

HEAR DR. SKILES THOMAS
Varying its program from the usual course, the Methodist Society for Christian Service listened to an interesting and informative talk by Capt. Skiles Thomas, who had spent two years in the South Pacific, in their meeting at the Church Monday afternoon.

Capt. Thomas, who is a graduate of the Tahoka High School, Texas Technological College, and the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston, entered the army in 1943 after serving his internship at Houston.

In his talk he gave the Society the benefit of the many interesting observations which he made as a surgeon during his term of service respecting the life and customs of the peoples of the South Pacific islands, including religion, social customs, food and dress, and answered many questions from members following his talk.

Mrs. J. Fred Bucy, program chairman, introduced the speaker. During a social hour, Meses. Ted Clayton and J. B. Hoskins served refreshment to all members and guests.

Mrs. Callaway Huffaker is president of the W. S. C. S.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kemp, who had been here visiting her sister, Mrs. S. R. Kemp and other relatives left Saturday for their home in Glendale Calif. Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, their niece, accompanied them and will visit her son, Pvt. James Applewhite, at Fort Ord.

Lightning Strike Thrice ?

YES NO

Even if it scores a knockout first crack, lightning can still jolt the same spot some more! It often does. Another accurate weather fact is that you'll step up your aging car's chances this Winter by OIL-PLATING the engine's insides. You want Conoco Nth motor oil for this protective OIL-PLATING.

• Conoco Nth oil's great wear-fighting method is this: it employs the magnet-like action of its added ingredient to make metal and lubricant join up! This creates OIL-PLATED surfaces—no longer all bare to frictional wear and corrosion. Hence there's less cause for carbon—sludge—breakdown. And surfaces kept OIL-PLATED even at a standstill are ready for quick safe Winter starts. Your engine and battery both say, "Conoco Nth for Winter—today!"

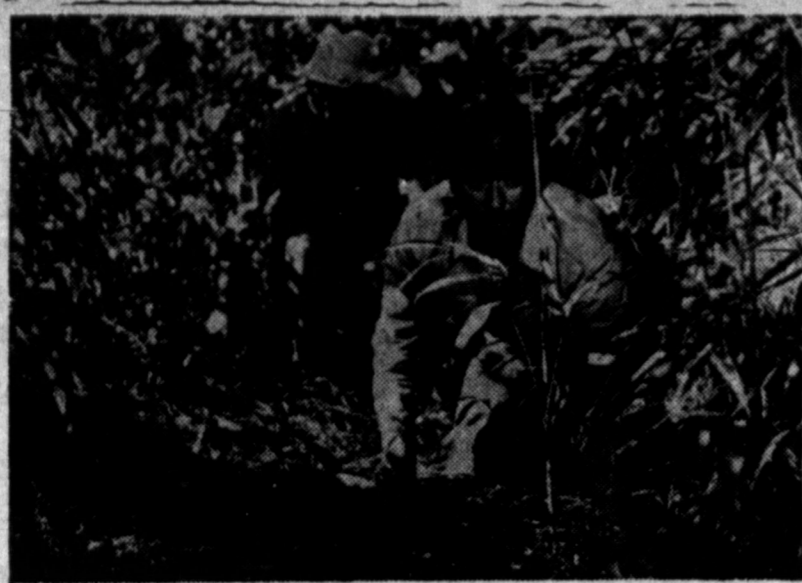

For Station Identification!

The big red Conoco triangle identifies Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Get good gasoline there today. And look for new hushed power—new high-octane—in his NEW-DAY GASOLINE! It's coming quick!—WHERE YOU SEE THAT CONOCO TRIANGLE! Continental Oil Company

Pfc. C. V. Hale, son of Rev. J. M. Hale of O'Donnell, arrived home last Friday from service in the armed forces overseas.

He landed at Newport News, Virginia, several days before, where he was granted a discharge. He had been in the service three and a half years, and had been overseas most of the time. After serving in England and Scotland, he went with the invasion forces to North Africa, landing near Oran. After serving through the North African campaign, he went with the U. Lt. Verne W. Thompson, whose wife is the former Miss Lucille Tinsley, who was reared here and graduated at the Tahoka high school, has been home on a 30-days visit after returning from a year's service overseas, and is to report soon at Camp Beal, California, for a discharge. Mrs. Thompson will accompany him to California and they will make their home there.

He's the Sole Owner of the Business Now

Yes, Mr. Johnson is the sole owner of the business now. But he wouldn't be, if he hadn't invested in Southwestern Life Insurance. His business, you see, began as a partnership; a business that started from scratch, and blossomed into a thriving enterprise. And just at its peak, Mr. Johnson's partner lost his life in an accident.

Death terminates a partnership business—and unless proper arrangements have been made to continue it in some other form, the business must liquidate. The firm name, property, trade, good will—every asset passes away with a partner's death, unless the partners have taken sound steps to perpetuate that business.

Fortunate for Mr. Johnson, he and his partner had wisely arranged through Southwestern Life Insurance that either survivor should have the right to purchase the deceased's interest—and, equally as important, the money to do it with. That's how Mr. Johnson became sole owner of the business... and how he has arranged for his heirs to carry on when he gets ready to quit.

Death is the greatest single hazard any business faces. Business insurance offers the most effective method of offsetting the losses, ironing out complications and solving the problems of readjustment that death causes. Through Southwestern Life Insurance, you can do for your business just what Mr. Johnson did. You can have the ready cash, when you need it, to replace a key man, buy out your partner's widow, strengthen the financial structure of your business. Assure the future of that business today with Southwestern Life Insurance.

PLAINS FARM BUREAU MEETING SCHEDULED

Reconversion and post-war problems confronting agriculture will be the principal topics for discussion by producers of this area at a meeting to be held at Lubbock on Saturday, October 27.

The meeting is sponsored by the Texas farm Bureau Federation and is one of a series of 14 being held throughout the state. J. Walter Hammond, president of the organization, announced. Purpose of these meetings is to bring farm and ranch people firsthand information on the immediate problem of postwar prices.

"There is a growing sentiment to lower agricultural prices," Hammond said. "A collapse of farm prices, such as followed War I, will lead to a break in the entire price structure of our economy. It will take the combined thinking of the best minds in agriculture to map a sound and practical farm program that will insure fair prices and prevent endangering the postwar economy of our nation."

All farmers are urged to attend this meeting and have a voice in the formulation of a program which they believe will be sound and constructive.

W. R. Tilson of Meadow, member of the state board of directors from this district, will preside. The meeting will start at 10:00 a. m. in the Lubbock Hotel at Lubbock.

NEW HOME GIRLS 4-H CLUB

The New Home Girls 4-H club met in the 6th and 7th grade room at 9:20 to 10:00 a. m. Thursday, October 11.

Mrs. Carolyn D. McDonald, county home demonstration agent, gave each girl some recipes of cake, cookies, and candy.

Sylvia Link, our food demonstrator, having moved away, Mildred Reynolds is our new food demonstrator.

Forty-four members helped some one do canning this summer, thirty-four members helped prepare a meal, and twenty-two members prepared meals by themselves. Fifty-eight club members were present. — Reporter.

WOMACK-PENNINGTON
 Miss Rae Fern Pennington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Pennington was married to Lt. James C. Womack of the U. S. Army Air Corps in a double ring ceremony at First Baptist Church in Tahoka at six thirty Wednesday afternoon. Rev. George A. Dale, former pastor of the church, now of Lubbock read the sacred rites.
 The bride, given in marriage by her father was gowned in traditional white satin and she wore a fingertip veil. Her dress was fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt with train. Her white satin slippers were sent by the groom from Hawaii in which area he spent the greater part of his four years in service. For something old the bride wore a gold watch that belonged to her great grand-mother. Her bouquet was a single orchard with streamers which she carried on a small white Bible.

 The church was lighted with tall white tapers, the couple standing before tall candelabra banked with palms, fern and floorbaskets of white chrysanthemums.
 The couple was attended by Miss Robbie Milliken as Maid of Honor, Lt. Robert Maddox of the Air Corps, best man; Mrs. Boyce Evans and Misses Billie W. Pennington Faye Linsam of Hobbs and Colene Carmack as bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore a floor length costume of pink faille and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations, the other bridesmaids wore floor length dresses of pastel blue dotted swiss and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations. To the People of this Community

You've celebrated V-E Day and V-J Day but how about V-I Day? While you were buying extra bonds to equip and back your fighting forces, you also were beating down the threat of runaway living costs at home. The record of your part in fighting inflation speaks for itself in this report to you by Ted R. Gamble, National Director of the Treasury's War Finance Division. Says he: "Americans invested in war bonds two-thirds of every excess dollar of war wages above the cost of living."
 The extra Victory Bonds you buy today are the most important bonds you have ever owned because they battle to preserve the gains you have scored on the home front. Hold the war bonds you own. Buy extra Victory Bonds. That's self-interest which serves you and your country. Don't fritter away the job you did for yourself in seven previous war-loans. V-I (Victory over Inflation) Day is today and every day you buy more and more Victory Bonds.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1- Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2- Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

To the Citizens and Taxpayers of the Tahoka Independent School District:

Brownfield, October 18, 1945

We, the undersigned representatives of Brownfield civic and religious organizations and the Brownfield School Board, wish to state that Mr. E. E. Hancock, who was formerly superintendent of the Brownfield schools for two years, resigned of his own free will to take a position with Cobb's Department Store. During his stay here in Brownfield of about three years, we have had no complaint whatsoever against his honesty, integrity, or civic pride.

Mr. Vernon Brewer, formerly of this city, was a resident of Brownfield for approximately ten years, and during this period of time we did not have a more faithful worker in our schools or for any improvements that could be made for the betterment of the town.

Mr. Hancock and Mr. Brewer left Brownfield of their own free will, and we feel that we lost two very fine citizens. In the event Tahoka does not want two gentlemen of this calibre we would be pleased to have them return to Brownfield.

Signed:

- J. L. LANGFORD, President of School Board.
- FRANK JORDAN, President of the Lions Club.
- FRANKIE SZYDLOSKI, President Junior C. of C.

T.B. Infection

Now that tuberculosis in cattle has been reduced to a small fraction of 1 per cent as a result of the systematic federal-state campaign of eradication, veterinary officials are concerned about the danger of tuberculosis-free herds becoming re-infected. One way that this can happen is from persons who have tuberculosis, present evidence indicates. Dr. A. W. Wight, who directs tuberculosis eradication in livestock for the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, cites a case, recorded in veterinary literature and supported by detailed records, in which four herds of cattle were infected by one person. Because of this danger he urges close cooperation between public health officials and veterinarians engaged in bovine tuberculosis eradication. Some cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, he explains, are caused by the bovine type of the germ and this type can readily infect cattle. Knowledge of the kind of tuberculosis a human patient has is helpful to veterinarians in tracing the source of infection when healthy cattle in the locality become tubercular.

Coccidiosis Control

Outbreaks of coccidiosis of chickens can be controlled by use of dried milk products or of molasses if the treatment is given early enough. The first symptoms of coccidiosis are loss of appetite and inclination of the bird to stand without moving. Four parts of dried milk can be mixed with six parts of mash for two days, or one pint of molasses can be placed in five gallons of the only accessible drinking water for one-half day.

White Crosses

By GEORGE MAHON

In military cemeteries here and there around the world little White Crosses mark the graves of our men who made the supreme sacrifice in the war. The names are stenciled in black on the crosses of white.

Some time ago when I was on Tarawa in the Pacific, I heard the Commanding Officer say as he pointed first to the Beaches and then to the cemetery: "There is where our boys stormed the beaches and that is what it cost us."

I think the loved ones of these men who sleep beneath the White Crosses would like to know that the graves are being well kept. I saw many of these cemeteries and all that I saw are well kept and attractively laid out. The one on Tarawa was especially well kept and the chapel of native construction was very beautiful. The principal cemetery on Guadalcanal was similar in appearance and had an equally beautiful chapel. There is a little office adjacent to the cemetery where a soldier keeps the register of the men buried there. Some fresh graves were being dug in the Guadalcanal cemetery. It was explained that during the thick of the fighting a few of our men were buried at isolated places on the island and that their remains were being brought to the main cemetery. It was also explained that the remains of a number of the men who had been buried in the New Hebrides Islands were being brought to Guadalcanal for reinterment.

Our plane did not stop at Iwo Jima but circled the tiny island at low altitude a couple of times. The island was rimmed with war installations, but the cemetery with its many white crosses was about as obvious from the air as Mount Suribachi, where the flag was raised and the memorable photograph taken.

I saw three of the seven cemeteries on Okinawa. In the center of one of them was the grave of Lt. General Simon Bolivar Buckner, who led our forces there, and all about him were graves of heroes of the Okinawa campaign. There were no chapels at the Okinawa cemeteries, but they were well kept. At one of them I observed a little shelter which protected a register of the names of those buried there.

The largest cemetery in the Pacific area is at Finschhafen, New Guinea, where about seven thousand of our men are interred. The remains of our men in many of the smaller cemeteries throughout the Pacific are being removed to the larger cemeteries where they can be better cared for, about fifty cemeteries thereby being abandoned.

In the European theatre, the remains of our men who lost their lives on German soil are now being removed to semi-permanent cemeteries in France, Belgium, and Holland. Our cemetery at Henri-Chappelle, Belgium, not far from Aachen and Liege, is the resting place of 17,323 American dead. This is our largest cemetery in Europe.

About two hundred thousand of our brave fighting men of World War II, who gave their lives for this country, rest beneath white crosses overseas. One-fourth of them are in the Pacific area and most of the others are in Europe. Congress plans to provide at a later date for the return to the United States of the remains of these men for reinterment in national or local cemeteries, in accordance with the wishes of the next of kin.

J. A. Loyd, who was seriously sick last week, is now said to be improving.

LAYMEN'S DAY OBSERVED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

In observance of Laymen's Day, which is observed as such throughout the confines of the Southern Baptist Convention, the services here Sunday were devoted to the promotion of Baptist Brotherhood work.

At the morning hour the pastor, Rev. Levi Price, built his sermon around that theme, speaking to a large congregation.

The local Baptist Brotherhood had charge of the evening services. A quartette was rendered by four men, Dr. K. R. Durham and Messrs. L. D. Howell, Henry Douthit, and J. R. Densman.

As president of the Brotherhood, Vick Botkin presided and made a brief introductory talk. The theme for discussion was the Attraction of the Cross. Speakers were D. A. Barton, L. D. McKee, Densman, and Howell. A good sized congregation enjoyed the program.

There was almost a capacity congregation at the morning service, though there were only 306 in Sunday School as compared with 315 on the preceding Sunday. The attendance at the Training Union at 6:30 P. M. ran up to 104.

Laymen's Day was also observed Sunday at the New Home Baptist Church, E. I. Hill of Tahoka being the speaker at the 11 o'clock hour, and the pastor, Rev. E. C. McDonald, bringing a message along the line of Brotherhood work at night.

THREE TAHOKA BOYS OCCUPYING JAPAN

Among the Tahoka boys who are with the occupation forces in Japan are: Capt. Truett Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper, graduate of Tahoka High School and of the Texas A. & M. College, in the 82nd Field Artillery Battalion; Pvt. James Eiton Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wells, graduate of Tahoka High and a student at Texas A. & M., employed a year by The Texas Co., who entered service in the Marine Corps on Dec. 1, 1943; and Pvt. Roy Botkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Botkin, also a graduate of Tahoka High.

All of them will doubtless come back home some day knowing a lot more about this old world and especially Japan and the islands of the Pacific than most men know. This war has exacted much service and sacrifice from our young men but it has also given them a marvelous opportunity to learn.

Mrs. A. G. Freeman, who has been sick a long time, is now reported to be in a critical condition.

Over in Terry county they have much deep sand that moves about terribly when the wind blows. It has been impracticable to try to farm this land. But the Terry County Herald last week indicated that they were about to solve the problem. One of the county commissioners has procured a plow which will turn up the soil to a depth of 30 inches. That gets the clay that lies beneath the sand and mixes it with the sand. It has been demonstrated that such a mixture will prevent the sand from blowing and thus make it possible to farm the land successfully. If it is a success, there is quite a bit of land in the southwest part of Lynn county and a little near Tahoka that may be converted into good farming land. We hope you have something there, Jack.

his old home town of Fredericksburg and the town where he attended school, Kerrville. To those people he was still just Chester or "Chess" Nimitz, the kid who grew up among them. There were his boyhood friends, his kin-folks, and his teachers. How proud they were that when that fine kid had grown up into a man, he gained promotion after promotion because of his worth, his devotion to duty, and his proficiency. As a boy, no doubt, he had learned the lesson that what is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and he did it. Chester Nimitz never had any trouble in school, nor in college, nor with his superiors in the Navy, and he climbed to the top; and then he helped to give the Japs a whale of a licking. We need more kids of the type of Chester Nimitz, whether they are to serve the nation, the state, or merely the home community.

Reading the story of the last hours of Pierre Laval and of his execution, one can not help but feel a deep sense of pity for the man and his family. Although he died professing an intense devotion to his country, the naked truth is that he collaborated with Hitler for the practical enslavement of the French people. As we read the facts, he was just as definitely a traitor to France as Benedict Arnold was to the American colonies in our Revolutionary War. What crimes will not men commit to gain position and power? Usually, punishment of some kind overtakes them and they die in disgrace. Such was the end of Pierre Laval.

Tokyo real estate men, if any exist, must have gotten a terrible jolt when a Tokyo newspaper made an announcement the other day which showed that Tokyo had sunk to third place in population among the cities of Japan. At one time claiming a population of more than seven million, it now has a population of only 3,334,244, the newspaper declared. Both Kobe and Aichi have larger populations, it was said. It was a Tokyo man who once boasted that he would dictate terms of peace in Washington. The terms of peace were dictated in Tokyo Bay after the city had been almost wiped out. How are the Mighty fallen!

County Agent Says:

Do you want 100 pounds more lint cotton per acre next year than average?

Most cotton farmers do, says the Cotton Production Committee of Texas, and experience has proved that yields can be increased by this amount by planting hairy vetch or Austrian winter peas on land that has been in small grains or corn, and turning these legumes under in the spring.

To secure good growth and provide maximum protection from soil erosion, Austrian winter pea and hairy vetch seed should be inoculated and planted by November 1.

"Drilling is the recommended method of planting on rolling land, while planting in rows on tops of beds usually gives better results on more level fields", the Committee says.

When drilled, hairy vetch should be planted at the rate of 20 pounds per acre, and Austrian winter peas at 35 pounds per acre. When planted in rows, with regular row equipment, only half the amount of seed used in drilling will be required for good stands.

Plowing under green stalks in cotton fields before frost also is recommended by the Committee as one of the best ways of improving the condition and fertility of the soil, reducing insect damage next season, and increasing the yield of cotton. Green stalks open up the soil, increase its water-holding capacity, make plant food more available, and the decomposed stalks furnish food for next year's crop. Turning under stalks before insects have migrated from the field with the best known method of reducing infestation.

BUTTERFIELD—

at Whiteflat, near Matador, has visited Tahoka a number of times and has several warm friends here, among them, Rev. C. F. Carmack, retired minister, who was associated with Rev. Butterfield on several occasions.

The aged Rev. Butterfield, 84 on Oct. 1, is a nephew of the founder of the Butterfield Trail. The grand old man started preaching on the Texas frontier at the age of 16. He was a voluntary missionary to the Indians in the vicinity of Fort Sill from 1892 to 1899, and one surmises from the book that he must have been a favorite White friend.

He built the Mount Scott Indian church, and converted possibly a dozen Indian Chiefs, several of them famous in history. Among these are Ishati, the sub-chief of Quannah Parker, and Black Crow of the Comanches; Stumbling Bear, Lone Wolf, Kicking Bird, and Hunting Horse, all of the Kiowas. He was a friend of Geronimo of the Apaches, and of Quannah Parker, as well.

The Butterfield book is filled with thrilling stories and humor (128 pages, and nine pages of pictures).

Mr. Moore has put Rev. Butterfield's stories on paper in a most unique and interesting manner.

The author is a native Texan who has long been interested in history, folk lore, and nature. This is his first attempt at publishing a book, but it is due to bring him and the subject much credit. The book sells for $2.10, by mail, and may be obtained from the author.

COOK VISITS HERE

Cpl. W. H. Cook of the Army Air Corps expects to report to Ft. Sam Houston next Monday, after a thirty-day visit with his wife at Sanatorium, Texas, and his mother Mrs. Edd Cook and other relatives at Wells.

Cpl. Cook entered the Army Air Corps early in 1943 and, after about a year's training in this country, was sent to Italy early in 1944, remaining there for about 15 months before being sent to Natal, Brazil, in May of this year. He flew from there to San Antonio enroute here.

Mrs. Cook is the former Miss Geneva Taber of Lubbock.

Pvt. Ovid Luallin is here visiting his parents en route from Columbia, S. C., to Kearnes Field, Utah, and is scheduled to go from there to the Central Pacific. He recently re-enlisted for three years in the Army. His brother, Pfc. Allen Luallin is stationed at Frederick, Okla., but expects to be transferred soon.

Pfc. Cecil Dorman, a graduate of last Spring of the local high school, is home on furlough from Camp Wolters.

Pvt. Seale In Fourth Year Overseas

With The 32d Infantry Division in Northern Luzon — Private Edward L. Seale, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Seale, Wilson, Texas, has arrived on Luzon in the Philippines and has been assigned to the 32d (Red Arrow) Infantry Division.

Now in its fourth year of overseas duty, this famed unit had completed 654 days of actual combat when the news of the war's end was announced.

Participating in final mopping up operations on northern Luzon, Red Arrow veterans bagged ten high ranking Japanese Army and Navy officers, including the elusive "Butcher of Bataan," General Tomoyuki Yamashita, Supreme Commander of all Japanese forces in the Philippines.

Pvt. Seale will serve in Company D of the Division's crack 128th Infantry Regiment. He left the United States for overseas duty in August of this year.

KING BACK HOME

Ben King and son, Cpl. George W. "Buster" King, were here from Lamesa Tuesday greeting friends. "Buster" had just arrived home Monday with a discharge, having landed in New York recently from service over-seas.

He was in the 850 Engineers Aviation Battalion and had been with the invasion forces into France and Germany. Of course he had seen much strenuous action. He will now be located in Lamesa with his father. The family lived here for many years and "Buster" was practically raised here.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank every one who helped make my 74th birthday such a happy one.—Mrs. Birdie Burks, Grand Saline, Tex.

Many Visitors Attend Brotherhood Meeting

Although there were fewer local members than usual present at the meeting of the Baptist Brotherhood in the dining room of the Church here Tuesday night there were more visitors present than usual.

Among the visitors from O'Donnell was the pastor, Rev. J. M. Hale, who was the guest speaker, and five of his lay members, including John Anderson, Sherman Inman, Mr. Mansell, Mr. Hobby, and another one or two. Representing New Home were the pastor, Rev. E. C. McDonald, Henry Heck, Lloyd McCormick, and Will Harris. Petty was represented by the pastor, Rev. Hollman, J. W. Lowrey, and Leroy Bledsoe. Several other visitors also were present.

The guest speaker, Rev. J. M. Hale, brought a message that was filled with fine food for thought and that the men present thoroughly enjoyed.

Rev. E. C. McDonald, Rev. Hollman, and Rev. Levi Price each responded to an invitation by the president, Vick Botkin, to make a few remarks, the first two expressing the hope that Brotherhoods would soon be organized in their churches, and Rev. Price assuring the help and cooperation of the Tahoka Brotherhood in effecting such organizations, as did also E. I. Hill, acting president of the associational Brotherhood.

Following the meeting, the visitors from Petty agreed to call a meeting of the men of their church for Tuesday night, October 30, for the purpose of organizing and invited the Tahoka members to come out and assist them.

JULY

IT'S a fine, balmy day in July—outside, of course. But in the cold room at the John Deere Tractor Works, the thermometer reading was ten below zero when this picture was taken. Humidity can be regulated in this cold room, too. And, if tests require a wind, anything from a gentle zephyr to a howling gale of 40 miles per hour can be created.

Creating their own weather conditions enables John Deere engineers to test ideas and conduct experiments that are of vital importance to the John Deere owner. Here it is possible to check and recheck, adjust and readjust until there is no doubt as to the performance of a John Deere under extreme weather conditions.

There is no substitute for the accumulated experience gained through more than a hundred years of single-minded devotion to the manufacture of better farm implements.

Of first importance is the matter of lubrication when the motor is cold. Will there be residual lubrication enough to protect gears and operating parts until the cold oil in the crankcase is heated enough to circulate freely?

Add this phase of John Deere research to all the other tests and trials conducted by the planning and experimental departments, and the answer is simple—nothing is left to chance or theory. All the ingenuity and experience of trained engineers have been brought to bear on the main objective—to turn out a tractor that will operate successfully under all conditions and give a maximum of economical, dependable service to the farmer.
