Celebration Will Honor Tahoka Hero Of War

Climaxing Lynn county's effort to put the War Bond quota over the top, Tahoka will join in a National observance of the attack on Pearl Harbor on Monday, December 7th, and at the same time will pay tribute to Tahoka's No. 1 hero of the war, Keith Connolly, who is expected home from Australia within a short time.

The tribute is being paid Connolly as representative of the 700 or 800 Lynn county boys in the Service.

The move for celebrating the event was initiated by the Tahoka Rotary Club, and the Defense Guard, the American Legion, City officials, and other organizations have joined them in planning the event.

A parade representing "America on the March" will be held at 2:20 p. m., the hour of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Squadrons of planes will be sent from the Lubbock Army Flying School to salute Connolly, if at all possible, Col. Thomas L. Gilbert of the school has promised.

Immediately following, a program will be held in the school gymnasium honoring Sgt. Keith Connolly and all other boys in the service, at which parents of boys who were in the "Lost Battalion" from Lubbock, Slaton, and other South Plains towns will be guests of honor.

Connolly was a member of the now-famous "Lost Battalion", but escaped from Java to Australia, on a Flying Fortress. Most other members of the battalion have never been heard from. Connolly soon became a gunner on a Flying Fortress and his activities have been very costly to the Japanese.

The Tahoka boy has participated in many, many air raids, has shot down a number of Jap Zeros, sank a 10,000-ton Jap ship, damaged and possibly sunk several others, barely escaped with his life a number of times, and as a result was recently awarded the Silver Star for "gallantry in action," the first and only Lynn county boy to receive this high honor.

Now, the War Department is sending Keith home to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Connolly of Tahoka and other relatives. Just when he will arrive is not known, but he was known to have already gotten as far as Hawaii last week on his return trip.

An effort will be made at this celebration to reach Lynn county's 1942 War Bond quota of $574,800.00, the county now being about $125,000 from that goal.

Further details of the celebration will be made public in The News next week.

Officers Inspect Defense Guard

Almost all members of Company F, 39th Bn., Texas Defense Guard were present Monday night when Major O. H. Bryant, Adjutant General's Department, inspected the local unit. He was accompanied here by Capt. A. C. Jackson, Lubbock, 39th Bn., Headquarters Company.

Following the formal inspection, which lasted nearly an hour, Major Bryant spent another hour in giving instruction to the men. He complimented the company on its showing at inspection.

Refreshments were served them by the Lynn County News.

Change Made By FSA Supervisors

Miss Myriene Cannon, who has been looking after home management supervision under the F. S. A. program here since the resignation of Miss Allice M. Tipps in September, has returned to Brownfield, where she will continue supervisory work in Terry and Yoakum counties.

Miss Almarie Nunnally, supervisor at Big Springs, was transferred here on Monday of this week, and will have charge of the work in Lynn and Garza counties, working with Wyman J. (Jack) Welch.

Pioneer Tahoka Lady Is Buried

At about three o'clock last Thursday afternoon, Miss Meda Clayton, a pioneer resident of Tahoka, died of a malignant malady in the Lubbock General Hospital. She had been unwell since last March but became seriously sick only a week prior to her death. She was taken to the hospital on Saturday night and died the following Thursday.

Funeral services were conducted here Friday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. H. A. Nichols of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Geo. A. Dale, of the Baptist church. The body was laid to rest in the Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home, with five of her nephews and another relative by marriage acting as pall bearers. They were: Sumner Clayton Jr., Ted, Wayne, Jimmy, and Billy Mack (Cont'd. on last page)

A PROCLAMATION

Days of Prayer: Thanksgiving Day and New Year's Day

By the President of the United States of America

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." Across the uncertain ways of space and time our hearts echo those words, for the days are with us again when, at the gathering of the harvest, we solemnly express our dependence upon Almighty God.

The final months of this year, now almost spent, find our Republic and the nations joined with it waging a battle on many fronts for the preservation of liberty.

In giving thanks for the greatest harvest in the history of our nation, we who plant and reap can well resolve that in the year to come we will do all in our power to pass the milestone; for by our labors in the fields we can share some part of the sacrifice with our brothers and sons who wear the uniform of the United States.

It is fitting that we recall now the reverent words of George Washington:

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy holy protection," and that every American in his own way lift his voice to heaven.

I recommend that all of us bear in mind this great psalm:

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Inspired with faith and courage by these words, let us turn again to the work that confronts us in this time of national emergency; in the armed services and the merchant marine; in factories and offices; on farms and in the mines; on highways, railways, and airways; in other places of public service to the nation, and in our homes.

Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby invite the attention of the people to the joint resolution of Congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day; and I request that both Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26, 1942, and New Year's Day, Jan 1, 1943, be observed in prayer, publicly and privately.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this eleventh day of November in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-seventh.

(Signed) FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.
By the President: FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

CURTIS MORGAN COMPLETES WORK AT SHEPARD FIELD

Shepard Field, Nov. 23.—Pvt. Curtis E. Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morgan of Tahoka, has graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics and now is prepared to blast the Axis.

Shepard Field, near Wichita Falls, is one of the many schools in the Army Air Forces Technical training command which trains the specialist technicians who maintain our bombers and fighter planes in perfect combat condition. He now is eligible to become crew chief on a bomber and to win a rating as corporal or sergeant.

Before entering the school, he was trained at one of the basic training centers of the Air Forces Technical Training Command and learned to fight the Axis with other things besides the tools of his trade. Men trained by the command are versed in the art of protection and offense as well as repair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hamilton of Travis are here visiting their son, Ed Hamilton, and family. They also visited a daughter at Levelland.

Farmers Harvesting Large Grain Crop

800 Tons of Peas Marketed Here

The Burleson Grain company has purchased from farmers this season about 800 tons of black-eye peas, according to E. W. Shawn, the bookkeeper. This represents eighteen carloads besides several shipments by truck. Expressed in pounds, it is about 1,601,000 pounds.

400 Cars Of Grain Already Shipped By One Dealer

Lynn county's feed crop this year is something marvelous.

In fact, the feed crop throughout this entire South Plains section of the state is prodigious, but it is doubtful if any county has a crop that exceeds in production this county's crop.

Already more than four hundred cars of threshed grain have been shipped out of Tahoka. The Burleson Grain company alone has shipped by train and by truck almost four hundred carloads, 284 cars by rail, and an estimated 100 cars by truck.

F. A. Wyatt, who opened his grain business late, has shipped about forty carloads.

Dealers estimate that about two-thirds of the crop has been harvested.

In addition to the shipments from Tahoka, much grain has also been shipped from O'Donnell and Wilson.

Burleson Grain company, who are the heaviest shippers, report that in one day recently they shipped out 18 cars of maize and three cars of blackeye peas. This is believed to have been the largest shipment of maize ever made from a single shipping point anywhere on the Plains, to an elevator or wholesale dealer.

Most of the grain bought here is shipped to Lubbock, and from there it is distributed and shipped to many cities throughout the United States.

A carload of maize weighs approximately 100,000 pounds, or 50 tons. Four hundred carloads therefore would represent about 20,000 (Cont'd. on last page)

Two Young Ladies Join The WAAC's

Two more Tahoka young ladies have enlisted in the Women's Auxiliary Corps through the Lubbock recruiting and induction office. They are Misses Beulah O. and Cynthia L. Waldrip, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Waldrip of T-Bar.

Bill Thompson Has Fractured Shoulder

An x-ray examination recently disclosed the fact that W. M. (Bill) Thompson was suffering from a fracture of the shoulder "right through the joint," as Bill described it, the injury having been inflicted last summer when he was knocked down by a dog. The shoulder has been placed in a plaster cast with the hope that the bones will properly knit back to gether, though physicians hold out little hope that he will ever have much use of the right arm.

At the time the injury was sustained it was not thought to be serious, and an x-ray examination some time ago failed to disclose any fracture, but the injury failed to heal satisfactorily and a more recent examination showed the fracture distinctly.

MRS. JOLLY BREAKS WRIST

While attempting to get in a pick-up in the field, Mrs. J. L. Jolly fell and broke her left wrist last Friday. After treatment and a cast was applied at a local clinic, she is reported to be doing nicely at her home in Southeast Tahoka.

G. E. White Finds Money In Hogs

G. E. White told us a hog story Monday that will do to write home about.

In October, 1941, he had four sows that brought forth four litters of pigs just about the same time, 37 in all. In April of this year they farrowed four other litters, a total of 33 pigs that time, making a grand total of 70 pigs. He kept six of the seventy for his own use and fed out and sold the other 64, selling them as they were ready for market. They brought him a total of $1988.05. That is some money to come from four sows in a little more than one year.

He figures that the feed for those 64 hogs was worth about $9.20 per hog, and his clear profit on them therefore was around $1,400, not counting the cost of keeping the four mother sows. The cost of their upkeep in fact was compensated for by the six other hogs that he kept.

Since Mr. White's cotton crop was a failure in 1941 on account of so much rain, he says that those four sows saved his life. He really means that they helped to make his pocketbook fat.

ENTERS OFFICER TRAINING

Tech. Sgt. Randall Fults spent a few days here recently with his parents, while en route from Camp Maxey, Paris, to Camp Lee, Virginia, where he will enter an officers' training school. Randall is with the Quartermaster's Corps.

The South Plains, beyond and above all other sections of Texas, has reason to observe Thanksgiving Day this year. We have been blessed with crops bountiful beyond all reasonable expectations.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eec Eye, the Elder

Thanksgiving Day is distinctly an American institution. Throughout this country and among the men in uniform on the farthest fronts the day is being remembered if not formally observed.

Perhaps they are thinking how happy they were on last Thanksgiving Day. And many of them no doubt who are not accustomed to pray are breathing a prayer for the speedy success of our armed forces.

But there is no Thanksgiving day in the lands or the homes of any of our enemies. No Thanksgiving day is being observed in Germany this week. Could the Germans really observe it in spirit if they had such a day?

day of thanksgiving this week nor any other week.

There is and there can be no day of thanksgiving in Japan. They have no God. Just a sort of ancestor worship and hazy notions about spirits of some kind that influence life in some strange way.

Nor do they have any day of national Thanksgiving in Italy such as we have in this country. If they had, they would hardly be in a thankful attitude just at this time.

Yes, Thanksgiving is distinctly an American institution. It was started by the Puritans away back yonder in 1621, more than three centuries ago, after they had been in America only one year and when the time came for them to harvest their first crop.

Those old Puritans, who held the first Thanksgiving service in America, were a deeply religious people, though their ideas of Christianity appear to us of this day to have been very crude and erroneous.

What has become of the Puritans? Well, like most religious bigots, they long ago ceased to exist as a distinct religious sect or denomination.

New Wrinkles In Canning Chicken
All those "star boarders" farm families are culling out of their poultry flocks should be canned. Chicken on the poultry shelves will stretch the meat ration of red meat.

Two year old chickens are better for canning than the younger ones because long processing and high temperatures destroy much of the flavor and texture of young birds.

Now, here's a final tip on canning chicken. Don't waste chicken by trying to can it fried. You might turn out a good product but the chances are against you.

If you want more details on up-to-date poultry canning methods, ask at the agent's office.

Cranberries to Brighten Meals

What becomes of the miles you don't drive?

Today undriven miles are war weapons.

The rubber you don't use is airplane tires, antitank-gun treads, machine-gun mounts, life rafts, tank-interior pads, pontoons, and hot water bottles for field hospitals.

The gasoline you don't use is fuel for fighter and bomber planes, for jeeps and tanks, for motor torpedo boats and armored cars. And more, the magic of the new petroleum chemistry takes the material, which formerly became gasoline, and Aladdin-lamps it into precious synthetic rubber and devastating high explosive.

THE GROWL...

DRAMATICS
(By Winston Redwine)
Do you like to see plays? If you do, you would probably get even more enjoyment out of pretending to be Lynn Fontanne or Orson Welles.

A need for a dramatic club in Tahoka high school is becoming more and more evident day after day. Practically every high school in the country has a dramatic club and is getting enjoyment and education from the organization.

As a whole, the teachers in Tahoka high school favor the organization of a dramatic club very much, as well as its being desired by students.

Miss Headrick expresses her opinion on the organization of a dramatic club thus: "A dramatic club would be a splendid organization if members of the club would take a devout interest in it and attend all meetings."

Mrs. Charles Stewart, who has had much experience in dramatic clubs and dramas says: "A dramatic club would give the students in school who are dramatically inclined a chance to develop these talents."

Rae Fern Pennington, who has proved herself very capable in the field, expresses herself: "A club of this sort would be very good for the school as well as the town people. I have taken expression for several years and was also in the one act play, 'The Elopement,' which went to district meet last year. I have found that a study of dramatics helps to cut down self-consciousness and inferiority on the stage. It would also make students want to appear before the public."

Miss Lucille Wright, home economics instructor, says: "It should be very nice for the students; it would help them in public speaking and would also aid them in gaining self confidence."

Supt. W. T. Hanes expresses himself in this manner: "It is a worthy organization and Tahoka high school should have one. A club of this sort would not only play up the recreational angle but the economic developments as well. Those people who take the lead in their high school activities will in the days to come take the lead as citizens. It would also help develop character and self-esteem as well as helping overcome inferiority."

Roy Finch got the tip of one of his thumbs clipped off by a meat slicer at his store Monday. He thinks he will be careful not to slice any more thumbs.

Pvt. Frank Larkin of the U. S. Marines and wife arrived Monday for a few days visit with friends. Frank is stationed at the Naval Air Station at Alameda, Calif.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Gas masks which came into use in warfare for the first time when the Germans used poison and mustard gas in World War I, are much improved today over those used then. The Chemical Warfare Branch of the War Department issues these gas masks to every man in the service. We are taking no chances.

The type pictured here is the "can" and "elephant nose" mask and costs about $9.25 each. The headgear is transparent, made of material resembling cellophane and does not cloud with the breath. You can buy two of these gas masks with the purchase of an $18.75 War Bond. We need thousands of them. Don't fail to give at least ten percent of your income every pay day for War Bonds. Buy them at your bank or postoffice, regularly.

METHODISTS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Young, Mrs. W. T. Luttrell, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Sewell, all of Draw, were here early Tuesday morning on their way to Lubbock to attend a group of district meetings of the Methodist Church being held in that city on that day.

Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Nichols and Rev. and Mrs. Ben Hardy and possibly others represented the Tahoka church at the meetings, which consisted of a Missionary Institute, the Harvest Day meeting of the Women's Societies of Church Service, the District Stewards' meetings and the District set-up meeting for pastors and superintendents.

Rev. J. E. Young stated to the News that two returned missionaries from foreign fields were also to be present and appear on the program.

Charles Oliver and his sister, Mrs. John Brock, and her two children, left for San Diego Monday after a ten days visit here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Oliver. Charles is expected to be inducted into the service right soon. He has been employed at the Consolidated Aircraft plant.

In spite of the great size of Texas, and the sparse population in large areas, which make highway improvement expensive, Texas has one of the outstanding highway systems of the country.

We're Thankful To Be Americans!

THANKSGIVING
1621

Memories of Priscilla and John Alden? Of last year's big feast? Of the fun you had when the whole family gathered for Thanksgiving at Gran'ma's? Yes? Well, we have them, too. Only this year we have a special feeling about Thanksgiving along with all those memories. The trend of world events has made us stop and think—it has made us grateful that we're Americans, that we live DEMOCRATICALLY in the U. S. A. We'd like to dedicate our 1942 Thanksgiving this way: "Thanks, Uncle Sam. We're proud and full of gratitude to you for all you mean to us."

Tahoka Schools Have Fine Plant

(By Lois Parker)

Have you ever thought about the history of your school, its erection, and the improvements made since then?

Looking back over history, it may be found on August 1, 1927, the Tahoka high school building had its formal premiere.

Mr. J. W. Jaquess began his work as janitor along with the school opening and has been keeping the building and grounds clean since then.

During the building's life of 17 years, there have been many improvements added to this school plant and to the grounds surrounding it.

The campus has been enlarged and improved by the asphalt tennis courts, the brick school bus station, the sodded football field, lights and bleachers, shrubbery, grass, trees, and rose gardens.

The initial cost of the high school building was approximately $100,000, including all the new furniture and equipment needed to furnish it. Some of the fixtures added since the school was built are: Dining room furniture in the Home Economics department, an electric refrigerator, electric stoves, crystal, silverware, and china. The Aggie shop has frequently been replenished, and five new buses have been added for the transportation convenience of the pupils.

The grade school building was built in 1936, costing approximately $90,000. Improvements of grass, shrubbery, flowers, and playgrounds have been added to its grounds.

Paving has been laid on Fourth Street, leading to the two buildings. New courses which have been added to the curriculum since 1927 are: agriculture, typing, bookkeeping, economics, journalism, and Texas history.

Since 1927, when the building was erected, approximately 3,910 students have attended Tahoka high school, being taught by approximately 204 teachers.

Personality . . .

Could you guess who this attractive sophomore girl is?

She is 14, and is about five feet and one inch tall. She is a brunette and wears glasses over beautiful brown eyes.

This little lady stated that home economics is her favorite subject. In addition to this course, she takes English, algebra, and history. Her favorite sport is basketball.

As a hobby, she collects picture post cards. Incidentally, would anyone care to contribute to the collection?

Do you want to take another guess? Yes, the girl we have in mind is Billie Wayne Pennington.

EDITORIAL

(By Jimmie Lou Thomas)

With Indians as guests of honor, about tables loaded with game and fish, wild fruit from the forest, corn bread, and vegetables from their gardens, the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated their first American harvest festival in October, 1621, the first autumn of exile in their new home. The year following, the harvest festival was filled with misfortune and the colonists held no autumn feast.

Although we read of feasts, of fasts, and of "thanksgiving days" being observed during each year, it is not until ten years later (1636) that we find record of a celebration such as we now keep.

In 1864, President Lincoln issued a proclamation in which he "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday in November as a day of National thanksgiving "for the defense against unfriendly designs without and signal victories over the enemy who is of our own household."

This year more than ever we should be thankful for our democracy and willing Americans who are fighting to make possible the observance of this Thanksgiving day in the future as it has been observed in the past.

We have more to pray for this Thanksgiving than ever before. If we lose our freedom, it shall be impossible for us to observe Thanksgiving day which has been so long one of our traditions. In observing this day think of the things that we still have to be thankful for and give forth a prayer of gladness for them.

Students Have Hopes Of Better Reports

"The time has come the walrus said to think on many things"—namely, report cards.

For the second time this year, Tahoka high students received their little yellow notice to take home to Mom and Dad, hoping each grade was higher than last six weeks.

Signed report cards are required by the teacher for admittance to class the day after they are issued.

Current Events Add Interest To Courses

The students of the history and civics classes intend to keep up with world affairs. They have been giving current events this past week. Mrs. John Kirkwood, who teaches the class, gave this list of current events to them: "Story of Our Nation," "The Roosevelt Book," and "George Washington."

The students seem to take much interest in these events.

Sub-Deb Presentation Highlight Of Year

The social highlight of the year for the Sub-Deb club is to be the presentation of pledges Friday night, Nov. 27, in the high school auditorium at 8:00.

LaVoyle Richardson, president, will introduce the pledges, who will be dressed in white, pink and blue formal dresses.

The members and pledges and their dates are: Lavoyle Richardson, Kelly King; Peggy Fenton, Benoy Gattis; Mary Beth Fenton, Eibert Boulloum; Joan Owens, James Davis Walker; Pat Hill, Sonny Roberts; Dorothy Applegate, Leonard Wardlow; Alice Roberts, E. L. Short; Donna Sue Milliken, Bobby Ray Fuitts; Charlene Bucy, James Wells; Geraldine Connolly, W. T. Hines; Joyce Kenley, Billy Knight; Sina Barrington, Winston Redwine; Dorothy Lee Carmack, David Evans; Colene Carmack, H. B. McCord; Jeanette Smith, Bobby Ray Scott; Eaelia Dollins, Buster Driver; Jeanette Coughran, Hilary Mather; Jimmie Lou Thomas, Clyde Briley. Other Sub-Debs who will attend are: Joan Edwards and Geraldine Mather.

After the presentation service at the high school, the members will be escorted to Gaignat's "rumpus" room for the presentation dance. Pledges were taught the latest dance steps Tuesday night in the homes of Peggy and Mary Beth Fenton and Pat Hill.

A slumber party for the girls was given Wednesday night in the home of Alice Roberts.

Card Table Cover Materials Selected

Choice of materials for the Red Cross card table covers were made by the third year girls as they went from store to store on their field trip last week.

The girls learned the different grades of materials and the prices of each type.

"It was a serious proposition for the girls to have this field trip," stated Miss Lucille Wright, "because they needed the experience of learning to buy and know good materials."

Cooking Is Thrill To Homemakers

Cooking is the thrill of any homemaker, and it is her will to improve on her baking each day.

The second year girls have just finished studying and baking yeast breads for luncheons, dinners, and suppers. Now, the girls take up baking of cakes and pastries.

Miss Lucille Wright says to be a good cook one must have practice each day. "I am proud of my girls," said Miss Wright, "and I feel in the years to come they will all become model cooks."

Aggies Plan Program For School Assembly

The Aggie boys are keeping a big secret under cover regarding their assembly program which is to be given Wednesday, Dec. 2.

If you want to help them unravel the mystery, come to the Aggie assembly program.

The entertainment is made up of a skit acted with comical costumes which are being made by the home economics girls. The Aggie "sweetheart" is also chosen by the Agriculture boys and will be presented.

A field trip was made by the boys in agriculture to the farm of J. O. Tinsley, breeds of hogs being their study. Different parts of hogs as well as the butchering and dressing have been the topics of study this week.

Is Your Diet Correct? Consult The Girls!

How many calories do you consume a day?

If you are not sure you get as many as you should, ask some third year homemaking girl and she will gladly tell you where your diet troubles are. Members of the third year home making class have been studying nutrition the past week.

Nutrition is a food process of animals and plants and it promotes growth in the body. Reports were made in class by the girls on vitamins, minerals, proteins, and the effects of each on the body.

Since nutrition is so important, the girls are taking up this study in learning how to feed the family and to see that it is getting enough calories per person to support body growth and health.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Owens, Joan and Clyde visited Mr. Owens' cousin and family in Littlefield Sunday.

Grade School Whine

Grade school home roomers were all "hot and bothered" over the contest for football queen at the carnival Wednesday night.

Mrs. James Clinton reported that the following girls were selected to be candidates for the grade school football queen: Patsy Ann Smith, first grade; Elna Reba Dunagan, third grade; Peggy Pat Sherrod, fourth; Bennie Lou Pridmore, fifth; and Nan Beth Pennington, for the sixth.

The winner will be announced next Tuesday, Dec. 1.

Savannah Tunnell says debating is more fun than just plain history. The sixth grade has been debating the past week. Each day different pupils are chosen for the teams, and the remainder of the class acts as judges.

The first grade concession at the carnival is a hat checking booth.

The fourth grade boys say that spelling matches are more fun when taught by a high school student. Jean Slover was the substitute during gas registration last week.

The highest ambition of some of the high school girls is to be a school teacher. Dorothy Lee Carmack, Peggy Fenton, Joy Moore, Faye Shadden, Beth Sheppard, Rubie Greer, Jean Slover, and Joan Boydston got their chance to experiment at the "calling" of the profession last week during gas rationing. They seemed to think patience goes a long way in grade school discipline.

Some of the subjects they taught were: Language, arithmetic, art, spelling, history, and geography.

NEW STUDENT

"If it weren't for typing and basketball, I shouldn't like to go to school," says Ona Faye Meeks, a junior transfer from Abernathy, who enrolled in Tahoka Monday, November 23.

Ona Faye likes to skate but reading is her favorite pastime.

In describing her, one might say Ona Faye is about five feet four inches tall and has blue eyes.

Her schedule includes the following subjects: English, history, and typing. She has been taking bookkeeping, but due to the differences in schedule she can not continue the study.

The 700,000th volume to be added to the University of Texas Library was catalogued recently. The Library ranks 13th nationally and is first in the South.

Plan your Christmas shopping early this year. There are mighty good reasons why you should. Selections are at their best early in the holiday season. Feed Crop...

tons. This evidently represents only a comparatively small percent of the entire crop of Lynn county, for the feed acreage in the county is considerably more than 100,000 acres and dealers estimate that the average yield is close to a ton per acre. In fact, they say that much of it is yielding considerably more than a ton per acre. Considerably more than 100,000 tons have evidently been produced in the county. Since the crop is being sold at an average of about 80 cents per hundred, or $16.00 per ton, the immense value of the crop can be readily seen.

By far the greater part of this feed crop consists of Martin's Combine maize.

This particular strain of maize is a development of the past few years, and already it has almost completely revolutionized the sorghum grain production of West Texas, especially of the South Plains. In two or three years it has almost completely taken the place of other sorghum grains on the farms of this section.

This is true because of the fact that it is very drought-resistant and produces abundantly and is easy to harvest. Since the stalks are of nearly uniform height and the heads stand erect instead of drooping over like the old goose-neck variety, it can be harvested by a combine just like wheat. This makes it desirable above all other varieties of sorghum grains.

This variety of maize was developed by W. P. Martin, who resides just over the Lynn-Lubbock county line in Lubbock county and whose farm straddles the line.

It was in about 1936, after he had had two or three maize crop failures due to drought, when he took a stroll over his farm and at one point found a single maize head standing erect in a field of maize that had been blighted by the drought. He cut this head and planted the seeds the next spring separate from any other maize on his farm. The result was most gratifying, marvelous in fact. The next year he planted the seeds from that year's yield, and he has been selling planting seeds at fancy prices ever since. Now, he sells them to customers all over West Texas. The Martin maize has spread like wild fire, and most farmers in this section will have nothing else.

Pioneer Dies...

Clayton, and Marvin Wood.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Howard Henderson of Tahoka and Mrs. Maggie Hussey of Lubbock; one brother, Sumner Clayton of O'Donnell; the five nephews mentioned above; Mrs. Jessie Henderson Wood, of Tahoka, a niece, and Douglas Henderson of Los Angeles, California, a nephew.

Miss Meda had been a resident of Tahoka for thirty-six years and was well known to all the old-time citizens of the town and county as well as to many of the "new-comers." On account of the fact that the last runs on the News were being made when she died, news of her death did not reach the News office in time for a notice of it to appear in the News, and many people did not learn of her death in time to attend the funeral services.

Miss Meda, daughter of G. M. and Darthula Clayton, was born in Jasper, Tenn., in 1873. While yet a very small child she came with her parents from Tennessee to Hamilton county, Texas, where they resided a few years. Then the family moved to Bryson, Jack county, where she grew to womanhood. From Jack county they went to Wilbarger and then to Haskell county, residing only a few years in each place. They came from Haskell county to Tahoka in 1906, and she had made her home here ever since, her parents having died years ago.

For twenty years or more, Miss Meda was a public school teacher, having taught in Wilbarger and Haskell counties before removing to Tahoka. Then she taught several years in this county and in other counties on the Plains. West Point was one of the places where she taught in the early days of this county.

Miss Meda made a profession of faith and united with the Methodist Church when she was about sixteen years of age, and she was a very devout Christian during her entire church life. For many years she took a very active part in Church work and was deeply interested in the work and the progress of the church up to the very last day of her life.

Always very kind and considerate of others, she was never heard to speak an unkind word of any one. Quiet and unobtrusive, she has done many a kind deed that was unheralded to the world, and her entire life has been one of service and self-sacrifice.

The News joins many friends in condolences to the bereaved relatives.

Kaddatz's Two Sons On Distant Fronts

A. J. Kaddatz has two sons in the service of Uncle Sam on almost opposite sides of this northern hemisphere. One is in England, the other is somewhere in Alaska.

Mr. Kaddatz received a letter Monday from his oldest son, Raymond, written on November 1 "somewhere in England." Evidently he had not been there long, for he was still in Indiantown Gap in Pennsylvania up till about the middle of October. Raymond did not state how many days he had been in England but he stated that he "liked fine so far."

Mr. Kaddatz' second son, Walter K., wrote from Seattle, Washington, on November 4 that he was on his way to Alaska. It is not known for what point in Alaska he was bound. It might have been any Army camp or flying field from Juneau in southeastern Alaska to the farthest one out on the western reaches of the Aleutians. For several months Walter K. was at Duncan Field, San Antonio, and then he went or was sent to the state of Washington.

At any rate one of Mr. Kaddatz' sons is after Hitler's hide and the other wants the scalp of that slant-eyed Admiral Tojo.
