Democratic Primary Election Will Be Saturday, July 24th; Editor Discusses Candidates For State, District Offices

Are you ready for the Democratic primary election?

If not, it is time you were making some investigation. None of us is ever too well prepared, and most of us, including newspaper men, are frequently woefully uninformed as to many of the leading candidates. The News editor must confess that he knows far too little about some of them, but possibly we can give a little information that may be helpful to somebody. The election comes on Saturday, July 24, just a little more than a week away.

You will find on your ballot the names of eleven candidates for the United States Senate. All of them are practically unknown or unimportant with the exception of three. These are Coke R. Stevenson of Kimble county, George Peddy of Harris county, and Lyndon B. Johnson of Blanco county. They are scattered along among and buried by the list of eight other names. The voter will have to hunt out the name of the man he or she wishes to vote for and then scratch out all the others in that list one by one.

Coke R. Stevenson's name comes third on the list. He is well known to the people of Texas, having served several years as governor of the state. As such he gained the reputation of being a wise and efficient officer. Firm and conservative, he guarded well the State's finances. Coming into the office with a deficit in the treasury, he left it with a big surplus. That was due in part to the fact that little building or expansion of any kind was made during the period of the war but in part also to his good business judgment. Stevenson is not an orator and might not shine on the floor of the United States Senate but his friends assert that most of the real work is done in committee room, any way and they think that Stevenson would be fine in that kind of work.

The name of George Peddy is fifth on the list. As for age, he is in his fifties. As a very young man, he became a write-in candidate for the United States Senate against Earl B. Mayfield. That was at the general election in November, 1922. Mayfield, the regular Democratic nominee, received 264,260 votes, and Peddy received 130,744 votes, all of the latter written in on the ballot. Those were the days when the Ku-Klux Klan was in issue. Mayfield being the alleged Klan candidate.

Peddy has never run for another office. After that election he settled down to the practice of law in Houston and has gained quite a reputation as a lawyer. Intellectually, and otherwise, so far as we know, he is a strong man and would doubtless serve with credit to his state in the United States Senate. The Houston Post recently came out in his favor. It is presumed that he will receive a heavy vote in that city and section of the state.

The seventh name on the ballot is that of Lyndon B. Johnson. For the past twelve years he has been Congressman from the Austin district. From the very start, he was the chief Texas advocate of the Rural Electrification program. He has probably done more for the expansion of that program and for rural electrification in Texas than any other one man.

After the death of Senator Morris Sheppard, a special election was called and was held in June 1941 to fill the vacancy. There were four leading candidates for the position, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, Congressman Martin Dies, and Attorney General Gerald Mann. W. Lee O'Daniel received 175,590 votes and was elected, but Lyndon B. Johnson was a close second, for he received 174,279 votes, only 1211 votes below O'Daniel. Gerald Mann received 140,807 votes and Martin Dies 80,653.

As Congressman, Johnson enthusiastically supported, with few exceptions, the policies of President Roosevelt, and is generally known as a New Deal advocate.

Election Officials Asked To Meet

Judge C. H. Cain, Democratic county chairman, has issued a call for all election judges and clerks to meet him at 3:00 p. m. on Thursday, July 22, at the courthouse, to get information and instructions regarding election regulations and their duties pertaining thereto.

The chairman is intent upon seeing that the election laws are more closely observed than they have been at many elections in the past. He says that many election officers are uninformed or have grown careless in some instances in adhering to the law.

He enumerated several kinds of law infractions that have become common, and he thinks that many election officers need some instruction. All are urged to attend this clinic.

Tahoka School Heads Elected

Superintendent Vernon Brewer was given a new three year contract and Otis Spears was named high school principal at a meeting of the Tahoka school board Tuesday night.

Supt. Brewer has been head of the local system for more than two years, during which time the Tahoka district has been expanded through consolidation of rural schools until it now covers about 300 sections. The scholastic census shows nearly 1100 children of school age, and many improvements have been made in the school's physical plant.

Otis Spears, the new principal of the high school, is a Lynn county product, having been reared at New Lynn. He will receive the B. S. degree from Texas Tech in August. Mr. Spears had five years teaching experience before the war, served 41 months in the Army Air Corps in the war years. He returned to Tahoka last year, and has since engaged in the insurance business here. He is active in Tahoka civic and church affairs, and the board feels it is fortunate in securing his services.

Mr. Spears succeeds Principal Travis Mason, who resigned recently to become principal of Plains High School. Mrs. Mason, also a teacher in Tahoka, will teach English at Plains. Mr. Mason has an irrigated 100-acre farm 15 miles west of Plains, on which he is residing.

Former Citizen Buried In Amarillo

A news story published elsewhere in this paper tells of a visit here last week-end by Mrs. L. I. Williams and sons, Gordon and Bruce Williams, residents of Tahoka in the early days.

Press reports published Wednesday brought the information that another son of Mrs. Williams, William B. Williams, 51, had died in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from a gunshot wound self-inflicted. He had been found two miles north-east of Amarillo Monday morning unconscious, with a bullet wound through his head and a 38 caliber revolver lying beside him.

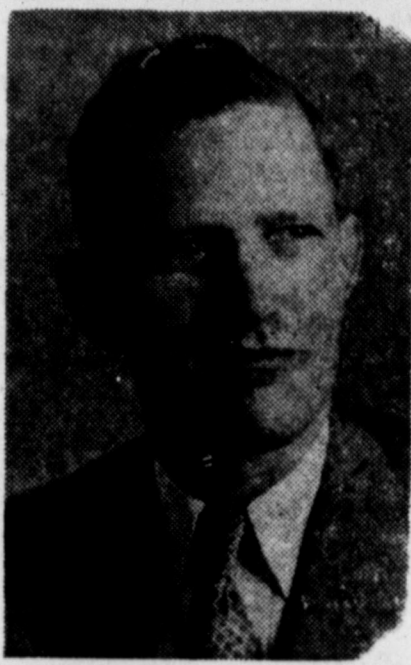

Mr. and Mrs. Hall Robinson of this city went to Amarillo Wednesday to attend the funeral services.

New Pastor For Baptists Arrives

Rev. C. T. Aly, new pastor of the First Baptist Church here, and his family arrived Monday afternoon and he conducted his first service as pastor here Wednesday night, the mid-week prayer meeting service.

Of course he and his family have been very busy placing the furniture in the pastor's home and also the new furniture purchased for the pastor's study and the secretary's office in the Church, since their arrival.

All these preliminary matters have been just about completed, however, and he will fill the pulpit at both hours Sunday morning and evening. He was greeted by a good-sized mid-week congregation Wednesday night.

His family consists of Mrs. Aly, a son, Carroll T., 15, and a daughter, Jo Helen 11.

The new pastor comes to Tahoka from the Park Heights Baptist Church in San Angelo, which he has served for more than three years, and in which he conducted successful revival services last week. All reports which members of the Church here have had are to the effect that Brother Aly was very popular and greatly beloved by his Church in San Angelo, and he admits that it was hard for him to leave there. He is very optimistic and enthusiastic about his prospective ministry here, however, and the local members seem to be just as optimistic and enthusiastic about the new pastor and his family.

O'Donnell Planning Political Rally

An old time political rally will be held in O'Donnell on next Thursday night, July 22, at 8:30 o'clock. Jess Merrick will act as master of ceremonies.

All precinct, county, and district candidates are invited.

A public address system will carry brief talks. There will be a pie auction, pie eating contest, string bands, and other entertainment, according to O. G. Smith, editor of the O'Donnell Index-Press.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN CALLS MEETINGS

Mrs. Olabelle Singleton Lamb, Republican County Chairman for Lynn county, has issued a call for the Republican County Convention of Lynn county to be held in the district court room in Tahoka on July 31 at 5 p. m., and for precinct convention to be held in each precinct on July 24 in each precinct between the hours of 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Following have been designated as precinct chairmen: No. 1, C. B. Keltner; No. 2, H. B. Crosby; No. 6, Mrs. Helen Honeycutt; No. 7, Mrs. Daisy Singleton; No. 8, H. A. Roberts.

BROTHERHOOD MEETS MONDAY NIGHT

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church announces its regular meeting next Monday night.

Rev. C. T. Aly, new pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, will be the inspirational speaker. There will also be some good musical numbers on the program.

All the men of the Church are urged to be present.

City Is Erecting Street Markers At All Intersections

The street signs ordered by the city council and received a few weeks ago were erected last week. They will serve as a convenience in locating people who reside here and in aiding non-residents to find the homes of friends and relatives.

About the only criticism that could be made regarding these signs is that there are not enough of them. Four or five times as many would have served their purpose far better. But such signs are expensive and the City Council did not feel that they should purchase a larger number of signs at this time.

Some changes in the names of streets were made for the convenience of the public. Here is the low-down on the new set-up briefly told.

Main Street follows highway 87 from the courthouse north to the city limits. The Post-Brownfield highway No. 380 runs east and west through the city on Lockwood street.

The streets running east and west north of the Post-Brownfield highway, are given as follows: North First, North Second, North Third, etc. North First runs east and west between the City Park and the Methodist Church, from the Gin district on the east to the city limits on the west; North Second runs along the north side of the Funeral Home, east and west through town; North Third runs from the high

Donkey Games Aid Ball Program

Two donkey softball games were played here Monday and Tuesday nights, and about $170.00 was raised to help finance the summer softball program here sponsored by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

No admission price is charged at regular games, and considerable expense is attached to operation of the field, such as light, upkeep of grounds, balls, etc., and the donkey game was scheduled to raise funds to help pay these bills.

Monday night, two teams of boys attempted to ride the little animals, and Tuesday night, a team of Negroes played a team of Mexicans.

Over the past few days have ended thus, according to Judge C. C. Grider:

July 8, VFW 8, White 21.
July 9, Scouts 16, D&H 18.
July 10, Grassland 8, New Home non-conference.
July 10, Rutherford 7, and New Home 12, non-conference.
July 14, White 11, New Home 24.

FULKERSON'S BROTHER GETS LEG BROKEN

T. B. Fulkerson of Lamesa, brother of W. H. Fulkerson of Tahoka, sustained a serious fracture of one of his legs last Saturday morning when a horse fell on him. The break was so serious that his physician advised that he be taken to Baylor Hospital in Dallas for a bone specialist to set and treat. He was taken in a Stanley ambulance from Tahoka, received hospitalization at Baylor, and was brought back home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulkerson also went down to Dallas Saturday to help in any way they could and also returned Monday.

ASSOCIATIONAL BROTHERHOOD MEETS IN BROWNFIELD SOON

Announcement is made that the next quarterly meeting of the Associational Brotherhood will be held in the First Baptist Church in Brownfield on Tuesday night, July 27.

All Brotherhood members in Lynn county are requested to make note of this meeting and are urged to attend.

Rev. C. T. Aly, new pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, will be the inspirational speaker, according to H. L. Cook of Wells, the program chairman, and the men of the Brownfield Church will give some special music numbers.

New Home Tax Raise Proposed

A. L. Pale, superintendent of schools at New Home requests that we state for the benefit of voters in the New Home consolidated school district that the chief reason for the proposal to raise the tax rate from $1.00 to $1.50 in that district is that the money is needed to buy and operate new buses for the district.

The proposal will be passed upon by the voters of that district on primary election day, July 24.

Truman, Barkeley Demo Nominees

President Harry S. Truman was nominated at the closing session of the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia Wednesday night as the candidate for the Presidency, and Senator Alben W. Barkeley of Kentucky was named as its candidate for Vice-President.

At the close of the roll call, of states, Truman had received 928 votes against 247 for Senator Russell of Georgia. The Mississippi delegation would have cast its vote for Russell also, but when the convention endorsed and commended President Truman's civil rights program earlier in the night, the Mississippi delegation walked out and did not participate in the voting for candidates for the nomination for President and Vice-President.

The final vote showed up a little different from the above figures, for after the roll call had been completed some states changed their votes slightly.

At the conclusion of the roll call or Vice-President, Senator Barkeley had received a vast majority of the votes and upon motion he was nominated by acclamation.

In voting for Presidential nominee, the states of the Solid South voted unanimously for Senator Russell, with the exception of Mississippi, which had bolted.

Some Southern states are planning to hold an independent convention at Birmingham, Alabama, Saturday and nominate candidates of their own.

Johnson And March Lead In Straw Vote

Roy Edwards and Truett Smith took a straw vote Tuesday and Wednesday of persons on the street, turning in the result before noon Wednesday for publication.

Only the offices of United States Senator and Governor were included in the test. They assert that all persons met on the streets, sidewalks, business houses, and other public places while the test was being taken were given an opportunity to express secretly their choice.

Then they counted the ballots and found that 131 persons had expressed a choice for Senator and 130 for Governor. The results were as follows:

For U. S. Senate:
Lyndon B. Johnson 70
Coke R. Stevenson 54
George E. B. Peddy 7
For Governor:
Beauford Jester 46
Caso March 51
Roger Q. Evans 33

Congratulation:

Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Adams of 719 Lawrence St., Bryan, are the parents of a baby son born July 13, weighing six pounds and four ounces. He has been named Phillip David in honor of both grandfathers, P. D. Adams and D. C. Roberts. Lester was formerly an employee in the D. W. Gagnat Hardware Store and Mrs. Adams taught in the Tahoka schools.

Mrs. F. O. Greathouse and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Greathouse, formerly of Tahoka and the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. E. C. Carrington, all of Caldwell, were here Tuesday and Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greathouse, and friends.

Coach and Mrs. Jake Jacobs are here this week visiting. He has been operating a wheat elevator near his home town, Spearman, this summer.

Timely Moisture Puts Crops In Excellent Shape

Rains that almost assured good crops on most of the farms of Lynn county fell Sunday afternoon.

Like the rains that have fallen over this entire area this spring and summer, however, these rains were very "spotted," heavy in some localities, light in others. Moderate to heavy rains prevailed, however, over most of the county.

In the New Lynn Community, hail also fell over a considerable area, some of it heavy enough to be very destructive. Serious damage was done on the farm of Mrs. E. B. Terry, and light to heavy damage on the Guy Smith, Huff Brothers, Bill and Joe Thompson farms, and on several in the Edith community. Considerable damage is also reported further north.

Another small area where hail damage resulted Saturday afternoon was between Wayside and the Lubbock county line, chiefly in the Joe Stokes community. About 1200 acres of cotton was almost utterly destroyed and is being replanted in feed. Also a considerable area in the Lakeview community was badly damaged. Exceedingly heavy rains fell at and north of Wayside Saturday. Heavy rains Saturday also visited O'Donnell and a large territory in the south part of the county. Excellent to heavy rains covered a much larger territory Sunday afternoon. It is claimed that as much as three inches fell at Wells and two and a quarter inches is reported at West Point. The rains generally on Sunday afternoon, however, ran from a half inch to an inch and a half. Over most of the territory it fell more slowly and continued for three or four hours and was just what the crops needed.

Most crops are a little late but are very thrifty and promising except where hail damaged them.

Quartet Sings At Rotary Meeting

A Brownfield "barbershop quartet" furnished the feature of Tahoka Rotary Club program Thursday at noon, singing a number of the old time songs to the delight of club members.

The quartet is composed of Jack Shirley, Dr. Robertson, Virgil Miles, and Crawford Taylor.

Dale Thuren was program chairman for the day.

President Vernon Brewer announced that the Post Rotary Club, loser in a recent attendance contest engaged in between the Slaton, Tahoka, and Post clubs, would entertain local Rotarians in a night meeting in that city Tuesday, July 27, at 7:30 p. m.

Methodists Improve Pastor's Home

Rev. C. A. Holcomb Jr., pastor of the Methodist Church, has been feeling just fine, thank you, this week. His flock have been touching up the pastor's home. In fact they have redecorated it throughout—repapered the walls and ceiling and repainted the woodwork. Also the bathroom has been remodeled and other improvements made.

Furthermore, a cooling system has been installed at the Church recently and it was in use for the first time last Sunday.

So, with these improvements and the installation of an electric organ just as he was about ready to move on the field here, he is figuratively walking on air. Naturally, he thinks Tahoka Methodists are a fine set-off and of course he is right.

CAFE CHANGES HANDS

Ira L. Carter has purchased from Paul Johnson the cafe heretofore operated as the Club Cafe and was making some minor repairs Tuesday and Wednesday preparatory to re-opening this popular eating house.

Charles Belcher and family of Dallas were here on Thursday night and Friday of last week visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. H. Kuykendall, and Mr. Kuykendall. They had not seen him before in twenty years.

BRUMMETT OPPOSES FAIR TRADES ACT

July 9, 1948

Mr. Chas. A. Guy, Editor, Avalanche Journal, Lubbock, Texas
Dear Mr. Guy:

On June 2, 1948, in your column (The Plainsman), you extended an invitation to all the candidates for State Senator from the 30th Senatorial District to state their position regarding the so-called "Fair Trades Act." It is more commonly called "price-fixing by the Manufacturers." It might even better be called the "Un-fair Trades Act" because it is unfair to the people. As one of the candidates for the office of State Senator from this District, I appreciate very much the kind and courteous consideration given by you for me to state my position publicly.

In order that the general public may be informed as to the more recent effects on the part of those who would foist such an evil, monopolistic, price-fixing law upon the people of Texas, I must say this: During the past few days representatives of various groups, whose profits would be increased by passage of the so-called Fair Trades Act, and who are very much in favor of the Fair Trades Act, attempted to buy my vote as State Senator, by pledging their support and influence and, in addition by contributing large sums of money to my campaign. I told them frankly that Dudley Brummett would not sell his vote as State Senator. I told them it would mean much to me and my family to be State Senator, yet if I had to sacrifice the principle of being true to the people I was representing, then I had rather not be State Senator. I told them my vote was not for sale for any price, that I would not sell the vote of the people of my District in the State Senate for any price. I feel that the consuming public is entitled to this information.

In order that my position may be made clear on the so-called Fair Trades Act, I make the following statement: I am opposed to any kind of legislation that would in any way deprive a private citizen the privilege of buying his or her necessities of life at the lowest possible cost. I am also opposed to any legislation that would attempt to tell the independent merchant what he must sell his merchandise for.

In fact any attempt to eliminate competition and to restrain free trade and to destroy private enterprise is certainly un-democratic and should be beyond the thinking of any person holding public office in this great State of Texas.

I shall, as State Senator, continue to oppose price-fixing or price-raising legislation regardless of whether it is entitled "Fair Trades Act" or any other name or title which may be used in an effort to deceive the people and foist such a law upon the people of Texas.

Thank you again for the availability of your columns to express my views on matter pertaining to the best interest of the people of this Senatorial District. I assure you that I will be ready any time to state my views on any public question that might involve future legislation.

Yours very truly,
Dudley Brummett,
Candidate for State Senator 30th Senatorial District of Texas.

Santa Fe Indian Village

CHICAGO
RAILROAD FAIR

You'll think you are really on an Indian reservation in the Southwest—when you visit the Santa Fe Village at the Chicago Railroad Fair this summer (opening July 20).

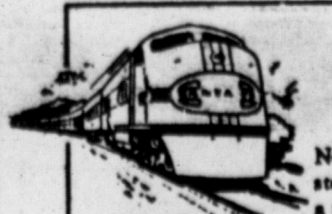

You'll see Navajos, Apaches, Hopis, Zunis, San Juans and Jemes—125 colorful Indians living in pueblos, hogans and wickiups. You'll watch ceremonial dances seldom seen away from the reservations, and see Medicine Men make their famous sand paintings and destroy them every day at sundown.

Indian craftsmen weave rugs, make moccasins, baskets and jewelry. In fact, in the Village you actually see a faithful portrayal of costumes, ceremonies and living quarters of Southwestern tribes. Their way of life today is noticeably unchanged from that of their ancestors who inhabited the Southwest years before Columbus discovered America.

OLD-TIMERS VISIT FRIENDS HERE

Mrs. L. L. Williams and sons, Gordon and Bruce Williams, of Amarillo, well-known pioneer residents of Tahoka, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Robinson. While here they also greeted many other old-time settlers of the town, including members of the Wells families and connections, Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, and a few others.

The Williams family came to Tahoka with the coming of the railroad, Mr. Williams being a railroad man. He has since died. He and Mrs. Williams also operated a hotel in the old Black building that stood on one of the lots now occupied by the J. K. Applewhite Implement Company. The hotel was destroyed by fire. A little later, when county authorities were preparing to build the present court house, the old structure was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who moved it to a corner lot at the present highway intersection and operated a hotel in it there for some time. Then they sold it and moved to Amarillo. The hotel site is now occupied by the Sinclair Service Station operated by Reid Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cade and Geraldine Tippit and Dr. and Mrs. Emil Prohl, who have been out there several days, are expected home before the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thomas, who have spent several weeks out there this summer, as usual, are expected to come in home Saturday.

Randolph Rutherford says that all these five families were there at least a portion of the time he was there and constituted quite a Tahoka colony.

Pilot Error Causes Most Air Crashes

WASHINGTON.—While pilot error is blamed for most air crashes, new systems of perfecting pilot technique are being developed constantly.

During the war the air force lost more than half as many pilots in training accidents as it lost in combat. An air force study of the experiences of 460 flyers since the war disclosed one important fact:

All pilots make mistakes sometimes.

Some pilots make more errors than others, and some errors are more common than others.

Half of all the errors reported were "substitutions"—that is, operating the wrong control, such as lowering the wing flap instead of the landing gear.

Nearly one-fifth were "adjustment"—moving a control too much or too little or not moving it fast enough.

Nearly one-fifth of the mistakes were simply forgetting to do something.

Move Controls Wrong

The rest of the errors were caused by moving a control the wrong way, moving it unintentionally or by not being able to reach it.

Robert V. Garrett, chief pilot and a senior accident investigator for the civil aeronautics board, says two things need to be done:

1. Cockpits should be standardized.

2. Pilots should be trained more.

The air force and the navy have taken one important step toward standardization by grouping the six basic instruments used in "blind flying." These are the air speed indicator, directional gyro-compass, artificial horizon, altimeter, turn and bank indicator.

Most errors, in fact about one-fifth of all pilot mistakes, occur in the "power group"—the four handles which control fuel mixture, propeller pitch, fuel and supercharger. They must be operated in that order when increasing power, and in the reverse order to decrease it.

Need Natural Arrangement

The natural arrangement would appear to be to place the controls in the order of use, but few planes have it that way.

The second most common failing—confusing flap and wheels—accounts for one error in eight. In most airplanes those controls are in the same area and sometimes have the same shape. Both are used in landings and takeoffs.

Garrett proposes that all cockpits be standardized, whether for military, commercial or private planes.

A further step might be changing the movement of some controls, such as from horizontal to vertical or rotary. Still another step might be to place the light used to show whether a control is on or off right in the handle instead of above, below or beside it.

The next big move for safety is to increase training. Flight training is expensive. It costs as much as $1,500 an hour in a large 4-engine plane. When a mistake occurs it can be very expensive, but not as expensive as it would be at a later date.

Youthful Iowa Pranksters

Enact "Ganglike Killing"

MANNING, IOWA.—Townpeople here who stumbled over each other in their attempts to get out of the way of a murderous gangster car now are attempting to convince themselves that they knew it was a fake all the time.

Five high school youths from Audubon admitted that they staged the "killing," complete with blank shotgun shells and bloodlike catnip, to relieve the monotony of a dull Sunday afternoon.

They said that after they drove to Manning, James McLeran, one of the youths, began running down Main street. Two others chased him and fired three shotgun blasts. McLeran fell, spilling catnip as he did so. The other roared up in McLeran's car, tossed the "body" into the back seat, and sped out of town.

Frightened witnesses called Sheriff Tom Finegan, who thought he had a crime on his hands until several youths told him they had seen the "death car" earlier in the afternoon and that some Audubon boys were in it.

Finegan traced the youths to the Audubon high school, where he found that everyone knew about the "killing." He arrested the youths and took them to the county jail at Carroll. The boys promised: "We won't do it again."

Late for Work, Woman Calls Police for Transportation

EVANSVILLE, IND.—When Katherine Hoskinson, deputy city clerk, couldn't get a taxicab to take her to work, she called police. Two breathless patrolmen arrived. But Mrs. Hoskinson was late, anyway. It took her quite a while to explain to the police that nothing was wrong and all she wanted was a free ride to city hall.

Keynoter Albin W. Barkeley of Kentucky made a fighting speech at the Democratic National Convention Monday night. He made a vigorous defense of the Democratic party, and the leaders of the Republican party must have winced as he skinned that party from head to foot. Citing the fact that Republicans, invariably speak of the New Deal as a thing to be held in contempt and to be ridiculed, he recited the record of new and progressive things done by Democrats that he said constitute the New Deal, and then he called upon the Republicans to speak out and say what one of these measures they would repeal. He even gave them a keen thrust for their professed opposition to bureaucracy. "What is a bureaucrat?" he asked. "A bureaucrat," he answered, "is a Democrat holding an office that some Republican wants. He chided the Republicans for the record they have made in the present Congress, which they control. It stirred the enthusiasm of many Democrats to white heat, but the News editor would not undertake to forecast at this time, Tuesday morning, what fights and schisms may yet arise to mar the chance of the Democratic party at the polls in November.

Gen. Eisenhower meant what he said when he announced months ago that he would not accept a Democratic nomination for the Presidency. Many Democrats throughout the country still believe that if drafted he would accept, so they were sorely disappointed when he flatly turned down such suggestions made on the eve of the convention. In fact, they were "flabbergasted." Left high and dry without a candidate, they knew not which way to turn. They knew that the nomination of President Truman had become inevitable. Eisenhower might have been a strong candidate than Truman, but we are really glad that he did not accept. If elected, he could not have given the almost universal satisfaction that he gave as leader of the American military forces in Europe. He had not been trained for political life. He probably would have been a failure as President. We hope, but somewhat doubt, that he can make a great president of Columbia University. Maybe he can at least keep Communists and near-Communists off its faculty. The same goes for Atheists and other scoffers at Christianity.

PETTY H. D. CLUB PLANS TACKY PARTY

The Petty H. D. Club met July 7 in Mrs. E. R. Esch's home. Five members and one visitor were present. The Club planned a tacky party to be held on July 27 at Mrs. N. H. Cromer's home. This is to be a party for all Petty people. Ice cream and cones are to be served. Miss Hard, who also met with the Club, gave a demonstration on how to take care of your linens, which was very interesting. Cake and punch were served to the five members and one visitor and Miss Hard. — Reporter.

To The People Of Lynn County;

Dear Friends:

Since it has been impossible for me to see each of you personally, or to make a house to house canvass and at the same time carry on the duties of the office of County Clerk properly, I want to take this means of soliciting your vote in the Primary Election which is to be held on July 24th.

I will let you be the Judge as to whether or not I have made you a hand, and if you believe I have done so, I would appreciate your vote on July 24th, and if you see fit to re-elect me to the Office of County Clerk of Lynn County, I pledge to you my continued efforts to serve you to the best of my ability.

Mrs. Buddy Smith was appointed delegate to the County Home Demonstration Council under Mrs. C. L. Murray resigned.

A Supper to be held July 16 at 8:00 p. m. in the Joe Stokes Community Center was planned by the club as a means of raising club funds. The price was set at 50c per plate for anyone who wishes to attend.

STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Austin, Texas, July 14. According to the morbidity report for the week ending July 3, more than 463 cases of diphtheria occurred throughout the state so far this year.

The morbidity report is released weekly by the Texas State Department of Health. It shows the prevalence of communicable disease by counties.

"In the light of our present knowledge regarding the control of diphtheria, it is unfortunate that the disease is allowed to flourish," Dr. Cox, State Health Officer, said.

For the week June 26 to July 3, Nueces County reported four cases; Hopkins, Tarrant and Val Verde Counties reported one each. For the year 1947, seventy-seven deaths from diphtheria were recorded.

"A life-time immunity may be established in 90 per cent 90 of the children receiving the diphtheria toxoid," the health officer said. "If all parents of children over six months of age would have their children inoculated, the incidence rate of the disease would be rapidly reduced."

The administration of toxoid causes little or no discomfort in the child, Dr. Cox added, and a positive immunity can be determined by a Schick test conducted four to six months after the final dose of the toxoid has been given the child.

THE BANISTER HAVE OUT-OF-STATE VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Banister had visitors in their home over last week-end, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gwatney of Conway, Arkansas, and Rev. John Head of Walters, Oklahoma. Their wives are sisters of Mrs. Banister, but Mrs. Head was not able to come.

In the spring of 1947, they had a family reunion in the Head home, but Mr. Gwatney was not able to be there at that time. Until last week-end Mrs. Banister had not seen this brother-in-law in forty-two years.

The visit here was a most happy occasion for all concerned.

Under administrative control of the Office of Naval Research, 29 non-governmental scientific agencies will spend $1,300,000 conducting biological and medical research projects for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Campbell of Wilson took a vacation trip last week up through the state of Colorado.

ATTENDS REUNION AT MUNDAY

Mrs. Sammie Norwood returned one day last week from Munday, Texas, where the seven sisters and one brother, together with their families and their children's families, had met on July 4 in a great family reunion. This was the first time in twenty years that all the sisters and the brother had been together. Relatives and friends present numbered 65.

The day was spent in Seymour Park, Mrs. Norwood reports, where dinner was served picnic style. The afternoon, she says, was spent in conversation and making pictures, and many of the young folks went in swimming.

Relatives and friends were there from Munday, Roby, Merkel, California, Tahoka, Abilene, Cedar Hill, Pensacola, Florida, Dallas, Ballinger, O'Brien, and Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Virgil Crawford of Brownfield, candidate for district attorney, was interviewing some of the voters in Tahoka Tuesday, and called briefly at the News office. His only opponent, Stansell Clement of Lamesa, has been here several times recently on the same mission. Though opponents in this race they are personally good friends, and each speaks well of the other. Both are in fact fine fellows. It is a fine thing for good men to be able to run for the same office without throwing mud or casting aspersions at each other.

Local Boys At Baptist Camp

In spite of the fact that the First Baptist Church here has had no pastor for more than three months and the further fact that the new Baptist encampment grounds in the White River Canyon seven miles south of Floydada have not yet been fully improved and made ready for use, six Tahoka boys attended camp there this week, two junior boys and four intermediates.

On the eve of the opening of the boys' encampment, a few interested members of the Tahoka Church procured two tents and A. L. Smith and Clay Bennett hastened to the camp grounds Monday morning and erected the tents. They came back delighted with the set-up there as developed up to this time. Tents, they said, had been erected all over the grounds, presenting a beautiful sight.

Educational Director Sheldon Russell left about noon, accompanied by two Tahoka boys, Kenneth Durham and James Smith, to attend the Junior Boys encampment. He returned with them Wednesday afternoon, and reported that when he left more than five hundred boys had already been enrolled in camp. Under the preaching of District Missionary Frank Swanner, there had already been more than forty professions of faith.

On Wednesday at noon, Pat Hutchison, accompanied by Carroll T. A. Y. and three other intermediate boys, Glenn Wells, Audrey McKee, and Paxton Hutchison, left for the Intermediate Boys camp, which was to begin Wednesday night and continues until noon Friday.

AGED COUPLE NEEDS CLOSER ATTENTION

With good neighbors on all sides who look after their needs frequently, yet Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fairies, who reside in South Tahoka, became the helpless victims of unfortunate circumstances one day recently which caused them much anxiety and distress.

Mrs. Fairies has been confined to her bed by illness for many years and is unable to take care of herself. Mr. Fairies has been doing his best to take care of her and at the same time to do their cooking and other household work. But the years are creeping on and he is gradually becoming feeble and less able to perform these duties.

One day last week while undertaking to do so, his feet and legs gave way and he slumped down on the floor. For two hours or more he lay there unable to arise or to help himself. His wife could only lie helpless in bed and weep. Finally he did manage to work himself around to the door and call for help until his cries were heard and answered.

The people of Tahoka should take steps to see that the needs of this aged couple are looked after, that they are supplied with a sufficiency of food and that same is regularly prepared for them.

Neighbors have been kindly undertaking to help them, but have not always been aware of the dire need which faced them.

FARMERS REMINDED OF COTTON POOL PROVISION

All 1947-crop loan cotton still under loan on August 1, 1948, will be pooled by Commodity Credit Corporation for the producers' accounts. Clarence Church, Chairman of the Lynn County Agricultural Conservation Committee reminded cotton farmers of Lynn county this week.

Mr. Church said that all 1947-crop cotton under CCC loan that is not redeemed by August 1, 1948, will be placed in pools and sold in an orderly manner by CCC. After July 31, 1948, producers will not be entitled to order the sale of the cotton. The loans mature on that date.

When all the cotton in the pools has been sold, the net proceeds, if any, after deduction of all advances, interest and accrued costs, will be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in the pools.

Before July 31, 1948, farmers with loan cotton, may either sell their "equity" in the cotton or redeem it from the loan and sell on the open market.

Garland Pennington, who suffered an attack of heart trouble or a "stroke" of some kind on Wednesday night of last week, was taken to a Lubbock hospital Tuesday afternoon for a check-up and probably treatment.

Yes, fellows (dads, too), it's fun to fly your model planes on control wires. Most of the time your wires are short enough to go under power lines. But if they don't—well, once is enough for a bad accident! The best way is never to fly ANYTHING near any kind of lines. Then you'll be sure you won't tangle with them.

By the way: If you go in for "free flight," your plane may get hung up in the lines or atop a pole some time. Don't try to rescue it yourself. Call your Public Service office for a lineman or serviceman to handle the job. When you're flying model planes, be a careful pilot—always!

23 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

Candidates . . .

In the race for governor there are eight candidates. The name of the present governor, Beauford Jester, happens to be the last on the Lynn county ballot. It is needless to say the News to comment at length on Governor Jester. He is holding his first term and is a candidate for re-election. Before his election as governor, he had served for several years as state railroad commissioner, which also has jurisdiction over oil production and regulations relating thereto, making it a very important position. In his first campaign for governor, Jester had as one of the main planks in his platform the promise that during his administration no new taxes should be levied. He has adhered pretty closely to that promise, although, because of this policy, he has been charged with being the protector of the special interests, such as the big oil and gas corporations, the sulphur interests, etc.

Roger Q. Evans of Grayson county and Caso March of McLennan county are Jester's chief opponents. Evans is a veteran of both World Wars and is catering largely to the soldier vote.

Caso March is advocating an increase of the tax on natural gas, oil, sulphur, and other natural resources as a means of paying the expenses of the state government, financing the public schools, building farm-to-market roads, etc.

George H. Mahon has no opponent this year for the office of Representative in Congress.

There are two candidates for lieutenant governor, Allen Shivers of Jefferson county and Turner Walker of Harris county. Shivers is serving his first term and is a candidate for re-election. He has never been very popular in this section of the state, but his opponent, who is a resident of Houston, is practically unknown in West Texas. The News can give no light regarding him.

Price Daniel is a candidate for re-election as attorney general without an opponent.

There are two candidates for chief justice of the state supreme court, J. E. Hickman of Eastland and Charles Rowland of Tarrant county. The lawyers of the Lynn County bar might give some light on Rowland; this newspaper is not prepared to do so. Judge Hickman is now serving on the supreme court. For many years he was a member of the court of civil appeals at Eastland. He is an able jurist and a princely gentleman, and as long as he is a member of the supreme court the people will be assured of able, honest, and efficient service.

Harry N. Graves of Georgetown and W. E. Myres of Fort Worth are opposing candidates for judge of the court of criminal appeals.

Graves is the present incumbent and is an experienced jurist. Myres has long been an assistant prosecutor in Johnson and Tarrant counties and has been serving recently as assistant district attorney in Tarrant county. He is vigorous as a prosecutor.

We advise our readers to consult the lawyers of the county regarding the candidates for these and other judicial positions.

Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, who has long been a member of the state railroad commission, has an opponent this year in the person of Tom Blakey of Houston. We know nothing of Blakey. Thompson is probably one of the best informed men in the United States regarding oil and railroads. We know of no reason why he should not be retained in this position.

There is an unexpired term for railroad commissioner also to be filled, with three candidates for the job all from Houston. We tender no information and no advice.

There are several other state offices which we must pass over.

There are four candidates for the state senate from this district, the present senator, Sterling G. Parrish, County Judge Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa, Dudley Brummett and Ralph Brock, both Lubbock attorneys.

At least three of these candidates have spoken in Tahoka but the writer happened to be out-of-town or without previous knowledge of the speaking on each occasion and did not hear either of them. We do not feel prepared therefore to comment.

Preston E. Smith of Lubbock is a candidate for re-election as Representative in the legislature from this district and has no opponent.

Virgil Crawford of Brownfield and Stansell Clement of Lamesa are opposing candidates for district attorney. Both are fine fellows and good lawyers. It looks as if Callo-way Huffaker of Tahoka, who is not a candidate for re-election, is going to have a worthy successor in one or the other of these gentlemen.

Our only other advice is to inform yourselves to the best of your ability to do so and then go to the polls and vote your sentiments.

Go early, so that the people may have early returns.

school at the western limits of the city to the cotton yards in the northeast section of the town. And so on to the northern limits of the city.

The street running east from the northeast corner of the square to the eastern limits of the city and west from the northwest corner of the square to the western limits of the city is designated as South First Street. It appears on the city map as Porterfield street.

The street running east from the southeast corner of the square to the railroad and west from the southwest corner of the square to the western limits of the city is South Second Street.

Other streets running east and west in South Tahoka are South Third, South Fourth, etc.

The street running north and south in front of the News office from the northern limits of the city to the public square and thence on south down the O'Donnell highway is still Sweet Street.

The paved street running north from the vicinity of the Westside

Grocery Store to the northern limits of the city, intersecting North Third street near its halfway point is designated as Kelsey Street. The street running north and south in front of the Baptist Church is Petty Street.

These are the main streets of the city along which sign posts have been erected. Our people should familiarize themselves with these street numbers and names so as to be able to pretty accurately locate any given point in the town.

WILSON IS NOW ON A BUS LINE

A new bus line was recently established and is now in operation through the town of Wilson.

This is said to be a Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma project. Two buses operate daily between Lubbock and Waco and possibly for a longer distance, as the T-N-M&O lines extend from Waco to Clovis. The route of the new service passes through Eastland, Stamford, Aspermont, Post, Wilson, and Lubbock. One car comes from the east at 9:00 a. m. and one from the west at 8:30 p. m. daily. The farm-to-market road from the Garza county line on through Wilson and to a connection with highway No. 87 at Wayside, which the State has promised to take over and maintain, is being used by the new bus service.

HUGE OUTLAYS PLANNED IN COUNTY FOR REPAIRS

That sum will be expended largely on painting, carpentry work, roofing repairs and plumbing, the report disclosed. "Greater availability of building materials will make possible a record amount of home improvement throughout the nation this year," declared Malcolm Schweiker, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

About 30 of every 100 homes in Texas will be painted, either inside or out, during 1948 and 17 will have roofs repaired or replaced, according to the report. Seven will have plumbing overhauled, bathrooms tiled or showers installed and six will have carpentry work done, the report revealed.

"To meet demands for materials for both new homes and home repairs, production has been stepped up in practically every type of material," said Mr. Schweiker. The output of ceramic tile for bathrooms and kitchens, for instance, is now at the highest rate in history, government reports show.

Throughout the nation between $2,600,000,000 and $3,300,000,000 will be spent this year on home repair, according to the Tile Council report. This is believed the largest amount ever expended for such work.

From January to May of this year Navy and Coast Guard crews destroyed 143 floating Japanese mines which had just reached the West Coast since the recent war.

NEW PRESIDENT NAMED FOR TEXAS TECH

The Board of Trustees of Texas Technological College in session in Fort Worth Saturday named President D. M. Wiggins of the Texas College of Mines, El Paso, as president of Texas Tech. The vote for Wiggins is said to have been unanimous. Eleven other applicants had appeared before the board that day. A number of still other men had been considered.

Wiggins will take office on September 1. He succeeds Dr. W. M. Whyburn, who rendered his resignation several weeks ago to become chairman of the Department of Mathematics in the University of North Carolina.

Wiggins, 52 years of age, is a West Texas product. His parents reside at Canadian in the Panhandle. As a youth he attended Goodnight College for two years. He attended Simmons College and received his bachelor of arts degree from that institution in 1919. He did graduate work in the University of Chicago but received his M. A. degree from Yale University in 1926. Then he came back to Hardin-Simmons University as Professor of Education and also served as dean of students. In 1930 he received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Yale. He had been president of the Texas College of Mines in El Paso since 1936.

Dr. Wiggins has been married since 1917 but he and his wife have no children.

Read This, Men, Before You Criticize the Wife's Hat

CHICAGO, ILL.—Pause long enough to read this, fellows, before you blow your top about the ladies' bonnets.

A deliver-into history comes up with the information that men originated the idea of wearing hats for the sake of ornamentation. Specifically, they were ancient Egyptian men. Their crowning glory was a military type cap made of stiff wool. It was a foot and a half high.

"They wore such a hat because it could be adorned with symbols of rank," says J. Morris Jones, managing editor of the World Book encyclopedia. "These symbols included the asp for sovereignty, the lotus for abundance, the feather for authority. They were the equivalent of today's low license number and identified the wearer as an important character."

"Hats for women did not appear until centuries later."

GOP Convention Hands Nomination To Dewey in Display of Unanimity; Warren Second Choice on Ticket

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

GOVERNOR DEWEY AND FAMILY

... They want a new, white house ...

DEWEY EYED

GOP Convention

Out of the smoke-blurred rooms during the recess before the third roll call came the word: It was Dewey—first again with the medicine men.

From the very beginning of the GOP convention in the sweltering confines of Philadelphia's convention hall it was a simple case of Dewey against the field. The field was composed of Taft, Stassen, Vandenberg, Warren and MacArthur, plus a scattering of favorite sons.

Despite some frenetic jockeying for delegates by Dewey, Taft and Stassen over the week-end preceding the convention, the big three of the GOP started out on Monday with their pre-convention alignments unchanged.

But by the time Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois had finished with his keynote address Monday night it was apparent that a stop-Dewey movement was struggling to get under way. As it turned out that movement never did get beyond the struggling stage and Dewey remained virtually the only one unaffected by it.

In retrospect, the convention by that time already had assumed an inexorable course toward the Dewey camp. Second-guessers maintained that the whole affair oozed along as if motivated by some fundamental and changeless law, although that was not fully evident until the convention could be viewed as a finished product.

If there was a fundamental law it was compounded from a series of heterogeneous factors, political and personal.

First of all there was the superbly functioning Dewey machine, operating with almost 100 per cent efficiency to coral votes.

Secondly, the Dewey opposition was divided. Taft and Stassen, poles apart in their political philosophy within the Republican party, could not get together. Stassen flatly refused a deal and Taft kept waiting for a break that never came. California's Gov. Earl Warren refused to have a hand in a stop-Dewey drive, insisted he was running for the nomination and not just against Dewey. Vandenberg added to the confusion by remaining silent, noncommittal and even disinterested.

Nomination

Actual climax of the convention came when Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania renounced his favorite son candidacy and threw his support, backed by about half the members of Pennsylvania's 73 delegates, to Dewey. That started the blitzkrieg. From then on it was Dewey and downhill all the way.

As the crucial balloting began in humid, steaming convention hall it became more evident that a stop-Dewey coalition had not jelled.

On the first roll call it was Dewey 434, Taft 224, Stassen 166. On the second ballot Dewey had gone up to 515 and Taft to 274, while Stassen dropped to 149.

At that point the convention recessed for three hours, a move engineered by Taft, Stassen and other anti-Dewey leaders to give them time to decide whether or not to continue the fight.

When the convention reconvened for the third roll call the stop-Dewey drive had changed to a nominate-Dewey, stampeo. Sen. John Bricker of Ohio was the first on the rostrum to withdraw from the Republican party.

NOMINEE

Dewey Runs on Calculated Ambition

Thomas Edmund Dewey is a success story in himself, featuring the kind of success that is achieved not happenstance but through precisely calculated ambition spearheaded by precisely directed energy.

At 46 he has been elected governor of New York twice and defeated once for the same office. Moreover, he has received the Rename of his state's candidate, Senator Taft. This was swiftly followed by similar withdrawals by Warren, Stassen, Vandenberg and MacArthur.

GOVERNOR WARREN

... He accepted ...

On the third ballot the 1,094 delegates to the convention nominated Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as their unanimous choice to run as the Republican candidate for President in 1948.

Warren

Selection of Gov. Earl Warren of California as the Republican nominee for vice-president came as a complete shock to almost everyone, despite the fact that the choice was a logical and reasonable one.

Warren was a surprise pick because prior to the convention he had maintained stoutly that he could not afford to take the vice-presidency and would not accept the second spot.

It was even more a departure from the norm in that the Dewey-Warren ticket failed to offer a grain of consolation to the old guard and isolationist wing of the party. Warren has strongly internationalist political views—even more so than Dewey—and has been a consistent critic of the GOP isolationists.

Initial speculation as to the vice-president spot ran to Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana or Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, both of the "conservative Republican" tradition.

But in the night-long pow-wow that followed the Dewey nomination it was Warren who was chosen. Dewey himself averred that he had not influenced the choice, that the party leaders had become convinced that the California governor was the best bet.

Nevertheless, Dewey had had to make certain promises in order to get Warren for the job: The vice-presidency, he said, no longer would be the stale, flat and unprofitable post it has been. He planned to make Warren a "full partner."

Significance

Whether the GOP convention constructed its policy platform to fit the candidates or nominated the candidates to fit the platform is, of course, an impossible question. Nevertheless, the Republicans managed to do both.

Categorically, the platform is a sound, forward-looking one in the light of the issues, both foreign and domestic, to be faced.

Strongly internationalist and bipartisan in tone, it rejects the old line of isolationism for isolationism's sake and upholds the European recovery program.

That foreign policy stand, harmonizing as it does with the previously stated convictions of Dewey and Warren, may stand as a historic milestone in development of the Republican party.

CRACKDOWN:

Marshal Tito

Russia's iron curtain had twitched apart along its Yugoslavian seam to provide a glimpse of the Communist stage set with the rickety scenery of dissension, fear and insecurity.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia was the central figure, but remained so for only a brief instant before his Soviet bosses whisked him off the boards.

Plain fact was that Tito, hitherto the fair-haired boy of eastern European communism, had been all but purged from the Communist party because he was trying to make a play for western capitalism.

Actually he, together with his henchmen in the Yugoslav government, was ousted from the all-important Cominform (Communist information bureau) which was established last year to provide greater unity for the Soviet satellite states of eastern Europe.

Tito and his regime were charged with virtually everything the Soviet politburo considers a crime—ranging from Trotskyism and anti-Sovietism to "ineptness" and "false demagogic tactics."

Behind this official facade which the Communists had thrown up, however, were the real reasons for Tito's expulsion from grace:

As the only wartime hero of the Communists the Yugoslav marshal had begun to take himself too seriously, hence, was beginning to feel the need to express his own opinions and policies on matters political and economic. Stalin wanted no other boss in his sphere.

Tito was building up a "personal police" army which was molesting other Communists, including Russians, in Belgrade. Also, he had followed an independent foreign policy without Moscow's approval.

Finally he committed the cardinal sin of currying favor with western capitalist diplomats with an eye to obtaining reconstruction credits for Yugoslavia.

SERVICE:

Drafting

That draft which men in the 19-through-25 age group are beginning to feel is the result of the U. S. armed forces drawing in their breath and preparing to expand all over the place.

Between next fall and next summer the services plan on calling about 30,000 draft-age young men every month. Drafting is scheduled to start about September 22.

With a strength of 837,000 authorized by congress in the selective service bill, the army has estimated that it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 selectees to approach its authorized strength. That number is in addition to the 220,000 or 300,000 volunteers it so fervently hopes it will get.

In discussing plans for this second peacetime draft in U. S. history, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall explained that the army now has 542,000 men but it won't jump to the 837,000 figure immediately because funds for the fiscal year which began July 1 are not sufficient.

Thus, by July 1, 1949, the size of the army will be an estimated 790,000. The peacetime draft is a relatively slow functioning process. Certainly it can't compare with the wartime levying of manpower. Peak of the induction rate during the war was reached in February, 1943, when 403,374 men received their greetings.

When the army attains its full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular army divisions. Backstopping these will be six national guard divisions, together with other supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops.

BLOCKADE:

Berlin

Russia's freight blockade of Berlin, while a stark enough action in its own right, nevertheless was a secondary manifestation of the same old cold war crisis arising out of the Soviet bid for power in Europe.

While American and British planes by the hundreds were flying in food to besieged Berliners the western powers were pondering a question they had had to answer in 1938 when Hitler was in power—whether or not to appease.

Long range plans of the Kremlin, of which the Berlin blockade is just one phase, call for the forcing of the western Allies out of Berlin. This, according to Soviet thinking, could be done by either of two means: Either by threats and terrorization involving the risk of war, or by a four-power negotiation which could be hoped to result in a western appeasement policy such as grew out of the ill-starred Munich conference of 1938.

Britain and the U. S. are on a dangerous spot. If they pulled out of Berlin under pressure of force applied by Russia the power and influence of western democracy would be perilously weakened in Europe.

Emotional Asthma

Asthma, with its painful choking and wheezing, often may be the result of an emotional disturbance rather than being brought on by purely physical factors.

Dr. F. B. Schutzbach of Tucson, Ariz., told the American Medical association meeting in Chicago that many of the asthmatic victims who flee to Arizona for relief could save the trip simply by curbing their family quarrels and other distresses.
