Cotton Ginning Is Barely Started

Cotton has begun to trickle in to the gins of Tahoka and throughout Lynn county this week, but the trickle is still rather weak. Only 155 bales of this year's crop had been ginned at the five gins in Tahoka when the News called for a report Thursday morning.

With an immense crop in prospect, if it ever gets a chance to open, the ginning season is opening about the latest on record. This is due to the continued rains through September and up to now in October. A total of 6.30 inches of rain fell in Tahoka in September, and 1.82 inches has already fallen this month, bringing the total for the year up to the record-breaking figure of 33.60 inches. Recent rains have been much heavier in some localities than they were in Tahoka, and possibly eight to ten inches fell in these localities in September. Rains last Spring and early Summer were also heavier in some places in the county than they were here.

As this is written, more rain appears to be in prospect. It rained every day last week, clearing up Saturday morning, and the skies remained almost clear until Wednesday, when again they became overcast. So, cotton has had little chance to open.

Pickers from the south and east began to arrive over the week end, however, a few before that time, but many of them have found little to do so far. Some of them turned south and went to the Big Spring area, it is reported. Others have secured employment here harvesting the immense feed crop.

With the passing of this latest Gulf storm, it is hoped that the skies will clear again and that cotton harvesting will soon be in full blast.

Series Of Lectures Ended Thursday

The lecture course given during the past few weeks in the district court room under the auspices of the Retail Merchants Association came to a close Thursday night as this paper was being printed with the last number given by Dr. J. O. Ellsworth of the Texas Tech faculty. Dr. Ellsworth had given his second lecture on Tuesday night of this week, which is said to have been very fine in its line and the business men present enjoyed it very much.

Prior to the three lectures given by Dr. Ellsworth, three had been given by Dr. T. C. Root, also of the Tech faculty.

These lectures were given for the benefit of the business people of Tahoka and covered subjects of particular interest to the merchants and sales people of Tahoka.

The attendance as a rule was fairly good, but was interfered with at times by weather conditions and by other gatherings in town.

A. H. "Buddy" McGonagill is president of the merchants' association, and Miss Viola Ellis is secretary.

Parity Checks For Lynn $500,157.32

Lynn county was second high on the Plains in parity payments to farmers for the 1940 program, according to announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture report made yesterday.

Lynn farmers received $500,157.32 in parity checks. Lubbock county was little ahead of Lynn, having received $560,521.31.

Total for the nation was $205,834,429, according to the report. Administrative costs brought the aggregate of payments up to $210,003,151, the department said. Producers of corn, cotton, wheat, and rice who participated in the 1940 Agricultural Adjustment program shared in the payments.

The program was financed with a $225,000,000 appropriation, but approximately $7,100,000 was used to complete 1939 price adjustment payments. Parity payments are made to adjust the difference between actual and parity prices.

Tahoka Playing Borger Bulldogs

As The News goes to press, the Tahoka Bulldogs are playing the Borger Bulldogs at Borger. Tahoka is a class A team, while Borger is class AA.

Borger, coached by "Windy" Nicklaus, one-time Tahoka coach, is reputed to have a strong team, although it has been tied twice, once by the powerful Electric gridgers, and then last week by Perryton in a mud-battle.

Coach Leo Jackson's Tahoka Bulldogs, rested last week following its decisive triumph over Lockney. The Bulldogs had previously whipped Andrews and lost to Class AA Lamesa. Incidentally, Lockney last week tied a strong Paducah outfit.

The Tahoka boys go to Borger with the attitude that teams never get too big to be knocked over. Although Borger is supposed to be out of Tahoka's class, the boys will likely get some fine game experience if they do not win a game.

Fullback Cecil Curry is out with an injured leg, but expects to be ready to go when Tahoka meets the strong Seminole Indians here Friday night of next week.

Many School Patrons Pledge Support Of Control Of Traffic

Tahoka school officials said this week that they had received numerous telephone calls and visits from school patrons and Tahoka citizens asking that the school patrol be continued as they thought it a worth-while project. They expressed themselves as being anxious to cooperate and support the undertaking of this safety patrol.

The school patrol is composed of members of the seventh grade and operates under the supervision of Miss Ruby Nell Smith.

Before a student can serve on this patrol he must have a written statement from his mother giving her permission. The students serve in rainy and bad weather and it is even more important at that time for motorists to obey the school patrol and their traffic regulations.

School officials and the patrol supervisor expressed their gratitude to Mr. W. M. Lee, city marshal, for his co-operation in this project.

HOME FROM HONOLULU

Miss Claudia Draper, who has been serving as a nurse in a Government hospital in Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, the past fifteen months, arrived home Tuesday afternoon. She was met at San Francisco by her sisters, Mrs. Oscar McGinty of Spur, Mrs. John Dupre of Levelland, and Mrs. Fred McGinty of Tahoka, and the former's son Don.

DIETITIAN AT TECH

Miss Marian Draper, who has been employed for some time as dietitian in El Paso, recently accepted the position of supervisor of the new Women's Dormitory at Texas Technological College. Miss Draper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Draper and was reared here.

School Children Attended Fair

Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, county school superintendent, reports that many Lynn county school children attended the Panhandle-South Plains Fair Wednesday.

Some of the rural schools attended as a body. Others granted the privilege to any who desired to attend. Admission on that day was free of charge.

Defense School Needs Instructor

Is there a mechanic in Tahoka that would like to make $17.40 more a week than he is now making?

Local mechanics that are interested in working at the defense training center for out-of-school youths should place their application with a member of the Tahoka school board. Prentice Walker is president of the local board and Wynne Coulier is vice president.

Classes will meet at night and only 15 hours a week will be spent in the training center. Instructors receive $1.16 per hour for their work. The week's schedule will be arranged by the class and their instructor.

Out-of-school boys between the ages of 17 and 21 that live in the Tahoka school district interested in attending this school should place applications with Supt. W. T. Hanes or Leslie Browning at the Tahoka High School.

Instruction in operation, care and repair of tractors, trucks and automobiles, wood construction and elementary electricity will be given free to the youths enrolled in this national defense training school. The course will probably continue over a period of ten months.

Open Employment Office In Tahoka

E. W. Flumey of the farm placement division of Texas State Employment Service has been stationed at Tahoka for the benefit of the farmers and cotton pickers of this area, according to Rankin C. Reynolds, acting manager of the Lubbock office.

Mr. Flumey may be contacted at the County Agricultural building. Local officials are cooperating with the Texas State Employment Service by making this office available for headquarters where farmers may come and place their orders for farm harvest hands and pickers. Farm workers may contact Mr. Flumey to obtain information about jobs.

The service is without cost to the pickers or farmers and it is urged that they use it as a clearing house during the coming cotton and feed harvest.

It was stated that local labor would be assisted in every way before transient labor is used.

H. B. McCord was in Dallas Wednesday and Thursday on business.

Lynn Exhibit Is Winner At Fair

Lynn county's county farm exhibit placed first at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair in progress at Lubbock this week, and judges proclaimed the exhibit one of the finest ever presented at the show. First prize carries a premium of $75.00.

The exhibit was gathered and arranged by County Agent Don Turner, with the assistance of several other citizens of the county.

Last year Lynn took second place at the fair, being topped by Lamb county, but this year the order was reversed. Second place, won by Lamb county, carries a $60.00 prize.

Other counties placed as follows: Terry, third, $40.00; and Castro, Bailey, Haskell, Maverick, Collingsworth, and Crosby, in order, $25.00 each.

Only Two Youths Called To Army

Although there was a call for six men from Lynn county to go into training in the army camps on Wednesday of next week, the local draft board has selected only two men to go. The fact that the call was not filled was due to the urgent demand for the services of the youths in helping to harvest the crops this fall.

The two who have been selected and who will leave on next Wednesday are Joe Bailey Crump, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crump out on Route 4, and J. D. Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Tucker of O'Donnell. J. D. is employed temporarily in Dallas but is expected to be here to be inducted into the service Wednesday.

Another call for five men from Lynn county has been issued for November 17.

Knot Hole Gang Elects Officers

George Ray Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hill of Tahoka, was elected leader of the local Knot Hole Gang at a meeting Monday afternoon at the grade school building with their sponsor, John Kirkwood.

This organization is sponsored by members of the Rotary Club and the Tahoka schools. The purpose of this organization is to create a desire in the members to be better citizens in their home, school, town and community.

Boys in this recently organized club have as their motto, "We will strive to be strong, clean American boys and always be loyal to our school, country and God." A pass word was also selected.

Members of this organization will be admitted free to the home football games if they live up to the regulations that have been made by the two sponsoring agents. The next meeting has been scheduled for Monday afternoon, Oct. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gagnat spent Tuesday in Amarillo on business.

C. of C. Sponsors School Contest

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a contest in the local high school on "My Home Town and Defense." The winner of this contest will win a cash prize of $2.50.

Students are writing themes that are due October 14 on the designated subject. Each student in high school is required to enter a manuscript in this contest. These students will receive a grade in English on the prepared themes. (Continued on Back Page)

Connolly Victim Of Pick-Pocket

Pickpockets seemed to be getting in their work among the crowds that attended Panhandle-South Plains Fair Wednesday night. At least two Lynn county men were victims.

Judge Chester Connolly lost a bill fold containing thirty to forty dollars and valuable private papers, while Elmer Rice, mail carrier at Wilson, was victimized for twelve dollars.

Connolly discovered the theft from his pocket almost immediately after it happened and says that if he had been sure of his man he would have caught the thief. As it was, he turned upon the man and accused him of the crime, but the fellow protested his absolute innocence and Connolly permitted him to get away in the crowd. At the time, he was not able to locate an officer.

Connolly's little daughter, Geraldine, was not content to let the fellow get away, however. With great spunk, she pushed her way through the crowd and followed the fellow, grabbed him by the coat and told him that he could not get away with her daddy's money, and instituted a search. He refused to permit her to search his trousers pockets, however, and finally got away from her.

A little later the Judge was telling to Elmer Rice what had happened to him, when Elmer reached for his purse and found that it was gone. It contained about twelve dollars.

Lunch Room At School Patronized By Many Students

(By Carolyn Chandler)
W. T. Hanes, superintendent of Tahoka Public Schools, stated that the school lunch room is now progressing satisfactorily, and more students are eating there. If the students continue to eat in the lunch room, better lunches will be served.

Any child that eats in the lunch room and wants to bring in food can exchange the food for lunch tickets. Market price will be given for all products. School officials stressed the fact that if more children will bring in food, the meals will improve in quantity and quality. However, well-balanced meals are served at all times.

If there are students that do not eat in the lunch room, and have a surplus of canned foods, milk, butter, or eggs, it would be appreciated if they would take it to the grade school building and give it to Mr. A. L. Pace, grade school principal.

Students unable to buy tickets or children that are undernourished may secure free lunch tickets from Lee Dodson, high school principal, or from Mr. Pace.

GRANDMOTHER DIES

Leo Jackson, coach and teacher in Tahoka High School, received a message from his wife Monday stating that her grandmother, Mrs. Tanner, about 80, had died at the home near Strawn Sunday. Mrs. Jackson had been at her grandmother's about a week, the aged lady having suffered a stroke of paralysis.

J. G. Riggs, formerly a teacher in the O. K. school in Dawson county, has been elected teacher of history and science in Wilson High School.

Mrs. J. W. Russell of San Saba is here visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Garland Pennington, and family.

AAA Allotments Are Due Nov. 1

Speeding up work to get 1942 AAA allotments to farmers by November 1 is the gigantic task facing county offices now, Vernon C. Willhoit, chairman of the Lynn county AAA committee announced this week.

Allotments are being issued about six months before the usual time since all decks must be cleared for the house-to-house canvass in the national defense program, the AAA official said. The farm plan sheet method, through which farmers plant crops for maximum payments under the AAA program, will be used by committeemen in the feed and food campaign.

Since greater production of milk, eggs, and other foodstuffs is being asked of Texas farmers, county goals will be announced in a few weeks, Willhoit said. Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard outlined details of the defense program to southern agricultural workers in Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 29 and 30.

curial production of surplus commodities and at the same time increase production of commodities essential to defense needs is evidenced in the 1942 AAA program which has been designed to meet a national emergency, Willhoit said.

Cotton, wheat, rice and peanut allotments will be established as in former years but no general allotments will be made because of the increased emphasis on feed and food. Allotments will also be established for commercial Irish potatoes.

When details of the 1942 program are received, educational meetings will be held in the various communities, the chairman said.

Soldiers Appear At Rotary Club

The Rotary Club Thursday heard brief reports from three of the young men of Tahoka who have been in Camp Bowie at Brownwood for several months and who recently participated in the Army maneuvers in Louisiana, Keith Connolly, Finis Connolly, and James Foster. They told briefly of life in the camp and also of the maneuvers. Their remarks were to the point and characterized by a bit of humor, and were much enjoyed by the auditors.

Judge Louis B. Reed, who was present as a visitor, was asked to make a statement regarding the new court set-up in this district, which he did to the entire satisfaction of the members of the club. Before doing so, however, he took occasion to compliment the young men serving in the army who had just spoken as well as the soldiers as a whole. He declared that he believed the morale of the army as a whole is high. The only thing the matter with it, he asserted, is the fact that civilians who are employed in plants manufacturing defense equipment and munitions and who are paid high wages are allowed to strike while the soldiers must be content to stay on the job on meager pay. This brought applause from the entire audience.

Wells Edwards favored the Club with several brief piano numbers that brought applause.

A number of visitors were present from Post, O'Donnell, Lubbock, Lamesa, and other places.

New Books For County Library

Lynn County Library, which has been adding to its shelves many new books, will receive this week six of the latest best sellers.

New books received, all of which were in the best seller list of last Sunday's Star-Telegram, are: Marriage is a Private Affair, by Judith Kelly, Harper price novel, 1941-42.

We Sun is My Undoing, by Marguerite Steen.

The Venables, by Kathleen Norris. Her best.

Berlin Diary, by William L. Shirer. Germany in the second war.

The Keys of the Kingdom, by A. J. Cronin. Leads list.

People of the county are making excellent use of the library, according to Mrs. G. M. Stewart, chairman of the county library board.

CHILD GUIDANCE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. COLLIER

The members of the Child Guidance Club met with Mrs. Wynne Collier Tuesday afternoon.

Roll call was answered with "A Method Dealing with Temper Tantrums."

A reading, "Which One Was Kept?" was given by Carolyn Collier.

Mrs. Calloway Huffaker discussed "The Child and His Temper," and Mrs. Douglas Finley talked on "Young Wordy Warriors."

Mrs. Truett Smith was presented with a gift from the club.

Delightful refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. Alton Cain, James Clinton, K. R. Durham, E. R. Edwards, Coy Fielder, Douglas Finley, R. H. Gibson, Fred B. Hegi, Calloway Huffaker, Deen Nowlin, Emil Prohl, W. E. Smith, Truett Smith, Jack Welch.

SOLDIER BOYS HOME FROM MANEUVERS

Four of the Tahoka boys who participated in the maneuvers down in Louisiana were here Tuesday visiting the home folks. They were, Ted and Bill Boydston, Roy (Boob) Hicks, and Cecil Warren.

They had been in training at Fort Bliss and had gone down from that place to Louisiana to engage in the mock warfare. Upon arriving at Big Spring on the return trip they were granted leaves of absence to visit the home folks here.

The boys spent two months down in the tall pines and the swamps and admitted that they had been leading a strenuous life. The mock battles were pretty close to the real thing, judging from the reports that the boys gave.

But they looked strong and healthy, and evidently had been able to "take it."

The boys had much praise for the aviators, declaring that they handled those airplanes with great skill.

JUDGE CAIN EXHIBITS FINE APPLE SAMPLES

Judge C. H. Cain presented to the News force Monday a bag of Winesap apples grown on a couple of trees he has on his premises.

These are nice specimens of the fruit for any man's country, good size and excellently flavored. These two trees are prolific producers, and this year have yielded an unusually fine crop.

Judge Cain observes that apples are a much surer crop in this country than are peaches and some other fruits. To get the best results, careful attention should be given the trees to guard against borers. Spraying should be done each year to get the finest specimens of fruit.

TWO COUPLES WERE MARRIED HERE SATURDAY

Two couples were married here Saturday in the office of Justice of the Peace James E. Dye.

One of the couples was F. T. Pendleton of the west portion of the county and Miss Ollie Lee McMillan of T-Bar.

The second couple was H. B. Rinne and Miss Yvonne Yates of Wilson.

PROCLAMATION

By the Mayor of the City of Tahoka, Lynn County, Texas, to all to whom these presents come:

Whereas, the Business Women throughout the country will be celebrating the anniversary of National Business Women's Week this October; and

Whereas, it is fitting at this time to commend business women for the manner in which they have assumed the increased duties and responsibilities that came with the greater privileges and opportunities of the century; and

Whereas, the business woman should be encouraged and urged to continue assuring the obligations of citizenship to the end that through the united efforts of man and woman alike the problems of Democracy may be solved;

Whereas, the Business Women throughout the nation have adopted for study and action this year a program that will unify their efforts to "Strengthen Democracy for Defense";

Now, therefore, I, Deen Nowlin, mayor of the City of Tahoka, do hereby set aside and proclaim the week of October 5th-11th as Business Women's Week and urge that it be fittingly observed in our City of Tahoka.

In testimony whereof, I have heretofore signed my name officially and caused the Seal of Tahoka to be impressed thereon at Tahoka this the 2nd day of October, A. D., 1941.
DEEN NOWLIN, Mayor of the City of Tahoka.

JUNIOR CLASS HOLDS SCAVENGER HUNT

Members of the Junior class of Tahoka High School sponsored a scavenger hunt Monday evening at 7:30 at the home of Joan Owens.

Jean Slover and John Bigham won first prize of a box of candy and cookies. Beth Sheppard and Ruby Greer won the second prize.

Body measurements of Coach Leo Jackson, wagon wheel, the signature of Wayne Shawn, and a part of a dog were a few of the objects that students were required to secure.

Refreshments of punch and smacks were served to approximately 44 students. Mrs. Pauline Walker and Mr. Leslie Browning, junior class sponsors, sponsored the event. Mrs. Browning was a special guest.

Sam Holland has accepted the position of night watchman for the Union Compress here.

Willingham Girl Is Crash Victim

The condition of Zealand Willingham, 16, who was seriously injured when a car in which she was riding was in collision with another car in the Redwine community early last Friday morning, was said to be satisfactory at the last available report. She was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock for treatment Saturday night following the accident.

The News is unacquainted with the details of the accident but it is understood that a car in which she was riding collided with another car at a road crossing. Her brother, Neal, 18, was driving, and a sister, Zelma, 13, was also in the car. Neither of these was seriously hurt. A sliver of glass entered the back of Zealand, causing one lung to collapse. She was given a blood transfusion Monday.

The driver of the other car was not hurt.

HOME EC CLASS HOLDS PROGRAM

The Home Ec Class 1-4 of the Tahoka High School met recently, with Ruby Greer presiding.

The program consisted of frank discussions, each one telling the other members how they may improve their looks, how to fix their hair, and calling attention to their faults.

The class was served by Donna Sue Milliken, Eva Jo Reid, and Kate McMillan.

We were dismissed with a song, "America, I Love You."—Reporter.

RED CROSS S. O. S. CALL

Mrs. H. L. Roddy asks that we announce for the benefit of the workers and others that a telephone has been installed in the Red Cross Sewing room, and the number is 139-W.

She also sends out an S. O. S. call for helpers, both in knitting and in sewing.

She is planning to publish a list of those who have assisted in the work some time soon.

Mrs. Paul Cook and new baby came down from the Lubbock Sanitarium last Sunday and are spending the week here in the home of Mrs. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Greathouse, before leaving for their home at Sundown.

If these two youngsters could speak English they probably would say "Be sure to visit the Eskimo Village at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4-19." ### AAA To Determine Average Lint Yield Determining an average lint yield and premium rate per acre for every cotton farm in Lynn county is the first task to be accomplished under the cotton crop insurance program, Vernon C. Willhoit, chairman of the Lynn county AAA committee, has announced.

Until these figures have been approved by the State AAA Committee and Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, applications cannot be accepted, the AAA official explained.

"We hope to start writing insurance applications in the county later in the fall, however, detail work will not begin until 1942 farm allotments have been determined, Willhoit said in explaining that all allotments would be issued by November 1 in order that the food-for-defense program could get under way.

The 1934-1940 cotton history for a farm will be the basis of determining the average lint yield for a farm. In the event historical data is not available, appraised figures will be used in determining the average yield, he explained.

Premium rates, which will reflect as nearly as possible the crop insurance risks on the farm, will be taken from losses shown in the base period. By this method, each farm will have an individual rating and the possibility of the good farmers carrying part of the risk cost of the poor farmer will be avoided, the AAA official pointed out.

The crop insurance program, under which 50 percent or 75 percent of the average yield may be insured protects the farmer against hail, rain, flood, drought and other factors over which they have no control. It does not insure losses because of poor seed, poor management, or failure to plant cotton at the proper time of year, the chairman said.

Mrs. J. W. Russell of San Saba is here visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Garland Pennington, and family.

1 cup cake flour 2 eggs
6 tablespoons cocoa 1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup Fat Milk 1 package vanilla pudding powder
1 cup water 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter 2 tablespoons powdered sugar or other shortening

Turn on oven and set at moderately slow (350 F.). Grease deep 9-inch layer cake pan. Sift flour before measuring. Beat with cocoa and baking powder. Heat to boiling point a mixture of 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup water and the butter. Meanwhile, beat egg with rotary beater until very light and lemon colored. Beat in gradually the sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat in hot milk mixture gradually. Add flour mixture, all at once, beating quickly but thoroughly. Pour into greased pan. Bake on oven shelf, slightly above center, about 35 minutes, or until cake shrinks from sides of pan. Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes before turning out. Cool thoroughly. Meanwhile, put vanilla pudding powder and 1/4 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Stir in gradually remaining 1/2 cup milk diluted with remaining 1/2 cup water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Continue stirring and cook 30 seconds longer. Remove from heat and stir in remaining 2 teaspoons vanilla. Cover and cool thoroughly. With sharp knife split cold cake into 2 layers. Spread bottom layer with the cooled pudding mixture. Cover with second layer of cake. Sprinkle top with powdered sugar. Serves 6.

Retired Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis died Sunday night at the advanced age of 84. He retired from the bench two years ago. Many eulogies are being pronounced upon his character and ability. Many claim that he was one of the greatest justices that has ever adorned the bench of the greatest court in the world. He is praised as a great humanitarian. He is also touted as the "great dissenter." That may or may not be a compliment. It depends on whether the dissenters or those from whose decisions he dissented were right. There have long been two schools of thought in this country respecting the interpretation of the Constitution of the United States. One school has contended that it should be construed to mean what it says; the other school has insisted on giving it a "liberal" and sometimes a strained construction to meet some current or temporary exigency. The "strict" constructionists, no doubt, have sometimes been too strict. The "liberal" constructionists, on the other hand, have often been so loose in their construction of that great document as to practically nullify some of its important provisions. Brandeis belonged to the "liberal" school of construction. Whether or not he has been too liberal in his construction of that instrument, we do not claim to be competent to judge. But we do think that it was not intended that the Constitution, embodying the fundamental law of the land, should be abrogated or amended in any of its provisions by judicial interpretation. A way is provided in the instrument itself for its amendment. But Brandeis will go down in history as a great independent thinker and as a Justice who has had a marked influence on the course of legislation and judicial interpretation in this country. He is the only Jew who has served as a member of the Supreme Court.

Most newspaper people in the Panhandle-Plains section felt a pang of regret last year when Deskins Wells, able and popular editor of the Wellington Leader, was defeated as a candidate for Congress to succeed Marvin Jones. But from reports about the man who defeated him, most of us can understand why Deskins failed to make the landing. Eugene Worley was chosen for the post and has just rounded out his first year of service. He gave an accounting of his stewardship and discussed national issues before a vast crowd which had gathered at Pampa recently to welcome Governor Coke R. Stevenson to the Panhandle. According to the editor of the Donley County Leader, he made a powerful address, holding the audience spell-bound. That young man Eugene Worley, congressman from the Panhandle district, will do to watch. He may go places.

Around OUR PLACE by Fred Gipson

I have just finished reading for about the tenth time the short story, "Sermon in Stones," in the October adventure magazine. It is the best story I have ever read. It is the best story I have ever written. The more I read it, the better I like it. In fact, I'm just about ready to contradict the eminent playwright, George Bernard Shaw, who with becoming modesty, points himself out as the best writer of this age.

But writers, good and bad, have to be saturated with egotism if they are to endure the mental agony and physical starvation that accompanies the birth of their "brain children."

When I say physical starvation, I mean just that. Single-handed, and later with the help of the Duchess, I have fought this writing racket for ten years. Once I had hopes of piling up a fortune out of it. Today I'm hoping we'll eat tomorrow. We're so poor now the church mice snub us. But tomorrow—who knows? And meanwhile we're so proud of some of our "brain children" that we just sit back and beam.

"Gunsmoke in the Moonlight" is another of our brain children scheduled to appear in the November issue of Ace-High Western. It is a gun-slammimg, powder-burnt child that had me ducking all around my typewriter as I produced it, trying to dodge whining and promiscuous lead. It's one of our "bread and butter" stories, the sort that all writers have to slam out in volume if they are to keep the old wolf fought back out of the door.

But once the Duchess got it dressed up in appropriate punctuation marks and the publisher added proper illustration, it became a beautiful child that we exhibit with pride to all and sundry. It is something that is ours!

I have the same feeling about my child of the flesh, Mike the Mighty and Dirty. He's as wild as a corn-crib rat. He's rowdy as a bull calf when the grass greens in the spring. He's tougher than a bootheel and pesky as a hee-fly. Often, when the Duchess has bathed him an is trying to wrestle him into some clothes, I wonder which one of them will come out wearing the diaper.

But once he's fed, clothed and showing off before company, he's the greatest boy ever born. We know. He's our boy!

When I tried to express something of his feeling to Pecos Turner the other day, he nodded understandingly and rolled a green-striped lizard with a squirt of tobacco juice. "Yep," he said, "We all hit the down-grade in life after a spell; but it's a heap of comfort to have a youngun we know is climbing the hump as fast as we're going down!" Which comment startled me for just a moment. "Am I getting old?" I wondered with a slight sinking sensation in the pit of my stomach. But before I could have time to get really disturbed, Grandma Turner broke in to say, apropos of nothing: "I'll tell you," she said, "I ain't superstitious, you understand, but a body's got no call to take chances when the screech owls holler after dark. It's not much trouble winning first place for Lynn county farm products on display this week at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock. To make a good exhibit in the eyes of the experts, a person must know what to select, what the marks of a superior product are, and then how to arrange his exhibit. Don is almost solely responsible for the fine showing of farm products made for Lynn county at the Fair, and we think he is due a pat on the back. V. F. Jones won second place for Lamb county; and Mr. Jones, it should be noted, served as agent for Lynn county for several years prior to his removal to Lamb county. Of course Lynn county's winning first place was due in part to the fact that it is one of the best agricultural counties in the entire country. But it had to compete with other South Plains counties, whose citizens may claim just as much for them.

WHAT'S DOING AROUND

GRASSLAND

"What's doing around Grassland?" is a new column in The Lynn County News this week. We hope to make The News more interesting in our community by having this weekly report of "What's What" and "Who's Who" in the Grassland community.

If it doesn't rain here this week, cotton picking will be in full swing again.

There was Sunday School and preaching at the Nazarene Church Sunday, preaching by the pastor, Rev. Brown. There is also prayer meeting each Wednesday night. The attendance at Church Sunday was 77.

Sunday School at the Church of Christ had a large crowd. There will be preaching Saturday night at this church. Everyone is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Young and family of Brownfield spent the week end in the homes of their daughters, Mrs. J. A. Norman and Mrs. C. P. Bullock.

Elmo Green is in Odessa this week visiting his brother, Otho Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Baugh spent the week end in Gainesville with relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Tew and Otis Tew of Grassland.

The Church of Christ will resume Bible Study each Sunday night. Your attendance is appreciated.

The P. T. A. was rained out last Tuesday night. Every one is urged to come and take part in this work. —Correspondent.

Rotarians Hold Night Session

Tahoka Rotarians on Thursday night of last week held the annual evening entertainment for the Rotary Anns, the school faculty, and the school trustees, and their "better halves" in the school gymnasium. About one hundred people were in attendance.

Invitations to the affair had promised that the program would not be dull and that the meeting would be very informal.

That was just what the meeting was, and even the program chairman didn't always know what was coming next. W. T. Hanes, school superintendent, arranged the program.

The program started out with the singing of a number of songs, led by Frank George, with Morgan Layfield, principal of the Sanders School in Lubbock, as accompanist. "America" was sung, the last verse quietly and effectively sung as a prayer. Then, came the food, and the Legion Auxiliary women certainly had a feast prepared.

Hanes called on Frank Hill, the club president for the welcome address, but before he could rise, Truett Smith was delivering the response. Finally Hill got a chance to talk.

Rotarians introduced the Anns, Principals Lee Dodson and A. L. Pace the teachers, and Prentice Walker, school board president, the board members. Prentice had hardly finished his introductions before R. P. Weathers, imitating Walker, called a special meeting of the "school board," seven Rotarians came forward and put on a mock meeting of the Tahoka school board which "brought down the house."

Another hilarious moment was when Lee Dodson read a number of school students' ridiculous answers to questions.

The story of America's first windowless, air-conditioned airplane factory—built in record time to produce military airplanes in quantities—is told in these three photographs. North American Aviation, Inc., built the factory—25 acres under one roof—and had it in production in 120 days. On December 17, 1940, the erection of steel for the new factory had just been started, with almost-incessant rains creating a major obstacle to construction. The photo of October 4 shows the flight ramp at North American's Texas plant, at Grand Prairie, near Dallas, indicating its production, in quantities, of advanced training plants for both the Army and Navy air services. The lower photo shows two sides of the mammoth main factory building—one of nine structures on the 150-acre site.

ATTEND JUNIOR RED CROSS MEETING HELD IN MIDLAND SATURDAY

Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, county school superintendent, and Miss Adelaide Young, principal of the Grassland school, attended a regional meeting of the Junior Red Cross officials and leaders at the Scarbaour Hotel in Midland last Saturday.

The meeting was opened at 10:30 in the morning and closed at 3:00 in the afternoon, with time out for lunch. Twenty or thirty county chairmen and other officials were present. Mrs. Tunnell is the chairman for Lynn county.

The purpose of the meeting was to lay out a plan of work in line with the National Defense program and to be prepared to assist in meeting any emergency that may arise.

Weeds Poisoning Up Plains Lands

Austin, Oct. 7.—"The Texas Panhandle and Plains country is one of the Nation's outstanding grain producing areas," declared State Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald today in announcing plans for enlarged seed testing facilities at the Department of Agriculture's branch laboratory at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

"The laboratory, under the supervision of Early J. Peltier, an expert seed analyst, last year rendered an outstanding service to the farmers, seed growers and merchants of West Texas, and with the recently enacted Texas Seed Law requiring all planting seed offered or exposed for sale to be tested and tagged, the laboratory is expected this year to make between ten and twelve thousand purity and germination tests," McDonald said.

Peltier, in his annual report to the Commissioner, pointed out that Johnson grass is fast becoming a definite menace and that Bindweed (small flowering Morning Glory) is beginning to make its appearance in some samples received by the laboratory. "Few people know how noxious the weed may become," said the Commissioner. "Some encourage it as it makes a pretty blossom. However, unless destroyed as it appears, this weed will, in time, become a serious menace. It is even worse than Johnson grass, as it twines about and over any plant within reach, robbing it of air and light, while the roots below are starving the plant of food and moisture."

McDonald reported notable progress being made by the Wheat Improvement Association in this section. He pointed out that laboratory tests are made free of charge

B-PW Celebrates Women's Week

Local members of the Business and Professional Women's Club are joining this week with 76,000 other members of the National Federation in the observance of National Business Women's Week.

Governor Coke Stevenson of Texas and Mayor Deen Nowlin of this city have proclaimed October 5 to 11 as National Business Women's Week, to which President Roosevelt has added his official endorsement. This is in recognition of the contribution made by women in this country to its business and professional life.

This year's program is built around the theme, "Strengthen Democracy for Defense." It embraces such projects as jury service for women, equal rights, and legislation in general as affects women. The club's slogan is "Better Business Women for a Better Business World."

The Tahoka Business and Professional Women's Club was organized in 1939 with Miss Olabelle Singleton as its first president. At the present time, it shows a roster of eighteen members. The club participates in local civic projects, and during the recent U. S. O. drive made the largest per capita contribution of any local organization.

at both Lubbock and Austin, and stated that he thought it vitally important that farmers should have every lot of seed tested before planting in order to continually improve the standard of wheat and other crops and keep the fields free from damaging weed seed. Anyone wishing free purity or germination tests may address the Department of Agriculture Seed Laboratory, Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Farmer Praises F S A Food For Defense Program

Testimonial to rural America's contribution to National Defense through the "Food for Freedom" campaign is the Farm Security Administration's program to assist low-income farm families maintain adequate diets and good health, improve their housing and farm and home planning, in the opinion of B. J. Emanuel, county committeeman for this Federal agency in Lynn county.

Commenting on Secretary Wickard's request for American Agriculture to step up production of food for this nation and all other nations resisting aggression, Mr. Emanuel said it is fortunate that families cooperating with the Farm Security Administration have been for several years getting more production of the basic foods by using improved methods.

He cited the problems of inadequate acreage, sub-marginal land, ill health and other problems faced by many farm families being assisted by this agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which undoubtedly limit the possibilities of increased production by many operators.

"However, these families are following definite farm and home management plans designed to help in each specific case, and I have every reason to believe they are now willing and ready to step in and do their part for national defense by increasing production of the need farm products to the best of their ability."

The well-known community leader declared this agency is contributing materially to National Defense by building better morale, by helping needy farm families get back on their own feet, and by helping them acquire something of their own to defend.

"This agency also builds national man power through better diet and better health," he continued, "and through live-at-home farming, this program is helping to stabilize the national economy, both during the present emergency and in its aftermath."

Mr. Emanuel said he had made a study of the Farm Security's broad program of help for farm families of the lower income group, and has been assisting in the direction of it in this county. He said that in his opinion it is the greatest rural social agency ever established in this country.

"I suppose that most people know that the Farm Security Administration makes loans to farm families who cannot get adequate credit from any other source to carry on their operation," said Mr. Emanuel, "and at the same time gives these worthy rural people sound guidance in farm and home management planning."

"In so doing," he continued, "this agency is making it possible for every farmer in the county to contribute the maximum toward National Defense."

The county committeeman explained that although this agency, which is co-operating with the State and county USDA defense boards, makes loans to carry out farm and home programs, and sponsors a number of other basic programs, such as group medical care, community and co-operative facilities and services, farm debt adjustment, the farm tenant purchase program, and so forth, the approach is always through the farm family.

"The thing I like most about the Farm Security work," he said, "is that whenever money is lent or assistance is given in setting up any project, the paramount objective is both the immediate and longtime welfare of the family."

Returning to the subject of "Food for Freedom," Mr. Emanuel said that he is confident the FSA borrower will enter into this all-important campaign with a willingness and a spirit of patriotism that will be unexcelled.

"And in so doing," he said in conclusion, "I know they will continue the type of farming that will conserve the land and build up their physical health and their morale which are needed now and surely will be needed when this present emergency is past."

Walter Russell of Forsan was a business visitor here Tuesday, and while here was the guest of Deen Nowlin.

Record Attendance At Canyon Museum

Canyon, Oct. 8.—Attendance of 455 for the week ending October 3, brought total registration at the Panhandle-Plains Museum for September to 3,191, for the year to 32,437, and for the life of the museum to 282,224.

These figures were provided by Boone McClure, assistant curator of the museum, who said that distinguished visitors included Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Yeager of Berkeley, Calif. Mr. Yeager is director of the museums of the National Park Service.

Visitors from every state in the union and from many foreign countries have visited this museum, many of them making long trips to Canyon especially for the purpose of visiting this institution.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas.

To: Marion Lafayette Waller and the Unknown Heirs of Marion Lafayette Waller, deceased, Greeting:

You and each of you are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday, the 3rd day of November, A. D., 1941, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., before the Honorable District Court of Lynn County, at the Court House in Tahoka, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 15th day of Sept., 1941. The file number of said suit being No. 1411.

The names of the parties in said suit are: Emily Viola Waller, Maud Cook (a widow), Christopher C. Waller, John Henry Waller, Myrtle McNeil (a widow), Elsie

RAYMOND BULMAN IS BACK IN SAN DIEGO

Raymond Bulman on the U. S. S. Cushing, which has been stationed in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bulman, that he has been transferred to San Diego, California, to attend the fleet radio school.

Raymond says that it feels fine to be back in the "good old U. S.," and he is always much interested in getting the news from Lynn county. He is to be at San Diego four months.

Roena Franklin (a widow), Willie Alma Phillips and husband, Lester Phillips, and Wallace W. Waller and Bryan J. Waller, as Plaintiff and Bryan J. Waller, as Defendant, and Marion Lafayette Waller, as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: Plaintiffs sue in trespass to try title for the title and possession of two tracts of land situated in Lynn County, Texas, and described in separate tracts, as follows:

First-Tract: All of the North One-half of the Northeast One-fourth and all of the North One-half of the Northwest One-fourth of Survey No. 429, in Block 9, surveyed by virtue of Certificate No. 131 issued to the E. L. & R. R. R. Co., and containing 160 acres of land.

Second Tract: All of the South Forty acres of Survey No. 435, in Block 9, surveyed by virtue of Certificate No. 169 issued to the T. T. Ry. Co.

Plaintiffs further allege that said land constituted a portion of the community estate of W. A. Waller and his wife, Mary Margaret Waller, both now deceased; that plaintiffs are all of the living children and heirs of Mary Margaret Waller, deceased; that such heirship has been established by a judgment of the County Court of Lynn County, Texas; and that the plaintiff, Emily Viola Waller, is the sole beneficiary under the will of W. A. Waller, deceased, which has been admitted to probate in the County Probate Court of Lynn County, Texas.

Plaintiffs pray judgment for the title and possession of said land, writ of restitution, rents, damages, removal of cloud from title and for general and special relief.

Plaintiffs' petition is endorsed as follows: "This action is brought as well to try title as for damages." Issued this the 15th day of September, 1941.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Tahoka,

LIFE IN THE SOUTH NINETY YEARS AGO

G. M. Reid brought to the News office a few days ago the following newspaper clipping which is self-explanatory and which gives a pretty good insight into life in Kentucky and the Old South in a period that is dead and gone.

"Ninety years ago, back in 1849, one Guy Guilfoye, a farmer in the Vernon, Kentucky, area, decided to head for Oregon Territory, and he advertised the following personal effects for sale.

"Having sold my farm, as I am leaving for Oregon Territory by oxen team on March 1, 1849, I will sell all my personal property except two oxen teams, Butch, Ben, Len, and Jerry, consisting of the following:

"Two milk cows, gray mare and colt, one pair of oxen, one yoke, two oxen carts, one iron plow with wooden mold board, 800 feet of poplar weather boards, 1000 3-foot clapboards, 1,500 feet ten-ton rails, one sixty-gallon soap kettle, 85 sugar troughs made of white ash timber, 10 gallons maple syrup, 2 spinning wheels, 300 pounds mutton tallow, one leen made by Jerry Wilson, 300 poles, 100 split hoops, 100 empty barrels, one 3 gallon barrel of Johnson Miller whiskey, seven years old, 20 gallons apple brandy, one 40-gallon copper still, 4 sides of oak tan leather, one dozen wooden pitch forks, one half interest in tan yard, one 32 rifle, bullet molds and powder horn, rifle made by Ben Miller, 50 gallons soft soap, hams, bacon, and lard, 50 gallons of sorghum, 6 head fox hounds, all soft mouthed but one. At the same time I will sell six Negroes (illegible) and 50 years old, two boys 12 and 15 years old, 2 mulatto wenches 40 and 20 years old. Will sell all to same party as I will not separate them.

"Terms of Sale: Cash in hand or note to draw 10 per cent interest with Bob Smith as security. My place is two miles south of Vernon, Kentucky, on McConnely Ferry."

After having been a patient in the Temple Sanitarium and in a Lamesa hospital for several weeks, J. B. Miles of O'Donnell is back home again, under the care of nurses. Having served for several terms as county commissioner of Lynn county, he has many friends here and throughout the county who hope for his continued improvement.

NEW HOME CLUB GIRLS REPORT ACTIVITIES

The New Home Home Ec. Club members attended the very interesting Food and Feed for Defense program given at the Tahoka American Legion Hall on September 22. It was worth while.

The New Home Club members and teacher were the only Home Ec. club present, in the morning. Most all the girls took notes on the talks given.

We were also proud of our girls who led the song, "God Bless America." They were Estell Perry and Betty Jo Harper. Miss Pace and class enjoyed the morning very much. It was impossible to spend the day, as we went in the school bus.

The girls who are Freshmen this year were initiated Tuesday night, September 23. There was plenty of fun and excitement for both new and old members. The girls initiated were: Carolyn Coffee, Betty Jo Harper, Odeane Speckman, Lillian Rose Schapp, Mary Louise Simpson, Doris Jean Smith, Mildred Toone, Margie Ree Turner, Helen Balch, Doris Duckett, Joyce Porter, and Mary Jo McClellan.

The initiation was given in this order: first the candle service, which is a serious and impressive part of the initiation. Then the fun side, which consisted of many pranks that the old club members played on the new members. Refreshments were cookies and punch, which were delicious indeed.

We were very happy to have the mother visitors: Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Schappe, Mrs. Toone, Mrs. Bishop, and Mrs. Smith.

The old members here were: Veda Porter, Wellilla Smith, Maurine Lowe, Winona Izard, Estell Perry, Billy Ray, Jonell Bolander, Ina Mae Carrel, Jessie Bishop, and Claudene Moore.—Thelma Mae Watkins, reporter.

N. E. Vall returned Sunday from a two weeks visit with his children and their families at Wichita Falls, Henrietta, Bowie, and Sunset, Texas, and at Lexington, Oklahoma City, Muskogee, and Tulsa, Oklahoma. He says that he has six children, nine grandchildren, and eleven great-grandchildren and that he saw every one of them. He declared that it kept him busy to get around to all of them but that it was a wonderful trip.

BEN MOORE PRESENTS RED ANT PRESCRIPTION

Dear Readers:

If you have red ants—of course you have—and have tried different methods of destruction, go to your druggist and procure a dime's worth of cyanide. Wait until your ants retire for the night, then creep up and pour a bit of the crystals into the hole, put a bit of soil over the hole and step on same. You won't see another ant thereabouts for a week or so, when eggs hatch and another batch of ants are out.

Thus you can easily keep them under control. Were it not for eggs, always deposited before workers come out, the whole bunch could be eradicated with one application. You're welcome.—Ben Moore.

Robert Draper, who has been at Fort Bliss, El Paso, the past few months, is just recovering after confinement in the Government Hospital there for three weeks. We understand that he had pneumonia. Robert is more than twenty-eight years of age and will probably be released from army service early in November.

Poultry lice cause emaciation, a loss in egg production. Kill them the easy, quick way. Apply Dr. Salsbury's NIC-SAL to the roosts.

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future.

Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale.

These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

The test tubes of today make the jobs of tomorrow.

A new "high" in feminine appeal is achieved in the '42 Ford lines, with long graceful fenders, and flowing streamlines combined with a lower body. Running boards are entirely concealed. This is the new Ford Super DeLuxe Tudor Sedan. The Super DeLuxe and DeLuxe lines are equipped at the factory with either the famous V-8 engine or an advanced 90-horsepower "six".

"NEWSPAPER WEEK" EMPHASIZES FREEDOM OF SPEECH IN THE U. S.

Throughout the United States, this week, October 1-8, is being celebrated as "Newspaper Week." That our readers may think along with America about its newspapers, we are reproducing the following quotes from well-known authorities:

In times of national emergency it seems to become a patriotic necessity to reiterate truths so axiomatic as to be trite. The freedom of the press and the freedom's incomparable preciousness to us is one of these self-evident truths; the fact that Americans are now asked to consider it is alarming. Such alarm, however, is all to the good if it reminds us that hardly won pearls of great price must incessantly be guarded or fought for.—Booth Tarkington, noted author.

All American citizens who have not lost their minds in the present fear can compare the American press with the servile and reptile press of Europe and give thanks for the services which their newspapers render. But celebration is not enough. Rights are not preserved by celebrations. Liberties are not kept by shouting. Any person, institution, or society that does not constantly seek improvement is on the way to decline and decay.—Charles A. Beard, noted historian.

A free press is vitally essential to the preservation of our American system of government and our way of life. Without it we could not have an informed public opinion in which minority voices are given a fair hearing. Without it our democratic institutions would perish.—Winthrop W. Aldrich, Chase National Bank, New York.

In a world of tyranny, free speech and a free press stand as a first line of defense for our way of life.—W. K. Kellogg, Kellogg Company.

A free press, in these modern times, includes not only newspapers and periodicals but radio and motion pictures. Together we have common problems and obligations. So long as America has these unfettered mediums of expression dedicated to the public service, so long will democracy be secure.—Will H. Hays, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

If you would know the value of newspapers, you need only ask yourself what would happen if we should suddenly be without them.—Cal Keller.

Freedom of the press has long been taken for granted in America. Events taking place in other parts of the world warn us to be on guard. In almost all continental Europe, freedom is dead. Our freedom is of vital concern to every citizen of the United States and Canada. But this is not particularly a newspaper problem. Ours are democratic nations. We need only to stop and to think what it would be like to have the press of our country shackled! Some dictator would censor every move. Our democratic way of life would be ended!

Fortunately our free press reflects democracy!

Our nearly 12,000 uncensored newspapers in the United States and Canada give us the news and not propaganda. We have 12,000 watchful editors and publishers with active staffs free to think and to write our news without censorship.—Kiwanis International.

In Germany, Hitler tells the press what to print—and what not to print. Germany is "Hitlerized."

In Russia, Stalin tells the press what to print—and what not to print. Russia is "Stalinized."

In Italy, Mussolini tells the press what to print—and what not to print. Italy is "Mussolinized."

In Japan, France and all conquered countries, the press is under the heel of the dictators.

In the United States, no one tells the press what to print and what not to print. Free people—free thought—free assembly—and free press.

The newspapers of the United States—daily newspapers, weekly newspapers, tri-weekly newspapers, semi-weekly newspapers, bi-weekly newspapers—reflecting a free people are free to condemn all and sundry without fear of any OGPU or Ges-

PLAY SAFE! CHECK YOUR GOSSIP!

Strange it is how prone some of us are to give credence to rumors, especially so when many of them reflect in greater or less degree on friends and acquaintances.

Not too long ago we heard a rumor that reflected on the common honesty and integrity of a person who has served the community unselfishly and without reward for quite a term of years. The details were made up out of the imagination from circumstances easily checked by anyone interested, and the facts were altogether in favor of the man in question.

Parlor, barber shop, beauty shop, or street corner gossip—all carry a tremendous list in the direction of exasperation, and distortion of the truth. It is the civilized, the decent thing to check the gossip we hear before we give it any standing—and certainly before we add to its circulation.

All the gossiping is not done by the women, but man or woman, it will pay to play safe. Check your gossip!—Clarendon News.

Mrs. L. Lumsden of Wilson, who was so seriously injured in a wreck of their car several weeks ago, was taken back to the Lubbock Sanitarium early this week to have the cast removed from her arm and shoulder that had been broken, but it was found that the injuries had not healed as well as was desired and it became necessary for her to remain in the hospital. It was hoped that she would be back home by Friday, however.

Mrs. Gladys Stokes attended the annual banquet of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock Wednesday night. The bosses of the business women who are employees were guests of the club. As always, it was a great occasion.

Mrs. E. J. Burkhalter and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sanders left Thursday morning for California to join Mr. Burkhalter already out there and they expect to make their home there.

by Eee Eye,
the Elder

As has been said many times, this is getting to be a little world after all. At least that is the conclusion a world traveler might draw, for he would find people in many parts of the world that he had known before.

Take these Lynn county people, for example.

If one were to climb into his gas wagon and head out westward, he might find numbers and numbers of former Lynn county families residing in New Mexico, a few in Arizona, and many in California. Pushing on up the coast, he would find a few in Oregon and in Washington.

In these states too he would meet up with a number of our soldier boys. At Camp San Luis Obispo, California, he would find Pvt. Loy Huff of New Lynn, and at Fort Ord in that state he might run across Wallace Moffitt of the T-Bar community. At Fort Lewis, Washington, would be found Flournoy W. Tew of Grassland. On the U. S. S. Lexington, out from Long Beach, he would locate Norbet S. Morris of this county, and on the Oklahoma, out from the same port, he would find Edward McMillan of Tahoka, formerly an employee in the News office.

Taking boat at San Francisco and striking out westward across the Pacific, his first stop would be at Honolulu in the Hawaiian Islands, 2,100 miles to the southwest. In Pearl Harbor near Honolulu, on the U. S. S. Cushing, he would find Raymond Bulman, a former Tahoka boy; and there too, on the Aircraft Carrier Saratoga, he would meet with George R. Lindly of the T-Bar community. If any of you have occasion to visit Honolulu soon, be sure to call around and see these boys, for we are sure they would be delighted to see just anybody and his dog if they hailed from Lynn county. A poor little "dogie", even, might look good to them.

And, if you could call at the Tripler General Hospital in Honolulu, you would find that Miss Claudia Draper of Tahoka had just left last week for home, after a year's work there as an army nurse.

By sailing about 2,000 miles west and slightly south from Honolulu, you would touch at Wake Island, where a naval air base is being constructed for Uncle Sam. Working on the job you would encounter Roy V. Stephens of the Midway community. Roy has been there about three months, and he would likely give you a warm welcome. From Wake Island, it is 1450 miles west and slightly south to Guam, a little island owned by the United States, lying 1,350 miles south of Yukohama, Japan, about which the Japanese raised so much sand a year or two ago when there was talk of Uncle Sam making of it a strong military base. We have no Lynn county acquaintances on Guam that we know of.

But as your steamer plies westward from Guam, land at length comes in sight again, and you find yourself wending your way through the straits that separate one from another the islands of the Philippines. At 1,400 miles west of Guam, you enter Manila Bay. On Corregidor Island is situated Fort Mills, and right there at Fort Mills, you will readily find William T. McFadden of Tahoka. With the Signal Corps, at Nichols Field somewhere in the Philippines, you will be able to locate Herbert Womack, who was reared principally in Tahoka and who also grew up largely in the News office. He was employed after school hours, on Saturdays, and during the summer, for several years by the News.

Bill and Herbert both will likely be surprised to see you, for you will be more than eight thousand miles away from home by the nearest route you can go.

Other Lynn county boys possibly have been sent to far distant points on the globe, whose names and locations we can not now recall.

These boys are looking after the interests of the United States in the various parts of the world, particularly in the Pacific, while you and I go about our respective vocations at home, take a vacation now and then, chase about over the highways, attend the rodeos, the South Plains Fair, the football games, listen to the World Series of baseball and to the war news, and wonder how in the world we are going to pay our taxes.

But how did we get so many islands in the Pacific, anyway? If you will procure a good, large map of the South Pacific Islands, you will find that there are thousands of them. You will find, too, that all of them belong to the great nations of the world. After the name of each island or each group of islands you will find the name of the country to which it belongs. Great Britain owns more of these little islands than any other nation. France owns quite a number. Germany did own many of them but lost them at the close of the world war. Spain lost most of hers at the close of the Spanish-American War. The United States gained the important Philippine group as a result of that contest. She did not take them to exploit them but to rescue them from the cruel rule of Spain, to establish sanitary conditions on the islands, to provide the inhabitants with schools, to teach them the ways of civilization, and to fit them for self government. Recently, they have been given the right of self government and complete independence as soon as they may see fit to avail themselves of an independent state, but the aggressions of dictator nations in recent years have seemingly made them loath to cut loose from Uncle Sam, even when they may peaceably do so. So, we still exercise sovereignty over the Philippines, and we have no trouble with them for we have played a benevolent part by them and have given them a very large measure of self government.

Many of the small islands of the Pacific are uninhabited. All of the inhabitants were still in the barbaric or savage state when the islands were first discovered by white men. The great nations of the world extended their sway over them by "right of discovery" or by conquest. The United States has acquired a number of them by treaty to be used as coaling stations and naval bases. We have a number of such islands scattered throughout the South Seas.

Most important of all our possessions in the Pacific, next to the Philippines, are the Hawaiians. They came into the United States of their own accord; and the history of that event is most interesting. There are eight of these islands which are inhabited, though some of these have only a few inhabitants. The group was discovered by Captain James Cook, a famous English navigator and explorer, in 1778, two years after the American colonists adopted the Declaration of Independence. Cook was killed in a conflict with some of the natives of one of the Hawaiian islands in 1779, when he went ashore to demand the return of a boat which had been stolen and undertook to seize the chief of the tribe to be held as a hostage. The full story of Cook's explorations and discoveries would be an interesting one.

When he discovered the Hawaiian Islands, which he named the Sandwich Islands, each of the principal islands was under the rule of a separate king. But one of them seems to have been a kind of little Hitler and he gathered his armed men together and by force of arms subdued all the other islands, bringing them all under his sway. We are not told what kind of arms he used, but we are quite sure he did not have any armored tanks nor stuka divers. Kamehameha I, for that was the funny name under which he ruled, died in 1819. He left a widow; but a son, Liholilo, succeeded him, assuming the title of Kamehameha II.

For some unexplained reason, Liholilo abolished the worship of idols pretty soon after he assumed the throne. He apparently hadn't been sold on the idea of religious liberty, but he possibly had learned or heard much about Christianity, for when Christian missionaries visited the islands in 1820 he received them kindly; and Christianity right then and there good a foothold in the Hawaiians.

He and Mrs. Hiloililo visited England in 1824 and both died there. Then his mother, widow of Kamehameha I, took charge of matters. She ruled for nine years, at the end of which time her youngest son came of age and the Widow Kamehameha turned the big chair over to him. He was Kamehameha III. He didn't seem to be imbued with the Hitler spirit in the least, for he permitted the people to adopt a constitution providing for a king, and a legislative body consisting of two houses, an Assembly of Nobles and a Council of Representatives. They probably got the idea from the people of England and the United States.

Then Kamehameha IV and Kamehameha V came successively to the throne and ruled benevolently, but when Kam the Fifth died in 1873, there were no little Kams to take his place. The Kam line had entirely played out. So, there was much confusion. A series of short reigns followed, and then in 1891 Miss Liliuokalani came to the throne, popularly known in the United States as Queen Lili.

Queen Lili soon let the Hawaiians know that she did not want to be bothered with a Constitution. She proceeded to rule in a high-handed manner—that is, she undertook to do so. But the people rebelled. They deposed Queen Lili and told her to hike. They formed a provisional government and made application for annexation to the United States.

Grover Cleveland was President of the United States and he opposed annexation.

The people of Hawaii thereupon declared that country to be a Republic, choosing July 4, 1894, for the occasion, and a Constitution modeled after that of the United States was adopted. A president was elected, and repeated efforts were made thereafter for annexation to the United States. The President of the little Republic, S. B. Dole, visited the United States in the interest of annexation in 1898, Congress passed an annexation resolution, President McKinley signed it, and Hawaii became a territory of this Republic and has been represented by a Delegate in Congress ever since that date.

Many of us well remember much of the publicity that Queen Lili got through the newspapers of that day and something of the proceedings involved in the annexation of Hawaii to this country.

Hawaii is a mountainous country, and the climate is fine. But we have no right to complain of the continued rains that fall here on the Plains. There are places in Hawaii, we are told, where the rainfall amounts to 250 inches a year! We do not know of any Lynn county farmers, just now, who are contemplating a move to Hawaii.

Honolulu is in a fairly decent section, however. The average rainfall there is only about 32 inches.

There are a lot of other interesting things about Hawaii. We should like to get Miss Claudia Draper to tell you about them some time.

Ralph Smith of Pittsburg is here to assist in the operation of the Union Compress this fall and winter. He has been employed at the compress at Pittsburg in the past but says the cotton crop is exceedingly short in that section of the state, hence his transfer to Tahoka.

Lee F. York, secretary-treasurer of the Lubbock Production Credit Association, was here on business Tuesday, and while here the guest of Fred McGinty.

MINOR STARS AGAIN IN TEXAS UNIVERSITY GAMES

Max Minor, "the Tahoka Terror," playing his second game in as many Saturdays at Texas University, last week was a star of the game against L. S. U.

We quote the Dallas News of last Sunday, which after stating that a gang of second-stringers went in to the game: "Then the Longhorns uncorked a beautiful pass play. R. L. Harkins thrust a long aerial heave to Max Minor on the Tiger 35, and the Steer sophomore ball lugger sidestepped several tacklers as he sped down the east side of the field, cut back in a few yards, shifted sharply back out to the sidelines and sped over the scoring marked as the crowd gave him an ovation."

School Contests...

There will also be a speech contest on "My Home Town and Defense." The winner of this contest will use the winning theme as the basis in preparing his speech for the district preliminary contest which will be conducted at Texas Technological College at Lubbock between Oct. 27-31. A cash prize of $10 will be given the first winner in this district. The judging will be based on 50% subject matter 50% on delivery.

Miss Helen Belle Pemberton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pemberton, represented Tahoka last year in the home town contest.

A slight change in subject matter of the speeches has been made this year. The title of the speeches will be "My Home Town and Defense." The usual material will be presented on the home town, but the speech will also show the town's patriotism, loyalty and co-operativeness in national defense.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention has been changed from the spring to the fall of the year. It will convene at Midland November 4 this year.

Boullioun Enters Black Angus At Texas State Fair

Elbert Boullioun and his father, E. H. Boullioun, left early Wednesday morning for Dallas, where Elbert expected to enter his highly-prized 15-months-old, pure bred Aberdeen Angus calf in the F. F. A. livestock exhibit at the State Fair of Texas.

Elbert bought this calf when it was about a month old from T. B. Masterson, Truscott, and has been feeding it out at the Oscar Roberts place just west of town. The animal now weighs about 1,050 pounds.

A. D. Wenzel of Wilson, it is said, is entering some hogs in the State Fair.

So far as reported to the News, these are the only Lynn county stock that will be seen at the Dallas Fair this year, but we guarantee that they will be a credit to the county.

John Hamblen, high school teacher, was out of school several days this week on account of illness.

secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

Supervisor Of WPA Lunch Rooms Cites Growth Of Project

There are four lunch rooms now operating under W. P. A. in Lynn county. These units include Tahoka, Wilson, Draw and Midway schools. They are under the supervision of Miss Marie Womack, who is area supervisor of the School Lunchroom Project in Lubbock, Lynn, and Garza counties.

The two smaller units, Draw and Midway, operated privately last year, being sponsored by P. T. A., Home Demonstration Club, or some other organizations. It is believed that operation under W. P. A. regulations is proving very satisfactory in the various schools.

Most of the schools have bought some new equipment, and some have put in entirely new units. Wilson school has a new lunchroom unit, of which it is very proud. Wilson has recently installed new equipment, which is conveniently arranged, enabling the workers to save time and energy.

There has been a steady increase in the number of children eating since the opening of the lunchrooms. It is hoped that they will continue to be popular with the children.

These lunchrooms enable the child to have a well-balanced hot lunch much cheaper than the mother can prepare lunch at home.

BLIND CORNERS AT CROSS ROADS DANGEROUS

The News has received the following anonymous communication which calls attention to a situation

When a Child Needs a Laxative!

Your child should like this tasty liquid laxative and you should like the gentle way it usually wakes up a youngster's lazy intestines when given by the simple directions.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT contains the same principal ingredient which has enabled its older brother BLACK-DRAUGHT to give so many users such satisfying relief for so many years!

Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief when the familiar symptoms indicate a laxative is needed.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT comes in 2 sizes. The introductory size is 25c; the economy size is 50c.

that should be remedied, and therefore we publish it.

"To the Lynn County News: Couldn't something be done about these blind corners on every cross-road? The weeds and sunflowers have made them so you can't see cars coming. One bad accident happened from this and several others almost ran into each other.

"Here's hoping something will be done before any more are hurt."

You are correct, Mr. Anonymous. Landowners and tenants should cut the weeds growing in the corners of fields and pastures that obstruct the view of persons driving in cars upon the roads.

Sam Garrard, Robert Maddox, and Finis and Keith Connolly came up from Camp Bowie Saturday and returned Sunday and Monday. All of them had just gotten in from Louisiana, where they participated in the army maneuvers. They are expecting a furlough soon that will enable them to spend a longer time with the home folks.
