Farmers, Business Men In Meeting

Farmers from all parts of Lynn county and business men of Tahoka and other communities were gathered here as The News goes to press late Thursday for the big Farmer-Business Man barbecue to be staged just west of the high school campus at 7 p. m. and the meeting to follow in the high school auditorium.

Fully 400 tickets had been sold in advance for the occasion, and it was believed that fully 500 people would be in attendance.

Fred McGinty, president of the Lynn county AAA organization, and Secretary C. A. Lawrence had left nothing undone to make the occasion a magnificent success.

Cliff Day of Plainview, prominent agricultural leader, and Paul G. Haines, organizer for the A. & M. College extension service, were expected to be the main speakers of the evening.

Other talks were expected to be made by Hon. Tom Garrard, Jasper W. Savell, H. W. Calaway, and Mrs. Paul Lawson.

A welcome address was to be given by Lamar McLaurin of O'Donnell. Response on the part of the business men was to be by Ray Weathers.

Meeting with the farmers and their wives were members of the Tahoka Rotary Club, who dispensed with their regular meeting Thursday noon to attend the AAA barbecue, as well as farm women and wives of other business men, also expected to attend.

Boys And Girls Week Planned

The week of April 26-May 3 has been designated in the United States as National Boys and Girls Week.

Boys and Girls Week originated as Boys Week through the Rotary Club in New York City in 1920. The movement has spread rapidly and today participation in the week is practically world-wide.

The National Boys Week Committee for the United States was formed a few years after the first celebration of Boys Week to promote the observance in the United States. Then when local communities began to include girls as well as boys in the program, the name of the week was changed in response to popular demand. It is now known as Boys and Girls Week.

The object of Boys and Girls Week is to focus public attention upon boys and girls, their potentialities, and their problems, to the end that increasing numbers of adults may be awakened to the opportunities of youth service and inspired to participate. Another purpose of this week is to emphasize the importance of a sound body, a trained mind, and spiritual growth in the complete development of the boy and girl, and to emphasize the important functions of the home, the church, and the school in such development. A special object of the observance this year is to emphasize the need of instilling in the boys and girls the love of country and respect for its laws and established institutions and of bringing to each the realization of his duties and responsibilities as a citizen.

In keeping with the national observance, the faculty and officials of the Tahoka Public Schools are sponsoring a Recognition Service and Visitors Night for Tuesday night, April 29 at 7:30 at the grade school and high school buildings.

Rev. Ben Hardy Is Improving

Reverend Ben Hardy, who underwent an operation for the removal of a cataract from his left eye last week in a Big Spring hospital, is showing much improvement, his daughter here was informed.

Mrs. Helen Eubank, the daughter, returned to Tahoka from her father's bedside last Friday. A letter which she received from a brother in Big Spring Tuesday said that a test of Rev. Hardy's sight during changing of bandages showed remarkably speedy recovery.

Mrs. Hardy is still at her husband's bedside.

Tahoka Civic Clubs Will Sponsor "I Am An American" Day In County

As noted in another column in this paper, steps are being taken to observe "I AM AN AMERICAN" Day in accordance with the proclamation of President Roosevelt.

Representatives of the public schools, of the Rotary Club and of the American Legion are requesting that the President or other representative of the Parent-Teachers Association, the Phebe K. Warner Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club, and of the Women's organizations of the various churches meet in the county court room at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon,

April 22, to plan the program for the occasion.

It is also planned to have every community in Lynn county represented on this occasion.

The program has not yet been arranged but it will doubtless consist of a patriotic address, patriotic songs and readings, and good band music, as well as other features.

An able speaker for the occasion will be procured.

The date for the "I AM AN AMERICAN" Day celebration is Sunday afternoon, May 18. The place will probably be in the City Park in Tahoka.

Visitors' Day Set At Local Schools

By Ruby Nell Smith

Identity of the best all-around boy and girl of Tahoka High School will be un-announced until the night of the Recognition Service and Visitors' Night Tuesday, April 29. At this time students doing outstanding work on their various school activities and maintaining a "B" average in their scholastic work will be recognized.

Two representatives from each of the five classes in high school have been selected to be honored as the ten outstanding students in the school and their identity will not be known until the night of the service. The name of the citizen to receive the medal for distinguished service to the school during the current school year also will not be revealed until that time.

Basketball boys and girls, football boys and students winning first place in some event in the Lynn County Interscholastic League meet will be presented their awards at this program. To be eligible for one of these awards the students must meet the state requirements.

Honor Students Are Selected

Announcement was made this week by school officials of the highest ranking students in the senior class and seventh grade of the Tahoka schools.

Lenore Anglin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Anglin, is valedictorian of the senior class with an average of 95 1-8. Eleanor Dudgeon, daughter of Mrs. L. O. Dudgeon, is salutatorian with a high average of 94 3-4. Highest ranking boy of the graduating class of Tahoka High is Glen Loyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Loyd. He has an average of 93.

These highest ranking students are determined by their grade during the first five six-weeks periods of the current school year.

Billy Jo Cowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Anderson, is the highest ranking student in the seventh grade with an average of 93 4-7. Johnnie Mae Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Anderson, is salutatorian of the class, having an average of 92 4-7. H. B. McCord Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCord, earned the title of highest ranking boy in the seventh grade with an average of 90 1-4.

Enlisted Men's Names Wanted

The News is this week publishing a little more than a hundred names of youths and young men of Lynn county who have recently enlisted or been inducted into some branch of the military, naval or air service, but the names of many volunteers do not appear in this list.

The News has been requested to procure the names of all such persons whose names do not appear in the list published this week, and the News will be glad to publish same.

Not only the names but the correct address is desired. Parents or other relatives should write out the correct name and address and leave it at the News office.

Methodist Revival Is In Progress

Revival services being conducted at the Methodist Church are daily growing in interest, according to Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine, the pastor. The size of the crowds is growing also.

The evangelist, Rev. R. N. Hucklebee, has a unique and interesting way of presenting the gospel message, and he holds the undivided attention of his audiences.

The music is being led at the morning services by the pastor and at night by Mr. John Hambien, high school band director, and the song services are inspiring.

Rev. Hucklebee spoke to the students of the high school at 2:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Young people as well as the more mature folks are especially desired in the services.

The revival will continue through next week.

Sam Garrard, who enlisted in the Army a few months ago, is here this week visiting his father, Hon. Tom Garrard.

Ground Soaked By Good Rain

Rain which seems to have covered Lynn county like a blanket fell in varying but abundant quantities during the early hours of Monday.

Reports have come from practically every community in the county to the effect that a half inch to an estimated three inches or more had been fallen, while claims were made that four or five inches had fallen a few miles south of O'Donnell in Dawson county.

Coming at a time when the top soil was being dried out by stiff westerly winds, this rain was just exactly what farmers were beginning to feel that the country needed. The soaking rains of three weeks ago had wet the ground deep but this rain put a stop to the sandstorms and made people feel confident that another good crop year is upon us.

The precipitation was not as heavy in Tahoka as it was in most other parts of the county. The rain gauge kept by the News registered .76 of an inch. A sprinkle Tuesday morning brought an additional .02 of an inch.

The small wheat patches are looking fine, and the pastures are covered with a thick mat of green grass and weeds.

General planting of feed crops is expected to begin immediately.

Tuberculin Tests Given Students

Only eleven students out of the 250 tested in Tahoka high school last week showed reactions to the tuberculin tests, according to Dr. Brummage of the County Health Unit. This is considered a very low percentage, he said.

Reaction to these tests means that the person tested has at some time in the past, or now has, the tuberculosis germ in his system, and indicates that further tests and possibly treatment for tuberculosis should be made. It also means, Dr. Brummage states, that the child's entire family should be tested.

This is the first large school in this section to give the tuberculin tests, though tests were recently given at Plains, Yoakum county, and at West Point in this county. At West Point, there was a reaction on only two children out of the thirty tested.

No tests will be made at this time among the grade school children.

Transportation Aid Funds Received

A check from the State for $5,223 was received Monday by Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, county superintendent, to be applied on transportation expenses in this county during the current school year. Another check for the same amount is expected about the first of May.

The check received represents the first half of the transportation aid fund allotted to this county and the next check will represent the second half.

Townsend Man Speaks Tonight

Judge W. W. Stevens, national representative of the Townsend organization, will speak at the American Legion Hall here tonight, according to S. H. Howell, who has requested that we make the following announcement:

Hear and learn the cause and cure of America's greatest problems, Unemployment and Poverty, explained by Judge W. W. Stevens. Music and song by Mrs. Stevens.

The Townsend Recovery Plan is the American way to prosperity.

At Legion Hall, Friday, April 18, at 8:00 p. m.

Free! Everybody welcome.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Tahoka golfers this week end are starting play in the first of several tournaments scheduled for the golf season. The first is a flag tournament in which each golfer is given a handicap, and with eighteen holes to play he plants his flag when his handicap score is reached.

The local course has been greatly improved the past week.

School Per Capita Funds Received

County Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell reports that she received a check from the State Thursday morning for $1,057.50 representing $1.50 per pupil for the state apportionment of school funds for scholastics in the rural school districts of Lynn county for the current year of 1940-41.

This makes a total of $16.50 per pupil received thus far. The total apportionment for the year is $22.50 per pupil.

Tech President Class Speaker

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Technological College of Lubbock, will make the commencement address to the Seniors of Tahoka High School and their guests Friday night, May 16, in the high school auditorium. Charles Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, will introduce Dr. Jones to the audience.

Due to a change in arrangements Dr. Jones will appear on the commencement program as main speaker instead of Mr. Guy as stated in last week's issue of The News. However, Mr. Guy will also appear on the program and will be a guest speaker.

Dr. Jones has only accepted our speaking engagements at commencement exercises this spring and the Tahoka Senior Class is indeed fortunate in securing Dr. Jones and Mr. Guy to appear on their commencement program.

Members of the Senior Class of Tahoka High School received word Tuesday that Rev. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian Church in Lubbock, would not be able to deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

School Districts Name Trustees

The commissioners court on Tuesday canvassed the returns of the school trustee election held throughout the county on April 5, and the names of the new trustees together with the holdovers is given below.

J. K. Applewhite was elected county trustee in lieu of C. C. Connelly, who relinquished the office upon being sworn in as county judge of Lynn county. B. D. Ballew of O'Donnell, member of the old board, was re-elected. Other members of the county board are W. W. Caswell of Draw, B. W. Baker of Wilson, Fritz Speckman of Lakeview. County Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell is secretary.

Trustees elected for Rural High School No. 1, Draw-Redwine, are: Graham Hensley, new, J. E. Sheriff, re-elected. Holdovers are T. C. Beard, L. B. Jones, and Dutch Crawford.

Rural High School No. 2, which is composed of New Home, Petty, Lakeview, and Joe Stokes; Fox Middleton, at large, W. H. Timmons, for Lakeview. Holdovers are: J. H. Izzard, Wayman Smith, A. C. Pillin.

Father Of Tahoka Man Dies In Slaton

Elbert Monroe Rudd, 68, father of Elzie Rudd of Wilson and Bernard Rudd of Tahoka, died at his home in Slaton on Thursday morning of last week and was buried in Slaton Friday afternoon following services in the Baptist Church there. He had been a resident of Slaton for twenty years.

Survivors include the widow, four daughters, four sons, one brother, and one sister. The daughters are Mrs. C. W. Dodson of Southland, Mrs. L. P. McKinley, Lubbock, Mrs. E. R. Mathis and Mrs. W. L. Palmer of Slaton. The sons other than those mentioned above are: Luther and E. M. Rudd Jr. of Slaton. The brother and the sister reside at Center, Texas.

O'Donnell Seeks East-West Road

Deeds for the right-of-way for the new highway to be constructed west from O'Donnell leading by the Arizona Chemical plant and thence southwestward to a junction with La Mesa-Seagraves highway near Welch—a distance of about fifteen miles—have been prepared and placed in the hands of the commissioners courts of Lynn and Dawson counties.

Most of the right-of-way lies in Lynn county, and Waldo McLaurin, county commissioner of precinct No. 3, the O'Donnell precinct, will proceed to get the deeds signed up as promptly as possible for that part of the right-of-way lying in this county. It is understood that the Dawson county commissioner for that portion of Dawson county will likewise proceed immediately to get the deeds for the right-of-way also signed.

This proposed highway was approved by the state highway commission several months ago, but no definite promise was given as to when work on the project might be expected to start.

The highway will give an outlet to the west for a large territory embracing the south half of Lynn and the northern portion of Dawson county, and will be of especial value to the people of O'Donnell and vicinity.

The project was sponsored by the O'Donnell Rotary Club.

100 Lynn County Boys In Service

More than one hundred Lynn county youths are now in military service or training, according to information given to the News this week by Mrs. Lois McMahon, secretary of the local draft board.

Fifty-five men have been inducted into the training service by the local board. Of this number, forty-one volunteered, only fourteen men having been drafted thus far.

In addition to these, many registrants have volunteered in the regular army and other branches of the service, for a three-years' term of service.

And, in addition to all these, thirty-six Lynn county men volunteered for service—thirty-three in the army and three in the Marine Corps—before registration day, and their names therefore do not appear on the registration rolls under the selective service act. These names have been furnished to the local board by Selective Service Director Dykstra of Washington, D. C. It is known that there are still a few others who volunteered before registration day whose names have not yet been certified to the local board from Washington.

Furthermore, five Lynn county men have recently volunteered for training and are now awaiting the next call to be inducted. These are Thurman Muri Kilgore of O'Donnell, under 21; Herbert Gall Smith of Tahoka, order number 284; Henry Orvell Collins of O'Donnell, order number 796; Willard Wood of O'Donnell, under 21; D. S. Reno, route 1, Tahoka, order number 1270.

Those who volunteered and enlisted in the service before registration day, as reported to the local board by the Selective Service director at Washington included the following:

Army: Noel Weldon Alphin, Ronald Chester Bean, Ted Howell Boydston, Henderson Willie Brady, J. C. Carpenter, Clyde Edward Crowder, Thomas Wilson Dansby, Eugene Debenport, Cecil Weldon Dolloff, Louis H. Dolloff, Homer Rueben Edwards, Bennie Joel Emanuel Jr., David Lee Hill, Herbert Leonard Lamb, John Straley Lawler, Roy G. Montgomery, Yeator Moore, Weldon Wood Noble, Harion J. Pate, Tillman Shirley Powell, Jim Raindi, Joe Frank Raindi, Murrell Britian Ramsey, Lonnie Edward Ratliff, Robert Lee Rogers, Hall Dayton Shannon, Ray Smithe, Noble James Taylor, Jimmie Alonzo Williams.

Mathews Discusses Labor Situation

Perhaps no man in Lynn county has read more literature respecting communism, socialism, and labor unions in this country than Fred Mathews now of the Draw community. He has written to the News the following communication giving his views respecting these matters, which appears below.

Well, to boil down this labor situation, I consider we are in a state of anarchy. This original draft law should have been: Draft labor, industry, possibly agriculture, and every eligible person between eighteen and sixty-five; and I believe the President should declare an emergency and suspend our present form of Union activities.

Now I am a firm believer in and am accepting the theories advocated by the Unions that our old systems outlive their usefulness, and I believe that the present system of labor unions has outlived its usefulness and must be replaced with something fair and in order to give the common herd a decent chance for a living.

Now the way I get it, the old Knights of Labor was somewhat a

JUDGE GOAD WRITES FROM DALLAS

In renewing his subscription to the News a few days ago, Judge P. W. Goad, now of Dallas, wrote: "We surely do look forward to the coming of The Lynn County News, which we think is the best weekly newspaper published in the state of Texas. For nearly twenty years now I have been reading it and I think I know whereof I speak, so keep those good editorials coming on."

In another paragraph Judge Goad says: "We like Dallas fine and the people have been real nice to us, but we surely do miss the good old Western hospitality of the good folks of Lynn county and most especially do I miss the good fellowship of the Tahoka Rotary club."

Judge Goad says that he is enjoying his work very much, though he never knows one week where he may be the next. However, for the past six weeks he has been at work right in Dallas.

His duties consist of the examination of any and all insurance companies doing business in Texas, "from the largest old-line legal reserve companies to the smallest burial associations."

long the lines of the C. I. O., which takes in nearly every type of worker and has stood for somewhat more equalization of wages; and it was overthrown by the A. F. of L., which stood for limiting apprentices and gave only the chosen few an opportunity to learn trades and kept the noses of every other group to the grindstone; and thus it (the A. F. L.) has made city and government construction costs prohibitive and is retarding development of needed public works through unreasonable wage scales and silly jurisdictional rules. And it seems, as the sworn evidence unchallenged shows, that some of their highest officials have actually been convicts, members of the old Al Capone mob, and connected with other rackets.

The C. I. O. seems to be the outgrowth of the old I. W. W., which claimed that the A. F. L. was an aristocracy that combined with capitalism for the exploitation of unskilled labor and that the margin between skilled and unskilled labor was too great. However, under our present emergency, it seems the C. I. O. has even left off this virtue, which we all know is a fact; and if the leadership is actually Communist it has done Earl Browder a dirty deal by not rushing to his aid in proportion to what they did for Bridges. However, while Browder preached the doctrine of dictatorship of the proletariat, which meant apparently that the labor union heads dictated a considerable portion of Stalin's policy until the Finnish War, when Stalin saw that would be his finish, and apparently other courses had to be followed.

If this sounds a bit balmy this week, it's because we're a bit intoxicated from the scent of a huge bouquet of lilacs cut for Mrs. Lum Haney's breath-taking hedge. If you don't make several trips a day by the Haney's each spring just to look at that hedge and get a sniff of its elegant perfume, you just don't like lilacs.

Have we mentioned before the large redbud in Mrs. J. K. Applewhite's yard? There are many beautiful ones in town, but we believe hers to be the largest and consequently the most beautiful.

A little birdy says C. W. Convery has been holding private conferences with the O'Donnell aldermen—fishing for the mayor's job, C. W.?

'Tis said that one reason Walter Winchell is so popular as a columnist is not so much his findout-ability as his knack for coining new words, which he calls language.

So, while Hattie prays for a man, the farmer prays for rain, and the doctors pray for a good epidemic, yours truly prays for some cute little ideas to bowl 'em over.

Imagine our amazement when through our thick skull there penetrated a pun which we personally (without bragging) think is fitting. Of course, like Helen Keller, we may have read it somewhere and forgotten—perhaps from Mr. Winchell in person—but we're taking the credit for this little firm name for the Dictators, Incorporated: "Hit 'Er, Muscle-In, Nip 'Em and Stalling." And that's our bid for fame

Joe Belle Milliken says the only thing she can think of she would rather see come to Tahoka than that proposed air school with its 500 men, is just something or other with 1,000 men—any thousand.

I have talked to and cross-questioned some Communist friends and I can tell the public that they are the worst muddled bunch of us all; just like the rest of the public, they would like to know where Stalin stands.

Well, the rest of us know where we stand. We know that regardless of the righteousness of this war Hitler is out for revenge and for our scalp next, and for a wider scope of racial intolerance, which is now disorder rather than new order.

NEW HOME FARMERS' CO-OP MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Cooperative Association No. 1 of New Home will be held at that place on Saturday, April 26, according to announcement made by H. S. Eubanks, manager.

The meeting will begin at 1:00 p. m. and in addition to the business to be transacted, refreshments will be served.

should term Internationalists and are out for a do-or-die showdown to compel all workers into the C. I. O., and they should have a perfect right to do this under normal circumstances. However, they should be disbanded completely for the duration of the war.

Normally I think the principles of the C. I. O. are less evil than the A. F. L. However, the C. I. O. has a much larger proportion of foreigners and cares less for our overthrow to some other nation. I believe it would be best for farmers to affiliate with the present Farm Bureau and that they will find it necessary to work with even agricultural worker groups and all farm-minded groups to stop this parity argument, which claims labor receives 200% above normal farm prices and industry 150% above same, and work it out to knock out the parasites and also to bring down the skilled labor prices.

If a good portion of this were to happen, it might bankrupt all of us. However, I am just giving a general outline. Now the Babson statistics show that if the farmer received the same price for his labor and ran under the same system as the building trades, steak would sell for $3.00 a pound, eggs for $2.00 a dozen, and milk for sixty cents a quart.

Now think of it, that we are crying for European markets and the English run: iron and steel worker receive $1.75 a day; the English carpenter all-union scales, $3.60; plumber, $3.00; bricklayer, $2.75 a day; and last year a bunch of Italians from El Paso came into Lubbock and raised the bricklayers' scale to $1.50 an hour, and they had only three apprentice bricklayers for the state of Texas.

Still we are told how noble it would be to erect 100 hospitals for infantile paralysis, which has been branded essential, and my advice is for the public to go on an anti-public-construction strike until we wake up. Now is it not silly to tie up our emergency work for this clamoring for $8.00 a day with the soldier boy receiving $21.00 a month?—Fred.

CHAS. TOWNES IS ROTARY SECRETARY

In writing up the election of officers of the Tahoka Rotary Club for last week's News, we failed to mention the fact that Chas. Townes, efficient secretary of the organization for the past three years, was re-elected by acclamation for a fourth term.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Sanders, long time residents of the Edith community, with their son, Robert, and his wife, were here last Friday from their home at Littlefield, visiting with Oscar's daughter, Mrs. Lee Sanders. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders are moving to Lubbock, where Robert has employment.

Grassland Church of Christ Plans Meeting

With three preachers scheduled to do the preaching, the Grassland Church of Christ will begin a series of gospel meetings next Sunday, April 20.

Eugene Long of Tahoka will begin the meeting on Sunday morning. He has announced his subject for the morning hour "The Figure of Him," and at the night service he will discuss "The Certified Gospel."

Beginning Monday night, Thomas McDonald, minister of the Southside Church of Lubbock, will do the preaching. Elder McDonald is heard every Sunday morning from 8:30 to 9:00 over the Lubbock radio station, and through this medium he has become well known on the South Plains. He will conduct services each night throughout the week.

The meeting is scheduled to come to a close on Sunday, April 27. Elder Liff Sanders will preach at both services on this date.

An afternoon service is planned for the 27th. A number of preachers are expected to deliver short talks, and an old-time song service is planned with visiting singers and leaders present from surrounding communities.

The public is cordially invited to attend all of the services.

Circus Coming To Tahoka April 26

After a lapse of several years, Tahoka is to enjoy a real circus. Dalley Bros. Circus is the name of the attraction, the day will be Saturday, April 26th, the sponsors will be the American Legion, and the place will be the four acre tract of the soft ball grounds near the light plant.

Dalley Bros. Circus does not boast of its magnitude, not claiming to be the largest, but it does insist on the high character of its performance which is given in two rings and on the hippodrome track.

This circus also is proud of its assembly of beautiful, youthful feminine performers, claiming to have the most beautiful girls ever seen with a circus, all with perfect figures. Not only are these maids good to look upon but they demonstrate their nerve and bravery as they cleverly execute dangerous thrilling stunts during the two hour program. The husky youths compete with the girls for honors as they too will present sensational stunts in the circus rings never seen in Texas before.

On account of the wars in Europe, most of the arena stars from over there fled to America. This and the fact that the number of circuses is being reduced this year, enabled the Dalley Bros. Circus to engage the cream of the circus profession on a contract basis which makes it possible for this high class circus to be offered at extremely popular prices.

The American Legion Post will receive a liberal share of the gross receipts from admission sales, and the Post is anticipating a profitable day Saturday, April 26th, as well as the satisfaction of bringing clean thrilling entertainment to Tahoka.

O'DONNELL HIGH GIRLS HAVE STYLE SHOW

Misses Myriene Cannon, home supervisor of the local FSA office, Miss Lucille Wright, director of Home Economics in Tahoka High School, and Mrs. E. J. Hill acted as judges in a style show at O'Donnell Wednesday afternoon when 29 first year girls and nine second year girls modeled the dresses they had made in class.

These girls under the supervision of Mrs. Warren Smith, director of Home Economics in the school, had selected suitable colors and patterns so that each garment contributed to that girl's individuality. Hence each of these neat, well-made, inexpensive dresses contributed much to the personality of the wearer.

Those receiving highest award on their work included: First year, Wanda Zell Everett, first; Virginia Adams, second; Margaret Sue Goddard, third. Second year, Eloise Shoemaker, first; Virginia Mae Shoemaker, second, and Evelyn Bettis, third.

THE GOVERNOR EXPLAINS

A friend has kindly furnished us a copy of The Austin Daily Tribune in which is published a recent radio address by Governor O'Daniel wherein he explains the contents of the bill which he has urged the legislature to pass setting aside $26,820,000 for old age pensions and other social security obligations.

He had been criticised for undertaking to have this sum set aside out of a depleted treasury. He explains that this money would not come out of the General Fund at all, in which there is a deficit of more than $25,000,000.

On the other hand, his bill provides that as the tax money comes in it is to be set aside into a special fund to be known as the Social Security Account, and therefore it would never get into the General Revenue Fund at all. In other words, he would dam up the stream of revenue that otherwise would flow into the General Fund and divert it into this new account, the "Social Security Account."

That is merely whipping the devil around the stump, for then, if the two houses of the legislature should fail to agree on a measure of some kind to greatly increase the amount of taxes raised, little tax money would be left to go into the General Revenue Fund with which to pay the other expenses of the State.

Governor O'Daniel adroitly says that his plan would make "preferred creditors" of the old folks, rather than those like himself, members of the legislature, and other employees of the state government. "It just turns the pie counter around end for end and puts the old folks, helpless children, indigent blind, and retired teachers at the head of the table," he says.

But he forgets to mention that it would also turn the table around and place at the foot of it half a million school children in Texas whose schooling is partially paid for out of the General Fund; that is would turn the tables around for the insane and the epileptics and the blind in our eleemosynary institutions; and that it would turn the tables around for all the necessary and indispensable expenses of government.

His explanation is the rankest sophistry, a shrewd demagogic deliverance. His purpose is to compel the legislature to enact some measure that would raise enormous additional taxes, such as his proposed "transactions" tax or a general sales tax. For by setting aside twenty-six million dollars of the first taxes that come in for the payment of the social security "obligations," it would be imperative for the legislature to provide other rich sources of revenue to pay the other expenses.

We would have more admiration for the governor if he would be frank with the people and would quit dealing in sophistry.

Nobody seems to fully understand Russia. Nobody knows what Stalin is going to do next. His course thus far indicates however that he is looking out after the interests of Joe Stalin first, and Russia second, and doesn't give a whoop for anybody else. He plays hot and cold with every nation with which his nation has dealings. His most recent stunt was to sign a non-aggression treaty with Russia's old-time enemy, Japan. That means that Russia agrees not to help the other side in case Japan is attacked, and Japan agrees not to help the other side in case Russia is attacked. Russia, therefore may act a little more "uppity" in dealing with Germany, and Japan may act a little more "uppity" in dealing with Great Britain and with the United States. So, if Great Britain gets cleaned up by the Nazis and Hitler then makes war upon or holds the threat of war over the United States, Japan may be expected to make a foray down into the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies on a hi-jacking mission. But if Germany should get licked or stalemated by Great Britain and her allies, then Russia may be expected to step in on the side of the allies in order to get some spoils. Neither Germany nor Italy nor Russia nor Japan is to be trusted as far as a pigmy could throw an elephant by the tail when their interests are at stake. It behooves the United States to get a big gun and keep it loaded for many years yet to come or until the murderous brigands that now rule all these countries are blown so far into eternity that a bomb hurled at them at a speed of a thousand miles a minute could not reach them in a million years.

For many years this government has been making at least a pretense of controlling the great corporations as to secure a fair deal for their employees and to protect the people at the same time against exploitation. If these efforts of the government have not been reasonably effective, then the government should redouble its efforts to that end. And right along with that, it should also take adequate steps to protect the corporations and the people against exploitations on the part of organized labor. At least this should be done in all contracts in which the government is a party. We do not believe that it is being done. We believe that the government has permitted itself to be syphoned by some union labor organizations whose members have been employed in the construction of training camps. For instance, when a plumber gets $1.50 per hour for an eight-hour day and $2.25 per hour for overtime, we think that is excessive pay. And when a labor union fixes the fee at fifty or a hundred dollars for admission into a labor union in order to hold down the membership and boost wages, we call that pure graft. We think that it is about time for this government to quit coddling labor union leaders and "appeasing" fomenters of strikes and take prompt and drastic steps to curb the power of labor as well as capital. We believe that regardless of the President's attitude, Congress should act at once.

FAKE ADVERTISING
(Claude's Comments in Memphis Democrat)

The song of a song book advertising salesman turned to a whine here Wednesday. A young woman from a town some 200 miles away sold some advertising on a song book for a neighboring town, and was questioned by law officers. She admitted she didn't live at the Hall County town at all, but far away, and that she had sold some $15.00 worth of ads on song books and (strange as it may seem) collected in advance, making the local merchants believe she was a local girl. She returned the money and got out of town hurriedly. The local chamber of commerce has been trying to protect the merchants of Memphis against this gyp advertising, and agrees to furnish song books FREE to any community in need of them. It has reached the point where it looks like local people would quit falling for these gyp schemes, and communities would quit being a party to them.

As this is written, it would appear from this distance that Great Britain is experiencing about the darkest day in her history, in so far as her existence as an independent nation is concerned. If it be true that she has lost her fight against the Nazis in Greece, it would seem to be only a matter of a short time when she will also lose completely the control of the Suez canal and the Mediterranean sea. It will then be a fight for her life, with her back to the wall, on her own little island home; and Hitler will have the power to strangle her to death without the necessity of an invasion, unless the United States can furnish sufficient aid with lightning-like rapidity to successfully combat Germany's war upon Britain in the air and under the sea. And the crushing of Great Britain means countless dark years ahead for the United States, war or no war. We have our wise (?) isolationists to thank for the predicament in which we are about to find ourselves and the other democracies of the world.

We do not yet know just who will enter the list as candidates for the U. S. Senate to succeed Morris Sheppard. Our youthful attorney-general, Gerald Mann, has already announced, and we believe that he has in him the making of an excellent United States Senator. Ex-Governor Dan Moody is also being mentioned as a possible candidate. He also would be a worthy successor of the able and beloved Morris Sheppard. Martin Dies is sure to run. He has considerable ability and as a member of Congress he has made quite a reputation as a fighter of communistic and other subversive foreign influences in this country. While we approve much that he has done along this line, we do not feel that he is the best Senatorial material we have. Then there is Governor O'Daniel. He will probably run; and if so, he will doubtless be a formidable candidate. He is a mediocre man but a wonderful campaigner. So, it would seem, there is plenty of fun in the offing.

For a long time it has seemed to a vast majority of the American people that President Roosevelt could render a fine service to his country by firing Sister Perkins out of the cabinet. As head of the Department of Labor, she has afforded much comfort to the communistic elements in this country. And along with her, Sidney Hillman might well be spared from the National Labor Relations Board. We do not need persons of communistic leanings in high positions in our government any more than we need those in sympathy with Nazism or Fascism.

Vegetable Laxative
Makes Happy Friends

Here's a laxative that usually acts thoroughly as harsher ones but is a gentle persuader for intestines when used this way: A quarter to a half-teaspoon of spicy, aromatic BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight; a drink of water. There's usually time for a good night's rest, with a gentle, thorough action next morning—relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, sour stomach, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT is a splendid combination of vegetable ingredients, chief of which is an "intestinal tonic-laxative" that helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. It's economical. 25 to 40 doses: 25c.

Girl Is Expert As Veterinarian

By Effie Loyd

Did you know that there is a veterinarian in Tahoka High School? Well, perhaps not what one would really call a veterinarian, that is, one with a license and all that; but there is a girl in Tahoka High School who helps her father doctor animals. Once when a horse on the farm ran through a fence and wounded itself, this girl sewed the wound with an ordinary needle and two strands of white twine, using kerosene oil for disinfectant. This is only one of the operations this girl has helped to perform. How many other high school girls can do these things without fainting?

Who is this girl?

None other than Adeline Woods. Her ambition is to be a doctor. She plans to take a pre-med course next fall at Texas Technological College at Lubbock. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cunningham of the Wells community are temporarily residing in the McDaniel apartments while Mrs. Cunningham is receiving treatment from a local clinic. Mrs. Cunningham has been suffering for some time with a stubborn case of gall bladder trouble. A daughter, Mrs. Violet Ricketts of Amarillo, is with her parents. Mrs. Ruby Collins of the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital in Brownfield and her sister, Mrs. Johnnie Clark, also of Brownfield, and Mrs. Clark's daughter, Mrs. Gladys Roach of Freeport, were recent visitors of their parents and grandparents.

Is Asking Aid for British Children

R. L. THOMAS

The school children of Texas are asked to aid the school children of England, who are suffering sorely as the result of German bombing, by R. L. Thomas, Dallas banker and former school teacher. Mr. Thomas has been named chairman of the Young America Wants to Help Campaign by National Chairman Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt. Young America Wants to Help is a division of the British War Relief Society. Mr. Thomas is urging the school superintendents and teachers of Texas to take up collections of pennies, nickels, dimes or quarters from their pupils to be used in aiding homeless and suffering English youngsters who are undergoing the ordeal of intensive bombing. State Superintendent L. A. Woods is Chairman of the Executive Committee under Mr. Thomas and leading educators of the state are members. Money collected in the schools should be sent to Eugene McElvaney, treasurer, vice president of the First National Bank in Dallas.

Permian Basin Oil Men Meet

Deen Nowlin, J. K. Applewhite, and Tom Garrard were elected Lynn county members of the board of directors of the Permian Basin association at its meeting in Lubbock Monday, and thereupon Deen Nowlin was re-elected a member of the executive committee of the association.

There are twelve members of this committee. They are, Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, chairman; T. B. Duggan Jr., Lubbock; John D. Mitchell, Odessa; Deen Nowlin, Tahoka; Carl Rountree, Lamesa; Ben F. LeFever, Big Spring; Fred Ellison, Fort Stockton; Ralph Oberholtzer, Seagraves; Cliff D. Wiley, Big Spring; William R. Sewell, Levelland; B. H. Hayward, Big Spring; and McRae, retiring president.

The president of the association is Paul C. Teas of Lubbock.

Approximately 200 oil men, chamber of commerce officials, and leading business men were present.

President McRae, in presenting his report, discussed matters of taxation as pertaining to the oil industry.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of the Texas Technological College, delivered the welcome address. Response was made by James N. Allison, editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram and president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The keynote address was given by Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock. He traced the growth of the Permian Basin from the beginning of the XIX Ranch, citing legislative discrimination against this section, and declaring that redistricting of the state is now the most important issue now pending in the legislature. He praised Representative Hop Halsey for succeeding in getting a redistricting bill passed in the lower house.

CARD OF THANKS

We just wish to express our thanks to the friends in Tahoka and in our home community for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness of Mrs. Cunningham. Especially do we appreciate the flowers sent to us.—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cunningham.

FSA MAKING MANY FARM LOANS

Sixty-five loans totaling $55,588 have been made through the Farm Security Administration during the first three months of this year, according to County Supervisor Jack Welch.

Out of the 65 families borrowing through the Farm Security Administration 23 own their land, five have one year leases on their land, four have two year leases, 24 have three year leases, six have five year leases, and one has a ten year lease.

Thirty-two tractors have been purchased, as well as milk cows, poultry, etc. Minor improvements have been made on several of these farms. Poultry houses, sheds, and garden fences were built in most cases. This also includes money to operate during the year.

These loans are made repayable from one to five years, depending on the size of the loan and expenses, and income worked out with the family on a farm and home management plan.

Eleven farms have been purchased by tenants in Lynn county through the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act. These farms average a little better than 200 acres to the unit. Six sets of new improvements have been built and three remodeled. The two remaining will be completed within the next month.

Water facilities loans are now in progress in the office. These loans are available to farm families at 3% interest and repayments may be made up to the life of the facility.

GERM CARRYING FLY IS DEADLY MENACE TO ALL

AUSTIN, April 17—Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"Control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city and individual in the State," urges Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," he said. "Flies breed in filth, and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her lifetime of several months one housefly lays from 600 to 1,000 eggs. Thus it can easily be seen that in a season, which usually begins in the spring of the year, the descendants from one fly number countless thousands.

"To eliminate flies, breeding places must be destroyed. Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the requirements of warmth, moisture, and food necessary for the propagation of the fly. The flies should be kept from contact with food or drink or utensils in which such food and drink are prepared and served. Likewise, they should be kept from access to privy vaults where they pick up the infections which they later spread to humans by contact with food and drink and by unwashed hands and utensils. See that your windows, doors and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor will not molest your family. Also, see that your grocer keeps his meat, vegetables, and fruits free from flies.

"Organized health measures to destroy the breeding places, control of flies' access to your homes and food, and established standards of cleanliness in your community will eliminate the fly. The number of flies is an index to the cleanliness of any community, and they can be entirely eliminated."

CHILD GUIDANCE CLUB

Dr. E. Prohl gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "The Importance of Proper Vitamins in the Diet of Children" when the Child Guidance Club met with Mrs. Truett Smith, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Douglas Finley gave a short talk on "Training of the Pre-School Child."

During the social hour refreshments were served to Meses. E. Prohl, James Clinton, K. R. Durham, Douglas Finley, Coy Fielder, R. H. Gibson P. A. Nowlin, W. C. Huffaker, Jr., Jack Welch, Alton Cain, Rollin McCord, and Mrs. Fred B. Hegl, who was a guest, and to the hostess, Mrs. Truett Smith.

Mrs. Alice Fortenberry, J. W. and Genell visited relatives in Welch on last Sunday.

BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD WILL ORGANIZE MONDAY

In accordance with plans made a few weeks ago, a laymen's organization known as the Baptist Brotherhood is to be effected at the Baptist Church here Monday night.

Preceding the organization, a "feed" will be served, and Truett Smith will preside as toastmaster.

The principal speaker of the occasion will be Lyman Wrenn, prominent business man and noted church worker, of Snyder.

Brief talks will also be made by the pastor and a few of the laymen present.

A committee to nominate officers for the new organization consists of H. P. Caveness, E. J. Cooper, and Garland Pennington.

An attendance and membership committee, which is supposed to be hard at work preceding this meeting, consists of C. A. Lawrence, Dr. K. R. Durham, and Deen Nowlin.

L. D. Howell was appointed to arrange a musical program for the evening.

The food committee is composed of A. L. Smith, Coy Fielder, and Vick Botkin.

A serving committee to function in preparing and serving the "eats" is made up of Claude Conway, H. O. Hargett, and E. W. Shawn.

Every layman in the church is urged to be present to enjoy the program and the feast. The speaker of the evening is said to be exceptionally good.

Mrs. Frank Kelso of Roff, Oklahoma, who had been here visiting her sister, Mrs. W. M. Harris, left Monday for Corpus Christi to join her brother and family there for a trip to Alabama and other southern states. Mrs. Kelso came to Tahoka on Wednesday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Harris, when they returned from a visit in her home.

Henry Ford Says:

Thinking is the hardest kind of work—which is probably the reason so few engage in it.

The "recovery" we need most is of our American spirit of independence.

Take all the experience and judgment of men over 50 out of the world and there wouldn't be enough left to run it.

The best thing about obstacles is that they make us prove ourselves. Some of life's keenest satisfaction comes from doing things we thought we couldn't do.

There are no dead ends. There is always a way out. What you learn in one failure, you utilize in your next success.

To put in the hands of all people the means for a freer, broader and more healthful life—I don't know of a better purpose in life than that for anyone.

The man who cannot think is not an intelligent man, no matter how many college degrees he may have.

TREE PLANTING STUDIED BY PETTY 4-H CLUB

"Care should be used in placing trees in the yard," said Miss Maurine McNatt, home demonstration agent, at the Petty 4-H Club meeting Tuesday night, April 15, at the school.

"Trees should never be set in a straight line unless they are used in a wind-break. They should be at the side and at the back to form a frame for the house, protect windows, and furnish a shade for special places. It's best to grow them in uneven numbers."

All seven members were present. The next meeting will be on May 5, with the sponsor in charge.

TAHOKA STUDENTS IN TECH HONORED

Miss Edith Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Robertson, and Miss Mary Margaret Tunnell, daughter of Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, students in the Texas Technological College, were recently elected as members of the Forum organization of that institution, an honor accorded to fifteen women students for scholarship and outstanding work on the campus.

This is the third year in succession that these young ladies have been accorded this honor.

Odds and Ends See Eye, the Elder

Well, folks, just a personal word as an introduction to this column this week.

Many, many years ago, when I was a farm lad just nineteen years of age, I entered the University of Texas as a student.

It was a rather bewildering experience for a lad who had never before seen a college or university campus and who had never before even visited a town as large as Austin.

On the campus were boys and girls from many homes of wealth and culture as well as from the humbler homes. Some of these, of course, assumed a supercilious attitude toward us uncouth country boys, but I soon found that there also were some of these cultured fellows who seemed to take a special interest in us "greenhorns". I still remember with deepest gratitude two young men especially, who kindly took me under their wing, as it were, and tried to make me feel at home.

I remember also one polished, cultured young fellow, about my age, who already had been in the University two or three years, and he was one of the most popular young fellows on the campus. Though small of stature, he was trim of figure and had a kindly, beaming face, and he attracted attention in any company.

Literary and debating societies then had a great part in the life of University students. There were two of these societies at that time, the Rusk and the Athenium.

The first meeting of the Rusk society for the year was an open affair and a great occasion. Almost the entire student body of the University, then numbering possibly five or six hundred—that was in 1894—attended the meeting.

On the program that evening was the cultured young fellow mentioned above. His name was Morris Sheppard. He delivered an eloquent oration on The Life and Character of Thomas J. Rusk. It was a literary gem, and the audience sat or stood entranced during its delivery. Anybody who heard that oration knew that the young man who delivered it was sure to be heard from in the halls of state at no distant date.

Morris Sheppard's father himself served several years in Congress. He died while serving in that capacity. Morris Sheppard in the meantime had graduated both in academic studies and in law, and was a young practicing attorney in one of the towns of his father's district. Perhaps it was Pittsburg. Upon his father's death, he announced for the office. He was then only 27 years old, and other men of more experience and greater reputation also announced. One of these was Judge Armisted of Clarksville, district judge there, and Judge B. P. Maddox, of our city, heard a joint discussion at Sulphur Springs one night during that campaign between Judge Armisted and youthful Morris Sheppard. Armisted made a strong presentation of his cause, Judge Maddox says, but when Morris Sheppard arose and began to speak he at once commanded the attention of every person within the sound of his voice and soon it seemed that the entire audience was soaring with him as he scaled the heights of eloquence.

To make a long story short, Morris Sheppard was elected. He served in the lower house for ten years, with distinction.

When Joseph W. Bailey resigned his seat in the United States Senate early in January, 1913, an election was called to choose a successor, and Morris Sheppard of Texarkana and Jake Wolters of Houston became opposing candidates.

For the first time since our school days, it was my privilege to hear Morris Sheppard in an eloquent address in Sweetwater during that campaign; and when Jake Wolters during the same campaign came to Roscoe to speak I yielded to pressure on the part of some of my friends to introduce him, though I was a supporter of Sheppard.

Judge B. P. Maddox of this city tells this story respecting that campaign which he heard years ago from the lips of Jake Wolters himself.

Sheppard, as is well known, was an ardent "dry", while Wolters was just as ardent a "wet".

Furthermore, the two men differed on the tariff issue. Sheppard held to the traditional view of the Democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only, while Wolters, living in that section of the state where the lumber industry was important, favored a protective tariff on American products.

So, thinking to put Sheppard in a hole, Wolters made this proposition to Sheppard: That he would pay Sheppard $500 to meet him in a joint discussion on the tariff issue at some designated point in southeast Texas, possibly Livingston, where a protective tariff on lumber was popular, and that he would also pay Sheppard $500 to meet him in joint discussion on the prohibition issue in San Antonio, where prohibition was very unpopular. Wolters knew that he would have the crowd with him at each of these discussions. Perhaps to his surprise, and certainly to his delight, Sheppard accepted the challenge.

Well, the debate on the tariff issue was held, and Maddox says that Wolters afterwards told him and others that in that discussion he found out that Morris Sheppard knew more about the tariff in a minute than he knew in a life time. Sheppard, he admitted, had whipped him to a frazzle, and of course he paid to Sheppard the $500.

He was sure, however, that he would get sweet revenge in San Antonio, for San Antonio was a hotbed of anti-prohibition sentiment.

So, the coming event was widely publicized and touted. When the time for the discussion arrived a great crowd was there. Wolters forcefully presented the usual anti-prohibition arguments and of course received much applause.

And then Sheppard took the floor. It so happened that a few weeks prior to this debate, a citizen of San Antonio had been killed in a brawl in a San Antonio saloon. The killing was of such a nature that it had been given much publicity and had elicited much discussion in the city. The wife and several children of the victim had been left in almost indigent circumstances, and the good woman and the little children had the sympathy of "wets" and "drys" alike.

Speaking to a crowd which was overwhelmingly hostile to prohibition, Sheppard began his discussion in that fine, genteel, suave manner, of which he was a master, which commanded tolerance and respect for his views on the part of his auditors and effectively disarmed opposition.

Gradually gliding into a discussion of the evils of the liquor traffic and carrying his audience with him as he intensified his arraignment, he proceeded to elicit his point by calling attention to the recent tragedy in a San Antonio saloon which had taken the life of one of their citizens and left the wife a widow and made orphans of the innocent children.

Then he paused to explain the proposal that had been made to him by his opponent and the reasons for his acceptance of the proposition.

With that he drew from his pocket the $1,000 that had been paid to him by Jake Wolters to meet him in joint discussion in the two cities, and dramatically announced that now he proposed to donate it to this widow and these helpless children who had become the victims of the damnable institution he had been denouncing.

That electrified the audience. It went wild.

Morris Sheppard, the prohibitionist, had become the hero of the debate in the very hot-bed of liquor-dom.

Be it said to the credit of Jake Wolters that these two whippings at the hands of Morris Sheppard never embittered him. On the contrary, it made of him a great admirer of his eloquent and noble antagonist.

On another occasion, in a later campaign, Judge Maddox says that Wolters was asked by someone if he expected to support the Democratic ticket. He replied emphatically that he did expect to support it from President to Constable, and that of all the candidates Morris Sheppard would receive his most ardent support.

Be it said further to the credit of Jake Wolters, that, although he was of German extraction and devotedly loved the Fatherland, yet he was ever loyal to every interest of the United States of America and was an ardent supporter of this country against Germany in the Great World War.

And so, because Texans admired the fine character and were charmed by the lofty eloquence of this native son, Morris Sheppard, because they loved this truly good and great man who grew up among them, they grieve today because of his untimely passing, feeling that in devotion to duty he laid his life on the altar of his country. May Texans forever enshrine in their hearts the memory of this great representative of theirs in the United States Senate.

"Build-Up" Good News For Suffering Women

Much of women's periodic distress may be unnecessary!

Many who suffer from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, or other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI.

Main way it helps relieve periodic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juices. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances.

Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CARDUI until "the time" has passed. Women have used CARDUI more than 50 years.

Childers Boys Making Good

Dave Childers of Lubbock, for many years manager of the T-Bar Ranch west of Tahoka, was here Monday greeting friends, and in conversation with a representative of the News he stated that "Uncle" Cas Edwards, who died early Thursday morning of last week, was ninety years of age, instead of 91, as stated in the News, having been born on January 29, 1851. Otherwise the facts respecting his life and activities were correct.

Mr. Childers also stated that his son, Jack Childers, who graduated in the high school here a few years ago, now taking an aviation course at Camp Moffett near San Francisco, will finish the course and receive his "Wings" on May 10th. He is one of two Lubbock boys who will finish the course out of the eleven who enlisted for training.

His other son, David, who graduated in the Lubbock high school after removing to that city from Tahoka, is working in an airplane factory at San Diego but intends to take a course in aviation himself beginning some time soon. Formerly he was employed in the Douglass factory at Los Angeles.

As is well known here, his daughter, Mrs. John Harding, the former Miss Lorene Childers, is now secretary to Dean Gordon of the Texas Technological college, while her husband is a teacher in that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hager and little son, of Hammon, Hale county, and Mrs. R. O. Dye of Plainview, returned home Monday afternoon after a week-end visit here with Mr. and Mrs. James E. Dye. Mr. Hager and Mr. Dye are long-time friends, while R. O. Dye is a nephew of the Judge.

Miss Marjorie Howard of Hollis, Oklahoma, spent the early part of the week here visiting her cousins, Patricia Hill, and Joan and Jean Henderson.

Why does a Golf Ball bounce?

EVER notice that a golf ball, when you drop it, bounces higher than something hollow, like a tennis ball?

That's partly because of internal pressures, which also have so much to do with Buick's extra FIREBALL power.

Rubber threads inside a golf ball are packed tight, highly compressed. When flattened against a hard object, like a sidewalk, they come back harder, with more push, and so the ball bounces higher.

A similar thing happens inside a Buick FIREBALL straight-eight cylinder.

Fuel compression pressures are higher here than in any other standard-production automobile engine.

So when the spark jumps in the tightly-packed, fuel-fat ball of gas-mixture at the top of the stroke—the Buick piston goes rushing down with more push, more shove, more power than the same amount of fuel gives up elsewhere.

Result: every Buick engine travels farther per gallon this year than the same-size engines did last year, while Compound Carburetion* with Buick FIREBALL design gives as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon.

In fact, if you're buying any car this year, it's pretty important to see and drive a Buick before you're through; it's Number One in smart engineering as well as Number One in solid, rock-bottom, all-round VALUE!

MEIN KAMPF

Of interest to readers of Hitler's book, "Mein Kampf," is the following passage appearing in Chapter XII: "The British nation can be counted on to carry through to victory any struggle that it once enters upon, no matter how long such a struggle may last or how great may be the sacrifice necessary, or whatever the means that have to be employed; and all this even though the actual military equipment at hand may be utterly inadequate when compared with that of other nations."

In the Great Seal of the United States there are 13 stars, 13 stripes, 13 arrows in the eagle's talons, 13 clouds in the glory, 13 letters in the motto, 13 laurel leaves, 13 berries on the branch, 13 feathers in each wing, 13 feathers in the tail.

DALE REPORTS ON TRIP

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale returned Wednesday evening from Dallas, where they had been attending the State Baptist Sunday School convention of Texas. Rev. Dale concluded a two weeks revival at the North Park Baptist Church in Sherman last Sunday night but expects to be in his own pulpit here next Sunday. He reports a fine meeting at Sherman with 31 additions to the church. There was a large attendance at the Sunday School convention, at which helpful conferences were conducted by the strongest leaders in the South. Among the leading speakers were C. Oscar Johnson of St. Louis, R. G. Lee of Memphis, John S. Hill of Nashville, and many others.

METHODIST REVIVAL IS IN PROGRESS

The revival in progress at the Tahoka Methodist church is growing in interest each day, since the first service last Sunday night.

The evangelist, Rev. R. N. Huckabee, is doing the preaching twice daily. The music and singing is being done well by home talent. In commenting on the revival plans, the Rev. Mr. Huckabee said: "During these days together we will endeavor to paint the black story of sin as it is recorded in the Bible, as we have seen it enacted in West Texas, and as it is being unfolded before our eyes today.

"This horrible story will be contrasted with the liberating possibilities of life flowing from the abounding grace of God. Men who love freedom for themselves and children will be asked to join a crusade against the devil and all his works.

"A Christian patriotic rally is called for Tuesday night, April 22. All ex-service men and their families are invited to be the special guests of this community meeting. All lovers of the American way of life, with respect for human beings, reverence for God and devotion to virtue, home and righteousness and little children, are urged to come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty.

"The mighty forces of religious indifference and personal indulgence have overthrown many strong nations, and threaten the very existence of everything we hold dear. Come, patriotic citizens of Tahoka and community. Join us in prayer and effort for revival of religion, united with fundamental Americanism."

Oregon has the best record of any of the states in infant death rates, according to the census. Deaths of babies under one year in Oregon amount to only 35.5 per 1,000 live births, compared to a national average of 48.

World activity in chemical research has slumped about 13 per cent since outbreak of the European war.

The problem that confronts us all is to make money first and then to make it last.

The News had a card from Mrs. J. B. Nance Thursday stating that Mr. Nance is in a sanitarium in Plainview for treatment. He is doing very well but does not know when he will be able to come home. They formerly lived at Plainview.

Elder M. V. Showalter, minister of the local Church of Christ, was accompanied here by his wife last week end. It was the first time Mrs. Showalter had accompanied him to this preaching charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen of near Lubbock visited relatives here Sunday.

Recognition For New Citizens

COTTON SEED TREATMENT

Many cotton growers and cotton seed breeders of Texas and Oklahoma have proved how successfully seed treatment with CERESAN reduces seed rotting and sore-shin, improves stands, saves costly replanting, generally increases yields. From Temple, Texas, tests are reported in which "germination was doubled and seedling diseases greatly reduced." An Oklahoma circular states: "The investment is nominal... may be repaid many times in saving of seed and in improved stands and yields." Rely on CERESAN! Treat your own seed, or buy seed marked with the Ceresan Treatment Tag.

RECOGNITION DAY. In 1940 the Executive Committee of the Texas State Teachers Association gave its approval to the plan and suggested that local units of the Association take steps to provide, in 1941, in their respective areas, for special programs honoring citizens just coming of age, along with newly naturalized citizens.

The movement has already gained considerable headway, and many locals report definite plans for a county-wide observance of this special day. Parades, patriotic music, inspiring addresses, and the reading of great historical documents are among the program features already planned. The movement has made considerable progress in Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, and Alabama. Texas will make a fine showing this year.

In these days when democracies are being overthrown, in these days when young people are confused and groping for the answers to a thousand and perplexing questions, in these times when there is too little appreciation of the right of suffrage and too much abuse of this sacred citizenship privilege, the observance of Citizenship Recognition Day seems to offer a fine opportunity for every community in the state to supplement the citizenship training given in the public schools by publicly impressing its new citizens with the responsibility they assume in becoming voters. The teachers of Texas are sponsoring the movement but they will need the sympathetic cooperation of all other groups if the observance of this special day is to attain the largest results.

Upon the suggestion of Supt. W. T. Hanes, the Rotary Club recently took steps to have this day observed, in Tahoka, and it is believed that the other organizations of the town will join in and give it their active support. A worth-while program will be arranged and the people of the entire county will be invited to join in the celebration.

L. F. Frazier has been hopping around on crutches this week as the result of infection of a bruise of the left foot sustained when a heavy box which he was moving around in his truck got on top of the member. It is being treated by a physician and it is hoped that he will be able to dispense with his crutches before the end of the week.

Billy Hill, Linotype operator for the News for the past year, is in Amarillo at the present time doing work as a sub on one of the Amarillo papers. He was accompanied to Amarillo last Friday by his sister, Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle, who returned to Tahoka Monday.

FORMBY ANNOUNCES WILL SUPPORT OMNIBUS BILL

Declaring that he believed it is necessary for the State to raise at least $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 to meet its social security obligations, Senator Marshall Formby of McAdoo, Senator of this District, said this week he intended to vote for the Omnibus Tax Bill, soon to be voted on by the State Senate.

"The last Legislature did not raise any money," Senator Formby said, "and it is up to this Legislature to see that a sufficient amount is raised to pay the aged citizens, the dependent children, the blind, and to match the school teacher retirement. We also need about two million dollars to build new structures for our State Hospitals," he added.

Recently the Senate voted an appropriation of more than $600,000 for new buildings at the Big Spring State Hospital. This bill has not been acted on by the House yet. Hundreds of insane persons in Texas are today sleeping in County jails, or on the floors of hospitals, it is pointed out, and the new buildings at Big Spring will help take care of these patients.

"I have always been opposed to a sales tax," Formby said this week, "and I think we can raise this money by a fair tax upon natural resources and upon other taxable products. We have already disposed of one big issue when we raised the truck load limit," Formby pointed out.

Senator Formby expressed satisfaction with the Senate confirmation of Reuben Williams as Highway Commissioner, saying that he believed Mr. Williams would make an outstanding Commissioner and that he would truly represent West Texas. Mr. Williams formerly lived in Big Spring, in the 30th Senatorial District.

C. C. Stuteville, late of Comanche county, came up a few days ago to remain indefinitely in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lawrence, Mrs. Lawrence is his daughter. Mrs. Stuteville died a few months ago.

Girls Are Advised To Build-Up For Relief

Lack of knowledge causes many a weak, undernourished girl a lot of suffering!

Many others, however, know how the headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by the proper use of CARDUI.

Some take it a few days before and during "the time," to help ease periodic distress. But CARDUI's principal use is to help increase appetite; stimulate the flow of gastric juice; so aid digestion, assist in building up physical resistance and thus help reduce periodical distress. Women have used CARDUI for over 50 years.

Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, county superintendent of schools, attended a state-wide meeting of school administrators in Temple on Thursday of last week.

She reports that the main topic considered and discussed was the twelve-grade system proposed for Texas schools. The plan was endorsed by an almost unanimous vote, she says, and it was recommended that State Superintendent L. A. Woods work out the details of the plan so as to make it workable.

About twelve or fifteen hundred school administrators were in attendance, she says.

Also in attendance from Lynn county was Superintendent T. C. Fanning of New Home.
