawrence asks that farmers remain patient, and would appreciate their not bothering the office force until they receive notice by mail that the office is ready for them.

Woods Achieves Golf Ambition

C. N. Woods did the thing last Thursday that all golfers hope to do some day. He shot a hole-in-one, and thereby becomes eligible for the coveted card of membership in the National Hole-in-one Club.

He holed-out his ball on the 200-yard upgrade No. 2 hole of the local course a No. 3 wood (spoon) while playing in company with Charles Townes, Fred Bucy, and Dr. Chase Thompson.

However, this was "Shorty's" second hole-in-one. Playing with Otis Felty on the Lubbock Country Club course in 1936, he shot a hole-in-one on the No. 9 hole, but had just the one witness and could not qualify for membership in the coveted club.

At present, the co-op offices are over the First National Bank, but more room will be needed in the future.

Compress Construction Work Going Forward; Plant Will Be Modern

Work is going forward this week on the new Underwood compress adjacent to the Santa Fe right-of-way in the northeast part of town, the largest single construction project in Tahoka in the past several years.

Flooring for the immense 136x-300 foot warehouse is being laid and framework of the structure will follow immediately. Much of the compress machinery is on the grounds, and other equipment has been bought, according to E. R. Edwards, local manager.

When complete, this promises to be one of the most modern compresses in this section, not of the conventional sheetiron type but constructed of the wide drop-siding and a composition roof. The entire structure will be painted possibly cream and brown.

A loading dock of concrete eight feet wide and 450 feet long facing the railroad track has been completed. A concrete unloading dock will be built on the west side. The press will be located at the north end of the building, and when a second unit of the warehouse is built will be near the center.

Water connection has been made with the city system by a six-inch pipe line one half mile long, and (Cont'd. on back page)

School Transfers Must Be Made

Applications for transfers from one school district to another for the coming school term must be made before August 1. Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell county superintendent, warns school patrons.

This is the state law, and must be adhered to, she says.

The new transportation law passed at the 1939 term of the legislature absolutely prohibits the transferring of any pupil from one district to another, where that child's grade is taught at home, so far as state aid is concerned. Students who transfer must provide their own transportation and can not even ride on a school bus and pay their own way, according to the new law. If the grade is not taught at home, the child may be transferred as in the past.

Co-op. Cold Storage Meeting Held

About 40 farmers attended a meeting here Tuesday night for discussion of the proposed co-operative storage plant, the movement for which was started two weeks ago.

Talks were made by Crawford L. Gilligan of Dallas and a Mr. Day of Plainview, who is interested in the plants there and at Floydada.

About 25 boys are expected to make the trip from Tahoka in company with the vocational agriculture boys from Fluvanna. The boys hope to cross over into Old Mexico, as well as camp and fish, while on the trip.

Farmers Ask Parity Payments

Applications are now being signed in the county agent's office for 1939 parity payments for cotton. C. A. Lawrence, assistant agent states, and all farmers of the county are asked to sign up as soon as possible.

The local office has been assured that payment by parity checks will be the first of October.

Lynn county has received about 91 percent of its soil conservation checks, Lawrence says. Most of the remaining nine percent are being delayed because the producer had ineligible cotton in the loan, and papers have been sent to Washington for the working out of deductions in checks.

Last year, Lynn county was the first county in this part of the state to receive government checks.

Smith Child Ill Of Typhoid Fever

Two-year-old Lequita Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, has been in a Lubbock hospital the past week critically ill with typhoid fever. She had a bad night Wednesday night and was showing little or no improvement.

The child recently suffered a skull fracture, and doctors thought this was causing her to run fever, but she became very ill last week and was taken to the hospital. A thorough diagnosis showed she had typhoid and had possibly been suffering with the malady for two or three weeks.

Many friends hope to hear the child is improving.

Lamesa Boosters Tahoka Visitors

Lamesa citizens dressed in cowboy regalia and making much noise arrived in Tahoka in midst of the rain Thursday morning to advertise the Tornado Club Rodeo there on Thursday and Friday, July 20 and 21.

Paving To Post Will Be Complete By This Fall

Contract Let On Highway 380 In Garza Also; Work Order Expected

Bids on construction of the remainder of U. S. Highway 380 in Lynn county, from Tahoka east to the Lynn-Garza line will be received by the State Highway department in Austin up to July 25, according to Resident Engineer Lon C. Ingram Jr.

Contracts will be let on two separate units. The first unit is for paving of three miles with "soil-cement base course and double asphalt surface treatment" from Tahoka east.

The second unit, beginning 8.7 miles east of town and extending eastward to the county line will be described as flexible base and double asphalt surface treatment, and will be 5.255 miles in length.

Contract was let last week to Bell and Braden, Amarillo, on 5.717 miles, which is the intervening unit, at $37,750.00. This, with the other two units would complete the highway in Lynn county.

Contract was also let a few days ago for the paving of this same highway from the Lynn-Garza line into Post.

Some W. P. A. labor will be used on the jobs, it is understood here.

Highway officials hope to complete the topping work over the entire course between here and Post before cold weather sets in this fall. In fact, the work order is expected any day on that section for which the contract has already been let in Lynn county.

Paving of the road comes the culmination of efforts of the Lynn county commissioners courts and interested citizens for many years.

Tahoka citizens hope to see a great increase in traffic over the route as a result of the paving. With the paving west of Tahoka, through Terry county, and the work now being done in Yoakum county and in New Mexico, this road will soon be a principal route from Dallas, Fort Worth, and other points west to Roswell, the New Mexico resorts, and to the West Coast.

George Mahon Pushes Request For West Texas Cotton Laboratory

Washington, July 13. — Request for a Cotton Ginning and Fiber Laboratory for West Texas was brought directly to Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture by a Committee of Texas Congressmen on Saturday. Those conferring with the Secretary were Representative George Mahon of Colorado, Ed. Gossett of Wichita Falls, and Bob Poage of Waco, composing a Committee appointed by the Texas Delegation several weeks ago to cooperate with the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas in sponsoring the Laboratory for the western cotton area.

The work sought for West Texas would be done in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture's Cotton Ginning and Fiber Laboratory now existing at Stoneville, Mississippi. The Laboratory there was established in 1930 and has done considerable valuable work in the improvement of cotton fiber and ginning methods in areas characterized by damp atmospheric conditions. It was pointed out to Secretary Wallace that an altogether different situation exists in the western cotton areas where atmospheric conditions are dry and often result in static electricity, which is a serious handicap in the operation of gins and at the same times is a serious fire hazard. The Texas extension Service has estimated that gins in the West Texas area lose an average of four days per month during the ginning season from this cause, and also that 59 out of 3,498 gins in Texas burned last year.

The greatest benefit from experimentation under such a project would be expected from the improvement in the cotton fiber, thus enabling the individual farmer to benefit directly from the higher price value of better staples. Importance of improved ginning methods was stressed as a necessary part of the cotton improvement campaign sponsored by the Department of Agriculture through one variety cotton communities, etc. The Department has estimated that cotton staple last year was increased 1-32 of an inch, which added approximately three million dollars to the cotton farmer's income through increased staple value. The committee urged Secretary Wallace to give special consideration to the proposed Laboratory as a means of bringing greater benefits of the cotton improvement campaign to the farmers of the western cotton area.

Several weeks ago various conferences were held with Department of Agriculture officials by members of the Texas Delegation Committee and the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, including Hon. Burriss Jackson of Hillsboro, Chairman, and Professor Earl Heard, Head of the Textile Engineering Department of Texas Technological College. The meeting with Secretary Wallace Saturday was for the purpose of emphasizing directly to him the need for the project and urging his recommendation of the project in the Department's budget for the next fiscal year.

Representative Mahon, Chairman of the Texas Delegation Committee, explained that no new legislation would be necessary since the Act establishing the Stoneville Laboratory authorized establishment of branch laboratories when their need was evident. He also pointed out that the availability of facilities at Texas Technological College for cooperation with the Stoneville Laboratory would enable the Department to conduct the project without extensive allotment of funds. The Department estimates that approximately $75,000 would be required for the first year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Kennedy and children left Wednesday for Mississippi to visit his mother.

Texas Tech Man Sets Track Record

Lubbock, July 13.—Marsh Farmer, brilliant one-armed Texas Tech cinder path artist, has definitely established himself as a surefire prospect for the next United States Olympic team.

Farmer literally leaped into the national spotlight July 3 when he broke the National A. A. U. 110-meter hurdles in the record smashing time of 14.2. The meet was staged at the University of Nebraska and Farmer's record has been recognized by A. A. U. officials.

ROSIUCRUCIANS TO SEEK "PHILOSOPHER'S STONE"

The ancient alchemical search for the "chymical marriage" of the elements and forces of the universe will be resumed by Rosiucrucian scientists in modern laboratories.

The physicists and chemists of the newly established Rosiucrucian research laboratories in San Jose, California, are to be convinced that the allegorical "Philosopher's Stone"—an intangible medium which the alchemists, fathers of modern chemistry, believed bound together all animate and inanimate things—has a truly scientific existence.

W. E. Edmunds of Post, Texas, Route 2, local member of the Rosiucrucian Order, AMORC, says he has received a communication from the Grand Lodge of the philosophic Order to the effect that the prejudices which have existed toward the veiled writings of the alchemists will be put aside and a serious attempt made to prove their contentions in fully equipped laboratories, using the facilities of modern science. W. E. Edmunds states that the "Philosopher's Stone" was but a popular term used by the alchemists for a prime materia, an energy out of which it was said all matter evolved, even lower forms of life. The transmutation of one form of matter into another was thought possible in past centuries by the discovery of this prima materia and the controlling of its development. Modern physics has proven transmutation possible but has heretofore scorned the belief in a universal, an element or force which binds together into a complex unit living and organic matter. It is the hope of the Rosiucrucians, therefore, states W. E. Edmunds, to vindicate the ancient alchemists who were often executed for their bold beliefs.

The alchemical research will begin in the new Rosiucrucian AMORC laboratories early in September this year, it is said, after a thorough analysis of the translated writings of the ancient Greek and Arabian alchemists is completed this summer. The mystical phraseology used by the alchemists is one of the greatest difficulties the researchers will encounter. As an example, states W. E. Edmunds, the "Philosopher's Stone" is often referred to in old manuscripts as a substance—"twas not of wood, nor of any manner of metal, nor was it in any wise of stone, nor of horn, nor of bone."

NATIONAL COTTON GIRL IS ENGINEER

Lubbock, July 13.—Opal Hill, graduate of the textile engineering department of Texas Technological College, and much publicized as "National Cotton Girl" during the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, will start work for a textile firm in New York City July 10. Miss Hill was reared at Post where she was an employee in the Postex Cotton Mill before entering the Tech.

REVIVAL CLOSES AT EDITH

The Edith community has enjoyed a week revival meeting the past week, conducted by Rev. W. P. (Ted) Brian, pastor of the Redwine church.

Come and worship with us. We will have preaching Sunday, July 16, at 10 o'clock by Rev. Walter Brian, pastor of the Bethel and Wells churches. And on July 23, Rev. W. P. (Ted) Brian will preach again at 10 o'clock. People living in this community are urged to come and join us and help us organize a much needed church and Sunday school.

In order for Bro. Brian to fill his other pulpit at his own church we will have Sunday school following the preaching service.—Reporter.

Farm Machinery Loans Available

Whatever lack of harvesting machinery may exist in the county can be remedied by a community service loan through the Farm Security Administration, Jack Welch, County Supervisor, pointed out recently. These loans are made to provide service essential to sound farming practices, he said.

"We often find," Mr. Welch explained, "that the best use of the land and the labor of a family calls for equipment which they do not have and which is too expensive for them to buy for their own use. Thrashers, combines, binders, mowers, and haybalers are good examples of the kind of equipment that most farmers cannot afford to keep for their own use. Consequently, the Farm Security Administration has arranged to loan individuals the money to buy this equipment if they can show that other people will make enough use of the machinery to guarantee upkeep and repayment. A signed agreement covering the necessary acreage to insure profitable use of the equipment is required."

During the next few months several thousand acres of forage crops will be harvested either in the form of bundles or silage, Mr. Welch said. Arrangements for proper harvesting should be made far enough in advance to insure the peak value of the crop, he cautioned.

Money is available to the county to set up cooperative loans for the purchase of ensilage cutters, binders, etc. for harvesting feed crops. These loans may be advanced for a period of from three to five years at 3% interest, according to Jack Welch, County Supervisor.

RUTH CLASS HAVE PICNIC

The Ruth Class of the Tahoka First Baptist Church enjoyed an all-day picnic at the MacKenzie Park in Lubbock on Thursday of last week.

They had as their guests Mrs. Jim Burleson and their teacher Mrs. D. V. Smith. Everyone reported a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Everett, son and daughter, Claude and Mrs. Agatha Gauntt, of Granbury, are here for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gray and family. Mrs. Gray is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett. The Everetts are old residents of Lynn county. They moved here in 1904 and moved away in 1930, but they still like to come back to good old Lynn.

Truett Smith went up to Claude Tuesday after Mrs. Smith and son, Gordon Truett, who visited there several days with her parents.

Miss Nina Mae Ratliff of Palestine is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Terry Thompson. Miss Ratliff is Mrs. Thompson's sister.

Mrs. A. M. Cade visited in Sweetwater a few days this week.

STRAYED—Cream colored, 16 mo. old Jersey heifer. Mrs. Pearl Brown.

Wilson Boys Going To Coscho River

The Wilson Chapter of F. F. A. at its regular meeting Tuesday night completed plans for a four days fishing and swimming trip to the Concho River near San Angelo. It is expected that more than thirty of the 45 members will make the trip.

The boys, together with the superintendent of schools, S. G. Anthony, and the vocational agriculture teacher, Stillwell H. Russell, will leave Wilson at 6 o'clock on Monday, July 17, in one of the new school buses which was kindly furnished by the board for the trip. They plan to return Thursday afternoon.

This trip is part of the regular program offered students of agriculture in the Wilson High School. The Chapter president, David Evans, set Sunday, July 16, noon, as the last date for members to enroll for the trip. All members who intend making the trip should see either Mr. Anthony or Mr. Russell before the deadline hour in order that they may purchase supplies for the trip.

Levelland Granted New Rural Route

Levelland, July 6.—A fourth rural mail route was added here July 1, making a total of 322 miles for the four routes. Postmaster Harry Mann said.

Nearly 800 families on farms are being served by the routes. Bryce Erwing is carrier on route 1; Mrs. Jewel Reed on route 2; O. D. Drake on route 3, and R. A. Carter on route 4.

Plans are under way to secure improved service to the north part of the county, now served from Littlefield. Mail for Pep, Whittharal and Oklahoma Flats takes from two to three days, through Lubbock and Littlefield.

Mrs. S. D. Bailey and son, J. J. (Tobie) Bishop, and family of Lubbock, and granddaughter, Miss Fay Bishop, of this city spent last week visiting Mrs. Bailey's daughters, Mrs. C. G. Pennington, at McAlister, Okla., and Mrs. Jeff Thurston at Wilburton. They reported a great time on July 4th. Crops are good all through Oklahoma, rain has been plentiful, and corn is especially fine.

MRS. CRAFT HOME

Mrs. L. F. Craft, a teacher in the Tahoka schools, returned Wednesday night from Abilene, where she has been attending summer school in Hardin-Simmons University.

Kingston and Kenneth Crouch and Joe Waldrip of the Wells community were among those attending the Stamford Rodeo and Reunion on July 4.

W. E. Hegi and family of Glendale, California, are here visiting his brother, Pete Hegi, and wife. W. E. is chief of police at Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Howell of Littlefield were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Rutherford Wednesday evening.

Miss Erma Davis of Austin is here visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Emil Prohl. Miss Davis is Mrs. Prohl's sister.

Miss Elizabeth Wyatt of Port Arthur is here spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wyatt.

Miss Jo Alice Brooks, nurse in the Lubbock Sanitarium, is spending her two weeks vacation visiting her parents here.

Anita Jo and Sara Sue Rochelle of Lubbock are here visiting their grandfather, E. I. Hill and other relatives.

Judge Tom Garrard was in Andrews on business Wednesday.

NO ROOM FOR HITLER
HELLERS IN AMERICA

"Thousands of German-American citizens throughout the country", says Newsweek of July 10, "gaped last week at a mimeographed sheet of official Nazi stationery labeled 'Proclamation for the Registration of German Nationals now Living in Foreign Countries and for the Enlisting of Volunteers'. The notice called on all non-naturalized Germans born in 1920 to report for labor and active military duty in the Reich, set heavy fines and jail sentences for failure to register by certain dates and ordered them to report for labor service by April 1, 1940, to be followed by military service six months later. It also called for 16- and 17-year-old volunteers.

"After the first shock of amazement", Newsweek continues, "the Nazis draft order met with a storm of protest. Officials of German-American societies in New York and Cleveland termed it 'an affront' and 'an intolerable insult'."

We believe that most native-born and naturalized Germans living in this country are patriotic American citizens and are loyal to the Stars and Stripes. They have no use for the high-handed methods of Dictator Hitler. They appreciate the freedom that the Bill of Rights in our Constitution guarantees to them as citizens of this country. And all other genuine Americans appreciate their good citizenship and patriotism. We know that the Germans in this county are fine American citizens, loyal to our common country.

But there are certain German bunds in the North and East who recently have been "Helling for Hitler."

They have an invitation now to return to Germany and get ready to fight for Hitler. We hope they go. We can well spare all such cattle from our shores. If these guys do not appreciate the political and religious liberty guaranteed to them by the Constitution of this Government, under whose flag they have been earning a livelihood and in many instances more than a competency, they are not fit to be or to become American citizens. If they want to Hell for Hitler, whose main business has been to destroy the freedom of the individual and to hold in contempt the idea that the individual has any personal liberty, let them Hell for Hitler somewhere over on the Rhine—not on the Hudson or the Potomac.

Git up and git, you Hitler hellers.
Hike back to Germany and get your belly full of Hitlerism.

We do not think any too much of any judge who accepts his judicial position with the knowledge that he is expected in advance, by the appointing authority, to hold this way or that way on any particular piece of legislation or proposed legislation if and when its constitutionality should be called in question. Members of the judiciary should at all-times feel perfectly free to express their honest, unbiased opinions in all cases submitted to them. It is bad enough for Congress to be controlled by the Chief Executive; it is just too bad for the courts to be so controlled.

Almost every day we read of some drunken fool causing some kind of automobile collision or otherwise inflicting injury to innocent people. Liquor is worse than a mocker; it is a devil. Liquor advertising should be barred from the radio, the newspapers, and the magazines. Decent people are getting tired, any way, of listening to this beer-boasting over the radio and they are getting tired of seeing hellish whiskey advertisements emblazoned on the pages of their favorite magazine or newspaper.

Louisiana seems to have been in the grip of a bunch of thieves and grifters the past few years as an aftermath of the Huey Long regime.
It is passing strange that in America the people of any state can become so wrapped up in any man as to permit him to become, to all intents and purposes, just as much a dictator as Hitler or Mussolini.
This should serve as a warning to the rest of us. It is never safe for John Jones sees a big strong bully approach a little weak fellow and forcibly takes the latter's money away from him. He then sees this big bully threatening to rob or to by that mad man of Europe, that murderous bully, Adolf Hitler.

Wherever they go, the "Touring

Of 1297 users queried among those of 12 states, 1206 stated CARDUI benefited them. That is 93 out of every 100!

Users everywhere are glad to tell how CARDUI has made them its help, they gained strength, energy, were thus relieved of the symptoms of "functional dysmenoralso say that, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in larger doses helps "at the time" to

ODDS AND ENDS

By Ee Eye the Elder

What a great expanse of fertile, level land we have out here on these plains!

Level? How level? What a foolish question! Any one can see that they are almost perfectly level—flat as a pancake in places, gently rolling in other places; interspersed here and there with depressions of varying size which become lakes following heavy rains or a succession of rains, deeply indented at intervals along the eastern border by draws and canyons. But on the whole, this vast expanse of territory, extending virtually from the Texas & Pacific railway on the south to the breaks of the Canadian River on the north, a distance considerably more than 200 miles as the crow flies, and from the irregular rim of the cap rock on the east to the line of New Mexico on the west, an average distance of more than a hundred miles—this great expanse of territory, you say, is remarkably level.

And indeed to any one who, for the first time or the fiftieth time, ascends the cap rock and emerges out on the plains west of Gail, west of Post, west of Dickens, west of Matador, or west of Quitaque, a panorama that is truly enchanting is presented—the vast reaches of fertile, level plains!

But, are the plains as level as they seem?

Well, according to official figures, Tahoka is situated 3,090 feet above sea level. Now start west on highway No. 380 and by the time you reach Brownfield 28 miles distant you will have climbed 222 feet. Continue west and at Plains in Yoakum county you will have reached an altitude of 3,400 feet, and at Bronco at the state line, 78 miles west of Tahoka, you will stand on dirt more than 3,500 feet above sea level. You will have climbed more than 400 feet since leaving Tahoka. From the top of the cap rock a few miles west of Post, the increase in altitude will be well above 500 feet.

Now compare this with a trip from Galveston to Dallas, a distance of considerably more than 300 miles. On this journey your ascent will be only 512 feet. In other words you climb upward as many feet on a journey of a hundred miles across the south plains as you do on the journey of 300 miles from Galveston to Dallas.

Other highways across the plains from east to west tell a similar story.

In going from Lamesa due west 42 miles to Seminole, you make an ascent of 337 feet. From O'Donnell to Seagraves, less than 40 miles, you climb 307 feet. Starting at Rails at an altitude of 3,108 feet, passing through Lubbock and thence almost due west to Bledsoe near the line of New Mexico, you have soared upward 850 feet, the altitude of Bledsoe being 3,958 feet. From South Plains, through Plainview and thence to Muleshoe you make an ascent of 577 feet. At Silverton on the east edge of the Plains, the altitude is 3,261 feet. Almost due west on the Texas-New Mexico line is Farwell with an altitude of 4,375 feet. With almost exactly 100 miles of "level" plains between the two towns the difference in altitude is 1,114 feet.

In traversing the plains from south to north, there is also a marked increase in elevation—only slight along the rim of the cap rock, more pronounced on a north and south middle line, and still more marked along the New Mexico border.

The altitude of Midland on the south is 2,779 feet, that of Amarillo on the north is 3,876, a difference of approximately 900 feet. From the southeast corner of New Mexico up the state line to Farwell one climbs almost 1,400 feet. To us, it was surprising to learn that Whiteface, situated sixteen miles west of Levelland, has as high an altitude as Amarillo, the altitude of Whiteface being 3,678 feet and Amarillo 3,676. Bledsoe, near the state line due west of Lubbock, is 282 feet higher than Amarillo, and Farwell is 700 feet higher.

Taking another angle: If one comes up on the Santa Fe, he climbs the cap rock and emerges out on the plains at Southland at an elevation of 3,023 feet. Proceeding up the Santa Fe northwest to Farwell, about 120 miles away, he has made a climb of 1352 feet. This is a greater ascent than he made in the entire distance of 350 miles up the Santa Fe from Galveston to Brownwood, the altitude of Brownwood being only 1,342 feet. On the north plains the contrast is even more marked. From Claude at about the east edge of the high plains, on an airline northwest to Texline the distance is about 140 miles. The difference in altitude is 1,300 feet, Texline being 4,694 feet above sea level. Now let's start again at Galveston. Coming northwest to Vernon, an airline distance of probably 450 miles, one has reached an altitude of only 1,205 feet. The incline on the north plains from southeast to northwest is three times as great per mile as the incline from Galveston to Vernon.

We have been talking much about the cap rock. "What is the cap rock?" some chance reader who has never seen the plains may ask. The cap rock is the top rock, or rock-like substance, that underlies the surface of the plains and that is exposed to view by the abrupt and steep declivity that marks the edge of this table-land. In some places, the descent for many feet is almost perpendicular, but for the most part it is merely a steep declivity, or viewed from below, an abrupt escarpment several hundred feet high.

How high? Well, the height increases as one proceeds from south to north along the irregular border line of the plains until the Palo Duro Canyon is reached.

From Gail below the cap rock to Lamesa 35 miles west on the plains, the ascent is only 350 to 400 feet.

From Post, situated at the foot of the cap rock, to Tahoka 20 miles west of its rim, the ascent is 500 feet. The altitude of Post is 2,590 feet, that of Tahoka is 3,090 feet. The distance between the two towns is 25 miles.

From Post to Southland, situated on the plains near the rim of the cap rock, the ascent is 433 feet.

From Dickens below the cap rock 25 miles west to Crosbyton on the plains, the climb is 836 feet.

From Matador to Floydada, 31 miles distance, the ascent is 832 feet; from Quitaque to Silverton, only 16 miles apart, the difference in altitude is 691 feet. North of the Palo Duro, the ascent from Clarendon to Claude, 30 miles distance, is 670 feet.

Perhaps all these figures have grown tiresome to you. If you have managed to read down this far, we will now bring you back upon the plains for a few paragraphs.

You will note from these figures that although this high table-land may be comparatively even and smooth, the table at some time in the past, or through the forces of nature working through the ages, has become considerably tilted.

If this sand hill out here near Tahoka, for instance, were large enough and tall enough for its summit to be on a level with the Farwell-Texico country on the New Mexico line, it would tower approximately 1,300 feet above the surrounding terrain. Whew! That really would be a sand hill to write home about.

Furthermore, if these plains were really on a level instead of being in a tilted position, not increasing materially in altitude as one passes across them from east to west or from south to north, our climate would doubtless be somewhat different from what it is and our annual rainfall considerably different, probably much diminished.

On the other hand, if the plains were virtually on a level as one proceeds eastward and southward from the Farwell country, making no substantial decrease in altitude until the rim of the cap rock is reached, then dropping down precipitately, Man! we would have a cap rock that would be the eighth wonder of the world! Arising abruptly 1,500 to 2,000 feet above the sub-caprock country along a stretch of 200 miles people would come across the continent to see it. For the people of Post down here, the sun would set about three or four o'clock in the afternoon even on these long summer days.

Honestly, though, we don't know how these Plains people could get down to Post unless the Government would dig a hole in the ground with WPA labor and would let them down on an elevator, as some people are taken down into the Carlsbad Cavern.

But, come to think about it, we doubt if Post would be there, for it is not likely that the old man C. W. Post could have sold out his plains lands to farmers without providing them a mighty big ladder or sumpin' to get up and down the cap rock on. And the Santa Fe could not have built its line of railway on to Texico except by digging a tunnel into the cap rock near Post and thence passing about 1,000 or 1,200 feet under Slaton and Lubbock, in which event it would have been a little inconvenient to have extended its branch line to Tahoka. We doubt if they would have done it, and then where would we have been all these years without a railroad?

It all sounds a little goofy, doesn't it?

Heck! What did we start this "colyum" for any way?

Southern Women Eager to Tell!

"One is bound to be gratified by the enthusiasm of Southern women for CARDUI!" says one of the Touring Reporters now conducting a Query in Southern cities.

"Of the 1297 CARDUI users we have seen so far," she said, "1208—or 93 out of every 100—said it definitely benefited them!" CARDUI's remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

Hanes Enjoying New York Trip

W. T. Hanes, superintendent of the Tahoka schools, who is visiting a brother and seeing the sights of New York, writes friends that he and wife and son are enjoying their vacation but that the noise of the city is getting on his nerves.

"New York should be a country by itself", he writes. "They are very keen about 'my rights' up here. Street corner orators are very plentiful. Columbia University is a city itself.

"We spent last week end at Atlantic City and came back on the coast highway and finished the trip by ferry, which brought us in by the Statue of Liberty.

"To me, there is not nearly as much to the Fair as the natural shows of these Dagoes.

"I saw Sam West and Washington tie the Yanks yesterday, while 61.00 watched. The Yanks broke loose in the second game, though, and won 11 to 1. It was Lou Gehrig day, and there was a lot of ceremony. I got short-changed at the gate."

He also saw the Joe Louis-Galento fight, and many other events of interest.

Though rooms are high in the big hotels, he says one can get almost any kind of accommodations he wishes to pay for. He was able to secure rooms at a very moderate price where his brother resides.

Among other things visited, was a high school in which there are from 7,000 to 10,000 students. He says school problems there seem to be much the same as in Tahoka, and almost anywhere else, for that matter.

COMPRESS CONSTRUCTION WORK GOING FORWARD

(Cont'd. from page 1) three fire plugs have been installed adjacent to the plant, with smaller lines extending over the plant for fire protection.

The old office from the Underwood warehouse near the cemetery has been moved to the site and will be used as a sample room.

Office of the company will be a unique one. A railroad combination passenger car has been moved to the grounds and is being remodeled to include offices, storage room, vault, and rest rooms.

Small houses will be built later for employees of the compress.

J. P. Brooks, Slaton, construction superintendent for the Underwood interests, and about twenty-five workmen, most of whom are local men, are employed in building the plant.

Six skilled compress construction men with the company are living in another railroad car, "The New Deal", on the tracks near the site. Like everything else that belongs to Archie Underwood, this car is a show-place and a unique traveling home which he moves from job to job, where the men are needed.

As one enters "The New Deal", there is a small living room, fully furnished. Next is a bathroom and toilet; then, two bunk rooms modernly furnished, even including electric fans. A large dining room is immaculately clean, furnished with modernistic furniture, and has handpainted pictures on the walls. But, the kitchen is one which would be the envy of any housewife. It has the very best of equipment, including a gas range, refrigerator, cabinets, sink, etc., and a negro cook and porter is in charge thereof.

Mr. Brooks states that he hopes to have the compress completed in time for the opening of the cotton season.

Erection of a compress in Tahoka brings a new payroll to town, will facilitate the handling of Lynn county cotton and is the culmination of this long-sought enterprise.

GEORGE KNIGHT ROBBERY KIDNAPPING VICTIM

 "We got about a mile or so from Tahoka and the fellow stopped the car, got out like he was looking at a tire and came back with a gun. He told me to go out to the side of the road and get his suitcase. I did.

"Then began one of the most fantastic rides I ever heard of. He held the gun in my side and drove with the other hand—making 85 miles an hour all the way into Lubbock. And he slowed down just once, to go through the traffic lights at the courthouse square; then souped her up again and dodged the traffic about five miles north of Lubbock to near the airport.

"Then he made me give him all my money, about $14. He told me to 'get going north and don't look around.' I did and I didn't—in that order. At least, more or less. He came back toward Lubbock and that was the last I saw of him."

"He had an old style pistol and kept it in his right hand and cocked all the time while he drove wildly with his left hand. When he let me out he took $14 off of me, headed the car south and said I could find the car in Big Spring tomorrow. I knew he wasn't going that way, though, and expected he circled a few sections and headed north.

"I walked about a mile the fastest I ever walked to a house but they didn't have a telephone."

Irby Davis, who drove Knight to the sheriff's office was hijacked of $58 at a filling station in Lubbock Monday. His alleged hijackers, B. B. Barstow and L. L. Bentley, were arrested in San Angelo.

Lubbock officers, quoted in Wednesday morning's Avalanche, told the rest of the story in connection with the abduction and robbery.

Tulia officers, hearing of the escaping man intercepted him near that town, drove up to the car and ordered the driver to throw up his hands. He complied with the request.

In the car, also were two Lubbock boys, O. L. James Jr. and Albert Mitchell, who had flagged the speeding car in the outskirts of Plainview, and, like Knight, "realized at once we just ought not to have been in there with him."

Driving as fast as the car would go, the boys said he skidded around corners on two wheels, ran off the pavement, and came near wrecking the car on several occasions.

Tulia officers took charge of the man near Kress, and carried him back to Tulia, from which place they notified Lubbock officers of the capture, and Ranger Mills and Sheriff Able brought him back to Lubbock, where he was kept in jail until Thursday.

He told the ranger, the Avalanche said, he was "born and raised in Virginia" but that he had been away four years. He said he got to this section this week, three days out of Los Angeles on a freight. Lacerations on his back, shoulders and arms he explained came from a fall from a train "100 miles this side of El Paso." He was treated in the jail by Dr. William L. Baugh, county health officer, after which he dictated and signed a statement before Mills and Ragan Reed, jailer and deputy sheriff.

"You can go just so far," he said to Mills, repeating a statement he earlier had made to arresting Tulia officers. Deputies Sheriff Jim Cowler and Lee Ward. He further said, when informed of Knight's claims, he had taken only $5 from the man, not $14. He claimed he had paid only one fine in his life—at Danville, Ill., for drunkenness. He explained his "just so far" reference by saying he had had nothing to eat "since Monday" and that he was "hurt and sick and not able to walk very well." He said he had no criminal record other than "what you have against me now."

He said he had no family. "I went to the West Coast for a job, but I didn't find anything. I'm a meat cutter by trade.

In alleged possession of the man, in a glove compartment of the car, was found a .32 caliber "off-model" six-shooter. There were five unfired shells in its chambers.
