The launching of a big road building program throughout Lynn county in the near future is among the probabilities, in the opinion of some of the members of the commissioners court. Already there has been considerable agitation in favor of launching such a project, they say. Even last summer during the preelection campaign the matter was frequently mentioned, and it is said that some of the candidates positively committed themselves to the promotion of such a program.

Those agitating such a movement, it is said, have in contemplation the procurement of federal funds with which to pay much of the cost. Members of the court as constituted at the present time, however, assert that the United States Government would not furnish more than 35 per ish no part of the funds, since these improved roads would be no part of the state highway system. It would be necessary therefore that the coun-would be necessary. Now, what about the cost? Construction of Highway No. 380 east of Tahoka cost nearly $8,000 per mile, the commissioners say. It is assumed that the hard-surfaced roads would cost approximately that much. The County's part of this expense, about 65 per cent, would amount to about $5,000 per mile, it is estimated. Two hundred miles

This will be "Community Service three programs will be sponsored in the city on that day by Rotary. Dr. Charles E. Barker, internationally famous lecturer, physical culturalist, and Rotarian, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, will be sent here that day by Rotary International for talks before the Rotary Club, High School students, and a mass meeting of citizens. Tahoka is indebted to District Governor Frank Roberts of Breckenridge for the opportunity of hearing Dr. Barker, as the former has recommended the Tahoka Club as one of seven out of the 55 clubs in the 127th Rotary district for such programs, the local club president is informed.

Dr. Barker will talk to the Rotary Club on "Rotary By-Products," to the High School students on "How to Make the Most Out of Life," and to citizens and students in a night mass meeting on "The Most Important Job in the World."

The programs will be sponsored by the local club, but Rotary International will bear the expense of bringing the speaker to Tahoka.

That he is an interesting talker and in demand for many occasions is evidenced by the fact that Dr. Barker has delivered 11,500 addresses to 4,200,000 adults and 3,700,000 high school and college students during his career. From 1913 to 1913 he was a Y. M. C. A. lecturer under sponsorship of its International committee, and was on the Redpath Chautauqua platform for many ears. ## Basketball Will Be Started Next Week

Tahoka High School has scheduled the first home basketball game of the season for Thursday, December 5, at 7 o'clock in the symnasium of the grade school, Coaches Hope Haynes and A. L. Pace announced this week.

This will be a three-header feature with the boys' teams of Tahoka and Lamesa playing, and a game between the girls' teams of Tahoka and O'Donnell. A tentative game has been scheduled for the same night between the Orange Crush, a team made up of business men of Tahoka, and a team from Lubbock. Coached by Charles Townes, Orange Crush is considered one of the strongest of independent teams in this district. Tickets will go on sale about December 1.

Mr. A. L. Pace, grade school principal, is coach of the boys' basketball team. He stated that he thought the prospects good for the Tahoka team to be high team in the county this year. The following boys are coming out for basket ball: Earl Adams, Roy Botkin, A. G. Crutcher, Wayne Shawn, Clyde Briley, Clyde Owens, Dwain McClintock, Eual Akin, James Wells, Paul Bennett, Kelly King, "Rusty" Waldrip, Jacob King, Dub Fulford, "Cotton" Davis, Horace West, A. G. Deason, Truman Hines and Noel Thurman.

Girls out for basket ball practice every afternoon at 3:15 in the gymnasium under the direction of Coach Hope Haynes are Mary Jo Anderson, Syble Brower, Ida Botkin, Frances Bartley, Dora Lee Carmack, Carolyn Chanderler, Mary McDon- proved.

To these men who are finishing their last year of football at Tahoka High School we salute you Below we give you the names of the players and their positions. They are: "Slingin"-"Rusty" Waldrip, back who not only played his last game his first year and last year for the Bulldogs, and he is one of the best possers of all times, including everybody, barring none; Earl Adams back and Co-Capt, also finished his last game. Earl was one of the best little backfield men that ever played for Tahoka; A. G. Deason, tackle, who was tops at his position and he played in every game this season; Jo Lehman, quarterback, although he was kept on the bench nearly all season nursing injuries, he was one of the best quarterbacks that ever wore a Bulldog uniform: Roy Botkin. backfield man who always played like a veteran, and he could block out anything that came in his path, catch passes and carry the ball when called upon to do so; Raymond Knight, tackle, who always did his part in the line work. Truman Hines, Co-Capt., who is one of the best centers in this district; Jacob King, End, played like a demon and he always played his part well; Pug Parker, guard, could handle anything that was put up in front of him with the greatest of ease; A. THE ART OF GETTING ALONG

(By Wilfred A. Peterson) Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that business life is a mixture of good days and bad victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others. He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business shows a profit. He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of

He learns that buck-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays.

He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him.

He learns that even the janitor is human and that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say "Good morning" even if it is raining.

He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he oses an order because experience has shown that if he always gives his best his average will break pretty

He learns that bosses are not monsters trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that usually eeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing. He learns that the gang is no harder to get along with in one place than another and that "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on his own behavior.

One thing we are quite sure the next Legislature should do: it should abolish the office of state commissioner of agriculture. We have no more need for that office than we have for a wart on our nose. If there is any useful function that it performs which the Texas A. & M. College does not perform, we have not heard of it. In fact, we have not heard of any thing much being done for the farmers of Texas by the commissioner of agriculture the past several years. The A. & M. College, through the county farm agents and demonstration agents and through the information it disseminates by pamphlets and newspaper publicity, does everything for the people of Texas that the commissioner of agriculture does-and a thousand times more. As a matter of fact, the Commissioner of Agriculture rarely ever uses the newspapers in his official business, while every weekly newspaper in Texas receives ten times as much copy from the agricultural extension department of the Texas A. & M. each week as they can use. In fact, we should like to give them a hint to boil their county recently volunteered for military training under the Selective Service Act. We think that they did a thing which is worthy of note. One of these boys is only 19 years of age and would not be subject to compulsory training in any event for two more years. But he was patriotic and courageous enough to volunteer for training now. While these two young Negroes do not have much opportunity to express themselves at the ballot box, yet they recognize the fact that they are offered the protection of our laws and are guaranteed the right to make an honest living in this country, and they appreciate these guaranties given them by our Constitution and laws, One thing is pretty certain. They will never join up with any communist outfit nor will they put in their time sitting around on some dry goods box and cussing the government.

It does seem that the Federal Government will be compelled to enact some legislation providing for the settlement of disputes between industrial plants and their employees. By all means, such legislation must be enacted to apply in all cases in which production for the Government is concerned. It should not be legally possible for either employers or employees to arbitrarily cause a plant to shut down and thereby delay the completion of a Government contract.

W. Lee O'Daniel is giving every evidence that he is going to try to get along with the legislature this coming year better than he did with the last one. And likewise the Legislature will probably try to get along better with the Governor in view of the fact that the people gave the Governor a roaring vote of approval last summer and elected so many of the members of the last Legislature to stay at home.

Jim Ferguson once declared that Texas had gone hog-wild over higher education. He should have said over "higher athletics".

A Gentle Laxative Good For Children

Most any child who takes this tasty laxative once will welcome it the next time he's constipated and it has him headachy, cross, listless, with bad breath, coated tongue or little appetite.

Syrup of Black-Draught is a tasty liquid companion to the famous BLACK-DRAUGHT. The principal ingredient is the same in both products; helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles.

The Syrup's flavor appeals to most children, and, given by the simple directions, its action is usually gentle, but thorough. Remember Syrup of Black-Draught next time. Two sizes: 50c and 25c.

made into brain material. A variety of different foods are needed to build and repair tissues throughout

There is the notions that children are expected to believe. The idea that carrots will make a little girl's hair curl; that spinach will make a boy grow big and strong; coffee make a child dark; or burned bread make a child's hair black. Both vegetables and crisp bread are good for children and should be included in the well-rounded diet. Children are kept from drinking coffee because their nerves do not need stimulating and a cup of coffee takes up the space in the meal that milk or some other nutritious drinks might have. Science has not yet found any relation of food to curly hair. No vegetable or any one food can perform miracles. Adults and children need a good assortment of all the protective foods.

"Don't eat so many acid foods" is another unfounded idea that many believe. So out go oranges, tomatoes and other good foods from our menues. These foods and most other fruits and vegetables taste acid but are base-forming. A homemaker who has a well-rounded diet that includes plenty of milk, eggs, These fads have served us as fruits, vegetables, and cereals with friendly help-that is, if they have some meat, fish, or poultry needs made us diet conscious and we have not worry abnut acid or base-form-

MERITS OF PORK TOLD WEST POINT CLUB

(Delayed)

"Pork is a good food because it contains substances needed for body building, "Miss Maurine McNatt, Home Demonstration Agent, told members of the West Point Club, Wednesday November 6 at the home of Mrs. Jarrell Cox.

"Pork protein is a fine muscle builder. Its phosphorous helps build bones and its iron makes red blood cells. Lean pork is a good source of nicotinic acid, the pellagra preventative. Lean pork is also rich in vitamin B; poor appetite, poor digestion, and a nervous irritability is due to lack of this vitamin."

There were eight members and two visitors present, Mrs. T. R. Parks, and Miss Mildred Cox.

Salamander!-Gerrymander. Two funny words.

Judged from their respective meanings, no one would suspect that they are in any way related.

A salamander is an ugly, unshapely, lizard-like little animal which exudes a poisonous secretion through the skin at times, upon proper provocation, and it reminds one in some degree of the fabed monster which the ancients called a dragon.

To gerrymander is to so manipulate to give advantage to some particular person or party, usually resulting in such districts being grossly incongruous or unnatural in shape or other respect.

It doesn't seem that there could be any kinship between the two words, does it? But the name Salamander in truth and in fact is the step-daddy of the word gerrymander.

We do not know just when nor how the word salamander originated. We do not think that it was the name that Adam gave to any of the beasts that are said to have been brought before him to be named, for the English language had not been invented at that time, and Salamander sounds like an English word, though of a little "off" color.

But we do know when the word gerrymander made its debut into polite society. It is a very interesting story. It involves a state legislature, the governor of a state who afterwards became Vice-President of bert Stuart, dropped into the newsthe United States, a very celebrated paper office and immediately his artist, and a rather sarcastic newspaper editor, somewhat like Jack Stricklin, for instance. Jack, however, would call him "sour-castic".

If one were to start out to find a prize-winning story, he would hardly think of looking inside the lids of a dictionary to find it. But, believe it or not, one may find this story, somewhat abridged, in Webster's big ed. Unabridged.

It all started away back in 1812, in Washington. If any President had all the dictionaries. attempted to put the New Deal into operation in his day would have given him hydrophobian Democrats had a majority at that time in the Massachusetts legislature.

But the Federalists were strong in Massachusetts. They believed in a strong government at Washington. They were the fore-runners of the present-day Republican party, the progenitors of such unrepentant and hopeless Republicans of our day as Senator Lodge and Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, Hamilton Fish of New York, and Senator Moses of New Hampshire-not related to the ancient law-giver of the same name, however, who was brought up on the Nile. That Moses was a Democrat. Senator Moses thinks all Democrats are "wild asses", and he is sure that there is no other river in the world like the Merrimack.

But back to our story. There were plenty of those Federalists in Elbridge Gerry's day, and they gave him and Tom Jefferson, Jim Madison, and the rest of the "wild asses" plenty of trouble.

Following the census of 1910, it came time to redistrict the state, as the Constitution provides. The Democrats gleefully undertook the task. They deemed it their religious duty to do all in their power to put

He drew a map of this unshapely district and hung it up on his desk, where all might see and be convinced of the absurd and ridiculous manner in which the Democrats had done their work. The map slightly resembled some hideous animal.

One day the celebrated artist, Gilattention was attracted to the incongruous map. His imagination got marked "I guess that will do for a

> That shows one way in which the English language grows.

It also shows that Governor O'-Daniel is not the only statesman who has been pestered by professional politicians.

Elbridge Gerry might have been a professional politician. But he was much more than that. He was patriotic, able, popular, and successful. That very same year, 1812, in which his enemies coined that word "gerrymander" he was elected Vice-President of the United States, Vice-President George Clinton had just died, after a service in that capacity Every jar of Paracide Ointment is campaign for a second term, they refunded. Elbridge Gerry was no mere politician. He was a great patriot. He was one of the boys who started this Fourth of July business. 'Although only 32 years of age at the time. He was a member of the Continental Congress that met in Philadelphia in 1776 and adopted the Declaration of Independence. And he was one of the 57 men who had the courage to But there was nothing that the take their lives in their hands and Federalists could do about it except go down on the dotted line He was right there when that kid began to

Eleven years later, he was a member of the Constitutional Convention that met in this same city of Philadelphia and drew up a Constitution to be submitted by the Continental Congress to the states for ratification. He was one of three members present when the document was There was a newspaper editor down | completed who refused to sign it. So Elridge Gerry must have pirations himself. At any rate, he been a man of strong convictions

Following this, he was a member of Congress for several years, and in 1897 he was one of three special ambassadors sent to France to seek a satisfactory adjustment of differences with that country. France had gotten on a high horse, in fact, and had been seizing cargoes of American ships and impressing American seamen, forcing them to serve on French ships. And finally, when John Adams defeated Thomas Jefferson for the Presidency, France announced that it would decline to receive any ambassador from the United States. The two other big boys who were sent with Gerry to busy, and he took out his pencil and confer with the French big shots went to work. He added to the map were that able South Carolina statesa vulture-like head, bat-like wings, man, Charles C. Pinckney, and that and dragon-like claws, and then re- great Virginian, John Marshall, who afterwards became the first great Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Talleyrand and his messenger boys reated these three great Americans only with contempt, and they sent back to the United States reports of this conduct, which President Adams made public and which aroused considerable resentment against France

It started a defense program and the building of a navy by our Government too, away back yonder about the first of the last century.

And so this man Elbridge Gerry, patriot, statesman, and diplomat, is the man who served as the fifth Vice-President of the United States. We are just a bit proud of the old boy since we read up on him a little.

HIGHER TEST (more volatile) GASOLINE That's a perfect description of Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

During the coming winter months, you can confidently expect . . . based on past experience...that the Volatility Number (high test rating) of this amazing motor fuel will be 50 per cent higher than the average Volatility Number of premium price gasolines.

Think of it! Most motor fuels, including those which cost 2¢ extra per gallon, will not come within hailing distance of the volatility given by Phillips 66 Poly Gas, which sells at regular price. If you wonder how Phillips can afford to be so generous with high test quality, remember that Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRO-DUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Find out for yourself how this extra high test gasoline gives extra fast starting, even after your car has been standing all night in the cold. Note the faster warm-up. Feel the improvement in power and pick-up. And don't forget, you get more mileage, because you save the gasoline usually wasted by excessive use of the choke with low test motor fuel.

Tonight, get a trial tankful of extra high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas, without paying a penny extra. Then tomorrow, you can touch the button and START everytime, no matter how cold the day.

Pep Squad Honors 1940 Football Team Ruby Nell Smith

Concluding the football and pep squad season at Tahoka High School, forty-five members of the pep squad and their sponsor, Miss Ruby Nell Smith, honored members of the football team, their coaches and faculty members with a traditional candlelight three-course dinner Thursday night, November 28 at 7:30 o'clock in the gymnasium of the grade school.

Yellow chrysanthemums placed in large pumpkins formed the centerpiece for the "T" shaped table. A doll dressed in a blue and white costume replica of the regular pep squad uniform was placed in front of the toastmistress. Golden and brown oak leaves and yellow candles carried out the autumn decoration motif. The guests received unusual favors of blue and white pins with "Bulldogs" printed on them and a miniature leather football and helmet extending down from the pin. Places were marked by small brown megaphones. Programs were in the shape of a football.

Betty Sue Roberts, senior cheer leader, was toastmistress. Supt. W. T. Hanes and Mr. Lee B. Dodson, high school principal, made the main speeches of the evening. The program presented was as follows: Invocation, Mr. H. A. Maasen, president of the board of trustees; welcome, Betty Sue Roberts; response, Earl Adams, co-captain of football team; "You've Gotta To Be a Football Hero," Jeanne Simmons, Frances Dobbins, Betty Ruth Wyatt, La Voyle Richardson, Frances Tunnell, and Margie Shepherd; Introduction of Cheer Leaders and the Coaches, Earl Adams; "Football Heroes of T. H. S.," Greta Applewhite, business manager of pep squad; song, Mr. John Hamblen, band director; "Toast to Seniors," Jeanne Simmons. The school cheer song, "Hurrah for the Bulldogs" concluded the program.

Cheer leaders of Tahoka High School are: Senior leader, Betty Sue Roberts; Junior leader, Dorothy Ann Roberts: Sopohomre leader, Peggy Fenton; and Freshman leader, Mary Beth Fenton.

Special guests to attend are Messrs. H. A. Maasen, John Hamblen, Leo Jackson, Leslie Browning, W. T. Hanes, A. L. Pace, Hope Haynes, Misses Willie Pearl Dockray, Mary Kathryn Gunter, Elizabeth McEwin, Ineva Headrick, Mesdames Pauline Walker, Ruth Assiter and Mr. Lee Dodson.

Football boys are Earl Adams. Truman Hines, Pug Parker, Eual Akin, Werner Schaffner, Horace West, Eugen'e Schultz, Kelly King, A. G. Band sweetheart candidates from by the state highway commission as Dorothy Applewhite; Sophomore, Lynn county. Also the road from Sue Roberts. Tahoka to Slaton via Wilson has been designated as a state highway, and about twenty miles of this road lies in Lynn County. The road from O'Donnell to Gail, about ten miles of which would probably lie in Lynn county, if hard-surfaced, would also no doubt be included in the state highway system. Thus approximately forty miles of this system could reasonably be expected to be taken over and maintained by the state.

In fact, we understand that the state highway commission has alcourt of this county that if the N-U STUDIO -- For quick kodam County would vote bonds with which to improve the designated highway west from O'Donnell and the designated highway from Tahoka through Wilson to the Lubbock county line, 33-tfo the commission would then recommend to the legislature that these bonds could be voted for the hard-surfacing of these two highway sectors any time it is reasonably certain that these bonds would be assumed by the state and the county therefore would be out very little money, in the longrun, in the construction of these

> But there is practically no grounds whatever for expecting that the State would ever assume the payment of bonds for the construction of mere local or county roads not included in the state highway sys-

Nevertheless, it is expected that a movement will be launched soon after the beginning of the new year for the construction of a county system of hard-surfaced roads. Those roads are badly needed and would be a great boon to the people of the county, provided the cost of building and maintaining them is not prohibitive.

PULLING ORANGES OFF

THE TREES J. W. Warrick got up and hiked away from here last week, taking his folks with him, down to the valley, where they don't pull cotton but do pull oranges. The News had the following card from him this week.

"Dear Mr. Hill: We arrived here last Thursday. Everything is O. K. nice and warm. We are eating fish and pulling oranges off the trees and eating them till they don't look as good as they did when we came. We will be here a month or two, so will be glad if you would send our paper here, as we sure want the Lynn County News. With best wishs, J. W. Warrick, Harlingen, Texas.

Marriage license was issued Tuesday to J. O. Eddings and Lela Pauline Hester of Lamesa, and Wednesday to Howard Miller White and Faye Helen Mayers of Slaton.
