Snow Last Week End Puts Soil In Better Shape

The snow which fell two or three days last week brought a moisture content of .33 of an inch, according to the News man's water can. The snow itself was difficult to measure since some of it melted as it fell.

There was very little wind and the snow was fairly evenly distributed, it melted rather rapidly, and soaked into the ground where it fell. Farmers report that it gave the soil the best soaking it has had in months. This snow and others that preceded it during this month and last, coming on top of the soaking rains that fell last October, have wet the soil deep and farmers are jubilant over the crop prospects for the coming year. Wheat pastures in the county is excellent.

March of Dimes Drive Started

The March of Dimes drive, for aid in the fight against infantile paralysis will get under way Sunday in Lynn county, according to Terry Thompson, the county drive chairman.

In lieu of a benefit dance, as is the custom in many counties, Lynn county will support the worthy cause by taking collections at the various churches in the county. Those who do not attend church, should give their contributions to one of the pastors, leave it at one of the theatres, or hand it to Mr. Thompson.

Thompson has asked all the pastors in the county to assist in the drive, and all of them he has been able to contact have agreed to do so.

Last year citizens of Lynn county contributed a total of $532.63. Approximately 65 percent of the funds collected will remain in Lynn county to help care for any cases of polio that might develop here. The remainder will go to the National Foundation.

Negro Jailbreaker Is Behind Bars

Eunice McMillan, the Negro who saved his way out of jail here on November 23 and made his escape, is now again looking out through the bars of Lynn County's prison house, due to the determination and vigilance of Sheriff Sam Floyd.

Floyd kept hot after the fugitive until he found out that the Negro was in Tucson, Arizona. On Thursday afternoon of last week, he phoned the Tucson sheriff to pick McMillan up there. In less than an hour McMillan was in the Tucson jail. Sam went out Friday, and brought the Negro back Saturday. McMillan is charged with the burglary of Jimmy Applewhite's residence here and the theft of money and valuable property.

Drunken Driver Pays Heavy Fine

Both of these men were non-residents of Lynn county.

Server, where he entered a plea of guilty to drunkenness.

Bulldog Boxers Fight At Morton

Coach Jim Foust and his high school boxers were in Morton Thursday as The News went to press for a return engagement with the boxers of the school there. Foust took 25 boys to Morton, but only about 15 were expected to see action in the ring.

A few weeks ago the Morton team defeated the Tahoka boxers at a fight night here by a slight margin.

D. W. Turner, 83, Grassland, Dies

Dulana Washington Turner, 85, died at his home near Grassland at 6:45 Friday afternoon, January 17 from an attack of heart trouble. A Post physician who had been attending the sick man was present when the fatal stroke came, but was unable to stay the hand of death.

Funeral services were conducted at 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Church of Christ at Grassland by Price Bankhead, the Minister. The body was laid to rest in the Grassland cemetery under the direction of Mason & Co. of Post. Pall bearers were W. P. Thomas, J. O. Young, Roy LeMond, O. J. Stanley, A. L. Shepherd, and James Huddleston.

Survivors include three daughters and three sons as follows: Mrs. W. F. Moore of Amarillo, Mrs. Kid McCoy of McLean, R. M. Turner of Gordon, L. S. and V. A. Turner of Grassland, and Mrs. Lonnie Hood of Claude. Also surviving are twenty-five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. Turner had been a resident of Lynn county for about 29 years, having settled on his farm near Grassland in 1918. He had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1900, and was highly respected citizen of his community.

Mr. Turner was born in Mason county on December 24, 1861. When he was an infant but three months old, his father died in the service as a Confederate soldier. His early life was strictly a frontier affair. He was compelled to carry "side arms" beginning at the age of twelve for protection against both the Red Man and the White. Robinson Opens Modern Building

The new Lynn County Tractor company building, located a little over two blocks east of the highway intersection on the Post Highway, has been completed, except for the plate glass windows and paving in front and on the east side, and the firm is open for business in its new and modern quarters.

The firm, owned by Hall Robinson and his son, Jack Allyn Robinson, deals in Ford tractors and Ferguson equipment, and parts and repairs.

The building is 50 by 125 feet in size, and is constructed of brick, tile, steel, and concrete. Modern in every respect, this building marks another step in Tahoka's steady growth as a business center. Space is provided for offices, parts department, display, storage, and repair.

Much new equipment is being installed by the firm both in the shop and in other departments. With the additional space available, the firm expects to carry a much larger stock of equipment and parts as they become available.

Soon, the owners expect to get the plate glass installed, paving laid between the building and the street, and the large 50 by 135 foot lot east of the building will likewise be paved for a parking lot and to provide easy access to the shop.

Baptist Men Held Meeting Tuesday

Including some six or seven visitors, there were about thirty-five men in attendance at the Baptist Brotherhood meeting Tuesday night. Following an excellent "feed," the importance of coming simultaneous revivals to be held in this association and throughout District Nine was presented by the pastor, Rev. Levi Price, and some plans were laid with a view to making the revival here a distinct success.

The new pastor of the Redwine Church, Rev. T. L. Pond, was the inspirational speaker of the evening. Several men of the Redwine Church and two or three others were present as visitors.

JOHN WITT HURT IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

John Witt was painfully but not seriously hurt when his car struck some obstruction along the highway near Houston one day last week. His car was almost totally wrecked. The accident, according to meager reports reaching the News, was due to the dense fog that prevailed there at that time.

Congratulations . .

Services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Rosenberg, pastor of the Tahoka Methodist Church, and Rev. L. B. AUNT OF WALTER MATHIS CRITICALLY ILL

County Clerk, Walter Mathis and his cousins, Leonard and T. J. Wardlow, left Sunday for San Benito, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, after having received a message to the effect that Mrs. Wardlow, mother of the two Wardlow brothers and aunt of Mr. Mathis, was seriously sick. Upon arrival there Mr. Mathis telephoned back to his wife that Mrs. Wardlow was in a critical condition.

Mr. Mathis' father and mother being dead, he was practically reared in the Wardlow home, and recently Leonard Wardlow has lived in the Mathis home here.

ERROR CORRECTED

Last week the News stated that the 4-inch and 6-inch piping which had been ordered by the City of Tahoka was to be used in the Roberts addition. The News is now informed that this was error. Only a part of it is to be used in that addition. It is to be used in various parts of the city, we are told. We gladly make this correction.

Mrs. D. W. Gagnat, who was in the West Texas Hospital, is up and feeling better now.

New Lions Club Being Organized Here This Week

Formation of the Tahoka Lions Club, an affiliate of Lions International was being completed Thursday night of this week, under the sponsorship of the Lubbock Lions Club. Visitors from other clubs in near-by towns were also invited to the organization meeting.

Formation of the club was insured on Friday of last week, when K. L. Riggs of the Lubbock Club and local interested citizens signed up 25 Tahoka men for membership in the proposed club, the number necessary to receive a charter.

At a meeting held that night, the charter members elected Fred B. (Pete) Hegl, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, as club president, and Arthur Biggerstaff of the Forrester Insurance Agency, secretary. Other officers were to be elected at the meeting Thursday night.

Tahoka already has one very active men's service club, the Rotary Club, but it is believed that there is plenty of room here for two successful service clubs. Lions is very similar to Rotary in its purpose, as are also the Kiwanis, Optimist, ABC and other service clubs.

The Lions Club expects to hold its luncheon meetings at night.

Local Men Visit President Truman

Judge Tom Garrard and Garland Pennington spent most of last week in Washington in the interest of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, going up by plane Monday and arriving home by plane Sunday.

While there, they had the pleasure of meeting many notables including President Truman, whom Garrard had met before, once in Tahoka, and with whom he had exchanged a few letters.

They took lunch Wednesday with the Congressional delegation, of which our own Congressman, George Mahon, is chairman. They also called on Attorney-General Tom Clark, formerly of Dallas, whom Judge Garrard has known for some fifteen years.

Of course they met Claude Wickard, the REA administrator, for their chief business in Washington was to interview him. Wickard, it will be remembered, was the former Secretary of Agriculture.

Of course they saw Senator Tom Connally too, and he sent his compliments to friends here.

Baptists Plan Unique Revival

Seventeen women and three men of the Tahoka Baptist Church attended the Workers Conference of the Brownfield Baptist Association held in the First Baptist Church of Brownfield Tuesday, together with the pastors and several members of the Wilson, New Home, and Redwine churches. Pastors of the O'Donnell and Central Baptist churches and a few members of Wells and perhaps other churches in this county also attended, together with representatives from a half dozen Terry county churches.

Lynn county people appearing on the program were Mrs. Lonnie Lumsden of the Wilson W. M. U.; E. I. Hill, Brotherhood president; Rev. F. M. Wiley, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, and Rev. E. C. McDonald, pastor of the New Home Baptists. Rev. Levi Price of Tahoka presided throughout the day. Rev. J. M. Hale of O'Donnell presided over the Board meeting just after noon.

The Association's W. M. U. also had an afternoon meeting with Mrs. Garland Pennington of Tahoka presiding.

Almost the entire program of the general Conference was devoted to the discussion of Preparation and Plans for the coming simultaneous revivals to be held throughout the Association. A roll call of churches revealed that about thirty (Cont'd on last page, Sec. 1)

MAHON ASKS STUDY OF PLAINS WATER SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman George Mahon advises that he has personally appealed to William Wrather, Director of the Geological Survey in Washington, for an intensive study of the underground water supply of the High Plains of Texas. He emphasized that such a study should be made and an authoritative report given the people at the earliest possible date.

This report would be for information purposes only, Mahon stated. It would enable farmers, ranchers and city officials to better plan their water conservation programs. In commenting on the matter, Mahon stated: "I want to emphatically point out that the Federal Government in Washington has no authority to impose any regulation on the use of water in the High Plains of Texas for irrigation or otherwise. I personally feel that Federal interference would be both illegal and improper. Mr. Wrather said that the Government had followed and would continue to follow a strictly hands off policy as to legislation and regulation.

"Many West Texans have sought for years to get the fullest possible information in regard to our High Plains water supply. In 1936 I was able to secure an appropriation of Federal money for a study of these water resources and this study has been carried on more or less continuously since that date and the study is still in progress. Several preliminary reports have already been made, but the reports are not sufficiently conclusive as to the quantity of water which can safely be withdrawn for irrigation purposes. A more aggressive effort to get the facts must be made.

"Director Wrather of the Geological Survey, the Federal Agency charged with making investigations of our national water and mineral resources, states that present studies indicate conclusively that the High Plains' underground water supply is replenished from rain which falls on the High Plains and not from a current which flows underground from outside the area."

Mahon stated that steps now being taken in West Texas to get all the facts were in the public interest.

SEN. PARRISH GIVEN IMPORTANT COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS

AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—Senator Sterling Parrish of Lubbock who is never backward when it comes to "laying it on the line" for legislation that will benefit the state and especially West Texas, has gotten off to a flying start, his colleagues openly admit, with the 50th session less than a week old.

Besides co-signing two major bills of far reaching importance he has two others of special interest to West Texas drafted and ready to toss into the legislative hopper at the right time. In addition to this auspicious start he has been assigned to eleven important committees by the Lieut. Governor and is going to be a very busy man.

In the opening days of the session the robust West Texas Solon became co-author of a bill to increase the salaries of public school teachers and also to up the pay bracket for state employees, many of whom are located in the western part of the state.

In addition he has prepared and is only awaiting the green light to toss in a constitutional amendment designed to permit the issuance of $35,000,000 in bonds to be paid out of the permanent University fund over a 30 year period for permanent improvements and construction for the sixteen state schools including West Texas State Teachers at Canyon and Texas Technological at Lubbock.

W. S. C. S. STUDIES STEWARDSHIP

The Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met in the basement of the Church Monday afternoon for a short business session and to begin their Bible Study, "The Christian Motive and Method in Stewardship," taught by Rev. J. W. Rosenberg.

Those attending the study were: Mesdames R. H. Gibson, V. C. Steele, A. E. Ware, Alton Cain, G. W. McKnight, Calloway Huffaker, Neil Stanley, M. M. Boyd, C. L. Steele, J. W. Rosenberg, Uzzle, J. M. Small, Roger Bell, W. W. Rowland, C. G. Franks, Paul Johnson, Sam Floyd, J. A. Millman, C. A. Thomas, Terry Thompson, Marvin Munn, Jack Penton, and Rev. J. W. Rosenberg.

Wayne Burckhardt and Wanda Lynn Tunnel came up from Houston Thursday of last week to visit his parents and her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burckhardt, Wayne, who is a graduate of the Tahoka high school and the Texas Tech and later received his Master's degree from the Oklahoma State University at Norman, is a geologist by profession.

Another measure which he is ready to put into the mill is one providing an appropriation of $125,000 each for Texas Tech at Lubbock and West Texas State Teachers at Canyon for the construction of museums to house records and relics worth thousands of dollars to preserve them for posterity.

The Lubbock lawmaker caught more than the usual share of major committee assignments which means that with a number of them meeting simultaneously he will have to gallop from one to the other and burn much midnight oil.

When the assignments were announced for this extra curriculum work, Parrish came up with the following: Chairman of the committee on Stock Raising, Chairman on Representatives Districts, Vice-Chairman of the Senatorial Districts, Vice-Chairman of Game, Fish and Oyster committee, a member of the all important Finance, Agriculture, Oil and Gas, Public Buildings, Public Health, State Affairs and Town and City Corporations.

We don't know what Congress is worrying about today, but a week ago, an Associated Press staff writer in Washington suspected that it would soon be worrying over the momentous issue as to whether drinkers in the capital should be required to sit down or permitted to stand up while taking their likker. Under the present law, they must sit. Now, the corporation counsel for the City has prepared a bill and arranged for its introduction in Congress to repeal this sitting requirement. And so Congress will have to solve the nutty problem. What difference does it make? Why was the law passed in the first place? Search us. Its passage can not be attributed to a bunch of "long-haired, fanatical, witch-burning prohibitionists." It was passed by the wets after the repeal of prohibition. Silly stuff! We always had an idea that a man could get drunk just as quickly standing up as sitting down and vice versa. But the wets, after they had repealed prohibition, evidently thought that it was important and so they passed a law. Now, they have got to wrestle with the problem again. Pity the poor Congressman.

Under our form of government and our sense of right and justice, every man can stay out of jail until he is accused of violating the law. Even communists can walk our streets unmolested so long as they do not resort to violence or foment violence or do some other act in violation of law. But that does not mean that our government should give them jobs in any of the departments of government whenever and wherever these communists ask for them. In fact, since every communist believes that every means possible—force, threats, or fraud, or all combined—should be used to overthrow our government, which they call the capitalistic system, it occurs to us that great care should be taken to keep every last one of them out of any and all government positions. Somebody at some time or other has been asleep at the gap, or maybe has deliberately thrown down the bars and permitted these cattle to walk in. Every one of them should now be corralled, branded, and turned out on the open range. It seems that Attorney-General Tom Clark has it in mind to do just that very thing.

It is really amazing how errors will persist. An Austin Associated Press writer, whose story was published in the Fort-Worth Star-Telegram a few days ago, referred to "McLellan" county. There is no "McLellan" county in Texas, never was one, and probably never will be. There has been a McLellan county, with Waco as the county seat, for nigh onto a hundred years. Yet possibly four-fifths of the people of Texas today habitually refer to it as "McLellan" or "McClellan" county. And just now we have in mind a very different matter. As a rule, the radio-news broadcasters and commentators are very precise and prim and punctilious and particular in their pronunciation of the words of the English language, but a few days ago we heard one of them refer repeatedly to the "Arctic" Ocean. There is no such body of water. There is an Arctic Ocean, pronounced Ark-tik. We have heard radio speakers and other public speakers often refer to it as the "Ar-tik" ocean. Now that we have set the world right on these matters, we are sure we shall not hear these errors again.

There are many slips in legislation. If the state of Georgia, for instance, had discovered the defect in its laws whereby nobody could determine who should be entitled to the governorship in the predicament which has arisen, she certainly would have cured the defect promptly. Georgia has committed another error in legislation, deliberately, which should be corrected. Her governor should be elected by a majority of all the votes cast rather than by a majority of the counties. But those are problems for the goober-grabbers, and we are not going to worry our cranium with them.

Mrs. R. C. Forrester returned early Friday morning from a week's visit with relatives in Dallas and Greenville.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW BEFORE YOU TAKE THAT AIRPLANE TRIP

(By B. T. Smith)

So you want to ride in an airplane. First you take a ride; or two then you want to learn to fly. Shall we ride? Shall we let the children ride? Sometimes, and too many times it is discovered too late that the pilot is not a competent pilot and does not hold the proper credentials to carry passengers. Let's look at some figures. During the month of December, the Civil Aeronautics Administration suspended or revoked 165 student and private pilot licenses for either carrying passengers or carrying passengers for hire which is illegal. Consider the number caught, and imagine the number that escaped being apprehended by the authorities. According to the C. A. A. more than 95 percent of all accidents are direct results of C. A. A. violations.

A person goes to the airport to take a ride. He doesn't want to violate any Federal laws, so what shall he do? Ask the pilot to show you his certificate. Will it offend the pilot? No. Commercial pilot's licenses are not handed out for nil. A pilot is not commercially licensed until he demonstrates his proficiency far above that of a pilot holding a private or student's license, and you will never find one who is not proud of the opportunity to "display his license. Across the front will read, "This Certifies that (John Doe) has been properly qualified to exercise the privileges as COMMERCIAL PILOT". If such is not written across the face of the license it is either a student permit or a private license. It is a Federal offense to ride with the student and the same is true if you pay the private pilot for a ride. Play safe, ask for that license. The pilot doesn't mind. If you find one who refuses to display his license it is a 999 to 1 chance that he doesn't hold the proper credentials and you are jeopardizing your own safety as well as your own legal standing if you take that ride.

A typical suspension order reads like this one taken from the records of December, 1946. "No. SD-35 suspends pilot certificate of Douglas C. Anderson of Omaha, Neb., because while holder of a student certificate he carried a passenger, contrary to the provisions of sec. 4350 of the Civil-Air Regulations, December 25, 1946".

Sure go ahead and take that ride, but first be sure you are riding with a properly qualified pilot. Would you care to pay your fare to ride a train when you knew a novice was at the controls, a student engineer who was trying to figure out the timetable, the signals, the brake controls, etc.? We leave that part up to the Company and depend on a competent man at the controls. But who do you depend upon when you hire an airplane for a short pleasure hop? Yourself. So check that pilot's certificate—he won't mind.

Below is a list of Commercial pilots now residing in Lynn County. There may be others, but these are the only ones the writer knows of. They are: Chas. A. Stewart, A. N. Norman, Jerald Brown, Clint Walker, Jim Poust, Olen Parris, J. L. Leach and myself.

In renewing his subscription to the News a few days ago, Fred Barker of the First National Bank of Levelland declared "I can't like to miss an issue. I enjoy reading it very much; and it is my only means of keeping up with the happenings of my old friends in my old home town." Fred and his mother and his sister lived in Tahoka many years, and for years he was connected with The First National Bank here, and few people had more friends here than he.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1- Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
- 2- Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

LOOK INTO (the 2-way help)

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Apostles in preaching the gospel. Acts 2:1-4. He is led to believe that Christ is the Son of God. He learns that God commands all men to repent. Acts 17:30. He learns that he must confess Christ as the Son of God. Rom. 10:9-10. He learns that penitent believers are commanded to be baptized for, (unto; or in order to) remission of sins; and not because their sins are already forgiven. All this Mr. "C" learns from the New Testament. He complies with all the commands. He is baptized, not sprinkled, in the name of Christ. He arises to walk in newness of life. Rom. 6:1-4. Mr. "C" continues to read the New Testament and worships God just like the early Christians did in the days of the Apostles.

All three of the above men do as they were taught to do. Neighbor which one was led by The Holy Spirit? Where did the Spirit ever teach a man to go to a priest for salvation, as men do today? Where did the Spirit through the apostles ever teach a sinner to pray for salvation from past or alien sins? Brother man, look well to whose teaching you are following. Read Mat. 15:9 and be sure to "Not Follow The Doctrines Of Men."

Continue to read your questions or criticisms to me. Remember we want you to attend the service of the church of Christ in your community. If the minister preaches the gospel like it reads in your Bible tell others, if he does not tell him. -Price Bankhead, Post, Texas.

'GOOD OLD DAYS' HAS MEMORIES

With the coming of that road-show extravaganza "The Good Old Days" to the Rose Theatre next Saturday night as a midnight show where it will play through Tuesday, film fans will be able to renew acquaintance with many of their old time favorites, for this memory-provoking show is chock full of the biggest names in early Hollywood. William S. Hart, Snub Pollard, the incomparable Rudolph Valentino, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Francis X. Bushman are but a few of yesterday's celebrities who once again will cross the screen in this epic of a generation ago and many an old timer will wipe away a furtive tear as he sees these old stars and thinks back on the scene twenty-five to thirty years ago.

"The Good Old Days" will give younger film lovers a grand chance to compare today's glittering Hollywood product with the productions that pulled the movie industry up from nowhere to one of America's Big Three. "The Good Old Days" is truly a show for every member of the family.

Scenes from "The Great Train Robbery," "Ten Nights In A Barroom," "Every Inch A Man" and an old two-reel comedy, help spice the show. Don't miss "The Good Old Days."

New Area Rural Phone Service "Hitches" Ride On Power Line

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Welch, Dawson County, Jan. 23— I had a "hot" telephone conversation with my boss, "The Plainsman," from here Wednesday afternoon and neither one of us got "burned up" before I hung up the receiver, in spite of the fact that I was talking over a line which carried 7,200 volts of electricity.

The occasion was the inauguration of a new type telephone system from this busy-little oil field community of northwestern Dawson county, whereby the residents of Welch will be receiving their electric current and telephone service over the same wire.

The new system is called the "power line carrier" telephone and today marked the first installation of its kind in the state of Texas. Another system is to be installed within the next few days at Italy, Texas.

Lines of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Inc., are being used by the Southwestern Associated Telephone company in connecting this service with its toll lines at Lamesa.

Officials of both companies, the REA cooperative and the telephone company, were here today to witness the "cutting in" of the new service which puts Welch in contact with the outside world by telephone.

The new system, in which the telephone currents travel over electric power wires without interference to the telephone call by the electric power, is in the experimental and development stage. The system serving Welch is said to be the longest project tried to date. In all the hitch-hiking telephone calls must travel from 19 to 21 miles between Welch and Lamesa. Other installations in the U. S. have ranged only up to eight miles.

The project here is a joint undertaking of the co-op and the phone company and is one of eight similar experiments conducted throughout the U. S. to determine if the equipment is economical and dependable under different conditions.

In outward appearance, the new telephone service is the same as any other telephone service, but each telephone box is actually a complete radio receiver and transmitter. The customer simply needs to lift his receiver and a light will flash on the switchboard before the operator at Lamesa and then calls may be placed between these telephones and any other stations normally reached locally or by long distance from Lamesa.

Garland Pennington, manager of Lyntegar, under whose direction power line modification work was done, talked to REA officials in Washington soon after the service was inaugurated and reported a clear signal at both ends of the line.

Briefly, here is how the new "power line carrier" telephone system works:

Electronic equipment in a small box, similar to that in a small radio set, produces a high frequency current which carries the telephone conversation over the power wires. A device known as a "coupler," located on the power pole outside the customer's house, allows the carrier current to enter or leave the power lines, but prevents the power current from entering the telephone instrument. Approximately two miles from Lamesa there is a somewhat similar unit and "coupler" where telephone facilities and power lines are joined together. Regular voice currents travel over the two-mile section of the telephone line and are converted to and from carrier currents by the unit located at point of connection with the power line.

Many devices and means have been developed and are employed in preventing unwanted noises such as static, power hum, etc., and to make sure the carrier and power currents travel side by side without interference to each other.

Those here to witness the inauguration of the new service and to talk to various points were: John Heck of Wilson, president of Lyntegar; J. F. Maxey of Post; G. Q. Hensley of Draw; Howard Moore of Dawson county and Frank Harris of Lamesa, directors; W. G. Newton of Lubbock, manager of South Plains Rural Electric Cooperative; Mayor Sam Richardson and C. A. Eiland, president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce; Ross Woodson, publisher of the Dawson County Courier, all of Lamesa; and Ray Red, general commercial superintendent; Jack Sims, general plant superintendent, and M. C. Royalty, transmission engineer, all of Lubbock; R. E. Alexander, plant man, of Lamesa and Mills Roberts, Hobbs, N. M., district manager of southwestern Associated.

Roberts said four telephones had been installed on the line, three at Welch and one in the nearby oil field. He said two more stations would be connected within a short time, bringing the system up to a total of six stations.

Calls today were made from the Welch cafe, owned by E. O. Haddaway. A nearby store owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Masters was also equipped with a phone.

Should the experiment show that the equipment is preferable to the use of conventional lines, it is believed that it may be available within the next year or so to furnish service to present unserved rural areas where power lines are available without the necessity of construction of additional telephone circuits.

Miss Bertha K. Duncan, news reporter and advertising solicitor of the Slaton Slatonite, was a business visitor in the News office Thursday afternoon.

Baptists . . .

(Continued From Page 1) . . . teen of the twenty churches in the association are planning to participate. These meetings will begin on Sunday, February 9, and close on Sunday, February 23. Lynn county churches joining in this campaign include Tahoka, O'Donnell, Wilson, New Home, Lakeview, Central, Redwine, and possibly Wells and others. Rev. Cooper Waters, pastor of one of the Houston churches, will be the speaker in the Tahoka revival. Visiting preachers will lead in some of the other revivals in the county. The regular quarterly meeting of the Associational Brotherhood, which will be held in Tahoka on next Tuesday night, will be turned virtually into a men's rally in preparation for the simultaneous revivals. Every church in the Association has been asked to send representatives to this rally equal in number to one-fifth of the entire membership of each church respectively. If this goal is reached there will be about 250 men present, for the combined membership of the twenty Baptist Churches in the association approximates 5,000. The program next Tuesday night, in addition to the addresses, will consist of two numbers by the Tahoka quartet and other special music together with congregational singing. Rev. Levi Price of Tahoka and Rev. T. L. Pond, the new pastor at Redwine, will be the inspirational speakers. The meeting is scheduled to open at 7:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Turner Dies . . .

(Continued from Page 1) . . . cording to a report to the News. As a boy, he saw his neighbor's house and all its occupants burned by Indians under Geronimo. He saw in those early days numbers of white men lying dead and scalped. Later, as deputy Sheriff, he saw the bodies of numbers of white desperadoes who had been hung by stern frontier justice. On one occasion he arrived on the scene immediately after a frontier family feud had left sixteen persons lying dead. He assisted in the expulsion both of Geronimo's Indians and Quantrill's desperadoes from Texas, helping to drive them across the Red River. Mr. Turner became an expert marksman, and until recently he was able to break an egg at a distance of fifty yards with a revolver. His occupations in early life were those of boot-maker and violin maker. His later years have been spent as a farmer. On June 1, 1887, Mr. Turner married Miss Lydia Ann Blount. Eight children were born of this union. One of these, Cameron Turner, died in childhood, and a daughter, Mrs. Bill Small, died in 1939. Mrs. Turner herself died on September 1, 1940 at Grassland, and Mr. Turner Sunday was buried alongside her grave. Say it with flowers—The way to every woman's heart.—The House of Flowers".

MISS BILLIE LEWIS AND JOHN R. HUDMAN WED

Marriage rites were read on Wednesday of last week in the home of Mrs. Irene Gallagher for Mrs. Billie Lewis and Mr. John Hudman. Rev. Levi Price officiating and using the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Irene Gallagher served as matron of honor and G. W. Sharp as best man. The bride wore a brown crepe suit with matching accessories. Her flowers were white orchids. A reception followed the wedding ceremony. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffing, Carl Griffing Jr., Truett Smith, Charles Nelms, Mrs. Gladys Stokes, John Wells, and G. W. Sharp. Mr. and Mrs. Hudman left on a wedding trip for points in New Mexico and Colorado. They will be at home in Denver. Mrs. Hudman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Byrd of Memphis, Texas. She has been employed in the office of Carl Griffing for the past 18 months and for the past year she has made her home with Mrs. Irene Gallagher. Mr. Hudman has had an office and been employed in the same building for several years except for the time he recently spent in the army. The best wishes of many friends here follow this couple in their new home in Denver. E. L. (Elec) Johnson has sold his farm north of Tahoka to Jimmy Young, who formerly lived here but who has been in California for several years. Johnson and his family have moved to Plainview, but declares he has "burned no bridges" and may be back. Howard Payne, who formerly was in the insurance business here, is now located in Santa Fe in the same business. The first American motorcycle of record was built in 1863 by W. W. Austin. The machine was a velocipede type of bicycle propelled by power from a small coal burning steam engine.

MRS. DRAGER RECENTLY VISITED IN OKLAHOMA

In the confusion that followed the rush of Christmas holidays in this office, the story of one family reunion here was somehow or other lost in the shuffle. The children of Mrs. L. A. Drager spent the holidays in her home here, and then when they returned to their homes she and little daughter Sharon Gay accompanied some of the visitors back as far as Oklahoma City, where she has a brother and other relatives. After several days visit there and at near-by places, she and little daughter returned home during the exceedingly cold weather. Her visitors here during the holidays were her children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Teasdale and son John Bigham of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ward and two son, Vernon and Jerry Wayne, of Hammond, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mittelsdorf and son, Virgil Lee, of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drager and four children of Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Thompson, Mrs. A. L. Hare and A. L. Dunagan attended the Inauguration of Governor Jester in Austin. Thompson was Jester's campaign manager in this County during the campaign and is a life-long friend of the Jester family.

MRS. LILLIE MAE SIKES AND HARRIS FRAZIER WED

Mr. Harris Frazier and Mrs. Lillie Mae Sikes, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Frazier, drove over to Hobbs, New Mexico, on Saturday, January 11, and were united in marriage there in the Study of Rev. Stevenson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who read the wedding rites. Following the ceremony, the couple took a trip to Carlsbad and returned to Tahoka Sunday afternoon. They are at home in a residence two blocks east of the Grade School building. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. E. Clinton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Frazier. Both were practically reared here.

SHOWER HONORING MRS. BOBBY CARROLL GIVEN FRIDAY

A bridal shower was given in honor of Mrs. Bobby Carroll, the former Billie Jo Wall, last Friday evening from 5:00 to 6:30 in the home of Mrs. David Weathers. Mrs. Charles Oliver and Miss Valarie Bartley were hostesses. Mrs. Carroll received many beautiful gifts which were on display to the thirty guests who called.

Reinforced concrete makes the most durable of fence posts, serving an estimated 30 to 40 years.

Mrs. Odelle King took her son Jerry, 10, to San Marcos on Thursday of last week and enrolled him at the beginning of the second semester in the preparatory department of the San Marcos Baptist Academy. Many other young boys from 9 to 12 are enrolled there, Rollin McCord, Jr. being among the number.

FARM NEWS

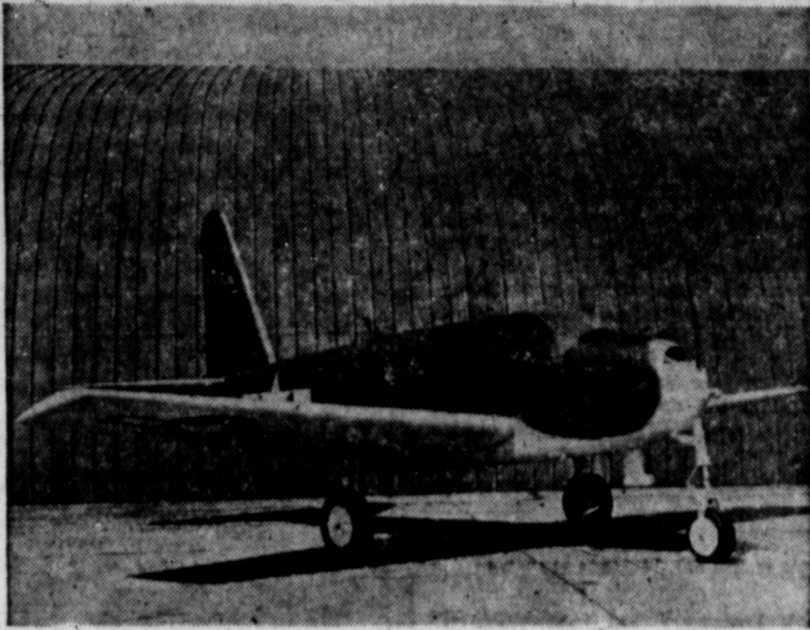

By Clint M. Walker,
Sec. Lynn County A. C. A.

This column will be offered weekly to the farmers of Lynn County and will contain information concerning the farm program and how it applies to the farmers of this county.

Under the present set-up the farm program in the county is administered by the county committee elected by delegates to a county convention. These delegates were elected by the farmers of the various communities in a county wide election held last fall. The members of the county committee for 1947 are Dan L. Carpenter, chairman; Clarence Church, vice-chairman; and Dick Franklin, regular member. Alternates on the county committee are R. T. Brewer and Cody Bragg. This committee administers for the County as a whole and three community committees elected by the farmers in his community assists in the administration of the program in his community.

Don't forget that January 31st is the last day for signing an application for cotton insurance in 1947. If you had the insurance in 1946 and have not notified the A.A.A. office in writing to the contrary you will automatically have the insurance for 1947. Every other business protects its investment with insurance so if you want to be sure... INSURE!

NAVY WEAPONS OF THE FUTURE

The first peacetime Navy Day in five years emphasizes the Navy's preoccupation with scientific advancement as a means of preserving the security of the nation it fought to insure between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day. Highlighting the development of offensive and defensive weapons and devices accelerated by World War II are robot aircraft such as the "Glomb," "Gordon," and "Gargoyle," heralds of a super-sonic age in which only the mind of man can match the speed of the deadly creatures his genius has conceived. Largest member of this trio is the "Glomb," or glider-bomber (above). The LBE-1 is a television-controlled aircraft which will stand 300 miles an hour in a four-G dive. (Official Navy Photograph)

Grassroots . . .

Profitable dairying depends upon an ample supply of good cheap feed, and year-round milk production depends upon year-round feeding. Cows demand that their feed requirements be met. Whether the required nutrients come from pasture, hay, silage or concentrates matters little, just so they are met to her satisfaction. Since a cow is built to handle roughage and they are usually the cheaper feeds, these should be used to the fullest.

Concentrate feeds supplement roughages, filling the gap between the total needs and the amount furnished by roughages. After maintenance requirements are met, a cow should be fed concentrates according to production. In this way more pounds of milk are obtained for each pound of concentrates.

Along with good feed a cow needs an abundant supply of good clean warm water in the winter and good clean cool water in the summer.

A dairy herd headed by a good bull has a future. More good bulls are needed in service either by natural or artificial means. The inheritance of a cow establishes her potential milk producing ability. This cannot be increased or decreased by feeding and management. Breeding sets the ceiling as far as that cow's production is concerned.

All dairymen are paying for good bulls whether or not these bulls are in service in their herds. Some have gone out, purchased bulls, paid for them, and have them in active service in their herds. Others are cross breeding. They are paying in the lowered productive ability of the future herd. Since we are paying for dairy bulls, let's use them.

A well fed, well managed herd of well bred dairy cows will yield the most milk per cow at the smallest cost.

January 31 Crop Insurance Deadline

According to Dan L. Carpenter, chairman of the Lynn County A. C. A. committee, January 31st, 1947 is the deadline for accepting applications for Federal All-Risk Cotton insurance for the year 1947. Carpenter points out that the insurance covers all unavoidable losses including drought, flood, hail, wind, sand, tornado, insect infestation and plant diseases, etc. This year the insurance will be offered in three coverages Level A, B, and C with different premiums on each coverage. Unless the local A.A.A. office is notified to the contrary in writing those who had insurance in 1946 will continue to be insured in 1947 since the contract they signed last year is continuous. This must also be done by January 31, 1947.

Farmers are being urged to investigate the insurance because it gives complete protection; has low cost premiums (these premiums are approximately one-third less because the government pays the operating costs); is backed by Uncle Sam; has many coverage choices; easy payment terms; local administration; and makes it possible for every farmer to protect his investment. For further details farmers are urged to contact the local A.A.A. before January 31st, 1947.

T Hangar Flying . . .

On Friday, January 10, Bill Woods, Billy Hill of Tahoka and James Hyden of Lubbock departed by train for Lock Haven, Penn. to ferry three Super Cruisers back to Lubbock. The group left Lubbock and passed through Kansas City, Chicago, Akron, Pittsburg, Altoona and our destination Lock Haven, where we met the fourth member of the group, Mr. Salsbury of Lubbock who was to be our navigator back to Lubbock.

We arrived in Lock Haven on a Sunday night and were weathered in by fog until the following Friday at which time the fog lifted and we proceeded on our ferry trip back to West Texas.

The day before we left for Lubbock, we were shown through the Piper Cub factory by one of the Cub representatives and we saw for ourselves just how the Super Cruiser looks from beginning to the finished product. Also we saw their new 1947 model Cub Special and the Sky Sedan, a new 4-place low-wing plane Mr. Piper will put on the market sometime this year.

We left the Lock Haven Airport at about 9:30 Friday morning and our first stop was at Columbus, Ohio, where I almost had an accident. We had entered the traffic pattern and was circling the field, when all of a sudden four Navy fighters cut us out of the pattern, and we had to circle the field again. I was the last to land and apparently I was making a swell landing and then the wheels touched the paved run-way and before I hardly realized what was happening my tires were squealing and my plane started turning sharply to the left. I jammed my foot against the right rudder pedal and accidentally relieved the back pressure against my stick and the ship became airborne again and straightened out again on the run-way, but second time it tried to veer, sharply when it hit the run-way the set to the left again. The plane bounced the second time, straightened out again and the next time it settled down on the run-way it had lost enough speed that I could keep it going straight down the run-way by using pressure on my right wheel brake. After a little close examination I found a brake cable jammed holding the left wheel locked. . . . A pair of pliers fixed that in a jiffy and we continued our trip without any further mishap.

We left Columbus around 2:00 o'clock that afternoon and landed at Terre Haute, Ind., and spent the night, leaving there around nine the next morning being forced to spend the next night in Altus, Oklahoma by bad weather and then we made it on in to Lubbock Sunday morning, arriving back in Tahoka at about 12:45 Sunday.

Mr. Roy Nell of Lubbock, distributor of Piper Aircraft in this section of the country paid all the expenses of the trip to and from the factory. However the trip is usually made in four to five days. We were gone nine days, but it only took us fifteen hours and forty-five minutes actual flying time from Lock Haven to Lubbock. During good weather this time is considerably shortened.

Anyway we all had a lot of good

New Home News

By Mrs. A. L. Pace
The New Home Parent-Teacher association met January 16th in regular meeting. Year books for the year were given out. The study course is to be given at Mrs. Lee Shockey's at some time that will be decided by the executive committee.

Group singing was led by Mr. J. B. Edwards. The first and second grades sang several numbers. Mrs. Jesse Ganus spoke on "What the Teacher Expects of the Home". Mrs. Ganus brought out many good points that the teacher expects of the home. Some of these were that the parents owe it to their child to see that he attends school every day if it is at all possible. Help the teacher to encourage the child to practice good health habits, treat his playmates fairly, make others happy, share toys, tell the truth, face mistakes rather than shifting the blame, speak well of others. Many children have the put-it-off habit and some ignore being told to do something. It would be far better never to tell your child to do anything than to tell him, and then not see that he does it. Don't nag your child, but encourage him by praising his good qualities. The teachers need assistance in working out a basis for a common understanding of the child. Make us as teachers feel that you are allies in the educational enterprise. Home can be the most dominant factor in your child's life if he can sense love and security, and if you permit him to experience the satisfaction of mutual service, faith, and friendliness. If a home is lacking in these, the most luxurious surroundings and the most efficient school can't make up for it.

Mrs. Henry Heck spoke on "What the Parent Expects of the School". Mrs. Heck said that we have far too many underpaid teachers, yet we are supposed to be the greatest democracy in the world. Parents expect qualified teachers. She thinks that the curriculum is deficient in English, spelling and mathematics. Parents expect the child to bring home some home work to do, and parents like to see the type of work the child does at school. When the child has trouble in school the parents should question the child to see where the trouble is. The parent should cooperate and be partners with the teacher.

NEW HOME CAGER TEAMS WIN PLACES IN TOURNAMENT

By Mrs. A. L. Pace
The New Home teams are very proud of the honors they received in the Ropes tournament of last week. The New Home girls were awarded the fourth place trophy, six pens, the sportsmanship award, was given to the New Home girls.

Betty Fillingim, one of our guards, was selected as one of the members of the all-star team. Each member of the all-star team was awarded a bracelet.

The New Home girls were victorious over the Southland and the Meadow girls, but they were defeated by the Shallowater and the Sundown girls, each game by only two points.

The New Home boys won third place in the tournament by defeating Ropes, Meadow, and Friona. They lost to the Whiteface team in every game that they played the New Home boys were behind at the half; therefore they were known as the "black horse" team.

Don Smith was chosen as one of the all-star forwards, for which he was awarded a tie pin.

The New Home teams are to play the Whiteface teams Tuesday night, Jan. 24. The boys game is to be a conference game.

The New Home boys and girls are to play the Wellman teams Friday night in the New Home gym.

The Friona basketball girls and the Sundown boys won the top honors in the Ropes' tournament of the past week. The Friona girls were victorious over the Shallowater girls, with a score of 36-31. The Sundown boys defeated the Whiteface boys with a score of 38-43, giving the Whiteface boys second place in the tournament. The Sundown girls defeated the New Home girls by a score of 17-15, which gave the Sundown girls third place, and the New Home girls fourth place. The New Home boys won third place by defeating the Meadow boys, who were fourth place winners, by a score of 19-21.

Acrylic Resins

During the two world's fairs at New York and San Francisco, acrylic resins first appeared in solid form and were sensational because they had the unique property of piping light around corners in spirals, knots and other spectacular ways. Some thought it possible that houses might have a powerful central lighting system which would transmit light to other parts of the house through these transparent solid rods. Then came their use in specialized protective coatings in which they are strongly resistant to after-yellowing and to moisture, alkalies and dilute acids. Acrylic resins adhere well to plated surfaces and being water white do not contribute any discoloration to the plating. For this reason, they are widely used in clear finishes for polished metals. They are also useful in luminous paints, in which they are ideal binders for the luminous pigments which are adversely affected by acidity.

Farm Sales

Even though the rate of transfers of farms has been high during the war years, there has been a relatively high proportion of all cash sales, the bureau of agricultural economics notes. Of the recorded farm real estate sales in 1945 in about 130 selected counties, 58 per cent were entirely for cash. For 1942, 1943 and 1944 the percentages of all cash were 45, 52 and 55, respectively. For the transfers financed by credit, down payments during 1945 averaged 42 per cent of the purchase price as compared with 40 per cent in 1944 and 38 per cent in 1943. During 1945, about one-seventh of all purchases involved a debt of 75 per cent or more of the purchase price. On the average, the debt in such cases was more than the full market price in 1941.

Longest and Shortest Roads

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway ranks first in miles of road operated, with 13,092 miles of railroad. The Pennsylvania Railroad, with 24,960 miles of track, ranks first in miles of track operated. The Valley Railroad, one mile long, at Westline, McKean county, Pa., is the shortest line-haul railroad in the United States, a line-haul railroad being one which performs mainline and trunkline transportation service as distinguished from a switching or terminal company. The Beaufort and Morehead Railroad, three miles long, operated between Beaufort and Morehead City, N. C., is the shortest railroad in the country performing freight, passenger, express and mail service.

COLD WAVE DAMAGES WEST TEXAS FRUIT

LUBBOCK, Jan. 23.—Severe damage to the West Texas peach and apricot crop likely resulted from recent extremely cold weather, according to Dr. W. W. Yocum, horticulture professor at Texas Tech.

If buds were killed, they will begin shattering within the next few days, he said. Fruit growers should inspect their trees carefully, and if almost all of the apricot and peach buds shatter, producers may go ahead and prune trees now as much as necessary without waiting until late spring.

The earth's store of uranium ore would be exhausted in less than 100 years if uranium were to replace coal completely as a source of energy.
