Dates Are Set for Judges, Commissioners Spring Convention

Dickens, Feb. 20—Dates for the spring convention of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association has been set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 21, 22 and 23, County Judge Marshall Formby of Dickens, president of the association, announced. The convention will be held at San Angelo with headquarters at the Cactus hotel. Judge Formby said the program is being arranged and will be announced soon. A number of prominent speakers of Texas are being lined up for the three-day program. Registration for convention attendants will begin on Thursday afternoon, March 21 at 3 p. m. Business sessions will be held on Friday morning, Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. The banquet, one of the high lights of the convention will be held on Friday night at 7:30. A dance will follow the banquet and one will also be held on Thursday night. The convention closes Saturday at noon following report of the resolutions committee and selection of the September convention city. On Saturday morning it is planned to hold a "question box hour" at which time questions which will have been submitted during the convention will be answered. This feature of the convention is being used for the first time in several years in the West Texas association. It has proven highly interesting in the past, Judge Formby pointed out. The West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association is made up of the county judges and commissioners in 124 west Texas counties. Besides Formby the officers are Judge O. McDaniel of Baylor county, vice-president, and John H. Winters, Potter county commissioner of Amarillo, secretary-treasurer. Winters served as vice president of the association last year, while Formby was secretary-treasurer. The commissioners court of Tom Green as well as Chamber of Commerce and other civic officials of San Angelo are cooperating.

Plains Physician Reports to American Medical Association

Hale Center, Texas Feb. 21—Dr. Roger S. Knapp, local physician, is preparing a report of his findings in treating infantile eczema, to the American Medical Association, following a certain number of completely cured cases in children ranging from a few months to three years old. This disease, which has been stubbornly refusing to respond to treatment, is cured in record time with a prescription Dr. Knapp has. Vouching for the accuracy of thirty odd cases already cured in Hale county is a local druggist, Roger Pinson, who has operated a pharmacy here for 20 years. Dr. Knapp, son of the late Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, said he plans to open a clinic here for treating this disease in order to study cases for his report.—Vic Lamb
Mrs. J. A. South left Wednesday morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. Temple Brashear, in Baird.

News Again Chosen For Conoco Ads

PONCA CITY, Okla., Feb. 21.—"Newspaper advertising to assist the local bulk plant and service station operator constitutes by far the greatest single item in Continental Oil Company's 1940 advertising budget," A. J. Rabe, Continental advertising manager, said here today. "Continental's entire campaign is designed this year to help the local distributor of Conoco products to increase his business. "Although the campaign will include almost every kind of successful advertising medium, our unusually successful marketing "As in the past, this year's record last year, when newspapers formed the backbone of our campaign, was largely responsible for the bulk of our very large budget being spent for newspaper advertising. "Small town newspapers, incidentally, will share in this plan as extensively as the larger metropolitan dailies. The campaign will include more than 1,500 papers throughout the United States and is expected to reach more than 33,000,000 readers. campaign will be devoted to Conoco Bronz-x-x Gasoline and Conoco Germ Processed Oil, and all advertising will be done in the name of the company's local 'mlage merchants'."

It was estimated that 700 cars of grain and feedstuff would be shipped out of the county as more than 500 cars had been shipped, and also that 7000 bales of cotton would be shipped, the paper stating: "Six thousand bales have been ginned and there are at least another thousand in the fields. The gins of the county, of which we have three, are running day and night to keep up with the pickers."

The annual report of P. H. Northcross, County Clerk and a quarterly report of C. T. Beard, County Treasurer, were given. ## ODDS AND ENDS

By Bee Eye the Elder

How in the world would we get along without Irish potatoes, or But unless the influx of farmers "spuds"?

Irish potatoes are to be found on most of our tables two or three times or possibly a half a dozen times every week for many weeks in each year. They constitute a most important part of our food.

Look at that truck yonder; it is loaded with Irish potatoes. Presently they will be unloaded in our grocery stores. Look into almost any grocery store in town and you will see great quantities of Irish potatoes.

They are popular as a food not only because they are very nutritious and palatable but also because they are economical as a major food.

Potatoes are comparatively inexpensive because they are usually very prolific and can be raised in large quantities in almost every country on the world. And they are not quickly perishable.

In our own country possibly a half billion bushels are produced annually. Some fellow has figured it out that potatoes constitute one-seventh of all the food that we Americans consume. In some countries, the portion is much higher than that.

Germany and Russia each produces immense quantities of potatoes, maybe a billion bushels each. They feed their soldiers a lot of potatoes—and their civilians too. So do the British, and the Irish.

The ordinary Irishman in fact is a regular potato bug. Potatoes is the chief food product of Ireland today. Some of us probably had the idea that the Irish potato was a native Irish product and thereby got its name. Not so. It is not indigenous to Ireland. It got its name, however, from the fact that at various intervals it saved the Irish people from starvation and is their most important article or diet.

How in the world would the Irish get along now without the Irish potato? How would the rest of the world get along without it?

Yet the whole so-called civilized world did get along without it for many centuries. And this brings us back to America again.

Following the discovery of the New World by Christopher Columbus, a horde of Spanish adventurers thirsting for gold and other forms of wealth flocked across the Atlantic to explore the unknown lands of this continent.

Among these was one Francisco Pizarro, an illegitimate child, who had grown up as a waif in the poverty-stricken and filthy section of a Spanish city. Seemingly he had no conscience and only a heart of stone, but he had ambition and was avaricious. Fired by the glamorous stories that others brought back from across the waters, he first came across just eighteen years after Columbus had brought back first news of the discovery of a new route to "India". That was in 1510. He was with Balboa when the latter discovered the Pacific Ocean. For a number of years he engaged in the cattle business in Panama, and was one of the first "cow-men" in America. But he did not "get rich quick" in the cattle business, and therefore decided to turn bandit on a large scale.

He had heard of the Incas of Peru and had listened to tales of wealth that some how found their way from that region.

To make a long story short, he fitted up a company of other adventurous murderers and sailed for the promised land. In time, he over-ran and conquered the country, inhabited by harmless, industrious Indians, who had attained quite a high degree of civilization for that period.

Vegetable Laxative Makes Happy Friends

Here's a laxative that usually acts thoroughly as harsher ones but is a gentle persuader for intestines when used this way: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight; a drink of water. There's usually time for a good night's rest, with a gentle, thorough action next morning relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, sour stomach, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT is a splendid combination of vegetable ingredients, chief of which is an "intestinal tonic-laxative" that helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. It's economical. 25 to 40 doses: 25c.

of the world's history.

Strange to say, many of these Indians were farmers, and one of the food products that they raised was the potato.

Twenty years later, some of these potatoes were brought to Virginia and soon thereafter others were taken back to Spain. Thus began their cultivation in other parts of the world. Later the potato became so important a food in Ireland that it was given the name of "Irish" potato.

And what about the sweet potato? It is a tropical product and may have been native to many lands in the torrid zone, but it was introduced into civilized society from Brazil in 1919. The Portuguese and the Spaniards found it being crudely cultivated and raised there on a small scale by the docile Indians that inhabited portions of the country.

Some of the potatoes were taken to Spain, where they were found to be an edible and most palatable vegetable and from Spain they were introduced into Great Britain and other countries of Europe.

While the heaviest Irish potato-producing states are in the North, the sweet potato is much more prolific in the South and it thrives in all Southern states, Georgia and Texas being about the largest producers.

So, while Peru gave the world the Irish potato, Brazil gave us the sweet potato, and neither had ever been seen on the table of a civilized white man until after Columbus discovered a new world. Neither had any African ever enjoyed a meal of 'possum and 'tater, for the 'possum, too, is a native American.

Really, that old boy Christopher Columbus never knew what a gift he was bringing to the world when he spied the shores on San Salvador on that crisp October morning nearly four and a half centuries ago.

President Roosevelt administered quite a rebuke the other day to those communist youngsters who seem to be dominating that national youths' organization which Mrs. Roosevelt has been pampering quite a bit. He told them in effect that they had a right in this country to believe in communism but suggested that before they publicly advocate it they should inform themselves as to what communism in action really is. The government of Russia, he reminded them, is just as much a dictatorship as the government of Germany. Those communistic youths have doubtless been brought up in the midst of a communistic environment or have come under the influence of communistic professors in some of our colleges and universities. Either they are crack-brained radicals by nature or they are uninformed or have been misinformed concerning the underlying principles of our form of government and the practical workings of communism. In other words, those young communists need to learn something about government and the rights of man.

A news item carried in Monday's Star-Telegram under a Spur date line stated that C. L. Harris of Dickens, Representative in the Legislature, would be a candidate for Congress from the Nineteenth district now represented by George Mahon. Harris may be a good and able man with correct views on national affairs but he is little known throughout most of the Nineteenth district. He is 31 years of age and is serving his second term in the Legislature. It would seem foolish to turn down George Mahon, who is growing in knowledge and influence in Congress each year, for an untried newcomer. We think Mr. Harris should think seriously before spending his money in such a forlorn hope as that of un-horsing the brilliant young fellow we already have in Congress from this district.

A throng of National Youth leaders crowded into the galleries of the House of Representatives in Congress the other day and vociferously applauded one of the speakers and almost as vociferously hissed another one. If they were really possessed of the democratic spirit or even if they had been well-bred and only reasonably polite, they would have indulged in no such culpable conduct. In this country, we are taught to treat those who may disagree with us as gentlemen. These youngsters should be schooled somewhat in the principles of Americanism.

Girls Are Advised To Build-Up For Relief

Lack of knowledge causes many a weak, undernourished girl a lot of suffering!
Many others, however, know how the headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by the proper use of CARDUI.
Some take it a few days before and during "the time," to help ease periodic distress. But CARDUI's principal use is to help increase appetite; stimulate the flow of gastric juice; so aid digestion, assist in building up physical resistance and thus help reduce periodical distress. Women have used CARDUI for over 50 years.

Well, it looks, as if Coke Stevenson will not get to run for governor this year, as he announced some weeks ago that he would run if O'Daniel does not. Stevenson is an able and very likeable fellow and a good politician. He has been courting O'Daniel and his followers ever since O'Daniel won by such a stupendous landslide two years ago; and he hoped to run for governor this year with O'Daniel's blessing. But it now seems certain that O'Daniel is going to run and Coke will be compelled to wait two years longer. In 1942, if he makes the race, he will doubtless be compelled to face Gerald Mann, and that is not a very pleasing prospect. So we should not be surprised if Coke and his friends from here on out do their best to discredit Mann. We shall see. We shall see.

The public school system is the glory of this country. The curriculum is constantly being spread out over a larger field and increasing sums of money are being spent each year to increase the efficiency of the schools. We believe that at least one of the courses should be expanded and strengthened. Civics should be extended so as to include a thorough study of our Constitution, and Americanism should be stressed. Without any further expansion, possibly the twelfth year should be added in the interest of thoroughness. We believe that too many pupils complete the high school course with merely a superficial knowledge of many of the subjects studied. Since most youngsters will have no opportunity to attend college, our public schools should give the pupils the best training possible for the battles of life and for citizenship. That done, and communism and totalitarianism will not be able to find much foothold in this country.

A district court held that the state Board of Control did not have the right to fire Dr. Johnson as superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane in San Antonio. We have not followed the case closely and do not know the reasons assigned by the court for its holding, but to us it seems reasonable. If the Board of Control can dismiss heads or employees of state institutions at will, it could keep every institution and every department of the state government in constant turmoil. Appointive officials and employees, it seems to us, can be ousted only by impeachment or by the authority that appointed them. Two members of that Board of Control are new members recently appointed by the Governor, and doubtless they have been feeling their own importance a bit. Courts must be resorted to occasional to keep office-holders from over-stepping their constitutional authority and to protect the constitutional rights of others. That is one reason why we do not believe that any executive, state or national, should ever be permitted to dominate our courts.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel virtually announced as a candidate for re-election in his radio talk last Sunday morning. He quoted a newspaper editorial praising his administration and explaining why O'Daniel would be re-elected; also letters asking him to run again. Of course that is the natural prelude to the formal announcement that will probably come soon.

Draw Wins Cage Title From Tahoka, O'Donnell

Draw defeated O'Donnell last night to the tune of 33 to 9 to cap the interscholastic league honors in boys basketball. O'Donnell and Tahoka each lost one game, and were tied on number of points, and O'Donnell got runnerup honors on the flip of a coin.

The game completed one of the closest, hardest fought basketball tournaments in many years, with the three leading teams running neck and neck up to the very last.

The tourney was supposed to have been played off last Friday and Saturday, but was postponed because of blocked roads following last Friday's blizzard.

Until Wednesday night the tourney was tied among Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Draw. Each had had one defeat, and that at the hands of one of the others. Tahoka had taken O'Donnell by five points, O'Donnell had defeated Draw to the tune of 14 points, and Draw had won a 1 point victory over Tahoka.

Then Wednesday night, one of Tahoka's stars failed to appear, and Draw beat Tahoka by 4 points, eliminating them from the contest for first place, and leaving the play-off between O'Donnell and Draw to decide the question.

TAHOKA EGG LANDS IN BATON ROUGE

Where do all these Tahoka eggs go? Who eats our hen fruit any way? Well, we don't know, but our eggs probably go to the four ends of the United States.

At least some of them sent out from a store here recently landed in Baton Rouge.

Alvin White, senior high school student, works in the A. L. Smith Food Store here on Saturdays. A few weeks ago, he wrote his name and address, with a pencil, on an egg that came into the store from a rural customer.

The egg, together with others, was crated and shipped out. A few days ago, Alvin received the following letter.

Baton Rouge, La.
Dear Friend (Alvin White) I found an egg in an egg crate with your name and address on it, asking the receiver of the egg to write to address mentioned on egg.

So I am writing you to see if you will correspond with me by writing back and telling me more about yourself, sex, race, nationality and age. Your truly—Harlis Versen, cashier in local chain store, 827 East Boulevard Baton Rouge, La.

Texas has more than 9,000 local civil subdivisions with authority to levy taxes and issue bonds. Included are levee districts, water districts, drainage districts, school districts, irrigation districts, flood control districts, road districts and many others.

Wilson Football Squad Receive Awards

P. H. Davidson, coach at Wilson high school, and the faculty, presented the Wilson Football team of last season with their letters last Friday night.

The Wilson team is one of two in the county which played six-man football last year. They won three and tied one out of nine games played. Teams met were Draw, Dickens, McAdoo, and Patten Springs.

Six-man football is being tried quite generally by the smaller schools, and they find it a very interesting and lively game.

Fifteen Wilson men were presented letters and awards. They are as follows: Jack Blevins, James Crews, Bernard Cosgrove, Emory Kolodziejczyk, Clarence Riney, W. H. Jackson, Orville Macker, Garis Hodges, Cecil Cook, Howett Wilson, B. Corley, Louis Shambeck, Trust Hannabus, Albert Holder, Orbin Houchen, David Evans is manager of the team.

GRASSLAND 4-H CLUB STUDY COLORS

"Certain colors suggest seasons just as they suggest activities," stated Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the Grassland 4-H Club Tuesday, February 13, at the school building.

Color plays an important part in selecting a play suit, and the season of the year determines the color. Red, brown, and navy look warm and are suggested for winter weather. Light green and blue seem cooler, and they are better suited to spring and summer. If a person is able to afford only one play suit at a time, a color which can be worn either season should be selected.

Those present were: Jimmie Lou Thomas, Rubie Greer, Beth Shepherd, Billie Greer, Margie Shepherd, Dolly Gatzki, Leona Murray, Marie Norman, Ruby Faye Williams, Eula Mae Laws, Mary Ruth Edwards, and Nelda Lois Moore.

The next meeting will be Friday, March 5. The sponsor, Mrs. Belle Lee, will have charge of the next meeting.

In the girl's interscholastic tournament, New Home took first place and the accompanying trophy and honors. They came through unscathed, without a single defeat to their record, in spite of the fact that one of the players suffered a broken arm and therefore could not play to the end.

The Wilson girls were second, with one defeat and one tie. Tahoka came third, winning three out of five games played.

NEW HOME GIRL BREAKS ARM IN CAGE TOURNAMENT

Natalie Bailey, daughter of Acle Bailey of New Home, suffered a broken arm when she tripped and fell on the concrete floor of the gymnasium while playing in the basketball tournament here Tuesday afternoon.

She was carried to the office of a local physician, and splints were applied.

DISTRICT CAGE MEET TO BE THIS WEEK END

The winning teams in the county interscholastic tournament here this week will compete for district honors at the Tech gymnasium Friday and Saturday, all day and at night.

Sixteen teams will play in that contest.

A FEW OF THOSE CAUGHT IN THE STORM

Many, many of the citizens of Lynn County, and all other plains counties as for that matter, were caught by last Friday's snowstorm and got stuck out on the highways, and some of them had some rather unpleasant experiences.

For instance, there is "Grover" Stewart. He was down in the south part of the county somewhere beyond Midway when his car got stuck. He had two good long legs, however, and so headed north afoot. Reaching the I. M. Draper home, the wayfarer was taken in and shown every possible hospitality. Mrs. Stewart, in the meantime, was notified that "Hubby" was safe, but he was unable to get home until he flagged a train at Skeen Saturday afternoon. That was probably the first time Grover had ridden on a train in years.

A. M. Cade and Marvin Wood were out in the western part of the county. They tried to make their way to the home of Levi Noble, but their car stuck and they had to take it afoot. At the Noble residence they found nobody at home but they broke in and proceeded to make themselves at home. They had a pleasant night, evidently, for they did not leave until 4:30 o'clock the next afternoon.

Mrs. Hubert Tankersley reports that nineteen people found refuge in their home at West Point Friday night, some of them being cared for by Mrs. C. T. Tankersley.

Buster Fenton was among those who got marooned on the highway near Woodrow. Thirty of them found shelter in a small residence three miles this side of that place. With a sick baby in one room most of them had to stand around all night in a single room. Buster says that before morning they smoked up all their cigarettes and drank up all the coffee on the place. They were glad to get a way home the next day.

A lot of folks stayed at the Roy Poer home east of town. Fourteen cars are said to have been stalled on the highway in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Edwards had quite an unpleasant experience. Coming north on the highway, their car stuck in a drift four miles south of O'Donnell. That was about 6:30 or 7 o'clock. They stayed in their car till about 10. Deciding that the weather was entirely too uncomfortable for them to spend the rest of the night there, A. P. got out and went in search of a residence. After awhile he espied a light in a window. Returning to the car, he and Mrs. Edwards stumbled their way through the snow to the residence, where they found a warm welcome. But the house was literally full of folks who had been stranded like themselves. A. P. says that the next morning he counted nineteen cars stalled on the highway in the vicinity of his own car. They managed to get home Saturday afternoon and he went after his car Sunday.

Lewis Robinson, prominent ginnee of O'Donnell, was here Tuesday and Development of East Texas' vast supplies of iron ore will be commercially possible due to enormous amounts of natural gas and oil in that area enabling it to meet competition of coal supplies in the other iron-producing regions of the nation, industrial experts predict.

"SHORTY" PARR GETS CAUGHT IN STORM

Among those who got caught out in the snow storm last Friday afternoon was "Shorty" Parr, who is employed at the Wyatt Grain and Feed Store.

After taking a battery out to Thomas Tippit's, he undertook to return to town and got stuck in a snow drift. He had to walk in to town and had a pretty hard scuffle to make the landing. In fact, friends say that he was almost frozen. It was a very narrow escape he had.

The oil refining industry pays workers the highest wages of any industry in Texas.

possibilities of reviving the paper on this visit, he returned with Mrs. Crie and the children in May. He and Mrs. Crie put out the first issue of the resurrected paper on June 2, 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Crie continued to publish the News until December 28, 1917, when announcement was made in the paper of that date that, "This issue of the News terminates the journalistic career of H. C. Crie and Co. in Tahoka, after a tenure of nearly thirteen years. We have sold our plant and business to Jas L. Dow and W. M. Shaw of Lubbock, the latter will have charge of the plant."

Then attention was called to the fact that during this time Tahoka had grown "from a frontier village to a thriving town in the midst of the best part of Texas, and it is with keen regret that we make this change." James Crie had been associated with the paper in the meantime as editor and manager.

But the Cries continued to reside in Tahoka, Mr. Crie engaged in other business here.

Mrs. Crie died in 1932 and in August of that year Mr. Crie returned to Sandoval, which is situated related this conversation. Meeting a prominent farmer and stockman who resides out west of O'Donnell, Robinson asked if the latter had lost any stock in the blizzard.

"Not a one," the stockman answered.

"Well you were pretty anxious about them, weren't you?"

"I was till about twelve o'clock Friday night, when my car stuck on the highway up close to Woodrow. It wasn't long till I lost interest in those cows. I was too busy trying to figure out how to save my own hide. Forgot the cows entirely."

Many other stories of from a half dozen to a score of people finding shelter in various country homes have been coming in all the week.

Guess there has been nothing like this out here on these badies since 1918.

The cost of State government in Texas in 1924 was $50,519,819. By 1938 it had more than trebled, being $157,747, 878.

Tahoka was granted 25 per cent credits on its fire insurance rating Wednesday, according to announcement of Marvin Hall, Austin, state fire insurance commissioner.

This means a saving of $5,674 for the town, it is said. Credits were given on the score of Tahoka's fine record during the past year. There was scarcely a fire of any consequence during the entire year.

C. L. Harris Enters Race for Congress

State Representative C. L. Harris of Dickens County Saturday formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the 19th Congressional District.

In making his formal announcement Rep. Harris stated he favored a change in the National Farm Program to eliminate the discrimination against the tenant farmer. Due to the evils of our present farm program, thousands of substantial tenant farmers have been driven from the farm and forced on the relief and WPA rolls Harris asserted. He added that he favored a Tenant Farm Purchase Loan secured by a mortgage similar to the F. H. A. loans. Such loans should be made available to those who want to purchase a farm home. The benefits under such a plan would be far greater than under the F. H. A. as it would provide a home, income and future for the tenant farmer.

Harris is 31, a native West Texan, reared on a small farm near McAdoo, in Dickens County. He received his education in the McAdoo School and Lubbock High School where he graduated in 1928. He attended Texas Tech for three years and later entered Law School in Austin.

In 1936 Rep. Harris was elected to the Texas Legislature from the 118th district and re-elected two years later. He is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and Chairman of the Committee on Commerce and Manufacturing. While serving as Chairman of this Committee he gave much of his time to the study of freight rates. He was elected by the House in 1939 to represent Texas at the National meeting of the Council of State Governments in Chicago and secured the passage by the council of a resolution asking Congress to take immediate steps to eliminate discriminatory freight rates in West Texas.

Harris further stated that he favored a complete overhaul of the freight-rate structure, to give the West Texas farmer the same low rates that are now enjoyed by the New England farmer.

The Dickens County Legislator also stated that he favored a uniform system of Old Age Pension to be paid and administered solely by the Federal Government, thereby eliminating the confusion of policies and inequality of payments that now exist under the various State systems.

A more detailed statement of his platform will be given within the near future.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

In spite of the bad weather the revival at the Church of the Nazarene goes on, and those who have attended have been blessed by the good preaching done by the evangelist, Rev. James Atkinson.

Now since the weather has cleared up, we will still be expecting more to attend these services. Christian friends, come on, and let's do our best for God, and humanity. You have a responsibility to fulfill.

Especially do we urge each member to attend, and help to bring about a revival.

HARRY HINES

Harry Hines Tosses Hat Into Ring

Austin, February 21—Tossing his hat into the ring with an announcement as a candidate for Governor of Texas, Harry Hines, member of the Texas Highway Commission for the past five years, last night raised the curtain on the 1940 gubernatorial contest.

Hines, announcing that he would later issue a platform and discuss every issue pertinent to the campaign in full detail, put himself on record on several burning issues.

He pledged himself:
1. Against the sales tax, which he termed a tax on poverty and opposed to his understanding of the meaning of Democracy.

2. In favor of fulfillment of the social security program, including payment of adequate old age pensions, and aid to dependent children, needy blind, the State's part of the teachers retirement program.

3. The raising of the additional money needed to pay these obligations by cooperative effort with the legislators, spreading the cost without "dealing a death blow to any one group."

Hines indicated he will be a conservative candidate, and declared he will not try to "out promise the promoters," and promised to be a "doer instead of a promiser."

"At no time need you expect Harry Hines to play upon ignorance or emotion in an effort to bait voters," he said. "If sound basic fundamentals of government as envisioned by our forefathers based on honesty, integrity and economy is what our citizens want then it is an insult to their intelligence to promise them impractical, unsound, vote getting bait."

The town of Kilgore showed a population increase of more than 1,000 per cent within eight years after discovery of oil in East Texas. Nine other East Texas cities showed an average population increase of 180 per cent.

Services are held each morning at 10 and each night at 7:15. You are invited.—Pastor, Rev. Betty Ellis.

Thomas Furnishes Cold Weather Data

As all of us have been somewhat abnormally weather-conscious since Christmas, C. A. Thomas a few days ago furnished us the following weather data clipped from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram of February 9, 1936, which is quite interesting.

COLD STUFF

The information may come in handy some time to settle an argument: The all-time low record of temperature for the United States is 68 degrees below zero—reported from Riverside ranger station, in Yellowstone National Park, Feb. 9, 1933.

Strangely enough the world's coldest spot is not Western Canada, where our northerners are organized. The lowest temperature of record is 90 degrees below zero, in Northern Siberia. Alaska's lowest figure is a minus 78.

Temperatures lower than 60 below have been recorded in only two states—Montana and Wyoming—since the United States Weather Bureau began keeping track of such things.

Stefansson, the famous explorer, usually pointed his American lectures by observing that in Montana it was often colder than at the North Pole.

Several States, including New Hampshire, New York, Minnesota,

Alvin R. Allison States Views On Truck Load Limit

Ed. Note—

Article below was written by State Representative Alvin R. Allison, who as candidate for Texas Senator, wants the people to know how he stands on the present truck load limit in Texas. "It is my policy, always, to be guided by the wishes of the people, whom I represent. As State Representative and member of the House Committee on Highway and Motor Traffic, I received hundreds of letters beseeching me to vote for increase of the truck load limit in the Dakotas, Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Washington, have cold records as "good" as 50 below.

Not a single State has failed to put up a zero record at some time or other since the bureau's recordings started. Florida set its record—of 2 below in the cold wave of February 1899, which carried zero weather all the way to the central Gulf coast.

States as far south as Tennessee have had temperatures 30 below zero. Temperatures as low as 18 to 18 below have been recorded in Louisiana and in the northern portions of the east Gulf States.

Texas' record is 23 below.

Texas. I voted for such increase because a survey of opinion in my district prompted me to do so. And personally, I am of the opinion that truckers, especially those of small activity, have been discriminated against under the present limit.

Of vital concern to me is the truth that under present load limits, individually owned farm trucks work under a hardship and disadvantage. Farmers and cattlemen, under the 7000 lb. limit, are forced to make a number of trips to deliver products. This adds to the cost of marketing and production; lowers the farmer's profits; and increases his labor cost. I am against such harmful effect to the backbone of West Texas—the farmer and the rancher.

Another factor that gains my support for an increased load limit is realization that distances in West Texas are of such consequence that truckers and others engaged in transporting products, actually lose money. Such being the case, I am in favor of raising the limit to a reasonable tonnage, enabling those who truck, a fair return on the money which they have invested.

Transportation of perishables is another vital industry, which is hampered under the present load limit. Companies say that transportation costs, if excessive, harm the farmer and cattleman, by limiting his market. To any limitation that keeps the farmer or rancher from realizing best returns from all he produces, I am opposed.

Four times I have voted to raise the truck load limit in Texas. I shall continue to vote and WORK for such increase in limit that will allow a fair return to investors and the trucker a chance to make his living. And to the farmers and cattlemen, may I say: that your problem is mine, until we can gain a satisfactory limit in Texas, noteworthy West Texas.—Alvin R. Allison

Last night's show reminded us of a little chuckle left over from the past football season.

TCU was playing UCLA, and one of the Christians was carrying the ball. And it seemed that every man that tried to tackle him was black. Three negroes were playing on UCLA's first string. Finally he was tackled and he looked around to find that a white man had finally brought him to a stop. Calmly he stretched out his hand, and greeted the fellow: "Dr. Livingstone, I presume!"

Yesterday was the birthday of the Father of our Country!

When we were a youngster we were taught that Mr. Washington was a fine fellow who went to Sunday School, said his prayers each night, and never told a lie. And besides he threw a dollar clear across the Potomac, and freed our country from the tyrant. So we thought him the model hero.

Modern historians have torn up our little playhouse, however. They tell us that he liked his wine, women, and song as well as the next fellow and that he was not averse to a little game of "Shoot the Moon" or penny ante, or perhaps a session with a pair of snakes eyes. And what's more, they say George's daddy didn't have a cherry tree, and if he had, such a little fellow couldn't have felled it with a little hatchet. Oh, la, me—won't they let us keep any of our little fantasies?

Anyway, we know that if it hadn't been for his courage and dauntlessness as a soldier and leader of men. The entire seaboard would probably still be a colony, giving her aid to the Old Kintry in fighting Hitler, and we Texans might be Mexicans—or a little nation all our own, instead of a member of a powerful union.

"Build-Up" Good News For Suffering Women

Much of women's periodic distress may be unnecessary!

Many who suffer from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI.

Main way it helps relieve periodic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances.

Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CARDUI until "the time" has passed. Women have used CARDUI more than 50 years.

T-Bar H. D. Club Meets With Mrs. C. Bolch

Frames of upholstered furniture usually are made of wood and it is well for the purchaser to know what kind of wood is used. Ash, birch, hard maple, and a few other woods are especially suited for this purpose.

These excellent woods often become "mahogany" and "walnut" under treatment which is advantageous and legitimate so long as the purchaser knows just what wood he is buying, as demonstrated by Miss McNatt to the T-Bar home demonstration club when they met with Mrs. C. Bolch Friday afternoon, February 9.

Delicious cake and cocoa were served to one visitor and twelve members.

Our next meeting will be February 23. Visitors are welcome.

"BELIEVE IT OR NOT"

A few years ago somebody sent in to Mr. Ripley the information that Winter and Summer Knight resided in Tahoka. After satisfying himself as to the truth of the statement he ran it in his "Believe It or Not" column in the newspapers, together with a cartoon of the brothers, and Winter is hearing from the curious yet, Summer having died last year.

One day recently Winter received the following communication from Alex Purcell accompanied by a Ripley clipping from an Arkansas paper. The letter follows:

"Summer and Winter Knight, Tahoka, Texas,

"Gentleman: (If you are not ladies), I see in Arkansas Gazette of today, Feb. 8, that Winter and Summer Knight live at Tahoka, Texas.

"Well, Mr. Ripley has me guessing. I guess one of you was born in the winter time and the other one was born in the summer time.

"We have a man in Hope, Arkansas, that is jet black yet he is as white as any man in town.

"Here is another one: This writer and some friends cut a tree in Little River bottoms some years past that had a swarm of honey bees in it. We got, O I guess around three gallons of honey out of a hole in the tree, also two cat fish weighing around ten pounds out of the same hollow that we got the honey out of.

"Well you can call me a liar, as you are in Tahoka, Texas, and I am in Hope, Arkansas; I am sure you will say Purcell is a liar. Well, I don't blame you but I can prove every statement in records. I will explain this to you some day, if you wish. Yours for more fun—Alex Purcell, No. 4, Hope Ark."

Then one day this week Winter received a card from Jim Stanley Crump, mailed at Wheeler, Texas, with the Ripley cartoon, which was clipped from the Denver Post, pasted thereon. Crump proceeds to remind Winter that he saw him last in Eastland and then gives some information about members of his family.

Winter says that soon after the Ripley cartoon was first printed, he received literally stacks of mail from all parts of the United States.

Winter says that Mr. Purcell's guess is the correct dope. He was born on February 14, and somebody suggested the name Winter. It stuck. Sixteen months later, the brother was born on June 28, and naturally he was named Summer.

For years, Winter was a contemporary in Eastland with "Old Rip", though he didn't know it at the time, and he is becoming almost as well known, it seems, as the horned celebrity.

Santa Fe Railroad Is Praised

State and county officials offered high praise today for assistance offered by the Santa Fe Railway in the rescue of hundreds of persons snowbound on the highways during the recent blizzard which paralyzed South Plains highway traffic.

State Senator George H. Nelson, Lubbock, one those taking active part in the rescue work, declared that if it had not been for this prompt assistance that doubtless many would have suffered serious harm from exposure.

More than 300 men, women and children were rescued. Officials and train crews were aided in rescue work by State Highway Patrolmen and radio stations.

Several extra trains were run out of Lubbock in response to appeal from Senator Nelson, Mayor T. J. Shelton of Plainview, and others. Working in face of severe hardships the trainmen fought the elements until all were safe.

Addressing the Down Town 4th Class at Lubbock, Sunday, following the storm, Senator Nelson said:

"Anything I might say would be inadequate in expressing my gratitude to Santa Fe Railway officials for the prompt action and aid they provided. Had it not been for this promptness, it is hard to describe the seriousness which may have resulted. I feel that the people of the Plains join me in thankfulness for the wholehearted cooperation in which the Railway officials responded to our appeal for help."

Mayor Shelton declared: "Action by the Railway was one of the most commendable acts I know. As Mayor of Plainview, and speaking for the people of this area, I wish to say that such humanitarian cooperation is highly appreciated by all."

Snow Storm

stalled in a snowdrift. Finding it impossible to extricate the bus, he left the children and bus in charge of J. Lehman and struck out afoot in search of aid. After a long search for help, in vain, he finally made his way back to the highway, where he caught a ride into town.

There he reported to Superintendent W. T. Hanes, and Messrs. Hanes and Pace of the school faculty, Henry Maasen and Bascomb McCord of the board of trustees, and Mr. Jackson proceeded up the highway in cars, followed by Mr. Gibson with his motor truck. But the cars had to be left on the highway. The truck reached the marooned school bus and took all of the thirty children aboard, but within 200 yards of the highway it stalled.

The men carried the children in their arms from the truck to the highway, where they were loaded into cars that succeeded in fighting their way through the storm and all were brought safely to town reaching here about 7 or 7:30 o'clock. Some of them were taken to private homes but about twenty of them spent the night in the courthouse.

Armstrong Has Trouble

V. D. Armstrong, another member of the high school faculty who drives a school bus, had an experience scarcely less strenuous. He started out from the school building at about the usual time with 45 children in his bus. His route extends through the Dixie community. As he went out of town on highway No. 9, he decided that his engine was not pulling well and came back to town hurriedly to have it checked. This was done in a short time and he started out again. He had proceeded northward four miles on the highway and had then taken a lateral road west, going nearly two miles before he found his bus almost literally engulfed in a snowdrift. He had delivered all but eighteen of his children at their homes enroute, however. This was about 3:30 in the afternoon.

He and his eighteen charges made their way to the residence of D. P. Rogers about 400 yards away. Some of the children became a bit excited and panicky and one of the boys who was not well had to be helped and carried through the storm, but all finally reached the residence without serious mishap. But unable to telephone to the parents of the children and being assured by Mr. Rogers that they would be carefully looked after, Mr. Armstrong ventured out afoot for Tahoka in order that the anxiety of the parents might be relieved and help sent at the earliest practical moment. He struggled through the snow two miles to the highway and caught a ride into town. Knowing his own children were safe, he went with a D. W. Gaignat truck to the rescue of Bill King, another bus driver, on Saturday.

King Is More Lucky

Mr. Armstrong was not aware of any serious bodily discomfort at the time, but later his knees became very stiff and other effects indicated that his lower limbs had been frozen. Bill King had started out east from Tahoka with 25 children and thirteen of them were left at their homes. There were still twelve children in his bus when it stalled in front of the Colonel Roberts home, better known as the Greathouse place, six miles east and a mile north of the Post highway.

He and the twelve children found a hearty welcome into the Roberts home, just as the other children had been welcomed into other homes, and Bill says they had plenty of warm beds to sleep in and an abundance of ham and egg for food.

But no word could be gotten to the outside world and everybody was glad to see V. D. Armstrong with a tractor and others on horseback the next day bringing food and candy and the means by which they could be taken to their homes.

Kirkwood's Car Stalls

John Kirkwood's bus line runs west some twelve miles to the Tom Hale place and then turns southward and winds its way back through the Three Lakes community. He resides at Three Lakes. He started out with his bus load of children Friday afternoon and succeeded in reaching his home. Only six children remained in the bus. He tried to take these six on to their homes in his car, but the car stuck in a snow bank, and he had to get help. He notified the parents of some of the children and a member of the family accompanied him back to the car. The children had taken refuge in a vacant house and the relative took charge of them there, where they spent the night safely. The sixth child was taken to its home.

Bestick Also Stalls

A fourth member of the faculty stopped on his way to the school whose route extends through the Midway and South Ward communities. He started out with fifty or sixty children and succeeded in delivering all of them to their homes except twelve. He left four of these twelve at the Gene Roland home, four at the Alfred Sanders' home, and four at the L. W. Gandy home.

Then he started on toward home and the gas line of the engine stopped up. Finally abandoning the truck he spent the night in the Sanders home. The next day he walked all the way back to Tahoka. And say, fellow, it was a nice walk.

NEW DAUGHTER

A daughter weighing 8 pounds and 14 ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Mozelle Ratliff in the Plains Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday night. The Ratliffs live north of Tahoka.
