Lynn County Wins Scrap Drive Award

W. M. Lee Is Dead; Wrecks Take Three

Two Killed In Wayside Wreck

Two men were instantly killed shortly after 1:00 o'clock Thursday morning when the car which they were driving collided with a truck belonging to C. O. Carmack of Tahoka and driven by James Carlisle, just this side of Wayside filling station 12 miles north of Tahoka.

The two men, A. L. Barrett and N. C. Hewitt of Navasota were terribly mangled, their car probably a 1940 Ford, was converted into junk, and the truck which it hit was practically ruined.

Carlisle was coming south on the highway in his truck and the car with the two men was going north. Carlisle says that as the car approached, he saw that apparently it was about to crash into his truck and he suddenly cut his cab to the right in an effort to avoid a collision, but almost at that instant the car struck the side of the trailer. The physical facts corroborated this statement. The car tracks showed that it had crossed over the black marker in the middle of the pavement and upon striking the body of the truck was turned back to the right side of the road, turned over possibly two or three times, and stopped possibly sixty feet from the point of collision.

Hewitt's head was severed from the body and ground up into many pieces. His heart and one of the lungs was torn from the body according to report made by Sheriff B. L. Parker. Barrett's body was not so badly mangled. Officers and others acquit Carlisle, the truck driver, of all blame.

Barrett, it is understood, was a dirt contractor and had a contract at Clovis. Hewitt was a helper. The two men were residents of Navasota, but Barrett's former home was at Paris. An ambulance was to come up Thursday night, according to W. M. Harris of the Harris Funeral Home, who was handling the bodies, to take Barrett's body to Paris for burial. The other body was to be shipped to Navasota today.

Cotton Ginnings Near 85,000 Bales

From 82,000 to 84,000 bales of cotton have been ginned in Lynn county from this year's crop, according to estimates made by The News based on the number of bales ginned in Tahoka and published Government reports as to ginnings in the entire county prior to December 1.

In Tahoka, 17,413 bales had been ginned up to 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. We have found that as a rule the number of bales ginned here multiplied by 4% will give the approximate number ginned in the county. And that is the way that we arrive at our estimate for the county.

So far, Lynn county seems to be leading all the counties on the Plains this year. Lubbock usually leads Lynn county by a few thousand bales on account of its larger acreage, but the last Government report of ginnings gave Lynn county a lead of more than 6,000 bales over Lubbock. Published reports show that prior to December 1, a total of 73,879 bales had been ginned in Lynn county while only 67,509 bales had been ginned in Lubbock county, although the acreage in Lubbock county exceeds that in Lynn county by about 30,000 acres.

It still seems probable that Lynn county's crops, when all is gathered, will hit very close to 100,000 bales, certainly as close as 95,000.

City Marshal Dies Thursday

William Mac Lee, city marshal of Tahoka and one of the most beloved citizens of the town, fell to the floor and died instantly at about 2:20 o'clock Thursday afternoon just after he had entered the door of the Keltner Hotel, where it was presumed he expected to sit down and rest. Death, it is believed, was due to a heart attack.

Frank Willingham Is Wreck Victim

Frank Willingham, 35, and his partner in business at Brownfield, were killed instantly at 11 o'clock Wednesday night when the pickup they were driving collided with a truck near Big Spring. The News is informed by T. D. Lishman.

Few details of the accident were known here, except that Mr. Willingham and his partner, who operate a Brownfield filling station, had gone to Big Spring on business.

Frank Willingham formerly lived here and attended Tahoka High, where he was a football player. He is survived by the wife, formerly Oma Moffett, and four children, Gene, Garth, Garrett, and Leta Lois. Mrs. Lishman is a sister to Mrs. Willingham.

The News was unable to learn the name of Mr. Willingham's partner or of the other parties in the crash.

T. W. Montgomery Joins The Seabees

T. W. Montgomery, long-time teacher in Lynn county and at one time a candidate for the legislature, left Tuesday for Dallas, from which city he expected to be sent to a training camp.

Having enlisted with the "Seabees" some time ago, he resigned his position as teacher in the Union school just over the county line when the school dismissed recently for cotton picking.

Montgomery has long been active in politics, not as a candidate himself but in support of others.

MRS. BURTON EDWARDS ILL

The condition of Mrs. Burton Edwards, who was taken to a hospital in Lubbock one day last week in a very critical condition suffering from heart trouble, was reported Wednesday to be satisfactory, though her condition was still serious. She suffered the first severe attacks on Sunday of last week.

Lieut. Rose Smothers (above) and Lieut. Virginia Williams, WAAC's recruiters stationed at Lubbock, are seeking to enlist a South Plains platoon in the Women's Army. Lieut. Smothers recently completed the enlistment of a complete platoon from the Amarillo section, and all the women were inducted the same day.

Farmers Favor Cotton Quotas

Lynn county cotton farmers voted in favor of cotton marketing quotas by an 87.8% majority last Saturday. There was a total of 817 votes cast in Lynn county. Of these 817 votes, 717 favored marketing quotas, and 100 voted against the marketing quotas.

The entire cotton area of the United States endorsed the quota system by a substantial majority.

With quotas in effect for 1943, producers will be guaranteed a price supporting loan on cotton for the year. This loan will amount to 90% of parity on cotton.

Turner Resigns To Enter Army

Donald Turner, county agent of Lynn county the past three years, left Monday for Dallas, where he had been ordered to report by the U. S. Army for induction and assignment to duty as a second lieutenant. He received his commission Saturday.

Turner has been serving as captain of Company F, 39th Battalion, of the Texas Defense Guard. The local military unit was organized last January and recognized about three months ago.

Turner was praised by local farmers for his efficient handling of the farm work. He has, in addition to other duties, sponsored a baby beef and sheep show here two years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Turner have made many friends here who hope that they may return to Tahoka as soon as the war is over.

Another Teacher Goes To Marines

The war is causing changes every few weeks in the Tahoka school faculty.

J. O. Reed, acting principal of the grade school for just a month, Tuesday received his call to report to Paris Island, So. Carolina, for officer training in the Marine School. Reed has been filling the place left vacant by A. L. Pace's resignation to become superintendent at New Home. Reed, a former member of the famous Tall Texans of basketball fame at West Texas State, was coaching basketball here.

EANISTERS BUY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Banister, who have resided for a number of years a few miles east of Tahoka, have purchased the Marvin Wood place, formerly known as the H. P. Caviness place, in Tahoka and expect to move into it soon.

BUY WAR BONDS & STAMPS.

Senator Tom Connolly of Texas recently led the fight against the proposal made by certain Senators to abolish by Federal Statute the payment of a poll tax in eight Southern states as a qualification for voting, thus invading, without Constitutional authority, the rights of the States.

Victory Pennant Is Presented For Salvage Effort

A Victory Salvage Pennant floats in the breeze this week from its staff erected on the north lawn of the courthouse. The pennant was awarded to Lynn county by the War Production Board for the outstanding work the Salvage Committee and citizens of Lynn county have done in collecting scrap iron, rubber, aluminum, and other war material.

The pennant was received Monday by J. K. Applewhite, chairman of the Lynn County Salvage Board consisting of about twenty members, and was erected on the lawn under the direction of County Judge Chester Connolly.

According to close estimates, Lynn county had collected approximately 1,200,000 pounds of scrap up until November 1.

The letter received by Mr. Applewhite from the Texas Salvage chairman and secretaries speaks for itself. The letter follows:

"It is with the greatest of pleasure that we inform you of the fact that the Victory Salvage Pennant has been awarded your county by the War Production Board. This pennant is going forward to you under separate cover.

"Representing, as it does, outstanding accomplishment in salvaging materials vitally needed by our fighting forces, this pennant is indeed a tribute to the patriotism and grit of the good people of your county, and to the leadership of you and your fellow workers.

"While an outstanding job has been done, we cannot afford to rest upon our laurels. Instead, we must be ever on the alert for ways and means of doing even bigger things in the future. As this Victory Salvage Pennant flies from your Court House flagstaff, may it be a constant inspiration for your people to gather every piece of salvage material that can possibly be used in the manufacture of weapons to the end that human liberty may never perish from the earth.

"Yours sincerely,
E. E. Kirkpatrick, chairman;
George B. Butler, executive secretary;
Lewis C. Huff, associate executive secretary; Region 8, War Production Board, Dallas, Texas."

Edwards Captain Of Defense Guard

E. R. (Roy) Edwards was sworn in as captain of the local company of the Texas Defense Guard Sunday by representatives of the Adjutant General's Department, Edwards, who was first lieutenant of the company, succeeds Don Turner, who resigned to accept a commission in the U. S. Army.

Second Lieutenant H. O. Hargett was advanced to first lieutenant, and Sergeant H. L. Roddy to second lieutenant.

Monday night's meeting of Company F was attended by Major C. A. Hubbard, commanding officer of the 19th Battalion, and Lieut. Powell of Headquarters Company, both of Lubbock, who spoke to the men. Talks on respect for the flag, military courtesy and military discipline were also made by several members of the Tahoka company.

Major Hubbard announced that there would be no more drill periods until the first Monday night in January.

Members of Company F expect to start the new year off with a number of new recruits. Much enthusiasm was expressed over the program of training for the next few months.

Mrs. A. H. McGonagill has returned to Tahoka. She has been at Rusk the past several months serving as a nurse in the state hospital there.

Tahoka Honors Connolly, Home From Australia

Tribute was paid Lynn county's boys and girls in the Armed Forces and Sgt. Keith Connolly, the county's No. 1 hero of the current war to date, was paid special honor by all Tahoka and many visitors in a program at the school gymnasium Tuesday afternoon.

The event, sponsored by Tahoka Rotary Club, was originally scheduled for Monday of the week before, Pearl Harbor Day, but due to the snowstorm and to the fact that Keith was delayed in arriving home.

First Lieut. Joy Edwin Brown was likewise a guest.

Lynn county producers have received an additional assignment of 411 conservation checks in the amount of $94,547.35, according to J. C. Smith county administration officer for Lynn county.

This makes a total of $110,164.58 received to date, 470 checks in all.

Work of surveying and contouring land will be started soon by the Soil Conservation Service, H. C. Mather of the Lynn county soil district, informs The News. Application from more than 60 farmers for the work have already been received.

Mr. Mather states that he is badly in need of six or eight men, preferably farmers, who have had experience surveying or building terraces. He says they will be needed until planting time and will be paid at the rate of $5.00 per day, transportation furnished from town to the job.

Soil Conservation Service offices were established here several weeks ago on the second floor of the Thomas building.

Brown is stationed at Camp Carson, Colorado Springs.

W. L. Banks And Five Sons Will Soon Be In The Service

The News has received a letter from W. L. Banks, now a cook in the Coast Guard at the Gulf Stream Base, Delray Beach, Florida, which will be of interest to many friends here. For years he has resided in the Edith community and for a number of years before the outbreak of the war he was a member of the Texas National Guard and attended camp for a few weeks each summer. His letter in part follows.

"I am cooking in the Coast Guard Base. I like fine. We are training lots of men and young boys. It sure was hard on me at first. It seems like sometimes I couldn't take it. I made the test and can say that I am one of them.

"I was transferred from Miami, Florida, to Delray Beach, Fla., and I like it fine. We had a big Thanksgiving dinner. It sure was nice. We had 650 pounds of turkey, four barrels of fried chicken, 38 hams. So you see we have plenty to eat. Two of my boys ate supper with me. Earl Banks and R. L. Banks. They live on the beach. They will soon be in the Coast Guard.

"Cecil Banks is in the service. He is stationed at Miami Beach, and is cooking. My oldest son, Clyde W. Banks, has signed up. He will leave soon. That will make five sons and the father in service for Uncle Sam."

In a foot note, Mr. Banks states that he was married to Mrs. Georgia Garner Webster at Dade City, Florida, on Saturday night at eight o'clock, November 21, which will be news to many of his friends in Lynn county.

BILLY HILL NOW PETTY OFFICER IN NAVY

Billy Hill, son of the editor and brother of Frank Hill, associate editor, who was formerly Linotype operator in The News office, recently returned from his second trip out in the Pacific. He is again out on the Pacific, and the word that comes to Tahoka is that he may not be expected home for at least eight or ten months.

Billy is a third class petty officer, being a gunner's mate, in the Navy. The folks at home are expecting that he may see plenty of action from here on out.

Southland News

(By Mrs. Marvin Truelock)

Rev. E. Herder, assisted by the Rev. Sager of Posey, officiated at the funeral of E. C. Wilke last Thursday afternoon at the Lutheran church at Wilson. The pall bearers were his nephews, Edmund Wilke of Southland, Raymond and Willie Wilke of Posey, Monroe and Buddy Brieger of Wilson. The flower girls were his nieces.

Mr. Wilke's only son is stationed in Panama. The funeral was postponed one day, because of hopes of hearing from either of the telegrams sent him, but he was probably away on maneuvers.

Local people attending the funeral were the A. Wilke family, and Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Voight, Albert Krause, Ben, Willie, and August Becker, and Jake, Walter, and Edmund Stolle.

According to Miss Morine Trigg, $5.17 was collected here in the Grade School for Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Ted King was honor guest Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Basinger. Pie and coffee were served to Mesdames King, Gloss Davies, Nellie Anderson, McGee Moore, Rogene Johnson of Lubbock, Alice Neill of Slaton, Doll Haire, Ruby Ellis, Dauline Dunn, and most of their husbands. Mrs. King had already sold her furniture and left for Midland Friday.

Southland has never had a drive on the sale of War Bonds, like most larger towns. But more than $700.00 worth were sold here last week. Several parents with boys in Service, waded the snow to town Monday to get a bond on the Seventh.

Sgt. Jim Krause of Camp Berkeley, Abilene, arrived Monday to visit several days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krause and the Ed Beckers. Jim's parents now live in Belton.

Mary Frances King had a birthday party last Monday, even though the snow was deep. The guests of this nine-year-old were Melvin Basinger, Kay and Gene Anderson, Connie and Tim Field, and Glynda and Calvin Grantham. Cookies and cocoa were served.

Pfc. H. C. White surprised his parents Monday with an overnight visit. He was en route to San Diego from Lakehurst, New Jersey, where he finished his parachute course.

MISS CHARLENE LATHAM MARRIES ARMY MAN

Miss Charlene Latham, daughter of Mrs. Alce (Charlie) Latham of Tahoka, was married on Wednesday of last week to Loyd Lee Owens formerly of O'Donnell but now in training at the Lubbock Flying Field, at the home of Rev. E. C. McDonald, pastor of the O'Donnell Baptist Church, with that minister reading the ceremony.

At the same time Miss Mary Lou Gant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Gant of O'Donnell, was married to Roy Eason of the Lubbock Flying Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens and Mr. Owens mother have apartments in Lubbock, where they will reside until he is transferred to some other field or camp.

Mrs. Eason is residing with her parents in O'Donnell temporarily.

Control of public education in Texas is vested in local administration units, consisting of approximately 998 independent and 5,581 common school districts.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Draper, whose daughter was born Sunday night at Slaton.

St. Sgt. Charles Sokoll's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sokoll Sr., received a letter Friday that he had arrived safely in port and liked the place but didn't tell on which continent he was.

R. E. Hendrix was back to see about his place Saturday. They now live in Lubbock and their daughter, Mrs. Sid Collett and family, have also moved from Denver City to Hobbs, New Mexico.

Tuesday evening the members of the Masonic Lodge and O. E. S. came to the home of Mrs. Ted King dressed as characters from the comic sheets. Beans, barbecue, pickles, olives, potato salad, pie and coffee were served to Misses Frances Coffey, Morine Trigg, Mrs. Annie Landers, Messrs. and Mesdames J. H. Robbins, McGee Moore, Hub Haire, Lonnie Collingsworth, R. E. King, and Kenneth Davies.

Drue Ann Harlan has had a severe case of chicken pox. Others enjoying lighter cases were: Melvin and Donald Basinger, Kermit Jackson and his younger brother and sister, Ira Cleveland Knapp, Carolyn Edwards, and Glynda and Calvin Grantham.

FRANK FLETCHER WORKING IN RUBBER PLANT

The News has received the following communication from Frank Fletcher, former editor of the Wilson Sun. His many friends at Wilson and Tahoka and other parts of Lynn county will be much interested in some of the things he says, and we are sure that some of them will write him. He is now employed at Borger, Texas, and he gets his mail at 621 N. Main.

"Dear Editor: Well, I'm at it again, I'm helping build a synthetic rubber plant here—and they still don't know I'm not a carpenter.

"We tried to work around the clock Wednesday, starting at 8:30 a. m. and I quit at 5:00 a. m. Thursday, but the other boys weren't softies like me and stayed the full 24 hours.

"Borger is very considerate of the working boys. The bank is staying open until 8:00 p. m. Fridays and until 7:00 p. m. Saturdays, and stores are staying open late so we can do a little shopping.

"I received a telegram this morning that I had a daughter arrive via Stork Express this morning at 6 o'clock in the Lubbock General Hospital. So I am feeling rather elated tonight.

"But a serious note is present, for my baby brother, Fulton (Shorty) Fletcher, a bombardier in the Air Corps, has been shifted from Australia to New Guinea. As the fight there seems about over, this is not of military significance now. Another brother, Staff Sgt. Fred (Fritz), also of the Air Corps, will be home on furlough beginning December 19, which probably means his outfit is about to leave the United States. My remaining brother, Foster, is a pilot instructor in the Air Corps. So I'm the only one with his feet on the ground.

"I aim to try to get a few days off around Christmas and try to have all of my family together again. Two sons, Jack Frank, 14, and Jimmy, 6½, are staying in Wilson. Another son, Jerry, 5, is staying in Lubbock with my wife and daughter in the hospital.

"I miss all the people I know on the South Plains and would greatly enjoy getting letters from them. I know scarcely anyone here, and some letters would keep a fellow from getting 'the blues' these long

Congratulations . . .

To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greathouse upon the birth of a son weighing 8 pounds and 6 ounces at 1:44 o'clock Thursday morning of last week in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock. The little fellow bears the name of Frank Greathouse the Third. The mother and babe were brought home Monday.

That man Franco of Spain seems to be between a rock and a hard place. He regards himself as something of a dictator himself and naturally his sympathies are with Hitler. He would like to be a little Hitler himself but it is plain that he is afraid of Adolf. He is also afraid of his old Uncle Sam. Apparently he is trying to curry favor with both. Last week he made a speech in which he seemed to hope for victory for the Nazis. He will do to watch. It would not be surprising if he permits the Germans to use Spain as a jumping off place to attack the allies on the Mediterranean and in North Africa. We spanked Spain once; we may have to spank her dictator again some time soon.

There are many of us who do not thoroughly appreciate the studied and continuous criticisms which Wendell Willkie and others are making of the British while they are fighting side by side with our own soldiers to repel the Nazi invaders and crush totalitarianism in the world. The British have their faults, and some of them may be grievous ones, but it can not be denied that the British have been able to take it on the chin; and they were fighting our battles for us long before we entered the war. Their cities have been bombed, their business houses, homes, and churches destroyed, their women and children killed, and yet they have held a stiff upper lip and fought back like heroes through it all. We do not think that it lies in the mouth of Wendell Willkie or other Americans to criticize the British at the very pinch of the game. On the other hand, they merit our praise.

The Seventy-seventh Congress is rapidly drawing to a close. Even if it remains in session until December 31 it is not likely that it will seriously consider any further legislation. A new Congress will assemble in January. In that Congress the Democrats will barely have a working majority. Republicans are doubtless glad that they did not win a majority of the seats in the November election, for in that case the cat would be on their backs for the next two years. They do not want the responsibility. They would prefer to play the role of critics and hold the Democrats responsible for everything that happens or doesn't happen during the next two years, for then they will be in better position to elect a Republican Congress in 1944. Lucky is the Republican party.

Congress has neglected to grant to President Roosevelt the additional power that he recently requested. Evidently a majority felt that he had exercised too much power already. It is a cinch that the incoming Congress will grant him no additional powers until it becomes convinced that such a course is essential to the prosecution of the war. Instead of surrendering to him additional powers, the chances are that it will seek to restore to Congress some of the powers it has heretofore granted him. Mr. Roosevelt is likely to have a rockier road from here on out than he has ever had as President. Whatever divisions may develop as to domestic policies, we hope that the country remains thoroughly united in its determination to win the war—to win it thoroughly and as quickly as possible.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eee Eye, the Elder

The indications are that this is going to be a sane Christmas. Of necessity there will not be wild chasing up and down the highways as has been the custom the past few years. The people generally will not give themselves over to drinking and ribald entertainment, perhaps, to the same degree as they have done many past Christmas seasons.

It should be a conservative Christmas, a sober Christmas, a really Christian Christmas; for sons and husbands have gone out from so many of our homes to offer their lives for our country, for humanity, for righteousness and freedom, that most of our people are in no mood for wild abandon even temporarily of their moral standards and spiritual ideals.

The necessity for conserving our earnings to put into our war effort is also having its effect in toning down the pleasure-seeking spirit that usually characterizes the Christmas season. This is seen even in the small number of Santa Claus letters that are being offered for publication and the modest requests that are being made in them.

But we do not believe in the correctness of the position of that guy that spoke over the radio the other day arguing that we should suppress the Christmas spirit altogether and stage none of the Christmas activities, but on the other hand should turn our attention chiefly to the task of impressing our children with the fact that This Is War.

Such a course, we think, would be tragic and criminal. Why permit a war that the hounds of hell started and are making upon the world—why permit war to cheat our children out of their accustomed Christmas enjoyment and out of the Christmas spirit that brings cheer and happiness to the children's world?

We can have this kind of Christmas without impeding one whit the war effort. In fact, we think that a little Christmas gift or a little word of cheer sent to the soldier boys during this Christmas season will strengthen rather than weaken their morale. Love of home and family and friends and freedom, as they know it in the country, will cause our sons and our husbands to fight all the harder to repel the assaults of those Pagan or Godless nations that are seeking to destroy these priceless heritages that we enjoy.

So, if you can get a little Christmas gift to your son or your neighbor's son anywhere on the fighting front or in any of the Army camps, Naval stations, or flying fields, don't neglect to send it.

But, as we indicated last week, silver hairs and wrinkles of age tend to make us reminiscent. And we are thinking now how "tame" were the Christmas seasons for the country lad of fifty years ago from the Christmas seasons that the children of today are accustomed to enjoy.

No, we didn't write any Santa Claus letters then for publication in the newspapers. We didn't make as great an "a-do" over Santa Claus then as we do now, except in some communities that usually went strong on having a public Christmas tree in the community school-house. And then it often became an occasion for some person to play a prank or a coarse joke on some other person in the community.

But some of those Christmas tree occasions were great events in the life of the community—joyous affairs in many instances but bordering upon the disgraceful in others. Not so much attention was given to bringing cheer to the little tots as is the case today.

Many exceedingly good folks did not believe in teaching their children the fiction of a Santa Claus. Our own parents did not go very strong on the Santa Claus idea. Nor did they believe that the Christmas season should be celebrated in sinful or wasteful pleasure or even in frivolity. We children received no lavish Christmas gifts—just a few little things to bring us a little cheer and happiness.

But we had happy Christmases just the same. If Pa brought home from town a sack of apples and another sack of striped candy, a Jew's Harp or a French Harp for each of the boys, and possibly a few little toys, we were tickled to death. And then, if we were allowed a few nickels with which to buy a few fire-crackers and occasionally a Roman candle or two, we felt that we were fixed for a great Christmas.

Sometimes, when we were little tots, we hung our stockings up by the fire-place and found on Christmas morning that Old Santa had put an apple and a stick of striped candy into each.

And that was our Christmas!

But a lot of things besides Christmas have changed in the past fifty years. It was not much more than fifty years ago, if any, when we saw our first telephone. And these first phones were rather crude affairs. The distance over which the human voice could be carried distinctly was very limited.

Now just look what we have! Our youngest son called us by telephone from San Francisco the other night and his voice was as distinct and natural as if he had been talking to us from Lubbock.

It has been little more than forty years ago when Marconi invented "wireless telegraphy," then regarded as the marvel of the ages. Little by little it was developed until today we have the modern radio, that brings us the news of the day from London, Cairo, Honolulu, and even Australia.

The "Magic Lantern" that provided wonderful entertainment for the children a half century ago, gave way in time to the motion picture and that in turn to the talking picture.

Yes, sir, in the ordinary home of fifty years ago there was no telephone on the wall. Instead, there was a coffee-mill on the kitchen wall. Pa bought the green coffee. Ma parched it in a skillet, ground it in the coffee-mill, and then proceeded to make what we thought was the best coffee on earth.

If the statesmen of that era could arise from their graves today and hear all this palaver about gasoline rationing their first impression doubtless would be that the world had gone crazy or that they themselves had become fit subjects for an insane asylum. There "was no gasoline, to speak of. Henry Ford and a few other obscure individuals were just tinkering with the idea that horseless carriages were a possibility.

Just a little further back, the Civil War was fought with rifles and a few cannon. The first iron-clad warship the world ever saw, was a vessel that was developed in Civil War days. Now, if you want to get an idea of what war is, just look in last week's issue of Life magazine and see those pictures of the attack on Pearl Harbor. Or attend some picture show that has war for its theme.

And the United States is just now getting into position to assert her power in war. We are building ships and planes and tanks and tank destroyers more rapidly than any other nation has ever built them; and we are speeding up the works all the time—60,000 airplanes built this year and 125,000 to be built next year, as an example.

Did you hear that War pargram last Sunday afternoon, in which Camp Hood down here at Killen was on the air? Camp Hood is one of the few Army camps in which training is given in the use of tank destroyers, and according to the accounts given respecting the effectiveness of these implements of war, Hitler and Mussolini and Tojo had better be getting ready to take to tall timber. We're going to get 'em.

L. R. Mason Has Patriotic Sow

L. R. Mason, one of our long-time subscribers who lives just over the line in Garza county, came in to renew his subscription Saturday and while here he dropped a bit of information that should be of interest to Hitler and Hirohito. His son Harvey, an FFA high school boy, has a sow that is doing her best to make the world safe for democracy. At least she seems to be doing her part to feed the nation while it is busy winning the war.

Mr. Mason says that he gave his son this sow, a Duroc Jersey, early in the year as the boy's FFA project in the Post high school. On May 13, this sow farrowed a litter of 12 pigs—which was considered very good.

But you "aint heard nuthin' yet." On Friday, November 13, just six months to a day after that first litter of pigs made its appearance, this sow brought into the world a second litter, and this time there were 21 of the little brutes. Sixteen of them are living yet, and in due course of time, according to present prospects, they will furnish somebody a whole "passe!" of spare ribs, hams, and bacon, to say nothing of good, old sausage.

Mr. Mason says that when he gave that gilt to the boy, they named her Victory. Who can say that she has not been living up to her name?

METHODIST CHURCH

Last Sunday was a good day in many ways—the weather was clear and balmy and many came to the services of the church who had not been there for some time. It was Orphanage Day and the members gave $265.00 for this worthy cause. There are several yet who would like to contribute to this institution, and you can if you will see either Geo. Reid or the pastor and the offering will be sent Monday, Dec. 21. The rush of the season is about over now—most of the crops are harvested—and we are going to expect you to be a regular attendant from now on through the months ahead of us. We rejoice with you in the abundant products of the fields and the fine season you had in harvesting them. Hence we should show our appreciation to the Giver of all good gifts by giving our service talents, our time, presence, prayers, and means for the on-going of His kingdom.

A hearty welcome awaits all who will worship with us Sunday at both the morning and evening services.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

The Sunday School of the Church of the Assembly of God will render a program and the children will be given their treat Sunday morning, December 20, at 10:30 o'clock, according to the pastor, Rev. A. E. Brown.

"The program will consist of Christmas carols, recitations, solos, musical numbers, etc." the pastor states. "See that your child is in Sunday School on Sunday morning."

The Church is taking on a different look on both inside and outside, the members say. The entire inside is being remodeled and painted. New front doors, screens, and a new platform have been added. The color scheme is ivory and mahogany red.

The new pastor expresses himself as more than pleased with the effort the membership has put forth since his coming. The public is invited.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICES

Rev. W. B. Gray will fill his regular third Sunday appointment at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. The sermon at 11 o'clock topic: "How Can This Be A Happy Christmas?" The adult Bible class meets at 10:00 a. m. The public is cordially invited to worship with us. There will be no evening service on this Sunday.

Navy Recruiting Is Being Resumed

Chief Petty Officer H. W. Harris and Yeoman Neil Walker, both of the Lubbock naval recruiting office, who were here Tuesday representing the Navy in paying tribute to Sgt. Keith Connolly, home from the Pacific War zone after being decorated with the Silver Star, have asked the News to announce that the Navy is still recruiting all men eligible except those in the 18 to 38-year bracket.

There are openings in Navy trade schools for 17-year-old boys, and there are openings in the specialist branches for men 38 to 50. Several desirable openings are available in the latter.

Chief Harris also stated that there are some fine opportunities for women in the WAVES, Naval service organization similar to the Women's Army, or WAAC's. In fact, he will make an effort to enlist 75 women from the South Plains area, and these jobs are not open just for young ladies, he says, but there are excellent opportunities in the WAVES for middle-aged ladies.

Yeoman Collier Parris of the Lubbock station expects to be here each Monday at the office of the Lynn County News between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m. to interview anyone interested.

James Smith, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith of New Lynn community, was taken to a hospital in Amarillo on Monday of last week for treatment. His case was diagnosed as infantile paralysis. Mr. Smith says that much improvement in his condition is shown already and he is hopeful that the boy, in the course of time, will completely recover.

SCHOOL NEWS AND LETTERS TO SANTA ARE DELAYED

Because of a rush in The News office, and a shortage of help, the Tahoka school page, some rural correspondence, and a few Santa Claus letters are being delayed until next week.

Controlled Materials Plan To Be Explained

The Controlled Materials Plan, designed to adjust production programs to conform to materials supply, has been completed and is ready to be put into operation.

So far as steel, copper and aluminum are concerned, the plan will gradually replace the existing priorities system, including the production requirements plan.

Arrangements have been made with the War Production Board to hold a general meeting in the West Texas Gas Company demonstration room at 920 Main street in Lubbock today, Friday, at 9:30 a. m. for the purpose of explaining how the plan affects manufacturers, warehouses, repair shops, supply houses, and all other suppliers and consumers of critical materials. The program will be conducted by representatives of the War Production Board, using slide films, charts, etc., to illustrate how the new system will work. A question and answer period will be held after the explanatory talk.

All persons concerned are strongly urged to attend this vital meeting as the plan must be thoroughly understood as quickly as possible in order that deliveries and production may not be adversely affected by the change.

Pvt. Ray Smith, who is in Medford, Oregon, writes that he is receiving and enjoying The News. His camp is quarantined because of scarlet fever, and he with the others will spend Christmas in camp, according to his brother, B. T. Smith.

Mrs. A. Steenberg arrived Thursday of last week from Ruidoso, New Mexico, for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Sinclair.

the affair was postponed. The program was preceded by a parade, staged principally by the school.

The parade forming at the Legion hall included mounted flag bearers, Tahoka High band, car bearing Sgt. Connolly and his parents, a "jeep" and several soldiers representing the Army, a station wagon and several sailors representing the Navy, a cat bearing members of Connolly's graduating class of 1938, all children of the Tahoka schools, and several other entries. The parade ended at the school gymnasium. All Tahoka business houses closed one hour for the parade and program in honor of boys in the Service.

W. T. Hanes, acting as master of ceremonies, read a list of the men killed, missing, or captives, in the war, following which Rev. H. A. Nichols paid tribute to Lynn county's 800 or 900 men and women in the Armed Forces and especially to those who have paid the supreme sacrifice. Frank Hill told of some of Connolly's escapades as a kid growing up in Tahoka, and some facts about his service in the Southwest Pacific which led to his being awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action. Calloway Huffaker delivered a short address on "Total War, Past, Present, and Future."

Connolly, limited by military restrictions, made a brief talk in which he thanked the home people for their friendship and support.

Hanes then presented him with a $50.00 War Bond, bought by a few friends headed by his ex-teacher Mrs. Lenore Tunnell.

Also introduced were Frank McGlaun, recipient of the Purple Heart and J. L. Holt of the Distinguished Service Cross in the first World War. Also on the stage were First Lieutenant Joy Edwin Brown of the Army and Chief Petty Officer H. W. Harris, Neil Walker and Robert Holloway of the Navy. About a dozen mothers, sisters, and wives of men now missing with the 131st Field Artillery, "the Lost Battalion." Connolly's old outfit in Java, were present. Among these were Mrs. Hub Wright, wife of Capt. Wright; Mrs. "Cap" Boren, mother of Lieut. Lem Boren; and Mrs. R. H. Bailey, mother of the twins, Lieut. Eldon Schmid and Tech. Sgt. Els Schmidt, and of Balby Bailey. All of these men are unreported, except Bailey, who is now with the Marines in the Solomons.

Mr. and Mrs. James "Skinner" Connolly, Mrs. Reid Parker, Mrs. H. Connolly, Keith's parents, and his sisters, Mrs. Reid Parker and Mrs. Bonnis Brower, and other relatives had special seats.

Connolly was awarded the Silver Star last August. His entire outfit, the famous 19th Bombardment group commanded by Lieut. Col. Richard H. Carmichael, is now in the states on leave after months of strenuous fighting in the Southwest Pacific. The group has been praised by the War Department as having been more effective and done more damage than any other group in the War to date.

Keith and his brother Finis, now a flying cadet, James Foster, and Robert Maddox enlisted in the National Guard in July, 1941, called to camp at Lubbock in November, inducted into the Army in January, 1941, and stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood. Keith made a good record in the Field Artillery, and was one of those who volunteered for foreign service to form the 131st Field Artillery, composed largely of South Plains men.

The outfit sailed from San Francisco Nov. 21, and was at Pearl Harbor on Nov. 27, but sailed before the Jap attack. The outfit was next heard from in Java, where they made a brave but hopeless stand against the Jap invasion. Keith was one of about twenty of the Texas outfit to escape to Australia when Java fell after weeks of bitter jungle fighting. The others are unheard from to this date, but may be still fighting in the jungles.

In April last year, Keith had arrived in Australia and transferred to the Air Forces, joining the outfit headed by Col. Carmichael, the 19th Bombardment Group.

He became a rear gunner on a Flying Fortress and participated in raids over New Guinea, New Britain, the Solomons, and various other Jap bases in the Southwest Pacific.

On several occasions, Connolly has been mentioned in radio news casts and in press association dispatches, and as a reward for his action, he was awarded the Silver Star, and a trip home to visit relatives and to rest.

One of these raids released to the press took place on August 7, when his ship, the "Daylight Limited," commanded by Capt. Kenneth D. Casper of Humbolt, Tennessee, with Keith in the tail gunner position, was a determining factor in stemming the Jap invasion. The force raided an airport at Rabaul, New Britain this, the opening day of the Solomons campaign, and destroyed 50 Japanese bombers on the ground and seven Zero fighters in the air, which was declared "the most effective single aerial operation of the war to date." Keith's ship also beached a transport in Buna harbor with a direct bomb hit, and returned with two motors dead and the plane badly shot up.

News of another raid released to the press was that of August 29, when Keith's plane, to quote news service reports, "dropped three bombs on the deck of one or two Jap cruisers which led the Jap invasion convoy in the enemy landing operation at Milne Bay, New Guinea.

"Its other two bombs struck the water about thirty feet away, close enough, it seems certain to do damage. Hence, there was reason to believe the cruiser which has disappeared was sunk.

"The Flying Fortress went in under fire at dawn in bad weather. The fire was furious.

"On return, the Flying Fortress was landed without brakes with one tire flat, with its wing flaps out of action and its No. 2 motor dead. The plane ran about 200 yards, went off the runway into the brush and came to a stop.

These were only two of the raids, he having participated in many others in which much damage was inflicted on the enemy. However, Connolly is reticent to talk about the war and gives principal credit for the missions to the other men of his group.

He will be at home until early in January, he having instructions to report to his command January 5.

Robert Jackson is now in the Army and stationed in California, according to his sister, Mrs. Edd Hamilton.

OTHER TWIN DOING WELL

Reports come that Dayton, survivor of the twin sons born to Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Ingle on December 3 is doing well in a Lubbock hospital. The other one, Deit-n, passed away on December 10th.

Joe B. Anderson recently received a letter from his son, James Edward Anderson, who is somewhere in Australia. The son sent his father a clever clipping from a New Zealand paper about one Adolf Hitler, which we may publish one of these days when we need a good "filler." Pvt. Anderson is doubtless doing his part in slapping the Japs right now.

Mrs. Grady Howard is leaving today for Wichita Falls to spend the Christmas holidays with her husband, who is in the Sheppard Field hospital recovering from a bone grafting operation made necessary by an aggravation of an old break. He hopes to be able to get out soon.

Delton Hale, formerly of the Draw community, now in training for radio service in the U. S. Navy at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, came in Saturday to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in this and Hockley counties.

Lloyd Conwill, who is employed at Pan-Tex at Amarillo, is visiting home folks here until after the holidays.
