"Me... I'm staying in the Army!"

THERE ARE PLENTY OF REASONS... AND HERE THEY ARE!

1 "First, I keep my present grade. That means a lot.

2 "By reenlisting for 3 years I can pick my own branch of service in the Air, Ground or Service Forces, and can go to any overseas theater I wish.

3 "I get my mustering-out pay, even though I'm reenlisting. Also, I get $50 a year reenlistment bonus for each year I've been in the Army. My dependents receive family allowances for the full term of my enlistment. And I'll be eligible for GI Bill of Rights benefits when I get out of the Army.

4 "My food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental care are all supplied to me. And I can learn any of 200 skills or trades in the Army schools.

5 "All of us who are reenlisting are going to have from 30 to 90 days' furlough at home with full pay and our travel paid both ways. And we'll have 30 days' furlough every year with pay.

6 "Any time after 20 years I can retire at half pay increasing year by year to three-quarters retirement pay after 30 years of service. And the time I've already served in active military or naval service counts toward my retirement time. Added up—reenlistment seems pretty sound to me!"

A GREAT PICTURE COMES TO TOWN

Occasionally a motion picture of great historical interest comes along and usually they are popular productions.

The picture entitled "Woodrow Wilson" which was shown at the Rose Theatre here on Thursday night of last week was such a picture. For many men and women past forty, and especially those past 50, it stirs the memory and causes them to live over again the moving and momentous events of the First World War as well as those immediately preceding and those immediately following it.

While the great War President of the era dominates the story, other notable political figures also come into the picture, such as William Jennings Bryan, Champ Clark, Edward House, the President's able secretary, Joseph Tumulty, and his bitterest political and personal foe, Senator John Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. Prominent also are the other three members of the "Big Four" at the Peace Conference, Premier Lloyd George of England, Georges B. Clemenceau of France, and Orlando of Italy.

In every group in which Wilson appears, he of course is the dominant character, whether it be at a cabinet meeting, a bi-partisan conference, the Peace Conference, or elsewhere. The picture, however, does not exaggerate his virtues—his moral courage, his keenness of intellect, his unwavering purpose, his indomitable will. No man could meet Woodrow Wilson in the flesh without sensing the fact that there is indeed a great man! And no one can see him on the screen in this great picture without arriving at the same conclusion.

It must be admitted, however, that the man who plays the part does not greatly resemble Woodrow Wilson himself in the flesh. But he does well portray the character of the great man.

Furthermore, the picture as well as the cold facts of history vindicate Woodrow Wilson's policies, his judgment, and his herculean but unsuccessful efforts to lead our own country into the League of Nations, the creation of his own mind heart, conceived and devised by him to secure and preserve the peace of the world. In his fight for it, he has been quoted as predicting that if it were rejected there would be another World War in less than twenty-five years. It was rejected and there was another World War in less than twenty-five years.

In all the marvelous history of this country none greater than Woodrow Wilson has appeared. Every high school student, if possible, should have the opportunity to see this marvelous production.

Congratulations to you, Ted Waggoner, for bringing Woodrow Wilson to Tahoka.

A few years ago a bunch of young fellows got together and organized what they called the Young Democrats of Texas, the implication being that the old Democrats were too conservative or too slow or too reactionary, or something of the kind, to keep pace with them. Their new organization was a sort of rebellion or insurrection against the leadership of old Democrats in the party. Immediately all of the politicians, old and young, flocked into the organization, and things looked lovely. But it was not long until the "Young Democrats" began to differ and fight among themselves. During the war, these internal struggles became dormant, but now that the war is over, they seem to have broken out afresh, and just now there is a fight being staged more violent and virulent than any that has gone before. It centers chiefly around Lt. Governor John Lee Smith. He has been a severe critic of the Roosevelt administration and of the Labor Unions. The labor unions and a lot of politicians, therefore, are red-hot against Mr. Smith. The president of the Young Democrats invited Smith to speak at a state-wide meeting they are about to hold but a majority of the executive committee turned thumbs down on the proposal. And the fight rages on. Why have a Young Democrats organization any way? Isn't a Democrat a Democrat regardless of his age? It might help you boys to call in older counsel now and then.

The predicted post-war crime wave seems to be here with a vengeance already. Hi-jacking, bank-robbing, murder, and other devilment is messing up the front pages of all the daily newspapers. Last Saturday night robbers held up operators of a grocery store at their home in Sundown and made way with nearly $5,000. Law officers and juries in the courts of the land should clamp down firmly on criminals of all sorts.

Down in Temple last Sunday afternoon a man beat his wife until she was unconscious and forbade his children to call a doctor. She was taken to the hospital a little later, however, where she died soon thereafter. The husband was arrested in a drunken condition and charged with murder. Crimes like this are being committed every day throughout our country. A man assumes a terrible responsibility when he votes for liquor.

The sun sends out 400,000 times as much light as the moon.

HOUSEWIVES URGED TO CONTINUE TO SAVE FATS

While the General food supply has materially improved the past few months national stocks of fats and oils are still critically short and housewives are urged to continue saving every drop of used fats, E. A. McBryde, District Officer for Marketing, Production and Marketing Administration said today.

Dropping meats, fats and oils from the point list does not mean that there is a sufficient supply of industrial oils so necessary in speeding reconversion, McBryde continued. "As a matter of fact the situation is serious and the Government is depending upon all housewives and industrial users to continue to salvage every ounce of used fats." He pointed out that the housewife's kitchen is the greatest source of used fat supply.

Fats are used in the manufacture of hundreds of essential products such as synthetic rubber, ice boxes, automobiles, soaps, paint, nylons and plastics.

Sidelights From Washington

(By George Mahon)

There is every indication that the Labor-Management Conference in Washington is getting nowhere. In the meantime, the reconversion program is being definitely retarded by dissension and strikes.

There are usually two sides to every controversy, but it is regrettable that labor and management refuse to compose their differences and thereby promote the public interest.

Legislation designed to improve the situation and make both labor and management accountable has been recommended by a Congressional Committee. What may be done will depend upon developments. President Truman has requested that no legislation involving the situation be passed during the Labor-Management Conference.

Unfortunately, during the war period a few racketeers ran roughshod over the public, fomenting strikes in war industries, hampering the war effort, and jeopardizing the safety of our fighting men. They did a great disservice to the war effort, particularly to the men of the armed forces. They should have been stopped. But despite the efforts, protests and votes of some of us who were referred to as "Southern Democrats", these racketeers were not stopped in their tracks as they should have been. The failure to stop them at that time and fix a definite labor-management policy only makes the solution of the present problem more difficult.

If labor and management will give a little more thought to the public welfare, their own best interest will be better served. I do not mean that the present controversies are one-sided; that only labor is at fault; that only management is at fault. I mean that the people are sick and tired of strife and controversy that is retarding essential production and feel that they have a right to expect a better performance. Organized labor—and I firmly believe in organized labor and collective bargaining—together with an enlightened management, is confronted with the greatest opportunity in history for promoting the public welfare.

Good wages and reasonable profits and good prices for agricultural products would produce an era of good will and great prosperity in America. It is hoped that despite the unpromising present outlook, the prospects may definitely improve in the near future.

There is so much happening both at home and abroad that it is impossible for anyone to keep abreast of the news. China is far away and little known to us, but colorful Pat Hurley put the Chinese situation in the spotlight last week by issuing a blast and resigning as Ambassador to China. The President of the National Press Club in Washington invited me to a luncheon where Mr. Hurley spoke to the newsmen for two hours about the controversy.

In September I had spent two nights with Mr. Hurley in Chungking. The first night he took our group out to a dinner at the home of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. The Generalissimo was evidently sincere in his praise of Ambassador Hurley and General Al Wedemeyer the Commanding General of the Chinese Theatre. Moreover, Chiang seemed to be a man of great sincerity of purpose, though there were rumors that his family had profited financially during the war. At the dinner, a Mr. Frank Price, the son of an American missionary, told me he had complete faith in the Generalissimo; that he believed him to be a devout Christian gentleman. Mr. Price told me of an incident that occurred during the darkest days of the war when it seemed that Japan would completely engulf China. He said that the Generalissimo sent for him and asked him to make a list of scripture references that would give strength and guidance to the Generalissimo during those trying times.

Ambassador Hurley also introduced us to General Mao Tze-Tung, the head of the Communists, and his staff, who had come to Chungking at Hurley's request for conferences with the Generalissimo. All Chinese more or less look alike to me, and these Communist military leaders were no exception. They were dressed in plain blue denim without brass buttons. General "Joe", as one of them was called, could speak English, and with him and an interpreter, a bright young Chinese official who was a graduate of Princeton University, we carried on a conversation. However, we learned but little. Everything in China is confusing. It is a country that seems hopelessly enmeshed in tradition, ignorance and poverty, and there appears to be little hope for stability and real democracy in China for a long time to come. I hope General George Marshall, who is going on a mission to China as a special representative of President Truman, can help bring order out of chaos. Our own security is best promoted by a peaceful world. Moreover, the Chinese people have a deep and genuine affection for America, and we could not do other than wish them well.

First Quarterly Conference Here Sunday

The First Quarterly Conference for this new conference year will be held Sunday night by Dr. L. N. Lapscomb, Lubbock district superintendent. All reports should be ready when called for at that time.

This month of December is Orphanage month in Texas and New Mexico. This church has rated second to third in the district as to the amount raised for the Orphanage at Waco. Last year one good woman of this church sent $250.00 to the Orphanage. We wonder if someone will do that well this month? Sunday morning you will have a chance to make your free-will offering to this worthy cause. Last year this church sent $813.00 to the Orphanage. If possible, let's do more this time.

The Board of Stewards has met and organized for this new year. V. P. Jones was elected president again, as was Walter Mathis, secretary and treasurer. The committee on budget met and made the budget for this year. The budget will be announced Sunday morning by the secretary.

The Children's Division, under the able supervision of Mrs. Irvin Stewart, is outgrowing the rooms in the basement of the church school. All divisions are growing. A place in the school for every age, and an invitation is extended to you to come.

Baptist Deacons Plan Next Year's Work

At a meeting of the deacons of the Baptist Church last Sunday plans for next year's work were formulated and approved, to be presented to the Church in conference for adoption.

Three revival meetings for the year were planned and the times for two of them was set.

A general Enlargement campaign had already been planned for March 3-7 inclusive and the first revival was set to begin on Friday night, March 8 and to continue through the following week closing on Sunday, March 17.

The second revival was planned to run two weeks, beginning on July 14 and closing on July 28.

In accordance with the desire of the pastor, ministerial help is to be procured for these two meetings.

A third revival of one week's duration is to be held at an undetermined date in the fall with the pastor doing the preaching.

A budget for the coming year was also approved. It was fixed at $17,465. The regular budget for the past year was $15,720. Total budget contributions amounted to more than $19,000 not including building funds and other collections for local purposes not included in the budget. Total collections amounted to $21,170.63.

The new budget is larger than the budget for the past year but smaller than the budget collections.

Of the $17,465 included in the new budget, the amount to be paid to missions, education, and benevolences was increased from 30 percent to 35 percent of the whole and contributions to Wayland College were fixed at 5 percent of the whole.

The 30 percent last year plus special collections for missions yielded a total of more than $8,700 for all the Cooperative program causes. Wayland College contributions last year were less than 5 percent. The new rate should give Wayland about $750.00.

Reveal Secrets Of Mystery Car

President Could Talk With Whole World by Use of Special Equipment.

WASHINGTON.—The world's most secret railway car—President Roosevelt ran a large part of history's biggest war through its equipment—has given up its mysteries, says the Associated Press. It is No. 1401, a converted passenger and baggage coach filled with the most modern radio, telegraph, and telephone equipment, which went along whenever the late President Roosevelt made a train trip, and now goes with President Truman.

The coach was displayed at Washington's Union station by the White House signal detachment which after three years of experimentation calls it the most modern and complete mobile communications setup in the world.

Called No. 1401. From No. 1401, the name by which the coach has been called by those who knew about it ever since it was borrowed from the B. & O. railroad, the President can, while the coach is in motion: 1. Telephone to any house or to any radio telephone equipped automobile or other vehicle in the United States.

2. Carry on a radio teletype conversation—in virtually unbreakable code—around the world at a rate of 100 words a minute. 3. Send and receive messages to and from ships at sea. 4. Send and receive telegraph code messages.

The newest of the numerous communications devices in the car is the radio teletype. An operator punches out a message on an ordinary teletype keyboard similar to that on a typewriter. The message progresses through a transmitter into a "scrambler" which puts it into a code difficult to break because of its lack of uniformity. All While in Motion. The resulting jargon goes to a "descrambler" at the point of reception, then passes into a receiver and appears, readably, on a teletype receiver. All this goes on while the coach is in motion. When the train goes through a tunnel which interferes with transmission the sending is automatically halted, and upon a signal denoting the train has emerged from the tunnel, the operator resumes sending. The only visible thing to indicate the nature of No. 1401 is the antenna. The radio teletype was used regularly for the first time on President Truman's recent trip to Missouri and Tennessee. The communications car went ahead of the President's plane and was waiting for his use at Caruthersville, Mo., and Reelfoot Lake, Tenn.

Jap Shipping Cut 75% In War, Domei Reveals

TOKYO.—War pared Japan's total shipping bottoms from 6,300,000 to 1,500,000 gross tons, Domei agency reported. Informed sources, the agency added, estimated that only 300 vessels aggregating 500,000 gross tons currently are serviceable. However, nearly 70 per cent of these represent 230 standard wartime ships built to meet immediate wartime demands. A great majority, Domei said, are new type ships. There are "very few" large vessels and none of these exceed 7,000 gross tons. Ships of more than 4,000 gross tons in most cases are obsolete.

The newspaper Asahi said preliminary reports today listed 31,000 Jap merchant seamen killed, wounded or missing in action.

Color Blindness Is Not Incurable

Doctor Find a Treatment That Gives Good Results.

NEW YORK.—The almost universal belief that color blindness is incurable is challenged by some treatments with vitamins and cobra venom reported by Dr. Knight Dunlap, psychologist, of the University of California, Los Angeles.

The treatments were massive doses of vitamin A and B-1, supplemented by injections of cobra venom developed by Dr. Edward I. Macht of Mount Sinai hospital, Baltimore. The medical work was done by Dr. Robert D. Loken of the University of California. The results appear in the Journal of Comparative Psychology.

Dr. Dunlap proposes that a low protein diet beginning in childhood may be responsible for most cases of color blindness. It also is possible, he says, that diseases of early life may be a cause. "That children," he writes, "weaned on the diet of cereals and strained vegetables so foolishly recommended a generation ago might become color blind at an early age is probable."

"Since children who do not learn to eat meat at an early age tend to remain vegetarians thereafter, we may well expect color blindness acquired in early childhood to become more serious with the passing years."

"The supposed cases of congenital (hereditary) color blindness undoubtedly are in this category."

Dr. Dunlap adds that a reduction in color blindness can be expected on account of the present regime of feeding infants liver and minced beefsteak.

As a result of the vitamin-cobra venom experiments he says his colleagues have little hope for men nearing middle age but that the prognosis for youths under 21 is more favorable.

OPA Officials Admit Higher Cost of Clothing

WASHINGTON.—Chances have virtually disappeared for the 6 to 7 per cent cut in clothing prices OPA predicted would be achieved this year.

OPA officials who asked that they not be named acknowledged this in the wake of additional price concessions to the garment industry. These concessions mean that for the rest of this year most manufacturers can make fewer low-priced garments than they have been required to heretofore.

In another action, OPA announced that the public soon may have to pay more for cotton towels and flannel diapers, shirts and nightwear. This is expected to result from an increase given to manufacturers under terms of the price control act.

OPA officials held to a hope that there will be some reduction of clothing prices by the end of the year. (They have climbed nearly 14 per cent since the hold-the-line order was issued in May, 1943.) But it is generally conceded in the agency that a 6 to 7 per cent cut is out.

OPA said the concessions to manufacturers will not mean any increase in retail ceilings for garments. It means, rather, that a housewife, for example, will have to spend a little more for a dress because a cheaper one is not available.

West Texas Historian Visits Here

J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, author of several books dealing with West Texas history and with a number of the colorful characters of Texas, was a brief visitor in Tahoka Wednesday. He was accompanied by his uncle, Durward Haley of El Paso. Haley's first book dealt with the history of the KIT ranch, which covered parts of a number of Plains counties and a few entire counties. This ranch was formed out of the land which Texas traded to a Chicago syndicate for the construction of the magnificent Capitol building at Austin. A lawsuit grew out of the publication of that book and publication of it was suspended. It was nevertheless a most intriguing work and contributed much to the historical annals of the state.

Hay has since written biographies of the late Col. Charles Goodnight, founder and owner of the great Goodnight ranch, which at one time embraced much of the Palo Duro Canyon; George W. Littlefield of Austin, who owned wide acres on the Plains, the fine little city of Littlefield having been built on lands he owned and of famed Judge Schreiner, the man for whom Schreiner Institute of Kerrville was named.

Haley's books are regarded by literary critics as "tops" of their type.

Wake Civilians Paid Off After Four Long Years

SEATTLE.—A long delayed payday came for 115 civilian workmen who were captured by the Japs on Wake Island nearly four years ago. The men, who returned here aboard an army transport, received checks for $1,083 each from the federal government.

In addition to federal payments the men will receive all their back pay from the Pacific Naval Air Bases, by whom they were employed. Some estimate they will get $8,600 or better.

Scientists Envision Flyless Era in Future

NEW YORK.—Some day in the not-so-distant future the common housefly and the pestiferous mosquito may be as extinct as the dinosaur.

And when that day comes, malaria and typhus, which have taken a toll of a million to three million lives annually, will have vanished as scourges of mankind.

This forecast was made here by two Swiss scientists, Dr. Paul Lauger and Dr. Paul Muller, who gave DDT, the miracle insecticide, to the U. S. army and worldwide public health.

Dr. Lauger and Dr. Muller asserted that, with proper control, flies, mosquitoes and other harmful insects can be eliminated entirely from the United States. They said: "It would require several years. But care must be taken to insure the lives of good insects and birds and fish which live on insects. It is a job for entomologists, not laymen."

Dr. Lauger revealed that experiments are now under way to make DDT effective only on pests, but harmless to useful insects.

Australia ranks second to the United States in the supply of lead.

A section of the United States, famous for its lead and zinc, is called the Tri-State Lead and Zinc District, representing parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

About 40% of the known supply of lead is in the United States.

Do You Budget Insurance?

Your earning power should determine the amount of your life insurance. A definite portion of income should go into insurance each year as long as you earn. That is why an occasional check-up is advisable. One-tenth of income will give reasonable protection for loved ones and old age. Less is usually inadequate. Many do much more.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did. CARDUL

Six Million to Be Home by Next May Admiral E. S. Land Reports On Troop Movements.

NEW YORK.—Vice Adm. Emory S. Land, war shipping administrator, said that "return of 6,000,000 troops from overseas is scheduled for completion by May, 1946."
Commenting on the current rate of troopship arrivals in the United States, Admiral Land said heavy European returns were to be completed by January, when a major portion of the troop transport fleet would switch to the Pacific.
Admiral Land disclosed that the homeward bound fleet returned more than 856,000 men from Europe in the 3 1/2 months between V-E Day and September 1.
He added that 87.4 per cent of a total of 981,000 men returned were carried in American ships, with the rest being transported in foreign vessels, chiefly British.
This WSA fleet of 470 vessels, including 20 passenger liners and 450 cargo-type ships, were converted to troopships at a cost of $250,000,000, with a total carrying capacity of 500,000 men, Land said.
In addition, some 250 combat-type vessels, constructed by the U. S. maritime commission for the army and navy, are being used, principally in the Pacific, the shipping administrator said.
Admiral Land pointed out that it required 3 1/2 years to move the 6,000,000 troops to battle areas.

Sudden End of War Stops Issue of 'Assault Packet'

CHICAGO.—Sudden collapse of the World war put to an equally abrupt end the army's plan to supply its Japan invasion troops with a newly perfected "assault packet."
The packet contained not cartridges or grenades, but caramels, chocolate bars, fruit bars, peanuts, candy-covered gum, cigarettes and matches, all in a water and airtight bag, sealed with adhesive tape. "It was designed for troops about to make landings in enemy territory, when they are too nervous to relish, much less even eat, the rations ordinarily issued," said Col. Rohland A. Isker, director of the quartermaster corps subsistence research and development laboratory, Chicago. "This packet of quick-energy foods that the soldier would like, and could nibble on, was perfected, instead."
After a thorough test by troops in the Central Pacific theater, the army was preparing to use the assault packet in great numbers in the Japan invasion, but Hirohito crossed up the quartermaster corps.

Bataan Death March Hero Fatally Shot by Wife

KANSAS CITY, KANS.—Sgt. Gaylor R. Shores, 29-year-old survivor of the Bataan death march, lived through three harrowing years as a Jap prisoner only to die of a gunshot wound inflicted accidentally by his bride of a few weeks. Shores died in a Kansas City hospital following the accidental shooting in his apartment recently.
Mrs. Winifred Shores, 21, his wife, told officers her husband was shot during a playful scuffle with a .38 caliber revolver.
Before he died Shores was able to tell police that the shot was fired accidentally and asked that his wife be absolved of all blame.
Sergeant Shores was liberated from a prison camp when the Yanks entered Manila and returned to San Francisco in March.

VICTORY LOAN BONDS PROVE SOUND ECONOMY

By TED R. GAMBLE
National Director, War Finance Division, U. S. Treasury

The Victory Loan, now under way, is the crucial test of our war finance program. We must not only raise the $11 billion required by the Treasury but we must do it in such a manner as to avoid the danger of inflation and to make secure the peace for which over a quarter of a million of our men have given their lives. That is why we are asking for $4 billion from individuals, $2 billion of it from the sale of Series E bonds.

Why is this money needed? Briefly, the reasons may be summarized as follows: to bring our veterans home and give them their mustering-out pay, to maintain our armies of occupation, to take care of our sick and wounded veterans, to make prompt settlement of our cancelled war contracts, and for other necessary government expenditures during the next few months.
The Budget Bureau recently estimated total Federal Expenditures for the 1946 fiscal year at $66.4 billion, or $33.7 billion below 1945. Receipts were estimated at $36 billion, but these may be reduced somewhat by the new tax bill. This leaves a deficit of $30.4 billion, which must be met by Treasury borrowing. It is in order to help meet this deficit that the Treasury decided on the Victory Loan, the last big public drive for funds.
As we enter this Victory Loan, I'd like to review briefly the accomplishments of our war financing program. From May 1, 1941, when the program started, to October 1, 1945, we raised the huge sum of $207 billion. Furthermore, we raised this money through a plan of voluntary savings at the lowest interest cost of any nation engaged in the war, and at the lowest selling expense ever recorded.
In the first seven war loan drives, we set total quotas of $95 billion for all investors, and sold $135,749,000,000 in war loan bonds. Every loan was oversubscribed. Billions more were sold in the interim periods between drives. We have sold these bonds to more than 85,000,000 Americans. By the time this loan is over, we will have sold one billion individual pieces of the popular Series E bonds alone.
Where did this money come from? Our figures show that individuals provided the Treasury with $49 billion net out of the $95 billion in new funds that has become available to them since May 1, 1941—and most of the remainder went into cash savings or commercial bank accounts. Insurance companies and savings banks invested all of the $22 billion in new funds that they received. State and local governments invested $5 billion of the $6 billion available. Private corporations had $39 billion of new funds from current surpluses and we obtained $28 billions of it. Most of the remainder was needed by them for expanded wartime operations. Federal agencies and trust funds invested all of their $17 billion of new funds in government securities.
In short, up to the end of the Seventh War Loan, non-bank investors provided the government with $121 billion net of the $207 billion it had to borrow since May 1, 1941, the balance of $85 billion being absorbed by commercial Federal Reserve banks, most of it in open market purchases. Except for the investment of a limited portion of their savings deposits, we have not permitted the banks to subscribe directly to war loan securities in the last five war bond drives, nor in the current Victory Loan.
One of the most significant achievements of our program is the widespread distribution of the public debt. Millions of people who never before saved a penny in their lives, now own savings bonds. It is estimated that three-quarters of the Series E bonds sold to individuals were acquired by persons earning $5000 a year or less. Today, individuals hold almost one-fourth of the total Federal debt outstanding. An even larger proportion of the interest paid out on this debt will go to individuals. Obviously, this will have a tremendous impact on post-war purchasing power.
Investing in Victory Bonds will build a second economy for the future. We cannot afford to slump back into indifference and selfishness if we are to keep faith with those who have paid most dearly so that we could live in a free and peaceful world. We can and should buy Victory Bonds to the limit of our ability if for no other reason than to express our gratitude to our fighting men. They have done their job, and have done it well. It is up to us to finish ours, so that they may come back to the kind of an America they dreamed about—a land of opportunity with full employment, full production and high income. The Victory Loan is our opportunity to express again our faith in America.

Paris Telephone Wires Partly Devoured by Rats

PARIS.—The communications officials who smelled a rat in the telephone system were right all along, it was disclosed recently.
Rats, finding Paris garbage pails empty, have chewed up the insulation of 10,000 miles of cable in the last five years and have consumed or wrecked about 10,000 tons of rubber in the telephone cables system. One big Paris exchange no longer answers calls at all, it has been so chewed up.
