Farmers To Elect PMA Committee Member Soon

Lynn county farmers will decide on November 19th who will serve as community P. M. A. committeemen during 1950. At the same time they will elect delegates to the county convention where the member of the Lynn county P. M. A. committee for 1950 will be elected. In making this amendment Clarence Church, present chairman of the Lynn county P. M. A. committee, urges every farmer in the county to vote for his choice for these committees. Many decisions that will affect every farmer in the county will be made by the men elected. With cotton, wheat, and peanut farm acreage allotments in effect these men will decide what each individual farm acreage allotment will be. The county P. M. A. committee must approve each farmer's application for assistance in his soil and water conservation work under the Agricultural Conservation Program. Committeemen will have important duties to perform in connection with the Commodity Credit Corporation Loan and Price Support Programs.

Church explains that the P. M. A. committees have heretofore been known as A. C. A. or AAA committees. The name has recently been changed to Production and Marketing Administration Committees since they administer at the community and county levels the programs of the Production and Marketing Administration. Explaining details pertaining to the election the chairman says, a nominating committee has been selected for each community. These nominating committees have selected two of their neighbors for each position to be filled. The names of those nominated will be printed on the ballot and space will also be left for "write ins" in case any voter desires to vote for someone other than the nominee.

Designated polling places have been set up in each community in the county. The polling places will be kept open from 8:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. on the day of the election. The polling places are as follows: Wilson, New Home, Draw, O'Donnell, New Moore, West Point, and Tahoka P. M. A. office.

In addition to the polling places, farmers may vote by mail or by calling at the county P. M. A. office up to the day before the election.

Car Accidents In Garza County

In addition to the tragic crash that occurred at Central Church in this county early Sunday afternoon, as chronicled elsewhere in this paper, other death-dealing crashes occurred in Garza and Lubbock counties that took the lives of six persons and seriously injured five others.

The most serious of these crashes was that which occurred near Justiceburg a few minutes before six o'clock Sunday morning in which four persons were killed and three others critically injured. A 1946-model Mercury coupe driven by Harry Duke, 53, of Post, going southeast on highway No. 84, collided with a 1941 model Chevrolet Sedan driven by John F. Reynolds, 48, of Abilene. Reynolds and his wife Inez and their son Roy Luther, 17, were instantly killed, and their daughter, Mrs. Lida May Cook, 19, of Clyde died at 10:00 a. m. Sunday in Lubbock Memorial Hospital, to which she had been hurriedly taken for treatment. Another daughter, 12 suffered a brain concussion, a fracture of one leg, and painful cuts and bruises. She was also conveyed to Lubbock Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Harry Duke of Post, 53, driver of the Mercury coupe, suffered a broken hip and several broken ribs.

At 10:30 o'clock Sunday night, on the Post-Lubbock highway two miles northwest of Post, James D. Fair of Denison, 42, was killed, apparently instantly, when the 1940-model Pontiac which he was driving struck the side of a Gulf oil tank truck, plowed along the side of it, was whirled partially around, and was left standing at a 90-degree angle beside the highway.

Another occupant of the car, identified as Miss Lela Howard, about 40, also from Denison, suffered a broken jaw, two broken arms, and a possible fracture of the skull. She was rushed to the Lubbock Memorial Hospital, where her condition was pronounced critical.

Leo Vasquez, 30, from Cuero, who had been picking cotton in the vicinity of Wilson, was killed apparently instantly at about two o'clock Sunday morning on the Post-Lubbock highway near Southland. His wife, Rosario Vasquez, suffered a broken clavicle and was taken to Mercy Hospital in Slaton for treatment.

A number of other highway accidents, some of them serious, occurred on other parts of the South Plains, during the week end.

Traffic over the highways of this area for the past two weeks has been far heavier than ever before in the history of the South Plains.

Mrs. B. H. Howard of Lubbock was here Sunday to visit her new great grandchild, Vicki Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jacobs. She was accompanied by her son, Uris Howard.

Surplus Dirt May Be Had From City

The News is informed by a member of the paving crew that citizens desiring surplus dirt from the city streets for filling in yards, old and dangerous cesspools, holes, etc., may have same by applying to Raymond Dodson, City maintainer operator.

Much of the surplus dirt is being used on blow-out streets, but there is plenty for anyone handy desiring the same.

Paul Ward, who works for the paving contractor, came near having a serious accident a few days ago when he drove a tractor unknowingly over an abandoned cesspool. The rotten wooden timbers covering the hole, gave way, and he and the tractor came near falling into the cesspool. He thinks there are possibly a number of such old cesspools in Tahoka that are a threat to human life and ought to be filled up with dirt.

Especially did we appreciate the flowers given, the food prepared, and in fact every kindness done us. We sincerely thank you all. — W. V. Kelley and family.

Long-time deferred grazing, no grazing for one or more years, is a good practice to follow on range land that has been severely overgrazed. It gives the best forage plants a chance to re-seed, gain strength, develop a good root system and produce the leaves necessary for greater production and food storage.

"MIGHTY JOE YOUNG"

ARE YOU A GORILLA?

By Artie Bright
New York (Special)—Those boys on Mount Palomar in California have really started something this time. It's a new frenzy called "Are You A Gorilla?" and wherever you go in Gotham, from the crummy gin mills on the Bowery to the plushy bistros on the East Side, from the coldwater walk-up in Hell's Kitchen to the snazzy pent houses on Fifth Avenue, you run smack into it.
The epidemic is spreading fast, and calmly considered judgments have it that it will soon out-strip bridge, gin-rummy, the close finish in the Fourth at Belmont, dem Bums, the latest Cafe Society she-nigans, and other like and sundry chit-chat as the No. 1 topic of local conversation. If, what's happening here is any weather-vane, you folks in the rest of these United States had better run for your storm cellars, for you're gonna get it, you're sure gonna get it.
"Are You A Gorilla?" is an argument. In fact, it is more than an argument, it is a conflict, a full scale collision of ideas in which the point of attack is the question of man's evolution. It all started when reports hit the local gazettes recently that the Palomar pundits had discovered a batch of hitherto unknown and unseen constellations. It appears that the new giant 200-inch Hale telescope makes it possible for these gentlemen to pry further into the private lives of the stars than they had ever done before. And these new discoveries, it was hinted, might eventually offer some solution of the great and elusive secret to man's creation.

Then it happened. Exactly how isn't quite clear. Diligent investigation by your reporter has turned up nine bartenders who claim to have witnessed the birth of this controversy. But since they are scattered over a wide area, this doesn't seem likely. At any rate, their stories are pretty much the same. It seems that a couple of guys hoisting a few started to discuss the implications of the Palomar discoveries. And it seems that a third party, draining his fourth, fifth, or sixth, butted in and decried the whole thing. This lad, so the story goes, contended that the idea that the stars could ever reveal where man came from and how he got this way was just so much flat beer. The answer, said this savantin-guds, lay in the Darwinian theory that man is an evolution of the apes.

One thing led to another, other fellow whistle-wetters stuck their tonsils in, and now the argument is all over town. Nobody is getting anywhere and nothing is being settled, but it's sure a lot of fun. Particularly when the argument is between husbands and wives. The men, by and large, support the Palomar theory. The ladies incline towards the Darwinian. And for their clinching argument—which generally shuts up the men—they point triumphantly to the many similarities in architecture and behaviorism between the husband and the gorilla. Indeed, some of the more enthusiastic wives toss in the copper that the gorilla is an evolution of man.

What the gorilla thinks about all this, of course nobody knows, and this reporter is not of a mind to go interview one. But it seems pertinent at this point, all in the interests of fair play, mind you, to punch a few holes in the ladies' argument. Point No. I: how many people have ever seen a real gorilla? According to the best information there are only four of them in the entire United States, and they're not free to move about and meet the folks but are kept securely locked up in strong steel cages. Point No. II: according to the encyclopaedia, the male gorilla often attains a height of more than seven feet and a weight in excess of 700 pounds. Has anybody ever seen a man that big? We further quote the encyclopaedia: "the gorilla is shy and difficult to approach, although possessed of great ferocity if surrounded." Does that sound like a man when there are beautiful babes about? Still further: "very few have been captured." Ho! Ha! Ha! Ask any married man. Again: "the gorilla is a vegetarian and in the jungle feeds principally on a cane-like plant called mejom. He also feeds on plantains and wild celery." Most husbands we know are steak-and-potato men, and those who are vegetarians wouldn't know a mejom if it introduced itself with an engraved calling card.

We go on like this at length, but what's the point? The only way to show the ladies the error of their thinking is to let them see a gorilla at close range. And that rare opportunity is on its way. I am told that there is an exciting motion picture due soon in which the star is a giant gorilla, possibly the largest ever known. The name of the picture is "Mighty Joe Young." RKO Radio is releasing it, and it was produced by those two old masters of thrills, John Ford and Merian C. Cooper.

There is your chance, ladies. Either put up or—well, never mind. Just make sure you see it, and take your husband with you. The next time you call him a gorilla you'll both know what you're talking about.

The next meeting will be on November 16 in the home of Mrs. Clifton Hamilton.

Interesting Facts About the Railroad

For each pound of fuel used in freight service, Class I Railroads moved an average of 9 tons of freight and equipment one mile in 1948, or an increase of 12.5 per cent compared with 20 years ago.

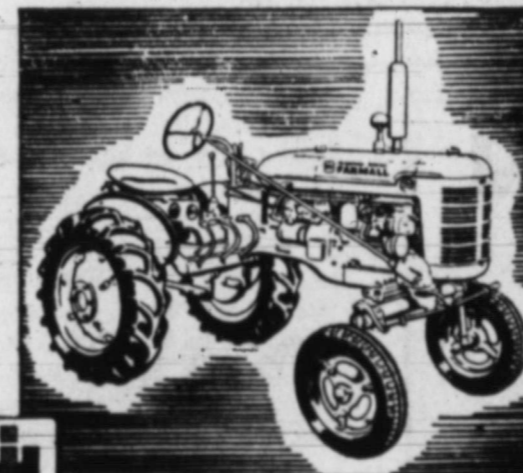

Due to improvements in the design, metallurgy and methods used in manufacture, steel rail now being installed is only one-fourth as liable to failure in service as rail which was installed in 1922.

Capt. K. Nevill Is Expected Home

Captain Kenneth Elwayne Nevill, who has been stationed on Okinawa Island since July, 1948, is expected home this week. In fact he was expected to arrive Tuesday or Wednesday in El Paso, where his wife and baby were to meet him. He will probably remain in the service but expects to be assigned to some station in the home land.

Mrs. Nevill's mother, Mrs. W. O. Robertson of Mount Pleasant, who had been visiting here for some time, returned to Mount Pleasant last Sunday but intended to return Friday accompanied by her husband for another week end visit here.

Co., with branches in Ft. Atkinson, Wis., Elmira, N. Y., and Oakland, California, has specialized in the planning, equipping, and ventilating of farm buildings. In addition to selling and servicing Jamesway equipment, Dale Thuren Farm Store will be in position to offer planning help to the dairy, poultry, and livestock farmers in this territory.

FOREIGN STUDENT IN WAYLAND COLLEGE PAINTS DARK PICTURE

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith went to Plainview Sunday afternoon and brought to their home here Miss Julie Molnar, a Hungarian girl whose parents live in Brazil but who entered Wayland College several months ago as a foreign student under the sponsorship of the Smiths, who have been paying her expenses in part. She regards their home as hers.

Some two weeks ago she suffered a nervous breakdown, and Wayland authorities telephoned the Smiths Saturday night that Miss Molnar's condition was not at all satisfactory. It is believed that her breakdown was due principally to worry about her parents rather than to overwork.

Mr. Smith says that her father is the pastor of three churches in Brazil and receives meager pay. He and Mrs. Molnar had been planning to come to Canada, where similar work had been offered him. But every effort on his part to obtain a visa into Canada was thwarted, and Julie recently learned that her parents could not come.

Brazil has long been a Catholic country but recently it has become badly infected with Communism. Miss Molnar thinks it is the Communists who have blocked her parents' plans for coming to Canada. And she says that conditions there economically are very bad. The common people are almost on starvation. They are bred to death by the wealthy, and Brazil has become a veritable breeding-ground for Communism. So, between the economic tycoons, the Communists, and the Catholics, her parents are in a hard row, and Miss Molnar worries fearfully over their possible fate.

It is a dark picture that she paints of life in Brazil.

Fiesta

 Out of respect to the family of Delwynna Kelley, Tahoka high school football boy whose funeral was being held, the program was recessed until 4:30 p. m.
 Following the intermission, contests were held in which cash prizes were given for the best entertainers. Several vocal and instrumental numbers were presented which the crowd got quite a "kick" from, and five or six couples of adults and children entered a dancing contest. In a beauty contest, there were a number of Segorita entrants. During the afternoon, an instrumental trio also entertained and accompanied the vocal soloists.
 Saturday night, a Mexican orchestra played for street dancing.
 The business section of Tahoka and a part of the residence section for several blocks around was crowded with parked cars and trucks, and some declared that this was the biggest crowd of people Tahoka had ever had.
 The Mexican Fiesta was sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce with several related ideas in mind—As a good neighbor gesture, to make the Mexican Nationals and Spanish-Americans feel at home and feel that they are welcome here, to help break down racial prejudice, to help make the Mexican want to come to this county to help with the cotton harvest, and to let the Mexican government know that this farming community is friendly to peoples of Mexican origin. Several times in the past the Mexican government has protested some discrimination against Mexicans shown in this county, and has threatened to place Lynn county on its "black-ball" list for farm laborers. Though he could not attend the Fiesta, the Mexican Consul, Eugenio V. Pesqueira of Amarillo, expressed his appreciation of the events in telephone conversations with Tom Garrard and Clint Walker.

 Though the Mexican boll pullers are getting a huge slice of the farmers' dollar, this area will not be able to get along without them until the mechanical cotton picker is further developed.
 Hubert Tankersley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, asked The News to especially thank Caloway Huffaker, Terry Thompson, Tom Garrard, Lee Roy Knight, Ross Smith, Ronald Sherrill, Dr. K. R. Durham, Sheriff "Slick" Clem and his deputies, Police Chief Allie White, and all others who worked to make the event a success.
 Sheriff Clem told The News that the crowd was unusually peaceful, there being no fights, and only a few drunks were picked up—no more than on most Saturday nights.

Luallin
 their sons Everton and Ray Nevill hastened to Roswell Monday and followed by "Ecky" and his sister-in-law later. All were there when death came. Mrs. Nevill, as is well known here, and Ovid's mother, are sisters.
 The body was prepared for burial at a funeral home in Roswell and was brought to Tahoka in an ambulance Wednesday afternoon, followed by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Luallin Sr., and by the members of the Nevill family who had gone to Roswell.
 Funeral services were to be conducted at three o'clock Thursday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, with Rev. Melvin Rathel of Spur former assistant pastor here, officiating, assisted by Rev. Geo. A. Dale of Lubbock and Rev. Thomas, pastor of the Baptist Church of Ruidoso.
 Burial was to be in the Tahoka cemetery under the direction of the Stanley Funeral Home.
 Ovid and his older brother, Allen Luallin have been engaged the past two or three years in operating a garage and service station in Ruidoso, and another sad event closely following upon the fatal accident that befell Allen's little daughter, Linda Sue, 7, while she was at school Monday. She fell from a Merry go round on which she was riding and broke one of her legs just above the knee. It was placed in a cast, and her mother, Mrs. Allen Luallin, was fearful that she and the little daughter might not be able to attend the funeral services here.

 Ovid was born on September 8, 1926, in Tahoka and was reared here. He was a graduate of the Tahoka High School and served four years in the Army during the war but was never sent overseas. He spent most of the time at the Wichita Falls air field and at two other air fields in this country. He worked with his father and his brother here as a youthful mechanic before going to Ruidoso.
 He is survived by his parents, his brother, Allen, by the Nevill families here, by another aunt here, Mrs. Alex Riddle, and numerous other relatives.

Wrecks

 Her son, Thomas Whittenburg, 34, principal of the John Reagan Junior High School in Sweetwater suffered a fracture of the skull at the base. His wife, Gertrude Whittenburg, 33, sustained a fracture of the ankle and severe laceration. Their son, Wendell Whittenburg, 9, had several upper teeth broken off; and Barbara, 5, their little daughter, sustained head injuries.
 All the injured in both cars were brought to the Tahoka Hospital for treatment.
 The crash occurred when the Model A Ford car driven by O. C. Campbell drove onto and was crossing the Tahoka-Post highway at Central Church and was struck by the Whittenburg Chevrolet Sedan coming west on the highway. The Campbells had attended services at the Nazarene Church at Grassland and were returning to their home on the C. M. Greer farm, the old Buck Briley place, in the old Magnolia (now Garnolia) community a mile north and almost two miles west of Central Church. The Whittenburgs were coming from Sweetwater to visit the Jop Whorton family.
 Mr. Campbell states that when he approached the Post-Tahoka highway he slowed down and looked but saw no car on the highway. Occupants of the Whittenburg car state that the Campbell car drove onto the highway immediately in front of them and that it was impossible for them to avoid a collision.

Two ambulances came up from Sweetwater Tuesday and conveyed the elder Mrs. Whittenburg and her son Thomas Whittenburg back to Sweetwater. The other members of the family were able to be conveyed back in a car.
 The father and other relatives of O. C. Campbell came up from Edgeworth, Van Zandt county, to attend the funeral services of little Clifton Campbell and to help care for the injured; also relatives of Mrs. Campbell came up from Navarro county for a like purpose.
 All of the relatives of both groups involved in the crash have the genuine sympathy of all our people.

Also thanks to the Church for their prayers offered. May God bless each of you in may prayer. —J. L. Reese, family.

Joiners? AREN'T WE ALL?

If you're a farmer, you belong to the Grange or the Farmers' Union. Maybe you're a merchant who supports the Chamber of Commerce or one of the service clubs. Or—as a skilled craftsman—you probably pay dues to a labor union.

Bankers, doctors, lawyers, carpenters, druggists, machinists—no matter what profession—they all belong to their own societies or associations.
 Why?
 Because—working together—they can get things done for the betterment of all concerned. Nearly always, that means for the good of the community at large.
 For the same reason, veterans should work together for those things that are important to them—not only as veterans—but as taxpayers and citizens.
 As an overseas veteran, you'll meet men who talk your language in the Veterans of Foreign Wars. And one of these days you will discover for yourself what other overseas vets have known for a long time—

Eddie Warren, editor of the Post Dispatch, who has been confined to his home ever since he got out of the hospital following an operation the latter part of May, was back in his office last week writing his weekly column, "Getting Out on the Limb," and increasing the size of the Dispatch to an eight-column paper.

Mr. Warren is to be congratulated on the manner in which he has been continually improving his paper.

TWO PROMINENT RESIDENTS WERE MARRIED RECENTLY

On Wednesday, October 26, two prominent and well-known residents of Lynn County, George H. Spears living a few miles north of Tahoka and Mrs. Alice Lawson of Grassland, drove over to Lovington, New Mexico, procured a marriage license, and took the nuptial vows in a single-ring ceremony read by Rev. Beauchamp, pastor of the Lovington Methodist Church, who is also the district clerk in that New Mexico judicial district.

Following the ceremony they left on a ten-day wedding trip that took them to San Angelo, Abilene, and Cisco, and Wichita Falls in Texas, and to Marlow and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Returning to Tahoka, they called briefly at the News office Monday and announced that they would make their home in or near Tahoka.

Both the bride and the groom are long-time residents of this county, and are among the most highly respected. Both have many friends in Tahoka, among whom is the entire News force. We join hundreds of other friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

46 STATES REPRESENTED AT PLAINS HISTORICAL MUSEUM

Canyon, Tex., Nov. 7 (WTSC)—Tourists and visitors from 46 states have visited the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum on the campus of West Texas State College this year. Vermont and Delaware are the only two states not included among the 53,912 persons registering.

In the past 10 months 614 towns in Texas have been represented on the register and 209 out of the 254 counties have had visitors in the Museum.

An art exhibit by Maurice Bernson, Canadian, is now on display at the Museum. Mr. Bernson, an ex-student of the college, has his paintings on display and it is being sponsored by Alpha Tau, WT's art fraternity.

Beginning Thursday, November 10, the collection of A. W. Mack who has studied in Scotland, England and France will be on display. His exhibit will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

Jack Stricklin of the Terry County Herald is doubtless the only editor in the United States who ever slept in a Tahoka wagon yard. He admitted in his column "Stricklin's Speaking" in his breezy newspaper last week that he had done that very thing.

Jack is the dean of South Plains newspaper men. While the News editor was still down in Bell county making an assault with intent to practice law, Jack was out here at Brownfield sitting on his tripod and hand-spiking his wise cracks and giving the world the benefit of his wisdom. Brownfield was then an inland town and so was Tahoka, but it was a little closer to the marts of the world, and Jack made frequent use of his horse and buggy equipment and drove to Tahoka for supplies. It was a full day's drive then through the shinnery and the sand from Brownfield to Tahoka, and so when Jack came over he had to stay all night.

Jack got reminiscent last week and while in that rapturous mood, he delivered himself as follows: "A cartoon appears daily in the Dallas News that intrigues us. It is entitled simply, 'Remember?' The text usually goes back to the gay nineties or the turn of the century. A recent one showed a young guy sprawled under a buckboard, fast asleep in the wagon yard, to save the price of a 35c bed at a hotel.

"Many of us in our sixties remember one or more nights spent in a wagon yard. Also about the young country bumpkin that got trimmed of all his funds, and the old tune, 'I'll buy a pint and stay at the wagon yard.' However, a lot of us old timers rather remember a night at the Nichlett, Lubbock, the Stokes, Tahoka, or J. R.'s Hill Hotel here in Brownfield. But we have spent worse nights than on a road hot roll and plenty of 'suns' in a clean wagon yard.

"The last one we remember was the Vinson Wagon and Coal yard in Tahoka. Another night in Tahoka was on top of a picked bale of cotton a Terry farmer aimed to have ginned next morning. That was around 1912 at the old Wells gin in south Tahoka. We slept like two logs."

Jack's mind then got to wandering and he even referred to something we had said in the News about the weather. After a little more he proceeded thusly:

"Speaking again of the weather, and who ain't? We usually listen to the 10 o'clock weather report over WOAI San Antonio, and in finishing up, the announcer usually gives a bit of information about dew formation in the Lubbock area for benefit of mechanical cotton pickers.

Sometimes he'll tell us that there will be no dew, and next morning there will be enough on the grass in our yard to drown a rat. Another bust came Sunday night, when he said, according to the forecast of course, that there would be no dew. He was right; it was frost."

The compilation of the returns from Tuesday's election will not have been completed when this paper reaches the reader, but sufficient returns may have been compiled to give the drift and the probable outcome. Voters discovered, if they were not already aware of the fact, that the process of voting has been changed a bit, due to the enactment by this year's legislature of the so-called secret ballot law. We are not yet convinced that this is a wise change, for we believe it ought to be kept easy for the courts to determine from the election records just how any and every person voted in case of a contest or a legal investigation. Maybe that is possible yet, as we have had no time to investigate, but on the face of it, seems that the courts might have some difficulty in that respect.

Odds & Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

For the first time since school opened this fall, the perpetrator of this column on last Friday night entered the High School auditorium to sit through a program of music and song.

Our enjoyment of the program was fully equalled by our admiration for the stately and recently redecorated auditorium in which the program was rendered. The school board is to be commended especially for the installation of Venetian blinds. They add greatly to the attractiveness and the serviceability of the auditorium.

Every time we enter that auditorium, our mind is regaled with fond memories of other years—memories of the other members of the school board of a quarter of a century ago who had that building constructed. Four of them have since passed on, four of the most progressive and useful citizens of Tahoka of that day, Dr. C. B. Townes, who was accidentally killed in an automobile accident not many years after the building was completed; Coleman Wells, who died prematurely from the ravages of a disease that proved to be incurable; Sid Sanders, another pioneer of Tahoka, who later moved down to Waco, and there died several years ago; and Clifford Thomas, one of the founders of the first real drug store in Tahoka, now the Wynne Collier Drug, who died only recently.

Only Sam Sanford of Tahoka, one of the early officials of this county; John Russell of Brady, father of Mrs. Garland Pennington; and the "columnist" so-called sitting at this typewriter, are left of the seven men who were serving as the board of trustees when that high school building was constructed.

Also surviving is J. W. Jaquess, the efficient helper of the contractor who constructed the building, who was named by the board as care-taker of the building and grounds after the building was completed. Mr. Jaquess served faithfully and efficiently in that capacity for almost a quarter of a century, voluntarily retiring only a short time ago.

The board received considerable criticism at the time for selecting a location so far out—"away out in the T-Bar pasture," and "away over toward Brownfield," etc. Possibly it was a mistake, but we hardly think so.

The prime motive of a majority of the board in selecting that location was the fact that a sufficiently large tract of land could be procured in one body out there for all purposes and at a most reasonable price. They were convinced, too, that Tahoka was going to grow, mostly in that direction. And so it has, due partly, of course, to the fact that the schools are out there.

The criticism has often been made that the trustees also made a mistake in erecting a three-story building. We admit that that was possibly a mistake, but at that time schools were not being built only one-story high and spread out all over the block—at least not many city or town schools were being so built. The architect, submitted to the board a three-story structure, and the board accepted the plan. And it is a stately building that must inspire every student with a degree of pride, which is not unimportant after all. We are somewhat proud of that building itself, even if the students do have a good many steps to climb. For, what are a few steps to a football player? or even a high school basketball star?

Out there on that same site is the football field and the stadium, and a later school board, when it became necessary to build a new grade school building, acquired a couple of blocks in the city limits just across the street east of the big plot on which the high school stands and built a one-story spread-are no longer "away out of town." Residences have been built clear out to these school grounds and there are probably fifty residences in the Roberts Addition west of the High school plot and, other areas south and north of it, all "in the T-Bar pasture."

It seems to us to be an ideal situation.

With a raise in our school taxes

Furthermore, the school buildings already voted and with the inauguration of the Gilmer-Aiken school plan with its demands for better salaries and better school facilities, we should strive to make our schools right here in Tahoka among the best in the United States. We think that we already have good schools here but nothing short of the very best should satisfy us.

Mr. Brewer and Faculty, you at least have our best wishes.

Farmers Eligible For Construction And Repair Loans

Lynn and Garza county farmers who want to construct homes or other farm buildings or make improvements to their properties may now borrow from funds just made available to the Farmers Home Administration, Perry Walker, FHA Supervisor of Lynn and Garza counties, announced this week.

Congress last week appropriated money for this extensive improvement program.

These loans are made by the FHA to finance new construction and to improve, alter, repair or replace a dwelling or other buildings essential to farm operation. To be eligible for a loan, an individual must be a farm owner, unable to get a loan elsewhere and make the needed improvement. One must be able to repay the loan from farm and other income, on a five, ten, fifteen, twenty or thirty-three year basis.

Farm laborers and tenants are not eligible for the loans, but an owner may borrow money to build or repair houses and other buildings for his tenants.

The loans are payable at four per cent on the unpaid principal balance.

All applicants and farms must be certified by a local committee, before the district FHA supervisor approves the loan. Charles M. Richter is supervisor of a district, which extends roughly on a line from San Angelo to Roby, north to Lubbock, and west to the New Mexico line, and El Paso.

Applications will be accepted in the office of the Farmers Home Administration in the local court house.

The appraised value of the farm unit will determine the amount of each loan that may be made. Funds provided by the act may not be used to refinance any existing indebtedness, and a first mortgage is not required. The loans will be secured by a mortgage on the farm subject to existing liens, if any.

Calloway Huffaker had professional business in Amarillo Monday. He was representing a client from Post in the Court of Civil Appeals. We noted two lawyers here Monday from neighboring towns. District Attorney Stansell Clement from Lamesa, and G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, former district attorney here and also former Senator in the state legislature from this senatorial district. Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa was holding court here.

Farmers Eligible For Construction And Repair Loans

Lynn and Garza county farmers who want to construct home) or other farm buildings or make improvements to their properties may now borrow from funds just made available to the Farmers Home Administration, Perry Walker, FHA Supervisor of Lynn and Garza counties, announced this week.

Congress last week appropriated money for this extensive improvement program.

These loans are made by the FHA to finance new construction and to improve, alter, repair or replace a dwelling or other buildings essential to farm operation. To be eligible for a loan, an individual must be a farm owner, unable to get a loan elsewhere and make the needed improvement. One must be able to repay the loan from farm and other income, on a five, ten, fifteen, twenty or thirty-three year basis.

Farm laborers and tenants are not eligible for the loans, but an owner may borrow money to build or repair houses and other buildings for his tenants.

The loans are payable at four percent on the unpaid principal balance.

All applicants and farms must be certified by a local committee before the district FHA supervisor approves the loan. Charles M. Richter is supervisor of a district, which extends roughly on a line from San Angelo to Roby, north to Lubbock, and west to the New Mexico line and El Paso.

Applications will be accepted in the office of the Farmers Home Administration in the local court house.

The appraised value of the farm unit will determine the amount of each loan that may be made. Funds provided by the act may not be used to refinance any existing indebtedness, and a first mortgage is not required. The loans will be secured by a mortgage on the farm subject to existing liens, if any.

Calloway Huffaker had professional business in Amarillo Monday. He was representing a client from Post in the Court of Civil Appeals. We noted two lawyers here Monday from neighboring towns, District Attorney Stansell Clement from Lamesa, and G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, former district attorney here and also former Senator in the state legislature from this senatorial district. Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa was holding court here.
