Lynn County Farmers Banquet

That the Triple-A program has been highly beneficial both to the farmers and the business men of Lynn county, that it is not subject to most of the criticisms that have been leveled against it, and that it should be made a permanent program was the sentiment strongly voiced by the numerous speakers at the county-wide banquet held in the school gymnasium here Monday night.

With Marshall Stewart, acting as toastmaster, there were about 125 or 130 farmers and business men present. These came from almost every nook and corner of the county. Possible 750 of them were real dirt farmers and they constituted a fine group. Some of them proved to be most effective speakers. With scarcely an exception, they appeared to be well informed respecting many phases of agriculture and particularly with respect to the Triple-A program.

Cliff Day of Plainview, now connected with the general offices of the Triple-A set up in this state at College Station, was booked as the main speaker of the evening, but Emanuel of the Garbols community before he was introduced. B. J. Ty was called upon by the toastmaster to give a resume of the Triple-A work in this county.

He had at his command a long list of interesting facts and figures and stated in a clear and concise manner many of the benefits derived from the Triple-A program.

In the first place, he pointed out that there are 700 miles of terraces in Lynn county and 275,000 acres of cropland crops, while there are 103,000 acres of soil-conserving crops. During the year 1939, government payments of all kinds to the farmers of Lynn county aggregated $1,165,000. Mr. Emanuel stated. He gave the figures also for each of the years since 1933, showing a total of more than $4,700,000.

Mr. Day proved to be a most effective speaker. Using homely illustrations and driving home his points with unusual force, he made out a good case for the Triple-A.

He attributed the farmers plight chiefly to the high protective tariff, which he said had been working to the benefit of the manufacturer for a hundred years. The Triple-A affords the means by which the farmer can get around this tariff.

Junior Class Play Next Tuesday

The Junior Class of the Tahoka High School will present their play in the high school auditorium next Tuesday night, March 5.

The play is a three-act comedy entitled "Plain Jane", and is said to be a "scream".

GRAYAM GEORGE ENTERS RACE FOR COMMISSIONER

Grayam George authorized the News this week to announce his candidacy for commissioner of Precinct No. 4.

Grayam was reared in this county and is the son of the late Elton George, who served as commissioner for thirteen years.

He was graduated from the Tahoka High school in 1929. Following his graduation, he worked at various jobs, as bookkeeper, in this county. He is now engaged in farming.

He feels that he is qualified to fill this position, and if elected will do so to the best of his ability, at all times.

He will appreciate the vote and support of each individual.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reagan of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Howard and children of Lubbock were here Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henderson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill and daughter Patricia. They report that their mother, Mrs. B. H. Howard, who had been so seriously ill, was decidedly better.

L. A. Enloe Goes On Trial for Murder

The taking of testimony in the case of L. A. Enloe, on trial here this week for the alleged murder of Glen Browning at the home of the latter's mother near the line of the county on the night of last November 11, was concluded Thursday afternoon. Judge Louis B. Reed was expected to read his charge to the jury sometime this afternoon after which argument of counsel will be heard.

The State is represented by District Attorney Truett Smith and County Attorney Rollin McCord and the defendant by the law firm of Nelson and Brown of Lubbock.

Indicted for the same offense is Enloe's brother, Drew Enloe, who, it is agreed, did the actual shooting.

The case was called for trial Monday morning, but the selection of a jury was not completed until Tuesday. The hearing of the testimony has been in progress since.

The court room has been jammed with eager listeners ever since, intent on catching every word of the testimony.

The killing occurred an hour or two after midnight, the defendant's brother, Drew Enloe, and the deceased, Glen Browning, having engaged in a difficulty at a negro shanty a mile or two away earlier in the night.

Following the conclusion of this trial, the murder charge against Drew Enloe will be called and either tried or continued till the next term of court.

There are a number of other cases on the criminal docket, including the one against the young man who is charged with kidnapping George Knight and robbing him of his car

Banquet Held In Honor of Winston Wharton

Celebrating the appointment of Winston C. Wharton as Continental Oil Company representative in Tahoka, succeeding J. D. Findley, who has resigned, an installation banquet was held Wednesday night February 28 at the American Legion Hall formal installation ceremonies were performed by Continental Oil Company executives before a large group of local businessmen.

Wharton comes to Tahoka from Olney, where for the past six months he was engaged in the petroleum marketing business. Prior to that time, however, he had spent most of his life in Albany, where he received his grade and high school education, and where for six years prior to moving to Olney he was associated with the Russ-Webb Motor Company.

Wharton's wife is the former Louise Morrell, daughter of C. D. Morrell of Post, well-known as the manager and operator of the J. B. Slaughter farms. He was also connected with the first National Bank of Post for twenty years.

Wharton is making extensive investments in Tahoka, including the purchase of Several Service Stations. Continental Oil Company representatives present were: a representative from the general office, Ponca City, Oklahoma. A representative from the Fort Worth division

Farmers To Vote on Soil Conservation

Land owners in Lynn and Dawson counties will vote on March 9 on the proposed organization of a Soil Conservation District, authorized under the recently enacted State Soil Conservation Law.

In order that the landowners of the county may become familiar with the workings of the law, County Agent, Don Turner has arranged for a number of meetings over the county. Vocational Agriculture teachers and officials of the Soil Conservation Service will also assist in conducting these educational meetings. The meetings will be held as follows:

Wilson, Monday March 4; Tahoka, Tuesday March 5; Draw, Tuesday March 5; Wells Tuesday March 5; West Point, Tuesday March 5; New

Man and Wife Are Killed In Truck Mishap

Tragedy again visited the South Plains early Wednesday night when a truck crashed into a culvert and overturned on the left side of the Lubbock-Post highway where it drops down off the caprock three and a half miles west of Post, crushing the life out of the driver, Morris Teague of Littlefield, 30, and so badly burning and otherwise injuring Mrs. Teague, 26, that she died within about thirty minutes after reaching a sanitarium in Post an hour after the accident happened.

Pinning the two beneath it when it turned over, the truck ignited and rendered assistance very difficult. A passing motorist, unable to render aid alone, rushed on to Post and gave the alarm. A number of men hurried to the scene but it was 45 minutes, it is said, before they could raise the truck and release the victims. Teague was dead when his body was recovered and Mrs. Teague had been hopelessly injured.

It is not known how the driver happened to lose control of the heavily loaded truck which was practically a new one.

Mr. and Mrs. Teague were residents of Littlefield. He was a nephew of Mrs. W. S. Aglin of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Anglin left for Littlefield Thursday morning and remained for the funeral services, which were to be held this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Teague had left Littlefield early Thursday afternoon in their truck which was heavily loaded with maize.

Billy Ray Sweat Drowned Monday

Terrible must have been the grief of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sweat when they found the lifeless body of their little son, Billy Ray, almost six years old, floating in a cess pool at the rear of their residence in the northwest portion of Lynn county four miles southwest of Slide last Monday.

Upon finding the body they carried it hurriedly to the Lubbock Sanitarium, hoping that life might be revived. Their hopes were in vain however.

The parents had missed the child at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, it is said, but did not find the body until an hour later. Edge of the pool had saved in carrying the little fellow into it. The pit was almost full of water.

Billy Ray would have been six years old on March 5. The body was taken to Wellington, former home of the parents, where funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial was at Shamrock.

The grief-stricken parents have the sincere sympathy of many friends.

Ervin, Lee Gable Die In Sunday Accident

A double funeral service was held at the Methodist Church here at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Irvin Gable and Lee Gable, brothers who died from injuries sustained in a head-on car collision at about 7:30 o'clock Sunday night on the highway seven or eight miles southwest of Brownfield.

Lee Gable, 25, died shortly after reaching the Treadway-Daniell Hospital in Brownfield soon after the crash occurred.

Ervin Gable, 26, lived until noon Monday, when he died in the same hospital.

J. C. Gable, Jr., a brother of the two, sustained a fracture of the left foot and minor head injuries.

All of the eight persons riding in the two cars were injured. Seven of them were in the Gable car. Grady Karr of Brownfield, 19, was alone in the other car. He sustained a fracture of the right leg just below the hip, head injuries, and body bruises.

Mrs. Jewell Morris of Lubbock suffered fractures of the bones of both feet, severe bruises on the body, and possibly other injuries.

Miss Billy Hartman of Lubbock suffered the fracture of both legs, injury to the skull and lacerations on the face.

Miss Marie Morris of Lubbock sustained bruises on the head and a contusion over the left eye.

Travis Cheatham, 26, brother-in-law of Lee Gable, residing between Tahoka and Lubbock received only bruises on the face.

Karr was driving a 1938 Chevrolet coupe and was returning to Brownfield from Searaves. The Gables were in a 1934 Chevrolet two-door coach and were going toward Searaves.

There were no eye witnesses to the accident, it is said, except those involved in it, and no very clear statement as to just how it occurred has reached us.

Persons reaching the scene soon after the crash, however, stated that both cars were badly damaged.

The bodies were prepared for burial at the Harris Funeral Home here, and services were conducted in the Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. George E. Turrentine. Burial was in the Tahoka cemetery.

The Gables had been long-time residents of Tahoka or vicinity, but Irvin had been residing at Lamesa for some time before his death.

NEW DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry are the parents of a 8 1-2 pound baby girl born early Tuesday morning at their residence in Southwest Tahoka.

Ed Lee of Fort Worth, nephew of our own W. M. Lee, was here Monday as a witness in a murder trial. He left that night, expecting to return when needed.

BAPTISTS TO MEET HERE

Several hundred Baptist workers coming from seven Baptist associations comprising District No. 9, which covers all that vast territory lying between Tulla on the north and O'Donnell on the south and extending from far below the caprock to the New Mexico line, will meet here on March 12 for a great Sunday School, Baptist Training Union, and Women's Missionary program and rally.

The meeting was held last year in Lubbock and it was estimated, that 2,000 people were in attendance. Possibly a thousand people or more will be here, if the weather is favorable.

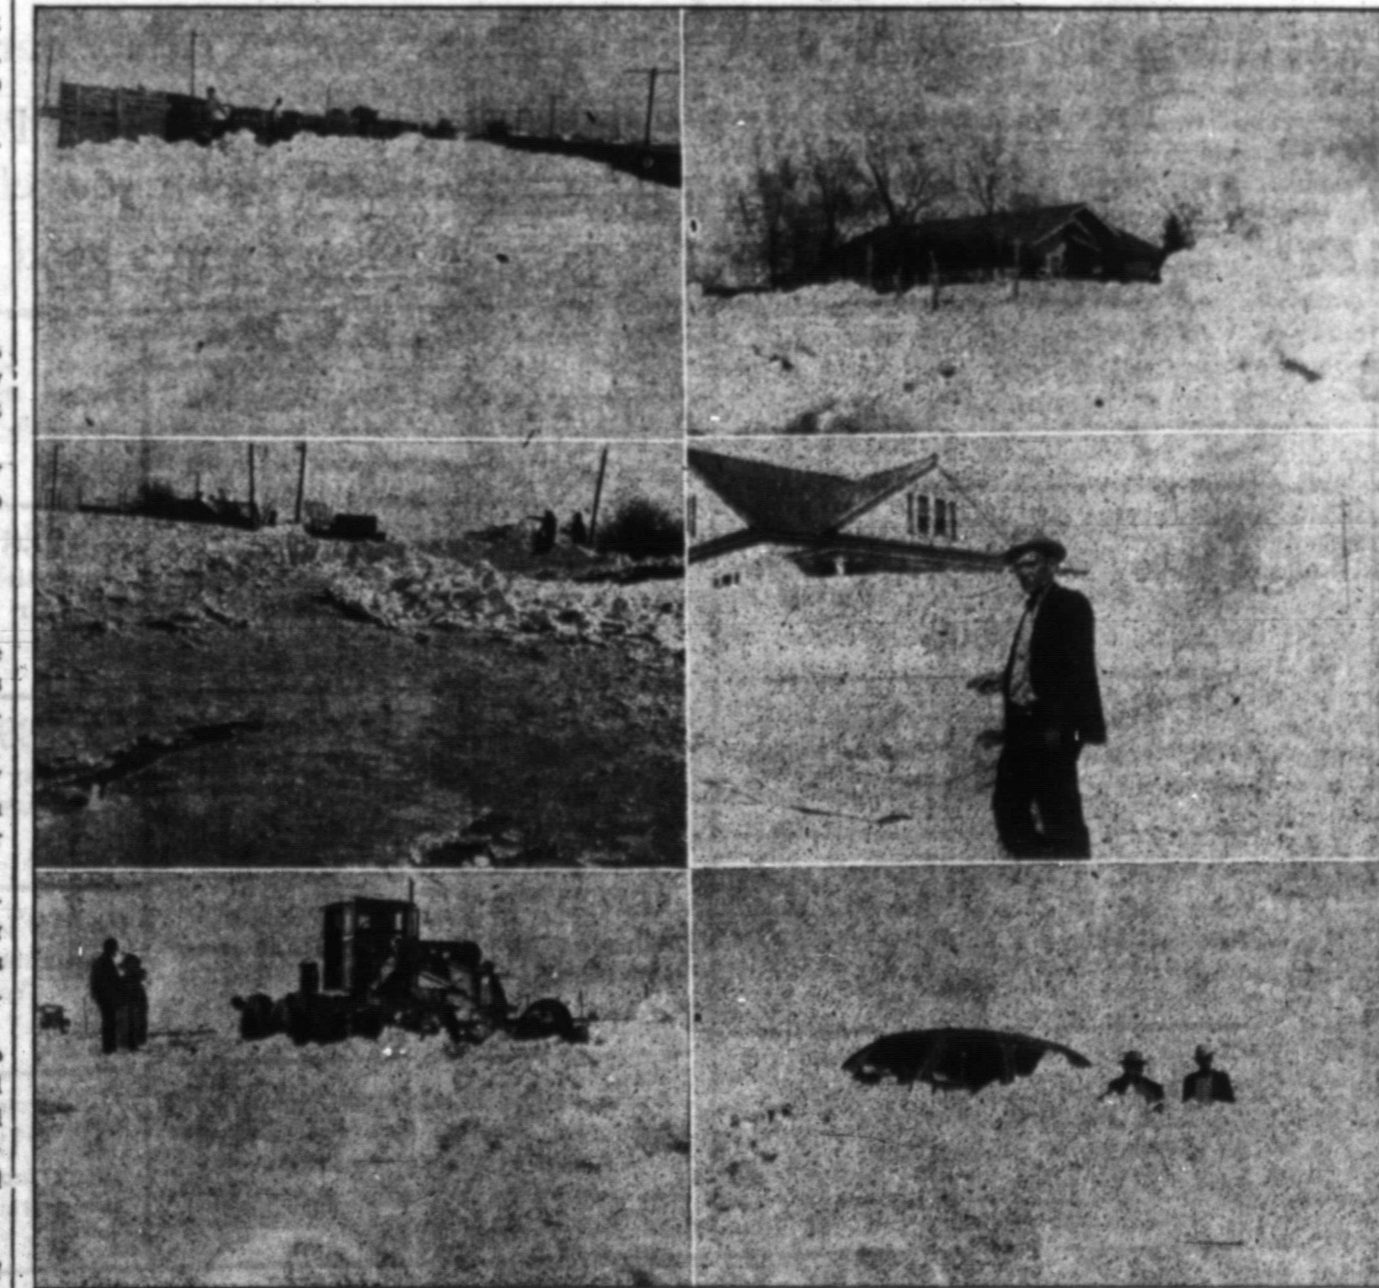

It will doubtless be the greatest one-day affair the Baptists have ever had here. Hotels, cafes, and restaurants will doubtless be taxed to the utmost to feed the visitors at the noon hour.

The executive board of the W. M. U. will meet here on the preceding afternoon, March 11, and it is expected that about sixty women will be in this meeting and many will spend the night here. They will be entertained in the homes of local Baptists.

On the next day, at the general meeting, a number of state Baptist leaders will be here. Among those expected are Mrs. B. A. Copas, state W. M. U. president, G. S. Hopkins, state Sunday School secretary, and T. C. Gardner, state B. T. U. secretary. All district officers of these organizations and District Missionary A. C. Huff of Plainview will also be here. Representatives of the Baptist Brotherhood are also scheduled to be present.

Lubbock, Tex., Feb. 29—An audition room for class work and ultimate broadcasting is being equipped at Texas Technological College. The room will be used as a laboratory in radio talks, plays, and programs offered in the department of speech. Lower floor of a small studio building at the Broadway entrance to the campus is being remodeled for temporary use. Better facilities will be available "in due course", president Clifford E. Jones said.

Tom Buckner, Sr. publisher of the San Marcos Record, was a brief visitor here Tuesday morning.

OIL IS GREAT INDUSTRY

Fort Worth, Tex. Feb. 27—More than 122,000 persons in Fort Worth and its trade territory of West Texas get their living from the oil industry, said the Junior Chamber of Commerce here Wednesday.

"Over 44,000 men, women and children in Fort Worth, or more than one in five you meet on the street, depend for their livelihood directly upon the oil industry," Mr. Neely reported. "In addition, there are over 77,000 others in the 73 West Texas to $64,215,166 annually, Mr. Neely said, quoting figures just compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Thousands more benefit indirectly from the expenditure of the wages of the oil employees, Mr. Neely declared. Oil's payroll in Fort Worth is $11,758,800 a year, while in the West Texas area the industry spends $22,325,270 more for wages, a total of $34,084,070 a year. In addition, the oil industry pays West Texas ranchers and farmers $20,000,000 a year in lease and royalty payments. Taxes paid by the industry in West Texas total $10,940,197 a year, while plant investments, equipment, etc., bring oil's total oil expenditure in West Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

"When the $13,143,451 spent each year by oil men in Fort Worth for wages, taxes and improvements, is added, this is a total expenditure of $77,358,617 a year from this one industry in Fort Worth and, her trade territory," Mr. Neely added. "The largest part of this finds its way into retail trade in West Texas and ultimately into Fort Worth retail and wholesale houses and banks and thus into the pockets of you and me."

Oil Company properties in Fort Worth, which is miles from any producing oil well, now represent an assessed value of $17,851,982, or 12 per cent of the assessed value of all property in Tarrant County, the speaker said. In the 73 West Texas counties, oil properties make up an even larger share, being 27 per cent. The assessed value there is $187,757,382 out of $692,382,506, or more than one-fourth. Altogether, the oil properties of the 74 counties aggregate $205,609,364 at regular assessment rates.

"And every dollar of this $200,000,000," Mr. Neely pointed out, "has been invested or created for our section of the state by the activities of the West Texas oil man."

HYENA REMAINS FOUND IN PALO DURO

Canyon, Feb. 28—A new find in the Palo Duro canyon excavations sponsored by West Texas State College and unearthed by WPA scientific project crews is a species of hyena never before discovered in this country.

Tentative identification made here has been confirmed by paleontologists of the University of California. Mrs. C. Stuart Johnston is supervisor of the project, on which about 25 men are working.

A continuation of the project, with increase in the number of workmen to 42 has been asked by the College. The new grant would make possible excavations in several Panhandle counties.

Cataloging of archaeological materials and cross-filing of paleontological collections are being directed by Wayne Christian, field and laboratory supervisor. Meanwhile, history and archaeological field projects are continuing with ample funds and enriching the museum each month.

ALL-ROUND HOSIERY WARDROBE PREDICTED

Lubbock, Tex., Feb. 27—An all-round hosiery wardrobe may be included in mlady's clothes budget of tomorrow, predicts Mark Wood, graduate in textile engineering at Texas Technological college. Wood arrived last week to conduct a research project in spinning yarn for women's full-fashioned cotten hosiery.

The project is sponsored by the Bureau of Home Economics, a division of the United States Department of Agriculture, and supervised by M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering at Tech. "The bureau does not intend to displace silk and rayon as material for women's hose," he explained, "but to develop a suitable cotton yarn for sports and utility wear."

A special long-staple cotton is being used in the Tech project, which aims to develop a fine yarn suitable for standardized use in manufacture of cotton hosiery. Thread spun here will be used purely for test purposes, Wood said. It will be sent to Washington to be mercerized and gassed before it is made into hosiery. Tests will be made to determine spinning speed, breakage strength, and wearing qualities. The project will require several months for completion.

Wood has been assistant editor of Textile World, a trade magazine, for the last two years. Since graduating from Tech in 1931, he has been a cotton buyer in West Texas,

EARLY TRAILS STILL DISTINGUISHABLE

Lubbock, Tex. Feb. 27—Early Indian and cattle trails, criss-crossing Yellowstone canyon, are easily distinguishable from the air, says William M. Pearce, history instructor at Texas Technological college. The canyon, which has its source in New Mexico and forms headwaters for the Brazos, runs about two miles northeast of Tech campus.

"In parts of the valley which have been under cultivation, stunted shrubbery and a different-colored soil mark the trails beyond doubt," he said. "The Indian trails are amazingly straight, but the cattle trails follow the contour of the land."

Once a route by which cattle thieves moved stock northward for sale, the canyon later became a legitimate trail for cattle movers. In the frontier days of West Texas, has worked in a handweaving factory at Pueblo, Colo., in a Dallas hosiery mill and the New Braunfels textile mills, and in the technical department of a large textile mill in LaGrange, Ga.

Work toward perfecting full-fashioned cotton hosiery was undertaken by the Bureau of Home Economics late in 1938. First concern was with style and design, and thus far only commercial yarn has been used. Texas Tech's laboratories were selected over eight other collegiate textile engineering departments for developing a suitable cotton yarn.

HANES IN ST. LOUIS

Supt. W. T. Hanes of the Tahoka public schools left Friday night for St. Louis, where he is attending the convention of the National Association of School Administrators. The meeting opened Sunday and closes today.

Dr. W. B. Irvin, Lubbock superintendent, and A. C. Jackson, business manager, and Supt. Smith of Whiteface accompanied Hanes to the convention.

he pointed out, Yellowstone canyon, because of frequent water holes, offered the only path from central west Texas over the Cap Rock and across the Great Plains. The water table is quite close to the surface.

Way "Build-up" Helps Will Interest Women

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUL.

Principal way CARDUL helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force; so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Your confidence in CARDUL is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

FARMERS HAVE SUCCESSFUL MEET HERE

may even up with the manufacturer, he contended. His address was well received.

Various business men had been requested in advance to ask written questions respecting the farm program and quite a number of them had complied with the request, and these questions had been referred to various farmers for answer and discussion.

Belton Howell was the first speaker, and his question was: What effect has the government farm program had on our foreign cotton markets? His conclusion was that possibly nobody knew just what effect it had had.

H. O. Hargett answered his question to the effect that the farm program is supported by taxation, the processing tax having been declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

"How long will the farm program last? When will the farmer be weaned", was the question assigned to W. W. Caswell of Draw. He proved to be one of the most resourceful and entertaining speakers of the entire evening, using a few amusing stories to spike his points. He didn't think the farmer would be willing to give up the program soon. Like the fisherman who rescued the drowning Negro boy in order to recover the bait that was in the little darky's pocket, the farmer likes the bait, he admitted.

J. C. Key of Wilson discussed the criticism that the Triple-A program is driving tenant farmers from the farms. He denied that the Triple-A is responsible for this situation. He attributed it mainly to the use of improved farm machinery, especially the farm tractor.

Messrs. Roberts of Pride, Rush Dudgeon of South Ward, and L. C. are now more than 1,000 farmers in Cruce discussed related questions. Mr. Roberts pointed out that there Lynn county who own their homes against 700 such farmers in 1933.

R. C. Wood quoted a number of business men to show that business conditions had greatly improved since the Triple-A program was inaugurated.

J. R. Strain of New Home asserted that farm wages had greatly increased since 1933.

W. P. Lester of Gordon was the last speaker who had been assigned a question to be answered, and he answered it to the entire satisfaction of the crowd.

Toastmaster Marshall Stewart repeatedly invited persons present to propound any question or to make any remarks that they might desire to make, and finally Tom Garrard responded with one of his characteristic speeches.

Asserting that there are no more frontiers of land to be exploited, he insisted that there are still rich frontiers of thought, and he contended that all of us West Texans should do more thinking for ourselves. He cited the tariff, which levies high duties on shoes and other leather goods and yet leaves hides on Thirty-three girls met last Tuesday night February 22, in the basement of the Methodist church with Mrs. F. E. Calvery and Mrs. A. L. Pace for the purpose of discussing the organization of a Girl Scout troop here. The ideals and requirements were presented, and the girls will meet again in the same place next Thursday, March 7, to complete organization.

All girls who wish to join the troop must be present at that meeting. Parents are urged to investigate the requirements beforehand.

Mrs. A. Z. Jackson of Lovington, N. M. is here for a few days' visit among her many friends having formerly lived here.

the free list—and we are not trying to do anything about it. He cited also the unequal and unjust freight rates which have been extracting huge sums of money annually from the farmers and business men of West Texas for years and years and yet it was just recently that we undertook to remedy the situation. So, Tom thought that all of us should undertake to do more for ourselves.

J. L. Mauk of College Station, district supervisor of the Nineteen counties of this district, also made a few pertinent remarks.

Don Turner, county agent, and C. A. Lawrence, secretary for the Lynn County committee, also answered a number of questions pertaining to the program, and Miss McNatt, county home demonstration agent, and Miss Ovel Lytle, a supervisor of the Farm Security Administration who recently came here from Quannah, each had a few timely words.

The meeting was harmonious throughout. Not a discordant note was spoken from start to finish. It was apparent that the crowd was enthusiastic for the perpetuation of the Triple-A program; and while no public mention was made of any candidate for office, it is a safe bet that group of farmers was at least 90 per cent for President Roosevelt for as many terms as he wants.

Mrs. Eakin stepped off a curb as she was leaving a performance of "Gone With the Wind", and somehow her leg gave way, causing her to fall.

The large bone was broken several inches above the knee, and Mrs. Eakin was rushed to a hospital where a weight was put on the limb to bring it back into place.

Mrs. C. C. Ross has been attending a state beauty school in Dallas. From Dallas she went to Houston to visit her mother. She has just returned home, reporting that she had a wonderful time.

WRIGHT EDWARDS MOVES TO WOLFORTH

Wright Edwards recently sold his farm in the Three Lakes community to W. L. Gardenhire of O'Donnell and the first of this week he and his family removed to Wolforth, where he purchased an unimproved half section of land.

Mr. Edwards has been a citizen of Lynn county and a resident of the Three Lakes Community for many years and has been one of our best citizens. Many friends regret that this good family has moved away.

Mr. Edwards is now having a residence built on his Wolforth tract of land and having it otherwise improved.

Mr. Gardenhire is a prominent gin man and land owner in the O'Donnell section.

G. W. Taylor, father of Mrs. A. M. Cade, came from Priona last Friday to make his home with the Cade family.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Eye Eye the Elder

Grave and gracious Senators are not always grave and gracious. Occasionally they engage in good-natured badinage and rallery—which sometimes is not so good-natured—that breaks the monofony of dull committee hearings or sedate sessions of the Senate.

A few days ago a committee of the Senate was considering some phase of agriculture. A New England Senator had occasion to mention the vegetable tomato, but he pronounced it to-mah-to (a as in ah).

"O, you mean to-ma-to", chimed in a Southern Senator.

"No, I mean to-mah-to", the nettled New Englander replied.

"Well, we'll just take a vote on it", the Southerner rejoined.

And so the chairman put the

in this issue of the paper discussing the improvement of the streets and especially of the crossings. The Santa Fe had just used three cars of cinders in filling in around the station and the citizens were considering the use of cinders for walks or crossings between the stores.

In District Court Judge J. E. Garland of Lamesa was sitting as special Judge instead of Judge Spencer of Lubbock who was ill. J. N. Leonard was foreman of the Grand Jury, with Ben King door balliff and John Yates and Russell Ramsey riding balliffs.

Several Lubbock attorneys were in town for the case of the Crosbyton South Plains Railway Company versus Lubbock Citizens, the latter bringing suit because the Railway Company had failed to compete its line into Lubbock on schedule time. R. A. Sowder, W. H. Bledsoe, W. F. Schenk, J. E. Vickers and George R. Bean were among those listed from Lubbock.

Jeff Fleming was running the City Garage north of the Tahoka Hotel.

C. L. Williams had a Saddlery, harness repair shop North side of Public Square.

Government official report on the 1914 cotton crop was 15,969,000 bales which was the largest ever reported up to that time, the 1911 crop being the next largest.

question to a vote.
A majority of the committee voted with the Southerner.
"So, as I was saying, you mean to-ma-to, Senator", commented the gentleman with the Southern drawl amid general laughter.

Tomato doubtless is an Indian word; for it is a native South American plant. It came originally either from Peru or Brazil. So far as is known, however, it was not being used by the Indians as a food when the white man came over. Indeed for at least two hundred years after it became known to Europeans it was regarded as poisonous. But the little pods or balls that grew on the plant, red or bright yellow when ripened, made it prized by Europeans as an ornamental plant, and they grew it in their gardens. So did the Europeans who emigrated to North America. The fruit was called the love apple, but you couldn't have persuaded any white man to eat one of the little fruit balls for love or money, unless he wanted to commit suicide. It was little more than a hundred years ago when somebody discovered that the fruit was not poisonous. Then people began to cultivate a taste for it and to use it for food. But the fine smooth tomato of today is a scientific development, the result of careful breeding and cultivation. When this writer was a kid the only tomatoes he ever saw were little fellows not much larger than a marble, and personally he did not care so much for them as a food. Now he is a regular pig for these big fine smooth tomatoes that we may have on our table almost any day.

Yes, that poisonous little love apple has come to be a valuable crop in the United States. Florida is reputed to be the heaviest producer. Texas, California, Mississippi, and New Jersey are other heavy-producing states. Now, the value of Uncle Sam's tomato crop is equal to the value of 750,000 to 1,000,000 bales of cotton at ten cents per pound.

It's marvelous how much the Americas have given to the world in the form of food and feed.

Take the peanut, for instance, that little under-ground pea that has made Georgia famous as the "goober" state. It also is supposed to have originated in Brazil. It is now cultivated in all tropical and semi-tropical countries, as well as in the temperate zones. The Southern states of our own country produce immense quantities of peanuts annually, the equivalent in value to more than a million bales of cotton.

And while the lowly "goober" made Georgia famous and prosperous, a Negro scientist, in recent years, has made the "goober" famous by finding new uses for it.
We usually think of peanut candy or roasted peanuts when this commodity is mentioned, but that wonderful Negro genius, George Washington Carver, agricultural chemist at the famous Tuskegee Institute, has developed from the peanut 300 products, we are told, which are entering into the commercial life of the world. Among these are such products as shaving lotions, dyes, axle grease, face powder, and even cheese, candy, "instant" coffee, and pickles.

It is truly remarkable what a genius can do with material matter.

By the way, these Negro geniuses too are American products. In all the countless thousands of years of its history, Africa never produced a Booker T. Washington or a George Washington Carver. They are products of America, chiefly of the South.

That man Carver truly is a prodigy. He was born of slave parents in Missouri in 1864, while the Civil War was still raging. Born on a farm near Diamond Grove, he proved to be a diamond in the rough. In his infancy, he says, he lost his father. He was stolen and taken with his mother into Arkansas, and he never knew what became of her. He was redeemed from his kidnappers with a race horse valued at $300 and was taken back to his former home in Missouri. He worked his way through the high school and later through the Iowa State College, receiving B. S. and M. S. degrees from that institution. While holding a position as laboratory botanist in the Iowa State College, Booker T. Washington called him to Tuskegee. That was in 1896. He has been there ever since.
His genius as a scientist brought him an offer of $100,000 a year to do research work in the Thomas A. Edison laboratories. He refused it, preferring to remain at his Tuskegee post and labor with his own people.

Carver has found new uses not only for the peanut but also for the sweet potato and other farm products. He possibly has no equal as an agriculture scientist. It is certainly strange how God can pick up an orphan baby, black of skin and with scarcely a ghost of an opportunity except such as he makes for himself, and cause that infant to grow into an intellectual genius that will astound the world.

Does George Washington Carver have white blood in his veins? We do not know; we have never heard that matter discussed. But whether his skin is black or yellow he was reared as a Negro and has always

GOLD STAR GIRLS OF LYNN COUNTY NAMED

The record she achieved in 4-H club work has given Miss Reba Phillips, member of the Midway 4-H club, the honor of being the 1939 Gold Star Girl of Lynn county. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips.

Reba has not only learned to make her own clothing, but she now helps her mother with hers and the little sisters. During this year she made twelve tea towels, seven pot holders, five handkerchiefs, one pair pajamas one pair overalls, one bonnet, one smock, four scarfs, five aprons, one one shirt, six dresses, and remodeled three dresses. To improve her clothing storage she added a hat stand and shoe rack.

In bedroom work she made three scarfs, four sheets, one quilt lining, five quilt blocks and curtains for three windows.

With the help of her parents she raised five hundred baby chicks and cared for the family flock, which produced an average of 140 eggs per day. She at all times followed improved recommendations in poultry management.

Reba's club sponsor is Mrs. R. L. Littlepage.

EIGHT 4-H GIRLS DO OUTSTANDING WORK

Lynn county is fortunate in having eight 4-H girls who did excellent work during 1939. These girls were recognized by their own members as being outstanding and were named as Gold Star candidates. They were: Sarah Dean Archer, O'Donnell; Margie Shephard, Grassland; Geraldine Askew, Wells; Reba Phillips, Midway; Sybba Busby, Draw; Dorothy Lee Lackey and Vanell Walker, New Lynn. The other five clubs did not name a candidate.

A girl may be considered for the Gold Star award if she has been in club work two years; if she has conducted successful demonstrations; and if she has not previously been awarded a gold star pin.

The girl is selected for the award as follows:

(a) Each girls' club having a member for consideration may select a candidate for the award.

(b) A county committee composed of three council members and two girls selected by the council do the judging.

Reba Phillips will receive the Gold Star award for 1939.

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

Most any child who takes this tasty laxative once will welcome it the next time he's constipated and it has him headachy, cross, listless, with bad breath, coated tongue or little appetite.

Syrup of Black-Draught is a tasty liquid-companion to the famous BLACK-DRAUGHT. The principal ingredient is the same in both products; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

The Syrup's flavor appeals to most children, and, given by the simple directions, its action is usually gentle, but thorough. Remember Syrup of Black-Draught next time. Two sizes: 50c and 25c.

Slaton In First Place Tie

In the invitation boxing tournament closed at Slaton Wednesday Tahoka and Slaton deadlocked for first honors with 14 points each. Out of deference to Tahoka as the visiting team, Slaton awarded the local team the trophy. Runnersup were Snyder point, Hale Center and Plainview with 5 points each.

First place winners from Tahoka were Muft Sessums, bantamweight, who defeated Jimmy Dickson of Hale Center in the finals, Tex McLaurin of O'Donnell, boxer on the Tahoka team, who outpointed Dan Daniels of Tahoka, district golden gloves champion, in what was described as one of the better fights of the night. James Wells, Tahoka team, was defeated in the finals of the 100 pound division by Wayne Townsend of Slaton by points, and Lowell Thompson of Tahoka fell by technical kayo in the first round to Robert Crouthers of Plainview.

Mutt Sessums climbed to the finals after cooling Jack Talbot of Slaton in the first round of the semi-finals. Dan Daniels received an extra word of praise in every dispatch sent out during the tournament. The quarter final bout Tuesday night, in which he got a very decisive decision over Cecil Nicholson of Hale Center, was described as "one of the clearest battles of the program."

WILLIAMS RIPS HOT BOWLING SCORE OF 279

Bowling as it should not be done was offered spectators at the O'Donnell Bowling Alleys Tuesday night when the Corner Drug team smeared the Whitsett crew three straight matches. Weird shots were the usual thing and not the exception.

Blocker's Grocery emerged a two-game out of three over Higginbotham's in three fairly well-played games, and allowed the first named five to come within two games of the second-place Whitsett pintoppers.

Only a blistering 279 score saved the Corner team from defeat in the first game, and Ed Williams was the man behind the ball. Williams chalked up nine straight strikes, but managed only a spare in the tenth, lacking just one pin from making it a perfect 300 game as he struck again in his extra shot. The Corner Drug team, with Williams' score, won by only 30 pins. In the second fray, they copped by five pins—and in the third game practically every player went haywire. Dr. Homer Hancock, Corner captain, was off his usual form.

In the Blocker-Higginbotham set to, Wade (Citrate) Christopher and Fred (Magnesia) Buchanan, as opposing players, suffered low scores. Too much pre-game action was blamed.

RAILWAYS "GO TO TOWN" IN TIME OF NEED

Again Railway officials and employes "go over the top" in aid of a distressed community.

This time in rescue of approximately 400 men, women and children, caught helplessly and in danger of freezing to death on the Lubbock-Plainview areas and paralyzed highway traffic.

Again the Railway demonstrated spontaneity in responding to public emergency. Without expectancy of reward officials speeded rescue trains upon errands of mercy.

Officials and train crews, also braved the raging elements and zero weather, to provide succor to those in danger. Too, there was a considerable item of expense for extra trains and crews, but this was not even considered with lives at stake. There were many such expressions, the gist of which add new leaves to the laurels of humane railway service to the public.

LANDSCAPE BEAUTIFIED

More than 181,000 shrubs and trees were planted by Texas home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls during 1939 in an effort to beautify rural landscapes. At least a third of the shrubs are native to the Lone Star State.

A report of Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the A. and M. College Extension Service reveals that 107,991 shrubs planted by these two groups are still living. A total of 73,162 shrubs were planted and cared for by the women and 34,829 by the girls.

Plantings during 1939 show a decided increase over 1938 when 72,472 native and nursery shrubs were planted, the specialist points out. However, native and nursery shrubs weren't all Texas rural women and girls planted by any means. There were more than 100,000 plants grown from seed or rooted from cuttings and there were more than 44,000 trees planted to give shade, provide background for the home, or to serve as a windbreak.

Roses, too, came in for their share of attention, for nearly 40,000 were

CANYON STUDENTS EXCEL IN MEDICINE

Canyon, Feb. 27—Evidence of the high quality of pre-medical training offered at West Texas State College has been pointed out by President J. A. Hill in the report of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

In a study of first year students at Texas Medical colleges over a 9-year period, the Association statistician found that West Texas State ranked fourth for the percentage of its students making good in medicine, with no course failures. The local state college was exceeded only by Rice Institute, the University of Texas and Texas College of Mines at El Paso.

Graduates of West Texas State ranked higher, however, than University of Texas graduates who enrolled in some medical school other than the U. of T. branch.

The report, published at Chicago, was issued to give colleges a comparison of the students who enter medical schools. Pre-medical work has been stressed at West Texas State for several years under the direction of Dr. C. A. Piehle, head of the department of chemistry. Aptitude tests for those hoping to enter the profession of medicine are given here each year.

Similar work is being offered as a preparation for law, engineering, journalism, public service, and other professions. Several students have prepared for the ministry.

"Build-Up" Important Protector of Women

A weak, undernourished condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get a foothold; thus leads to much of woman's suffering from headaches, nervousness, and other periodic discomfort.

CARDUI's principal help for such distress comes from the way it usually stimulates appetite; increases flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion; helps build energy, strength, physical resistance to periodic pain for many.

Another way, many women find help for periodic distress: Take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

SOCIETY

RECORDS VISITED THE QUADRUPLETS

R. B. McCord says when he and wife and sons visited relatives at Jasper, Alabama, recently, he had the privilege of seeing the quadruplets, about whom so much has been said in the newspapers the past few weeks. They all appeared to be healthy at the time, but one of them has died since.

Mr. McCord says that to his great surprise he also met a nurse there who said she had served as a nurse in the Lubbock Sanitarium a few years ago. She was much interested in this part of the country.

CANDIDATES SET SPEAKING DATES

Practically all of the candidates running in the 1940 primary election in a meeting recently, asked County Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell, whose term does not expire this year, and is therefore not a candidate, to arrange a speaking schedule for Lynn county.

The candidates have requested that speaking dates not be scheduled before April 12th. Any school or individual wishing the candidates to meet with them is asked to contact Mrs. Tunnell at an early date so the schedule may be worked out satisfactorily for everyone concerned.

TAHOKA F. F. A. TEAM RANKS HIGH IN JUDGING

The judging team of the F. F. A. Chapter of the Tahoka High School made an excellent showing in the competitive judging that was done by the teams of this district at the Texas Technological College last Saturday.

The Tahoka team tied with two other teams for first place in cream grading. Keland Slover won six; individual place in dairy products judging.

The Tahoka team consisted of Claude Slover, Pug Parker, and Edward McMillan. Alternate, Preshing Alexander.

Judging covered dairy products, cattle and cotton. Twenty-five teams participated in dairy products judging, 63 in cattle and better judging, and about 30 in cotton judging. A total of 121 teams participated.

The next judging contest will be on April 6, and will cover the subjects: grain, poultry and shop judging.

Do It Better And The World is Yours

We confess that we know more about the drug business than anything else. Our greatest endeavor and interests in this pharmacy are directed along one line—prescription compounding. We have concentrated our thoughts, our studies, our energy—all on the one idea of compounding prescriptions in the most effective manner.

Practice makes perfect. The pharmacist who has filled 25,000 prescriptions is better qualified than one who has dispensed only 100. What seems difficult to the novice is comparatively easy for the expert. When the expert compounds a prescription, he is applying the knowledge of years to a task that requires, perhaps, a few minutes to execute.

And what little difference the extra cost of employing an expert really is, especially when it goes into the important work of compounding prescriptions. A difference of a few cents may possibly mean the saving of a life—one that is near and dear to you.

THANKS, GEORGE

The News is indebted to Hon.
George Mahon for the pictures of three of our Presidents to add to our collection, which up to the present time has consisted of one fine
picture, that of Woodrow Wilson.

Since the country last week celebrated the birthday of our first president, George Washington Mr.
Mahon generously sent us a very fine print of an oil painting of the Father of our Country. Along with it, he sent excellent but less pretentious pictures of the Father of the Democratic party, Thomas Jefferson, and of the present occupant of the White House, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

It is our purpose to have the pictures framed at an early date and to place them on our walls alongside the picture of the great Woodrow Wilson.

Many, many thanks, George, for these pictures. May we have yours
some day to place in the group.

Drivers of the school buses which were marooned in the recent fierce snowstorm that visited this section deserve great praise for the presence of mind and courage which they exhibited in the emergency. Our hats are off to the Tahoka bus drivers for the spirit of self-sacrifice which they manifested in saving the children from suffering and in allaying the fears of anxious parents. Many others also exhibited the same heroic spirit. Among those who are to be commended are the officials and employees of the Santa Fe railway, who used their facilities to rescue many marooned persons caught in snowdrifts throughout the South Plains area.

The News editor is all the time running up against opposition from unexpected sources. Last week Andrew Jackson Stricklin of West Tennessee, editor of the Terry County Herald of the past thirty-odd years, took a shot at us for having alluded to the tobacco plant as a "filthy weed". All right, Jack, every one to his own notion, as the old woman said who kissed the cow.
Jack was also complaining because,
he said, we "backfired" about Terry county's corn crop. No backfiring

at all, Jack; we were just calling the attention of the world, or at least of three or four fellows who read our "colyum", that Terry county has become a great corn-raising county.
But Jack proceeded to inform us that for the past few years the borers have been almost ruining their corn crop and the county did not sell more than 250,000 bushels last year whereas a million bushels is a normal crop. Well, here's hoping you get rid of the worms this year,
Jack, and that you will have plenty of feed for Bill Hearst's bulls next fall.

For the first time since the hard-surfacing of highway No. 380 between Post and Tahoka was completed about a month ago, we drove over it last Sunday afternoon. It certainly is fine to have a paved highway between the two towns and on west almost to the New Mexico line. However, due either to an insufficient base or to continued freezing weather that came while the road was being built, it is not as smooth a job as could have been desired. In places it is rather rough and the surface will probably need frequent repairing. We regret this very much but are truly gratified that we have a fairly good paved road, which will be improved by time no doubt until it becomes as good as the best. For example, this same highway from Tahoka west to the Terry county line is a much better highway today than it was when it was built. The prospects are that within another year this paving will be completed clear to the New Mexico line, which will give tourists a dandy highway from Fort Worth and other points east on through Post, Tahoka, Brownfield, and Roswell to the mountains and thence to El Paso. We appreciate this piece of work done jointly by the state highway department and our Uncle Sam.

Erskine Caldwell from somewhere in the North has written a novel depicting the horrors of a Southern lynching bee. The sheriff of the county, it is said, was in the habit of slipping off on a three-days fishing trip when he noted that a lynching bee was brewing, just as if such episodes were common occurrences in that county. Of course, the author neglects to depict the horrible crime that has been the cause of most lynchings in the South. It would seem to be only fair that the crime should be depicted along with the lynching it provoked. But such writers as Caldwell are not seeking to be fair; they are seeking merely to smear the South, the prevention of lynchings being merely a secondary matter with them. The News editor has always opposed mob rule of every kind. We oppose it now. We think every reasonable effort should be made to stamp it out. In a mot men go wild; they become savages for the time being. The law should be allowed to take its course. But these fellows who try to throw slime on a whole people should also be squelched. At least their nasty novels should be boycotted by the reading public.

The News, together with thousands of other weekly newspapers
throughout the United States no doubt, receives each week a copy of DISTILLERS' BULLETIN printed

Please Mr. Government, Give Us All
Some Gravy.

Jim Ferguson indicated a few days ago that "Ma" might again become a candidate for governor,
if the demand for her services
seemed sufficient.

He says that he favors the payment of pensions to everybody over 65 years of age regardless of their financial condition. He would raise the money with a gross transaction tax.

That ought to be a winning platform. About half the people are already on the government pay roll in one category or another. We have about decided that the rest of us might as well be put on. It has got to be so that they want to put men on the shelf at 45, so why not put everybody over 45 on the pension rolls? And raise the pensions to at least $50 per month.

Then there are a few industries
that are not yet getting Government aid. Every man who owns a building should have his rentals supplumented by the government. This includes everything from shanties to sky-scrapers. And then all the occupants of these buildings should be handed a government check each month to enable them to pay the rent.

All the business men should be helped in order to keep some of them from going broke.

And by all means, the publishers
of newspapers, dailies and weeklies, should have aid. Many newspapers are going to the wall each year.
Some merge with other papers and some are suspended entirely. Most country weeklies are barely keeping their heads above water. They should have help.

We can easily prove that such a policy would be just and helpful to the country as a whole, for if the manufacturers are to be granted pecia favors through a protective tariff and if the railroads and the banks are to be helped by special government grants and loans, then all other interests should get some kind of corresponding government benefits. There isn't one of us that doesn't need help, no not one. The government should come to the aid of all of us. It should put most of us on the pension rolls. It should put the rest of us on the government payroll somewhere. That is the trend of the times and the goal to which the logic of the stanchest New Dealers would inevitably carry us.

Under such a policy, not just one of us but all of us would have plenty of money, business would be up, nobody would go broke, we would all be prosperous and would live happily ever afterward.

Can you find any fault with such a program, Brother? If not, think we will run for office on it.

and published in Washington, D. C.
It is devoted of course to the promotion of the liquor business and the tamping out of prohibition. In fact, to listen to its weekly walls, one would think that prohibition is the cause of most liquor-drinking in this country, that the bootleggers are the real leaders in the prohibition movement and are fighting tooth and toe everywhere for prohibition. At the same time they pretend that the legalized liquor business is doing everything possible to promote temperance and observance of the law.
It's all a batch of falsehoods from start to finish. What the distillers are really seeking to do it to promote the sale of their liquors. The more liquors they sell the greater their profits. They are not seeking to promote temperance; they are seeking to promote the drinking habit. In order to increase their sales. They are filling the magazines and the big daily newspapers with their ads
lay after day and week after week
so that very end. They are adversising their wares to promote sales.
And remember, folks, that the more liquor they sell and the more the people drink, the more drunkards
there will be in this country tomorrow. These drunkards will be made out of the boys and the girls of today—your boys and girls.

CAMPAIGN PROMISING

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram)

When state candidates in the approaching political campaign promise economy to the voters, the aspirants for office should be required to make specific reference to the table in the State Comptroller's summary for the last fiscal year which shows how the state tax dollar was spent.

The comptroller's table lists highways, education and old-age assistance as the major items of state expense. The total cost of state government last year was $164,323,499.- 81. The principal items were: highways, $55,934,368; education (State's share), $45,640,984, and public welfare, principally pensions, $35,515,- 550. Or, 34 cents out of each dollar expended by the State went to highways, 27 cents to education and 21
cents for pensions and other public welfare. The total of those three items is 82 cents, which leaves only 18 cents for the following purposes:
Legislative, judicial, administrative,

military and law enforcement, health
and sanitation, resource conservation, business, regulation, elemosy-nary institutions, parks, debt payment, and miscellaneous items.

In a sense, it is improper to admit highway expenditures into any summary of taxes or state government costs, since those expenditures, alone of major state fiscal operations, are supported entirely by a special and direct levy upon beneficiaries. In other words, the gasoline tax is a service tax on motorists for the benefit of motorists, except that the State pinches off a portion of the tax for use otherwise than for roads.
Thus a better picture of the State's dollar as it goes out is obtained by eliminating highway matters and with this done the comptroller's figures would show 37 cents going for education, 29 cents for pensions, leaving 24 cents to take care of all the other purposes of state government. The last figure might be further broken down to show cents and fractions of cents represented in each case, but it is obvious from the general statement that there is small opportunity for economy outside the two major items of education and pensions.

A candidate who favors larger pensions, or even a continuation of the present scale, and larger school expenditures and in the same breath
calls for economy and tax reduction, is either deceiving himself or attempting to deceive the public. In either case he is unfit for the office
he seeks.

Many farmers had bedded much of their land before the big snow came. This week many tractors have been running putting up the land.
And the country looks fine. Maybe another good crop is in store for us.

In the course of time, we predict that a portion of the gasoline tax will be devoted to the building of local farm-to-market roads.

Auto accident—

He was born on August 12, 1913, and Lee on December 21, 1914, both at Myra in Cooke county, Texas. They came with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gable from Marietta, Oklahoma, to Lynn county in October, 1925.

Other survivors of the two are the parents, a brother, J. C. Gable Jr., and three sisters, Mrs. J. T. Cheatham, Mrs. Rosemary Browning and Mrs. E. L. King. Other relatives here are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Patterson, an uncle and aunt.

Health Program Given at Rotary Luncheon

A health program was given by Dr. Brummage, assisted by L. C. Haney, local druggist, and Mrs. Gladys Davis, county health nurse, at a joint meeting of the Rotary club and the Business and Professional Women's club at the American Legion hall Thursday.

The program consisted in the showing of films giving a picture of the activities of the State Health Department and of the need for the work it is doing in preventing, controlling, or curbing communicable diseases, including typhoid, venereal, and other diseases.

A number of visitors from Post and O'Donnell were present.

NEW HOME F. F. A.

The New Home chapter of F. F. A. is very proud of the distinction it showed in the Texas Technological College Vocational Agriculture Judging Contest held at Lubbock on February 24, 1940.

In the Dairy Products division our team ranked third in the entire contest and placed first in the milk division. As an individual Loyd Russell McCormick won a second place ribbon on milk and a medal on second in the entire contest. Connolly Unfred and Joe Lewis were also on the team.

A "Cotton Team" was entered of which Roy Timmons placed fifth as an individual. Harvin Smith and Vernon Clem were on the team also. A "Meat Identification" team was entered also but didn't place in the high five.

County Sewing Room Making Many Garments

Using 1,000 yards of material, the 22 employees of the local W. P. A. sewing room fashioned 551 garments during the month of February.

While thus engaged in useful work that will be of benefit to many other needy families, these women are learning many lessons that are of value in operating their own homes.

Besides learning to cut accurately, fit neatly and finish the garments attractively, the women learn through daily experience that dressing well is not a question of dollars and cents, for these 551 attractive and practical garments were made from $110.00 worth of cloth and $19.26 worth of findings.

Embarrassing

Acid indigestion, Gas on Stomach, Heartburn, are usually caused by injudicious eating or drinking. Try Alka-Seltzer for relief.

Alka-Seltzer also relieves the distress of Headache, Colds, Neuralgia, and Muscular Aches and Pains, because it contains an analgesic, (sodium acetyl salicylate).

Your druggist sells Alka-Seltzer in handy packages and by the glass at his soda fountain. Try it.

Farm Families Get Awards

Blue Ribbon and Red Ribbon certificates have been received in the Farm Security Administration office to be presented to families who have raised 75 percent and 60 percent of their living at home.

Last year the district home supervisor, Mrs. Ruby D. Mathews, introduced a blue ribbon contest for all F. S. A. families in her 47 counties in Texas. The purpose of this contest is to set up a standard for a live at home program on an average size farm unit and to create interest among farm families to produce their living at home.

The requirements for a blue ribbon certificate which indicates 75 percent live at home program and the red ribbon certificate which indicates 60 percent live at home program are decided by the number of vegetables preserved and meat and eggs raised at home for home use.

Ten families in Lynn county received the blue ribbon certificate and fourteen received the red ribbon certificates. Those receiving blue ribbons are: Vernon T. Brown, Walter E. Dubree; Millard F. Gray, Emery W. Hood, Leonidas C. Johnson, Jr., Chas. M. Lawler, Claud M. Lebew, Robert Littlepage, Everett McGreggor, Clarence E. Thompson.

Those receiving red ribbons are: Rex Dickens, Thomas E. Dykes, Raymond H. Grubbs, Riley Lee, Roy L. Miller, Cecil E. McCrary, Joseph McManis, Tom A. Nelms, Eimer Richey, Blain Ramsey, Lynn Smith, Walter M. Vaughn, Columbus L. Walker, Richard E. Willingham.

Lynn county in comparison and proportion to other counties in the district ranked among the outstanding "This shows what can be done" says Miss Lital, Lynn county Home supervisor, "and should inspire all families to raise more of their living at home."

He was also very generous in his praise of our citizenship for the splendid reception they gave Mr. Wharton.
