

ODDS & ENDS

by Eec Eye, the Elder

The Fourth of July is here again! Glorious Fourth!

How are you going to spend the day?

Going to a big Fourth of July picnic somewhere? There isn't any.

Our guess is that you will spend it on wheels, or in a swimming pool, or at some rodeo, or at home sleeping, or mowing the lawn.

If you hear a Fourth of July address, it will be over the radio.

How different is the Fourth of July today from that of a half century ago, or even a generation ago! Today, it is spent on wheels, at the pleasure resorts, eying the bathing beauties sporting in the surf or displaying their charms on the beaches; or at some rodeo, sitting on hard plank seats with thousands of others watching a bunch of guys trying to ride long, lank steers.

Many of us living today can remember the big Fourth of July celebrations of the 'eighties and the 'nineties'.

There were no radios, no automobiles, no rodeos, and no bathing beauties. Or, if there were bathing beauties, they never displayed their nude, lithe limbs in public. There were women bathers on the beaches, it is true, but their bathing suits reached from their neck to the knees. And the prudish of that day arched their eyebrows and regarded as extremely shocking even those inexcusable displays of feminine nudity.

Inland there were no bathing pools where men and women went in swimming together. Well do we remember that for years there was a natatorium in Belton. Men might bathe in it during certain hours of the day on certain days of the week; and women might bathe in it within certain hours on other days when men were not allowed to enter. There was perfect segregation of the sexes, and no gentleman would have tried to steal a peep into the "Nat" on women's day any more than he would undertake to slip into a girl's dormitory at midnight. Boys went to the river to go in swimming, or to some old "swimming hole" in some creek in the neighborhood. Occasionally two or three girls would slip down on the creek, partially disrobe, and go in swimming, but if they were accidentally caught under such circumstances by members of the male sex they felt humiliated and disgraced.

All of which tends to show just about how gay the so-called "gay nineties" were.

That must have been a dull age, you say.

No, it wasn't so dull as you might think. It is true there were no mixed swimming parties; there were no rodeos where men and women might sit on hard seats and watch bucking bronchos and bawling, bucking steers. There was plenty of bucking to be seen, however, if one enjoyed that kind of thing. Most folks could see a show of that kind at home almost any time they cared to stage one.

There were no automobiles for boys and girls to pack into like sardines and race over the highways at a speed of a mile a minute and up. And there were no highway tragedies, such as we have on the highways now on almost every Fourth of July occasion, during the Christmas holidays, on Thanksgiving Day, Easter, or just any old day when a thousand football fans rush from Podunk over to Possum Trot to watch the home boys lick the socks off of the Possum Trot team.

No, there were no automobiles in those old days of the "gay nineties". Up until the late eighties there were precious few buggies even.

How in the world did folks get anywhere? Well, when the family wanted to go to church, or to a picnic, or to the circus, or to a school concert or "exhibition", or to town to lay in their winter store of brown sugar and black molasses and unground coffee, and a barrel of flour, and brogan shoes and brass-toed, red-top boots for the kiddies, and jeans and hickory cloth out of which to make pants and shirts for the men and boys, and calico and gingham and finery for the women folks, they all just climbed into that old Mitchell wagon—or maybe it was a Studebaker or a Cooper or a La Belle—drawn by two flop-eared mules and drove leisurely over to their destination; or, if they were in a bit of a hurry, old Beck and Kit, or Tobe and Pete, as the case might have been, got many a tap on the tail with that old black-snake whip.

And their ability to go places reminds us of a verse of that immortal poetic gem which we boys of that day used to quote:

De June bug got de golden wing,
De lightnin' bug de flame, De bed bug got no wing at all
But he git dar all de same.
And so, back in the eighties, they got there in their wagons, hundreds and sometimes thousands of them.

And a lot of them would go on horseback. Yes and the young ladies and girls would go on horseback too—but they didn't ride a stride. Not on your tin type. Every young lady had her sidesaddle and her riding skirt. And a bashful old boy was never nearer heaven than when he had the pleasure of accompanying his best girl to church or to the picnic or to the breakdown on horseback.

You remember what a thrill you got when you were a young Lochinvar, you white-headed old rascal, when for the first time your best girl placed her left foot into your left hand and you assisted her to spring into the saddle? Or when you caught her by the arms and assisted her to alight from the horse? Bet you remember it to this day.

Yes, they went to the picnics on horseback in the eighties. And as the Katy-dids katted and the locusts loosed among the wide-spreading branches of the trees, the frequent whinneying and nickering of the horses tied beneath them could be heard on every hand as other horses with their riders approached or scurried by.

It was all very interesting and exciting for the horses. And there was nothing dull going on. There were lemonade and sodapop stands, with a half dozen helpers frantically serving the thirsty and waggish salesmen crying their wares.

There was the hobby horse with its raucous music, and pretty girls with fluttering ribbons were riding the wooden horses as they gracefully nodded and swung around the circle

And then the band struck up. Possibly the speaker of the day had arrived. It was the Fourth of July, and there was to be a patriotic address. Or, if it was election year, there were a half dozen candidates there to speak. And believe me, those old boys could really produce the oratory in those good old days. Maybe there was a debate, and steel cut steel. There was frequent applause and laughter. Now and then there was cheering.

There was no l'ilbilly hand music. We can't remember of any flour salesmen who ran for governor or the senate. The only pension speeches we heard were anti-pension speeches; old ex-Confederates or States Rights Democrats denouncing the Republicans for granting pensions to the ex-soldiers of the North, and charging those detested yankees with raiding the treasury. The sums being paid out as pensions were thought to be enormous and extravagant in that day, but in reality they were a mere bagatelle as compared with the sums the Federal Government is paying out as pensions for the aged today.

But only big men ran for high offices in that day; and when they came before the people in an election campaign, they knew how to discuss great issues and principles of government.

Only big men ran for office because candidates were nominated by conventions in those days and only able men could hope to be nominated. The convention system had its evils and its drawbacks, but there is one thing that can be said for it. When it was in vogue no mere buffoons nor ignoramuses were ever nominated for the high offices.

And so great speeches were often made at those Fourth of July celebrations and on other public occasions back in the eighties and the nineties, and the people listened and learned.

And for entertainment in the afternoon, there was nearly always a baseball game with the Valley Blues pitted against the Dog Ridge Reds, or other teams. The teams wore "loud" uniforms in those days, brilliant red or shining blue or golden yellow or some other showy color, always with a stripe down the outer side of the leg.

And those games furnished plenty of entertainment!

And that was one of the ways the people celebrated the Fourth up to forty years ago and later.

We haven't told half of it, but we must close.

Some of these days we may give a little picture of that brief period that intervened between the horseback age and the "horse and buggy" age. For lack of a better name, we might call it the "Gig of Go-cart Age". We guess many of the youngsters of this day never heard of it. The coming and the going of the "gig" marked an important step in our country's march of progress nevertheless. A lot of you elderly men and women enjoyed it and vividly remember it. But it is all Greek to these youngsters. And if they could suddenly be placed in some imaginary position where they could actually see that age passing by in front of their eyes they certainly would get a lot of amusement out of it.

But it holds sacred memories for some of us.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Engines were under lock every mile. Cars were under scrutiny every minute. Never a drop of oil could be added.

NEW OIL BEATS

five other big-name brands in

TORTURE-TEST

Endures Sizzling Death Valley heat for 13,398 MILES ON ONE 5-QUART FILL

How this Certified Record can spell new Oil-Savings—new Engine Safety—for You

You get the oil that outlasted 5 other highly reputed brands by 74% to 161% in Certified Competition, when you change to this proved-in-advance new oil named

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
—Popular-Priced

Your own engine can be fortified by new Conoco Nth motor oil right today, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. But before going on sale this new oil proved that a regular 5-quart fill could establish startling extremes of endurance, protection and miser-economy.

Fantastic Death Valley brings Your Evidence

Death Valley seems to shimmy—like heat at your furnace door. And down on this desert impartial observers watched 6 identical stock cars run at 57-mile speed, torture-testing 6 quality oils including new Conoco Nth oil. No let-up, day on day, till each oil gave out and junked its engine.

Even the best competitive oil in the test was outlasted 5,683 miles by Conoco Nth oil. And one "rival" was outlasted all of 8,268 miles by new Conoco Nth oil. Certified.

All this New Economy how?

America has long known Conoco best for making it possible to give any engine OIL-PLATING... lubricant that can't all quickly drain down, but must stay PLATED UP—alert against wear in advance—not waiting till oil-flow starts. OIL-PLATING comes from a rare synthetic... man-made under the Conoco Germ Processed oil patent. And Conoco Nth motor oil still brings OIL-PLATING—but not only that!

In addition this new oil brings Conoco's latest synthetic—Thialkene inhibitor. It inhibits—controls—the effect of foul "leftovers" produced by every engine's normal firing. Otherwise uncontrolled oil spoilage could easily start. In oils that let this spoilage start, it spreads like a rumor—gets worse, faster and faster. But now that's nipped in the bud by Thialkene inhibitor, in new Conoco Nth oil... U. S. Patent 2,218,132. This oil stays more like its own good self. Then your engine will, and that saves oil... as demonstrated by the long life of Conoco Nth in pitiless Death Valley.

You'll never give your own engine such a "trial by torture." You wouldn't pass up your regular time for draining. Authorities say, "Don't!" But you can CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

CCC To Enroll More Men

July call for CCC enrollees! Miss Frances Allen, Supervisor of the State Department of Public Welfare Area 33, Lubbock, Texas, announces that information has been received that the tentative date for the next enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps will be on July 17, 1941, at which time all white boys, including Latin-Americans, between the ages of 17 and 23 1/2 years of age may have the opportunity of enrolling. Any unmarried White American boy within these age limits with good health and moral character who is not enrolled in school is offered this opportunity, regardless of the financial status of his family. Miss Allen quotes James J. McEntee, Director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, as an example of what is being done at the camps in Texas.

Mr McEntee announced that a recent survey disclosed that on June 1, 8800 young men and war veterans enrolled in Texas CCC camps were receiving training related directly or indirectly to national defense.

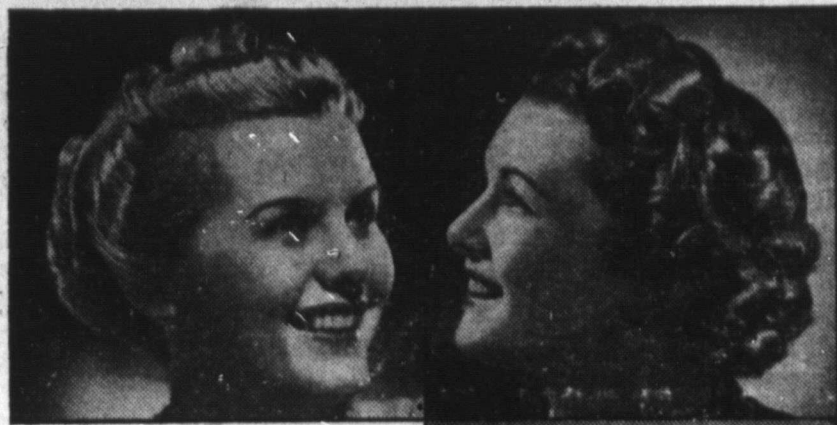

He stated that all junior enrollees receive job training and basic CCC training which is of the greatest value to them, whether they are called to duty under the Selective Service Law or obtain jobs in national defense industries. The job training includes truck driving, tractor operation, surveying, drafting, etc.

Of the 8800 men enrolled in the 54 Texas camps in May, 2171 were taking special national defense vocational training courses in camp or in nearby trade schools in cooperation with state vocational training authorities.

Miss Allen urged that all those interested should make application at the earliest date possible. The local selecting agency, headed by Mrs. Dude Holland, county welfare worker, is located in the Relief Building, Tahoka, and is open on Mondays and Tuesdays from 8:00 to 5:00. Miss Allen suggested that Mrs. Holland will be glad to discuss CCC with any interested parents or relatives.

Tom Garrard made a business and professional trip to Rankin Tuesday.

THREE LOVELY HEADLINES

HERE are three lovely headlines which are going to get themselves into the fashion news this summer. They show what wonders can be wrought with shining lustrous hair no matter what the color, texture or the age of its owner.

Note the upward swing of all three hair-do's, which is for coolness sake, of course. You'll also mark the hint of modified pompadour in each, though it is only in the soft roll of the natural blonde, the group of curls in the chestnut hair and the single little front curl on the dimpled brunette.

All three heads, however, have one outstanding virtue in common—gorgeous lustre that highlights every hair. These ladies are fervent users of Drene, that remarkable liquid soapless shampoo which turns drab locks into thrillingly lustrous hair and makes a glamour girl of even the mousetail individual.

Take another close look at the pictures and you'll see what we mean. These heads are alive with health, and we just know their tresses have been well and vigorously brushed before shampooing. Then a few drops of the soapless shampoo, which comes for oily, or dry hair, a hearty massage with the finger tips, rinsing (at least two, depending on how much is used) and these entirely different types of heads emerge with 33 per cent more lustre than they've ever had before, and with all the previously hidden highlights shining in full glory.

Keep your hair clean this summer with frequent shampooings and you are bound to look as cool and radiant as these glamour girls, who know that it is lustre first, then style. With the hair experts busy as bees thinking up new coiffures, it's up to the girls to keep their hair manageable, and grimy locks that cling together in ugly strands or frizzy wisps are never that.

CUNNINGHAMS GROW FINE VEGETABLES

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cunningham of the Midway-Redwine vicinity, sensing the ups and downs of an editor's wife, were kind enough Saturday to bring in almost a complete Sunday dinner, consisting of a large sack of new potatoes, snap beans, and onions.

Friends like that are more to be had and onions.

MISS PERRY HONORED WITH SHOWER-PICNIC

Miss Doris Perry, who will leave Monday for Fort Worth, where she will enter training as a student nurse, was honored with a picnic shower in the City Park last Monday night. Hostesses were Mesdames Lois Daniel and Helen Eubank.

Punch, chicken salad sandwiches, bananas and cookies were served. "Desert" presented to Miss Perry, was a picnic basket full of gifts from many friends.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Boyd Smith, Clyde Spruill, Hope Haynes, Clarence Williams, Jessie Benson, Myrtle Rochelle; Misses Maurine McNatt, Jo Belle Milliken, Billie Swafford, Perry and Mrs. Daniel. Mrs. Eubank, though a hostess was unable to attend because of illness. Others sent gifts.

JACK KEY MAKES HONOR ROLL AT JOHN TARLETON

STEPHENVILLE—Among the students making the honor roll at John Tarleton Agricultural College for the second semester of 1940-41 was Jack Key of Tahoka.

To be eligible for this honor a student must make at least 80 on every subject for the semester.

Out of over 1300 students enrolled last semester, 219 made the honor roll.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nevill and their son and daughter, Ray and Jennie Rebs, left Sunday for a two weeks visit with their daughter and family at Flagstaff, Arizona. They expected to be joined later in the week by Everton and wife of Tahoka and Elwayne of Randolph Field, who will be out on furlough.

Mrs. Gertrude Mast of Lubbock was here Sunday visiting her brother, Hall Robinson, who is recovering from a major operation which he underwent in a Lubbock hospital recently. Mr. Robinson continues to improve, it is said.

Miss Claudia Draper, who is at home following the close of school at Eagle Pass where she was head of the Department of Home Economics, has passed the required examinations for Army Dietitian and expects to be assigned to a place in that field of work.

WERE THE NEWSPAPERS UNFAIR?

During the last few days of the recent senatorial campaign, Martin Dies repeatedly charged that the newspapers of the state which had been taking straw votes had been doing so merely as propaganda for this candidate or that, that the votes were not fairly taken but that in each instance they were taken in the interest of some particular candidate

He also charged that the Belden poll was likewise unfair, taken in the interest of other candidates or for the purpose of discrediting his candidacy.

These are serious charges, and since a representative of the News took a poll here, which was announced over the radio on one or more occasions, we presume that it was included in Mr. Dies' general indictment.

What are the facts?

The poll here was taken on Monday afternoon preceding the election, in the business section of Ta-hoka. The result was, Mann 44, O'- Daniel 22, Johnson 14, and Dies 6.

What were the election results?
North Tahoka: Mann 147, O'Daniel 53, Johnson 65, Dies 22. South Ta-hoka: Mann 65, O'Daniel 93, Johnson 20, Dies 21.

Both boxes: Mann 212, O'Daniel 146, Johnson 85, Dies 43.

Does that support the charge that our poll was unfair to Mr. Dies?

Does the vote throughout Texas support the charge that the Belden poll was unfair to him?

As we stated when we published our poll, "Straw votes do not always give an accurate picture of the sentiment of the community, and this one may not do so, but it was done fairly and without favor for or discrimination against any candidate."

Mr. Dies is a splendid gentleman, but he has one great failing: He often makes charges and insinuations that can not be supported by the facts. This has been true of his work as chairman of the "Dies committee" investigating subversive activities in this country. He has done excellent and much needed work in this capacity, but he has often made charges against persons and institutions that were very unfair to them and that were not supported by the facts; for example, his charges respecting communistic activities in the University of Texas.

We are persuaded that his charges against newspapers were just as groundless as other unsupported charges he has made. As a rule, no newspaper will undertake to take any other kind of a straw vote except a fair one, for the publisher knows that if its poll is grossly unfair such unfairness will be exposed and the paper will be discredited by the election soon to follow.

In the light of the election of last Saturday, Mr. Dies should apologize to Mr. Belden and to the newspapers of Texas. However, we desire no apology. The election has vindicated the fairness of our poll.

MEANING OF THE ELECTION

Unofficial returns indicate that
W. Lee O'Daniel has been elected United States Senator over three other major and about twenty minor candidates for the office, to fill the unexpired term of Senator Morris Sheppard deceased.

Although O'Daniel received little more than thirty percent of the vote cast, he will be declared elected, for in this instance a plurality elects.

O'Daniel just barely did nose out ahead of Congressman Lyndon Johnson, while Attorney-General Gerald Mann was a good third.

It was obviously the backing of the administration at Washington that put Johnson into the running.
New Dealers in Washington admit it. In fact, when the election of Johnson seemed assured, they began announcing it from the housetops.

All of this means that if Johnson had been left to run on his merits alone, he would have been third in the contest. The chances are that but for this Washington support, Mann would have been the man, for it is believed that Governor O'- Daniel got his full strength regardless of how the opposition vote might be divided.

While Mann did not run as well as his supporters had hoped, yet under the circumstances he made a wonderful race—and a clean race.
His standing in the esteem of the people of Texas has not been impaired. He is yet a very young man, and if his official record in the future proves to be as good as it has been in the past, it is likely that he will yet be honored by the people of Texas with a higher position than that which he now holds. Gerald Mann is still a coming young man.

Not so with Governor O'Daniel. It would appear that his political popularity is rapidly waning. Twice heretofore he has run for governor and has received a majority over all opponents in the first primary in each instance, making a run-off unnecessary.

But in the election last Saturday he received a bare 30 per cent of the votes. It has been said that he was hurt by reason of the fact that this is an off year and many people had not paid their poll taxes. On the other hand, it must be remembered that every person in the state on the old age pension rolls could vote without a poll tax receipt, and it is generally conceded that he is most popular with this class of voters.

The vote last Saturday—70 percent voting against him for every 30 persons voting for him—must have been a terrible jolt to the Governor.

In our opinion, it was such a jolt that he will never get over it. Next year either Lyndon Johnson or some stronger man will doubtless be pitted against him and it does not seem probable, that he will serve longer than this unexpired term.

Although Lyndon Johnson has not struck us as being a particularly brilliant man, yet he is doubtless clean, and a fine young fellow. All the breaks politically have come his way heretofore, and if he makes no bad breaks hereafter the chances are that he will be a strong contender for the regular term next year.

As for Martin Dies, it is probable that his congressional district will keep him in Congress for many years to come, but we predict that as the years come and go he will gradually give less and less of his time and attention to the discovery of un-American "boogers" in this country and more time and attention to the domestic needs of the people of his district.

And to us, this is the meaning of last Saturday's election.

Attorney-General Gerald Mann was criticized by one of his opponents in the recent election for having given out an opinion to the effect that the State of Texas had no authority to bar from the ballot the candidate of the Communist party.
We think the attorney-general was right. This is a free country, and no man can be deprived of his political rights on account of his political beliefs, so long as he does not engage in or advocate the use of violence for the overthrow of our form of government. When we start upon the course of prohibiting men from holding office, peaceably attained, because of their political beliefs, then we have started on the road that leads away from democracy and to autocracy or despotism.

In this country almost anybody who can vote, and some who can't, can run for office. And most persons who are twenty-one years of age can qualify themselves to vote.
And they can vote on election day just as they please. When the election is over and the returns are all in, they accept the result, whether the man of their choice was elected or defeated. That is democracy in

Texas Baptists To Sponsor Work In
Army Camps

The Southern Baptist Convention, composed of more than 25,000 Baptist churches and a combined membership of more than 5,000,000 people, has instructed the Home Mission Board, located at Atlanta, Georgia, to promote religious work in connection with the army camps, navy bases, marine stations, air corps and U. S. C. Camps. Although Texas Baptists have been promoting religious work in all of the army camps in Texas, they will cooperate with Southern Baptists in the promotion of the religious work among the soldiers throughout the nation.

Dr. W. W. Melton, General Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, with headquarters in Dallas, made the following statement in a meeting in Dallas this week.

"The world at its worst needs Christianity at its best. While the United States is making preparation to defend itself, the young men who are in government service need to fortify themselves by trusting Jesus as Savior and Lord." Dr. Melton also said, "While our young men are receiving training to be soldiers of our government, they should also receive the love of Christ in their hearts and thus become soldiers of the Cross and enlist in the Christian army with King Jesus as their Commander."

The time set by Southern Baptists to raise the $300,000.00, is July 27th.
All pastors of all Baptist churches in the South will be invited to participate in this movement. It has been suggested that on July 20th all pastors use as their subject, "Our Responsibility to Our Government-Enlisted Men."

Texas Baptists have been asked by the Home Mission Board to raise $35,000.00 on July 27th, this being the proportion that Texas should raise. Dr. Melton said, "Texas Baptists, 750,000 strong, are expected to march down the aisles of the 3-250 Texas Baptist Churches and lay their offerings upon the altar to take care of our Baptist religious action. And yet there are some people in this country who are more loyal to some dictator in Europe than they are to the Government of America, under whose flag they have prospered and enjoyed freedom for all these years. How foolish and how ungrateful some people are.

It will be interesting to learn, when the official returns of the recent election are published, just how few people in Texas voted for the Communist candidate for Senator, and in what counties these votes come from.

It certainly is regrettable that there isn't some way to keep the names of cranks and egotists and other pee-wees off our election ballots.

Workers Needed
By Texas State
Employment Board

According to Sam G. Wynn, manager of the local office of the Texas State Employment Service, he has several requests for machinists and machine tool operators which were located in various sections of Texas as well as in other states.

Some of the openings are for all-round machinists and others are for operators of turret lathe milling machine, boring mill, etc., welders, die makers, sheet metal workers, and riveters are also needed.

work among the soldiers. We believe that Texas Baptists will raise the $35,000.00 on this one day."

Dr. A. C. Miller is the supervisor of soldiers' work for Texas Baptists.
He and Dr. Melton will take the lead in the campaign in Texas, while Dr. J. P. Lawrence, Secretary of the Home Mission Board at Atlanta, Georgia, will lead the Baptists of the South to raise the $300,000.00 on Sunday, July 27th.
Not only is the Employment Service interested in men who are well qualified in this line of work but also those who are only partially qualified due to length or recentness of experience. Information relative to present employment opportunities and refresher courses which are being offered in the metal working trades is available at the Texas State Employment Service office at Lubbock. Wynn urges all who have some skill but need additional training to be qualified, to make inquiries at 1207 13th street, Lubbock, Texas. For the convenience of those residing in Lynn County, a representative of the Employment Service visits Tahoka on each Wednesday for the purpose of taking applications. He may be located in the Court House between the hours of 1 p. m. and 3 p. m.

Independence July 4 DAY

The Flag Democracy Unfurled Waves A Challenge

To every American to champion the principles, maintain the rights, and preserve the liberties which this flag symbolizes and which our Constitution guarantees.

We who were born to freedom do not understand what a world without it would be like. Yet when our own Declaration of Independence was signed, nowhere on earth was freedom known as we know it today. Nowhere else on earth but in the little stretch of wilderness which was the Colonies were there men who were brave and strong enough to fight the battle for the right to speak, write, worship and act as their consciences dictated.

Today, our sons are being called into the army camps for training to prepare them to defend again that freedom against any who would dare to attack us. Already our freedom to navigate the seas has been challenged, and one of our merchant ships has been sunk. Although it appears unlikely that we will be openly attacked on land any time soon, yet we do not know what a day may bring forth.

Fifty-six men signed the Declaration of Independence. Fifty-six men, representing the 13 Colonies, pledged their lives and their honor on the belief "that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights. That among these are, Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness . . ."

It was devotion to this principle that has made us the Cradle of Liberty, and has preserved us as a nation throughout the years—a nation that shall not perish from this earth.

We therefore dedicate this page to the American Army

Explain U. S. Defense Bonds

Q. What is a U. S. Savings Bond?
A. This Bond is proof that you have loaned money to the United States Government for national defense. Your Bond bears interest at the rate of 2.9 percent a year, if held to maturity (ten years).

Q. Why should I buy Defense Bonds?

A. Because money talks. To dictators it speaks defiance. To friends of freedom, it says, "Here's my hand!"

NOTE.—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

GENE LAWSON WRITES FROM NORFOLK

The News received too late for publication last week a brief communication from Gene C. Lawson, who is now employed as an electrician in the U. S. Navy Yard at Norfolk, Virginia. We quote:

"Since leaving Texas we have missed the paper (The Lynn County News) and wished for a few copies while in Washington. I was working in the Washington, D. C., Navy Yard up to the time I received my appointment as electrician to the Norfolk Navy Yard last month.

"There are about 21,000 men working in the yard here, and we work three shifts, seven days a week. The work consists of the routine overhaul and repair of the regular naval vessels and also the outfitting of the various ships that are being transferred to the use of the navy.

"We like the country in this part of Virginia fine, but the hot weather sometimes makes one wish for a West Texas breeze.

"Hope the recent rains bring to you and Lynn county a most prosperous season."

Gene was reared at Grassland and for a time operated a service station here.

MANY CHICKENS DYING OF COCCIDIOSIS

A considerable number of growing chickens between the ages of two weeks and three months are being lost as a result of wide-spread attacks of coccidiosis. The disease is a common one but is usually more prevalent during rainy seasons, which explains the present serious situation confronting poultry raisers.

Coccidiosis may appear in either of two forms, namely intestinal (chronic) or bloody type (acute). The bloody type, being acute, is nat-

We doubt that a single one of the three or four readers of this column will deny the fact that though undeclared, the United States is Now in WAR. And doubtless every reader is alike in the desire to do any and everything possible to help.

Not one reader has any use for a "draft-dodger". But isn't it funny that though they want to help, and though they think it is perfectly right and normal for the young men of the nation to give up high paying jobs to defend their country, there are those who gripe so loud and long about turning loose a dollar or two or more to furnish a little pastime and entertainment to keep up the morale and morals of the young men they are depending on for their defense?

Yes, that seems strange, but it's true—for we have heard several complaints from persons who felt they were being asked too much. Many said they would have to contribute through so many organizations it seemed unfair. As one Rotarian said to another: "You just shouldn't be so popular."

Many people asked the writer, who last week attempted to help raise one club's quota, "What is the USO"—what does it do? Briefly it is the United Service Organizations, under the sponsorship of many organizations and cooperating with the United States government in building and maintaining entertainment centers near army stations to provide adequate wholesome and appealing entertainment for the service men, thus cutting down the temptation offered by dives and offering relaxation from training and tense nerves.

The following quotation from a Warner and Swasey Co. publication, which we found printed on a blotter, offers something for us to think about.

"Why should God Bless America—if we won't? Singing is easy. But it never won a battle. What you and I do today is determining whether or not we will be free men tomorrow. All the wishful thinking in the world can't change that fact. . . . The hour has come when every moment counts—for your country or against it. . . . God helps those who help themselves. Let's work for AMERICA—when and ONLY WHEN the nation which gives us work and liberty is safe, then will be time to think of ourselves."

urally of the most serious concern to poultrymen. With this form of the disease the chickens bleed to death internally. The coccidia germs attack the lining of the intestines and rupture the many blood vessels whose normal duty is the carrying of the digested substance to the body. When these blood vessels are ruptured, excessive bleeding takes place and death occurs very suddenly.

Affected chickens show the first symptoms by standing humped up with wings hanging low. Poultry raisers should keep a close watch of all chickens of the susceptible ages and when first symptoms appear take one of the sick birds to their hatcheryman for a diagnosis. Quick action is necessary on the part of the poultryman, as the disease may kill as many as thirty or forty chickens a day.

W. L. Banks Family Returns From Florida

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Banks returned last week for a four weeks' visit in Florida, having accompanied their son and family, the Clyde Bankes, to their home in Miami after they had visited here.

They report a very interesting visit. They say that Miami is a most charming city—so many beautiful lawns, flowers, and trees, such as palmetto, and coconut palms, orange trees, sausage trees, so called because the fruit looks like sacks of sausage hanging from the limbs; cypress and oak trees covered with moss. One of the prettiest trees is the poinciana. This tree does not make much shade but is covered with pretty red flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Banks brought some seed of these trees home with them to try them out in this country. They saw oranges, bananas, and coconuts growing on the trees.

They went fishing several times in the bay, each time catching more fish than they could eat.

Yes, and they say that they saw the home of Al Capone and the home of Fred Snite, the boy in the iron lung.

They visited the army air base in Tampa and saw the big bombers, the ship yards at both Tampa and Miami, and other interesting sights too numerous to mention. Mr. Banks thinks he would like to live in Miami.

Cowan-Bryant Nuptials, June 15th.

Miss Christa Cowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cowan of Lubbock and sister of T. Cowan of Tahoka, became the bride of W. Noel Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bryant of Wheeler in the First Methodist church in Seattle, Washington, on Sunday morning, June 15.

Dr. Cyrus W. Wright, minister, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Her parents and a brother attended the wedding along with a few close friends. The bride was given away by her father and the groom was attended by Paul A. Cook of Seattle.

Mrs. Bryant is well known in Lynn county, having been born near Tahoka and having attended school here before her parents moved to Lubbock. She is a graduate of Texas Technological college with a B. A. degree in music, where she was distinguished as a soloist. She was a pupil of Miss Myrtle Dunn. For the past two years she has taught music in Lubbock public schools.

Mr. Bryant is also a graduate of Texas Tech, with a B. S. degree in electrical engineering. Upon graduation he received a Reserve Commission in the engineer officers' reserve corps. He is now holding a position in the engineering department of Boeing Aircraft company in Seattle, where the couple will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith and little son left Saturday for Claude to visit a few days with her parents.

New FSA Lease Plan Available

The Farm Security Administration has available a revised Flexible Farm lease which will enable the landlord to improve his farm over a long time period according to Wymann J. Welch, County RR Supervisor. Mr. Welch states that a meeting of all county and home management supervisors in this district met in Lubbock last week to discuss land tenure and long term rental agreements.

Families who cannot get adequate credit from other lending agencies to finance their operations are eligible for these loans. The Farm Security Administration will advance funds to the tenant to place adequate improvements on a farm provided the landlord will pay the appraised value of the improvement at the termination of the lease or give the tenant an option to purchase the land.

With a long term lease the Farm Security Administration will advance funds to the tenant to place adequate improvements at the termination of the lease or give the tenant an option to purchase the land.

With a long term lease the Farm Security Administration will advance funds to build the improvements and collect so much out of the rent each year to pay for the improvements.

This long term lease has advantages for both the tenant and landlord. More information will be furnished at the local office of the Farm Security Administration in the courthouse.

hind Johnson while the Old Age pensioners and close relatives were almost solid for O'Daniel. Johnson's battle cry was "Roosevelt and Unity". O'Daniel played up the pension issue and claimed credit for about everything that has been done in Texas along that line. And his long suit was to score the "politicians".

Official returns are made by the various counties to the state election board, which is composed of the governor, the attorney-general, and the secretary of state. This board is expected to canvass the returns on July 14.

It is possible, of course, that these returns will vary slightly from the returns gathered by the Election Bureau, but if all counties have reported to the secretary of state by that time, there is no probability that there will be any material changes in the result.

Following the findings of the state election board, it is expected that Governor O'Daniel will resign and proceed to Washington immediately to be sworn in as the United States Senator from Texas to serve out Sheppard's unexpired term.

This term will expire in January 1942, and a senator for the succeeding full term will have been elected in November, 1941. There will be a campaign for the nomination in the Democratic primaries next summer, this nomination being tantamount always in Texas to election. So, whoever is nominated in the Democratic primaries next summer will be the Senator for the succeeding six years, if he lives.
