Odis Echols Quartet Will Appear Here

Odis Echols and his Melody Boys singing quartet from Lubbock, will appear in the high school auditorium Friday night, December 2, at 8:00 o'clock.

The quartet, which sings over radio station KSEL at 2 o'clock daily and at 4:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, will be sponsored by the Senior Class of Tahoka High School. The seniors are trying to raise money for a proposed senior trip to Colorado Springs. They will sell tickets down town today and tomorrow. Price of admission is 60 cents for adults, 30 cents for children. Only as many tickets as there are seats in the auditorium will be sold.

Basketball Squad Starts Work-Outs

Twenty boys reported Monday to Coach Jake Jacobs for basketball workouts, from which number the Tahoka High School A and B teams will be selected.

None of the boys are regulars from last year's A team, and the coach is faced with the problem of completely rebuilding a combination. All of last year's starters graduated. However, he has four boys, Ronnie Gurley, Lynn Halameick, Don Brice, and Jackie Slover, who were on the squad and lettered. It is hoped that several additional boys can be developed.

Girls' basketball is being started in Tahoka again this year, which Mr. Jacobs is also coaching. The girls have been working out for several weeks, and are showing progress.

The Tahoka teams, both A and B boys' teams and the girls' team will be matched against several of the top teams of the area before opening the conference schedule in January in order to get some much needed playing experience.

The boys' conference season opens January 6 with Seagraves here. The other teams in District 4A South are O'Donnell, Slaton, and Post.

The complete schedule follows (A and B representing boys' first and second teams, and G for girls game):

Tahoka Ginnings Are Near 14,000

Figures furnished the News at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning by operators of the six gins in Tahoka showed that a total of 13,995 bales had been ginned here this season.

The seven gins in O'Donnell had turned out 19,072 bales up until Tuesday morning of this week and their total has doubtless reached the 20,000 mark by this time. It seems to be a safe estimate, therefore, that the 29 or 30 gins in the county have turned out approximately 60,000 bales.

The weather has been ideal the past two weeks for gathering the cotton, one or two days excepted, and the thousands of pickers or pullers in the fields are harvesting the crop faster than it can be ginned. A small percent of the acreage has been harvested by machines.

Rites Held For R. C. Wood, 82, Pioneer Citizen

Another of the well-known and highly esteemed citizens of Tahoka, whose residence here reaches back into the pioneer days of the town, passed away in the death of Rufus Connolly Wood on Armistice Day, Friday of last week at 1:20 o'clock in the afternoon. He had been in bad health for two or three years, and his condition gradually grew worse but he was up most of the time and frequently rode to town with his wife in their car. He suffered from asthma and a heart ailment.

Funeral services were conducted at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 12, in the Tahoka Methodist Church, by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Holcomb Jr., and a former pastor, Rev. H. A. Nichols, now pastor at Stratford in the north Panhandle. The body was laid to rest in the Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of the Stanley Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Survivors include the wife; one son, Marvin Wood of Tahoka; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Wilson of Lubbock and Mrs. Rose Norton of Temple; all being the children of a former marriage; three sons and one daughter of such marriage preceded their father in death. One of the sons, Lee Wood, and the daughter, Mrs. Terry Noble, are affectionately remembered by many Tahoka people.

Also surviving are two brothers, E. H. Wood of Tahoka and W. W. Wood of Hot Springs, Arkansas; three grand-children, Morgan A. Noble of Edna, Texas, Wilton Wood Noble of El Paso, and Eva Jane Wood of Vista, California.

Mr. Wood had long been an active and devoted member of the Methodist Church, giving it his unstinted support financially and otherwise, being one of its most school football queen.

Former Teacher Dies In Lubbock

William Kary Mathis, 52, principal of George R. Bean elementary school in Lubbock and former principal of the Tahoka Grade School, died early Sunday morning in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock, after a week's illness.

Funeral services were held at 4:00 p. m. Monday in the First Methodist Church of Lubbock, with Dr. H. I. Robinson, the pastor officiating, assisted by Rev. E. H. Cran dall, associate pastor, Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, former district superintendent, and Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, Lubbock.

Interment followed in the Tech Memorial Park cemetery.

Mr. Mathis went from Tahoka to Lubbock in 1937. He had been principal of the grade school here for about three years, and he was very popular with the children, the teachers, and the parents alike. He did fine work here, which was keenly appreciated.

Margaret Turner paid him the following tribute in her column in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal:

During his first year in Lubbock, he taught in Sanders' grade school, the next year in the Carroll Thompson Junior High school, and in 1939 he began his work as principal of the new George R. Bean school and was still serving in that capacity when death came.

"We shall remember Kary Mathis (Con'd. On Back Page)

O'Donnell Took Bulldogs Armistice

Tahoka's disastrous 1949 football season came to a close Armistice Day at O'Donnell, when the Eagles emerged victorious 18 to 8 before a homecoming crowd of 1200.

Though the Bulldogs outplayed the Eagles most of the game, rolling up 9 first downs to O'Donnell's 5, they did not have the scoring punch to win the ball game.

With eight Bulldogs benched by injuries, the remaining team members played the best game of the season, with the possible exception of one or two early season games.

In the second quarter, after a great punt by Stephens to O'Donnell's two yard line, Wiley Curry tackled the Eagle ball carrier behind the goal line for a 2-point safety on the next play. O'Donnell scored twice in the third on long runs, and Tahoka got its lone touchdown in the third quarter, after having been in scoring position at least twice before, on six yards through the line by Tom Chandler, fullback, who was injured and played only a part of the game. The Eagles scored again in the fourth period to cinch the game.

Tahoka gained consistently on straight line backs with James Foster, Chandler, and Lynn Halameick carrying, but bogged down each time on end plays and passes. On the other hand, O'Donnell could gain only on wide plays, with Jack Houston, Billy Lane, and Leroy Gage making most of the gains, while Ends Raymond Hancock and Carroll Pearson, and Guards Burley Brewer and Donald Mansell were outstanding.

The two school bands, both of which were reorganized this year, made their appearance at the game. The O'Donnell band, directed by Bill King, was dressed in new gold and black uniforms. The Tahoka band, directed by Bill Trego, appeared in its old uniforms, but put on a very creditable performance, playing the Alma Mater and about six marches in spite of the fact that the members have been playing only two months.

At halftime, Miss Janelle Lindley, senior, was crowned O'Donnell high

B. R. Tate's Father Dies At Comanche

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Tate recently returned from Comanche, Texas, where Mr. Tate had been at the bedside of his aged father, J. H. Tate, and later attending the funeral services of his father.

Mr. Tate's death came after a period of five weeks illness. He is survived by two sons, B. R. Tate of Tahoka and C. L. Tate of Comanche; one daughter, Mrs. Bennie Roberts of Brady, Texas.

Mr. Tate was well known to citizens of Lynn county, having visited in the B. R. Tate home here several times.

To the people and friends of Comanche, Mr. Tate is remembered as having moved there from Decatur county, Alabama, in an ox-cart at the age of eight years.

Farmers Voting In PMA Election

Ballots listing the names of nominees for community Production and Marketing Administration Committees and delegates to the county convention which selects the county PMA committee were mailed Nov. 8 to all known eligible voters in Lynn county.

Clarence Church, present county PMA committee chairman urges that voters mark their ballots and return them to the county office immediately. Ballots will be accepted in the county office until November 23. On November 23 polling places in each community will be open from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M. for those who do not vote by mail.

Nominees were selected earlier by nominating committees composed of three eligible voters from each community, Church explains. Voters may "write-in" names of other eligible persons on the ballot, however. Election to each position will be by plurality vote.

The duties of farmer-committeemen include recommending programs, action, determining acreage allotments, and otherwise administering Federal farm programs choosing conservation practices for which Federal assistance is offered in Lynn county; allocating among farmers the funds available for meeting agricultural conservation needs; and handling price-support operations; including commodity loans and purchases.

Farmers from all communities who have not voted may vote at the PMA office in Tahoka any time through November 23.

Wilson In 6-Man Football Play-Off

Wilson High School's six-man football team won the District 4-B title last Friday night at Wilson, overwhelming Roaring Springs by a lop-sided 52 to 7 score before the biggest crowd of the season.

Wilson is playing Weinert, Haskell county, this Thursday night at Post for the bi-district title, result of which was not known when The News went to press.

The Wilson boys have run rough shod over the teams of this area all fall, and have rolled up a total of 373 points in district play to its opponents 75 points.

Congratulations:

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Boydston, of Long Beach, California on the birth of daughter, weighing 5 pounds and 8 ounces, born on November 12. The little Miss will answer to the name of Linda Ann. The parents are former residents of Lynn county.

Erwing, urging Welfare Department, again backs health insurance.

Quota Is Based On 1947-49 Acreage, Walker States

Lynn county's 1950 cotton acreage allotment from the State office of the Production and Marketing Administration has been set at 205,400 acres, according to information released by Clint Walker, Administration officer of the PMA in this county.

This information was received in the county office Monday of this week. The county office personnel and the County PMA committee are working out individual farm allotments and expect to have these allotments ready by December 2nd.

Cotton allotments for each farm will be based on a percentage of the cultivated acres, the percentage to be the same in the county.

The allotment received by Lynn county is comparable to the allotments received in other counties. It represents 86 per cent of the 1947-49 average planted acres in cotton, that acreage being 239,000 acres.

Mr. Walker points out that a small per cent of the allotment will be reserved for new grower allotments, small farm allotments, and late farm allotments. This reserve will probably run from 7 to 10 per cent of the total allotment and the remainder will be allocated to the cotton farms.

On December 15th, a national referendum will be held and farmers will vote on marketing quotas for the 1950 cotton crop. The referendum must carry by a two thirds majority of cotton farmers over the cotton belt or marketing quotas will not be in effect. If quotas are voted out, price support on cotton will not be offered.

Mrs. W. A. King, Grassland, Dies

Mrs. W. A. King of Grassland, 28, and a teacher in the Grassland public school before her marriage, died at about one o'clock Monday morning as she was being taken to a Lubbock hospital. The trip had been prearranged but her death enroute was entirely unexpected.

Funeral services were conducted at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday in Central Baptist Church two miles north of Grassland, Rev. Emmett Brooks of Wilson officiating, assisted by Rev. Bill Dorrough, pastor of the Nazarene Church at Grassland, after which the body was buried in Terrace Cemetery at Post under the direction of Mason & Company Funeral Home of that city.

Before her marriage Mrs. King was Miss Mildred Catherine Young. After having attended Texas Technological College and Hardin-Simmons University, she taught for more than three years at Grassland. The date of her marriage is not immediately available to the News, but she had been a resident of the Grassland community for about ten years.

Survivors include the husband, W. A. King; her parents; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Young of View, Taylor county; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Miller of Bullard, Smith county; two brothers, Roy Young of Lubbock and Kenneth Young of View; and her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. King of Post.

The News received this week some verses written by a lady friend of one who recently suffered death in an accident.

We appreciate the fine sentiment of the verses and the good intentions of the friend who wrote them, but as stated often times heretofore, we do not print "poetry." We are very sorry to disappoint the lady.

Why a Bullet Penetrates Better From a Distance

The phenomenon of bullet penetration is always interesting to the big game hunter, yet the details of it are often a mystery. Manufacturers are frequently asked a question which usually pursues the following pattern: "Standing close to a small tree, I fired point blank at it. The bullet did not penetrate all the way through. Yet when I fired at it from a distance of about 75 yards the bullet went through and came out on the other side. Why is this?"

"This fact can very easily escape the average shooter," says Dr. C. S. Cummings, supervisor of ballistics and physics research, Remington Arms Company, Inc., "yet the answer is relatively simple.

"It is a known fact that armor piercing bullets which may penetrate plate poorly close to the muzzle will go completely through at distances of 75 to 100 yards. The reason for this difference in penetrating effect is to be found in the instability of the bullet at the muzzle. When a bullet leaves the muzzle of a gun it tends to have a fair amount of wobble or, as it is known technically, yaw. This is due to the sudden release of unbalanced forces which tend to get the bullet started in a slightly erratic path. Consequently, if the bullet strikes a target which is close to the muzzle, there is a good chance that it will not strike the target at strictly normal incidence, i.e. 'dead on.' However, as the bullet passes down the range, the yawing motion tends to become damped out and the flight of the bullet becomes steadier. Thus, when it strikes a target 100 yards down the range, it is more likely to strike squarely and so penetrate more successfully."

New Diamond Safeguard

The name for palladium, discovered in 1803, stems from the asteroid Pallas, which in turn was named after the Greek goddess Pallas Athena. Once, during a violent thunder storm, according to Greek mythology, a statue of Pallas was cast by Zeus into the central square of Troy. It became known as "The Palladium" and a superstition grew that as long as the statue remained, Troy would never be taken. "Jewelry palladium settings provide a special safeguard for diamonds or other precious stones, because this sister metal of platinum is tough but not springy." When the beads of palladium settings are down, they stay as they left the stone-cutter's hands. Hence, the diamond is securely held against loss.

High Swimming Minnows

Minnows that set a higher altitude record than many early airplanes have been discovered in the Dominican Republic. The high swimmers, live and breed 2,500 feet up in the mountains—almost three times higher than minnows have ever been known to swim before. The previous record was 900 feet in Cuban rivers. Minnows, are not, as some people believe, just baby fish of any variety, but are a special breed. There are salt as well as fresh water minnows. Disclosed by the Dominican information center, the discovery of the high-swimming fish is a result of the first complete study of Dominican rivers and streams.

Exit the "Iron Horse"

The trend toward Diesel railroad locomotives, and away from steam locomotives, goes on apace. Until a year or so ago the railroads had consistently been the number-one customers of the coal industry—just as the coal industry has been, and still is, the number-one source of freight revenue for the railroads. But in 1948 the railroads used about 13 per cent less coal for locomotive fuel than they did in 1947, although the total necessary railroad motive power in 1948 was almost as great as in 1947. The difference was of course largely due to increased dieselization.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Garvin spent a short-while here this week with her mother, Mrs. Kitty McCracken, and her brother, George McCracken. Mr. Garvin is employed near Amarillo.

METHODIST DISTRICT CONFERENCE HELD AT POST

The Lubbock District Conference of the Methodist Church met in Post Tuesday at 10 a. m., and some 400 representatives from forty churches heard reports from the pastor. These reports revealed good progress in building and additions to the Church, according to Rev. C. A. Holcomb Jr.

Rev. J. O. Haymes of Lubbock presided over the Conference, and Rev. Marvin Boyd, District Superintendent of the Plainview District and a former pastor of the Post Church, preached at 11:30 on the subject, "What God Hath Joined Together."

Lunch was served at noon by the host church.

In the afternoon a composite report by the different agencies of the district was read and adopted. The District will emphasize personal visitation evangelism, will support a missionary and his wife in Japan, and will help in the reconstruction of the Boys School in Nagasaki which was destroyed by the atom bomb. The Tahoka church has already raised over $200 to help in this program of reconstruction.

Dwight Townsen of Tahoka was licensed to preach; the license of Billy Ed Ware was renewed; and George Maurice Small was recommended to join the Annual Conference, which meets in May at Big Spring.

Rev. C. A. Holcomb Jr. invited the Conference to meet in Tahoka next November and the invitation was accepted.

Attending from Tahoka were: J. M. Small, John Stover, Roy Poer, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Townsen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tunnell, Dwight Townsen, Delwyn Tunnell, Dewayne Townsen, and the pastor, Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Jr.

Canyon, Tex., Nov. 4 (WTSC)—Jimmie Crawford, senior from Tahoka, is included in the record enrollment of 2004 students attending school at West Texas State College.
 For the second straight year all enrollment records of the college were broken as 1336 student enrolled for full time work on the campus in Canyon and 668 signed up for classes at Amarillo Center of the college.

John Slover is another man who is proud of his turnips—and rightly so. He brought some to the News office last week to mention in that issue of the paper—and they were almost too big to get into any ordinary newspaper anyway. They were whoopers, and of fine flavor. We thank you, John.

Mrs. Laura Hill, sister-in-law of the senior editor, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Ely of Snyder until recently when they moved to Hamilton, where Mrs. Hill lives, were visitors in the editor's home Tuesday.

THE CARSONS ARRIVE BACK IN WASHINGTON

W. L. Knight dropped into the News office Tuesday morning just to let us know that he had heard from the Carson's, Mr. and Mrs. F. T., and that after a visit of five weeks here and in other parts of West Texas they had arrived back in Washington without any mishap of any kind.

Mr. Carson is employed in the Bureau of Standards, which is a very important branch of the government service, and he is reputed to be an expert in his line of work.
 Mrs. Carson, who is Mr. Knight's daughter, is employed in the Aeronautics service, which of course is work connected with our Air Force department.

Both have been employed in the government service long enough to retire with pay but neither is old enough to do so. They must each serve three years longer before they will become eligible for such retirement. And so, after a five weeks vacation spent in Texas, they have gone back to their respective jobs with the enthusiasm that love for their work inspires.

If and when they do retire, we'll bet they will both feel extremely restless until they get used to resting.

GARDEN CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The second meeting of the Tahoka Garden Club was held Tuesday, November 15, at 4:15 p. m. at the R. E. A. building, with Mrs. Lum Haney presiding.

The program consisted of a very interesting colored movie on flower arrangement. Mrs. Emil Prohl discussed the best way of preserving Christmas trees, and the president brought a short talk on horticulture.

The constitution and by-laws were read and adopted, and plans were made for a forth coming yearbook. The club will be federated.

The response to the idea of a garden club has been most gratifying. Many people have seen the contribution which such an organization can bring to the community.

The membership will be open to the public until January. If you are interested in beautifying your yard, or learning more of home arrangement, plan to attend the next meeting which will be held on December 20.

JIM ED POER MARRIES LUBBOCK YOUNG LADY

Miss Colleen Valliant, daughter of Mrs. Sue H. Valliant, 2304 Fifteenth, Lubbock, and Hugh B. Valliant of Pecos, Texas, became the bride of James Edwin (Jim Ed) Poer of Tahoka in a double ring ceremony read last Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the First Methodist Church in Lubbock by Dr. H. I. Robinson. After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Tahoka.

Miss Joyce Watson sang two solos at the service, and Mrs. Mamie I. Neal furnished the organ music for the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Margaret Nelson of Lubbock was maid of honor, J. Fred Bucy Jr. served as best man, and ushers were Larry Hagood of Tahoka and Charles B. Valliant, uncle of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High School, and has attended Texas Tech, where she was also employed for two years in the purchasing department. For the past three months, she has been employed by Southwestern Public Service company.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Poer of Tahoka. He is a graduate of Tahoka High School and of Texas Tech. He is now employed by the National Geophysical company in Tahoka.

Rich Soil

Any tourist passing through Tahoka must be impressed with the richness of our soil. He can see giant weeds growing on almost every vacant lot along the highway. A titanic tumble weed was uprooted by a high wind a few nights ago and left standing or lying out in the middle of one of our streets and actually it almost blocked traffic for awhile. Such obstructions are easily removed, however. You can hitch a tractor to one of them and drag it off.

Mr. and Mrs. Cregg Tefteller, formerly of Tahoka, now of Lawn-dale, California, spent Sunday night with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Jewel Stevens. The Teftellers were on their way to Galveston to the American National Insurance Convention.

6183 YEARS of Public Service

6183 years of electric service "know-how." 6183 years spent at bringing you the best in electric service, community leadership, and good citizenship.

That's the record of 453 men and women, members of the 1700-strong Public Service Company families, who will be the guests of honor this week at service award dinners to be held throughout our service area.

The "old-timer" of this group has devoted 44 years to public service, while the "youngsters" to be honored have served you for at least five years.

As a company, we are proud of our record of 25 years of good citizenship and public service. As an employer, prouder still of the 453 men and women who, as a group, have spent 6183 years making that record possible.

Why? Because—working together—they can get things done for the betterment of all concerned. Nearly always, that means for the good of the community at large.

For the same reason, veterans should work together for those things that are important to them—not only as veterans—but as taxpayers and citizens.

Vaccines Used to Prevent 'Sore Mouth' Disease in Lambs

Sore mouth or contagious ecthyma found in feedlot lambs can be prevented by use of vaccine, reports Dr. A. W. Deem, head of the pathology and bacteriology department of the veterinary division of Colorado A & M college.

If the vaccine is given before exposure it is almost 100 per cent effective in preventing sore mouth. If a few cases are observed in the lots it would be advisable to vaccinate immediately, Deem says.

Lambs contract the infection in transit or it may come as a result of holdover in feedlots from one year to another, says Deem. The disease is caused by a virus and usually most lambs in the feedlot are affected, but a great many may have the disease in mild form and are not always noticed by the owner or feeder.

First noticed symptoms are blisters on the lamb's lips at the corner of the mouth, which eventually rupture and hard scabs form. The involvement is sufficiently severe that lambs won't eat well for two or three weeks and, therefore, won't gain normally.

The virus causing sore mouth, points out Deem, doesn't kill lambs, but other organisms get into the ulcers on the mouth and may be drawn into the lungs and cause pneumonia or be swallowed. Also, internal ulcers develop in the digestive tract and lead to death of the lambs.

Explorers of Himalayas Bag Rare Spiny Babbler

A new specimen of Nepal's rare spiny babbler, the first obtained for science in 106 years, has reached the United States as a prize of an American expedition returning from an extensive safari of exploration in that remote Himalayan kingdom.

The trophy is historic, for this is the first time the babbler, ever taken by a non-native, reports the National Geographic society, sponsor of the expedition with Yale university and the Smithsonian institution. The bird was bagged in the highlands of western Nepal, 5,000 feet above the steaming tropical valley of Karnali.

There are in existence only four other specimens of the spiny babbler (Acanthoptila nepalensis). The youngest is 106 years old. Three of the specimens are in the British museum. The fourth is in the New York museum of natural history, where it was received in an exchange with the British museum.

The ravages of time have dealt harshly with those original specimens, reports Dr. Dillon Ripley, Yale zoologist and expedition leader, who shot the bird. Visiting the British museum en route home to compare his new prize with those taken a century ago, he found the originals so deteriorated that they looked as if they might belong to a different species.

Gathering of Eggs
Eggs must be protected during the summer months to protect egg quality, according to M. E. Jackson, extension poultry specialist at Kansas state college in Manhattan. Producers should gather eggs at least twice a day and three times a day when possible. A cool basement, fruit cellar, or storm cellar makes an ideal holding and cooling room for eggs on the farm. Proper gathering and cooling of eggs will increase the quality of eggs marketed. Improper handling of eggs is one of the most expensive programs in poultry profits.

Pussling Question Explained
If an iron ring of three feet outside diameter and 2.5 feet inside diameter is heated, does the inside diameter increase, decrease or remain the same? It will increase, according to G.E. research laboratory scientists. Imagine a solid cylinder, three feet in diameter. When heated, the inner 2.5 feet does not pull inwards nor press outwards on the rest, but it all expands together. Hence, even if the inner 2.5 feet is not there, the hole will increase in size.

Symptoms of Polio
The following are symptoms of infantile paralysis: headache, nausea or upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness, and unexplained fever. Should polio strike in your family, call a doctor immediately. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment by qualified medical personnel often prevent serious crippling. Fear and anxiety should be held to a minimum. A calm, confident attitude is conducive to health and recovery. Parents should remember that of all those stricken, 90 per cent or more recover completely, while another 25 per cent are left with only slight after-effects.

Father Marquette
Father Marquette, a trained Jesuit missionary, departed the ancient home of his ancestors at Laon, France, at the age of 29. Sailing for Canada, he reached Quebec in mid-September, 1606. Within three weeks, he moved farther along the St. Lawrence to Three Rivers. There, until April, 1608, he studied Algonquin, Montagnais, and other key languages of the Indian tribes.

STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF LYNN:

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 10th day of November, 1949.

(SEAL)

PAT CAMPBELL,

Notary Public, Lynn County, Texas.

CORRECT— ATTEST: L. Lumsden, H. G. Cook, H. B. Crosby, Directors.

Miss Clara Harper reports that her sister, Mrs. M. L. Kuykendall, who underwent major surgery last week in an Abilene hospital, is recovering satisfactorily.

NOTICE

To The People Of Lynn County: I have served as chairman of the Tahoka Chapter of the American Red Cross for 16 years.

I have given the best I had in me to this work all these years and it has been more or less a burden on me and with the many duties and obligations I have, it is impossible for me to continue this work any longer.

It is not even a dollar a year job and not even many thanks for this sacrifice of time and the work over such a long period of time.

This is a public duty and a public obligation that we all owe and I feel like after 16 or 17 years. I have fully paid my obligation in a matter of this kind. It is a responsibility that should be passed around and I feel like it is time for someone else to take up and carry on.

It is only a short time until the annual membership drive will have to be planned and I think that a new man should be put on this drive and he should be appointed now to get ready for the drive.

For that reason I am resigning effective at once. I hope the members and the directors will appoint some one else for this work and carry on a most worthy cause.

I have enjoyed the work and have been glad to be of some service and shall continue to do my duty to this organization in the future. But for the good of the organization, I think the work of chairman should be placed in fresh hands.

Sincerely yours,
Tom Garrard.

Coconut Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

Broadcast: November 12, 1949

1 1/2 cups Baker's Coconut
 1 1/2 tablespoons undrained gelatin
 6 tablespoons cold water
 1/2 cup brown sugar, lightly packed
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon ginger
 1/4 teaspoon cloves
 2 eggs, separated
 2 cups Fat Milk

 3 tablespoons dark molasses

Spread coconut thinly on baking sheet. Place in moderately slow oven (350° F.) and toast about 10 min., or until light brown. Stir now and then to toast evenly. Soften gelatin in cold water. Mix brown sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, cloves and salt. Stir in mixture of slightly beaten egg yolks, milk, pumpkin and molasses. Place over boiling water; cook and stir 5 min., or until slightly thickened. Stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Remove from heat; cover; chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg whites. Mother-Daughter Banquet Is Held

More than thirty mothers of Tahoka High School girls were honored guests at the local FHA chapter's first Mother-Daughter Banquet, held Monday night, November 14, in the school cafeteria. A number of the girls, whose mothers were unable to attend the banquet, invited their sisters.

The banquet climaxed the local chapter's observance of national Future Homemakers of America Week. During the last ten days the girls have held a tea for the entire high school and have cooked and served a delicious meal to faculty members.

Monday night's banquet gave the FHA girls a chance to show their mothers what they have been learning about planning dinners, decorating, cooking, and serving. Everything, from baked ham and hot rolls to printed programs and paper nut cups, was planned and prepared by the Future Homemakers, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Granvel Ayer.

The tables, lighted by candles, were decorated with red roses, the club flower. For the centerpiece of the head table, letters "FHA" were spelled out in red roses. Place cards were golden autumn leaves, on which the names of guests were written.

The invocation was given by Granvel, club father and husband of the club's sponsor, Geneva Marlin, vice-president of FHA, served as mistress of ceremonies.

A note of welcome was sounded by Pat McGinty, president of the club, and the response was made by her mother, Mrs. Fred McGinty. Tommie Wharton played an accordion solo and Margaret Roberts gave the FHA creed. Each club member introduced her guest to the group. Members and their guests were Jané, Carolyn, and Frances Henderas a kind person, an educator who knew that children will respond to soft spoken words more satisfactorily than they will loud ones.

"On the occasion we have visited George R. Bean School, where Mr. Mathis served as principal, we have noted his marvelous luck in discipline. The children adored him.

"He was a man of many talents. He could build a house, he could manage a school—he could sing beautifully. And certainly not least

We are sure that all Tahoka people who knew Kary Mathis intimately, will unreservedly sanction that tribute.

Mr. Mathis was born in Comanche county. He came to Lynn county as a teacher. At the time of his death, he held both the bachelor of arts and the master of arts degrees.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, four sisters, and other relatives. The late J. R. Mathis, who resided for a number of years in Lynn county east of Tahoka, was a brother.

valuable members in Tahoka. He was also a loyal member of the Masonic Lodge here and was buried with Masonic honors. He was also a member of the Woodmen of the World while it maintained an organization in Tahoka.

He took an active interest in public life and was elected and re-elected several terms as public weigher when that was an office of considerable responsibility in Tahoka. He also served for several years as a member of the board of trustees of the Tahoka Independent School district and likewise as a steward of the Methodist Church here.

Mr. Wood was a native of Georgia, having been born in Heard county in that state not many miles west of the city of Atlanta, on May 25, 1867. He came to Texas with his parents in early life, settling at Hubbard in Hill county, where he lived for many years. In 1915, he and his family migrated from Hill county to Tahoka, and he made this his home ever afterward, though he built a cabin up at Ruidoso, New Mexico, a few years ago, and he and his wife have spent much of their time, especially during the summer months, in that mountain resort.

Mr. Wood spent much of his life as a farmer, and he accumulated quite a bit of farm property during his lifetime. He will be long remembered by many of the people of Lynn county, for he had many loyal and devoted friends here.

Miss Jerry Glasscock of Cleburne was here over the week end visiting her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Williams. She came Saturday and left Monday.

After all, the purpose of sports is not to win games alone but to build bodies and character and to develop a sense of fair play. In this respect the Coach and the boys have succeeded this season. HOW TO MAKE FARM EQUIPMENT last longer

Every All-Crop harvester is built to give years of service... to harvest thousands of acres. But winter damage from rust and neglect can take more out of the life of your machine than actual use. Avoiding this loss is simple:

1. Keep your harvester in a good shed when its not in use — clean out all dirt and trash after each job.
2. At the close of each season, let us make a Free 24 Point Inspection. We'll come out to your farm, or you can bring your All-Crop in.

Our inspection and winter tune-up program includes tightening all loose bolts or other parts, listing all needed repairs, complete lubrication, protection of all bright surfaces against rust, and removal of belts and canvas for safe storage.

Your fall tune-up doesn't cost, it pays — in longer machine life and delay-free harvests.

Fred Bryant Visits Lynn County, Tells of Life in Ketchikan, Alaska

Fred Bryant, formerly principal of Newmoore school, but now a U. S. Marshal at Ketchikan, Alaska, was here last week end visiting old friends.

He had come to the States on business and was en route home after a visit with his daughter, Franette, who is attending college at San Marcos. Mrs. Bryant is teaching in the Ketchikan schools.

The Bryants were at Newmoore three years, and made many friends over the county while here. They moved from Newmoore to Dallas in 1943, and a short time later, June 8, Fred went to Craig, Prince Edward Island, Alaska, where he bought fish during the summer and taught school two years.

In 1945, he was appointed Deputy U. S. Marshal and stationed at Sitka, a town of about 4,500 population, and in 1947, he was transferred to the Ketchikan district, as chief deputy in charge. His duties in the Territory, he says, are about the same as Marshals in the States with the added duties equivalent to a county sheriff in the States. In fact, the U. S. Marshals are the only law in Alaska, except for police forces in the larger towns.

Ketchikan is located on the long neck of mountainous coastal land and islands which extends from the main body of Alaska down toward Washington state. It is Alaska's third or fourth largest city with a population of 8,000, a large percent of whom are adults. The principal occupations are fishing, lumbering, and truck farming.

Fred points out that many people down here hardly conceive of what Alaska actually is. Most believe the country to be ever cold and covered with snow. Alaska has nearly every type of topography, and stretches over 2,000 miles from tip to tip. There's lands of perpetual snow and ice, vast plains, tundra, rich river and valley lands, craggy mountains, extensive forests, and islands—most of which is wild and undeveloped, but other areas of which are being developed rapidly.

If transportation problems could be solved, much of the country would be developed agriculturally. Many areas raise the finest vegetables in the world. Even away up at the mouth of the Mackenzie River at the Arctic Circle, vegetables are grown such as people in this country never saw because of the long days of summer sunshine.

Some areas are drouthy, but at Ketchikan, the normal annual rainfall is 13 feet six inches, about eight times that of the South Plains. The temperature ranges usually from 24 degrees in winter to 80 degrees in summer. Coldest temperature recorded at Ketchikan was 5 degrees below zero—about ten degrees higher than the coldest ever recorded in Tahoka. Though the rain and mist gets disagreeable at times, Fred says you get accustomed to it and give it about as much worry as you would West Texas wind.

The Russians seem to be following the Hitler pattern to a gnat's heel. While incessantly claiming that they want peace and are doing everything in their power to maintain it, they keep on declaring to their people and to the world that the United States is just about to push them into war in spite of all they can do. They even go so far as to charge that we are not only planning to attack them but that we are starting out on an imperialistic policy by which we hope to enslave the rest of the world. No lie is too big nor too absurd for them to hatch up. These are exactly the tactics by which Hitler sought to bulldoze the English and get them to keep hands off while he was preparing to again attack France and to finally subdue all Europe, England included, just before starting World War No. II. He did so with Prime Minister Chamberlain into a policy of devastating appeasement, and then at the opportune time he struck out at France, broke over the Maginot line, drove the French back to Paris, crashed into Poland and Czechoslovakia, and had most of Europe under his thumb before the new Premier Winston Churchill could even get ready to defend England itself against German bombs. We are wondering if the Russians are planning a similar policy and some dark night will begin dropping atomic bombs on American cities. We don't know, but we do know that the peace of the world will never be secure as long as incarnate devils like Stalin and Malenkov dictate the policies of any powerful nation.

Word comes from Washington that President Truman is still bent on insisting that Congress shall take up and enact into law when it meets in January his program of "civil rights" legislation. The people of Texas on Tuesday of last week turned down one of the mildest of these proposals, the repeal of the Poll tax as a prerequisite for voting. Nobody voted blindly on the proposal either. We have had the poll tax law on our statute books for more than forty years, and we know why it was placed there, the evil that it corrected, and we have a pretty good idea as to what would follow if it were repealed. So, a majority of the voters of Texas who went to the polls last week voted to retain that provision in our constitution. We think that President Truman should let the matter rest there. He is going to arouse even more resentment if he insists on pushing the enactment of an FEPC bill just to please a horde of Harlem negroes, labor leaders, and foreign-brand "fellow travelers." Negroes in Texas are already receiving fair wages, while Mexican cotton pickers are getting a large slice of the farmers' money returns for their cotton crops. Many farmers already are much displeased at the enormous prices they are compelled to pay these laborers, due in large measure to the policies of the present administration in Washington. Mr. Truman, please give us a rest on your proposed "civil rights" program and let us do a little regulating of our own affairs.

Odds & Ends
(By E. I. The Elder)

As unthinkable as another war is, as terrible as its consequences most certainly would be, everything that we read these days about Russia and her rulers, her policies and her purposes, indicates that we are rapidly drifting, or being pushed, rather, toward this cataclysm of war. Russia, this mighty giant among the nations, extremely confident of her power, recently wounded and now smarting for revenge, crazed with a desire to rule the world and to impregnate all other peoples with her peculiar ideologies, seeing the United States as the only real lion in her path, seems to have become inflamed with a burning hatred for our country and bent on its destruction as soon as the time to strike seems to her to be propitious. And that time seems to us to be drawing perilously near. Unless the Russian dictators change their tune or decide to confine their expressions of fury to mere barking without daring to bite, it seems to us that about the only thing that could avert the threatened war, from the purely human standpoint, would be the unexpected death of old Joe Stalin. If he should die soon and unexpectedly, his confederates in the crime of war-mongering might fall out among themselves and thus divide the ruling class into factions. Unless something like that happens, it seems that only the intervention of an over-ruling act of Providence can now avert war—unless the Russians are merely doing a big bunch of bull-dozing and threatening.

Why are we so pessimistic? you may ask. Because we have been reading the papers and noting what the Russians themselves have been saying. It may all be a bunch of bologna but it sounds more like they are trying to mislead and inflame the Russian masses to the utmost so as to have their moral support if and when they do begin their war. To tell the truth, they have been trying to block America on every proposition she proposes ever since the nations of the world effected an organization to maintain peace in the world, and they have been deliberately lying on America like dogs ever since.

Just as an example of their meanness and their diabolical malice, we quote what one of the upper three in the Soviet government next to Stalin himself had to say in a speech delivered to a Russian audience of 2,000 people in Moscow on the occasion of the celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, Sunday, Nov. 6, as reported by the Associated Press and published in the Dallas Morning News. The speaker was George M. Malenkov, described by the correspondent as "A rising star in Soviet inner circles," member of the Politburo, and vice-chairman of the Council of Ministers. He was the official orator of the occasion. The speech was possibly delivered for American consumption as well as for Russian consumption, for "among his 2,000 listeners was United States Ambassador Alan G. Kirk.

The speaker insisted that although Russia possesses the atomic weapons "she does not want war and is doing everything possible to prevent it," but he declared that the United States has plans for a "World American Empire" which dwarf the schemes of German and Japanese aggressors together—a plan, he warned, to "enslave the entire world which was borrowed from the mad plan of Hitler and Goering and the 'no less crazy of Tanaka and Tojo.' Tanaka is pre-war Jpense imperialist, it is explained, and Tojo was the war-time Premier of Japan.

Malenkov said the American aims were different from the German and Japanese designs only in that they "exceed the plans of both together." The United States, he averred, aimed at no less than "the creation by means of violence and new wars of a world American empire which in scale, is to surpass all the world empires of conquerors that ever existed in history. . . . It is nothing more nor less than a matter of converting the whole world into a colony of the American imperialists, of reducing sovereign peoples to the position of slaves."

He then voiced this warning: "If the imperialists unleash a third world war, this will not only be the grave of individual capitalist countries, but of world capitalism as a whole.

"Let nobody think that we are scared by war-mongers rattling their weapons," he added, "let them know that it is not we but the aggressors who should be afraid of war. The American people are beginning to understand that if there is a new 'blood bath' there will be weeping mothers, wives, sisters and children also in America.

"America's atomic diplomacy is now fully exposed. The U. S. A. thought they had a monopoly. But in fact the Soviet Union possesses the atomic weapons."

Loud applause greeted this statement, according to the Associated Press correspondent.

There was much more of Malenkov's speech. In one paragraph he stated that America wanted war because it was afraid of the peacetime competition of socialism, and so on.

Now, we assert that Malenkov was knowingly and maliciously falsifying the facts when he repeatedly stated that America wants war and that Americans are planning for a world empire and are intending to enslave the world, and put out (Con'd. On Back Page)

What's YOUR price tag on happiness?

The comfort that's found in all-coil springs, a husky, steady-traveling understructure, cushions that are deep and soft and wide enough to let you spread yourself a bit.

Even that extra swelling of the chest that comes from owning a car you know everyone respects and admires.

In a word — your happiness. It's never out of our mind in planning this car — nor in making very sure each dollar of cost gives you the greatest possible benefit.

That's why we rather proudly ask you to go see — and try — this Buick SPECIAL. It's priced like a six, in spite of the fact that like all Buicks, it's a big-powered Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight.

And we honestly believe that it puts a lower price tag on your motoring happiness than any other car you can buy today! See your Buick dealer and find out about that.

The smartest bit of automobile styling on the road today? The standout beauty of tapering fenders — the sturdy protection of a wholly new front-end design?

The prestige that's in the Buick name — the solid, road-wise steadiness Buick has always stood for?

Your chance to get in on the perfect smoothness of Dynaflo Drive* — this being the lowest-priced car on which that sensational new transmission is available?

*Optional at extra cost.

They're all there, every one of those things. And for a good reason that may go a bit beyond the usual idea in designing an automobile.

For, a long while ago, we graduated from the idea that a motorcar is merely a means of getting about.

The way you travel is pretty important too. The lift that's yours in knowing there's no prettier picture anywhere on the highways. The "kick" there is in a power plant that's lively and eager and always ready to get in on the fun.

STRONG AS TEXAS AND STRONG FOR TEXANS

Alaska

Ketchikan is located where the mountains meet the sea, however, and high up in the valleys there are glaciers of perpetual ice. The mountains are covered with timber, and the forests are full of game. Hundreds of people fish for a living. Ketchikan has modern stores and homes, schools are better equipped than in the States, but he is none too-proud of the curriculum.

There are as many churches as there are in any like town in the States, but Fred says even a lot of the church people do not have too much religion based on our standards, and it is not an ideal place to raise a family. There are lots of fine folks, but also lots of hard drinking people, and gambling is rampant.

However, in spite of the wide open towns in this frontier country, major crime is probably less extant than here. The natives and permanent citizens rarely are involved in anything but minor crimes. He finds most of the trouble comes from the transients, many of whom are fugitives from justice in the States.

People find recreation in fishing, hunting, gambling, modern picture shows, and basketball. The latter game is by far the most popular sport, and the town has a number of teams. Football was started in school this year, and Ketchikan has the only school football team in Alaska. The games were played with Canadian teams. Inter-school sports are handicapped, because the teams must either fly or go by boat to other cities. There is no road connection with any other city.

Ketchikan, like most Alaskan communities, raises the most beautiful flowers imaginable. Almost every home has a plot of flowers, even if it has only a few square feet of soil. Vegetables do exceedingly well, especially strawberries, which grow almost as big as one's fist, lettuce, turnips, rutabagas, potatoes, beans cabbage, etc. This is possible because of the enormous rain all and mild summers, when there are 14 to 20 hours of sunshine.

Though there are many fields up the valleys, most of the Southeastern coast is up or down, rugged mountains and forests. Mr. Bryan's home is on the waterfront overlooking the bay. His front street is built of board, out over the ocean, while the mountain is his back yard. Many citizens have cars, all brought in by boat. There are two county roads, one extending 18 miles back into the mountains, the other eight miles. Some streets are of board, others paved, and roads are dirt or gravel.

After having lived in Alaska for six years, Fred says he likes the country very much, but admits that it would be hard for many people from this country to become adjusted to life in Alaska.

Students at Texas Technological college have been asked to help South Plains farmers pick what appears to be a record cotton crop. The students will spend free afternoons and Saturdays in the fields until the crop has been harvested.

New extension classes in education are now being offered in Seminole, Denver City, Seagraves and Levelland by the Texas Technological college extension service.

other rot of that kind. He knew that was false, for we have free speech and a free press in this country, and every newspaper and every magazine in this country is available to him and his co-conspirators and his cohorts in Russia.

Besides, he and his bunch of organized robbers and murderers have scores and hundreds and thousands of stool-pigeons and spies in America for the purpose of finding out what is going on and what is being planned in this country, and they know that neither the people nor the officials in this country want any kind of war except a defensive war or a war to keep those top Russian thugs from subduing and enslaving the rest of the world themselves.

Besides, they are seeking right now by every means possible to spread their lying propaganda against us, and are right now sending their deceptive propaganda through the mails to school children in America with a view to poisoning their minds and undermining our country. Our neighboring city of Lubbock is one of the cities in this area whose schools have been receiving samples of this treacherous, deceitful, communistic dope.

Since all radical communists are also atheists, they have no conscientious scruples against lying under oath or against the commission of any other criminal act that they fancy may help the cause of communism, for they believe, or at least they pretend to believe, that there is no God to punish them for wrong-doing. So, every atheistic communist will lie like a dog, whether he be a member of the Proletariat, of the Politburo, or what have you.

And so, it is not insulting to Malenkov to call him a liar. He is a Communist with a capital C, bent on spreading his lies respecting America to all the peoples of the world in an effort to destroy their confidence in us, and just as malevolently bent on feeding the fires of hatred and distrust of America in the hearts of the Russian ignoramuses in order that when he and his crooked pals start their diabolical war, these unshaven ignoramuses will be in proper mood to slave a little harder for the higher-ups.

And so Malenkov made his speech getting ready to start something when old Joe Stalin gives the word.

In a little politer language than that which we have used, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, our former Ambassador to Moscow, writing in the Saturday Evening Post, says that old Joe Stalin is the same kind of liar that we have dubbed the younger Malenkov, chief orator of the Kremlin. He says further that old Joe is also ignorant, in polite language. Says that old Joe doesn't go about much, even in Russia, among his own people; that he knows little about the West, Western aims, and Western ideals; and the inference is that he is just a about ignorant enough and mean
