Lyntegar Extensions Cover Six Counties

Move Offices To Larkin Building

Extensions of Lyntegar Rural Electric Co-operative lines are still in the formulative stage, but extensions are practically assured in Borden, Dawson, Lynn, Garza, Terry, and Hockley counties that will increase the distribution system from the approved 330 miles to 500 miles of lines.

Gariand Pennington, manager of the co-operatives, states that 100 miles of new lines in Dawson county are already almost assured, a 12 mile extension in Borden county has been signed up and only a few signers lacking to run the lines into Gall, the county seat, where 30 customers have signed for service.

About 15 miles of extensions are expected in Lynn, 10 or 12 in Garza, 6 or 7 in Terry, and at least 25 in Hockley.

The original project called for 330 miles, and workmen are still busy stringing lines on this project. As soon as Project A is completed, work is expected to start on Project B, the extensions.

Power was turned into the lines at Meadow two weeks ago, and about 250 customers are now receiving electric energy over 120 miles of line.

This week general offices of Lyntegar were moved to the Larkin building, on the southwest corner of the square, which has been remodeled, redecorated, and is being fully furnished for business.

The building occupied is 25x80 feet in size, contains display space, office space for secretaries, manager, and engineer. On the balcony will be offices for the engineering department, and the rear, lower floor will be used for storage of supplies.

When complete, Lyntegar will be one of the most extensive co-operative power service companies available to farmers in the country, serving six South Plains counties and making electricity available to 1200 or 1500 farms.

Business Firms Making Changes

One business firm changed and five moved to new locations this week.

Jim Dye, owner of the Hub Barber Shop since September, 1929, sold his shop to Ed Hamilton, owner of the Black Cat Cafe. Dye, who is justice of the peace, said business of his office was the cause of his selling out the barber business.

Hamilton is moving his Black Cat Cafe from the west side of the square to the space occupied by the Hub Barber Shop on the north side of the square. Forrester Insurance Agency has moved to the old Security Bank building, which is also occupied by Reid Radio Shop.

A partition will be run down the middle of the barber shop building, and that space formerly occupied by Mrs. Forrester will be occupied by the barber shop, of which W. L. Palmer will be the manager. Fred Stagg of McLean also will be connected with the shop.

Lyntegar Electric Cooperative also moved Monday from offices over the First National Bank to the Larkin building at the southwest corner of the Square, where they are remodeling the south half of the building for offices, storage, and display space. This will be general offices for the extensive co-op whose lines will serve four or five South Plains counties.

R. W. Fenton Jr., insurance man, will move his offices from the present location on the second floor of the First National Bank building to that vacated by Lyntegar.

Mrs. A. L. Smith is in a Lubbock Hospital and expects to undergo major surgery today—Friday. Friends here are hoping that she will withstand the ordeal and make a rapid and complete recovery.

Road Jobs Get Final Approval

Final approval of two paving projects on U. S. Highway 380 in Lynn county, east of Tahoka, was given the first of the week.

Contracts were let on the two jobs a few days ago, and the WPA has passed on the application for aid. On the 8.25 miles of paving, federal funds will be furnished in the sum of $16,696, and the state will furnish $58,497.

The project calls for the use of 148 workers.

A. J. Barnes Of Wells Is Buried

Funeral services for Alfred J. Barnes, 57, prominent citizen of the Wells community, were held in the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. K. Horn, former pastor at O'Donnell and Wells, officiating.

Mr. Barnes had been down at San Antonio for some time for his health, according to information given the News, and died at San Angelo Tuesday on his way home. Further information relating to his death was not immediately available.

Mr. Barnes leaves a wife and several children besides numerous other relatives. He had been a resident of the Wells community about fifteen years, coming to this county from Roscoe, where he had resided many years prior to his removal here. He had a number of long-time friends here, including the editor, and numerous friends at O'Donnell and throughout that section of the county.

Interment was in the cemetery at O'Donnell.

Revival Brings Large Crowds

Services that began Sunday morning in the revival series have increased in attendance and interest at every service. Mr. Elton Flomman has won the hearts of the people with his hymns of heaven which he renders with his clear and beautiful tenor voice. The pastor preached Sunday and Monday, Rev. Ben Hardy Tuesday morning and Rev. H. C. Smith took over Tuesday evening. The choir loft has been almost full of singers and tonight will be cooled by a large fan, so the building will be comfortable.

The interest manifested to date in the meeting should lead to a revival before the close of the series. The children have chosen sides which they call the Indians and the Pale Faces and which are designated by red and white ribbons respectively. They have doubled in attendance as have the Youth. The children meet with their leaders, the pastor, singer and Mrs. Irving Stewart in the church at 5 each afternoon, for chorus work and Bible stories. The Young People meet at 7:30 in the basement.

A cordial invitation is given to the town and surrounding community to join with us in the services. There is still room for a few more in the choir.

The hours of worship are 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

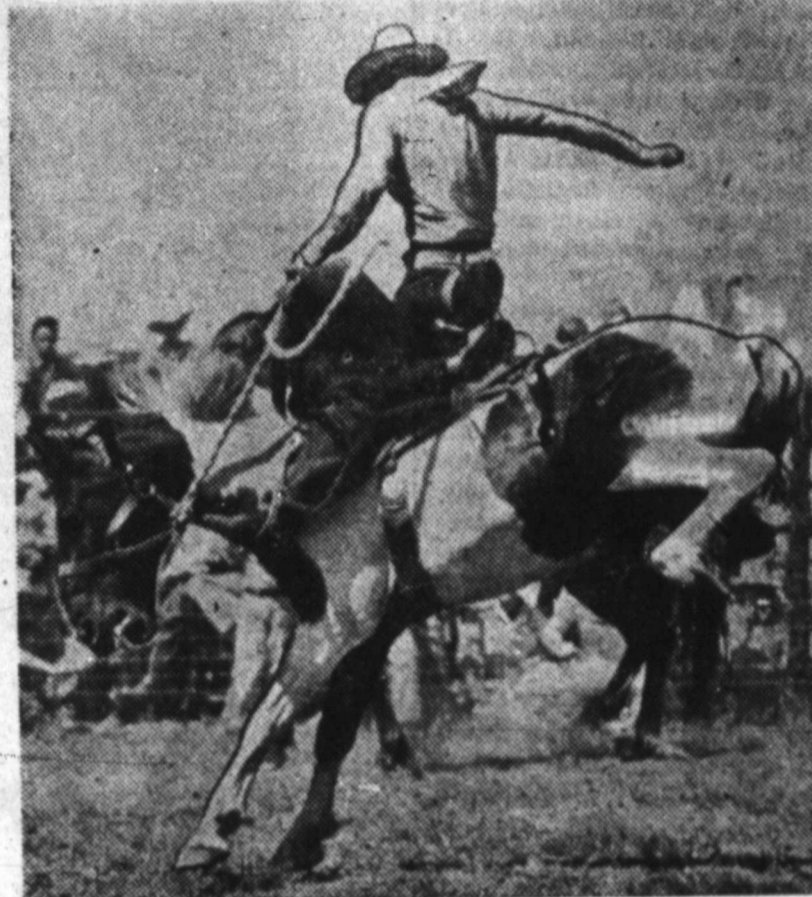

Mrs. W. D. Nevels Digs Trench Silo

Mrs. W. D. Nevels is having a 100-ton trench silo built on her ranch west of town.

She expects to feed out some livestock for the market next winter from this fall's feed crop. The silo will hold a part of her surplus feed.

Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes was a business visitor to Dallas over the week-end.

Famous Bucking Stock, Riders Coming

Connolly Will Open Business

Jeff Connolly is moving the old Connolly warehouse, in the middle of the block south of Edwards implement Co., to a new location just to the north and facing Highway 380.

The building is being remodeled, a used car lot built, and Mr. Connolly will soon open a parts house.

Until a few days ago, Jeff Connolly had been connected with Raborn Chevrolet Inc., and prior to that was connected with his brother, Chester Connolly, in the Chevrolet business.

Coach Will Attend School At Houston

Leo Jackson, coach-elect of Tahoka high, and wife were here Monday from Floydada, rented an apartment, and made plans to move here in about two weeks.

Next week he expects to attend the annual coaching school of the Texas High School Coaches Association being held in Houston. A member of his football team at Flomot, Thayne Amcietie, will play in the state all-star game at the close of the school.

Jackson has been coach at Flomot, Motley county, two years, where his Class B football teams won one district championship and was runner-up once. He is a graduate of Floydada high, and of West Texas State Teachers College, at both of which places he was a stellar all-around athlete. He comes highly recommended as a leader and trainer of boys.

Yoakum County Gets Refinery

The Shell Oil Company is constructing a refinery to cost $1,125,000 in the vicinity of the Wasson and Denver City oil fields in the southern portion of Yoakum county, it is reported.

These fields promise to soon become among the most productive in West Texas, and Denver City, which was started about a year ago, is experiencing the same kind of boom that other oil towns have undergone in various parts of Texas the past few years.

State Officials Will Speak At Roundup

O'Daniel Will Miss Roundup

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, who was recently invited to attend the Tahoka Roundup, has written Mrs. J. W. Elliott, Happy Smith and other Tahoka citizens that due to the press of business in his office he can not attend the celebration.

The Governor sends his regrets for not being able to attend, and extends best wishes to the town and the Roundup Association for the success of the celebration on August 24 and 25.

Directors Plan Big Celebration

Among state officials expected to attend the third annual Tahoka Roundup this year are L. A. Woods, state superintendent; Geo. H. Sheppard, state comptroller; Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner; and several members of the State Board of Education. State Senator G. H. Nelson and State Representative Alvin R. Allison will also be present, and possibly the Light-crust Doughboys.

Invitations are being extended several other officials by Tahoka citizens. Sheppard and Thompson have accepted tentatively.

Each morning at 10 o'clock there will be a speakers program on the courthouse square, honoring prominent state and district officials, and possibly a musical program.

The parade each day at 1 o'clock will be led by Tahoka's 47-piece band, attired in their royal blue and white uniforms. The band is under the direction of Joyce Felts, who is conducting band practice periods throughout the summer. Last year 100 cowboys and cowgirls rode in the parade, and an attempt will be made to have even more in this year's parade.

Rodeo performances will be held afternoon and night, featuring the famous rodeo stock owned by Beutler Bros. of Elk City, Okla. Beutler furnished the stock for last year's Tahoka Roundup. Among other well-known shows he is furnishing stock for this year are Anvil Park, XIT, Midland, and Tri-State fair in Texas; Custer Roundup, and Oklahoma State fair, Woodward Elks Rodeo, Dodge City Boot Hill Roundup, and Arkansas Fat Stock show.

The stock Beutler brought here last year was declared by many to be the toughest stock ever seen in this section of Texas. Two steers, Huey Long and No. 6, have never been ridden, and Beutler has a standing offer of $100 to the cowboy who can ride them.

Cowboys were entered last year from five western states. The association is offering $900 in cash prizes, with cowboy entrance fees added, in day money.

Among other entertainment will be carnival, dances each night, and band concerts.

Visitors will be invited to bring picnic lunches each day and spread dinner in the shady city park just two blocks from the public square.

Donations to finance the Roundup are being solicited this week, and business men and others wishing to contribute to the fund should see some member of the board of directors.

Wiley Curry, Tahoka ginner, is president of the association, and other members of the board of directors are R. W. Fenton Jr., J. O. Tinsley, Wynne Collier, and Deen Nowlin.

Wilson Revival Begins Sunday

Party Finds Fish At Red Bluff

Some wild fishing stories are going the rounds this week in Tahoka, but you don't have to take the fishermen's word for the stories. They brought back the evidence—58 bass weighing a total of over 80 pounds.

Last Friday afternoon six Tahoka landlubbers left here for Red Bluff Lake and returned Sunday night with the fish. They (the landlubbers) were: T. Garrard, Carlisle Edwards, Conway Clingan, Levi Noble, Frank Hill, and Tom Garrard, the latter gentleman combining business with pleasure on the trip.

The bunch had poor fishing luck at that, for they "wasted" most of their time fishing with artificial bait, only to find later that the bass were going after minnows like a hog goes after milk.

However, the party were satisfied that if there was a better fishing puddle in these United States than Red Bluff, they just don't care where it is, unless it were to be nearer Tahoka.

Red Bluff is 45 miles north of Pecos town on the Pecos river, and is 245 miles from Tahoka. The lake was built a few years ago on a government loan of over $3,000,000 for the purpose of irrigating the valley in the neighborhood of Pecos and Barstow. They tell us about 25,000 acres are irrigated.

The lake is built in a land that God must have forgotten, for there's little there but sand, clay and rock, scrub mesquite, greasewood, and saltcedar; rattlesnakes, coyotes, and jackrabbits; but oh, you bass!

Red Bluff dam is two and one-half miles long, and backs up water for 18 to 26 miles, depending on how full the lake is, the upper part of which lake extends up into New Mexico.

Shortly after the dam was completed, the Pecos put in its biggest flood in years, filled the lake to capacity, and washed thousands of fish down from the lakes further up the river. In addition, last year 286,000 bass were planted in the lake. With its many necks, brushy shore-line and rocky hills and bottoms, it is an ideal breeding ground for bass.

Pecos is the nearest town of any size, but there is a hotel at the dam and a few cabins, but reservations must be made in advance, since fishermen are going to Red Bluff from all over the United States, and most of them sleep out with rocks and sand for a bed.

There is little bank fishing. One needs a boat and must have a motor, as walking to fishing grounds around that lake would be about like trying to see New York on foot, we imagine. The Tahoka party took along Bill King's boat and 8 horse power motor. However, boats can be rented there.

So, if you like game fishing, we'll recommend Red Bluff, and if you'll go prepared, you'll catch the fish. But, please be advised now, Red Bluff is no place for a picnic.

A THIN ARGUMENT

When someone tries to tell you that the big city merchants can sell cheaper than merchants in the smaller towns because the city merchant buys in so much larger quantities, ask him this: How much higher are his taxes? How much greater is the cost of his light and heat? How much more expensive is his clerk hire? How much more costly is his advertising space in the city papers than space in the small-town paper that serves your local merchant? How much more insurance must he carry because he carries a larger stock? And finally, who has to pay all this added cost in the long run? If you've been believing that old stuff about "buying in larger quantities," forget it. Answer the above questions for yourself and you'll understand why the small-town merchant does not have to knock under such sales argument as that, regardless of what section of the country he is doing business in.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cain and son, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Nowlin and two daughters visited Alton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cain in Canyon, Sunday and also made a short visit to Amartillo.

Mrs. H. C. Smith and four children came down to Tahoka with Bro. Smith Tuesday evening, and left Wednesday morning for Matador, where Mrs. Smith's parents reside.

Archaeology Project Is Granted Tech

Lubbock, Aug. 4.— Impetus to archaeological research of a large section of West Texas was given recently when final approval was stamped on a $16,596 W. P. A. appropriation for such study under the sponsorship of Texas Technological College.

Work will begin immediately on the project, which will include 11 counties of the area, according to Dr. W. C. Holden, dean and director of anthropological, historical and social science research of Tech.

Supervisors for the project will be Joe Ben Wheat of Van Horn, graduate of the department of anthropology of the University of California. Assisting with the preparatory plans this week were Mr. R. H. Lawrence of San Antonio, a state supervisor on special educational projects, and Miss Evelyn Richter of Lubbock, district supervisor.

Included in the plans for important study are excavation, removal, and restoration of items of archaeological nature and collection of data appertaining to such material. Such work will be carried on in the counties of Borden, Crosby, Floyd, Garza, Hockley, Jones, Kent, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, and Motley. Location and staking of plots will begin Monday, July 31, and actual excavation is expected to begin Tuesday.

The fund will include all the necessary details such as cataloguing and interpretation of materials, preparation of models, building exhibit cases, and mounting. In addition to future excavation and restoration, the fund includes cataloguing and displaying material already accumulated in the West Texas Museum on the campus in which all discoveries are to be placed by special terms of the grant.

Those in charge of the project say that the study will add invaluable information to the archaeological knowledge of this section of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Warnick and son J. Q. of Lubbock have been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Small, following a delightful vacation trip to the West Coast. They visited Mr. Warnick's sister at Los Angeles but also drove over to San Francisco and viewed the sights there, besides stops at other points.

Record of the famous Query among women of leading cities in 12 Southern States shows 1206 out of 1297 users queried say CARDUI helped them. That figures 93 out of 100! What a record! Women all over the South are eager to tell of their experiences with CARDUI. They were weak, rundown, nervous. Those are symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, which CARDUI helps to relieve by stimulating appetite and digestion and building physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

BIG ATTENDANCE PLANNED FOR FAIR LIVESTOCK SHOW

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 4.—The Texas Breeder-Feeder Association has taken over the task of assuring a widespread attendance at the biggest livestock show ever held in the South at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7 to 22, it has been announced here by Harry L. Seay, president of the State Fair.

The huge livestock show was cinched for the State Fair when the American Hereford Association switched from the American Royal at Kansas City to the Texas fair. The 1939 Hereford show at the State Fair of Texas will be one of the largest shows for this breed ever held in America.

Interest in other breeds and classification of livestock has shown a marked increase with the big Hereford Show. Premiums in almost all breeds have been substantially increased for this year.

The Breeder-Feeder Association of which Frank P. Holland is the president will make plans immediately to insure a big attendance at the judging of the livestock, which will be highly educational. Judges will explain why one animal is better than another.

One of the plans is to issue a special ticket to the fair good only

J. Frank Dobie, a member of the faculty of the University of Texas and author of some noted historical works, surprised his auditors and the people of Texas in general when he declared in a speech at the Texas Tech one night last week that he believed Texas should have two state universities and that it would be very fitting to make a university of the Tech. He based his suggestion on the fact that there are already 11,000 or 12,000 students in the University of Texas and thinks that is too many. Tech already has about 4,000, he pointed out and is destined to have many more. Like California, therefore, he thinks Texas has plenty of room and material for two state universities. We don't know whether the suggestion is a wise one or not but it does show that there is a growing recognition of the fact down at Austin that the people of West Texas are entitled to institutions of higher education of the first class. His position is in striking contrast to that of some politicians and University men a few years ago who seemed intent on crippling if they could not kill the state colleges we already have in West Texas. We are for all of them and hope that they all grow in patronage and in usefulness to the people of the regions they serve.

The News does not approve some of the things that John Garner is reputed to indulge in. He may have some habits, for all we know, that are not becoming to a man in the high position which he occupies.
 But we do admire his fealty to the Constitution of the United States and to old-time Democratic principles. If he were President, the Reds in this country would find no encouragement nor consolation at the White House, but both labor and capital would get a fair deal in so far as he might be able legally to bring it about. Possibly the greatest objection that could be urged against Garner is his advancing years.

Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith, let us to that end, dare to do our duty as we understand it.—Lincoln.

WAR ON PAGANISM

Many of those who have little or no personal interest in religion will support the campaign the Baptist World Alliance has launched to prevent the crushing of religious organizations by totalitarian governments. Freedom of conscience is a matter of concern to all libertarians, if a ban is placed on any one sect, it may soon be extended to all; and the resultant regimentation may in time affect even those who do not subscribe to any religious faith.
 The right to worship as one pleases, without interference from political authority, is one of the liberties for which civilizen men and women have been fighting for many generations. The battle appeared to have been won in nearly all countries, but backsets have taken place since the World War.
 In Russia, Rumania and Germany, people are not free to worship as they please today; and the outcome of religious freedom is uncertain in Spain.

The world Baptists meeting at Atlanta were consistent with their own history and principles when they adopted a resolution insisting upon "the full maintenance of absolute religious liberty for every man of every faith and of every faith." Eventually freedom of worship will triumph over the attempts of tyrants to suppress it, but the fight to maintain this right calls for united action along a broad front. The Baptists do credit to themselves by taking a leading part in this campaign.—Dallas News.

We rise again to commend W. Lee O'Daniel. In his radio broadcast last Sunday morning he is alleged to have expressed unrelenting opposition to the raising of taxes with which to pay pensions and other expenses of government by legalizing race horse gambling or sale of liquor by the drink. W. Lee was rather tardy in getting his dander up concerning these things, but now that he has spoken so positively we hope that he doesn't change his mind further down the road. All power to the governor as long as he will maintain this attitude toward these evils.

A New York woman died a few days ago leaving a will bequeathing $20,000 to her husband and $50,000 to her dogs together with $1,500 dollars annually to a servant for caring for the dogs the rest of her life. Nobody was bequeathed anything to care for the husband. All of which shows, we suppose, how much better a dog is than a husband.

ELDER DRENNON'S NOTES

A few more notes from this hot,
 dry country.
 But as is usually the case, when I preach on Baptism it rains. I announced I would preach on Baptism tonight and it has already showered twice this morning, too much for our Methodist friends because they were more than sprinkles.

The crops are suffering for lack of moisture, all but the Johnson grass. It seems to thrive rain or no rain. It has almost taken the good bottom land.

This town (Denison) is all a-twitter about the dam across Red River, and if the governor of Oklahoma does not put too much pressure on it will go through.

I find the people here are strong for our friend O'Daniel. Five of my friends have been converted to him by the way the legislature acted at the last session. I think he will be hard to beat for the second term.
 In fact, I don't think he can be beat unless the professional politicians put on too much false propaganda.

Denison is on the improve. In fact all the way from home we saw improvements being made but in no place as much as in Lubbock.

Our meeting is doing very well but not as well as in former years.
 Spirituality seems to be at a low ebb in this part of the country. I believe we have them beat in this respect in the west.

I will close here next Sunday and begin at Crowell, August 1, for two weeks.

I sure miss the News. I find by comparison it is as good as the best.

Yours for more people who will appreciate what they have where they are. The preacher who still thinks that Lynn county is a fine place to live and is anxious to get home.—R. P. Drennon.

ODDS AND ENDS
 By Eee Eye
 the Elder

O. C. Harrison, who conducts a column in his paper, The Baylor County Banner, intimates that they are having a drouth down in his neck of the "mesquites." "In some places", he says, "they may wonder how anybody can stay in these parts, when the blistering sun seems to have no mercy on the crops. The crops may have a hard time, but the people seem to get use to it. In other words they can take it.

"The story is going around now", he continues, "about three men who were to be cremated. The undertaker opened the door of his furnace to see how things were coming along and found the man from Illinois burned up. The Missouri man was baked to a dark brown.
 But the fellow from West Texas was sitting up mopping the sweat from his face and said 'if this heat keeps up much longer I'll be darned if I don't believe the wheat crop is going to be nearly ruined.' "

That little story reminded us of one that has long, gray whiskers on it, we know, for we heard the blind Populist orator, T. P. Gore, tell it away back in the "Gay Nineties". Gore was engaged in a joint debate with Cullen Thomas, a Democrat. He was ridiculing the Democratic party. In fact he was just romping all over it with both feet, to the great delight of an audience made up mostly of Populists. He was through with the old machine. To illustrate his attitude he said he felt like the Kansas farmer who had a three-year streak of bad luck. The first year a hail storm came and utterly destroyed his crop. He didn't make a thing.
 The second year the grasshoppers ate it up and left his fields as barren as a floor. The third year a drouth struck. He watched his corn gradually wither away and burn up. Having failed to see any signs of life about the place for several days, a neighbor decided he would go up and find out what was the matter. The house was vacant and he found tacked on the door the following note:

"Fare you well, old Kansas;
 I bid you a long adieu;
 I may emigrate to Hell some day,
 But I'll never come back to you."

But the Populist party withered away and dried up in a few years, and Gore emigrated to Oklahoma.
 There he went back to the Democratic party and later ran for the United States Senate. He was elected and served two or three terms.
 He served, in fact, until he became too conservative a Democrat to hold his position longer and retired to private life.

 The Populist party had its rise and fall during the "Gay Nineties".
 It was born at Cincinnati, Ohio in 1891. Its mother was the Farmers' Alliance and its daddy the Knights of Labor. For many years, agriculture had been suffering from low prices for farm products, resulting first in the organization of the Grange, which flourished for a decade, and then the Farmers' Alliance, which spread throughout the country like wild fire. Farmers of the West and South generally were dissatisfied with both old parties. So were the labor organizations in the North. Hence the Populist party was born with a most auspicious outlook. Its leaders campaigned with the passion of crusaders. In 1892, James B.

Weaver of Iowa was nominated as the party candidate for the Presidency and polled more than a million votes. That was before the days of woman suffrage and there were only eight or nine million votes polled. He carried the states of Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, and Nevada. The party also elected five United States Senators and ten Congressmen that year. besides

"Hot Check" Law Has Teeth In It

"We've placed teeth in the new hot check law," so Rep. Alvin Allison, author of the measure in the House, declared when he introduced it—and according to lawyers and businessmen who have read it, Allison knows whereof he speaks.

Stripped of law wording, and therefore brought to a close reading, the new "hot check" law makes the habitual giving of worthless checks a felony, and takes the crime out of the misdemeanor class.

In brief, the law on the matter and the penalties attached are as follows:

The Crime: It shall be unlawful for any person, with intent to defraud, to obtain any money, goods, service, labor, or any other thing of value; or to pay for any goods, service, labor, or other thing of value, therefore received; or to secure or retain possession of any personal property to which a lien has attached, by giving or drawing any check, draft, or order upon any bank, person, firm or corporation, if such person does not, at the time, said instrument is given or drawn, have sufficient funds on deposit to pay said instrument and all other instruments outstanding.

Intent To Defraud: Non-payment of said instrument shall be prima facie evidence that such person had insufficient funds with the drawee and that same was given or drawn with intent to defraud; notice of protest shall be admissible as proof of presentation and non-payment; and in the case of secured personal property, removal from the premises upon which it was located at the time said instrument was drawn or given, shall be prima facie evidence that possession of such property was retained or secured by giving or drawing said instrument.

Issuing and Serving Processes and Compensating Witnesses: Same as though the offense were a felony in grade.

The Penalty: Instrument $5 or less—First conviction, County Jail up to 2 years or fine up to $200; second conviction, county jail from 30 days to 2 years; third or additional conviction, penitentiary from 2 to 10 years.

Instrument $5.01 to 49.99—first conviction, county jail up to 2 years or fine up to $500; second conviction, county jail from 30 days to 2 years; third or additional conviction, penitentiary from 2 to 10 years.

Instrument $50 or more—first conviction, penitentiary from 2 to 12 years; second conviction, penitentiary from 2 to 10 years; third or additional conviction, penitentiary from 2 to 10 years.

Should any person, who has contributed to the case of this State against violators of this act, suggest or request the Prosecuting Attorney that such case be dismissed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT SOUTH PLAINS FAIR

Lubbock, Texas—It is almost unbelievable when one stops to realize that the above scene did not exist 12 months ago.

This picture was taken this week from in front of the Merchants Building on the Panhandle.

South Plains Fair Grounds at Lubbock, looking toward the main entrance. The 17 trees in the background are only a small part of the 200 which are furnishing ample shade on the once barren grounds. In the foreground can be noticed the splendid Bermuda grass, carpeting the grounds and criss-crossed with convenient walks.

When the 26th annual exposition opens on September 25, everything will be in readiness for the enjoyment and comfort of Fair patrons visiting the show place of the South Plains.

Goad Is Speaker At Rotary Club

Importance of the problem of juvenile delinquency was brought to the Tahoka Rotary Club in a forceful manner by County Judge P. W. Goad in a talk before that organization Thursday noon.

Judge Goad urged the taking of more interest on the part of parents, and the citizenship in general, in keeping children out of court if at all possible. He said so-called training schools were breeding places of crime, and he thinks no child should be sent to a reformatory if there is any other way whatever of getting around doing so.

Rev. H. C. Smith, formerly pastor here but now of Amarillo, who is holding a revival at the Methodist Church, spoke briefly praising Tahoka for its progress in the past few years, and especially on the development of the city park.

Grady Hanes, community recreation specialist from New York City, brother of Supt. Travis Hanes, spoke several minutes on the need of better community spirit.

Elton Plowman, singer in the Methodist revival, gave two popular ditties, singing to his own guitar accompaniment.

Next Thursday, program chairman Emil Prohl announced, each member is asked to bring with him some farmer friend. Those who do not bring a farmer visitor will be forced to eat red beans only with a knife.

President Leonard Craft announced a meeting of the board of directors, the rural-urban committee, and the program chairman at a breakfast next Tuesday morning.

Craft, Secretary Chas. Townes, and possibly other members of the club will attend a district Rotary meeting in Lubbock Monday.

Visiting Rotarians present Thursday were: Homer Winston, Brownfield; Carl Evans, Slaton; E. E. Hancock, Ralls; and O. D. Cardwell, Post.

Other visitors were: John Slover, Hanes, Rev. Smith, and Plowman.

Deen Nowlin is having his home in the northwest part of town redashed with stucco, re-painted, and otherwise renovated.

Hogans Leave For Arkansas

Mr. and Mrs. George Hogan left Wednesday morning with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hogan, both of whom are seriously ill, for Batesville, Arkansas, their former home, where the parents will remain with relatives. They expected to go as far as Archer City Wednesday, where they also formerly lived and where they have relatives, and to go from there to Batesville as they may feel able to make the trip.

Mr. Hogan suffered a sudden stroke more than a year ago in his store here, since which time he has been confined to his home most of the time, and Mrs. Hogan suffered a stroke of paralysis about five weeks ago and is still confined to her bed though she is much improved.

They are hopeful that the climate and the lower altitude of Batesville, which is situated in the foot hills of the Ozarks, will prove greatly beneficial to their health.

Mr. Hogan was engaged in business here for more than a dozen years and has many friends throughout Lynn county. Both he and Mrs. Hogan were active church workers, Mr. Hogan having been the teacher of the Men's down-town Bible Class for years, and he was unquestionably one of the best Bible teachers in the state or anywhere else as for that matter.

The people of Tahoka and numerous other friends will hope for their steady improvement in health in the Arkansas city.

150 RELATIVES ATTEND LINDLEY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lindley and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lindley of the T-Bar community, Mrs. D. Henderson of Big Spring but formerly of T-Bar, Mrs. L. C. Crews of Tahoka, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sanders of Grassland attended a reunion of the Lindley and related families at Abilene State Park on Saturday and Sunday, July 22-23. More than 150 persons were present.

These were the descendants and the husbands and wives of descendants of the late Joe and James Lindley and Mrs. Matilda Shell, deceased and the aged John Lindley of Tuscola, still living, who was the honored guest of the occasion. He is the father of G. C. and H. F. Lindley of this county.

The 150 descendants and relatives present came from four states, Texas, New Mexico, California, and Arkansas. The majority came from many different points in Texas. Included in the number, in addition to those named above, were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Lindley, Tom and Roy Bryant, all of Brownfield, and Horace Lindley of Lubbock.

This was the first reunion of the Lindley and Shell families and George says that they had a wonderful time. So pleasant was the affair that those present voted unanimously to have a similar reunion at the same place next year. The time set was Saturday and Sunday following the third Friday in July.

After being under treatment for a week in a Lubbock sanitarium for high blood pressure, Mrs. W. H. Williams of Draw was brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Boyd Smith, here in Tahoka Monday. Mr. Williams expected to take her on to her home Friday. Seemingly, she is much improved.

Malcom and Annie Edwards of Dallas, who are here with their grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale, spent a few days visiting their relatives in Lubbock and their cousin, Dorothy Dale Kennedy, accompanied them home for a visit in her grandparents' home.

Showers Help To Many Farmers

Heavy showers fell at Wilson, Wells, Three Lakes and probably other localities in Lynn County Thursday, which will be greatly beneficial to crops in the territory covered.

Good rains also fell at Petty, West Point, and in portions of the Draw-Redwine section last Friday and Saturday.

Crops in the above named localities promise to be good but in a large portion of the county very little rain has fallen for more than a month and crops are suffering greatly. A good general rain is much needed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Krebs, Jr. former citizens but now residing at Tulsa, Oklahoma, are on a visit at his father, C. W. Krebs of Leveland and his brother Ira B. Krebs of Tahoka. This is C. W.'s first visit to Tahoka in five years and he is enjoying meeting his many friends again.

Mr. Harry Woods, who has been ill so long, was able to enjoy a visit, in the home of his wife's brother Henry Hilliard at Cone, Crosby county, recently.

Mrs. Noel Cooper, who underwent a serious major operation recently in a Lubbock hospital, is recovering satisfactorily and is expected home this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Knight and little daughter Irma Beth of San Angelo visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Knight from Thursday till Sunday. Both families visited Mr. and Mrs. Emory Nance at Tredway, Borden county, Saturday. Mr. Nance having bought the farm of Mr. Knight in that locality. Emory has a marvelous crop. Mr. Knight says, and K. F. is enjoying an excellent business in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lige Holly of Wilson are parents of a girl weighing 5 pounds, 6 ounces, born Thursday afternoon in West Texas hospital. The father is a farmer. Lige son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holly of Dixie, also lives at Dixie.

Mrs. O. B. West is visiting her son, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. West, having accompanied them from Forreton on their recent return from a two weeks vacation trip to Leesburg, Fla.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colic!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!—It's So Good!
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach, you get constipated, your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, weak and the world looks sour.
A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

FIRST TRANSCONTINENTAL R. R BECOMES FILM HERO

The building of the Union Pacific railroad, a feat which seventy years ago joined the Atlantic and Pacific with an iron band, cut the journey from New York to San Francisco from months to days and unified a nation, is brought to the screen on an epic scale by Cecil B. De Mille in his latest production, "Union Pacific," scheduled to show at the English Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Two popular film stars, Barbara Stanwyk and Joel McCrea, play the lead roles in the heroic story of the "marriage of a nation," assisted by a cast of thousands, including Akim Tamiroff, Lynne Overman, Robert Preston, Brian Donlevy, Robert Barrat and Evelyn Keyes.

"Union Pacific," the most ambitious project De Mille has ever attempted in his spectacular career, spans the seven turbulent years during which America's first transcontinental railroad was constructed. Its starting point is the day Abraham Lincoln signs the act of Congress creating the railroad. It's climax is the driving of the gold spike at Promontory Point, Utah, signifying the completion of the railroad and the linking of the two coasts of the United States.

The titanic struggles involved in pushing a railroad across trackless prairies, mountains and deserts are portrayed with typical De Mille thoroughness and lavishness. There are the criminal conspiracies of big financial manipulators back East, struggles against frontier outlaws and bank-robbers, a constant battle against the hostile forces of untamed nature and war with Indians desperately making their last stand.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Henderson and daughter, Miss Belle, and two of their grandchildren, left Wednesday afternoon for Bosque county to attend a reunion of the old school children of Iredell Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Henderson told The News, they expected to have another one of those old spelling matches, using the Blue Back Speller.

Buck Edwards and W. A. Odum and their families of Grassland left Tuesday on a pleasure trip to the Gulf coast, to be gone about ten days. They expected to spend Thursday night in San Antonio and then proceed to Corpus Christi, where they expected to test their skill as salt water fishermen.

Mr. Burleson, father of Jim and Bill Burleson of Tahoka, who suffered a heart attack and was placed under an oxygen tent in a Lubbock hospital Monday was reported slightly improved Tuesday, though still critically ill.

Mrs. H. L. Roddy and daughters have returned after spending a week with her parents in Hico, where they went after attending the State R. R. C. Convention in Abilene.

Miss Laverne Jones who has been with her sister at Hobbs, N. M. for some time is visiting in the home of her father Ben Jones and family.

Mrs. E. S. Davis has had as guests for the past two weeks her sister, Mrs. C. V. Williams of Peecos, and her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Davis and sons Hubert Edward and Joe Bob of Mexia. Mrs. Davis, accompanied by her sister met her daughter and sons at Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kenley, formerly of Tahoka, but who have been living in Pampa for the past few months have returned here to make their home.

S. J. Akin says that the Akin families are to have a reunion here Sunday. His six married sons and two married daughters and their families are expected to be here. He will tell us more about it next week.

Mrs. M. Hays, wife of the late Dan Hays, of the Wells community, has returned from Donna, in the lower Rio Grande Valley, where she spent the winter with a son. She returned much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wood of Overton, Texas, enroute home from a vacation trip to Red River, N. M. spent a night recently in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Wood in Tahoka.

Tinsley Completes 8,600-Mile Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Tinsley and children returned home Sunday from an 8,600-mile trip that included visits to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, the North and South, and even to Canada.

Leaving here shortly after the first of July, the Tinsley family drove east to Washington and New York. They visited the Fair, and J. O. especially enjoyed the exhibits of General Motors and Ford. He exploded the idea that one cannot visit the Fair without being out a lot of "dough". He says there's enough free shows and exhibits inside the grounds to keep you bug-eyed for a long, long time, and one can secure reasonably-priced meals if he so desires.

He was also impressed by the great automobile tunnels in New York City. He said driving down Fifth Avenue didn't bother him any more than driving down Main Street of Tahoka, so far as traffic is concerned. The only difference is that in that crowded city, one car moves with a crowd of cars and you drive as fast as you want to until another traffic light stops you.

On the return, they went across the neck of Canada lying between Niagara Falls and Detroit. In Kentucky, they stopped to visit some of the race horse and perchon horse farms. Across the Middle West and the Rocky Mountain region, they hurried on to California, where they visited relatives around Los Angeles for a short time, saw some of the sights of the West Coast, and returned to Cheyenne, Wyoming, where they attended the Frontier Days celebration last Saturday, and headed for home.

Being in the dairy business, J. O. says he and his family has not had much opportunity to take trips, and when they decided to make this one they thought while they were at the job they would see as much of the good old U. S. A. as possible. July was a crowded month for the Tinsleys.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas and son, Skiles, returned Thursday of last week from a month's trip to the Northeastern states. Going by boat from Galveston to New York, they returned by way of Niagara Falls, Detroit, Chicago, and St. Louis by train to Dallas, where they left their car. Of course, they took in the World's Fair.

numbers of state officials. In Kansas, Pepper was sent to the Senate and "Sockless" Jerry Simpson to Congress. Such men as Simpson and Cyclone Davis of Texas immediately took their places among the national leaders of the party.

In Texas that year the Hogg-Clark fight was on in Texas and the Democrats split wide open, Hogg was running for a second term. In 1896 he had run on a platform calling for the creation of a state railroad commission. He was overwhelmingly elected and the legislature had met and created the commission. Hogg had appointed the commission with U. S. Senator John H. Reagan as its chairman. Reagan had patriotically and sacrificially resigned his position in the United States Senate to accept the R. R. Commission chairmanship. A great man was he. He was really the father of the law which had been enacted by the Congress of the United States a few years before creating the Interstate Commerce Commission. He had been postmaster general of the Southern Confederacy during the Civil War—a grand old man.

The railroad commission was organized and went to work in June, 1891. The railroads set up a great howl. George "Warwick" Clark of Waco, a railroad attorney and a former attorney general of Texas, was their mouthpiece. The next year he campaigned the state against Hogg for the Democratic nomination for the governorship. His battle cry was "Turn Texas Loose". Nominations were then made by state conventions. When the convention met in Houston the Hogg forces were in control and the Clark faction bolted. They held a convention of their own and nominated Clark.

The new Populist Party nominated as its candidate for governor District Judge Thomas L. Nugent of Stephenville, a clean and very able man.

So in the fall, there was a three-cornered fight. Hogg received 190,186 votes, Clark 133,395 and Nugent 108,483.

Two years later, the Populists were even more formidable. Charles A. Culberson was the Democratic nominee while Nugent was again the standard bearer of the Populists. Culberson received 207,167 votes and Nugent 152,731. W. K. Makemson, the Republican nominee, polled 54,520 votes.

In 1896, the battle was still more spirited. Culberson was running for re-election and Jerome C. Kearby of Dallas was his Populist opponent. Culberson received 298,528 votes and Kearby 238,692.

We give these figures just to show that politics was really hot back in the Nineties. This present generation has really never seen a hot political campaign as compared with these.

Nor have they seen anything to compare with the national campaign of 1896.

Grover Cleveland was serving the last year of his second term as President. He had lost out with the rank and file of the Democratic party and was really in the dog house. Western and Southern Democrats were demanding the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. This faction had been led in Congress by Col. Richard P. (Old Dick) Bland of Missouri, and Bland was the leading candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. He and his faction were known as Silver Democrats. Cleveland and his following were "Gold Bugs".

When the Democratic convention met in Chicago in July, both factions were there in full force with drawn swords. The Eastern Democrats were represented by some of the ablest men in the country, among them Senator David B. Hill of New York. He made a powerful speech. But he was followed by a young man from the prairies of Nebraska, a young man who had served two terms in Congress and had then been defeated by the state legislature for a seat in the United States Senate. He had won a reputation in the West, however, as an orator. His name was William Jennings Bryan. He made a speech in reply to Hill and the other "Gold Bugs" that swept the convention off its feet. He closed with this electrifying, defiant challenge: "You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns; you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

Pandemonium broke loose. The convention went wild, and so did the whole South and West. Up to this time Bryan had scarcely been thought of as a possible nominee for the Presidency. Old Dick Bland, it was figured, had the nomination sewed up. But the next day when names were presented, Bryan was promptly and overwhelmingly named as the convention choice.

Two weeks later William McKinley was nominated by the Republicans, and the fight was on. It was one of the most marvelous and thrilling Presidential campaigns in the history of this country. There has been nothing like it since. The East and the North won the election, however, and McKinley became the nation's 25th President.

The Populist Party had also nominated Bryan following the Democratic convention and thus practically lost its identity and never appeared as a formidable contender for political power thereafter.

O'Donnell Rodeo August 11-12

O'Donnell, Aug. 1.—Plans are making rapid headway for the annual rodeo to be staged here August 11-12, according to announcement Monday.

Arena and chutes have been built during the past week, and installation of floodlights is going forward this week. Rodeo performers from all over the southwest have signified their intentions of being present to compete for the prize money.

Entrance fees of $10 for roping events and $5 for riding events have already been paid in several instances.

75 Head Of Stock

Otis and O. L. Harris, members of a pioneer ranching family of this section who have in recent years taken up rodeos as an avocation, have spent the summer in adding to their already splendid array of rodeo stock. Brahma bulls and yearlings, bucking broncs, and just plain ordinary West Texas ranch yearlings are guaranteed to furnish plenty of thrills and spills for spectators and contestants. Seventy-five head of stock will be used in staging the two performances each day.

Street dances will follow the evening show, it is said, with good orchestras to provide music.

Regan To Direct

R. R. Regan of O'Donnell, who has had considerable experience in the rodeo game, has been employed to act as arena director, and is working with the management and various committees to make this one of the best rodeos staged in the southwest this season.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stewart had as guests for the day Thursday Mrs. Stewart's mother, Mrs. T. M. Dobbins and the latter's daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. O. Dobbins of Roscoe and Mrs. N. L. Hall and M. E. Kyle. Mrs. Stewart's aunts, of Sweetwater. They were accompanied home by Stewart Dobbins, son of Mrs. R. O. Dobbins, who has spent the past six weeks in the home of his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Stewart here.

C. O. Carmack had as guest on Monday his brother, Dr. Carmack of San Bernardino, Calif.

COULD YOU DO IT?

There are some people who delight in picking up a newspaper for the mere purpose of seeing how many mistakes they can uncover, and then telling the editor what a numbskull he is. We've often wondered what a newspaper would look like if some of these people were to edit it themselves. And, too, we wonder if the average person has ever stopped to think how many chances there are of making a mistake in one column of reading matter. Let us give you a little inside tip: First, to set an ordinary column of type, it requires the placing of 10,000 pieces of type. There are seven positions in which each letter may be placed, and there are over 70,000 chances to make transpositions. In the one little sentence, "To be or not to be," by transposition alone, it is possible to make 5,769,022 errors.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Thomas and daughters, Hazel and Bettie Grace, went to Logansport, La., last Wednesday and returned Friday. Mrs. Thomas' mother, Mrs. A. D. Choate came back with them for a visit in their home at Grassland.

FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE GATES OF PEARL

Dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith

By Rev. Ben Hardy

"O, what do you think the angels say?"
Said the children up in Heaven.
"There's a dear little girl coming home to-day,
She is almost ready to fly away
From the earth we used to live in.
Come, let us watch at the gates of pearl,
And be ready to welcome the dear little girl."
Said the children up in Heaven.

"God wanted her here where his little ones meet."
Said the children up in Heaven.
"She shall play with us in the golden street
She hath grown too fair and pure and sweet:
For the earth she used to live in.
She pined for the sunshine, this dear little girl
That glids inside of the gates of pearl."
Said the children up in Heaven.

"So the King called down from the angels' dome,"
Said the children up in Heaven.
"My little darling, arise and come
To thy prepared place in the Father's home.
The home that my children live in.
So come, let us watch at the gates of pearl;
For Jesus has called her, the dear little girl,"
Said the children up in Heaven.

"Far down on the earth do you hear them weep?"
Said the children up in Heaven.
"For the dear little girl has gone to sleep;
The shadows fall, the night clouds sweep O'er the earth we used to live in.
But up here is joy at the gates of pearl
O, why do they weep for their glad little girl?"
Said the children up in Heaven.

"Fly with her quickly, O angels dear!"
Said the children up in Heaven.
"See she is coming, Look there Look there
At the jasper light on her sunny hair
Where the velling clouds are riven.
O hush, hush! All the swift wings fur!
For the King himself at the gates of pearl
Is taking her hand, dear, tired little girl
And leading her into Heaven."

Breath Bad, Logy? You May Need This

Just as the lighthouse flashes a friendly warning to sailors, so Nature sends out headaches, bad breath, biliousness, which often warn of constipation.
Too many misunderstand or neglect these symptoms and thereby may invite a host of constipation's other discomforts: sour stomach, belching, loss of appetite or energy.
Be wise. Take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT tonight by simple directions and clear your bowels gently, promptly, thoroughly. This intestinal tonic-laxative helps give tone to lazy bowels.

Water Run-Off Problem Solved

Farming practices that control run-off water also help farmers to get the maximum benefit from rainfall during periods when they need moisture most, according to Turner, an Engineer of the Soil Conservation Service erosion control demonstration area at Lamesa.

Since a vegetative cover is necessary on the land at all times to prevent both wind and water erosion, and much of the rainfall comes in heavy downpours of brief duration, any practice which controls run-off also aids in controlling erosion. This is exactly what the practices being demonstrated in the area are designed to do.

Properly constructed terraces and contour tillage operations prevent runoff on cultivated land, while contour furrows and ridges, diversion structures and water spreading systems serve the same purpose on range land. Each provides a mechanical barrier which slows the flow of water or impounds the rainfall, thereby permitting the moisture to soak into the soil to become available for plant use.

When water is permitted to run off the land during heavy rains, this moisture is lost for plant use on the land upon which it fell, Turner points out. However, he says if this water is controlled by mechanical structures and stored in the soil, the moisture is available to alleviate the damage to crops or grass during periods of extended drought.

"Evidence of the value of conserving moisture may be seen on contour-tilled and terraced farms and on contour-furrowed pastures in this area. Where moisture has been conserved fields usually have an even crop stand, and pastures have a denser growth along the furrows.

O'DANIEL HITS ICE CROWD

Austin, July 30.—Governor O'Daniel turned crusader Sunday charging flagrant violation of gambling and liquor laws in unnamed sections of the State and urging middle listeners to rid their communities of "debauching" influences.

Without music from his famed all billy string band for the fourth consecutive Sunday, O'Daniel faced the microphones and usual large crowd of curious in the stately Texas white house and declared: "I want to say to you very frankly that I yield to no man in my advocacy of adequately financing social security. But I believe the price of financing social security is too high when the price paid must be the licensing of pool halls, slot machines, race horse gambling and the re-establishment of the open saloon."

"But the people of Texas had as well know that there are powerful forces at work in Texas today seeking to do all these things, seeking to take advantage of the pressing need of the State for revenues as a means of putting the State into the lottery business, violating the plain intent of the Constitution by licensing the sale of liquor by the drink, by legalizing slot machines, and by bringing back to Texas race-horse gambling."

Opposed to gambling.

The Governor asserted police, constables and sheriffs should not appeal to state agencies to enforce state laws but that Texas rangers, liquor inspectors and other state law enforcement bodies stood ready to aid local officials. He urged the people to inquire into enforcement conditions in their communities.

Throughout the half-hour program, however, O'Daniel made no direct mention of previous intimations he would not call a special session of the Legislature to find revenues for pensions. At their last session, the lawmakers provided no additional finances although they liberalized pension eligibility qualifications.

"So long as I am Governor," O'Daniel said, "that portion of the Constitution which states that the open saloon shall be forever prohibited will be the law of the land unless by two-thirds vote the Legislature by two-thirds vote of the Governor."

"Never with my approval will there be sale of liquor by the drink until the issue has been submitted to the people to make such sale actually legal."

Shouldn't Call on State.

"Nor will I ever lend my approval to using taxation as a means of legalizing gambling in this state, regardless of the purpose to which the revenue may be applied. I am opposed to the principle of gambling regardless of whether gambling is effected through bookie joints, horse racing, pool tables or slot machines."

"I am unalterably opposed to all those things which destroy homes

Consider Cotton
Classing Office

Washington, Aug. 3.—A regular cotton classing office for West Texas is being seriously considered by the Division of Cotton Marketing of the Department of Agriculture, according to recent reports made to Congressman George Mahon. Mahon has previously conferred with Department officials on several occasions stressing the need for such an office to serve West Texas cotton farmers generally and particularly for service to those farmers participating in the One Variety Cotton Community program. The recent conference was for the purpose of again urging favorable action and calling to the attention of the Department the wide interest being shown in the proposal by One Variety Community and county agents throughout the area.

Such an office would supplement similar services now available in Texas through classing offices at Austin, Dallas, and El Paso.

One Variety Cotton Communities should file applications for Department of Agriculture classing services through Mr. George E. Miller of the Division of Cotton Marketing at Austin. Mahon expressed the opinion that if sufficient applications were filed immediately, the West Texas office would be established.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Staggs have moved to Tahoka from McLean. He will be connected with the Ed Hamilton barber shop.

and which debauch the youth of this country and never with my approval will any of these things be written into the law of this state."

The governor declared that, in his opinion, the method of cutting the rising costs of government was in choosing efficient officials. He asked listeners to urge economy in city, county and school district administration.

Urging respect for all laws.

O'Daniel said "the time is here now for the average citizen of this state to become a champion of the doctrine of law and order."

Flagrant Violations.

"I believe it can be truthfully said that in many sections of this state there is flagrant violations of the laws against gambling and of the laws against the sale of intoxicating liquors."

The governor asserted he had little respect for officers who waited for state enforcement men to halt violations in their communities.

"There is no middle ground between honest and dishonest public servants," O'Daniel stated. "If we want orderly government there is no substitute for strict enforcement of the law. If we would claim the protection of the constitution for the sanctity of our daughters, wives and mothers; for the protection of our homes; and for the security of our valuable possessions, then we must be ready to uphold the majesty of this document (the constitution) in all things."

To date, Touring Reporters have visited the principal cities of 12 Southern states; have asked 1297 users their famous question: "Did CARDUI help you?" Of those 1297 users, 1206 said they were definitely benefited by CARDUI. That's 93 out of every 100. What a record! CARDUI is a good stimulator for lagging appetites, a real aid to digestion and assimilation. W. T. Hanes Back From Trip East

W. T. Hanes, superintendent of Tahoka schools, wife and son returned Monday from a six-weeks vacation, three weeks of which time was spent in New York City with his brother, Grady Hanes. The latter returned with them for a month's visit in Tahoka and other Texas points.

Mr. Hanes says they greatly enjoyed their stay in New York, and saw most of the sights of the city, including the World's Fair, Coney Island, ball games, etc.

On the return trip, they visited in Washington, D. C., and toured some of the scenic sections of Virginia, Tennessee, and Alabama, including the Muscle Shoals dam and the T. V. A. project.

This is his brother's first trip to the Plains, and he is greatly impressed with the country. He was especially surprised that so much of the Plains land is in cultivation. He has been a resident of New York City for sixteen years.

MRS. STRONG, AGE 81, WAS BURIED SATURDAY

Strong in the year 1877. Twelve children were born of this union, six of whom are still surviving. These are John Strong of Tahoka, Mrs. John McNelly of the Dixie community, Isaac Strong of Dimmit, Mrs. Sam Dipoma of Casper, Wyoming, Harvey Strong of Pampa, and Mrs. W. M. Yates of Lamesa. Surviving also are twenty-one grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren.

Shortly after marriage Mr. and Mrs. Strong removed to Wise county and later to Jack county. Later still they removed to Wellington and came from there to Three Lakes in 1912, where they continued to reside until his death.

Early in life Mrs. Strong became a member of the Methodist Church and was a member of the church here at the time of her death. The surviving children and other relatives have the sympathy of many friends in this great bereavement.

Better Service For Wilson Promised

The News regrets that subscribers at Wilson have received their county paper late the past two or three weeks.

We have checked through the Tahoka and Wilson postoffices, and find that the mail has missed connection some where en route from Tahoka to Big Spring to Sweetwater to Slaton to Wilson. Mail has to go around the world to get from Tahoka to Wilson, and Postmaster Boyd Rice at Wilson nor Postmaster Happy Smith at Tahoka can help the matter.

The News has worked out a plan which it hopes will insure delivery to the Wilson postoffice on scheduled time.

Browns, Wells are Moving To Temple

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brown, affectionately known as Uncle Will and Aunt Alice, and their daughter, Mrs. Jewell Wells and her daughter Mary Bland, are preparing to leave Saturday for Temple, where they will make their future home. Their address will be 902 North Main Street. T. Cowan will take their furniture down by truck.

Their son Ben Brown and his wife, formerly of Tahoka and O'Donnell, who removed to Belton a few years ago, now reside in Temple, Ben being connected with the Campbell Lumber Company there.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown both have been practically invalids for the past two years and have been residing with Mrs. Wells here, who herself has been in delicate health. They go to Temple at the urgent request of Ben and wife so that they may be better able to help care for the aged couple. "Uncle Will" and "Aunt Alice" greatly appreciate their many friends here and it almost breaks their hearts to leave Tahoka, but under the circumstances they feel it best to go. Their friends here likewise regret the removal of these good people from Tahoka and hope that their health may improve in the central Texas city.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown recently sold their former home in South Tahoka to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Paires of Magnolia, who plan to move into it soon. Mrs. Wells has tented her home in West Tahoka to another family.

25 Vacancies In U. S. Marine Corps

Twenty-five vacancies for service in the United States Marine Corps are to be filled during August at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Dallas, Postmaster W. E. Smith said today according to information received from Captain J. D. O'Leary, Officer in Charge.

Applicants filling these vacancies will be selected from young men residing in Texas and Oklahoma of which the Dallas office is headquarters. Young men between the ages of 18 and 25, of good moral character and who have had high school training are eligible to make application, the Postmaster stated. Application blanks and other literature may be obtained at the Post Office or by writing to the U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Dallas, he said.

CARD OF THANKS

From the depths of our hearts we wish to thank our many kind friends for their interest and concern during the recent fatal illness of our little daughter Laqueta Joy, for the flowers and every expression of sympathy and every deed of kindness shown us upon her death, and to the faithful nurses and doctors who made every possible effort to save her life. We sincerely thank you all.—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. English have just recently had the stucco finish of their home re-dashed and the wood-work re-painted, all a pure white, and in its setting of trees, shrubs, and flowers it is one of the most attractive homes in town. In the back yard also they have some very fine specimens of hibiscus in bloom, which are exquisitely beautiful.

Friends here will be interested in the news that Rev. and Mrs. B. N. Shepherd, the former having been pastor of the Baptist Church here a number of years ago, have recently become grandparents. A son named Carroll Wayne was born to their daughter and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. Carroll Holtsclaw, in Abilene on July 26.
