Two Are Injured Seriously Tuesday In Car Accident

Evelyn Mae Mitchell, about 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Mitchell, and Don Ware, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ware, were each seriously hurt Tuesday night when Miss Mitchell, coming along the highway with others from the skating rink to town near the eastern limits of the city, was struck by a car coming in the same direction on the fender of which young Ware was riding.

Both bones of one of the girl's legs below the knee were broken and the broken ends left protruding through the flesh and skin. She was taken to a Lubbock hospital for surgical treatment and was reported Thursday to be making satisfactory improvement.

Ware's nose was broken and the front portion of the skull on the left side of the forehead was crushed. He was reported to be conscious Thursday morning but physicians feared that serious consequences might yet result.

L. O. Mitchell, father of the girl, has been district service man for the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company here for many years. Mr. Ware, father of the young man, is Engineer's aid for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the soil conservation office here.

The girls were coming from the skating rink walking along on the left side of the highway when a car came up from behind them and had slowed down presumably to pick them up when another car, driven by Cloyse Leverett, and coming in the same direction, swerved onto the left side of the pavement to pass the slowing car. The driver evidently did not see the girls. A couple of boys, it is said, were riding on the front fenders, one of whom was Don Ware. When the car struck Evelyn Mae her head was thrown violently backward striking Don. Whether his injuries were the result of the collision of the two bodies or were sustained a moment later when his head struck the pavement seems not to have been made clear.

An O'Donnell girl who was visiting here was also struck but her injuries were very slight.

Dispute Over Hogs Ends In Killing

H. H. Williams, about 55, was held in lieu of a $10,000 bond at Brownfield Monday, charged with the slaying on Saturday of R. E. Hodges, about 45, both being Terry county farmers. Hodges was buried at Pride in Dawson county Monday afternoon.

County Attorney Virgil Crawford hastened to the scene of the killing Saturday morning in response to a telephone call from the sheriff, who was out of the city at the time. He said that he found Williams standing near the dead body, which was lying in the public road, 300 yards from Williams' residence. Hodges had been shot in the head. Williams was still holding a 12-gauge shotgun in his hand. Two exploded shells were lying in the road and three unexploded shells were still in the gun. A 410-gauge sawed-off shotgun was lying in the road near the dead body, Crawford said.

It is believed that the difficulty between the two men arose over a disagreement about hogs belonging to Williams. Hodge had sent word to Williams by a negro farm hand, it is said, asking that Williams keep up his hogs and not permit them to stray over his premises. The two men were neighbors living about twenty miles southeast of Brownfield.

A grand jury was to be convened in Brownfield Wednesday of this week by Judge J. E. Garland of Lamesa, acting judge of the 106th judicial district, to investigate the alleged crime.

Williams formerly lived in Lynn county, and a few years ago he killed a man in this county who was found in his watermelon patch at night. He was not indicted for the homicide. It is said that he had previously killed another man.

Funeral Held For Wife of Soldier

Funeral services for Mrs. Willia Lavona Sheppard, wife of Garland Sheppard of Newmoore, who died in the Muskogee, Okla., General Hospital on Tuesday of last week, were held at the Harris Funeral Home here at 3:00 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, followed by burial in the O'Donnell cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. William Bozeman, pastor of the Assembly of God Church at Lamesa, who was the former pastor of deceased. He was assisted by Rev. A. E. Brown, pastor of the local Assembly of God Church.

Mrs. Sheppard and husband Garland C. Sheppard had been residents of the Wells-Newmoore area but he had been inducted into the Armed Forces for training and was in Camp Gruber. His wife went to Muskogee to be near him. Though only 35 years of age, she was suffering from cancer, and her condition gradually grew worse until death came to relieve her suffering.

She was a devout Christian character, and her untimely death was deeply deplored by many friends.

Mexicans Engage In Cutting Affray

Two Mexicans became engaged in a cutting scrape out at New Home one night last week, and one of them received a rather serious stab in the breast, it is said.

One of them is said to have been drinking and was cursing rather violently when the other drew a knife and slashed him across one arm and inflicted a slight wound across his stomach.

Then the other sank his knife blade into his assailant's breast. He was released on bond. It is thought that the man receiving the stab will recover, but if he should die a murder charge will be filed.

O. C. Cox Funeral Held Wednesday

James W. Adams, evangelist of the Church of Christ, was called to O'Donnell to conduct the funeral of O. C. Cox, 54, last Thursday. Services were held in the Church of Christ meeting house, and after the services the body was taken to the Rix Funeral Home in Lubbock to await the arrival of a son from Oregon. Graveside services were held in the O'Donnell cemetery Wednesday evening at 5:00 o'clock. Brother Adams was assisted in both services by Garnie Atkinson, local Church of Christ minister.

Cull Hens For More Eggs On Less Feed

According to J. C. Smith, county agricultural agent, now is the time to cull your flock of hens. Fifteen to twenty percent of the average flock of hens are not laying and such hens will not lay profitably later. It is estimated that there are approximately 30 million hens in Texas. Of this amount five to six million are not laying at all, or are not laying sufficiently to pay their board bill. Since there is a feed shortage, it is extremely important that the non-layer be culled in order to conserve poultry feed for the layers.

Culling is not a difficult task and requires only two to three hours for the average flock of hens.

Persons interested in culling their hens are requested to contact County Agent Smith. A school of instruction on culling is to be held in the near future.

Time For Planting Winter Pasture Near

Now is the time to start planning that winter pasture, according to J. C. Smith, county agent of the Extension Service. Everyone realizes that protein feeds have become scarce and the situation is not likely to grow better. Winter pasture will not completely solve this protein shortage problem, but will give some relief.

The small grains that make the best winter pasture are wheat, barley, and rye. Wheat probably makes the best all around winter pasture. Of the three, rye is more resistant to cold weather and does not freeze out quite as bad as barley.

The ideal time to seed the winter pasture is from August 15th to September 15th.

We all know that good pasture stimulates economical production and again cuts feed costs, reduces labor needs, and conserves the soil.

School Transfers Must Be Made Now

Funeral services for the one who died first, Lester J. Curry, were held at the home Friday afternoon and the remains were buried in the Tahoka cemetery at about 7:00 p. m.

Leslie Ray Curry, who died at 6:45 Wednesday morning, was likewise buried in the Tahoka cemetery at about 7:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, following services at the family home. The death of this infant was wholly unexpected by the parents, since it seemingly was well an hour before its death.

Rev. A. E. Brown, pastor of the Assembly of God Church here, conducted the funeral services in each instance, and burial was under the direction of the Harris Funeral Home.

The parents have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends in this their hour of sorrow and trial.

Italian Prisoners May Be Used On County's Farms

At a meeting of the commissioners court Monday with all members present, the court joined with County Agent Judge E. Smith in making application to the War Department for 1,000 of the Italian prisoners being held in the prison camp at Hereford to assist the farmers of Lynn county in the gathering of their crops this Fall.

While it is hardly expected that as many as a thousand of the prisoners may be assigned to this county, it is hoped that several hundred will be assigned.

Mr. Smith and all the members of the commissioners court except the county judge, Chester Connolly, who was ill, made a trip to Hereford a few weeks ago and saw the prisoners at work and gathered information about them. They are doing a good job at harvesting potatoes, it is said. Some of them were making good hands, while some were not so good.

If a group of them are assigned to this county, barracks will be moved to some convenient place in the county where connections can be made for electric lights, water, sewage, and emergency medical service. Guards will be in charge for each group of fifteen men, according to Judge Chester Connolly.

While the wages paid will be cheap as compared with wages paid to American labor, the wages will probably be higher than they could expect for farm work in their own countries.

Legion Officers Named Tuesday

At a regular meeting of the Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion here Tuesday night new officers were elected for the ensuing year, and barbecued chicken was served to the members and visitors. Mrs. R. L. Walthall Littlepage is the first new member coming from the service men of the present World conflict. He served for some time in the armed forces and was later discharged because of physical disabilities. He furnished the chicken for the barbecue.

C. C. Coffee, the retiring post commander, presided at the meeting Tuesday night, and Claude Conway served as mess sergeant.

S. N. Steele and Hillary Mathy were visitors.

With Mussolini a guarded prisoner in his own home, the Fascist Party disbanded, and the masses of Italy wild with delight at the break with Germany and the prospects for peace even though it must involve unconditional surrender, Germany hasn't a single friend left among all the nations of Europe. The powerful pincers are sternly closing in on the Nazis and the prospects are that Hitler will soon face the same fate that has overtaken his axis partner Germany, before many months, must yield to the same stern demand for unconditional surrender. She flung all Europe and most of the world into the holocaust of war, and now she must take the consequences. Hitler and all his cut-throat co-conspirators in Germany and Mussolini and his pals in Italy, when caught, should be tried and hanged just like any other vicious criminal, for they are the arch-criminals of the age.

Just last week the report came that twenty-six more Texans had died recently in Japanese prisons, eight or nine of them being from the Plains. Those Japs evidently are deliberately starving and neglecting the prisoners they have taken until disease takes hold upon them and finally produces death. Such barbarity is enough to make the blood of every American boil. Barbaric Japan must be utterly crushed.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eec Eye, the Elder

Whatever may have happened since and whatever may happen hereafter, it is clear that Sunday was a big day for the Allies in the progress of this war. One of the most infamous of the cut-throats who started it was compelled to take to tall timber. Italy flung off her black shog and kicked Mussolini out at the back door.

Whether Hitler was back of it or not is not known to us. Whether Hitler found that he could no longer use Mussolini to advantage or whether he was unable or unwilling to furnish the aid that the black-shirted puppet demanded, it is evident that the parting of the ways had come.

Whether Italy continues the struggle until crushed or decides to seek peace soon, the sudden passing of Mussolini is obviously the beginning of the end so far as Italy is concerned. Germans may make a great struggle to hold it or they may abandon it to its fate, but whatever course is pursued, it is clear that the heart of Italy is no longer in the war. Italians want peace. They prefer to live at peace in their own country, pursuing the even tenor of their way, than to fight and die for Hitler.

What will be Italy's fate? Nobody knows, but it is to be hoped that its fate will be set toward the rising sun of democracy and real Christianity.

Its regeneration and rehabilitation can not be accomplished in a day however; and for the security of other nations and to make sure that its people do have the opportunity to develop a spirit of freedom, self-government, and fair dealing with other nations, it must be completely disarmed. Its would-be dictators should not be permitted the means and the power to again ravish and rob a helpless country like Ethiopia or any of its weaker neighbor nations.

Idealists may decry the proposal that has often been made that America and Great Britain and other Democracies must "police the world" for many years following this war, but it seems to us that such course will be necessary.

It is perfectly true that Christianity and education are the surest safeguards for freedom and democracy and against the danger of autocracy and tyranny; but our Government is not an evangelizing agency. It can not send out missionaries to Christianize the world, not without violating one of the fundamental principles upon which this government is founded, separation of church and state.

The evangelization and Christianization of other peoples is the function of the Church and not the function of the State.

It is possible that if the Churches of this country should go "all out" for the evangelization of the heathen nations they might accomplish their task within the next three or four generations. It is true that if they should bear the torch of Christianity as it is believed and preached by Protestant and evangelical churches in this country, to the people of Italy and other Catholic countries, they might convert them to our type of Christianity—which we believe to be the true type—within a century or so.

But while all this is being done, how are we to secure the world against the ambition, the perfidy, and the aggressiveness of other dictators that may arise here and there in this old world? How are we to prevent some other Mussolini or Hitler or Tojo from setting out on another campaign to conquer first the neighboring nations and eventually the world?

It seems to us that the great Democratic governments like ours and Great Britain's should take some effective steps to do so while the Churches and the educators are accomplishing their work of enlightenment and Christianization.

This means that these Governments must form some sort of league or confederation or launch some cooperative program whereby they can promptly and summarily crush any dictator or nation that does undertake to make conquest of any nation by force of arms.

This is what we call "policing the world," and we believe that it will be a wise and necessary policy for the great Democracies to adopt and pursue following this war.

To that end, the dictator nations must first be disarmed, and they must be kept disarmed until it is fairly certain that they have no unholy and avaricious designs upon or against their neighbors.

In the meantime, Christianity should be aggressive. Christian people should be active as never before in making our own nation truly we should spend our time in trying Christian. We are not saying that to make all the people accept all the doctrines and teachings of the Bible just as we understand them. But we do believe that all the great evangelical bodies in this country should make an intensive and unending effort to bring all our people under the influence of the gospel and to make Christianity as nearly universal throughout our country as possible.

And then we should be just as zealous and persistent and intelligent in an un-ending campaign to present our Christian message to the heathen and unenlightened peoples of the world. And along with the torch of Christianity we should bear the torch of education, Christian and secular.

It is Christianity and enlightenment, or education, that in the long run will save this old world from armed conflict and chaos.

Yes, our churches must Christianize the world, and enlighten it, but in the meantime the Government also has a function to perform. It must keep a loaded gun standing in the corner behind the door, to use at a moment's notice upon any future cut-throat like Mussolini or Hitler or Tojo who starts out on a career of plunder and carnage.

Pointdexter Writes Grom Prison Camp Inside Germany

So far as the News is informed and believes, only one Lynn County man has fallen into the hands of the Germans and is in a German prison camp.

The one unfortunate man is R. V. Pointdexter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pointdexter of the Wayside filling station situated on the Tahoka-Lubbock Highway five miles west of Wilson.

Unfortunately he was captured by the Germans during the fighting in North Africa a few months ago and was taken out of Africa to Germany during the latter part of March soon after his capture.

A few days ago the parents received the following letter from their son addressed to his wife, dated March 26 and written evidently not long after he arrived in Germany.

The envelop was postmarked March 30. It is obvious, therefore, that it required a long time for it to reach the United States.

The letter follows: Kriegsgefangenenlager, Germany Datum: March 26, '43.

Dear Wife and all: Hope this finds I am feeling fine, really getting lazy, just lay around. Hope you have heard that I am OK by now.

Earl Grider Tells Of Life In New Guinea

Many Lynn county friends will be interested to learn that Pvt. Earl Grider, U. S. Army, son of Judge and Mrs. G. C. Grider, is now in New Guinea fighting the Japs.

Following is a letter received this week by Frank Hill of The News from Earl:

"I thought I would drop you a few lines this morning. Well, Frank, I am over here in New Guinea. I have been here almost three weeks. I like very well, considering things. We live in tents, and our camp is located near a creek. We bathe and wash our clothes in the clear creek water.

"It is supposed to be winter over here. Sure does get hot during the day, however. The nights are cool and comfortable. It really rains lots. It happens to be the dry season, but it rained some almost every day or night this past week.

"There are lots of bananas and coconuts now. They are beginning to ripen. The natives bring them to our camp and sell them. We can gather them ourselves but it is a hard job.

"Frank, send me The News, for I sure miss it."

Colonel and Mrs. Walter Shaddix of the Army Induction Center at Lubbock, visited in the N. E. Wood home last week while Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Wood of Hughes Springs were visiting their son. Mrs. Shaddix is the elder Woods' niece, and a cousin of N. E.

Who are non-essential travelers? You are the judge of whether or not your trip is essential - and your judgment is what our government is relying upon. Please consider these points when you think of traveling on the railroads this summer and for the duration: 1. Your trip may take a Pullman berth or chair car seat needed by men in uniform traveling under orders. 2. Your trip may delay war workers, not in uniform, in reaching their vital jobs. 3. Your trip may deprive men and women in the service of a furlough trip to visit their homefolks. If you do take a trip, plan for it in advance, travel light, consider taking a box lunch to avoid delayed meals in the diners, and make up your mind to put up with certain inconveniences and crowded conditions. WHAT ABOUT VACATION TRAVEL? Vacations should be spread out over the year, not confined to summer months. A vacation trip should be confined to one round trip only, starting and returning on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. Travel in chair cars whenever possible, and please carry only one piece of luggage. Consult your Santa Fe Agent about your travel plans. You'll find his friendly advice helpful. Burial at Seymour Mrs. Busby Dies,

Following a long period of ill health due to advancing years and to accidents which she had suffered, Mrs. Mattie Jane Busby, 85, mother of E. C. Busby of the Draw community, died in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon.

The body will remain in a funeral home in Lubbock until Saturday awaiting the arrival of relatives, after which it will be carried overland to Seymour, where funeral services will be conducted in the First Methodist Church, probably on Sunday, and the remains will be interred in Henson cemetery in the Levelview community near Seymour beside the grave of her husband, who died 20 years ago.

She is survived by four sons and a daughter, E. C. Busby of Draw, L. R. Busby of Cotton Center, M. M. Busby of Seymour, W. D. Busby of Big Spring, and Mrs. Carl B. Ogle of Hobbs, New Mexico; also by 23 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Busby, whose maiden name was Mattie Jane Irby, was born near Birmingham, Ala., April 1, 1858. She came with her parents to Texas in early life and grew up in the vicinity of Austin, where she was married to N. J. Busby more than 60 years ago. The couple lived in Tahoka as early as 1916 and later lived at Seymour. Her husband died at that place July 27, 1923. Since that time she had made her home with her children, spending much of the time with her son E. C. Busby and family.

A few years ago she suffered the fracture of both hips in two separate accidents in the same year, and she had not been well since.

Two Sons of Barnes Are In The Pacific

Mrs. A. J. Barnes of the Wells community was a visitor in Tahoka Monday and in conversation with a representative of The News stated that she has two sons in the Marines, both in the Pacific.

One of the sons, Ike Barnes, who is now believed to be in Australia, first saw service in the Solomons. As early as August of last year he was on Guadalcanal fighting to hold that island against the Japs, and of course he had some harrowing experiences.

The other son, James, was a guard at Pearl Harbor for some time but is now stationed on some other island in the Pacific. Recently he has been in a hospital suffering from a minor injury but she does not know whether he received it in battle or accidentally.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY FOR MISS ERMA DAVIS

To announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Erma Davis of Tahoka Clinic to Floyd Bardwell of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Emil Prohl and Mrs. Helen Eubank were hostesses for an announcement shower at the former's home last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lois Daniel had charge of the bride's register, and Mrs. W. W. Hagood presided at the refreshment table, where a miniature bride and groom held a card reading "Floyd and Erma, September, 1943."

In addition to those named above the guest list included: Meses Jackie Johnson, G. M. Stewart, H. A. Nichols, Chas. Terry, K. R. Durham, C. E. Gaussloun, Marvin Woods, Reid Parker, and Kay Diane, W. W. Huffman, Clay Bennett, J. A. South, Fred Bucy, Paul Howell, Fred Cook, J. W. Elliott, R. H. Gibson, and Miss Iris Deen Cade.

J. S. Griffin, long-time citizen of Tahoka, left here Wednesday for Amarillo, where he expects to make his home, and may go on out to California later. At any rate, he did not expect to return to Tahoka soon. Mr. Griffin, father of Mrs. J. B. Anderson of Amarillo, a former resident of the New Home community, was a familiar figure on the streets of Tahoka and turned in many subscriptions to The Lynn County News the past few years.

Pvt. James Lindley of the Airborne troops, Camp Mackall, N. C., is returning to his post today after visiting here about 10 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Lindley, and other relatives and friends. Jim formerly worked in the First National Bank. He has been in the service five months.

Many friends throughout the county were delighted to learn last week that Judge Chester Connolly was able to be back in his office, after having been confined to his home for several weeks with a heart ailment, and high blood pressure. May he see many years of active service yet.

Ovid Luallin Jr. took Pfc. and Mrs. Allen Luallin and baby daughter back to Fort Dodge, Kansas, Kansas, where Pfc. Luallin is taking training in an air field, leaving here last Saturday in a car with trailer house attached. Ovid left all there and got back home early Wednesday morning.

Cpl. Freddie Washington, colored, came in last week from Camp Beal, out on the West Coast, for a visit with relatives here.

SAVE POINTS ON CORN, CAN AT HOME

By Carolyn Dixon
County Home Demonstration Agent of A & M Extension Service
Corn, as all vegetables and fruits, is a living thing. Changes begin to take place as soon as the surfaces are cut. These are enzyme changes characterized by discoloration and undesirable flavors. Therefore, work rapidly regardless of the method of preservation used in preservation. Steaming retains vitamin B and C, more minerals, and a better color. It keeps better and has a better flavor.

Canning Whole Grain Style Corn: Use young, sweet corn and get it canned as quickly as possible. Two methods may be used: Method 1: Simmer in water 4 to 5 minutes. Cut the cob deeply enough to remove most of kernels. Add half as much boiling water as weight of corn. Boil 5 minutes, pack hot. Seal. Process in pressure cooker at 12 lbs., pints 60 min., quarts 70 min., No. 2 tin cans 50 min., and No. 3 tin cans 65 min. Use C enamel cans. If field corn is used instead of sweet corn, add 10 min. to processing time. Method 2: Simmer and cut from cob as in Method 1, fill container 2-3 full of corn and finish filling with hot water, steam pints 15 minutes and quarts 20 minutes, seal while hot, and process in pressure cooker as given in Method 1.

Canning Cream Style Corn: Cut end of grain from cob before cooking. Scrape out milk from remaining part of kernel. Method 1: Add half amount of water as corn by weight, boil 5 min. Pack hot, and seal. Process quarts in pressure cooker 17 lbs. pressure, pints 75 minutes and No. 2 C enamel tin cans 70 min. Quarts and No. 3 tin cans are not recommended for cream style corn in either Method 1 or Method 2. Method 2: Fill containers 2-3 full of corn and finish filling with hot water. Steam pints 15 minutes and quarts 20 minutes. Process in pressure cooker at 17 lbs. for 75 min. for pints and No. 2 tin cans 70 min.

Freezing Corn: Sweet corn gives the best frozen product. Kernels should be milky, juicy, sweet. Prepare as for table use, scalding 4-6 min. and cooling before cutting from the cob. Use dry pack or brine in air-tight paraffin cartons preferable. Leave 3-8 inch head space for half-pints, and 3/4 in. for quarts as corn expands in freezing. Leave 1 to 1 1/2 inch headspace in pint and quart jars. Do not use larger jars. Be sure the container is AIR-TIGHT. Brine made of 4 level teaspoons dairy salt in 1 quart of water (2%) protects the food. It thaws more slowly and the color, texture and flavor are retained better.

Drying Corn: Drying is the third best method of preservation; freezing is first, and canning is second. Gather in milk stage. Cut from cob after steaming in water 15 minutes. Steaming is preferable. Dry in the oven at 130 degrees to 140 degrees F. or in a home-made sun dryer until the corn is dry and brittle. Place in deep containers and keep stirred 8 to 10 days. This is conditioning. Heat 15 to 30 minutes at a temperature from 150 to 180 degrees F. before storing in tight containers to protect product from infestation by certain kinds of beetles and moths. Bulletins on Canning, Drying, and Freezing of corn and other vegetables and fruits are now available at the office of the county home demonstration agent.

Cpl. R. A. Williams of Camp Barkley and his wife of Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. S. Williams, here a few days this week, leaving Wednesday for Dickens City, where they expected to visit her parents a few days, before returning to Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anglin and Roy spent most of last week in Comanche county visiting relatives. Mr. Anglin reports the fruit crop as rather short down there but he was lucky enough to get a few bushels of peaches at $1.50 per bushel.

Mrs. Robert Whitaker and little son Robert Wayne Jr. of Lubbock are here this week visiting her husband's aunt, Mrs. Paul Howell. Her husband, Robert Whitaker, is in the McCloskey General Hospital at Temple at the present time.

Lt. and Mrs. Skiles Thomas left this week for Pittsburg, Calif., where he will be stationed in the Army Medical Corps. Mrs. Thomas will return to Texas soon. They left the baby with its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas.

Melvin Dewberry, late of Frederick, Okla., is the new operator for the English theatres. He and his family moved here about two weeks ago.

Better Feeding For Milk Production

(By N. S. Abbott)
This is the situation: Texas dairy men have been asked to increase their total 1943 milk production about six per cent over 1942. Texas could reach its milk goal if every milk cow yielded an additional one-fourth pint per day. In other words, the average daily production per cow must be increased from 10.4 lbs. to 10.9 lbs. of milk.

Lynn county dairymen have been asked to keep 6,871 head of cows and heifers for milk which is an increase of 358 head over 1942.

A part of this year's increase will be obtained from heifers coming in to production during the year; however, this increase will probably be offset by loss of production due to old age, disease, accidents, and other causes. This means, then, that most of the increase must come from the better, well-fed and managed cows now being milked.

Suggestions as to how to increase milk production: 1. Make the best use of permanent and temporary pastures. Keep the grass of temporary pastures grazed closely as tall, coarse, stemmy grass contains little food value. 2. Feed dairy cows all the roughage, hay, silage, pasture, they will clean up all the time. 3. Feed a balanced ration at all times by fitting the grain mixture to the roughage. With high protein roughages as alfalfa, peanut, soybean, cowpea hays, or good green pasture, feed 3 lbs. of home-grown grains (without any protein supplement) per gallon of milk, for herds averaging less than 2 gallons of milk daily. For herds averaging over 2 gallons, feed 3 1/2 lbs. of grain per gallon. With medium protein roughages as equal parts of legume hays, listed above, and low protein hays such as cane, sudan, or Johnson grass hay or silage or fair pasture including Bermuda or other native green pasturage, feed herds averaging less than 2 gallons daily 3 pounds of a 20 percent protein grain mixture per gallon of milk. For herds averaging over 2 gallons daily feed 3 1/2 pounds per gallon.

With low protein roughages as cane, sudan, Johnson grass, prairie or Bermuda hay, or silage, or poor pasture such as dried grass of any type, feed herds averaging less than 2 gallons of milk daily 3 1/2 pounds of a 20 percent protein grain mixture per gallon. For herds averaging over 2 gallons daily, feed 3 3/4 pounds of an 18 percent protein grain mixture per gallon. 4. Mix grain mixtures thoroughly. 5. Supply minerals needed by dairy cattle. Calcium and phosphorus are the two most important minerals needed by dairy cows. Sources of calcium are ground limestone, oyster shell flour, and legume roughages. Bone meal contains both calcium and phosphorus. Wheat bran, calcium and phosphorus must be kept in balance when supplied in the ration. Where the grain mixture contains fair quantities of cotton seed meal and wheat bran, it is not advisable to feed bone meal. Instead, calcium is the element needed—at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 lbs. of the feed mixture. For dry cows and growing heifers, supply a mixture of three parts of bone meal to one part of salt. 6. Provide dairy cows with plenty of fresh, clean water at all times. 7. Protect cows from severe weather. 8. Milk at regular hours for best production. After milking is started it should be completed without interruption and as rapidly as possible. 9. Give each cow a six weeks' dry period. 10. Use a dairy bull that is backed by high producing ancestry.

Mrs. Floyd Jackson, a patient at the Tahoka Clinic, was taken to a Lamesa hospital early this week, where on Monday she underwent appendectomy. Reports are that she is recovering satisfactorily.

Pvt. Bennett Howell of the Amarillo Army Air Field was here last week end visiting the family of his aunt, Mrs. D. W. Gaignat.

PVT. JAMES H. COX WINS MARKSMANSHIP HONORS

Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Cox visited their son, Pvt. James H. Cox, at the Amarillo Air Field last Sunday, and they brought back the report that he had won marksmanship in pistol range a few days before.

"Jimmie says he guesses he got his practice on these West Texas jackrabbits. Anyway he is very proud of his score," his mother stated. "He is classified as aerial gunner and will be sent soon to an airplane mechanics school somewhere in the United States, since he has just completed his basic training," Mrs. Cox says.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams of Draw returned Wednesday from Dallas, where Mrs. Williams had been taking treatment in a hospital for the past eight weeks. She came back home considerably improved, but Mr. Williams says that the weather has been so hot and dry down there they could hardly stand it. His opinion was that not more than an inch of rain fell during the eight weeks they were there, and only 14 inches had fallen this year, a very low record for Dallas.

Jack Link and family, consisting of wife and four children, residing at Marathon, are here this week visiting relatives. He visited The News office in company with James Taylor of Sand, Dawson county, who also is visiting relatives here. Both these young men were reared principally in and near Tahoka and have many friends here. Jack has been a U. S. Customs officer down on the border for many years.

Southland News

(By Mrs. Marvin Truelock)

Rev. and Mrs. O. E. McGaw attended the memorial service in Floydada Sunday afternoon of 2nd Lt. LeRoy Cates, the husband of Mrs. McGaw's aunt, the former Mollie Allen, a resident of Southland when her husband, Rev. Vic Allen, was pastor here. Lt. Cates, whose home was in Lubbock, was killed in action July 13 while on a bomber mission in the Middle East war theatre. His wife had just received a letter he had written July 12 stating that he had not been on a raid the two months he had been stationed in England. He entered service May, 1942, training at Ballinger and Sherman, and was commissioned at Houston. The family thought he was a co-pilot on a Liberator, having been transferred from the Fortress on which he left the States. His parents reside at Floydada.

If you have not been attending the revival services at the Methodist Church, you have been missing some good sermons by Rev. O. B. Herring, pastor at Post.

Sgt. Jack Martin spent the night a week ago Friday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Martin. This is his first trip home since the birth of his baby, now six months old. Mrs. Jack Martin lives at Lubbock, and her husband is temporarily stationed at Clovis, N. Mex.

Pfc. Jack Bowlin of the Air Corps, stationed in Gulfport, Miss., came Monday to see his 3-month-old son for the second time. He and wife, the daughter of the E. F. Parkers, spent most of his six-days leave with his sick, aged father at Ackerley.

Mrs. W. W. Gilliland received a letter last Friday from her son, Homer, who was in North Africa, the first in three months. The letter was dated in May.

Thursday her daughter, Pauline, and husband, Pfc. Joe Childress, came from Bryan for a brief visit.

It seems odd to hear the news from soldiers' letters which require so much time to get here. St. Sgt. Leonard Angle's letter last week advised his wife to keep their young son in the hospital until all danger of pneumonia was past, and Billy has been home six weeks and in the best of health of any time during his six months' existence.

The Baptist Church announces its summer revival August 6-15 with Rev. Thomas Cobb of Summerville as evangelist. The pastor, Rev. O. E. McGaw, urges you to worship with them in each service. The Church has recently purchased new hymn books which they hope will contribute much to the success of the revival.

Sgt. Calvin Klaus will need to be re-climated to Southland when he comes home from England. There he sleeps under three quilts.

Ding Martin advised his parents not to expect to hear from him for six months. But, when the time was half up, he spent a day in Australia and wrote them advising his brother Dick to stay at Lubbock if he could. Dick has already been sent to Albuquerque, N. M.

Helen Becker of Seagraves spent her Monday-to-Friday vacation here with her parents, the A. J. Beckers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Harris and son of Sterling, Okla., arrived on Thursday night to visit his brother, J. C. Harris. They are en route to California to visit their daughter and probably to make their home on the West Coast.

Mrs. Gladys Haggood and daughter, Mrs. M. L. Gibbs and husband of Phoenix, Ariz., came Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Simmonds.

When there was a case of infantile paralysis across the street from them in Fort Worth, E. E. Barnhill quit his job at the Consolidated Aircraft factory and brought his wife and five children to West Texas seeking work. They moved last Monday to the west house on Marcus Wilke's place.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coleman and children and Chester Swope and family of Wilson came Sunday night to visit J. P. Hewlett, the new school superintendent. His nephew, Dugley Roy Coleman, who had been visiting Mr. Hewlett for several days, returned home Sunday.

The Methodist Church had supper, with a dessert of ice cream, at the social at the Church Tuesday night of last week, and a large crowd attended. Mrs. Herbert Dunn had charge of a Bible quiz and games.

Recently Rev. E. C. Armstrong has been making a regular hand in chopping cotton, not because his church is falling on his salary, but because he believes every available person should help because of the shortage of farm labor. Then, at night, Bro. Armstrong continues his study course, still vying with the new school teacher as the best student in town.

If you have heard the rumor that school begins Aug. 23rd, the president of the School Board stated that the trustees hadn't met yet to decide.

Bryce King's first letter from Australia arrived last Friday. His brother Leon writes that he has crossed the equator but can't write anything else until he learns what he can write. The H. A. Kings' other son, Henry, is thought to be in the States yet.

Sunday closed the four-day revival at the New Hope Baptist Church. We didn't learn whether the preacher has been called as pastor, but we did hear that our Negro church members recently donated $50.00 toward purchasing a building, for a church here.

Cpl. Manuel Reyes was home for the first time since LAPS was quarantined three weeks ago while the boys were taking preventative measures against infantile paralysis. His sister, Cruz Reyes, who took a vacation trip to California recently to visit their brother Joe and family, secured employment there and remained. The younger sister, Mary, who recently married Frank Rocha, will soon be a Navy wife. Frank has passed his examination and will leave Thursday for San Diego.

LAKEVIEW H. D. CLUB

The Lakeview Home, Demonstration Club met Tuesday, July 20, at 3:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. S. T. Godfrey. Miss Carolyn Dixon, home demonstration agent, gave the demonstration of steaming vegetables before processing and also brining.

Those present were Mmes. O. V. Brown, J. A. Timmons, W. H. Timmons, Roy Timmons, Herman Timmons, C. B. Nowlin, and the hostess, Mrs. S. T. Godfrey.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. J. A. Timmons' August 17.

Miss Sina Barrington is working in an office at Beaumont, her brother-in-law, Frank Henderson, reports.

WARNING!

Home owners, householders, and business men in Tahoka are hereby respectfully requested to clean up and to keep clean the alleys both in the residential and the business districts of the city. Weeds in the alleys and especially at the rear of some of our business houses should be cut and burned or hauled away. Dead fowls and animals must not be thrown or left in the alleys to decay. Perishable matter must not be left on the premises or in the alleys by business men. It attracts flies which may carry disease germs. Hog pens in the city must be cleaned up. This warning and these orders are given in the interest of the health of our community. Please comply at once.—A. F. McGlaun, city marshal, 51-11c

Wilbert Finch Writes From New Guinea

The following letter is from Wilbert Finch, son of Mrs. Eunice Finch, now of Hubbard City, and the late City Marshal Milt Finch of Tahoka, published recently in the Hubbard City News, a copy of which has been furnished The News by Claude Conway:

"Dear Mother, Bob and all: Well, folks, I am at last in New Guinea. We have things fixed up fairly nicely, considering everything. We are building barracks out of some kind of wood similar to balsa wood. We are putting grass roofs on them. They are going to be real nice living quarters when we get them finished. We have our own sawmill, or rather the only sawmill in New Guinea.

"The Hedy Lamarr version of the South Sea Islands is a lot of bunk. The natives are as black as the ace of spades. The only clothes they wear is a G string and that goes for the women as well as the men.

"Write to me about twice a week. I will write when I get a chance. Do not write V mail. What I want is a big, long, fat newsy letter. Send them air mail. They travel a little faster that way. I got on the boat to leave the States the day I wrote the last letter to you:

"Tell everyone hello and don't worry about me. I will write every chance I get. Lots of love, Wilbert."

Later—The News has received a letter from Mrs. Finch stating that Wilbert enlisted in the Army Air Corps ground crew on Nov. 27, 1942, and was sent to Buckley Field, Colo., to receive training as an aircraft armorer. Upon graduation there on April 10th, he was sent to Kearns, Utah, a replacement center, and given a furlough home. He arrived home April 19th, and upon returning to camp was sent almost immediately to San Francisco. He left there for overseas May 29th and the above letter, written June 30th and received by her July 19th was the first she had heard from him. Mrs. Finch asks all his Tahoka friends to write him. His address may be secured at The News office, since addresses of men in foreign service may not be published.

Men Still Wanted By Navy Seabees

Any man expecting to be called into the service soon should investigate the Navy Seabees, Chief H. W. Harris of the Lubbock Navy Recruiting office, stated while here Tuesday.

The Seabees need men 17 to 50 years of age. All men accepted will be offered ratings as petty officers or upward. They will know how much they will make and what their work will be before signing final papers.

TELLS OF BOMBER CRASH

Henry McDaniel, son of Mrs. B. N. McDaniel, forest ranger at Alpine, Arizona, writes his mother interestingly of the recent search for a lost bomber in the eastern Arizona mountains, in his district, which attracted much attention in the press.

The four-motor bomber crashed on March 3, but was not found until July 12, and then only after some boys had discovered the body of one of the occupants of the plane about three or four miles from the scene of the crash. Eight men died as the result of the crash. One man apparently had survived for a short time. His leg was broken in three places, but he managed to make himself a crutch, walked the three or four miles hunting help, and finally sat down under a tree and froze to death in a snow storm.

McDaniel, who took a large part in the search, was reared here and worked for several years in the First National Bank.

Francis Gill was down Saturday from Slaton, where he is working for the Santa Fe. His brother, Joe Gill, is a flight officer at the South Plains Army Flying Field.
