Large AAA Vote Urged Saturday

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 5.—The outcome of the cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 7, will have a direct effect on every cotton farmer in Texas and the rest of the South.

For the votes of the hundreds of thousands of cotton producers in nineteen states will determine whether quotas will be in effect in 1941, whether the farmers who cooperate with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program will be protected from those who refuse to comply, and whether non-cooperators will be penalized for their failure to plant within their acreage allotments.

That's what the Texas AAA committee, meeting in College Station, pointed out to the cotton producers of Texas, all of whom are eligible to vote in the referendum, in a final statement before the voting begins at 9 a. m. Saturday.

"It is not necessary at this late date to point out again that we have on hand a two-year supply of cotton or that the war has deprived us of nearly all of our export market, but every cotton farmer should bear these important facts in mind when he goes to vote," the committee said. "Ample information has been supplied all farmers in regard to these factors. All farmers already are familiar with quotas and know how they operate. Understanding these matters, they will realize why it is so important that all who are eligible to vote do so."

The committee reminded farmers that everyone who shared in the proceeds of a cotton crop in 1940 is eligible to vote, regardless of whether he is complying with the AAA program. Two exceptions to this rule were

School Carnival Is Friday Night

Tonight (Friday) will be gala for those who attend the Tahoka Carnival, to be staged in the gymnasium at 7 o'clock, under the sponsorship of the Athletic committee of the high school.

Domino parlors, bingo booths, the cakewalk, a Crazyhouse, Ghost House, and Believe It or Not are some of the featured entertainments to be offered, along with many others. In fact, there will be at least one booth managed by each class of grade school and high school.

Candidates for grade school queen are: First grade, Joan Bennett; second grade, Peggy Pat Sherrod; third grade, Jan Edwards; fourth grade, Bobby Louise Cowan; fifth grade, Nancy Rae Weathers; and sixth grade, Colene Carmack.

325 Aliens Have Registered Here

Postmaster W. E. Smith reports that at least 325 aliens have registered at the Post Office here this fall in compliance with the recently enacted Alien Registration law. Nearly all of them are Mexicans, who are here or have been here helping to gather the cotton crop.

All aliens in this country must register and be finger-printed prior to December 27. If they wilfully fail or refuse to register they will be subject to heavy fines and imprisonment. It is believed that none will so fail unless through misinformation or lack of information. All are urged to come in at once and register before the Christmas rush begins if they have not already done so.

Scout Banquet Here Tuesday

Boy Scout leaders of the Southeast division of the South Plains Area Council, about 120 strong, will hold their annual banquet at the American Legion hall here Tuesday night of next week. Towns represented will be Post, Slaton, and Tahoka, with a prominent speaker from Lubbock.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Tahoka Rotary Club, and R. P. Weathers will act as toastmaster. The local Scout committee, composed of W. E. (Happy) Smith, John Slover, J. B. Oliver, and Carl Owens, and Scoutmaster W. A. Reddell and assistants A. R. Milliken and L. A. Forsythe are working out details for the entertainment.

All Boy Scout leaders, parents of Scouts and anyone else interested in the Boy Scout movement is invited to attend the banquet simply by purchasing a ticket to the affair, Happy Smith informs the News. This is a worthy enterprise, there will be an entertaining program, and Mr. Smith hopes that a large crowd of Tahoka people will take advantage of the occasion.

5,700 Bales Of Cotton Is Ginned

Cotton harvesting in Lynn county is drawing rapidly to a close.

The crop, which had been cut very short by the drought, was still further reduced by a November freeze which ruined most of the unopened bolls. The total production in the county therefore will probably be lower than any crop in recent years. In Tahoka only 5,732 bales had been ginned here up to Thursday morning. Probably thirty thousand or a little more have been ginned in the county.

Masonic Lodge In Session At Waco

Masters, Wardens and Secretaries of 896 Masonic Lodges in Texas, representing a membership of over 100,000 Master Masons in good standing convened in Waco at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon for an unusual conference preceding the formal opening Wednesday of the 105th annual communication of the Grand Lodge.

An impressive ceremony for the formal opening of the Grand Lodge Wednesday included a grand procession of the Grand Master, Past Grand Masters and Grand Lodge officers, followed by a salute to the United States flag. Grand Junior Warden Rogers Kelley of Edinburg delivered the address.

Mr. and Mrs. Price write back that they think Los Angeles is a very beautiful city and they are well pleased.

Two Bands Will Present Concert

Under the direction of John Hamblen, the Tahoka Junior and Senior school bands will appear in concert at the high school auditorium, on Tuesday night, December 17 at 7:30 p. m.

Harry Roddy and Buel Draper are in Waco this week attending the Grand Lodge of the Masonic fraternity in session there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Benson and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams visited in Lamesa last Sunday.

VOTE! IN THE COTTON MARKETING QUOTA REFERENDUM, DEC. 7

Cotton producers will have the opportunity on Saturday, December 7, to decide whether cotton marketing quotas, which have been in effect during the past three years, will apply to the 1941 crop. Every producer of cotton should go to his community polling place where he will be given a ballot, like the one shown above, on which to express his opinion. It is both a privilege and a duty of each producer to cast his ballot in the referendum. Whether the referendum is really representative of the farmers' thinking depends upon the number of producers who vote on December 7.

Methodists Build At New Home

Methodists residing at New Home and in that vicinity are raising funds with which to build a Methodist church at that place. J. R. Strain who was here Tuesday, reported that the people were responding liberally and that many contributions had been received from people of Tahoka, Wilson and other places.

The exact dimensions of the building have not yet been determined. It will probably be a frame structure with a stucco finish outside and nicely finished inside.

For a number of years there has been a Methodist Church at Dixie and another at Lakeview, both neighboring communities, but there has never been a Methodist Church organization at New Home until recently. The Baptist Church and the Church of Christ each has a church building there.

Price Employed In Airplane Factory

Friends here will be glad to learn that Sam Price, who moved to California two months ago, is now employed in the plant of the Douglas Aircraft Corporation, Los Angeles. Sam was engaged in business here several years and for some time served as deputy sheriff. Mrs. Price was reared here, being the former Miss Pearl Ketner, and served in a number of clerical positions here.

Almost immediately after going to Los Angeles, Sam accepted a position in a ship cable factory, which he held until the aircraft job opened up.

Mr. and Mrs. Price write back that they think Los Angeles is a very beautiful city and they are well pleased.

BAPTISTS WILL ATTEND S. S. CONFERENCE
Baptist Sunday School workers from most of the churches in Lynn county are planning to attend an all-day Sunday School conference to be held in Brownfield next Thursday.

Specialists in Sunday School work are scheduled to speak.

BUILDING NEW HOME
Work was started this week on a new home on West North Third Street for Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hanes. It will be a five room and bath structure.

Chester Connolly spent last week in Waco with the Committee of Works of the Royal Arch Masons which was in session there preliminary to the meeting of the Grand Lodge this week.

200 Questionnaires Sent Registrants

Up to Wednesday noon a total of 200 questionnaires had been mailed by the draft board to Lynn county registrants.

Members of the board were unable to state on just what day the next quota of registrants will be called for training but it will be within a few days.

There have been a number of volunteers in addition to those listed in these columns heretofore, five, to be exact, up to Wednesday noon. Of the five, one is a negro, Russell Mack, employed at the Limit Cafe.

The other four are: A. J. Whittington, Route 2, O'Donnell; Kenneth Rackler, Route 2, Wilson; R. M. Prather, New Home; and Roy Vernon Cunningham, Route 2, Tahoka.

Two of these, A. J. Whittington and Roy Vernon Cunningham are under twenty-one years of age.

Gattis Will Open New Drug Store

Shelves, fixtures and other equipment are being installed in the new Gattis Building on the west side of the square preparatory to the opening of a new drug store therein to be operated by Mr. Gattis himself. A pharmacist, Mr. Gattis says, has been tentatively engaged already and it is hoped that the store will be open for business by the middle of this month.

A cold drink fountain has already been installed and a sandwich counter is being constructed.

A snow-white stucco front above and an attractive plate glass front beneath makes this new store building look as neat and tidy as a new pin.

WEST POINT CLUB BOY WINS PRIZE

Robert Rusk, West Point 4-H Club boy, who entered a Berkshire pig in the Sears-Roebuck contest recently, won second place among the Lynn county entries. As a prize he has received 75 chickens.

Lynn county winners mentioned last week were: Zollie Lee Moore of New Home, first place; and Loyd McCormick, also of New Home, third place.

DEE PARKER GETS BUCK

Dee Parker was the only one who killed a deer when a party consisting of Dee, his brother, Pug, his dad, Sheriff B. L. Parker, Truman Hines and Jackie Weathers went hunting down in Mason county last week.

Although this was Sheriff Parker's second hunt in two weeks, he hasn't been lucky enough to get a deer.

Mahon Goes Back To Washington

Congressman George Mahon who spent last week in the District returned to Washington Saturday. Members of Congress had been authorized to return to their Districts, subject to the call of the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mahon left for Washington immediately upon the receipt of a telegram from Speaker Rayburn advising that important legislation would be taken up by the House December 2.

Mahon's Lubbock office will remain open as he hopes to visit the District again before the new Congress convenes in January.

Band Parents Elect Officers

The club has as its immediate objective the increasing of its membership and the making of uniforms for the Junior Band. An active year's work is being planned.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, December 17.

Farm Meetings Set Next Week

Since the AAA program has a direct effect on every farmer and ranchman in Lynn county, great care should be taken in electing the men who will administer that program in the county during the coming year.

That's the advice C. A. Lawrence Secretary of the county A. C. A. committee gave to AAA cooperators this week in reminding farmers that community meetings would be held on December 13 and 14 in the five districts of the county.

In the community meetings all farmers and ranchmen cooperating with the AAA have one vote each. At each of these meetings will be elected a delegate and alternate delegate to the county convention to be held December 16, the three-man community committee and two alternate committeemen.

At the county convention attended by the delegates from five districts, the three-man county committee and two alternate committeemen will be elected. The newly-elected committees will take office January 1 and will serve one year.

Community and county committeemen have very important duties to perform and these duties vitally concern the interest of every farmer in Lynn county. For this reason every farmer in the county should make a point of attending the meeting in his district to help elect the committeemen. Time and place for holding the meeting in each district are listed as follows:

District No. 1, Gordon, Friday night, December 13.

District No. 2, Tahoka, Saturday afternoon at 2:30, December 14.

District No. 3, Draw, Friday afternoon at 2:30, December 13.

District No. 4, O'Donnell, Saturday afternoon at 2:00, December 14.

District No. 5, New Home, Friday night, December 13.

Tahokans Hear Bobbitt Speak

Postmaster W. E. Smith, county chairman of Highway Week observance in this county, headed a party of seven Tahoka citizens who went to Lubbock Wednesday to attend the Rotary Luncheon given in the Lubbock Hotel and to hear Hon. Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the state highway commission, discuss the program and the problems of highway construction.

The other members of the party were Hon. Tom Garrard, Chester Connolly, county-judge-elect, Dr. E. Prohl, Rev. Geo. A. Dale, Mayor Deen Nowlin, and E. L. Hill. Representatives from many South Plains towns were also present.

Mr. Bobbitt made a most interesting address. Though his time necessarily was limited, he gave many facts that should be of interest to everybody interested in our highway program, especially county judges and commissioners. Calling attention to the fact that only two cents of the four-cent state tax is available for state highway construction and maintenance, one cent being allocated to the counties and one cent to the public school fund, he reminded his hearers that the Federal Government at this particular time is urgently calling for the construction of military highways as a part of its national defense program. Most of the highways we have will not stand up under the heavy traffic that the movement of troops and heavy war machinery will entail, as was demonstrated in East Texas and Louisiana during the recent military maneuvers. Therefore, it may be that a smaller amount of funds will be availing in the immediate future for ordinary highway construction than has been available in the recent past.

He assured his hearers that the highway commission was doing the very best job it can do with the funds available, and he also declared that most members of the legislature are honest and patriotic and earnestly strive to serve the best interests of the state. He appealed for sympathetic cooperation with them.

Myrtle Rochelle

Dan Daniel, who joined the army some time ago is a lucky guy . . . or so some might think, cause he's in the office now. No more marching and drilling from daylight till dark, for Dan just sits and keeps books on supply trucks. Before that he typed, so he appears to be making good. Randall Pulis is lucky too—he has a typing job.

Next week is Golden Rule Week—and though this business of setting aside weeks for this and that can get tiresome, it is a very good idea for us to pause in the hustle and bustle of preparing for Christmas, and look a little at the cause for that giving—a desire to make others happy. And what could keep people in general happier than for everyone to adhere to the Golden Rule—the policy of doing unto others as we would have them do unto us. Instead of dog eat dog, let's try it out for one week and see how it works.

And speaking of the Golden Rule, it seems strange to this writer and probably much stranger to the Chinese, for instance, that so-designated Christian country should have deviated so far from the foundations on which this great democracy was built as to furnish war materials to the Japs to bomb those innocent and already suffering people. Whether or not anyone were interested in foreign missions, or in the work of any church or mission, or even in any church, any American who deserves to be called that would probably have felt very much ashamed for others of our country had they heard Martha Jane Moore, 21 year old daughter of a deceased missionary to China who is herself studying to join her mother in that field, tell of the devastation and ruin that American planes have wrought in China the past several years. We had heard a lot about American planes being used, but did not know that until a short time ago, 90 percent of the planes used by the Japanese were American-made.

It was most instructive and touching to hear this charming young lady who was quite as lovely as any young lady we have ever seen, smartly but plainly dressed, tell of China and its troubles.

In the first place, although we knew that China was larger than the continent of Europe, much larger than the United States, with its outlying territory, we did not know that the Chinese comprise over one fourth of the population of the earth, and although the statement that there were almost 111 people per square mile in China was not so new—we knew they lived very crowded—it was hard to believe that most all of that population—90 percent according to the World Book—live in China proper, which is about one third of the total territory.

For one dollar a year—one dollar, mind you—missionaries can keep one refugee alive on rice, and yet there are millions dying from starvation and cold while the average American family spends $125 a year on liquor and only $1.25 on missions. Of course, we personally would not dare suggest that anyone forego a pint or two of liquor to feed a refugee or two—who cares whether or not the Chinese live? As long as we are safe and warm with our pint of liquor, what does it matter what happens to those dirty little starved Chinese?

We wish there were more space to tell some of the other things Miss

"Whole hams, halves, and slices may be baked", stated Miss Maurine McNatt Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Francis.

Ham is prepared this way: Wash, scrape, and soak overnight, wipe, dry and insert thermometer in fleshiest part. Ham is done when cooked about thirty minutes when the thermometer is about 170 degrees F.

Baked ham is usually placed in a rack without any water. Bake slow in oven for 45 minutes at 260 degrees F.

Plans have been discussed for our Christmas party December 18 at the home of Mrs. Andy Aycox.

There were twelve members and one visitor, Mrs. Pat Healy, present. Our next meeting will be January 5 at Mrs. J. H. Knight's.

GUESTS AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson had as their guests on "the second Thanksgiving" day, last Thursday, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Storrs, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Needles Jr., the latter a daughter, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Anderson of Laredo, where R. B. is stationed with the Army; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Anderson, O'Donnell; and J. B. Walker, Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hope Haynes visited friends near Lubbock last weekend.

Moore pointed out, for they were very interesting facts—how the Chinese have always looked on the United States as their big brother, and the fact that one is an American brings so much more deference from them than to be British, for haven't Americans sent them hospitals to care for the sick, haven't they helped (in a small way, but yet in a way) to feed a few of the hungry? Then why is it that planes made in the country of their friends are dropping bombs from that country?

We had not understood the problem that faces the officers of the Chinese army, made up of a people who speak not one language, but hundreds of dialects, so that many of them cannot understand the commands given them by their superior. It is hard to realize the cruelty of an enemy who deliberately waits until the people are clustered in their little villages to drop their bombs . . . in comparison, we cannot help but think Hitler is a piker.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Taylor; a daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Lee McCall and baby; a son, Robert Taylor, all of Bartlesville, Okla., who had spent nine days visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Hubert Tankersley and family at West Point, left Monday for their home. While here, Robert Taylor accompanied Messrs. H. R. C. T. and Joe Tankersley to Sanderson, where they shot a nine-point buck that dressed 195 pounds. On Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Tankersley were hosts at a venison dinner attended by Mr. J. T. Taylor's cousin, C. C. Taylor, and wife of Lubbock and Mr. Tankersley's relatives of West Point.

Miss Edna Dudgeon, who teaches in the Plainview Junior High School, spent her Thanksgiving holiday and the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. L. O. Dudgeon, and other members of the family.

Danger Ahead!

A borrowing-and-spending wave seems to be sweeping over Texas, gathering momentum as it goes.

Thirty-eight counties have recently held or called elections to be held this month calling for bond issues aggregating about fifteen million dollars for the construction of roads and highways within their boundaries.

About twenty-five of these counties lie in West Texas, more than half of them on the Plains.

The bonds are being issued or are to be issued with the expectation that the legislature which meets in January will vote for the State to assume the payment of these bonds.

It is also expected that the federal government will furnish WPA labor and a large portion of the expense in building the highways.

Of course the people back home will apply the pressure to the legislators representing the districts in which these counties are situated demanding that they vote for the state to assume the payment of the bonds.

In many instances, the demands will be just; for a few years ago the state assumed the payment of county highway bonds then outstanding amounting to a million dollars or more in many of the counties, while other counties had issued practically no bonds.

These counties which had small outstanding bonded indebtedness at that time can argue with much justice and plausibility that bonds which they are now proposing to issue should likewise be assumed by the State.

But not all of the counties now proposing to issue bonds fall in that category. Some of them had large highway bonded indebtedness at the time the bond-assumption amendment went into effect and the state has already relieved those counties of their onerous burdens by assuming their payment. In other counties, which had little bonded indebtedness to be assumed by the State, the State has since built many miles of fine highways, thus making amends to some extent for the injustice done them when the bond-assumption law went into effect.

But aside from all this, the assumption of these bonds would be a bad precedent. When and where would it stop? Pecos county is now proposing to issue a million dollars worth of bonds to be assumed by the State. Brazoria county is proposing to issue a million and a half. If all these bonds should be assumed by the State, then some other county might issue five million dollars worth of bonds and make out a good case for the State to assume that. Every county might issue bonds, some of them ill-advisedly, many of them for mere local or community roads over which the highway commission has no control, and expect the State to pay for them. When the precedent is once firmly established, it will be hard to break, with the result that hundreds of millions of dollars worth of bonds may thus be saddled upon the State.

It is reasonably certain that few of these bond issues would pass if the voters knew that the counties issuing bonds would have to pay for them.

They vote the bonds with the intention of passing the buck to the State. And the bigger the buck that any particular county can pass, the better the deal for that county, it is figured. Hence every county will make its buck as large as possible, and in the end the proposition narrows itself down to one of swapping dollars—or rather, swapping debts, and all get stung, for after awhile, the State will have a bonded indebtedness hanging over it that will make our present indebtedness look like a little Sunday School nickel.

And the people will have to pay the debt.

If the State is going to enter upon the policy of assuming the payment of county and local highway and road bonds, then it should at the same time adopt some standard basis limiting the amount and specifying the conditions under which such bonds will be assumed by the State. But even that would not be much assurance against being gypped, for the next legislature might be induced to loosen up and change the regulations.

As a matter of policy, we believe that the State should build a system of state highways just as rapidly as it can do so, with state funds—and that each county should be required to pay its own bonds.

An Inexcusable Neglect

The total vote cast in Texas for Presidential electors on November 5 as officially certified last Saturday was 1,041,168.

But the vote of thirty-three counties in Texas was not included in this total for the reason that the county officials in these counties had not made official returns to the Secretary of State.

We are not advised as what these

Odds and Ends See Eye, the Elder

We are going to ask the vice-presidents and the professional politicians to stand aside this week while we introduce to our readers, if any, one of the most remarkable little women that we have ever met—a little woman who was in Tahoka last week.

thirty-three delinquent counties were; but we do know that the officials in these counties whose duty it is to make the returns have been inexcusably negligent in the performance of their official duties. We have not taken the trouble to find out just what penalty, if any, is prescribed for such gross neglect of duty, but it is our opinion that if there is a penalty it ought to be imposed. If there is not a penalty, one should be provided by the legislature and it certainly should be enforced by the courts.

Of course, the votes in these counties doubtless would not have changed the results in any state or national contest, but what is the use for a person to vote if his or her vote is not to be counted? If a voter's right to register his will at the ballot box can be nullified by the pure negligence or wilfulness of some county official, then the right to vote in the first place amounts to little. When a county official is guilty of such negligence he is in fact tampering with a sacred right of the individual guaranteed to him by the Constitution and laws of his country and is interfering with the vital processes of our much-prized democracy itself.

We have called attention to such remissness on several previous occasions, but our weak little voice can not be heard far nor long and nothing has come of our protests. We believe that the newspapers and the courts and the legislators possibly should take this matter up and make it exceedingly improbable that anything like this may happen again in Texas.

The Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association recently passed a resolution favoring the creation of a new Oil and Gas Commission at the approaching term of the legislature to be invested, of course, with the duties now exercised by the state railroad commission pertaining to the oil and gas industries. While there has been a great hue and cry against the creation of any additional commissions and boards and for the consolidation of many that already exist, yet it does seem that there is little relation between the original functions of the railroad commission and the oil and gas industries. It probably would be well to have these functions separated and the regulation of oil and gas production and distribution placed under a separate commission.

Small of stature, brown of skin, strange of feature, yet she fairly beams with intelligence and has a personality that readily attracts attention.

We hardly know whether to call her a Japanese, a Hawaiian, or neither.

Her parents are Japanese; she was born in Hawaii; she is an American citizen, imbued with American culture and ideals, and at the present time lives in Fort Worth, Texas. She has forsaken the gods of her fathers and is a devout and militant Christian.

Her name? This little woman, ladies and gentlemen, is Miss Itsuko Saito. Naturally, we did not ask her age, but evidently she is in her middle or early twenties.

Her mind is as keen as a razor blade and as bright as a silver dollar; and when she stands before an audience to speak, as she did here twice last week, she has the poise and composure of a veteran platform performer, and she speaks with the ease and fluency of a master of the English language. Her pronunciation and accent are all but flawless.

Miss Saito and her parents doubtless have a thousand years, possibly several thousand years, of pure Japanese blood flowing through their veins. For untold centuries their ancestors lived in Japan.

But came the time when living conditions in Japan became hard, and countless thousands of the Japs turned their faces toward other lands. When Miss Saito's father had grown to manhood, he felt the urge to get up and go—to cast about for a better environment. He heard of the enchanting Hawaiian Islands that lay four thousand miles out from his native Nippon in the Pacific Ocean, toward the Rising Sun—and toward America.

He took passage on a ship and landed on Oahu, the most populous of the Hawaiian group. That was in 1911. He found employment on a sugar plantation and prospered. The future looked rosy. In a few months he decided to return to his native land and seek a companion. A bride soon was selected in the approved Japanese fashion, and the two young people, who had never met until shortly before their marriage, set sail for Honolulu, to make their home on beautiful Oahu.

Itsuko was the second child born to the couple. Since the Hawaiian Islands since 1900 have constituted a territory of the United States, Itsuko was and is a native-born American citizen, with all the rights and privileges accorded to any other American citizen living in any territory that has not been admitted to statehood.

Therefore, she neither was required to register as an alien under the recently enacted alien registration law nor has it been necessary for her to undergo the process of being naturalized in a federal court in order to enjoy the privileges of citizenship. She can walk up to the ballot box on election day, if she is armed with a poll tax receipt, and cast her vote, even as you and I. We did not ask her whether she voted in the recent Presidential election. Probably she did. At least she could have done so if she so decided.

Her parents, of course, are not American citizens, not unless they have been naturalized in some court in Hawaii.

When Itsuko was six years old she started to school—to two schools in fact. She attended the public school, in which the English language is taught, and at the same time her parents sent her to a Japanese school.

In Hawaii there are many races and many religions. A number of the Protestant Christian denominations have long maintained missions in Hawaii. A little Baptist mission had been established in the town in which Itsuko lived by a Scotch Canadian, and some of Itsuko's little friends invited her to attend with them. She accepted the invitation and became interested. Strange as it may seem, her Sunday school teacher in that little Mission Church was a Chinese woman.

In the course of time, little Itsuko to the great disappointment of her parents, accepted the Christ of the Missionaries and soon became an ardent Christian.

Soon there was born in her soul an intense desire to learn more of the Bible, more of the white man's God, and she dreamed of the time when she might attend a Christian college in America. How impossible it seemed! She was only a penniless Japanese child in far-away Hawaii. The family had grown to be a large one and the parents had met with financial reverses. Besides the parents were not friendly to Christianity.

But time passed on. Itsuko finished high school. She had the unexpected opportunity to enter a Government College, but she also had an opportunity to go to work in a doctor's office. She says that she had a feeling that she should go to work, and she did. She now firmly believes that the hand of God was in it all.

After she had been in the physician's office a few months, Dr. M. E. Dodd of Shreveport, Louisiana, who had been visiting mission points (Continued To Next Page)

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gribble.

He was accompanied to Tahoka Thursday by Rev. R. A. Partlow, superintendent of Field Work of the Presbyterian Church, who has visited and preached in Tahoka a number of times.

W. R. Perry of Ewing, Indiana, visited his daughters, Mrs. Jesses Benson and Mrs. Frank Greathouse, here the first of the week.

METHODIST CHURCH

As we approach the Christmas season we will do well to get ourselves in that frame of mind known as the Christmas spirit. The real Christmas spirit is one of peace and good-will. This is best obtained by meditating upon the Christ in His stay upon earth as well as His advent. With this in mind our sermon topics for several Sundays will be upon the Christmas theme. "The Stars that Lead to Christ" will be the first one Sunday morning. In the evening we wish to remember that Sunday will be Bible Sunday and give the written Word our main attention. It is not out of place now season to remind each one that our Christmas offering will go to our Orphanage. The Conference season was made joyous by the splendid program in song and reading offered by the Methodist Home. Now that generous donors have made a new building possible we must maintain it with these Christmas gifts.

Note change in evening services—League, 8:15. The evening worship will be at 7:00.—Geo. E. Turrentine, Pastor.

"Build-Up" Relief Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress. Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

An Unusual Occupation

A man made application to us for help. He told us he had, not long ago, farmed, but due to ill health he had to give up his place. Since giving up farming he worked at whatever jobs the neighborhood afforded.

The wife has canned several hundred jars and cans of a variety of fruits and vegetables. She traded work for vegetables to can; she furnished the seeds for a garden, a neighbor planted them and the vegetables were divided.

The Home Supervisor takes quilts from town to this woman to be quilted. She does good work and just needed someone to get the work to her home.

The two children who are at home helped with the income. The daughter is industrious and a hard worker. She makes quilts, does embroidery work and she is a good cook. She has an NYA job at the local high school where she is a senior. The boy, eleven years old, milked a neighbor's goats for milk for his father to drink.

After the father improved in health, but was still unable to work he knew he must do something to be employed to keep in a good frame of mind. He took the small scraps left from the daughter's quilt-making and started piecing a quilt. At first the stitches were long and looked like clumsy hands had made them.

The people in the community, who are typical West Texas people, learned about the ingenuity of this man and his family. They brought him scraps they had and he kept busy and happy working on this new industry.

He now has four quilts completed and half of another. The last work on the quilts is fine; the stitches are small and the colors are selected and put together in an attractive manner. He is now making a quilt for the Missionary Society. Thinking of helping others has kept this family happy and interested in the community affairs.

Now the ambition of this father is to make a quilt for all his children and grandchildren. One of these would be a prize to any one.

ODDS & ENDS...

In China, stopped over in Honolulu on his way home. He called at the office of the physician, who was a friend of his. Miss Itsuko had the great privilege of meeting him. She poured out to him the desire of her soul. He promised to see what he could do. He returned to Shreveport, where he was pastor of the First Baptist Church. In a few months she had a letter from him inviting her to come to Shreveport, where he had secured promise of a scholarship for her in Dodd College.

She went. In college, she worked to pay expenses. By hook and by crook she made her way through, and was awarded a scholarship in Baylor University. She worked her way through Baylor. And then she was awarded a scholarship in Fort Worth Seminary.

Itsuko Saito's faith is marvelous. She sees God's hand in everything. Often she has been in dire need. She as often has gone on her knees, and her need has been supplied.

Often she has been absolutely without funds and without any inkling as to where necessary funds might come from, and then in simple faith she has talked to God, and as miraculous as it may seem, the funds came, from some unexpected source, just in the nick of time.

We have not seen such faith, "no not in Israel"—nor in America. And so Miss Saito is going back to take the gospel to her own people, mayhap to her own parents.

These parents, be it said, are not enthusiastic about the career planned by their daughter. They still worship in the temples of Buddha. They still cling to the fetish of ancestor worship as brought down to them by their fathers and their fathers' fathers from the mists of antiquity. Perhaps they still believe that the emperors of Japan were descended from some mythical Sun gods. They are still bound heart and soul by the fatalism and hopelessness of Buddhism.

It is to break these shackles and bring hope to a spiritually impoverished enslaved people that Miss Saito is taking back to them the open Bible and the great promises that it contains. She will go with the zeal of a crusader, with the keen intellect of a daughter of Nippon, and with the faith of a martyr. We know not what the future holds but we believe that Miss Itsuko Saito is to have a marvelously fruitful life work.

At least, she is a wonderful little

TEXAS FOLKLORE SOCIETY TO ISSUE ANNUAL PUBLICATION

AUSTIN, Dec. 5—It's no tall Texas tale that Mustang herds of 40,000 roamed the Great Plains—it's an understatement on the part of pioneering "Big Foot" Wallace.

In "Mustangs and Cow Horses," Texas Folklore Society book, Frank Collinson, an Englishman mustanger and cowman of El Paso, writes authentically of herds of 50,000. Edited by Frank Doble, Mody C. Eoatright, and Harry Ranson, of the University of Texas, the sixteenth annual publication of the 31-year-old Society, will be released within a few weeks.

Contributing to the most complete collection of horse lore yet compiled, are such authors as Doble, John A. Lomax, G. C. Robinson; artists, Bugbee, Will James, Ed Borein, Charles M. Russell, along with mustangers and cowmen of the seventies.

Highway Bond Elections Called

With two small boxes unreported, the votes of Hockley county last Saturday by a vote of 710 to 161 authorized the issuance of bonds in the sum of $345,000 for the construction of a highway extending north and south through the county together with four lateral farm-to-market roads.

Of course the voters of Hockley county are expecting these bonds to be assumed by the State by action of the legislature which meets in January. They are also expecting these funds to be supplemented by federal aid.

An issue of bonds in the sum of $290,000 was recently authorized by the voters of Terry county for the construction of this same highway through Terry county from the Hockley county line to Brownfield and also the construction of Highway No. 137 from Brownfield to the Dawson county line.

Dawson county is to vote on a $300,000 bond issue on December 23. Included in its program is the designated highway from Lamesa to the Terry county line, and presumably some lateral road construction.

In Scurry county a road bond election for $600,000 has been set for December 26 to build a road and highway network for the county.

Castro and Deaf Smith each voted $600,000 last Tuesday, and Hartley is to vote on a $450,000 issue on December 28.

Lamb county is to vote on a $300,000 issue on December 21.

Other Plains and Panhandle counties to hold elections soon are: Martin, $250,000, on December 7; Hall, $500,000, on December 14; Floyd, $300,000, on December 14; Farmer, $550,000, on December 21; Swisher, $100,000, on December 21; Collingsworth, $500,000, December 28; Hale county, $400,000, December 28; Briscoe, $180,000, December 28.

Other West Texas counties on the mat include: Baylor county, $425,000; Foard, $365,000; and Pecos, $1,000,000; all due on December 28; and still other counties which are contemplating elections but have not yet set the date.

A number of other counties in other parts of the state have like-

Transportation Is Vital To Defense

AUSTIN, December 5.—The Texas Motor Transportation Association, lending full cooperation to automotive agencies in the observance of Texas Highway Week December 2-6, is making a study of the fact that the State highway system holds the spotlight as one of the key links in the national defense set-up because of the long Mexican border on the south and the extensive Gulf Coast line on the east.

Texas highways will be called upon for vastly heavier service when the rearmament program gets into full swing and the thousands of motor vehicles, motorized guns and the mechanized infantry and supply units of the army begin moving in large numbers between the many military training bases in the state, L. B. Brown of Houston, president of the TMTA, declared here today.

Proper national defense agencies have designated 6,375 miles of the Texas highway system as a part of the strategic military network. The state highway department and cooperating agencies are pushing efforts to get additional federal aid money from national defense appropriations to speed the construction of the military network to minimum standards, since it is estimated it would take seven years to do this with the amount of money now available to the state highway department annually from all sources for this mileage.

wise called or recently held bond elections. Brazoria county, down in south Texas will hold an election on December 14 on a proposal to issue bonds in the sum of $1,500,000.

Voters in all these counties are expecting their bonds to be assumed by the state when the legislature meets in January. Some of them have made the issuance of the bonds contingent upon their assumption by the state.

Total amount of bonds recently authorized and that will be authorized, no doubt, this month already amount to about fifteen million dollars.

Strong opposition in the legislature is expected to develop, however and it may be that body will refuse to authorize the State to assume their payment.

New Legislators Study Needs Of State Colleges

The News editor was an innocent bystander in Canyon last Saturday while a group of two Plains Senators and two Plains Representatives—elect—made an inspection of the buildings and grounds and studied the needs of the West Texas State Teachers College at that place with a view to gaining first-hand knowledge and being able to vote intelligently respecting appropriations for that institution in the approaching session of the legislature.

A similar study has been made or will be made by these Plains legislators of the Texas Technological College.

The four legislators who met in Canyon Saturday were Senator Marshall Formby of Spur, Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, Representative Jack Little of Amarillo, and Representative Hop Halsey of Lubbock.

Formby and Halsey are ex-students of the Texas Tech while Hazlewood is a graduate of the West Texas State, later studying law and serving as district attorney of the Amarillo district.

Following an orchestra concert given by the director, Wallace R. Clark, and his students, the legislators were introduced and made brief but snappy and sparkling speeches to the faculty members and the student body who had assembled in the auditorium.

In the afternoon, the visitors were shown through the Administration building and the needs of the institution were laid before them by

GRASSLAND BASKETBALL GIRLS WIN; BOYS LOSE

The Grassland Basketball boys and girls played their first games last week. On Thursday night, Graham came to play with us on the new gymnasium floor. The Grassland girls were victorious with a 17 to 13 win. The Graham boys took 16 to 9 win over the home boys.

On Friday night the New Lynn teams came over. Again the girls made an 18 to 10 win. The boys lost to the New Lynn group 18 to 5.

The teams and the faculty were especially pleased to see so many patrons out to boost our basketball teams. We will do all we can to make them proud of having our teams to boost and back.

Dr. J. D. Donaldson, who is taking his internship in St. Anthony Hospital in Oklahoma City, was here from Thursday until Saturday of last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson, and his brother, Claude Donaldson and his family.

the President of the College, J. A. Hill.

A report was made by the gentlemen from the South Plains respecting some of the needs of the Texas Tech also, and that both institutions have been the victims of shameful discrimination and neglect by the legislators from other sections of the state and sometimes by governors was painfully apparent to all.

As an example, not a cent has been appropriated for repairs on the buildings of the West Texas State Teachers College for years. Other needs are just as pressing.

The West Texas Boys declare that they are going to fight for a fair deal for both these West Texas institutions during the approaching session of the legislature.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently.

Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

That's the ingredient which enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to help tone lazy bowel muscles. It is the main reason for the satisfying relief from constipation that generally follows next morning when BLACK-DRAUGHT is taken at bedtime. The millions of packages used are proof of its merit.

Lubbock Lawyers Hurt In Car Wreck

Durwood H. Bradley and W. D. Wilson, prominent Lubbock attor- neys, were seriously hurt early Mon- day night when their car was in collision with another car occupied by three persons, who were also hurt, on the highway between Semi- nole and Seagraves five miles north of the former city.

Bradley, former district attorney, suffered a skull fracture, a cut over the left eye, and fractures of the right knee and elbow.

Both were taken to a hospital in Seagraves for treatment.

Orville Hensley, driver of the other car, suffered a severe injury to one of the legs and it was feared that amputation would be necessary. Mrs. Hubert Hensley, his sister-in-law, in the car with him, suffered frac- tures of the left arm and shoulder and lacerations of the left leg, while her little three-year-old son, Buster, received serious internal injuries.

Senator G. H. Nelson and Franklin D. Brown of Lubbock, law partners, reached the scene soon after the ac- cident and carried Bradley and Wil- son to the Seagraves hospital. The others injured were taken in an ambulance to Seminole. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Just how it happened that the two cars collided almost directly head- on was not immediately ascertain- able.

Mrs. Birdie Humphries visited T. Cowan and family here last week end. She was accompanied to Can- yon Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cain, where she went to visit her sister, Mrs. S. W. Cain, Alton's moth- er. Alton and wife returned home Sunday night.

Miss Frances Scott of Dallas, a trained nurse, has come to nurse her father, John M. Scott, during the period of his recovery following the operation which he underwent last Friday.

NEELY BROOKS IS IN ALAMAGORDA HOSPITAL

Last report from Neely Brooks, who underwent surgery in Alamagor- da, N. M., Monday night, was that although his condition was still seri- ous, he was resting well.

Mr. Brooks had gone to Alamagor- da for a truckload of fruit when he was stricken by appendicitis and rushed to a sanitarium. His wife was notified, and she immediately left for his bedside in company with her brother-in-law, Lee King, and Mame Hill, who drove the truck back.

When the party arrived, they found that gangrene had set in, and phoned back to Tahoka to report on the seriousness of his condition. His mother, Mrs. L. E. Brooks, his brother, Leo, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. S. McKaughan rushed to Ala- magorda. Remaining at his bedside are his wife and mother. The others returned Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rev. George A. Dale attended a meeting of the Executive Board of the Baptist State Convention of Texas in Dallas Monday afternoon and night. He was recently made a member of this board, now consist- ing of eighty-five members, at the state convention in Houston.

Mrs. Boyd Smith and Mrs. Clyde Spruiell visited the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams, at Draw Sunday.
