New Oil Pool Near Tahoka Indicated By Discovery Well

Lynn county for the past week has been getting a big play from "lease hounds", following the announcement Thursday of last week that the Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson "wildcat", drilling at 9,428 feet in the Pennsylvania lime, had encountered oil and gas. Reports indicated a 1300-barrel produced.

The well is located about 13 miles northeast of Brownfield, but is just over the Lynn county line in Terry county, about six or seven miles northwest of West Point, and just west of the Oscar Roberts and Marvin Wood ranch.

Active leasing has been in progress ever since, with both major companies and speculators leasing all the way up to Tahoka's townsite and even beyond. Land is being leased generally at $5.00 per acre, possibly some of it higher, all of which is bringing a considerable amount of money to Lynn county farmers even if production does not come this way.

A drillstem test made last week. The News is informed, showed 67 strands of oil and five strands of mud, indicating a producer and a newly discovered Plains oil pool. According to Tuesday's Lubbock Journal, a third drillstem test had been made in the pay section at 9,439-55 feet.

The Journal says: "The tool was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in six minutes. There was a steady blow of gas for one hour and 30 minutes, and gas by heads for the last 30 minutes of the period. "No fluid flowed out at the top. However, some observers think that if the tester had been left open for another 30 minutes, that the section would have flowed.

"Recovery was 8,200 feet of clean oil, and 450 feet of heavy oil and gas cut drilling mud. No formation water developed. "Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,300 pounds at the end of the two-hour test. After a 15-minute shut-in it registered 2,000 pounds. Gravity of the oil was 41.3 degrees.

"Operator has run a Schumberger survey and project is now waiting on orders as to whether to run pipe and complete, or drill deeper.

The new field opener is . . . 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, PSL survey. It topped the pay at 9,405 feet, and logged 50 feet of saturated zone, and has not found anywhere."

Pastor Addresses Meeting of Men

Rev. C. T. Aly, pastor of the Baptist Church here, gave the inspirational address at the meeting of the Association Brotherhood in the First Baptist Church of Brownfield Tuesday night.

The address and a couple of musical numbers which preceded it, followed a "feed" provided by the Brownfield Brotherhood. Some nine or ten churches were represented at the meet. Fifteen men and two boys were in attendance from Tahoka, Wilson, Redwine, Wells, and Lakeview were also represented, as were several churches in Terry county.

The address of the Tahoka pastor received much favorable comment.

Upon the suggestion of Rev. A. A. Brian of Brownfield a collection was taken amounting to about $68.00 and a committee was appointed to solicit further contributions to a fund for the purchase of a mimeograph for the Missionary in Alaska who is being supported by the Brownfield Association.

Miss Gussie Hickerson of Crawford spent a few days here last week visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hickerson. She has been a teacher in the Crawford public schools for the past 28 years.

Mrs. W. C. Mathis Jr. and sons Don Mack and Tom Mike of Carlsbad, New Mexico, spent several days here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Milliken.

Drive-In Store Is Opened In City

The new Pik & Pak store, located at the corner of Main and N. Second street, is now open for business. It is owned by Messrs. O. J. Winborn and A. A. Heath, who last year bought the ice plant from Southwestern Public Service company, and who later purchased the G. R. Milliken home and lots.

The store is a beautiful little drive-in store featuring groceries, frozen foods, dairy products, and ice, and is modern in every respect. Next year, the old Milliken home will be replaced with a new, modern ice plant, taking place of the present plant which still is located at the power plant.

More Street Signs Will Be Put Up

Dr. K. R. Durham, mayor, has explained to the News that the street signs appear to be so few for the reason that not all of them have been erected yet. The City work force just hasn't had time to complete the job. When completed there will be a sign at practically every street intersection in the City.

CATCH THE FISH

Calloway and Maurice, Huffaker, Hick Gibson, and Clyde Ashcraft returned the first of the week from a trout fishing trip up on the head of the Pecos in Northern New Mexico. They report a nice catch, though most of the fish were small.

In truth, it was a fine little baby girl, weighing 6 lbs. 9 1/2 ounces, and she has been named Vivian Hope. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCord of this city are her grandparents, and Grandpa and Grandma Bert Short are about as proud of it as are E. L. and the mother.

STANSELL CLEMENTS

Clements Leads For District Attorney

The latest published election returns indicate that Stanley Clements of Lamesa has won the District Attorney's race over Virgil Crawford of Brownfield by one of the closest contests ever staged in this section of the State.

With 13,638 votes tabulated, according to figures gathered by the Lubbock-Avalanche, Clements has received 6,824 of them and Crawford 6,814, a difference of only 10 votes.

According to returns published by Dawson County Courier, the contest was a little closer than that. It gives Clements a total of 6,820 and Crawford a total of 6,813, a difference of only 7 votes.

The vote by counties, as given by the Courier is as follows for all counties except Lynn, in which there was a patent error in the Courier report, for which we substitute the correct Lynn county vote.

Wallace Planning Drive-In Theatre

Wallace Theatres this week completed a deal for 12 acres of land one and one-half miles south of the square, lying adjacent to and just east of Highway 87, according to Lester Flood, local manager. The land was bought from Arthur Hodge.

A new drive-in theatre will be erected on the site after the first of the year, according to Mr. Flood. The theatre, similar to those recently built near Lubbock and other cities in this area, will be modern in every respect, and will permit the public to view and hear picture shows without getting out of their cars.

This will give Tahoka four movie theatres.

Jester Governor, Run-off For Senate,

By Tuesday night, most of the votes in Saturday's primary election had been counted and most of the contests settled.

With 1,136,261 votes counted in the race for governor, Jester had a majority of more than 100,000 over all his seven opponents. It looks as if nearly everybody was for Jester down-state.

It was not quite so one-sided in the race for the U. S. Senate, but Stevenson led out like a greyhound in that contest. He received 64,579 more votes than his closest opponent, Lyndon B. Johnson. There will be a run-off in this contest, and Johnson could win, but the chances are strongly against him.

Broken down, here is the way the candidates for governor came out. Jester, 618,212; Evans, 258,328; March, 170,988; Hutchison, 22,624; Stockton, 19,748; May, 19,131; Whiteley, 14,821; Minton, 12,409.

For the Senate, with 1,162,095 votes accounted for, Stevenson led with 457,709 votes; Johnson, 393,130; Peady, 231,308; Myers, 14,182; Collier, 11,899; Cortez, 11,747; Davis, 10,536; Alford, 10,183; Sanders, 8,786; Clark, 7,027; Sledge, 5,578. George Sheppard was re-elected State Comptroller; James, State Treasurer; Ernest O. Thompson, Railroad commissioner, regular term; Murry for the Unexpired term; Shivers, lieutenant governor.

J. E. Hickman was re-elected chief justice of the supreme court, and Harry N. Graves, judge of the court of criminal appeal. In a few races, there will be a run-off.

REVIVAL STARTS AT REDWINE CHURCH

Rev. T. L. Pond, the pastor of Redwine Baptist Church, announces that a revival will begin there Sunday morning to continue until Wednesday night, August 11.

He will be assisted in the services by Rev. Harley Hughes of Whiteface, who will do the preaching. Dick Patterson of Redwine will conduct the song services, with Miss Mary Bell Walters as pianist.

The public is cordially invited to these services.

NEW LYNN BAPTIST REVIVAL BEGINS SATURDAY NIGHT

A ten-day revival meeting will be begun in the Baptist Church at New Lynn Saturday night, according to an announcement given to the News.

Rev. John Holford of Levelland will do the preaching, and it will be "good old-time preaching," according to the announcer.

Services will be held each day at 11:00 a. m. and at 8:00 p. m. Every body is cordially invited.

Captain Kenneth E. Nevill, who was recently called back into the Service, left Sunday for the Hamilton Air Force Base at San Rafael, California, where he will be stationed temporarily. He expects to be sent overseas soon.

As a matter of permanent record for future reference, the News hopes to run the election results in Lynn county in tabulated form next week, but due to the fact that the county executives committee did not meet until Wednesday to canvass the returns and some matters to be determined by the whole committee remained undetermined until that day, affecting slightly the final returns, County Chairman C. H. Cain was unable to furnish the News the entire vote in advance just as it might be determined by the committee. The matters in doubt would only slightly change the final figures and would not change the result in any contest, however.

With that explanation, the News gives the number of votes for each candidate, subject to slight changes in some instances.

FOR United States Senator: Coke R. Stevenson, 1,173; Lyndon B. Johnson, 1069; George Peady, 378; all others, eight in number, 180.

FOR Governor: Roger Q. Evans, 809; Caso March, 796; Beauford H. Jester, 992; all others, five in number, 238.

FOR Lieutenant Governor: Allan Shivers of Jefferson county, 2,031; Turner Walker of Harris county, 816.

FOR Chief Justice Supreme Court: J. E. Hickman of Eastland county, 1,898; Charles T. Rowland of Travis county, 815.

FOR Associate Justice Supreme Court: James P. Hart of Travis county, 1,628; John A. Rawlins of Dallas county, 954.

FOR Associate Justice Supreme Court (Unexpired Term): W. St. John Garwood of Harris county, 958; Jefferson G. Smith of Travis county, 1,572.

Plans Made For Farm Program

Plans and provisions of the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program are "shaping up" so that farmers of Texas will not be delayed in making their conservation plans for the coming year. According to B. F. Vance, Chairman of the State PMA Committee, the 1949 National Outline, approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, has been received. The National Outline is made up of practices recommended by the State PMA and County Agricultural Conservation Committees after the advice and assistance of soil and crop specialists of State and Federal Agricultural Agencies.

State PMA Officials, soil and crop specialists of State and Federal agricultural Agencies met with County Agricultural Conservation Committees and Administrative Officers in the State PMA Office in College Station July 19, 20, and 21 to review the National Outline and to develop the State Agricultural Conservation Program.

The conservation practices for 1949 have been re-grouped under six major objectives which focus attention on the soil and water problems the practices are to help correct. The first objective is "Practices to Protect Farm Soil Erosion by Wind and Water." In this group are such practices as the construction of dams, terraces, sod waterways, farming on the contour, strip-cropping and planting trees.

Other practices are grouped under the following objectives: "Developing Cropping Systems to Restore and Maintain Soil Productivity." "Practices to Conserve and Obtain Efficient Use of Irrigation Water." "Forestry and drainage practices are the other groups.

In 1949 there will be an increased emphasis on local use of the program to meet specific and "most serious" conservation problems. County Committees will be encouraged to "push" practices which are most needed in meeting local problems. In many instances this will mean the introduction of practices which are not well-known in the county or community and which need added assistance to get them started.

WYATT FAMILIES TAKE PLEASURE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wyatt and their son C. V. Wyatt and his wife returned Tuesday from a nine-days trip that took them to the Gulf Coast and over into Old Mexico far to the west.

Visiting first in San Antonio and Corpus Christi, they then set out toward the setting sun. At Del Rio, they crossed over into Old Mexico for a side trip into the land of the Montezumas, but they found nobody but strangers over there who spoke a strange language. They didn't get scared but they got mighty lonesome, so when their big shiny limousine just automatically turned around and started to burning the breeze back toward Del Rio the driver just sort of unconsciously pushed down on the accelerator and forgot to use the brakes. It felt good back on this side of the rushing Rio Grande. Once back in Texas, they had plenty of spare time on their hands and drove clear over to Corsicana to see a brother of the elder Mrs. Wyatt.

TAHOKA PEOPLE VISIT BRADY, SAN MARCOS

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Caraway, former residents of Tahoka, came up from Odessa recently and took their mother, Mrs. M. L. Henry, to Brady, where she visited while they went on to San Marcos to visit their son LaVaughn Caraway, who is attending College there.

They returned to Tahoka early last week, accompanied by Mrs. L. B. "Aunt Basilla" Adams, who makes her home with Mrs. Henry, her sister, but who had been visiting her son and his family in Brady the past three months.

Miss Bernice Edwards was here Sunday visiting her brother Roy Edwards and Mrs. Edwards. She had been working with the State Unemployment Compensation Commission in Brownfield but was being transferred to Odessa. She left here for that city Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nevill and son Ray returned last week from Flagstaff, Arizona, where three daughters reside, and where they visited for several weeks. While out there they attended a Wild West Rodeo and a colorful Indian powwow on July 4.

THANK YOU VOTERS

I surely do thank you voters of commissioners precinct No. 2 for the fine vote you gave me last Saturday. I shall try to prove my appreciation by giving service, as I have tried to do in the past. Again and Again I thank you.

By the NUMBERS, PLEASE

A lot of folks like to make telephone calls simply by asking the operator to "give me the Jones house". While we're glad that you regard the telephone with such informal friendliness, we're afraid this friendly spirit sometimes prevents good service. So please, won't you call by number instead of by name. If you can't find your number in the directory, "Information" will help you. Your cooperation will help improve service.

Very few Negroes voted or in any way expressed any desire to vote in the Democratic primary election in Lynn county last Saturday. We are sure that they could have voted without molestation in any way if they had presented themselves at the polling places. Perhaps they will vote at the general election in the fall. We hope that they will inform themselves as to political issues and then vote in the general election. They have had the same right and the same privilege of voting in general elections in the past as the whites have had. All they had to do was to pay a poll-tax, get a receipt, and take it with them to the polling places. But they have not taken the trouble, as a rule to do that. Until recently, they have been debarred from voting in Democratic primaries. But the supreme court has now torn down these barriers. They can now vote in any election on the same terms provided for the whites. We do not urge them to vote in any election without first informing themselves, but most Negro families are now financially able to take a newspaper, even a daily newspaper, and many of them are able to own a radio. Public schools are provided for the children, and there is no reason why the Negroes can not become well informed citizens if they wish to do so. We think this is far more valuable to them than the repeal of all the "jim crow" laws. The repeal of all of the "jim crow" laws possibly could be.

Communism had its inning last Saturday night. A wildly cheering horde of communists, near-communists, and fellow travelers split their throats whooping and yelling as Henry Wallace poured out torrents of words which were calculated if not designed to give aid and comfort to the enemies of our country. He poured out his vitriol against President Truman and against both the Republican and Democratic parties of this country but we heard not one word of condemnation of Stalin, Molotov, or other dictators of Russia nor of the Communist party of Russia. In a country that guarantees freedom of speech to every individual, Henry Wallace and his kind can go far in criticism of the government that protects them in this right, but if he or even any Russian should pour out such vitriol in Russia against its leaders, he would land in a prison or a concentration camp almost before the echoes of his voice had died out, possibly never to be heard of again. Yet frantic fools enjoying freedom think they want that kind of system in this country.

We may be able to continue to maintain peace with Russia, but there is little prospect of peace in the Congress of the United States. With Truman rubbing it in on the Republicans by calling a special session of Congress and challenging them to enact into law the demands made recently in their platform, there is going to be war between him and the Republicans in Congress. By demanding the passage of an anti-poll tax law, an anti-lynching law, an anti-segregation law, and an FEPC law, in the face of bitter opposition from Southern Senators and Representatives, he is declaring war upon Southern Democratic leaders that will echo and re-echo for years to come in the halls of Congress and throughout the country. Truman may be seeking peace with the Russians but he seems to have no desire for peace in his own country nor even in his own party. The Democratic party seems to have come upon troublous times.

SOUTH PLAINS FAIR ANNOUNCES INCREASE IN PRIZES OFFERED

As a result of the recommendations made by superintendents and prospective exhibitors, at the two meetings held recently, prizes offered in the agricultural and livestock departments of the Fair have been increased.

The most noticeable increases were made in the dairy cattle and swine divisions. First place in the dairy cattle classes is now $15.00, with $2.50 drops to $5.00 for fifth place as compared to $12.50 to $2.50 last year.

Premiums in the swine division have been increased from $7.50 first place last year to $10.00 first place this year and $2.50 drops to third place which is now $5.00 instead of the $2.50 third place last year. A fourth place has also been provided at $3.50.

You will notice that these are substantial increases in the prize money being offered by the Fair. It is up to you, now, to do everything within your own power to make your particular department or division bigger and better than last year. Advertise the fact that increased prizes are being offered. Encourage breeders to exhibit and bring in the better quality animals.

Nothing is of any value unless it grows. We have to make the Fair grow—improve. This can only be accomplished by all of us working in that direction.

The catalog will be ready for distribution within approximately two weeks. Talk up the Fair and encourage exhibitors to get a catalog and plan to compete for these better prizes. You cannot compare the quality of your livestock or crops to the quality being produced by others unless the others also exhibit—encourage them to do so.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

H. J. R. No. 13
Amending Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a provision that the husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severality or into undivided interests all or any part of their community property, whereupon without prejudice to the right of existing creditors the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse; further providing that such Constitutional Amendment if adopted shall be self-operative and self-executing; providing for the submission of this Amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be the separate property of the wife; and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation as well to her separate property as that held in common with her husband; provided that husband and wife, without prejudice to pre-existing creditors, may from time to time by written instrument as if the wife were a feme sole partition between themselves in severality or into equal undivided interests all or any part of their existing community property, or exchange between themselves the community interest of one spouse in any property for the community interest of the other spouse in other community property, whereupon the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse.

This Amendment is self-operative, but laws may be passed prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of execution of such instruments, and providing for their recordation, and for such other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith as the Legislature may from time to time consider proper with relation to the subject of this Amendment. Should the Legislature pass an act dealing with the subject of this Amendment and prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of the execution of such instruments and providing for their recordation and other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith and anticipatory character and shall take effect just as though this Constitutional Amendment was in effect when the Act was passed."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State of Texas at an election to be held throughout the State on the second day of November, 1948, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "FOR the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severality or into undivided interests community property existing at the time of partition so as to convert same into separate property of the respective spouses without prejudice to the rights of pre-existing creditors."

Those opposing said Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severality or into undivided interests community property existing at the time of partition so as to convert same into separate property of the respective spouses without prejudice to the rights of pre-existing creditors."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendment thereto.

At the midweek service at the Baptist Church Wednesday night, Robert Warren, son of Mrs. W. M. Warren, preached his first sermon, following which he was formally licensed by the church to preach.

He plans to enter Wayland College in the fall to prepare for the Ministry.

Preceding the services a many families of the church had authorized, bringing baskets and boxes of food, which were distributed to the basement after which the members gathered in the auditorium for the worship services.

At the closer everybody was invited to the back lawn where the surprise of the occasion and family, they were given a magnificent poultice, consisting of supplies for the parties and viands for the tables.

Sheldon Russell has announced that on Friday night there will be a great "Singspiration" service, with choruses from several neighboring churches are expected and a wonderful program of sacred hymns is promised. You are invited.

Fighting Truman Gets Democratic Nomination, Calls Special Session; Barkley Selected as Running Mate

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Truman 'WE ACCEPT!' Barkley
In Fighting Mood Born in Log Cabin

THE PHILADELPHIA STORY Truman-Barkley

If the Democrats hadn't known before their convention that President Harry Truman was their man they found out on the steaming Wednesday when their political show slammed through to a smashing, triumphant finish.

Harry Truman told them so, after the enterprising liberal forces of the party had spent all that Wednesday in the 105 degree heat of convention hall proving it beyond all doubt.

It looked like the Democratic party might have been completely revitalized in 12 tense hours on that last day of the convention, ending a period during which the Democrats' morale and will to win slowly had been ossifying.

The revitalization came as a result of two potent factors which actually could be reduced to one—President Truman's influence.

In the first place, in adopting the strong, positive civil rights plank in the platform the party not only repudiated the idea and spirit of reaction but also dealt an extremely sharp and real slap to the hands of the southern wing which had tried, at times almost savagely, to produce a cleavage within the party.

That action, closely followed by the nomination of President Truman to run for re-election and the nomination of Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky by acclamation for the vice-presidential spot on the ticket added another solid timber to the structure that the liberal elements of the party were fighting so hard to build.

Those developments were, in themselves, a complete and victorious proof that the Democrats this year intended to bring themselves before the American public as a responsible, cohesive party that would be striving for nothing less than total victory in the November election.

But it remained for President Truman to give the whole affair a significance that could not be ignored.

Fighting Finish

It was a far cry from a love fest as the Democratic clans, feuding for many months, met in the City of Brotherly Love for their 30th national convention.

After three days of strife and bickering, the conclave came to a close as a fighting President Truman triumphantly accepted his party's nomination for the presidency and then rocked Democrats and Republicans alike with an instant summons to the 80th congress to return for a special session July 26.

The convention, perhaps the most bitterly divided since 1860 and 1924, ended with a political explosion detonated by the quiet man from Independence, Mo. The explosion startled even the regular members of his own party who had engineered the nomination of Mr. Truman to the presidency.

The Democrats pinned their November election hopes on a ticket of Harry S. Truman and Alben W. Barkley. It was the 64-year-old modest, low-voiced former senator from Missouri, who had succeeded to the office upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1945, for the presidency. And it was the 70-year-old, soft-speaking, compromising senator from Paducah, Ky., for the vice presidency.

The President's call for a special session provided a dramatic and startling climax to the 30th convention, which had been marked by bitter debate over ferocious family differences.

The party had been ripped by infighting between northern progressives and southern conservatives over the issue of equal civil rights for Negroes. One-half of the Alabama delegation—13 of the 26 votes—and the entire Mississippi delegation of 22 had stormed out of the convention amid boos, cheers and a great pushing and shoving. This was the high point of the widely-heralded southern revolt, although a rump convention was called to meet in Birmingham Ala.

Discord Flares

Discord prevailed long before the 1,596 delegates from the 48 states and territories gathered in stifling, steaming Philadelphia for the quadrennial convention.

Dissenting factions of the party rallied behind a concerted drive to draft Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the party's standard bearer. "Ike," however, removed himself from the race with his third and final insistence that he "would not accept the nomination."

The day after the Eisenhower boom collapsed, the New Deal efforts to oppose Mr. Truman with Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas also blew up. Douglas, whom the President had wanted for his running mate, flatly refused to be considered and also knocked himself out of the vice presidential running.

After Douglas declined to enter the presidential race, Senator Pepper of Florida announced his candidacy with the backing of the New Deal wing, but his bid was not considered very seriously.

Civil Rights

After seven days of wrangling, a platform pledging the Democratic party more specifically than ever before to work for basic constitutional civil rights was adopted after a floor fight which proved rather tame in view of the anticipated knock-down, drag-out battle.

The platform calls on congress to support guarantees of:

"The right of full and equal political participation"—meaning anti-poll tax legislation.

"The right to equal opportunity of employment"—another way of promising a fair employment practices act.

"The right of security of person"—meaning a federal anti-lynch law.

"The right of equal treatment in the service and defense of our nation"—meaning the end of segregation in the armed forces.

The long-heralded southern revolt, however, failed to develop into the Dixie-wide proportions predicted. Only Mississippi's 22 delegates and 13 of Alabama's 26 delegates out of the convention in protest against President Truman's nomination and adoption of the strong civil rights plank.

However, 263 remaining southern delegates registered that area's protest by voting for the presidential nomination of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia. Size of the protest vote indicated the Democratic party still has a problem on its hands in the South.

PERSHING:

Taps Sounds

Gen. John J. (Blackjack) Pershing, who led American troops to victory in World War I, is dead at the age of 87.

The aged former chief of staff had been ill since February, 1938, when he was stricken at Tucson, Ariz., by a form of rheumatism which affected his heart muscles. He came close to dying at that time, but rallied with a display of fighting spirit which amazed his physicians. Since then he had lived at Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C.

Death was caused by a blood clot which reached his lung. At Pershing's bedside when death came were his son, Warren; his sister Miss May Pershing, and his long-time physician, Maj. Gen. Shelley Marietta.

Long the idol of a grateful nation, Pershing held the rank of general of the armies, a title conferred on only four other American soldiers, Washington, Grant, Sherman, and Sheridan. He outranked such contemporary five-star generals as George C. Marshall, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Douglas MacArthur. Their title is general of the army.

Pershing won his greatest fame as commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary force in World War I. Appointed to that post in 1917, he took personal command of the American troops sent to France. He almost immediately became involved in a dispute with other Allied commanders who wanted to break up the American army and use it to reinforce the French and British armies wherever necessary. Pershing flatly refused to let his troops lose their identity.

Born Sept. 13, 1860, in the frontier town of LaCade, Mo., Pershing was graduated from West Point when he was 26. He became a second lieutenant in the sixth U. S. cavalry and launched a career in soldiering to which he devoted his entire life. He fought Indians in the American west, Spaniards in Cuba, Moro tribesmen in the Philippines, Mexican bandits under Pancho Villa on the U. S.-Mexican border and Germans in France.

Throughout World War II, Pershing received a full report twice a month from General Marshall, his aide of 1917. Although old and feeble, the general followed daily developments closely from his hospital room, paying particular attention to "my boys," who included Generals Marshall, Eisenhower, and George S. Patton Jr.

CROPS:

Record Output

Barring a major crop disaster, the nation will harvest another bumper crop this year, with indications pointing to a general crop production which may surpass that of the outstanding year of 1942 and the record set in 1946.

Acres in crops is among the largest in recent years and yield prospects are good for most crops; agriculture department spokesmen said, on the basis of July 1 conditions.

An all-time record corn crop of 3,328,862,000 bushels was forecast although corn, the largest feed crop, still faces such hazards as a dry, hot August or an early frost. Previous record was 3,287,927,000 bushels in 1946.

The wheat crop prospect of 1,241,751,000 bushels represents a gain of 4 per cent from earlier forecasts. If that amount is harvested, it will rank as the second largest crop in history.

Rice will set a new acreage record and nearly equal last year's record output. Oats and barley will be well above average crops.

Bumper crop prospects are not expected to mean any immediate increase in meat supplies or any noticeable decrease in meat prices but the record harvest should mean larger meat supplies in the future.

Employment Gains

Continuing the postwar upward trend in civilian employment, 1.5 million more persons were employed in civilian occupations last April than in April, 1947, it is revealed in figures compiled by the National Industrial Conference board.

Accompanying this increased employment was a decline of more than 200,000 in unemployment over the year's period.

Alas, Poor Yorick, Capital Has Seen Its Last Theater

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON—As Washington hurries through summer, forced to commute to Philadelphia for its major distractions, it is faced with a painful prospect of less diversion next fall. This city which once boasted of almost a dozen legitimate theaters (when it had a much smaller population) is about to have the last one that lingered on alone turned into a movie house.

The old National theater, which opened in 1835, was burned and rebuilt four times, collapsed once, is now about to end its legitimate days on an issue which is giving the Democratic party equal concern—civil rights. The Actors' Equity, to which most actors belong, won't play here because Negroes are not permitted in the audience.

There is talk that the old Belasco theater, erected in 1895 on Madison place, facing Lafayette square, may be reconditioned and leased to a management which will lift the racial discrimination practice (the Belasco is currently government property and is used as a storehouse). If the Belasco is not reopened, Washington will be theaterless.

Baukhage

Washington's theatrical tradition began early. One of the first theaters here was the Washington theater at Eleventh and C streets. It opened in 1804 and its ads proclaiming the grand premiere added in small type: "No Segars are to be smoked during the performance."

When that edifice burned, a second Washington theater, seating 700 persons, was opened in 1821. It boasted numerous improvements and innovations, including stoves, reserved seats, improved acoustics, no liquor in the box lobbies and facilities for Negro playgoers. "Facilities" today wouldn't satisfy—accommodations would have to be on a basis of race equality.

Fourteen years after the new Washington theater had opened its doors the National theater appeared on the site of the present movie-house-to-be. It is located in the very center of what only recently has been called "downtown," on E street which meets Pennsylvania avenue just before it bumps into the treasury building, skirts its northern front and ambles past the White House.

Important clubs, hotels and restaurants are only a few blocks from the National today but when it was built, it was, like any other point in the young capital, well-nigh inaccessible in inclement weather. When it rained or snowed, Pennsylvania avenue became a mudhole. Residential areas, except those in Georgetown, weren't far from the center of town in the early 1840s, but because of the rough going (the wealthy didn't like to risk their fancy equipages out on bad nights), it cost as much as $10 to get from home to the show.

Now you can ride all the way from Capitol Hill to what was forest and farmland in 1835 for 30 cents.

The capital's greatest theatrical development began right after the Civil war and went on for three decades. By the time I attended my first show here in 1914, there was no dearth of dramatic entertainment and sometimes three original Broadway companies would be playing in different theaters at the same time. It was a good town for openings up until fairly recently.

There is one theater, now a museum, which is still a point of interest for tourists. Originally it was a Baptist church on Tenth street. In 1861 it was converted into what was called Christy's opera house. Later it became Ford's theater. In the upper stage box of this theater, President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated by the actor, John Wilkes Booth.

There was a saloon on the corner below the theater where Booth was said to have had his last drink before he crept into the theater, shot Lincoln and leaped to the stage, tripping on a piece of bunting and breaking his leg.

For many years, over the bar of that saloon, hung a crude picture of the assassination, and on the floor was a metal marker where the half-mad actor was supposed to have stood as he warmed his courage in preparation for his theatrie crime.

Washington theatergoers were well acquainted with John Booth's acting but better still with that of his elder brother, Edwin, who had the greater talent. But they never saw Edwin Booth on a local stage again. He was so heart-broken over his brother's crime that he never again played in the capital.

A theatrical performance in Washington plays one role that it plays in no other American city. It becomes, on certain occasions, few or many according to the taste of the incumbent-president, a ceremony of state. No matter how private a president wants to be when he sees a show, he can't help being a public personage on such occasions.

The secret service, responsible for his life, wouldn't think of letting him sit anywhere but in a box where he is separated from the crowd. This, on the other hand, makes him conspicuous. One guard outside the door to Lincoln's box in the Ford theater could have prevented the assassination.

The fact that there was no provision for protection by the government in the Temple of Music in Buffalo cost the nation its President William McKinley.

Since then, the chief executive has had a bodyguard whether he likes it or not, and a bodyguard can't hide its light under a bushel. Entrance and exit from a public building become a little bit of a pageant, no matter how they are effected.

Woodrow Wilson loved the theater. He liked vaudeville and was a frequent visitor at Keith's—now one of our big movie houses. Edmund Starling, head of the secret service under several presidents, often talked to me about how much Wilson loved the theater. Starling enjoyed it, I enjoyed it, and perhaps together, we exaggerated Wilson's affection for the footlights. But Starling used to say that Wilson got more recreation from that source than any other. In his book, "Starling of the White House," he says Wilson preferred musical comedy and vaudeville to serious drama. That was the general impression among the newspapermen, I know.

Both the Roosevelts, Theodore and Franklin, were great theatergoers. Neither of them was a blushing violet as far as receiving adulation of the crowds was concerned, but for a number of reasons, largely the hectic times of the late Roosevelt's regime, the former made his attendance anywhere more of a show. Although an assassin's bullet did lay low a man in Franklin Roosevelt's entourage—Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago when both were visiting Miami—Theodore Roosevelt was himself actually shot and badly wounded on one occasion. However, this was after he left the White House and while he was making a political speech in Milwaukee.

It was the movie which drove out the later Washington legitimate theaters, but this death-blow to the present-day National theater arises out of the growing demand to end segregation—a demand which made itself felt after World War I and which increased in World War II. The frequent, well-publicized controversies over lifting of the segregation ban in Constitution hall, property of the Daughters of the American Revolution and one of the few available concert halls in the city, have spotlighted Washington's segregation habits—they aren't laws.

The manager of the National theater is not closing the theater for social reasons. He simply can't book shows if he continues race discrimination and he thinks that if he raises the ban, he can't sell tickets to enough white people to make it pay.

To southerners it probably seems absurd that such a question should arise, and northerners probably will be just as surprised for the opposite reason. Washington was once a southern city, now it is a mixture of North and South and typical of neither.

Embrace, Pity, Then Endure

Before his third party's convention in Philadelphia, Henry Wallace repeated several times the assertion that he was not a Communist, that he didn't want Communist support, in fact, that he wished they'd get out of his party. For this, as some observers pointed out, Wallace was mildly spanked by the Daily Worker, mouthpiece of Muskovite communism in America.

It seems to me that Wallace is following one of Alexander Pope's quatrains in reverse. Remember Pope said:

"Vice is a monster of so frightful mien As to be hated needs but to be seen, Yet seen too oft, familiar with her face, We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

Having embraced the Reds, Wallace seems to be beginning to back up, through pity, and now is finding that he has to endure them, whether he likes them or not.

Bessemer Process

One of the oldest and most spectacular of all the present processes employed in steel-making is the Bessemer process. A blast of air is blown through the molten iron, and elements such as carbon and silicon are oxidized in the intense heat that is generated. Modern converters can produce about 25 tons of steel in as many minutes in a single "blow."

American Cities Are Increasing in Size

Los Angeles, brunt of many jokes for its ever-expanding city limits, is not the only American city which is increasing in size.

In fact, American cities are getting bigger all the time, with 298 communities extending their boundaries in 1947 for a new all-time record, according to the International City Managers association.

The rush to keep up with urban expansion marked a 15 per cent increase over 1946, when 259 cities annexed new territory. Most cities seek to annex suburban land to solve their population problems.

"Cities want outlying territory to equalize local tax rates and to provide uniform public services," according to the association.

Simplicity Is Keynote When Guests Arrive

For Unexpected Visit
"HAVE YOU ANY SUGGESTIONS for serving an entire meal when visiting relatives or friends who are vacationing drop in on you unexpectedly?" asks a friend of mine.

You know, this can create quite a problem because this is the season people are liable to be dropping in. Frequently it is mealtime before they leave and many women find themselves up against a problem of providing food for several more than they originally planned, and still making this attractive and good to eat.

The best solution to this is a well stocked pantry shelf. Have on this a number of canned meats, as well as fish and boned chicken or turkey. Keep it provided with several vegetables that are favorites.

Don't forget that spaghetti and baked beans in cans can be dressed up beautifully when you have to entertain on the spot. And then too there are prepared puddings and canned fruits. The latter can be turned into mouth-watering salad platters and the former into pies, tarts or tasty puddings.

Not much chicken is needed to make this delicious loaf when the meat is combined with bread crumbs and seasoning. Creamed green peas are a delightful accompaniment to the main dish.

YOU CAN USE the luncheon ham or canned ham for this dish, which is pretty as well as delicious:

- Grilled Ham and Asparagus (Serves 6)
- 6 slices toast
- 6 slices boiled or canned ham
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 can asparagus
- 1/4 pound grated American cheese
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Wrap two or three stalks of asparagus in each slice of ham and fasten with toothpick. Place on a broiler rack for five minutes. Melt butter, blend in flour, milk and seasonings. Cook until smooth and thick, then add cheese. Place grilled ham on toast. Cover with cheese sauce and garnish with tomato slices and parsley.

A GOOD DESSERT to serve with the above dish is simply made:

- Coconut Banana Snow (Serves 6)
- 3 bananas, cut in small pieces
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped
- 1 egg white, stiffly beaten
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 1/2 can coconut

Combine bananas, sugar and lemon juice. Chill. Force through sieve. Fold fruit into egg white, then mix in lightly the whipped cream and coconut. Top with additional cream, coconut and maraschino cherry if desired.

HERE ARE SOME quick things to do with a can of baked beans when you have unexpected guests walking in:

1. Mix one can of baked beans with one-fourth cup chili sauce, one-fourth cup brown sugar and heat in a casserole.
2. Mix one can of baked beans with two tablespoons chili sauce, two tablespoons each of chopped green pepper, minced onion and celery and heat through.
3. Season one can of baked beans with three tablespoons catsup, two tablespoons brown sugar, and then fold in one can of sliced Vienna sausages.

Baked beans are excellent served as an accompaniment with cold meats, cole slaw or grilled sandwiches.

Here's How to Serve Leftover Eggs, Poultry

Cold mashed potatoes are delicious when the potato is mixed with egg yolk, butter, salt and pepper, and then deep fat fried.

Egg yolks may be mixed with milk and cheese for rarebit. This is served on hot toast after it has cooked until thickened.

Egg yolks may be beaten with whole eggs and used for scrambled eggs, egg nogs or custard.

HERE ARE TRICKS to use with canned spaghetti:

1. Mix one can of spaghetti with one cup diced ham and heat.
2. Parboil green peppers and fill with canned spaghetti, top with cheese and bake until peppers are heated and cheese melts.
3. Smother heated spaghetti with broiled hamburgers wrapped in bacon.

NOW HERE'S a trick to use with canned chicken to make a good supper or luncheon dish for unexpected guests:

- Chicken Loaf (Serves 6-8)
- 2 cups cooked or canned chopped chicken
- 1/2 cup cooked chopped carrots
- 1 1/4 cups soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons minced celery
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 3/4 cup milk
- 2 eggs
- Parsley for garnish

Mix together all ingredients and pack into a well greased, one quart, heat-resistant glass loaf pan. Bake in a moderate (325 degree) oven for 40 to 45 minutes or until firm and slightly browned. Turn chicken loaf onto platter, garnish with parsley and serve with creamed peas.

IF THE DAY is warm, you might like to prepare some substantial main dish salads to serve as the main course of the meal. Here are two which will appeal to men and women as well as the youngsters:

- *Hot Frankfurter Salad Bowl (Serves 4)
- 4 frankfurters
- 4 cups thinly sliced raw potatoes
- 2 1/2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 1/2 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1/3 cup cooked leftover vegetables
- 1/3 cup well-seasoned French dressing
- 1/2 teaspoon celery seeds
- Salt and pepper

Simmer frankfurters in boiling water for five minutes. Remove, cut into quarters lengthwise, then crosswise into one-inch pieces. Cook potatoes in boiling salted water for about 10 minutes. Drain, toss lightly with frankfurters and remaining ingredients, adding salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot.

Frankfurter-Macaroni Salad (Serves 4)

- 3/4 cup raw macaroni
- 4 cups boiling water
- 4 frankfurters
- 1/4 cup French dressing
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1/2 cup diced cucumbers
- 1 tablespoon slivered green pepper
- 1 cup coarsely diced tomato
- 1/4 cup salad dressing
- 1/2 head lettuce shredded

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Five minutes before macaroni is done, add frankfurters. Then drain. Remove frankfurters and rinse macaroni. Place in a bowl with frankfurters, cut in halves, then lengthwise and, crosswise, then add remaining ingredients. Chill before serving.

Egg yolks may be poached by themselves (without whites), then forced through a sieve and used as garnish for salads, canapés, spinach, creamed fish or thick cream soups.

Chicken may be minced fine and mixed with cream sauce, egg yolks and bread-crumbs, then fried until crisply browned for a delicious main dish.

Any white sauce may be made more colorful and nourishing by beating in leftover egg yolks.

Salaries of Athletes

THEY were talking about the money a professional athlete could make, and how much most of these athletes were worth.

In the first place, among eight or ten old-time writers, in the discussion it was generally voted that the ring business was the most lopsided. This means that a few were far overpaid and the others were far underpaid.

For example, Joe Louis has bowled over close to four million dollars for his 62 fights. Now four million dollars is quite a chunk more than any other contestant could collect from any other game.

Above that we'll say Louis picked up 350 thousand dollars for his last fight. That is about the pay that 10 of the highest-paid ballplayers would get for an entire season of 154 games.

But after all, the fight champion collects because he can draw. When two ball clubs meet there may be 50 ball players engaged. When fighters meet, only two in the main event get any real money, and one of these gets most of it. After all, a contestant is entitled to get his part of the swag which his drawing power can earn.

Babe Ruth was paid as high as $80,000 a year. He was actually worth more than double this amount to his team, the league and baseball in general. It would be hard to measure how much he actually earned. I've seen home teams drawing 1,500 a game jump to 33,000 when the Babe came along.

Few Get Rich

But, while Jack Dempsey, Louis and Gene Tunney have all collected huge amounts, and a few others have picked up important checks from the fight game, the vast majority get little except queer noises in their skulls. It's a tough game, if you make good. It's a thousand times tougher when you don't.

Commissioner Eddie Egan tells me there are more boxers than one might think who are putting away from $50,000 to $60,000 a year. This is amazing when you figure the cut the manager and his helpers get.

The fight game is good only to the few. For the others it is largely a matter of scrambled brains. It is not a profession to be recommended too highly to the youth of the land.

Baseball and football are the two best average paying games, especially in the higher circuits.

Oddly enough, more than a few young stars who dabble in both sports have to make certain drastic decisions.

Alvin Dark of the Braves was offered more to play football than he gets playing baseball. Dark picked baseball and the Braves.

Charley Trippi tried out both games, and this season the ex-Georgia star decided to give all his time to the Chicago Cardinals, leaving baseball flat. He found the combination too much to handle.

Chuck Conerly of Mississippi and Bobby Layne of Texas were two baseball stars. Both had bright baseball futures. Both picked football with the high guarantees now offered.

Years ago, Walter Hagen could have been a noted big league star—one of the greatest in the game. Hagen picked golf and then proceeded to roll up a million dollars in a few years—which the carefree Haig promptly spent.

Joe Gordon was an Oregon great at football before he switched entirely to baseball. Torgerson of the Braves was another football star who picked baseball for a money-maker. There are many others I could mention.

Ballplayers Last Longer

One thing to be remembered is that one lasts longer, on a general average, at baseball than he does at football. The wear and tear isn't so expensive.

A big league ballplayer with any particular merit should be good for 12 or 14 years. Few football players last that long. The Mel Heins, Sammy Baugh and Sid Luckmans are scarce.

Bob Feller leads both leagues in the way of a pay check at something like $85,000 a year, which, so far this dizzy year, Rapid Robert hasn't come close to earning.

Ted Williams is next, and Joe DiMaggio is third. They get from $60,000 to $75,000 and are earning it every day as two of the leading stars. Stan Musial gets nothing like these amounts, although the Cardinal brilliant is worth as much as any man in the game. There will be a big reshuffling of values next year—up and down.

Musial is drawing something like $2,000 this season, but at his present pace if he isn't a $60,000 entry they have no ballplayers in the National league.

Keep powdered sugar in tightly covered glass or tin containers to prevent lumping.

You really should cook potatoes and other root vegetables in their jackets. Valuable vitamins and minerals are near to the skin.

Slice leftover potatoes, pour over them some white sauce and grated cheese, then heat in the oven for one-half hour.

Vary bread pudding by garnishing with chopped nuts, marshmallow sauce, shredded coconut, or maraschino cherry sauce.

Little children love sweet animal milk toast. Toast bread, cut it into animal shapes with a cookie cutter, spread lightly with jelly or jam and pour hot milk over the top.

When only a few drops of lemon juice are needed, puncture fruit with a fork or sharp-pointed knife. Squeeze gently. This prevents wasting the whole lemon.

To remove bits of ground meat easily from the food chopper, follow up the meat with a small amount of stale bread. The bread-crumbs will carry away any meat which remains in the chopper.

To preserve the new appearance of your refrigerator, remember that defrosting alone is not enough. Clean it thoroughly, inside and out, with soap and water every time it is defrosted.

Oranges at room temperature, or slightly warmer, will give more juice than chilled fruits.

HOLD FAMILY REUNION

Members of the C. F. Carmack family met in Oklahoma City Friday and Saturday of last week for a reunion, the first the family has had in many years with all members of the family present. At the same time Rev. and Mrs. Carmack celebrated their fifty-third wedding anniversary.

The reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Wileman, Mrs. Wileman being a daughter.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Carmack and Marilyn of Tahoka, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Swan of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Dison of Mineola, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll of San Fernando, Calif.; Dr. J. C. Carmack and Dr. Charles Carmack of San Bernardino, Calif.

The head always starts swelling about the time the mind stops growing.
