Bumper Cotton Crop Is Possible For This Year

A representative of The News interviewed a number of farmers this week with a view to getting an estimate of the probable cotton yield in the county this fall.

Of course all of them made it clear that there are so many hazards to the cotton crop that any estimate made now might be completely discredited and nullified by conditions a week from now. Most of them agreed that the crop could run anywhere from 35,000 to 75,000 bales, depending on conditions as they develop from here on out.

While many report damage by pests of various kinds, yet some say that the ravages of these pests is letting up at the present time. In some localities, however, evidences of the approach of the leaf or army worms have showed up and some are already beginning to poison.

At the present time, the flea hopper seems to have wrought the most damage. Nearly all of the cotton looks fine, but as one man stated, one field may be loaded with forms while an adjacent field which looks just as good will be found to have scarcely any forms at all.

In its early stages, lice were thought to be doing much damage, but the lady bugs, spiders, and other insects have been cleaning up the lice and this hazard has practically disappeared. Aside from the possible ravages of the leaf worms, the pest most feared by farmers is the boll worm, which often destroys half-grown bolls.

Many farmers reason, however, that during every wet year there is some damage by various kinds of pests and that nothing alarming has developed this year yet. The plant generally looks very fine. It is a little later than was the crop of 1937 and the acreage in the county is much smaller, but E. W. Holloway of Redwine, who sends in the county ginning reports to the Department of Commerce each year, says that with the present prospects the crop could approach the 100,000 bale mark this year, though he was quick to add that it might not exceed 35,000. He himself was rigging up his equipment Thursday morning to begin poisoning to forestall possible ravages of the leaf worm, this pest having put in its appearance in his cotton.

Cotton that was allowed to stand following the terrible hail over a large territory in the west half of the county a few weeks ago, gives little promise of a crop.

Many very fine feed crops in the county are already assured, and with another good rain within the next week or ten days nearly all the feed would be super-fine.

Former Teacher Given Good Job

Miss Hazel Phipps, a former teacher of Home Economics in the Tahoka High School, has been appointed as specialist in food preparation for the A. & B. College Extension Service, according to a press report from College Station. This is a quite responsible and remunerative position.

Miss Phipps was teacher of Home Economics in the Tahoka High school during the scholastic year of 1936-37. After the school closed here that year, she was selected as county home demonstration agent for Hockley county, and has served in that capacity ever since.

She will begin her duties with the A. & B. Extension service about September 1. During the summer she is taking advanced work in foods and nutrition at the University of Iowa at Ames. She is a native of Wilbarger county and is a graduate of the Texas Technological College of the class of 1936.

New U. S. Senator

W. LEE O'DANIEL

O'Daniel Slaps At Roosevelt

Breaking a precedent of long standing which forbids any new member of the United States Senate from speaking from the floor during the first several weeks and even months of his term, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel arose at his desk and proceeded to make his maiden speech Tuesday afternoon, castigating the Administration at Washington for attempting to elect one of his opponents to the Senate, declaring his intention to support generally the President but never to be a mere "yes" man, and criticizing the bill which would extend the term of service of draftees beyond the time originally provided, one year. There was no applause at the close of his address, but it was apparent that many of the Republican members and a few of the Democratic members were pleased with his remarks. Administration Democrats as a rule gave it a cold reception. Also, on the second day of his service in the Senate, O'Daniel offered his bill making it a penal offense for any person to use violence to prevent any other person from working at any lawful vocation.

Aluminum Drive Proves Success

One thousand pounds of scrap aluminum was gathered by people of Lynn county in the recent drive to collect this vital Defense metal. County Judge Chester Connolly told The News this week.

"From what I can learn," Judge Connolly stated, "this places Lynn county right up near the top, population considered."

Judge Connolly states that he had excellent co-operation in staging the drive in the county, and he wishes The News to express his thanks to everyone who donated old aluminum of any kind and anyone who helped in the gathering of the same. The metal is badly needed in the manufacture of war materials.

Aluminum gathered here was carried to the district headquarters at Lubbock Saturday morning.

Man Convicted Of "Cold-Checking"

One C. L. Eggleston, who gave his domicile as Big Spring, was tried in the county court here Monday on two charges of swindling by the giving of "cold" checks.

The cases were tried before juries who found him guilty and assessed his punishment at 30 days in jail in one case and a fine of $50.00 in the other.

Two other similar charges are still pending.

All four of the checks were given on the same day to different business houses in town. All the checks were small in amount, none of them exceeding five dollars, but the intent to swindle was evident, and the juries had little mercy upon him.

Eggleston conducted his own defense in each case.

Mrs. G. W. Simmons returned Friday from a two weeks visit with her daughters in Los Angeles and Orange, California. She was accompanied on the trip by her brother, Paul Miracle of Trinidad, Henderson county.

New Governor

COKE R. STEVENSON

Stevenson Takes Oath Of Office

Although becoming acting governor of this state the moment Governor W. Lee O'Daniel crossed the state line on his way to Washington Saturday night, or early Sunday morning soon after midnight, and automatically becoming governor in his own right when O'Daniel took the oath of office as U. S. Senator at noon Monday, Coke R. Stevenson will be formally inaugurated as governor of Texas about noon today (Friday). The inauguration services will be broadcast over the radio.

After having broken a long precedent by serving a second term as speaker of the House of Representatives, Stevenson was elected last November to a second term as lieutenant governor.

Baptist Layman's Revival Planned

On Sunday, August 17, Dr. R. T. Havins of Howard Payne College will begin a series of talks to men. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights the talks will be to men only.

The meetings will be held on the lawn of the Baptist Church, beginning at 8 o'clock each evening. Refreshments will be served, good music rendered, and everything done to assure a good time.

All men are invited regardless of faith.

Dr. Havins comes highly recommended for his work among men, and it will be a real treat to hear him.

This series of meetings is being sponsored by the Brotherhood of the Baptist Church of Tahoka with the desire to help all the men of the entire community.

The subjects of Dr. Havins' addresses through the week have been announced as follows, the Sunday night address being to both men and women.

Monday eve: The Layman and His Lord.

Tuesday eve: The Layman and His Church.

Wednesday eve: The Layman and His Pastor.

Thursday eve: The Layman and His Money.

Beginning on Friday night, August 22, immediately following these laymen's meetings, the church will begin a series of revival services in which Rev. B. N. Shepherd of Hobbs, New Mexico, will do the preaching, closing on Sunday night, August 31.

We extend a cordial invitation to all to join with us in an old-fashion revival. If you are one that does not need it, come anyway; you might help some one else. If you do need it, come; the meeting will help you.—Geo. A. Dale, Pastor.

WALLS OF NEW CLINIC ARE GOING UP

Masons started laying the brick and tile walls Tuesday for the new Tahoka Clinic building being erected by Drs. Emil Prohl and K. R. Durham on the lots west of the telephone building. Foundation for the structure was completed last week.

This is the first unit of what the doctors expect to ultimately be a modern hospital building.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Vickers and daughters Kathryn Ann and Daonne visited in Big Spring Sunday.

Death Takes Three Citizens, And Two Former Tahokans

Pioneer Lawyer Died Tuesday

The people of Tahoka were greatly grieved to learn on Tuesday morning of this week that a former outstanding citizen of this town, Judge G. E. Lockhart, had passed away at an early hour that morning. He died in St. Mary's hospital in Lubbock at 5:20 o'clock after arrival by ambulance at about midnight from Stephenville, where he had been seriously sick for almost two weeks.

The people of Tahoka had anxiously heard reports daily as to his condition after learning of his illness. Many of them attended the funeral services in the First Baptist Church in Lubbock at 9 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, which were conducted by a former Tahoka pastor, Rev. L. L. F. Parker of Dripping Springs, who was Judge and Mrs. Lockhart's pastor and intimate friend for several years while here.

Pall bearers were: Walter Slaton of Tahoka, W. W. Price and H. R. Winston of Brownfield, A. B. Tarwater of Plainview, Walter S. Posey, Bert Yeager, G. H. Nelson, and J. E. Vickers, all of Lubbock.

Judge Lockhart became ill at Stephenville on Wednesday, July 23, just two weeks prior to the day on which he was buried. He and Mrs. Lockhart had gone to Fort Worth on the preceding Monday to

Freeman Is Heart Attack Victim

After being confined to his bed for two months with heart trouble and other ailments, J. E. Freeman, 75, died at about 10:45 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of his son, J. O. Freeman, in southeast Tahoka.

Burial was in the Tahoka cemetery Thursday afternoon following funeral services conducted at the Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. Geo. A. Dale, at 2:30 p. m.

Deceased leaves surviving him two daughters and two sons: Mrs. Sam Harriman of Memphis, Tennessee; Mrs. W. H. Grantham of Trent, Texas; J. O. Freeman of this city; and Ed Freeman of Abilene, together with twelve grandchildren. Besides, he leaves one brother residing in California.

His wife predeceased him in death on December 23, 1936, at Trent. Since that time he has lived mostly with the children. He has been here at the home of his son, J. O. Freeman, since the first of February.

Mr. Freeman was born in Tennessee on May 27, 1866, and he was married in that state to Miss Nora Evelyn Harriman. They removed from Tennessee directly to Trent, Taylor county, Texas, in 1906, and Mr. Freeman had lived in West Texas ever since.

He was not widely known here, but his son, J. O. Freeman, has been a resident of Tahoka since 1927. The bereaved have the sincere sympathy of many friends.

Brick Building Being Enlarged

An extension of the R. W. Fenton Jr. building occupied by Levine Bros. is being built this week.

The foundation, in fact, was laid last week and brick work was begun on Monday morning. The walls have been completed and it is expected that the construction work will be entirely finished by the end of next week.

The addition is 25 by 25 feet, and when completed the building will be about 105 feet long by 25 feet wide. The front of the building will also be re-arranged, so as to give much more display window space.

The enlargement was made necessary by the expanding business of Levine Bros. store, which is under the efficient management of Mr. and Mrs. Al Lehman.

Dies At Lubbock

G. E. LOCKHART

J. Lee Poer Was Buried Tuesday

J. Lee Poer, who resided a few miles north of Tahoka, died at 10:20 o'clock Monday morning in a Lubbock sanitarium where he had been taken for treatment for a heart ailment several days before.

Funeral services were conducted in the Baptist Church here at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, followed by burial in the Tahoka cemetery.

Rev. W. P. Brian, pastor of the Redwine Baptist Church, of which deceased had been a member for several years, conducted the services, with Rev. Geo. A. Dale of the Baptist Church here offering a prayer, and Rev. L. S. Jenkins of Amherst, a long-time friend of deceased, delivering the funeral discourse.

A great concourse of relatives and friends attended the services and followed the remains to the cemetery.

Deceased had been a resident of this county for a number of years, residing in the Redwine community prior to his removal a few months ago.

Sid Sanders Dies At Waco

Ray Weathers had a telephone message from Waco early Thursday afternoon in which he was informed that Sid Sanders, a resident of Tahoka for many years, had died at 10:40 o'clock Thursday morning at Waco. Death resulted from a heart affection.

Mr. Weathers received the impression that funeral services and burial would be there. No details were obtained. As The News goes to press, it is not known whether any of the relatives here will attend the funeral services or not.

Mr. Sanders was a brother of Joe and Dee Sanders of this city and Oscar of Littlefield, and was a son-in-law of the late A. D. Shook, who was one of the developers of Tahoka. He was a resident of Tahoka for many years, he and Mrs. Sanders moving to Waco some ten years ago.

Mr. Sanders formerly owned much city property here. For several years he was a member of the school board of the Tahoka Independent school district, being a member of the board when the High School building was constructed.

He was a good man and a useful citizen, and his death will be deplored by many friends here.

PEACHES

The publishers of The News are indebted to Arch Underwood of Lubbock and Roy Edwards of Tahoka for two baskets of very fine peaches that came from the Underwood orchards near Athens, the peach capital of Texas. No finer peaches are grown anywhere, and these certainly were tops. Many thanks.

Thirty-six whole farm and ranch demonstrator families in Texas remodeled their homes last year.

Mrs. Harrison, 90 Is Buried Here

After having borne the toils and experienced the joys of life for more than ninety years, Mrs. Laura C. Harrison came to her death at about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of a relative in O'Donnell as the result of an accidental fall at the Sunshine Inn here on Saturday, July 19, in which she sustained a fracture of one of the thigh bones.

After the fractured bone was set and the limb placed in a cast in a Lubbock hospital, she was taken to her recent boarding place in O'Donnell to be cared for by relatives. Pneumonia which later developed was the immediate cause of her death.

Funeral services were conducted at the Harris Funeral Chapel at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Rev. George A. Dale of the Baptist Church officiating. Banked about the casket was a great profusion of flowers, attesting the esteem in which the good woman was held, and many relatives and friends were present to pay their tribute of respect to the virile life and character of the departed.

The remains were interred in the Tahoka cemetery.

The mother of twelve children, eight of whom lived to maturity, only three of them survive the aged mother. These are H. H. Harrison of Bridger, Montana; J. H. Harrison of Winchester, California; and Mrs. E. J. Dean of Lamesa. Surviving also

Variety Program At Rotary Club

A varied and interesting program was given at the Rotary luncheon Thursday.

Bailey Crump and Mack Rogers of Petty, radio entertainers, gave several musical numbers, which were much enjoyed. Mack plays the violin and Bailey the guitar, and both sing.

Lee King, who had been asked to give a forecast of the future of aviation after the close of the war now raging in Europe, declined to assume the role of a prophet, but he gave a very racy and spicy talk on air navigation itself, closing with a reference to the experience of a fellow townsman, Kenoth Reid, and calling upon Kenoth to finish the story, which the latter did to the delight of his hearers. Kenoth told of how he got cured of the obsession that he knew all about the art of flying before he had even taken a lesson.

Don Turner had been assigned the task of forecasting Lynn county's cotton crop this year and the amount of money that it would bring. He too backed off from his subject but did proceed to give some very interesting information and to make some valuable comments respecting the crop. The final conclusion was that the county may make a half bale per acre, emphasizing the word may — which would mean a crop of 72,000 bales or more.

He asserted that the feed crop is practically made and advised farmers to dig trench silos and save a lot of the crop for use in future years.

Ray Weathers announced that the Tahoka Rotary soft ball team will enter a tournament at Brownfield beginning next Monday night.

Leonard Craft, at the beginning of the program, welcomed a new member, Eldon Gattis, into the club. Kenoth Reid has charge of the programs this month. Frank George, chairman of the program committee, presented program numbers during July.

The president announced that the club now has 43 members.

Visitors present included the entertainers, Bailey Crump and Mack Rogers, Lee King, Randolph Rutherford, Henry Maasen, J. C. Key of Wilson, and Rev. Ed Hawthorne of Happy, brother-in-law of Deen Nowlin.

ALL REGISTRANTS OVER TWENTY-EIGHT DEFERRED

All Selective Service local boards in Texas have been given instructions from State Headquarters to postpone the physical examination and induction of men who were twenty-eight years of age or over on July 1, 1941, except those who volunteer for induction.

General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, said that this directive has been issued on the strength of the status of age deferment legislation pending in the National Congress.

It is estimated that approximately one-half of the 825,429 men who registered in Texas last October are affected by this order.

General Page said that local boards have also been instructed to

GRIFFINGS RETURN FROM LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffing and son Carl Jr. returned Saturday from a visit out in Los Angeles with Carl's brother, Fred. Of course they drove around Hollywood, went down to San Diego, and drove over much of the city of Los Angeles itself. Carl says that while it is a big town, he still prefers to live in Tahoka and guesses he will stay here.

Mrs. Carlice Edwards returned to Tahoka with them to spend a few weeks here visiting the McCord families and other relatives.

In El Paso, they stopped to see Mrs. S. H. Assiter, who is taking treatment there.

postpone the induction of men who were or will be discharged from the Regular Army or the Coast Guard for the convenience of the Government within six months prior to the completion of their regular three year period of enlistment, inasmuch as the age deferment legislation in its present form includes a provision which would relieve such men from training and service.

Ginnings BY COTTON JOE

If there's anything that makes less sense than a barefoot shoe-maker, it must be a cotton farmer worrying over his crop with him and the family dressed in synthetics and substitutes.

Elder Drennon's Notes

We were over in good old Texas last week but did not enjoy the visit much, as we went through the Clark-Key Clinic for stomach trouble, and did he give us some hard things to do in order to get well? He cut us off from fried chicken, roasting ears, and gravy, and to think of giving up fried chicken just as the fried chicken season opens! I guess I will survive, but it will be a close call.

We had the pleasure of visiting Tahoka, including the News office, also a few friends at O'Donnell.

The crop outlook was good the entire trip, but best out east of Lubbock. The oil excitement was running high there too. The friend I spent the night with was offered almost twice what his place had previously been priced. The well was to be drilled in this week. If oil is found it will be a big boost for Lubbock.

My old friends among the terrapin family are back making me a visit. The one that looks like Happy Smith seemed to be well and happy, but the one resembling the editor seems a little puny.

The fruit crop in the valley is getting ripe, and it is a beautiful sight—orchards with all colors, apples, peaches, plums, and peaches.

I had the privilege of performing a wedding ceremony recently for Miss Wyleta Smith and Mr. Wilmer Green, both of Lubbock. I have been Wyleta's ideal preacher since she was a small girl. How fine to be remembered, and to think that all of us are somebody's ideal.

Yours for more people who have religion in their hands and feet as well as in the heart.—R. P. Drennon.

Ed. Note: We are truly sorry that Brother Drennon is not enjoying good health. We hope that the dieting does him good. As for his terrapin friends, of course that Happy Smith animal looks well and happy, for Happy has a good government job; and of course the little old hard-shell specimen that looks like the editor is puny, for the editor has long been on the outside looking in and has to hustle for his provender. Besides, that puny specimen probably became nauseated during the recent senatorial campaign in Texas trying to digest so much putrid stuff sent out from the Governor's Mansion in Austin. But don't be alarmed; that little hard-shell will get over it, and may yet outlive the rest of us. They sometimes live to be a hundred years old, we are told, in spite of the "pizen" doled out by professional politicians.

MONTGOMERY HAS FINE CROP OF APPLES

Will Montgomery has hardly enough apple trees on a plot of ground at his home to call it an orchard, but he says that folks have come from far and near the past week to get apples.

He has only six trees but they were loaded to the guards this year with very fine, delicious apples. There were no late freezes to kill the fruit and the copious rains during April, May, and June matured an enormous crop.

Mrs. Dan Hayes and son Bill Hayes and two of her grandchildren, Billie Ledbetter and Fred Cause, left on Monday for Donna, in the Rio Grande Valley. Mrs. Hayes owns a home there and has been down there several times before for her health.

A citizen suggested that we sponsor a move for the organization of a garden club, and we pass on the suggestion.

Yours truly is hardly qualified to start such a movement, since many of our readers know we can't tell forsythia from jasmine (we can now though), but we do love beautiful flowers in spite of their names. Such a club, while encouraging the citizens to work harder toward beautifying their own plot of the town, might also help to relieve some of the general tension and morbid fear of impending crisis which makes edgy nerves and weakened health.

In one town not too far from here, one civic organization has sponsored a redbud path through their city along the highways. Possibly the same thing might be done here with the Tahoka Daisy, or some other popular plant.

County Attorney Tries Cowboy Life, Finds It Too Rough

Friends are wondering if County Attorney Calloway Huffaker is contemplating a movie career. Their curiosity has been aroused by the fact that Calloway this week turned aside from his duties as a hard-boiled prosecutor in the courtroom to get some honest-to-goodness experience out on a ranch. Two days of cowboy life, however, drove Calloway back to town, and Thursday he was hobbling around as best he could without crutches and turning in every hour or so to bathe his bruised and wounded arms and legs.

Calloway explained to a representative of the News that a friend out on the Morgan Ranch, better known as the old Robertson Ranch, a few miles east of Slaton, invited him out to assist in branding the calf crop. He says that they assigned him successively to every job that could be done in connection with the business in hand. He helped to round up the dogies, roped the brutes—that is, he gently placed the rope about the feet of the gentlest ones—threw them down, and actually applied the branding iron.

It was great fun, he declared, but he came back bruised all over and so sore he could hardly navigate. He was in the saddle, he says, while he ought to have been in bed, for they rousted him out and put him to work Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock. He quit the drive Wednesday night.

In the meantime, he and the other ranch hands—with emphasis on the "thers"—had rounded up and branded 150 calves on Tuesday and 303 on Wednesday.

Miss Viola Ellis and Miss Ellen Nixon spent the week end with Miss Ellis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ellis, at Christoval.

The Faith of a Queen

Steadfast in the faith of her forefathers, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands stands amid the bomb-shattered ruins of the Dutch Church where Hollanders in London have worshipped for centuries. Mainly on religious grounds, the Queen's government has never recognized the Soviets, yet she recently took her place beside the other Allies in welcoming Russia as a fellow-fighter against the one great menace—Nazi Germany. With her is her son-in-law, Prince Bernhard, himself a German by birth, who has just been visiting the United States and telling Americans of the part Hollanders are playing in the Allied struggle for freedom.

Mrs. Harrison . . .

are 19 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. A. R. McGonagill, who lived here for many years, died here in 1933. Another daughter, who had lived here, Mrs. Lillie Carrington, died at Clovis, New Mexico, in 1923.

Laura C. Harrison was born in Franklin county, Tennessee, on February 21, 1851, ten years before the Civil War broke out. Her father was a teacher, and when she was but three years old he and family removed to Alabama, where for six years he followed his profession. Then in 1860, when she was only nine years of age, the family took passage on a steamer bound for New Orleans. There they boarded a river boat and came up the Mississippi and the Red Rivers to Shreveport. The voyage from Shreveport to Van Zandt county, Texas, was made by ox wagon. To the day of her death Mrs. Harrison vividly remembered many of the incidents of this journey by ocean steamer, by river boat, and by ox wagon from the Alabama seaport to the then virgin land of Van Zandt county, Texas.

In Van Zandt county she grew to womanhood, and there she met and was married to G. W. Harrison, but the marriage did not change her name, for her maiden name was Harrison. The wedding occurred on November 8, 1866, before she was yet sixteen years of age and just a little more than a year and a half following the close of the Civil War.

In 1870 both she and her husband united with the Baptist Church, and the same minister who had officiated at their marriage baptized them. Most of her life has been spent on the frontier, for in an early day she and her husband and their little family moved west; they settled in Coleman county, near where the fine little city of Coleman now stands. Her husband was serving as one of the commissioners of Coleman county when the first courthouse was built there. Those were the stirring days when the fear of Indian raids still cast a shadow over the land, and Mrs. Harrison could graphically recall at least one sensational visit that the Comanches made in that section.

Later, the family removed to Lehigh, Oklahoma, and from Lehigh they came to Lynn county in 1906

Bus Drivers For School Selected

Four school bus drivers were named by the Tahoka school board Tuesday, subject to approval of the county board, Prentice Walker, president of the local board announces.

Drivers named are A. R. Bostick, Hope Haynes, John Hamblen, and Harold Snowden. The first three are teachers in the system, and Snowden is custodian of the grade school building. Bill King, who was not an applicant for re-election, is being replaced by Hamblen.

In addition to the four Tahoka buses, John Kirkwood, also a teacher here, is expected to drive the Three Lakes bus, which brings the students from that district to Tahoka.

FORMER BAPTIST PASTOR VISITS FRIENDS HERE

Rev. L. L. F. Parker, who was pastor of the Baptist Church here for four years more than twenty years ago, was a visitor here Wednesday and Thursday, having come up from Dripping Springs near Austin to conduct the G. E. Lockhart funeral services in Lubbock. He spoke briefly at the Baptist Church prayer services Wednesday night. Brother Parker is remembered by all the old-timers here as one of the ablest and most popular of the pastors of the town.

to make their home. Mr. Harrison died here in 1919, and following his death Mrs. Harrison went to reside with a daughter, Mrs. Lillie Carrington, at Clovis, New Mexico. When Mrs. Carrington died in 1923 she came back to Lynn county to reside, and she had made her home in this county ever since, except while visiting with children residing in other parts of the country.

Mrs. Harrison had undergone the hardships of frontier life with great fortitude and had thoroughly enjoyed the wonderful panorama of life as it had passed before her over a span of almost a century. She was possessed of those womanly virtues and fine Christian character that endeared her to all who came into the sphere of her influence, and many are they for whom she lies buried beside those of her long-time companion, who preceded her in death by more than twenty years.

West Point Will Have Revival

Rev. Bruce Giles of Redwine, pastor of the West Point Baptist Church, announces that a revival meeting will begin at West Point on Friday night August 22.

Rev. Murray Fuqua, now pastor at Wheeler, will do the preaching. He formerly resided in Tahoka and is a former pastor of the West Point Church.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.

Bruce, as he is familiarly known here, also announces; that he will begin a revival at the Newmoore Church, of which he is pastor, on Friday night, August 15, to continue ten days.

He will do the preaching in this meeting. He craves the earnest help of all Christian people in the community and vicinity.

GOODNOUGH FAMILY MOVES BACK HERE

The D. H. Goodnough family moved up from Snyder Thursday to make their home here again. They are occupying the A. J. Mullins residence just vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Mullins.

Mr. Goodnough himself had been here a couple of weeks, having reopened his shoe repair shop in the building on the west side of the square which he has owned for many years.

The Goodnough family lived here for many years, moving away a few years ago. Their many friends will welcome them back.

When a Child Needs a Laxative!

Your child should like this tasty liquid laxative and you should like the gentle way it usually wakes up a youngster's lazy intestines when given by the simple directions.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT contains the same principal ingredient which has enabled its older brother BLACK-DRAUGHT to give so many users such satisfying relief for so many years!

Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief when the familiar symptoms indicate a laxative is needed.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT comes in 2 sizes. The introductory size is 25c; the economy size is 50c.

A. J. Mullins Lands Civil Service Job

After a residence here of more than sixteen years, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mullins left Thursday for Corpus Christi, where Mr. Mullins has accepted a civil service position as a sheet metal worker in the naval air training service.

Their decision to remove from Tahoka came as a surprise to their many friends here, since it was not known that such a move was contemplated, and Mr. Mullins indicated before leaving that his move was just about as great a surprise to him as it was to his friends. He had not considered such a move until very recently, when he was solicited to make application. He did so, and went to Corpus Christi and took the examination on Thursday of last week. The authorities desired that he go to work the next day but he begged for a week's time or a little more to arrange his business affairs.

Mr. Mullins did not state what his compensation will be, but it is known to be good; and he stated that if he "made good," it would probably be a life-time job.

Mr. Mullins has operated a sheet metal business here for the past sixteen years, having removed to Tahoka from Lubbock in October, 1924. He has been a member of the City Council for several years. He and Mrs. Mullins have been active in church work here, Mr. Mullins being a deacon in the Baptist Church, and the deacons and their wives and a number of other members gave them a little farewell party on the lawn of the church on Monday night and presented them with a neat little gift as an expression of the appreciation and esteem of their work and activities on the part of the membership.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Davis are leaving this morning for a few days visit with relatives and friends at "Hog Town," better known now as Deadezona. They gave the town a more euphonious name when they struck oil. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were accompanied as far as Aspermont by his sister, Mrs. E. B. Denton of Knox City, who has been visiting here this week. At Aspermont they expected to pick up a brother, W. H. Davis, to accompany them to the city of pork and oil.

CARD OF THANKS

For the many kindnesses shown us by friends and neighbors as expressed in words and deeds and flowers in the great sorrow that has come to us, we are truly grateful. We sincerely thank every one who has tried to make the way a little brighter for us.—Mrs. J. Lee Poer and children.

Scripture for this week: Hear,
 O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart and with all thy soul and with all thy might. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart.

FREE SPEECH AND ITS ABUSE

"I wholly disapprove of what you say but will defend to the death
 your right to say it."

That quotation from Voltaire forcefully epitomizes the doctrine of the right of free speech.

But every right has a corresponding duty. It is every person's duty not to abuse the rights vouchsafed to him by a just government.

In fact, there are limitations in the exercise of any right beyond which no person may go. The law has defined these limitations and when a person oversteps them he becomes amenable to the law.

These violations are included in such offenses as slander, abusive language, inciting to riot, advising or encouraging the commission of crime, the utterance of treasonable sentiments.

If some of the things which some of our Senators and other distinguished citizens are permitted to say freely now were said in time of war, they could be prosecuted for treason.

Senators ought to show their appreciation of the invaluable right of free speech by taking care not to abuse that right. They ought not, through malice or envy, nor even in the heat of passion, to say those things that are hurtful to their country.

And certainly the franking privilege accorded to Senators and Representatives in Congress should not be used by them as a means of carrying on a campaign of propaganda of any kind that smacks of disloyalty or treason. Many Congressmen in the past have abused
 this privilege.

Surely the recent rantings of Senator Wheeler, holding his country up before the eyes of the world as guilty of an ignominious course in its dealings with other nations, surely such sentiments as these should not be transmitted by the Government,
 through the mails, free of charge,
 to the millions and millions of loyal citizens of this country, even to our soldier boys in the training camps.

If any man, Senator or private citizen, is attacked with an uncontrollable impulse to disseminate his ponderous—or reasonable—ideas among the people, let him do so at his own expense. He has the right to chatter away and to make a monkey of himself all he pleases, but he has no right to saddle upon the people the expense of transporting his said ponderous (?) ideas through the mails to the people.

Congress should put a limit upon this franking business.

The twenty-five percent of the people in the United States living on the land are furnishing 50 percent of the increase in the country's population, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

WE NEVER CLOSE

SOUTHERN SAM SAYS

By HOWARD L. PARRIS

A fish an' a man in love is
 'bout alike—one't dey git hooked, dey BOF' headed for de'fryin'
 pan!

Well, Texas has a new Governor—we would say "Thank the Lord" if we were not afraid of incurring the displeasure of our good friend Brother Drennon, who took us under his benevolent wing to keep us in "the straight and narrow" a long time ago. We are sure that Coke has already gotten in bad with the good minister, for already he has reversed two of "Brother O'Daniel's" policies; he has thrown open to the public the double doors of the governor's reception room, which the great tribune of the people, "Brother O'Daniel," kept closed; and he has readmitted the newspaper fraternity to the gubernatorial confidence by reinstating regular press conferences with Capitol reporters,
 a practice which O'Daniel abolished.
 We are sorry that Coke has thus started out on the wrong track.
 But, maybe his old cob pipe and his cowboy hat will help him to survive. Really, while Coke has not been kind to some of our friends and fellow citizens, we think that on the whole he is a pretty good guy, a "regular feller," and a truly wise wise-cracker. Hope he makes a good governor, and that he discards a lot of the mere stage-playing of his immediate predecessor.

A regrettable incident occurred here Monday morning in connection with the visit of a group of Snyder people here for the purpose of inviting the people of Tahoka and Lynn county down to the rodeo to be staged in Snyder today and tomorrow. Immediately following the program of music, street dancing, and the announcements, one or two members of the party are said to have proceeded to satisfy their real or imaginary thirst with a small supply of beer, which they had in their possession. Naturally our sheriff did not relish the idea of their staging a drinking party right on the courthouse square, and accordingly they were invited into the sheriff's office for a conference. The offenders apologized, but the sheriff did not seem to be quite satisfied with a mere apology. There may be an aftermath in court. No blame should be attached to the other members of the party, however, for the misconduct of one or two. The citizenship of Snyder as a whole is among the best on earth.

According to our farmer friends,
 a terrible warfare is being waged now in our cotton fields. Bugs are eating the cotton and bugs are eating the bugs. One farmer said that a week ago it looked as if the lice were about to ruin his cotton, but today hardly any lice can be found.
 Other bugs have been eating them up. Some bugs are puncturing the cotton forms and others are puncturing the bugs. Farmers say that more varieties of insects can be found in their cotton than ever observed by them before. Some marvelously curious varieties have been described to the News man. Our hope is that the bug-eaters among the bugs prove to be more effective than the cotton eaters, that the carnivorous beasties triumph over the vegetarians. If so, we may have a bumper cotton crop to gather this fall.

Recently Mayor Deen Nowlin called attention to the practice of parking cars at the wrong angle at the curb on business streets and about public buildings, and he requested that such acts of incorrect parking be discontinued. When a car is parked parallel with the curb or at an angle headed the wrong way, about twice as much space is taken up as would be required by correct parking. Everybody understands what correct parking is, and we believe that everybody who has proper regard for the rights of others, after the same is called to their attention, will do correct parking. This suggestion applies particularly to parking irregularities on some of our business streets and at some of our churches.

THE DEVIL AND ADOLF

The Devil sat by a lake of fire
 On a pile of sulphur kegs;
 His head was low upon his breast,
 His tail between his legs.

A look of shame was one his face,
 The spark gone from his eyes—
 He had sent his resignation
 To the Throne up in the skies.

"I'm down and out," the devil said,
 He said it with a sob.
 "Another has out-classed me,
 And I want to quit my job.

"Hell isn't in it now
 With the land along the Rhine,
 I'm a 'has-been' and a piker,
 So, therefore I resign.

"I hate to leave the old place,
 The spot I love so well,
 But I'm no longer up to date
 In the art of raising Hell.

"One ammunition maker,
 With bloody shot and shell,
 Knows more about damnation
 Than all theimps in Hell.

"So give my job to Hitler,
 The author of this war,
 He'll understand it better
 A million times by far."

Mayor Deen Nowlin has warned that unless Tahoka has a clean-up soon she will be subjected to the greatest fire hazard in many years.
 This should be perfectly obvious to all. Let us get busy and clean up our own premises and our alleys, and let the owner of vacant lots
 and blocks have them cleaned up, and thus eliminate this fire hazard and remove the things that make our town unattractive.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Poston and three children, Bobby, Katherine,
 and Donnie, of Glendale, Arizona, are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newton of Tahoka. Mr. and Mrs.
 D. M. Nixon of Grassland, and other relatives in this section. Mrs. Newton is a sister of Mr. Poston and Mr. and Mrs. Nixon are the parents of Mrs. Poston. Arriving last Saturday night, they expected to spend about two weeks here.

While Europe shakes and crumbles under the steel-shod hoofs of the war gods, we're going peacefully along with our peach-canning.

Jim Coty's folks have been canning peaches, too; but Jim claims that he'd just about as soon fight a war.

But then, Jim had a rather sad experience with his peach-canning this week. He was gathering fruit when he grabbed a handful of wasp nest instead of a peach. The wasps considered this a prime insult, and launched a blitzkrieg.
 Jim scattered peaches and wild yells from there to the barn. He lost only part of his pants on his run through the blackberry patch, so he left the rest hanging on the barbwire fence as he went through it.

Jim's womenfolk heard him yelling, and rushed outside to see what all the excitement was about. This aroused all the dogs on the place, and they went yow-yowing through the cowpens after him.

Which was too much for the milk calves. Both of them jumped the fence and headed for the pasture with their tails crooked, bawling every breath. The dogs took after them, and the women folks after the dogs.

In a little bit, here came the dogs back with their tails tucked, yelping. Close behind, and encouraging them to greater speed, were the two old cows, plenty mad at the dogs.
 The dogs headed for the house for the same reason.

Nobody ever knew what time of the night Jim finally came in and went to bed. But when he woke up next morning his jaws were swelled till he looked as if he had the mumps and he sure was put out about the calves getting all the milk and his not having any cream for his coffee.

Jim had some pants trouble, along about planting time last spring,

too. He was working a span of bronc mules to his corn planter when one leg of his duckings got caught in the planter cogs. Jim hollered whoa in such an excited voice that it spooked his hard tails. They snorted and jumped and started planting corn on the run.

Jim sawed the bits in their mouths, till he finally got them stopped, but by that time his pants had fed through the gears so far that he had to cut himself out of them with his pocket knife.

To make matters worse, when he came in sight of the house that evening, minus his pants, one of the neighbor women who was visiting his folks saw him first and screamed. And Jim made for some brush and boulders back of the house,

aiming to hide out till the visitors left, and had to lie there and watch a sheriff and his posse and their bloodhounds gather to search the countryside for a crazy man.

While the hunt was on, however,
 Jim managed to slip into the house for another pair of pants and to join the hunters.

It wasn't until after sundown that he found out they were in search of a man with no pants.

NEW OIL that gives car engines GOOD OLD OIL-PLATING far Outlasts 5 other big brands in Desert War of Endurance

Oil-Plated engine proves good for more than Double the Mileage averaged by rivals in Daring Death-Test... Certified

Plenty of good old pre-streamline cars with OIL-PLATED engines still pass your house quietly... pass oil-inspection many a time without needing a quart. That's because inner engine parts have been kept OIL-PLATED by the strong magnet-like action that won't let OIL-PLATING quickly drain down. Even all night, OIL-PLATING stays up to its topmost point—on guard against wear in advance! Yet this famous OIL-PLATING—based on the Conoco Germ Processed oil patent—is merely one factor in today's great success of the new

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
 —Lasted 5,683 miles longer than next-best oil tested in Death Valley

Conoco Nth oil invited itself straight up against 5 other representative oils in an all-out test to the death... unbiased... Certified. The graveyard was cruel Death Valley—so hot you can't sweat. 6 every-day coupes were used—all alike. Each got one 5-quart fill of some one competing oil—locked in by the Official Referee. Then under strictly equal conditions all cars sped without added oil, till engines cracked up.

The weakest oil gave up while Conoco Nth still had 8,268 miles to go... Certified. All 5 rivals together averaged 7,067 miles less than Conoco Nth oil... Certified.

Real difference—from a Real source

Two modern synthetics are in new Conoco Nth oil. Now think of modern vitamin synthetics, replacing some of Nature's life-givers lost in modern food processing. Similarly, the latest oil refining methods destroy some of Nature's life-givers. But today full life is brought back—more than generously—by the two Conoco synthetics.

One of these will make Conoco Nth motor oil keep your engine OIL-PLATED. The other will check the effect of foul leftovers caused by every engine's normal firing. This component of all oil troubles is now checked—inhibited—by Thialthene inhibitor... Conoco Patent 2,218,132. But why technicalities?—when you know the Certified Economy record of Conoco Nth in Death Valley. You'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil, nor make your car try any other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at the recommended intervals. But knowing that one fill of Conoco Nth oil outlasted the other Death-Tested oils—by 74% all the way up to 161%—you can figure on a long time between quarts of Conoco Nth oil. Change today—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

IMPARTIAL

Latest available oil of each competitive brand bought retail by Referee.

New stock coupes all alike; broken-in alike; tuned alike; handled alike. Engines had been taken apart for Referee—to assure same conditions for all oils. Same route for all. One fill of oil per car. None added. Engines under lock—under scrutiny—every mile.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

 LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE

ODDS & ENDS

by Eec Eye,
the Elder

The advent of the radio certainly has revolutionized the manner of conducting political campaigns.

Over the radio a candidate may reach thousands of people in a single address, whereas he could reach only a mere handful in an address out on the hustings; and over the radio, he may have a state-wide audience, or even a nation-wide audience in some instances, whereas any audience addressed by a candidate out on the hustings is usually made up of residents of the locality.

Furthermore, since most of the voters have numerous opportunities to hear any of the leading candidates for the major offices one or more times over the radio during a campaign, it has become difficult for even the major candidates to attract large audiences out on the hustings.

Another change that had come even before the advent of the radio was the virtual discontinuance of the once prevalent custom of opposing candidates to hold joint debates on the issues of the campaign. Nothing will attract a crowd like the prospect of a red hot debate.

So, back in the pre-radio days, back in the joint-discussion days, political campaigns really grew hot. Great crowds gathered when a formidable candidate for governor came to town, or a candidate for the U. S. Senate, or even a candidate for Congress. The speaking was held usually in some great public tabernacle, or out on some noted picnic grounds, and literally thousands of people assembled under the tabernacle or under some great grove of spreading trees near a stream to hear the speaker or the speakers of the day.

Often the candidate was met at the train with a brass band, which escorted him uptown, or downtown, as the case might be, and hundreds and hundreds of his followers joined in the parade that followed the band. There is scarcely an old boy anywhere today whose hair has turned to silver, we dare say, who can not remember some such thrilling occasion as this. And on the public square, or at the tabernacle, or out at the picnic grounds, the band would play some such thriller as "There'll Be a Hot Time In The Old Town Tonight", and nearly always it would wind up with "Dixie" accompanied with a chorus of "rebel yells".

And what boy could listen to the blare of the horns and the Boom-Boom-Boom of the big bass drum without his blood being stirred and his vocal cords loosened?

Or, maybe, it was at the annual reunion of the old ex-Confederates at the county seat or other accustomed meeting place, when the grizzled old boys in gray met and lived over and over the days of the Civil War—maybe it was on some such occasion as that that you as a kid got your greatest thrill from the music of the band, the blood-stirring, almost defiant "tump" of the old "rebel" drum.

What a marvelous part the drum has played in the politics of this country! How it has stirred the blood and sometimes aroused the martial spirit of the people!

But we have no more ex-Confederate reunions. The boys in gray have passed on. Neither do the boys in blue meet any more at their accustomed places in the North. They too have laid down their animosities and their arms. No more do either the Grays or the Blues hear the martial drum beats that stir them to action.

It is rare, too, that candidates for office are met at the railway station or at the picnic grounds any more by the blare of trumpets and the beat of drums.

We sometimes wish that we could again attend just one such political pow-wow as they used to have in the long-ago—such, for instance, as they had when Jim Hogg, in the heat of a great campaign, came to town; or when the great throng of hero-worshippers accorded to the eloquent Joe Bailey such a reception as might have been accorded a god; or when the greatest platform speaker this country has seen since the Civil War, William Jennings Bryan, was the orator of the day. Those giants didn't need a band or a drum to drum up a crowd for them, but the bands and the drums were usually there just the same.

No, we will never see those days again.

But, if some untoward event should again draw this country into war, the marching of soldiers and the beat of drums might be seen and heard again throughout our land.

While we suspect that martial music would play a lesser part in any war into which we might be drawn today than in any of our previous wars, yet we are sure it would have a place in arousing the patriotism of the people.

We ran across a little poem the other day, written by Berton Braley, which forcefully sets forth the thrilling power of the drum and the part it has played in the history of the world, and we just believe we will give it to our readers, in full. Here it is.

The Drums

Tumpy-tum-tump; tumpy-tum-tump—

Hark to the sound of the drums, Tumpy-tum-tump; tumpy-tum-tump;

The beat and the thud That you feel in your blood, The heart-shaking rhythm that comes

With thunder and throb of the drums, The Drums! The Drums! R-r-rat-a-tat-tat, r-r-rat-a-tat tat, r-r-rat-a-tat-tat, and boom! Way for the drums, make room!

For the roll of the drums is a time-honored tone— The mightiest music the planet has known.

It rumbled its summons to primitive man— Reverberant rhythm that gathered the clan.

It beat out a challenge to frighten the foe And thudded a dirge for the warriors laid low.

The Drums! The Drums! Oh, down all the ages there comes The echoing boom of the drums; Drums out of Egypt and drums from Cathay, Rolling a thunderous note through the fray.

Roman and Greek, Saxon and Frank Heard the drums speak— Rank upon rank

Answered the call with a deep-throated roar; Wild drums of Attila, Red Scourge of War, Spread the loud tidings of horror and fear;

So, through the centuries ever we hear Drums sounding slowly and drums beating fast

Over the world in a symphony vast; Down to the depths of our nature it plumbs.

(Tumpy-tum-tump! Tumpy-tum-tump!)

Militant surge of the drums! The Drums! The Drums! They stir us from sloth that benumbs.

Bass drums and kettle-drums thundering loud, Snare drums that startle and hearten the crowd,

Lifting the soul as the quicken their beat, Throbbing with triumph and mocking defeat,

Voice of adventure and vaunt of romance, Daring the wrath of the grim gods of chance—

All in the rhythm that dauntlessly comes Out of the drums! Out of the drums Tumpy-tum-tump! Tumpy-tum-tump!

Hark to the sound of the drums! Tumpy-tum-tump; tumpy-tum-tump!

The beat and the thud That you feel in your blood— The heart-shaking rhythm that comes

With thunder and throb of the drums! R-r-rat-a-tat-tat, r-r-rat-a-tat tat, R-r-rat-a-tat-tat, and boom!

Way for the drums, way for the drums! Way for the drums—make room!

The annual Connolly reunion was held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4, at Latham Springs, four miles west of Aquila.

T-Bar Farm House Burned Tuesday

A farm house owned and occupied by W. A. Arms and family, situated two or three miles northeast of T-Bar school house and known as the old W. L. Kuykendall home, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Tuesday afternoon while all members of the family were away, some of them being in the field gathering peas at the time to be canned. Not only the house but all its contents were destroyed.

This was a five or six room residence and was one of the oldest dwellings in the county.

The Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department was called out too late to save the house but it was feared that a lot of feed might be destroyed, and the boys made sure that the feed was safe before returning to Tahoka. Paul Howell drove the fire truck and several other members of the department accompanied him to the scene.

Planning Group Medical Program

More than five thousand low-income farm families comprising 7,281 persons, working with the Farm Security Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in New Mexico and parts of Texas, Kansas, Colorado and Oklahoma, are participating in a Group Medical Care program.

This information was received here this week by Wyman J. Welch, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Lynn county, from Wilson Cowan, regional director of this Federal agency at Amarillo.

The information, Mr. Welch said, was taken from a report for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The Group Medical Care program, sponsored by the FSA in co-operation with local physicians, makes medical attention more readily available to low-income rural people at a cost they can afford. The plan operates on a voluntary basis.

The Group Medical Care program is operating in 79 of the 120 counties served by the regional FSA office at Amarillo.

Participating physicians in the 79

RUNNELS COUNTY FOLKS HAVE BIG REUNION

Former Runnels county folks now residing out on these plains or on the fringe thereof met in annual session in Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock last Sunday and had a great time, according to Judge H. W. Calaway of Draw, who has been serving as president of the organization for the past four or five years. Calaway declares that about 500 ex-Runnelites were in attendance.

Such sports as foot-racing, yarn-spinning, and possibly mumble-peg were indulged in and a great feast was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Judge Calaway had decided that those "Runnels county renegades" would need some preaching too, so he had invited Rev. George A. Dale to come and bring along one of his choice sermons. He says the preacher did a good job of it.

Along with the preaching they had some singing too and other good numbers on the program.

Having served four or five years as president already, Calaway refused a repetition of the honor, and Charley Spence of Crosbyton was elected to succeed him.

Claude Donaldson and C. E. McKnight of the Farmers Cooperative Gin attended a cotton school at the Texas Tech Wednesday. Ginners and cotton men from the whole South Plains area were present to get the benefit of the instruction and information given by cotton experts.

O'NEALS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. O'Neal of San Angelo were visitors in Tahoka Monday. They stopped for a few minutes chat with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Tinsley en route to Floydada, where Mr. O'Neal's parents live.

They were accompanied by their three children and sister and brother-in-law.

The O'Neals formerly resided in Tahoka for many years. Mr. O'Neal then being local manager of Woodruff Lumber company here. They moved to San Angelo because of Mrs. O'Neal's health. She is greatly improved now.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the many visits, cards and beautiful floral offerings that I enjoyed during my recent illness in the hospital and since returning. May God richly reward each of you for every act of kindness shown to us.—Mrs. L. H. Kenley.

Mrs. E. L. McCrary of Fort Worth returned to her home the first of the week after a visit of two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Charley Lichey, and family eight miles north of Tahoka the past two weeks.

counties received an average of $10,000 a month in 12 months covered in the report at an average cost to participating families of slightly less than $2 per month.

The Group Medical Care program makes it possible for physicians, particularly in rural areas, to give essential medical care to needy families at the time it is needed. It also enables the participating families to safeguard their health and receive attention at a cost they can afford to pay.

This plan, according to Mr. Welch, has been in operation in some counties in this region for four years. It is now operating in about 800 counties throughout the United States, serving approximately 800,000 farm families.

Mr. Welch said that leading authorities generally believe that this program is aiding materially in the present National Defense Program by protecting the health of many persons who usually are least able to take advantage of medical assistance.

They expected to remain there a few days visiting relatives and friends and then proceed to Memphis to visit a daughter, Mrs. Bessie Coleman. From Memphis, they will go to Attalla, Alabama, to visit a son, Cleo Pennington, and family.

Following these visits D. J. said that they expected to come back to Arkadelphia and just camp out in the Davidson Camp Grounds there. Suppose they will spend the time fishing, swimming, meeting friends and strangers, and enjoying the scenery.

D. J. said that nobody need expect him back here till about the 27th of the month.

Claude being a brother and Mrs. Roy Poer a sister of the visiting Mr. Conway. They left here Thursday for Fort Worth and Dallas to visit two brothers and two sisters residing in those cities. M. Scott, and aunt, Miss Ethel Calahan. Mr. Scott, who is in summer school in Oklahoma at the present time, will join them later on a trip to Carlsbad Cavern before returning to his duties as band director in the Weleetka schools.

All the Connolly families and "in-laws" and their families spent the week end down in Hill county. Some of them left here Thursday, some Friday, and some Saturday, but all attended a family reunion at Latham Springs Baptist Encampment on the Brazos River Saturday evening and night. The Judge says that 139 members of the connection were present.

J. B. THOMPSON FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

The children of J. B. Thompson together with their families gathered at the parental home near Grassland Sunday for a family reunion. It was a great occasion for all who were able to be present, and a great feast was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Miss Marietta Montgomery, who teaches in the Brownfield High School, is keeping books for a firm in Lubbock during the summer. She will resume her work in the Brownfield school in September for the fifth consecutive term. Miss Grace, who has been teaching in Sylvester the past three years, will also return to her work in September to begin her fourth year there.

ago to the place north of Tahoka.
He leaves surviving him the widow and seven children, three sons and four daughters, all of whom were present at the funeral services, as follows: Lee Olin Poer of Meadow, Mrs. Lois Williams of Abilene, Mrs. Frank Rutherford of Whitharrel, Mrs. Rayford Smith of Abilene, R. B. Poer of Brownwood, Mrs. Irvin Simmons of San Antonio, and Roy Poer of the family home.
Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. R. S. Walton of Stamford, Mrs. Ora Eaton of Kerens, and Mrs. Sam Preddy of Hubbard City, and one brother, Roy Poer of Tahoka. Mrs. Walton and Roy Poer being present at the funeral. Also surviving are five grand-children and many other relatives.
Jim Lee Poer was born at Hubbard City, Hill county, Texas, on January 28, 1882, and was therefore 59 years of age at the time of his death.
He was united in marriage with Miss Mary Smedley on November 11, 1900, at Mt. Calm in the county of his birth. Of this marriage seven children were born, as named above. He and family removed to Lynn county a number of years ago. Here he had many friends. He was active in the work of his church and was highly esteemed for his fine Christian character. A devoted husband and father, a friend to young people, a truly good neighbor, a loyal and worthy citizen, standing staunchly for God and for right in all the affairs of life, he was loved and respected by all who knew him. His life, says his pastor, was an inspiration to others.

The News joins the hosts of other friends in sympathy for all the bereaved ones.

attend the funeral services of Bob English, a brother-in-law, and on Tuesday they came back to Stephenville accompanied by a brother, J. T. Lockhart, and wife. On that night, or early the next morning, he became ill and on Thursday entered a hospital in Stephenville.
On Monday it was believed that he was somewhat improved and Mrs. Lockhart called for a Lubbock ambulance and he was brought back to Lubbock, arriving, as stated, about midnight.
Judge Lockhart had undergone surgery about three years ago and was seriously ill for several weeks at that time. It is understood that he suffered a recurrence of the old trouble.
Surviving him are the wife and two daughters, Mrs. Leona (Winter) Knight of Tahoka, and Mrs. Bill Ed Watson of Brownfield; two grandsons, Gene Earl and Billy Knight of Tahoka, and one grand-daughter, Jesse Kay Lockhart of Lubbock.
Also surviving are five brothers: J. T. Lockhart of Stephenville, Jim Lockhart of Snyder, State Treasurer Charley Lockhart of Austin, D. Lockhart of Marshall, and Beon O. Lockhart of Arlington; and two sisters, Mrs. Bob English of Fort Worth, and Mrs. John Cargill of Wichita Falls.
G. E. Lockhart was born in Erath county near Stephenville fifty-nine years ago. In early manhood he came to the West, and he taught school at Gomez in Terry county from 1907 to 1909. Studying law in the meantime, he was admitted to the bar in the latter part of 1909, locating in Brownfield for the practice of his profession.
In 1911 he moved to Tahoka and the next year he was elected district attorney of the old 72nd judicial district serving three terms.
For a number of years Judge Lockhart was president of the board of trustees of the Tahoka Independent School District, and during his services the schools here made great progress. In fact it was Judge Lockhart who drew the bill creating the Tahoka Independent School district and procured its passage as a special Act of the legislature.
While a citizen of Tahoka Judge Lockhart became associated with some of the leading business interests of the town and also acquired much farm property in this county. For several years he was president of the Security State Bank and was a partner with Jack Edwards in the ownership and operation of one of the leading Gins here.
In 1926 he removed to Lubbock and has resided there since, practicing his profession as a lawyer and looking after his various business interests.
Several years ago Judge Lockhart offered himself as a candidate for the legislature and was elected, serving one term.
For many years, Judge Lockhart has been regarded as one of the leading lawyers of West Texas, and he has figured on one side or the other in many of the most important cases, civil and criminal, that have arisen in this section.
A man of the highest integrity and great ability, he was one of the leading citizens of West Texas.
He was married to Mrs. Luella Key while he was a resident of Terry county, and she has been a constant companion and a great helpmeet to her husband through all these years. Especially was she active and helpful in church work and in civic affairs while they were residents of Tahoka.
Mrs. Lockhart and the children have the deepest sympathy of a host of friends here and throughout Lynn county.
Jasper Penn Howard of Merkel is here visiting his cousins, Joan and Jean Henderson.
