Last week gave ball fans a good chance to enjoy some of their sport, as Wilson was the scene of four basketball games and the last football game of the season.

Tuesday night: the Post senior and junior girls basketball teams came to the local gym and after two hard fought games, took home junior girls won by only one point, two victories. However, the Post

Thursday night: the Slaton senior and junior girls teams came to our fair city in anticipation of winning both games, but they went home as very disappointed teams because Wilson won both games that night. The senior girls won by a very narrow margin, while the junior girls had a very one sided score.

The last football game was also a victory for the Wilson Mustangs. Friday as Southland Eagles visited the local gridiron. The score for this friendly tangle was 27 for Wilson and 13 for Southland.

PARTY AT METHODIST CHURCH FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night of last week a large group of members and friends of the pastor and his wife met in the basement of the church to give them a warm reception on their being returned for another year. It was a happy surprise to the parsonage family. They had been invited to the meeting and went thinking that "a get-together" was the purpose.

But there was a varied program under the supervision of Mrs. Terry Thompson and Mrs. Sam Reid. Much talent was displayed. Solos, readings, and talks were given by Frances Bryan, Nancy Rae Weathers, Clyde Sargent, Mrs. Rollin McCord, Mrs. Marvin Wood, and Bitsey Haney, each representing some of the stars of Hollywood—Kate Smith, Gene Autry, etc. Rev. Ben Hardy made the principal address, and Rev. J. E. Stephens, pastor at Grassland, gave a humorous address. Both addresses were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

All the chairs and many benches in the basement were used to seat the large group in the hall. Each actor and actress vied with each other in "stealing the show." Every one declared it was the most enjoyable meeting ever held in the basement.

Last but not least, the pastor and wife were invited to come to the kitchen. It was an old-time pounding. It looked like a grocery store. And other useful things, blankets, towels, handkerchiefs, etc. were on the long tables for that purpose. Many said it was the largest pounding ever held there. Of course it made the parsonage family happy because of the reception and pounding given by the members and friends.

Refreshments were served, and then there was a jolly visiting and talking with each other for some time. It took two cars to get the pounding to the parsonage, so numerous were the various items.

This year throughout the Church emphasis will be on Evangelism in every department of the Church. The inactive members in the

Sidelights From Washington

(By George Mahon)

Shall the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard—all our fighting forces be merged under one single unified command by an act of Congress? That question has not reached the show-down stage, but hearings on the subject are now being held by a Congressional Committee.

Last week, following the testimony of General Jimmie Doolittle before the Committee in which he accused opponents of the idea of being hypocritical, Secretary of Navy Forrestal wrote a letter of protest to Secretary of War Patterson, bringing out into the open the intense jealousy which exists between certain members of the Army and Navy high command. The Army favors the merger; the Navy high command, general speaking, opposes it. The prevailing thought in Washington is that the majority of the people favor the merger.

It is admitted that good arguments can be offered on both sides of the question. Advocates of the idea, however, contend that we will gain more by unification of the services than we stand to lose. There is no doubt but that closer cooperation among the services in the future would be in the public interest. The merger should not obliterate the identity of the various branches, and we should not lose the wholesome traditions of the fighting forces.

The Prime Minister of Great Britain, Mr. Clement Attlee, successor to Winston Churchill, addressed a joint session of Congress on November 13th. In doing so, he was following in the footsteps of Winston Churchill who just three weeks after Pearl Harbor addressed the Senate, and who in May, 1943, addressed a joint session of the House and Senate.

The procedure was typical of the procedure usually followed at joint sessions of Congress. Perhaps the details would be of interest.

The meeting was held in the House of Representatives because of the greater availability of seats. Members of the House took their seats in the rear and central sections, leaving all the front seats for the Senators and official guests. Just prior to the convening of the joint session, the Senators, led by Senator McKellar, President pro tempore of the Senate, marched in and took the seats reserved for them. Senator McKellar occupying the platform with Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Then came the diplomatic group led by Lord Halifax, British Ambassador. Next to enter the chamber were members of the President's cabinet. Seven of the ten were present for the occasion. Mr. McKenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, was next to enter. The Doorkeeper of the House announced Mr. King to the session and escorted him to his seat, the Doorkeeper having gone through the same ceremony for the groups which had previously entered.

The Doorkeeper then announced Prime Minister Attlee of Great Britain and a Committee of the House and Senate escorted Mr. Attlee to the speaker's platform. Mr. Attlee shook hands with Speaker Rayburn and Senator McKellar, and having been introduced by Mr. Rayburn in one sentence, began his thirty minute speech. Then in line with the usual custom, he shook hands again with the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate and was escorted from the chamber, not having sat down during the entire procedure. He was followed in reverse order by the official guests. The Speaker then tapped his gavel and adjourned the joint session.

Mr. Attlee lacked the showmanship and eloquence of Winston Churchill, but his frankness was well received. He made a plea for a better understanding of his Labor Party Government and for international cooperation.

Cpl. Chester Holcomb Saw Much Service In European Theatre

Cpl. Chester L. Holcomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Holcomb of New Lynn, arrived home last week after three years in the Army, nearly two years of which he spent in the European Theatre of Operations. His wife is the former Miss Iva Jean Steele, also of this county.

Cpl. Holcomb was inducted into the service Oct. 15, 1942, and went overseas Jan. 2, 1944. He saw service in the First, Seventh, and Ninth Armies, with the Second Armored Division, and wears battle stars for services in the Normandy, where he landed on D-plus-6, North France, Ardennes, Rhineland, and Central Europe. He was with the first American troops to enter Berlin, July 4th, and remained there until August 6th.

The soldier is entitled to wear the expert rifleman's badge, the Presidential Unit citation, the Belgian citation, the good conduct ribbon, three overseas service bars, and five campaign stars.

Cpl. Holcomb left Europe Oct. 18, and received his discharge Nov. 6. His brother, Pfc. Jake Holcomb, was discharged last July 2, after serving in Africa, Sicily, France, Belgium, Holland, and Germany.

CPL. T-5/c. WESLEY C. SALES HOME WITH DISCHARGE

Cpl. T-5/c. Wesley C. Sales of the New Home community arrived home a couple of weeks ago with a discharge, after having served for 36 months in Uncle Sam's army over seas, being in the Quartermaster's Corps, in the European theatre of operation.

During these 36 months he saw service in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France, and Germany.

Since his return, he is with his brother, Manuel Sales, in the New Lynn community.

A DARK OUTLOOK

We often read the column of Jeff D. Ray appearing in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Eighty-five years of age, he has spent most of his years as a Minister of the Gospel and as a Professor in the Southwestern Baptist Seminary—a very scholarly and able man.

Like most ministers of the gospel he is an optimist generally, but he takes a gloomy view of the matter of war.

"The way human nature is geared, we will continue to have wars," he said in his column a few days ago. "The only sure preventive of war," he continued, "is to get the ruling forces of every nation to adopt realistically the Jesus doctrine of a square deal—the golden rule."

"Some imbued with an excessive optimism contend that there will be no war when the Christian religion is preached to the nations of the earth. That is a far cry. For 2,000 years we have had the command to preach it to all the world. Judging by the progress we have made during those passing centuries, it will take at least a million years to give the people of the earth a bare intellectual knowledge of what Christianity is about. We have not even made a good start in proclaiming it, to say nothing of establishing it, around the world. "And judging by what we see in so-called Christian nations it will require another million years to induce even a good per cent of the people to whom we preach it to walk the Jesus way with good and honest hearts."

Then the writer proceeds to recall that national organizations for world peace and the building of big battleships did not prevent the first World War. Neither did the development of the airplane and of giant bombs and other destructive war equipment deter Hitler and Hirohito and the other war lords from starting World War No. 2.

"Now they are saying," he concludes, "there can never be another war because nations will not dare to risk the destruction of the atomic bomb. But fear of the atomic bomb will not stop a bunch of ho-headed nationalists when they take a notion to have a war. When men in national leadership begin to hate each other, atomic bombs look like popguns. The fact that 90 per cent of them are captured and punished does not stop murder, robbery and rape. And the fact that the atomic bomb will wipe a nation clean off the earth will not prevent the people's trusted leaders from thrusting them into war."

Thus the distinguished Divine draws a dark picture. He does see no ray of light, however, as he loses, for he says: "Let come what will come, I shall say with Eugene Aram—I am equal to either fortune.—I believe in God."

But we do not believe the picture is as dark as his imagination draws it. We think he might safely knock a few years off of that two million years which he thinks will be required to sufficiently Christianize the world to out-mode war.

In the first place, we do not believe that every individual nor even a majority of the individuals of a nation must become model Christians before it will become so imbued with the desire for peace as to prevent war.

Take our nation, own for instance. We are far from being a model Christian people. A vast majority of our people belong to no Church. There are many wicked individuals among us. All are more or less sinful. But our people are a peace-loving people. They have no love for war. They are not going to make a war of conquest on any nation. We do not believe that Great Britain is likely to do so. Nor most of the other nations of Europe. None of them where Christianity has a dominant influence. We do not believe that it will take a million years, nor a thousand years, and possibly not a hundred years, to so Christianize and enlighten and educate the people of China and Japan and India that they too will come to love the way of peace and to hate war. At least it is a goal worth striving for.

The time, of course, will never come when every individual will be Christianized, but Christianity can achieve mighty victories for the cause of peace nevertheless. If it

YOUTHS MAY ATTEND COLLEGE ON GI PAY

Under the provisions of the "GI" Bill of Rights young men of seventeen to twenty-five years of age may go to college four years, tuition paid, and $50 per month living expense, in return for three years spent in the army. The new voluntary Recruitment Act passed by the US Congress in October extends the privileges of the "GI" Bill to the men who enlist in the Regular Army.

For the young man who enlists immediately after high school, his military training will be completed by the time he reaches 21 or 22 and he will have received incomparable and valuable experience during that period. He will travel and see much of the world.

At the end of his enlistment, he will be eligible under the "GI" Bill to continue his education at government expense at any college for the same length of time he was in the Army plus 12 months.

Capt. R. T. Hammond of the Lubbock Army Recruiting Station announces to the young men of this community that the Army offers them a real chance to get an education. Not only college training is offered but if the young man desires to attend a vocational or trade school, he may do so under the provisions of the "GI" Bill of Rights.

Trustees Thank Prentice Walker

At a meeting of the Tahoka Independent School District trustees held on the 14th day of November, 1945, a quorum thereof being present, the following resolution was made and passed, to wit:

Whereas, during part of the 1945 football season the Tahoka football team was without a coach and none could be employed to coach and direct the team during the latter part of the season, and

Whereas, Prentice Walker, former President of the Tahoka Independent School District and a former Coach of such school, left his work during a part of each day in order to coach and instruct the football team so that it might finish its schedule of games.

Now therefore be it resolved, that the present board of trustees of the Tahoka School District, do publicly commend the said Prentice Walker for his services as such coach, his willingness to contribute to the school at a sacrifice of his own personal business and his intense interest in the promotion of athletics and the school in general.

Be it further resolved that this resolution be placed on the minutes of the school district and that a copy thereof be given to the Lynn County News for publication.

Receive Memorial Of Dead Grandson

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Waldrep have received a beautiful Memorial Certificate signed by President Harry Truman in commemoration of their grandson, Pvt. Calvin E. Waldrep, who died from wounds or exposure while in service on Okinawa on April 21, 1945.

Pvt. Waldrep went into service in the Marine Corps in August, 1942. After training at Camp Elliott, California, and Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington, he saw service at Dutch Harbor, on Attu, Kiska, and other islands in the Pacific.

Before entering the service Calvin attended school at Wells and at Donna high school in the Rio Grande Valley. He is a son of C. E. Waldrep of Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Flowers of Chico visited Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reddell and daughters over the weekend. Mrs. Reddell and Mrs. Flowers are sisters.

Miss Irene Carver was home over the weekend from Texas Tech where she is a first year student. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carver.

West Side Grocery In New Building

The West Side Grocery, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Waldrip, opened its new place of business on Monday, situated across the street south and almost a block east of its former place of business.

The new store is 30 by 60 feet in size, of tile construction, neatly finished, beautifully lighted with fluorescent lights and unusually attractive.

On an adjacent lot just west of the store, a neat and attractive residence consisting of four rooms and a bath has been constructed by Mr. Waldrip. This has been rented, however, and Mr. and Mrs. Waldrip are occupying living quarters in the former store building. The old store itself is being converted into a neat apartment and will be rented.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldrip opened their original store here in 1940. The original shelving used in that store was scarcely larger than a sectional book-case, some four feet wide, which may be seen in any lawyer's office. Their business has steadily grown and now they have many customers. Mr. Waldrip attributes his success largely to the assistance given him by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Littlepage.

Ex-Pilot Moves Here To Operate Farm

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Leach and daughter, formerly of Raymondville, have moved to their farm six miles southeast of Wilson, which they expect to farm this next year and to engage in the production of dairy products, which they are already marketing in Tahoka.

Mr. Leach was recently discharged from the Army Air Corps, after having been in uniform six years and six months. The last two years he has been overseas as a pilot with the rank of first lieutenant, and saw service in Southern France, Normandy, Holland, and Germany with the Ninth Troop Carrier command.

The self-lifting tractor is now a reality. It rises any height, up to four inches, virtually drawing itself up "by its own bootstraps." The lifting operation is accomplished by placing light tubular frames beneath the axles, connecting the rear to the two arms of a Ford-Ferguson tractor's hydraulic linkage and lightly touching the "finger-tip control" lever which is one feature of the Ferguson System. The entire operation takes less than one minute.

Werner Schaffner Is On Oiler For Fleet

An item sent from Fleet Home Town News Center, Chicago, states that Werner M. Schaffner, water tender, third class, USNR, Route 1, Tahoka, Tex., helped participate, while serving on the oiler USS Cowanesque, in maintaining the 900-mile supply line to Task Force 38 and other Fleet units when they were striking at the heart of the Jap home islands and Okinawa, the Navy's records on the oiler have revealed.

The Okinawa campaign was among the operations in which the ship took part. In addition to her standard cargo load of black oil, diesel oil and aviation gasoline in her tanks, the Cowanesque often stood ready to supply Fleet units with a variety of material.
