New Building Under Construction Here Will Be Occupied By New Firms

Work is progressing rapidly on the business building begun last week by S. E. Reid on the lot lying immediately south of the Gulf Service Station and facing Highway No. 87, better known as No. 9.

The building is being constructed of tile and will have a stucco finish with a cream-white dash. Its dimensions are 25 by 33 feet and it will be divided into three compartments. One of these will be occupied by Reid's Radio Shop, another by a shoe shop, and the third by a hatchery. A Big Spring man is coming to open up a shoe shop and a Sweetwater man to open the hatchery.

It is expected that the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by January 1.

Mrs. Berryhill Is Buried Here

Funeral services were conducted at the Harris Funeral Chapel here at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Bessie Berryhill, wife of J. A. Berryhill, who died at the family residence eleven miles southwest of Brownfield about nine o'clock Monday morning. Death resulted from cancer, from which she had been suffering for several months.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. George E. Turrentine, pastor of the Methodist Church here, and the body was interred in the Tahoka cemetery.

The Berryhill family resided in this county for six years, removing from the Lakeview community to the Tokio community in Terry county about a year ago. They came to Lynn county in 1932 from Ellis county, where they had lived eleven years.

Mrs. Berryhill's maiden name was Bessie Campbell, having been born on February 28, 1884, in Kaufman county. She was married to J. A. Berryhill in Jones county in 1903. For a year the couple lived in Abilene, for another year in Jones county and then moved back east. She had been a devoted member of the Methodist Church for 38 years, having united with the church when she was seventeen years of age.

She bore her intense suffering during her last illness with great fortitude. Mr. Berryhill took her to a number of physicians and placed her in a hospital where she was a patient for several weeks, in a vain effort to combat the terrible malady with which she was suffering, but death had marked her for his own.

She left surviving her husband, three sons and two daughters as follows: A. C. Berryhill of the Tokio community, Mrs. Jack (Violet) Reed of Big Spring, James Ervin Berryhill of Tokio, Mrs. R. L. Upchurch of Waxahatchie, and Johnny Lenwood Berryhill of the family home. One daughter, Mary Goldie, died and was buried here in 1936.

Surviving also are eight grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Creth Harvey of Leuders, and two brothers, Jim Campbell of Big Spring and Ike Campbell of Clyde.

All the above mentioned relatives were present at the funeral.

Mrs. Berryhill was a devoted wife and mother and a noble Christian woman. The family have the sincerest sympathy of a great host of friends.

Gagnat Burglars Brought Back Here

Sheriff B. L. Parker was in Colorado City Monday on official business. On that day, the two men who are charged with burglarizing the Gagnat store here on October 19, entered pleas of guilty to indictments charging the unlawful transportation of stolen property into Mitchell county. There were two cases against each defendant; one involving the guns and radio stolen from the Gagnat store, and the other involving truck tires valued at $200.00 stolen in Dickens county. They were given two years in the penitentiary in each case.

Mr. Parker will go back to Colorado Saturday to bring the men to Tahoka for trial here later for the Gagnat burglary.

American Legion Goes Over Top

The losers in a membership drive contest served a banquet to the winners at the American Legion Hall here Tuesday night, with the members of the Legion Auxiliary as special guests.

As a result of the drive, the membership in the Marion G. Bradley post now exceeds the quota assigned it, which was thirty-five. A total of forty-two members was attained.

W. E. Smith was the captain of the winning team and A. M. Cade was captain of the boys who had to pay for the eats.

Mrs. Skip Taylor led in the singing of some appropriate songs and readings were given by Mrs. J. K. Woolsey and Mrs. A. O. Conley.

Speakers for the occasion were W. E. Lavender and C. E. Luce of Lubbock. Mrs. Lavender also spoke briefly.

The members of the Legion Auxiliary cooked and prepared the meal, turkey and all the usual accessories being the chief item on the menu.

County Farm Meetings Planned

A meeting of the county and community A. A. A. committees was held in the courthouse Thursday, at which a series of community meetings throughout the county to discuss the A. A. A. program for 1940 was planned.

It is contemplated that there will be about a dozen of these meetings in rural school houses in the county, which will be addressed by County Agent Don Turner and A. A. A. secretary C. A. Lawrence, giving information respecting this program. There will probably be discussions by the farmers themselves also.

Preparations for the election to be held on Saturday, December 9, are also being made. At this time, farmers will vote to accept or reject the proposed program for next year.

The last of the series of meetings to be held preceding the election may be held in Tahoka, to which all the business men will be invited and urged to attend, so that they too may thoroughly acquaint themselves with the program.

A schedule of the meetings will be published next week.

Baptists Attend State Convention

The Baptist General Convention in session at San Antonio this week is being attended by a number of Lynn County Baptists and though we do not have complete list the following names have been furnished us:

Mrs. L. Lumsden of Wilson is District president of district nine W. M. U. Mrs. Henry Heck is association president of the Brownfield association, and they attended the meeting of the State W. M. U. of which Mrs. B. A. Copass is president, preceding the convention proper.

District Meeting To Be Held At Lamesa

A the Area meeting of the Future Homemakers clubs of Area II it was decided that the Lynn and Dawson county chapters would meet for a district meeting at Lamesa, December 2. The date however has been changed to Saturday, November 25, because the teachers will be away at the Teachers Convention in San Antonio December 2.

All Lynn and Dawson county chapters are urged to send their delegates to Lamesa, November 25. Tahoka will be in charge of the program.

A HELPING HAND FOR ALL

Methodists Attend District Conference

Rev. George E. Turrentine, pastor of the Methodist Church, is in Lubbock this week attending the sessions of the Northwest Texas Conference. Judge C. H. Cain, lay delegate, is also in attendance. A number of other Methodists here are attending some of the sessions.

Brother Turrentine has just completed his service for one year here. His work seems to have been highly satisfactory and the entire Church is expecting him to be returned. Not only is he beloved by his own members but he is very popular with the people of the town and surrounding territory generally.

The other Methodist pastors and a number of other laymen in the county are also attending the Conference.

On Wednesday night a Unification meeting was held, marking the end of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in so far as the Northwest Texas Conference is concerned. Similar action is being taken by the other Conferences of this church as they meet throughout the Southland, thus perfecting the process of unification of the three Methodist bodies in the United States begun last year, when a motion to unite the three bodies was adopted overwhelmingly by the general conferences of the three bodies. These three bodies are being merged into one, and the unified body will be known as the Methodist Church.

There will be little change in the set-up in Texas, however, as The Methodist Church, South, for many years has greatly outnumbered and overshadowed the other branches of Methodism.

The Northwest Texas Conference embraces all that vast territory lying north of the Texas and Oklahoma state line on the north, and from New Mexico on the west far downstate on the east.

There are 417 churches and approximately 75,000 members in this area, with 218 clerical delegates and 218 lay delegates in the conference.

The Northwest Texas Conference was organized at Stamford in 1910. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas is presiding over the conference.

Miss Olabelle Singleton started work Wednesday as secretary and business assistant to Judge Tom Garrard, succeeding Miss Robie Milliken, who is now working at the Lyntegar office.

Knights Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Knight are today observing their Golden Wedding anniversary, their marriage having taken place at Omaha in Morris county on November 17, 1889.

Mr. Knight is himself a native of Morris county and has resided in this state his entire life.

Mrs. Knight, whose maiden name was Pauline Brunette was born and reared in the state of Georgia. As a young woman, she came with her parents to Morris county, Texas, where Mr. Knight a little later met, wooed, and won her, and where they made their first home.

"We lived in Morris county about eight years," Mr. Knight told a representative of the News this week. "After talking with a man who had been out west, we decided to move west. We saw on a map the name of a town called Eastland, and so we stopped off there for an indefinite time, for some reason or other unknown to us. We were detained or entertained there for eighteen years."

"Then we heard about the South Plains; so Tahoka was our next stop. "I was a farmer in Morris county but got into the mercantile business in Eastland. When we came to Tahoka, we entered business here. All together, I was in business thirty-three years, having retired three years ago."

Mr. Knight was a successful business man too, but he never lost his love for the farm. He has long owned some fine farms and finds much pleasure as well as some profit in looking after them.

Three of the children and their families are here today to honor their parent and enjoy the day under the parental roof. Mrs. Ollie Carson and husband, F. T. Carson, of Washington, D. C. were unable to be present, but Mrs. Carson had a hand in planning the occasion.

Those present are Mrs. Ora Boyd and her husband M. M. Boyd and two of their children, Knight and Bobby Boyd of Amarillo; Mrs. Leota Nance and her husband, J. E. Nance, and their children, Nancy and J. E. of Borden county; K. F. Knight and wife and their little daughter, Irma Beth, of San Angelo. Mrs. Boyd's daughter Marian is in school at Texas Woman's College at Denton and could not be here.

Those present expected to remain through Sunday. A pig has been roasted for the occasion and they expect to have roast pig for dinner on each of the three days.

54,000 Bales Ginned In Lynn County

Cotton ginnings for the season had reached a total of 11,881 bales at noon Thursday, indicating that only 253 bales had been ginned here the past week, according to reports given the News.

E. W. Holloway, who gathers ginning statistics for the U. S. department of commerce, reports that up to November 1, ginnings in Lynn county this season amounted to 49,652 bales. Almost 11,000 bales had been ginned in Tahoka up to that date. Figuring on the same basis, the ginning up to this date should approximate 54,000 bales.

Very little cotton remains in the fields to be gathered at this time.

Ginnings in Lynn county prior to November 1 last year amounted to only 34,571 bales, according to Mr. Holloway.

Rotarians Vote To Observe Nov. 30

At their luncheon Thursday, the Rotarians voted to observe Thursday, November 30, as Thanksgiving Day. An agreement will probably be circulated for signature by the business men agreeing to close on that day, but whether this is done or not it is believed that practically all business houses will close on that day. A number of them had already indicated a purpose of observing the 30th rather than the 23rd, on account of the fact that the schools will observe the 30th. This was deemed advisable since the convention of the State Teachers Association will meet at that time and schools throughout the state generally will dismiss in order that teachers may attend the convention.

So far as we have heard, neighboring towns also will observe November 30.

The coaches Leo Jackson and V. D. Armstrong and the football boys and also A. L. Pace were guests of the Club Thursday and rendered the program.

Mr. Pace indicated that he and others are now getting the basketball teams lined up and in readiness for the basketball season.

H. C. Story Announces For Assessor-Collector

H. C. Story, well known citizen of Lynn county, this week announces that he is a candidate for the office of tax assessor and collector.

"In making my announcement for the office as Assessor-Collector of Lynn county," he says, "I am fully aware of the responsibilities of the office. But with my six years of office experience in the County Clerk's office, I feel that I am qualified to take care of the duties of the office of Assessor-Collector."

"In my race for County Clerk in 1936, I made the statement that if elected I would not run again in the year 1938, and in keeping with this promise, when the time came around I stepped down and out. Now I am asking you citizens of Lynn county for the office of Assessor-Collector with the view of stepping up to a higher office."

"I promise you I will endeavor to make you an efficient officer."

H. C. has served Lynn county capably in the past. He has taken active part in Tahoka and Lynn county affairs, and his character and integrity are above question. His record is well known to nearly everyone in Lynn county and we need not elaborate here. He expects to contact every voter possible during the coming months preceding the July primary, and in the meantime the voters may give his candidacy consideration.

PREACHING AT BETHEL

H. L. Duckett announces that Rev. B. G. Richburg of Big Spring will preach at Bethel Church again next Saturday night, Sunday morning, and Sunday night. Everybody is cordially invited.

Clenn Browning, 30, was shot and fatally wounded with a pistol at about one o'clock Sunday morning at the residence of his mother about a mile east of Central Church in a difficulty with Drew Enloe, 22, and Enloe is in jail here charged with murder. His brother, L. A. Enloe, is also in jail charged as an accomplice.

Following the shooting, Browning was taken to a hospital in Lubbock, where he died about six o'clock Sunday morning. Enloe was driven to Slaton by his brother, where he intended to catch a train out, but he was arrested by officers before making his get-away.

Browning and Enloe had been neighbors and friends, and Browning spent Friday night with Enloe. They were together most of the day Saturday. On Saturday night both went to a negro house in the community, where there were two or three negro men and two negro women. While there, the two became involved in a difficulty and had a fist fight. Enloe claims that in the fracas, Browning tried to cut him with a knife and did inflict minor wounds. He went to the home of an aunt, with whom he was staying, and showed his wounds to his brother, L. A. Enloe. The two went back down to the negro house but Browning had gone.

They went to the home of Browning's mother, who told them that Browning was not there. They then went to several other places and finally to Post, according to the statement made by Enloe. Then they went back to the Browning home and were again told that Clenn was not there. Enloe went back to his car and Clenn showed up with a gun, he says, and asked him to go away and wait till the next day to settle their difficulty. The shooting followed, but even after the shots were fired, the two fought. Enloe claims. He further claims that Clenn fired at him first, with a shot gun. Both men had been drinking "choo" beer but Enloe claims he was not drunk.

There were a number of witnesses to the event leading up to the tragedy.

Young Enloe admitted that he had served a term in the Ohio State Reformatory for car theft.

Good Response In Red Cross Drive

Rollin McCord, the Red Cross Roll Call Chairman, reports that the campaign for Red Cross memberships seems to be meeting with good responses throughout the county, though no figures were available as to the number of members signed up thus far.

In view of the fact that Lynn county tornado sufferers last year received immediate and substantial aid from the Red Cross, it was expected that Lynn county citizens would contribute more to the Red Cross this year than in any previous year.

The names of the local chairmen and the amount of funds contributed by the various communities will be published at the conclusion of the campaign.

School Will Observe Nov. 30, Holiday

At a meeting of the school board Tuesday night, it was decided that November 30 will be observed by the schools as Thanksgiving Day.

The schools will be closed Thursday and Friday, the 30 and December 1st, in observance of the occasion.

It was also decided that the schools will be closed in observance of Christmas and New Year from December 21st, Thursday, to January 2nd.

Visitors in the H. L. Roddy home Sunday included: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roddy of Ft. Worth, with their family, John Henry Roddy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roddy, Mr. and Mrs. Noland Fulford and Jimmy Frank.

NEW LYNN 4-H CLUB STUDIES POULTRY FEEDING

Vitamin D should be included in the diet of poultry said Miss Maurine McNatt Home Demonstration Agent at the meeting at New Lynn 4-H Club Tuesday November 7, at the schoolhouse.

The lack of vitamin D causes leg weakness and rickets. It is supplied by sunlight, green feed and cod liver oil. Thirty minutes of direct sunlight daily is usually sufficient but chickens in total confinement must have a proper substitute.

Each girl who is eligible to be a Gold Star girl listed her accomplishments for this year. The club voted on its most valuable members. Ve Neil Walker and Dorothy Lackey tied for this honor.

LEGION AUXILIARY GUESTS AT LEGION BANQUET

The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary were special guests at the American Legion banquet held Tuesday night.

After a delicious turkey banquet,
they were called to order in a meeting, with Mrs. H. M. Snowden as president in the chair and Mrs. R.
L. Richardson as secretary.

The program concerned membership and poppies.

Mrs. Lavender of Lubbock was a special guest. The following regular members were present: Mesdames
J. K. Wooley, Skip Taylor, Sam
Holland, H. O. Hargett, J. E. Dye,
T. L. Tippit, Jack Corley, Milt Finch,
J. B. Oliver, W. E. Smith, A. M.
Cade, W. O. Mitchell and Miss Obera Forrester.

New members and visitors included Mesdames E. R. Edwards, McKay, Luttrell, Story, Fulford,
Smith, Gillespie, Jewell Connolly,
Reddell, A. O. Conley, Grandmother
Finch, Miss Edwards, and Miss Floyce Sherrod.

The local Boy Scouts here completed organization of an archery received 14 archery sets, including bows, arrows and targets. An internationally famous archery champion will be here at a later date to give a public demonstration of the art of archery. Notice of his appearance will be given later.

H. F. Gilley, field executive of the

TAHOKA LOSES PROMINENT FAMILY

In the removal of Mr. and Mrs.
J. H. Edwards to Austin last week,
Tahoka lost two of her most prominent and highly respected citizens.
Their intended removal was known to only a few of our people and their departure was entirely unexpected.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards had been residents of Tahoka for almost a quarter of a century, though Mr.
Edwards had spent most of his time away from here the last three of four years, being a truck and bus inspector for the State Railroad Commission during that time.

Mr. Edwards served at one time as sheriff of this county and he always took an active part in politics, state and local. Their family of several children was reared here principally, but only one of them,
Edgar, resides here at this time.

Many friends regret the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards from Ta-hoka.

tended a district meeting of the

Thursday night.

The visitors anticipated that it would be a great occasion.

BABY DIES AT BIRTH

A baby daughter weighing 13 pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. A.
D. Jester in the West Point community Wednesday afternoon but died immediately after birth. It was given the name of Lillie Fern.

The remains were buried in the Grassland cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Jester herself remained in a most serious condition Thursday.

The News editor had a communication Thursday from Elder J.
Lauri Nibbett expressing his regret at leaving Tahoka but stating that he had a larger field of service there. He is well pleased with the outlook. Incidentally, he will have in next week's paper a discussion of the issue raised by Elder Tyne
W. Smith.

G. C. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs.
J. G. Price of this city, who now holds a position as mortician with a concern in El Paso, was here from Sunday till Tuesday visiting his parents. James Price, who is a student in the Texas Tech, was also here for the same period of time.

Mrs. M. L. Barker of Wilmett, a sister of Mrs. John Heck of Wilson, died Monday. Mrs. Heck was at her bedside at the time. Mr. Heck and a number of Wilson friends went down following the death and attended the funeral Wednesday.

G. A. Edwards has begun the construction of a residence of five rooms and bath on West North 3rd Street two blocks east of the grade school building. It will have a stucco finish outside and will be neatly finished inside.

Frank P. Hill is able to be up this week and visited the News office a short time one day but it is not probable that we will allow him to come back to work for some time yet.

Mrs. John Donaldson was taken to a sanitarium in Lubbock Wednesday night for a check-up. She has not been well recently, though it was not believed that her condition was serious.

News from the hospital indicated that G. W. Simmons has been steadily improving and it is hoped that he may be able to be brought home Sunday.

REPRESENTATIVE, NOT DEMOCRATIC

Sometime recently—maybe this very week—we have had something to say about totalitarian and democratic governments.

By democratic is really meant representative government. For democratic government in the true sense, would have everybody voting on everything. This was not the intent of the founders of the republic. They intended and planned and tried to write safeguards around a representative government.

In latter days many people, who know what they want and think everybody else ought to want the same thing, have been veering toward an actual democracy, which is as harmful finally as a dictatorship.

The United States has had and should keep a representative form of government, not a democracy. Teach your children that way and you will not be wrong.—Floyd County Hesperian.

In the strict sense, you are absolutely correct. It was not intended that the electorate as a whole should vote upon every political issue or every matter of legislation that might arise. That might require an election almost every week, certainly a multitude of elections during a year's time. And even then, there would necessarily have to be some authority to determine the form of proposals to be submitted, and how and when.

Because any government democratic in form would be too slow and cumbersome, representative government was established. But the power of such representatives had to be limited and their duties defined. Hence a written constitution was deemed advisable if not absolutely necessary.

When the government of the United States was established, a great constitution was formulated and adopted. Legislation, necessarily, must conform to this constitution.

tion. But it was self evident that some judicial body should be established and authorized to determine, when doubt might arise, whether any particular act of legislation does in fact conform to the provisions of the constitution. So, in the constitution itself, the supreme court was established with authority to do that very thing.

Those who would regard lightly this great constitution or the court whose duty it is to construe it, are doing a distinct disservice to this country and to our form of government.

And that is why we should be sticklers for the Constitution and for the absolute independence and integrity of the supreme court.

DAVID DIDN'T USE A "NIGGER-SHOOTER"

We saw a picture of the instrument in an ad in the Southern Printer recently that was supposed to represent the weapon that little David used to slay the giant Goliath. The picture showed an ordinary "nigger-shooter." When the fight as reported occurred in the old Bible times as recorded in Kings, there was no such stuff as rubber known, so far as we know. What David actually used was really a sling, consisting of a folded piece of leather about the size of one's hand with a string at each end. This was swung around the head of the thrower a few times, and one string then released, sending the stone two or three hundred yards if used by an expert. We could never get one of those stones to go within 45 degrees of where we aimed. It took a while of a lot of practice with them. As for slingshot or nigger-shooter, we used to kill sand lizards running with them.—Terry County Herald.

Jack, you are right. Rubber was unknown to the civilized world until Columbus made his second trip to America. He discovered that the natives of Haiti amused themselves with balls that they improvised from the sap of certain trees and he took one or more of these balls with him back to Spain. As an outgrowth of this incident, the making of rubber eventually evolved, we are told.

David evidently did not use a "nigger-shooter"; he used a sling.

By the way, we haven't seen a sling in many years. They were an almost essential part of a normal boy's equipment when Jack and this editor were kids. But like Jack, we were not expert in the use of the weapon. We remember being out on the hillside a hundred yards or more from the house once when we were a kid, practicing with the sling. Around and around our head we swung it and then let go. The stone didn't go in the direction we intended. It went sizzling almost with the speed of a cannon ball right through the window of the house, missing the head of our brother only two, or three feet. We believe that stone would have killed any Goliath whose head might have been in its path.

Little David used just such a sling.

But you have doubtless been reminded many times already of one little mistake you made, Andy Jack. The story of David and Goliath is recorded not in Kings but in I Samuel.

Jerry Sadler has set out to defeat Garner for president in Texas. Also he has said he will run for governor. Meanwhile he is supposed to be a railroad commissioner. That's too many irons in the fire, some of them will burn him.—Henrietta Independent.

GETTING UP NIGHTS CAUSED BY

Getting up nights may be caused by sluggish kidneys. Kidneys often need help same as bowels. If excess acids and other wastes are not regularly eliminated, it may lead to burning, scanty or frequent flow, backache, leg or rheumatic pains, headache or dizziness. Keep kidneys active. Women: "Build-Up" To Relieve Pain

A weak, run-down, undernourished condition calls for attention!

Such a condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get its foothold. That's one thing which leads to much of women's suffering from headaches, nervousness, those cramp-like pains. A good way to relieve such pains, women by thousands have found, is by the proper use of CARDUI. It stimulates a lagging appetite, assists digestion and assimilation; thus helps build physical resistance to periodic pain. Taken just before and during "the time," many women also report that CARDUI helps to ease the pain and discomfort of the period.

ODDS AND ENDS

By E. E. Eye
the Elder

It's lots of fun to be a country newspaper editor. An editor who loves his job has a glorious good time.

But he also has a hard time. Not only is there a lot of work for him to do—long hours and a multitude of details to look after every day—but he constantly finds himself between a rock and a hard place. He is cussed if he does and cussed if he doesn't.

If he publishes something that is furnished him for publication and it offends a lot of people, he is flayed and skinned from head to foot, kicked out of the synagogue, and maybe driven out of the Democratic party.

If he doesn't publish it, he is being unfair, he is suppressing free speech, or mayhaps he is causing some exquisitely lovely flower to "blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air."

For instance—every newspaper man, we guess, has accumulated at least a few implacable enemies by declining to publish some "poem"—so-called, written by some bubbling young "poet of the country or community."

It's a strange thing that nearly half the young lads and lassies imagine that they can write poetry, especially when they get bitten by the love bug. Many other folks, when some great joy or some great sorrow overwhelms them, undertake to express their emotions in "poetry."

As a rule, these people have very hazy or distorted ideas as to what poetry really is. If they can write a string of lines with the last words of two successive lines or two alternate lines rhyming, they imagine they have written poetry. No two of the lines may be of the same metrical length, in fact there may be no meter or rhythm in the production; if the words at the end of the lines rhyme, then the production is excellent poetry—so the writer thinks.

And frequently, even the rhyming is horribly imperfect. We have read productions of these youngsters—and some oldsters—in which they undertook to make "love", for instance, rhyme with "rove", or "home" with "alone", or "sing" with "rings", and so on and so on.

As for Meter, there are folks who try to write poetry that don't know what meter is. They wouldn't know a metrical foot from an elephant's foot, nor rhythm from the rattle of a Model T.

But the meter, the rhythm, and the rhyme may all be perfect, and the composition still not be poetry. For example, not long ago, just as an experiment, we wrote some verses about an old sow and her pigs out in a filthy hog pen. After much effort we succeeded in making the rhyme and the meter perfect, using as elegant and euphonious English as the subject would admit of, but the composition wasn't poetry. We don't believe that a Lord Tennyson himself could write poetry about an old sow and her pigs.

To be poetry, a composition must not only be written in poetic form but it must also embody or express a poetic thought or sentiment.

So, most editors decline to publish the "poetic" effusions of the amateurs. Most of it is mere doggerel.

That doesn't mean, dear young friend, that it pertains to dogs; it means that it is loosely and crudely written.

But that reminds us of some dog "poetry" that was furnished us once for publication. And "If you have tears", dear reader, "prepare to shed them now"; for we are going to break over and publish some of that stuff.

Once upon a time, when the writer was publishing a newspaper in another town, the English teacher in the public school undertook to teach her youngsters something about poetry. After a few lessons, Tommy Tinker decided to try his hand at the game, and here is what he brought to the printing office for publication, entitled:

"A Dog and a Cat Fight"
A dog and a cat they had a quarrel,
And the cat did growl and the dog did snarl,
And the cat told the dog that he had no sense,
And the dog chased the cat through a crack in the fence.

When Tommy had finished that "poem", he evidently decided that there hadn't been much of a fight, so he tried his hand again.

A dog and a cat they had a fuss,
And the dog did swear and the cat did cuss,
Both got as mad as they could be;
The dog made a dash and the cat clumb a tree.

Tommy went home, but the next day he was back at the office. He still wasn't satisfied with that fight, and besides, obviously, the cat had been up that tree long enough. So Tommy brought along with him a second revised edition of that story. Here it is:

Next day the dog found the cat asleep,
And pounced upon him with a vicious leap;
But 'fore he got loose he howled no little,
And they sent that pup to the dog hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Johnson went down to Thalia in Ford county Monday to attend the celebration of the 90th birthday anniversary of his brother-in-law, J. G. Thompson.

Mr. Johnson says that 350 adult people registered during the day besides the children who were present. A yearling was barbecued, tables were arranged in the front yard, and a great feast was enjoyed. A program of songs, readings, and other numbers of more than two hour duration was rendered, to the great delight of all.

Mr. Johnson says he saw childhood friends whom he had not seen for 52 years.

The birthday cake was a huge one, and the honoree was the recipient of many gifts and other tokens of esteem.

F. F. A, Have District Meeting At Wilson

Leslie Browning, teacher, and Junior Sanders and Roy Alvie Hopkin, members of the Tahoka Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, attended a district meeting of the F. F. A. held at Wilson on Monday, November 6.

Among the officers of the district organization are: David Evans of Wilson, vice-president; Will Whisenhunt of Meadow, parliamentarian; A. H. Fulford of New Home, watch dog; and Junior Sanders of Tahoka, reporter.

The boys who got calves for projects have made a great showing. They have fed the calves a balanced ration, and the calves have showed a gain of over two pounds per day.

Glen Loyd, who got the Sears-Roebuck pig last year, will show his hog in Lubbock Friday in competition with pigs won by boys in other near-by counties.

Craft At Parents' Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Craft drove down to Blackwell last Sunday to attend the celebration of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Craft.

Leonard says it was the finest affair he ever attended. It was almost like a camp meeting. All the neighbors were there and people came many miles, some of them hundreds of miles, to attend the affair. All of the seven children and their families were present, together with many other relatives.

Both the honorees are native Texans. They were married in Bell county fifty years ago. They have resided in Coke county near Blackwell for more than forty years.

Among the scores of visitors were Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Campbell of O'Donnell, former neighbors of the Crafts at Blackwell.

Mrs. Lou Davidson, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burns Kirtrell, visited her brother, A. M. Cade, and family last weekend. They live at Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wright of Concordia, Kansas, was here Wednesday attending to business. Mrs. Wright visited an old time friend, Mrs. Hall Robinson, while here.

ELDER DRENNON'S NOTES

Another week is upon us with its responsibilities and its opportunities. It is great to live, not just exist, but, really live. How many are only existing, not living. When I think of the great things of life; I am thrilled to think that I can play my little part in God's great plan for bettering and saving of humanity. I believe those who are giving the teachings of Christ to the world are doing the most for the uplift and peace of nations.

I am sorry to have to disagree with the editor, but in his statements in Odds and Ends of last issue are some things I want to challenge. I like his idea of having the spirit of Christ and in all discussion we should display it. But in his closing remarks he makes a few statements that belittles a great teaching of Christ, that of baptism. He says, "He (Christ) was too busy teaching men that they must repent of their sins and come to God in faith to spend much time talking about either Predestination or the ritualism and ordinances of the church", if he means by the latter, baptism, then I want to say he is mistaken. Christ submitted to it at the beginning of his ministry and it was among the last things he spoke upon. He walked some sixty miles to be baptized, thereby setting us an example, and another thing, He was not acknowledged publicly as the son of God until after he was baptized, neither are we. Among the last things He said were the great commission as found in Matthew 28:19-20 Mark 16:15-16 and Luke 24:45-47 which indicates that baptism is a condition of salvation.

When Peter preached under this commission as found in Acts the second chapter he told inquiring sinners "To repent and be baptized for the remission of their sins" Acts 2:38. Now, editor, I hope you won't think I am dressing you down and that I don't have the spirit of Christ, for I do but I love Christ and his teachings. The same Christ, who said "Love your enemies" also said "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" Mark 16:16-18. I accept both. Do you? How I hope you won't think I am dogmatic, intolerant, or narrow, but honest.

Our attendance last Lord's day was off a little but interest was good and several visitors were present. Yours for more people who will live as high a standard as they set for the preacher and his family. Visit the friendly church and hear the truth preached.—R. P. Drennon.

(Editorial Note: We realize that we touched on a highly controversial matter when we mentioned Baptism last week but we said nothing to "belittle" the ordinance. Neither do we intend to engage in any discussion of the subject with any one through these columns. We wish merely to observe that whether Christ was "too busy" to stress the subject or not he said practically nothing about it except on the occasion of his own baptism and in giving the great commission. He never baptized any of those whom he healed or forgave of their sins, nor is it recorded that he commanded them to be baptized. Is it possible that they were lost? We are asking the question for you and your readers merely to ponder and not for controversial purposes.)

Tyne Smith Replies To Elder Drennon

In reply to Elder Drennon, I am glad your friends persuaded you to reply to me. They might get a blessing out of it. We all finally got you to give your views on one Scripture: Choose you this day whom you will serve. Then you cited the readers to lots of Scripture but didn't dare to try to fit them in with your doctrine. The Catholics use that Scripture and with their people fit it up with their doctrine and get it by their victims.

I don't have space to explain all these pointed-out Scriptures, so I will take the pet text of all confused religion and show that you don't believe it yourself and show that you deny it. So I will give a citation to prove you deny John 3:16, to wit:

Titus 1:15-16: Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled. They profess that they know God but in works they deny him, being abominable and disobedient and unto every good work reprobate.

II Timothy 3:5: Having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof. From such turn away.

Now we will quote John 3:16: For God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life. Now Old Baptists believe that just the believer has everlasting life and they will not perish and that they have nothing to do in the way of works to make it good.

If you don't believe Christ's word, let's see how much works you deny him with. So here are the works you deny him with: You add repentance and water baptism and to live faithful to the end. So by works they do deny him, yet they have a form of godliness but deny Christ's statement; from such turn away. Readers, are you going to stay with the Elder under such denials by works as this, having all the evidence fitly framed? So, if Christ told the truth, and I think He did, that one verse drained the pool of water baptism to complete eternal salvation.

Yes, Old Baptists baptize the children of God who have had their conscience purged by the blood of Christ. Hebrews 9:14: How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God. Then the child of God, after the purge, has a good conscience toward God. I Peter 3:21: The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh but the answer of a good conscience toward God. So the purging gave a good conscience, which he had before you went into the water. So that was his answer of what he already had. So we drain the pool of water baptism for your purposes but not for ours. That's the way we do it.

Now, Brother Hill, you had to quit the Elder right there. You ought not to quit him right now, he is in a powerful strain.

Now on that Choose whom you will serve, you said in your first article it gave the sinner a choice. Then I threatened you in order to pull you out on the firing line to let you tangle yourself. So I have got you.

Then you said it was between false gods and God. Now I will take the same Scripture and see if you and Joshua agree. Now it is just like all you have tried to prove; it proves my point every time. Joshua 24:15: And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom you will serve, whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood or the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell. Now did he offer the true God to them to make Brother Alphin's triangle? No, but he told them they could not serve the Lord. Then did he offer them choice between something they could do and something they couldn't do? Now are you and he together on that?

Now he didn't make the offer like you do and believe, but he made it like Hardshells do and believe. So if you and Joshua get together, you will have to come to him; then the Hardshells will take you. Verse 19: And Joshua said unto the people, Ye can not serve the Lord, for He is an holy God.

You say: For more honest people when you are looking at them. Then when you look your congregation in the face next Lord's Day, what are you going to say? May God bless you and give you a spiritual interpretation of the Scriptures. II Corinthians 3:17: Now the Lord is the Spirit and where the Spirit of the Lord is there is liberty. So the Spirit is not in the Bible, the Lord is the Spirit, else I will have all my children buy them a Bible, I mean a Lord.

Now I notice you say you think there is merit in oral discussion, and if you want to push this as a challenge as your challenger is not able to make your fight, the Baptist is accepting a boast as a challenge by Guy N. Woods of Wellington and we will fight it out on your own grounds at Abilene, where you make your preachers. So get your people ready and put Guy in shape, for he is your best. So here is our acceptance of Guy's challenge.

In this connection, I am asking that the following communication written by Ariel West of Austin, be published.—Tyne W. Smith. (From The Banner of Love, Meadow, Texas.)

"I want to say in the Banner that the Campbellite Church at Wellington, Texas, sent a challenge to Brother Afton Richards, addressed to me for a debate. I wrote them that I would not come to Wellington and debate, as I had not been called by our brethren there to defend them, and I have never met any of the Baptists at Wellington. They are now saying West and Welch are afraid to defend the Baptists at Wellington.

"If this fellow Guy N. Woods is as big as he makes out like he is, let Abilene Christian College back him to debate on CHURCH IDENTITY in their auditorium at Abilene, Texas, and we will be on hand, sent by our home church. I want the young Campbellites to know who their religious papa is.

"In love of the cause.—Ariel West, 2205 Willow Street, Austin, Texas."
