Crowd At Defense Guard Inspection

Inspecting Officer Praises Texas' Newest Company

Several hundred people were present last Monday night when Major Olney H. Bryant of the State Adjutant General's office, Austin, inspected and approved the Tahoka unit as Company F, 39th Battalion, Texas Defense Guard. The inspection ceremonies were held on the high school football field.

Major Bryant praised the Tahoka company very highly, declaring the organization here would be a credit to many units in towns several times as large as Tahoka. He also stated Tahoka had been selected for a unit in spite of the fact that there were many other applications because of the fine record the men have made since their organization last January.

Major Chester A. Hubbard of the 39th Battalion and Capt. A. C. Jackson of Headquarters Company accompanied the inspecting officer. They also praised the company and welcomed it into the 39th Battalion.

Inspection and drill was simplified at this first inspection because of the fact that 15 new men in the company had had little or no training before the inspection. However, the men were told the next inspection would be much "stiffer". Sixty-three of the 65 enlisted men and two officers were present. In the absence of Capt. Don Turner, who had been called to A. & M. for a county agent's meeting, Lieut. E. R. Edwards, assisted by Lieut. H. O. Hargett and Sgt. Jack Welch, put the men through a few drills.

Prior to the inspection, the Tahoka high school band marched on the field and entertained the crowd for a while.

Following the ceremonies, the Defense Guard and Band were served barbecue and "trimmings" at the Legion Hall. The food was furnished by the American Legion and Rotary Club and prepared by Calaway Huffaker and Chester Connolly.

Some interesting topics for next year's study were discussed, and Miss Claire Ruth Nichols of O'Donnell gave her report of a district board meeting of B. & P. W. in Childress on September 6. Miss Nichols is district publicity chairman.

The following members and guests were present: Miss Clara Pratt, of Lubbock, Misses Florence Gary and Claire Ruth Nichols of O'Donnell, Misses Lou Verne DePriest and Lauraine Leavitt and Meses Gladys Stokes, Dan Daniel, Helen Eubank, and Lois Daniel, all of Tahoka.

W. T. Bovell Wins Medal, Promotion

W. T. Bovell, who joined the Marines a few weeks ago, has written his wife that in tests made last week he made a record in marksmanship that made him feel a bit chesty. "I made sharpshooter today for record on the Rifle Range, which means a nice medal and a $3.00 raise," he wrote. He further stated that he made 301 points against 306 made by the experts. Only six men of his platoon made the "expert" rating, while only eight made the "sharpshooter." He was one of the eight.

W. T. also stated that he expected to be sent to another station this week but he had no idea where.

Elbert Boullion Jr. is attending the Lubbock high school in order that he may get some work in one or two subjects not included in the Tahoka curriculum. He hopes to attend the Texas A. & M. College next year.

Pvt. Vincent Thompson of Shepard Field, Wichita Falls, arrived Wednesday of last week for a 15-day furlough which he is spending with J. B. Thompson and family of Grassland and his sister, Mrs. John Curry, of Tahoka, and other relatives and friends.

Farmers Start Harvest, Expect Bumper Crops

Nowlin Tells Of Trip To East

Ray Weathers and six other members of the Tahoka Defense Guard gave a demonstration, partly serious and partly comical, at the Rotary luncheon Thursday. It was a kind of Before-and-After-Taking affair. Ray was showing how the boys acted when the Defense Guard was organized and began to practice and how they perform today after many months of training.

Deen Nowlin was the principal speaker of the day. He was called upon to make a report of a recent visit which he made to the North and East, including the cities of Wichita, Kansas, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York, and some of the New England states, during which time he visited a number of Rotary clubs in those sections of the United States. His report was most interesting, not only regarding Rotary Clubs but also regarding many other matters peculiar to those various sections.

Upon request of President Truett Smith, Postmaster W. E. (Happy) Smith presented the matter of adopting some method by which club members and other organizations in the county might undertake to keep in touch with all Lynn County men in the service, seeing to it that each one of them shall receive letters at frequent intervals from somebody back in the old home town or community. Upon motion made by Supt. Travis Hanes, President Smith was directed to appoint a committee to take the matter up at once. Happy Smith, Frank Hill, and Wynne Collier were appointed.

Young Ladies At State Convention

Miss Rosemary Nelms, city secretary, and Miss Zell Wheeler, telephone operator, had a brand new experience last week—they attended the Democratic state convention in Austin. They seemed to enjoy it very much, particularly the address of ex-Governor Pat Neff and one or two ridiculous incidents that occurred during its session.

While in Austin they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards, and they report that Mrs. Edwards received her copy of the Lynn County News while they were there and perused its columns eagerly. They also saw H. C. Story while in Austin.

Following the convention, they made a visit in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elliott to San Antonio, where they saw our former Tahoka citizen, W. E. Suddarth, and then proceeded to Corpus Christi for a brief visit.

RECOVERING FROM BROKEN COLLARBONE

Kenneth Carter, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Carter of six miles east of Tahoka, is recovering from a broken collarbone, the accident occurring while he was playing two weeks ago.

Citizens Urged To Dump Scrap Metal In Pen On North Side Of The Square

Citizens who wish to donate scrap metals and rubber to the War Effort may now do so by dumping it in the pen built on the north side of the court house in the street.

Or citizens may sell their junk to local junk dealers and contribute proceeds from sales to the local Red Cross or USO.

Hints have been received by the Lynn County Salvage Committee from Government officials that some drastic compulsory measures may be taken soon if citizens do not turn in the scrap that is useless to them. Tahoka Boy Scouts are collecting scrap metals in town, and have gathered several tons in the past few weeks.

Local salvage officials estimate more than 300 tons of scrap iron have been collected here in the three drives, but a large number of citizens have neglected to gather up and sell their scrap.

This scrap may now be unloaded in the pen on the public square in Tahoka.

Mrs. Richardson At National Meeting

Mrs. Rafe Richardson left Wednesday morning for Kansas City, Missouri, to attend the national convention of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

She is one of the three delegates elected to represent Texas at the convention.

She expects to be back home about Monday of next week.

Farm Tenants Purchase Land

A limited number of capable farm tenants in Lynn County will be given an opportunity to buy farms of their own before next spring through the Farm Security Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Wyman J. Welch, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA, announced this week.

This opportunity of farm ownership, it was said, is provided through the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act.

Under this plan, loans are made to cover the cost of the land and improvements and are repayable over a 40-year period at 3 per cent interest. Building restrictions of the War Production Board, however, place a $500.00 limit on house construction and $1,000.00 on farm buildings and improvements.

Fifteen farm families in Lynn County have already obtained tenant purchase loans during the past several years and are now living on their own farms. Others who are interested should file applications now with the FSA supervisor with offices in the court house at Tahoka.

A tenant purchase committee, composed of Mr. B. J. Emanuel, Mr. Rudolph J. Maeker and Mr. Rush Dudgeon will review all applications in this county.

In order to get the new purchase program functioning immediately, farmers expecting to make application for tenant purchase loans to buy farms for cropping next season are urged by the supervisor to enter applications now. Due to limited funds for this program, only a small number of those applying in the past years have been accepted. However, those who have been unsuccessful applicants in the past may apply again.

Urges Low Cost Livestock Raising

With price ceilings and rationing of meats in prospect, people should not forget to produce their livestock and poultry as cheap as possible, according to County Supervisor of the Farm Security Administration, Jack Welch. People should humor their livestock and poultry more than ever these days by feeding balanced rations, keeping plenty of fresh water before them and plenty of shade. Green pasture should be available as many months as possible.

Due to the scarcity of lumber, Mr. Welch states that he has plans to build a temporary straw laying house which will adequately house flocks during the duration of the war. Farmers should hold their investments as low as possible while expanding their production to maximum during the war.

Mr. Welch's office is located in the court house at Tahoka.

AUXILIARY MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Tuesday night, according to the president, Mrs. A. M. Cade, at which time a musical program will be given.

What has become of all the disaster that was to befall this country when the national debt got three-quarters of its present size

Little Damage Is Reported From Worms In Cotton

Cotton is beginning to open in many localities in the county, and the gins are beginning to hum at intervals in Tahoka. Twenty or twenty-five bales had been ginned up to Wednesday night. It is believed that picking will pep up considerably next week.

Many of the farmers have been busy poisoning the worms this week, and the weather has been most favorable for this operation. Two airplanes began operations on Thursday afternoon of last week and spread the poison over many thousands of acres in the east portion of the county.

Worms appeared in countless multitudes during the rainy weather of last week and offered a real threat to the unmaturing portion of the crop, but with a continuation of clear weather, it is believed that they can be kept under control.

Of course, a good crop of cotton is already matured on most farms and the yield will be heavy regardless of the damage that may be caused by the worms, but if this crop of worms is destroyed before they make serious ravages a bumper yield is assured.

With an acreage of approximately 128,000, the yield in the county is being estimated at 75,000 to 100,000 bales. Of course worms and weather conditions could greatly change the outlook, but these appear to be reasonable estimates at the present time.

One of the finest feed crops Lynn County ever raised is also to be harvested this fall. Maize, both the greenstock and the Martin varieties, kaffir, feterita, higari, and sorghum cane have rarely ever been better. Much of it has matured and harvesting has already begun. Some of it is still green but is maturing rapidly. Threshed maize is now bringing around $18.00 per ton.

Boullion Given Army Commission

E. H. Boullion, a veteran of World War No. 1, and a business man of Tahoka for the past seventeen years, left Thursday night for Lexington, Kentucky, where he is to report for service as a first lieutenant in the signal corps of the U. S. Army. His wife will continue to operate their grocery business here during his absence.

Two weeks after the attack on Pearl Harbor last December, Lieut. Boullion voluntarily offered his services to his country, but he had been given no definite notice of acceptance until the call came the first of this week for him to report for duty Saturday at the Lexington, Ky., Signal Depot. Up to the time of his departure, he had no information as to the nature of his duties. About the only thing he did know was that he would be placed in a training school for six to eight weeks in preparation for his duties.

Before leaving, Mr. Boullion asked the News to explain that he did not go around and tell his friends "good-bye" for that is a task that he does not enjoy.

Mr. Boullion volunteered as a

"Citizenship" Is Aim For Education In Tahoka School Vocational Courses

(By Mary Margaret Tunnell)

Using "Citizenship" as its fundamental aim for education rather than an empty and meaningless precept, Tahoka public schools have accomplished much in directing the vocational departments of the school toward this underlying principle as well as joining hands with the national defense effort.

The home economics and vocational agriculture divisions of the local educational system have modified curriculums this year to aid the all-out efforts for freedom which our country is now waging. With a slight deviation in vocational aims, the home economics courses are centered around the goals of more food preservation, price control through wise purchasing, a new intensive study of nutrition and dietetics, low cost meal planning with increased nutritive value, and the making over and renovating of old garments which may be used and which will save the purchase of new ones.

In carrying out the plans for the year, the 80 girls now enrolled in home making classes under the direction of Miss Lucille Wright, are scheduled for more activities than ever before. First and second year classes will plan, cook, and serve five meals each to outside guests as well as having a tea for seventh grade students and sponsoring the Mother-Daughter banquet in November as practice in large quantity cookery. First and second year girls will continue their actual experiences in child care which were begun with the nursery school last June. First aid will be stressed in all the classes as well as home care for the sick, and the third year class will plan and give community entertainments such as teas, receptions, and coffees for outside guests. In connection with wise purchasing, cookery, home furnishing and interior decoration, classes will make field trips to various stores in town. Such campaigns as the "Clean Plate" policy will be pushed in cooperation with the lunch room program, stressing the importance of eating everything on the plate in an effort to have a balanced diet.

In carrying out the plans for the year, the girls are fortunate in having excellent equipment with which to work. In the department will be found four sewing machines, four gas cook stoves, eight working cabinets furnished completely with cooking utensils, one sink, one refrigerator, a hot water heater, fitting room, wash room, sewing and lecture room, dining room amply provided with silver, china and crystal services for eight, and a pantry stocked with all the necessities for a smoothly run kitchen.

Likewise with their vocational cohorts, the home economics girls, the 53 vocational agriculture students are emphasizing good citizenship and cooperation with defense measures in their curriculum. With the theme of "more food for freedom," the Aggies must this year perform 15 supervised practice jobs per person, keeping records of all expenses incurred, income gained and time spent in the process. With the underlying purpose of better equipping boys to make a living on the farm, Mr. Orville Richardson, agriculture teacher, says his boys will study home beautification, soil and water conservation, the care, feeding and breeds of livestock and poultry, crop care and improvement, livestock judging, butchering, gardening and parliamentary procedure as well as self-improvement.

Due to transportation problems, this year's Aggie students will be able to participate only in the district contests which will be held in some centrally located town. The students are planning to take part in all six of the Meadow district contests, which will include news-writing, extemporaneous speaking, livestock judging (junior and senior), and chapter conducting of the F. P. A. The only field trips which will be made this year will be conducted in this vicinity.

All agriculture students will be required to join the local chapter of the nationally affiliated Future Farmers of America.

The agriculture department is found also to be well provided with tools and equipment necessary for the proper study of the subject. In the lecture room may be found reference material composed of textbooks, United States Department of Agriculture, bulletins, magazines, and Texas Extension Service bulletins. In the shop are work benches equipped with vises, woodworking tools, a cream testing apparatus, butchering equipment, a farm level which is used to run terraces and contour lines, cement mixing tools, pruning materials, and electric shears for clipping animals for show. In possession of the F. P. A. boys are a registered Berkshire sow and male which the boys bought themselves, and which are directly under their care.

With such large enrollments and extensive plans for the year, Tahoka High School's vocational departments hope to accomplish much in training young minds and hands to be busy in doing wise and helpful things.

When you hear that bombing planes cost $335,000, tanks $75,000, anti-aircraft guns $50,000—And when you hear, too, that America needs 60,000 planes, 45,000 tanks, and 20,000 anti-aircraft guns at once—

It doesn't take much figuring to see that winning this war calls for every dollar all of us can scrape together. With our freedom at stake—with our farms, families, even our very lives depending upon the outcome, we'd gladly give this money.

But we aren't asked to do that. Our Government asks us only to lend the money—to put our increased earnings into War Bonds—month after month—until this war is won. In doing so, we save for our own security as well. For we get back $4 for every $3 we invest, when the Bonds are held 10 years. And if we need the money, we can get it all back any time after 60 days from issue date. This is the American way—the volunteer way—to raise the billions needed for Victory. And the money can... will... must be raised.

So let's show them that the farmers of America are helping to win this war in two vitally important ways—by producing more Food for Freedom and by saving more in War Bonds. Make Every Market Day "Bond Day"—Invest At Least 10%.

Pound of SUGAR

It isn't on your pantry shelf ... because it's gone to the War Front. You see, one pound of sugar supplies enough gunpowder to fire a machine gun 46 times. That's why sugar is rationed ... why we are gladly doing without to speed Victory.

Gas, too, is speeding War Production. It is a vital element in providing the necessary fuel for the forges and furnaces of America. It is used to cook food in the Nation's Training Camps. Do your part by using Gas wisely.

GRAIN BINS RECEIVED

The first car of prefabricated grain bins being offered for sale by the Commodity Credit Corporation were received Wednesday, Derrell C. Henry, secretary, Lynn County ACA, reported today.

The bins received are of the 1592 bushel capacity type. It is anticipated that additional shipments will be received by the end of the week. The bins received sell for $235 F.O.B. Tahoka. Producers interested in purchasing grain bins should contact the county office immediately. Henry requested.

The next bins received will hold 1844 bushels. A demonstration bin will be erected at the back of the AAA building sometime next week, according to Henry.

Staff Sergeant F. C. Hartwell left Ft. Sill Monday to enter an Air Administration Officer Training School at Miami, Florida, according to his father, Claude Hartwell, who is employed at the Gaignat Hardware. Sgt. Hartwell expects to be at Miami for a period of about four months.

W. F. Ballew Is Pecan Raiser

(By Ben Moore, O'Donnell)

When W. F. Ballew settled on a "raw" quarter section four miles northeast of the present town of O'Donnell in 1908, the "guess work" of successfully growing cotton in his section had not been entirely removed. He helped by proving that a good living could be obtained from 100 acres, despite the jeering of others more cowardly.

Ballew came of a large family reared in Coleman County. Each child, it seems, bore a nickname, ranging from Industry all the way down the line to Frugality. M. F. brought along about all the virtues necessary to round out a successful and happy farm life—but he did not bring any pecan trees. Pecans grew along the banks of living streams of water.

But Ballew could not get over the smell of pecan leaves. So, in 1925 (early February) he cranked his Model T and wended his way over dirt roads down into San Saba County, over 200 miles from his farm. There he held a conference with a Nationally-known pecan authority. Neither of them knew whether pecan culture on the plains might become a feasible undertaking, but reason taught them that only Western or narrow leaf varieties should be planted in a semi-arid section. Such varieties include: Halbert, originating in Coleman County, and "Burkett," Texas Profile, Hollis and "Western Schley."

Ballew set 12 trees and saved 11. The third year from setting, a few nuts were produced. The supply has increased from year to year except on one occasion when hail destroyed the entire crop. Every tree is now loaded with many clusters of five to seven nuts. The trees are a beautiful sight to look upon—no trees other than pecan about the residence. There is not the slightest reason why thousands of farms over the South Plains cannot succeed in doing what this pioneer has done in taking the "guess work" from nut culture.

Texas produces more than 6,000,000 pounds of honey annually.

Millions of people in this country have been wondering why more progress has not been made in the manufacture of synthetic rubber. The big rubber companies, it is said, have had a formula for many months for making rubber out of grain alcohol, while the big oil companies have had a formula for making it out of petroleum products and have insisted on the use of their products in the manufacture of this very essential war material. Somebody high up in authority seems to have been fiddling while America has been burning for lack of this material. If the "go ahead" sign had been given the big companies months ago to proceed with the manufacture of rubber out of any available material, isn't it possible that there would have been millions of synthetic rubber tires on the market by this time? At any rate, the public would like to have the facts in this matter. It may not be the waste of rubber, as Leon Henderson charges, that is making the supply short. It may be politics or inexcusable delay on the part of somebody in Washington. The people have a right to know.

Hitler is fast forging the chains of industrial slavery for the entire

French population. At the demand of Hitler, the Petain-Laval government in France has enacted a law—or made a decree, rather—whereby any French man between the ages of 18 and 50 and every unmarried French woman between the ages of 21 and 35 may be called by the Government at any time to do any kind of labor which the Government may regard useful, without any limitations as to where the labor shall be done. Furthermore every private employer is forbidden to employ any person in his own business except with the consent of the Government. Of course Germany expects to utilize French labor for her sole benefit. Pierre Laval, who is carrying out Hitler's orders, thus becomes one of the most despicable traitors in all history; and the broken-spirited, tottering old Petain becomes one of the most pitiable characters in all the annals of France. Hitler and Hitlerism must be destroyed!

The gins are going to be humming day and night in a few weeks if labor is available to gather the cotton crop. It is to be hoped that the Mexicans will find ways and means to get to the plains again this fall for there will be plenty of work for them here, according to present prospects.

Tahoka would indeed be a beautiful town if its beauty were not marred by numberless vacant lots. Almost every vacant lot and block in town is covered with a dense growth of unsightly weeds. There ought to be some way to induce owners of vacant lots to keep them cleaned up.

Generally accepted as the largest ranch in Texas, the historic King Ranch includes more than 1,000,000 acres which lie in eight counties—Nueces, Kleberg, Jim Wells, Brooks, Kenedy, Hidalgo, Willacy and Cameron.

More than 50 per cent of the United States' oil is produced by Texas and surrounding states, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and New Mexico. Texas alone produces 36 per cent of the nation's oil.

Salt deposits are widely distributed in Texas but occur chiefly in the salt stocks or domes of the coast region.

Buy A Victory Bond . . . And Slap A Jap!

ODDS and ENDS

by Eec Eye, the Elder

Everybody in Washington seems to feel that it is necessary to impress the American people constantly with the fact that we have a war on.

Even that grand old man Bernard Baruch, who with two other distinguished gentlemen was appointed by President Roosevelt, to make a study of the oil and rubber situation, stated in his report to the President that the American people must be made to feel the discomforts of war, and that was one of the motives apparently that inspired the committee recommendation that rationing of oil and limitation of driving throughout the country be inaugurated at the earliest possible moment.

When Lyndon Johnson was released from the Navy and came back home to take his place again in the Congress of the United States, he expressed his amazement that the people seemed so little concerned about the war; and when Con. Eugene Worley of the Panhandle district, who also had enlisted in the Navy soon after the attack on Pearl Harbor, came back home two or three weeks ago, he voiced a similar criticism.

Well, we are wondering just what Johnson and Worley expected to find back home. Did they expect to find that the people had become frantic and were building bomb-shelters under which to hide in case of an attack? Did they expect to find that business men had become so alarmed that they had closed up their places of business and were gathering on street corners excitedly discussing the war? Did they expect to find that farmers had quit their crops and taken to the storm cellars, or that the kids were hiding under beds for fear that the Japs would get them?

What was it that they found that was so disappointing to them? Surely they could not expect the people to remain keyed up to a high tension of excitement all the time. They could not expect the people at home to be as profoundly impressed with the havoc and horror of war as they had been, for they had been out somewhere in the Pacific, presumably where shells had been bursting about them and where gruesome evidence of the tragedy of war was everywhere apparent.

But if they had made just a little investigation, they could have found out readily that most of the people are profoundly impressed with the importance of winning this war. They would have found that most of the people had been doing willingly and eagerly everything that the Government had called upon them to do. They would have found that the people as a rule are only awaiting suggestions from Washington as to what to do next in order to help the most in winning the war.

And Mr. Baruch himself, having been in this country all the time, also should have known all these things. We guess Mr. Baruch has not been out among the masses in the agricultural sections of this country very much since this war began, and hence he imagines that the masses out here must be made to feel the pinch of war before they can get into it whole-heartedly. And so he wants to ration oil out here where oil spouts from the ground, or is pumped from the ground in vast quantities, in numberless oil fields, in order to make the people conscious that we have a war on our hands.

And so, President Roosevelt has announced that gasoline rationing throughout the country is coming soon, and Leon Henderson has appealed to the people to voluntarily cut to the bone the amount of gasoline they use while the rationing program is getting under way.

We are going to try to do our part. We hope all the people will do the same. We should show the "higher-ups" that we are willing to co-operate; and more important than that, we must win this war.

In fact, as Governor Coke Stevenson has pointed out, the people of Texas have already been cooperating in a fine way. Any one who has had occasion to watch traffic on the highways the past few months must have become impressed with the fact that there has been a marked decrease in the amount of pleasure driving and a similar decrease in the amount of speeding. Most drivers have been driving at moderate speed. Most of the reckless driving has been cut out.

And yet there are some who refuse to cut out the speeding just as there are some who refuse to buy war bonds.

And that leads us to say this: When a person who is well able financially to purchase war bonds declines or neglects to do so, that is about the best evidence obtainable that he is not very loyal to his country. It may be because he is merely selfish and stingy or it may be because his affections and his sympathies are with our enemies in this terrible war.

It seems incredible that any one, who has lived long years in this country, who has enjoyed the rights and the freedom which it has vouchsafed to him, and who has accumulated his property under and by virtue of its laws, could still find it in his heart to defend such a system of government as Hitler and his confederates have inaugurated in Germany, sympathize with the foul purposes of Hitler to subjugate other nations, destroy their liberties, violate their rights, and commit the most cruel and brutal acts imaginable in carrying out his designs. But, we have been compelled to believe that there are some such in this country yet.

We can understand how one may have family ties in the old country that are hard to sever, but we can not understand how any one who is a real American can subscribe to the doctrines of Hitler, sympathize with his purposes, or condone his cruel, brutal, war of conquest, subjugation, and extermination. In fact, it can't be so. If there yet remains any Hitler sympathizer in this country, he should hasten back to Germany where he belongs. He certainly doesn't belong in this country.

This isn't narrowness; it isn't intolerance; it isn't race prejudice. It is just pure-dee Americanism and common sense.

South Plains Glider School "Largest"

Official announcement that the new South Plains Army Flying School, at Lubbock, will be "one of the largest, if not the largest" of the nation's advanced glider schools has been made by the War Department, with appointment of Col. Norman B. Olsen as permanent commander of the post.

Original plans for the school, now nearing completion, were to provide advanced twin-engine flight training, although an advanced glider school, originally planned to be temporary, has been operated at the field during the construction period. Col. Olsen has been acting commander of the temporary school. Lt. Col. Thomas Wildes, director of training at the glider school, will continue in that capacity at the new base.

The new order from the War Department was interpreted as meaning that plans for the twin-engine school have been abandoned, and that the facilities will be devoted exclusively to glider pilot training for the duration.

New equipment will include huge 15-passenger troop-carrying gliders, and the pilots will receive their final technical instruction in warfare operation of the ships.

Relatively new, the glider is already as much a part of American war plans as the flying fortress, and factories are heavily engaged in mass production of large transport and cargo gliders. At preliminary schools in Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and South Dakota thousands of men are receiving training in power-off "dead stick" landings that will prepare them for piloting of the big ships. At advanced schools, such as South Plains, full-fledged pilots will receive specialized training, including the art of bringing their ships down on any available patch of ground.

Advantages of transporting airborne troops by glider are many. One power airplane can tow several gliders, each carrying as many as 15 fully-equipped fighting men. By cutting the gliders loose thousands of feet up and miles from the enemy objective, they can glide noiselessly in to strike their blows without warning.

Huge gliders can be constructed in a fraction of the time required to build a power airplane of corresponding size, with use of almost no strategic materials, and at about one-fifth of the cost. Troop-carrying gliders now being built for the Army Air Forces are equipped with flying instruments and two-way radio, and in some of the largest ships provisions have been made for the loading and carrying of mechanized equipment.

Prepare Now for V-I-C-T-O-R-Y AFTER VICTORY

The prospect of changing from war work, after World War I, to peacetime production, plunged us into a long and grim depression.

Rural America felt this depression five years ahead of industry and business. We tried to warn labor and capital but they would not believe the warning and insisted the rainbow and the pot of gold at the end would last forever.

Finally, the bubble broke and the storm came. We had 12 million unemployed, the domestic market for farm production was gone, and even the smaller export market survived only when we loaned Europe the money to buy our products. Farm income was reduced, mortgages increased and many farmers lost their farms while industry, big and little, was at its wits' end to survive.

To Prevent a Worse Depression. Our problem is to prevent even a worse depression at the end of this war. Every industry, big and little, has been retooled to produce airplanes, tanks, cannon and weapons of war. Millions and millions of dollars have been spent for this purpose.

When this war is ended it will take the same millions of dollars to turn these industries back to peacetime production.

Lessons of World War I. We learned after World War I that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture prospers. We know now that our country cannot prosper unless agriculture, business and industry, and labor are all prosperous. Whatever our personal feeling may be, the fact remains that all of these groups taken together make up our domestic market which consumes over 90 per cent of our total production.

Labor can purchase its maximum of farm products if each worker has a permanent job at good wages. The employer can pay good wages if he has something useful to manufacture and some one has the desire and the money to buy it. Jobs at good wages depend upon an employer who is making the money necessary to pay the wages.

Farm Prices Reflect Good Business. This makes it plain that with employers and business busy in useful undertakings, with all workers employed at good wages, farm prices will be good and consumption at its maximum.

The key to the situation is that employers shall have the cash money at hand to change from war manufacture to peacetime activity with the least possible delay when this war ends.

Our United States Senate is searching for a plan that will produce maximum revenue to the government to insure victory; provide a fund at the end of the war big enough and quickly enough to convert business and industry from war work to peacetime necessity, but without the government having to borrow and lend the money for this purpose after the war is over.

Here is a Simple, Practical Plan. For the solution of all these problems there is one simple plan of outstanding practical value, based on the idea that war profits from all companies, big and little, should be used for this purpose.

The tax rate on war profits is figured at about 90 per cent. Business and industry, big and little, would be permitted, however, to deduct from their taxable war profits 20 per cent of such profits, provided the deduction is used to purchase United States Recovery bonds.

Recovery bonds would be a special kind of bond for this purpose only. Recovery bonds could not be sold or borrowed upon during the war, and neither would they pay any interest. They must be held by the purchaser until the end of the war. The day the war is over these bonds would automatically start to bear interest, could be bought and sold, and become the same as any other government bond. The purchaser could sell them or borrow upon them to obtain the money to change his business and plant from war production to peacetime production when and as he needed money to do this job.

Profits for Peace-Time Recovery. In other words, business, big or little, would be required to contribute 20 per cent of its own war profits to provide the money to change its own plants back to peacetime production.

The fairness and equity of such a plan is perfectly plain. Each company, by using 20 per cent of its own war profits to buy Recovery bonds, builds its own backlog to bridge from war production to normal peacetime activities. Big companies and small companies will buy in proportion to their size and needs until the war is over. In the meantime, our government receives the maximum in revenue to produce for victory, and we, the people, have established security against the worst depression of all time.

With such a plan adopted and in operation, we can all give our maximum to the war effort, secure in the fact that when the war is over we can quickly and safely go back to the paths of peace. The necessity for such a plan is so apparent, the evils of depression so grim and widespread that we, the people, can well afford to take time out to support our senators and congressmen in this effort to bypass another depression.

Peanut Oil Becomes U. S. Weapon

Almost five million acres of peanuts—twice as many as were produced in any single year before! That's one of the contributions U. S. farmers are making this year toward keeping this Nation at its maximum hitting power. Most of these peanuts will go into oil—oil from which thousands of necessary items for both civilian and military purposes can be made. This chemist and hundreds of others are busy finding and improving these new and potent uses for peanut oil.

PLAGUE IN AMERICA

That scourge of the Middle Ages, plague or black death, is being carried eastward from our Pacific Coast by wild rodents. While few persons have been attacked thus far, the presence of the disease, which can easily be carried from animals to human beings by fleas, is a dangerous menace. Recent victims noted in Time Magazine include a California woman who buried a chipmunk, a Wyoming hunter who bagged a jack rabbit and an Idaho boy who stole a magpie's egg from a nest littered with half-eaten remains of a ground squirrel.

Many Californians have tried to hush all mention of the plague, but this would be a blind and perilous attitude toward a disease that, in 1947-49, killed off a fourth of Europe's population and in 1664 took the lives of 69,000 in London alone. Plague is not always deadly; but neither is it curable, though the prompt giving of serum helps some. This disease is a constant menace in India and China, where it takes thousands of lives every year.

With plague germs being spread by wild rodents, the main danger is that it may soon be transmitted to city rats and thus increase vastly the danger of serious epidemics. Aside from efforts being made by health services, householders and those who own or manage other property can help stem this menace by eradicating rats as thoroughly as possible. The one way a city can attain relative immunity from plague, typhus and other rat-borne diseases is to rid itself of these dangerous rodents. —The Dallas News.

COMPANY BUYS BONDS

Purchases of government bonds by life insurance companies so far this year have passed the two billion dollar mark, amounting to $2,023,000, according to information received recently from the Institute of Life Insurance by the local representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes.

The Southwestern Life Insurance Company is a member of the Institute of Life Insurance.

Life insurance holdings of government bonds now aggregate more than $8,500,000,000, a new record high, according to Mrs. Stokes.

The accelerated pace at which life insurance companies are buying federal obligations is indicated by the fact that purchases in the past four months totaled $1,449,000,000 compared with $574,000,000 in the first four months of the year.

Saving Vegetable Seed

Seed of many vegetables under farm conditions generally prove satisfactory for planting. Plants grown in soil of low fertility, or where disease lowers the vitality, cannot be depended upon as a reliable source of seed.

Seed of beans of all kinds, including bush and pole varieties, should mature thoroughly on the plant, then harvested and spread out to dry. Most varieties of butterbeans, pole and bush, must be harvested as the seed pod is beginning to turn brown to prevent splitting. Spread out to dry further before storing.

English peas: Pick when the pods turn brown and spread out to dry. Cucumbers: Select straight-sided green specimens and leave on vine until a rich, golden color. Remove seed, and spread out to dry.

Tomato: Remove seed from vine-ripened tomato into small wire strainer and wash out material holding seed. Seed also may be scraped on a newspaper and placed in the sun to dry.

Pepper: Cut off lower half of mature red pepper and scrape the seed from cavity in the upper half.

Okra: Seed may be left in the brown pod until ready for planting.

Egg plant: Seed from mature fruit should be washed thoroughly and spread in the sun to dry quickly. Otherwise seed will germinate if left overnight in damp pulp. Canteloupe and Watermelon: Wash seed thoroughly and spread out to dry.

How To Store The Seed:

Vegetable seed can be stored in envelopes, small paper sacks, or other containers of this type. They should be thoroughly dried before placing in containers. An air-tight container is ideal, stored in a cool place. The two important conditions affecting storage of seed are moisture and temperature. Generally, the higher the temperature and humidity, the shorter the time vegetable seeds can be kept. Under favorable conditions seed may be kept for two years without endangering germination. Under farm conditions, however, it is best to save a new supply of seed each year. It is also a good practice to make a germination test of held over seed, so that vitality and rate of planting may be determined.

Weevil Control:

Beans, peas and corn should be treated with carbon disulphide (high life) using 1 teaspoonful to a quart of seed. Fill quart jars or gallon syrup bucket with seed, and sprinkle carbon disulphide directly on top of the seed, since the fumes settle downward. Close tightly and leave for 36 hours. Then open and spread

EVER SEE A RATTLESNAKE SWALLOW HER YOUNG?

A lot of folks have heard that Mama Rattlesnakes open their mouths and receive their babies into their interior when molested. I grant that very few have seen such performance. Rattlesnakes are "born" and not "hatched" as are non-poisonous snakes. The latter hatch and begin life on their own but not so with rattlers. The mother remains on the job for a few days, until the little ones are dangerous enough to protect themselves.

Calvin Fritz, who was reared "in Nature's lap" just north of Gail Mountain in Borden County, once encountered a mother rattler who set up a racket, resulting in several little ones darting into her mouth. Astonished, he backed away and in a few moments saw them wriggling out again. Another attack upon the mother resulted in another disappearance of the babies into her interior—and incidentally, in Calvin's dash for home.

A few instances are recorded in which the mother snake was killed and dissected, after which the young showed fight. — Ben Moore.

RECITAL PRONOUNCED A SUCCESS

With a number of guests present, Jummie and Joan Conley gave their twilight piano recital in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Conley, at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening. Each rendered ten or twelve numbers to the delight of those present.

Following the program refreshments were served.

NO SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

Dr. Gray announces that owing to the fact that he is under appointment by the Presbytery to install new pastors at Clovis and Portales, New Mexico, next Sunday, he will not fill his regular appointment here Sunday.

The young man whom he expected to take his place here, was suddenly called into the active service of the Army.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Dr. O. P. Clark, superintendent of the Lubbock district, will preach at the evening service at 7:30 and convene the Fourth Quarterly Conference. Every report should be ready when called for at the conference. Trustees, stewards, church school superintendents, the W. S. C. S. and the Young People's division are to have reports ready.

A splendid program is being prepared and will be rendered in the auditorium of the church. Who doesn't like to see the boys and girls perform in the church school programs? You come and enjoy the occasion and, too, be an inspiration to the children.

The W. S. C. S. of several towns met in an all day meeting at the church Wednesday. Large delegations from O'Donnell, Lamesa, New Lynn and the local church attended the Zone No. 5 of the Lubbock district. A splendid program was rendered and fine reports from each society were given. Mrs. H. A. Nichols was elected zone leader for the new year.

League will meet at 6:45 Sunday evening and preaching services at 7:30 p. m.

Church Night will be the last Wednesday night in this month—Sept. 30th. Let every member and friend plan to be present. The last one was well attended and a good time was had by all—young, middle aged and all.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Winter flying jackets for both the Army and Navy Air Corps are regular equipment for our aviators. They cost from $12 to $13 and are made of horsehide leather lined with sheep shearing.

Purchase of one $18.75 War Bond, for which you receive $25 in 10 years, will pay for one of these jackets so necessary for our airmen flying at high altitudes and in northern climes. So you and your neighbors can do your bit by investing at least 10 percent of your salary every pay day in War Bonds to help pay the cost of this equipment for intrepid American flyers. Co-operation Vital Need On Farms

With American farmers being called on to produce more and more with less and less, the need for co-operation and sharing the use of certain kinds of farm machinery is due to result in the organization of many farmer co-operatives in Lynn County, in the opinion of Wymen J. Welch, Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

In wartime farm production, it's as unpatriotic to have idle machines as it is to have idle men, and Lynn County farmers are expected to do something about it. Mr. Welch believes.

The Farm Security Administration, he reports, is anxious to assist the farmers in this county in organizing co-operatives and will, in many cases, finance the group purchase for group use of scarce farm machinery and equipment.

Such groups are small and would consist, in most instances, of neighbors forming a co-operative arrangement between each other, the supervisor explained. The arrangements are simple, he said, and participation agreement forms may be obtained, with complete information, at the Farm Security office by anyone interested. The agreement may constitute the basis of understanding between all participants, covering rental and-or service charges, kinds of records to be kept, schedule of use, and so forth.

Mr. Welch recalled a recent address by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard in which he urged farmers to "Unite for Victory." "It is not a question of when we will win the war," said Mr. Wickard, "It is a question of if we win the war." Continuing, the Secretary said, "American farmers are working the longest hours of any group in the country and this year's production of crops and livestock shows where the farmers stand. Despite limitations of labor and machinery, farmers are smashing all records—not only for total production, but in the particular products that are needed most for winning the war."

The number of Angora goats and the mohair production in Texas in 1940 was the greatest in the history of the state.

A. J. Kaddatz received a letter Tuesday from his son, Staff Sgt. Raymond Kaddatz and was surprised to learn that Raymond was still at Indiantown Gap, Pennsylvania, as he had supposed the latter was already on his way overseas.

Skip Taylor was called to Lamesa Wednesday afternoon by the death of his aged father, who had been seriously sick for some time. No further details concerning his death were learned.

Wade Ray and family, who moved to Pletown, N. M., two or three years ago, were recent visitors here in the homes of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Stevens, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ray.

Mrs. L. F. Kelly, who has been visiting in Dallas for some time, came back home Sunday.

In 1940, Texas had 85 per cent of the Angora goats in the United States and produced 86 per cent of the nation's mohair.

Texas' first cattle and sheep were the flocks introduced by the Spanish founders of early missions.

The achievements that adorn human progress are not the rewards of those who did not plan.

Grassland News

(By Mrs. V. V. Laws)

(Delayed.)

Some of the farmers are taking advantage of the good condition of the ground to get their wheat pastures sown for winter grazing.

The R. B. McCord family enjoyed a family reunion Sunday in the home of Mrs. M. C. Thomas, with the parents and all the children present: H. B. and Rollin McCord and families of Tahoka, Mrs. Tom Mott of Roswell, N. M., Mrs. Carlos Edwards of California, Mrs. E. S. Evans of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Short and sons, who live here, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thomas, of Grassland. Some pictures were made of the group, which each one will treasure in days to come.

At a called meeting of the P. T. A. at 4 o'clock last Friday afternoon at the school house, it was decided to move and improve the lunch room, moving it into a larger room and making some needed changes. Rev. Frank Thomas is doing the carpenter work.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Nichols of the First Baptist Church of Allison visited with Rev. and Mrs. Frank Thomas Friday and Saturday.

Rev. Frank Thomas of the Central Baptist Church baptized nine Sunday afternoon. One came for baptism at the water. The services were conducted at the Leroy Davis tank.

The C. A. Walker family are now residing in Grassland. Mr. Walker is employed at the Thomas Bros. Gin.

Rev. Gibson is spending a few days this week visiting in Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKee are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Williams. Mr. McKee is leaving for Naval training soon. Mrs. McKee will remain here with her parents.

Ben Moore of O'Donnell had business in Tahoka Monday and he brought along a sample of the walnuts that were grown by Dr. J. F. Campbell this year on a tree in his back yard. These nuts are already matured and are dropping off the tree whereas the ordinary walnut does not fully mature until several weeks later. It is a very high quality of nut, Ben says, and Dr. Campbell's experience shows that it could be grown successfully all over this section.

Extension News

By MISS MAURINE McNATT, County Home Demonstration Agent, Extension Service A. & M. College

ARE YOU A GREASE WASTER?
Pouring dynamite down the drain? That is what you are doing every time you throw away drippings from your frying pan and broiler, clogging up the war and your brain at the same time.

Fats are essential for war material because we get glycerine from grease. Glycerine is needed to make explosives. The Navy needs it for floating ship compasses on anti-aircraft equipment, etc.

Glycerine is also used in many kinds of cosmetics, tobacco, anti-septic, shoe polish, anti-freeze, soap, paper, perfume, photographic films, and in numerous other common products.

Now that few fats and oils are imported it is up to the women of America to save them for home use and war purposes.

Fats may be used as fats or as fat and flavoring too. Drippings from roast and other cooked meats make flavorful fats for gravy, vegetables, and salad dressing. Try them in spoon cornbread.

Those used for baking purposes need to be clarified.

Bacon grease is often used for shallow frying, such as eggs, apples, liver, and other lean meats. Bacon, sausage and chicken fats may be used in cream sauces for vegetables and gravy.

Fats trimmed from raw meat are good material to use "as is" in various ways—directly for frying meats and in pastries. For instance, cut fat in little slivers and use it in meat pie crust.

Poultry fat is good for shortening in cake, biscuits, and other baking. Rendered suet and rendered fresh pork are also good in pastries and quick breads.

Making Fats Usable
To render any raw fat such as suet, and fats from poultry, lamb, and pork, heat it until it is liquid. Strain in covered container and cool.

To clarify used fats with objectionable color, taste, or odor, melt fat with at least equal volume of water; heat a short time at moderate temperature, stirring occasionally; let cool; remove fat; scrape off meat, etc., from under side.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Visit South Texas

Following the state Democratic convention in Austin early last week, which they attended, Judge and Mrs. J. W. Elliott visited in San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

The Judge reports that they witnessed a scene of devastation in South Texas wrought by the recent Gulf storm that surpassed anything of a like nature he had ever seen before. From San Antonio to Corpus Christi the country had been laid waste. Even great trees, oaks and mesquites, had been uprooted along the roadside in many places and all crops that remained unharvested had been destroyed. Most of the crops, however, had been gathered before the storm. In Nueces County, for example, 80,000 bales of cotton had been ginned and cotton men estimated that 26,000 bales had been destroyed by the storm.

They greatly enjoyed the state convention, though it was a very quiet and harmonious affair. Mrs. Elliott also attended the meeting of the State Executive Committee on Monday, which canvassed the election returns and attended to other business. She was one of the few members of that body who were re-elected for the ensuing two years.

Mrs. W. H. Foster of Vernon spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Ray and Mr. Ray. Mrs. Foster's son, Lester Foster, and daughter, Mrs. J. O. Goes, who accompanied her here, went to Roswell, N. M. for a visit, before the party left for Vernon Friday. Lester Foster was planning to enter his country's service soon.

Never let fats get hot enough to smoke, because it may be irritating, get rancid faster, and have a less desirable flavor for food.

Fats used for deep frying should be strained through a double cheese cloth after each use, and kept cool.

If you don't intend to use any salvaged grease for cooking, strain all kinds into a coffee can and store in a cool place to keep from becoming rancid. Rancidity in grease cuts down on the amount of glycerine to be extracted. Sell full cans to the grocery or the butcher. Don't save drippings in a glass jar or paper container.

Don't waste an ounce of fat. You and the boys at the front need it.

COLORED METHODISTS STAGE CHURCH BUILDING PROGRAM

The Colored Methodist Church of Tahoka is staging a unique program this week which has for its main purpose the raising of funds with which to enlarge their church building here.

Their slogan, according to Rev. T. A. Amos, the pastor, is "One Hundred Dollars," and their motto, "Over the top — Before we stop."

The first service was held on Tuesday night with Rev. O. D. Hollins, pastor of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, in charge, "Men's Night." Wednesday night was "Ladies' Night" Thursday night was "Young Men's and Young Women's Night," with the young people in charge, and "The White Pastor of the White Methodist Church" had been invited to preach.

Tonight (Friday) they are to have a "Get-Together Meeting" and "all the brethren and sisters," it is announced, "will join together in this service, to sing, pray, and shout, if you feel moved by the spirit to do so."

Saturday night—"A big fish fry for all."

Sunday—Preaching at 11:00 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.; special reports Sunday night.

The white folks are invited to all these services.

Mrs. Ben Floyd and two children left Friday for their home in El Segundo, California, after visiting three weeks with Mrs. Floyd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Hudspeth and Mr. Floyd's mother, Mrs. R. B. Floyd.

GRASSLAND H. D. CLUB HAS CLOTHING DEMONSTRATION

The Club met in the home of Mrs. Tom Brown, where members were advised by Miss Maurine McNatt that re-made wardrobes are quite easy with this season's fashions and also economical for war-time budgets.

It is smart to combine two old dresses in one or to fashion tailored collars for plain dresses from dainty linen handkerchiefs.

Members viewed clothing demonstrators' closets for ideas on correct storage space for clothing and also discussed her records on year's inventories, plans, and budgeted purchases for an entire family.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames Roy LeMond, Claude Thomas, A. A. Lawson, Lovic Shepherd, J. D. Smith, Tom Brown and Miss McNatt.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Fred Mathews, September 22, at 3 o'clock.

There are not nearly so many complaints about the weather as there would be if the government regulated it.

J. W. Fox and a friend, J. D. Davis, who had been visiting their old homes in Tennessee, stopped off here Saturday for a short visit with the former's daughter, Mrs. Paul J. Lawson and family. These men, who now live at Yuma, Arizona, are former residents of Parker County and enjoyed meeting friends from there now living in this county.

SCHOOL PROPERTY.

Does it pay to take care of school property and books? What is more disgusting to have than a book with names scribbled all over the pages? "Fool's names like fool's faces" always appear in public places, is certainly true if one looks at the books and desks of T. H. S. Book covers are provided to protect the books and on which to write names. Books, desks, and other school property are placed here for our convenience and use. Our parents pay school taxes in order that we may have these. We should use them as if they were our own property instead of saying "this desk or book is not mine so I guess I can mark on it if I want to."

Couldn't we students of T. H. S. take care of books, desks, and school property? Couldn't we return the books to the office in the same condition as when they were issued to us as well as endeavoring to keep our building in good condition? And we as good school citizens will feel it is up to us now!—Peggy Fenton.

School Library Rules Are Given

- What do you know about the rules for the Tahoka High Library? Does your memory need to be refreshed? The rules, which were the same last year, are as follows:
1. The library will be open from 9 until 4 o'clock each school day.
 2. No books, magazines, or newspapers may be taken from the library unless they are properly checked out.
 3. Period books are not to be taken from the library except by a written request from a teacher to the librarian.
 4. Seven day books may be checked out with the privilege of one renewal.
 5. Charge for damaged books will be determined by the librarian. Lost books must be paid for.
 6. Five cents a day will be charged on seven day books until the fine is 25c. Five cents a period will be charged on period books until the fine amounts to 25c. Report cards will be withheld until the fines are paid.
 7. Magazines and newspapers must be checked in and out each period.
 8. No more than two newspapers or magazines may be checked out in one period.
 9. Only teachers and assistant librarian may be in the library, unless by special permission.
- Students, let each of us do our best in following these rules; thus helping the librarian and ourselves!

Tahoka Bulldogs Lose To Class AA Lamesa In Season's Opening Game

The Tahoka high school Bulldogs were defeated in the first game of the season last Friday night, September 11, by the Lamesa high school Tornados at McCollum Field in Lamesa, with a score of 25-6.

Those starting the line-up for Tahoka are as follows: Leland Mitchell, re; Eual Akin, rt; Bill Barham, rg; Leonard Wardlow, lg; Bill Woods, lt; E. L. Short, le; Duane McClintock, fb; W. C. Harvick, bb; Robert Harvick, o; James Roberts, qb; and G. W. White, hb.

Lamesa scored in the first quarter by O. Roberts, but did not make the extra point, which made the score 6-0 in their favor.

In the second quarter, after a scrappy battle, Lamesa came through with another touchdown, but again they failed to make the conversion. This made the score 12-0 at the half.

During the half the Tahoka and Lamesa high school bands went on colorful display with marching routines. After the fanfares of the half, the teams came back on the field.

In the third quarter the Tornados, headed by Taylor and Roberts, made two more scores. They kicked the extra point for the first touchdown of this period, but failed on the second attempt.

The fourth period began in the usual way with fumbles, fouls, passes, penalizations, and which continued until the last four minutes of play when James Forrest Roberts went over for the initial Tahoka score.

This touchdown finished the game with a final tally of 25-6 in favor of Lamesa.

All of the Bulldogs played alive and active football. Those taking an important part at intervals in the game were: Derwood McClintock, Wayland Hughes, Bill Knight, W. T. Hines, Levon Caraway, Dan Curry, Bill Ward, Gene Knight, Noble Rumblo, Blair Ramsey and Ovid Luallin.

The next game will be at Big Spring, September 18.

Chaucer Is Subject Of Senior English

"When that Aprille with his shoures soote," Latin? Not exactly: The senior English students have been studying the works of Chaucer and the age of chivalry.

"Chaucer would rise from the grave if he could hear the way we read his 'Prologue,'" Miss Ineva Headrick explained as the students made an attempt to read a passage in "The Canterbury Tales."

Jacquess not well

Mr. J. W. Jacquess has not been well enough to work for the past week due to an infection of his arm. Several of the high school boys have volunteered their aid in keeping the building clean while he has been disabled.

Band Marches At Lamesa Game

On Friday night of last week when the whistle blew ending the half of the game between Lamesa and Tahoka, the Tahoka H band went on parade. It was led by the high-stepping drum major, Sina Barrington, and majorettes, Dorothy Carmack, Joyce Kenly, Pat Hill, and Virginia Roddy, in new uniforms. The group marched across the Lamesa field to form a letter "L" and gave fifteen cheers for Lamesa. From the "L" into a neat "T" took only a few minutes, from which was played "Alma Mater."

The new uniforms of the majorettes are white skirts lined with blue with blue tights, blue jackets, blue socks and white oxfords.

Miss King stated that the band as a whole did exceptionally well for the little experience it has had. Individual players are also showing great improvement.

This And That . . .

The Army Air Corps is well represented around school these days. Macky-Fenton and Marcellene Stephens have been seen wearing wings almost large enough to "take off," while Joyce Kinley wears an "unidentified" U. S. A. C. crash tag.

Chaucer evidently is taking his stand in the senior class while all the students are "sitting this one out." Everyone seems pretty excited over this "chow" stuff, but not excited enough to want to go to class.

Typing classes are coming in for their share of the limelight. Addie Pearl McKibben was worried when she got about a dozen keys headed for the same spot on the paper. Everyone has his troubles. Seems they need ten fingers for each hand instead of five.

The majorettes are stepping high this year in short white skirts lined with blue and blue tights. Later, they will wear football sweaters instead of band jackets for blouses.

Richard Hancock claims he can really beat the drum, but he has had no chance to show it publicly. At the game last Friday night, it was noticed he carried the bass horn.

The junior class stepped up a notch when Claude Petty registered here. He is from Post, and from past experiences, there seems to be something about these Post boys that gives Tahoka girls a whirl.

Rainbows on parade could very aptly be used in describing the coiffures both masculine and feminine for the past week. Not satisfied with being brownettes, blonds, etc. some of the giddy set has attempted to throw Nature in reverse by donning green, black, red and sickly yellow locks. (The effect gained by using dye and cake coloring.) The green hair nearly created a riot at the Lamesa game.—Billie Greer.

Bulldogs Playing Big Spring Friday

The Tahoka high Bulldogs will play Big Spring tonight in the second game of the season.

Those in the starting line up will be Leland Mitchell, re; Eual Akin, rt; Bill Barham, rg; Leonard Wardlow, lg; Bill Woods, lt; E. L. Short, le; Duane McClintock, fb; W. C. Harvick, bb; Robert Harvick, center; James Roberts, qb; and G. W. White, hb.

"The boys are getting the equipment cleaned up, and are making ready for the game," remarked Coach Hill, Monday, "and they intend to make a showing at Big Spring."

Mr. Hill expressed his appreciation to the patrons, the football boys, and the school students, for their earnest cooperation at the game in Lamesa last Friday night. According to their mentor, boys have been taking calisthenics and practicing plays every day and are really in shape.

Coach Hill has stated that the Big Spring school is in class AA, but, nevertheless, Tahoka has some good football material and has a good chance of winning.

The next game will be at Monahan, September 25.

Many H. S. Students Are Riding Bus

"On a Bus" is the theme song of approximately 230 students of Tahoka High.

From our information, these 230 students ride 10,350 miles per day and 1,718,100 miles per year, if figures do not lie.

The drivers who man the busses over rough roads through all kinds of weather, 'mid the jabbering and clattering of students going to and from school are: Mr. Hope Haynes, Mr. A. R. Bostick, Mr. Volney Hill, and Mr. Harold Snowden.

Mr. Haynes covers the Edith territory, Mr. Bostick, Midway and T-Bar, Mr. Hill, Grassland and New Lynn, and Mr. Snowden, Dixie.

Revivalist Gives Assembly Program

The first assembly program Wednesday of last week was dedicated to announcements and a short musical program presented by Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Casey of the Nazarene Church. Rev. Casey played various instruments, the trombone and musical saw, accompanied by his wife respectively at the piano and piano accordion.

Closing the program, Supt. W. T. Hanes addressed the group on the part of the school in our democratic nation.

New Teacher In Grade School

Miss Adelaide Young, former arithmetic teacher in the Tahoka Grade School, has resigned to take a position at Corpus Christi. Mrs. John A. Roberts was elected to take Miss Young's place at a meeting of the board of trustees Tuesday night. Mrs. Roberts lives at Southward and has taught in the Slaton schools for four years.

Classes in the grade school are now in full swing and students seem to be very enthusiastic with their school work. The first and second grades are being launched on the task of learning to write.

Home Ec. Classes Are Down To Work

The classes of Home Economics have settled down to work this week. Their course of study has been outlined and is as follows: Home Economics IA and IB, grooming; Home Economics II, planning the kitchen and meal service; and Home Economics III, home and community relationship. Everything seems to be running smoothly and the girls are making progress in learning to be better citizens in the home and community.

Reasons for Taking Civics Are Varied

Do you know why you take Civics? Not many students in Tahoka high really know the reason they take Civics.

On being interviewed several students said they took Civics in order to take the constitution.

One boy said: "I take Civics because it fits in my schedule." Three girls commented, "I take Civics to learn more about the government."

"I string along with Civics because I could not take anything else and I need the extra credit," was the remark of one boy.

A junior girl took the course because she thought it would be easier than history.

"Since I am going to be a lawyer, I think it would be wise for me to take Civics," was the reply one student gave.

"The real reason we take Civics is to become better citizens of our country," stated Mrs. John Kirkwood, our new Civics teacher.

Carl C. Adams of Tahoka has joined the Navy and was sent to Dallas Monday night. He had applied for rating as seaman, first class, in the construction regiment.

School Opening Exercises Held

Tahoka Public Schools began their formal opening with the patriotic singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" Tuesday morning. The opening, which had been scheduled two weeks ago, had been delayed until September 15 because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Superintendent W. T. Hanes extended a welcome to all the school patrons, guests, and members of the student body who were present, and the program was turned over to Principal Hope Haynes. After an introduction of the new teachers by Principal of the Grade school, A. L. Pace and Haynes, musical selections consisting of a piano duet by Jimmy and Joan Conley and a song, "This Is Worth Fighting For," sung by Peggy Fenton, LaVoyle Richardson, Joan Edwards, Roe Fern Pennington, Mary Beth Fenton, Dorothy Lee Carmack and Pat Hill, were presented.

Highlight of the program was the inspiring address by Hon. Tom Garrard. In his talk to the student body tribute was paid to those ex-students and graduates of Tahoka High school who are serving in the Armed Forces and who have already become heroes or have given their lives for the United States and the democratic way of living. Centering his talk on the values of an educated mind, he quoted Mirabeau Lamar in saying, "An educated mind is the guardian genius of democracy."

Further stressing the importance of education, Mr. Garrard pointed out the virtues of education: "For our own selves and the pleasure it gives us; to supply and fill the need for educated posts in the Armed Forces; and to be prepared to carry on where others without the same opportunities have fallen down or failed."

Classes were resumed at the latter part of the fourth period.

Dinner Date? Girls Tell How To Act!

How to act on a dinner date? This was the subject of the peppy little skit given by Rae Fern Pennington and Mary Ruth Edwards Friday morning in the unit club meeting of Home Economics class III. Other talks were given on the general subject of how to act on dates, including: How to act on a theater date, Marlene Stephens; Manners on a party date, Iva Jean Steele; The parlor date, "Ma Mae Schaffner; and How to act on a picnic date, Lois Parker. Clara Faye Nordyke presented a short talk on What to wear on dates. The refreshment committee, Rae Fern Pennington, Jimmie Lou Thomas, and Mary Ruth Edwards, served watermelon after the program.

The subject for the program of the Home Ec. Club II was Our part in National Defense. It was presented as follows: saving clothing, Betty Cowan; spending wisely, Dona Sue Milliken; saving by canning, Nora Jenkins; and, doing our part for Uncle Sam, Billie Greer. This refreshment committee also served watermelon.

The Home Economics classes 1A and 1B presented a program on manners. The refreshments, served after the program, consisted of punch and cookies.

The agriculture chapter will meet the last of this week to elect their officers for the year. The chapter officers will be selected from agriculture II.

Library Assistants Are Chosen

Sixteen girls have been chosen by Miss Ineva Headrick, librarian and English teacher, to be the assistant librarians for the next nine months.

The new librarians who began their duties September 4, 1942, are as follows: first period, Wanda Cruce and Rubie Greer; second period, Peggy Fenton and La Voyle Richardson; third period, Beesie Rainey and Joan Owens; fourth, Jean Slover and Jo Ann Edwards; fifth, Donna Sue Milliken and Alice Roberts; sixth, Mary Ruth Edwards and Jimmie Lou Thomas; seventh, Mary Beth Fenton and Dorothy Lee Carmack; and eighth period, Marlene Stephens and Billie Greer.

Each girl will have responsibilities which will keep her occupied during these periods all the year. She must help keep all books and magazines in order and properly checked in and out to the students, and all books which are in need of repair, are mended by these girls.

SUB-DEB NEWS

The meeting was called to order at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon at La Voyle Richardson's.

"Rust Week" was decided to begin Wednesday, September 30, with a Sub-Deb meeting at Dot Applewhite's. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

The club hopes to have approximately twenty-four members this year, which will double the present roll call.

U. S. Navy Issues Call For Men

Never in all history has the call for defenders of freedom been so urgent as at the present time. Brave men are needed—stout-hearted men—men who would rather fight to stay free than live to be slaves. If that's the way you feel about it, your place now is with the Navy, shoulder to shoulder with the red-blooded men of action who are determined to defeat the Axis, who are not only remembering Pearl Harbor but are doing something about it. The Navy wants men. Skilled men who know their jobs. Fighting men who want action. Take a step you will be proud of all your life—volunteer now for the U. S. Navy. Many men who have delayed too long in volunteering for the Navy now regret it. Remember, even though you have received your orders to report for induction under Selective Service, you may still volunteer for the Navy. You can do so right up to the actual moment of induction.

There are two branches of the Navy, the Regular Navy and the Naval Reserve. Enlistment in the Regular Navy is for six years. Enlistment in the Naval Reserve is for the duration of the war. You men of 17 to 31 who desire a career in the Navy—choose the Regular Navy. You men of 17 to 50 who want action, who want to do something about Pearl Harbor except remember it, serve your country in the Naval Reserve. Remember, if you are skilled in a particular trade the Navy will enlist you with a Petty Officer's rating. If you aren't, the Navy will give you the opportunity for learning a skilled trade. There are 49 skilled trades to choose from in the Navy. In addition to your base pay, you receive expert hospital and dental care, $133 worth of uniforms, transportation to the training station and room and board—the best there is—all at the expense of the U. S. Navy. ENLIST TODAY AND KEEP OUR NAVY GREAT!

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ledbetter of Donna are here visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Hays and her brothers, Bill and John Hays and Mr. Ledbetter's mother, Mrs. R. P. Ledbetter and family at Wells. Another son, Noel, of Loop, also visited with Mrs. Hays and family.
