Muleshoe Boosted By Lovelady At Meeting Of Lions

In just a little more than five minutes of actual speaking time Karl Lovelady expressed before the Lions Club yesterday the deep pride and overflowing enthusiasm which is stirring inside of almost every citizen of Muleshoe and Bailey County these days.

After being introduced to the Club by Lion Clyde Bray, the local attorney pictured to the Lions present at the regular meeting, Muleshoe as one of the fastest growing towns in West Texas.

He pointed out that the citizens of Muleshoe are looking up and out beyond the town as it stands today and into the future. "By doing this, we are building one of the best little towns in West Texas," said Karl.

"Other towns are beginning to look up to Muleshoe and speak of it as the town 'that is busy', or 'the town that is growing'. Muleshoe and the surrounding country is growing because of good people," he continued.

M. D. Gunstream transferred to the Club here from the Memphis Lion's Club. Gunstream is Vice-President of the First National Bank of Muleshoe, which opened

The bill passed by the Legislature provided for the additional $7 million dollars in assistance this week.

Wayne Bristow was installed as a new member in the Lions Club during the first part of the program period. Bristow is a Journal staff writer.

Ranking high on the day's list of visitors was Ronnie Freeman, son of Sheriff Hugh Freeman. Ronnie was recognized as one of the outstanding Little League this season. He holds down position as baseball players in Muleshoe towns at third and "short" for the Cardinals.

place as theirs. Mrs. Oswald picked up the family's free aerial photo of the farm, and now has two free tickets to Cox Drive-In Theatre awaiting her at The Journal, as she was one of the first persons to correctly identify the farm.

Mrs. Wilcy Moore And Others Receive Salute From Dallas Oak Cliff Tribune

In the July 29 edition of Dallas' Oak Cliff Tribune appeared a new twist concerning the praise dishied out each season to stars in the world of baseball. Under the head, "Baseball Wives Play Key Roles In Success of Pennant Contender", staff writer Susan Webb handed out a much deserved salute to the wives of Dallas Eagle players.

Program Honoring Founder Given At The CES Meeting

Worthy Matron, Lola Bray, and Worshy Patron, W. F. Creamer, presided over a regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 792, in Masonic Hall in Muleshoe Tuesday evening, August 2.

Following the regular business session, a short program was given, honoring one of the founders of Eastern Star, Robert Morris in observance of his birthday.

Chaplain Myrtle Creamer, and Marshal, Hazel Nowell, draped the altar, and short talks concerning the highlights in Mr. Morris' life were given by Lola Bray and W. F. Creamer.

This would be of no interest as readers of the Journal if one of the wives mentioned had not been Mary Moore, wife of Muleshoe's Wilcy Moore, who is serving his second season as an Eagle outfielder.

The article read as follows: "Behind each man of success is a woman, so an old story goes. And judging by the way the Dallas Eagles are riding the pinnacle this season, there must be many fine gals responsible.

Eagle players are constantly getting their pictures in the paper, along with glowing press notices about their spartan performances. But perhaps there would be more interest in baseball if some of the beautiful heroines of the diamond occasionally supplanted their playing counterparts in the news columns.

So, this is a salute to the woman behind the chicken-wire screen.

Women rule the life of veteran Outfielder Wilcy Moore. The stocky built fly shaggar is kept in line by his three little gals. Although Mary has the dominating right, Dana, 5 and Sherry 3, do their share of boosting.

The Moores are living at 2714 Nicholson in the Davy Williams home, while the former Cliff base ball star is playing for the New York Giants.

Wheat Improvement Is Vital

Texas wheat growers and handlers ought to be very much interested in the situation that has resulted in the slow progress made in the state in improving the quality of wheat grown here. Local elevators have received a copy of a bulletin sent out by a big Fort Worth wheat merchandiser, a pertinent paragraph of which reads:

"We might as well face it — millions buy wheat now on a laboratory test and they reject most of the Texas wheat offered them stating it shows poor baking quality. Texas mills state they would like to buy Texas-grown wheat but from necessity have to reach into Oklahoma, Kansas, and even as far as Nebraska for their requirements."

Here on the eve of the planting time for wheat, growers might well ponder what this circumstance might mean: Not a premium for better wheat probably, but a dockage for wheat that the millers won't buy.

For, if the millers don't want wheat grown here, it must go into government storage.

The merchandiser says, however, that "there is definitely a movement to get the wheat growers in Texas to plant more desirable varieties."

But the lack of interest by millers to buy or even bid on Texas wheat that we have offered them from time to time proves conclusively that Texas wheat growers have lagged in this direction and are not doing a good job.

Nebraska has done a wonderful job of improving the quality of their wheat and Kansas is making strides in improving their acreage of strong varieties and Oklahoma, also, is doing a good job along this line.

Texas A. and M. College suggests the following strong gluten varieties for the Texas area in the Panhandle north of Lubbock:

- Tenmera,
- Commanche,
- Concho,
- Turkey.

Texas Gets Added Wind Erosion Help

An additional wind erosion control measure has been approved for Texas. Any producer in Bailey County, who has some land that needs cover, can make application at the ASC office in Muleshoe if the crop has not been planted. The money for this practice as not been allocated, and no promises can be made by the ASC office as of this date, but if you plan to plant a cover crop, you must make application before the practice is started.

Federal cost sharing will be as follows:

Sorghums:
In normal width rows $1.20 per a.
In rows 16 to 24 in. in. 1.90 per a.
width 1.90 per a.
Drilled or broadcast 1.90 per a.
Millet 1.75 per a.
Small grains (rye, oats and barley) 2.00 per a.
Grazing consistent with good management is permitted, but a crop will not qualify if harvested for any purpose. The crop must be left on the land until the land is plowed in preparation for seeding a crop in the spring or summer of 1956.

Home Builders Will Pay More This Year

AUSTIN, August 4 — Texans buying new homes this summer probably will pay $200 to $400 more than they would have paid earlier this year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says.

Builders of medium priced ($10,000 to $18,000) homes in a number of cities say they have already raised their prices or will do so in the near future. Price advances reflect a new round of wage boosts for building trades workers (carpenters, painters, and bricklayers), as well as some rise in the cost of lumber and other building materials.

Higher home costs often represent "more house35, builders report. Adding a "half bathroom" raises the price tag, but buyers apparently consider the extras worth the premium price.

Shortage of some materials, notably cement, are reported. Because of an unseasonably mild winter, cement stockpiles normally available at the beginning of a construction season have been depleted. Fabricated structural steel may join cement on the "critical list" if bookings continue at the present rate. Home builders in many sections of the U. S. have difficulty obtaining sufficient quantities of gypsum board.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR JOURNALISTS

South Plains Editors Move To Help Provide Newspaper Workers Of Future

LUBBOCK -- Establishment of five $100 freshman journalism scholarships at Texas Tech by the South Plains Press Association and members newspapers was announced today by Neil C. Vanzant, SPPA president. Vanzant stated that the SPPA was sponsoring one scholarship while the remaining four were being underwritten by the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, two, the Brownfield News, one, the Slaton Slatonite and the Gaines County News, one-half each.

All scholarships, excluding the SPPA grant, will be awarded on a hometown basis, Vanzant said. The Avalanche-Journal scholarships, for example, will be awarded annually to the outstanding senior journalism prospect at Tom S. Lubbock and Monterey high schools.

The SPPA scholarship will be open to any qualified youngster residing in a town whose newspaper holds membership in the Association.

The scholarships represent the first in a series of steps planned by the SPPA to increase the number of young people who are entering journalism as a life career, the Gaines County News publisher said.

In addition to the scholarships, the SPPA plan includes summer internships for the recipients who will also be given monthly sums to serve as campus correspondents for their sponsoring newspapers.

of planning, has been constructed to encourage the participation of large and small newspapers alike.

Two small newspapers may go together in sponsoring a scholarship, alternating the selection of a recipient, Vanzant said.

While the scholarship will be administered by Texas Tech, the selection committee will consist of a representative of the sponsoring newspaper, the high school principal and the high school journalism teacher or publications sponsor.

An important part of the program is to help give the high school journalism teacher the recognition of the position merits, Vanzant said. An Association project during the coming year will be to see that these teachers are fully posted on opportunities in the field of journalism.

The SPPA scholarship, and possibly the Brownfield News scholarship, will be available for a freshman entering Tech this fall while the remaining three will be awarded at the 1956 SPPA annual convention to be held in Lubbock next spring.

The SPPA hopes to be able to award at least 10 journalism scholarships, including some for upperclass students, at the spring meeting.

Lyndon Johnson Thanks Friends

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson preparing to leave Bethesda Naval Hospital for two weeks rest at home in Washington before returning to Texas, wants the people of Texas to know he is grateful for all they have done to start him on the road to full recovery from the heart attack he suffered July 2.

Mrs. Johnson, fondly known as Lady Bird to multiplied thousands of Texans, said her husband declared he has a fuller appreciation than ever before of how fortunate he is in his friends.

"During those first difficult hours immediately after he suffered the attack, messages started pouring in," Mrs. Johnson said. "They were encouraging, heartwarming messages of confidence and hope, they gave Lyndon strength when he needed it most."

Mrs. Johnson estimated that some five thousand telegrams and "Get well" cards have been received by the Senator since he was stricken. A great many of them carried the information that their senders were praying for him, they come from people in all walks of life—from the President of the United States and from a 12 year-old boy in East Texas—from farmers and housewives and working men and business executives and members of Sunday School classes.

"Nothing else has helped Lyndon so much as the knowledge that so many people are pulling for him," Mrs. Johnson declared.

Senator and Mrs. Johnson hope to return to their ranch in Gillespie County by September 1.

Soil Conservation News

Robert Blackwood is field leveling 18 acres of land in order to eliminate a small lake area. The area was leveled and designed by local S.C.S. Technicians.

Bill Millen is making arrangements for field leveling another 20 or 30 acres.

"This year seems to be shaping into one of the best in conservation, which the Blackwater Valley District has experienced. There is every indication that a record acreage of vetch and clover will be seeded this fall.

The local Soil Conservation Board has requested additional assistance from the Soil Conservation Service. They hope to obtain a soil scientist to speed up soil survey work. He will perform soil inventory on the farms owned by persons cooperating with the local district.

These surveys, according to Mr. Black, secretary of the board, will enable farmers to know more about their soils; more satisfactory irrigation systems can be planned and cropping systems which will more nearly meet the need of each acre can be worked out by the farmer.

The board hopes this will enable cooperators to see the best land use of each acre on their farm.

"This is the time of the year to consider some type of cover for land without a growing crop. In case there is sorghum on the land, farmers are urged to consider the use of 20 inch rows. The closer spacing will not reduce the yield of either grain or forage sorghums to any extent, if later season rainfall is favorable, and will provide much more protection to the land if rainfall is short.

"It isn't too early to begin arrangement for rye cover crop seed. If used for cover crop only, rye can be planted in August, if moisture conditions are favorable. The earlier plantings have a chance to make good cover before frost and also provide more grazing if late season rainfall is favorable. Strains of Balboa and Abuzzi are preferable, but common rye is also satisfactory.

Although payments cannot be assured at this time, it is possible for farmers to make application at the Local ASC Office for cost-sharing in establishing cover on lands which have not been planted. For additional information, check at the local office.

GUESTS HERE

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Ashford this week were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brewer, of Turkey and Mrs. Rosa Butler of Albuquerque. The group also visited in the Owen Rogers home while here.

where the Senator will relax and rest between now and the opening of the next session of congress in January.

53 Bailey County Boys Compete With Crops For $1200 Prize Money

By the entry deadline, July 15, a total of 53, 4-H and FFA boys in Bailey County had entered the 1955 Bailey County 4-H and FFA Cotton and Grain Sorghum Production Contest.

Irrigated and dryland crops are separated into two contests. Irrigated cotton drew the largest number of entries, with the highest competition being in the two dryland groups.

Each boy entered in the contest either own, rents or sharecrop the crop of crops he has entered. He is responsible for making an appointment with the county agent of his vocational ag teacher as to the exact time his crop yields is to be tested. No yields will be considered for prize money unless the county agent or agriculture teacher was actually present to supervise and weigh the production from seventy yards of grain sorghum or cotton.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the contest last year has again donated $400.00 for prizes. The Muleshoe State Bank has doubled this year's prize money by giving an additional $400.00. Due to donations which have come in during the growing season the money is expected to be tripled by the time the judging of the crops takes place.

Prizes will be paid on the following basis: 35 per cent will go for first prizes, 25 per cent for second prizes, 15 per cent for third prizes, 10 per cent for fourth prizes, 6 per cent for fifth, 5 per cent for sixth, and 4 per cent for seventh place prize money.

The grain sorghum will be heading seventy yards of a measured row at least two weeks after first killing freeze. Heads must have one inch or less of stem when weighed and the correct threshold factor will be applied.

Cotton will be tested by pulling seventy yards of measured row after December 1, on dry afternoons. No bolls will be pulled unless they are open enough to be hand picked without the use of force to open the burr. All crops must be weighed before January 1, 1956.

Following is a list of those county's vocational agriculture boys bringing through the chapters, Doyle Eubanks, Darrell

Stevens, Doyle Turner, Royce Hutton, Gary Hicks, Norwell Roberts, Don Copley, Duane Stevens, Wesley Warren, Loyd Warren, and Jerry Dawson, Ross Langham, Jack Carney, Richard Goodwin, Glenn Mykel Murrain, Burt Kitchens, Coy Mason, Burl Marquis, Darryl Pollard, Curtis Pierce, and Freddie Carter, Charles Latimer, John F. BAILEY COUNTY Farm Bureau News

Texas Farm Bureau supported 21 bills which passed and eight which failed, during the past session of the legislature. Of the five other bills which the Bureau proposed, four failed, and a compromise was drawn on the fifth.

Following are five bills, which passed, and should be of particular interest to farmers in the panhandle.
S. B. 154, which adds an amendment to the insecticide laws providing that the State Chemist may contract with commercial laboratories to make analysis of samples submitted by the Commissioner of Agriculture. It also empowers the commissioner to issue a stop sale order on all lots of insecticides of fungicide found to be mis-branded or adulterated. The important feature of this legislation is that it provides sufficient funds and sets up a procedure for making analysis, which will assure more efficient administration. The stop "sale order provisions will increase the effectiveness of the control program.

H. B. 485, This law mends the present seed law to include many weed seed, and authorized the Commissioner of Agriculture to add to, or subtract from the list of noxious weed seeds. It also reduces the period for which a germination test is effective from twelve months to nine months. The most important feature of this law is that it reduces the tolerance for any noxious seeds in planting seed and prohibits the sale of planting seed which contains any amount of nut grass, and feild bind weed seed.

H. B. 288, is a law which sets up a procedure for organizing noxious weed control districts. These districts shall contain not less than 32,000 acres, nor more than five counties. The districts may be organized upon a petition of 50 qualified tax-paying land owners within the district making application to the County Court. The county Court is authorized, following the presentation of the petition, to conduct hearings within the proposed district. If the commissioners court decides favorable following the hearings, and election will be held to determine if a majority of the qualified tax-paying landholders residing within the district are in favor of organization of the district. Also, it authorizes the election of a board of directors, empowering them to set up rules and regulations and to carry the enforcement activities within the district. Three points to keep in mind when stitching the man-made fibers are: the length of the machine; tension adjustment on sewing machine, and the pressure on the presser foot.

For synthetic, the machine stitch is shorter than for natural fibers. This shorter stitch rule applies for all finely woven synthetics. Some thicker and spongy types take about the same length as similar textures in natural fibers. Always test for proper stitch for the particular synthetic you are working with, using a double-thickness of the fabric.

Tension should usually be slightly loose. Many sewing machine tensions must be loosened for made-made fibers do this, first adjust the top crosswise and looser setting. This may be all that is necessary. If not loosen the tension screw on the bobbin case until the stitch is in balance and locks in center of the seam, not on the top or bottom of it.

Pressure on the sewing machine is regulated by the texture of the synthetic. Hard finish synthetics such as nylon organdy and very smooth tightly woven ones will require more pressure on the pressure bar. The thicker and spongy types will require a lighter pressure.

Remember when following these rules, differences in stitching in different directions occur on almost all fabrics. This is true of synthetics too. Crosswise and bias stitching look perfect, while lengthwise stitching on the same fabric may be slightly drawn or puckered. For this reason, the stitch adjustment should be made on the lengthwise grain of all fabrics. When this is correct, the cross grain and bias will also be good.

To adjust a sewing machine properly for synthetic stitching thread and needle selection must be right for the fibers you are working on. For filmy, sheer and finely woven fabrics, use No. 9 to No. 11 sewing machine needle. For medium weight fibers and blends use a No. 14 and for thick and spongy types, use a No. 16.

Mercerized nylon and dacron threads are all used for synthetic sewing. Nylon and dacron have been specially developed for use in synthetic sewing and should be used when the man-made fiber content is greater than the natural content in a blend. Because of the stretch in these new threads, they are especially good to use when stitching seams that will undergo a great deal of strain.

If you would like more information on sewing on synthetics there is a very helpful bulletin in the office.

Ivan L. Wiles, left, general manager of Buick and vice-president of General Motors, congratulates Edward T. Ragsdale, general manufacturing manager, on the production of Buick's 1,000,000th hardtop. Buick, which pioneered the hardtop styling in 1949, was the first manufacturer in the industry to reach the million mark. Texans Reach Halfway Mark In Bond Sales

DALLAS, JULY 30—More than $101 million worth of United States Savings Bonds were purchased by Texans during the first half of this year, it was reported today by Nathan Adams and Ed Gossett, co-chairman of the Savings Bond Advisory Committee for the State. Sales of the bonds throughout Texas for the first six months up to July 1 totaled $101,606,381, including purchases during the month of June amounting to $13,787,277. "At the half-year mark 50.3 per cent of the state's 1955 Savings Bonds goal of $201.9 million was attained," the co-chairman said. "It should be emphasized, however, that bond

Texas Completing Second Salk Shots

AUSTIN, August 4—Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health stated today that the second inoculation of first and second grade pupils against poliomyelitis has been completed in most areas of Texas. Approximately 70 per cent of those receiving the first shots were on hand for the second group.

It is hoped that vaccine will be available soon for use by private physicians to immunize those not in the Foundation Program vaccine has undation for Infanile Paralysis program; also that some arrangements can be made to secure vaccine for the medically indigent of the state. Under the vaccine has been limited mostly to children in the first and second grades.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, Chief of the Division of Communicable Diseases, says that polio occurs both sporadically and in epidemics at irregular intervals, with the highest incidence in Texas during the latter part of July and the month of August.

During the past five years 37.4 per cent of the reported cases of poliomyelitis in Texas occurred in the age group under five years; 26 per cent in the group 5 to 9 years; 12.6 per cent in the group 10 to 14 and 23.8 per cent of the cases reported were 15 years of age or older. During epidemic paralytic cases rarely exceed one per thousand of population. The most deaths from poliomyelitis are in the 20-29 year group.

Poliomyelitis can be recognized by your physician by clinical manifestations assisted by examination of the spinal fluid.

Retail Economy Is Above Nat. Average

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 4. Texas' 1955 retail economy is booming along at a pace above the national average and well above 1954, considered a good business year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

That includes farm-product sales. Eleven of 12 Texas crop-reporting districts bettered the first half of 1954 by 7 to 34 per cent. Texas retail sales in the first six months of 1955 were up 12 per cent over the comparable 1954 period. The national increase ranged from 8 to 10 per cent.

Records business in June and early July was reported across the nation. Sales of new and used automobiles slowed from earlier weeks but still held well above last year. Food sales kept a moderate lead over 1954 except in resort areas, which were doing an all-time record business in many lines.

House furnishings sold well above last year with sudden strong demands for air conditioners, heavy appliances and outdoor equipment and supplies. Customers continued to purchase on installment credit at near-record rates. Debt on automobiles along has peaked at $12 1-4 billion. Payments on installment debts also are running high.

ASC To Elect Committeemen By Mail Ballot

The election of Community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committeemen to serve for the coming 12 months will be elected by mail ballot during August, according to Jim Claunch, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Three regular members, one of whom will be chairman, and two alternates will be elected in each community. The chairman of the committee will serve as delegate to the County Convention to elect the County Committee. Ballots will be mailed August 9, 1955 and must be returned before 5:00 p. m., August 18, 1955.

Chairman Claunch explains that all farmers, owners, tenants and sharecroppers are eligible to vote who are carrying out an approved Agricultural Conservation program for a cooperator's price-support loan or other price support or who are eligible for a payment under the Sugar Act Program. Even those not of legal voting age may vote if they are in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations of an entire farm.

An eligible voter may be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, trust, or other business enterprises or legal entity or where ever applicable, a State or any duly authorized agency thereof. An eligible voter is entitled to only one vote. In States having community property laws the wife whose husband is eligible to vote also is eligible to vote.

The community Committee elections will be held under the general direction of the county election board which in turn will designate the various community election boards of three eligible farmers who will arrange for and conduct the community committee elections. The county office manager, Lonnie M. Bass, will advise and assist the county and community election boards in carrying out their election responsibilities.

claims to have had a major part in passing in the State Legislative Session just passed, eighteen were written by Farm Bureau Legislative Representatives. They were written in compliance with resolutions presented by various county Farm Bureau and approved by delegates at the state convention. Briefly, here is the report that indicates the strength you have, legislative-wise, through Farm Bureau: Texas Farm Bureau supported 21 bills that passed; supported 8 bills that failed to pass; opposed 4 bills that did not pass, and opposed a 5th bill until it was replaced with a compromise bill, which did pass.

Keep these facts in mind when you receive your invitation to Farm Bureau membership meetings, where legislation favorable to our area originates. Remember that the Texas Warehouse Act, which became law last year, originated in Parmer County. It came as a result of unscrupulous speculation with farmer's grain stored in warehouses not federally bonded, which cost some of our farmers thousands of dollars. The Queen Contest is coming along nicely. It will be held in the Friona School Auditorium next Friday night, August 12.

YEAR OF CROP SURPLUSES

Prospects for the fall of 1955 are another bumper farm crop year despite the ravages of drought in mid-western states. That is the prediction of the National Agricultural Research Bureau in Washington. Not only will it be a "bumper" year, but perhaps the biggest production year of all time, if the experts are correct. It is a paradox that increased production in 1955 will spell trouble ahead for Texas and the nation's farmers in the form of prices, mounting surpluses and critical storage problems. And no relief from the farm cost-income pinch is in sight. As a re-

Hale Co. Soil Conservation District Named In Honor List

COLLEGE STATION, August 3.—Six Texans have been named winners in a national soil conservation district awards program. According to Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist, the list was released by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, sponsor of the program.

The Hale County Soil Conservation District was named outstanding in area I and Homer Roberson of Petersburg, chairman of the district board, as their representative. I. B. Rankin, Rt. 2, Plainview, was named as outstanding farmer-cooperator in the district.

Area II's outstanding district was Frio and their representative was Henry J. Hardeste, Jr. of Derby. Harry Bennett also of Derby was selected as the outstanding farmer-cooperator.

Winning district in Area III was Gillespie County which named Adolph O. Kneese, Rt. 2, Fredrickburg as its governing body representative and Raymond Spaeth of Harper as outstanding cooperators.

The six Texans, says Barton, along with 94 winners from the other 47 states will be guests of the sponsor on a trip and vacation to Goodyear Farms, Lithfield Park, Arizona. This will come in November or December. Barton says the program is now in its third year and that after March 1, 1956 another group of outstanding conservation districts and farmers would be named.

Under the extension initial loans will be made through July 14, 1957 but additional advances may be made for another two year period to borrowers who require more time for making necessary credit adjustments and to repay the loans previously received.

The special livestock loans are made to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep and goats—except commercial feedlot operators—who are temporarily unable to get from regular sources the credit needed to carry on their normal operations. Eligibility is based upon the applicant's past record of livestock operations and a reasonable prospect for success with help from the loan. Loans may be used to meet the usual expenses of livestock operations such as the purchase or production of feed, and the replacing or repairing of farm machinery. Loans also may be made for the restocking of herds to normal if the applicant can carry his present herd, plus the additional livestock to be purchased, without buying a substantial part of his feed. Loans are not made to pay existing debts except current incidental bills.

The loans are scheduled for repayment as soon as possible within a maximum period of three years. Other creditors are not asked to subordinate their liens but are expected to execute a standby agreement and agree that a reasonable part of the applicant's normal income from livestock can be used to retire the loan.

Applications for the special loans may be made at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Trawick visited Sunday in Slaton with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Darby.

Curtis Wellborn, of the Wellborn Beauty Shop here, left Sunday for Ft. Worth, where he was to take a week-long beauty course, beginning Monday morning, Isbell's University.

New Barley For High Plains Of Texas Now Ready

COLLEGE STATION, August 3.—Kearney, a new and unusually cold and green bug resistant barley the High Plains area of Texas will be available to growers for 1955 plantings.

The variety was developed by the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station. Tests covering its adaptation and resistance to greenbugs have been conducted at the Amarillo Experiment Station at Bushland. It is recommended for the area west of the Caprock and from Lubbock north through the Panhandle.

Kearney had a survival of 97 percent at the Amarillo station in 1951 compared with 59 and 0 for Reno and Cordova, respectively. It is true winter type barley and will head normally only from fall plantings.

It matures later and grows taller than most other commercial varieties grown on the High Plains. Kearney has outyielded Reno and Ward but is seasons when winter survival is not a factor, less hardy varieties, such as Cordova, may yield more. The new variety probably will produce less early fall grazing than the upright growing tender varieties but because of its superior winter-hardness should

BABSON DECLARES— SMALL BUSINESS

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 4. I am here for a short vacation at my birthplace - a small city which is now noted as a fishing port and summer resort, but is gradually becoming a thriving suburb of Greater Boston. With its high land, "air-conditioned" streets, and island location, it has a wonderful all-year climate, a beautiful harbor, and a bright future.

both the small "independent operator," hoping that their members themselves may some day be one, increasing the minimum national wage to one dollar will probably exempt a small operator or storekeeper. This could be an advantage to the small manufacturer with lower overhead and fewer employees.

IMPORTANCE OF PERSONAL SERVICE I forecast that some people will always want personal attention from specialists whom they know and trust. I believe in pensions, modern factories, & air conditioning, but these things will not take the place of personal attention by interested employees. People like attention; they want to deal with owners of a business whom they know and trust.

In those days all industries here were locally owned. Then an ambitious and industrious young man could buy or start a fishing business, granite quarry or small factory of his own. Today the situation is very different. Nearly all the industries require much capital and are owned by large corporations outside Gloucester. This is true of most cities; it is not a healthy situation. It is especially noticeable when I am helping Babson Institute graduates to a position. They can easily get a position starting at $300 per month; but it will be with a large company. The smaller and younger business concerns cannot afford to pay salaries to beginners.

DEWITT M. EMERY One reason for writing this column today is the death of Evanston Ill. of the founder of the National Small Business Men's Association, DeWitt M. Emery. He died at the young age of 59 having given his life to the unselfish work of encouraging young persons to start a business for themselves. He claimed that cities are now making a great mistake in depending only upon large manufacturing corporations owned in New York or some other large city. He believed it is like a church expecting to prosper without a Sunday School - or even like a family expecting to prosper without children. Also much is owed to Ernest Gaunt.

Yet things are happening today which could benefit the "small businessman." First, the Federal tax laws have been amended to give him a break. The Labor Unions - as a rule - do not

The increasing congestion of automobiles, (due to the dumbness of local city government in not providing employees with sufficient offstreet parking lots), is causing many families to move to other areas to get work. The parking nuisance, however, will give young businessmen an opportunity to call at homes and take orders for goods. More business will be done in the evenings. "Wagon-peddlers" will increase in numbers and usefulness. I forecast that cycle of the past 100 years from family-owned little business to big corporations will gradually reverse and return to small speciality factories.

LESSONS FROM ABOARD Every time I go to Europe I am impressed by the number of families who live on their business and are thus able to give "24 hour" service. Were I a young man and had a good wife, this is the way I would start, instead of working for a big company. Or, better still, I should try working for, and some day own, a small-town newspaper! I surely would go into some form of merchandising of advertising where I could use new ideas and be an individual, and not get into a labor union rut. A small manufacturer or shopkeeper, however, willing

Texan At The Summit A Texan who was with the President at Geneva during the meeting "at the summit" played an important part in the proceedings. SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER ALARMED Over Washington Outfit That Has Trouble Spending All Its Budget

Texas Viewpoint In Washington

By Senator Price Daniel

U. S. Senator Congress has adjourned and this will be our last column until we meet again in January. It has been a pleasure to report to you and other readers of several hundred Texas weekly newspapers during the session just closed, and I appreciate the comments and suggestions which have come from you as a result of this column.

In general, this session of Congress was very successful, both for the Nation and for the State of Texas. We did not complete several important items of legislation, but they will remain in status quo until Congress reconvenes in January. The natural gas bill passed the House without enough time left for action in the Senate. Every member of the Texas delegation is to be complimented for his work on this important bill. This bill will be one of the first orders of business in the Senate next January, and I feel sure that the bill will be passed by the Senate and signed by the President.

Highway Program All the highway bills were killed in the House, but you may be sure that this important legislation will be revived next year. There is great need for additional highway improvements throughout the land, and the Federal Government should bear its just share of the interstate and regional highway construction or surrender its gasoline taxation to the States so they can do the job.

The President could not have received better cooperation from a Republican Congress than he received from the Democratic Congress this year. In fact, it is doubtful if his program would have received as much support under Republican leadership in the Congress as it did from the cooperation given on most of the important measures by Speaker Sam Rayburn in the House and Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson in the Senate.

Texan At The Summit A Texan who was with the President at Geneva during the meeting "at the summit" played an important part in the proceedings. Dillon Anderson of McKinney and Houston, the President's Assistant for national security affairs, ranked third on the list of persons who attended the meetings as advisors to President Eisenhower.

to work and having a good turnover, need not fear sudden changes and new methods. Many of them can work to his advantage if he will attend to his trade.

Dear Editor: I have read lots of amazing news out of Washington, but I read some the other day which left me so amazed I haven't hit a lick of work all week.

I'd gotten up that morning intending to work a little, but thought I'd first look over a newspaper to maybe give me something to think about while I went up one row and down another, and sat down in the shade propped against a rear tractor tire and started reading. It ruined my working day.

According to an article that jumped out at me from the front page, Congress was in a turmoil recently because, when the time came to appropriate three and a half billion dollars for the defense department, it was discovered that the department had failed to spend several hundred million of the money it got the previous year, but not wanting to get caught in such an unheard of position, the department spent it all in the last 24 hours of the fiscal year.

Somebody in Washington is slipping worse than I ever dreamed was possible, and I think something ought to be done about it immediately. If Washington can't find men who can spend all the money Congress can appropriate, I'll be glad to help out, although I do not believe there is a serious shortage of such people in this country and I believe Washington can find them if it tries. There must be thousands of people, serving on city councils, at county seats, in state legislatures, who wouldn't have any trouble at all spending more money than anybody can budget.

It's embarrassing to Congress and the country as a whole, especially to me, to find there are people who have to rush out on the last day of their fiscal year and spend wildly in order to avoid having a carry over.

It's a problem I never have encountered around here, but would like to try. Yours faithfully, J. A.

MANY ACTORS IN ATOM DRAMA Experiments With Sheep Play Vital Role In Study Of Radiation Effects

(The following is the fifth of a series of seven articles disclosing the highlight and sidelights which have accompanied the nation's development of atomic energy. Prepared at the Hanford atomic energy plant, the series deals with the human things which followed in the wake of the first historic announcement that man had harnessed the atom. It touches upon the things which lie ahead.)

By Bill Jury General Electric News Bureau Hanford Atomic Plant

The cast of characters vital to the development of atomic energy lists many players; scientists, engineers, designers, research teams, laborers, clerks, and strangely enough - sheep.

Sheep and other domestic animals are an important part of a plan to probe into the many unknowns of the atomic age. In tidy pens in the shadow of the huge Hanford atomic energy plant near Richland, Wash., sheep are being studied by some of the world's fore biologists to determine how they react to radioactive isotopes. Findings from these studies already have helped scientists take long strides in the field of veterinary medicine, and have provided answers to perplexing problems pertaining to atomic energy.

What happens to livestock exposed to excessive radiation, and, for that matter, what amount is excessive? Those questions answered at the Hanford plant today by General Electric company scientists whose chief laboratories are clean brick normal, healthy animals. They are among the nation's best fed sheep, stowing away liberal quantities of vitamins and minerals and nutrients in the form of alfalfa, grain, and concentrated food pellets.

In time, the biologists' work with sheep will provide part of the information that will be needed by engineers and scientists who design future atomic plants and will furnish much information of value to the entire livestock industry and to the medical profession.

Genetical conclusion will be longer in coming, but the results will be valuable to the scientist and layman alike. (Next Week: "Radiation and the Plastic Man")

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES The fact that spiritual understanding of God results in practical goodness, health, and power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Reading from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit". Among the passages to be read from Science and Health is the following (99:23): "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to be scientific
