AT MONDAY NIGHT MEETING...

Vegetable Growers Change Name, Vote Two New Directors, Plan Stock Issue

The Muleshoe Vegetable Growers Association met Monday evening with fifty farmers present and voted to adopt an amended charter, which includes changing the name of the organization to Muleshoe Cooperative Growers, and also involves the issuing of stock shares, and the election of two additional directors. The board of directors now include seven members.

New directors include Dub Bartley and W. O. Stacy. Buddy Myers is president of the organization and Arvis Grogan is secretary.

A committee was named at the Monday meeting to work out a marketing agreement for study by the directors. When such an agreement is approved, members will be asked to sign, pledging not to sell their produce to any market other than the cooperative. Travis Jennings, long associated in the produce business in Brownsville, spoke briefly, urging the group to place their emphasis on quality vegetables, and assuring them a market if they produced a quality product.

Bill Millen, Bailey County Farm Bureau president, spoke briefly on his trip to Washington, D. C., last week to discuss the labor problem with government officials.

Myers explained that 200 shares of common stock will be issued to voting members. Also, first preferred stock will be issued to grower-investors, drawing 8% interest, as well as preferred stock to be issued as the first preferred indebtedness is retired. A packing shed is expected to be built this summer.

Low Cost Housing To Be Discussed At Breakfast Meet

A breakfast meeting will be held Friday morning, May 2, 7:00 a.m., at Leigon's, to hear details of a proposed low-rent housing program for Muleshoe. It was announced last week.

The program, coming within the provisions of the Federal Housing Administration, would provide for a number of low-rent housing units to be built here through FHA funds, to be rented to low income families.

Proponents of the program say that the city will be out no expense for construction, and that a city-appointed housing board will be in charge of the program during construction, and also handling rental details.

Everyone interested in such a program is invited to attend the meeting.

Worthless Checks On Increase, Say County Officers

A marked increase in the number of worthless checks being passed has brought a warning to merchants from the office of county sheriff Dee Clements.

Clements said this week that more and more worthless checks are appearing, and that merchants should use more caution in cashing checks, particularly people they do not know to be reliable.

Every month, the sheriff said, from five to ten sets of worthless checks are paid out, but an equal or larger number must be filed with accompanying fines and court costs.

Sheriff Clements returned one prisoner this week from San Antonio and lodged him in Bailey county jail on charges of issuing worthless checks.

In addition, five drunks and one DWI arrest were made by city and county officers within the past week.

Mexican Labor Advisory Meets In Washington With Labor Officials

Rising concern over problems facing agricultural groups who use Bracero labor, brought about a meeting of 82 farmers comprising a Mexican Labor Advisory committee with Department of Labor officials in Washington late last week and early this week.

W. T. Billen was among 35 farmers from Texas who talked with Labor officials concerning new regulations for the use of migrant and Bracero laborers in agriculture.

Also represented were the cattle industry, sheep and goat raisers and the cotton production industry.

According to Millen, the Labor Department will insist that farmers build suitable housing for domestic labor when any future Bracero housing is constructed.

The FHA has agreed to participate in the construction cost through loans.

The Labor Department is also insisting that domestic labor be recruited from over the entire U. S. before Bracero labor is certified for importation.

New formulas for figuring wage scale for farm labor includes a raise for Braceros as well as a 50 cent minimum for piece work.

Another point of dissent is Public Law 78, and whether the Department of Labor under this law is authorized to set minimum hourly rates for piece work in agriculture.

A number of meetings with representatives of the Department of Labor were held, with little apparently accomplished, Millen reports.

The group elected a committee

Farmers with more than 50 acres cotton allotment will bear the brunt of a 27-33 per cent allotment cut scheduled for the spring of 1959, unless cotton producers themselves get some legislation passed to change present USDA plans, John Gregg of the National Cotton Council told a group of farmers and ginners here Friday afternoon. A cut of from 40 to 50 percent is scheduled for the spring of 1960, Gregg continued, urging all members of the cotton industry to cooperate in some kind of unified effort to keep themselves from being voted out of business.

The group will sponsor an hour long visual program featuring an analysis of the cotton situation as to markets, futures and other items of interest. The program will be held in the Muleshoe high school auditorium May 6, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and no membership drive or fund raising campaign will be held or even mentioned.

Three members of the National Cotton Council from Memphis, Tenn., will present the program which includes an analysis of the competitive situation; basic programs to solve problems facing the cotton industry; and ask the industry to determine what a course should be taken to set up a long range program. The main purpose of the meeting, Gregg said will be to tell members of the cotton industry what to do, but to present facts to encourage thinking among the members, and to show where money given the NCC is used and for what purpose. Ginners alone, or spinners alone, nor any one of several other segments of the industry alone cannot influence legislation, Gregg said. Only a concerted effort on the part of the nation's million and a quarter cotton farmers and producers can swing enough weight to bring out some kind of compromise legislation that will be acceptable to the majority.

Gregg went on to point out how the market for cotton is shrinking every year, and how no one can have any confidence in the cotton industry due to the wishy-washy, changeable programs which plague all its members.

A long range price and production program must come from within the industry itself, or else there will be no industry, Gregg concluded.

About 20 farmers and ginners attended the Friday afternoon meeting.

Forbes To Buy PCA Building

J. M. Forbes, publisher of The Journal, has contracted to buy the Plainview Production Credit Association building, located at 306 West Second Street, west side of the courthouse square and next door south of the present Journal building in Muleshoe. The lot involved is No. 3, Bloc 23, Original Town.

The building is 25 feet by 40 feet and may be enlarged at will. Signing of the contract this week ended negotiations that have been going on for about two years.

It is the understanding that the Association will soon announce plans for the construction of a fine new office building in Muleshoe, also to be located on the west side of the square, about two doors south of their present location. The Association several months ago purchased some ground from the Muleshoe Odd Fellows Lodge.

Forbes said there is no present plan for use of the PCA building by The Journal, but that it and the lot on which it is located will be available for future expansion of the paper office, office supply store, and plant when the time comes that such moves will be expedient. Possession will be given about October 1.

Ranch Installs Benches. Concrete Pipe For Irrigation Of Pastures

A planned program to convert approximately 40 acres of eroded land to supplementary pasture is being carried out on the headquarters section of the U-Bar ranch near Muleshoe.

Jim Ward, ranch manager said one 20 acre plot, just south and east of the ranch house has been bench leveled and will be planted to sudan this spring. It will later be put in permanent grasses, such as sideoats gramma, switch grass and blue grama.

Deep breaking to eight inches was followed by leveling and floating, construction of stepped benches, prior to the application of cotton burrs and feedlot manure.

The supplementary pasture will be used in connection with the feeding operations carried on at the ranch. Approximately 350 head are on hand now, with about 150 in the feed lots and the rest on grass range.

Another 20 acre area is being leveled below the benches. After it is floated, it will be put in 20 inch rows and side oats gramma planted for pasture.

Although the program was planned and laid out by the Muleshoe office of the Soil Conservation Service, the actual construction was privately financed.

One nine inch well near the center of the highest bench will irrigate the entire area, through 1100 feet of underground concrete pipe systems, recently installed.

Bailey County Paving Projects Part Of Federal 'Crash Program' Of Hiway Aid

Two Bailey county projects are included in a 231 mile, five million dollar federal emergency program approved late last week for the Plains area of West Texas. The program is part of a federal job-generating program, and is in addition to the regular state highway program. Under the federal emergency highway program, the state pays one third of the cost of the projects, with the federal government paying two thirds. All work in the 11-county west Texas part of the program must be contracted by December of this year, and completed by December of 1959.

The district office of the Texas Highway Department announced this week that the work can be started right away and will likely be started within the next few months.

Included in the program is the widening of U. S. 84 from west 8th street to the Muleshoe city limits west at a cost of $110,000. Also the four-laning and paving of right of way for US 70 from the east Muleshoe city limits to the Lamb county line for a distance of 6.5 miles at a cost of $214,000.

All preliminary work has been done on both these projects, but with the emergency program, it is expected the jobs will be started sooner than originally planned.

Other counties sharing in the five million dollar emergency program include Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Parmer, Swisher and Yoakum.

Today's Meditation

Read Luke 17:5-10

Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. (Psalm 100:2)

Time, talent and treasure are the heavenly gifts to human beings. No day should pass without our thanking God for those signs of His mercy and love. It is right to dedicate these gifts to the Lord. How many hours of the day do we spend for Christ and in His service?

When we surrender to Him our talents, we get His blessing. If we give Him our treasure with glad hearts, He gives us great joy. Blessed are those who say daily, "Everything for Jesus."

Esther, a girl of six, heard in Sunday school that true Christians sacrifice all they have to the Lord. On the floor she put a big plate. On it she put her best-loved treasures: her doll, her picture book, her money box. At last she stood on it herself and said, "Here you have me, dear Lord, with all I possess."

PRAYER

Dear Lord, we dedicate to Thee all our time, our talents, our treasure. We know Thou hast given us these gifts and Thou dost rightly expect a real sacrifice from us. Christ has done all for us on the cross; so we want to do all for Him. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Blessed are we if we say daily, "Everything for Jesus," and act accordingly.

—Ruth Luchsinger (Switz.)

A TRIBUTE

To Mothers

Abraham Lincoln said, "all that I am or ever can be, I owe to my mother". And that we think, sums up what all of us think about our mothers. It isn't only on Mother's Day that we should revere the name and memory of Mother. Every minute of every day we should unflinchingly show our love and endeavor to make her life easier and happier. If your Mother has passed on, show that her memory still lives in your heart. Visit the cemetery frequently and lay lovely living flowers on the sacred spot where she sleeps forever. This will be a token payment of all she did for you.

Phone Company & CWA Union Reach An Agreement

A contract agreement was reached Friday, April 25 between General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communication Workers of America, according to Mark F. Cooper, public relations director for the Company.

The new contract will increase total annual wages roughly $265,000 but there was no across-the-board increase. Maximum wage increase agreed on was 16c an hour. The average hourly wage increase was approximately .015. There is no change in vacation pay, a major point in negotiations.

The new contract will affect about 2,800 workers in the five state area of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Smokesmen said the wages went into effect Sunday, April 27 and will remain in effect 12 months; however, official signing of the contract by Company and union officials will not take place for several days.

Negotiations began March 17. Walter White, Federal Mediator of Dallas, was called into the bargaining sessions April 14 after a stalemate was reached.

REMEMBER WHEN?

by JOHN CROW

It was a crime that shocked the nation. America's hero of just a few years before had not been forgotten . . . and the tragedy that struck him and his family was headlined and discussed from one end of the country to the other.

First there was the terrible headline, "LINDBERGH BABY KIDNAPPED!" Then followed the anguished search for the child and negotiations with the kidnapers. Ten weeks later the baby was found dead.

The investigations went on. Over two years later the kidnapper was finally found and arrested, and it was not until the following year that the kidnapper was brought to trial. The evidence convinced the jury, and the verdict came in—guilty! The man who stood silently in that courtroom and heard the verdict which condemned him to death was Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Remember the day of that tragic crime?

Remember the year? America was going through a troubled time that year. Cars cost a lot less by today's standards . . . but they weren't easy to buy, and a man shopped around for the highest trade and the best terms.

The year was 1932. We believe in giving the highest possible trade-in allowances consistent with good business . . . but they weren't easy to buy, and we can arrange the best terms you can find on a new 1958 CHEVROLET. Stop in and look over our complete choice of models, at—

ADULT HELP IS NEEDED Added Interest In Little League Creates Four or Five New Minor League Teams

An urgent appeal for adult volunteers to help out with the growing number of boys who want to play Little League baseball was issued this week by LL president Lyndal Murray.

Murray issued the call through the office of W. D. Moore, who said that there are 84 additional boys wanting to play this season in addition to the regulars of last year.

This will create at least four or five minor league teams, Moore announced, with about twenty of the new boys going into one of the major league teams, and the minors absorbing the balance.

Managers, umpires, and other adult workers are badly needed, the men said, to get the minor teams organized so these boys can play ball this summer.

The auction of players will be held tonight, Thursday, with players agent Travis Reed in charge.

The complete list of all players and the teams on which they will play, will be published in The Journal next week.

Pre-Registration of 1958-59 Frosh Indicates Interest In Sciences

Pre-registration of 1958-59 freshman students over the current year enrollment is anticipated.

Parker announced this week. Parker said that conferences are being held with individual students and their parents to plan the entire four years work in high school for the student.

Conference results are based on the use of stan ardized tests and student aptitudes, thus making it possible to plan the course of high school work for the student.

Parker said that as a result of registrations completed so far, there is a definite trend in interest in courses including math, science and driver education.

Parker places the cause of this interest in increased public interest in these subjects.

Some increase in total high school enrollment is anticipated, the principal said, with an estimated 420 students expected in high school the coming fall. No particular increase in number of

New Small Canned Ham
Homemakers who like good things in small packages will be glad to find another favorite — a new small canned ham. Hams will be available in a new size. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's meat inspection division has cooperated with the meat packing industry to develop a processing method that yields 1 and 1½ pound canned hams much like the larger 6 to 8 pound canned hams now on the market.

Small canned hams, many of them imported, have been on the market previously. These hams have been fully processed at a fairly high temperature. Although this allowed them to be stored at room temperature, it also resulted in considerable free liquid in the can.

To avoid this problem, a way was found to process the new small canned hams safely at low temperatures. Like the usual large canned hams, they have good flavor, little excess liquid in the can and must be stored in the refrigerator.

Processing of these hams is just beginning. They should be popular with those who like the convenience of ready-to-serve boneless hams but find the 6-pound hams too large. These small canned hams will be handy to keep in the refrigerator for a quick meal. Cold or hot, a 1½ pound canned ham should serve 4 to 6 people.

Briefs For Food Shoppers
More careful-than-usual shopping is needed these days to get the most for the money at the limited number of different fruits available and none of them are in plentiful supply. Apples can still be found, although the season for this fruit is drawing to a close.

Budget-minded and nutrition-wise shoppers will be sure to include the dairy counter in every shopping tour. Milk, always a value, now is seasonally low in price. Current large supplies of milk also mean that abundant quantities of cheese and ice cream will be available for some time to come. Egg prices are now considerably lower than they were several weeks ago.

ENRICHED is the important word to look for when choosing bread. Enrichment is an effort to add back to the flour the nutrients, lost in the milling process, which are the natural ingredients of the original whole grain. "Enriched" breads and flour are the usual white bread and flour made with added amounts of the three B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, niacin) and iron.

Different kinds of fresh bread vary in softness, so the old "squeeze test" is not a reliable test for freshness. Some types of bread are by nature compact and just do not become soft. Other breads remain soft for days due to the ingredients and softeners used in their manufacture.

Home Economics Briefs
Planning meals a week in advance helps in buying, using left overs, and in adding variety to meals, according to extension foods and nutrition specialist. Balance each day's meals by including foods from each division of the Texas Food Standard. Get a copy from your local home demonstration agent or write the Agricultural Information Office.

Overloading a washing machine is a common cause for complaints that washers do not remove soil. Weigh the loads until articles that make up the right load for your machine. Better results have been reported when the machine is one-half to a pound less than recommended capacity.

For those times — and they should be rare — when some member of your family does not have time for a conventional breakfast, hand him an egg nog. Just beat one egg, add a cup of milk and stir in a pinch of salt and a little sugar to taste. A glass of orange juice and a piece of buttered toast completes this "quickie" breakfast.

Every man, woman, and child, old and young, needs three kinds of recreation, says Lucille Moore, his big date for many disabled people, John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock social security office said today.

30 Deadline Filing By Disabled People

Many people who are disabled have neglected to apply under the social security disability provisions Hutton said. Workers, both men and women, who have been disabled for over a year have until June 30, 1958 to file application for the disability benefits if they are 50 or older. Those who have been disabled for a prolonged period and wait until after June 30th may forfeit their rights to disability benefits at age 50, to maximum old-age benefits, and to benefits for their survivors.

Hutton pointed out that there is no deadline for those who file within a year from the time they become disabled. The June 30, 1958 deadline applied only to those who have been disabled for a prolonged period.

For more information, pamphlets on the disabled benefits available under Social Security, contact your Social Security office today.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on May 8, at 10:30 a.m., at the Courthouse and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

Cub-Dad Camps Scheduled Again By Scout Council

Again this year Cub Scouts and their dads of the 22 county South Plains Council will converge on the C. W. Post Memorial Scout Camp at Post, Texas for a weekend of fun and adventure. The traditional Indian Council-Fire will open each camp on Saturday night. Chief Runkles, Camp director and well-known Indian authority, will be in charge of the Indian lore activities of the camps.

Each camp starts with supper on Saturday evening and ends following lunch on Sunday. Plans should be made to arrive in camp after 3:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Cub Dad Camp dates are:
First Camp—May 31-June 1.
Second Camp—June 7-June 8.
Third Camp—June 14-June 15.
Fourth Camp—June 21-June 22.
Fifth Camp—June 28-June 29.

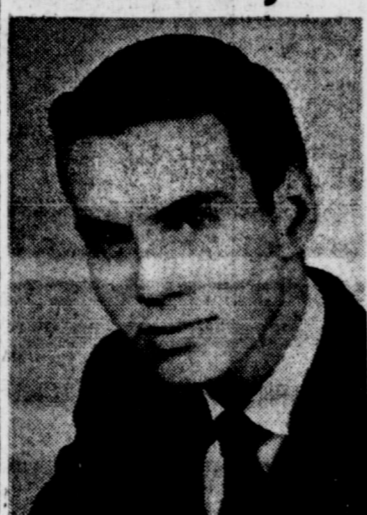

Cubs who wish to use the swimming pool at camp must be sure and have the standard Scout medical examination blank completed by his doctor. This form is available from Mr. Alex Wilkins, Campmaster, and will be presented at camp to the life guard at the pool. Dads may swim without a medical examination if they sign a release.

Each Cub will need to bring a sleeping bag or bed roll, cot, toilet articles, swimming trunks, towel and if desired, a tent, air-

Mountain Camp Acquired For Use Of Plains Scouts

The South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America has added a third camp to its list of opportunities for boys. Eighteen acres of land near Tres Rios, N. Plans call for the construction of roads, bridges, latrines, and troop shelters within the near future.

The Rev. Wayne Bristow, Wayland evangelist from Muleshoe, will conduct a spring youth revival of First Baptist Church, Earth, opening Friday, May 2, according to Rev. Cecil Meadows, pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Bristow, who is youth director at First Baptist Church, Springlake, is a widely known evangelist, having led successful evangelistic campaigns at Lebanon, Oregon; Rocky Ford, Colo.; Albuquerque, N. M., and Loveland.

The speaker is a student at Wayland Baptist College, where he has been president of the Baptist Student Union. Last summer he served as a missionary-evangelist to the northwestern United States.

Assisting in the revival will be song leader Larry Branscum, El Paso, and pianist Betty Martin, Ropesville.

Dr. Chambers Is Vice-Chairman Of Scout District

Dr. George H. Chambers, Muleshoe physician, has been appointed vice-chairman of George White District of the Boy Scouts of America. The appointment was made by Dr. C. G. Dunn of Loveland, who is presently serving as District Chairman.

Dr. Chambers will replace Cecil Tate who has recently resigned from that position. Mr. Tate will continue to help with the local Scouting units in Muleshoe.

Dr. Chambers is an Eagle Scout himself with a rich Scouting background. His previous Scouting activities were in the Paris, Texas area.

In welcoming Dr. Chambers to its team, the South Plains Council would also like to express its appreciation to Mr. Tate for his many years of service to the Council and District in the fields of finance and administration.

The George White District, consisting of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb, and Hockley counties, will be the first to use the new mountain campsite. The temporary name of the camp will be the Sangre De Cristo Scout Camp; it is named for the mountain range of which it is a part.

Registrations are now open to troops of these counties for the week of June 1 through June 7, 1958. At this time 175 boys from this area have made reservations.

Program available to boys this year will include nature, hiking, pioneering, woodcarving, first aid, astronomy, weather, geology, and cooking. This will be a real adventure for many boys who have never experienced a wilderness-type camp before. They will cook all of their meals over an open fire; carry and purify all of their water, plan and choose their own program and schedule of activities, and even perhaps learn to keep warm during the long cold mountain nights.

Before the week is over they will have learned to heat large rocks, wrap them in newspaper, and tuck them into their bedrolls. They may even be insulating their bedrolls with newspaper. The Muleshoe Journal cordially invites any Scouts attending this camp to come down beforehand and pick up their supply of newspapers.

To register for this camp, Scouts should contact their Scoutmaster, Homer Currey.

Local People At Agency Meeting

Bob Jacobs, Muleshoe representative of the South Coast Life Insurance Company, and his wife attended an agency meeting of Panhandle and Plains representatives of the company. Mrs. Melba Phipps also of Muleshoe, was a guest at the meeting which was held at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo.

Joe Woodward, president of the company, was the featured guest of the meeting. On arrival in Amarillo, Mr. Woodward said that economically speaking, this area of the state was one of the brighter spots. He said this was indicated by the new business by representatives in this territory. Through March, the Northwest Texas agency was leading the company's other territories in total production.

Mr. Woodward pointed out that "when a company passes the one hundred millions insurance in force mark, it joins the ranks of the giants in the life insurance business. We are comfortably situated above the point and you can expect continued vigorous growth."

Your potato plants can tell you but then it's...

TOO LATE FOR TOP-PROFITS

When your potato plants show a yellowing between the veins of lower leaves, they're telling you they lack available magnesium and can't produce maximum yields. Few magnesium deficiencies in potatoes are seen as easily as this one... but the unrecognized deficiency steals profits before you know it.

Our special SPM Premium potato fertilizer can help increase yields of U. S. No. 1 potatoes 50-80-100 bu./A. because it contains Sul-Po-Mag to supply fast-acting, water-soluble magnesium lacking in most potato soils of this area. Sul-Po-Mag does not raise soil pH or increase the danger of potato scab.

Practical potato growers, and experiment stations too have proved conclusively that premium quality (low chloride) sulphate of potash from Sul-Po-Mag in our SPM Premium potato fertilizer helps grow potatoes of greater specific gravity, higher starch content, and better shipping quality. For top profits from potatoes, invest in our SPM Premium potato fertilizer.

We use this Seal of Approval as your guarantee that our SPM Premium Fertilizer contains recommended quantities of genuine Sul-Po-Mag.

BABSON DISCUSSES...

Unemployment and Big Business

Babson Park, Mass., May 1—It is clear that unemployment results from the recession. But it is not sufficiently clear what is the cause of the recession. However, no one can doubt that it is due to some imbalance in the economy. The reaction is from some previous action.

Remember The SeeSaw
Because certain excesses have existed too long or been too great—a correction must come if we are to regain normal economic balance. Our economy, when free, is like the children's seesaw or "teeter". A fat boy pushes down one end and raises a skinny boy at the other end. In our economic seesaw the excessive weight at one end may be over-expansion of production in relation to consumer demand.

In an ideal economy, productive capacity should always be geared to consumer demand. But actually, such gearing is not automatic. Either plant capacity is expanded faster than consumption; or demand drops off after temporary excessive consumer buying, as in installment purchasing. Moreover, our economy is not so free as many would like to believe. In the market place, prices no longer respond quickly to conditions of supply and demand.

Big business has given our economy many benefits, including making available to the many—by mass production and mass distribution—necessities, comforts, and luxuries. In boom times, however, big business and big organized labor together give consumers wage-and-price inflation, driven upward by annual wage-and-price increases unrelated to the annual rise in productivity. Plant capacity is expanded without relation to consumer demand.

Correcting The Unbalanced Seesaw

The government has the ability to balance too great or too long-continued imbalance by standing at the center of the seesaw and inclining its weight either to the right or the left. But the government can also restore the balance in other ways—by assuring even weights at both ends of the seesaw, or by making the weightier force (supply or demand) move up nearer the middle.

But government should not and must not be expected to operate a managed economy. There still remains enough self-reliance in our politico-economic system to restore the ability of private, competitive small business to do the balancing—if small business is unfettered. Restoring competition in big industry will break down too rigid administered prices. These prices have been fixed too long and too much.

Too great monopolistic power by Big Business and/or Big Labor must be curbed by Big Government. Remember that 95% of our American businesses employ fewer than 20 people; about 80% of our businesses are unincorporated.

Seven Definite Recommendations

As a result of the two World Wars, Big Business and Big Labor were granted too many artificial and powerful special privileges in the name of Defense. The time is overdue to remove these privileges and give the 3 million small businesses with a total of over 8 million workers a chance to cure our recession. Proposals to this end have recently been made to the Senate Committee:

1. A tax deduction for all concerns which reinvest profits in their operations. This would provide the necessary capital for those small concerns.
2. Equalization between large and small companies in regulations for depletion and depreciation. Used machinery and equipment, which the smaller concerns usually buy, should be given the same rates of depletion and depreciation as new.
3. Deductions for the self-employed and other persons not members of qualified pension programs, for their own retirement.
4. Provision for the payment of estate taxes in installments so that businesses need not be liquidated simply to accommodate the Federal Government.
5. Federal grants to small concerns, for research and development, requiring that all patents secured from research at taxpayers' expense be made available freely to all concerns.
6. More credit for small business firms by the Small Business Administration in order to offset the one-sided power of large corporations to extend credit to customers by practically shipping on consignment.
7. Elimination of labor's exemption from the anti-trust laws.

Washington News Letter by Lydon Johnson

Dear Friend:
The Community Facilities Bill passed by the Senate is designed to provide effective help of states and local political subdivisions in carrying out needed public improvement projects.

Texas' smaller towns and communities have a particular interest in this bill. Many of them have been experiencing considerable difficulty in financing public improvement programs.

This situation should be relieved by the Community Facilities Bill if it is passed by the House of Representatives and approved by the President. Here are the major provisions of the bill:

- (1) It increases the $100 million Housing and Home Finance Agency's public facility loan program to $1 billion. This will provide loans for such purposes as sewage treatment works, public streets and sidewalks, lighting systems, libraries, recreational facilities and other badly needed projects.
- (2) It provides for an effective interest rate of 3 per cent. Many Texas communities have been paying 4 1/8 and 4 5/8 per cent.
- (3) It increases the present 40-year maximum payment period on these Federal loans to 50 years.
- (4) It increases the present Federal loan fund—available without interest for long-range public works planning—from $48 million to $98 million.

This bill represents another step in the effort being made by Congress to fight the business slump and provide jobs for people who need them. I hope it will not run into a veto at the White House.

JOY WARNER TO TRAIN AS AIRLINE STEWARDESS

The following news item concerning a former Muleshoe girl is taken from the Mexico (Mo.) Evening Ledger. The D. Warner family moved to Mexico from this community several years ago:

Miss Joy Warner will leave next month for Fort Worth for training as a stewardess for the American Airlines.

After her five weeks' school at the American Airlines Stewardess College in Fort Worth, she will be assigned to a route.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Warner of Adrian, Mo., Miss Warner has been employed by Crews and Drumright since October 1956. Prior to that time she was employed in Lubbock and Muleshoe, Texas, following her graduation from West Texas State at Canyon, Texas.

She went to Chicago this week for her physicals, and plans to leave Mexico May 14 for Texas.

Sandhills Philosopher Finds...

Out Benjamin Franklin clearly Misquoted on Saving Money

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably is all mixed up on the economic situation, but who isn't?

Dear editor:
I was sitting out here on my farm yesterday afternoon not doing a thing, that is, it may have looked like I wasn't doing anything but actually I was building up my resistance, as I understand the Secretary of Commerce in Washington has said one solution to the threat of a recession is for business people to get out and do a better job of selling and if they don't any better than they've already done I don't see how some people are going to meet their payments.

Anyway, right out of nowhere a sudden gust of wind dropped a newspaper right at my feet and I reached out and picked it up and after I figured I had my resistance built up enough to resist whatever it had to offer I opened it up and started reading an article that has me puzzled.

According to it, the reason this mild recession, and that's all I suspect it is, has hit this country is because "the people lost confidence and started to salt money away."

Now this may be absolutely right, I don't know, maybe salting money away is unconfident and will bring on a recession, but I've been thinking, what does this do to Benjamin Franklin?

According to Franklin, you remember, a penny saved is a penny earned, but he didn't go far enough, he should have warned us that he was misquoted, what he really meant to say was "a penny saved is a penny earned and a recession one cent nearer."

I tell you, it sure throws a different light on economy when a man has to say to himself when he holds on to a dollar, all right keep the dollar, salt it away, if you want to throw somebody out of work. I have never looked at it in this light before. Up to now, there was always a gnawing idea lurking in the back of my mind when I started to spend some money I'd gotten my hands on that it might be better for me and the country too if I held on to it.

Understand, I have never really held on to it, but it sure is nice to get rid of this gnawing idea.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

Washington this week is moving slowly toward a Summit Conference later this year with about as much enthusiasm as a small boy about to enter a haunted house.

"We know that the Russians are baiting a trap for us," a veteran diplomat told us, "but the lure of even the remotest possibility of an easing of the cold war is irresistible."

The trap that Nikita Khrushchev has so cleverly set for us is the most powerful in the world. The jaws of adverse public opinion can crush any nation. The bait is promises of peace.

The Russian objective is to convince as many nations as possible, as well as the Russian people, that the Communist Bloc wants peace, and that it is the capitalist nations that are the warmongers.

President Eisenhower interprets Russian demands for a Summit meeting as a trick to inflame world opinion against the U.S. Secretary Dulles sees it as another phase in the Communist plan for world domination.

Both credit Khrushchev with being sincere in his desire to avoid a hydrogen-atomic bomb war, but only if he can achieve world conquest by other means.

Russia has a potent weapon which Washington fears far more than the hydrogen bomb or the ICBM. The communists did not invent propaganda, but they are the most skilled and ruthless users of the "big lie" in the world today. The Summit Conference demand is a master propaganda stroke.

What Khrushchev wants is something for nothing. He has the advantage of knowing that the West will bargain in good faith and that it will keep any promises made. Khrushchev is hampered by no such scruples.

"The American representatives at the conference," a former U. S. envoy to Moscow told us, "had better wear both a belt and suspenders. Either way, we still are likely to lose our shirt."

One of the things that bothers Washington most is the remarkable and ominous similarity between the tactics of Khrushchev and German dictator Adolf Hitler. The parallel is almost as if we were turning back the pages of history.

Hitler dreamed his mad dream of world domination, and so does Khrushchev. The record of both is bloody with the ruthless extermination or exile of all internal opposition. Khrushchev, as did Hitler, cloaks his intentions behind a professed desire for peace.

British Prime Minister Sir Neville Chamberlain came away from Munich with the conviction that he had secured a firm promise of "peace in our time." Hitler robbed Western Europe, and perhaps the U.S., of the alertness to danger that might have prevented World War II.

The question Washington is asking itself is: Is history again about to repeat itself?

and to know that spending the answer to hard times I talked this over with a friend who was busy moment figuring out could cut on his groceries he took time off to confounding theory will appreciate your Washington to straighten out this.

Yours
J. A.

Washington News Letter
by Lydon Johnson

Dear Friend:
The Community Facilities Bill passed by the Senate is designed to provide effective help of states and local political subdivisions in carrying out needed public improvement projects.

Texas' smaller towns and communities have a particular interest in this bill. Many of them have been experiencing considerable difficulty in financing public improvement programs.

This situation should be relieved by the Community Facilities Bill if it is passed by the House of Representatives and approved by the President. Here are the major provisions of the bill:

- (1) It increases the $100 million Housing and Home Finance Agency's public facility loan program to $1 billion. This will provide loans for such purposes as sewage treatment works, public streets and sidewalks, lighting systems, libraries, recreational facilities and other badly needed projects.
- (2) It provides for an effective interest rate of 3 per cent. Many Texas communities have been paying 4 1/8 and 4 5/8 per cent.
- (3) It increases the present 40-year maximum payment period on these Federal loans to 50 years.
- (4) It increases the present Federal loan fund—available without interest for long-range public works planning—from $48 million to $98 million.

This bill represents another step in the effort being made by Congress to fight the business slump and provide jobs for people who need them. I hope it will not run into a veto at the White House.

FIRE ANT QUARANTINE HITS TEXAS

The vicious little imported ant, infamous for its painful bite and destructive habits, is the target of a new federal quarantine imposed in eight states, including Texas.

Six Texas counties will be "blocked off" due to the federal order, in an effort to prevent the further spread of the pest into farm and ranch country. Beginning May 6, movement of plants, soil and other carrying agents of the ant will be closely supervised in the infested areas.

Many East Texas farmers already are acquainted with the fire ant, a native of South America, who has also recently become an "unwanted alien" in parts of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Mississippi, Georgia, Louisiana, and South Carolina. Texas continues under quarantine will include Hardin, Jasper, Jefferson, Newton, Orange, and Tyler.

In these countries, the fire ant has made a name for itself as a pest harmful to crops, livestock, and humans. It often attacks small animals, ground-nesting birds, poultry and newborn calves and pigs. Its fiery sting can bring death to these young animals and make the farmer's field work painful, and often impossible. The hard mounds of dirt, sometimes as high as 18 inches and two feet across, cause damage to machinery.

The quarantine order will cause some unavoidable difficulty to nurserymen whose property is infested. Any business whose main activity involves transportation of growing plants, is affected by the order.

Nurserymen are urged to inspect their property carefully before the quarantine becomes effective. Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors are available to help eradicate the pest. If a nursery is found to be free of the insect before the federal quarantine is imposed, then some of the regulatory problems will be simplified. An infested property will have to treat its plants to kill the ant before shipment is permitted.

Details of the federal quarantine order are available from: John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Muleshoe FFA Wins First At Tech Judging

The Muleshoe FFA chapter cattle judging team took first place banner in the Guernsey cattle division of the 31st annual Texas Tech Vocational Agriculture judging contests held Saturday.

Richard Goodwin was third high point individual in dairy cattle judging.

More than 1500 boys, including 175 teams from 138 chapters participated in the judging.

Seventh Annual Short Course On Swine Is May 5-6

How to make swine production in Texas more profitable is the single objective of the program planned for the seventh annual Swine Course scheduled for Texas A & M College on May 5-6.

T. D. Tanksley associate extension animal husbandman, says that major emphasis will be placed on how commercial producers can plan a meat type hog program; how production records and tested breeding animals can be evaluated for use in selecting breeding animals; how contract farming and vertical integration is affecting the swine industry; how hogs are being marketed on a merit basis; and how producers can improve their operations by using the latest developments in swine feeding, management and health.

Four nationally known swine experts, Dr. R. M. Durham, extension swine specialist from Iowa; C. M. Mitchell, secretary, Poland China Association, Galesburg, Illinois; Jim Nance, president, National Swine Growers Council, Alamo, Tenn.; and C. E. Bell, Jr., Federal Extension Service, Washington D. C., will headline the list of speakers for the two-day meeting.

Other program participants will include President Davis Rumsel of San Antonio and Secretary Ray Anderson of Fort Worth of the Texas Swine Breeders Association co-sponsor with A & M's Department of Animal Husbandry of Short Course, and Association members Marvin Bridges of Buffalo and C. T. Johnson of Dallas. Several members of the Animal Husbandry Department will also appear on the program.

Tanksley says the first session is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on May 5 in the Assembly Room of the Memorial Student Center. He extends a special invitation to every person in Texas who is interested in improving and expanding the State's swine industry to attend. Local county agents and teachers of vocational agriculture can supply details on the short course.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

The Parmer County Farm Bureau weed committee got a good delegation to the annual Bushland noxious weed conference last Thursday. Raymond Schuler, chairman of the committee was accompanied by Carl Rhea, Jack Patterson, Joe Jones, Roy Crawford, Joe Jesko, and Gus Schlabs. Several FFA boys from Bovina and Friona also attended. The FFA boys assist in the county weed eradication program by locating and marking location of bindweed on maps in their classrooms. Some of the weed committee met with Mr. Clark, Santa Fe representative, in Amarillo. The railroad is again pledging its support and cooperation in the program this year.

C. R. O. P., Christian Rural Overseas Program, is again being put into operation in Parmer county this year. Hugh Blaylock, pastor of the Friona Methodist Church is organizing this and two other counties. The Parmer county meeting will be in the Methodist church Thursday morning at ten, and everyone interested is invited to attend. Through this program, farmers may contribute grain or cotton or dollars. For each dollar or bushel or bale contributed last year, 37 units of the commodity or dollar were sent to church representatives overseas, who distributed the commodities to hungry and needy people.

This is a non-denominational program. We would like to see every farmer take some part in it this year. Besides helping the hungry with surplus foods, it lowers government stores in America. We don't know how it could be beat.

Governor Goodwin J. Knight, of California, discusses the California State DWI law in the April 26 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. We think Texas could use a law like it. Mandatory penalties are prescribed in the law, and the judge has no opportunity to by-pass prescribing the penalty in any case.

CHEMISE OR NOT?

Women can look forward to a variety of silhouettes in spring and summer styles, without having to "take or leave" the chemise.

Although the chemise influence is most dominant in new spring styles, women can choose classic styles that adapt some of its more pleasing features.

There are other silhouettes—a great variety of them—from which to choose the new garments for our wardrobes. There is the two piece look, with jacket to the hip bone or shorter—the pleated skirt that stays closer to the body—the straight skirt with soft ease at the top—the classic shirtwaist dress, a favorite of many a year, with its new soft fullness in the bodice.

Two points of fashion are definite in all clothing this spring—all will fit a little more loosely, and all will be about an inch shorter.

Choose the silhouette that best suits your own personality—your figure and your needs.

Wash and Wear Fabrics
Wash and wear fabrics are still growing in popularity and this spring are even more abundant in clothing and yardage. Here are a few tips on wash and wear fabrics.

Wash and wear finish on most fabrics is a resin treatment much like that on fabrics labeled crease resistant and water repellent. It is a kind of "built-in" quality that gives the fabric a neat look, and at the same time resists wrinkles and spots. But most important it reduces the labor of long tedious hours of ironing!

This finish may vary on different fibers. Used on cotton, man-made fibers, and blends, it may vary with the type of yarn, the twist and the weave. Do not expect same performance on all fabrics that display the wash and wear label. Certain man-made fibers have a natural resistance to water, and for this reason they depend on a resin treatment. However, combined with cotton which absorbs water.

a chemical finish will be needed. Always check labels for information on care needed by fabrics.

Treatment For An Interior Brick Floor

Homemakers are frequently puzzled as to the best treatment for a brick floor laid in a dining room or patio. Most folks like to keep the natural color of the bricks and mortar but want to give some protection against dust and grease penetrating into the brick.

The use of silicone-base waterproofing agent is recommended for this purpose. It tends to increase the surface tension of the bricks which prevents penetration of dust, grease and water. To be sure the effect is what you want, treat a small, inconspicuous area before doing an entire floor.

Another method for finishing such a floor is to apply two coats of a penetrating type of sealer. If you use this method, be sure the bricks are thoroughly dry as moisture and the sealer could combine to give a milky white film on the bricks.

Use Honey for a Special Flavor Treat

Honey, which a Greek philosopher described as "dew distilled from the stars and rainbow", is a plentiful food feature for April, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Use it to give a special sweetness to spring menus.

Vary the honey served, and try the many different flavors. Select liquid honey or one of the crystallized honeys—candied, fondant or spreads—and try new methods of serving.

Serve it on breads, toast, pancakes, waffles or freshly baked breads. Enhance the natural sweetness of honey by combining with equal parts of butter or margarine; or equal parts of honey, peanut butter, and butter or margarine.

Swiss honey is creamed by combining equal parts honey, butter or margarine and whipped cream. For elegant dessert, pile lofty mounds of Swiss honey on hot baked apples, and sprinkle with chopped peanuts.

Make April your month; to find new uses for honey.

Corn Variety Tests

One hundred and forty-seven varieties of corn were included in the corn yield tests planted April 24 at the High Plains Station. Each variety was planted in two row plots 25 feet long and each plot was replicated four times.

Three separate tests are under way each with 49 varieties. Included in the tests are: standard commercial yellow and white hy-

National Home Demonstration Club Week Set For May 4-10

Texas home demonstration club women—over 36,000 of them—will be among the 6½ million homemakers throughout the nation who will observe National Home Demonstration Week May 4-10, according to Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration leader of the Agricultural Extension Service. TODAY'S HOME BUILDS TOMORROW'S WORLD is again serving as the national theme of the week.

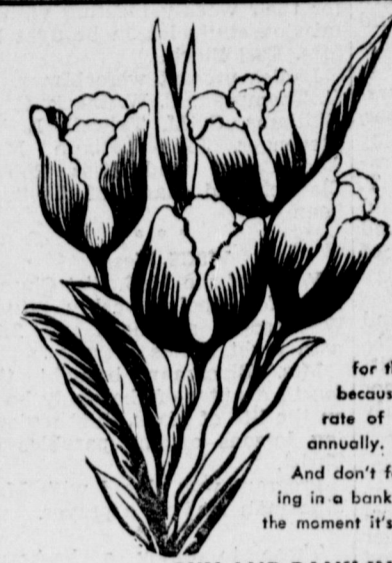

During the week, most of the 2,000 Texas home demonstration clubs plan special activities to highlight their programs. Special exhibits, community programs, featuring stories, radio and television programs, and tours are planned to inform other homemakers and families of the purposes of home demonstration work and show its contribution to family and community life.

The home demonstration program is planned by homemakers and carried on cooperatively by the Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the land-grant colleges and county governments. New research information in all phases of homemaking is brought to women and families through specialists, home demonstration agents and local leaders. Programs and demonstrations in foods and nutrition, housing and home improvement, home management, health and safety, recreation, family life, clothing, consumer buying and public affairs are developed to fit local needs and interests. Home demonstration club members also conduct special programs in civil defense and encourage and assist with local 4-H club programs.

Get acquainted with the home demonstration club program your own county. Visit your local county extension office. Take part in the special activities planned for National Home Demonstration Week May 4-10.

LAZBUDDIE NEWS LETTER . . . Seniors Present Play At School Friday Nite

Jill Mimms, a second grader, fell and broke her arm Sunday evening. Jill spent Sunday with the Dalton Mimms family while her family was visiting with relatives in Lubbock. Before going to bed, she decided it was time to eat again and was standing tip toe on a kitchen stool, trying to reach the top shelf of the cabinet when the stool slipped out from under her, letting her fall and breaking her left arm between the wrist and elbow. She was rushed to the Friona hospital where the break was set but the doctors were unable to keep it in place. On Monday she was carried to Amarillo to a specialist and it was decided to wait until Friday (today), in hopes there would be enough scar tissue to hold it when set again, or as a last resort, surgery to set and hold it with pins.

Driver Education
Student Tells Of Teenage Road-E-O
by Carolyn Burge
The Muleshoe JayCees held a teenage road-e-o here last Saturday and Sunday in front of the Junior high school building. Several of the Driver Education students entered and found it interesting.

The road-e-o is a test of precision driving skill to promote safe driving among teenagers. Tests included driving forward and backward through a double row of balls without touching them; driving a double figure eight; driving through a narrow curved course, and parallel parking within six inches of the curb.
David Shepherd, a senior, won first place, with John Gross, another senior, winning second. James Shepherd, a freshman Driver Education student won third place. David won first last year, and John won third last year.
I think this should be the motto of all the people who drive. "Extend courtesy on the road to other drivers; obey all traffic laws and safe driving practices, and above all, slow down." I'm sure many of us heard the talk made by Governor Daniel last week, and how he pointed out 37% of all traffic accidents are caused by speed.
If we follow the above motto, I'm sure we should all live longer, have a happier life and a clearer conscience.
NEW STAPLER-TACKER, heavy duty Swingline, Not $15. Not $10. Only $4.95 at The Muleshoe Journal.

Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.—(Psalm 37, 3.)
Those who really trust in God's love and wisdom, His kindness and mercy, are spared the fearful worry and anxiety that agonize and shorten the lives of so many of us. In love and in obedience to His will, they do the very best they can each day, and leave the results to Him.
