AMERICAN HEROES

WITH the crew of a tank destroyer held up by withering enemy fire at Villa Cocetta, Cpt. William W. Galt of Great Falls, Mont., jumped in and directed an attack on a 77-mm antitank gun. Advancing fully exposed, he discharged a machine gun and threw hand grenades until the enemy became disorganized. He died from a shell burst, and was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously. The least that we can do is to buy and hold War Bonds.

77 Out of 2,859 Milch Cows In County Are Found To Have Bangs Disease

All cows in Lynn county that have not been tested for Bangs disease within the last six months should be tested within the next three months.

Of the 2,859 head of dairy cattle that have been tested in the Lynn County Bangs Testing program in the last 18 months, 77 head were Bangs reactors. This is 2.6 percent reactors, which is about average or slightly below for this section of the state. There are around 3,000 head of milch cows in the county that should be tested in the near future.

Undulant fever is a very treacherous disease that may be contracted from the use of milk from Bangs reacting cows. Many people often have undulant fever or several years before finding out what the ailment is. Present treatments for this disease are often quite prolonged and in many cases unsatisfactory results are obtained, with a relatively high per cent of the cases never fully recovering. With 2.6 per cent of the milch cows in Lynn county testing as Bangs reactors, it is therefore very essential that all cattle from which milk and dairy products are used be tested and the reactors disposed of.

Anyone in Lynn county desiring that their cows be tested may drop by the County Agent's office and get their names on the list. A neighboring veterinarian will be called in to do the testing whenever there is a sufficient number on the list to justify his services. There will be a small charge for the services of a veterinarian and the positive reactors will have to be disposed of. It is thought that with the feed situation as it is at present, with a large number of cattle being marketed, this is the best time to get rid of Bangs reacting cattle.

Many Men Return From War Fronts

Sgt. Garvin Paid Visit To Berlin

Sgt. C. C. Garvin arrived home the first of the week from Germany, having been in Europe since shortly after the invasion with ground crew with the 9th Air Force fighter group.

Sgt. Garvin landed on D-plus-9, and the outfit was met by two divisions of German soldiers on a beach where it was supposed there would be little or no opposition. Our losses were heavy. He says the First Army had first priority on supplies, and his group had to forage for some time on the country before attaching itself to the First Army to fight. After the breakthrough, he drove a supply truck from the beachhead to the front lines, many times under shell-fire, fire and bombs from German aircraft, and small arms fire. He participated in the mad fight to supply the armies on their dash across France, to the Rhine, and later right into Berlin, where our boys received hearty and hilarious greetings from the Russians.

Sgt. Bean Returns From Germany

Mrs. J. W. Bean informs the News that her son, S-Sgt. Ronald C. Bean came in home on the first of this month from Germany with an honorable discharge from the service, having 112 points to his credit.

He also came back with plenty of evidences of faithful service, having the European Theater service ribbon and five stars, the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf cluster, and other awards of merit.

He was wounded twice but not severely either time, spending only a few days in the hospital.

Sgt. Bean entered the Army in 1940, long before the Pearl Harbor attack. He went overseas in October 1943, disembarking in Ireland. Then he was sent to England and thence to France with the invasion forces, and from there on into the heart of Germany. He was with the infantry in the First Army.

'Timberwolf' Is Back At Home

Pfc. Harvey L. Pyburn, whose wife, Mrs. Dorothy Pyburn, lives out on Route 5, Tahoka, is now home on leave. While fighting with the Timberwolf division he participated in the Belgium-Holland-Germany campaign.

The 104th Infantry (Timberwolf) Division was the first to travel direct from the States to France. Led by Major General Terry Allen, the Timberwolves were in continuous combat for more than six months. Fighting with the Canadian army, they helped to open up the port of Antwerp to Allied shipping, then they took their place with the First Army at Aachen, drove through the industrial Eschweiler area, assaulted the Roer, pushed on to capture Cologne on the Rhine, stabbed their way furiously into the heart of the Reich, took part in the encirclement of the Ruhr pocket, and finally went racing on to the Mulde River, where the last remnants of the Wehrmacht were crushed between the Russians and the American First Army, that sector being the first in Germany to be completely cleared and conquered.

The Division is now in the United States preparing to join in the battles in the Pacific against the Japs.

WOUNDED MAN HOME

S/Sgt. Orville Short, who is spending his 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Short, at Levelland, visited relatives here Sunday. He is returning to the Brooks General Hospital at San Antonio, where he will receive further treatment for wounds received in Germany.

Several Tahoka Men Are Home

A number of boys who were reared in Tahoka have arrived home the last few days from various war fronts. Some of them, not mentioned in other stories in The News are:

Sgt. "Buster" Driver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Driver, is home from Italy, where, as gunner on an Army Air Forces bomber he made many missions over enemy territory and flew over practically every country in Europe. He has a 33-day furlough.

Sgt. Billy Barham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newt Barham, has returned home from England, from which place he made 27 missions as gunner on a Flying Fortress.

Cpl. W. C. and Sgt. Robert Harvick, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harvick, are here from the West Coast. Until a few months ago they were out in the Pacific with the Marines.

Pfc. Maurice Smith arrived home last week from England, where he spent 11 months with the Army Medical Corps. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Smith.

Sgt. Herbert Smith, who possibly has spent more time overseas than any man from Tahoka, arrived last week. He had been in the States a few weeks, but spent about three years in the Southwest Pacific in Air Transport flying supplies to our troops in the jungles.

Pvt. Carl Griffing Jr. of the Army Infantry is home from Fort Ord, Calif., for which place he will leave Friday.

Pvt. Wayne Miller of the Air Corps, stationed at Scott Field, Ill., is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller.

4-H CLUB PLAY DAY

Friday, June 29th, was Lynn county 4-H Club Play Day. Seventy-five 4-H Club members and several of the parents went to Lubbock for a day of fun and recreation. On the morning program was a two hour swim in the City Swimming Pool. At noon the group ate a picnic luncheon at Mackenzie State Park. The first thing after lunch the group attended a picture show. Scheduled on the program after the picture show was a soft-ball game but after a few minutes on the ball park the group decided that it was entirely too hot to play ball so returned to the swimming pool for another swim. At seven o'clock the group started on their way back to Tahoka. All arrived back to Tahoka safe and sound with no accidents during the day. All the 4-H Club members and the parents attending were very enthusiastic in acclaiming their first Lynn County 4-H Club Play Day, which they hope to make an annual affair a great success.

AMERICAN HEROES

by JULIAN OLLENDORFF

POSTHUMOUSLY a Silver Star was awarded to Pvt. Willis V. McFarland, St. Louis, Mo. When attempting to establish a beachhead on the Rapido River, Italy, Pvt. McFarland's unit was halted by enemy artillery fire. Dropping to the ground, he crawled over the shell-blasted shore to cut barbed wire, discharging his automatic rifle as he went. Thus he advanced through barbed wire entanglements until severely wounded. He gave his life fighting to free Italy, and the purchase of War Bonds will help continue that fight until all of the world is liberated from the Axis yoke.

Nixon Brothers Are In the Pacific War

Miss Ellen Nixon, now of Glendale, Arizona, has written the following information about her two brothers, Dru Morgan (Button) Nixon Jr. and Jasper Nixon, both of whom formerly lived at Grassland and both attended the Tahoka High school.

After 18 months in the South Pacific, Button was transferred back to the States to go to school and is now in Seattle attending a Gyro Compass school, which continues for four months, Miss Ellen says. He was in eight major battles and was transferred back to the States from Okinawa. He was at home on a 30-day leave last May.

"Jasper is still in the Pacific and has been for the past 24 months," she writes. "Therefore I can't tell much about him other than that he was in the re-capture of Corregidor, and has been at Leyte, Lingayen Gulf, and spent several months around Guadalcanal. Jasper and Button both are in the Navy. Both are in the electrical division; and both were home on leave last September for a very short while."

And she adds that both enjoy the Lynn County News, as well as her mother, dad, and herself.

Floating Drydocks Change Concept of Sea Warfare

Enough electric equipment to furnish a good-sized factory plus a small hotel is installed on each floating drydock the navy is using to make emergency repairs of warships far from their most advanced permanent bases.

These floating factories, recently revealed to be in action, are changing the concept of naval warfare by enabling strategists to plan ocean-going operations without dependence on the availability of fixed bases. Whereas the old static concept of sea strategy required ships to operate within an approximate range of 2,000 miles from a permanent repair base, floating drydocks make it possible to establish bases as they are needed and as near the fighting zone as desired.

In operation these mobile drydocks prepare a warship for repair by literally lifting the damaged vessel out of the water, thus giving workmen access to any part of the hull or deck, the same as if the ship were being overhauled on land. This is achieved by admitting water to sealed compartments so that the drydock submerges. When this is accomplished, the damaged vessel is floated over the dock or the dock is submerged under the vessel. Then water is pumped out of the compartments, and the drydock, with the ship under repair now resting on it in a rack, rises to the surface. In this position, the damaged ship is completely out of the water, with its hull exposed, and examination or repair is made possible.

Panama Hats Industry Revived by World War II

During the depression, beginning in 1929, competition from cheap straw hats from the Orient and Italy caused a decline in the Panama hat industry, but when the present war cut off these overseas competitors, the industry revived. Panama hats originated in Ecuador, the country which still is the chief center for their manufacture. Colombia, Panama and some other Latin American countries also make and export soft, pliable, finely woven straw hats which are now included under the general name of Panama. The name was given by prospectors coming back from the California gold rush by way of Panama who first brought these hats into the U. S. Because the hats were purchased in Panama, they were named accordingly, and the name has held through the years.

The hats are woven over a wood block, beginning at the center of the crown and working outward and downward, while the crown center is held in place with a heavy stone until the hat is finished. The weavers, mostly Indian or Mestizo women and children, take anywhere from one to several days to make inexpensive hats, and three to six months for the finest hats. When sold in this country, the hats cost anywhere from one to several hundred dollars each.

The fibers used to make the hats come from the toquilla plant, which thrives in hot, humid areas such as the lowlands of western Ecuador. The best fibers when properly treated and carefully woven, make hats as soft as linen which will wear for years. They are so flexible that they may be rolled without damage, are water resistant, have considerable elasticity, and because they are carefully finished on both sides may be worn on either side.

Cpl. Doyle Howell Home On Visit

After 28 months of active service in the Pacific theatre of the war, Cpl. Doyle H. Howell arrived last week to spend most of his 45-day furlough with his wife and little two-year-old son.

Cpl. Howell at the time he was granted a furlough was a machine gunner in a shore company of the crack Second Engineer Special brigade an amphibian unit with the Sixth Army. It was the job of the work of the construction engineers in roadbuilding. Roads had to be built and repaired so that trucks and other heavy equipment could be untraded.

The most harrowing experience he had during his entire period of service, Cpl. Howell says, was an incident that occurred on Leyte, when a bomb from a low-flying Zero exploded on a 20-ton trailer under which he and another man had taken refuge, blowing both tires off of it but leaving him and his buddy untouched.

Cpl. Howell participated in the invasions of New Guinea, the Bismark Archipelago and Admiralty Islands, the Southern Philippines, and Luzon. He also saw service on Bataan Peninsula and at Corregidor. Although he has 93 points to his credit, he is scheduled to report back to El Paso on August 13 and is to be returned to his old unit in the Pacific. He has been in the Army since July, 1942, and overseas since February, 1943.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Crocker and family are here from Waco visiting her sister, Mrs. I. L. Carter and family.

O'Dell Jones, son of Mrs. Willie Jones of Hobbs, New Mexico, who lived in Tahoka for many years, is now on Okinawa, according to a letter which his mother recently received from him. He said that he had been on the island continuously since Easter.

Among other interesting things in the letter, he tells of "another guy" and himself marching a large group of Okinawa civilians back to MP's. He estimates there were 500 to 700 of them and they all seemed "pretty scared."

His job was making doughnuts and coffee for the troops up front.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Strain and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Strain and Mrs. Hazel Henderson, all of Colorado City, spent last Sunday with their brother, J. R. Strain and family, at New Home.

Biscuit Dough Kept on Hand for Ready Use

Baking powder biscuit dough is the basis of many dishes. The basic mixture of flour, baking powder, salt and shortening will keep well if stored in a tightly-covered can or jar in the refrigerator, ready to be combined with various ingredients for biscuits, rolls and desserts.

Meat and vegetable pies can be topped with tiny drop biscuits, or biscuit dough cut in circles, squares or crescents. Have the meat pie filling piping hot and bake the biscuits quickly to keep them light.

Left-over cooked meat can be ground, seasoned and mixed with gravy or brown sauce, and spread on rolled biscuit dough. Then roll it like a jelly-roll and bake it. Use a sweet filling for this jelly-roll biscuit for excellent breakfast rolls. To make shortcakes, add sugar to the basic biscuit dough, about one tablespoonful for each cup of biscuit mix. Add milk, roll the dough out, and cut it into individual rounds. Brush one circle with melted lard, top it with another round, and bake it in a hot oven. Fill with fruit.

President a Pianist

Many hitherto unrevealed incidents in the life of Harry S. Truman have come to light since his elevation to the presidency, not the least interesting of which is the fact that the great Polish composer and virtuoso, Ignace Jan Paderewski, once gave Mr. Truman some highly appreciated pointers on playing the instrument. Piano playing is Mr. Truman's favorite pastime, the President having taken it up as a boy because poor eyesight made it impossible for him to enjoy outdoor sports. Confused about how to turn a sharp corner in one of Paderewski's compositions, he asked the master about it upon meeting him in Kansas City. Paderewski showed him how to execute it, albeit the lesson lasted but a few minutes. Available records indicate this was the only time Paderewski ever taught in this country.

Conservation Crop

Scientists have developed a variety of sorghum that yields neither grain nor fodder. The "no yield" sorghum was bred for an erosion-control crop. When planted for this purpose, it is best to leave all growth on the land. Stalks of the new variety make good growth, but are too hard and dry for forage and contain no sweetness. The seed also is too small to make it worth harvesting for grain. The brushy heads are unsuitable for making brooms. So, say the plant breeders, the "no yield" sorghum is well suited for use in erosion control. Its characteristics remove any temptation the grower might have to harvest the crops for other purposes.

Steel Consumer

Shipbuilding in 1944 again was the nation's leading single consumer of steel, but not by so large a margin as in 1943. Builders of merchant and naval vessels were supplied by the steel mills last year with 10,287,000 tons of steel, or 17 per cent of the total of 60,353,000 tons of products shipped during the year. In 1943, they received 11,500,000 tons—19 per cent of the total of 59,906,000 tons of products shipped. More steel was delivered last year than in 1943 to several major industry groups, including railroads, container manufacturers, agricultural equipment makers and the oil, gas and mining industries.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:
Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The Lynn County News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

A news item appeared in the Lubbock and other daily papers a few days ago stating that Dr. Joseph R. Griggs had been elected superintendent of Huntsville public schools and director of Teacher training in the Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville. Many Tahoka people have watched the rise of Joseph R. Griggs in his profession with much pride and pleasure. He did his first teaching at South Ward, while a school was being maintained there as a part of the Tahoka school system. Teachers at South Ward had had much trouble there. Just as he was about to finish his work in a junior college, Griggs came out to Tahoka and applied for a position in the Tahoka schools for himself and his fiancée, who also was about to finish her work. The school board was favorably impressed and offered him and his intended bride the job at South Ward. They accepted and they did a swell job there, remaining two years. He became superintendent of the Woodrow school a year or two later. Only a few years later still he was elected county superintendent of Lubbock county schools. In the meantime, he had continued his studies in the Texas Tech, and received his bachelor and master's degrees there. But a turn of the wheel of politics put him out of the office of county superintendent, and he was given a job as deputy state superintendent, serving three years at Wichita Falls and two years at College Station. Then he became director of high schools and curriculum for the State Department of Education at Austin, and in the meantime he had procured his Doctor's degree in the University of Texas. High character, hard work, conscientious service, and common sense are the rungs on which Joseph Griggs has climbed the ladder of success.

Another supreme court justice has resigned, Justice Owen J. Roberts. Politically, Roberts was a Republican, the last one left, we believe, on the Court. The other eight are Democrats, nominally, at least. Specifically, most of them are New Dealers, and we believe that all of them were appointed to their present positions by the late President Roosevelt. At any rate, the Court as now constituted is decidedly of a different political complexion from any that have preceded it. Although there is not a dyed-in-the-wool Republican on the court now, President Truman is expected to appoint a Democrat. We hope that he appoints a great and good man with a pre-eminently judicial mind to fill the place, regardless of his politics.

Resignations seem to be the order of the day in Washington just now. Following closely upon the heels of announcements of resignations of several cabinet members recently, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced his resignation on Thursday last week. On the next day President Truman announced the appointment of Fred Moore Vinson as his successor. Vinson is a Kentuckian. A lot of Washington statesmen are Kentucky sons to be prolific in the production of top-notch politicians. Vinson is rugged in appearance and doubtless takes 'em straight - we mean his politics. We hope he makes good.

ERRORS CORRECTED
Hampered as we were by machine trouble last week, many errors showed up in the paper. We can not undertake to correct all of them, but we do wish to correct a few.

In the account of the death of Ollie Wright, we stated that Rev. A. C. Hardth assisted in conducting the funeral. We should have said Rev. Ben Hardy.

Another unaccountable error occurred in the account of the death of Fred Fleener. We gave his name as Frank Fleener. The error was committed altogether unconsciously on the part of the writer.

There was also a flagrant error in the report of the death and funeral of Mrs. Mattie Ivey. The story was written to read as follows: "Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Ivey, who died Saturday in Wichita Falls, were conducted in the Wilson Methodist Church at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon," etc. But by the omission of a few words, the Linotype made us say: "Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Ivey, who died Saturday in the Wilson Methodist Church at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon," etc., which didn't make sense.

These and other errors were made or overlooked by reason of our rush to get the paper printed on time.

MAKING LIMITED SUGAR FILL THE FAMILY FOOD PRESERVATION BUDGET

By Carolyn Dixon
County Home Demonstration Agent
CANNING: Sugar neeps most canned fruit hold its shape, color and flavor. However, sugar is not necessary to keep fruit from spoiling. When canning without sugar or with a small amount of sugar, use the strained juice from crushed fruit which has been heated. Progress unsweetened fruit the same as sweetened. Make sugar syrup according to availability of sugar and use 1 cup sugar plus 3 cups water personal taste. For a thin syrup of fruit juices to yield 3 1/4 cups syrup. For medium syrup, use 1 cup sugar, 2 cups of water or fruit juice to yield 2 3/8 cups syrup. 1 1/2 cups of heavy syrup is made by one cup sugar and one cup of water or fruit juice. The general wartime rule is one pound of sugar to 4 quarts fruit.

Sugar Substitutes. Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of sugar. One cup sugar and 2 cups corn syrup to 6 cups of water makes a desirable syrup. This is a thin Syrup. If corn syrup is to replace all of the sugar, use 1/2 to 3/4 cup syrup and 1 cup water. Brown sugar or syrups that have strong flavor such as sorghum are not desirable for canning.

Honey may be used to replace a small part of the sugar. It is very good with canned figs.

Never use saccharin in canning. Heat makes it bitter. If saccharin is used it should be added at the time you serve the fruit. Consult a doctor before using it, because too much saccharin may be harmful.

How to make Invert Sugar: A Florida Experiment Station scientist recommends making invert sugar to make it go further. To do this mix 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water. Add one-fourth teaspoon of tartaric acid, which you can get at any drug store. Cover this sugar water and tartaric acid mixture and simmer gently for 30 minutes. Allow it to cool. Then you have invert sugar syrup. Each cup is about 1 1/2 times as sweet as the same weight in plain syrup.

This syrup is excellent to use in canning, but it should be diluted. Use one-fourth cup invert sugar syrup to 1 cup water for a thin syrup. It is also good in sweetening fruits, cereals, ice cream and beverages.

Freezing: The above information applies to freezing as well as to canning. Honey does not freeze solidly and it thaws more quickly than sugar syrup or corn syrup. Therefore, it is not as satisfactory for freezing.

DRYING: Dry such fruits as peaches, apricots, apples, pears and figs. It takes less sugar when cooking dried fruits than it does for canning or freezing. Drying also gives variety.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1- Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2- Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Again we ask the question, "What must I do to be saved?" Let us read the 9th and 22nd chapters of Acts for the answer to this important question.

Saul of Tarsus was a conscientious, zealous Pharisee who was binding Christians and putting them in prison. The Lord wanted just such a man for his apostle to the Gentiles, hence he appeared to Saul for that purpose. When Saul was made to realize he had been persecuting Christ, he of course regretted the things he had been doing and asked, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" The Lord told him to go into the city and it would be told him "what he must do."

After he had been in the city

three days and nights fasting and praying, Ananias, a preacher of the gospel, came to him and told him to "arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Why was not Saul told to believe on the Lord? Because he had already believed. Why was he not told to repent? He had already done this. The fact that Ananias told him to be baptized and wash away his sins, shows that although Saul had already believed in Christ and repented, he was yet in his sins, and had to be baptized in order to obey the Lord's commandment as recorded in Mark 16:16, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved."

We today can be saved just as all of the early converts were by believing, repenting of our sins, and being baptized for the remission of sins, thus becoming heirs to the promise of eternal life.

We welcome you to our services.

BAPTIST NOTES

Rev. Levi Price, the pastor, left Monday morning to conduct a revival meeting at View, a station on the Santa Fe next to Camp Berkeley. He expects to return home on Saturday of next week. Rev. Geo. A. Dale will fill the pulpit next Sunday.

With 85 or more men present in the Men's Bible class last Sunday and almost that many present for the past several Sundays, the Class won its contest with the Men's Class of Post. The time for the joint meeting and entertainment has not yet been announced.

There were 353 present in Sunday morning, there were 100 in Sunday School last Sunday and 76 in B. T. U.

In the worship service last Sunday morning, there were seven additions to the church, and one rededication. Five of the additions were by letter and two as candidates for baptism. One united for baptism on the preceding Sunday.

A vacation Bible school has been announced for a two-week period beginning July 24. Leaders and workers are being procured, and it is hoped that the attendance will be large.

The summer revival meeting will begin Sunday, Aug. 5.

METHODIST CHURCH

The increase in church attendance for the past several Sundays is an inspiration. Last Sunday many new faces were in the large audience. Seidom has there been a Sunday but that from two to five have come into the membership of the church by confessions of faith or vows and certificate. "When Zion travaile, souls will be converted."

The youth division of the church voted recently to sponsor a revival meeting to begin on the first Sunday in September and continue a week or ten days. This division has been very active for the past several months. Representatives were in the Summer Assembly at McMurry College in June. They brought back many splendid ideas of how to progress.

In the children's division, directed by Mrs. Tom Gill, much has been accomplished. A large group was sent to Ceta Canyon last month. The group was enthused and elated with the school there, and is already planning to go again next year.

A hearty welcome awaits you in the church school and preaching services Sunday, whether member, friend, or visitor.—Reporter.

This car may have disappeared by the time you finish reading!

Every 17 Seconds (much less time than it takes to read this ad) another vitally needed car breaks down—so far beyond repair that it is gone forever.

This wouldn't be so serious if all of us lived within walking distance of our jobs. But we don't. And all you have to do is look at the acres of cars parked outside any big war plant to realize how much America's war effort depends on automobile transportation!

That's why, with 5000 cars a day going into the scrap heap, all of us have plenty to worry about. That's why Uncle Sam says, "Care For Your Car For Your Country!"

And it's not hard to do—especially with your Phillips 66 Service Man standing by to help you. Because he has a special Tire-Saving and Car-Saving Plan for motorists like you. If you'll take your car to him regularly he'll check your tires—look out for cuts, bruises, and nails; warn you when re-capping is necessary; see that the air-pressure is right.

He'll take a regular look at your battery, cooling system, and air filter. He'll help discover the little troubles before they become big ones. And your Phillips 66 Service Man will tell you it's a mighty good idea to have a complete lubrication job done regularly—for it's often those unseen parts of a car that cause trouble.

Sgt. Woosley In Luzon Campaign

With The First Cavalry Division On Luzon — Nathan H. Woosley of Tahoka, Texas, was promoted from the grade of Staff Sergeant to the grade of First Sergeant of the 2nd Collecting Troop, 1st Medical Squadron of the famous 1st Cavalry Division.

As a Staff Sergeant, Woosley was charged with the difficult duty of supplying a Collecting Troop. In combat, a collecting troop, which vacuates casualties from the front lines, is spread over a great area. The fact that the 2nd Collecting Troop was always well supplied with clothing and equipment throughout the rugged campaigns was due in a large manner to the excellent and efficient work of First Sergeant Woosley.

First Sergeant Woosley came overseas with the Division in June 1943 and is credited with four campaign stars for participation in the New Guinea, Admiralty Islands, Leytesamar, and Luzon campaigns. He is the brother of Mrs. F. E. Calvery of Tahoka.

METHODIST WOMEN

The Women's Society of Christian Service met Monday in the Methodist Church for a regular meeting with a membership of 18 present. Mmes. Terry Thompson, Tom Gill, and W. D. Smith Sr. gave a very interesting program on "Advancing in Racial Understanding."

The Society held a special meeting July 5th to study the book entitled "The Word of His Grace" by Costen J. Harrel. The day's lecture program was adjourned for an hour at noon for a covered dish buffet luncheon, and the presentation by the society of a crystal serving set to the president, Mrs. Calloway Huffaker, in appreciation of her faithful work.

"The Word of His Grace" is an intensive study of Paul's letter to the Ephesians. It sounds the depths of the mind of God and interprets the way by which we may have eternal fellowship with Him.

Program chairman for the day, Rev. H. A. Nichols, introduced the study by explaining by whom, for whom, when and for what purpose Ephesians was written: "The Purpose and Plan of God." Ephesians I, was discussed by Mrs. J. Fred Bucy. "The Work of His Grace," Ephesians II, was presented by Mrs. Roy Edwards. Mrs. Calloway Huffaker discussed "The Church," Ephesians III.

The afternoon session opened with a vocal duet by Mmes. J. B. Hoskins and Bucy. Mrs. Ted Clayton presented "A Christian in the Church," Eph. IV:1-16. "A Christian in the World," Eph. IV:17 through V:1-21, was discussed by Mrs. A. E. Ware. "The Christian Home," Eph. V:22, VI:9, was given by Mrs. C. L. Steele. "The Christian Conflict," Eph. VI:10-24, was discussed by Mrs. F. H. Gibson.

The church's new punch bowl and cups, purchased from the kitchen funds, and the president's crystal set, consisting of a salad server, sandwich server, sugar and creamer, were on display. The women attending were: Mmes. Calloway Huffaker, J. B. Hoskins, J. D. Donaldson, A. E. Ware, W. W. Roland, V. C. Steele, J. F. Millman, Ted Terry, Ted Clayton, C. A. Thomas Alton Cain, Terry Thompson, Roger Bell, Hick Gibson, Myri Mathis, J. Fred Bucy, I. L. Kilpatrick, H. A. Nichols, C. L. Steele, C. G. Franks, Paul Johnson, E. S. Davis, Abbie Wharton, Homer Wharton, Roy Edwards, and R. C. Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Lewis of Littlefield are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gray, the two ladies being sisters. Mr. Lewis says they had a good rain at Littlefield last October. They are resting this year.

New Compass Helps Pilots Hold Course

Have you ever been misled in the woods because you read your pocket compass when it was too near your ax or rifle? If so, you can understand why heavy metallic armor around fighter-plane cockpits made it necessary to adopt a kind of compass that could be located in a wing tip, or the tail; but read in the cockpit. Such a remote-indicating compass is now being manufactured.

Such compasses offer other advantages in that one compass unit may have several remote-indicating details so the navigator or other members of the crew on large planes can have the same information as the pilot.

Permanent magnets in the compass unit, placed in a wing tip or the tail of the plane far from the plane's disturbing magnetic-effects, line themselves up with the earth's magnetic field. These magnets affect the electrical voltages in a wire coil so that corresponding coils in the cockpit move pointers over a dial in exactly the same directions as the compass.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, and thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

A PLAN TO PROTECT THE EARNING POWER OF YOUR FARM

What will your farm look like ten years from today? Will you have that new barn you wanted, a new tractor or other equipment? The answer is entirely up to you.

Income has been up these last few years, but it isn't all profit. A definite percentage of your cash savings should go into a reserve investment account. Normally, you would have used it to buy building repairs, fence, fertilizer, or equipment.

Soil fertility, livestock herds, buildings and equipment have suffered during the stress of wartime pressure, and must be replaced or rebuilt because they represent the earning power of your farm.

The way to provide for it is to buy War Bonds. Check over your farm and decide how much money you'll need. Then buy enough War Bonds to cover the expense.

Fat-Salvage Bee To Aid in Licking National Fat Shortage

It's been ages since we had an old-fashioned "bee" in these parts, but just as we always pitched in to help a neighbor, so must we pitch in for our country. To help make hundreds of battlefield and home-front essentials, more used fats are needed than are on hand. City folks are trying to make up the deficit of over 1,300,000,000 pounds. But their fats aren't enough.

Women in small cities, towns and rural districts must also save every drop of fat. Not just big amounts, but scraps of plates, meat trimmings. Melt them down once a week. Your butcher will give you up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call Home Demonstration or County Agent. Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

County Agent Says:

With fewer young men on the farm this year, with consequent further reductions in the supply of experienced workers, and with farm machinery a year older and still hard to replace, the farm accident situation may be more serious than ever before.

For that reason it is important to observe with particular attention Farm Safety Week July 22-28 so that the attention of the nation may be focused on the tremendous toll taken by accidents to farm people. Twenty-five million man-days of work are obstacles to maximum food production and to agricultural prosperity and well-being. By farm fires alone, 3500 farm people lost their lives, and $90,000,000 in property was destroyed by farm fires last year.

The theme of this year's campaign will be the basic three-point formula for the advancement of accidents: First, learn to recognize hazards; second, eliminate as many hazards as possible; and third, act so as not to be hurt by remaining hazards.

The American farmer is being called upon during 1945 to meet the highest crop production goals of the war years, with fewer men in the ranks of farm labor. If this all-out production of food and fiber is to be maintained, it is imperative that both manpower and property losses due to farm accidents be reduced materially.

Good Care Helps Cut Tooth Decay

Someday tooth decay may be as inexorable as emphysema is now. You can't be vaccinated against decay — although even that is under experimentation at the army medical center in Washington — but you can cut down caries as much as 80 per cent by following a few inexpensive measures.

Wind up meals with a tooth-cleaning raw fruit or vegetable such as celery, apples, carrots; include meat-bone in your menus, eat out snacks between meals; if better cleaning methods aren't available immediately after meals, use water-mouthwash vigorously.

Tooth decay is largely a result of bacterial activity. Carbohydrates, present in sugars, starches and a few related substances, ferment in the mouth. This sets up ideal conditions for bacteria. The swarming bacilli produce acids, notably lactic acid. The acids attack tooth enamel. From there on the process is all too familiar: cavity, toothache, dental appointment, a new filling.

Turkey Eggs

Turkey eggs may one day sell as chicken eggs sell today, and be used for cooking in both homes and restaurants. Some of the small-type turkeys developed by the department of agriculture are much heavier than the average large turkey. As more of these small turkeys are raised, growers may have surplus eggs that could be marketed. Because these smaller turkeys require less feed than larger turkeys they are more economical egg producers. Heavy-laying, even smaller turkeys could be developed if there should be a demand for them. There is little difference in the two kinds of eggs. They taste the same, and the whites and yolks are the same in color. Weight for weight, they have about equal nutritive value. The yolk of a turkey egg is slightly firmer so holds its shape well in poaching. At present most turkey eggs are needed for hatching. One of the small-type turkeys laid 211 eggs last year, and another 206 in contrast to the 40 to 60 eggs a year laid by the average turkey.

Efficient Tub

A bathtub that fills quickly and empties quickly is high on the list of things that postwar home builders want. The chief advantage of a tub that fills quickly and empties quickly is the saving in time. Another important advantage, however, is the fact that water which flows through the drain piping at high velocity will carry solids with it, thus scouring the drain and tending to keep the pipes clean. For rapid filling of a tub, the hot and cold lines leading to the fixture should be at least one-half inch in diameter and the spout should be one inch in diameter. With these specifications, providing water pressure is adequate, the bath will fill quickly and the water will not splash or gurgle. To insure quick draining of the fixture, the waste in the tub should be two inches in diameter and the bottom of the tub should be perfectly smooth and unimpeded by corrugations.

Seed Treatment

One of the most common mistakes a gardener makes is planting seeds too deep. Even the experienced hand finds it a painstaking business not to sow fine seeds a little too far below the surface where germination may be considerably slowed.

When seeds are planted too deep, especially before the ground has become thoroughly warmed in spring, there is real danger of seeds rotting. Treatment will go far to minimize loss of this kind.

The method of treating seeds is simplicity itself. Small handy packets of the fungicide generally are available in seed stores. The packets contain enough chemical dust to treat several pounds of seed. The amount of dust that can be held on the tip of a penknife blade or on the flat end of a toothpick is put into the seed packet with the seed and shaken well.

Farmers Should Plan Cover Crops

The time when it's too late to plant normal crops in Lynn county is draw near. In a few more days, the planting season will be over, and unless sufficient rainfall has been received, numerous acres of Lynn county farm land will be left without a cover crop of any description to prevent soil erosion during the fall and winter months.

Serious thought should be given to hazards of this kind, and farm operators should be calculating the quantity and kind of seed adaptable to their particular type of soil as a winter cover crop.

Those who have the tighter type of soil could possibly use wheat or barley as a cover crop, and at the same time produce early spring pasturage, and might also expect a favorable revenue as a grain crop. Some farmers in Lynn county did combine favorable returns in 1945 from seed drilled in the fall of 1944.

Operators who have a sandy type soil, more susceptible to wind erosion than the tighter land, will possibly be interested in Austrian winter peas as a winter cover crop.

Austrian winter peas, make an excellent fertilizer when turned under green. There's also a $1.50 per acre conservation payment as a soil building practice for green manure crops. Austrian winter peas, aside from being a fertilizer, are also suitable for grazing and have a $7.10 support price, when harvested for seed.

E. W. Holloway of Ft. 2, Tahoka, one-half mile north of Redwine school, planted some 200 pounds of Austrian winter peas on approximately 40 acres of land in November 1944. Results were satisfactory, everything considered.

Farmers interested in Austrian winter peas are advised to contact the local AAA office for further information.
