

REDDY'S Farm Report

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT
SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Aeration and conditioning of small grain in flat storage on the farm is successful and profitable according to information compiled by the Agricultural Engineering Department at Texas Tech College in Lubbock, and other reliable sources. The work at the Lubbock College was in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Grain was placed in storage in October 1953, and complete records were kept on operating costs, temperatures, and moisture of grain at all times for the past two seasons. Ira Williams, Head of the Agricultural Engineering Department, and Eldred Jordan, instructor, supervised these tests with the technical cooperation of the Steel Bilt Products Company in Lubbock.

The equipment at the College includes a 16' x 32' quonset steel building with an expanded metal mesh air duct tunnel extending the entire length of the building. A high speed three horsepower electric motor drives the semi-pressure 18" fan that is attached to the outer end of the air duct tunnel. Outside air is pulled through the grain, carrying out moisture and heat; both enemies to grain in storage. Cost is small, particularly in view of the fact that moving and the turning of grain is eliminated. Also, any fumigation of grain that might be necessary is simplified. You may get the details for this operation from Mr. Williams at the college, your nearest supplier of grain aeration equipment, and your county agricultural agent.

It is reported by Steel Bilt Products Company engineers that this three horsepower electric fan can safely aerate, fumigate, and keep about 72,000 bushels of grain in good condition in flat storage. If drying is desired, special attention should be given to the grain and not more than 3,000 bushels of grain should be dried with this unit in one operation. The job of keeping the grain cool, free of weevil and bug contamination is simple when this aeration process is used on the farm.

The cost of this equipment is fixed, the cost of electric power is insignificant; so barring poor weather or a poor market, your good management can increase your grain profits with aeration equipment.

Exposed model of aeration equipment clearly shows (A) conditioned grain as it flows from Ira Williams' hand; (B) simulated grain storage over aeration tunnel; (C) expanded wire mesh tunnel with screening pulled back; (D) bulkhead section as it would be in a flat grain storage building; (E) duct leading from fan to air tunnel and (F) highspeed three-horsepower electric semi-pressure fan. Fred McDonald, Steel Bilt Products Company consults with Williams.

CHURCH BUILDING NEARING COMPLETION

Rev. Bruce Matthews, pastor of the Lazbuddie Methodist Church, reports that work on the new building is over half finished. Tentative plans are to occupy the sanctuary by September 4, which will be the first Sunday in September.

Two of the Sunday school rooms, located behind the pews, will feature plate glass fronts, and will be used as cry rooms also. They will be equipped with speakers.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
W 2nd & Ave. G
James Todd, Minister

We give proper emphasis to the church ordinances in our public worship — the ordinance of the Lord's Supper, commonly known as Communion, and the ordinance of Christian baptism.

We believe in and practice immersion as the mode of baptism because it portrays a death, burial, and resurrection, as taught by the sixth chapter of the Roman letter written by the Apostle Paul, paralleling that of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

We believe as the early Christians did that baptism does not only portray the burial or putting off of an old life of sin, but that it also portrays an outward manifestation of our intention to be "raised to walk in newness of life," and it also expresses our hope in the Resurrection of the dead vouchsafed to us by the resurrection of Lord Jesus Christ.

We are building a new church, but you will not be asked to donate any money

Rev. Todd Speaks To Lions Club

Rev. James Todd was guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions Club, Wednesday, and used as his topic, "Individuality In The Human Being".

Todd stressed the fact that too many people today are trying to follow the crowd, rather than to bring out the good points in their own personality.

To sum up his inspiring talk, Rev. Todd told the true story of a personal friend of his who lives in Panhandle. This man, said Rev. Todd, was terribly crippled and given up to die. He had no education, could not read or write, yet he mastered the piano, and could play beautifully, with only two fingers on one hand, and the ball of his other hand. At the end of his talk, Todd played a recording which was made by the man, which was greatly enjoyed.

It was decided to have the committee to further investigate sponsoring or co-sponsoring a city park in the southwest part of town.

Also a proposal was made to help plant trees around the Babe Ruth League Park.

Parmer County Queen Contest Set For Friday August 12, At Friona

Mrs. Roy V. Miller will head activities of Parmer County Farm Bureau's 3rd annual queen contest, according to Ralph Smith, who was appointed by directors to get leaders lined up for the event. The contest is scheduled for Friday, August 12, in the Friona auditorium. Contestants may be sponsored by business or individuals who pay a $5 entrance fee, which goes into a fund for financing the winner's clothing and other expenses to the district contest in Lubbock.

The girls will be judged on three main points: Appearance, poise, and personality. Contestants will be asked to make a 1 to 1½ minute statement on "Why I am Glad my Family is in Farm Bureau".

Here are rules of eligibility: 1. Daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member. 2. Single. 3. Age 16-22 on September 1, 1955. 4. Not eligible are daughters of state directors, employees, county officers and county directors, and previous state winners.

Awards — Parmer County's Baptists Back From Encampment

Every Southwestern Baptist Church in Bailey County was represented at the recent Royal Ambassadors' encampment at the Plains Baptist Assembly near Floydada. A record 12,000 junior boys were on hand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the annual camp.

Rain Tuesday slowed down many of the activities planned for boys, but the schedule still ran smooth. The outstanding feature of the encampment was the service held under the camp tabernacle. The boys heard eight evangelistic messages. When the invitation was given following each service boys came to the front making their decisions for Christ. A total of 140 decisions were made to live the Christian life. 18 surrendered their lives to work on mission fields, and 26 came forward to renew their stand for Christ.

winner will be awarded $100 for formal attire to be worn in the district contest. Other appropriate awards will be made. District winners will receive an expense paid trip to the State Convention in November. The State Farm Bureau Queen and matron escort will be allowed $500 expenses to the American Farm Bureau Convention in Chicago in December. The remaining 12 district queens will receive beautiful wrist watches.

Mrs. Miller will name community chairmen who will accept entries from various areas. Details, such as clothing, entry deadline date, etc., will be announced next week.

Parmer County Farm Bureau's queen in 1953 was Miss Denise Magness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Magness, and in 1954, Miss Phyllis Fairchild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fairchild was queen.

Twenty New Laws Affect Retailers In Texas, Report

A review of bills passed at the recent session of the 54th Texas Legislature, compiled by the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, shows that more than a score of measures affecting retailers of the state have been signed into law.

Sam Lindley, manager of Muleshoe Retail Merchants Ass'n., said he had been advised by the State RMA office in Austin that bills relating to collections, wage assignments, sale prices (grocery items), and taxes were among the more important enacted.

A breakdown by subjects of the laws passed follows: Unfair Sales — Effective September 6, a new law prohibits grocers from limiting purchases on merchandise offered for sale below cost.

Collections—The Small Claims Act has been amended to provide for a fee of $1 to the citation serving officer and authorizes the usual court fees for levying executions to enforce judgments.

Holidays — November 11 has been officially designated Veteran's Day. Banks and Trust Companies are given permission to close on Saturdays.

State Taxes — A one-cent a gallon additional tax on gasoline. A one-cent a package additional tax on cigarettes. A $2.30 per barrel increase in the tax on beer. A 25c additional levy per $1,000 on corporate capitalization.

Collection of State Taxes — The method of collecting a 2.2 per cent tax on radio and TV sales has been amended in a measure that will become effective September 1. The tax remains on the seller making the final sale and requires wholesalers to pay the tax on sales to institutions, hotels, and others.

The retailer is required to file a quarterly report showing a starting and ending inventory on both TVs and radios. The bill further requires TV and radio dealers to be bonded to guarantee payment of the tax and requires retailers to secure a permit and authorizes the State Comptroller to collect audit fees from the dealers.

Effective October 1, the maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefits will be raised from $20 to $28.

Assignments of accounts receivable — A bill that has already become law protects assignments of accounts receivable regardless of whether such accounts are in existence at the time notice of assignment was filed, provided, however, that the recording of such notices constitute constructive notice and regardless of whether the contract out of which the accounts arose was in the contemplation of the assignor and assignee when the notice of assignment was executed.

The Retail Merchants Association of Texas review noted that an effort was made during the latter part of the Legislative session to have a gross receipts tax on retail sales passed. The proposal was defeated in committee.

BAILEY COUNTY Farm Bureau News

An area meeting was held in Lamesa July 2, to discuss an emergency cover crop program for the drought area of West Texas and to make recommendations to the State A. S. C. Committee for inauguration of such a program. At this meeting, which was attended by Farm Bureau and Chamber of Commerce representatives, representing some twelve or more counties, certain recommendations were agreed upon.

A committee presented these recommendations to the State A. S. C. Committee in College Station July 12.

After a conference with A. S. C. staff and advisory members, the following emergency cover crop program was recommended and adopted by the state A. S. C. Committee.

That practice be recommended for approval for the wind erosion area under the following specifications and rates of cost-sharing:

Seeding grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, sudan grass, millet, barley, or rye to establish a cover for the control of wind erosion. Triple dwarf sorghum and volunteer crops will not qualify. Sorghums, millet or small grains should be planted at the following seeding rates per acre: Grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, and sudan grass in normal width rows, 5 to 6 pounds per acre; in rows 16 inches to 24 inches in width, 10 to 12 pounds per acre; drilled or broadcast, 15 to 18 pounds per acre; millet, 10 to 12 pounds per acre; barley, oats or rye, 30 to 40 pounds per acre.

Grazing consistent with good management is permitted, but a crop will not qualify if harvested for any purpose. The crop must be left on the land until the land is plowed in preparation for seeding a crop in the spring or summer of 1956.

Immediately following this action by the state committee, the State A. S. C. staff secured approval of the Washington office and the program will be effective

Guess Who Lives Here

A FARM HOME of the Muleshoe and Bailey County territory is pictured above. It should be familiar to many of The Journal's readers. First person who gets his mail to the post office here, and first person who gets his mail on a route or at another post office correctly identifying this farmstead will receive two tickets to COX DRIVE-IN THEATRE. Phone The Journal, 7220 or 5400 and submit your guess, come to the office or mail a card.

1st. Lt. Porter To Fort Bragg, N. C.

First Lt. Edward J. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, Farwell, is scheduled to fly in mid-July from Japan to Fort Bragg, N. C., with the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team as part of Operation Gyroscope, the Army's new unit rotation plan. Giant C-124 Globemasters are being used in the 12,000 mile project in which the 187th is being replaced in the far East by the 508th ARCT. The operation is the first large scale air transfer of units in the history of the Army. Porter, a company commander with the 187th's Company C, entered the Army in June 1950. He is a 1950 graduate of New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.

Mystery Farm Thomas Place

Linda Wingo and Bill Wilkins were the first persons calling in to correctly identify the Mystery Farm in the July 7 issue of The Journal.

Both identified the place as the Old Jesko place and stated that F. B. Thomas family now resided there.

The lucky winners may claim their two free tickets to the Cox Drive-In Theatre by coming by The Journal Office.

Also, any member of the Thomas family may come by the office and pick up their free aerial photo of the farm.

Texas Farmers See Income Up

AUSTIN, July 21 — Texas farmers' income has increased despite a general decline in prices received for farm commodities, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Farm income was up 2 per cent during the first five months of 1955, compared with the same period of 1954, although prices paid to farmers for all products averaged 1 per cent lower this May than in May, 1954. The greatest increase over last year has been in income from cattle, up 4 per cent. At the same time, there was a 15 per cent decline from last year in prices paid for all meat animals.

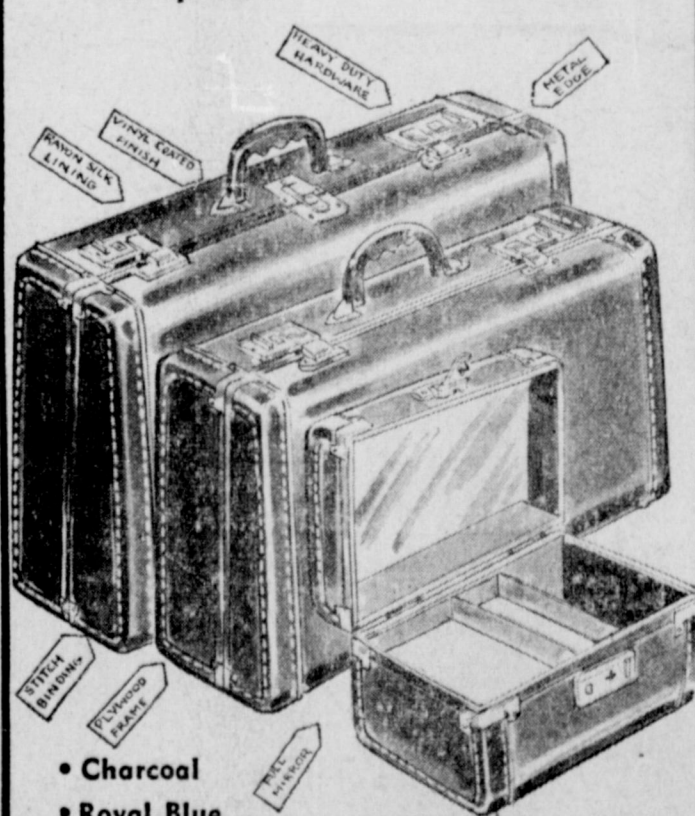

During May, Texas farmers' income passed the half billion mark, and by the end of the month, the year-to-year date total was $555,710,000.

BABSON DISCUSSES—

Automatic Factories

Babson Park, Mass., July 21 — Not very long ago I heard a man in the automobile business say: "In my lifetime there have been bigger changes in industry than took place in all of the years before that". Here in America, especially, our way of life has changed more within the memory of many of us than in all the generations before us.

ARE WE GOING TOO FAST?
This fast change scares a lot of thinking people. Some feel that they would have had fewer problems to face if they had been born a hundred years ago and they are probably right. Others say they would not want to be around a hundred years from now because "things are changing too fast".

Some of the union leaders — men you might expect would move fast themselves — also apparently are frightened. They admit that the high wages are developing a new threat to labor which may throw huge numbers out of work. This threat is automation, and they say it may not only throw men out of their jobs but there may not be any jobs! Of course, I don't believe this. Rather, history shows, "the more machinery, the more jobs" — but very different jobs.

WHAT IS AUTOMATION?
Automation is a word that is being used a great deal nowadays. It means using electronic machines in place of men. Walter Reuther and others see this as a real danger to full employment. They seem to think that some day a manufacturer will need only to put his finger on a few buttons and push! If this were true, or close to it, then we all ought to be afraid because our way of life depends on most of us having jobs and working at them. If, however, the future is anything like the past, automation could increase employment and raise the standard of living. There have been all kinds of developments in office machines in the last ten years, yet the number of office workers has risen from 5,100,000 to 8,100,000 during this same period.

Even new telephone exchanges, oil refineries, and electric generating plants, for example, now look like a preview of the automatic world of tomorrow. A visitor to a bag generating plant sees some gigantic pipes, an array of dials, and only one man who seems to be in charge. If you have a chance, look at one of the new "electronic brains" which can do as much computation in, say, four minutes as a large force of men with pencil and paper could do in months. About all you will see will be a row of machines looking like so many juke boxes and flashing lights, and one or two well-dressed young women pushing buttons.

WHAT HAPPENS TO THE WORKERS?
As the change-over to automatic production spreads, it is certain that a lot of workers will have to move to other jobs. But there are more people employed now than there were ten years ago, with very much more machinery. It has been said by experts that, without automation, we soon would not have had enough workers to do our jobs, to introduce new products, and to achieve our present prosperity.

Even in industries and offices where the work has been made the most automatic, a good deal of human effort is still necessary. Supposedly, a factory could be erected in which every process from raw material to final product could be done by a few people who would only push buttons. Actually, of course, human brains have to work out the whole scheme, and human hands have to build the machines, set them going, tend, repair, and maintain them, and sometimes stop them!

HOW TO USE EXTRA TIME
I don't believe we are moving too fast. We are materially and spiritually better off in this

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER REGRETS

People Feel Called On To Watch Pres. Eisenhower When He Fishes

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses fishing this week, a matter he apparently works at pretty hard. Dear editor:

There are a lot of differences between the job of being President of the United States and running this Johnson grass farm out here, for example my work is never interrupted by a press conference and I'm not required to travel half way around the world to argue with a bunch of Russians, and on the other hand the President isn't worried by Johnson grass on the White House lawn, flat tires on his tractor, sagging gates, and cows that jump fences, but there's one phase of the President's job where I have him beat. It's fishing.

I was reading in a newspaper last night about a recent fishing trip President Eisenhower went on. He was up in Colorado fishing for mountain trout and when he landed five in the first twenty-five minutes of fishing, "delighted spectators cut loose with a loud cheer", the article reported.

That's what I'm talking about. If there's anything a man doesn't want, it's a crowd watching him fish. It's a violation of the Constitutional rights of an individual to be let alone.

Fishing with a lot of people staring at you and cheering when you get a bite is about like reading with somebody looking over your shoulder, and personally I wouldn't stand for it.

I wouldn't even like having a crowd standing across the road watching me every time I came out of the house, but I guess that's part of the job of being President, but to have a crowd turn up on a creek bank when I country than are the backward nations which have never had such machines. No workers anywhere ever had better working conditions or higher pay than Americans are getting today. The machine has brought them prosperity and is bringing them more time and opportunity to "do it themselves", in their own homes, with their own families. Perhaps we can all use some of this time and opportunity to cultivate the spiritual values which we have been neglecting while we have been building up our material prosperity.

settled down to some serious fishing, that's going too far. Fishing in public is about like trying to read a newspaper under a stop-light at a busy intersection in town on Saturday. What a man catches, whether he catches anything or not, how big they are, how long it takes him to do it, are inner things not to be exposed to the stares of strangers and very few friends, and if you have to do it to be President, I ain't running. Of course, I haven't been mentioned as a nominee, either.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Texas Viewpoint In Washington

By Senator Price Daniel

President Eisenhower is meeting in Geneva, Switzerland with the heads of state of Great Britain, France and Russia to discuss world affairs and the possibilities of world peace. This is the so-called "meeting at the summit". It is to be hoped that some good will come from this conference. So long as discussions are going on instead of physical combat, there is always the possibility of an honorable peaceful settlement of the differences between nations.

However, in this meeting we must always remember with whom we are dealing. It is yet to be proven that we can depend on agreements of the Russian leaders or the heads of any other Communist country. Even the present apparent change in the attitude of Russia toward the United States and the other free countries of the world should not cause our leaders in foreign policy to let their guards down in the slightest degree.

Too many times we have seen their solemn agreements violated, and a study of their thinking tells us that to accomplish a purpose they would not hesitate to guarantee almost anything. That is a characteristic of atheistic Communism which demands that we require adequate means to enforce any agreements which may be made.

FOREIGN AID
Our recent foreign aid bill will amount to borrowing several billion dollars to give to foreign governments, some of which are operating on a balanced budget while we are still piling up a greater national debt. I believe in cooperation with our allies and in military aid when necessary, but I could not vote again for the general foreign economic aid contained in this bill at the expense of our children and grandchildren.

With a national debt larger than the combined total of the debts of all the other countries in the world and a budget which remains out of balance and therefore requires further deficit spending and the payment of more interest, there is no reason to continue to give away our hard-earned dollars to other countries. If it must be done, it should be financed on a "pay as you go" basis — and not on borrowed money.

If further economic aid is necessary all these years after it was due to terminate, why not send surplus commodities for relief to undernourished peoples in Europe, Asia and the rest of the world, so long as the world market in these products is not disturbed? In this way we would help our farmers and our own government, which has accumulated many surplus products under the farm price support programs. Legislation to expand the program of shipping surplus foods to countries which cannot produce enough for themselves is pending now in the Senate.

MYSTERY IS VANISHING Atomic Power Creation Is Becoming Routine Matter At Big U. S. Plants

(The following article is the third of a series of seven articles disclosing the highlights and sidelights which have accompanied the nation's development of atomic energy. Prepared at the Hanford atomic energy plant, the series deals with the human things which followed in the wake of the first historic announcement that man had harnessed the atom. It touches upon the things which lie ahead.)

By BILL JURY
General Electric News Bureau
Hanford Atomic Plant

Atomic energy and its development has been pictured as a vast and mysterious operation, imagined run by groups of bushy-haired little men who carry pocketfuls of gamma rays and drag behind them long chain reactions.

But misconceptions of this new phase of development in American history rapidly is being dispelled as official facts and information are reported to help shed light into the shadows of the unknown.

Atomic energy was developed in time of war, and as long as we live in a world of war and under threats of war, secrecy must guard those phases that are important to the security of the nation. But much of the atomic story can be reported to the public, and much of it is being told today through congressional and Atomic Energy Commission representatives.

Researches at the General Electric Company-operated Hanford atomic energy plant foresee the day when workman will handle radiation problems as routine.

They predict farmers will utilize atomic isotopes in their crop planting, just as they now employ types of fertilizer, and terms like "fission", "reactor", and "neutrons" will become household words.

Industrial nuclear power points toward the use of atomic energy in much the same way that energy from the burning of coal is utilized in an electric that one pound of uranium-235, completely fissioned, yields energy equivalent to that obtained from burning 1500 tons of coal, or 300,000 gallons of gasoline.

The practical means of direct conversion of atomic energy to electricity so far has escaped achievement, although, if the promise of the new atomic battery is fulfilled on a large scale, the power plant of tomorrow will need only an atomic generator and direct cables to connect power straight to far-flung communities. Boilers engines and cumbersome electric generators conceivably could become as obsolete as the candle.

Atomic isotopes, for example, can affect our everyday lives in almost every field of endeavor. They play a major role in diagnosis and treatment for health. They are used in agriculture to increase the bounties of the farms.

They can be employed to separate ions in the water treatment, metals recovery, antibiotics, and numerous other phases of industry.

Transportation systems could be revolutionized. The first atomic powered submarine already has been tested satisfactorily. Atomic powered ocean liners are seen as a definite possibility for the future. Scientists now are working to find the key to atomic powered aircraft.

Atomic energy is so new, so big, so revolutionary and so full of commercial possibilities for the future that many American corporations have been attracted to the field. These companies are engaged in engineering studies, spending their own money in attempts to produce answers to the foremost question of economic power.

Nuclear physics is an infant science; the things that are known are as nothing compared to the things unknown. Locked up in the atom is practically all the energy of the universe, an energy in such fantastic quantities that it defies comprehension.

Nervous Tension is Source Of Stomach Trouble

WIN, July 21—Some people to the pressure of modern life like a stick of soft pine to a wood rasp.

A probably recall days when an unexpected event, an accident or a brush with the boss, your stomach in a knot. You suffering, the State Health Department says, from one of the common forms of indigestion—nervous tension and excitement.

Stomach, the experts say, is largely controlled by the involuntary nervous system. You keyed up, your stomach secretes, and you feel the effects.

Daily, the Department points out, there are many direct causes of indigestion. Lack of sleep and exercise, improper diet, and similar artificial conditions can bring it on.

"I've heard the old saying 'one man's meat being another man's poison.' It's literally true. Even healthful and nutritious foods may rub you wrong. They contain organic acids which could upset the balance of your favorite fruit may contain malic acid, oxalic acid, or tartaric acid. One or more of these give you trouble, causing indigestion, or unsteady walking.

The degree of ripeness of a vegetable may cause indigestion in the stomach, bringing on unpleasant results. Condiments or strongly flavored foods are other causes of indigestion. They often cause the stomach to secrete too much hydrochloric acid. In normal people the stomach neutralizes what it over-secretes, but people with ulcers suffer painful "indigestion".

Greasy foods are particularly troublesome to people with malfunctioning gall bladders, or liver diseases.

Tannic acid can be found in three of the most commonly used hot drinks. And here's the last straw: Even water, if you drink lots of it, may start your stomach churning and pouring out its digestive juices.

In any case of indigestion, frequently taking baking soda to relieve it is a mistake, health men agree. The temporary relief may cause some sufferers to "play down" symptoms of a serious ailment, thereby causing him to prolong medical attention.

Preparation For Survival

CHICAGO, THE "I WILL" city of food and transportation, steel production and manufacturing, does not intend to knuckle under to any disaster. The city's recent participation in the national Civil Defense "Operation Alert" civilian preparedness exercise showed results of planning.

WHEN "AIR RAID WARNING" sounded, children filed from classrooms, quickly and orderly on signal.

KEY CITY officials set up emergency quarters outside city and prepared to restore service.

SCHOOLS WERE EVACUATED in disciplined manner with boys' safety patrol, teachers and traffic officers cooperating. City's new International Rescue Trucks participated, showing Chicago's preparedness is beyond paper stage. Over 500,000 children took part.

Cost Sharing On Erosion Control Is Authorized

WACO — Farmers in drought stricken West Texas counties will be able to take advantage of a federal cost-sharing wind erosion control program again this year, a spokesman for the Texas Farm Bureau said here today.

Gene Leach, TFB legislative director, revealed that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved recommended improvements in the program authorizing payments for special cover crop practices.

Recommendations for improving the conservation program were made at a meeting of county Farm Bureau and chamber of Commerce leaders from 12 West Texas counties July 2 in Lamesa. The Texas Farm Bureau presented the recommendations to the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee earlier this week.

The federal government will pay from $1.20 to $2.00 per acre for special cover crops planted to control wind erosion. For sorghums, the payments are $1.20 per acre for normal width rows, $1.90 per acre for rows 16 to 24 inches in width and for drilling and broadcasting. Millet payments are $1.75 per acre. The government will pay $2.00 for small grains (rye, oats and barley).

Triple dwarf grain sorghum and volunteer crops will not qualify for Federal cost-sharing. Grazing, consistent with good management, is permitted, but a crop will not qualify if harvested for any purpose. The crop must be left on the land until the soil is plowed in preparation for seeding a crop in the spring or summer of 1956.

Social Security Rep. To Be Here

A representative from the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe at the Post Office on July 7 at 9:30 a. m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

QUESTION: What is a farm operator's responsibility with regard to filing a social security report of the wages paid to his farm workers?

ANSWER: Beginning January 1, 1955 the Social Security Law covers farm workers who are paid at least $100 by a farm operator. In these cases, the farm operator will withhold 2 per cent social security tax from wages paid to the farm worker. The farm operator will add 2 per cent as his share, and will file an annual report with the Internal Revenue Service. The report will show the names of each employee who was paid $10 in cash in the year, his social security number, and the total amount of wages paid.

If the total tax liability of the farmer on his hired help totals as much as $100 by April 1, July 1 or October 1, he will deposit that tax money with Internal Revenue but will not report names of employees until time for his annual report. The farm operator will keep a permanent record of the name and social security number of all his employees.

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

But nowadays more and more motorists—like the happy man you see in the picture above—are stepping right up from their first car to a Cadillac.

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change.

To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty... its captivating luxury and graciousness... and its heart-winning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection for 1955.

And secondly, the path to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The purchase price of the lowest-priced Cadillac is actually little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's economy. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline... and the car is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac cars return their owners a higher percentage on their original investments than any other automobiles in the land.

So if you want a Cadillac—don't feel that you have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move, the automobile you now own is the perfect steppingstone.

Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? You'll find that we have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Vocational Agriculture teachers will appreciate the fact that Texas Farm Bureau is responsible for their pay increase of $4467 per month for each month in excess of nine months that they carry on an educational program. This law brings the pay increase for Vocational Agriculture teachers to the same comparative level as that for other teachers.

Legislation setting up procedures for organizing noxious weed control districts also resulted from Farm Bureau action this session. It can be done only if the people and the commissioner's court want it done. Your weed committee is looking into the feasibility of such a district now. What do you think about it? It would be locally controlled.

Texas Agriculture, your state Farm Bureau Paper, which you just received, lists all of the 21 laws supported successfully by Farm Bureau this year.

The law making it a misdemeanor to sell or offer to sell any lewd, depraved, or corruptive "comic" books was also successfully supported by Farm Bureau. Look for news about Farm Bureau Queen Contest in this issue of this paper. Interest always runs high in this program designed to give recognition to our beautiful and talented farm and ranch girls.

We have just learned that Cummings Farm Store offers sodium chlorate at the $12.25 per hundred can price, approved by the Weed Committee.

I you have noticed your neighbor's mail sign with his name neatly printed in black on white plastic, and you want a pair, leave your name and one dollar here at the office. Profits from these sales assist 4-H boys and girls at roundup time.

It pleases us to note that Farm Bureau is not mentioned as supporting the Communist Farm Program as outlined in "The Farm Crisis", published by the National Farm Commission Communist Party, U. S. A. If anyone should wonder why we are so definitely opposed to Communist

About Homemakers and Homemaking IN BAILEY COUNTY By MOLLIE STINSON Home Demonstration Agent

Well, it is really summer time now and the hot weather has slowed some of the activities down a little. 4-H members now can look back upon the dress review and look forward to the tri-county camp in August. In the meantime they need to be selecting their special projects to work on around their home. This selecting takes the help of mother and dad, too. For some girls, already well into their work, it is gardening, others feel the need for bedroom improvement and still others are working on clothing storage, food preservation and the like.

A hot weather note to the women concerns fatigue, which comes easier during hot summer days. A tired feeling often brings an irritable disposition and cuts down efficiency on the job. It can also increase susceptibility to disease or accidents.

If you are feeling more tired than usual, stop and analyze yourself and your working methods—boredom and frustration, as well as such physical factors as overwork and strain, will cause that tired feeling.

Short rest periods from 10 to 20 minutes will work wonders if you are tired from heavy work. A change of environment or activities will often relieve fatigue caused by boredom or monotony.

Efficient, happy homemakers have found that these simple rules will help to fight fatigue and make work more interesting. First, check your kitchen and household storage—is everything within easy reach? Keep cleaning tools in good repair and located close to the job.

Wear comfortable work clothes and sit as much as possible while you work. Study your jobs and organize the work in an assembly line fashion. Use both hands whenever possible.

Don't try to stay with a heavy or difficult job too long—Interperse big jobs with easier ones and rest at intervals.

Furniture For Newlyweds
Ever stop to think how much money newlyweds — invest in home furnishings — especially costly suite or piece of furniture chosen in a hurry, turns out to be a "white elephant"? Selection of furniture reflects taste and judgement as well as a financial investment. Careful choice will pay dividends in savings and satisfaction.

Keystone of today's furniture is comfort, simplicity, flexibility and usefulness. It is designed to meet changing needs of many families on the move, and is scaled to the dimensions of today's home.

Newlyweds may be confused by all the possibilities and wonder where to spend and where to save on furniture.

Spending as heavily as possible on such items as a sofa bed, spring and mattress, and lounge chair is a good idea. These are necessities and long term investments. Buy good permanent storage units, such as chest of drawers, which can be used anywhere in the house.

Favor open stock rather than whole suites of furniture. It is often smarter to buy separate pieces that look well together, yet have a personality of their own, than to buy two or three piece sets.

Choose design carefully. Comfort is not a matter of the size and amount of upholstery, but one of clever design. Look for graceful, simple lines and good construction. Consider care and upkeep.

Furniture should be appropriate to your way of living. The furnishings should have the same general feeling so that they will be appropriate to each other in design, texture and color. You can assemble pieces of any period in one room, or you can combine light and dark finished woods — just be sure to let one period and one finish dominate.

a contribution to the civic pride and development of the community while living, and through its perpetual care to give living truth to the desire of every individual to be "gone but forgotten". There are few progressive communities today without memorial parks along the highways and every civic minded citizen and thoughtful head of the family will invest in them, both for the present and for the future.

You cannot afford to take a chance with the chances of death in the family.

Toward A More Prosperous Community . . .

All margins from the operation of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill are refunded to the South Plains cotton producers who send their seed to the mill.

This year $50,035.93 in cash, and stock that will be redeemed for cash, has been refunded to Bailey County cotton producers.

This sum represents the increase in value of Bailey County cottonseed after it has been processed by the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill. Every dollar of this increase in value is refunded to the farmer who produced the cottonseed.

This money, after income taxes have been paid on the entire amount, will be spent by Bailey County farmers for Bailey County goods and services.

This $50,035.93 will help build a more prosperous community.

Travel In Europe Is Full Time Job

The Journal's foreign correspondent, Miss Marilyn Gupton, touring with a group of students, has written to explain her failure to have one of her travel articles in last week's paper. The Journal was to print an article every week from the touring Muleshoe student. Well, her letter is so interesting we decided to print it. In lieu of an article:

Dear Editor: I hate to be sending you a letter minus an article but I need to explain that the next articles I do send will undoubtedly be irregular. I hope that from now on our travel will be more organized than it has in the past.

We do have our car now which makes things so much better. Until we got Dinah (we nicknamed our Dyna-Panhard "Dinah") it was all we could do to keep body and soul together, however, our policy now is to travel in the daytime and stay in hotels at night.

European hotels all have "lights out" hours at 10 o'clock and that leaves no time for me to write. At least in the past it has left no time because until now we've had very rigid schedules to meet, but I'm hoping those are over.

When we were trying to meet our schedule — we had to be on the road early in the morning and always drove until late. I'm extremely sorry I haven't been able to manage an article a week, but I will try to have more regular reports hereafter.

Tate Reports To Local Red Cross

Gaylord Tate gave two reports last Thursday evening concerning the aquatic activities, about which he has centered his summer work, at the quarterly meeting of the local chapter of the Red Cross in the County Court room here.

Early in the season Tate studied life saving at the National Aquatics School at Palistine, then he returned home to teach life saving at the Municipal Pool here and serve as a chief life guard there.

Johnny Allison, one of Gaylord's pupils during the school here, reported concerning the personal benefit of the school to him.

Following the reports the need of a Red Cross Water Safety Chairman here was discussed. It was decided that a chairman will be elected for the summer of '56.

Senn D. Stemmmons was elected fund chairman for the coming year. The chapter's next meeting will be in October.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The healing power of true prayer will be set forth at Christian Science services on Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth".

Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit" including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "and he asked unto them 'This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting'" (Mark 9:29).

The practical power of prayer is also brought out in passages to be read from "Science and

AMERICA'S NEW RAILROAD

Quarter-mile lengths of welded steel rail curve around a foothill like wire cable.

Not a "clickety-clack" in a carload

It's Santa Fe's new continuous welded rail...

Fewer joints mean a smoother ride for you

An occasional little click—that's all you'll hear of the old "clickety-clack" as you glide over stretches of new continuous welded rail on the Santa Fe.

And these stretches will be growing longer and more frequent on Santa Fe. For we're laying more all the time—103 miles of it this year.

In fact, we're using a new electric welding process (for the first time by an American railroad) to help bring Santa Fe's new smoother ride to more people, more goods.

But that's only part of the story. Just as a railroad is no better than its track, track itself is no better than what's underneath it—the roadbed, the ties, the ballast. So we've been busy with new improvements here, too.

For instance, our own specially-devised ballast "dry cleaner." This unique machine cleans our ballast, keeps it more resilient so the track lies flat and even.

And today we're replacing old ties with longer and stronger new ones—specially treated to stay strong and sturdy for 30 years and more.

Day after day, something new is being done to make "America's New Railroad" even newer and better. Santa Fe is spending many millions of earned dollars every year for new roadway and new equipment. And not one penny comes from the taxes you pay.

SANTA FE SYSTEM LINES

What about expansion in these quarter-mile rails?

Near Newton, Kansas, where yearly temperatures vary from 20° below to 114° above, we laid a 5-mile experimental stretch of welded rail. Here we found that anchoring the rail to every other tie restricted expansion to the area between anchors. Thus, overall expansion was reduced to the narrow fraction of an inch between rail ends. In other words, expansion is no problem whatsoever.

4-H'ers Eliminate "Accident Havens"

How many hazards can you find?*

SAFETY, a crop to be harvested on every farm and in every home, is receiving special attention from more than one-half million 4-H Club members taking part in the 1955 National 4-H Safety Program.

As a part of their 4-H Club work, members in all 48 states are correcting hazards such as those seen in the above drawing. They are attempting to reduce the Nation's annual farm toll of 14,500 lives, 1,250,000 injuries, and an economic loss of about a billion dollars.

4-H'ers, working as individuals or in groups through their local clubs, conduct surveys to locate hazards, then correct the unsafe conditions. They give demonstrations on hundreds of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety. Members present talks before group meetings and over radio and television; put displays in store windows; and build booths at fairs.

To assist the Cooperative Extension Service in conducting the 4-H Safety Program, General Motors has just published a new "4-H Safety Handbook for Local Leaders," which provides how-to-do-it ideas for carrying out successful safety programs. Copies of the manual will be distributed to volunteer 4-H leaders through County Extension Offices.

In addition, GM provides incentives in the National 4-H Safety Awards program which is arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Medals are made available to four county winners; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is given to the state winner; and $300 college scholarships are presented to eight national winners.

*In the drawing, there are more than 45 accident hazards or unsafe practices shown. Don't let them occur on your farm or in your home.

WHAT, WATER WITH MEALS?

Local Girl Traveling In England Makes Mistakes Others Might Avoid

Our traveling correspondent, Miss Marilyn Gupton, has come through with an article for this paper, after all. In another part of the paper we ran her letter explaining her failure to get one to us. In this letter, she tells of some of her experiences in England and Scotland.

I must apologize for being so late with this article, but since arriving in Europe I immediately became engrossed in all the sights and, in the meantime, learned numerous things to do and not to do while traveling here.

After landing in Southampton, we immediately boarded a boat-train for London. We arrived in London with 6 pounds between the five of us and very confidently went to the American Express to exchange more travelers' checks into British money, after spending three of those six pounds on our lunch.

Our confidence was jolted somewhat when we discovered "our heaven away from home" — The American Express closed! From this experience mistake number one was evident—have the money for the country you're going into changed at the border or plan your arrival to coincide with bank or American Express hours. The American Express offices normally close at 12 noon on Saturdays (that was a Sat.) along with banks and almost all English stores, including many Cafes.

Luck was on our side, however, and we found the TWA office open. The ticket agents there were extremely kind and helpful — a quality we have found everywhere on this trip. Many times we have only asked for directions to a place, but have been led there by the person we asked. This was a tremendous help to us, in the British Isles especially, because there we weren't traveling by car and relied heavily on trains, subways, trams or simply — walking.

We left London the same night to travel by train to Edinburgh planning to return to London slowly, and in this way see the country on the way back. Very soon we made another mistake I would advise against. That of settling down in a first-class compartment when you have bought tickets for third-class. The conductor will undoubtedly realize this mistake whether you do or not. Our conductor was very nice and helpful too — he helped us move all our numerous bundles and bags.

Edinburgh is a city of old quaint buildings. A castle overlooking the entire city is a favorite spot which everyone from Edinburgh told us not to miss. One interesting fact about the castle is that mirrors are strategically placed so that the entire countryside can be seen — very good way to look for invaders. Another spot I would recommend to every one is the floral clock in the Princess Street Gardens. The numbers of the clock, when viewed closely, are actually very tiny, minute flowers — these tiny flowers are also planted in the raised beds of the clock. It actually runs by means of electricity, the working parts being underground. From Edinburgh we toured through the loch region, seeing the beautiful Loch Lomond of which every Scotchman can well be and is proud. The locks of Scotland are among the Trossacks, which means rugged country.

Having lived in West Texas all my life, I am naturally interested in the water situation. I have almost decided that England, as well as Europe, must have water shortages too. Water is never served in restaurants except upon request. We soon learned this and the first thing we now ask for is water. A very good example of their reaction to our habit of drinking water with every meal took place in a small English cafe. One of us ordered a glass of water then the rest of us wanted a glass also. To save the waitress an extra trip, Betty Jo went back to ask for four more glasses of water. The waitress answered, "My goodness — everyone will think someone has fainted!"

We have found that the English and Scotch people are very friendly and seem to wish to be ambassadors for their country as we wish to be for ours.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvil White visited over the weekend in Madill, Okla., with her parents.

Make Farming Safe

COLLEGE STATION, July 21—The week of July 24-30 should be for every Texan on and off the farm a practice period in prevention of accidents. The period has been designated as Texas and National Farm Safety Week.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee believes that accidents on farms do not occur because farmers and their families are more careless than other citizens. But with excess work and fatigue they often neglect necessary precautions in working with power equipment and edged tools, and in keeping in good repair articles which are used frequently.

Prevention of accidents has a deeper importance than merely keeping people fit to do their work. The waste of human lives, the pain and sometimes permanent crippling resulting from accidents, and the disruption to family life when a member is injured are of even greater consequence. The distressing thing, points out the committeemen, is that so large a part of accidents which are happening daily could be avoided by caution and common sense safeguards.

Hazards to life and limb in homes and farm buildings are many and obvious. A systematic check will reveal them, and knowledge of them is an urge to remove them. Falls cause more injuries in the home than any other type of accident. Looking before stepping could reduce such accidents, suggests the Safety Committee.

Finally, the Committee suggests that these seven days should take on special significance. It is time that farmers and their families and neighbors pooled their efforts toward making their industry as safe as any other in the nation. And as stated in the theme for Safety Week — "Your Safety is in Your Hands".

FROM TEXAS TECH

Sammy Donaldson, of Texas Tech, visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Donaldson and other relatives and friends. Mr. Donaldson was admitted to the West Plains Hospital and Clinic, Sunday morning for treatment.

COFFEE CHIPS TRAVEL TO DISTANT POINTS

Butch Baker, proprietor of Cross Roads Cafe, thinks his chips providing free cups of coffee get around over the country pretty good. Truck drivers from a long way off will stop and present a chip for a cup of coffee. Now one customer has mailed a copy of the coffee chips to Ralph Edwards, who conducts the TV and radio program "Truth or Consequences", and maybe Ralph will give the Muleshoe chips a further bit of publicity.

FROM CLEBURNE

Mrs. E. C. McWilliams, of Cleburne, was here over the weekend to attend the Golden Wedding Anniversary of her brother and sister-in-law, and to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gil Wollard and other relatives and friends.

HOME FROM SCHOOL

Selita Mooney is home from Sam Houston State College, Huntsville, where she has been attending summer school.

TO WEST COAST

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Winter and Mr. and Mrs. Acl Daniels left this week for a vacation on the West Coast. They plan to tour points of interest in California, Washington and Oregon, and said they might go on to Canada.

Engine Wear Reduced 40% with Trop-Artic Motor Oil

(THE DIFFERENCE IN WEIGHT IS A DIFFERENCE IN WEAR!)

In an engine test equal to 2500 miles of driving, piston rings lubricated with ordinary oil lost weight, showing extensive wear.

In an identical test piston rings lubricated with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic Oil showed scarcely any wear at all.

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

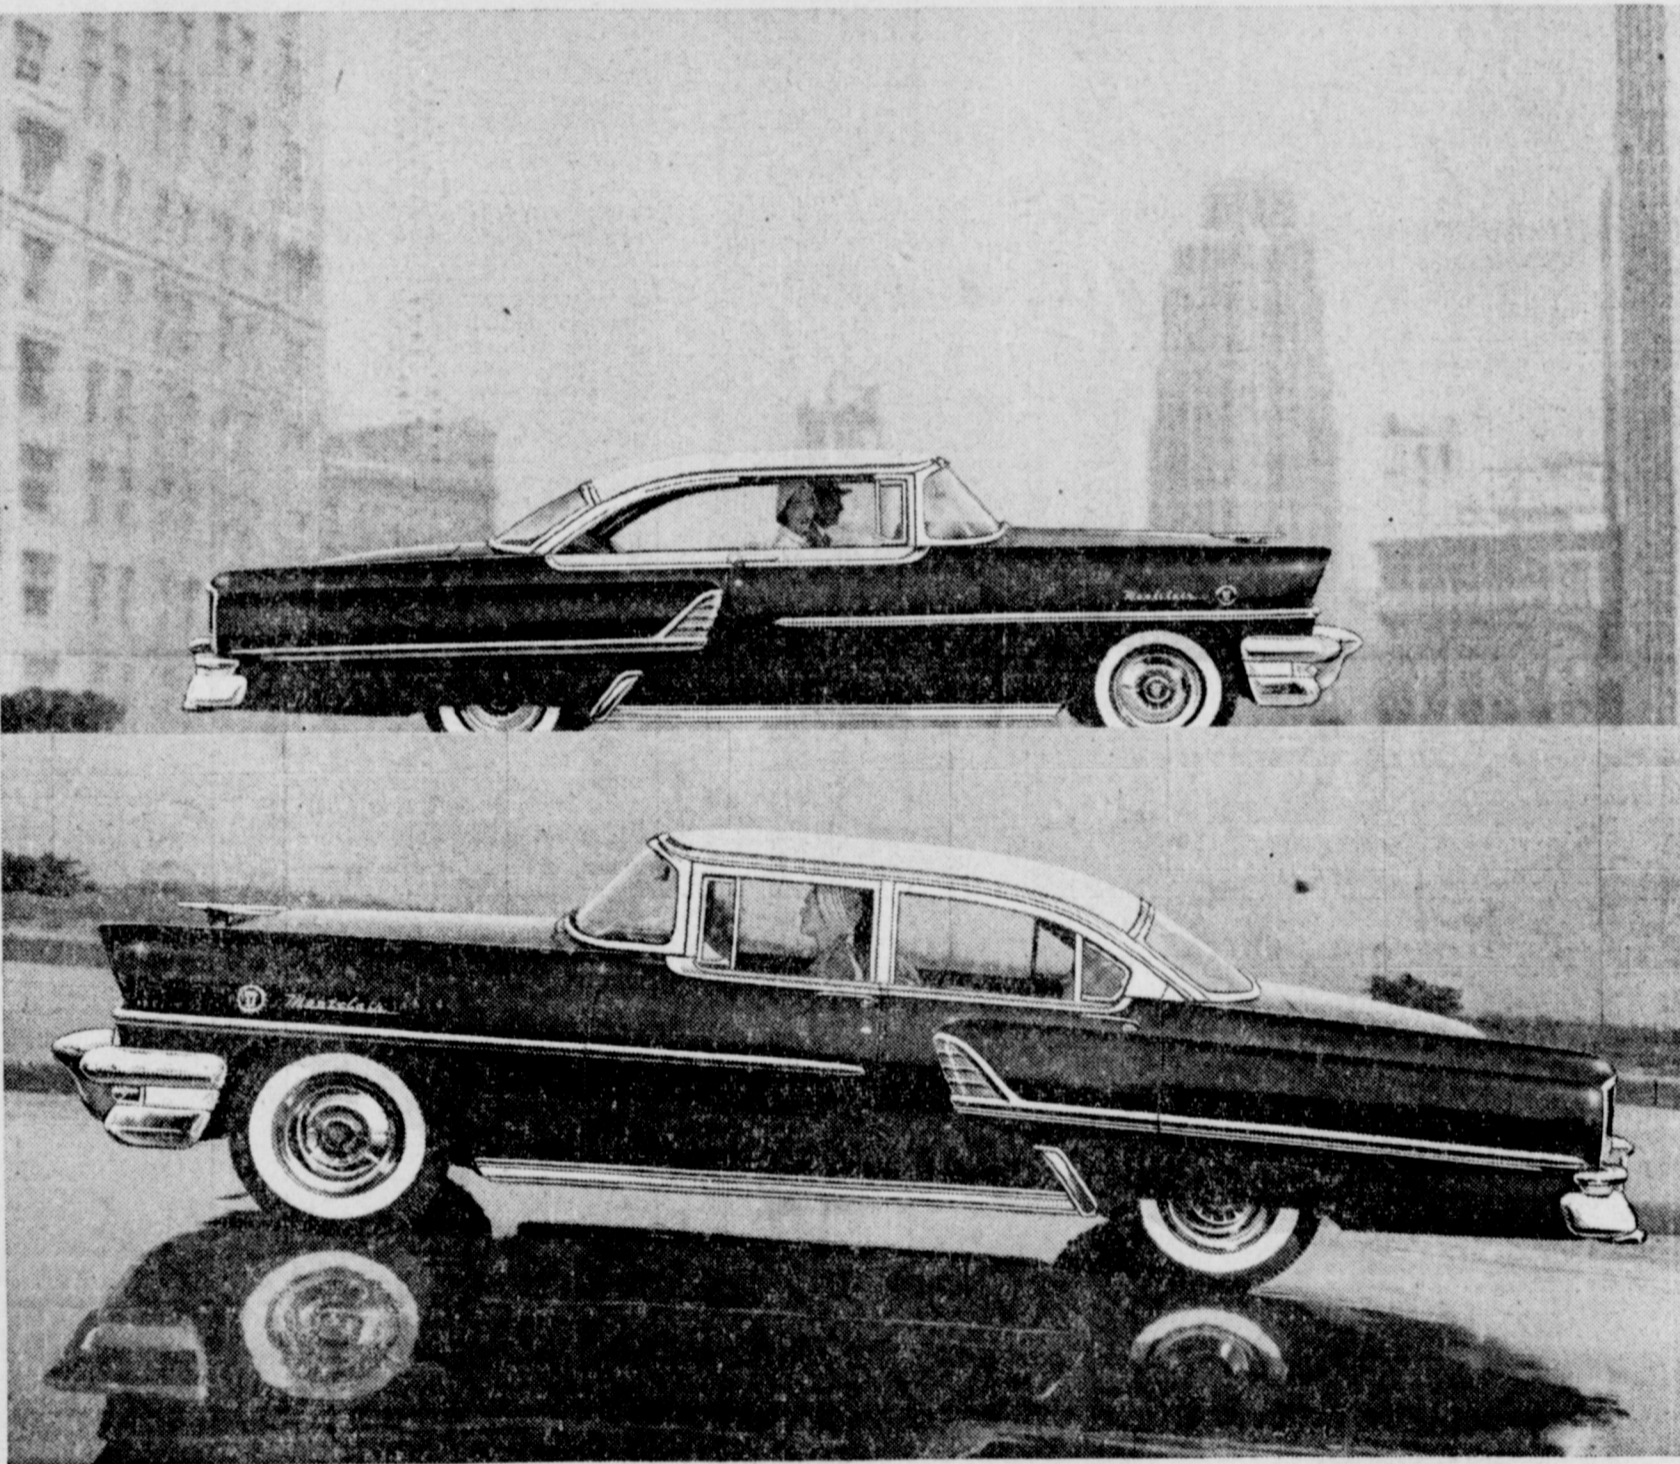

The difference in piston ring wear illustrated above proves an important point about the performance of motor oils:

Most engine wear occurs when you first start your car or under stop-and-go driving conditions with an engine that hasn't warmed up. It takes a very special kind of oil to flow quickly and protect your motor when you start, and then to protect moving parts from sludge and varnish after the engine heats up. TROP-ARTIC All-Weather Motor Oil gives you this double protection. Compared to older types of oils, it can even double engine life.

In a motor oil it's performance that counts. And TROP-ARTIC gives super performance! You'll get easier starting... save gasoline... and you can save 15% to 45% on oil consumption. Get TROP-ARTIC from your Phillips 66 Dealer.
