Promotion of U.S. Highway 87 Vital Towns on Route

Practically every town between San Antonio and Amarillo touched by U. S. Highway No. 87 had representatives at a meeting Thursday of last week in Big Spring of the U. S. 87 Highway Association, "the Alaska Pan-American Route." Tahoka Chamber of Commerce was represented by W. T. Hanes.

The Association was organized in Denver, Colo., last September, and the meeting last week was a prelude to the 1944 annual meeting to be held in Denver May 30 and 31.

A. B. Davis of Lubbock is manager of the Association, and C. M. Coltrane of Casper, Wyoming is the president.

The Association cites these main objectives of the body as being:

1. To work for the designation of U. S. 87 Highway as the official route between the Alaska and Pan American highways.

2. To sell the importance of this highway to the several state highway departments that it may be constructed as quickly as possible up to the highest standards. In this connection, a committee was named Thursday to work with Texas State Highway Department.

3. To so advertise the route that the general public will use it in preference to all others.

"The only chance," Davis points out, "we have of accomplishing any one or all of these objectives is through this Association. The only way this Association can accomplish results is by having the support of wide-awake citizens in the towns and cities through which U. S. 87 passes.

Every citizen in every community in this highway will benefit directly in a dollar and cent way from the work of the Association."

Highway 87 is the best all-weather, best improved, and nearest connection between the two great international highways, and this may be the favorite route of the thousands of tourists in the post-war if a concerted effort is made by towns along the route in properly advertising its advantages, seeking further improvements, designation, etc., the backers believe.

To promote the highway, the organization will seek to raise about $10,000.00, each town being assessed two cents per capita and individual memberships being sold for $5.00 each.

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce has given its moral support to the move from the first, since this is the most important traffic artery of the two passing through the town.

FORMER BROWN COUNTY CITIZENS WILL MEET HERE

Former citizens of Brown county living in this area will meet in Tahoka at the City Park next Sunday for an all-day picnic. Visitors are asked to bring a basket, lunch.

Officers of the Ex-Brown County Club are Chas. Appling of Lamesa, president; Mrs. Smith of Big Spring, secretary, and George Small of Tahoka, vice president.

Last year's meeting was held at Big Spring.

Property Should Be Rendered Now

Due to the tire and gasoline shortage, property owners of the Tahoka School district are requested to come to the school office on the first floor of the court house for the purpose of rendering your property.

I will be in the office all day on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and part of the time on other days of the week. Won't you please cooperate with us in this matter?

Many property owners have been assessed, but I have failed to find some at home, and the national emergency will not permit my making several trips to see you.

J. S. Weatherford, tax assessor and collector, Tahoka Independent.

Grover Sellers

Grover Sellers, Attorney General of Texas, has announced he will be a candidate for a second term in that office in the 1944 primary election.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Sellers declared: "I am grateful to Gov. Coke Stevenson for appointing me attorney general, following the resignation of Gerald C. Mann, with whom I had served four years as first assistant.

"To the people of Texas I now submit my candidacy. When elected my one effort will be fair and impartial administration of all laws and the constitution as written by the people. I shall continue to work in complete harmony with other officials and state departments in the efficient operation of our state government.

"All Texans have one common thought today—winning the war as quickly as possible. This department, as in the past, shall continue full cooperation with military authorities in prosecution of the war. During the absence of our men in uniform, their welfare always shall be my first concern. In fact, I am the first ever to hold that Texans in uniform can vote.

"I base my candidacy on a background of experience gained as your Attorney General, first assistant Attorney General, judge of the Eighth Judicial District and as an associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals."

Schools Planning For Next Year

The Tahoka schools closed one of its most pleasant and successful years Friday, and plans are already under way for the school year of 1944-45.

At a regular meeting of the Tahoka school board last week, plans were discussed for the next school term.

The board has received notice that their application for two new school buses has been approved by the El Paso office of the Office of Defense Transportation, and the application is now in Washington. They are therefore of the opinion, according to Truett Smith, board chairman, that the application will receive final approval in due time.

Of course, this expenditure alone will increase next year's school budget some $4,000.00, but the present school buses are absolutely worn out and the board believes that the most economical way to handle the transportation set-up is to keep good buses so far as possible.

The teacher situation also came in for discussion in making plans for next school term. Supt. W. T. Hanes stated that he has on file applications from degree teachers which indicates that the teacher shortage will not be as acute as it has previously been.

Two teachers were elected for the next school term. They are Mrs. Guy Walker and Mrs. George Hudspeth, both of whom have been teaching in the Altus, Okla., schools for the past 12 and 14 years, respectively. Both of these ladies have college degrees and come highly recommended by the people of Altus.

The superintendent was authorized to keep in mind the standards of the school when accepting applications for positions and that no additional non-degree teachers would be accepted except as an emergency measure after the opening of school, provided no degree teachers are available.

Some time ago the school board authorized an increase of 15 percent in school taxes for the next school year. This move was believed necessary, members of the board state, in order to meet the increased cost of operation. In fact, the new buses mentioned above will more than absorb the increase in taxes. Based on 100 percent tax collections, the 15 percent increase will bring in approximately $3,500.00.

Tahoka Now Has Temporary Airport, Other Towns Prepare for Future Flying

Tahoka at last has a temporary airport.

Contributions by Tahoka businessmen have made possible the erection of a hangar for three planes on the landing field two miles west of town. And temporary recognition has been given the airport on recommendation of an inspector from the Civil Aeronautics board.

Members of Tahoka Flying Club have taken the lead in clearing the field on land owned by the T-Bar estate through courtesy of the lessees, and have erected the hangar. The club owns two planes.

Several private planes and one or two Army planes have already used the field.

Need of a permanent airport will grow greater and greater in the coming year, air-minded citizens believe, and the age of air transportation at the close of the war will be a thing of reality to even the smaller towns.

Airlines are already making applications for new routes, feeder lines, air mail contracts, etc., to be set up on war's end.

One company, Southwest Airways, has already made application for a network of lines that would carry passengers, mail, and fast freight to many smaller towns. They have notified the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce that Tahoka will be included on their lines, if and when approved, and if Tahoka is interested.

Happy Smith Buys Double Cola Plant

W. E. (Happy) Smith closed a deal last week whereby he becomes the owner of the Double Cola Bottling Company situated at 617 Ave. Q in Lubbock. He has already taken charge, and Henry Fisher of Lubbock, who has been connected with the Double Cola business for some time, will remain with it as manager.

Besides Double Cola, this plant also manufactures and sells Mission Orange, and the plant operates delivery trucks.

Mr. Smith is the owner of the Three-Mor Bottling plant here, being one of the original promoters and owners. It has grown to be a business of considerable importance.

Recently the machinery and equipment has been repaired and improved, and the plant is capable of putting out a larger volume of products now than ever before. Its output last year amounted to more than $60,000, but Hap will not admit that much of that was profit.

The plant bottles about 45 cases of drinks per hour. Each case contains 24 bottles, so that means that 1,080 bottles are turned out each hour, or a possible 10,800 during a ten-hour day. That supplies a drink a day for a good many people, but the industry appears to be merely in its infancy as yet.

At a recent meeting of the Tahoka school board, a board of equalization was appointed consisting of Carl Griffing, H. B. McCord, and O. C. Roberts.

The board will meet following the completion of tax assessment work J. S. Weatherford, assessor and collector, said.

FORMER CITIZEN IS WACO SUPERINTENDENT

Irby Curruth, whose parents, a brother and two sisters, formerly lived at New Home, in Lynn county, has been elected superintendent of the Waco city schools. Irby Curruth also lived at New Home for a few months.

Curruth served as superintendent of the Canyon public schools several years, and for the past few years has been head of the Bonham system.

Mrs. L. D. McKee went to Patricia, Dawson county, Friday to visit her father and L. D. went down Sunday afternoon. They returned home Monday morning, reporting very little rain along the route.

Judge Alton B. Chapman of Floydada, candidate for the State Senate from the 30th Senatorial district, was in Tahoka Saturday meeting the voters.

Judge Chapman has served with distinction as district judge of the Floydada district, and at present is president of the Texas Judiciary. Previous to becoming district judge, he was district attorney, and previous to that he served two terms as county attorney of Dickens county.

His formal announcement appears elsewhere in this issue.

Rain Showers Fall In Scattered Areas

Local showers fell in many places in Lynn county Saturday afternoon, with a heavy rain at West Point, but a comparatively small portion of the county was covered.

The rainfall in Tahoka amounted to .62, but the amount decreased almost to the vanishing point a mile or two south of town and at the park four miles north. Showers, amounting in some instances to an estimated inch, fell in small areas in parts of the Midway and Redwine communities and in the extreme northern part of the county, as well.

C. T. Tankersley reports a heavy rain at his place at West Point, and that it covered a strip five miles wide along the county line, but could give no report as to how far north and south it extended. Some estimated the rainfall out there as much as two inches.

Pat Swann Attends Lodge Meeting

County Commissioner Pat Swann of Wilson spent two or three days in Dallas last week representing the Tahoka Knights of Pythias Lodge at the state convention which was in session there. The degree of Past Chancellor was conferred upon him in recognition of his work as a member of Tahoka lodge. He went down with a party of Lamesa Pythians.

The Tahoka lodge, which was recently organized, has been growing steadily. Seven of the nine new members who have just finished taking their degrees are from Wilson. Since the Tahoka lodge is a new one, much of the work has been done by the Lamesa and the Lubbock lodges, both at Tahoka and those places.

Tahoka Schools Held Graduation Exercises Friday

The 1943-44 school year in Tahoka came to a close Friday night with the awarding of diplomas to 48 high school graduates at a program in the school auditorium, packed with students, parents, patrons, and visitors.

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, head of the Teacher Placement Bureau at Texas Technological College, gave the commencement address. In an unusual talk, he departed somewhat from the usual type of commencement speeches, and offered some practical down-to-earth suggestions to the Seniors. His remarks were apparently greatly enjoyed by his listeners.

Euella Dollins, high ranking student scholastically, gave the valedictory address, following the salutatory by Clara Faye Nordyke, second high ranking student.

Because of an ailment of one of the members, a scheduled vocal number by a trio of girls, was replaced by a piano solo by Charlene Bucy.

Diplomas were presented by Prentice Walker of the school board, former chairman, in the absence of Board Chairman Truett Smith, who was ill. Supt. W. T. Hanes read letters of congratulations from the commanding officers of Maurice Smith of the Army and Kenneth Carter of the Navy, who had given the two boys furloughs to come home to graduate from the class from which they were inducted a few months ago.

Invocation was by E. I. Hill and the benediction by W. A. Reddell. Mrs. Marcus Edwards played the processional and recessional.

Those receiving diplomas were:

Road From Wilson Is Being Improved

Probably the best and most expensive dirt road in Lynn county is now under construction—or rather the old road is being improved until it looks new. This is the stretch of road, five miles in length, leading westward from Wilson to the Tahoka-Lubbock highway. It joins the highway just this side of Wayside filling station.

Three graders are at work on this road throwing up a dump several feet high in places where the road crosses some shallow lakes, and the entire road is being well graded. This road serves chiefly the people of Wilson and vicinity, of course, and Lubbock will also profit to some extent as the result of this improvement.

Pat Swann, county commissioner, deserves much credit for this improvement, and its completion should bring to the attention of the people of Tahoka the importance of pressing the building of the Tahoka-Wilson-Slaton highway as soon after this war ends as possible.

Some newspaper correspondents insist that German morale is yet far from broken. The air raids over Germany, they claim, instead of breaking down the morale of the people has actually strengthened their fighting spirit. They suggest also that while the damage to property has been terrific, the industrial power of Germany has not been crippled as badly as has been supposed. In other words, they would have us not to be over-confident but to realize that we have a mighty job on our hands to break through to Berlin or to conquer Germany. And so we have.

judgment on the Government's action two or three weeks ago in seizing the plant of Montgomery Ward & Company and of bodily expelling Paul D. Sowell, assistant manager, from the plant by the use of United States soldiers, but it looks like a high-handed act and it certainly proved to be a very unpopular one. Storms of protest have gone up from all parts of the United States and from all walks of life. We people in this country do not look with favor upon anything that smacks of autocracy or tyranny even in time of war.

Governor Dewey of New York, leading candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency, has come out flat-footed for the passage of a Federal law abolishing the requirement in most of the Southern states of the payment of a poll tax as a qualification for voting. He is not willing for the several states to make their own election laws. This is just another bid for the Negro vote. If Dewey can corral this vote over the combined efforts of Eleanor and the President he will be going some.

WELLS H. D. CLUB MEETS

The Wells Home Demonstration Club met at 3 p. m. at the Wells lunch room Tuesday, May 2. Mrs. Joe McLaurin, president, presided.

Miss Carolyn Dixon, county home demonstration agent, encouraged proper management in feeding for egg production. A hen eats because she is hungry and a good management practice is to keep her hungry and eating. It is necessary that the hen be fed liberally, that the feed be properly selected, and that it be fed in proper proportion under sanitary and comfortable conditions.

Mrs. T. B. Barton was appointed finance chairman, and Mrs. Pat Hutchinson, parliamentarian. Demonstrators elected were Mrs. T. B. Barton, home improvement, and Mrs. Gale Simpson, garden demonstrator.

There were three new members: Mrs. George Simpson, Mrs. Lloyd Edwards, and Mrs. A. E. Ledbetter. Others present were: Mmes. T. B. Barton, Nola Balch, R. G. Grogan, W. A. Hinkle, Pat Hutchinson, Joe McLaurin, and Gale Simpson, and Misses Ina and Myrtle Ledbetter and Carolyn Dixon.—Assistant Reporter.

WILSON CANNING CENTER WILL BE OPEN SOON

Nolan J. Robnett, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Wilson high school, makes the following announcement respecting the opening of the canning center there.

Opening of the high school canning instruction center has not been definitely set but we are equipped and ready to start at any time there is a demand for it. For instance, if there are several who decide they want to buy and can some pineapple or any other food that is available, they should notify me, and we will open the canning center until the food is canned and then close it until there is another demand for canning. Later, during the rush canning season, the center will be open regularly to accommodate those who have food to can.

There will be a paid instructor to oversee the canning, but those who have food to can will be expected to help do the work, furnish the cans or jars, and also furnish the food they want canned. This school has purchased three new up to date automatic can sealers as well as other canning equipment.

The contribution that home canned food makes to the war effort should not be minimized, and to make the best use of canning facilities, plans for a complete canning budget should be outlined by each family well in advance of the canning season.

Last season, many people with little canning experience made the mistake of loading their pantry shelves with a great many cans of a few items, and have since discovered that they are overstocked with these foods that would help give variety to the family meals.

Even though a complete canning program calls for variety, there are a few vegetables that should come first in every canner's plan. After provisions have been made to can adequate supplies of tomatoes, snap beans, and corn; other vegetables such as beets, greens, peas, carrots, etc., should be included in the plan.

Carey Mathis, principal of the George Bean ward school in Lubbock, and small son were visitors in Tahoka Saturday. Mr. Mathis was principal of the Tahoka grade school before going to Lubbock about six years ago.

Mrs. Opal Pittman, Tahoka High School teacher, left Saturday for Texas City, where she expects to spend about three weeks.

Judge Chapman Is Senate Candidate

Alton B. Chapman, district judge of the 110th Judicial district of Texas and president of the State Judiciary, has authorized The News to formally announce his candidacy for State Senator of the 30th Senatorial District of Texas.

Judge Chapman, the youngest district judge in Texas, at the time of his appointment, has successively been county attorney two terms and district attorney. He resigned the latter office upon his appointment as judge after serving two years and four months in that capacity.

As district attorney, the record shows he tried approximately 200 cases with the loss of only three.

A stock farmer "on the side," he raises Milking Shorthorns. He is a director of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview, is a director of the Texas Milking Shorthorn Breeders, Inc., and has been an exhibitor at the Plainview show for several years.

He had never asked election to any office for more than two terms and has never lost a voting box in Dickens county, where he was reared.

He was born at Rochester, Haskell county, July 22, 1904, and moved with his parents and the other 10 of the 12 children of the family to Dickens county in 1918, where he lived until four years ago. At that time, he and Mrs. Chapman and three sons moved to Floydada to be in the center of his judicial district. He was educated in Simmons University at Abilene and the University of Texas, at Austin.

Judge Chapman issued the following statement:

"I elected senator, I shall represent the best interests of the people as a whole, without obligation to any corporation or special interests of any individual or group. I have no fight whatever with corporations, as they serve useful purposes, and we need them and they have their rights. But I promise, if elected, that I shall not during the time I am your senator accept retainer fees from any corporation. I do not believe a man can serve two masters.

"The most important question before the people today is the war effort. Any power this office may have that can be directed toward winning the war will be used by me to the end that your fighting men may return to their loved ones and to the institutions for which they are fighting. In this connection, I shall support any legislation the laws of the land will permit that will insure a White Primary for Texas.

"I shall support a program of social security for the aged, the blind and the dependent children and give my best efforts to the welfare of all state eleemosynary institutions. I am a strong believer in schools and will do my best for all schools and the teachers, who are giving so unselfishly that the state educational system may go on through the war.

"West Texas has always had to fight for her rights in the legislature. I feel that my experience qualifies me to ably represent this area of Texas in her fight for her part of the rural aid money, fair share of oil production, more uniform freight rates, more equal apportionment of paved highway funds, legislators in proportion to the population, and her other rights as part of Texas.

"I believe we should clear our state of debt and build a surplus for the reconstruction period, which is sound business for the state as well as the individual. I know of many leaks that can be plugged to help in this situation. I believe in remedying the problem in this manner rather than through sacrificing social security and other worthwhile programs.

"For years I have had the ambition to serve the people of this district as their senator. You are entitled to a senator whose background of education, morals, ability and dependability is such that you will have no cause to apologize for him personally or professionally. Please help me and I promise you an honest, efficient and respected administration."

J. J. GRAY RETURNS FROM MISSOURI, ARKANSAS VISIT

J. J. Gray of Tahoka and his cousin, Dave Stokes, barber at New Home, returned home Monday from a month's visit in Missouri and Arkansas.

They spent two weeks at Clinton, Mo., visiting Mr. Gray's brother. He was there during the recent flood period, when all the rivers and creeks overflowed the countryside. He says it is claimed the water was the highest in 100 years, and at some places was eight or ten feet over the highways. When the waters receded, he said, thousands of fish were left in the fields. His brother acquired a 40-pound catfish from a neighbor who was selling the fish harvest of his farm.

Following their visit at Clinton, the two men visited Mr. Gray's old home place in Boone county, northwestern Arkansas. Though enjoyable in some respects, Mr. Gray says it was a sad sight to look on the old home place and other places with which he was familiar as a youth, for the houses had gone to decay and where grown up in brush and weeds. They also visited two of Dave's sisters at Leadhill.

As an example of life in the timber and hills of that area, Mr. Gray told of a visit to one of his boyhood friends. To get to his home, he had to cross the river in a boat. This fellow has to keep two care, one on each side of the river, in order to be accessible to his place and to the rest of the world.

Mrs. Paul Cox, who spent the week end in the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Cox, following the close of her school, left early in the week for her home in Fort Worth. She plans to attend North Texas State College at Denton during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Cox had as guests over the week-end Mrs. Paul Cox, teacher at Gomet, Miss Milledred Cox of Dallas, and Pfc. Jimmie Cox of Drew Field, Tampa, Fla. Mrs. Jimmie Cox and little son, Jimmie Hugh, of Athens, Texas.

Jo Lehman, medical student in the University of Texas, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lehman.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Seay and baby are visiting relatives for a few days at Harrold, near Vernon.

CPL. C. A. PHILLIPS AT ENGLISH AIR BASE

"An 8th AF Bomber Station, England.—While serving with a pioneer Flying Fortress bombardment squadron attacking Hitler's "European Fortress" by daylight, Cpl. Clarence A. Phillips of Rt. 2, Tahoka, Texas, was awarded the Good Conduct Medal by his commanding officer, Lt. Col. Donald E. Sheeler, of South Bend, Ind., for "exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity." Since being overseas, Cpl. Phillips' squadron is pounding Nazi industrial and military targets, a source of headaches for the German General Staff.

Since leaving the States, Cpl. Phillips has seen Flying Fortresses from his group trundle to the take-off, roar at full throttle down the runway, and slip eastward in the early morning bearing bombs for Continental targets — spots whose names will plague future generations of history students, such as Schweinfurt (ball and roller-bearing plants), Brunswick (fighters and bombers for the Luftwaffe), Frankfurt (southwestern Germany's distribution center), Hanover (synthetic rubber and industrial factories), Wilhelmshaven (U-boats), and Berlin (the capitol city).

Despite unfavorable flying weather, the squadron's Forts made 16 sorties in March, including four attacks on Berlin. In the cold winter evenings, Cpl. Phillips has stood on the perimeter strip and anxiously "sweated" the return of his squadron's combat men and machines from a day over Europe. He has groped through blackouts and winter fogs helping with the details of getting next day's loaded bombers into the sky. Through it all, no matter what the conditions of the danger, he has worked hard and faithfully, and it is this devotion

To Our Friends and Customers

A growing city is almost invariably a city with a friendly and hospitable spirit. Sometimes a city achieves a sudden growth as a result of an oil boom or the discovery of other wealth hidden beneath its soil. But these instances are only rare. Most cities are man made.

Small cities become great cities through the vision and energy of its citizens. Such a city constantly seeks new capital investment in its development, new enterprises, new industries, new payrolls and new citizens.

This program of city building, featuring the welcoming hand of friendship to new citizens and new enterprises and accompanied by the fullest possible support of the industries it already has, brings rich rewards. The great cities of the South west were built and are being further built in just such manner.

The Southwestern Public Service Company is an independent company operating wholly under local management, since it has no holding company over it whatsoever. Thus its officers and managers are in position to conduct the operations of the Company under a policy of cooperation with the people of the cities and communities it serves.

This policy means the finest possible service to the public at the lowest possible rates consistent with such service. It also means the fullest cooperation with the citizens in all matters leading to the development and upbuilding of the cities and communities served by the Company.

Poultry Future Not As Bad As Many Believe

The recent break in egg prices has resulted in many farmers disposing of their laying flocks. The County Agricultural Agent, R. L. Stone, went through the egg breaking and poultry dressing plant in Lamesa recently. It was learned there that approximately 1200 hens and roosters are being dressed daily. Examination shows that many of these hens were good layers and should have remained on the farm. Two things caused farmers to dispose of these laying hens; one being the drop in egg prices and the other considerable disease condition over the country causing the poultry to die.

Ted Martin, Extension Poultry Husbandman, stated at a district meeting that over the state 18 percent less chicks have been hatched this year than were hatched last year, which means that less pullet replacements will be on farms this fall. Add to this the large number of laying hens being disposed of and there is but one conclusion to arrive at, this being that this fall there are going to be too few hens and pullets to lay the number of eggs that will be needed. As a result egg prices will go as high as ceiling prices will allow this fall. The present situation of low egg prices is due to lack of storage space and insufficient crates in which to pack the eggs. This situation will adjust itself and those farmers holding on to their flocks will profit by doing so this fall.

Under present prices of feed and eggs, the farm poultry raiser must exercise very good management in order to break even or show a slight profit, but those farmers who do not lose interest and practice good management should find themselves in an advantageous position this fall. Spring is always the normal time for slump in egg prices. This year the unusual high cost of feed has magnified the situation. Those rearing pullets for flock replacements this fall should continue giving these birds the best possible care. Mr. Martin states that too frequently the farmer practices good brooding methods only to let down during the developing period of the pullets following brooding, thereby handicapping the development of the pullet and assisting her to lay at the desired time.

During the summer all pullets should be reared on clean ground on which poultry has not been kept for at least a year. The ground should be planted to sudan or some other pasture crop so that the birds will receive plenty of green feed which contains vitamins and other nutrients essential to the proper development of pullets. In cases where such pasture cannot be afforded to the pullets, green alfalfa hay should be placed before the pullets daily. It is best in this country to soak the hay overnight thereby freshening it and making it more palatable to the pullets.

Dr. W. A. Boney, Extension Poultry Veterinarian, states that there is every reason why under present conditions poultry diseases will continue to increase in West Texas. However, this is not an alarming fact, as increases in any form of animal population always increases the possibilities of disease. Dr. Boney stresses the point that poultry raisers should increase their efforts toward sanitary conditions on the poultry premises.

Practically all the major poultry diseases can be transmitted from one bird to another. Birds affected with such diseases as Fowl Typhoid and Cholera which have the disease and live over it, quite frequently remain carriers of the disease and will transmit the disease to young chicks and pullets coming on the premises. This frequently explains sudden outburst of diseases in poultry farm flocks. All diseases in poultry farm flocks. All sick birds should be quarantined.

WAR BONDS in Action

U. S. Treasury Department

They should be burned or buried in case of death. All too frequently we see bunches of dead birds where they have been tossed out beside the road. Such action on the part of one individual endangers the poultry flocks of all surrounding farmers as the disease organisms from these dead birds may be borne by the wind, by tires rolling over the bodies, cats, dogs, rodents, and many other means. Birds which are quarantined and get well should be sold as they may be carriers and later cause large death losses of the flock.

Chicks, pullets, and laying hens should never be brooded, reared, or kept on the same piece of ground two consecutive years, as many diseases are transmitted to birds through droppings and from the soil. Use of dropping boards screened so that birds cannot get into them are invaluable in keeping down poultry diseases. Sanitation is invaluable as no form of animal life can remain healthy living in its own filth. One should be careful in buying chicks, pullets, and hens to be sure that they come from disease-free flocks. Many diseases are transmitted to farms through chicks from infected flocks and through chicks hatched in contaminated incubators.

The poultry industry now ranks as the third largest source of farm income in the state of Texas. A well managed poultry flock will be a continued weekly source of food and income for the farm family. Those who hold fast and practice good poultry management will come into an area this fall of profitable egg prices, which likely will be as high as ceiling prices will permit in considering the facts that 18 percent less chicks have been hatched this year and many farmers are selling their laying flocks at this time.

Many useful and highly informative poultry bulletins can be furnished to you by your County Agricultural and Home Demonstration agents.

Tahoka Airport

Many county seat towns in this area are already taking the first step toward post-war aviation by establishing permanent airports adjacent to town. Incidentally, the air lines are now recommending that small towns have their airports as close to town as possible, not more than two miles away at the most. They also recommend that many towns may have an adequate landing field on a quarter section of land.

Littlefield just last week bought 180.1 acres adjoining town for a consideration of $18,000 for an airport. The fund was raised by the City of Littlefield and individual subscription, and the port will be operated under direction of the Mayor, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Rotary Club.

Three weeks ago, the commissioners court of Floyd county bought 480 acres of land adjacent to Floydada for $20,000 to be used as an airport.

Lamesa, Brownfield, Plainview, Canyon, and other towns in this area have also acquired airports and have already improved them.

Several business men have asked The News to suggest that the City or County, or both, should take the leadership and make plans now to see that Tahoka and Lynn county are not left out when air transportation blossoms forth in the post-war days.

Clear Sailing IF . . . You Prepare NOW!

The tightest squeeze this year on the farm front will come at harvest time. Many over-age binders and threshers cannot survive another year. All-Crop Harvesters must be prepared to carry an extra load.

Here's what you can do to get your machine ready—

- Schedule your All-Crop immediately for our 24-POINT FARM COMMANDO overhaul. This also includes reconditioning the attachments for special crops and replacing or rebuilding worn parts.
- List your machine on our local Register as a qualified Farm Commando, available for outside work on neighboring farms.

If you are in need of an All-Crop Harvester, come in and talk to us. We may be able to furnish one or help you locate just the machine you are looking for.
