District Epworth League Holds Meeting Here

In spite of the disagreeable weather, about eighty-five Epworth Leaguers representing seventeen churches of the Lubbock district met in the Methodist church here in their quarterly meeting last Saturday.

Reports of the work through the past quarter were heard and plans for the future discussed. Miss Lucille Lillejahl, as district president, presided over the business session. A splendid feast was served in the evening and there was a most enjoyable recreation hour.

The League work is prospering throughout the entire district.

Tahoka Business Concerns Approve Work of W. T. C. C.

The News has received from Hon. Tom Garrard, member of the Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the following communication showing that 23 business concerns in Tahoka made their contributions and enlisted as members of the organization when approached by him and Jed Ricks of Abilene, assistant manager, two weeks ago. Mr. Garrard also sets out some of the fine work accomplished by this organization the past year. The communication follows.

"I hand you a list of the following persons who contributed to the payment in such fine manner of Tahoka's budget fund to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce: Wynne Collier, Deen Nowlin, the Telephone Company, W. M. Harris, L. C. Haney, Thornhill's Variety Store, Kirk Pitts Cash Store, Raborn Chevrolet, Tahoka Motor Company, Thompson Variety Store, First National Bank, Burleson Grain Company, Piggly Wiggly Store, J. K. Applewhite, D. W. Gagnat, W. E. Smith, D. B. English and Al Smith.

"It is mighty fine, and Tahoka should be proud of the fact that they have merchants and citizens who contribute so freely and so readily to such a worthy cause.

"The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has done many fine pieces of service for our section, and just in the past few months has succeeded in getting the Railroad Commission of Texas to abolish freight rate differentials in this territory, and if the Courts uphold the action of the Railroad Commission, it will mean a saving of an estimated $100,000,000.00 to the

Mrs. McMurry Called to Reward

After a short illness Mrs. Mary E. Preston McMurry quietly passed away Sunday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock at the residence of her niece and nephew, Misses Mary and Elizabeth Preston and Lloyd Preston with whom she resided just outside the southern limits of Tahoka.

Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. Geo. A. Dale officiating, and the body was buried in the Tahoka cemetery under the direction of Harris Funeral Home.

Having been born on July 29, 1852 deceased was just past 87 years of age. She had been afflicted with bad health for several years preceding her death.

A native of Ohio county, Kentucky, Mrs. E. Preston came with her parents to Texas many years ago. She was married at Valley Mills on November 8, 1889, to Joseph A. McMurry, who died in 1907.

She came to Lynn county with the Preston family in March, 1917, and had made her home with them. She left to survive her the following relatives, Misses Mary, Elizabeth and Margaret Preston, and Mesdames Grady Gore and A. O. King, nieces, Lloyd Preston, a nephew, and the following step children: Mrs. Annie E. Blankenbecker of Stamford, Mrs. W. L. McElhannon of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Eva M. Hord of Slaton, and Joe McMurry of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. McMurry united with the Baptist church in early life and was a devoted member and active worker in the church until she became afflicted and was unable longer to do active church work. Even in her affliction she found great consolation and joy in her Christian faith.

The bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of great numbers of friends.

She had been also an active member of the Order of the Eastern Star in earlier years.

shippers in the West Texas area. This piece of work alone will justify the existence of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for many years, and an outstanding service of this kind has been performed by this association almost every year.

"I wish to thank publicly the generous and public spirited citizens who made possible the payment of our dues so promptly.

Sincerely yours,
TOM GARRARD

Drew and A. L. Enloe Are Granted Bond

In a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Louis B. Reid in the district court room here Wednesday, Drew Enloe was granted bail and the bond fixed at $6,000. Previously he had been denied bail in the justice court here.

At the same hearing A. L. Enloe, charged jointly with his brother Drew, was likewise allowed bail in the sum of $6,000. His bond has been set previously by the justice of the peace at $10,000.

The two brothers are charged with the murder of Glen Browning at the home of deceased's mother a mile or more east of Central Church near the east line of the county on the early morning of November 12.

Both defendants gave notice of appeal from the action of the Court Wednesday.

Local Talent In Mystery Play

The cast for "Mystery at Midnight", the thrilling new mystery drama sponsored by the Band Booster Club of Tahoka, which is to be presented Thursday and Friday nights, February 1 and 2, at the High School Auditorium, is one of outstanding merit.

The director, Miss Ida Weir, and the members of the casting committee which includes Mrs. H. H. McCord, Mrs. Carl Owens, and Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, have succeeded in securing the best talent in Tahoka for this production.

The part of Bonnie Baker, the heroine, is played by Miss Elizabeth McEwin; Conway Clingan plays opposite her in the role of Ralph Norris, the hero. Judge Rollins, the victim of robbery and kidnapping, is played by Dr. Kenneth Durham, and the detective who "almost" solves the mystery is Mr. Joyce Felts.

Professor Rockbottom, who is an authority on rocks and formations, is played by Raymond Weathers, and Obera Forrester is the romantic splinter who pursues him. The part of Sarah, the mystic, is most dramatically portrayed by Mrs. Janis Gross, while Mrs. Joyce Felts is the wealthy and self-important Mrs. Hallway, her mistress. Maurine McNatt plays the part of Sally Grant, the scatterbrain, and until you see Sally flirt you haven't seen anything. The part of Jack Murphy, the bus driver is taken by Mrs. W. T. Hanes, and J. O. Tinsley plays the part of the mysterious "stranger". Mr. Lee Dodson is the smooth, man of the world, Tom Foster, and his part promises thrills and chills to everyone in the audience.

The cast is working every night in an endeavor to give Tahoka the best production that has ever been staged here.

A. M. Cade Asks Return to Office

Aubra Cade, the popular and proficient tax assessor and collector of Lynn county, is this week making his announcement for re-election. Mr. Cade is so well known throughout the county any introduction by us would be entirely superfluous. His statement follows.

TO THE CITIZENS OF LYNN COUNTY

"In announcing for reelection to the office of Tax Assessor-Collector, I want to thank you for the vote of confidence you have placed in me by entrusting the State's and County's financial affairs in my care, and honoring me with the responsibilities of first assessing the total properties in the county at a fair taxable value and collecting the taxes from such assessments and properly accounting for same.

Jess Lockhart Died Tuesday In Brownfield

Jess Lockhart, 34, a resident of Tahoka until recently, was found dead in his residence in Brownfield about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the victim of a heart attack.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, assisted by Rev. Walter B. Jennings, minister of the First Christian Church of Plainview, at the Rix Funeral Chapel in Lubbock at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Many Tahoka people, as well as a host of Lubbock friends and relatives, attended the services.

The son of Judge and Mrs. G. E. Lockhart, Jess was reared in Tahoka, moving with his parents to Lubbock eight or ten years ago. For the past two years he had been engaged in the operation of a service station here, until a few weeks ago, when he and his brother-in-law, Bill Ed Watson, opened a tractor agency in Brownfield. He left his place of business about 11 o'clock Monday night for his residence, which he and Mrs. Spikes were preparing to occupy. She had resigned as a teacher in the Junior High School in Lubbock and was teaching her last day Tuesday. Jess went to their new home Monday night, having an engagement to meet an employe Tuesday morning at 8:00 o'clock.

When he had not made his appearance his business associates telephoned to Lubbock for information as to his whereabouts. Then they instituted a search and at about 3 o'clock Mr. Matson and Mike Redwine, an employe, found the body slumped over the bath tub in the bathroom. Doctors thought that he was stricken with a heart attack and fell lifeless where found. He had evidently been dead at least twelve hours.

Jess was a graduate of the Tahoka High school, he attended Schreiner Institute at Kerrville, and en-

We sincerely thank all our friends in Tahoka and elsewhere for the many kindnesses, good wishes, and remembrances with which they have showered us since I have been in the hospital. Tahoka Fighters Make Good In Golden Glove Preliminary Tahoka came out victor in three of the final contests here Wednesday night, when the preliminary Golden Gloves tournament being held here was concluded.

Mutt Sessums, Bantamweight, who fought with a fractured rib in his first fight, koved Lee Bickerstaff of Slaton in the first round. Bickerstaff had defeated Kenneth Ross by a decision Tuesday night to meet Sessums in the finals.

Pete Jolly, welterweight, hung-up a very close and thrilling decision over the veteran James Stotts of Slaton. Cloe of Tahoka was unable to fight in this class Wednesday night. He had gained a 30 second knockout in his first fight and a technical knockout over Hatchell of Tahoka in the third round Tuesday night to fight his way to the finals. However, injuries to his right hand Tuesday night, hindered his entry Wednesday. Jolly had defeated Slatter of Post Tuesday night to enter the finals.

Noel Thompson, Tahoka, defeated Newman of Tahoka for title. He had defeated Walters of Slaton in the semi-finals by a knockout in the third round. On Tuesday night he had defeated Moser of Slaton while Newman of Tahoka stopped Hooker of New Home, technical knockout.

G. W. Hill Dies of Heart Attack

Stricken with a sudden attack of heart trouble, G. W. Hill of this city fell on the street in front of Higginbotham-Bartlett lumber yard here about 3:45 o'clock Friday afternoon and died almost instantly.

He had suffered previous attacks, the last one at the same lumber yard about a year ago. A few moments before the attack Friday, he stated to the employees at the lumber yard that he was feeling fine and had not suffered an attack since the one he had there a year ago.

Services were conducted at the Harris Funeral Chapel at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, followed by burial in the Tahoka Cemetery. Rev. Geo. A. Dale, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiated, Mr. Hill being a member of the Baptist Church.

Mr. Hill and family had been residents of Lynn county less than three years, coming here from Snyder in 1937. They had resided in the country until about ten days prior to his death, when they moved into town.

Mr. Hill was born in Camp county on June 13, 1887. He was married to Miss Dora Carney at Idabel, Oklahoma, on March 20, 1909. He left surviving him the widow and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Vesta Cunningham of Seminole, Texas, Willie Hill of Hermleigh, Mrs. Max Shipley, and Harry, Wayne and Dorothy Hill, all of Tahoka. He also left three grandchildren, three brothers and three sisters.

RULING MADE RELATIVE TO POLL TAXES

A. M. Cade recently received a communication from Comptroller George Shepperd enclosing a ruling from Attorney - General Gerald Mann pointing out that in cities of less than 10,000 population, which applies in Lynn county, poll tax payers must pay their poll taxes in person or give written authority to some other person to pay such taxes for them. The only exception to this is that a husband may pay the poll tax of the wife and the wife may pay for the husband without written authorization. But a son or daughter can not pay for the parent nor the parent for a son or daughter without written authorization.

Poll taxes must be paid before Wednesday at midnight next week.

O'Donnell Seagraves Road Designation Is Sought

County Judge P. W. Goad and all members of the commissioners court composed of George Small, Sam Holland, Waldo McLaurin, and Tom Hale returned Tuesday from Austin, where they appeared before the state highway commission on Monday seeking designation of a new highway from O'Donnell via Cedar Lake to Seagraves. They were accompanied by a delegation of citizens from O'Donnell consisting of Marshall Whitsett, Howell Singleton and Namon Everett.

While the state highway commission declined to make any commitment on the matter at this time, yet they personally recognized the need for such a highway and left the matter open for further consideration. They explained that they were really many years behind with highway construction, and were opening no new roads except where the need was imperative.

The proposed road would extend about ten miles west in Lynn county, then veer to the southwest and run for a distance of fourteen miles in Dawson county to the Gaines county line, and thence west to Seagraves.

Whether the designation is made or not, it is said that Gaines county will likely hard-surface the road from Seagraves east to Cedar Lake.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Eec Eye
The Elder

We sat in a funeral service not long ago and pondered: O that men could be as broad-minded and generous and charitable everywhere else as they are at a funeral.

In the presence of this mysterious thing we call death, we feel subdued, and helpless, and humble. Death! It dulls the sharp edge of malice and envy. It stays the arm of the stoutest foe. It stills the voice of the critic. It often melts the heart of stone. It reminds us that tomorrow, or next week, or next year, or somewhere out yonder not so far away, we too will lie cold and helpless like the form before us; that the time is not so far away when these bodies of ours will be consigned back to dust, and the spirit to God who gave it.

And this makes us feel blood-kin to all mankind. In death, the white man and the black man alike are helpless clay. In death, the brawny arm of the pugilist is no stronger than the emaciated finger of the invalid. In death, the mind, the soul, apparently has ceased to function. The intellectual giant, the mental genius, the man who in life has established or overthrown empires and changed the whole course of history, in death has no more power to use the brain as the instrument of thought than has the imbecile.

Hence, in the presence of death, we find ourselves asking the question: Does death end all? Does death annihilate both body and soul? Can the mind function separate from the body? Is there any such thing as mind apart from the body? If a man die shall he live again?

The agnostic answers: I don't know. The atheist scoffs and says No! The Bible says. Yes. What does your soul say?

There is something in us—implanted there, as we believe, by the great Eternal Spirit that we call God—that causes us to cry out in rebellion against the suggestion that when we die our entire existence is extinguished. There is something in us that makes us long for life beyond the grave, that makes us dream of another state in which the soul, the mind, the spirit will continue to function; that makes us feel that the soul is immortal. Aside from and in addition to what the Bible says, the ordinary human being, possibly every human being, is conscious of that divine spark of immortality. In his inmost soul, he feels that death does not end all; that somehow or other, the spirit of man will continue to live and to function after death.

To us that inborn feeling within our soul is the strongest possible evidence of immortality.

Shall we all, then, have the same destiny? Not by any means. God is a just judge. He will do right respecting every soul. Many who have held high stations of honor and power in this world will have no standing in His presence. On the other hand, many who lived humble obscure lives in this world will be highly honored in the courts of Heaven.

That was a great lesson that many of us studied at Sunday School last Sunday, which the wisest and greatest of all teachers gave us: "Whoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant; even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

Thus we are taught that the greatest in the kingdom of Heaven are those who have the greatest hearts, who make the greatest sacrifices, who do the greatest service

We believe that a great man, measured by the Christian standard, died Friday night when Senator William E. Borah came to the end of the way. We do not know what profession of Christianity he made, but we believe he was a Christian gentleman. Mentally and morally he seemed to be great, and apparently he sought throughout a long public life to serve humanity. Often he exhibited a high degree of courage.

Senator Borah was an independent. Though wearing the Republican label, he never permitted so-called loyalty to party to fetter him. He often voted with the Democrats. He was no party's yellow dog. And he commanded the respect of the members of both parties. In debates, he was one of the most powerful members of the Senate. When he spoke over the radio he possibly commanded a wider hearing than any other man in this country except the President of the United States. We thought that he was sometimes wrong. We believed that he was wrong in his recent attacks upon the President's foreign policy. We thought that he was wrong back in the days of the World War when he fought President Wilson's proposed League of Nations. Possibly most people today think that Senators Borah and Johnson and Lodge were right and Wilson was wrong, but if this country had gone into the league whole-heartedly and enthusiastically and exercised its great influence and power in the League for peace and justice among the nations of Europe, it is probable that there would be no war in Europe today. We think Borah was wrong but honest. We bow our head in sorrow that so great a statesman and so good a man has passed from the stage of action.

Now, folks, we may be dead wrong in both our theology and our politics, but this is a free country and nobody is compelled to accept our view if he doesn't want to—and far more important than that, nobody is compelled to accept the President's view unless he wants to. It's great to live in a free country, it would be much greater we will admit, if we could get rid of the grafters—some of whom sit in high places.

A REAL BUTTERSCOTCH PIE

The mention of Butterscotch Pie never fails to bring a smile and a deep sigh from the test-tasters in our kitchen. They are all thinking of a certain Saturday morning when twelve Butterscotch Pies were set forth in a row before them. We'd been doing considerable testing of Butterscotch Pies in our effort to have the very best possible recipe to offer our radio listeners. Many recipes had been eliminated. Only the twelve best were left—and these were the Butterscotch Pies made from these twelve best recipes. Now which was the best?

The test-tasters went faithfully to work sampling the different pies. They were all exceptionally good—but this one stood out as having the best flavor—real butterscotchy without being cloyingly sweet—and with a smooth-as-cream texture. It is just the right color, too. You'll find it a grand Sunday dinner dessert.

Butterscotch Pie
1 cooled, baked 9-inch pie shell
6 tbs. all-purpose flour
1 tbs. sugar
1 tbs. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt
6 tbs. water
1 cup milk
6 tbs. butter
1 cup brown sugar
3 egg yolks

Mix flour, sugar, cornstarch, salt and water in the top of a double boiler. Beat in the milk. Place over direct heat until milk is hot, then place over boiling water and cook until thickened (about 10 minutes), beating with a rotary beater occasionally to prevent lumping. In the meantime, melt the butter in a heavy saucepan. Blend in the brown sugar and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved and the mixture is smooth. Beat the butter-and-sugar mixture into the milk mixture and cook 5 minutes more. Beat the egg yolks lightly, and gradually beat the hot milk into them. Cool, and pour into cooled baked pie shell.

High Fluffy Meringue
8 egg whites
6 tbs. sugar
¼ tsp. cream of tartar

So many women say they can't make light fluffy meringues that I want to give you a few pointers. First, beat your egg whites with a rotary beater only until they will hold a point—not until they are dry—adding the cream of tartar at the frothy point. Then start beating in the sugar—a little at a time—beating hard between the additions. Continue beating until the meringue is stiff and glossy. Complete blending-in of the sugar prevents the heads of syrup on top of a baked meringue. Spread this meringue completely over the cooled pie filling, so that the meringue touches the pastry—or the meringue will shrink away during the baking.

The most important factor for successful meringues is slow baking. Have the oven at 300° F.—that's what we call a "slow oven"—and leave the meringue-covered pie in it for from 15 to 20 minutes. This sets the cells of the egg whites, making a meringue that stands up light and high. High heat toughens the meringue, and may cause the sugar to separate out.

When you take your meringue-covered pie out of the oven—leave it on top of the stove or in some such warm place. For if the cold air strikes the warm meringue, it will turn the steam in it back to water, and thus cause it to fall, and also cause liquid to gather on top of the filling.

Burns Claim Large Number in Texas

Austin, January 26—Two hundred and ninety-seven Texans died during 1939 from effects of burns, according to figures compiled by the state fire insurance department, with the most deadly type of accident—trapped in burning dwellings—claiming 82 lives.

These incomplete reports made available to the department indicate a slightly higher death toll than in the preceding year. Clothing ignited from being too close to open fires and stoves was the cause of 44 deaths during the year, including 12 children.

"While aggressive effort has been made in recent years toward educating the public in fire prevention, far too many home owners disregard flagrant hazards," Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner declared. "In the law, ignorance is no excuse, and it would be a fine thing if that same principle were extended to cover the harboring of fire hazards."

Fires from collision and wrecks took 13 lives; burns, boiling oil and asphalt took four lives; scalds from coffee or tea claimed the lives of two children, and 16 died of burns received by falling into water; burns from electricity took two lives; explosions of unknown cause brought death to eleven; explosion of gas took eight lives; cleaning body with gasoline caused three deaths; improper use of gasoline took a toll of 31 lives, including seven children; lamp explosions claimed eight.

Starting fires with kerosene almost matched the deadline of standing too close to stoves by taking 38 lives; burning motion picture film killed one person; playing with matches proved fatal to nine children; one man died from smoking in bed, and a woman was fatally burned when her clothing became ignited while she was smoking; gasoline and kerosene stove explosions killed eleven; two persons were trapped in build-water heater explosions killed two; where fire was of incendiary origin; two suicides by fire were reported; and the cause of two fire deaths was undetermined.

Headache, Bad Breath Tell of More to Come

Just as Paul Revere's famous ride warned of the Redcoats' coming, so Nature's messengers—headaches, biliousness, bad breath—often warn of faulty elimination. Neglecting these signs may cause a host of constipation's discomforts: sour stomach, belching, no appetite or energy; mental dullness. It's so easy to wake up your lazy insides. Just take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Its unusual help comes from its principal ingredient—an intestinal tonic-laxative which imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles. Millions of packages used testify to BLACK-DRAUGHT'S merit. Try it.

WISCONSIN HEAD IN SOUTH; UTAH TAXES PROTESTED
Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 24—while Governor Julius P. Hell continued his tour of Southern capitals this week endeavoring to smooth out differences arising between the cotton states and Wisconsin because of that state's prohibitive margarine taxes, the National Cotton Council and twelve other organizations joined hands in protesting against Utah margarine laws before the Utah Commission on Interstate Cooperation at Salt Lake City January 13.

The Utah conference, first of its kind devoted exclusively to margarine taxation, seeks to determine whether the state's margarine taxes constitute a trade barrier.

Upholding the Cotton Belt's contention that the Utah tax of five cents a pound and license fees of five dollars each on wholesalers and retailers are trade barriers are the National Cotton Council, the American Cotton Cooperative Association, the Agricultural Council of Arkansas, the Arkansas Commission on Interstate Cooperation, the National Cottonseed Products Association, Governor Hugh L. White of Mississippi, the National Cotton Ginners Association, the Mississippi Delta Council, the Texas Statewide Cotton Committee, the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, the Texas Commission Interstate Cooperation the Southern Governors Conference, and the Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture.

Governor Holl's visit to the South was admitted to be for the express purpose of "working this thing out." The Wisconsin executive, conferring in Memphis with officials of the National Cotton Council and the Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture, said, "There is no reason why we shouldn't be friends."

"Wisconsin buys a lot of Southern products and the South buys a lot of Wisconsin products. There should be no North or South or East or West. There should be just one nation."

The National Cotton Council has vigorously prosecuted an attack on Wisconsin's prohibitive tax of 15 cents a pound on margarine, second largest outlet for cottonseed oil. Recently several states and a number of business houses have levied virtual boycotts on Wisconsin products.

Governor Holl indicated that he would be favorably inclined to a meeting between Wisconsin dairy leaders and Southern cotton representatives in an effort to devise means of eliminating present friction.

Any erroneous reflection upon the vidual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

If we have our facts on straight, some criticism was directed by the Dies committee recently at the National Students Union charging that it was affected with communism.

Mrs. Roosevelt rushed to the defense of the Union, offering some criticism of the Dies committee. Just a short time afterwards, at a meeting of the Union in Chicago, a resolution condemning the Russian invasion of Finland was overwhelmingly defeated and the Union turned around and adopted a resolution censuring Finland as having provoked the attack. But we never did hear of Mrs.
Roosevelt repudiating or rebuking the Union for its action. It begins to look as if there are some mighty strong sympathizers with communism pretty close up to the President.

Nearly every day tenant farmers can be found walking our streets who have been told that they must move and are unable to find places on which to move. Nearly every time it is the same old story. Either the place has been sold or leased to some large-scale farmer who intends to farm the land with tractors and hired labor. They pay for the tractors largely with the benefit payments received from the government. Some landlords are requiring their tenants to turn over to them most of the Government rental payments or in lieu thereof to pay the landlord a bonus of a dollar per acre. If evicted tenants are not able to buy lands of their own, they move to town and go on the W. P. A. Thus, the A. A. A. is being used by the well-to-do farmers for their own enrichment but is bringing about the eviction of thousands of tenants from their places and driving them to seek work as day laborers. We are wondering if the authorities at Washington have no remedy for this situation. The practice has been going on for several years and no remedy has been offered yet. We know a remedy that would be effective, but nobody in authority seems to have the "guts" to propose it. Our remedy would be to place a limit on the amount of land that a man may cultivate and get Government benefits on it. Our limit would be a section, or possibly only a half section. That would help the little fellow who needs help, but would place the big farmer on his own resources. We realize that such a suggestion may bring down upon our head the impressions of the beneficiaries of our present Government farm policy, but it is right nevertheless. The time may come sometime when the rest of the people will arise in their might and insist on some such reform as this.

The talk is that a lot of ambitious fellows at Austin and elsewhere throughout the state are still up in the air politically because they do not know what O'Daniel intends to do. And O'Daniel, it is said, is waiting on Gerald Mann. If and when Gerald Mann announces for re-election as attorney-general then O'Daniel, according to this dope, will announce that he will not run for reelection as governor and Coke Stevenson will announce his candidacy. If O'Daniel should announce his candidacy now that he does not intend to run for governor, then Coke Stevenson figures that he would have Gerald Mann as an opponent, and that is one thing he does not want. We do not know whether there is any truth in the above rumors or not, but it is the under-current of talk that is going the rounds. There are a lot of strings to be pulled in politics.

White men used to buy negro votes by paying over the cash on election day. Our modern officials have that system skinned a city block. They give rentals and benefit payments and subsidies to numerous special classes of our citizens who would spurn a bribe. But the effect is just the same; and there is this advantage: They pay off with government funds.

We don't know whether it was an exaggeration or not, but we heard a man who lives out in the northeast part of the county assert Monday that at least a dozen tenant farmers within a radius of three or four miles of his residence were being compelled to give up their places with nowhere to go. This is a regrettable situation.

GRASSLAND HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETS

(Delayed)
"Costume jewelry offers an excellent opportunity for repeating a color which you may wish to accent," stated Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the Grassland 4-H club Friday, January 12, at the school house.

In choosing jewelry, as in the choice of all other accessories, simplicity and moderation should be the guides. A tailored costume demands tailored jewelry. For example, pearls, rhinestones, or any elaborately set stones are out of place at school, at church, or on the street.
The texture, as well as the color, of jewelry should harmonize with that of the dress. Opaline beads of bone, wood, or some such sturdy substance are appropriate with street or school dresses of linen, flat crepe, wood crepe, and similar materials.

sor.

CARD OF THANKS

To our many friends who so tenderly cared for our dear Aunt Mary in her last illness, may we say your kindness and sympathy at this time is more deeply appreciated than any word can ever express. May God richly bless each one of you.

THE PRESTON FAMILY

Elder Drennon's Notes

I have laid off for a week or two, but Editor Hill gave me a text to write from when he acknowledged his chance of heart in last week's issue. I think he will feel better now.

What this country needs is men who will stand together for the right, even if we do not see eye to eye on everything. I believe the need of the day is more religion in politics and less politics in religion. And this year I am going to be more careful than ever before. I am going to find out how the candidate stands on moral issues, first. I am going to put men above politics.

I think the only salvation for America is in staying with the principles laid down by Jesus. We may ridicule and put religion in the background but no nation has ever discarded God and the Bible and stood very long. History bears me out in this. I think Germany and Russia will fall, not because Britain and France are stronger but because God is against both of them. I think I could be wrong in this.

I was glad to see the reduction in gas rates for this month. I think I have used more gas this month than for some time; so, friends, don't forget when you go to pay your gas bill for this month that it was cold all month. I was talking with the gas representative of this town and he told me some amusing things about people paying big gas bills, how they would forget the bad weather the month before. So, friends, let's pay our gas bill with a smile, for we used the gas or the meters would not have registered it. (Gas offices in Tahoka and O'Donnell please take notice, especially in O'Donnell.)

I will have a birthday this week, which reminds me that time is fast

I wish I had used my time in earlier life more wisely, but I guess youth will never realize the value of time until much of it has been wasted. BELT MUST BACK TRADE TREATIES SAYS JOHNSON change in our opinion of Governor O'Daniel. We have never regarded him as a bad man. We have regarded him as incompetent for the position of governor of this state, and we have blamed him for making wild promises that he should have known could not be fulfilled. We are only too glad to praise him when we find something to praise, but we have likewise claimed the right to criticize when we thought he was wrong. You, it seems, have never been able to see any fault or imperfection in him. But we love you just the same, and we can stand together on many things.)
Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 24—The Cotton Belt must stand solidly behind Secretary of State Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade agreements, Oscar Johnson, President of the National Cotton Council, today warned members of the cotton industry.

Painting a dark picture of the long-run prospects for exports to Europe and Asia, Mr. Johnson pointed to South America as prospect No. 1 for future markets, but said the United States can't sell more to its southern neighbors without buying more from them.

Warring nations in Europe and the Orient are consuming less cotton than they use in peace-time, and allied naval policy is interfering with American shipping to neutral ports, he observed. There may be more in the Allied threat to ration American exports to neutral countries than a desire to forestall re-shipments to Germany, he said. The Allies may also be thinking of protecting themselves from increased foreign production while their own textile operations are curtailed by the war.

With state socialism now dominant in the Eastern Hemisphere, the speaker questioned whether nations would return to "normalcy" in their trade relations after the war. Instead he feared continued trade restrictions and subsidies which would keep down American exports to Europe and Asia permanently.

It was thought that United States exports to South America would boom while Europe is pre-occupied with its war, but these hopes have been largely frustrated by the difficulty of securing exchange on this country, he said. Since South America cannot make payment for larger purchases except by expanding its own exports, the continuation of the trade agreements is essential to internal prosperity, he concluded.

Cold Weather Increases Fire Hazard

Austin, January 25—Many householders learn too late that cold weather intensifies fire hazards, Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, said today.

The fire demanded by a blustery norther may easily set a house afire unless chimneys, furnaces and flues are properly cleaned and repaired.

The risk to the farmhouse is even greater than to the urban dwelling because the majority of homes are constructed of flimsy, fire-inviting material.

Hall suggested that farmers learn the rudiments of fire-fighting and take steps to safeguard stored feed, livestock and other property. Once a fire gains headway in a rural

502 Texas Towns Have Spanish Names

Lubbock, January 25—Texas place names hark back to the days when Texas was a Mexican territory, says Miss Elizabeth H. West, Texas Tech librarian, who finds 502 cities, towns and villages in Texas bear names of Spanish or Mexican origin. She listed 38 others as "questionably Latin American" in origin.

Forty-three counties, 14 canyons, 57 mountains, 20 rivers and rivulets, and six springs in the State also bear Spanish and Mexican names. Sacred names are in evidence in many of these, Spanish discoverers naming a certain river, canyon or range for a saint "because it was his day," she said.

"Spanish influence on our language may be seen in all parts of the United States," she continued, "because Mexicans have filtered into all the States through the centuries, not only from Mexico, but from the West Indies, South America, and Spain. Some of these words become permanent and some die out."

"It is not surprising that we find such a large number of Spanish names in Texas," she said, "because there are probably as many Mexicans along the Rio Grande on our side as on the Mexican side. Also, much of Texas was once Mexican territory."

Miss West classified Spanish terms adopted into our language from a glossary of 261 words made by a University of Texas professor half a century ago, in which 105 were ranch, farm, trade and travel expressions; 65 were plant names; 43, cookery and household; 29 animals; 18, topography; 7, clothing; 7, social and religious functions, games, etc.; 8, social classes, professions; 5 liquors, saloon; and 84, miscellaneous.

80 Percent of Sudan Grown in Panhandle

Lubbock, Texas, January 26—A total of 543 samples of West Texas grains have gone through the state seed testing laboratory at Texas Technological college since September 1, Early Peltier, state seed analyst, announced today. Total for the same period last year was 305. This year's grass samples are most frequently sent in, but milo, hogear, and other grains are also being tested for this area. Approximately 80 per cent of the sudan grass grown in the world comes from the Panhandle and Plains regions.

Condition of seed is better than last year, Peltier said, because of the dry summer. Moisture not only causes coloration of seed, but sometimes lowers germination.

dwelling there is little that can be done in time to save the property, he said. A few moments spent in seasonal caution may save a year's harvest.

West Texas Museum Gets Rattlesnakes

Lubbock, Texas, January 25—Addition of two Western Diamond-backed rattlesnakes to the reptile collection at West Texas museum, situated on Texas Tech campus, brings the display of Texas snakes to fifteen different species.

The western Diamond-back, one of which was nearly six feet long, is the most deadly of North American poisonous snakes and is the largest of all rattlers.

Age of a rattler cannot be established by the number of rattles on the tail, said a museum attendant, although this is popularly believed. Sometimes a rattler will acquire three or four buttons a year, but it seldom attains more than ten or twelve rattlers because additional ones are usually broken off.

The Diamond-back can be identified by a chain of dark-hued diamond markings with white or yellow borders along the upper side. Unlike most other rattlers that may strike from any sort of coil, the Diamond-back always strikes from a perfectly round and graceful coil. As a rule, this species will not attack unless molested. They travel across country in a perfectly straight line and feed largely upon rabbits, small rodents and very rarely on birds.

Most rattlers cannot be kept for long periods in captivity, because they refuse food and gradually starve to death. Young specimens

A new catalog issued by the Bureau describes each educational film in much detail and makes selection easy. The films are available to schools, clubs, and individuals of the Plains on a rental basis. Several schools in New Mexico use the library frequently.

The film service, now in its second year, includes only new and carefully selected pictures. Among the subjects are films for primary grades, science classes, home economics departments, agriculture classes, students of conservation, transportation, natural resources, nature study, first aid, swimming, foreign trade, Indian and Latin-American cultures, music, bird study, geography, game preservation, marketing, travel, minerals, football, and many others.

American Food Service Baffles Spanish Refugee

"You Americans make things so hard," says Conchita Genoves, Spanish refugee at Texas State College for Women, as she sits down to eat and is confused at finding meat and vegetables on the same plate. In Spain only one item of food is served at a time. One does not have to think—"will I eat this first or that?" An exchange student recently enrolled at TSCW, Conchita was forced to flee Spain last February with her mother and two brothers, who are now in Mexico. Her father is still a political prisoner in Spain.

Tech. One of Few to Offer Public Administration

Lubbock, January 25 — Texas Technological College is one of six Texas institutions listed in the 1940 Municipal Yearbook as offering major work toward training for public administration. Only fifty colleges and universities in the nation are included. This is a publication of the Social Science Research Council, a semi-public institution for improving methods in government.

Texas colleges besides Tech which offer integrated courses in this field are Texas University, Texas A. & M. College, West Texas State College, Southern Methodist University, and Texas Christian University.

Lubbock, January 25—"Tree limbs broken last week by ice urge the need for early pruning," says O. B. Howell, horticulture professor at Texas Technological College.

Branches, when broken by this type of weight, tend to splinter internally in such a manner that they seldom heal, he explained. The cracks, therefore, offer excellent breeding and hibernating places for insects and disease.

"All broken branches and stubs should be trimmed back close to the trunk, and cuts one-half inch in diameter or larger should be painted. Cuts should be made as close to the limb or trunk as possible so they will heal quickly. Pruning should be done before sap begins to rise late in February or early March."

Howell recommended asphaltum for painting, which will prevent sap

Canyon to Entertain Texas Teachers

Canyon, January 26—Local arrangements for entertaining the Northwest Texas Conference for Education—the Panhandle's largest convention—are already well advanced.

The Conference, which is a division of the Texas State Teachers Association, will meet here March 9 and 10.

Prof. F. E. Savage is chairman of a West Texas State College committee on local arrangements. He is working on plans to provide more ample auditorium and eating accommodations. Mrs. T. V. Reeves has been appointed to arrange for luncheons and banquets. Any sectional chairman wishing to have a banquet during the Conference is asked to consult Mrs. Reeves at once.

E. G. Sanders, superintendent at Sannorwood, is rapidly completing the extensive program, assisted by the other officers of the conference and section chairmen. As usual many noted speakers will appear on the program here.

Officers of sections were chosen at the 1939 meeting.

Running and promote quick calling so the tree will not be weakened. Asphaltum may be purchased at any drug or paint supply store.

"Don't mind taking out several limbs," he advised, "as the trees will shape up again in one or two years. And while you're at it, prune out all dead wood, crotches and limbs that rub together. This is also an excellent time to cut off the lower branches on street trees over sidewalks. Trees that are bent due to the south wind should be staked on the south side to straighten the trunk."

Headache, Bad Breath May Be Your Warning

The sea's thrilling S. O. S. means "Help is needed now!" And, so do most of those headaches, that biliousness, coated tongue, or bad breath which are often signs of constipation. To disregard these symptoms may bring on a host of other discomforts from sluggish bowels: sour stomach, belching, loss of appetite. See how much better you feel the day after taking spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. By simple directions, it acts gently, cleanses promptly, thoroughly. Its principal ingredient is an intestinal tonic-laxative; imparts taste to lax bowel muscles. Next time try BLACK-DRAUGHT!

FARM TENANTS

Obtaining written leases for farm tenants who are borrowers from the Farm Security Administration diversification, and soil conservation practices will be stressed by this federal agency in 1940, according to word received from L. H. Hauter, regional director.

Wyman J. Welch, county F. S. A. supervisor said these and other important changes in the Farm Security Administration's rural rehabilitation program were announced by Mr. Hauter following the receipt of instructions from Secretary Wallace.

F. S. A. will continue to emphasize crop diversification, a highly important conservation measure, and that no loans will be approved when the Farm plans provide for growing only one cash crop. This policy, Mr. Welch said, is expected to popularize the practices of crop rotation in single-crop areas.

Other F. S. A. program changes include increased activity in unit reorganization—a program designed to help farmers get farm units more economic in size and organization and to increase the use of grass crops in areas not suited to intensive cultivation.

Recognizing that insecurity of tenure leads to misuse of land, because tenant farmers can afford to conserve soil resources only when they have an interest in the land extending over several years, this agency in 1940, will greatly intensify its efforts to help its borrowers obtain longer-term and better written leases.

Backed up by written leases, tenant farmers can afford to employ conservation practices for their own as well as their landlord's benefit. This agency, Mr. Welch said, will continue to emphasize improvement in sanitation and health provisions in all rehabilitation programs with a view to conserving human resources.

Good nature and good sense must ever join:
To err is human to forgive, divine.
-Pope

We left out a few Lil Abners last week, it seems. Delton Pemberton and David Westers complained. We thought they were a wee bit too feetfooted for the gals, but they say nay, they would not run very fast. And Sadie don't forget Paul Casebeer.

Delton told us the girls have positively avoided the AAA office since Clint so graciously offered himself. A few minutes later Clint came along and informed us that he had at least 40 phone calls, and told them all "Yes"-whoa! Well, at least, either story would be proof that advertising brings results-of one kind or another.

We received an anonymous reminder of the following names that we left off our list last week: Dub Riddle, trucker; L. A. Forsythe, farmer; C. C. (Barney) Dwight, photographer; Joe Malouf, shoemaker; Fred Crawford; James Butler, and Frank Brown. Thank you, Miss Pining Away, for the list.

A few hints on how to be a glimmer boy:

- 1. Be sure that you have manicured your nails before you step out.
2. Don't slick down your hair until you look like an old-time barber shop dandy.
3. Don't say "Oh, yo. Kid!"
4. Remember that a girl always falls for the man who remembers all the little attentions-walk on the outside, open the car door, etc. if you want to make a hit.
5. If you are calling to the lady, don't drive up and hock. It's a cinch her parents won't appreciate it, and she will be much more flattered if you come to the door like a gentleman.
6. Don't forget there is a lot of truth in those toothpaste ads.
7. Maybe your income is small and you can't afford to spend a lot-but don't embarrass her, be tactful about letting her know you can only afford a coke after the show.
8. You may be saving yet not be branded as a tightwad if you are careful and thoughtful.

Woolen Mills Founded By Tech Graduate

Lubbock, January 26-Establishment of Texas' first woolen mills at Eldorado by J. M. Christian, Texas Tech graduate, should widen our market considerably, said W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech.
The plant will be known as West Texas Woolen Mills and will manufacture 100 per cent virgin wool blankets, ordinary camp and army style blankets, woolen suiting, yarn and woolen batting.

"Although Texas is the largest wool-producing state in the union," Stangel said, "heretofore we have shipped most of our raw wool to New England for manufacture, and none of it has been finished in Texas. Selling at home will be a valuable aid to this industry.

Since graduating from Tech's textile engineering department in August, 1936, Christian has worked as assistant engineer of the Southern Textile Plant of the U. S. Rubber Company.

Candidate

Bascom Giles, State Land Commissioner, has advised County Attorney Rollin McCord that the new State School Land Board, of which Commissioner Giles is Chairman, will make the awards within the next several weeks to the successful high bidders for the 205,000 acres of surveyed school land for which bids were opened January 3rd at the General Land Office.

Land Commissioner Giles and employees of his office have been busy since the bids were opened with the big job of tabulating and classifying the thousands of bids received in order that the Board may determine and announce the high bidders. The sale was the first general State land sale held in 10 years. Most of the school land offered is in West Texas.

Commissioner Giles also has announced that since so many land owners are paying their State interest, he does not anticipate it will be necessary to make any land forfeitures in the near future. Giles is a friend of the West Texas land owner and is more than glad to do anything he can, he said, to help straighten out their State land accounts, or any matter pertaining to their lands in which the State is interested.

Land Commissioner Giles has just finished the first year of his administration, during which he succeeded in bringing about major changes he advocated to safeguard the State public school land, with the millions of dollars in revenue coming to the schools from the land, and to curb vacancy racketeering and better safeguard land owners and their titles to their tracts. Commissioner Giles also has placed the administration of the Land Office on a highly efficient and business-like basis.

Community Show To Offer Wide Variety of Entertainment

"Mystery at Midnight" the thrill of a lifetime, sponsored by the Band Boosters club which is to be presented at the High School Auditorium on Thursday and Friday nights February 1 and 2, for the benefit of the instrument fund, contains many featured choruses and numbers.

One of the best groups featured in the show is the "Bat Chorus". These girls dressed as bats form an exceptional chorus number.

Another chorus of outstanding merit is the "Policeman Chorus". Dressed in attractive blue and yellow uniforms and equipped with billy clubs, these girls add pep and punch to the show. You'll be whistling their tune as you leave the show.

Nurses are on duty at all times and their song and dance is one of the bright spots of the show.

The costumes are all new. The words to the songs are original and written especially for "Mystery at Midnight."

Everything about the show is new and different. The music and choruses are worked into the play proper to lend lightness and color to one of the most sensational dramas ever presented here.

NEWS IS VICTIM OF HOAX

The News published in perfectly good faith last week an item to the effect that Ed Sanders had married. This information was given to the News late Thursday afternoon by two of Ed's close friends and associates in the courthouse. We found out soon after the papers went into the mails Friday morning that this was error. Ed was not married. It was just the work of a couple of practical jokers. The News publishers were perfectly innocent in the matter, but we are very sorry that we let the "joke" get by us. It is our desire to publish only truthful "news."

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Robertson were confined to their room Thursday, with the "flu."

Wildlife Increases in Southern Great Plains

During the long period of drought in the Southern Great Plains which brought the black blizzards and dust storms, food and shelter for wildlife was reduced to such an extent that some species almost disappeared from the Plains. Within recent years the ever-increasing use of soil conservation practices has been of great benefit in increasing valuable wildlife. Lack of vegetation around stock watering ponds (upper left) prevents use by wildlife, while development to encourage wildlife (upper right) results in production of ducks and other valuable species. Plants along the banks also reduce wave-cutting and catch silt. Control of gullies by use of trees, shrubs and grasses (lower left) provides homes for quail and song birds. Field border plantings for wind erosion control (lower right) supply food and shelter for wildlife on the Plains. Such birds compensate farmers for this help by aiding in insect control, Soil Conservation Service technicians declare.

CADES ATTEND GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cade and daughter, Miss Iris Dean, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cade at their ranch home on the Salt Fork of the Brazos River a few miles southeast of Claremont in Kent county on last Sunday. The elder Mr. Cade is an uncle of A. M.

Others attending the affair from this section included Auba's mother, Mrs. S. R. Cade, now staying here, R. M. Cade and family of Wilson, V. L. Cade and family of Lubbock. Another sister of Auba's Mrs. Jim Barr, and her husband of Cross Plains were also present, as well as six of the seven living children of the honorees and their families. All together, about a hundred persons were present to enjoy the occasion. A big barbecue dinner was served.

Auba says that his uncle came to that county in 1900 and has been living there ever since.

Cade Announces

(Continued from Page One) have worked hard to make you feel that we are willing, able and ready to do this efficiently and at the same time extend every service and courtesy that we can.

The duties also cause the compilation of all accounts of the State and County and bring my records and accounts in accord with those of the State Comptroller who together with the Commissioner's Court have direct supervision over this office. My dealings with the Commissioner's Court and the State Comptroller's Department in looking after the Tax Matters of the County have been very satisfactory and I am deeply indebted to both bodies for the splendid co-operation and helpful suggestions that I have received.

At the same time I am charged with the duty of keeping abreast with the constant Legislative changes in tax matters and the assumption of any and all new duties assigned to this office.

Also want to thank you, the people of any and all new duties assigned to me of Lynn County, for your wholehearted cooperation in your dealings with this office. It has enabled me to serve you better, (and it has been my constant desire to give you a prompt, courteous and efficient service), trusting that the dealings you have had with me are such that you can favorably cast your vote of confidence to return me to this office in the oncoming primaries.

Very truly yours, A. M. Cade, Tax Ass'n-Collector Lynn County, Texas

On Sunday, January 14, Mrs. J. E. Harland of near Seymour died at her home there. She was the mother of Mrs. Harve Henderson of near Tahoka.

Mrs. Harland was a pioneer of her section and was 90 years old at the time of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and son Coleman and daughter Miss Belle had been at her bedside several days.

Funeral and burial were at Bormarton. Also attending from here were Messrs and Mesdames Harley Henderson, Frank Henderson, and John Henderson.

Boys Pay Fines For Stealing

Two young squirts were in a pessel of trouble here Monday and Tuesday. Evidently they pictured themselves as young and budding Pretty Boy Floyds. Their careers were short-lived, however.

The boys, about 17, drove into the Gulf Service Station owned by E. S. Evans, and had their car filled with gas. Then they ordered George Dulin, attendant, to get under the car and check their transmission. Although he thought their manner suspicious, Mr. Dulin could hardly refuse. Of course there was plenty of oil. One of the two young men was waiting with the exact change for the gasoline. The other was under the wheel. The boy paid him jumped into the car, and they sped off. But not before Mr. Dulin had taken down their license number.

When he checked his cash register, the attendant found about $7.50 missing, including a silver dollar of his own. He immediately phoned the sheriff's office, and the two young men were caught just as they entered Brownfield. They were brought back here for trial. Monday night in jail they cried, finding the reward not half so much fun as the sin.

Tuesday their fathers arrived, and paid the fines assessed in justice court, and took the very chastized young bandits into their custody.
