Navy And Army Offer New College Training Program

Qualifying tests for applicants for the new Navy college training program, V-12, will be conducted at the Tahoka High School Friday, April 2, according to word received by Principal Hope Haynes from H. T. Manuel, regional director, Austin. Practically all Senior class boys in the Tahoka school have already signed up for the examination and boys in other high schools, or any boys who have graduated from high school and are not already in the service are invited to sign-up for the examination.

The candidate is under no obligation whatsoever in taking the tests.

However, from those taking the test, the Navy will eventually select students for the Navy college training program. Those accepted will take their college training while on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay and under general military discipline. Upon completion of their college training they will receive further training leading to commissions. Fifty per cent of those selected will start their college work in July, and the remainder in November.

Civilian agencies will handle the administration of the testing program regionally. Local tests will take place at Tahoka High School on April 2 under identical conditions in 28,000 centers throughout the country. Prospective candidates may obtain application blanks at the High School.

To qualify a student must be a male citizen of the United States; morally and physically fit, including a minimum uncorrected visual acuity of 18/20 in each eye; unmarried, and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned, unless sooner released by the Navy Department; and evidence potential office qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

He should belong to one of these three groups: 1. High school and preparatory school graduates who will have attained their 17th and not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, regardless of whether they are attending college. 2. High school and preparatory school seniors who will be graduated by July 1, 1943, provided they will have attained their 17th and not their 20th birthdays by that date. 3. Students who will have attained their 17th and not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continuing their education in an accredited college or university.

Later: The April 2nd test will also serve as a "qualifying test" for the Army as well as the Navy. Candidates may express their preference or indicate no preference.

Sgt. Herrin Gets Hand Mutilated

St. Sgt. Grady L. Herrin, son of Mrs. Frank McClaun of this city, who is now a mechanic in the Air Corps at Las Vegas, Nevada, got his hand caught in a planing mill and badly lacerated recently, according to a letter he wrote home.

While the flesh was badly lacerated, the doctors said that the hand could be saved, however, and since it was his left hand he did not think it would handicap him very long in his work.

Sgt. Herrin recently visited here and while here he was married to Miss Bobbie Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Scott of Tahoka, in the Baptist Church in Post.

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Dyke, on February 21, a daughter weighing 7 lbs., named Emma Laverne. Mr. and Mrs. Dyke reside on Mrs. Emma Hatchell's farm near Wilson, and this item was sent in just this week.

K. H. Harter of the Army Air Forces came in Monday to visit home folks a few days. He is stationed at a camp five miles from San Marcos.

Financial Backing Given Company F By County, City

That Lynn county will keep its unit of the Texas Defense Guard, Company F, was assured Monday, when the Lynn County Commissioners' Court agreed to help sponsor the company, at least to assist in paying its incidental expenses. This was announced by County Judge Chester Connolly at the company drill period Monday night and was received enthusiastically by seventy men present.

Inspection of the company was made by Lieut. Walter Smith, accompanied by Sgt. "Chick" Trout, of the headquarters company, 39th Battalion, Lubbock, the former being high in his praise of the Tahoka unit.

Burglary Attempt On Stores Fails

Some person or persons broke into A. L. Smith's Food Store here Tuesday night and made way with about twelve dollars in money and possibly a small amount of merchandise.

The culprit effected an entrance by prying loose a rather insecure panel of the back door, reaching his hand through the iron bars, and turning the lock from the inside.

Finding an old cash register in the market and supposing that it contained money, the intruder broke into it with some kind of tool but found no money in it. It had not been used for months.

Proceeding to the front of the building, he rifled the cash register there and secured the few dollars mentioned. Mr. Smith says that his desk had also been searched and that everything in it had been turned topsy-turvy.

If any merchandise was taken he could not miss it.

The same culprit, no doubt, went to the Boyd Driver Cafe, which had been closed for the night, and sought to enter it. But Mr. Driver was still in the building and heard the noise. Going in the darkness to investigate, he stumbled over a chair, and the noise frightened the intruder away.

The intruder is believed to have been an amateur.

Clarence Williams Is Rifle Instructor

Clarence Williams, who enlisted in the Navy "Seabees" several months ago, has been moved from the Norfolk Naval Station to Camp Perry, about 80 miles away, where he is a rifle instructor, according to his father, W. H. Williams of Draw. Mrs. Williams is still in Norfolk, but will move near Camp Perry as soon as she can find living quarters.

According to his dad, Clarence is now an instructor evidently because of his excellent marksmanship record. He shoots scores of 85 to 90 with the pistol, and has shot as high as 99 out of a possible 100 score with the rifle. He gives instruction to other men in the taking down, care, and firing of guns.

Negro Charged In Basinger Burglary

The home of Heywood Basinger, who resides near Southland, was burglarized Tuesday night, and already Sheriff Sam Floyd has a negro in jail charged with the crime.

A negro named "Smokey" has confessed to taking about $32.00 from the Basinger home.

POINDEXTER SERGEANT

J. H. Poindexter of Wayside, who received information last week that one of his sons was missing in action in Africa, received word this week that another son, D. Q. Poindexter, who has been in training in a camp in Louisiana, had been promoted to the rank of sergeant and was to be transferred to a camp in Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fontaine Wyatt went to Temple last Saturday where Mr. Wyatt expected to go through the clinic of the Temple Sanitarium.

COMMANDER IN BISMARCK SEA VICTORY—Lieut. George C. Kenney, in command of American Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, directed one of the most decisive operations of the war in the crushing defeat of a 22-ship Japanese convoy off the coast of New Guinea. Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commanding general, Army Air Forces, in a statement said: "In attacking and eliminating the enemy where he was most vulnerable and before he had time to get set, Gen. Kenney utilized the striking power of his air force to the fullest advantage. The bomber crews and fighter pilots who disregarded bad weather and comparatively close enemy air bases carried out their missions in the highest traditions of the Air Forces."

Gen. Kenney is a native of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. He attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and at the outbreak of the World War enlisted as a flying cadet. He entered the front line service early in 1918. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action against superior enemy forces near Jametz, France. He also was awarded the Silver Star for bravery. After the war he was commissioned in the regular Army and served through all the grades. He was given command of Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific in September 1942.

Football Boys Receive 1942 Awards At Rotary Program Thursday At Noon

The chief event on the Rotary program Thursday at the noon luncheon was the awarding of jackets to the football boys by former Coach Volney Hill, now of Lamesa.

Hill had much praise for the boys, whom he had coached to a district football championship last fall, and congratulated them heartily and individually as he presented the jackets.

The lettermen for the year are as follows: Robert (Red) Harvick, co-captain, Sonny Roberts, Dub Harvick, E. L. Short, Billy Knight, Bill Barham, co-captain, Leland Mitchell, G. W. White, W. T. Hines, manager, Leonard Wardlow, co-captain, Gene Earl Knight, Equal Akin, Noble Rumbo, Bill Woods.

Medals were presented Hillary Mather, Bill Grider, Jesse Ray Adams, and Jerry Edwards.

All the lettermen were present and received their jackets except Mitchell, White, and Wardlow. All those winning medals except Jesse Ray Adams were present.

Dorothy Neil Johnson received recognition as the high school foot-

"More to come." This was the warning to Hitler and Hirohito that employees of the Dallas Division of North American Aviation, Inc., painted on the first B-24 Liberator bomber which rolled this week from the assembly lines of the company's second plant at Dallas. The term was borrowed from the jargon of newspaper men who use it at the bottom of a page of copy when a story is unfinished. Lucille Kelly is holding the paint jar in the picture and C. H. Williams is putting the finishing touches on the sign. North American has been manufacturing TEXAN combat trainers in its initial plant at Dallas for nearly two years. It is also in the preliminary stages of turning out the famous P-51 Mustang fighter. The company is included in the B-24 program along with Consolidated, designer of the ship Ford and Douglas.

Mexican, Negroes Heavily Fined On Liquor Charges

Local peace officers and officers of the State Liquor Control Board were busy in Lynn county last Saturday night and their activities brought results.

Having received some kind of hunch, the three visiting officers and Sheriff Sam Floyd and his deputy Arthur Hodge, accompanied by County Attorney Calloway Huffaker, headed west out of Tahoka and made an unannounced stop at a farm house near West Point occupied by a gentleman of color bearing the name of J. C. Ross. A search for liquor was instituted and in the loft of his domicile, carefully concealed, they found the sought-

J. H. Poindexter Missing In Africa

J. H. Poindexter, who operates the Wayside Filling Station on the Lubbock Highway 12 miles north of Tahoka, was in town Friday morning and reported that he had just received a communication from the War Department at Washington that his son, Pvt. R. V. Poindexter, who was serving as a soldier in North Africa, was "missing in action."

The casualty or capture, or whatever the term "missing in action" may mean in this case occurred on February 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Poindexter had just received a letter from their son on Monday of last week which was written on February 7, but they learned from it nothing of his whereabouts except that he was on some fighting front in Africa. Of course they are much distressed and are anxious to learn more as to his fate.

Pvt. Poindexter and his parents resided in Dawson county at the time of the first registration and he registered there. They later moved to Lynn county but young Poindexter never transferred to this county and so he was inducted into the service from Dawson county May 7, 1942. After a week at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, he was sent to Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he was in training in the Ordnance Department for the next three months.

Then he was sent first to Ireland, then to England, and later to Africa. He was married before being inducted into the service and his wife has been with his parents at Wayside until about three months ago, when she went to Montague county to help care for her sister, who is sick.

Jimmy Dumas Small is a happy boy. He has his dog back.

Last week his little cocker spaniel dog wandered off. Jimmy Dumas was heart-broken but not without hope. He ran a classified ad in The News, and Friday night a boy living a short distance east of town returned the lost pet to its owner.

Jimmy Dumas the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Small.

More Aid Asked As Red Cross Drive Nears $4,950 Goal

Walter Anglin, county chairman, for the special Red Cross campaign, says that prospects are that Lynn county will go over the top in a fine way if everybody will get up and work from here on out.

Lynn county's quota was fixed at $4,950.00. If all communities will do as well as some communities have done, there will be no doubt as to the success of the campaign. But for lack of proper organization or other unfortunate circumstances, a few of the communities have as yet done little as compared with neighboring communities.

Mr. Anglin is lavish in his praise of the county as a whole, however. He states that the entire central committee and all the active workers throughout the county keenly appreciate the splendid cooperation they have received.

Naturally Tahoka is expected to lead in contributions. Up to now, it has raised about 40 percent of the quota. O'Donnell has responded in a fine way. Up to Wednesday it had raised about $1200.00, almost 25 percent of the quota. Wilson and other communities have likewise made an excellent showing.

At New Home, all the teachers in the public school contributed one day's salary, amounting to about $40.00. At a meeting there Tuesday night which Mr. Anglin attended and at which a group of Tahoka high school girls put on a program, leading citizens of the town and community pledged themselves to get busy and see that that community goes over the top.

Mr. Anglin suggests that those who may be missed by the workers turn in their contributions at an early date to the local chairman or mail it in to him. He urges that there be no relaxation in the campaign and that the county, as usual, shall do more than it is called upon to do.

Nordyke's Nephew Is Jap Prisoner

Levi Nordyke received a letter Tuesday from his sister, Mrs. John Ivy, whose home is at Cottonwood in Callahan county, stating that she and her husband had received an official communication stating that their son, Junior Ivy, first class seaman, from whom they had not heard since February, 1942, was a prisoner of the Japs in the Philippine Islands.

Young Ivy, now 21, joined the Navy three years ago. He was in the Signal Corps at Manila Bay when the Japs made their sneak attacks on Pearl Harbor and slightly later on the Philippines. In May, 1942, the parents received an official communication to the effect that their son had been missing in action since May 12. They had heard nothing from him nor of him since, until they received the official communication last week that he is a prisoner of the Japs.

Clarence Shambleck Is Second Lieutenant

Roswell, N.M., Army Flying School, March 18.—Clarence H. Shambleck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shambleck, Wilson, Texas, has been awarded his second lieutenant's commission and the wings of a pilot, it was announced by Col. John C. Horton, commanding officer.

The lieutenant's commission is a result of a comprehensive course in piloting Uncle Sam's twin-engined airplanes, and aerial tactics. He will be assigned to another post for further duty.

Lieut. Shambleck attended Wilson High School, Texas Lutheran College and University of Texas. He joined the Army Nov. 18, 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Welch and children and Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Vaughn and children of Mountainair, New Mexico, came down the first of the week to visit the wives' father, L. C. Johnson, and related families here. Mr. Welch and family are also visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Welch, at New Home.

Dunagan Has Hard Time Explaining Lost Ration Books

A. L. Dunagan was almost frantic for a short time the other day—one of those windy days.

He left his home north of town during the storm, attended to some business in Tahoka, went to the grocery store for some coffee or sugar, we are not informed which. At any rate, he then and there discovered that his and his wife's No. 1 ration books, which he just knew he had, were missing.

A. L. dashed around town looking every place he had been and every place he thought he might have visited. Nobody had seen them. Finally, he gave up and started home.

A few miles north of town, another farmer hailed him, and Mr. Dunagan stopped to see what his neighbor wanted. The neighbor produced a No. 1 ration book which proved to be A. L.'s all right.

But the peculiar part is that this neighbor found the ration book in his cellar. The two instituted a search and soon found the other book out in the field.

A. L. claims the wind whipped the books out of his pocket and into the cellar and field. Maybe so, but friends had a good laugh on him.

Pfc. Glenn Dale Bratcher of Great Falls, Montana, is here on a thirty days furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. A. W. Bratcher of the Draw community.

New Home News

By Eva Lois Harmonson

The New Home people were entertained last Tuesday night with a Red Cross program rendered by some students from Tahoka schools. Only a few people came out to hear them, but those who came enjoyed the program. From the small group present there was $28.00 donated to the Red Cross. Besides this donation, New Home faculty, including Mrs. Cramer and Mrs. Webb from Petty, pledged a day's salary to be given to the Red Cross drive in this community. The public is urged to bring in their donations. Mr. Pace, Acie Bailey and Leon Jennings are authorized to receive your donations in this locality.

During food registration there were people who assessed the taxes and took the census. As might be expected, there were several families not contacted. If you are in the New Home District it would be greatly appreciated if you would at your own convenience drop in Tom Russell's office at the Coop Gin or at Mr. Pace's office at the school and give them that information.

Mr. Ray Thruston, principal, is beginning a physical fitness program in High School. It is a program conducted by the Army in cooperation with the Interscholastic League. WOMEN AT WAR

Leonora

Leonora straightened the objects on her desk with great care. She had put her desk at the end of her room facing the door so that when her mother came in she would have to cross the whole room under Leonora's stern executive eye to get to her. From movies and pictures in the newspapers Leonora had gotten a good idea of how the desk of a busy woman of affairs should look.

With an important scowl, Leonora picked up a sheet of paper. Now she was two people—herself, the busy woman, and her own stenographer. "Miss Simpkins, take a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, will you?" she murmured under her breath.

"Yes, immediately," she murmured back at herself. Leonora cleared her throat and looked at the ceiling for inspiration. Miss Simpkins bent over the sheet of paper hanging on the words about to fall.

"Dear Mr. Morgenthau," — "Got that?" — "Yes, madam."

"I am — ahem — thirteen years old and anxious to be of all possible service to the country at this time, ahem!"

"I earn a weekly income of from $1.37 to $2.12 by helping with the housework and by shovelling snow. I am at present in possession of one War Savings Bond and am buying stamps weekly. I want to become a member of the 10 percent Club. I feel it to be — ahem — not only my duty, but my privilege!"

"How do you spell privilege?" asked Miss Simpkins. "Don't bother me with these details," said Leonora — my privilege as an American to invest at least ten percent of my income in War Bonds.

Yours truly,

"Get that off at once, Miss Simpkins," said Leonora. "Yes, Ma'am! You certainly are an important woman, ma'am," said Miss Simpkins.

Hints Offered On Victory Gardens

(This information comes to you through the USDA War Board in cooperation with Miss Almarine Nunnally, Farm Security Home Management Supervisor, and Miss Carolyn Dixon, County Home Demonstration Agent of A&M Extension Service.)

Every American citizen has a role to play in helping win the war. Each can help by doing his bit in food production. Plan to supply vegetables for your family from a home garden this year. Nicely flavored vegetables, which are good in texture and rich in vitamins, can be grown by every farm and urban family, thus leaving commercial supplies of vegetables for military forces and industrial workers. The money saved may be used to pay taxes, debts, and for the purchase of defense stamps and bonds.

In planning the family garden, the different types of gardens, including the frame garden, the fenced garden spot, the tub garden, and the field garden should be given due consideration. Select the type or types best adapted to the available space and the family's needs. Tub gardens are quite useful where little space is available. They are good for tomatoes, cucumbers, yellow squash, and sweet pepper. A frame garden lengthens the season for quick growing vegetables, as tender greens, spinach, lettuce, radishes, and green onions. As the vegetables are used, they should be replanted in order that the supply will be continuous.

A fertile, easily cultivated spot near the house is recommended for the plot that is to be fenced for additional protection. The size of a garden should be determined by the size of the family. On a farm a half acre or more planted in vegetables will supply a family of five persons. A garden in town must necessarily be limited to less space and fewer, but well chosen vegetables. If the soil is poor, work 25 pounds of well rotted animal manure into each 100 square feet before the soil is plowed.

Irish and sweet potatoes, peas, corn, pinto beans, cushaw, pumpkins, cantaloupes, and other vegetables that require more space and that attract insects easily may be planted in the field garden. This gives the added advantage of cultivating by regular farm labor and equipment. The remainder of the vegetables should be planted in the fenced garden, which will give greater returns if it is subirrigated.

The qualities and varieties of garden seed for this section listed below will plant a garden 50x50 feet:

Tomato, Marglobe or June Pink, 100 plants; Snap Bush Bean, Burpee's Stringless, 1 lb.; Snap Pole Bean, Kentucky Wonder, 1/2 lb.; Lima Bush, Henderson's Bush, 1/2 lb.; English Peas, Laxton's Progress or Little Marvel, 1 lb.; Beets, 2 oz.; Detroit Red or Crosby's Egyptian; Carrots, 1 oz.; Red Core or Danver's Half Long; Squash, Yellow Crookneck or Early White Bush; Cucumbers, 1/4 oz.; Early Fortune; Turnips, 1 oz.; Purpletop, White Globe, Shogoin, or 7 Top; Mustard, 1 oz.; Tendergreen or Florida Broadleaf; Spinach, 1 oz.; Bloomsdale Savoy; Swiss Chard, 1/2 oz.; Lucullus; Cabbage, 50 plants, Early Jersey Wakefield or Chas. METHODIST CHURCH
A gradual increase in both the Church school and preaching services has been noted. Last Sunday was a good day. One infant was christened and there were four additions to the church. We have averaged some one every Sunday since annual conference, coming into the membership of the church.

We are planning our annual meeting to begin on Easter and continue for two weeks. We feel like the church is prepared for the undertaking since our Week of Dedication.

We sent $130.00 as the special offering for Near East Relief and the Soldiers at home and abroad.

A hearty welcome is extended to all who will worship with us Sunday.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT CHURCH BEGINS SOON

According to recent action of the Church, Rev. A. C. Hardin, the pastor, announced Sunday that revival services will be conducted at the Baptist Church here from Friday night, April 2, through Sunday, April 11.

The pastor will do the preaching and J. W. Goodell probably will direct the song services. Everybody is invited and urged to attend.

WOMEN AT WAR

Augusta

Augusta Travers—you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street—she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But mighty set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up, and pasted them on a big board in the window, with little American flags at the corners. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War—They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps—Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't—Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

Mean to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win this war?" Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife bought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.

With two thousand men staging a riot in a town in Maine simply because they didn't feel that they had gotten their money's worth at a motion picture show, resisting the police and citizens who tried to quiet them, skinning heads, inflicting serious wounds, and endangering the lives of many innocent persons, it would seem to be about time for the people of the North to begin to sweep in front of their own doors a bit before they go into fits again over some big husky human brute in the South being mobbed for the ravishment and mutilation and murder of some perfectly innocent white woman or child. The South has almost put a stop to lynchings even when the provocation is great, but the North is doing little to curb the mob violence that often occurs when honest white men undertake to work where union labor strikers refuse to do so. We are not trying to stir up sectional hatred and division—far from it—but we do believe that until the North effectively stamps out mob law in the North it need not be so deeply frustrated by the lynchings that we have in the South deplorable though they are.

While we have approved the position which W. Lee O'Daniel has taken on a number of issues arising in Congress, we have never approved the motives which seemingly prompted him to take these positions. We still think that he is one of the weakest statesmen but one of the shrewdest politicians that ever went from Texas to the United States Senate. Just now he is exhibiting general littleness by vehemently opposing confirmation of the appointment of James V. Allred to a position as a federal judge. In a lengthy political communication which he has sent to The News and doubtless to most other weekly newspapers in Texas, he claims to oppose Allred's confirmation not on "personal" but on "Constitutional" grounds. Yet his communication sets out not one single Constitutional reason why Allred should not be confirmed but it is teeming with expressions indicating personal spleen, directed not only at Allred but also at President Roosevelt, without however mentioning the President directly.

Hitler and the German war lords are undertaking to turn the pages of history back at least two thousand years. They are making slaves of the men of the conquered countries. Hundreds of thousands of them are already doing enforced labor in the war industries in Germany. In France, many are now resisting transportation to Germany, and the Gestapo are hunting them down like beasts of the forest and compelling them to go. Just this week, news came that they are now engaged in routing five thousand French youth out of their hiding places with machine guns to send them to the German factories. That is what we would be up against sooner or later if Hitler should win this war. But he can't win it. He must not win it. Every red-blooded American must do his bit, yes his best, to see to it that Hitler and his cut-throat conspirators shall not win it. Buy a war bond or stamp!

The county judge and the commissioners' court are to be commended for publishing last week a financial statement showing receipts and disbursements in the various county funds and other data respecting the financial condition of the county. This statement gives at least a general idea as to how the people's money has been expended, and if any of these items needs clarification or explanation we are sure that the county judge and any member of the commissioners' court will be glad to give the desired information in so far as they may be able to do so. The county judge and the commissioners court apparently are doing a good job both from the standpoint of economy and service.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eee Eye, the Elder

Those numberless sparrows that have been flitting and chattering among the trees on our premises with such jubilation lately, were thrown into utter confusion and bewilderment last week when we had our trees trimmed back almost to the trunks. This trimming of the trees was made necessary on our premises and on many others in town by reason of the great number of limbs that were broken by the unprecedented ice load that covered them and weighted them down during that freezing rain period in December.

The trees now are expected to put out new branches and new foliage and to be more beautiful in a year or two than they were before the storm, but the trimming certainly did ruin them as a "playground" for the birds. When the sparrows began to flock in to their roosting places Friday evening and found their homes utterly demolished they acted as if they were terribly disappointed and grieved and became almost frantic. The best they could do was to find lodgment in the wilderness of brush made by the amputated branches.

And this reminds us of what Mrs. W. D. Smith had to say about her birds after reading this column of two weeks ago. She wanted to add her voice and her vote in support of the things Mrs. Nichols had said in defense of these feathered friends of the human family and to give this columnist a pat on the back.

"Two or three years ago," she said, "a pair of finches built their nest in a tree on our premises, and the male finch was a great singer. He would sit in a tree and sing just like a canary, and as I was there alone much of the time I got great joy out of his singing. In fact, I don't know of anything scarcely that ever afforded me so much joy. And would you believe it, that mother finch hatched off twelve little finches that year. But I just had to keep a close watch to keep the thoughtless boys from shooting them or driving them away."

"One day in the fall," she continued, "late in the afternoon, I noticed all this family of finches sitting on an electric light wire and, apparently, chatting. So, I told a little boy present, 'Now they are having a conference and making plans what to do or where to go for the winter.' And sure enough, the next morning all those finches were gone. Not a one was seen again for months."

"But the next spring that pair of parent finches showed up again. I can not prove that they were the same pair but I almost know they were. They went back to the very same tree and the female to the very same nest that had been built the year before. But in the meantime, the sparrows apparently had taken possession of that tree. And when those finches came back, of all the excited and angry chattering that you ever heard birds do, those sparrows did it. It was a hectic quarrel. But in two or three days the sparrows vacated and left the finches as victors of the field."

Maybe you are not interested in this story but it was interesting to us. Where had those finches spent the winter? Was that couple the same couple really that had established their home in that tree the year before? Why did they come back to the same home the next spring? How did they find their way back?

According to ornithologists, those who make scientific and thorough investigation and study of the habits of birds, these creatures are guided unerringly by what they call "instinct," a term which even the scientists are unable to define intelligently and which, in the final analysis, must be ascribed to the providential wisdom and care of the great Creator of the universe, the Father of us all, who, according to Jesus of Nazareth, takes note of the fall of even a sparrow.

The mystery of the habits, the migration, and the seeming intelligence of the birds is truly one of the greatest marvels in this universe.

If you have not been impressed with this before, get some book that treats of birds and just casually read it, or read that article on Birds in the World Book, found in most libraries, and you will immediately conclude that these little creatures are wonderfully if not fearfully made.

Birds do migrate in the fall—many species of birds do—and they do return to their former homes of continents in the spring.

Sometimes birds mate for life; sometimes they change their mating each year; and occasionally more than once during a mating season but not often.

The two finches that spent the spring and summer in Mrs. Smith's yard may have spent the winter a thousand miles away, or even farther.

They were doubtless the same pair that returned the next spring and drove the intruding sparrows away. By the way, the finches and the sparrows belong to the same bird family. They are close kinfolks. But the sparrows merely chatter, male and female, and possibly gossip a lot, while the male finch sings and entertains his wife while she sits on her nest hatching out their brood.

And the love and care that both Dad and Mother Finch bestow upon their naked and helpless little children in the nest is a thing that would put to shame the attention given their little ones by some of us human parents. The same may be said of most birds.

A baby bird is chiefly mouth and stomach. Usually it will eat its weight in food every day. Dad must provide the food while Mother takes care of the babies in the nest. How does Dad know just what kind of food to provide? Even though his own feed consists mostly or solely of seeds his little ones must be fed almost solely on worms and insects. How does the daddy bird know this? We don't know—but he never makes a mistake. His little ones never have indigestion from being fed an improper diet.

There are oodles of mysterious things that we might mention about birds, but two of the most marvelous are their swiftness and endurance on the wing and their migratory habits.

Some of the little birds that we see around us may make a single flight of 500 miles to 2,000 miles, we are told. Their speed may range from a quarter-mile to a mile per minute.

As a boy, we used to stop picking cotton for a few minutes almost every day late in the fall, to watch the flocks of wild geese, brants, and cranes pass over, going south. Sometimes, too, there would be great flocks of ducks, but usually their flights seemed to be only local.

Nothing was more interesting than the stately flight of wild geese, in perfect V-shape formation, all the flock following the leader, a gander, whose position was at the point of the V. Invariably they were headed south and followed a perfectly straight course. Evidently they knew where they were going and why.

Occasionally, however, a flock of these migrants would apparently become confused and lose their way. Then they would fly about in confusion for a few minutes but finally the leader apparently would get his bearings and the others would fall in line, and away they would go again, headed south. It is possible that they were merely taking a survey of the country and locating some possible feeding ground while flying around in apparent confusion, but it seems more probable that they had merely become confused.

These were probably the common Canadian geese. They breed in the swampy lake regions of central and northern Canada and as winter approaches they crank up and start south. The destination of those geese we used to watch was doubtless the Gulf Coast country or even farther south.

The scientists now tell us that many many of these migratory fowls range all the way from the Arctic Circle to South America.

One species, the arctic tern, which is much smaller than the geese and is related to the seagulls, is said to range all the way from the arctic circle to the antarctic circle, making the trip from the north to the south in the fall and winter and the return trip in the spring and summer, a total of 22,000 miles each year. Migratory fowls generally pursue well-defined routes, it is claimed. Some of these courses from regions in North America to the eastern coast line of South America lie over vast stretches of water, out of sight of land for hundreds and hundreds of miles, with nothing but "instinct" to guide the birds, yet they seem to make their landings invariably "according to plan."

How the birds can find their way

About fly over vast stretches of water or land, and find their former homes or rich feeding grounds with unerring accuracy, without chart or compass, is more than the mind of man can understand. The brain of a sparrow or a finch can not be larger than the tip of your little finger, and yet their sense of direction, their seeming intelligence in feeding and caring for their young, their ability to read the weather signs and take precautions to guard against its rigors, their seeming knowledge of the laws of Nature, and their cunning in avoiding and escaping danger, far surpasses that of man.

A lot of us might study the birds with a good deal of profit to ourselves and to the human family.

Prospective candidates who are accepted will be sent to a college for indoctrination, and those who are officer material will be appointed Reserve Midshipmen at the end of this month's training period. (By Mrs. Marvin Truelock)

One unusual feature of the farewell party Thursday evening, honoring the McCee Moores, was that the high school students deprived the adults of the initiative in making and executing the plans for departing teachers. After an evening of games, the students served punch and cookies to about 250 guests.

Among the gifts showered on the honorees were: a white gold identification bracelet bearing the insignia of the Navy and having an inner photograph compartment—a gift from the high school students—and a $25 war bond from the school patrons.

Ensign Moore was grade school principal here last year and superintendent this year. Mrs. Moore taught in grade school. The Moores came here from Lamkin, their home town, where he was superintendent four years. Both received their degrees in Dantel Baker College, Brownwood.

Mr. Moore, who has had his 70 flying hours, received his commission as ensign in the U. S. Navy Reserve, December 14. He must report in Dallas Wednesday of this week and after three months of secondary training they will be stationed at Pensacola, Florida. This year he taught aeronautics and math.

High School Principal I. J. Duff was promoted to school superintendent Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of the trustees. Sam Ellis and Elza Jackson are the newly appointed trustees, taking the places of Avon Bedford and J. H. Robbins, who recently moved away.

The Avon Bedford family moved to Fort Worth Thursday. We don't know how many years they have resided here, but their oldest son, Norman, who is soon to enlist in the U. S. service, is a native of our town. We hate to say good-bye to friends who have backed every movement for civic betterment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Waltrip and two daughters, Barbara Jean and Edna Artella, of Morton arrived Thursday to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lieske. By noon Saturday $239.00 had been turned in to the Red Cross chairman, O. J. Harmonson. The local committee, Mesdames Hub Haire, John Leake, W. W. Davies, and August Becker, will turn in their final report Monday afternoon. The Lutheran Ladies' Aid contributed $5.00 and we know of enough more donations to bring the total to $251.50 from Garza county residents; so many of our people live in Lynn county and we couldn't count their contributions.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid met in the home of Mrs. Herman Kiesel for their 96th devotional and business meeting on Sunday afternoon. The topic for discussion on the program was "Lutheran World Action." Refreshments were served to the four visitors, Mesdames Ben Wilke, Walter Maeker, Werner Klaus, and Grandmother Kiesel, and 15 members.

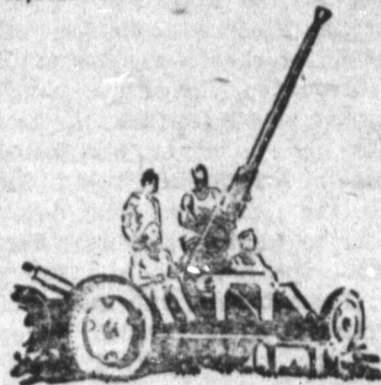

Mrs. S. M. Truelock and children returned home Friday from Clovis, where her father is in the hospital for an intestinal operation. During the five days she was there, Mrs. Truelock saw all of her thirteen brothers and sisters, though one lives in California and one in Colorado. Mr. Rolan is to be taken to his home in Redland this week if he continues to improve.

Mr. Hollie C. White has been seriously ill last week and this. The men of the community are sitting up by schedule now. His son Billy was brought home from school Monday with a relapse of the flu.

Last Thursday night Derwood Hallman was host at a party for the seventh and eighth grade room. The young people played various games and were served cookies and ocoas. The guest list included: Peggy Bartlett, Mary Lou West, Wanda Faye Kelley, Lena Mae Samples, Billy Lancaster, George Jackson, Harold

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Bofors anti-aircraft gun is designed for greater range and heavier calibre than the average anti-aircraft or rapid fire gun. They are mechanically intricate and more costly. The two-gun Bofors mount costs approximately $98,000 while a Bofors quad-mount runs up to $140,000.

We want our fighters to have the best equipment possible and your purchase of War Bonds will help pay for these guns, giving them an advantage over our enemies. Buy War Bonds every payday. At least ten percent of your income, or as much as you can buy will help pay the war cost, provide you with a nest egg for the future, and pay you good interest.

Mrs. Joe Childress, better known as Pauline Gilliland, left on the train Friday night for Bryan, where her husband is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Corley, former residents who now live in Lubbock, spent the week-end here with their daughter, Mrs. Dan Siewert. Sunday afternoon the Siewerts, accompanied by Virginia King, took the Corleys home.

Mrs. O. B. Franklin returned to Lubbock Sunday afternoon where she is taking chiropractic treatments.

The usual week-end quietness was broken Saturday night, when the two drunken brothers of Julian Vela attacked him. Their loud cursing attracted the attention of the white men of the town, who protected the local man from his rural assailants and phoned for the Garza county sheriff.

Juan Reyes and his section gang were called to help clear the tracks of the freight wrecked near Justiceburg. The morning mail train arrived here at 1:00 p. m.

Mrs. Mildred Phillips and children, onna and Kenneth, who formerly lives northwest of town, came Friday to spend the week-end with her brother, Elmer Watson, whose wife is in the Slaton hospital. The Phillips family now live at Sundown.

The Baptist women will meet on Monday after next church day to organize a W. M. U. and the pastor's wife, Mrs. O. E. McGaw, urges all women to be present.

Mrs. Sid Smallwood, whose husband is stationed at LAFS, was honoree at the bridal shower given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. F. Davies. The hostess was assisted by her daughters, Willie Mae, who attends Tech, Ollie, and Mrs. Grady King. The St. Patrick's color scheme was carried out in the refreshment plate—white cake, green punch, with plate favors of shamrocks and small baskets of popcorn.

The guests, other than the honoree, were: Mesdames G. N. Smallwood, Alvin Dudley, J. T. Whitted, W. W. Davies, E. F. Parker, Herbert, L. A., and M. A. Dunn, Buford Jones, J. V. Young, J. C. Harris, J. I. Bartlett, T. Collingsworth, O. E. McGaw, A. J. Becker, Aubrey McNeely, and Cliff Johnson. Many more sent gifts.

Mrs. Charles Stewart of Ballinger is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Whitt left Saturday after visiting here two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. White of Dixie. They will visit Mr. Whitt's relatives at Terrell until Mr. Whitt re-enters the Army at Mineral Wells in April.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Whitt attended Texas Tech, where they majored in Journalism. They married in the Spring of 1940, and some time later Mr. Whitt entered the Army, but was released from training because of his feet.

Mrs. Whitt, well known here as Miss Mary White, has worked for a number of daily newspapers, including Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Clovis, New-Journal, San Angelo Standard-Times, and Columbus, Georgia, Ledge-Enquirer, the latter while her husband was in officers' training camp there.

STATED MEETINGS of Tahoka Lodge No. 1041 the first Tuesday night in each month at 8:30. Members urged to attend. Visitors welcome.

Axis cuts your driving - Terrorizes your engine with ACID!

Every time short rations keep your car idle it's really like the Axis trying to dose your engine with acid. All the Axis needs is the acid products of combustion always left in your engine when it stops. This unavoidable acid wasn't so bad when cleaned out pretty well, several times a day, on fast runs that warmed the engine completely. But now with slow short runs often keeping the engine too cool, acid's chance has increased to corrode metal.

To keep your tools from corroding you apply oil—again, and again. In your engine you can have a more lasting preservative. It's designed to combat internal acid corrosion.

It's surfaced to metals as closely as any protective plating. That's why this inner engine preservative—made possible by the quick, simple, economical change to Conoco Nth motor oil—is known as OIL-PLATING.

Conoco Nth—patented—brings you the special synthetic invented to make metal surfaces cover themselves with OIL-PLATING. It may be quite a while "between coupons" now. But you needn't give hungry acids all that while to gnaw at your engine, which the Axis won't let you replace yet! OIL-PLATE it now. Change to Conoco Nth for Spring. Continental Oil Company

Tahoka Girls Win Cooper Tournery

Before a gym filled with spectators, the largest crowd ever to witness our teams in a basketball tournament this year, at Cooper Friday and Saturday, Tahoka girls won the girls' championship. Tahoka boys were consolation winners, and three individual players received high honors after the games.

And all-tournament team was selected by a majority vote cast by the coaches for each team. VeNell Walker, forward, and Jimmie Lou Thomas, guard, were chosen on the girls' all-tournament team; and Robert Harvick, center, on the boys' all-tournament team.

From the all-tournament team, an out-standing forward and guard for both boys' and girls' teams was chosen, and VeNell Walker was announced as the outstanding forward of all the girls' teams.

The awards have not been received but will be mailed to the players as soon as they arrive. Freshmen defeated New Home boys to win the championship.

Money Spent For Education Is An Investment Which Pays Large Dividends

By Lois Sproles
The world is constantly changing. Ways of doing things, customs, and styles of dress are rapidly shifting. Unless we strive to keep well informed at all times we soon find ourselves backward and old-fashioned. So that we may be well appraised, schools are instituted. Well-educated teachers are employed in these schools. And each year thousands of boys and girls, men and women graduate from high schools and colleges. After being taught the principles upon which our country was founded and our country's history, we are better prepared to be good citizens and leaders of America.

Not only are we taught Americanism but also scientific and modern methods of doing things. In peace time as well as war time, people demand that we be efficient. Scientific methods combined with some everyday sense will enable us to acquire this efficiency.

Money invested in education, therefore, has not been wasted because it is not only helping our nation and the world but also each individual to make a better living and have a fuller, more enjoyable life.

This and That...

The girls and boys basketball teams really showed what they could do at the tournament last week end. The girls won the tournament championship.

Eyes turned Miss Headricks' way when she wore her rose knitted sweater and her Oxford grey skirt. Everyone is glad to see Ruby Smith back at school.

Juanita Young, an ex-student, visited school Monday.

The Junior play is well underway.

Lights brightened for plans of the Junior-Senior banquet.

Johnnie Price wants her name in the paper.

The Mirror...

The sandals being worn now add glamour to girls, dont you think? Mary Ruth Edwards should know that she looked very nice in her white suit the night of the Senior play. VeNell and Lois Walker were seen in some cute pink and white dresses last week. Joan Boydston looked cute in her brown and white dress. Jimmy Lou Thomas look's grand in her beige dress. Rae Fern Pennington's green linen suit certainly becomes her. Have you noticed Veda Chaney in glasses? Becoming, don't you think? Peggy and Macky Fenton were seen in attractive seer-sucker dresses last Tuesday.

SHOW DRESSES
Time has come again for the style show, but there will be no real style show this year. However, the third year Homemaking girls will style their dresses in front of the Homemaking class.

Buy Another Jeep Campaign Planned

"Buy ANOTHER jeep with War Bonds and Stamps!"

The Treasury Department is launching a special campaign for the Schools at War with a goal of 10,000 jeeps by April 19.

Our school has been asked to buy another jeep. The money will be raised at the next Victory Concert, to be held on April 1 and sponsored by the Sub-Deb Club.

Upon the successful completion of a "Jeep" campaign, schools will receive a special certificate which will be similar to the Distinguished Service Certificate, but will feature a picture of a jeep and the following wording:

"For service to the War Savings Program, through the successful completion of a Schools at War Jeep Campaign, this citation is awarded to..."

The rules for conducting a "Jeep" Campaign are as follows:

1. For these campaigns $900 will be considered the cost of a jeep.
2. Certificates will be awarded only to those schools which have successfully conducted a campaign to finance the construction of a jeep through the sale of War Bonds and Stamps in the amount of $900.
3. Past jeep campaigns do not count for these certificates except.
4. Jeep campaigns already under way and scheduled to terminate after March 1, 1943, may be awarded this certificate.

"Parade Of News" Is Shown At Assembly

The new tradition in Tahoka high school is to help in the home defense program one hundred percent.

Last Tuesday, Mr. Lum Haney, manager of Tahoka Drug store, presented two "News Parade" films to the high school and grammar school. Following the "News Parade" a picture featuring the rodeo held in Tahoka in 1939 and of the livestock show was presented. This picture was especially interesting to the high school students as some of the students attending school now were shown exhibiting cattle.

The admission for attending these pictures was ten cents. The funds taken in from this picture will be donated to the Red Cross.

Sub-Debs Will Present Victory Concert

On April 1, the Sub-Debs will present the first Victory program since November. This program will be in the form of a play, featuring a rehearsal at the Stage Door Canteen and was written by a group of girls. Centering around a selfish girl who defies the war effort, the play will probably last about one and one-half hours.

Between the first and second acts, Supt. W. T. Hanes will talk about buying War Bonds and Stamps. Then, the girls will sing, "Any Bonds Today."

Pat Hill will be the announcer.

HELP RED ROSS

Last Saturday a stand was furnished by the Sub-Debs and contributions were made to the Red Cross. Forty-five dollars was given by the townspeople.

The last meeting was held Wednesday at Dot Applewhite's.

Teacher of Week—

Country agent, cab-driver, A-1 traveler, and last but not least, a school teacher—who could fill all these capacities? None but Mr. Tom Seay, agriculture teacher of Tahoka high school.

He graduated from high school at Harnole, Texas. At A. & M. he majored in agriculture and minored in the study of trees and fruits.

He claims he likes sports but, no doubt, his main hobby is his baby daughter, Lynnette, age about one month.

He has traveled widely, having visited in 38 states. To quote his own words: "I am a great pork eater."

Pvt. Jackie Weathers of the Army Air Force, Ardmore, Oklahoma, spent Monday here with relatives and friends. He had only a three-day pass and spent nearly all the time coming and going.

Pvt. W. H. (Dub) Kenley of Bryan has been visiting his wife and other relatives here this week.

"Arrowsmith" New Sinclair Lewis Book

This is the story of a young scientist who has faith of a man who knows his laboratory and who knows intellectual methods of laboratory science. But more than that, Sinclair Lewis shows how Arrowsmith, the young scientist, although betrayed by the ambitions of politicians and commercialists has the courage to take his fight to more dangerous and disease-infested areas.

In him, Sinclair Lewis has built a delightful character. The author has surrounded him with a splendid gallery of people—Gottlieb, the stern cranky, pure scientist who kindles a flame in Arrowsmith's heart; Sordellus, the romanticist who devotes his life to fighting plagues; Terry Wickett, the hard boiled research man; Pickenbaugh, who made politics out of public health; Leora, the plucky, good humored comrade of a wife—these were the people the author really felt.

Heywood Brown said it was "one of the finest novels written by any American in our day. The problems it presents are not in any way staled."

Personality...

The personality this week is one of the many "little seventh grade girls."

Having a pleasing personality, being 4 feet and 9 inches tall, having green eyes and blonde hair, Loydene Edwards, with her tiny figure, merely goes about her studies which are English, geography, arithmetic, and music. English proves to be her favorite subject.

Piano playing is her hobby and eating also appeals to her very much.

The journalism class salutes Loydene for her popularity and success in Tahoka High School.

Picture Show Given Tahoka Boy Scouts

Tahoka Boy Scouts were entertained at their regular meeting Monday night with some news films and other films, shown by L. C. Haney.

Following the meeting, the Green Star Patrol held a meeting, at which members were initiated into a new order.

Tahoka's Scout troop is nearly twice as large now as it was at this time last year, there being thirty members at this time.

Rev. A. C. Hardin, new Baptist pastor, was a visitor at the Scout meeting.

Next Monday night, a court of honor will be held at the Boy Scout hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Atkins and son Douglas left Wednesday for San Francisco, where Mr. Atkins will be employed in a defense plant. Mrs. Atkins is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Knight and a sister of the late Raymond Knight, who was "rowned while on a visit with the some folks from an Army camp last summer.

W. R. Greer is planning to start remodeling his home next Monday. Cpl Forrest Chapman of Fort Knox, Kentucky, came in Saturday, and Cpl. Ferman Chapman of Moore Field came Monday, on furloughs, to visit a brother and a sister here.

Grandmother Davis, who has been very ill, is reported to be better. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warrick, who have been sick of intestinal flu, are now much improved.

Mrs. E. A. Thomas, who underwent surgery in a Lubbock hospital last Saturday, is reported to be recovering nicely.

Mary Jean Evans, who moved to Lynn a few weeks ago, has returned to school at Grassland.

Billie Williams, daughter of Frank Williams, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Lubbock General Hospital Tuesday morning. We have no report at this time as to her condition.

Jack Williams received word Tuesday that his brother Floyd Williams of Snyder was in a very critical condition.

Jim Potts is sick this week with the flu.

Fred McGinty Is Planting Orchard

Fred McGinty is gradually improving the farm he purchased a few years ago, located about seven miles south of town just west of the O'Donnell highway, and if his plans work out right, in a few years it will be "the farmer's dream."

His latest improvement is a three- or four-acre orchard, which he has planted in a "draw". He has planted nearly a hundred fruit trees, about three dozen grape vines, and a number of pecan and walnut trees. Fred has 650 acres in the tract, 220 acres of which are farm land and the rest pasture. Over a year ago, he had the pasture contour listed, and he reports that the grass is showing marked improvement.

He also has built a tank in the "draw" and plans to stock it with fish some time in the future.

Lt. Clarence Poff Writes From Africa

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Poff, who live ten or twelve miles north of Tahoka on Route 1 out of Wilson, have received the following letter from their son, First Lieutenant Clarence Poff, who is with the U. S. fighting forces in North Africa.

"North Africa, March 3, 1943.
"Dearest Mom and Pop: We are having the prettiest weather down here I have seen in a dog's age; it sure beats the climate in the British Isles. About all the Arabs wear is a sheet and a pillow case. They wrap the pillow case around their heads; then wrap up in the sheet.
"They all have burros about three feet high. They put almost as much on the burro as we put on a truck (stretching a little of course).
"Been about a month since I received any mail, hope it won't be much longer.
"No fooling, the weather is really nice. Speaking of the sunshine, of course, I thought the other day I had a tan already, but I washed my face and it all came off.
"I always say Tell all Hello for me and that I'll be around one of these days. I haven't seen Scottie Russell since I've been here, but I might. Love and kisses. Clarence."

Wayland Hughes Writes Of War

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hughes received the following letter Monday from their son Wayland written from a dispensary in Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on the preceding Monday.

Wayland is now a first class seaman in the Navy. Only sixteen years of age, he is doubtless one of the youngest boys from Lynn county in any branch of the service. He joined the Navy last October. His parents received one previous letter from him, written on December 4. They had not heard from him since until this letter came Monday.

This letter, uncensored, indicated that he had been on some ship which had been sunk and his parents believe that he had been in the fighting somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. Here is his letter. The parents request that we publish it in its entirety.

"Dearest Mother and Dad: Boy, was I glad to hear from you. Well, first I will tell you why I haven't written you. Well, this is the first chance I have had, if you see what I mean. All our letters are censored, so I have to watch what I say. Can't say what I have been doing and where I am at. You will have to guess.
"Well, you say you miss me, but I miss you twice as much. I would love to come home but we have a job to do and I have to do my part so that we may all come home to our Mothers and Dads. I know what war is like now, and I can tell you it is the most terrible thing there is. Dad, you mentioned something about money. I didn't send for any money. You must have got some one else's mail. I hope you made lots on your steers. Write me all about the letter you got. I would like to know what it was about.
"Well, I got my Xmas presents today and about 10 or 11 letters, boy was I proud of them. I lost all my clothes when my ship sank. That's all I can say about that, it may not go through. My address for a long time will be Wayland Clay Hughes, cockswain.
"Yes, I would like to have the Lynn County News very much. Tell Billy Knight and Billy Jo Cowan that I really appreciate them asking about me very much, and when I think about kids like them and the grown people back home that I have grown up with and been buddies and sweethearts with it makes me want to fight those yellow dogs that much harder.
"Mother, you said something about reading God's word. I didn't think it was so important until my first battle, then for my first time I really prayed to God. He was the only one who I had to turn to. And you know when I got through praying, in my mind and to myself, I actually felt stronger and less afraid. I realized that there was really a God I could turn to for help.
"Mother, I want you to tell Dad this for me, if he really loves me that I would like for him to go and hear God's word.
"Well, I shouldn't tell you my troubles, just say Hello to all my buddies and girl friends. Be sure and send me the Lynn County News. You don't know how much I appreciate your letters, just don't worry about me, I'm in good hands and am fine. I miss you very much and wish that I could see you, more every day that I am away. Remember I will always love you no matter what happens. I love you with all my heart.
"Tell Brother Dale Hello and that I wish I could listen to his sermons again. I must close now. Ovid M., I sure would like to hear from you. Your son for always.—Wayland."

Cpl. Kelly Hill of Lubbock Army Flying School was here Thursday visiting relatives.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The tradition of American cavalry threads back to Indian warfare days and although modern armies are largely motorized today, the cavalry still plays an important role. Sturdy, well trained horses and excellent equipment and trappings are necessary.

When men are in the saddle for hours, their saddles, saddle rolls and other equipment must be made to stand the wear. Complete with carbine and helmets, the equipment for the cavalryman runs into hundreds of dollars. You can help provide this with your War Bond purchases. If you have not done so, join the Payroll Savings Plan and put ten percent of your income into War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

SPECIAL SERVICES AT THE NAZARENE CHURCH
On Friday night, the 19th, Rev. John L. Knight, the district superintendent, will be here for the service.

Sunday the 21st, at 3 o'clock, the O'Donnell Nazarene Church will be here giving a program.

We have just closed a Sunday School contest between the O'Donnell and Tahoka churches in which Tahoka came out ahead. So O'Donnell is to give us a special service. Every one is invited.

The revival now in progress is going just fine. Good services every night. Come out and worship with us.—Henry Thomas, Pastor.

WOMEN CAN BE SLACKERS

Red Cross volunteers are making the bulk of all surgical dressings needed for the Army.

The questions are frequently asked: "Why does the Red Cross make surgical dressings? Why does the Army not buy them from the manufacturers?"

"The answer is simple," says Mrs. Richard M. Bissell, assistant director of the Production Corps. "It is because the manufacturers have neither the facilities nor the labor to undertake suddenly this vast program. Therefore, the Red Cross was asked to make them—not just to keep the women busy," but as a definite clear-cut need and obligation to be met."

More than 10,000,000 surgical dressings have already been sent to Russia for the men wounded in the defense of Stalingrad and in fighting in other places. A large quantity has been sent to Australia, not only for American wounded but for Australian hospitals. Every woman engaged in this task knows now vital it is that she keep busy at it, making the maximum number of dressings per day. Her day's labor may be only sufficient to keep one badly wounded man in surgical dressings for a short time.

You cannot go abroad to minister to our boys, but you have the satisfaction of knowing that the Red Cross is looking after their immediate needs.

Our boys are fighting to preserve our American way of life, fighting that we may survive, and we should provide a medium of comfort so that they may have their prayers answered, and not cry out "Why have you forsaken me?"

We must have more workers in the surgical dressing room to help us meet the need for these dressings.

The woman who fails to do her part in this phase of the war effort is just as much a slacker as the man who dodges the draft.—Contributed.

Mrs. Lynn Browning of Redwine underwent a major operation in the Lamesa General Hospital at 7:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. At noon she was resting well, according to her mother, Mrs. H. C. Harter of Tahoka.

Defense Guard...

hoka unit's increase in size. There are now 71 men enlisted in the company, and in addition ten or twelve school boys under the age limit of 16 years are receiving the instruction and drilling.

Following a short drill period, Major C. H. Swick and Cpl. Elmer J. Muskopf, of the U. S. Army, presented a four-reel training talkie-film used by the Army in its program through courtesy of the British Army.

Though practically all the Guard equipment is furnished by the Army and the State of Texas, the State Guard officials have recently requested that each unit have some local financial backing for incidentals and for material that the Army could not furnish.

Since the Marion G. Bradley post of the American Legion organized the local unit, furnishes the meeting place, etc., Happy Smith and Aubra Cade of the Legion, joined by a citizen's committee composed of D. W. Gaignat, Deen Nowlin, Wynne Collier, and possibly others sought funds sufficient to keep Company F located in Tahoka.

The City of Tahoka volunteered $10.00 per month to its support last week. Then, Monday the county commission pledged $35.00 per month for operating expenses.

Among training equipment and expenses needed by the Guard, a part of which the men have been paying out of their own pockets heretofore, or has been donated by various business and civic organizations, includes: Radio equipment, mobile kitchen, manuals and other training literature, reserve rations, semaphore flags, blinker equipment, targets, part of the ammunition not furnished by the government, mess supplies (not that donated by Tahoka business firms for regular meeting refreshments), traveling expenses of officers to Battalion meetings, insignias, lights for drill field and armory, gasoline for mobilization, etc.

"The Government thinks the Guard of such importance that it has placed more than $10,000.00 worth of equipment at the disposal of the local company and is sending us more all the time," Capt. E. R. Edwards asks The News to state. "The men are willing to give their time in training and have never kicked about paying incidental expenses, but the incidentals have been growing at such a rapid rate, we do not feel it is right for them to have to get out and hustle rands to keep the unit in Lynn county. This unit is not only of service as possible protection in case of invasion, riots, storms, etc., but is possibly of even greater value because of the military training it is giving scores of Lynn county men. Many of our men who have gone into the Army tell us the training they got in the Defense Guard has been worth much to them in the Army.

"The officers and men greatly appreciate the backing given them by Lynn county, the City of Tahoka, and Tahoka business firms, are showing their appreciation in the fine attendance at training sessions.

"We hope it will not be necessary for us to use all the funds appropriated by the County and City, but we need much of this fund badly and the situation could arise where we would need immediate funds for emergency."

Refreshments, of sandwiches and coffee were served the men Monday night by men of the Soil Conservation office. Two weeks ago J. B. Oliver furnished the "eats," which fact The News failed to mention. Rifle practice will be held again Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Liquor Cases...

after suds. They loaded 768 bottles of beer and one Negro man into their cars and brought them to Tahoka.

Ross indicated Monday that he wanted to plead guilty, but when brought before his Honor, Judge Chester Connolly, he maintained that he did not have the beer in his possession for the purpose of sale. He was escorted back up to a cell in the jail and when he was brought down the next day he entered a clear-cut plea of guilty.

He had been before the Court on a liquor charge once before, and so Judge Connolly doubled the penalty this time. Instead of assessing the lowest fine, $100.00, he made it $200.00, and the costs ran it up to about $230.00.

But that bunch of officers on that raiding expedition Saturday night were not satisfied with one victim. They had an inkling that another colored brother over in the northeast portion of the county was also treading forbidden paths. Accordingly, they stopped at the domicile of one Robert Lott somewhere this side of Southland. There they got some stuff they called whiskey. They found a whole barrel of it and poured it out. They brought Lott to the jailhouse, and on Monday he too confessed his guilt before the Court, and his fine was placed at $100.00, and the costs were about thirty bucks additional.

An O'Donnell Mexican, Sam Gomez, who had been arrested a week before for the unlawful possession of a quantity of beer, decided to make it unanimous, and so he also entered his plea and heard the penalty announced, $100.00 fine and the costs.

County Attorney Calloway Huffaker says that a number of people have been wondering what officers do with intoxicating liquors which they confiscate. He asks therefore that we state that every drop of it is turned in to the State Liquor Board. The Board disposes of it in wet territory, but they must keep a strict accounting of every drop of liquor received and every drop disposed of.

February, the amount being more than $90,000, but stated that sales were not so brisk this month.

Walter Anglin made an announcement about the Red Cross drive, urging everyone to contribute.

President Truett Smith also announced that the Club would entertain the Rotary Anns at the Grade School building next Thursday night with a banquet and program.
