District Court Convenes Here Monday

County Health Program Explained

For the public good the Commissioners Court and County Judge have agreed to sponsor jointly a federal and state operated county health program for Lynn County. By doing this the desires of the school officials, doctors, civic clubs, and parent-teachers organizations of the county have been fulfilled.

The county will bear only one-twelfth of the expense and the Federal Government, through the Social Security, will bear the remainder. Similar work has been going on for eight years in various counties in Texas with phenomenal success. In one nearby West Texas County it was found that before the health unit was established 28 per cent of the homes employing colored help were exposed daily to venereal disease. Illness has been decreased over 30 per cent in many counties after three years of work by the County Health Unit.

The money, time, and energy expended in organizing this unit will be valueless unless the civic and school leaders of our county study its possibilities and help to inform the people of the county of the work. While this is not a government relief organization, yet it is designed to work diligently with the underprivileged. It, instead, is to serve all people in problems of health, and the aim is to prevent disease and physical defects which might undermine health. The trained personnel will recommend, where treatment is needed, that the family physician be consulted. The staff may practice curative medicine only in the treatment of venereal disease.

This health program began to function in Lynn County on January 1, 1940.

Our basic staff consists of a physician, a nurse, a sanitarian, a sanitary engineer, and a clerk. The central office for this five county unit is located at Brownfield. The unit is comprised of Dawson, Gaines, Terry, Yoakum and Lynn Counties.

The Director General of this unit is Dr. W. S. Brumage, a graduate of Baylor in 1937; who did his intern work at Fort Sam Houston, and is a graduate in Public Health of Vanderbilt. Thus he is a physician in good standing with the Medical Association and a highly qualified health director. His duties consist in controlling communicable diseases through education, immunization, and quarantine. Vaccination will be administered to indigents without cost. He directs in collecting vital statistics so that the personnel may know when and where disease is occurring. An accurate record of births and deaths are also kept.

The sanitary engineer, who is not yet appointed, is a graduate civil engineer who must have had at least one year of special training in public health work. His primary work consists of protecting us from contaminated food, water, and drugs; he also assures us of the proper disposal of sewage. Tests will be made of both city and rural water supplies. Inspection of drug fountains, cafes, regularly.

A sanitarian, Mr. Jeff Reese, Jr., A. B. and M. A. of the University of Texas and a graduate of the School of Sanitary Engineering of Vanderbilt University of Nashville, Tennessee, will assist the sanitary engineer in his work.

The Doctor and the Sanitary engineer will divide their time between the five counties which comprise the health unit. The nurse and clerk will be on duty in Lynn County at all times. The nurse will be available to anyone at any time on any call, and she will be in her office for consultations on each Saturday.

The nurse, Mrs. Gladys Davis, is a registered graduate nurse with special training in public health service. She will work under the direction of the Doctor Director in following up and advising with those examined. She will also work with those who desire information.

Boy Scouts Will Rule City Next Tuesday

This week all America is celebrating the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the Boy Scout movement in America. In its three decades nearly 9,000,000 boys and men actively enrolled.

Tahoka's Scouts on Tuesday will have one of the biggest thrills of their lives, when they take charge of the city for the day—literally and wholly.

On that day the mayor, city secretary, city marshal, council, and in fact the whole city force will step out and give the Scouts full charge.

Observation started here yesterday, when the Scouts were guests of the Rotary club.

PROGRAM

Friday, Feb. 9th—Scout Day at School.

Saturday, —Scout Day at Home Sunday—Scout Day at Church 9:40 A. M. Special program for Scouts at Methodist Men's Bible Class.

Monday—7:00 P. M.—Court of Honor. Badges awarded, Parents invited.

Tuesday —Scouts take over city government.

Last night Scouts answered mobilization call to listen to President Roosevelt, Walter W. Head, President of the Boy Scouts of America, and Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive and editor of Boys' Life, speak on a nationwide hookup.

Friday the Scouts will give the Assembly program at the high school.

Saturday is Scout Day at Home. At 9:40 Sunday morning the Scouts have been invited to be guests of the Methodist Men's Bible Class. The Roughneck Class. The program will consist of special songs by Thelma Ruth Strain, Conway Chingan, and W. F. Shrimpton. The address will be given by Truett Smith, District Attorney, Harley Henderson stated Wednesday.

On Monday night the Court of Honor will be held at the Scout Hall, and badges will be awarded all eligible Scouts.

Old Landmark Is Dug Up

When workmen started digging the foundation for the construction of an extension to the old Security State Bank building Tuesday morning they had to first dig up a fine mulberry tree that stood just at the rear of the building and had become a landmark of the town.

The tree was over 30 years old. Bud Milliken, who came here 34 years ago, said it was here then.

There was no building on the corner lot at that time but a hotel stood on a lot just a little further north.

Bud says that W. E. Porterfield, now a business man in Post, operated the hotel then, and his wife says she thinks they were the first operators of the hotel. The corner lot was a part of the hotel yard, and Bud thinks it very probable that the Porterfields planted the tree there. At any rate it had been planted by somebody before Bud's memory comes into the picture 34 years ago.

There was a well and windmill near the tree, and Bud says they dug into that well Tuesday when they were doing excavation work.

The hotel was burned in 1911, Bud says, and the bank building was constructed a few years later.

That old mulberry tree has been a familiar figure to every person who has lived in Tahoka during

Daniels Is New Lightweight Champ

Dan Daniel, local high school pugilist, won the district lightweight Golden Gloves championship at Lubbock Wednesday night, by a technical kayo over Roy Belk of Plainview in the second round.

Belk had previously outpointed Junior McLaurin of O'Donnell, champ of the Tahoka tourney, in a much booted bout. McLaurin was the favorite of the audience although the judges gave the decision to Belk, sending him to meet Daniel in the finals.

Daniel's semi-final opponent, Thompson of Lubbock, defaulted on order from his physician, because of illness. Belk had defeated James Ortiz, Texas Tech Mexican fighter and favorite for the title, Tuesday night. Ortiz boasts a several year string of victories in one part of the country and another.

Daniel brought back a trophy and a jacket, and will be awarded a free trip to Fort Worth next Wednesday, where he will be eligible to compete in the state championship tourney.

Other Tahoka boys were eliminated in preliminaries and semi-finals.

Tinsley Buys Cafe Sells Dairy

J. O. Tinsley this week sold his dairy cows and business to Noel Cooper and then bought the Ed. Evans Cafe on Main street.

Cooper took charge of the dairy Tuesday and Tinsley and took over the cafe on Wednesday.

Mr. Cooper, however, moved the cows over to his place a little more than a half mile east of Tinsley's and will operate the dairy from that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Tinsley will continue to reside in their present home a half mile north of the city limits but will operate the cafe themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Tinsley have been in the dairy business for eleven years and have made a success of the business. Mr. Cooper has been raising and milking dairy cows ever since he was lived in this county and he will be "at home" in the dairy business.

The new owner has changed the name of the cafe to "Tinsley's Bulldog Cafe." He will not serve bull-dogs, however; only hot dogs and lots of other good "eats".

Mr. and Mrs. Evans have been in the cafe business here for several years. They have announced no plans for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCord and sons, H. B. and Rollin, returned at 3 o'clock Thursday morning from Birmingham, Alabama, where they had gone last week to see two of Mrs. McCord's sisters who are ill. They report that state had about 12 inches of snow during the blizzard that recently swept the South.

these 34 years or more. It was one of the finest trees in the town, and many regretted to see it go. But it stood in the path of progress and had to be sacrificed.

The building to be constructed is an addition to the old bank building 36 feet east and west by 25 feet north and south. When completed, the building will house the county agent, Donald Turner and the Triple A representative, C. A. Lawrence and their corps of workers. It will be a handsome public building and a busy place. The work is to be completed within sixty days.

STORY MAKES STATEMENT

"I was born and reared in Wylie, Collin County, Texas, where I received my education. I am married and have two children. In April 1917 I volunteered for service in the Navy and remained on active duty until sickness forced me from active service. In March 1919, I received an honorable medical discharge. In 1925, I moved to Tahoka to make my home and started working for Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. In 1932, I was elected County Clerk of Lynn County, over five good men of this county. There I served you to the best of my ability for six years. When making my last race, I promised the people of Lynn County that I would retire at the end of the term, rather than try to perpetuate myself in office. I kept that promise by retiring voluntarily at the end of my term in 1938. I consider the office I now seek an advancement over the one you have heretofore given me. It is my belief that a man should seek a higher office only upon the faithful service he has rendered his people in one to which he was intrusted. I do not want the people to give me anything except an opportunity to work, thereby enabling me to honorably serve, and provide for my family at the same time. If you believe that ambition and service should be rewarded by promotion when one has qualified himself for the job; that I will make you an honest efficient officer; and that five consecutive terms (10 years) for the present incumbent is a reasonable tenure for this office, then I believe you will vote for me on election day in July. I will make every effort to see every one by that time.

H. C. STORY.

Candidate for Tax Assessor-Collector in and for Lynn County, Texas.

FORMER LYNN COUNTY RESIDENT DIES

R. D. Caldwell of Wichita Falls died of a heart attack at his home in that city on Tuesday morning as he was dressing for the day. He was apparently in good health. Mr. Caldwell at one time lived here and will be remembered as the father of the late Mrs. Porter Treadway. He has many friends in this part of the state. He was a faithful member of the Primitive Baptist church. A granddaughter, Mrs. Ira B. Krebs resides here.

LOAN SUPERVISOR COMING

Fred N. Warren, field supervisor of feed and seed loans, was here this week and announced that he will be at The First National Bank, here all day Tuesday and till noon Wednesday each week, for the accommodation of farmers.

J. B. McPherson, Francis Gill, and Jack Minor of Seagraves spent this week in Houston on business.

Alex Riddle, though still confined to his bed is reported to be slightly improved.

Grand Jury, Petit Jury Lists Given

Child Burned To Death

Willie Wayne Hall, 6, of four miles east of Wilson, was buried there Wednesday afternoon following his death at 5:30 Tuesday afternoon in a Slaton hospital.

Death was caused from burns received Tuesday morning when his gown caught fire from the embers in the grate, burning him fatally.

Funeral services were held in the Wilson Baptist church with Reverend W. H. Jackson, pastor, officiating. Harris Funeral Home had charge of burial.

He was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Willie Hall, and two younger sisters. The family resided on the Legge farm east of Wilson, having come to this section about three months ago.

Men Arrested For Forgery

Charles T. Tuttle and his father, Lee Tuttle, were arrested in San Angelo Wednesday and returned here for trial for forgery and cold checking, respectively.

The two men were indicted by the grand jury during the last term of court.

Sheriff B. L. Parker returned them Wednesday and they are in the county jail awaiting trial.

Poll Tax Receipts Record Broken

Lynn county has broken all past records this year in the number of poll taxes paid, according to County Assessor-Collector A. M. Cade.

When the books closed Wednesday night, January 31, a total of 3,338 poll tax receipts had been issued, together with 106 exemption certificates, making a total of 3,444 tokens of the right to suffrage.

Mr. Cade estimates that there are from 350 to 400 persons in the county who have the right to vote without holding either a poll tax receipt or an exemption certificate. This would indicate that there are around 3,800 qualified voters in this county.

Exemption certificates are not required in this county of persons over 60 years of age nor of persons who reach their 21st birthday after the 31st day of January, 1940. It is required only of those who became 21 years of age after January 1, 1939 and before February 1, 1940.

The highest number of poll taxes paid in Lynn county in any previous year, according to Mr. Cade's records, is 3,306 paid for the year 1933. No exemption certificates were necessary at that time.

Two years ago, a total of 3,201 poll taxes were issued in this county which is 137 short of the number paid this year, but a total of 138 exemption certificates were issued that year, which was 32 more than this year.

It seems that most of our adult population is armed with the right to vote this year, and hot times may be expected this summer.

WILCOX WILDCAT

Drilling on the Wilcox, E. L. Powell No. 1, five miles west, one mile south of New Home is now progressing rapidly. Deen Nowlin stated Thursday afternoon.

A depth of 750 feet has been reached.

Mrs. Hugh Collier of Fort Worth was here Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Millman. Mrs. Millman accompanied Mrs. Collier to Brownfield to visit the latter's son, Roy Green and his son.

Mrs. James Dietrich and baby of Post are visiting her mother, Mrs. E. A. Park, this week.

The February term of the district court will convene here Monday, with Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa on the bench and District Attorney Truett Smith and County Attorney Rollin McCord present to represent the State. A grand jury will be installed and set to work.

Only judgment by default or non-jury cases as well as the setting of the dockets and the disposition of preliminary matters will engage the attention of the court for the first week.

Juries have been summoned for the second, third and fourth weeks of the term. The following jury lists have been furnished us by District Clerk Miss Hattie Server.

ODDS AND ENDS
By Eec Eye the Elder

Some have called this the Machine Age—and it is, for the world's work is being done by machinery to an extent never dreamed of even by the people of a generation ago.

Some have called it the Electric Age, for never before has electricity played so important a part in the lives of our people.

Some have called it the Gasoline Age, in contradistinction from the "horse and buggy days" of the last century. Everybody is on wheels these days, and gasoline turns the wheels.

Just as distinctly as any of these, it seems to us, this is also the Nicotine Age. Everybody smokes. The most prosperous and those who like to appear prosperous smoke cigars. A few are wedded to the pipe of their fathers. But most of the folks are smoking cigarettes. The men, to be sure, have been smoking them, in ever increasing numbers, for the past two or three generations. The kid boys are smoking them, more generally than ever before. And the girls are smoking 'em—the cute little things. Yes, and their staid mothers are smoking 'em. Once in awhile we catch Grandma smoking 'em.

Everywhere you go you can find cigarette stubs—on the sidewalks, in the stores, in the shops, sometimes scattered filthily on the floor sometimes reposing in ornamental ash trays—but the stubs are not ornamental by any means—in the automobiles, in the homes, everywhere! And it seems that the women and the girls are striving to out-herd the men and the boys. Truly, this must be the Nicotine Age.

Just a passing fad, you say? We hope so. We hope that it doesn't become a fixed and permanent habit of our women folks. To our way of thinking, it is a useless and hurtful habit even for the men. It is far more hurtful for the boys and the women and the girls. Nicotine, found in all tobacco, is a poison. It is the nicotine in tobacco that causes nausea and vomiting on the part of the one who smokes for the first time, and until he becomes somewhat inured to its effects. While it is not as harmful as whiskey or opium or other drugs, it is a narcotic that has its evil effects, more pronounced in the case of some persons than others.

And then think of the expense. There are men who spend from ten cents to a half dollar or more every day smoking cigars. We see boys and girls—whose mothers and daddies are on the WPA, sucking cigarettes, at 15 and 18 cents a package.

Where did we get this habit? Our forefathers caught this disease from the savages that inhabited this country when the whites began to come over from Europe. We said last week that the turkey is the gift of America to the world. It is, and a rich gift too. Tobacco is also a gift of America to the world—but a mighty sorry one. Columbus discovered America; but it was those who came after him that discovered tobacco. They found the Indians smoking it, chewing it, dipping it in the form of a crude snuff.

The chiefs sealed their treaties by smoking the peace pipe together—passing it around and each taking a puff in his turn. But they smoked it at other times, too.

And the rank and file also smoked. Lazy men and dirty squaws, we guess, might have been seen smoking their filthy old pipes most any time after a glutinous meal on deer meat or wild turkey.

The bowls of their pipes were either made of clay or carved out of soft limestone. Reeds, and pithy wood, and long stems of coarse grasses afforded the material out of which they made their pipe stems.

So, when civilized white men came to America, they found tobacco growing, and uncivilized Indians smoking it and chewing it. For many centuries, no doubt, these savages had been addicted to the habit. Strange that civilized whites have taken it up too, but they did.

acquired habit of smoking. It seems to have been Sir Walter Raleigh himself, however, who popularized the habit among the courtiers and nobility of London. He set an example that many others followed. A quarter of a century later, he was sent to the scaffold, but just before going he filled his pipe with tobacco and had a good smoke. In spite of the opposition of both the Church and the State, the habit continued to spread rapidly throughout the nations of Europe.

So, the tobacco that was found growing on Roanoke Island, some of which was taken by the returning timorous colonists and the bold pirate Francis Drake back to England in 1585, started a habit among white men that has now all but engulfed the world and has included women and children as well as strong men among its devotees.

That's how the tobacco habit got started.

Now, tobacco culture has grown to be a great industry. North Carolina's tobacco crop exceeds in value her cotton crop. Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, S. Carolina, and Georgia, in the order named, are the other principal tobacco-raising states, though Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Connecticut, and Maryland also produce considerable quantities.

The total annual production in the United States amounts to about one and a half billion pounds, equivalent in weight to 3,000,000 bales of cotton, and equivalent in value, perhaps, to 5,000,000 bales.

Most of this tobacco is manufactured into cigars, cigarettes, smoking tobacco, plug tobacco, and snuff here in this country; and the value of the manufactured products is many times that of the raw material.

What a big business we have made of this filthy weed!

The chiefs sealed their treaties by smoking the peace pipe together—passing it around and each taking a puff in his turn. But they smoked it at other times, too.

And the rank and file also smoked. Lazy men and dirty squaws, we guess, might have been seen smoking their filthy old pipes most any time after a glutinous meal on deer meat or wild turkey.

The bowls of their pipes were either made of clay or carved out of soft limestone. Reeds, and pithy wood, and long stems of coarse grasses afforded the material out of which they made their pipe stems.

So, when civilized white men came to America, they found tobacco growing, and uncivilized Indians smoking it and chewing it. For many centuries, no doubt, these savages had been addicted to the habit. Strange that civilized whites have taken it up too, but they did.

And then think of the expense. There are men who spend from ten cents to a half dollar or more every day smoking cigars. We see boys and girls—whose mothers and daddies are on the WPA, sucking cigarettes, at 15 and 18 cents a package.

Columbus discovered America; but it was those who came after him that discovered tobacco. They found the Indians smoking it, chewing it, dipping it in the form of a crude snuff.

vidual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The called to our attention.

This Government has instituted and is carrying out an agriculture program which purports to benefit the landowner and the tenant farmer alike. But it is operating to the benefit of the big landlord and to the detriment of the tenant. It enables and encourages the man who is able to do so to buy or lease up unlimited quantities of land and cultivate it with tractors and cheap hired labor, reaping all the Government benefits himself, thus driving many tenants off the farms with nowhere to go. They move into the towns and cities seeking work and many of them wind up on the W.
P. A. These are facts that can not be controverted. It seems to us that our Bankheads and our Marvin Joneses and other members of the "Agriculture Bloc" in Congress are overlooking a bet in not finding and putting into effect a remedy for this sort of thing. We are told that Marvin Jones "broke down and wept" the other day in pleading for an undiminished appropriation of funds to loan tenant farmers to enable them to buy farms of their own. Such fund at the best can not be expected to help one tenant farmer out of fifty. What this Government should do, it seems to us, is to discontinue a policy which encourages land monopoly by either purchase or lease. It should withdraw its benefits from any man who undertakes to cultivate more than a definite limited amount of land, depending on its location, the annual rainfall, its productivity, and possibly other conditions. The tenant farmer should be given a chance.

Under the present policy of the Government he is at the mercy of the landlord and lease-hog. We are not criticizing these but we are deploring the agriculture policy which makes their operations profitable to the utter ruin of the tenant farmer.

E. E. Smith of Colorado City,
president of the Texas Rural Letter Carriers Association, has an article in the February issue of the organization's official paper The Texas Carrier, in which he advocates the allocation of one cent of the state gasoline tax to the respective counties for the improvement of county roads. He makes an argument for the proposal that is hard to meet. He points out that at least a fifth of the gasoline sold or used in traffic over the country roads, and he thinks that it is only just that a like proportion of the tax be used for improvement. Is there any flaw in that argument?

We do not believe that we will ever have an adequate system of farm-to-market roads until a portion of the gasoline tax is used for the purpose of building them. A half cent per gallon would help a lot.

Coke Stevenson has announced that if O'Daniel runs for the governorship again he will run for re-election as lieutenant governor. The understanding is that if O'Daniel does not run for Governor, Stevenson will Coke says he thinks it is about time for O'Daniel and Roosevelt both to make their intentions known. Why doesn't he do like John Garner—just sail his old sombrero in and get busy, if he wants the job?

"Taking pictures in a court room of anybody is wrong," says Bowen Pope of the Hamlin Herald. And then he cites an example which occurred in an Austin court to clinch his point. Mr. Pope is right. And there is another thing that sometimes happens in a court room that should not be permitted, applause when some verdict is rendered that meets the approval of the audience.
We have read of such demonstrations that made the court look like a Kangaroo outfit. Yes, and when some defendant is freed by the verdict of a jury, he should not be allowed to grasp the hands of jurors
as they pass out of the jury box and tell them how much he thanks them. We have seen jurors who were deeply embarrassed and humiliated by such demonstrations. If they have done their duty, they have merely rendered a verdict in accordance with the law and the evidence and not as a special favor to the defendant or any one else. Naturally, a defendant who is any part of a man will feel grateful when a verdict of "not guilty" is rendered, but if he wishes to thank the jurors publicly let him rise in an orderly and dignified manner and ask the permission of the court to express his feelings. We are not trying to advise the courts how to carry on,
folks, but these are our sentiments.

Well! Well! That old groundhog for once failed to see his shadow here on February 2. It rarely happens in these diggings. Now if there is anything to that old saw, warm weather is just around the corner—or is it a string of sandstorms? Hope not. We should like to see a lot of moisture sometime soon, even if it must come in the form of snow.

ATTEND IMPORTANT CHURCH
MEET IN PLAINVIEW

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale of the Tahoka Baptist Church left Monday morning for Plainview to attend the Panhandle Baptist Pastors and Laymen's Conference in annual session during the first three days of the week. Mrs. Dale was the guest of Mrs. A. A. Suits while Brother Dale was attending the Conference, of which he is first vice-president. They were accompanyed by Mrs. Minnie Pender, who went to visit her daughter, June,
who is a student in Wayland College.

The meetings of the Conference
were to be held in Wayland College.
Several hundred visitors from the seven associations comprising District No. 9 as well as some from District No. 10 were expected to be present.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, was on the program each night,
while Dr. R. C. Campbell of Dallas, state secretary of the Baptist executive board, was the principal speaker Monday. An elaborate program for the three-days meet had been arranged and was carried out.

Other Baptist pastors and laymen from Lynn county were also in attendance upon the Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shaw, former residents of Tahoka, were here last Friday from their new home
seven miles southwest of Levelland,
to which they moved last month.

After spending about ten weeks
here with their daughter, Mrs. K.
R. Durham, and the family, and after visiting other relatives in Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hutchison are now at home at Shreveport, Louisiana. The Hutchisons on this and previous visits, have made many friends in Tahoka, who always welcome their coming.

J. A. Bartlett and family, longtime residents of Tahoka, moved to a small farm near Plainview a few weeks ago, for which he had traded.
He was here last week on business and visiting friends.

Way "Build-up" Helps
Will Interest Women

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUI.

Principal way CARDUI helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force;
so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time."
Your confidence in CARDUI is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

DEPUTY INCOME TAX COLLECTOR COMING

Deputy Collector Burl Bedford
will be at the First National Bank on February 26, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. to render assistance in making out income tax returns.

"The new income tax law presents many complicated problems," says Collector W. A. Thomas,
"which the layman, in attempting to file his income tax return for 1939, can not solve. This office is anxious to be of help to all taxpayers who desire our assistance in making their returns."

The services of the deputy collector will be given without charge.

Mrs. Calloway Huffaker was called to Tucumcari, N. Mex. by the death of an aunt, Mrs. C. O. Carter, Saturday. She returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Collier attended a Rexall convention in Dallas the first of the week.

NAZARENE CHURCH

We were glad to see more people in their places at church last Sunday. In fact our attendance was the best since Christmas. A number who had been quite ill were present and we trust that each one may be in his or her place of worship each Sunday hereafter.

Those who do not attend any other church are, also invited to come and visit the Church of the Nazarene.

Revival Meeting

We want to take this opportunity to invite each and everyone to attend the revival meeting that begins February 19 and runs through March 3.

Rev. James Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Atkinson of Tahoka will be the Evangelist, this year. I am sure you will want to hear him as he is a local boy. James is a good preacher. He is now pastor at Hobbs New Mexico.

Please remember the dates and attend as many of the services as possible.

Other announcements later.
Pastor, Betty Ellis

EPWORTH LEAGUE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The local chapter of the Epworth League elected new Officers last Sunday morning. The elected are as follows.

President, Valarie Bartley; Vice President, Leta F. Wyatt, Sec-Treas Lenore Anglin; Reporter, Frances Jayne Mitchell.

We are having some very interesting lessons which are enjoyed by all. Our lesson next Sunday night is "Life in the Family" which promises to be very interesting. We wish to invite all young people from 12 to 23.

Grassland Church of Christ

S. D. Lofton of Post will hold services at the Grassland Church of Christ on Sunday, February 11, according to E. S. Brown.

M. E. CHURCH

Reverend Ben Hardy will preach the sermon at 11:00 a. m. at the Methodist Church Sunday.

This newspaper is endeavoring to publish a real society page—something we have always wanted.

On this page we hope to have all interesting news of church and club activities, weddings, parties, etc. It will take the cooperation of the various organization reporters and individuals to make this possible, however, we beg your support.

All news for this page must be in by Wednesday noon of the week of publication. Any late items will be used elsewhere in the paper or delayed until the next week.

One of our reputable citizens has a shady past. When he was a youngster he attended singing school—apparently not so much to learn how to sing as to delve in such devilment as was his wont.

It seems another young fellow liked to spark the girls—or pitch woo, in modern lingo. This citizen of ours and two other fellows went out by the tabernacle and called all the doodle bugs they could find, until they had a large handful. Back into the tabernacle they slipped, and right behind where the young swain was seated between two lady loves.

The fellow had his hair all plasted

Future Homemakers Club Builds Miniature Doll House; Makes Toys

EACH GIRL MADE ONE TOY

The first year homemaking classes at Tahoka High are studying the unit on the pre-school child. Each girl has made an inexpensive toy for a pre-school child. Among the toys made are stuffed toys, a doll house furnished with miniature furniture, a sturdy wheelbarrow made of scrap materials, doll furniture, blocks made of scrap lumber, spool toys of various kinds and books and games suitable for the pre-school child.

In judging the toys that were made, the girls considered the following points: Is the toy durable? Does the toy have "do with" qualities? Is it an attractive toy? Is the toy safe and easy to handle? Will the toy have lasting interest for the child? Will the toy develop the child mentally or physically?

Toys which challenge the child to create are the most effective. Toys may be classes as those for physical activity, such as swings, tricycle and boxes for climbing; toys for manipulation such as paints, clay and building materials; and toys for imaginative or make-believe play such as cars, trains, dishes and "play house" toys.—Reporter ered down with pomade until it was slick and shiny as mahogany. Right on top of his head went the doodlebugs, and they, being alarmed, began to scamper for cover. Young Swain began scratching around in his hair, until he brought out one of the offenders. Apparently he thought it was about the biggest hair louse he had ever seen, for out he bounded as fast as he could, and left the two young ladies for our friend and his companions to entertain.

Monday is Lincoln's birthday. One of our greatest presidents, although hated by the South in his day, he was a man of few but forceful words.

We give here his platform, offered when he first ran for the legislature, and one which we think should be a good model for present day candidates in brevity and straightforwardness.

"Fellow-citizens: I presume you all know who I am. I am humble Abraham Lincoln.

"I have been solicited by many friends to become a candidate for the Legislature.

"My politics are short and sweet, like the old woman's dance.

"I am in favor of a National Bank.

"I am in favor of the internal improvement system, and a high protective tariff.

"These are my sentiments, and political principles.

"If elected, I shall be thankful; if not it will be all the same."

Church News

CORRECTION

The News was in error last week when we stated that a Young People's meeting to be held in the Baptist Church here on February 15 would be an all day affair and that it would include all of District nine.

Here are the facts: All young people of Y. W. A., G. A. and R. A. age in Brownfield Association are invited to meet in the Baptist Church here on February 16 at 6:00 P. M. Each one is to bring his or her own lunch, but a drink will be provided by the Tahoka church.

The program will be of interest to parents and all grown people as well as to the younger ones, according to those in charge. Among speakers listed are Mrs. R. L. Mathis, State Young People's Secretary, Dallas District Young People's Leader, Mrs. Vernon Shaw, Floydada, and Mrs. E. J. Cobb, Association Young People's Leader, New Home.

METHODIST WMS PARTY

Mrs. C. A. Thomas was hostess to the Methodist W. M. S. for a social on Monday, January 27.

Games were directed by Mesdames W. M. Mathis and E. R. Edwards.

Refreshments were served to fifteen women.

Last Monday the WMS met in a business meeting at the church.

YWA MET WITH MRS. APPLEWHITE

The YWA met in the home of Mrs. J. K. Applewhite last Monday night for a missionary program taken from The Window.

Present were Misses Bernice Edwards, Nell McIlroy, Jenny Reba Nevils, Lorene Reese, Robbie Milliken, Valerie Wells, the sponsor, Mrs. Applewhite and one guest, Billy Margaret Riddle.

Next Monday night the auxiliary will entertain with a Leap Year Dinner at Evans Cafe.

INTERMEDIATE TEACHERS ORGANIZE

The intermediate teachers of the County met at the High School at Tahoka Saturday morning and organized the intermediate division of the Lynn County Teachers Association. Officers elected were Miss Ruth Garms of Wilson, chairman, and Miss Mabel Harris of O'Donnell, secretary. Plans were made for a meeting at Tahoka on February 19 to discuss Interscholastic League work and other problems. All intermediate teachers of the County are urged to attend this meeting and to lend their hearty cooperation to the success of the organization.—Ruth Garms, Chairman.

DRAW-REDWINE 4-H CLUB

"Simplicity and moderation should be the guides in choosing jewelry, as in the choice of other accessories," stated Miss Maurine McNatt, agent, at the regular meeting of the Draw-Redwine 4-H club meeting.

"Costume jewelry affords excellent opportunity for repeating a color one wishes to accent, but the individual should bear in mind that a tailored costume demands tailored jewelry. Elaborate jewels, rhinestones, etc., have their place but not at school, at church, or on the street. The 1940 Year books were presented and suggested aims discussed for the new year. Mrs. R. K. Green, club sponsor, discussed the selection of Pattern and material for play garments, at the meeting February 7.

MRS. A. P. EDWARDS IS HOSTESS

The Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations and refreshments at the party given in honor of Mrs. Chase S. Thompson in the home of Mrs. A. P. Edwards Tuesday afternoon.

Bridge was played by the guests, and prizes were Valentine boxes of candy. Mrs. Thompson was surprised with a huge heart shaped box full of gifts.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames E. S. Evans, R. W. Fenton Jr., Frank Hill, D. W. Gagnat, Copway Clingan, Prentice Walker, Oscar Roberts, C. B. Townes, Truett Smith, Houston, Spikes, W. V. McIlroy, Jess Gurley, Edgar Edwards, W. B. Slaton, Carl Griffing, W. O. Thomas, Raymond Weathers, the honoree and the hostess. Many others sent gifts.

Below are a few items taken from the files of the Lynn County News as recorded in four issues of January 1915.

Among weddings of interest chronicled in the Jan. 1, issue were those of Claude Wells and Miss Cryte Wright; Oscar Sanders and Miss Agnes Campbell, both of which occurred during the Christmas holidays, 1914.

In the list of College students returning to their studies, given in January 8, issue we see the names of Blanche Cathey of Pridge; Tullis Ferguson, T-Bar; Claude Donaldson, Tahoka; Waldo (Mike) McLaurin, O'Donnell, and Linnie and Annie Cowan, Tahoka.

Newcomers who had just arrived to make their homes here included Dr. J. R. Singleton, from Jefferson, Texas, who was looking for a house before moving his family out. T. I. Hammonds of Haskell who was accompanied by his wife and three children.

Statement of the First National Bank published in the January 15 issue showed total assets $173,995.98.

broke an axle to the car he was driving. John Yates went down the same evening with an extra axle and he and Douglas put it in Tuesday and made it in by nightfall.

Tahoka now has four restaurants, two hotels and a bakery dispensing grub to the harvesters who are marketing their crops here.

Week End Party
A jolly little party of Tahoka young people spent Saturday and Sunday at the Yates and Noble homesteads in the West end of the County. The party left town Saturday evening on horses and in bugles, in the midst of the heaviest snowstorm we have had this year, however the temperature was not very low.

Those in the party were: Messrs. John Yates, Ross Ketner, Charlie Gray, Mac Noble, Carl Montgomery and Misses Nona and Grace Turk and Rhoda Lee Ray. They reported a jolly time as do all who are lucky enough to enjoy the hospitality of either the Yates or the Noble home.

SOUTH PLAINS ELECTRIC COOP. EXTENSION APPROVED

An extension of the electric light and power lines of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, which now operates lines in Lubbock, Crosby, Hale, Hockley, and Lynn counties, is soon to be made, according to information given the News out of the main office at Lubbock.

This, it should be noted, is a separate and distinct cooperative from the Lyntegar Cooperative which operates in Lynn, Hockley, Terry and Garza counties, with approved extensions into Dawson and Borden counties. It is of much interest however, to many Lynn county people. The story follows.

REA has approved a contract between the Cooperative and Reinhart and Donovan Co., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, for building another section of its power system, consisting of 217 miles of line to serve 463 members. The successful bid was $99,650.53 and includes materials and labor. The total cost with meters and overhead added will be $115,872.71. This is an average of $458. per mile.

The Frost Lumber Industries, Inc.

Lynn County Cotton Second to Lubbock

Lynn county is yet about to nose Lubbock county out of first place among the counties of the South Plains in cotton production last year. According to the latest report of the U. S. Bureau of the Census, Lynn county had ginned 59,423 bales of the crop of 1939 prior to Jan. 16, 1940, as compared with 59,638 bales ginned up to the same date in Lubbock county, a difference in Lubbock's favor of only 215 bales. The margin of difference has been narrowed by several hundred bales since the last preceding report.

For a number of years, these two counties have been leading all the other counties of the South Plains, and all West Texas as for that matter, in the same order. They have consistently taken their place also among the very few highest cotton producing counties in the state. This time they stand fifth and sixth respectively in the state, and two of the four that stand above them barely do exceed their production. Collin county ginned 59,727 bales and San Patricio 59,923. Nueces stands first in the state with 78,663 bales and Ellis second with 72,998. All of these counties except Collin are much larger in area than either Lubbock or Lynn.

Third in production on the South Plains is Lamb county with 44,663.

will furnish 39 carloads of poles; Phelps Dodge will furnish about 577 miles of wire, and the Westinghouse Electric Company will ship 389 transformers, ranging from 1-2 kva to 10 kva.

All who wish to get service from the new lines should sign up for it at once and make arrangements for wiring and plumbing installations. The route of the line is now being laid out, and the network is planned to reach areas where enough member service contracts have been signed to make construction economically feasible. If insufficient contracts have been signed in any particular area, the lines will be routed another way.

Experience has indicated that usually a number of requests for service come in after construction has started. These requests cannot ordinarily be granted until the contractor finishes building the project as planned and laid out before his crew arrive. Priority must be accorded those lines for which service contracts are signed up early. Construction of other lines must depend upon the availability of funds after the main project is built.

Hockley and Dawson are running neck and neck for fourth place. Hockley having ginned 33,516 bales and Dawson 33,011.

Lynn county's crop this year exceeds that of 1938 by almost 4,900 bales, the report up to a similar date a year ago showing 55,698 bales of the 1938 crop had been ginned up to that time.

A representative of the News, who wrote a front page story of our cotton production last week, attributed to the editor a degree of accuracy in forecasting the size of the crop early last fall, however, to which he is not entitled.

There was a time, "before picking started", when an enormous crop was promised. Then came the hot days and dry winds late in August that had a terribly deteriorating effect on the crops. For a time it looked as if a hundred thousand bales or more would be produced. Then as a result of those withering winds, it looked as if the county might do well to harvest half that amount. Rather early in the picking season, however, we did estimate that the crop would probably reach 55,000 to 60,000 bales. Those estimates were based upon reports of ginnings already made and an inspection of the crop in different sections of the county.

H. B. McCorde accompanied by his mother, Mrs. R. B. McCorde of Grassland left last Wednesday for Alabama to visit a sister who was seriously ill whose recovery seemed doubtful.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McKee, two miles east of town, are the parents of identical twin girls, born Saturday night at the home. The babies weighed seven pounds each. Both mother and children are doing nicely.

CARD OF THANKS
We take this method of thanking everyone for their kindness and thoughtfulness toward us while we have been sick, for the flowers sent, the cards, words, and deeds. Words cannot express our appreciation. We especially thank Mrs. Dye and Dr. Proff for their untiring efforts in treating and nursing. May God's richest blessings be with each and every one that helped us in any way. We appreciate every visit made us.—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edwards and family.

THANKS
We wish to thank our customers for their dairy business during the past eleven years and will appreciate your patronage in our new line of business.—Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Tinsley and family.

HEALTH PROGRAM
with expectant mothers, and with the care of indigents.
The Clerk, Mrs. Mayfair Davis, will attend to the office routine taking requests of callers, keeping accurate records of births, deaths, and cases investigated, and keeping charts showing where illness and deaths occur so that the staff may investigate.

Special stress will be made in regard to tuberculosis and venereal diseases, and the control of such diseases will be a vital concern for the program. Information about these maladies will be stressed. Persons will be discharged from self-treatment.

Prospective mothers will be contacted as early as possible to see that adequate nursing and medical care is provided during the prenatal, natal, and post natal periods.

Epidemics will be investigated immediately and steps will be taken to prevent their spread through the use of vaccination, quarantine, etc. These are just a few of the outstanding services that will be rendered by the health unit.
