Some Progress Is Made On Site For Municipal Airport

Some progress has been made toward the securing of a site for a municipal airport for Tahoka, but nothing definite can be announced yet, according to Mayor Joe Bovell and W. O. Thomas, who with others are representing the City of Tahoka, the Rotary Club, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Messrs. Bovell and Thomas recently conferred with Mrs. Crawford Edwards and Mrs. C. O. Edwards in regard to a tract of land they own west of town, a part of the T-Bar ranch, and received a favorable hearing.

Three sites have been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, and the Edwards site is especially desirable for an airport because of the fact that it is only two miles from town.

The committee working to secure an airport site points out that the funds to buy site will probably have to be raised by public subscription, though it may be possible that the City can help some.

Unless a site can be secured soon it may be possible that plans for feeder lines in this area will not include Tahoka on their routes.

The airport, if bought by citizens and the city, would be strictly a community service proposition with no desire to make it a profit-returning proposition.

No price has as yet been set by the owners of the proposed site, but they both seem anxious to give the city first choice on the site.

Mrs. Lois Weathers Seeks Re-election

Mrs. Lois Weathers, the well-known and efficient county treasurer, this week announces that she is a candidate for re-election, and in doing so cites some interesting figures in regard to the county's finances in the following formal statement:

To the People of Lynn County: I wish to announce as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Lynn County.

I would like to express my appreciation to the people of Lynn County for the good cooperation you have given me in fulfilling the duties of this office.

The work of this office is the kind of work I like to do, and I feel that since I am thoroughly familiar with the book-keeping in this office I will be better able to serve you in the future.

Sincerely, Lois Weathers.

Charles Oliver, Mrs. C. T. Oliver and Mrs. D. V. Smith accompanied Mrs. Mary Seroyer to San Angelo last Friday and visited their friends Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Baker.

Five Million Dollars On Deposit In City

The First National Bank of Tahoka had $5,124,763.46 on deposit at the close of business December 31st, 1945, according to the statement made to the Comptroller of the Currency this week. This is $518,820.61 than was on deposit when the last call was made last June 30th.

Loans and discounts totaled $249,709.42 at the close of business on December 31, and total resources were $5,332,855.74.

The statement indicates that depositors as a whole have considerable money in spite of the unusually short crop this last fall.

The First National Bank has had a steady increase in deposits a number of years, and is generally recognized as being one of the strongest small town banks in West Texas.

Elmo Burkett Is Rotary Speaker

Elmo Burkett, minister of the local Church of Christ and Rotarian was the speaker at the Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week, and he brought an address that was thought-provoking and entertaining on the subject, "The New Book of 1946." His stimulating talk was much enjoyed by all present.

President Jim Sinclair complimented the club on its fine attendance record here of late. Though the Rotary Club now has more than 60 members, for the second straight month it is among the high ten in all the Northwest Texas districts. It is the largest club in Texas for a town of 3,000 population or less, and no doubt is one of the largest in the world for a town of like size.

Harley Henderson ended his three months service as program chairman, and President Sinclair appointed Ted Waggoner and A. H. Norman to serve the rest of the year with the program committee.

Following the regular program, the airport committee met with the club's directors to discuss plans for a municipal airport.

Two of Triplets Born To Former Tahoka Woman Are Dead

W. E. Suddarth has written from Austin to friends here telling of the birth of triplets on December 24 to his daughter, Ruth, Mrs. Prentiss C. Windsor, in the Seton Hospital there, two of whom have since died.

Mr. Suddarth says that they weighed respectively: Martha Jean, 2 lbs. and 10 ounces; Peggy June, 1 lb. and 11 1-2 ounces; and Carol Jane, 13 ounces. The smallest one lived 31 hours; the second one, 8 days; and the largest one, which is the youngest, was still alive Monday, December 31. She was apparently still doing well, Mr. Suddarth stated, but would have to remain in the incubator from one to two months.

Mrs. Windsor is a graduate of the Tahoka high school and after doing college work taught in this section of the state for a year or two prior to her marriage.

Mr. Windsor is a graduate of the University and is now studying for his master's degree there.

The couple have a daughter, Barbara Ann, 18 months old.

James Injured In Car Accident

Elton "Dock" James, 27, sustained the fracture of ten ribs and other, serious injuries about six o'clock last Friday afternoon as he and wife were returning to their home at New Lynn from Tahoka, when their car was struck by a car coming west on the Post highway, which was given by Mrs. Jennie Lewis Clayton of Tularosa, New Mexico, and which was occupied also by her two children. The collision occurred near the former George Small place two miles east of Tahoka.

Upon investigation by officers a complaint was filed against Mrs. Clayton for a violation of the traffic laws. Her explanation, according to officers, was that she lost control of her car.

Mrs. James also received some painful wounds and bruises on the face. Mr. James received hospital treatment and was still in a critical condition Monday.

Veterans of Java Meet Accidentally

Keith Connolly of Tahoka and Jack Turner of Slaton had trained together at Brownwood as members of the old T. N. G., and started across the Pacific together. At the fall of Java Keith chose a dangerous and risky way of escape to Australia, Jack, remaining in Java, was soon in a Japanese prison camp, where he remained until this summer when freed by American forces. Though Jack had returned to Slaton several weeks ago, Keith had been in Denver and they had not met.

Sunday night when Keith went over to Brownfield to board a bus for Hobbs and spend a few days in the home of the Leonard Craft's with one of his former buddies, James Foster, who should enter the bus station but Jack Turner? What a glad meeting after that sad parting in Java. And what a pleasant bus trip onward for these veterans of that great struggle for the freedom of the Pacific.

GI TOURS IN ANCIENT JAP CAPITAL—Where Shoguns and emperors of feudal Japan stalked in fierce splendor through the centuries and pilgrims came to attend festivals and worship Buddha, informal American soldiers now stroll through the sacred gates of the Imperial Palace at Kyoto and gaze in wonder at its magnificent shrines and temples. Sixth Army troops under General Walter Krueger, after dreary months in the insect-infested jungles of New Guinea and the heat of ravaged Luzon, find themselves walking unmarred pavements and riding street cars in the only large Japanese city untouched by Yankee bombs. Here is the colossal red torii (gate) to the shrine dedicated to Emperor Kammu, founder of Kyoto. American enlisted men are quartered in a public hall to the left hidden by the trees.

Local Negro Dies In Car Wreck On Lubbock Highway

Frank Williams of Tahoka, colored, about 35 to 40 years of age, was almost instantly killed and his companion, Eunice McMillan, was seriously injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into another car, which had stalled on the highway near the Wayside filling station at about 3 or 3:30 o'clock last Sunday morning. McMillan was the driver of the Negro car.

Don Hall of Lubbock and a woman companion, Verna May Bradshaw, Tahoka, were headed south in the stalled car. Hall had gotten out and was undertaking to push the car off the pavement, according to the story given to officers, when the Negroes' car crashed into his from the rear. Hall and Miss Bradshaw were not seriously injured. But it is said that they had previously figured in another collision on the Lubbock-Lorenzo highway a few miles east of Lubbock the same night.

Sam Floyd and other officers were called to the scene of the collision and the circumstances of the collision are being thoroughly investigated.

Frank Williams had worked for various people here. His body was shipped back to Marlin, his former home, for burial.

The News expects to carry a statement from him in regard to his candidacy at a later date.

Tire Ration Board Thanks Citizens

The Lynn county tire rationing board concluded its service to the nation and the people of the county Monday with the ending of tire rationing.

Members of the board have served faithfully and well, contributing their time and ability to the program, and citizens generally seem to be of the opinion that the local board handled the situation in a fair and sensible manner.

The board has been composed of the following: W. O. Thomas, Howard Henderson, Oscar Roberts, Lynn West, W. W. Caswell, and W. L. Gardenhire.

"We wish to express our sincere thanks to the people of the county," a member of the board told The News Saturday, "for their co-operation, patience, and understanding. You have been fine. We could not satisfy everyone, but we have honestly tried to be fair in distribution of permits according to the allotments made this county. We had some awfully difficult problems, and we thank you all for the fine way in which you co-operated with us."

Brownlow Hurt In Motorcycle Wreck

While C. I. Brownlow, one of the employees of Winston Whorton, was going south on his motorcycle on the O'Donnell highway about two and a half miles south of Tahoka on Sunday night, December 23, he was struck by a car also going south on the highway. He was found shortly thereafter lying on the pavement and apparently seriously hurt. Although he had been knocked unconscious, he soon began to recover, and it developed that no serious injuries had been sustained.

The driver of the car that struck him was not apprehended that night but he was found on the next day with a damaged car near the scene of the accident and admitted that he was the owner and driver of the car, giving his name as F. A. Pettey of Midland.

A complaint charging aggravated assault was filed against him in the county court here.

Sweet Potato Vine Makes Good House Plant

If you want to have an additional plant for house or porch decoration, try growing a sweet potato vine in water. You will need a sweet potato with sprouting possibilities, a glass jar with a medium-sized mouth or a tall jelly glass and water. Usually you can tell by close examination of the eyes whether the potato is capable of rooting and developing sprouts.

If a tall jelly glass is chosen, be sure it is not too tall and slim, otherwise when the vine starts making good growth it will become top-heavy and upset the container. Select a potato of such proportions that one end will fit in the container, yet the shape of the potato will keep by far the greater bulk out of the jar. Place enough water in the jar so that the tip of the potato just touches the water, and be sure that this water level is maintained.

Set the container in a somewhat subdued light until you see tiny white roots forming in the jar. This may take some little time, often as long as three weeks. As the roots multiply you will see the eyes on the portion of the tuber that is out of the water slowly developing, but do not place the container in brighter light or expose it to sunlight until there is an accumulation of roots in the water. As soon as sufficient root growth has developed, you are ready to encourage the growth of the vine. Place the container where the plant will receive abundant sunshine. As foliage develops, you will find that you must watch the water supply closely, as the plant uses an almost unbelievable amount of water. Where a small container is used, it is often necessary to replenish the water supply twice daily.

Mrs. W. P. Inman who has been visiting in and around Tahoka for two weeks, returned to her home in Snyder Tuesday. She visited her daughters, Mrs. Florence Cowan of Tahoka, Mrs. Mary Ellen James of New Home and Mrs. Melvina Nelson of Brownfield, and her sons, Sherman and John of O'Donnell.

Wall Paper Must Be Washed With Special Care

Washable wallpaper is like rayon in one respect. When manufacturers label it "washable," they mean if the washing is done with care and common sense.

The first caution dictated by common sense is not to rub hard. You want to clean the wall, not erase the flowers or leaves of the pattern! Second point is to use rich soapsuds in cool water, so those flowers won't wilt and fade. It's important to wet first an area somewhat larger than the area to be washed. This will prevent rings. Apply both suds and rinse water sparingly. Repeat this procedure, overlapping areas.

For best results, wash the entire wall where spots must be removed. Otherwise the clean spot will show up the unsuspected film of soil on the remaining area. A sponge is ideal for the washing, for it suggests gentle action, can't scratch. It's practically a must for the rinse because it soaks up moisture. Use the same relatively clean suds to remove finger marks from the woodwork.

T. B. Toxin

Subtilin, an anti-biotic working on a principle similar to that of penicillin, has been found to be deadly to Mycobacterium, the organism which causes tuberculosis, it was announced by Dr. Anthony J. Salle, associate professor of bacteriology on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California. Although the new substance has not yet been tested for its effectiveness against tuberculosis in animals or humans, experiments in test-tubes had shown that subtilin is scarcely toxic to living tissue in spite of its deadly effect on the tubercle bacillus. Extracted from bacillus subtilis, the so-called hay bacillus found in air throughout the world, subtilin has also proved effective against other bacteria, including streptococcus, staphylococcus, pneumococcus, and gonococcus, in test-tube experiments.

Tender French Fries

For crisp, tender french fries, rinse the potato slices in cold water, drain and dry them. Fry them right away, about a cupful at a time, in deep fat of about 375 degrees. Soaking the potatoes in water for two hours before frying will make them crisper, but will lower flavor and food value. The same ideas are good for shoestring potatoes, made from thin strips of potatoes instead of the wedges used for french frying. Crisp-crust hashed brown potatoes are tops in flavor, and answer a "left-over" problem as well. There is a trick to getting the crisp brown crust. Add a little hot water to the melted fat before adding the seasoned potatoes—about a quarter cup of water for four cups diced potatoes.

Convenient Kitchen

Convenient kitchens are the result of sound thinking and careful planning. Every kitchen has three work centers: the food storage and mixing center, where fresh foods are stored; the dish washing center, where vegetables are cleaned and dishes are washed; and the cooking center. Your sink should be located between the refrigerator and the range. Then you can easily take foods from the refrigerator, prepare them at the sink, put water in saucepans and move, without retracing steps, to the range where the food is to be cooked. Your range should be within easy reach of the sink and near the door which leads into your dining room. Then hot food will reach the table hot.

CONVERTING THE HEATHEN

Being many thousands of miles away, it is impossible for us to know just how much progress in the democratizing and re-making of Japan has been made, but newspaper reports would indicate that the program has started off with a bang.

The war lords have been stripped of their powers, elections have been ordered, even a women's party has been organized, the emperor's reputed sanctity is being debunked, the rights of the people and of the individual are being proclaimed, religious liberty and the freedom of the individual to think and to worship as he sees fit are being instilled, and a complete social, educational, governmental and religious revolution seems to be underway.

One touching event that shows how the wind is blowing in Japan happened at Christmas-time, as recorded by the newspapers. As an act of kindness and good will, the officers and men of the 11th corps of the U. S. occupation forces decided to give a Christmas party to the children of the Japanese laborers employed by the Army corps, about 600 children all together, and the GI's and their officers planned to make gifts of candy, cookies, and other things to these children.

News of the party spread like wild fire, and the kiddies came by the thousands, some estimates were as high as 9,000, to receive their gifts from their new friends, the American soldiers. The assistance of the American Red Cross had to be procured to even make a start at caring for the glad-hearted little urchins. Many of them had to return to their homes without being reached with gifts but it was claimed that at least 3,000 of them were reached and made happy.

The big thing that we see in that incident is this: That the Japanese common people and even the kiddies are coming to see that the American soldiers and people are really their friends, whom they have come to trust and to appreciate. Kindness and sympathy will win even the Japs. That Man of Galilee knew what he was about when he said to his disciples: Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them who despitefully use and persecute you. By following this rule we may in time make a great people out of our late despised and barbaric enemies, the Japanese.

Now that the war is over and another political election year is here, the so-called Young Democrats of Texas are getting busy again. Being young and ambitious, every "young" Democrat is anxious to make some kind of record for himself. Just now, when organized labor is making such a great noise in Texas and demanding this, that, and 'lother, the ordinary "young" Democrat feels that it is just about the right thing for him to do to jump up onto the band wagon and help to give the thing. These labor unions, which have been oozing down into Texas from the North the past few years, seem to have decided that just about everything in Texas needs reforming, one of which is our election laws, and they have been yelling themselves hoarse for the Negro to be given the ballot. Well, maybe we can again afford to give him the ballot. Maybe we should do so. But these "young" Democrats who are so sure about it and who are now running down to Austin asking the Governor to call a special session of the legislature to enfranchise the Negro, should stop before they get in too big a hurry and study the question a bit. At least they should read the history of their state. It wouldn't be necessary for them to go back to "carpetbag" days to find out why the poll tax amendment was adopted some thirty-odd years ago by the deliberate vote of the people of Texas. They would find that there was a reason for it, a real reason. They would find that this amendment had the effect of cleaning up politics in this state, at least of banishing much of the corruption that had theretofore existed. It was not adopted as a thrust at the Negro so much as at the corrupt white politician. Maybe the time has come when we can again afford to place the ballot into the hands of the Negro, but these young Democrats should be warned in advance that if it is done it will immediately usher in new and serious problems for our people to solve, and it will not be the beginning of the millennium by any means.

As doubtful as we are about the advisability of throwing down all bars to the Negro politically, we do believe that we should redouble our efforts to prepare him for the duties of citizenship. We have neglected his education all too long, though we do not believe that even education alone can make a good citizen of him or any other man. Education should make of him a more intelligent citizen, however. We are glad therefore that the last legislature made provision to greatly expand and improve the Prairie View State Normal at Hempstead with a view to making of it, in the course of time, a real university. We believe that the state should also undertake to constantly improve the Negro public school system in the state. In other words, we should seek to give the Negro the best educational advantages that he will make use of. He is a human being; we should make of him the best human being possible.

Sidelights From Washington

(By George Mahon)

Congress is in recess until January 14, and I am glad to be back in the District. During this time, I expect to get about over the District as much as possible. On account of the shortness of the recess I will not undertake to open an office, and regular mail should still be addressed to me in Washington.

I think the following notes on the changes which Congress has recently made in the G. I. Bill of Rights will be of interest. Heretofore, a veteran has been allowed $50 per month living allowances for educational purposes and $75 if he has dependents. Under the new law, $65 will be allowed for single veterans and $90 for those with dependents. Previously, veterans were presumed to have had their education interrupted only if they were under 25 years of age when they entered the service. The new bill removes that limit, so that now any veteran, regardless of age, can get a year's training plus as many years as he was in service, with a maximum of four years.

Short, intense courses are also approved in the new amendment, as are recognized correspondence courses—cost not to exceed $500. Heretofore, the veteran was required to start to school within two years after discharge or the

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1- Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2- Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

end of the war, whichever is later. This is changed to four years, and instead of being compelled to complete his course of study in seven years, this has been extended to nine years after the end of the war.

Considerable change is made in the loan provisions of the G. I. Bill. The maximum guarantee on real estate loans is raised from $2,000 to $4,000. However, guarantees are still limited to fifty percent of loan, and guarantees on non-real estate remain at $2,000. Maturity of all non-real estate loans is set at ten years. The amortization period on real estate loans is fixed at 25 years unless the real estate is a farm, in which case the period of amortization can be as long as forty years. The term "reasonable normal value" has been a confusing and difficult requirement in making appraisals of the value of property. Under the new law, the term "reasonable value" is substituted, which will liberalize the act.

Anyone interested in further details of the new law can secure a copy of the Act itself by addressing a request to the writer at the House Office Building, in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sherrod and Peggy Pat returned last Wednesday from Oklahoma City where they had spent Christmas in the home of Mrs. Sherrod's sister.

Youth Recovering Serious Burns

B. A. Young, Jr., who lives just west out of town, near Will Montgomery, is reported to be making satisfactory recovery in a Lubbock hospital after suffering severe and painful burns to his face, chest, arms and hands on December 12. The accident which sent Young to the hospital occurred on above date when Young who was in the field with his tractor attempted to fill the gasoline tank on the tractor without cutting off the motor of the tractor. It is supposed that a little gasoline fell on a hot spark plug and the resulting flash and explosion enveloped the young man in flames.

By presence of mind Young extinguished the fire of his clothing by falling to the ground, rolling, and putting soil on the flames, and this act doubtless saved his life.

Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Young, Sr. and their daughter, Lucille, all of Abilene, came at once and are helping his wife care for him. The couple have two little sons. Young is a grandson of Mrs. J. H. Nelms.

Utilize Waste Spaces

For Storage Purposes

The storage problem is one of not only having sufficient space, but having it in convenient places where it is readily accessible. The trend now is toward building-in storage spaces for those things we want to be available but out of constant view. These spaces may have a double purpose. For example, closets fitted with built-in drawers and shelves can replace chests.

In the wide hall that would be equally usable if it were narrower, storage space may be built-in along one wall, making good use of the wasted space. If it is a long hall and ceilings are high, the space might be planned to have one section for wraps, one for toys and games, one for cleaning equipment and perhaps the upper section for seasonal storage. Another waste space often found in houses is that under stairways. Good use can be made of this space if it is equipped with built-in drawers for stormy weather accessories or, where head room permits, a regular coat closet can be built. Such features may be camouflaged by paneling as a structural effect.

Back-of-doors spaces can be utilized if filled with racks for shoes, hats or ties, and shelves for purses, rubbers and utensils. Dining room corners can be easily converted to good storage spots. Sloping ceilings in upstairs bedrooms offer good spaces for built-in drawers. Examine your own house to locate its inconveniences. Search out the usable storage space and put it to work for you. With careful planning, convenient storage space can be provided in almost any house.

Dirt Removal Helps

Extend Life of Rug

The life of a rug can be extended or shortened according to the care it receives. Cleanliness is one of the first requirements for good care, as dirt is the enemy of all pile fabrics and gritty particles actually cut the pile at its base if allowed to accumulate. There are three types of dirt to watch for in pile rugs—surface dirt such as crumbs and lint, all-over surface dirt, and grit. Grit causes the most damage.

Remove surface dirt from pile floor coverings every day. A carpet sweeper will do the trick, and so will a broom used directly with the pile. At least once a week clean all carpet areas thoroughly with your vacuum cleaner—do it often when needed. The vacuum cleaner does a good job if it is operated correctly. Run the machine lengthwise of the material, and go over each section at least twice. This will give the cleaner a chance to do a thorough job in removing imbedded dirt or grit.

If you must use a broom for rug cleaning, remember to use short, deep strokes instead of long brushing sweeps. It's easy enough to take the surface dirt off with a broom, but you have to go after the imbedded grit.

Resistant cantaloupe

Powdery mildew, the No. 1 cantaloupe enemy in California's Imperial valley, has been fairly controlled by new varieties No. 5 and No. 6 developed by the department of agriculture and the California agricultural experiment station. No. 5, released to the seed trade in the fall of 1942, and No. 6, released two years later, have taken over almost all of this big cantaloupe acreage. Bred up through successive crossings of market melons with an inedible but mildew-resistant ancestor from India, these sturdy cantaloupes are of good quality, yield well and ship well—especially No. 5. According to the department specialists, it seems likely that practically the entire cantaloupe area of the valley, normally about 20,000 acres, will be planted to "5" and "6" in 1946.

Rating Boilers

Slightly more than 7 per cent of all the fire losses in homes during the last year were caused by overheating of heating plants. Overheating, in most cases, is due to carelessness on the part of the person in charge of the equipment or it may be due to undersized equipment. A heating unit too small for the house is a fire hazard because of the necessity for pushing it during extremely cold weather. To size a boiler properly, the contractor must have reliable data on the load which the boiler will carry with safety. One of the most significant contributions to safety in heating is the uniform code for the testing and rating of boilers developed by the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers. Boilers tested in accordance with the code carry a plate indicating their rating.

Varied Genus

Allium, the genus which includes our common garden onion, gives us many flowers for a minimum of attention. All of the more common members of this genus grow from bulbs. Allium karataviense, which produces a bold, sculptured effect, has broad strap-shaped leaves of glaucous green. The reddish-purple star-shaped flowers mass themselves in large, round ball-shaped heads. By way of contrast, allium schaeenoprasum, familiarly known as chives, is neatly compact, bearing small, button-like heads of silvery lavender flowers. Choose it for a daintily decorative effect.

Income Taxes Boost Revenues of States

Examination of state corporation and personal income tax collections over the war years gives one significant answer to why many states find themselves in such a sound financial condition with termination of World War II. This answer is that total income tax collections jumped 114.3 per cent in the states making the levies, the federation of tax administrators reported.

The increase was recorded despite repeal of their income taxes by South Dakota and West Virginia in 1943 and 1942 respectively, leaving 32 states imposing income taxes in 1944, and despite the lowering of rates in other states.

Total income tax receipts rose from $65.1 million dollars in 1940 to $177.9 million dollars in 1941; $178.7 million dollars in 1942; $268.8 in 1943 (Delaware added a war emergency gross withholding tax of 1 per cent); and $282.4 million dollars in 1944. The 1944 figure does not include the last six months of the calendar year collections for Arizona, Arkansas and Vermont. The steady climb in total state income tax collections was not hindered by the fact that four states — Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland and Tennessee—reported 1943 collections lower than the previous year, while 1944 collections of 11 states were lower than their 1943 collections.

Gold Mining Lucrative Industry in America

Lifting the official ban on gold mining in the United States by government order has given the green light to an industry which in the prewar year of 1940 produced more than six million troy ounces of the precious metal, with a value above 210 million dollars. Last year the yield was less than a million ounces—lowest since the gold rush days of 1849—worth about $5 million dollars.

Most of the gold mined in the United States comes from western sources, says the National Geographic society. The traditional leaders have been California, South Dakota, Colorado, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Only a few states east of the Mississippi mined enough gold to be listed in the official statistics.

Alaska and the Philippine Islands, high ranking producers, are usually included in the figures for the United States. Their addition to the states' total normally rates the nation as a contributor of about one-seventh or one-eighth of the annual world yield. Possibly 40 per cent of the country's gold usually comes from strictly gold mines; the rest is a by-product.

BAPTIST W. M. U. NOTES

The Lottie Moon Christmas offering for foreign Missions amounted to $516.55 according to the Church Treasurer, Mrs. Joe Bob Billman.

Baptist women, and their families, not only GIVE, but they STUDY and PRAY, as well. Monday afternoon in the home of the Pastor and Mrs. Price, Rev. Price reviewed the book "Prayer", by O. Hallesby. This little book by a Norwegian author was translated into English in 1931, and is said to have gone through more than 30 editions since. Members of all three circles attended the meeting.

In April the women of the church will have a covered dish luncheon at the church and Mrs. Lloyd R. McCormick of New Home will present the mission book "Apostle of the Chilean Border".

On Sunday night before Christmas the woman's Missionary Union sponsored a "White Christmas" for Wayland College, when a program was rendered and gifts were brought of articles that will add comfort and enjoyment to the lives of the young men and women students in the College. Dr. John Cobb of Wayland, was present and accepted the gifts and a cash offering, with appropriate thanks on behalf of the school.

Mrs. Roy Rutledge and little son, Buddy, were here from San Antonio visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tankersley during the Christmas holidays. Upon leaving here they returned to Waco to begin living in their own home again as the husband and father, who is in the Army at San Antonio, expects to return to civilian life soon.

Jon Ted Ivey of Penwell was here visiting in the home of his Uncle L. M. Nordyke and family during the holidays. Ivey who is in the Navy, was captured by the Japs at the fall of Corregidor and remained a prisoner, until freed by the Americans several months ago. He will report for reassignment at Long Beach, Calif., next week.

COUNTY AGENT SAYS:
More than one thousand Lynn County farmers and ranchers during the next two and one half months will file final income tax returns for 1945.

Here are a few answers to questions farmers are interested in at this time:

(All answers assume calendar year operations.)

How does a farmer know whether he must file a 1945 income tax return? A farmer regardless of whether single or married must file an income tax return if his 1945 gross income was $500 or more.

Who is a "farmer"? A farmer is a person who receives at least two-thirds (66 2/3%) of his gross income from farming.

What is "gross income"? Gross income, in general, means total receipts from personal services, income derived from use of investment items such as land, buildings, livestock, workstock, equipment and the like. If some of you farmers have special kinds of income of which you are not sure should be included, contact the nearest Internal Revenue Deputy.

What is "gross farm income"? In determining whether 66 2/3% of the total gross income is from farming you will want to be sure that gross income is computed correctly. Generally, gross farm income includes (1) receipts from sale of livestock and produce raised on the farm, (2) profits from purchased livestock or produce sold and (3) other income such as breeding fees, rent of tractor, pasture lease, etc. Remember in figuring gross farm income you can deduct the purchase price or value still to be depreciated, if depreciation taken, from the sales price of livestock and produce previously purchased.

When must a farmer file his 1945 return? Farmers with a gross income of $500 or more are required to file a declaration of estimated net income for 1945 by January 15, 1946. (Last year he had to file this Declaration by Dec. 15). This is a good step in the right direction because on January 15 the farmer knows the preceding year's expenses and income. But, here's the important thing: You can file a final return on this date instead of a Declaration and be through with your reporting. Think how good you will feel about March 15 as other tax payers hurry to meet the deadline.

Of course, if you do file only a Declaration on January 15, you must make a final return on or before March 15.

When does a farmer pay his tax? You must pay the full amount of any tax due along with your Declaration or final return, whichever the case may be, you send in by January 15. If a Declaration is sent in you will estimate the tax and then if necessary make further adjustment in your final return.

Strive to Breed

Disease-Resistant Bees

Excellent progress in an attempt, through breeding and selection, to produce a strain of bees that is resistant to American foulbrood, one of the most fatal bee diseases, is reported by the department of agriculture. The importance of honeybees in the pollination of many of the important seed and fruit crops emphasizes the necessity of preventing losses of bees in every way possible.

Bees are subject to their own particular ailments, sicknesses and abnormalities. Starvation and poor wintering conditions cause the death of many colonies throughout the United States. Parasites invade adult bees and cause serious losses. Certain diseases of infant bees take a heavy toll of colonies. Fortunately, all these diseases and ailments are confined to the honeybee family and are not transmittable under any circumstances to humans or to livestock.

A limited number of queens of strains bred for resistance to American foulbrood has been distributed throughout the United States. Such strains are not "finished" bees. Effort has been concentrated on improving their resistance to disease. Some of these experimental strains are hot tempered and not all of them are necessarily outstanding in honey production. The department's attention has been called to a number of widely scattered cases which indicate that strains resistant to American foulbrood are showing high susceptibility to European foulbrood.

Heredity Is Factor in

Milk Production of Cow

Heredity and environment both exert tremendous influence on the capacity of the dairy cow to produce high quantities of milk, discloses W. W. Yapp, professor of dairy cattle husbandry, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

The high-producing dairy cow was likened to a machine which can convert the energy of feed into milk energy. To do the job well, Professor Yapp added, the cow must have inherited a good digestive system to aid her in transforming a large amount of hay, silage and grain into milk. To transform this energy from feed, she must have inherited a good mammary system—one with millions of milk-secreting cells to do the work in the conversion process. In addition, her heart must be able to pump the blood that carries the materials from the digestive system to the udder where the milk is made. "All of this is hard work; to be profitable the cow must live a long time, so she must have inherited a strong constitution to stand up under this heavy duty job," the dairy specialist declared. "Now if the inheritance falls down on any of these points—digestive capacity, udder capacity, circulatory system, constitution and health—the cow isn't so good as she otherwise would be. This shows how important heredity is."

If Declaration only is filed on January 15 estimated tax reported should not be less than 2-3 of total tax due in final return. Error any larger will result in penalty.

In addition, if dairy, breeding and workstock were sold during the year he should secure a copy of form Schedule D.

Why is the use of Schedule D so important to many farmers? Schedule D is for reporting sale of dairy breeding, and workstock as a sale of capital assets. This provision in the law is of tremendous importance to many farmers and ranchers as it means only 50% of the gain from such sales are taxable. Last year there was considerable confusion about this ruling but its application has been more clearly defined this year. To be considered as the sale of a capital asset the following requirements must be met:

1. Animals must have been held for more than 6 months.
2. Sale either must have: (a) Reduced normal size of herd, (b) made room for replacements to improve the quality of the herd, or (c) made room for replacements to change the breed of the herd.

A sheet of income tax helps has been prepared for the convenience of Lynn County farmers. This sheet consists of timely tips on allowable income tax deductions so arranged that it greatly simplifies the task of making out income tax reports. Copies of these income tax help sheets are available at the county agricultural agents office.

Deck Dunagan Home From Pacific Theatre

After a service of almost 39 months in the Pacific theatre of operations, Sgt. Deck Dunagan arrived home early Friday morning with a discharge from the army. His latest service had been on Okinawa, from which island he left recently for Vancouver, Washington.

He arrived at Vancouver on December 20 and came from that city to El Paso, arriving there on Christmas night. He received his discharge there on Thursday. His brother, Morris Dunagan and family of Carlsbad met him there and brought him home Thursday night, arriving here at about 4 o'clock Friday morning.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dunagan and husband of Mrs. Frances E. Dunagan of Tahoka, Dexter entered the service on October 5, 1942.

Upon finishing his training in the medical corps at Camp Barkley, he was classified as an ambulance driver but was assigned to the quartermaster corps and in February 1 in 1943 he began driving a truck along the Acan highway in Canada. Later he was sent to the Pacific, where he has seen much action since.

There will be special singing, music and the old time Gospel preached. Everyone is welcome to these services.

Services will begin at 10:30 a. m. and at 2:00 and 7:00 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jester and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hodges, returned Saturday from a week's visit with relatives at Poteau, Oklahoma, and Paris, Texas, Christmas having been spent at Poteau.

Cunningham Kin Is Injured In Wreck

Vick Roach of Lamesa, whose wife is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cunningham of Tahoka, was seriously hurt in a high-way collision near Breckenridge on Monday of last week. One of his legs was broken and he sustained other injuries. Following the accident, he was brought to a hospital in Abilene for treatment and was still there the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham were visiting a daughter, Mrs. Cecil Collins, in Hobbs, New Mexico, when news of the tragedy came and they hastened back to Lamesa Monday night upon being informed of the tragedy.

Officers who investigated are said to have absolved Roach from all blame.

The man who was driving the other car involved in the collision was reported to have been more critically injured than Roach, with little hope for his recovery.

Roach is an electrician and had done some work in Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McDaniel and two sons, Bob and Bill of Springerville, Ariz., met their daughter, Mary, sophomore student in H-S U., Abilene, here and all spent Christmas in the home of Henry's mother, Mrs. Alice McDaniel. They were joined by Mrs. McDaniel's daughter, Mrs. Home St. Clair and family for the Christmas dinner.

Mrs. W. D. Nevels had as guests during the holidays her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Sparks of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Nevels of Tatum, New Mexico.
