Miss Northcross Killed On Street Here Christmas

Miss Lee Northcross, about 70, long-time resident of Tahoka, was fatally injured at about 9:30 o'clock Christmas night when she was struck by a car while starting across the highway near the Baptist Church.

M. O. Jaynes, the driver of the car, stopped immediately and placed the injured woman in his car and rushed her to the Tahoka Clinic for treatment. At the Clinic her wounds were found to be serious and W. M. Harris was called and he took the patient hurriedly to a Lubbock hospital in an ambulance. Arriving there at about 2:10 Tuesday morning.

Witnesses to the accident say that the driver of the car was blameless. A car was approaching from the opposite direction, and Miss Northcross is said to have walked out in front of the Jaynes car. It is possible that she was blinded and confused by the lights of the cars.

Miss Northcross had lived here altogether many years, and she owned a farm near Tahoka. Her brother Pat Northcross came to Tahoka in a very early day and served a number of years as a county official. He died here almost 20 years ago. She leaves surviving several other brothers, one of whom resides in Arizona and others in California.

A niece from Arizona was expected to arrive Thursday and another from Dallas on Friday afternoon.

Miss Northcross was highly esteemed by all who knew her, and her tragic death is greatly deplored. Funeral services will probably be held at about 3 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon at the Harris Funeral Home.

Capt. Joe McAllister Is Visiting Here

Captain Joe E. McAllister, veteran pilot in the 15th air corps with the American forces in Italy, was here during the holidays visiting his parents at Petty, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McAllister, arriving on December 15 and leaving for his new assignment at Phoenix, Arizona, on Wednesday of this week.

After finishing fifty missions in Italy, Captain McAllister was sent back to the States about Oct. 10. While in Italy he never lost a man of his crew.

At home for the holidays was also the other son, Cadet Bob McAllister, a student in Schreiner Institute at Kerrville. He came on Thursday of last week and expects to return about Wednesday of next week.

FULKERSON PROMOTED

W. H. Fulkerson Jr., who is serving in Hawaii with the Army received a Christmas present—promotion to sergeant. And his mother has just received his Good Conduct Medal, which she thinks is something worthy of being called a Christmas present, itself.

Cap. and Mrs. Thomas T. Turner of Fort Sill, Okla., are here spending the holidays with Mrs. Turner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cade.

Mrs. T. Cowan and children visited her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Inman at Snyder during Christmas.

Mrs. C. C. Hoffman of Slaton spent the Christmas holidays here with her mother, Mrs. W. D. Nevels.

Pvt. E. A. Francis of Camp Wolters spent Christmas with his parents at Petty.

Rev. Morris Day Is Believed Dead

Rev. Morris Day, Army chaplain in the Philippines when the Japs came, and later reported a prisoner of the Japs, is believed to be dead, according to information forwarded Mrs. C. T. Tankersley of West Point by his wife.

Following is a quotation from Mrs. Day's letter: "We have sad news for Christmas. Morris was on the Jap freighter which was sunk in Philippine waters with 750 American prisoners aboard. So far as the War Department has been able to determine, he was not one of the survivors. So, after these long years of anxious waiting, he will not be coming back to Gay and me." Gay is their daughter.

Morris and Mrs. Day taught at West Point two or three years, was ordained a Baptist minister and was pastor of the Central Church for some time. Entering the Army as a chaplain about six years ago, he was sent to the Philippines. Mrs. Day and the little girl followed there, but returned to the States as war threatened.

Mrs. Day is connected with Howard-Payne College, Brownwood.

Rev. Levi Price Is Rotary Speaker

With A. E. Herring in charge of the program, Rev. Levi W. Price was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon Thursday. His theme was World Peace, and he expressed the conviction that men must ban hatred from their hearts and be motivated by love for one another regardless of race or nationality if a permanent peace is to follow this great world conflict. This love can not exist except as men love and worship God, he asserted.

Visitors included U. U. Clark of Lubbock, Field Operations officer of the OPA, W. L. Gardenhire of O'Donnell, and Capt. Thomas T. Turner of Houston, now stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, together with the latter's father-in-law, A. M. Cade; and John Fulford.

Appeal Is Made For More War Workers By Governor, Local County Official

To the People of Lynn County: At the request of our good Governor, I am issuing the following statement:

At this very moment our country is facing the most serious setback and critical condition since the terrible catastrophe of fateful Pearl Harbor. The best available information obtainable indicates that our boys in Germany are locked in mortal combat with Germany's most powerful forces, in the snow, the mud, and the slush of Europe's worst winter for more than one hundred years. And we are suddenly awakened by a dull and sickening thud from our seeming lethargy and over-optimism by the realization that this war is not nearing an end and are faced with the cold and cruel fact that the end is nowhere in sight and that indications now point to the most cruel and bitter struggle of our national existence, for many, many months to come.

Events of the past few days have brought the full realization that our nation is now experiencing a most ghastly shortage of more than three hundred thousand war production workers, who are desperately needed to meet the ever-increasing needs of various items of armament, munitions, equipment, and clothing for our precious boys in their death struggle along the fighting fronts.

In a recent confidential discussion with the War Manpower Commission, a high military authority said: "We have come to the realization that our enemies, neither the Nazis nor the Japanese, will not give up until we have a gun pointed at their heads. In the case of the Japanese, we will have to pull the trigger. In Europe, when we slog along through the mud and the snow, and crumble one village, the enemy falls back to the next village, where they dig in, and we have to repeat the process, foot by foot."

General Eisenhower, our Supreme Allied Commander, with six or seven armies on the European battle front, has issued appeals for huge supplies of munitions and other supplies, and it is imperative that we at home respond to the call thus made. Munitions and supplies are so much cheaper than human lives.

To meet this need, it is absolutely necessary that every available man and woman in every Tex-

Sgt. Ferman Chapman of Moore Field, Mission, Texas, came last Saturday to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Burk of Grassland and to visit friends. He is a brother of Mrs. Burk. Sgt. Chapman has been in the services 31 months. They are using him in the homeland. He will return to Moore Field Saturday.

MRS. COUGHRAN ILL.

Mrs. Pearl Coughran, who has been in bad health for some time, was reported Thursday morning to be seriously ill at her apartment in the home of her mother, Mrs. S. N. McDaniel.

as community accept employment in a war job, if one is available and the worker is not now engaged in essential war work; it is necessary to halt the recent heavy flow of war workers into non-essential war work; it is necessary to reduce absenteeism among all war workers; and it is necessary for every worker for whom no war production work is available in his local community, to go where such work is available, if he or she can possibly do so; and finally it is necessary to obtain better compliance with War Manpower Commission labor controls.

Through the War Manpower Commission and the State and National Employment Services, plans are already inaugurated to secure the needed workers for this increased production. All that is now required of us is assistance in getting across to the people of our community the general facts of this crisis, and a public endorsement of the War Manpower Commission's plans to meet this emergency. The plans call on every worker and every employer to do the following things:

1. Do not hire any worker except on referral by the United States Employment Service.

2. Do not accept any job except on referral by the United States Employment Service.

3. Do not quit a War Job if you already have one now. Go to the Employment Service and ask referral to a war job, if you are not already in war work, and can accept war work, either in your own community or elsewhere.

West Texans have always made quick and ready response to all calls for service to our country in the hour of peril as is evidenced by the presence of so many of our fine youth on the battlefields around the world. Their sufferings and sacrifices are without measure. They are giving their all that you and I might live in peace, comfort and plenty.

May the God of Life and of Love help us to see and feel their need and give us at home the strength of character and will, the desire and determination to do the things thus required and asked to the end that this carnage of death, destruction and pain and suffering be brought to a speedy end.

Sincerely,
Tom Garrard, County Judge.

Judge and Mrs. P. W. Goad of Fort Worth came out last Saturday to spend Christmas and a few days this week with their son, Lester Goad and family on the Lynn-Lubbock county line, and their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Bradshaw and family of New Home, together with friends in Tahoka. The Judge served two terms as county judge of Lynn County and then accepted a position with the State Insurance Department, in which position he is still serving.

One sacrifices but little in exhibiting good manners, and gains much.

Cold, Wet Weather During December

While the total amount of rainfall has not been heavy, yet there has been much damp, misty, drizzly weather during the past fall.

In October the precipitation amounted to 1.25 inches; in November, 1.56; and in December to date, .48. Of the latter amount, .38 has fallen this week up to 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

So, the total rainfall, sleet, snow and mist has not been great, but it has been distributed over a large number of days, and the harvesting of the cotton and feed crops has been interrupted frequently.

There has been much freezing weather, too, most of it not severely cold but freezing temperatures have been reached day after day for many days at a time. There had been only three days this month up to December 28 on which the temperature did not drop to 32 or below. On these three days it dropped to 34. The coldest day of the month so far was the first day, when the mercury dropped to 16. On the 10th and the 11th it registered 19 and on the 29th and 27th, 21. Even in November there were nine days on which freezing or sub-freezing temperatures were registered.

And the present prospect is for continued winter weather.

Jo Lehman Given Medical Course

Jo Lehman, S. 2/c, who has been here during the Christmas holidays visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lehman, will leave Sunday for Dallas, where he will enter Southwestern Medical Foundation as a Midshipman in the Navy to study medicine.

Lehman was selected by the Navy after eight months training at San Diego to become a Navy Doctor, and after completing 32 months of medical study, he will spend a minimum of three years at sea or overseas with the Navy as a doctor.

Jo, who is a graduate of Tahoka High School, had been studying medicine at the University of Texas before he was inducted into the service early in the year.

ERROR CORRECTED

Lawrence Harvick wants The News to pay him mustering out pay. Last week, this paper stated that he had been discharged from the Army, which statement The News here and now corrects. Lawrence still is in the Army.

Capt. Leslie A. Smith, a B-29 Super-Bomber pilot, was here Tuesday visiting his brother-in-law, Woodrow Walker, Capt. Smith says the B-29 is everything "it is cracked up to be," almost impregnable and due to deal the enemy much more misery before the war is over.

Pvt. and Mrs. L. C. Unfred of Camp Wolters visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Unfred of Petty, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Acie Bailey of New Home, during the Christmas holidays.

Cotton Ginnings Reach 70,000 Bales In Lynn County

Reports given The News Thursday morning by the ginner of Tahoka indicate that 16,762 bales of cotton have been ginned here this season.

There are six gins in Tahoka; 30 in the entire county. It is a safe guess that more than 70,000 bales have been ginned in the county, possibly as many as 72,000.

There is much cotton yet in the fields. It would be difficult to estimate the amount. Most of the Mexican cotton pullers have left the county, and most of the cotton remaining in the fields will have to be gathered by sleds and the few cotton harvesting machines that have been bought by farmers in the county. Some of it will be gathered by home labor. There is quite a bit of cotton in the fields on the ground. Very little of this will be saved. It is now a certainty that the total crop, if it could have been gathered, would have run up close to 100,000 bales. Lubbock county's crop would have amounted to about the same, probably a little more.

At any rate, enough has already been gathered to place Lubbock and Lynn counties at the top as the leading cotton counties of Texas. They have won this distinction several years in the past, and now they are leaders again.

These counties are probably also leaders in the production of maize and other grain sorghum grains. Much of this crop is also yet in the field; but the four elevators in Tahoka alone have shipped out considerably more than 400 car loads, while some has been hauled away in trucks. Many, many tons have been stored away by farmers for domestic use, or to be sold later under the Government loan plan.

On account of the drop in feed prices early in the fall, much of the surplus crop is being held by farmers. All of the granaries which had been constructed two or three years ago by the Government and placed on vacant lots here have been sold to farmers this fall.

For cotton and maize, the South Plains can not be beat.

Morgan says many more boys will need that same help from War Bond purchases for months to come.

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The Lynn County News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

As much as we regret to admit it, our American forces have met with a terrible set-back in Europe, almost a disaster. It is now evident that we have been entirely too cock-sure. We have underestimated the enemy's power to strike back. We have probably over-estimated the damage we have done to him. The picture has been made too rosy for us. Every laborious and costly advance that we made was heralded as another great victory. We thought the Germans were just about whipped. We kept expecting them to "crack up" and we wondered why they didn't. As a matter of fact they had us practically stalemated for two months before they made their astounding counter attack. In a week's time they won back most of what we had taken from them in a half a dozen weeks. All of this should open our eyes to the fact that the war isn't over yet by any means. It may drag along for months and months. It will unless we send more men and supplies and provide more transportation facilities at once and then keep on doing so. We must win this war and we are going to do it, but to do it we must yet expend a lot of "sweat and blood and tears."

Rev. Levi W. Price had had Christmas luck. Following the services Sunday night he and his family started to Wichita Falls to spend Christmas day with relatives. At Dickens his car broke down and he had to telephone back to Tahoka for somebody to come and take them home. Garland Pennington responded. He brought the preacher and his family back but they had to leave their car there for repairs; and for a time it looked as if the preacher's Christmas had been almost totally spoiled. He rallied, however, and he and family and a few friends ate Christmas turkey for supper.

Find New Way to Infect Rats for T. B. Tests

Heretofore, rats and mice have been little used in the study of tuberculosis because it has been difficult to infect them with the disease, but recently tubercle bacilli were mixed with salt water and introduced into the noses of 40 young white rats. When the rats breathed, the germs were drawn into their lungs. This method had previously been used successfully in infecting rats and mice with whooping cough. The rats began to die in about two weeks, as a result of the infection, and after about three months, the remaining rats were killed. The lungs were much larger than those of normal rats, and showed some, though not all, of the changes found in the lungs in human tuberculosis. It may be that if the rats had been allowed to live longer, more changes characteristic of human tuberculosis would have been found. The disease appeared to have remained localized in the lungs, little evidence of it being seen in other parts of the body.

The disease destroyed much of the vitamin A in the lungs, and some of the vitamin in the livers of the rats. We have also found that patients suffering from tuberculosis do not absorb vitamin A when it is given by mouth as well as healthy persons do, and that the amount of the vitamin circulating in their blood is often much less than normal. Since vitamin A is essential for the proper functioning of the tissues of the body, it is recommended that patients with tuberculosis receive an abundant supply of this vitamin.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Crusade for Christ has five spearheads: 1. A new world order. 2. Relief and reconstruction. 3. Evangelism. 4. Stewardship. 5. Church school enrollment increased. These are the general objectives and shall be emphasized through this quadrennium. And too, the 25 million dollars for this work will be raised by March, 1945. This church sent $800.00 to the Orphanage Home at Waco this week—the Christmas offering for the home. It is a Christian spirit that thinks of others who are depending on the Church for food, clothing, and shelter. You did a magnificent deed in contributing to the Home of Orphans. Services at the same hours at the Church Sunday, and we shall expect you to meet us there. College Day is observed on the last Sunday in December. We have a large group of young people back from colleges and universities for the holidays, and shall welcome you in our Services Sunday.—Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

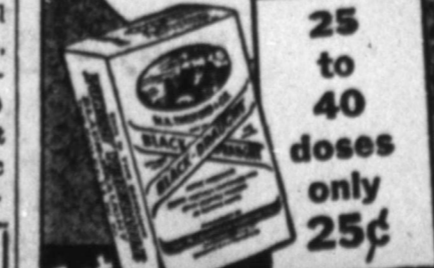

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our many friends for their many deeds of kindness, and words of sympathy upon the death of our father and brother, Dave McCall. We appreciate the beautiful flowers, the nice food prepared for us, and so many things done to alleviate our sorrow. May God send his richest blessings to rest upon each of you.—The children and two brothers.

Treatment of mastitis presents special problems. The cow's udder consists of a highly complicated structure including thousands of ducts and blind passages where bacteria may lodge. In successful treatment every disease-producing germ must be destroyed or the survivors multiply and serve as a new source of infection. Complete sterilization of a structure so complex is difficult under the most favorable conditions and may be impossible to accomplish in advanced cases where the germs are deeply established. Nevertheless, proper treatment has proved of definite value in the control of mastitis.

Ordinarily treatment is most successful and less damaging when administered during the dry period. No quarter or udder in good milk flow should be subjected to treatment because of possible temporary or permanent damage with resulting loss in production. A good rule to remember is that a quarter in good milk flow, regardless of the presence of mastitis streptococci, is not suffering severely from mastitis, and treatment can profitably be delayed until the cow goes dry or production has at least declined. A damaged or poor-producing udder of a high-producing animal should, of course, be treated without delay.

Treatment is administered most successfully to cases of recent infection. Many veterinarians are adopting a policy of treating every cow in mastitis-infected herds as she goes dry. Provided a wise choice is made in the selection of the treatment, this policy has obvious advantages.
