War Ration Book IV Registration Friday Next Week

Registration in Lynn county for War Ration Book IV will be held at the various school buildings of the county Friday, October 22, according to W. T. Hanes, Tahoka superintendent, who has been appointed by the War Price and Rationing Board to direct the registration.

Citizens will go to their respective school buildings between the hours of 7:30 a. m. and 6 p. m. on that day to register. Applicants must bring their Book III with them when applying for Book IV. War Ration Book IV is expected to last approximately two years. Mr. Hanes pointed out that consumers will not be asked to declare any supplies at home and books will not be tailored.

Registration in Tahoka will be in the gymnasium at the Grade School. Mr. Hanes said the Tahoka teachers expected to handle about 4,000 registrations.

Red Cross Approves War Fund Drive

County Chairman Tom Garrard of the American Red Cross has furnished to The News for publication a communication from Norman H. Davis, national Red Cross chairman, in which he voices approval of the drive being made for the National War Fund. "The Red Cross wishes the War Fund leaders every success in their appeal," Davis says. The activities of the Red Cross and the National War Fund organization are separate, however, and the Red Cross will make a separate drive for funds next March.

Seagraves Plays Tahoka Tonight

Tahoka meets Seagraves on the local field tonight at 8:30 o'clock in a football game that promises to be one of the best of the season. This has been declared "Dad's Night," and the dads of the Bulldogs will be honor guests.

This is the second meeting of the two teams this season, Tahoka having defeated Seagraves in a close game a Seagraves earlier in the season 13 to 0. Round-robin play is being used this year to determine the district championship, each team playing each of the other teams twice.

In the previous game, the two teams played on even terms through the game until the final quarter, when Tahoka managed to score twice. Coach Leo Jackson and his boys have been working on some new plays this week, and hope to disappoint the revenge-hungry Seagraves eleven.

Last Friday night, the Bulldogs lost a close non-conference game to a surprisingly strong Cooper team 19 to 18. The Bulldogs scored two touchdowns in the first half and had complete control of the game, but Cooper came back strong in the second to powerhouse three scores and an extra point, while Tahoka scored only one other. Failure to make the conversions good lost the game for the home boys. However, at that, it is said by fans who have seen them all to have been the best game the inexperienced home team has played this year.

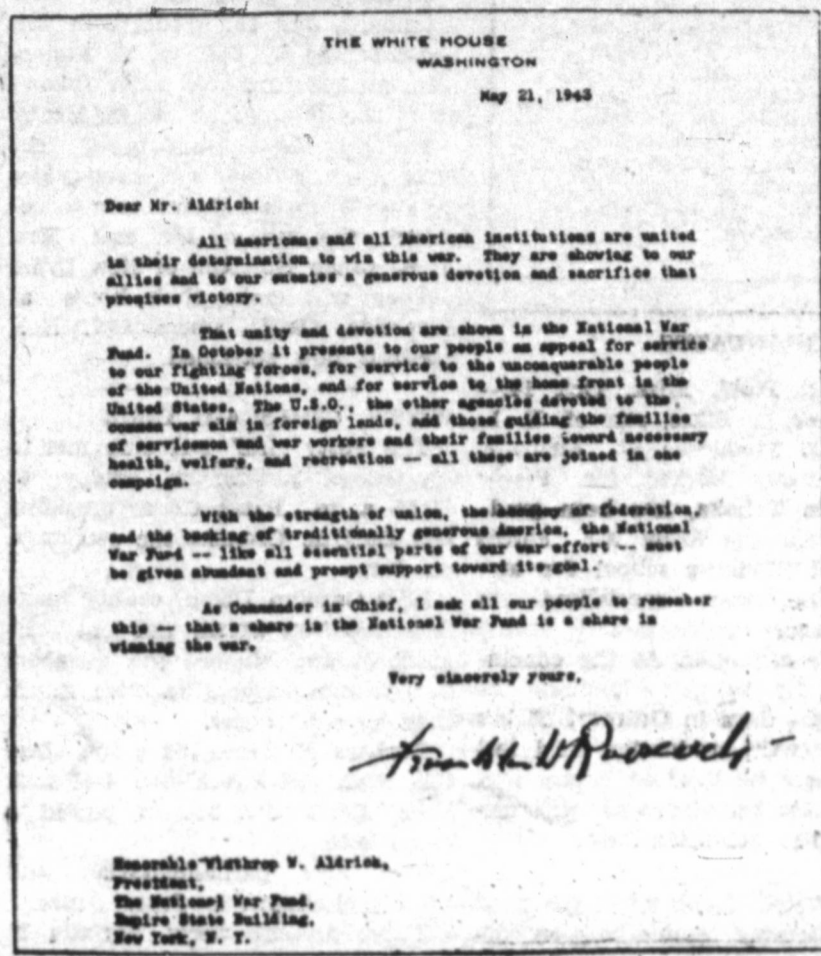

This is the last night game at home. The next home game will be on the afternoon of Armistice Day, November 11, when Seminole is the opponent.

War Bond Sales Are Near $750,000

War Bonds bought before 5 p. m. Saturday will count on Lynn county's Third War Loan Drive quota, according to Deen Nowlin, county chairman.

Total bond sales up to Thursday were approximately $750,000, Nowlin said, still $200,000 short of the large quota of $950,000 given Lynn county.

Presidential Endorsement

"... a share in the National War Fund is a share in winning the war," stated President Roosevelt to Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the National War Fund, the federation of agencies serving on the United Nations front and the Military front.

Pat Hines Manufactures Weapons To Help Tahoka Boys Fight The Japs

War is a cruel, savage game, and that employed by the Japs is more horrible than any American boys have ever met before. But, after meeting the Japs a few times, the American boys have found that one of the most effective weapons against the Japs is to "fight fire with fire."

And Pat Hines, City water superintendent, recently decided to see that a few of his young friends have the proper weapons, if and when they need them.

For many weeks, in his spare time, Pat has been manufacturing knives — long, keen-bladed "pig-stickers"—and sending them to Tahoka's young fighting men. He has sent one to his own son, Truman Hines, who is a paratrooper stationed in North Carolina, one for Jackie Weathers, one for Deck Dunagan, one each for "Dub" and Robert Harvick, one for Homer Parker, who is in New Guinea, and others.

He uses scrap metal, grinds the blade out in his workshop, molds a handle from aluminum. (Incidentally, he needs some more aluminum, preferably discarded pressure cookers.)

Pat's not looking for any more business—he already has about all the knives promised that he can make—but some one or more of these vicious weapons may be the difference between life and death for some Tahoka boy on the war front, and if the Japs want to fight with knives, he intends to see that at least a few of our boys have knives, too—just in case!

Ensign Jack Hancock Visits With Parents

Ensign Jack W. Hancock, recognition instructor at the Great Lakes Naval Station at Chicago, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hancock of New Home, recently.

Mr. Hancock says that his son had just conducted a whole train-load of Navy trainees from Great Lakes to some port on the Gulf coast and came back by New Home on the return trip. At the close of his visit, he went overland in his own car from New Home to the Great Lakes Station.

Another Hancock boy, Lt. (j.g.) Billy Hancock, is a Navy pilot out in the Pacific.

Lt. James Minor, unheard from in two months, is well and doing fine, is "on the move," is now in company command, and neither has he had any mail in two months, according to a letter from him received by his mother, Mrs. John Minor Thursday morning. When last heard from he was in Sicily, and it's presumed he is in Italy now.

"This Is The Army" Coming To Tahoka

"This Is The Army," the picture made by Irving Berlin and Warner Bros. for the Army Relief Fund, will be shown in Tahoka soon at the Ada Theatre.

All proceeds from the first day's showing, November 11, will go to the Army Relief Fund, and much of the proceeds from the other runs. Tahoka Rotary Club, the American Legion, the State Guard, and possibly other organizations will cooperate with Mr. English and Warner Bros. in the showing here.

Further details on the show will be announced later.

Lt. Bill Lumsden In Raid On Rabaul

Lt. William Lumsden, Wilson, in the Southwest Pacific the past several months, was featured in the news Thursday in connection with the great Allied air raid on Jap-held Rabaul, New Guinea. The raid was the greatest ever staged by American bombers in the history of the Southwest Pacific, and, according to Lt. Gen. Geo. C. Kenney, commander, "marks the turning point in the war in the Southwest Pacific. Our fighters and bombers no longer are waging a defensive war, but are taking the offensive away from the Japanese."

Lt. Lumsden, whose wife is the former Miss Wanda Lee Tinsley of Tahoka, was navigator on the Liberator bomber which sank a Jap ship and fought off 57 passes from Jap Zeros.

Tahoka cotton ginnings from the 1943 crop totaled 4,222 bales up to 11 o'clock Thursday, nearly 900 bales having been ginned in the last week, in spite of the labor shortage and weather interference.

Possibly 18,000 bales or more have been ginned in the county to date.

Wynne Collie, local druggist, returned Wednesday from Ft. Worth, where he spent two days attending a meeting of the directors of the Southwestern division of United Drug Co., a Boston corporation.

This was his first meeting as a member of the board, having been named several months ago as one of the nine directors representing Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and New Mexico.

Wynne says he greatly enjoyed the meeting. He claims he won't be worth much to the corporation but hopes to glean a little knowledge from the "big shots."

Lt. C. Shambeck Tells Of Aleutian Bombing Missions

Two of the most interesting talks of the year were heard on Tuesday's Rotary program when Fred McGinty brought a talk on "Friendly Competition" and Lt. Clarence Shambeck spoke on warfare in the Aleutians.

Stating that he had frequently heard businessmen try to tell farmers how to farm, McGinty proceeded to give businessmen a little advice, and it was probably much better advice than some of that given the farmers. His remarks were thought-provoking and appreciated by his listeners.

McGinty, in charge of the program for the day, introduced Lt. Shambeck, pilot of a B-24 bomber and a member of the oldest combat outfit in the Aleutians, who is home on a month's leave before returning to combat duty in Uncle Sam's newest and biggest bomber, the B-29.

He told of his trip up to the Aleutians through Canada and Alaska, to Anchorage, where he said "the policeman is paid $800 a month, the bartender $1,000, the preacher $100, and a steak sells for $5.00." Kodiak, Unimak, where he was grounded four days on the tundra by the weather, and Adak, which was at the time our furthest great base out on the Aleutian Island chain. He says we have a (Cont'd. on last page)

Rev. Comer Closes Revival Sunday

Rev. H. A. Nichols, Methodist pastor, announces that the revival which has been in progress for the past two weeks will close Sunday night. Many of the older residents of Tahoka say that this is the greatest revival in years and the town is stirred in a mighty way. Many of the business places have been closing for an hour this week for the morning services and the attendance has grown to around a hundred. People have been attending these services from towns near Tahoka, and the revival spirit is prevalent in the atmosphere and is the main topic of conversation on the streets. There have been about sixty conversions and reclamations already in the services and the altar is being filled with people in the Old Time Methodist way. About forty have pledged to Tithe.

The Baptist and other churches of Tahoka are cooperating in a wonderful way, and the people of other churches are deriving much good and spiritual help. Rev. G. P. Comer, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Waco, is leading the forces in these meetings and preaching some of the strongest Gospel messages ever (Cont'd. on page 6)

Boys' Pig Show Is Held Here

Lynn county agricultural youths, both 4-H and FFA boys, held their annual pig show at Tahoka High School October 6th. The show consisted of a class of registered Berkshire gilts.

Beryl Grayson, 4-H club, student in Tahoka schools, won first place with his gilt, Tommy J. Robert, also a 4-H club member and a student in Tahoka, formerly at West Point, won second. Harvey Dell Knight, FFA member, from the New Home school, won third with his gilt, and A. C. Fillingim, also of the New Home chapter, won fourth. The gilt of Robert Ray Pair, Wilson FFA student, won fifth, and Donald Adamson, Tahoka FFA student, won sixth.

The county prize awarded for first place was a registered Berkshire boar. Second place will receive a class of registered Berkshire gilts. Third and fourth places will each receive 50 baby chicks. These are furnished by Sears & Roebuck, sponsors of the contest.

The first place gilt, owned by Beryl Grayson, competed in the District Show at Lubbock Oct. 8. A 4-H club boy from Crosbyton won first place in this show, his prize being a registered Jersey heifer. Only a first prize was awarded.

According to J. C. Smith, county agricultural agent Beryl's gilt made a nice showing at the Lubbock show, although the competition was too keen for him to win first place.

Mrs. Miles Dies . . .

Miles December 9, 1880, in Lavaca county, and the couple moved to Coleman county to make their home. They came further West in 1892 to Howard county, and from there to Lynn county in 1902, the year before Lynn county was organized, and filed on four sections southeast of O'Donnell on the Lynn-Dawson county line.

The first Dawson county school was built on their home section. They first received their mail from Big Spring. When Lynn county was organized and Tahoka established, the Big Spring-Tahoka freight and mail line came by the west side of their place. O'Donnell was not established until about eight years, 1910, after their coming to this area. She had been a member of the Church of Christ for 56 years, and she and Mr. Miles were instrumental in the establishment of the church at O'Donnell.

Mrs. Miles and her aged husband, who will be 86 next January 13, reared six children. Also surviving are 16 grand children and 20 great grandchildren.

The children are: Mrs. W. S. Willis, Roaring Springs; Mrs. Geo. Shumake, O'Donnell; Mrs. R. P. Tomlinson, Post; Mrs. C. L. Tomlinson, O'Donnell; and Roy and Jack Miles, O'Donnell. She was also survived by three brothers, B. O. McGonagill of California, L. H. McGonagill of Eagle Pass, and F. E. McGonagill of Fort Worth, the latter being present for the funeral. She was a sister of the late A. R. McGonagill Sr. of Tahoka, and was therefore, the aunt of Mrs. Bud Milliken, Mrs. Gladys Stokes, Miss Attie Belle McGonagill, and Mrs. Ward Eakin, all of Tahoka.

Mrs. Miles was one of Lynn county's finest ladies and mothers, and many friends over the county mourn her passing and extend heartfelt sympathy to the grieved husband and relatives.

School Year

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week's personality is a quiet, blonde senior girl. She takes an active part in school events. Though she's rather quiet, people listen when she talks because she is witty and she always has something worthwhile to say. Furthermore, she has one of the best figures in THS. She was recently elected vice-president of the Student Council. Do you have it now? Of course, who but Dortha Jean Brown?

THESE GLAMOROUS GALS

This column is dedicated to the girls of THS who, though they know it not, consider themselves at the height of glamor.

Not only to the gals does it belong but to you guys who sincerely appreciate the art of beauty.

In all our wanderings on the THS campus these past years, we've never yet seen anything like the clothes being worn now. In these days, there aren't any colors on the chart that are considered classed if put together in some form of wearing apparel. A few years back it was considered very bad taste to be seen wearing a loud color unless it was for a celebration that required such a costume. Blue and green, green and red, black and red, or red and yellow were simply knock-outs in the public eye. Well, they are now, but in a different sense.

But, enough of this lecturing; girls, let's get down to strict gossip.

In our scrutiny of this year's crop of seniors, we find more beautiful girls than any other year has boasted; and more ugly boys than any other senior class has blushed over!

A few of the Soph girls should try to remember Miss Watson's theory about too much make-up, especially lipstick.

Best campus style these days for young gentlemen is a football jacket, eh what, girls? Isn't it about time someone planned a Halloween party? We haven't heard a thing about the spooks and ghosts yet. Better hurry!

Red coats seem to have taken the campus for the winter.

We wonder—

What Miss Johnson would look like with bangs and her hair on top of her head?

What would happen if they were to quit making sweaters?

Why Coach Jackson loves his football boys more than the Sub-Debs? (Ain't natural.)

Why someone doesn't start a date bureau?

Why all the girls can't be beautiful????

Turner Rodgers, an ex-student of Tahoka High School, arrived here Monday for a few days' visit.

GIRLS GET FIRST SEWING EXPERIENCE

The first year Home Economics class had their first experience in sewing this last week.

If you had been present you would have found out just what little the class knew. "Miss Wright, is this the way to hold your cloth?"

"Do I have this sewed alright?" "I can't use a thimble, it gets in my way." were the many cries that came from the class.

They enjoyed this first experience very much and are expecting to start making aprons before long.

THIRD YEAR GIRLS ENTERTAIN FACULTY

The third year Homemaking girls gave a reception Tuesday morning for the high school faculty.

Each teacher was asked to leave his class for a few minutes to be served fruit punch and small sandwiches.

Red roses were used to decorate the department.

ABSENTEEISM

"I think I made more than B on my English." This cry will probably be heard throughout the school this week as our first report cards are given out.

Students, did you ever stop and think that maybe you did not even deserve the grade your teacher put on your report card? Why? Because you did not apply yourself? Because you were absent too much? Probably both of these reasons. Was it absolutely necessary for you to miss that afternoon of school? I can assure you students it will be a lot easier on all concerned if you attend school regularly. It will not only raise your grade but it will help you.

Everyone of us know that we could come to school half of the time that we do miss. Of course, there are exceptions but just staying out of school because you want to miss a test or because you just do not want to come is entirely unnecessary and must be stopped.

Students, will you cooperate with the teachers and your fellow-students and come to school regularly?

Remember, a student who comes to school every day makes better grades!

Pep Rally Held At School Friday

The students of Tahoka High School met Friday morning, Oct. 8, for its weekly pep rally in the auditorium. Macky Fenton, Billie Wayne Pennington, Dorothy Nell Johnson, W. L. Burleson, and Joe Don Minor, pep leaders, led the student body in some spirited yells and songs to boost the Bulldogs on to victory. Coach Jackson, Clyde Peddy, and Bill Woods, captain, made speeches.

Contests were carried on with each class giving a yell to see which class could yell the loudest and the faculty acting as judges. The teachers, refusing to give a decision, were urged to yell themselves, but also refusing to yell, they were made to get on the stage and sing a football song.

The pep rally ended with the faculty and student body singing the "Alma Mater."

Overweight Oil Undermines Your Car

Why Lightest grades of oil are made safe for you by changing to Winter OIL-PLATING

Any oil that has been doing its best in your car for a while back, will be badly overweight this Winter. Everything ever said about not being caught with overweight oil goes double today on account of rationing. Your battery has been undercharged, because your car now runs fewer miles per start. Your gasoline has been wasted by the drag of overweight oil. Your engine has been abused because it hasn't been warm steadily enough for ideal lubrication. Your car could approach the end of its rope with any overweight oil apt to become jelly-like. Before Winter causes that, go light.

Whatever you do, change oil for lightness. At the same time though, you can make the whole big change to an OIL-PLATED engine, by getting popular-priced Conoco Nth motor oil—just as light as needed. OIL-PLATING is applied to inner engine surfaces as closely as chrome plating on your bumpers. The "magnet-like" properties of a Conoco Nth synthetic are the basis of OIL-PLATING. No plating would all drain down to the crankcase fast. It can long remain at its topmost point to safeguard the very first starting stroke. And right after that, even the lightest Conoco Nth oil assures an extremely strong normal type of fluid oil film. Oil film and OIL-PLATING are both present to rebuff wear, and that's how your engine can go through a long Winter—and a long War—always using its lightest possible Nth oil economically. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today. Continental Oil Company

Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.

Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.

But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Many people are beginning to wonder what kind of conditions will prevail in the United States after peace comes again. The prospect does not look too bright. It must be admitted. Floods of vice and crime have followed every major war that we have fought yet. This was notoriously true following World War I. The "wets" in this country found it convenient to saddle the crime epidemic onto the back of Prohibition. That loss was not to blame at all. Many of the criminals, it is true, turned to bootlegging as a convenient means of making some money. But that was not the cause of their criminality. The cause lay deeper than that. It lay partly in the fact that many soldiers returned from the war to find no jobs open for them, and were tempted to resort to crime. But the major cause was the spirit of war, which is the spirit of murder and destruction, which had dominated the lives and the thinking of the youth of our country as they grew up. For three or four years, boys in the teen age, whose character was being formed, heard and thought of little else than guns and shooting and wholesale slaughter and destruction. This naturally left its impression upon their character and many of them during the following year became criminals. It will require the best thought and planning on the part of statesmen, economists, industrialists, and business men to find employment for the boys in our armed forces as they return from the battlefronts, and of educators and religious leaders to stabilize the characters of the boys in the home land as well as the returning boys, wave in our history following close in our history following the close of this war. This does not mean that even a large percent of our boys are likely to become criminals, but it does mean that all those who are naturally criminally inclined will be subjected to the severest temptations imaginable following this world holocaust.

Hitler and his hordes seem to become more and more barbaric as their situation becomes more and more desperate. While it is hardly possible that the allied armies may advance across the Alps before next spring or that ground forces may cross the English channel and establish a western front on the continent of Europe this year, yet all signs point to the eventual defeat of these modern Teutonic vandals. They may murder and burn and destroy as they retreat but in the end they will be utterly destroyed. They must be if civilization is to survive. In the meantime, we think that the German people are getting thoroughly fed up on war. We hope that they are made so sick of it that they will not dare to start another war of conquest and pillage during the next hundred years.

Old Tojo and the Jap war lords had lots of fun during the first year following Pearl Harbor, but they have had scarcely a bit of fun for the past several months. In fact, the war is becoming more menacing and more serious for them every day. It may be a long time before Japan is crushed, but we are on our way.

CANNING FRUIT CAKE

By Carolyn Dixon
County Home Demonstration Agent of A&M Extension Service

It is time to can fruit cakes, pecans, or candies if they are to be sent to the boys overseas.

Below are the steps in canning fruit cake and plum pudding:

1. Use any good recipe for making fruit cake.
2. After the ingredients have been mixed well, the batter should be packed into greased cans.
3. Leave 3-4 to one inch head-space top of the can.
4. Seal the first roll on can.
5. To steam in pressure cooker, leave petcock open, or if using water bath, do not have so much water that it will boil into the cans. Cover water bath with lid.
6. Let steam 75 minutes for No. 2 cans, 60 for No. 1.
7. Complete seal.
8. Process immediately at 12 lbs for 30 minutes.

For canning plum pudding, prepare in the cans the same as for fruit cake. Process at 12 lbs. pressure for 15 minutes.

Instruction for crystallized orange, lemon, and grapefruit peel, and citron, candied citron, pumpkin, cherries, plums, pineapple, pears, apples, and firm peaches and apricots are available at the office of the county home demonstration agent.

ODDS and ENDS

by Eec Eye, the Elder

And the cat came back. Just got knocked out for a few weeks by an accidental injury to the back. It's not as good as new yet but guess we'll manage to get along with it.

We appreciate the kind remarks of those who have told us that they missed this column.

And Sunday we received an enclosure from our good and busy friend, George Mahon, who is looking after the interests of this congressional district and of the country at large up Washington way. A very level-headed and conscientious worker is George Mahon.

When we opened the envelope, we found that it contained merely a clipped section of the editorial page of a recent issue of The News which was barren of editorials, and on the margin was written: "Hope the editor is rapidly improving!"—George Mahon." Thanks, George.

By the way, Brother, don't let anybody tell you that you don't have any backbone. You may have come to feel that such a criticism is about correct—you have been letting other people have their way so long; but you just get that back wrenched or sprained, and you'll find that you do have a backbone that feels as big as a back-log, and as stiff.

And you'll realize too that it is a most important part of your anatomy. It supports the entire body, and bears all your burdens for you, physically speaking, and on top of it is perched that ponderous head of yours, which may be almost as important as your backbone.

Your have been going along all these years hardly conscious of the fact that you do have a physical backbone, but let it get hurt and it will be like that big toe that you stumped and skinned up when you were a kid. It swelled up and got as big seemingly as a water bucket.

MRS. PERRY CLAYTON WRITES FROM OREGON

The News received a communication a few days ago from Mrs. Perry Clayton of Rainier, Oregon, a former pioneer resident of Lynn county, renewing her subscription and paying a high compliment to The News. Many thanks, Mrs. Clayton.

Writing of her adopted state, she says that although it has been very dry out there, "yet we have fewer forest fires than in previous years and Oregon is still green, and plenty of trout and salmon in her streams with plenty of deer, elk, China pheasant, quail, and blue grouse roaming her hills, mountains, and valleys."

Sounds like a real estate man's propaganda.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL IS IN NEED OF CANNED FOODS

W. L. Bursleson, Potentate's Aide of Khiva Temple A.A.O.N.M.S., for Lynn county, has just received letters from the Shriner's Hospital for crippled children in Shreveport La., St. Louis, Mo., and the Scottish Rite Hospital at Dallas.

They are all in need of canned fruits, vegetables, jellies, and jams. Everyone can have a part in this worthwhile humanitarian enterprise by bringing just one can, jar, or glass from their shelf at home, either home canned or store purchased to Mr. Bursleson.

"Let us help and do our part in Lynn county and see that these poor unfortunate children have the things so essential to their health," said Mr. Bursleson.

ADDING MACHING ROLLS—10c each. The News.

You seemed to strike it against everything that got in your neighborhood.

It's the bad things and the misfortunes that come our way that make us sit up and take notice.

And it's the bad things that we do rather than the good things that make the world sit up and take notice. Just look at Hitler, for instance. He has been one of the cruelest thugs in all history, and he has made more news copy than any other man living.

Away down inside us somewhere, attached to our "inards," is a little appendage that the doctors have named the vermiform appendix. If it serves any useful purpose whatever in our physical make-up, the doctors have failed to explain what that purpose is. You may live almost a lifetime without being conscious that you have any such contraption inside of you. But let something get the matter with that thing and let it swell up, and you are whisked off to the hospital. If you do not get there soon enough you may be brought back in a hearse.

So is humanity. A quiet, easy-going, harmless old boy may live in a community for many years and hardly get his name in the paper. Folks may hardly realize that he is in town. But let that old boy go hay-wire someday and commit a murder or other heinous crime, and his name gets in all the big newspapers in the state and possibly the nation.

It's the unusual and the tragic that startles folks and makes news. Virtuous conduct and noble deeds, because they are naturally to be expected, get into the newspapers only rarely or incidentally. But crime always makes big headlines.

It is just that way because the human family is what it is.

Enough of this philosophizing for this time. Good night.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Baker of San Angelo, former residents of Tahoka, came up last week for a brief visit and went on to Lubbock, where Mr. Baker underwent a major operation in a Lubbock hospital last Saturday. He is reported to be recovering satisfactorily. Mrs. Baker is a guest in the home of Mrs. D. V. Smith here but visits her husband in the hospital daily.

Pvt. Walter Lee (Sport) Pendleton of Camp Silbert, Ala., returned recently after spending a 12-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pendleton, and family of T-Bar. Also, guests of the Pendletons were his father of Oklahoma and brother, Russell Pendleton, and family of Shallowater.

Sgt. Gates, O'Donnell, Gives Mother of Lost Boy Some Solace

England (An Eighth Air Force Fighter Training Station) Oct. 1—Because he had the same rank and name as another man in the U. S. AAF, and received his mail by mistake, Technical Sergeant James Gates, O'Donnell, Texas, under the guidance of American Red Cross Field Director, has done a task of bringing solace to a distressed mother that would, if there were such awards, bring a medal to any soldier in the U. S. Army.

In June, Sgt. Gates, 27, received a letter from Shirley Newhouse, 1846 Laurel Ave., St. Paul, Minn., which was addressed to T/Sgt. James Gates. He opened it and realized it was for another Gates. The next day another packet of mail arrived, re-addressed to his station from an airfield in America. He did not open this batch of mail but told the mail clerk of the mistake.

The complete packet of mail was sent to the central APO for re-addressing to the right Gates. However, several days later it was returned again to bewildered Sgt. Gates. He sent it out again. It came back again. After repeating this procedure several times, he decided to hold on to the mail, write Miss Newhouse and tell her that he wasn't the Sgt. Gates. This he did.

He next received a letter from Miss Newhouse, informing him that her fiancée, Sgt. Gates, was reported missing in action. However, she wrote further:

"If you will forward his mail anyway, there is a possibility that he may get it. He is a tall-gunner in a flying fortress and I still don't believe anything has happened to him."

Sgt. Gates, who services Spitfires and Thunderbolts at this drome, after a conference with the American Red Cross Field Director, felt that he should somehow try to comfort Miss Newhouse. He sent her a letter, telling her that he had forwarded the mail describing the English countryside and the bravery of tall-gunners. He also said that there was a good chance that her fiancée was a prisoner of war.

Next he received a letter from Sgt. Gates' mother. She wrote: "I am the other Jim Gates' mother. (Mrs. Mary M. Gates, 872 Summit, St. Paul). Shirley gave me your letter. Our Jim has been reported missing in action. We are wondering because of your APO number if you could possibly be of the ground crew with Jim's outfit. We know nothing of him—whether alive or dead and naturally any information would be most helpful. If you can get any, won't you please tell me."

Through Field Service of the American Red Cross, Sgt. Gates has been trying to find out more in detail what happened to his namesake. In the meantime, he has been writing Mrs. Gates letters of sympathy, stressing the fact that there is always hope, that many men have been located many months after they were reported missing.

Their correspondence has continued, and because of Sgt. Gates' fine humane feeling, his letters of description of the activities of an airman in the European Theatre of Operations, he has in the nearest way possible become a "second son" to Mrs. Gates.

Many people here will remember Mrs. H. W. Barkaloo and her late husband, who resided here years ago, going from Tahoka to the coast country near Houston. Mrs. Barkaloo, who resides at Goose Creek, still reads The News and last week sent her renewal, paying for the paper several years in advance and stating that she still enjoys the paper. Thanks.

Mrs. Loyce McMahon is improving satisfactorily and expects to return home this week following an operation she underwent in a Lubbock hospital early last week.

100 OCTANE GASOLINE

Adds 5th engine to every 4-engine bomber

ROUND-THE-CLOCK AIR RAIDS over Germany and South Pacific... Every time you read this headline in your newspaper, remember that United Nations war planes are vastly improved war weapons because their tanks are filled with 100 octane gasoline from the United States.

To say that this super-fuel is equivalent to a fifth engine in every four-engine bomber is actually understating the facts! Compared with German aviation fuel of 87 octane, it improves performance more than 25 per cent.

Long peacetime research for new and better things from petroleum gas, as well as from petroleum, prepared Phillips for an important role in wartime production. Phillips Petroleum Company was among the first to take 100 octane gasoline... as well as butadiene for synthetic rubber... out of the laboratory and into mass production.

Twenty-four hours a day, our best efforts are devoted to the production of these and other synthetic chemicals which will bring closer that great day when once again you can say "Fill 'er up"... and the service man will crank into your tank a new and improved Phillips gasoline.

Until then, every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refiners in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

concealed the film in bamboo fishing poles and smuggled them out of China. They were brought to the United States but were prohibited from being shown prior to Pearl Harbor for diplomatic reasons. However, since Pearl Harbor, the picture had been shown to Defense workers, and members of the Armed Forces. Only recently has it been released for general public view.

"Ravaged Earth" is not a pleasant picture, but it does tell the truth about what our boys are up against in the Pacific. It is said to be the only picture ever presented to the public in all history of the motion picture industry that has received unanimous acclaim from all who see it.

HARLEY SADLER BRINGS PICTURE OF CHINA INVASION

Harley Sadler, well known Texas showman, will present "Ravaged Earth", a sound film, in his tent theatre in Tahoka one night, Monday, Oct. 18.

"Ravaged Earth" is the story of the actual invasion of China by Hirohito's Sons of Heaven, and the actual attempt at the complete destruction of this peaceful nation by the bestial barbarians of the Pacific. It shows how the Japs fight the uncensored atrocities they perpetrated upon the Chinese at the time they infiltrated into Shanghai, Foo Chow, Peking, and other historical cities.

Mr. Moody, an American business man in China for 23 years, used a 16 mm. camera to film these scenes.

H. J. C. Koehn of Welmer, who owns some property in this county, was here the first of the week on business.

HIGHEST PRICED HOG IN HISTORY

This prize porker, Congress King, a 5-month-old registered Duroc boar pig weighing 200 lbs., netted a total of $4,767,900.00 in War Bonds ($23,839.00 a pound) when auctioned by the United Duroc Record Association at the recent National Duroc Congress at Memphis, Tenn. Highest bidder and final owner of the boar pig was the Missouri Duroc Breeders Association. Their bid of $2,500,000.00 was backed by pledges from the government and other state officials on down to FFA and 4-H groups. The pig is to be used for further war bond sales in Missouri after which his services will be turned over to some outstanding pig club organization in the state. The prize was donated by S. L. Kincaid, an Illinois Duroc breeder.

The Lord's work continues to grow at Grassland. Last Lord's day there was a good crowd out for worship and at the conclusion of the service one was baptized into Christ.

Brother Fouts of Lamesa preached for the New Home Church last Lord's day and will probably return again soon.

If you are going to be in or near O'Donnell next Lord's day, the Church there will be very glad to have you visit them and be with them during the worship of God.

The Church at Tahoka was very happy to have Bro. R. P. Drennon of Melrose, New Mexico, to preach at the evening service last Lord's day. Brother Drennon formerly lived here and was minister of the local church for a number of years.

Every member of the body of Christ is urged to put God first next Sunday and devote the entire day to the worship and service of the Lord who paid the price that you might have life. The first day of the week belongs to the Lord. Are YOU going to be so selfish and covetous that you will take that which is not yours and use it for yourself?

Brother of Tahoka Lady Wounded, Tells Of War In Sicily

Lewis B. Keith, gunner's mate first class, U. S. Navy, brother of Mrs. J. T. Elliott, who has visited in Tahoka quite a lot and who has a number of friends here, is back in the States recuperating from wounds received in the Mediterranean warfare, and hopes to visit here soon, he writes. His home is in Quay, New Mexico.

He is now in a navy hospital on Long Island, N. Y., but was overseas from February until Sept. 20, when he arrived in New York on a hospital ship.

His letter contains the following concerning the war as he saw it: "I am not hurt very bad; it was concussion that hurt me. I am still kinda nervous, otherwise I'm all right."

"I was in Bizerte at the time. They were bombing Bizerte nearly every night then. But they weren't doing very much damage, there was too much anti-aircraft fire there. But those Jerry's have plenty of nerve; they would come right on in regardless of how much of a barrage you were putting up. They sure did their best to keep us from landing on Sicily. The first three days there, July 10, 11, and 12, the bombs and 88 mm. shells were falling like rice at a wedding. There were a lot of American boys who gave their lives there. But we won. I wasn't there but about a week, then went back to Bizerte. Bizerte is only 90 miles from Sicily. It is our largest base in Africa. Our outfit has been stationed there since June 1. About 200 of us went with the invasion to Sicily as a pontoon crew, then came back after the beach was secured."

Mrs. A. C. Hardin went down to Cisco the first of the week to visit her mother and to round up her preacher husband who had been down there since the first of last week taking his vacation and angling for all the big fish in Lake Cisco. They expected to return to Tahoka the latter part of this week, and the pastor will be in his pulpit again Sunday.

In the absence of the pastor, who was away on vacation, Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock, former pastor of the Baptist Church here, filled the pulpit last Sunday. His message on "Losing the Home Front" was reported to be one of the most practical and timely discourses he ever delivered here. An unusually large congregation was present.

Rev. G. P. Comer, Waco pastor, who is conducting the revival which closes Sunday night at the Methodist church.

 heard by the people. He shoots straight and is not afraid to warn, beg and persuade men and women to get right with God. He is the outstanding Evangelistic preacher in the Methodist Church and the people of Tahoka are fortunate in securing him for these two weeks. He will preach Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock on "The Evils of the Bridge Game," Friday night on "The Biggest Thief in Tahoka," Saturday night on "The Evils of the Modern Dance." Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m. a great family service will be held, and Rev. Comer will present a Bible to the largest family present. The subject of his message will be "Family Religion." At 3 p. m. a great mass meeting will be held and Evangelist Comer will speak on "The Things That Make A Live Church." Sunday night at 8:00 for the close-ing message, "The Unpardonable Sin. The Lights Gone Out On A Road to Hell."

Mrs. Nan Frazier, who is organist at the Waco church, is pianist for the meeting, and her music alone is worth going miles to hear.—Contributed.

Sailor Writes of 'Boot' Camp Life

The News has a letter this week from M. T. Cruce, who recently entered the Navy and is stationed at Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Virginia. The semi-humorous letter describes the training of a new recruit and will be of interest to his many friends here, who, incidentally, he asks to write him.

Cruce is a 1942 graduate of Tahoka High School, and last year he was bookkeeper for the Carmack Gin.

His letter follows:

By now I know what it is all about and how to recognize and salute an officer. One told me the other night when I mistook an Ensign for a Chief Petty Officer, and I just said, "Hello, Chief." Was he burned up? And later so was I! I broke boot on Wednesday, Sept. 22, and, boy, was I glad! We have had to take four weeks in what the Army takes in 13. It hasn't left much of me, that you could recognize except a haunted, homesick look, and a decided list to starboard.

After the first two weeks, you become unconscious, dopy and definitely off your nut. You dream strange dreams at night and do a beautiful "about face" on a "left flank" command. You suddenly burst out laughing when there is nothing funny. The Chief knows there isn't, too, and you find it out plenty soon. Someone wakes you up at night talking about the beautiful Texas moon. You raise up to throw a G. I. shoe at him, then realize it was you doing the talking. You lay back down and yank the blankets up over your head, but not fast enough to keep out the "Hit the Deck" order.

Another 5:00 a. m. and another day has dawned and mama's little boy is at it again. You have 15 minutes to kill before exercise. You kill it by making your bunk, buttoning your buttons, shining your shoes, brushing your teeth, shaving, washing your face (Note: You definitely do not comb your hair yet), sweeping the floor, dusting the bunk, and such. That may seem like a lot of things to do, but, remember, you have 15 minutes, and that is one-fourth of an hour even in the Navy. You spend the last two minutes waking up.

The health-giving exercises—how could we do without them? First, you breath in a bucketful of clean, crisp Virginia air, mingled with coal smoke, dust, a few early morning black gnats, then exhale the whole works, plus a hunk of the right lung, and that hunk of gum you swallowed when the O. D. came along yesterday and you thought he was a Chief. You do this several times, or until the back of the fellow's shirt in front of you begins to lodge in your teeth in small pieces.

Then comes the jumping jack, except it isn't Jack that does the jumping but you. This is where you throw your arms over your head, your feet apart, then you bring your hands down on your hips and your feet together. This goes well except the heel of your right shoe comes in at high port and sinks gracefully into your left ankle. Your left retaliates a few times and they dodge each other unexpectedly and you find you're scif in a heck of an awkward position, and very un-Navy-like, too. As the Ensign will tell you in that soft fog-horn voice of his! However, you get by and are still alive to enter the movement called the "push-up." That is what it means, too. First you get your toe-tips on the rear and the fingertips up front as your only contact with Mother Earth (Mother Earth is represented by either dust, real deep or mud much deeper), then you lower your nose and gently stab it into the earth, yank it up, do it again, again ag— No, this time you leave it down. Mother Earth is the best friend you have, even if the section you have your nose in is the same section that the Mate spit on yesterday. When the "Company, halt" command finally comes, you roll over and with the help of two or three men in the platoon who came out better than average, you get back on your feet, all fresh and ready for the "explosive punch."

After exercise, we form a line and march to chow. We double time to be the first platoon in line, but we find out eight other platoons did the same and their barracks were closer to the mess hall than ours. So, it is another 30 minutes you have to fill the empty space in your belly with air and stale cigarette smoke. When you finally get in, you find that the other platoons have already got all the scraps such as cake, eggs, bacon and coffee and you get only good food such as hard toast, water slightly tainted with coffee, cold bologna, and a bowl of worm-eaten cereal with imitation milk. However, you get enough of this aboard to carry you out of the mess hall, back into line, and out on the drill field, some mile or so away.

Your platoon is well protected by two, Chief Petty Officers, an instructor, and your Ensign. They see that the big bad wolf doesn't bother mama's little man. And, further, they also see that he keeps in step and also his eyes off the deck (ground to you), his puss and eyes straight forward, ignore small things such as mud, water, holes in the road etc. keep a straight face when the Mate behind you clutters up your heels with his G. I. covered toes, swings his arms in cadence, but never high enough to swat that mosquito off your nose. (The Virginia skeeters have found this to be a fact, and fill all their private blood banks at this time. Out on the drill field, our officers turn us over to an instructor. He says, "My name is Rigs. I am your instructor. You are going to hate me, so you can start now by wiping that silly grin off you puss. You will obey my orders even into the river. You won't talk back even if you are dying. I am supposed to make a sailor out of you—but looking you over, I realize it will take a miracle, and that I don't have. However, I intend to take away all your joy, your comfort, your self-esteem, break you into small pieces and put them together again rough side in." And so on and on. Then, I will kiss a pig, if he doesn't do this and think up nice tricks as he goes along. I have come to the conclusion that instructors are not born at all—they are just put together out of old Model T parts, you know, the parts that rattle the most and never wear out.

I hope to write more some day. But if I fail and you are interested, you might look under the casualty list.

If and when I get back to Texas, I intend to take along a bag of this Virginia air. There are some roach tugs around home that need exterminating.

Lt. Shambeck . . .

great Navy, Army, and air base there, which together with other bases we now have at Kiska and Attu will prevent any possibility of Japan ever successfully invading that area.

He talked interestingly of the weather, the food, etc.
But, of unusual interest was Lt. Shambeck's description of the fighting, the bombing missions over Kiska in the Aleutians and later over the great Japanese Naval and air base at Paramushiro in the Kurile Islands, that chain of Islands which reach north from Japan proper.

Lt. Shambeck told of the feelings of a pilot out on his first mission, accompanied by an older pilot to show him the "way"; then he told of his first mission alone at the controls of the big bomber, how scared he was thirty minutes before reaching the target area. How the fear left him and how he got mad when he found the Japs shooting at his plane, how the plane bounced around by concussion from the anti-aircraft shells; the beauty of the bursting flak opening up like flowers. He told of the formations, the bomb patterns, the destruction below, and then how scared he was again thirty minutes after being over the target.

He said his plane's hydraulic landing gear had been damaged on one occasion, and he had to set his plane down in a belly landing but that was a common happening in the Aleutians, where nearly every plane came back on occasion with holes in its wings or fuselage, or badly shaken up.

He told of the bombing of Kiska, how heavy the anti-aircraft fire was, and how it suddenly disappeared when the Japs were believed to have evacuated by submarine.

After the fall of Attu and Kiska, American bombers turned their attention to the powerful northern-most enemy air and sea base at Paramushiro in the Kuriles, and Lt. Shambeck had a part in these raids. He says the base is a gigantic one, well protected with a tremendous amount of anti-aircraft fire, big guns, fighter planes, and usually some big battleships are laying in the harbor—so, Japan considers this a very important base, evidently.

This is apparently our next goal, he says, but it is a long, hard job to bomb it out of commission, and bombing Paramushiro is especially difficult because of the fact that it is about a 12-hour mission from American bases, and the weather can do a lot of changing in the Bering Seas in 12 hours, making it hard for bombers to get back to their bases.

The speaker injected a lot of humor and optimism into his talk. He was probably the best ever heard at the local club by a boy back from the war front.

Shambeck was reared about 10 miles north of Tahoka, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shambeck, and attended Wilson schools.

Preceding the two talks, Miss

La Voyle Richardson presented two entertaining readings.

Chas. Cloe of the Army and Turner Rogers of the Merchant Marine were also guests.

Rev. H. A. Nichols, program chairman the past two months, announced that Alton Catin would be in charge of programs the next two months.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mathis and two children of Carsbad, N. M., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Milliken, the first of this week. Mrs. Mathis is the former Miss Tommie Milliken.
