New Scrap Drives, Rallies Planned Soon Over Nation

Another drive for vital scrap metal and rubber will be staged over the nation at an early date, and Lynn county is being called on to cooperate, The News is informed.

Despite the fact that two campaigns for the collection of scrap iron, one for paper, one for aluminum, and one for rubber have been held to date, the government believes much scrap still remains to be gathered. Lynn county has met her expected amount in every drive.

However, in spite of the fact that the United States is involved in a life or death struggle for the freedom of every man, woman, and child, and in spite of the fact that the people are being told every day of the critical shortage of vital metals and rubber, it is astounding that some citizens right here in Lynn county have refused to take the time and energy to gather up and sell their scrap materials.

For this reason, the Government soon is to start a new scrap drive. Lynn county citizens are being urged to set up their organization, with all communities co-operating, and get in all the scrap possible.

4-H Club Workers Meet In Tahoka

Representative 4-H Club workers from this and five neighboring counties had an all-day meeting at the American Legion Hall here Tuesday for the purpose of studying 4-H club work with a view to improving it throughout this area.

Counties represented in addition to Lynn were Scurry, Dawson, Terry, Gaines, and Yoakum. Each county was represented by two 4-H club girls, one sponsor, and the home demonstration agent, making four workers from each of the six counties.

Miss Onah Jacks, state girls leader, from the Texas A and M Extension Service, led the discussions, which pertained to various phases of 4-H club work, and many topics were discussed.

Games and other forms of entertainment were sandwiched in between the discussions and a picnic lunch was served at the noon hour. The meeting opened at ten o'clock in the morning and closed about 4:30 in the afternoon.

Jo Ann Henderson and Ebbie Lois Hamilton together with their sponsor, Mrs. Harley Henderson, were the hostesses.

At the opening of the meeting Jo Ann Henderson introduced Miss Maurine McNatt, Lynn County home demonstration agent, who had charge of the program throughout the day.

The girls from each county contributed to the program with a game and a song. Jo Ann Henderson directed the game for the Lynn County delegation and Ebbie Lois Hamilton rendered the vocal number.

The discussions by Miss Jacks are reported to have been very helpful and were enjoyed very much.

These meetings are being held successively in various groups of counties in the different H. D. districts of the state.

Pay Tribute To Our American Heroes

Today, July 17, American Heroes Day, every single citizen is being urged to buy War Bonds and Stamps as a tribute to and in honor of the heroes of this war — the men who have fought and are fighting to preserve American democracy.

Though no special program is being held in Tahoka today, County Chairman Deen Nowlin urges that each person make a special effort to buy War Bonds and Stamps now.

"Let's show appreciation to our boys in service by making this the greatest sale of bonds and stamps in history," Nowlin said. "Buy a Bond today, or Saturday, and every day you possibly can. We must win this war!"

"Out there in the field, our soldiers need tanks and guns and planes. Don't fall them by giving too little too late. The time is short. Buy a bond today. Buy a bond every pay day. Invest all you possibly can in U. S. Bonds. Every $3.00 you put into War Bonds buys 144 rifle bullets. Every $3.06 you put into War Bonds brings you back $4.00."

CLIFFORD BOSWORTH IS IN AUSTRALIA

Mrs. Deen Nowlin received a card this week from her brother, R. C. (Clifford) Bosworth from Brisbane, Australia.

Clifford was reared in this county. He joined the Navy two years ago and has been with the U. S. S. Destroyer Griffin.

Guard Cleans Up Legion Grounds

Tahoka Defense Guard members have spent a part of the drill period the past two Monday nights cleaning up the Legion home grounds in appreciation to the Legion for its support of the Guard.

Weeds and grass were cut around the building and trash raked up by the men.

Refreshments were served last Monday night to the Guard members by Farmers Co-op Gin, of which Claude Donaldson is manager.

The previous Monday Pete Curry of the Tahoka Co-op Gin furnished the refreshments.

Early Voting In Primary Urged

Judge C. H. Cain, County Democratic chairman, is urging the voters of Lynn County to go to the polls early on Saturday, July 25, to cast their ballots for their favorites.

Early voting will make early counting of the vote possible, and enable election officers to complete their task without remaining on the job all night Saturday night, as has been the case in many elections.

Go to the polls and register your choice early.

C. T. Oliver Shows Much Improvement

C. T. Oliver, who was seriously injured in an automobile wreck on the Brownfield - Lubbock highway near Wolfforth several months ago, continues to improve at his home here. Early last week he was taken to a Lubbock hospital where a portion of the cast in which his body and limbs have been encased was removed, but he was advised that it would be necessary for him to remain in bed at least a month longer.

Farmers, Get Your Pay For Scrap Iron

The News is informed that many of those who brought in scrap iron during the drive for that material have never called for their checks. They are requested to call either at the office of Fred McGinty next door to the News office or at the office of the Farmers Co-operative Gin, of which Claude Donaldson is the secretary, and receive payment.

MRS. C. M. GREER DELEGATE TO STATE H. D. CONVENTION

The electing committee of the Lynn County home demonstration clubs, consisting of the presidents of the respective clubs, county delegates and county officers, met in the district court room last Saturday and elected Mrs. C. M. Greer of Grassland as the delegate to the state convention to be held in Fort Worth on August 18-20.

This is a distinct honor conferred each year upon some outstanding home demonstration club worker, and Mrs. Greer is to be congratulated upon her selection this year.

Mrs. Mell Blakney of New Home was named as first alternate and Mrs. Skip Taylor of Tahoka as second.

War And Hitler Rotary Subjects

What would you do with Hitler after the war?

That was the question discussed by two members of the Rotary Club at the luncheon Thursday. Cruel torture was suggested by the speakers, such as being compelled to have his teeth pulled by a local dentist, walking barefooted over the goat-heads in Fred McGinty's cotton field, caged up like a monkey and exhibited to the public for a dollar a shot, and a number of such gruesome punishments, all of them winding up with his being mercifully shot by the combined forces of all the United Nations. Frank George and Ray Weathers were the speakers.

Of course all these suggestions were made facetiously, but there is little doubt as to what his fate would be if left up to a jury of Tahoka Rotarians at this time.

President Woodrow Wilson's plan for World Peace and how the United States turned Isolationist at the close of the first World War was also briefly discussed by the editor of this paper.

With Truett Smith, the new president, in the chair and presiding, Supt. W. T. Hanes had charge of the program for the day. He submitted a questionnaire to the members for the purpose of ascertaining their desires as to the general character of programs that should be given during the current year and the nature and number of special occasions that should be observed.

President Truett Smith announced that Rev. C. A. Nichols would be officially welcomed into the Club at the next meeting.

School Transfers Now Being Made

August first is the last day for school transfers. If your child is above the grade taught in the local district, he should be transferred to the school of his choice. I should like to urge the parents to call at the County Superintendent's office and transfer their children.—Mrs. Lenore Tunnell, County Superintendent.

Mrs. Gagnat Speaks For James V. Allred

Mrs. D. W. Gagnat has been receiving many congratulations upon the radio address which she made a week ago over KPFO in behalf of James V. Allred.

This was the first time Mrs. Gagnat ever spoke over the radio but she "put it over" like a veteran. Not only was the substance matter of the speech good but she delivered it in a most effective manner.

Truett Smith of this city also made an address over KPFO in behalf of Allred recently that was excellent, but being a lawyer and a seasoned campaigner, it was to be expected that he would "deliver the goods."

Lieut. Donaldson Is Visiting Here

Dr. J. D. Donaldson Jr., now Lieutenant Donaldson of the Medical Corps of the U. S. Navy aboard the S. S. Sabine, San Francisco, arrived Wednesday for a visit during the remainder of the week with his parents and other relatives here.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Donaldson, met him Wednesday morning at Amarillo, to which city he had flown from San Francisco. He expects to leave Sunday.

Revival At Redwine Starting Wednesday

A ten-days revival meeting will begin at Redwine on Wednesday, July 22, and continue for ten days, according to information given The News by Mrs. J. A. Giles, a member of the Redwine Baptist Church.

Rev. L. H. Jenkins of Amherst, a former pastor at O'Donnell, will do the preaching.

EDWARDS TO LUBBOCK

Edgar Edwards was here this week visiting friends and relatives and stated that he was being transferred from Waco to Lubbock.

Prospects For Crop This Year Excellent

Physicians Put "OK" On Rev. Geo. Dale

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale spent last week in Dallas, where the minister underwent a thorough X-ray examination in a clinic there. Physicians found nothing seriously wrong with the minister's physical condition and advised him that he might proceed with his ministerial work without danger to his health. He was much gratified that physicians had confirmed his own opinion as to his excellent physical condition.

Rev. and Mrs. Dale, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. G. R. Kennedy of Lubbock, visited their son and another daughter in Dallas, Everett Dale and Mrs. J. C. Edwards.

Craft's Father Died Wednesday

L. F. Craft received a message from Blackwell at 10:45 Wednesday night bearing the sad news that his father, John S. Craft, 76, had just died suddenly at the home of a daughter there, from an attack of heart trouble. Mr. Craft had been suffering from the disease for many months but recently had seemed better.

Mr. and Mrs. Craft left almost immediately for Blackwell. It was not known here whether the funeral services would be conducted Thursday or Friday.

Mr. Craft had been a resident of the Blackwell vicinity for many years, residing just a few miles from the home of his daughter, where he died.

Surviving him are the aged widow, two sons and five daughters. The sons are Leonard F. of this city and John L., who resided with his parents, but who worked here with his brother Leonard at one time for possibly a year or more of years ago.

Leonard and Mrs. Craft had visited his parents at Blackwell on July 4 and for a day or two following, and the elder Craft seemed to be more active at that time than usual.

Gov. Stevenson To Speak Monday

Tom Garrard requests that we announce that Governor Coke Stevenson will make the final radio address of his campaign for re-election at 7:15 o'clock next Monday morning.

Everybody is invited and urged to tune in and hear him, for he will have some interesting things to say.

We are also requested to announce that Claude Gilmer, Representative in the legislature from Coke Stevenson's old district and successor to Mr. Stevenson from that district in the legislature, will make an address in Governor Stevenson's behalf, over the Texas Quality Network Saturday at 1:00 p. m. This is expected to be one of the high lights of the campaign. As many as possible of the voters of Lynn County by all means should hear this address.

New Books For School Libraries

County Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell has received a shipment of fifty new books for the rural school libraries and after looking them over, a representative of the News agrees with her statement that the rural children will have some good reading next winter.

A few titles of new books are: "Story Parade," which includes six volumes of the best modern short stories; "We," by Charles Lindbergh; "Captains Courageous," by Kipling; "Portrait of a President," and "The Border Captain" by Marquis James.

Miss Christine Wenzel, who was so critically ill in the Mercy Hospital so long, is now reported to be gradually improving at the home of her parents near Wilson. She was released from the hospital on or about July 4.

More Rains In County Help

It's too early yet to predict what the harvest will be this fall but the prospects have rarely ever been finer at this time of the year than they are now.

Excepting a few localities where they have been damaged by destructive hail and a smaller area where they have suffered severely from drought, they conjure up visions of 1937. Of course, there are a lot of things that can happen to the crops between now and the harvest time, but with just a few showers occasionally bumper crops should be gathered this fall.

This roseate condition has been brought about by the copious rains that have fallen over most of the county in the past two or three weeks. On Friday afternoon and night of last week veritable floods of rain came in some localities, and soaking downpours visited other sections. Only at O'Donnell and vicinity and in the Newmoore community in the southwest corner of the county was the rainfall negligible. But even there, with the exception of Newmoore, crops are not yet suffering for lack of moisture.

In Tahoka, the rainfall Friday afternoon and night amounted to .92 of an inch. A regular gully-washer fell over a large area a few miles north of Tahoka. Several farms were hit hard by hail, the cotton being almost totally stripped of its leaves. The acreage totally destroyed, however, is comparatively small. That which apparently was badly damaged has time yet to come out and make good crops.

A young waterspout also fell in the Edith community east of Tahoka, but no damage from hail has been reported from that area. Some of the low places have been converted into lakes and some crops are suffering from too much water.

As a rule, the cotton is growing and fruiting well, and the feed is looking fine. Some of it already is heading out, much other is in the boot, and the younger feed is showing excellent growth.

In the wheat country far to the north of us, the wheat crop is reported to be excellent. The average yield runs from 15 to 20 bushels per acre, and in some sections of the Plains much of the wheat is said to approximate 40 bushels per acre. Elevators, barns, and bins are said to be overflowing with the golden grain, and the quality is good.

This year promises to turn out to be one of those unusually prosperous years throughout the Plains and the Panhandle of Texas.

Wilson Revival Starts Sunday

A two-weeks evangelistic campaign will be conducted in the Baptist Church at Wilson beginning next Sunday morning, according to Rev. W. H. Jackson, the pastor, who was here Tuesday.

Rev. W. N. Clark, pastor of the College Heights Church, Plainview, will do the preaching, and Rev. Lem Lemons, also of Plainview, will lead the song services. Mr. Lemons is a "home boy," having been reared at Wilson.

Brother Clark is reputed to be an excellent preacher.

Services will be conducted at the usual hours on Sunday and at 11:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m. on week days.

The people of Tahoka and all near-by communities are invited to attend all or any of the services.

HOWARD SMITH IS NOW STATIONED IN AUSTRALIA

Howard Smith, of the Hackberry community, in the northeast part of the county, is now stationed in Australia, friends here have been informed.

He is in the U. S. Army.

Hey, All You Loyal Texans, Wake Up To What's Happening About You!

(Editor's Note: The News has the following contribution from a distinguished author, cowboy, teacher, J. Frank Doble, who, so far as we know, has in the past taken little or no part in politics. As the reader will note, his old Texian spirit is aroused. Doble is nationally known as a folklorist and as author of "Coronado's Children," "Apache Gold and Yaqui Silver," and a number of other books and articles).

By J. Frank Doble

"And so, my friends," W. Lee O'Daniel says, "we don't need to discuss the war effort in this Senate campaign." If you were one of a party of men perishing of thirst on a vast desert, would you refuse to discuss all plans for finding water? If you were in the midst of a great factory that had been set on fire all around you, what would you think of a leader who refused to consider ways of fighting the fire and getting out?

"We don't need to discuss the war effort," according to Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, because the war is virtually over. He refused to face the cold facts while war was coming, just as he now refuses to face them while the war is being fought. As governor of Texas during National Defense Week, he merely said: "We hear a lot of howling in Europe, but they aren't going to do us any harm over here." That was his prophecy. "There ain't gonna be no war."

Early in 1941 the Texas legislature passed a resolution calling on the American government to convoy war goods to Great Britain. As everybody knows, the leader in the United States Senate against selective service, against all preparation for war, against selling arms to England, against standing up like free men in facing Hitler, was Senator Burton K. Wheeler. Well, when W. Lee O'Daniel entered the Senate officially for the first time, the first Senator to wring his hand was this Roosevelt-hating isolationist—Burton K. Wheeler. This was in August, 1941.

The first vote cast by the junior Senator from Texas was to disband the army and send the boys home. "There ain't gonna be no war."

Then the Senator worked against the government's proposal to build a pipe line from Texas. He came back to Texas and boasted that he had killed the pipe line. Certain oil and gas interests who had financed his campaigns did not want a pipe line competing with their monopoly of barges, oil tanks and gas line. They joined the musical senator in singing. "There ain't gonna be no war," and told him how to vote. Now submarines sink oil tankers on sight, the East is rationed on gasoline, factories are threatened with a shortage of fuel. Senator O'Daniel has quit boasting of how he spiked the Texas pipe line. But he hasn't changed his tune.

The liberties of all mankind are at stake and whole nations have been enslaved. The most powerful, pitiless, brutal thugs ever let loose on the world are bombing its children, raping its women, and torturing its men. And this man O'Daniel has never shown a thimbleful of rage against the brutes or an ounce of sympathy for the victims. The Nazis have again and again boasted that they would conquer the world by lies, and this man O'Daniel has never once risen to plead the cause of truth. He smiles and chants "There ain't gonna be no war." What sort of blood runs in his veins?

We have not retaken one inch of territory seized by Japan. For months our men fought like tigers in the Philippines, but now the Japanese hold all that land. We called Corregidor "the Gibraltar of the Pacific," and they took it. They took our bases at Guam and Wake Island. They took Hong Kong, Singapore, Java and Burma from our allies. Yet, according to this prophet W. Lee O'Daniel the war is about over. The Germans are pushing the Russians back in Russia. The Germans, as this is written, are on the edge of the Suez Canal and the oil fields of the Middle East. They are murdering civilians by the hundreds of thousands in "conquered" countries. But "there ain't gonna be no war."

Mr. O'Daniel, however, has had a connection with the army that he is too modest to mention. I am not referring to his career during the First World War, when he was young and vigorous and somehow kept out of the Army. In those days he had painted the Stars and Stripes on his automobile to show how patriotic he was—and to advertise the flour he was peddling. His connection with the army is much more recent than that.

While he was governor, there was much activity in the National Guard. A great deal of the paper work connected with the National Guard was done at Camp Mabry, on the outskirts of Austin. Governor O'Daniel has never been able to get along without hired musicians. He put several of these hired musicians on the payroll at Camp Mabry. Their services there consisted mostly of drawing their monthly pay. They furnished the patriotic governor the political music he regularly gave out on Sundays and on other occasions.

In the first campaign for governor that O'Daniel made in Texas he sang "Pappy, Pass The Biscuits," and dodged all issues. In the second campaign for governor, he talked about "professional politicians" and dodged all issues. In the third—his sensational senatorial campaign last year—he sang "There Ain't Gonna Be No War," and dodged all issues.

On the night of June 22, 1942, in a speech at Austin, Texas, to a small and unresponsive crowd, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel said: "Professional politicians got us into this war." That is the way he meets the issues now. That is the way he remembers Pearl Harbor. That is his answer to declarations of war by Germany and Italy against the United States. He says that it is up to Roosevelt to win the war. That is the O'Daniel plan for national co-operation.

No citizen can get away from the war. It is a total war. A year or two years from now the people will realize much more intimately how total and terrible the war is. American soldiers and sailors by the tens of thousands will lie dead at the bottom of the seas and oceans of the world and on the continents and islands stretching from the equator to the poles.

The Texas tradition is a fighting tradition, and already in this war the Texans have drawn upon themselves the eyes of the world. On San Jacinto Day last April, the Texas boys on besieged Corregidor sang "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." One day last month a thousand Texas boys were sworn in together at Houston to avenge the Japanese sinking of the S. S. Houston. Before the United States was bombed into the war, so many Texans had volunteered for the Canadian air force that this magnificent body of men was jokingly called the Royal Texas Canadian Air Force. Among the 79 men that Doolittle led to bomb Tokio, there were nineteen Texans—a fourth of the force.

The Flying Tigers in Burma and China are distinguished by Texans. While one of their daring leaders called "Kirk of San Saba" flies obsolete planes, Mr. O'Daniel campaigns with five luxurious touring cars, two sound trucks and one station wagon.

No man claiming to represent a people ever stood more isolated from them than W. Lee O'Daniel stands today among the Texans. While he glides over the smooth highways of Texas on the thirty-two wheels of rubber that his campaign caravan "conserves," the United States Congress appropriates over 42,000,000,000 for carrying on the war. This is the greatest appropriation for war that any nation in the history of the world ever made. It is greater than all World War I cost America. And while the nation forges, strives, goes down in ships, goes over the waters to fight and die, the mighty scene brings from Mr. O'Daniel only a galvanized chant: "There ain't gonna be no gas rationing. There ain't gonna be no run-off."

The nations of all the world are clanking in iron. All the rights and freedoms that men have gained through the slow centuries are in the balances. Doomsday itself is at hand. W. Lee O'Daniel asks to be elected to lead us in these most difficult of all times—times that demand the strongest and sincerest characters for leadership. As he asks for votes, he smiles his manufacturer ed smile and yaps out his hired music to the tune of "There Ain't Gonna Be No War."

Allred Praised By His Pastor

HOUSTON, July 15 — James V. Allred's life as layman and as a public official alert to the nation's best interests merit Allred's election to the United States Senate, his pastor has declared.

The Reverend Kenneth G. Knowles, pastor of the First Christian Church for 15 years and a trustee of Texas Christian University, has announced he will vote for Allred July 25 and gives five reasons why he is casting his vote for Allred.

"One has never heard of Jim Allred slipping cautiously over to the safe and secure side of any issue at stake," the Rev. Mr. Knowles said. "His record is a record of hard-hitting, determined effort for good government."

The minister, known to Texans as "the Radio Parson," said a desire to serve his country more fully prompted Allred to resign a lifetime federal judgeship, and the pastor commented: "I like the man who takes risks when the call to service comes."

"Jim Allred has always lived his life fully and freely in the cause of better conditions. He is a man of proven loyalty to his ideals and his constituents. Jim Allred brings an understanding—an intelligent outlook born of experience and study—to offer in service in these difficult days."

At the outset of his recommendation, the pastor said his purpose was not to question the character or lives of other candidates in the same race. "There is no thought whatsoever in my mind that James V. Allred has the exclusive claim to Christian usefulness, to good character or to ability. Jim would be the last man to make such a claim for himself," the pastor pointed out.

WHY EAT RIGHT?

By DOROTHY FAY BLANTON
Terry County
Home Demonstration Agent

To win the war, we must have strength, courage, and efficiency. More than most people have realized, right eating is a first step toward becoming strong, courageous, and efficient. That means many Americans must follow new ways of eating. It's Patriotic to Eat Right!

Modern science has greatly added to our knowledge regarding the nutritive needs of people and animals. We are told that generations which follow us will be a superior race of people if this knowledge is used.

The Texas Food Standard interprets this knowledge for every one. Follow it, and you may be assured that you have taken an important step toward buoyant health, greater efficiency and better spirits we all need so much now.

It's Fun to Eat Right!
The Texas Food Standard was planned by Texans for Texans. Most of the foods it suggests grow abundantly in Texas. It recommends foods Texans like as well as those they should eat. Study the Food

Tahoka Colored Soldier Writes From Australia

The News has been requested to publish the following letter written by Pvt. John B. Williams, colored, to his mother here:

"Somewhere in Australia, April 14, 1942.

"Mrs. Lottie Williams,
"Dear Mother: Just to let you hear from me. I am now in the country of Australia. I have been here ever since the 10th of April. I will be here for the duration of the war, I am sure. I haven't had a chance to write you before now.

"What is my brother doing? Is he liking the army? Has he a rating?

"I'll have something to tell you when I get back to the States. You can tell Mr. Early Lee that I am a globe-trotter now. I have covered nearly as much territory on water as I have on land (smile). So far I am in the best of health. I don't need anything at this present.

"There are not any colored people over here except us soldier boys. I don't know what we are going to do about women over here. All the women are white, but they treat us swell.

"I hope you have received your monthly payment out of my pay, so you can pay that telephone bill I made for you when I was in Ft. Dix, New Jersey.

"You can tell all not to worry about me. I'm all right. O yes, do you realize that I am an old man now. I've had a birthday since I've been in the army; I'm 22 years old now.

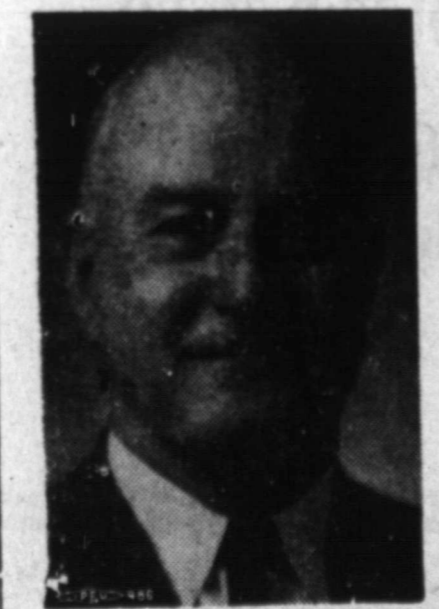

"I know you all had a swell time Easter. How many baseball games have the boys played? How many did they win?

"I know it will be a long time before I can come home, for it's a long journey to cross the pond, and I don't mean maybe.

"Tell Olive V. to just wait another year or so for me. I'll be right home for her and no other one but her (smile).

Mother, write and tell all the folks Hello for me and tell them where I am, and for you all to pray for me and the boys because we need it.

"Well, I will close. From your Son,
Yours truly—Pvt. John B. Williams.

Standard. You will see that in most instances several foods are recommended in each group. You may select those you like and can afford.

There is a reason why you should eat some from each group of foods. Some contain large supplies of nutrients. Some are just good all-around foods. You can learn to like all of them. After all, eating is fun.

Follow These Tips
First on the list is milk which helps build bones and teeth and serves the body in many important ways.

Eat an egg every day, if you can afford it. When prices are high you can leave them off occasionally, provided you eat lots of peas and beans.

Now about meat. Cheap cuts of meat are as nutritious as the more expensive. If possible, use some lean pork. An occasional serving of liver pays high dividends in health. If the budget is slim, remember that "Beans are the poor man's meat."

Potatoes are fillers in a good dependable way. Bake or boil them in their skins, for they retain the greatest amount of their original nutrients that way. Nutritionally speaking, Texas sweet potatoes are even better than Irish potatoes.

Get Vitamin A Insurance
Watch your diet carefully for the green and yellow vegetables. These are Vitamin A insurance. Not a day should pass without your eating a liberal supply. Eat other vegetables, too... for variety and for small amounts of many nutrients. But remember that color counts in vegetables, and the green and yellow have special value.

For Vitamin C, use Texas citrus fruits, fresh or canned. Texas melons, canteloupes especially, are valuable for the same reason. Useful between-season foods of the C group are tomatoes, fresh or canned. And cabbage, if you eat it raw. Other fruits, like other vegetables, add variety, flavor, and interest as well as additional food value.

Eat whole grain cereals for the "morale vitamin." When using white flour or bread, use the enriched. Make it a rule to vary your cereals. Eating all corn, all rice, all white flour or bread is getting in a bad nutritional rut. The less money you have to spend on food, the more cereals you must use, so make sure your cereals are varied and of the highest nutritional value.

Some sweets! These may be molasses, sorghum syrup, honey, maple sugar or syrup, or corn syrup, as well as cane sugar. Molasses and sorghum syrup have nutritional advantages above the other sweets.

Butter or margarine with vitamins added completes the Texas Food Standard, our daily guide to good eating.

Judge W. W. Price of Brownfield, candidate for district judge, was a pleasant caller at the News office Wednesday morning. He reports that he finds farmers exceedingly busy in their crops and the people generally deeply engrossed in our war effort. He finds no apathy respecting the war in this section of the state.

Mrs. Don Turner returned Sunday from Fort Worth, where she spent ten days visiting her brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oliver and children returned Tuesday night from Comanche, Oklahoma, where they went to visit and do a little fancy fishing. Mrs. Oliver says that they had wonderful luck and the boys had the time of their lives landing some big ones.

In Tahoka and elsewhere Senator O'Daniel defended his vote for the dismissal of our soldier boys from the service last summer on the grounds that the United States had made a solemn contract with them when inducted that they would be required to serve only one year. That point evidently carried much weight with many people. The main trouble with the contention is that there is not a word of truth in it. The United States Government did not make any contract or agreement of any kind with its soldiers, inductees, or registrants. The idea that this Government should or would bargain with its citizens for military service is absurd in the extreme. It was stated that it was contemplated that inductees would be required to serve for one year unless conditions should arise making it expedient that they be retained in the service for a longer period of time. It was that expressed policy that Senator O'Daniel has either ignorantly or willfully distorted and misconstrued into a "contract" to that effect. It's a lame excuse with which he undertakes to cover up the ignorance of world affairs which prompted him to vote for disbanding our army scarcely four months before the Japs and the Germans opened war upon us.

It is possible that before this paper reaches the reader, the fate of the eight German saboteurs who recently landed on our shores to direct and carry out a destructive campaign of sabotage will be determined. Nobody expects that their fate will be any thing less than death, not even the saboteurs themselves. They knew that they were taking their lives into their own hands when they launched out on this diabolical enterprise. Most despicable of all are those who came to this country in childhood, were educated in our schools, enjoyed the liberty and the marvelous opportunities accorded to them under our form of government, and then accepted employment under the German government to launch a campaign to destroy us. It is perfidy of the deepest dye.

On July 25, the people of Texas will register their choice of a man to serve as United States Senator from this state for a term of six years, though it is probable that a selection will not be made in the first primary. A run-off seems to be assured. There are two men in the race either of whom, we believe, would represent the state ably. Dan Moody and James V. Allred each possess these qualities of mind and character which fit them for capable service in this great deliberative body. Each has served as attorney-general and then as governor of this state. Moody, able, straight-forward, honest, mature in mind and experience, would be a most worthy team-mate of the brilliant Tom Connally in the Senate. Allred, vigorous, virile, aggressive, and capable, would also make his voice heard and his influence felt in that body. Either, if elected, would probably continue to represent this state in the senate for many years, with increasing influence and effectiveness as the years come and go. It is our deliberate opinion that the third candidate would never become an influential or capable member of that great deliberative body. Surely Texas will have the wisdom to select either Moody or Allred to this position in the elections to be held this summer.

The papers Tuesday morning announced that fourteen other persons were being held as accessories or accomplices to the original eight alleged saboteurs who recently landed on our shores as emissaries of Germany for the purpose of launching a campaign of sabotage in this country. Six of the fourteen are women. Ten of the fourteen are American citizens, one of them by birth and the other nine by naturalization. Most if not all of the fourteen are related by blood to one or more of the villainous eight. It is indeed strange that persons born in this country or who have migrated to this country to better their condition in life and who have enjoyed the liberties and the opportunities afforded them here will then turn and bite the hand that has fed them. Stern justice must be meted out to such ingrates, such wretches as these.

Senator O'Daniel has been charging that Washington is a madhouse the only one that he knows of which is run by its own inmates. He neglected to state that the craziest men in that "mad-house" are that little group of isolationist senators who could not realize that there was any danger of an attack upon the United States until the assault on Pearl Harbor came like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky to them. One of that number of complacent senators was the gentleman from Texas, who voted with Wheeler and Nye and Clark and Vandenberg four months before Pearl Harbor to break up our training camps and send our soldier boys home.

The greatest underground water reservoir in Texas is the Edwards Plateau region in Southwest Texas.

With the Germans still advancing and driving the Russians back as this is written, it apparently becomes more and more certain that this is to be a long and a hard war. The United States must build up an army, a navy, and particularly an air fleet capable of crushing the mighty German war machine and the mighty Japanese war machine on the land, on the sea and in the air. It's a tremendous task ahead of us, but we must win.

Senator O'Daniel's hillbilly band certainly does give good entertainment for us "common people" out on the hustings, but as we understand it, it neither performs nor votes in the United States Senate.

To keep the life of the soldier boys from becoming irksome, the USO was organized to furnish them clean entertainment. Help the boys by digging up a few dimes or a few dollars for the USO. R. P. Weathers at the courthouse will see that the money reaches the right spot.

Mothers Of Navy Men Form Club

The first meeting of the Lubbock Navy Mothers Club was held Sunday, July 12, at the American Legion Hall. Twenty-three mothers attended. Mrs. James Samson was elected temporary chairman and Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher was elected temporary treasurer.

The Club will meet the second and fourth Sunday afternoons of each month. All mothers who have sons in the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, are urged to attend these meetings because it is probable that as soon as the Lubbock organization is fully established, similar clubs will be organized in towns around Lubbock.

Lewis E. Williams, of the News force, spent Saturday and Sunday in Midland at the home of his parents. The occasion was a family reunion on his grandmother's 85th birthday. He reports that about 20 were present.

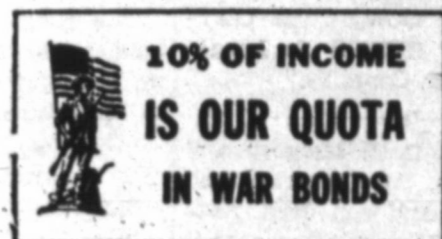

Pvt. C. B. Evans Jr. and Pvt. Boyce Evans, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Evans of Tahoka, spent the week end here with their parents. They returned Monday to Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, accompanied by their wives, who expected to spend two weeks with them there.

MRS. FAIRES GRATEFUL TO FRIENDS

We are glad to publish the following letter from Mrs. W. J. Faires, who has been an invalid for many years, but who bears her sufferings with patience and who never fails to show her appreciation for any favors shown her. The letter is self-explanatory, and given just as Mrs. Faires expressed it.

"Please, Mr. Editor, may I come in and chat awhile? So many nice things came my way the last ten days I want to tell the readers about it.

Nice things come my way quite often but the ones I want to talk about were something special.

First was a visit from two old friends, one of whom I had known in her school days and had not met but once in a long time, the other I had not met in eighteen years. My! how we chatted of the long ago before I moved to the Plains nigh on to twenty-six years ago.

Second special, a great feast from the ladies of the Assembly of God Church. A greater variety of good eats I never saw.

Special third was a surprise visit of several ladies from the Baptist Church and a number of little folks who brought lovely flowers and a large bowl of fresh fruits. The little

WILSON LADIES ENTERTAIN MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

Rev. W. H. Jackson, pastor of the Wilson Baptist Church, who was here Wednesday, reported that the women of the Church entertained the Men's Brotherhood on the Church lawn with a luncheon and a program given by the young people Monday evening and night.

The principal speaker of the occasion was Dr. Cobb, teacher of Bible in Wayland College, Plainview, who made an inspirational address.

About 150 persons were present, some from the membership of other churches.

Pvt. Odell Liston, who has been stationed at Fort Sam Houston since some time in 1939, has been transferred to Camp Swift at Bastrop. He enlisted from this county.

Mrs. Derrell Ward of Lubbock is visiting her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Vernon Davis and Mrs. Kelly Hill, here this week. Mr. Ward is in the U. S. Marines at San Diego.

Special four, a chicken ready for the frying pan came from a friend who lives in the country, whom I met more than twenty years ago.

Readers, don't you think that I had something to write about?

Mr. and Mrs. Aleck "Eckie" Nevill came in from Flagstaff, Arizona, last week, where he had been working the past several months and after a brief stop here they went on to Arkansas to visit her mother. They plan to return to Tahoka a little later, however, and Aleck expects to be employed at one of the Gins here through the fall. His brother Everton has taken over his job at Flagstaff, and Everton and wife have taken up their residence there.

J. L. Reese, who has been in bad health for the past several months, was taken to a Lubbock hospital on Tuesday for a check-up, and physicians advised that he retire from active work of any kind. For years he has been serving as janitor at the Baptist Church and engaging in other manual labor. M. V. Hodge is substituting for him temporarily.

Miss Edith Robertson, who has been employed at the State Hospital in San Antonio since her graduation at the Texas Technological College early in June, has accepted a position in Lubbock. She visits friends here Sunday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Robertson, resided here until recently, when they removed to Mount Pleasant.

Mrs. Borden Davis reports that her brother, Roger Curry, wrote their mother at Rufe under date of June 16 disclosing the fact that he was then somewhere in the Pacific, presumably on some island, as he is in the Army, and stating that Billie Hill had recently visited him there. Billie is in the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Nowlin and children are spending a few days at Ruidoso in the mountains of New Mexico for rest and recreation.

E. C. Nelson

Judge E. C. Nelson is a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. This is one of the highest judicial offices in our State, one that demands the most thorough training and the widest possible experience. Judge Nelson has attended and graduated from the leading universities and law schools in our country, giving him an educational background of the highest order.

He taught school for five years before entering the legal profession, and served two years in the United States Army during World War I, fourteen months of his service being in France.

He has had a well-rounded legal experience. He has been a licensed attorney for more than 22 years. He has practiced law in all of our courts and has been judge of all courts of record up to the Court of Civil Appeals. As an appellate judge, he will be able, from his own experience, to review a case from the standpoint of both the practicing lawyer and the trial judge. He is now District Judge of the district composed of Potter, Randall, and Armstrong Counties, and his record as a trial judge is one of the best in the State.

Judge Nelson is 51 years old, just the right age to undertake the work of an appellate judge. He is old enough for maturity, experience, and judgment, and young enough for the years of hard work the position requires.

The size of the district has made it impossible for him to see all the people, but he solicits the vote and influence of all our citizens.

THAT "SOMETHING ABOUT A SOLDIER" STRONG APPEAL TO WIFE AND SONS

That "something about a soldier" which appeals to boys and girls is especially strong when the soldier is father and husband. That is shown in this family scene of Lieutenant Vernon Lemens, taken this week at Camp Hood, Temple, while his happy family were visiting him from their home in Waxahachie. Mrs. Lemens is completing her husband's campaign for Lieutenant Governor which he began before entering the army.

Vernon, Jr., age 6, shows a preference for the U. S. Army uniform of his father, while Bobby, age 3, wears the sailor suit selected by his mother.

Senator Lemens served in World War I, was an active Legionnaire and reserve officer in the peace period, and is now on duty as assistant adjutant with the tank destroyer command at Camp Hood. As Senator of the Twelfth District he will be granted leave to serve in Austin during the session of the Legislature under War Department rules governing reserve officers holding public office at the time of army induction.

He is asking a promotion to Lieutenant Governor so that he can preside over the Senate. He feels that his fourteen years of continuous legislative service and his military experience and standing especially fit him to direct the Senate in the wartime session ahead. The duties of Lieutenant Governor require no more time in Austin than those of Senator, which he now is.

Texas Plainsman Squadron Is New Navy Air Group

The U. S. Navy is going to enlist sixty Plains youths to form the Texas Plainsman Squadron of the Navy Air Corps. Lieut. Ralph Binnion and Lieut. Charley Hawn of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board from Dallas are in Lubbock this week accepting applications. They are going to select the 60 young men from the entire Panhandle territory revolving around Lubbock and Amarillo and that means youths from every nick and cranny on the Plains will be welcome to make application for enlistment.

The Texas Plainsmen Squadron will go directly to the University of Georgia, at Athens, for pre-flight training, and then either to Grand Prairie or Corpus Christi, Texas, or Pensacola, Florida. Status of the trainees will be the same as midshipmen at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, with ensign commission awaiting successful completion of the flight training.

Any youth 18 to 26 years old, inclusive, who is unmarried and possesses a high school diploma is eligible to apply for training with the Texas Plainsmen. Enlistment may be made at the local Naval Recruiting Office, in the Post Office Basement at Lubbock, Texas.

TAHOKA H. D. CLUB

"Are we interested in our personality?" Well, then, color should be considered when selecting our clothing. If your coloring is strong and your personality forceful you can wear vivid colors in large quantities. But, if you are timid, or quiet, and your coloring is delicate, you will be wise to avoid brilliant colors except in small quantities, because they tend to overpower you. On the other hand you do not want colors that are too dull as they give very little effect in producing your personality.

The Club met in the home of Mrs. Skip Taylor with several members and one visitor present.

At the July 22 meeting which will be at 3:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. H. M. Snowden the program will consist of a book review by Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell. All members are urged to be present.

THOMPSON GIVES AWAY HIS DOGS

Gradually recovering from the injuries sustained as recorded in this paper last week, Bill Thompson was able to drive to town from his home six miles east of Tahoka Tuesday but was still too lame to walk without the aid of a crutch, and his shoulder was still too sore to permit the use of his right arm.

Bill says there was just one slight error in the story published last week. He says that he did not "trip over one of his hounds" but that the hound ran over him. Before he knew anything was happening, that hound hit him like a ton of brick. At first he didn't know whether he had been struck by a bull, an army tank, a glider, or whatnot; but when he discovered that it was his own hound chasing a rabbit that had knocked his props out from under him and made him a fit subject for the hospital, he got mad. At the very first opportunity he gave that hound away, and not only that hound but his other one also.

"That is the first time in forty years that I have not been the owner of a dog," Bill announced Tuesday with a bit of aggressiveness and defiance in his voice, and in a tone that indicated that he will not own another one soon.

G. R. Milliken, accompanied by Misses Robbie and Jerry and Dona Sue Milliken and grandson, Don Mack Mathis, and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Milliken, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alley Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Dunagan and daughter, Elma Reba, enjoyed a pleasant outing on the Concho river near Christoval, over the holiday week end and say they caught plenty of fish.

Mrs. W. O. Henderson received a letter a few days ago from Corp. Jimmy Shook, who is now stationed at Duncan Field, San Antonio. Jimmy was just recently promoted to the rank of corporal.

Marjorie Howard of Hollis, Okla., who visited here with her cousin, Patricia Hill, the last two months, left Monday for Spokane, Washington, where she will make her home.

Sgt. Dan Daniels of the Perrin Air Base at Sherman is here on a ten days' furlough visiting his wife and his mother, Mrs. Lois Daniels.

GRASSLAND

O'Donnell Rotary Starts New Year

Mayor Deen Nowlin and E. I. Hill of the News attended the luncheon of the Rotary Club of O'Donnell Tuesday.

The new president, Waldo McLaurin, had just taken up the gavel and assumed his duties, and he announced the list of his committees. With B. M. Haymes as chairman of the program committee, another year of excellent programs is assured. W. O. Forgy has been program chairman the past year and many excellent programs have been given.

Supt. F. S. Johnson of the O'Donnell schools has been the efficient president of the Club for the past year, and as evidence of appreciation of his services, Don Edwards, on behalf of the Club, presented him with a beautiful plaque at the meeting Tuesday.

No set program had been prepared for the day, but representatives of the neighboring communities had been invited to be present to make a report on the drive for scrap rubber. Two responded, reporting that most of the rubber in their communities had been turned in. Joe Alexander, editor of the Dawson County Courier, in response to an inquiry, stated that 250,000 pounds of rubber had been collected in Dawson County.

Deen Nowlin stated that in his opinion most of the people of Lynn County had turned in all their old rubber but said that he had found a few who had so far made no response to the drive. Upon invitation, the editor of this sheet also made a few rambling remarks in behalf of both the rubber and scrap iron campaigns.

O'Donnell has a live bunch of Rotarians.

Supt. and Mrs. E. E. Hancock of Brownfield were here Sunday visiting his mother, Mrs. F. H. Hancock. Mr. Hancock just recently assumed his duties as superintendent of the Brownfield public schools. For the past three years he has been superintendent of the Ralls school system. Just another Lynn County boy making good.

Mrs. J. R. McJunkins of Houston is here for a few weeks' visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Sherrod, and the Sherrod connections. She was formerly Miss Eka Patterson of O'Donnell.

Lieut. Truett Cooper, it is announced, has been transferred from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to Fort Bliss, El Paso. His wife is visiting with relatives here.

RIDGES LEAVING TAHOKA SOON

D. G. Ridge, who has been employed at the First National Bank for the past two or three years, plans to leave next Monday for the west coast, where he expects to be employed in one of the big aircraft factories.

Mrs. Ridge and the boys will remain here until August 1 and expect to visit relatives in Lubbock, Floydada, and Snyder until about September 1, when they plan to join Mr. Ridge on the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Ridge have been active in civic and social circles here and many friends regret that they are to leave. Mrs. Ridge has resigned as president of the Parent-Teachers Association, to which position she was elected a few months ago.

Judge and Mrs. Chester Connolly removed Tuesday into their new home in west Tahoka, the former Coleman Wells place which they recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haney and Francis Marion took Mrs. Haney's mother, Mrs. Stone, who has been visiting in their home here, to Abilene Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McKnight and baby are visiting in Paducah this week with Mrs. McKnight's parents.

Air Transportation Being Predicted

AUSTIN, July 16—In the post-war world, air transportation will invade the heavy freight field of the railroads and the heavy cargo field of international shipping, predicts a University of Texas transportation expert.

Dr. J. H. Frederick, University professor of transportation and industry, who is also consultant on transportation for the National Resources Planning Board, points out that only 40,000 planes of a size already constructed—the B-19—would be required to equal the whole cargo capacity of all the ships of the United Nations.

Gliners, too, will enter the post-war transportation picture, he asserted. A "locomotive plane," towing a half dozen freight gliders destined for different places, could drop off its cargo, glider by glider, without having to slow down or stop until the final destination should be reached.

The USO furnishes clean entertainment and recreation for the boys in the training camps. Surely you want to have a part in this good work. See R. P. Weathers at the courthouse and make your contribution today or Saturday.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eee Eye, the Elder

A few weeks ago this column made reference to the story of a Comanche Indian chief reputedly captured at the Battle of Plum Creek in south central Texas away back in 1840 wearing a silk hat and a frocktail coat, with the coat on backwards, carrying an umbrella and riding a prancing steed, stolen no doubt on a great raid which the Comanches had just made on the Whites. This story brought the following comment from State Press in the Dallas News of recent date.

"Whether Eee Eye the Elder and Grandpa Hop have collaborated in exhuming a rare historical item or in dressing up one of those tall tales for which early-day Texas and Texans were famous is a question which a more meticulous historian than State Press is will have to decide. It is a fact that Chief Bowles of the Cherokees rode out to battle and to his death, wearing an old silk vest which Sam Houston had given him, and astride a pinto pony. But once upon a time, the truth about young Texas was as hard to believe as any of the tall tales which the pioneers spun for the outside world. And eventually some of the tall-tale-tellers couldn't differentiate between fact and fiction. It is to these that our indefatigable folklorists, and the rest of us who like a good yarn with embellishments, are indebted."

Well, Grandpa Hop says that he does not vouch for the truth of the story. He was not present at the Battle of Plum Creek, since that colorful fight occurred just about 102 years ago. All he knows about it is what he has heard from the lips of other men and what he has read in stories of Indian depredations in Texas. And he admits that the story may have been invented by some imaginative old Texan of that era who was full of bear meat, but it has been handed down by word of mouth and in cold type by the oldsters to the present generation as the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, etc., just like the story of little George Washington and the Cherry Tree, and why shouldn't we believe it?

By the way, how does State Press know that that story about Chief Bowles and the silk vest and the pinto pony is true? Is it possible that he was an eye witness to the event?

History does record that the friendly and semi-civilized Cherokee Indians under Chief Bowles were the victims of the White Man's perfidy. They were driven out of Texas and into the Indian Territory in 1839 while Mirabeau B. Lamar was President of Texas, in an aggressive war made upon them by white settlers.

Sam Houston had lived among the Cherokees in the "Indian country" and he had great respect for them and great influence with them after coming to Texas. He and Chief Bowles became fast friends.

Early in 1836, before the battle of San Jacinto, the temporary Government of Texas, of which Houston was a leading light, made a treaty with the Cherokees granting to them the lands lying between the Sabine and Angelina Rivers and north of the San Antonio road.

After Houston had won the Battle of San Jacinto and the independence of Texas, the Senate of the new Republic refused to ratify the treaty. This action aroused the ire of the Cherokees and caused frequent STATED MEETINGS of Tahoka Lodge No. 1041 the first Tuesday night in each month at 8:30 Members urged to attend. Visitors welcome.

H. L. RODDY, Secretary.

brushes between them and their white neighbors. Unlike Houston, President Lamar had little patience and little tact in dealing with the Indians. To him, an Indian was just an Indian regardless of his tribe or his past record, and it was during his administration that three companies of white men invaded the Cherokee settlements and drove Chief Bowles and the Cherokees out of Texas and across the Red River to the north. This act constitutes one of the few black chapters in the otherwise glorious history of Texas.

But the Comanches were an entirely different type of Indians. They were treacherous, war-like, and barbarous. They developed no civilization of their own and would have none of the White Man's civilization. They had no regard for their treaties. Like the "Huns" of Kaiser Bill's day and the hordes of Hitler of the present day, they regarded a treaty as a mere "scrap of paper." In 1840, they entered into an agreement with the Whites for an exchange of prisoners. Representatives of the two races met in San Antonio to make the exchange. But the Comanches were found to have brought only one white prisoner to be released. Then the Whites got mad. They decided to hold the entire bunch of Comanches, thirty or forty in number, as hostages. But the Indians refused to submit and made fight. The Whites wiped out practically the whole gang.

Then the Comanches got on the warpath sure enough. A thousand of them, or more, made a raid down the Guadalupe River valley, marauding and murdering the Whites and leaving devastation behind them. The prosperous towns of Cuero and Victoria lay in their path, and they looted the town of Linnville at the mouth of the Guadalupe. The inhabitants fled in boats out onto the Bay for safety while the Indians plundered their homes and their stores and their farms round about.

Then they began their return trip back up the valley, ravaging the country as they went. Leaving the Guadalupe at Gonzales, they veered to the north and had reached Plum Creek in the vicinity of Lockhart when they were overtaken by a hastily recruited army of Whites, and it was there that they were completely routed and that one of their chiefs in his dressy whiteman's garb was captured. The frocktail coat, the silk hat, the umbrella, and the well-groomed steed had evidently been stolen on the raid—that is, if there is any truth to the story as to his apparel. State Press seems to be doubtful whether it is fact or fiction, with a strong leaning to the theory that it is just another one of those "tall tales." As for us, we prefer to believe it, just as we believe that it was impossible for little George Washington to tell a lie and just as we believe that our great-great-grandmother's aunt or "sumpin'" saw the Devil once and he had eyes as big as a pancake.

But that Indian Chief story is entirely plausible. It could have been so. If State Press will explore his store of Texas Indian Raid stories, he will find it in some of them, set down in cold type, with a picture of the chief all dressed up as described and sitting on his stolen steed. Sorry Grandpa Hop has forgotten the old Chief's name.

At one time there were a million Indians, it is estimated, in the territory now embraced in the United States, and there are still several million of them in Mexico unconquered by White Men's blood, and millions of others in South America.

Where did these Indians come from? Nobody knows. We think the Comanches and the Apaches and the other treacherous war-like tribes must have been a-kin to the Japs. We would not insult them by suggesting that they are any relationship to Hitler. He has committed more murders than all the Indians of all countries and all times have committed, rolled into one.

MISS McNATT DISCUSSES COLOR SCHEME
"Personal coloring should be the basis for all color choice in dress," stated Miss Maurine McNatt, H. D. Agent, at the meeting of the New Home H. D. Club Friday at the home of Mrs. Graham George.
Personal coloring consists of the color of the hair, eyes, lips and general skin tone. We say a color is becoming when it harmonizes with the personal color scheme of the wearer—when it makes the skin look clear and healthy and when it intensifies instead of neutralizes the color of the eyes and hair. It is unbecoming when it emphasizes the skin shadows thus making the wearer look old and tired.

JAMES V. ALLRED

In the more than one hundred years of Texas history, Texas has never been represented in the United States Senate by a West Texan. This year, for the first time, you have an opportunity of electing a West Texan to that high position by voting for James V. Allred, who was born and grew to manhood in West Texas, and who knows and understands the problems of West Texans.

His record of two terms as attorney general and two terms as governor of Texas is filled with pages of successful solutions of West Texas problems.

Soldier Writes Good Advice To Sister

Mrs. D. W. Murphy, who resides near the east line of Lynn County, left with the News Tuesday, for publication, the following letter recently written to her by her brother, Sgt. Eugene Parrish, of Fort Lewis, Washington. Mr. Murphy has been accepted for army service and will leave for Fort Sill today, after having taken a ten days furlough. The letter follows:

"Friday Night, July 3, 1942.
"Dearest Sister: I just wonder how this is going to find you. It leaves me O. K. and doing good, except a little tired.

"We are going to have a full face inspection in the morning. I have been getting ready for it. Of course you do not know about a full face inspection, but that is where you get the works, so I had to do a little shining up.

"Mama tells me that Dolby has to go to the army. I am sorry to hear it, but that isn't the worst that could happen. I know you hate to see him go — we all do. Everyone hates to see their men go, but some one has to go, and every boy in the service has a wife, mother, or sister he had to leave at home. Of course we all think we hate to see them go worse than any one else — that is natural—but really it isn't as bad as I am sure you have heard.

"I am speaking as one that knows. It has been sixteen months since I went through just what he is fixing to go through now. And there are thousands more taking the same thing. Of course I am not saying there is nothing to it, for there is war, and we must fight to the end to win this war. But I bet he gains weight right from the start, and you know any thing that makes a man put on weight can't be too bad.

"And you know you had much rather see him go than be talked about the rest of his life. I know I had a hundred times rather be in here than to be talked about the rest of my life, and I am sure he will feel the same way after he is in the service a little while. In fact I would not take a discharge if it was brought to me on a silver plate. I could not face the people if I was out knowing what is going on and how bad the army needs men.

"So, if I were you, I would cheer up and let the people know I was proud to have him in, doing his part; and you know you can always go home and have a good home, while there are thousands of girls that have no place to go when their men leave. And you will know he has something to fight for. Of course we all have, but we all have not got a nice wife waiting for us.

"But by all means don't try to go to some camp with him. You may think that would be helping him, but it won't. I have seen it tried. A man that makes a good soldier is busy day and night. I know that don't sound just right but it is the truth. If he is stationed close so you can go to see him often and write him often, but don't be after him to come home on a furlough, for he can't, and it will only make it hard on him.

"I wish I could be with him the first two months; that is the hardest part of it all, but it isn't too bad; and what he learns in those two months he won't ever forget.

"I hope he gets into a branch of the service he likes, but I would not advise him, for what suits one man would not suit another.

"Well, Lorene, I hope you don't take this letter the wrong way, for I only want to make you understand something about what he is getting in and try to make it easier for you, for I know just how you feel. But to worry won't help him or you either; if anything, it would hurt him, for worrying will ruin your health, and as long as you are well he will be better satisfied, and if you are sick, he can't be satisfied. So, if you want to help him, stay at home and do the best you can. You must remember he has a lot to leave now for awhile and he is going to need all the nerve he has. And he hates to leave as much as you hate to see him leave. He has to start a new life while you will still have the same old things; so, after all, he is the one who has all the worries. So, show him you can take it, with a smile.

"I guess Dolby will be gone when you get this. If he is, I wish him all the luck in the world; and if either of you all ever need anything I have or can get, let me know; for you know you are welcome to anything I can do for you.

"And remember what I have written is my honest opinion, and you know I have no reason to tell you anything only the truth. So, take it from one that is in and knows. So keep your chin up, and it will all come out for the best.

"Now I must close. Write me often. Your Bud.—Sergeant Eugene Parrish, Fort Lewis, Wash."

One extra plane...

... or extra tank, or extra gun, or extra ship completed tomorrow may, in a few months, turn the tide on some distant battlefield; it may make the difference between life and death for some of our fighting men.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT,
February 23, 1942

Would you be the one who failed to help buy that plane, tank, or ship—by failing to buy your share of Bonds? Could you sleep nights knowing that American boys were being killed because you and others "put off" doing your part?

Remember, they are OUR boys now—from your State, your town, perhaps your very home. They're out there risking their lives—giving their lives—so that America, your free America, can live. And just as you are counting upon them to give everything they've got, so they are counting upon you to give everything you've got—by working harder than you ever have before and by investing in Bonds to the very limit of your powers!

Can they count on you? Make your answer ring clear and true—let our boys know that every man, woman, and child in America is behind them 100%. Go to your local post office, bank, savings and loan association, or other official sales agency today. Pledge yourself to buy all the Bonds you can—regularly, every pay day, until this war is won! The more Bonds you buy, the more planes will fly.

ENLIST YOUR CURRENT SAVINGS FOR VICTORY

See in this table how your savings, set aside regularly by you—and by every American with an income—reach 10 billion dollars in just one year! Then make up your mind to pledge—not the least, but the MOST you can. By doing your part you'll be helping America produce the 60,000 planes, 45,000 tanks, 20,000 anti-aircraft, guns and eight million tons of shipping we MUST HAVE this year TO WIN! Remember, you can start buying Bonds by buying Stamps for as little as 10c and that you get a $25.00 (maturity value) Bond (Series E) for only $18.75.

V-Mail Service Now In Effect

The famed V-Mail service is now available to and from our soldiers and others of and connected with the armed forces who may be out of the continental United States. V-Mail is a photographic process of reducing the bulk of mail handled. The bulk of mail to the armed forces has grown to such an extent that it is almost impossible to handle it in the conventional manner as transportation facilities are limited and must be used for absolutely essential merchandise to the armed forces.
V-Mail is written on a special form and photographed on a miniature film. This film is sent overseas and at its destination an enlargement is made approximately the size of the original written message and delivered to the addressee.

The saving of weight and space is tremendous. Down to facts and figures it shows up something like this: The original, approximately eight inches by eleven inches, is photographed on a film that is 16 millimeter in width and occupies a space on the film of the same length. This means a little less than 1/2 by 1/2 inches square. This film, in long strips with several hundred or possibly several thousand messages on it, is transported to the point of destination, thus saving transporting the thousands of bulky letters. If the film is lost in transit duplicate copies are easily made and transported. The original is retained until it is ascertained that the message in the final enlarged form has been delivered to the addressee. The original is then destroyed.

The film used is of a panatomic variety which is sensitive to all light rays of the spectrum except ultra high frequency such as blue, and for this reason blue ink should not be used in writing the messages. It is best to use black or red.

Here are a few precautions to consider in using V-Mail:

1. Use prescribed forms or blanks only (obtainable at post office).
2. Write plainly in space provided, print in block type the name and address but the message may be written in scrip in the usual manner or typewritten.
3. Do not use inclosures. The form furnished fits the photographic machines and any other could not be

Col. E. O. Thompson Visits In Tahoka

Colonel Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, chairman of the state railroad commission, was in Tahoka last Friday in the interest of his candidacy for re-election to that body.
"In these times," Col. Thompson said, "the duties of the Commission take on a new importance, and the responsibilities of the men who run the Commission become more grave. Oil is the life-blood of mechanized warfare, and it must be kept surging through the veins of the mighty fields." "And transportation," he added, "is the life-line upon which food, ammunition, and supplies are carried to the men fighting on the front lines."

Col. Thompson's experience in World War No. One and his service for the past several months in World War No. Two have served to thoroughly acquaint him with the vital part that oil plays in the prosecution of the war and also with the problems of transportation.

There is no man in official position in Texas nor in Texas politics who is as thoroughly conversant with these problems and the oil industry in general as is Col. Thompson. However the citizen may feel toward Col. Thompson, whether friendly or unfriendly, he must concede that Thompson knows more about the oil industry and about transportation in general, than possibly all other men in Texas politics combined. It is this consciousness of Col. Thompson's intimate knowledge of the industries and problems with which the Railroad Commission must deal together with his innate ability that makes him strong with the people. It is possible that he will be renominated to the place on July 25 with-

4. Write within the space provided for the message as that is the only part of the form photographed.
  5. Fold as per instructions on form and use sufficient postage, either air mail or regular. Postage on form has nothing to do with the manner of transporting the message after it is in film form. It is then transported in the most expeditious manner.
- Keep the boys happy and the morale high by writing often. V-Mail forms may be obtained free at the Postoffice.—B. T. Smith.

The Resort Hotel Drug Company Inc., 407 N. Oak Avenue, Mineral Wells, Texas, during the calendar year of 1940 sold or dispensed a total of 16,001 liquor prescriptions for a total of 1,192.8 wine gallons.

For the months of January, February, March, April and May of 1941 the Resort Hotel Drug Company Inc., of Mineral Wells sold or dispensed 7,812 liquor prescriptions for a total of 1,180.25 wine gallons.

The Resort Hotel Drug Company, Inc., of Mineral Wells first obtained a medicinal pharmacy permit on January 8, 1938, and held said permit through August 31, 1941.

The Resort Hotel Drug Co. is located in the hotel building in Mineral Wells. Mr. Collins for years was actively engaged in its operation and only recently resigned. The space occupied by the Resort Hotel Drug Co. is leased from the hotel with which Mr. Collins formerly was connected.

The wholesale sale of liquor by drug stores in dry territories was stopped as a result of a law passed by the last Legislature. Sen. Karl Lovelady of Meridian has publicly stated that had it not been for the work of Coke Stevenson this bill would have been killed and drug stores still would be selling liquor in dry territories in wholesale quantities.

Mrs. J. L. Evans and daughter, Ruth Janette, of New Lynn, returned Tuesday from Los Angeles, California, where they spent the past two months with Mr. Evans, who is employed in the Douglas Aircraft plant there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cunningham left Monday in company with their grand-daughter, Mrs. Vic Roach and husband, for a vacation in the mountains and on the Pacific coast. Mr. and Mrs. Roach live in Freeport, down on the Texas Gulf coast. Mr. Roach says all fishing has been stopped at Freeport and that the town and its industries are "blacked out" at night. Several subs have been sighted off the coast from Freeport, he says. However, small boats are used for patrolling, while airplanes watch for subs from the sky, anti-aircraft guns have been installed, and the Freeport area is, therefore, very well protected.

Mrs. Paul Howell and children returned home Wednesday after spending about two months in Tularosa, N. M. After accompanying them home Paul returned to his work there which is to involve considerable travel within the next few months during which time he could not be with the family. Mrs. Howell says that she is glad to be back in Texas.

GOLD STAR GIRL HONORED AT COUNCIL MEET

At the meeting of the County Council of home demonstration clubs in the district court room last Saturday afternoon, Wanda Jean Taylor of Wells, who had been previously selected as the Gold Star Girl for Lynn County, was signally honored.

A pin awarded to her by the Texas A. & M. College in recognition of the outstanding work she had done as a 4-H club girl during the year of 1941 was presented to her in a few well-chosen and impressive words by County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Maurine McNatt.

In addition to that, the home demonstration clubs of the county presented her with a valuable Sheafers Fountain Pen in lieu of paying her expenses to the A. & M. Short Course, since the Short Course has been discontinued for the duration of the war.

Miss Wanda Jean has made a wonderful record in 4-H club work.

INSTINCT OR INTELLIGENCE?

The late Jim Cathey, pioneer West Texan, often spoke of having seen wild turkeys migrating thru Lynn County in a manner comparing favorably with the wildest tales of buffalo herds on the move. A mass of turkeys extended for several miles in width passed from east to west-northwest, grazing leisurely, but never turning back. A goodly number of coyotes were following as in the case of buffalo herds when migrating. This happened in the early '90's. Wonder why the turkeys left the brakes, venturing onto the apparently limitless plains. Wonder how they knew that a continuous westerly trek would bring them to the mountain section — where their descendants doubtless remain today. —Ben Moore.
