

Odds and Ends See Eye, See Ear, See Elder

The Germans have contributed much to the citizenship and the civilization of America.

Most of the native Germans now in this country emigrated from the Fatherland and came to America either to escape the political oppressions which they were compelled to suffer there or to better their condition financially.

Most of them imbibed the spirit of liberty which they found regnant here and have become deeply devoted to our system of government. And most of them are patriotic American citizens. It is true that nearly all of them left relatives in the homeland and it is natural that they should be sympathetic with these in any struggle with other nations. It does not follow, however, that they should be sympathetic with the aims and objectives of Adolf Hitler, who is openly and avowedly opposed to democratic forms of government, and who, if he should ever conquer America, would take away from our German-American citizens the liberties which they now enjoy, along with the rest of us. For, he would establish a dictatorship here too.

We can not believe that many of the Germans in this country have the same political ideals or the same motives that now actuate the leaders and seemingly the masses of the people in Germany.

For generations, and particularly for the past two or three generations, the leaders in Germany, by every means available, have been instilling into the minds of the German people, from the very cradle on up, the idea that the Germans are a superior race, that they are the most intellectual people on earth, and that they are destined and have a right to rule the world.

In fact, they have proclaimed their superiority in intellect and intelligence so confidently and so incessantly that they have made many of the people of other nations believe it.

What proof do they have to offer?

Probably the answer most frequently made to such a question is that the Germans have excelled in scientific investigation and achievement.

Is that claim true? Why, the airplane itself, which the Germans are using in such great numbers and with so much effectiveness in the war it is now waging, is not the product of German ingenuity. It was invented by two Americans, Wilbur and Orville Wright of Dayton, Ohio.

And those monster armored tanks, which the Germans used to break through the French armies and to lay France prostrate, they were not of German origin. The armored tank was first used in warfare by the British against the Germans in the great World War in 1916 or 1917. The British got the idea from the caterpillar tractor being manufactured in the United States for use on the farms at that time.

So, those German monster tanks are not the product of the German mind.

What modern invention have the Germans given to the world? Scarcely a one.

The automobile, like the airplane is of American origin. It is difficult to say what particular man is due the most credit for its invention, as a number of men were working on the idea at different places at the same time—Charles B. Duryea, Elwood Haynes, Alexander Winton, Frank B. Stearns, R. E. Olds, and Henry Ford. At least the last two mentioned produced machines which proved to be successful.

Motion pictures and the "talkies" are also the products of American genius. Due to the inventive ingenuity of Thomas A. Edison, the Latham brothers, Thomas Armat and Francis Jenkins, and others, the "movies" made their appearance about the first of the present century as one of the most amazing achievements in the history of the world. Americans later also developed the talking picture.

Wireless telegraphy was given to the world by an Italian genius, Guglielmo Marconi. From this great invention, or discovery, the radio of the present day has been developed.

No German has had any major part in the invention or development of any of these modern wonders.

Who was it that invented the other means of rapid communication between man and man at distant separated points? Who invented the telegraph and telephone? Germans had no part in the invention of either!

S. F. B. Morse of Massachusetts gave the telegraph to the world, the first telegraphic message being sent over a wire from Washington to Baltimore on May 24, 1844. The message was: "What hath God wrought?"

The telephone was the product of another American, Alexander Graham Bell, although he had been in the United States only four years when he made his great invention. Born in Scotland and educated in England, he migrated to Canada in 1872. It was in 1876 that he perfected the apparatus which became known as the telephone. On the same day that he filed his application for a patent, another American, Elisha Gray, a native of Ohio, also filed an application for a patent for a similar device, and many contended that the credit for the invention of the telephone should have gone to him.

Thomas A. Edison gave the phonograph to the world in 1877.

As the German mind has done little or nothing to create these modern means of communication, so also it has done practically nothing to develop or improve the means of transportation.

The first successful steam engine was the invention of James Watt, a Scotchman, who perfected his machine and received a patent in 1769.

The modern railway locomotive, greatly developed and improved, was the invention of George Stephenson of England. He first succeeded in pulling a cargo of coal with a steam locomotive in 1814, but the railway transportation business was really begun when the Liverpool & Manchester railway was formally opened in 1825.

Robert Fulton was the inventor of the steamboat. He was a native of Pennsylvania. Possessing much natural ability as an artist, he made enough money by selling his works of art to enable him to go to England to study. From there he went to France, where he became interested in mechanics and steam power. He actually invented a steamboat and launched it upon the waters of the Seine. That was in 1803. French statesman regarded it as a contrivance of no importance and the Government declined to have anything to do with it. Fulton then came back to the United States and built the Clermont. The people made much fun of it, but at the appointed time it began its laborious journey up the Hudson, puffing and blowing like some strange monster.

But Fulton had started something. The result may be seen in the great merchant ships and battle ships that now ply the seas.

No German had any part in the invention—or the early development of these great means of transportation, these great agencies of war and commerce.

Neither have Germans done scarcely anything in the invention or development of the modern farm and industrial machinery.

The harvesting machines, the cotton gin, modern farming implements of every kind, have been invented and developed chiefly in the United States of America, while the spinning jenny, the loom, and all the up-to-date textile machinery were invented and developed principally by Englishmen. The sewing machine was invented by an American, Elias Howe. The great cotton and woolen industries have been made possible by English and American ingenuity. The Germans have had little part in all this mechanical development.

The Germans, of course, have made some great scientific discoveries and inventions, but the above undisputed facts are enough to show that in the field of mechanical science, at least, the Germans have fallen far behind other nationalities, particularly the English and the Americans.

And it is safe to say that they have not proved by their fruits that they are "super-men" in any other field of science.

In fact, except in the invention of printing machinery, there is only one field in which they can possibly lay claim to superiority over other men—that is in the field of war-making. And we don't think that they will prove their superiority even there, notwithstanding all their painstaking preparation and their loud boasting.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently.

Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

That's the ingredient which enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to help tone lazy bowel muscles. It is the main reason for the satisfying relief from constipation that generally follows next morning when BLACK-DRAUGHT is taken at bedtime. The millions of packages used are proof of its merit.

Test yourself on the following true and false questions which were asked at the B-PW dinner in O'Donnell Tuesday night. Answers at the end of the column.

1. The President is officially notified of his election.
2. In a recent address, Wendell L. Willkie said "Britain is our first line defense and our only remaining friend".
3. A President must have been a resident of the United States all of his life.
4. The President is not selected by direct election by the people.
5. Next successor to the Presidency after the Vice-president and Secretary of State is the Secretary of Commerce.

Suggestion for an interesting and versatile idea for someone looking for a hobby—collecting the parodies that have been written on Kipling's immortal "If". Good and bad, the parade would be endless.

One of the best we've seen is the "If for Athletic Coaches". Mrs. Meuche Tunnell loaned us our copy last fall, and we still have it, so here it is, author unknown:

- If you can train a team for many seasons
And point them for some game and see them lose
By some small break without apparent reasons
And never bow your head to fans abuse;
If you can see the best pass on to college
Just when they have reached the very peak
And start again anew but not acknowledge.
That heart and nerve and sinew have grown weak;
If you can keep your poise when you are winning
Or see a lead wiped out by one wild

"Build-Up" for Women Helps Avoid Distress

Do you suffer periodically from headaches, nervousness, irritability, cramp-like pain?

If so, here's good news! These may be symptoms of functional dysmenorrhoea due to malnutrition, often helped by CARDUI.

CARDUI usually increases appetite and the flow of gastric juice; so aids digestion and helps build up strength, energy, physical resistance. Result formany is less periodic distress. Or you may find this also helps ease your periodic discomfort: Take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." 50 years of use and popularity invite your confidence in CARDUI.

GRASSLAND P. T. A. WILL MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The regular Grassland P. T. A. meeting will be Tuesday night, October, 29, at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

The program will include Mrs. Applewhite of Tahoka, who is to speak on "The Advantage of the P. T. A.," the Mother Singers of Tahoka; and the Grassland Rhythm Band. All the patrons of the community are urged to attend the meeting.

On the night of October 31, the P. T. A. is sponsoring a '42 party in the school auditorium. Everyone is invited to don his Hallowe'en regalia and come to the Grassland Auditorium for an evening of fun.

The executive meeting was held Thursday afternoon, October 17. Those attending were Mesdames A. Thomas, R. Chapman, B. Terrell, C. E. Short, H. Davis, and E. Walker, and Misses Cleo Cowan, Elzora Rallsback, and Lurline Fleming, a visitor. The regular executive meetings are to be at four o'clock on the second Wednesday of each month. The officers are especially urged to keep this date in mind.

BROWNFIELD COUPLE MARRIED HERE

C. R. Clewis of Brownfield and Miss Polly Moore of Amarillo were united in marriage in the courthouse Monday night at about 11:30 o'clock by James E. Dye, Justice of the Peace. They were accompanied by two other couples, and the Judge says he was given an intimation that one of these would be back right soon for him to perform for them a similar service.

Judge Dye says that this is the twenty-third couple he has joined together in wedlock this year. He estimates that he has presided at more than fifty weddings since he went into office less than two years ago.

And lose, and start again at your beginning
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can be a sportsman every minute
And stamp fair play on everything that's done;

Yours is the school and all the boys that're in it
For you're some coach, my son.

Answers to True and False test:

1. false; 2. true; 3. false, a president must be native-born and must have resided in the United States for at least fourteen years preceding his election; 4. true, he is selected by the electors, who are not legally bound to vote for any certain candidate, though without exception they have never failed to vote for the party nominee; 5. false, Secretary of the Treasury.

Only 25 of Texas' counties have county libraries.

Drennon's Notes

I am living in the right state but in the wrong pew. This is no state for an old Democrat. All the papers I get here are running down F. D. R. until it is a shame. I guess I will not get to vote in the general election, as they do not encourage any one to vote who votes for Roosevelt.

I didn't get the Lynn County News last week, so I don't know how things are really going. I sure miss Editor Hill's strong editorials. The editorials in the Albuquerque paper are canned, and I never did like canned goods when I could get fresh.

I guess I lived in Texas too long to ever be satisfied anywhere else. We went to Clovis yesterday and sure did miss the white cotton fields, also the big ricks of maize heads. It is ranch land most all the way.

A lady visited us yesterday who lived in this country since 1916 and she said it was the driest she had ever seen here at this time of the year. They are having to feed their cows full rations this early.

My church work is very pleasant. People are about the same everywhere, good and bad, and in the church there are "shirkers and jokers, pillars and sleepers, givers and getters, goers and gadders, promoters and provokers, boosters and buckers, soldiers and soreheads, doers and deadheads, friends and fault-finders, and last campaigners or just campers." Which are you, dear reader?

I heard a fine sermon yesterday on the fortieth chapter of Isaiah. The preacher's text was the 31st verse. It was a masterpiece on God. Reader, get your Bible and read slowly that chapter and you will appreciate the greatness of God more. I feel sure.

Yours for more people who will pay their subscription for the News as well as read it.—R. P. Drennon.

43,000 Registered in 22 Plains Counties

LUBBOCK, Oct. 23. (Special)—More than 43,000 men were registered in 22 counties of the South Plains last Wednesday, for possible military training under the peacetime selective service law, according to announcement from the state adjutant general's office.

State total was in excess of 800,000. Harris county with 77,177 registrants, led the state. Other large counties include Dallas, 56,136; Tarrant, 28,071; Bexar, 36,102; Jefferson, 21,647; El Paso, 13,977; Galveston, 11,809; Cregg, 8087; Hidalgo, 11,321; Cameron, 9,371; McLennan, 11,057; Potter, 6,614; Smith, 8,753; Taylor, 4,604; Tom Green, 5,239; Travis, 13,419; Wichita, 8,878.

Cards Are Mailed

Not all of those registered in Lubbock county, or others over this area, were all actual residents of that particular county. In many instances a large proportion of those who registered were transient, temporarily employed, who happened to be there on registration day.

Draft boards are sending to the several counties the card of non-residents. In turn, Lubbock boards are receiving cards from other counties.

Figures Released

In this area Lubbock led with 9,000 registrants; Hockley was second; Lamb third; Dawson, fourth; Terry, fifth; Hale sixth; Lynn, seventh.

County totals were as follows:

County	Registrants
Bailey	1,734
Borden	183
Briscoe	523
Castro	574
Cochran	1,019
Crosby	1,643
Dawson	3,497
Dickens	1,142
Floyd	1,369
Gaines	1,486
Garza	780
Hale	2,608
Hockley	3,696
Lamb	3,572

LYNN	2,521
Motley	882
Parmer	832
Scurry	1,660
Swisher	783
Terry	2,948

Total	43,464

Eight hundred of the Lynn county registrants gave their residences in other counties, mostly in South, Southwest, and central Texas. The great majority of them were Mexicans, who come out here each cotton-picking season.

Quite a number of registrants elsewhere have been transferred to this county since registration day, as they gave Lynn county as their home.

"Build-Up" Relief Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

TAYLOR WHITE HONORED AT MIDLAND LUNCHEON

State Senator H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton and Representative-elect Taylor White of Odessa were honored Wednesday with an all-civic luncheon in Midland. The affair was sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

An attendance of about 250 was reported. Both Winfield and White were speakers on the program.

Mrs. Winfield and Mrs. White were also entertained by the women of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor White were residents of Tahoka for a number of years, Mr. White being teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka high school. Both were active and prominent in religious work here.

The 1940-41 season is the fourth consecutive year the world supply (carry-over plus production) of American cotton has been close to 25 million bales.

Indications are that the total farm income in the nation for 1940, including government payments, will be about $8,900,000, five percent more than the income in 1939.

Defense In Lynn County

"Preparedness" is now the watchword in the American scheme of life. While Congressmen and national leaders are tackling the general problem of national defense, each individual must be doing his part. Everyone of us in choosing our daily food, every homemaker planning meals for her family and every farmer conserving his land is helping to make America strong, ready for whatever lies ahead.

But we are not most interested in preparing for war or national defense. Defense in building the health, the physical fitness, the social well-being of all our people, and doing it the democratic way. The American idea of diet is more than defense and protection from disease. Diets to give abounding good health, increased longevity, and happiness is our goal. Let us make every American strong, stronger than ever before, sturdier in body, steadier in nerves, and surer in living.

Lynn County housewives know that if meals are prepared which provide sufficient nutrients for well-being, Lynn County youth will have bodies which will not tire easily, minds which will be alert and bodies which can fight disease.

The bulletin, "Diets To Fit The Family Income" is available free through the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C. Write and simply ask for Farmers' Bulletin, No. 1757. When you receive this and if you need help using it feel free to ask advice from some nutritionist in Lynn County. Some of those who are always working in improving the diets in our county are: County Home Demonstration Agent, homemaking teachers, and FSA Home Management Supervisor.

These diet plans are relatively simple; the homemaker can plan the menus and then make out her marketing list accordingly. These plans are very flexible. They can be adjusted to suit any family, whether there are several children or none. They also vary in the amounts of money to be spent.

Some of the ways in which Lynn County is making America stronger are: school-lunch program; diet clinics; nutritionist—homemaking teachers, County Home Demonstration Agent, family physicians, and Home Management Supervisor of Farm Security Administration; cooking schools, and demonstrations. Let us make Lynn County strong by making Lynn County people stronger.

Based on conditions prevailing on September 1, the United States Department of Agriculture has estimated this year's cotton crop at 12,772,000 bales. Production last year 11,817,000 bales.

Tahoka Will Meet Brownfield Tonight

The Tahoka Bulldogs got down to real business the past week end and they will leave late this afternoon to invade the Brownfield Cubs' stronghold in their second conference game of the season with blood in their eyes, revenge in their hearts, confidence and the thought of winning in their minds.

After losing to Slaton 18 to 20, the Bulldogs had only light workouts last week and then they went to Lubbock and scrimmaged with the Westerners. This week, Coach Leo Jackson really put the Bulldogs "through the mill" in the hardest workouts of the season, and with no one on the injured list they are now ready to challenge the strong Cubs on the Brownfield gridiron tonight.

There is another thing that hasn't been lost yet but is now more than ever in the minds of these Bulldogs, and that is the championship. Although Slaton defeated them in their first conference game they are still in the running for the district title. Their chances are plenty good, provided they go over and play four quarters like they played over at Slaton two weeks ago.

An advantage the Bulldogs have over the Cubs is the fact that they saw the Cubs in action last Friday night. However, they didn't see much so far as plays were concerned because Brownfield didn't use their regular plays. But the Bulldogs do know how they play and what to be expecting.

Brownfield received a hard blow last Friday night when Daverell Lewis, halfback, received an injury to his shoulder that will put him on the bench for the rest of the season. Brownfield also has another injury or two that will be a little drawback to them, but when we look on the other hand they still have three triple-threat backs left and possibly more than that. These triple-threat boys that we have seen in action are Jiggs Tankersley, W. D. Warren, and James Bryan.

It is anticipated that several hundred Tahoka football fans will be over in Brownfield tonight to witness the game and they will be backing the Bulldogs one hundred percent from start to finish. The pep squad and band will be on hand with some new formations for use during the half.

New Home Humbles Local 6-Man Team

Tahoka had opportunity to see a sample of the new game of six-man football Wednesday night, when the New Home high school six-man team decisively defeated a Tahoka team under the lights of Bulldog field 48 to 6.

The game was full of thrills and had much spectator interest in spite of the lop-sided score. The versatile and more experienced New Home boys had the edge all through the first half and then ran wild during the second.

Tahoka's team was made up of boys too young or too light for the high school eleven-man team.

Lubbock Cowhands Coming Thursday

The Tahoka Bulldogs will play the strong Lubbock Cowhands on the local field next Thursday night.

The Cowhands upset the strong Olton Mustangs last weekend 26 to 13.

The Tahoka Bulldogs will either have upset the Brownfield Cubs or will have lost to them and their chances for the District Championship before they take on the Cowhands next Thursday. And since the Brownfield tussle will be a hard fought game we cannot predict what kind of condition the Bulldogs will be in when they meet the Cowhands. However, this game with the Cowhands promises plenty of thrills.

The Bulldogs just barely beat the Cowhands last year and they expect to do so again this coming Thursday night.

The Olton Mustangs, the team that the Cowhands so badly upset last weekend, are the defending District 5-A Champions.

O'Donnell Meets Slaton Tonight

After a rest last weekend, the O'Donnell Eagles travel up to Slaton tonight for a clash in a conference battle that has everyone afraid to even think how the score will be when the game is over.

The O'Donnell Eagles won from Post two weeks ago by first downs 7 to 5 and Slaton won over the Post Antelopes last weekend on first downs 12 to 11, the score being tied 12 and 12. Neither Post nor O'Donnell scored in their game.

The O'Donnell Eagles have come out of a deep hole and shown that they can really play football after they get the hang of it.

The Slaton Tigers also jumped out of a hole the past few weeks but they have one of those one-man teams and one man isn't consistent enough to get the job done all season long.

This game may be nip 'n tuck all the way through.

McADOO COPPS 34-10

DECISION OVER WILSON

McAdoo, Oct. 19.—McAdoo's six-man grid machine rolled over Wilson here this afternoon 34 to 10, with an assorted and powerful passing and running attack.

The winners struck twice in the first quarter, Roy Allen counting on a pass, Bertrand Robertson plunging for the second touch. Don Anderson and Austin Rose added extra points. In the second stanza, Clinton Formby found Roy Allen on an aerial to score McAdoo's third counter. In the same period, Wilson added up 10 points on a touchdown, field goal and safety.

The third quarter saw Roscoe McWilliams and Formby, Robertson and Anderson accounting for the extra points. There was no scoring in the fourth.

Miss Nellie McLeRoy, a member of the Tahoka school faculty, attended the funeral of the young babe of her sister, Mrs. Frank Bozeman, at Gomez Wednesday, the infant having been born, lifeless, Tuesday night.

Mrs. Aubra Cade and Mrs. John Thomas Tippit took the latter's baby, Geraldine, to the Lubbock Sanitarium Thursday morning, where physicians announced that it was suffering from pneumonia. It is to be hoped that the malady will be speedily conquered and the little lady restored to health.

RETURN FROM GLEN ROSE

Mmes. Alice Fortenberry and her mother, Mrs. J. R. McIntyre of Tahoka, accompanied by the latter's sister, Mrs. Oscar Cousins of Amarillo, returned Tuesday afternoon from a two week's vacation spent at Glen Rose and other points of that section.

During their stay at Glen Rose they visited in Fort Worth, spent one day at the State Fair in Dallas, visited a sister of Mmes. McIntyre and Cousins in Brownwood, drove over much of that part of Texas which had been the former home of the three sisters, and they greatly enjoyed the colorful scenery of that section.

A night had been spent with relatives at Hermleigh enroute to Glen Rose and on their return they spent a night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Billman and greatly enjoyed being with the Billman's who were well and who have made a real home of their little sandy land farm.
