In Service As Well As Money

Community Benefits Many Ways From School Tax Dollars

Suppose you are the head of an average size family. A householder with two or three children in school.

Now, according to a survey recently completed, your school taxes in the Muleshoe Independent School District will average somewhat less than $50 annually. Quite a bit less, unless you happen to be overly blessed with property within the district.

All right, now suppose you read that little article over there in the last issue of The Journal wherein Superintendent H. M. Kirk and the school board say they're going to have to be more money if a stepped up educational program is put into effect next fall.

Your first reaction might well be: "Fine, let them put more emphasis on science and math and music and physical education, as well as driver education. But what's all the kick about money? We don't just get through voting

Only 24 Votes Cast In Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum

Only 24 Bailey county wheat farmers cast ballots in the June 20 wheat marketing quota referendum, with 18 votes in favor of continuation of the marketing quotas, and six votes being cast against the proposition.

If the referendum carries by a two-thirds majority vote it will mean that price supports will continue on their present level. The election has no effect on acreage restrictions and allotments, these being set by federal law.

Many farmers and others have been confused, says ASC officials, who conduct the election, as to the relation between the election and acreage allotments.

She was the world's most famous aviatrix, and she was flying around the world. Her name was Amelia Earhart Putnam, and she had opened up new worlds of achievement for the "weaker sex", setting records that few men could match in the air.

She was somewhere over the Pacific Ocean when the last radio message came from her. It said, "Position doubtful". There was no more. All America waited for another word. Warships and airplanes were sent out to search for her. They found nothing, not a trace. And no other word ever came from her.

But there was a final letter to her husband, one she had left behind... just in case. It expressed the courage of a great woman. When Mr. Putnam opened it, he read: "Please know I am quite aware of the hazards... Women must try to do things as men have tried..."

Remember the year? In that year a man who owned a car made sure he kept it in safe, tiptop condition. He looked around for reliable service... and he didn't take chances by "letting things go" for a few more miles.

The year was 1937. Service is our business... and we have the best factory trained mechanics... plus the most up-to-date equipment to give you reliable service, from a brake job to body and paint work. For dependable auto sales and service, see—

Muleshoe, Texas
May 7, 1958

To Whom It May Concern:

For several years I suffered with severe headaches which occurred regularly and quite often. These headaches were of the migraine type. I tried many different medications with little results.

On February 22, 1957, I became a patient at the Muleshoe Chiropractic Clinic. At this time I also suffered from dizziness, low blood pressure, stomach trouble, gall bladder and chronic appendicitis. I have not had a headache for several months and all of the other conditions have improved greatly. I was so pleased with the results that my wife and two of our children have become patients.

Noted Musician Gives Thoughts On Education

Mrs. E. H. Kennedy of Muleshoe was among those who attended a four day piano workshop in Lubbock last week under the directions of Alfred Mirovitch, noted musician.

A number of his comments appear so appropriate of other fields of endeavor that part of them are reprinted here.

Mirovitch is a pianist and lecturer from the Boston Conservatory of Music, and is widely recognized for his accomplishments in music.

He expressed his convictions that there are two basic principles that must be followed in the acquiring of learning.

After Russia launched the first satellite, some said 10,000 engineers or scientists are needed, he said. "That is nonsense. You cannot mass produce learning or scientists", he stated. "It takes several generations to produce them—several generations of learning and hard work."

"Secondly", he stated, "it takes several generations of learning how to think logically, purposefully, and it also takes several generations to develop in the people of the nation the deepest respect and admiration for knowledge and the fine arts."

"It is only by struggling, by overcoming obstacles that character is developed and real knowledge acquired. Once and for all, there is no easy way to achievement. Neither was it intended by our Creator that their should be an easy way."

Muleshoe Sorority Chapter Presents Check To Children's Training Center

Students of the Lubbock Children's Training Center will benefit from a presentation of $238 made by District 9 of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. The donation is earmarked for purchasing tools for the school's workshop.

According to Johnny Ferguson, president of the board of trustees for the Center, the school is designed for the trainable retarded living in the Lubbock area.

The center has been the district's philanthropic project for the past three years, and their efforts next year again will be concentrated on the school's workshop.

Chapters represented in the district are Plainview, Sudan, Muleshoe, Brownfield, Plains, Seminole, Seagraves, DeWitt, and Lubbock.

The Muleshoe Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority participated in a number of local philanthropies. Three pairs of glasses were presented to children in the primary grades and clothes were given to the welfare department.

A Christmas dinner and other food supplies was furnished to a family with gifts and clothing being given to the children. The Sorority also participated in the Mother's March on Polio.

Cotton Uses Little Water Until Fruiting Begins Advises Ag Experts

High Plains irrigation farmers were reminded this week that in the summer crops consume greater amounts of water, but the cotton plant itself uses very little moisture until it starts fruiting. "Then it will use approximately one-fourth inch water daily," officials at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock report. "June irrigation usually doesn't pay, it may even cost farmers yield and money if cotton is watered too early and the plant thrown into vegetative growth," Don L. Jones, former station superintendent, explained. "Quality cotton is produced with fewer irrigations. In 1957, spring rains after pre-planting irrigation caused delay in planting or slow growing off, and fall rains on top of summer irrigation caused slow maturity and low grades of cotton. "Now in 1958, due to rains and moisture received, we have an underground condition as good as could be asked for. Farmers should remember the first summer irrigation should be made at the time of their first bloom. It should provide moisture to a depth of 2 to 3 feet. Earlier irrigation not only encourages vegetative growth but often retards fruiting and delays maturity. Each operator must estimate the time required to cover his entire field. This means some must start earlier than others. "Additional summer irrigations tend to increase yields but lower quality, which may mean lower net returns", Jones concluded.

The cut-off date on irrigation should occur at the last average effective boll set, or about August 25. Check with your county agent to be certain of timing in your particular area. Later irrigations cause immature cotton.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FRIEND SEEKS TO LEARN THOMAS' WHEREABOUTS

In a letter to The Journal, the Guy Garrisons seek information as to the present whereabouts of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas. Both couples formerly lived here. If any reader has this information, the Garrisons will be deeply grateful if he will write them. The letter follows:

Ft. Worth, June 21, 1938
Muleshoe Journal:
Would you please print this in order that I might contact a friend if possible.

They are Robert and Frances Thomas, whom I last saw in 1938. When we knew them he was working for a road construction crew, and quit that to go to work on a ranch. Frances was Frances Parrish before she married Thomas. At one time she was a case worker for Bailey County WPA.

They would remember us as the Garrisons, Guy and Lavonia. Guy was a dump truck driver from Ft. Worth. We would love so much to contact them, as through the years we have lost contact with them.

If you would print this, then maybe someone who knows them and knows where they are would let me hear from them or maybe they would read it and write me. Thank you so much.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR FATHERS!

There's an old saying that "Mother knows best". Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you he appreciates these attentions. But he will, as all good fathers do!

Millen, Sooter Confer In Santone On Bracero Law

W. T. Millen and Joe Sooter left Monday for San Antonio, where they met with other Texas users of Mexican Nationals to discuss current problems facing the Bracero Program and the extension of Public Law 78. In the discussions, they were representing Plains Cotton Growers, Muleshoe Vegetable Growers, Western Texas Farm Labor Association and Bailey County Farm Bureau. This is a continuation of the efforts initiated several weeks ago by the local Farm Bureau to assure an adequate supply of farm labor at prices farmers can afford to pay. These efforts have entailed two trips to Washington by Millen and one trip by Sooter and Representative Jesse Osborn. On these trips Millen and Sooter appeared before the House Agricultural Sub-committee on extension of the Bracero Program under Public Law 78, and with other representatives of the Mexican National Users Association spent a busy week conferring with members of the House and Senate and officials of the Department of Labor.

After returning from Washington, Millen, Sooter and Osborn conferred with Gov. Price Daniel in Plainview on the farm labor problem. At this meeting Gov. Daniel promised them his fullest cooperation in solving the problem.

As Millen and Sooter left for San Antonio, they stated that there was nothing wrong with the intent and purpose of P. L. 78 but there was a whale of a lot wrong with the intent and purpose of Department Labor officials administering the law.

Bulk Handling Of Milk Subject For USDA Bulletin

If the trend toward handling bulk milk experienced in Texas during 1956 and 1957 continues at the same rate, it is doubtful that any Grade "A" milk will be handled in cans in the state by the end of 1962.

This statement is made in a bulletin just released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entitled "Bulk Handling of Milk on Texas Dairy Farms". The bulletin is a summary of information obtained in the North Texas and Corpus Christi areas during the spring and summer of 1957 on dairy farms which have converted their operations to the bulk system of producing and handling milk.

According to the bulletin, Texas dairy farmers are operating larger units, milking more cows, selling more milk and generally becoming more commercialized. They also are making efforts to increase their efficiency by utilizing methods which contribute to more efficient production and marketing of fluid milk.

Dairy farmers purchase bulk equipment to save on transportation costs, to reduce physical requirements of labor and to produce more sanitary milk, states the bulletin. Other reasons include pressure from handlers, replacement of worn-out can equipment and attainment of more accurate milk weights and butter-fat tests.

The high cost of tanks and other equipment is the main obstacle to the rapid adoption of the bulk system.

This new bulletin contains much information on this subject. Some of the topics discussed are characteristics of bulk producers; effect of bulk operation; advantages and disadvantages of bulk handling; bulk tank cost; and comparison of investment and saving.

It may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for bulletin 894.

* "The deep well cooker is so wonderful for making soups and stews that it's not surprising it does a wonderful job sterilizing baby's bottles. This is a new use that the Public Service Home Service Advisor told me about when I first got my electric range."

...and sterilizes baby's bottles, too!

"I've found it's economical and practical to prepare soups and stews in large quantities in the deep well cooker and then freeze part for later use. There just seems to be no limit to the things you can do with an electric range."

"Thanks to the dependability of electric cooking, I can set my range to cook while I'm out. I love to entertain and with people in the house, I'm not tied down to the kitchen. I just let Reddy take over. So, in or out of the house, Reddy makes a good, silent, non-complaining servant."

BABSON MAKES Important Suggestion To Labor Union Leaders

Babson Park, Mass., June 26— I have not before commented on the terrible factory fire in New York City of some months ago because I wished to get the facts. I had prepared a fire-extinguishing equipment available. Fire losses could also be cut if we would learn how to use more fully the various fire-proof building materials and home and office furnishings now on the market.

During the past winter, I have been shocked at the losses of life and property which occurred in a series of fires in factory buildings. The New York blaze, above mentioned, snuffed out 24 lives. All of these lives could have been saved if the factory had had a "sprinkler system". Of course, regular fire drills are helpful; but factory workers get panicky and forget what the drills taught them. The only answer is stricter fire laws which would compel sprinklers which would put out fires before they could gain headway and become unmanageable.

Sprinklers afford the only real protection in factories employing more than 50 people. They are not costly to maintain once they are installed. The installation investment in sprinklers is also profitable financially because, to a certain extent, their cost is offset by lower insurance rates. When you or one of your family accepts a job, see if he or she is protected by sprinklers. Small factories are the very buildings which constitute the greatest fire hazards.

Importance of Sprinklers

Except for those caused by explosions, nearly all fires could be smothered at their start if people would not get panicky and if they had proper fire-extinguishing equipment available. Fire losses could also be cut if we would learn how to use more fully the various fire-proof building materials and home and office furnishings now on the market.

Most of our newer buildings, whether large or small, residential or commercial, are equipped with various fire-assistant features. Fireproof doors are now fairly common. These safeguards will confine a fire, but they will not eliminate its destructive powers to life through panic and smoke. Now that labor unions are being so severely criticized, they should become more interested in constructive measures which will truly benefit their members. Surely one of these is that every factory in which union labor is employed should be protected by sprinklers.

These unions could also urge that more asbestos to be used in the construction of factories, stores, and homes, as well as more extensive fire-alarm systems and sprinklers. I have in mind asbestos gloves to be worn upon to put out small fires; asbestos bed strips designed to help prevent fires due to careless smoking; asbestos desk portfolios in which to keep important letters and papers. You can also buy flame-resistant draperies, rugs, and textiles. I forecast that the day will come when we will sleep on asbestos pillows and wear non-flammable pajamas!

Sandhills Philosopher Wants To Be Showered With Gifts To See If They Influence Him Any

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably is in the wrong location for the test he proposes this week, but that's his lookout, not ours.

Dear editor:

Me and some of my neighbors were sitting around out here yesterday afternoon discussing the grave matter of gifts and whether or not a man can accept em without obliging himself to return the favor.

One of my neighbors said it was impossible for a man in public office to accept a gift without developing a warm spot for the man who did the giving, and another said it was, while a third said it might be possible, but he wasn't sure he wanted to deal with a man who could accept a present from you and still be just as cold toward you as he was before. "Who wants even a dog that won't wag his tail when you throw him a bone?" he wanted to know.

Well, now, I'll tell you. As I understand it the problem of gifts to public officials has been bothering public servants ever since somebody sent George Washington a can of powder for his wig, and I have decided it's time to pit a man's character against a batch of gifts, and if nobody else wants the job, I'll take it on. I don't mean there aren't a lot of public officials who don't want the job, or who haven't already got it, but I mean somebody who wants to take on the job out in public. Accepting a gift that doesn't come to light, unless a Congressional investigating committee stumbles on it is one thing, but what I'm talking about is accepting it in broad daylight.

Now right off I'd like to say that I don't have much use for a vicuna coat, don't believe it'd be practical to plow in, and a $200 rug would be wasted in my house until I get the roof fixed.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Weekly Cotton Insect Report

Early season cotton insect infestations decreased in a majority of fields during the past week. In localities where hard rains fell populations were further reduced. Cotton generally showed improvement in appearance with satisfactory growth.

Thrips infestations were reported lighter than a week ago in most counties. In occasional plantings of cotton heavy infestations of the insects were present. Continued strong winds hampered control applications. Under such conditions, the degree of control was often unsatisfactory.

Fleahoppers were reported on early planted cotton in most localities. Infestations were generally light. Insecticidal applications were made for control of the pest in scattered fields, particularly in the southern part of the area. As cotton reaches the fruiting stage, the crop should be checked for presence of the fleahopper. Heaviest damage usually occurs soon after squaring begins.

Aphids and lygus bugs were reported in light infestations in occasional fields. Grasshoppers were also present in most fields but no serious damage to cotton was reported.

ARE WE LOSING THE COLD WAR?

A man who should know—Sen. Stuart Symington—solemnly warns the Nation that we are in grave danger of losing the cold war to the Communist Bloc nations.

Such a warning coming from an acknowledged authority on national defense carries tremendous weight. It should shock and alert every American. It shocked the Senate into almost a billion dollar increase in the defense budget.

Sen. Symington of Missouri probably knows as much about national defense as any man in Washington. Before being elected to the Senate he was Assistant Secretary of War for Air, and Secretary of the Air Force. He is a member of the Armed Services Committee and the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee.

When it became known that he planned to address the Senate on national defense, other Senators came to listen and the galleries were packed. His warning, however, needs more emphasis than press reports gave it.

Our Survival Threatened

"If," he said, "we continue to drift as we are drifting, the question of our survival as a great Nation will become as important to us tomorrow as it is to the people of France today."

"We still have the right to choose the way, but if we continue to drift and dream, that choice will not be ours for long."

The greatest threat to our survival in the conflict with communism, Sen. Symington declared, is the smug complacency with which we take for granted that we can win all wars because we never lost one.

We already have suffered a series of diplomatic defeats, he said. American prestige is at a low ebb all over the world. Russia is not unaware that we are experiencing serious economic difficulties.

"Russian military superiority is more than idle boast. Russia alone has 175 divisions that are combat-ready. We are in the process of reducing our Army to 14 divisions, at least 4 of which are largely equipped with World War II weapons," Symington said.

Soviets Are Gaining

"Russia is at least 2 or 3 years ahead of us in missile development, and gaining. She has put into orbit a 3,000-lb. missile, more than 100 times as large as anything we can send up."

"The United States cannot air-lift and properly support over-seas a single division. We would have to depend upon some miracle to transport troops where needed."

"We knew as far back as two years ago that Russia had a modern fleet of some 500 submarines, more than 10 times the number Hitler had. Russia has the capacity to launch missiles from nuclear-powered submarines."

"The facts show clearly and incontrovertibly that the military strength of the Communists is growing faster than our own. The survival of the United States demands that we embark immediately upon an all-out, top-priority research and development effort in the field of new weapons."

Today's Meditation

Read Psalm 23
 God is at work in you, both to will and to work for his good pleasure. (Philippians 2:13, RSV)

Listening to a radio one day, I heard these words, "Movement always wins; consider the water which drop by drop wears away the stone." One might want to qualify that statement a bit; but consider also the seed.

The seed falls on a bit of soil in a crevice of a rock. It is a tiny seed. What chance has it for growth in that unlikely place? But life and purpose are within the seed, and in time it bursts its bonds. A stem grows toward the sun, and a root makes its way into the bit of soil. Time passes, a tree grows, and the rock is split asunder. Yes, movement wins — purposeful, God-given movement.

I am very small until I remember that it is always God and I. With Him, my weakness becomes strength, my faltering steps become purposeful, my feeble efforts become victory.

It is a glorious experience to work with God. He works in us and through us. We cannot fail!

PRAYER
 Thou great and almighty God, we humbly thank Thee for the opportunity to work with Thee. Keep us aware of Thy nearness. Guide us when ways are sunny and when paths are dark. Thou are our strength. We seek no credit for ourselves as we work in Thy kingdom. Thine is the power and the glory forever. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 "I can do all things in him who strengthens me."
 —Ethel B. Zeller (Ore.)

Hi-Klearance PLOWS

Quality built for dependability and long-life. MM Hi-Klearance Plows are famous for light draft, correct scouring, and high lift. Here's the plow with a clearance of 23 1/2 inches between the point of the share and the underside of the beam. (26 1/2 inches on 16-inch plow) A high transporting lift of 10 inches provides easier turning at the ends of the field and prevents dragging of trash and stubble. MM's quick-action Uni-Matic power-lift provides a 7-inch lift without a lever change. A 10-inch lift is used to give extra high clearance when plowing unusually deep or in very soft ground. Since the plow can be set 12 inches deep, it will meet your most extreme needs.

UNI-MATIC POWER
MM's Uni-Matic hydraulic power-lift enables the operator to raise or lower implements automatically, permits pre-selecting or changing tool depth or height of cut. Uni-Matic Power reduces the fatigue, labor and drudgery of farming and is optional with MM's R, Z, U, and G Visionlined tractors. To Insure A Full Measure— A Measure of Protection

Practically everything we buy from the main course of Sunday dinner to the cross-town ride in a taxicab—is bought in terms of measure or weight. And the accuracy of devices which function to give us and those we patronize correct weight or measure is a matter of great importance. In Texas, the responsibility for seeing that such accuracy is the rule is a little-known but highly significant function of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Through vigorous enforcement of our Texas Weights & Measures Law by regular investigation and frequent spot-checking, savings amounting to many thousands of dollars annually are effected for Texas citizens.

Such protection is not accidental in its accomplishment. Since 1951, when I first took office, frequency of weights and measures violations has decreased in some instances by as much as 300 per cent.

For example, in 1951, about seven out of ten pre-packaged food items such as meat, poultry, and cheese were incorrectly marked as to weight; during 1957, an average of only three out of ten were found incorrectly marked, and two of these were very apt to be in the buyer's favor.

In another area of major consumer expense where measure is of great importance—gasoline purchasing—an accuracy improvement of over 100 per cent has been effected since 1951.

Seven years ago, the state average for faulty gasoline pumps was 1 out of every 4.5 inspections. In 1957, a total of 43,203 Texas pumps were checked and only 1,623 were condemned for repairs—averaging 1 for every 9.1 pumps.

To have achieved such results has not been without effort. Last year, we pushed our record to a total of 574,081 inspections of weight and measuring devices—ranging from tiny, intricate pharmaceutical scales to ton-unit hopper scales. This is almost twice as many inspections as the 299,201 made in 1951.

With this increase in services has come the resultant increase in protection. And added experience, increased legislative support, and encouragement from all Texans has made this possible.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

We know that you have seen CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) posters at some, maybe all of the elevators during wheat harvest, and we hope the leaflet on CROP was in all the church bulletins last Sunday. We also hope you have read and asked questions about this program, which has been going on for several years since the war. We believe that if you understood how it works, you will gladly make a contribution of grain, or if you have no grain, money in lieu of it, to the program.

For each bushel of grain you give, twenty or more bushels will be placed in the hands of representatives of your church in the areas of countries where there are hungry boys and girls and adults. This is a good way for you to help dispose of government surplus, but above all, it is a good way to distribute food to hungry people of the world. Brother Hugh Blaylock, pastor to the Friona Methodist Church is organizational director for CROP in Parmer and two or three other counties.

As we said last week, there was a grasshopper meeting in the Farm Bureau office Monday night of last week, and another in the school house in Friona Tuesday night. There were about forty people in attendance at the two meetings combined. If you would like to participate in a grasshopper eradication program in cooperation with your neighbors, you should see your gin, or one of the directors of Farm Bureau.

The directors will explain the program to you, and/or direct you to a gin, where you can enlist. It is, of course necessary that several farms of an area get together for effective treatment.

We hope you are all watching for bindweed patches and participating in the program of eradication. You are fortunate in having the cooperation of state and county road men in this battle against bindweed, and we feel that there would be many more acres of infestation had it not been for the operation of the program, under the direction of the Farm Bureau Weed Committee the past four years.

One more warning won't hurt: Be extremely careful about hazards of fire around wheat fields.

Electric Ginning Conference Set For July 1, Lubbock

An electric ginning conference, the first ever to be held for gin owners in the Plains-Panhandle area of Texas, will be presented in the ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel, in Lubbock, on Tuesday, July 1. It has been announced by Earl Hobbs, president of the Plains Ginners Association.

Hobbs said, "This will be an important conference for gin owners because it will enable them to adapt modern methods of utilizing electric power to their operations and so operate more efficiently with greater profit to themselves and their customers."

Hobbs said that the conference will be under the joint sponsorship of the Association, the Southwestern Public Service Company, and the Extension Service. Highlighting the conference, which will begin with registration at 8:30 a.m., will be technical talks in laymen's terms covering 7 vital areas in the utilization of electric power in cotton gins.

Roger Owen, assistant industrial manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, will speak at 9:30 a.m. His subject, which will establish the key for the ensuing talks, will be "Common Electrical Terms." Owen will be followed by Bill Bonney, General Electric Company electric cotton gin specialist, from Dallas, speaking on "Types and Selection of Motors for Gins."

Another Lubbock man will present "Maintenance Program for Gin Motors." He is H. J. Witche, manager of W. M. Smith Electric, Lubbock.

Following lunch, Joe Jones, Extension Service ginning specialist, Texas A&M College, will call the expected 300 delegates to order.

In the afternoon, "Motor and Lighting Circuit Protection" and "Effect of Size and Length of Wire on Operation of Electric Gin Equipment" will be presented by Roy James and Marvin Standefer, respectively. James is a power sales engineer for the Public Service Company, and Standefer is Plains Division Utilization Manager for the electric light and power company.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Senator Lyndon Johnson

Dear Friend:

The Space Agency Bill passed by the Senate this week without opposition had been reported by unanimous agreement of the Special Senate Committee on Space and Astronautics. I am Chairman of this Committee, and I have never served with any group that approached its work with greater seriousness.

That is as it should be. Man presumes much when he presumes to bring the dominion of the stars within the purview of his legislative processes and under the jurisdiction of his administrative agencies.

Some say we now stand at the edge of the battleground for Armageddon. Others believe we are poised before the plains of millennium. In either case, we have no national option but to marshal our resources, order our course, and proceed beyond the shelter and sanctuary of Earth's atmosphere into the realm of the limitless unknown.

To proceed prudently—or to proceed at all—we must of necessity proceed by faith. Humility is a proper companion for this national journey.

As a nation, we are motivated not by fear, but rather, by great confidence that extension of our capacity into the realms of space will some day bring release from fear—for ourselves and all mankind.

We are moved by no thought of aggrandizement. We have no intention of planting flags of conquest upon the planets or of laying annexation claims to the stars. We do propose that space shall never become the route of march for tyrants and totalitarians and, as we have dedicated our resources in the past to maintaining the freedom of the seas and the security of the skies, so shall we dedicate our national capacity to maintaining the neutrality of space.

Space neither invites nor necessitates any re-definition of American goals and aims.

The goal of peace and liberty has led Americans throughout our history to explore the dimensions of challenging frontiers. Our goal now remains unchanged.

The nature of space, we must recognize, is quite apart from the nature of land frontiers. We were permitted, in the development of the American West, to roll back the unknown at our leisure, confident as we did so that such gains as we claimed would be permanently ours. With space, neither such leisure nor such vice-president of M. B. McKee Company of Lubbock, will make the final presentation. Brown's talk is entitled, "Economics of Proper Fan Speeds and Loads."

The all-day session is scheduled to adjourn at 3:45 p.m. in order to enable participants to return home the same day. Hobbs said that there would be no charge for those attending.

confidence is permitted.

Space has given priority to a new denominator of national strength—the human mind. Unless this resource receives continuous exercise, our presumptions of security are meaningless.

We are, therefore, faced with the challenge of devising a policy and a program assuring the Nation the fullest mobilization of a resource which, among free men, is not responsive to directive and command.

That is the challenge. Mankind has never faced a greater one.
