Volney Hill Will Replace Jackson As Tahoka Coach

At a meeting of the school board Tuesday night, Leo Jackson tendered his resignation as head coach of the Tahoka schools to accept a similar position at Olney.

The resignation was accepted and Volney Hill, late of Burk Burnett, was elected to the position.

Mr. Hill, a native of Williamson County, has had twelve years experience as a coach, five years at Chillicothe and seven years at Burk Burnett, and he comes highly recommended. He is a graduate of the Texas Technological College. He has been here this week, but he and Supt. W. T. Hanes, and president of the school board Prentice Walker, left Wednesday morning for Abilene to attend a coaching school being given there this week.

Mr. Jackson has done excellent work here as coach and has many warm friends who regret his leaving but hope continued success for him in his work.

Nancy Jane Nowlin Hurt In Accident

Nancy Jane Nowlin, four, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Nowlin, was brought home from a Lubbock hospital Monday after having been a patient there since Thursday of last week suffering from injuries sustained in a fall from a moving car.

The accident occurred on the preceding Tuesday afternoon on the highway alongside the roadside park four miles north of Tahoka as Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cain, Miss Mildred Cooper, and Jerry Cain and Nancy Jane Nowlin were returning to town from the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper. The child plunged against the door, it seems, causing the door to swing open and the child to fall out of the car. Luckily she did not strike the pavement but struck on the gravelled shoulders of the highway, rolling over and over after striking. Many bruises and abrasions of the skin resulted but it was not thought at first that any serious injuries had been inflicted.

By Thursday, however, the condition of the child was such that the parents decided to take her to a hospital, where a physical examination revealed a fracture of the skull just back of the right ear. Physicians permitted the child to be brought home Monday but advised that it would be necessary to keep her very quiet for many weeks.

Drouth Reported In Roscoe, Big Spring Farming Areas

Buford Ater of the Lakeview community, who was reared at Roscoe, stated to the News Monday that he and family had visited at Roscoe recently and found crops suffering terribly from drouth. The Big Spring News last week likewise reported that so little rain had fallen in that vicinity this year that many farmers had been unable to even get their crops up. Crops in this and adjoining counties generally are good, Mr. Ater reports that cotton is fine but some of the feed would now be benefited by a good rain in his neighborhood.

Pfc. Richard Seiwert Is In Australia

Private First Class Richard Seiwert, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Seiwert of Wilson, who is now with the U. S. armed forces in Australia, recently wrote his parents that the people of Australia are really treating the American soldiers swell.

Young Stewart graduated in the Wilson high school in 1939 and afterwards attended Draughon's Business College in Lubbock for several months. He enlisted in the U. S. Army in June, 1941. He was sent to the Philippines, where he remained until January of this year, when he was transferred to Australia.

Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Post, who will conduct revival services at the Baptist Church here, beginning Friday night, August 17.

Revival Services At Baptist Church

In accordance with plans adopted by the Church several weeks ago, a series of revival services will be conducted at the Baptist Church here beginning on Friday night, August 17, and continuing through Sunday, August 26.

Rev. George A. Dale, the pastor, will be assisted by Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Post, who will do the preaching. Melvin Rathel, of course, will conduct the music and Mrs. Rathel will be the pianist, which insures a high quality of music.

Rev. Mr. Hardin bears the reputation of being a strong evangelistic preacher and his messages no doubt will be well worth hearing. Both morning and evening services will be held.

The public, regardless of church affiliation, is cordially invited to attend and participate in every service. Especially are those who have no church affiliation invited to attend.

Carvie I. Tew Writes To The News Editor

The News has received the following brief missive from Carvie I. Tew, who recently went from this county to Camp Carson, Colorado. Of course the News will be a regular visitor at his barracks hereafter.

"Dear Mr. Hill: I am sending for The Lynn County News. Please send it to the address on the envelope. This is a new camp up here. It surely is going to be pretty when they get it finished. We can see the snow on the mountains.

"I sure will be glad to get the county paper from Tahoka. I haven't had a letter from any one. Yes, I suppose I have some now at my barracks.

"I have been in the hospital for three days, and it is 5 miles from my Co. I will close. Your friend, "Carvie I. Tew."

CLARKS MOVE TO AMARILLO

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Clark and children, Donnie Jean and Ronnie, left Sunday for Amarillo, where they will reside. Mr. Clark has a good position there with a big war industry. The family were active here in religious and musical circles and they will be greatly missed in Tahoka, though they had resided here for less than a year.

Edward McMillan, who is on a warship somewhere in the Pacific, has written two letters recently to his mother here, Mrs. H. L. McMillan. One was written on July 4 and another on July 13. Edward is sound and well but gave no intimation as to where his old boat has been taking him. He wrote for the addresses of some of the other Tahoka boys in the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Fielder are away taking their vacation this week. They indicated that they might spend it at Quanah and Hamlin and other points with relatives.

Misses Lynette and Wanda Lee Tinsley last week each completed a six-months' business course in a Lubbock business college.

Tahoka People At Allred Rally

Quite a number of Tahoka people were in the audience which heard James V. Allred in the second speech of his campaign for the United States Senate Wednesday night in Lubbock, and Mrs. Truett Smith was honored with a seat on the platform. Another woman, Miss Margaret Turner, who conducts a column, The Woman's Angle, in the Lubbock Avalanche, introduced the speaker.

An audience estimated at more than 3,000 sat or stood — most of them stood — almost transfixed, listening intently to catch every word of the speaker, interrupting him occasionally with cheers and applause. But it was a serious-minded audience that listened, not given to levity or hilarity.

In fact it was a serious-minded speech to which they listened, statesman-like in its quality and forcefulness rarely equaled, he set forth the events that followed the first World War, how President Woodrow Wilson sought the adoption of a peace treaty that would have

Driver Leases Tinsley Cafe

Boyd Driver was here the first of the week and while here closed a deal with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Tinsley for the cafe which they have been operating on Main Street. He left almost immediately for El Paso to wind up his affairs there and expected to be back today to take charge of the business here.

Mr. Driver has been in the cafe business here before and has had much experience in that line. In fact he has been here most of the time for many years and is well known throughout this territory. For the past several months he has been in El Paso. He and his family will be welcomed back to Tahoka, and he invites his many friends to call at his place of business.

T.'s wife and children, they went to Oklahoma City on Thursday of last week for final physical examination, but after both were accepted they decided to return to Tahoka and go to the West Coast in their car.

Both have been associated with Mr. Edwards' father, A. J. Edwards, in the Minneapolis-Moline tractor business here.

Mrs. Allen Jolly came home Sunday from the Plains Clinic, where she had undergone a major operation several days previously. Her condition has been improving satisfactorily, it is said.

H. A. Nichols, pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. Henry C. Thomas, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. The body was buried in the Tahoka cemetery.

Death resulted from a heart ailment. Mr. Strong had been in ill health for a year or more. On Monday, July 20, he began suffering from a crick in the neck, as he thought. Getting no relief, he went to see a local physician on the following Wednesday. The physician treated him for several days and finally on last Saturday he sent the patient to the hospital. Mr. Strong had spent just one night in the hospital and had just eaten breakfast Sunday morning when he suffered a heart attack and died almost instantly.

Surviving him are the widow, Mrs. Mary Strong, three sisters, and two brothers. The sisters are Mrs. J. H. McNeely of this city, Mrs. W. M.

See Happy Smith For V-Mail Service

If you want your mail to reach its destination surely and promptly when addressed to a soldier or sailor outside the United States, be sure to see Postmaster W. E. Smith for information and instructions.

It costs you no more. So, see Mr. Smith today.

Jack Childers Dies In Airplane Crash

LIEUT. CHILDERS

Flight Instructor, Tahoka Native, Killed Saturday

News of the tragic death of First Lieutenant Jack Borden Childers, who was killed in an airplane crash in Arizona at an early hour last Saturday morning, brought many expressions of genuine grief and sorrow from the people of Tahoka.

Lieut. Childers, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Childers, who now reside in Lubbock, was reared in Tahoka and was graduated from the Tahoka high school several years ago. Later he was a student in the Texas Technological College, and finally, in September, 1940, as the clouds of threatening war began to lower, he enlisted in the air corps of the army and prepared himself to do effective service in the defense of our country.

He had advanced step by step, receiving his basic training at Fort Hancock, being awarded his wings at Camp Moffat, and at the time of his death being a flying instructor at Luke Field near Phoenix, Arizona. Jack visited his parents in Lubbock just a few days prior to the tragedy which resulted in his death. Ap- (Continued on Back Page)

Billy Hill, who is in the Navy and who has been out "somewhere in the Pacific" for the past few months, called his dad, the Editor, by telephone from Los Angeles, recently, his boat having come into port on election day at San Diego. Later, he wrote a letter home from another port, and the probabilities are that he is in San Francisco now. He hoped that he might get leave to visit the home folks soon but had no promise to that effect. He was sound and well and still ready to give any Jap that might cross his path the best that he could send. Billy was formerly Linotype operator for the News.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Anglin and son Roy returned Monday from a few days' visit with relatives at Comanche. They were accompanied to Eastland by Miss LaVoyle Richardson, who went to visit relatives there. Mr. Anglin reports that crops in that section of the state are badly needing rain.

While we feel that it would be little less than a calamity for the people of Texas to send W. Lee O'Daniel to the Senate for a term of six years, yet we are glad that we live in a country where the people can register their will untrammelled and unafraid. We are gratified even that the President has decided not to bring any pressure to bear in favor of or against either candidate in this contest. While we are sure that the President would be greatly disappointed if O'Daniel should be sent back to the Senate, yet that is a matter for the people of Texas to decide. May we decide that matter wisely.

That is a terrific struggle that is being waged in Russia between the invading Germans and the defending Russians. Nobody knows yet which nation will be victorious, but we can not believe that Hitler and his hordes can win. It is true that he has the most effective war machine on land that the world has ever seen, but the Russians have built up quite a machine themselves — and there are 180 millions of them, twice as many as there are inhabitants of Germany. The Russians must have greater reserve power than the Germans can have, and in the course of time the full strength of this power doubtless will be brought into action. We do not see how the Germans can win a complete victory soon, and if they don't win soon they can't win at all. But, if they fail to reach their goal in Russia, the Germans may again turn upon England in an effort to utterly crush that little island, though the presence of so many American soldiers in ever increasing numbers would seem to make that a hopeless task on the part of the Germans. But whatever happens, we are afraid that it is a long way to the end of this war yet.

American fighting craft is making itself felt more and more on every front in this world struggle. American bombers or bombers made with American money have been playing an important part in Russia's struggle to hold back the invaders. They are being used with telling effect by the R. A. F. in the destruction of German industrial plants. They turned the tide in favor of the British in their struggle to turn Rommel and the Germans back in Egypt. They have held the Japanese hordes back out of Australia. They helped to win the great victories in the Coral Sea and the Midway naval battles. Though few in number, they took great toll of the Jap invaders in Burma, and now they are rendering valuable aid to the Chinese in their struggle against the invading Japs. We do not have half enough bombers and other fighting aircraft yet, but we are turning them out fast and we are going to keep on doing it till we win this war. Those Japs must be utterly crushed, and Germany must be taught that it does not pay to start a new war every quarter of a century. We must win, folks, at any cost.

James V. Allred has announced that if elected to the Senate he will introduce a bill to prohibit any enforced initiation fee, permit fee or dues in defense industries, and to limit the initiation fee of a worker who wished to join a union to $1.00 and to limit his monthly dues to $1.00. That is striking at graft in a vital spot. Such a bill should be enacted. Allred says that if elected he will not only introduce such a bill but will push it for passage.

Mrs. Lucille Cheatham and little son Dennis are here from Los Angeles, California, for a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Tinsley. The kiddy has already learned to say "Grandpa" and it tickles old Grandpa Tinsley nearly to death.

T. M. Gilliam of Close City has accepted a position with the First National Bank here.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eec Eye, the Elder

A politician is a person who picks out what he thinks is a winning nag and rides her to a fare-you-well. He may pick out a different nag at each succeeding race, but you can bet your bottom dollar that he thinks she is the fastest nag he can ride at the race he is about to enter.

But there are different kinds and types of politicians, honest ones and dishonest, wise and otherwise, successful and unsuccessful.

There are politicians who will lie and cheat, politicians who will do anything, fair or foul, to win a race.

And there are politicians who will do nothing of the kind; who are honorable and honest, who place country and the triumph of justice and righteousness above their own personal interests.

And there are others filling the broad gap between these two extreme types.

But whether he is honest or dishonest, altruistic or selfish, every successful politician, like every dog, has his day; and then, most likely, he fades out of the picture—disappears like a falling meteor. Only a few retain public favor throughout life. How fleeting are fame and popularity!

Remember O. B. Colquitt?
Some of you do; many of you do not. Most of you are not old enough to remember his entry in state politics.

Well, for several years, O. B. Colquitt was the idol of the majority of the voters of Texas.

Colquitt was brought up in the school of hard knocks. He didn't attempt to acquire a college education. But he was a hard working boy and he was ambitious. As a lad he worked in a newspaper shop. In early manhood he entered the newspaper business himself in Terrell, Kaufman County. He took an interest in politics. Soon he gained local prominence, and then prominence which was more than local.

In 1902 he became a candidate for railroad commissioner. The old convention system of nominating candidates was still in vogue at that time, and there was much wire-pulling by the candidates and their friends at each biennial convention. In the convention that summer Colquitt was nominated by the state Democratic convention, and in the fall he was elected railroad commissioner to succeed that great old war-horse of Democracy, John H. Reagan, who had given up a seat in the United States Senate at the request of Governor James Stephen Hogg to serve on the first Texas railroad commission.

Colquitt was ambitious. He had his eyes set on the governorship. So in 1906 he ran for governor. But the astute Tom Campbell of Palestine and the handsome Judge, M. M. Brooks of Waxahachie and the able C. K. Bell of Stephenville were also candidates. Campbell won the nomination and was elected in the fall, and he served two terms.

In 1910, O. B. Colquitt mounted his best nag and again entered race for governor. That was a fleet little anti-prohibition mare. Back in the local contests in Kaufman County, Colquitt had been a dry. But this was a state-wide election that took in the big wet centers, and we guess Colquitt figured that the wet nag would be the fast one.

Attorney General R. V. Davidson was also a candidate and a wet, but he had been a leader in the fight against Joe Bailey and the wets didn't figure that he could win. So they lined up behind Oscar B.

There were two other powerful candidates in the contest, Judge William Poindexter of Cleburne and the eloquent Cone Johnson of Tyler.

Both were dry. But they had plit on the Bailey issue. Poindexter was an ardent Bailey follower, and Cone Johnson had led the fight to unhorse Bailey as a candidate for delegate to the national Democratic convention two years before. So Poindexter and Johnson ran neck and neck for second place. Colquitt, who had astutely kept out of the Bailey fight, came under the ropes far ahead of the two drys while Davidson lagged far behind.

The fleet-footed wet nag had won.

At the end of his first term Colquitt was opposed for re-election by that great old Texas jurist and gentleman, W. F. Ramsey of Cleburne, who also was a dry. Ramsey made a vigorous fight, but the saloon crowd flocked again to the Colquitt standard and re-elected him. He was now at the height of his popularity. Five times had he run for state office and only once had he been defeated, and then by a scratch. He aspired to the United States Senate, but Charles Culberson, though broken in health and usefulness, was too firmly established in the affections of the people for them to turn him down. Though still in the full vigor of his manhood, Oscar Colquitt soon found that his political star had set. He had been practically deserted by the crowd that had again and again lifted him to high position in his state. A new leader had arisen. Colquitt had served the liquor interests well, and he knew how to cater to the whims and win the votes of the "common people," but favor of the people is as fickle as the affections of a vain woman, and his popularity was gone forever. Years later he turned again to the dry side for political favor but the drys heard not his plea.

In 1914, the liquor interests found that the tide in favor of prohibition apparently was rising. They needed a new leader with a new appeal. Jim Ferguson was the man who caught their fancy. He had started out to practice law but his wife inherited considerable property and Jim had turned to the banking business. Shrewdly he sensed the political situation and boldly announced his candidacy for governor on a vigorously wet platform. The saloon interests immediately enlisted under his banner. But he had another string to his bow also. The tenant farmers of the state were in a bad way. Jim devised a tenant-farmer plank to curb the greed of landlords and protect the tenants. It caught them. They flocked into his fold in droves.

Congressman Tom Ball of Houston had been selected by the drys as their candidate for governor. He was a good man, no doubt, but Ferguson boldly assailed his sincerity as a dry, showed that he was a member of a recreation club in Houston that served liquor to its members, and with this club Jim flailed the "whey" out of his opponent. He was decisively elected. In two years he had become the hero of a majority of the voters of Texas.

It is needless to recite the long story of his political career, a career which brought him into the governor's office twice and his wife twice. For years he had the most devoted following of almost any man who has figured in the politics of this state; but a few years ago, when he undertook again to promote the candidacy of his wife for governor, he found that the Ferguson name had lost its charm. He could rally only a few to her support. The bold and perhaps the shrewdest politician that this state had ever known, suddenly found that he had already been consigned to the political junk pile. Another leader had arisen. We'll get to him down at the bottom of this column.

There is perhaps only one other man who has figured in Texas politics whose followers have worshipped him as devoutly as Jim Ferguson's followers worshipped him. That man was Joe Bailey. When we mention that name even today, there are countless thousands in Texas who are ready to arise in arms to defend him. As an orator, Joe Bailey was one of the greatest that has arisen in this country. Intellectually, he was one of the most powerful men that ever sat in the United States Senate. As a constitutional lawyer, he was recognized by his colleagues in the Senate as the greatest of them all. When it was announced that he would speak in the Senate, overflow crowds jammed into the chamber to hear him. He was a colossal figure in the politics of this country.

But secret dealings that he had with the president of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, leaked out; the exposure of these dealings together with other assaults upon his personal and political record finally ruined him. "The noblest Roman of them all" had fallen. The favor of the majority was gone, and the end of this political Napoleon was almost as pathetic as that of the great military leader who spent his last days in exile on St. Helena.

Now, the people have another hero, a political showman. He is a pygmy in intellect as compared with either Joe Bailey or Jim Ferguson, but he is as bold and as shrewd politically as either of them. Shrewdness and showmanship and boldness have carried him to the heights, but he also is bound for a fall. We wonder just how soon.

Mrs. Sam Price left last week to join her husband at Amarillo, where he has a job as guard at one of the big war establishments there. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Squires, who may decide to seek employment there herself.

THE RAINCROW

Practically all who come to this section from a timbered belt know something of the Raincrow, or Western cuckoo. But a lot of folks are now native plainmen. I was surprised to see one in about the year 1920 hiding in the trees before the home of the late Dr. Townes. For the past two years they have come up from the brakes during the summer and remained in O'Donnell until cool weather. They nest throughout the wooded sections of Texas and are occasionally seen along the brakes. One of their calls is ca-ca-ca, cow. The other is coo-aw, coo-aw. The latter is supposed to indicate approaching rain. As tree planting increases in this section, a noticeable increase in bird population follows. —Ben Moore, O'Donnell.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Burrough left Saturday for a few days visit with relatives in California.

MAN: Here she is... what'll you give me for her?
DEALER: Sounds like she just breathed her last. We want good second-hand cars but not this kind.
MAN: Why, it's got only 30,000 miles... and look! ... it's the same make, model and year as that gray job you've got tagged to sell for $450.
DEALER: But that engine is OIL-PLATED and runs like new. Good for another 30,000 miles. Its owner took good care of it... greased it and drained the crankcase every thousand miles.
MAN: I always thought that was the bunk.
DEALER: Well, you've got a pile of junk there to prove you're wrong.
MAN: All right... all right... I'm wrong. Tell you what. I'll give you three hundred cash and my car for that one if you'll wise me to the motor oil that fellow used.
DEALER: It's a deal. He used Conoco Nth oil. That's the oil with the synthetic that helps keep both the motor and the oil clean.
MAN: Oh, now I remember reading about that oil and the synthetics they use. Brother, I'll use nothing but Conoco Nth from now on!

HEARS BOOK REVIEW

Mrs. A. C. Aycox was hostess on Thursday afternoon of last week to the Dixie H. D. Club, with a large group present.

The program consisted almost solely of a review of the book, "The Moon Is Down" given by Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell. Mrs. Tunnell gave a wonderful review of this great book, which she described as the greatest that John Steinbeck had ever written. The book sets forth a hypothetical case of fifth-columnist activities—that might have happened in any of the subjugated countries of Europe, and that might happen in America.

Her recital of the story held all of us spellbound. It teaches a great lesson.

Refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mesdames G. L. Cobb, J. I. Hill, G. C. Grider, W. A. Williams, J. H. Knight, Ray Atkins, T. D. Lishman, O. B. Conley, Miss Maurine McNatt; and visitors, Miss Virgie Cobb, Mrs. Delbert Cockrell; Mesdames Callaway Huffaker, C. G. A JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1: That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49, a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid, from and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds.

"When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

"For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas, at the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1942, being November 3, 1942, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Folks Hungry For Peaches!

W. L. Knight did decide to go back to the Von Roeder farms in Borden County Saturday to get some peaches, and he reports that he saw a sight to behold.

The Von Roeders had announced that they would sell no peaches until Saturday morning, at which time they would stage a big sale.

Well, Mr. Knight says that a crowd estimated at 2,000 people were there for the fruit. Many of them came before daylight. In fact, the gathering of the peaches began before daylight, and the crop of 500 bushels had been gathered in thirty minutes.

One bushel of peaches was all he could get, after going sixty or seventy miles to get them. He was accompanied by his son-in-law, J. E. Nance of Borden County.

The Von Roeders have two big orchards, one of them containing 1,800 trees, Mr. Knight says.

School will open August 31, and will not close for cotton picking. The school board thinks there will be plenty of imported labor to pick the cotton, and the school will be much better if not dismissed.

A defense shop building is being planned and will be erected during August. The structure will be built of lumber to be salvaged from several small buildings and stuccoed, and will be placed near the bus barn.

New teachers elected to date are Mrs. Zona Hooper of Abilene for Mrs. Head's place in the intermediate grades, and Mr. Dwight Lindsey for vocational agriculture. Mr. Lindsey is already on the field and taking hold of his duties. Mrs. Hooper will move soon to the Howard Cook duplex. She has a boy who will be in grammar school. ## The STORY OF "Shortages"

For months, the word "shortage" has been applied to every basic industry and material. There was a shortage of aluminum, steel, lead, tin, copper, gasoline, rubber, etc. There have been critical shortages of important materials that have hampered the production of the vital implements of war, ships, planes, tanks and guns.

For months there have been rumors of power shortages. But there has not been one single instance where production of material for armament has been delayed because of a lack of Electric Power. The Electric Industry is the one industry that, even six months after Pearl Harbor, is able to furnish all the power necessary in our quickening drive for Victory.

LET'S GET IT STRAIGHT

There has been ample Electric Power for all war needs without depriving offices, stores or households of their normal supply. No one has had to issue rationing cards for domestic use of Electricity. Let's remember these thoughts when we hear rumors of power shortages.

* These thoughts taken from a statement issued by I. A. Drog, chief of the power branch of the War Production Board, July 22, 1942, Washington, D. C.

Texas - New Mexico Utilities Company

Tahoka Boy ...

(Continued from page one) preaching Tahoka, his old home town, as he was leading the formation of six planes which zoomed over the town on the occasion of his last visit here, he swooped down low, suspecting that his father might be here and hoping that if so his father might recognize him, he told his dad later.

The crash which resulted in Lieut. Childers' death came at 2:20 o'clock Saturday morning, thirty miles southeast of Luke Field and six miles from Phoenix. Sergeant Wilson N. Smith, 26, of Austin, Texas, was in the plane with Lieut. Childers, and he, too, was killed. Childers at the time was leading a night cross-country mission of three planes, and crews of the other ships witnessed the crash but were not able to furnish information as to its cause.

The body was brought to Lubbock, where the family has resided the past several years, and funeral services were conducted at 10:00 o'clock Tuesday morning in the First Methodist Church there.

The body was buried in Memorial Park cemetery with military honors. Active pall bearers were officers of the Lubbock Army Flying School.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Childers of 2005 10th St., Lubbock, and one sister, Mrs. John E. Harding, of 2610 21st St., secretary to James G. Allen, dean of men at the Texas Technological College. A brother, Dave Childers Jr. was killed in an automobile accident on May 24, 1941.

The family resided in and near Tahoka for many years, the father being manager of the T-Bar Ranch which lies just west of Tahoka. It must have been about 1931 when Jack graduated at the high school here. A year or two later the family removed to Lubbock, where they have resided since.

Hundreds of friends here deeply deplore this second tragedy which has come to them and sincerely sympathize with them in their deep sorrow. The father has been in Tahoka several times recently, bringing a photograph of Jack on one of his last visits to be placed on display with other photographs of Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors listed from Tahoka or Lynn County; and many of our citizens noted the pride and devotion with which Mr. Childers seemed to regard his lieutenant soldier boy.

Truly, his death was not only a blow to the family and a shock to numerous friends, but it was a distinct loss sustained by the county at large, for the country greatly needs trained young men of his high character and patriotic zeal in its service.

Strong Dies ...

(Continued from page one) Yates of Lamesa, and Mrs. Viola Diploma of Casper, Wyoming. The brothers are Harvey Strong of Pampa and Ike Strong of Amarillo. All were here for the funeral except the sister who resides in Wyoming.

John W. Strong was born in Denton, Texas, on May 12, 1877, and was therefore 65 years of age. He resided in that county until 1912, coming from Sanger to Lynn County in that year and settling in the Three Lakes community.

In 1931 he was married to Mrs. Mary Hodges in Tahoka, and the couple had made their home here.

Mr. Strong was a quiet, honest, well-behaved citizen and commanded the respect and friendship of all his neighbors and acquaintances. Many relatives and friends were shocked and grieved to learn of his sudden and unexpected demise.

NOTICE EASTERN STAR

"There will be work at the regular meeting of the Eastern Star Friday evening, and a full attendance of the membership is expected." Mrs. Emogene Burleson, Worthy Matron, told a representative of the News this week.

J. C. Tucker has returned home somewhat improved after spending 2 or 3 weeks in Mineral Wells for the benefit of his health.

Doctor Bob Caveness, D. D. S., of Seagraves, spent Saturday night and Sunday here with his parents Prof. and Mrs. H. P. Caveness.

Mexican Woman Dies Near Here

A Mexican woman bearing the name of Marania Lara, wife of Victor Lara, of the Petty community, died at her home at about 8:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, following the delivery of her tenth child. She was 34 years of age.

The W. M. Harris Funeral Home prepared the body for burial, and funeral services were conducted at the grave-side in the Tahoka cemetery at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, the services being conducted by Rev. Henry C. Thomas, pastor of the Tahoka Church of the Nazarene. Several families of Mexicans residing in that portion of the county attended the funeral.

Victor Lara and his family had resided in that community for the past three years. They lived on the Grayam George farm one mile north and two miles west of Petty.

Marania Lara was a native of Mexico, having been born in that country on February 19, 1908. Just when she first came over on this side of the Rio Grande and just how long she had resided in Texas were not learned. But the Laras have earned a good reputation here, and the mother was doubtless just as good a mother as she knew how to be, for the grief of the bereaved children appeared to be deep and genuine.

Allred ...

(Continued from page one) prevented future wars such as that which had then just brought so much of devastation and death; how a few isolationist senators had opposed ratification of the treaty and caused it to be rejected; how Woodrow Wilson then predicted another war in 25 years that would engulf the world and bring death probably to millions of American youth; how that prophecy had come true; how the isolationists, with their heads in the sand, had denounced Franklin D. Roosevelt as a warmonger when he proposed, soon after coming into office, the building up of our navy; how these isolationists successfully opposed the adequate fortification of our islands in the Pacific; how they succeeded in hampering other efforts made to adequately arm this country against the day of war; how they succeeded in adding an amendment to a preparedness measure forbidding that our soldiers should be sent across the seas again to fight; how we were hampered at every effort to prepare for a possible attack upon us by these isolationists and obstructionists in the Senate and elsewhere; how they sought to disband our army created under the selective service act, just one year ago this month; and he drew a vivid picture of what might have happened if such attempt had been successful and our boys in training had been dispersed and sent home; how, in that event, the Japs might have bombed not only Pearl Harbor and the Hawaiian Islands but also the cities on our Pacific coast.

"We will say that those votes to disband our army just four months before Pearl Harbor was merely a result of bad judgment," he cried. "Can we afford to send men to the United States Senate who are capable of making such mistakes?"

Never once did Allred mention the name of his opponent and not once did he impugn that opponent's motives or patriotism, but every intelligent person present must have thought of the fact that the junior Senator from Texas was among those who voted with the Wheelers and the Nyes and the Vandenberg to disband our army in training and send it home in August of last year.

If the people of Texas would just lay aside their prejudices long enough to listen to great discussions like that made by Jimmy Allred Wednesday night there would be little doubt as to the outcome of the election on August 22. To say that Allred made a profound impression is putting the case mildly.
